LORDS STAKE EXISTENCE ON REJECTION OF BUDGET

Great Constitutional Battle Is On in Great Britain With Formal Voting Down of Finance Measure.

ACTION UNPRECEDENTED IN THREE HUNDRED YEARS

Question Now Goes before People on Whose Decision Probably Rests Continuation of Present Parliamentary System.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
London, Nov. 30.—The house of lords tonight for the first time in 300 years refused its consent to the budget, thereby making it illegal for the king's agents to collect taxes with which to carry on the government.
This action of the peers was taken in direct disregard of the advice of such able members as Lord Curzon, Lord Balfour, Lord Haldane, Lord Grey, Lord Lansdowne, Lord Chamberlain, Lord Curzon and the Archbishop of Canterbury and York.
The budget will now go before the country for its approval or rejection, that is, the crown through the ministry will dissolve the house of commons and order a general election. Whether the present liberal house and ministry shall be sustained in insisting on the budget will be the issue in the contest at the polls.
After six days' debate, notable for the high standard of the oratory as well as for the arguments for and against the budget and political campaign in every possible light, the great constitutional question involved, the house of lords elected for division at 11:30 o'clock tonight.
There was unusual animation in the debate, which was characterized by personal attacks, members of the house of commons, and ambassadors, but on the floor itself complete calm prevailed.
The vote was on Lord Lansdowne's amendment that the house of lords was not justified in giving its consent to the bill until it had been submitted to the judgment of the country.
When the vote was taken, just before midnight at 11:55, in favor of the amendment, a row mixed cheers were heard. The Earl of Curzon immediately moved an adjournment and the house arose.
When the division was taken there was practically no excitement in the streets, although earlier in the evening crowds gathered in the vicinity of the house and attempted to produce a demonstration. A force of police was in readiness and as soon as the crowd showed a tendency to become unmanageable they dispersed the demonstrators, being assisted in their task by a heavy rain.

MEANS EMANCIPATION OF IRELAND; T. P. O'CONNOR

New York, Nov. 30.—Commenting on the action taken by the British house of lords, T. P. O'Connor, the Irish nationalist leader in the house of commons and now in this country in the interest of Irish home rule, said tonight that the British peers had, by their rejection of the budget, pronounced a verdict in favor of the cause of Irish independence and would mean the final emancipation of the English masses.
"I am greatly pleased and so is every one who is an enemy of the house of lords," said Mr. O'Connor. "Every liberal and still more every Irish nationalist has known for several generations that it was impossible to have anything like steady liberal progress so long as the house of lords retained its power to defeat or postpone all domestic legislation. Ireland has been the political sufferer from the present power of that body, for the house of lords consisted almost exclusively of the landlords who have been always the curse and the enemy of Ireland, and from the days of O'Connell downward every single reform of the peers we have won had to be won in the face of the opposition of the house of lords. It is hostility to Ireland has been manifestly steady to the end, for now it stands alone in the way of a home rule measure."
"As to the effect in England, I believe the rejection of the budget will lead to an uprising of the masses, the strength of which the lords have talked to realize. They will realize it before many hours. I believe we are on the eve of the fiercest fight we have seen in British politics for a century; that the fight will go against the lords; that they have pronounced their own doom, and that before two or three years from now their power for mischief will be broken so as to be non-existent."
"This means the final emancipation of the English masses from the grip of feudalism and of Ireland from government by an alien parliament."

ASQUITH ARRANGES FOR DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT

London, Nov. 30.—Premier Asquith has called another meeting of the cabinet for 10 o'clock this morning to complete formalities following the action of the house of lords and it is practically certain that parliament will be prorogued Friday until the middle of January.
It is also stated with an air of authority that yesterday's council decided upon measures insuring the uninterrupted collection of taxes on tea, spirits and tobacco until the new parliament is able to pass a retrospective act regularizing this situation.

Wreck Survivors Reach Astoria.
Astoria, Ore., Nov. 30.—The United States light house tender Manzanita arrived today from the Columbia river with survivors of the wreck of the steamer Argo, wrecked near the entrance to Tillamook bay last Friday.

DETERMINED TO HAVE NIGHT RIDERS TRIED

Tennessee Prosecutor May Have the County Lines Changed in Order to Secure Jury.

Union City, Tenn., Nov. 30.—Attorney General Caldwell today strongly denied the rumor that in the event of a failure to obtain a jury this time in the night rider trial, the case would be dismissed. He declared if the state is unable to bring about a trial of the night riders charged with the murder of Captain Rankin in this county, he would try to have the county line between Lake and Obion counties so changed as to place the scene of the murder within the borders of Lake county.

Mine Swindlers Sentenced.

New York, Nov. 30.—Two swindlers who fleeced investors in Mexican mining stocks out of $150,000, were sentenced to the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., today for using the mails with intent to defraud. Both had victims all over the country. J. Walter Labaree, the chief offender, was given two and a half years and his accomplice, George W. Emmanuel, one year and three months.

WELL KNOWN CHURCH MAN IN TOLLS

Y. M. C. A. WORKER IS ARRESTED FOR PERJURY

Arrest of Real Estate Operator on Charge of False Swearing as to Residence Gives Las Vegas Sensation.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal]
Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 30.—A sensation was caused in this city today by the arrest this morning of W. C. Ogilvie, real estate promoter, prominent church man and Y. M. C. A. worker on a warrant charging him with perjury.

The arrest of Ogilvie followed his indictment at the territorial grand jury at the present term of district court, Sheriff Cleaves, 9 o'clock, on the charge of perjury. Mr. Ogilvie was arrested at his residence in the city of Las Vegas, where he is looking for bondsmen to furnish $1,000 to prevent his going to jail, but up to a late hour had failed to secure bail.
The perjury charge dates back to some time ago when it is said that Ogilvie swore falsely concerning his place of residence. Having been indicted on this charge, he is now in the custody of the territorial marshal, who is looking for bondsmen to furnish $1,000 to prevent his going to jail, but up to a late hour had failed to secure bail.

ination and the age limit placed upon switchmen entering the service.

"Five conferences were held in St. Paul in which the switchmen in no detail receded from their demands, which, if conceded, would have entailed an additional expense upon the railroad of from 40 to 45 per cent."

The managers' committee offered the switchmen an increase of 20 cents per day of ten hours in the rate of pay of switchmen employed in the territory west of Havre, Mont., on the Great Northern railway and west of Billings, Mont., on the Northern Pacific railway; the difference in that territory for switchmen having obtained for about two years. Further concession was declined for the reason that the rates of pay for switchmen were increased over 15 per cent in November, 1909, and because the rates at that time established had not been reduced during the period of business depression which followed.

"On November 23, 1909, in submitting its final answer to the switchmen, the managers' committee assuming that the switchmen joined in the desire for an amicable adjustment of the questions under consideration, suggested that the demands be submitted to arbitration under the provisions of the Erdman act."

Continuing the statement says: "Monday, November 23, was selected as the day for conference between Messrs. Knapp and Neil and the representatives of the railroad and switchmen at St. Paul."

About November 23, despite the understanding reached in the conference, that mediation under the Erdman act should be evoked and without the knowledge of either managers' committee or mediators, a strike order was issued by the switchmen's committee, directing the switchmen of the thirteen northwest rail-

Former Superintendent of Sugar Company's Dock, on Trial for Fraud, May Become Witness for Government.

LAWYER SAYS CLIENT DECLINES TO BE THE 'GOAT'

Witness Swears He Saw Defendant Hand Bank Notes to Men in Uniform of Custom House Officers.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
New York, Nov. 30.—James P. Bendoric declines to be made the "goat" by the American Sugar Refining company and if the word of his counsel is currently interpreted he may testify for the government before the end of his trial on a charge of defrauding the government by underweighing sugar.

This development came today when a witness testified that fifteen dollars—sometimes a little more—was what employees of the American Sugar Refining company were paid to be crooked. And the man who had in some instances paid this alleged corruption money, according to the testimony, was Bendoric, one time superintendent of the company's plant in Williamsburg (Brooklyn).

In the face of the testimony Bendoric conferred with his lawyer, George W. Beattie, who in turn made this announcement:

"Mr. Bendoric is my client. He did not do the thing in question. He was an employee and what he did he did under orders. And he will not plead anyone."

"The idea that has gone forth that the sugar trust will going up for this defense is wrong. The company is not contributing one cent for Bendoric. He did not receive a salary of $20,000 a year, as has been said. When he takes the stand he will tell the truth."

The evidence that brought this turn in the case was given by Andrew J. Mallon, who up to 1907 was employed in the cashier's office of the Havemeyer and Elder refinery in Williamsburg. Bendoric, he said, was in charge of the office.

"Did you ever see Bendoric pay cash to men in the uniform of the custom house, who came to the office?" asked J. Edgar Denna of counsel for the government.

"Yes," was the answer.

"What form was this money in?"

"It was in the form of bank notes taken from the safe in the office. I never saw vouchers for it or heard of any," Mallon replied.

Mallon testified further that John R. Colvin, Bendoric's brother-in-law, Henry H. Henshaw and Jean Volcker, weighers and checkers, were paid in envelopes marked $12 for the week. But their envelopes contained $15. Later when the salaries of these checkers were raised to $15 a week, $13 in their envelopes though the regular pay for their position was marked on the outside at $15.

The government sought to show that this obtained increase in salary was a reward for manipulating the scales to show false weights on sugar. Bendoric's counsel maintained on the other hand that if the case was anything irregular about the payments the defendant was not responsible.

Bendoric's decision to conceal nothing should not be construed to mean that he will continue to fight against the American Sugar Refining company or anyone else, said his lawyer in a statement today. His stand does not even imply that he has knowledge of any unlawful operations.

"But I did say, the statement continues, 'that the sugar trust is not defending these men and they should not stand up in a general attack upon the trust.'"

Testimony at the trial today shows, if the witness (Mallon) is correct, that the custom house officers were paid extra compensation for underweighing sugar from 117 Wall street. This is the office of the American Sugar Refining company.

STRIKE CALLED ON NORTHERN RAILROADS

Lines Running West and North of St. Paul Threatened With Tie-up Because of Labor Dispute.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
St. Paul, Nov. 30.—After fifteen days of negotiations between the Switchmen's Union of North America and the joint committee of railroad managers representing thirteen railroads of the northwest, a strike involving 2,500 switchmen became effective at 6 o'clock tonight. The men are employed by the various railroads running west and north of St. Paul from Lake Superior to the Pacific coast, and unless speedily settled the strike will mean a serious interruption of traffic.

Tonight both sides to the dispute issued statements. The railway managers' committee issued the following:

"To the Public: The railroads of the northwest, regarding that the public is interested, but an unrepresented party in the controversy with their switchmen, through the committee which has been conducting their negotiations, desire to place at the disposal of the public the following facts in connection with the negotiations."

The switchmen in the northwest territory made simultaneous demands on thirteen railroad companies operating in the Twin Cities for an increase in wages and certain changes in the rules governing the employment of switchmen. At the same time, the switchmen's union, through its representatives, made demands for a 10 per cent increase in wages and for a 10 per cent increase in the rate of pay for overtime work.

PINCHOT AGAIN CHALLENGES BALLINGER

CONGRESS WILL HAVE TO DECIDE SAYS FORESTER

Question is Whether Monopolies Will Be Allowed to Gobble Coal Veins and Power Sites on Public Domain.

(By Morning Journal Special Teased Wire) Washington, Nov. 29.—Gifford Pinchot, chief of the United States forest service, has again thrown down the gauntlet to Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, in regard to the conservation policy. He declared that congress will have to decide at its forthcoming session whether the great coal fields of the country shall continue to remain in the hands of the people or be gobbled up by monopolies and whether the great water power sites shall be given away to special interests or be controlled by the people.

Mr. Pinchot makes known his views upon these two "chief sources of power of the present and future" in a letter to Dr. Lyman Abbott of New York, in response to a series of questions asked by the latter on "the national conservation policy."

Referring to the development of water power and coal fields, the government forester declares that in most cases actual development of the former can best be done by private interests acting under public control, but that "it is neither good sense nor good morals to let these valuable privileges pass from the public ownership for nothing and forever."

In answer to Dr. Abbott's question, "what is the danger to the conservation policies in the coming session of congress?" Mr. Pinchot declares that it is that the privileges of the few may continue to obstruct the rights of the many, especially the matter of water power and coal.

"Congress must decide at this session," Mr. Pinchot says, whether the great coal fields, still in public ownership, shall remain as in order that their use may be controlled with due regard to the interest of the consumer or whether they shall pass in private ownership and be controlled in the monopolistic interests of a few.

"Congress must decide also whether immensely valuable rights to the use of water power shall be given away to special interests in controlling the money, or whether they shall be held and controlled by the public."

"Why is it important to protect the water power sites?" asked Dr. Abbott, in reply. Mr. Pinchot points out that it is of the first importance to prevent them from passing into private ownership as they have been doing because the greatest source of power we know is falling water.

"Under our form of civilization," he says, "if a few men ever succeed in controlling the sources of power, they will eventually control all industry as well. If they succeed in controlling all industry, they will necessarily control the country."

Mr. Pinchot adds that he can "see no reason why we should deliberately keep on helping to foster the hands of corporate control upon ourselves for all time, merely because the few men who would profit by it now have heretofore had the power to compel it."

As one of the essential things that must be done to protect the water powers for the people, the granting of waterpowers for use, either on navigable or non-navigable streams, must absolutely stop according to Mr. Pinchot. After stating that it cannot be right to grant perpetual rights in the one great permanent source of power, Mr. Pinchot declares that "it is just as wrong to mortgage the value of our children in such a way. Water powers must and should be developed mainly by private capital and they must be made investments in them profitable and safe."

He adds, however, that neither profit nor safety requires perpetual rights. Mr. Pinchot declares further that there are no reasons why special interests should be allowed to use them for profit without making some direct payment to the people for the valuable rights derived.

"It is just as essential for the public welfare that the public should retain and exercise control of waterpower monopoly on navigable as on non-navigable streams," Mr. Pinchot states in reply to the question, "does the same principle apply to navigable streams as to non-navigable?"

"If the difficulties are greater," he concludes, "then the danger that the water powers may pass out of the people's hands on the lower navigable parts and it may be harder, but in no way less necessary to prevent."

Explaining what conservation means, Mr. Pinchot declares that it stands against the waste of the natural resources that cannot be renewed, such as coal and iron, it stands for the preparation of the resources that can be renewed, and most of all, it stands for an equal opportunity for every American citizen to get his fair share of benefit from these resources both now and forever."

In discussing "what has conservation to do with the welfare of the average man today?" it is pointed out that "it prevents the securing of a continuing and abundant supply of the necessities of life which means a reasonable cost of living and business stability. It advocates fairness in the distribution of the benefits which flow from the natural resources."

roads to cease work at 6 p. m. November 30, in the event that their full demands had not been conceded.

"This violation of good faith so embittered the negotiations that successful mediation became impossible and led to the demand by Interstate Commerce Commissioner Knapp and the United States Commissioner of Labor Neil, addressed to both the managers committee and the switchmen that the controversy be submitted to arbitration under the terms of the Erdman act. To this proposal the managers' committee gave its willing assent, but the switchmen absolutely declined it."

"The managers' committee believed that the public interests should not suffer because of a disagreement where proper method to settle the difference is offered through the decision of a disinterested third party under the terms of a federal law."

Speaking for the switchmen tonight President Hawley said:

"We have had no further communication from the railroad officials. The switchmen have been fair in their requests."

"We want an advance of six cents an hour in pay and the elimination of overtime and Sunday work as far as possible and the request for double pay for overtime in the nature of a penalty more than anything else as we want to discourage overtime, Sunday and holiday work."

"We also ask for a modification of the physical requirements and age limit rules. Examinations for employment on railroads now are as rigid as those required for service in the regular army."

"I have never seen a time when the men were so thoroughly organized and ready for concerted action as in the present instance. This strike will result in the most complete tie-up of railroad traffic in the territory affected ever known, except the strike of 1904. From now on not a switch engine will move in the territory between the head of the lakes and the Pacific coast."

"The switchmen greatly regret the action they have been forced to take. We did not wish a strike and used every possible means to avoid it. And I am quite positive that if we had to deal only with the officials of the northwestern road instead of with the general committee, we would have reached an amicable agreement. We realize the inconvenience which a strike will cause to the public, but the responsibility does not lie with the switchmen. They are asked for that which was justly theirs."

After the strike had been inaugurated, President Hawley gave out this statement:

"We have advised every member that from the moment the strike begins he must keep away from the company's property, obey the law, commit no act of violence nor do anything that will reflect discredit upon himself or the conduct of the strike."

"We also insist upon the strikers strictly abstaining from any intemperance, drinking and while this is a great thing, it may seem unnecessary, owing to the remarkable degree of sobriety observed by members of the switchmen's union, yet we feel that it is essential to have a clear head at such a time."

Early reports received by the switchmen indicate that all the men have walked out and that there has been no further movement of traffic in all the yards being from St. Paul and Minneapolis the men are all out and reports from Grand and Fargo are that all the switchmen there struck.

George T. Stude, general manager of the Northern Pacific and tonight he had only meager reports of the strike. The strike order, he said, local traffic had been delayed but that the railroads have a scheme by which they hope to facilitate the handling of freight. It is not known whether this is a temporary arrangement due to the switchmen's strike, he did not say.

Both the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern have notified shippers that they will not receive any freight until the strike is settled.

Searching in this terminal is done by members of the Terminal's brotherhood, all of whom are on duty tonight. It is not believed that they will go out for the present at least. The same is true of the Great Northern Terminal at Grand.

PORTLAND NOT YET AFFECTED BY STRIKE
Portland, Nov. 29.—The local switchmen of the Northern Pacific railroad in doing by the Northern Pacific Terminal company, and up to a late hour Tuesday night men employed by this company had taken no action.

The officials of the Terminal company state that the switchmen employed by it are all members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, that the Terminal company is controlled by the Harriman interests and they are on occasion for the local switchmen to take sides with or against the striking employees of the Northern Pacific.

The men in and out of Portland are operated over Northern Pacific tracks.

NORTHERN PACIFIC CUTS PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE
Helena, Mont., Nov. 29.—Agent Richards of the Northern Pacific stated tonight that he had just been advised that trains No. 5 and No. 4 would be taken out of Helena at 6 p. m. and Portland tonight. Whether this is a temporary arrangement due to the switchmen's strike, he did not say.

Both the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern have notified shippers that they will not receive any freight until the strike is settled.

Searching in this terminal is done by members of the Terminal's brotherhood, all of whom are on duty tonight. It is not believed that they will go out for the present at least. The same is true of the Great Northern Terminal at Grand.

ONLY SEVEN MEN QUIT THEIR WORK AT BILLINGS
Billings, Mont., Nov. 29.—Only seven men quit their work at the Northern Pacific and Great Northern yards and left their work this evening in accordance with the strike order of the switchmen's union. The remainder of the men employed at this point are not members of the union and are not in sympathy with the strike. At the Laurel yards 11 men left their work.

MILWAUKEE ROAD NOT AFFECTED BY WALKOUT
Milwaukee, Mont., Nov. 29.—About fifty switchmen employed on the Rocky Mountain Division of the Northern Pacific walked out at 6 o'clock tonight. The local division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound, will not be affected by the strike as all switching is at present done by the road crews. Through freight only is accepted, however.

FIFTY MEN JOIN STRIKE AT PASCO, WASHINGTON

of such a big, important corporation would stoop to petty thievery and bribery and my natural inclination would be to let the matter before the jury I considered an honorable business gentleman and give him an opportunity to clear up the crime.

My recollection of Wulkenman is that he was a little inclined to be rather brained, but I put two detectives on the case he furnished and I don't believe anything conclusive was found.

Incidentally, during his visit here tonight, Mr. Gage entered a positive denial to the report that he is a theosophist.

"I am not a member of the Theosophical society," he said, "never have been, have no association with them and never have had. It has been extremely annoying to see my name connected with the organization at Point Loma."

Mr. Gage also gave it as his opinion that the labor of the national monetary commission would come to naught.

"I don't believe they will evolve a bill that will satisfy any class," he said. "They have spent a lot of time visiting in Europe and collecting data and they have been able to obtain from any first-class library. I believe we should have a central bank with safeguards to protect the interests of the people."

MOYER LEAVES FOR LEAD TO DIRECT MINE STRIKE
Seventy Detectives Employed by Homestake Company on Same Train With Western Federation President.

(By Morning Journal Special Teased Wire) Denver, Nov. 29.—Traveling on the same train with seventy men employed by the Homestake company as guards at the Homestake mine, where a strike is now in progress, Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, left Denver last night for Lead, S. D.

According to telegrams received at headquarters of the federation, the situation at Lead is becoming alarming and President Moyer was urged to join other officers of the federation now at the scene of the strike.

The guards who had been hastily gathered from all parts of the west were in charge of Robert Boykin. Many of the men were carrying shotguns and the two parties in the Crispie Creek riots of a few years ago, and the reason for their hasty departure for Lead is said to be fear on the part of the mine owners that there would be a repetition of that affair.

Union officials deny that the union miners have started any trouble but admit that it may occur.

FRUIT LADEN STEAMER WRECKED OFF HATTERAS
Crew Taken From Battered Hull by Life Savers.

Beaufort, N. C., Nov. 29.—With her hold filling with water through holes punctured in the bottom by the severe pounding on the rocks last night, the German steamer Brewster, which was en route to the treacherous Diamond shoals off Cape Hatteras Sunday night, and whose crew was rescued by life savers, was today given up by the rescuers as a hopeless wreck. The knowledge that the vessel was beginning to sink into the waves. Her cargo of bananas and coconuts is a total loss.

ferent methods of lining canals, to stop seepage losses. Our investigations show also that the laws and regulations under which water is distributed to irrigators and the systems of charging for the water used have a great influence upon the efforts made to economize in its use, and these systems are being studied from that standpoint. By demonstrating the extent of losses and the possibility of eliminating them, and by working out systems of management which will give the incentive necessary to induce water users to use no more water than is necessary, the department may be the means of doubling the area irrigated at an expense that is merely nominal as compared with the expense of developing additional water supplies and building the works to make them available.

Settlement on the semi-arid plains has continued during the past year with little diminution, but each added year of experience demonstrates more fully the value of the plan advocated by this department of irrigating small areas in connection with the farming of larger areas without irrigation as an insurance against total crop failure and to provide a home grown food supply. The former established several years ago for the purpose of determining and demonstrating the value of this practice and the methods to be employed have been maintained during the year. In addition, information as to the use of windmills for pumping water for irrigation on the plains has been collected and prepared for publication, and accurate tests of mills of different types have been made in order to supply information as to their most economical use and to work out improvements in their construction. These tests promise to bring about improvements by which a much larger part of the power of the wind may be utilized, making it a most valuable source of power.

"The recent years of drought in the west and the spread of intensive farming in that section have caused western farmers to realize that they can not afford to depend entirely upon rainfall for the maturing of their crops, and they are turning upon this department for information as to methods of securing and utilizing water supplies for irrigation. In response to this demand, an expert has been detailed to the eastern field and is devoting his time to a study of eastern conditions and the adaptation of western irrigation methods to these conditions."

Twenty Dollars for Two
You would not trade twenty dollars worth of butter for two dollars worth of veal. Yet we can name bright farmers, right in this neighborhood, who feed young stock butter fat worth 25 to 35 cents a pound, when oil meal would be just as good for them. If you feed milk set and skimmed by hand, you are leaving one-quarter to one-half the butter fat in the milk. You are feeding valuable butter to produce cheap, call fat or pig fat, gentlemen, that don't pay.

VARSITY TEAM TO PLAY ST. VINCENT COLLEGE

FOOTBALL ELEVEN CONSIDERS PROPOSAL

Los Angeles Will Pay Expenses of Trip to Coast; Everybody Getting Ready for Farmers Next Friday.

The football eleven of St. Vincent's College in Los Angeles, one of the best teams of the coast country, has wired Manager Lee of the University of New Mexico team that St. Vincent's will pay all expenses if the locals will go to Los Angeles and play a game on December 11. The proposition is an attractive one, even though so late in the season and the St. Vincent's boys being anxious to get a game, if possible, with the champions of the territory.

BUSY PREPARING FOR THE BIG GAME FRIDAY

The varsity eleven is busy engaged in hard practice this week in preparation for the big game with the Agricultural college team at Tractor park Friday afternoon. The game is being awaited with great interest. A traditional rivalry exists between the two teams and Los Angeles will make a grand final struggle in the effort to preserve their laurels of the present season.

Here is the grand chance for the people of Albuquerque—whether football enthusiasts or not—to show that they appreciate the hard and successful work the varsity boys have done this season to reflect honor upon the university and Albuquerque. They have succeeded splendidly and it will be greatly to be regretted if after such a record they are forced to close the season in the hole financially. The advertising the boys have given this city has meant a great deal for Albuquerque.

They have played football and rattling good football, not alone for the varsity, but for Albuquerque and Albuquerque business men should show that they appreciate it.

More newspaper publicity all through the west has been given Albuquerque the past few months on account of its football team than for any other city and it cannot fail to be beneficial to the city.

So, even if football boys you—and that is a very violent supposition—get on to Tractor park Friday and help the boys along. There will be plenty of excitement after you get there. The game with the "Farmers" will be real fighting football—that is, fighting strictly according to the rules—and there will be a great deal of interest in seeing the huskies from down the line try to recover their fame on the gridiron.

All their energies will be concentrated on this game and if they are licked the varsity will have played football. That's all.

The varsity team this year has traveled 2,600 miles. Albuquerque city should be willing to travel one mile to the football field and root their appreciation of the splendid record of the local eleven.

JOHNSON FINDS ONE FRIENDLY JUDGE

Negro Pugilist Arrested Under Old New York Law for Issuing Challenge is Dismissed by Magistrate Dooley.

The Morning Journal Special Leased Wire. New York, Nov. 30.—Jack Johnson, the heavyweight pugilist, has again come out unscathed from an encounter with the police. Magistrate Dooley of Brooklyn came to his rescue when Johnson was arrested today following his arrest charged with violating the statute in "issuing a challenge" for a fight.

The so-called challenge was delivered in a speech which Johnson made from the stage of a cabaret in the city where he is appearing, and in which he said he was willing to meet Sam Langford or any other aspirant for pugilistic honors on thirty days' notice.

"Discharged," said Magistrate Dooley. "There is no violation here and the police were wrong."

RACING SEASON AT JUAREZ OPENS TODAY

New Half Million Dollar Track and Fine List of Horses Give Promise of Excellent Sport Across the Border.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Ciudad Juarez, Mex., Nov. 30.—The new racing plant of the Juarez Jockey club, which will be thrown open to the public for the first time, tomorrow, gives promise of being a great success. With the exception of a few finishing touches, which can be completed in a few days, the race course is up to date and equal to any on the New York circuit. The management has spared no expense in making it possible for the people of the south and the neighboring republic of Mexico to witness high class racing.

The outlay on the buildings and grounds has already exceeded $400,000 and when the contemplated club house is finished it is estimated that the expenditure will come close to the half million dollar mark.

The feature of the Juarez race meeting will be racing on Sunday, which is the custom in Mexico. There will be racing six days a week including Sunday, Monday being the off day.

The program of the meeting was so arranged to make Sunday a stake day when the highest events will be contested for. If the conditions warrant the management will add Monday, making a total of seven racing days.

Governor Creel of Chihuahua, Mex., and staff, together with a large party of friends, will attend the opening day as a representative of the Mexican government.

Horsemen have been very liberal in entering their horses in the various stakes. The twelve stake races, entries for which closed on October 7, have averages of forty, which is an exceptionally good showing for a new track. Racing men have extreme confidence in the backers of the Juarez meet. Trainers who have worked their horses over the track pronounce it to be the fastest and safest on the continent.

For the opening day the Chihuahua handicap of 1 1/4 miles with a value of $2,000 will be the feature and a high class field will respond to the bugle. Many well known performers who raced on the New York tracks the last season are engaged for this event and a good race should result. The other five events have filled well.

There is now quartered at the track over 400 horses. There will be fourteen books on tomorrow, which include the well known layers George Rose, Billy Du Bois and Sam Shaven.

First race, 5 1/2 furlongs: Hannah Louie, 97; Excuse, 98; Success, 99; Marchmont, 100; Dr. Walter Briggs, 101; Right Easy, 102; Enfield, 103; Little Scout, 104; King Kolob, 105. Apprentice allowance. Results at Jacksonville. Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 30.—Although the weather was decidedly cooler yesterday, a large crowd gathered at Monrovia this afternoon and the play was probably the best since the opening of the meet. Show Fight at Schenectady. Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Joe Thomas, former welterweight champion, demonstrated his superiority over Bill McKinnon of Boston in a slow ten-round fight here tonight.

Twelve Round Draw. Boston, Nov. 30.—Ray Brownson of Indianapolis and Dave Deslier of Cambridge boxed twelve rounds to a draw at the Amory athletic association tonight. Deslier, a former champion, the heavier hitter and was the better in the majority of the rounds.

Joe Willis Gets Divison. Los Angeles, Nov. 30.—Joe Willis of San Francisco earned the newspaper division tonight over Jack Geyer of Denver in a fierce 10-round go. After the first round, which was rather tame, the contest was a continuous slugging match and both men took severe punishment.

BASEBALL MAGNATES MEET IN CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Nov. 30.—President August Hermann of the National baseball commission, President Charles W. Murphy of the Chicago National league club and President O'Brien of the American association, gathered here tonight, but each denied that their meeting had any particular significance.

None of the three would discuss the sale of the Philadelphia club or the coming election of a president of the National league. Considerable significance was attached in sporting circles to a statement printed in the Times-Star, Charles P. Taft's paper, to the effect that "Cincinnati capital was behind the Philadelphia deal."

MICHIGAN HIGH SCHOOL TEAM TO TOUR THE WEST

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 30.—Arrangements were completed today whereby the Ann Arbor high school football team, high school champions of Michigan, will play six games with western and Pacific coast teams. Eighteen players will make the trip under the management of Coach Frank Longmire of Notre Dame, leaving Ann Arbor December 14 and returning January 4.

BIG MONEY OFFERED FOR BATTLE OF THE CENTURY

Predicted That San Francisco Promoter Will Stage Jeffries-Johnson Fight; Bids Open Today at Hoboken.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) New York, Nov. 30.—"High promoters" with bids in their pockets aggregating more than a million dollars will go to Hoboken, N. J., where bids are to be opened at 11 a. m. for the world championship heavyweight prize fight between James J. Jeffries, retired and champion, and Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight title holder.

Thirty-five bids have been received, although all are not taken seriously. Some by mail, some by wire, some delivered in person. They range in amount from $100,000 credited to Billy Garon, of St. Louis to $500,000 amount promised by six promoters.

But going in sporting circles tonight sits this long list down to five probable contenders—Eddie Graney, James Coffroth and Jack Gleason, all of San Francisco; Tom M. Jarry, of Los Angeles; and Tex Rickard, of the west generally. McGraw has offered $75,000 for the fight, it is understood, while the other mentioned in their own words, are holding a waiting pool of cash, ready to submit every body else or at least to offer the best all around inducements. They are here in person and are in earnest.

Judging from the line-up of most, some California and more probably San Francisco will get the bout, but just which promoter will win out is yet to be settled.

Hoboken was selected as the place for opening bids because the police commission has taken a strict view of the anti-prize fight laws in this state and forbade such proceedings in the city of New York.

Both Jeffries and Johnson will shape up in the same ring at the Madison Square Garden tomorrow night, however, when the public will have an opportunity to compare them. Jeffries will box with Sam Berger while Johnson will exhibit his speed and cleverness against two of his sparring partners.

ELECTION TRIBUTE TO CONSERVATISM OF STATE

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 30.—United States Senator Joseph P. Johnson of Alabama this afternoon issued the following statement on the effect of yesterday's defeat of the prohibition amendment in Alabama:

"The election determined that the men of Alabama did not wish to write into their constitution police measures, nor surrender rights they have already reserved.

It does not mean the return of the saloons or any backward step in public morals.

RUEF PLEADS FOR RELEASE FROM COUNTY JAIL

Long Imprisonment, Pending Decision on Appeal, Wrecking Health of Convicted San Francisco Politician.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) San Francisco, Nov. 30.—Abraham Ruef, the former "political boss" of this city, through his attorneys today petitioned the superior court for release on bail on the ground that his continued confinement pending an appeal has greatly impaired his health.

The petition is based upon the statement of twenty physicians, who after examining Ruef today, announced that his incarceration in the branch county jail was undermining his health.

They attested that the heart, lungs and eyesight of the prisoner had been greatly affected by his confinement.

The petition further stated that Mrs. Abraham, sister of Ruef, was dangerously ill and that his presence at her bedside was imperative. Judge Cabanis set tomorrow morning for a formal hearing of the application.

Ruef is under sentence to fourteen years in the penitentiary. He was convicted of bribery in connection with the granting of an overhead trolley franchise to the United railways.

ROCKEFELLER FEARS NO HARM FROM PLOTTERS

Kerosine King Travels Without Guard Through Cleveland Despite Story of Conspiracy to Assassinate Him.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Cleveland, O., Nov. 30.—Without alleged plotters. The Cleveland railway station and took a train for New York.

Following the story of the plot to assassinate Mr. Rockefeller, which was told to the public today by Senator Smith of Minnesota, O., the Cleveland police stood ready to furnish an escort if demanded by Mr. Rockefeller.

Following his usual custom, the great millionaire departed the railway station, mingled with the crowd that had gathered and seemed to have no anxiety as to his safety. The only unusual move he made was to direct his chauffeur to his Forest Hill home, to the station, approaching it from the side opposite that on which his home is located.

The police in Cleveland and East Cleveland are endeavoring to keep the "plotters" out of the city. Mr. Rockefeller's home was under guard all Monday night but today at the direction of Rockefeller the guard was withdrawn.

The story told by Smith is that while in Cleveland on Sunday night he heard two men discussing a plan to kill the oil magnate.

"We might as well get our money for killing old John D.," one of them said, according to Smith, "for we will get it coming to us whether we kill or kidnap him. Bill and the other fellow have plenty of money and are willing to pay well for putting him out of the way."

FINANCIAL PORTION OF TAFT MESSAGE COMPLETED

UNLAWFUL TO SELL LIQUOR TO SOLDIERS

Colorado Men Arrested Under Old Territorial Law Designed to Keep Uncle Sam's Fighters Sober.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Denver, Nov. 30.—Mayor Charles Lawton, Treasurer Patrick Shiner, former Mayor Harry Livingston, and former Treasurer A. Thibault, of the town of Fort Logan, near the army post of that name, in the outskirts of Denver, were arrested last night charged with selling liquor to soldiers. The charges were brought under an old territorial law.

The officials said officials all of whom gave bond, assert the arrests were a case of persecution and not protection.

WIVES COME CHEAP IN LOCKPORT

New York Farmer Sold His for $1.50 and Now Grand Jury Will Investigate Legality of the Deed.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Grand Jurors of Lockport, Edward Smith, a farmer near Lockport, were held by the grand jury today on a charge of selling a woman, Phillips' wife, appended to the superintendent of the poor house for aid. She was found living in a barn with her children. Mrs. Phillips and her husband had sold her to Smith for $1.50 and that Smith had turned her out.

Smith admitted he had lived with the woman but said he did not know she was Phillips' wife. The alleged sale of the woman was the result of a tale the men had in a tavern. Smith was asserting that no woman would live with him, whereas Phillips is alleged to have said: "You can have me wife for $1.50."

"I had only five shillings," said Smith, "so I borrowed a quarter. When I got ready to go home the woman climbed into the wagon and went home with me."

Mrs. Phillips is now in the poor house.

GOOD THINGS FOR NEW MEXICO.

The exposition of the products of the irrigated sections of the south, west, which is now in progress at Chicago, is probably the most valuable agency that ever was devised for bringing the real value of this region as a producing section to the attention of the American people.

The following letter on this subject, written from Chicago, by C. L. Seagraves, general colonization agent of the Santa Fe railway system, to Geo. L. Brooks, president of the Territorial Bureau of Immigration, will give the reader a good idea of the general opinion upon this subject.

Dear Sir:—The Land and Irrigation exposition which is now open at the Coliseum is proving a phenomenal success and has exceeded all expectations, and believe you will have every reason to feel gratified that New Mexico is represented. Messrs. Henning and Stroup have made a very tasty display of the products; they are in a good location and feel that the advertising New Mexico will receive will be of much benefit and that you will be well repaid for time and expense in putting it on.

The attendance so far has been unusually large; the people seem to be intensely interested and are eagerly seeking information about the southwest. I believe it would have been very unfortunate if New Mexico had not been represented, as it would leave the impression that they had nothing to show. It is generally conceded that the exposition is the biggest thing of its kind ever undertaken and will mean a great deal for the entire west. Your exhibit is good; it is attracting lots of attention and I think the people of New Mexico can congratulate themselves that they came here and are showing the people of the middle states what you are producing. It is bound to mean much desirable new business for New Mexico.

Yours truly,
C. L. SEAGRAVES,
General Colonization Agent.

WE ARE THERE TO STAY.

It is reported that the extremists among the people of the Philippines did not like that portion of the inaugural address of Gov. General Forbes dealing with the future of the islands. He made it clear that settle was not a feature of the American program, and stood on a chance of becoming a feature. Uncle Sam was in charge of the Philippines for a fixed purpose, and would go forward consistently and steadily in carrying it out.

In that position the new governor of the islands is sustained by the public sentiment of the nation. Three times the people have spoken—in 1900, when Mr. McKinley, who had taken over the islands, was endorsed, in 1904, when Mr. Roosevelt, who opposed settle, was endorsed, and last year, when Mr. Taft, who as governor general himself had done so much to justify American occupation, was endorsed.

Nothing indicates a reversal of the spirit of these three pronounced decisions.

TRUE TO THE LETTER.

If the farms are populated the cities will boom. The plan of the California Promotion committee of naming the land and letting the cities take care of themselves is sound in all its bearings. An agricultural population for the state, settling the land one-third as cheaply as Connecticut is settled, would give San Francisco a million and a half of population. Besides this one thrifty settler is at more importance than usual to the financial interests of California than five average tourists—San Francisco Chronicle.

All of that applies with equal force to New Mexico, and especially to that portion of the territory adjacent to Albuquerque, where, by reason of the rich soil, the gradual climate and the abundance of water, the land can be made to produce almost a hundred per cent more per acre than the general average throughout the country.

HOPING FOR A COMPROMISE.

A number of the big railway systems are said to be opposed to some of the provisions which the president intends to urge upon congress for the better government of the railway business of the country, and in referring to this fact the Washington correspondents say that senators who are loth to see the long session extended into hot weather by a railroad fight hope that the president will be successful in bringing the railroads to a compromise before the matter is opened in congress. It is Mr. Taft's object to arrive at an understanding which will disarm opposition. This may permit the early passage of a bill drafted to carry out the main recommendations which he has in mind, and which have been so generally discussed as to have become fairly well known.

With the railroad reform amendments on a peaceful basis as regards those to be affected by them the coming session of congress would be robbed of much its promised excitement. Some of the leaders hold that should the president be successful in his pacification of the railroads his recommendations could be carried out, the appropriations bills passed and congress adjourn at a comparatively early date. This would be very welcome to those members of the house who have a hot fight for re-election before them, and no president has ever yet regretted the early completion of the work of congress unless it has left his recommendations unaccomplished.

There is the possibility that "insurgent" attack would centre upon a set of recommendations known to have the approval of the railroads. In this case it is possible that the suggestions made by the president with the knowledge that the railroads consented to them would draw hot fire from the "insurgents," but aside from this snafu an agreement "out of court" would be very generally welcomed if the main points of the president's reforms are preserved. It is asserted that they will be sustained if any such agreement is reached and that the suggestion of unity of purpose comes not from the president, but from the representatives of the railroad interests.

ELECTRICITY VERSUS STEAM.

Within a day or two reports have come from the operating forces in the electric division of the New York and New Haven railroad, telling in detail of the results of the severest test electricity has ever been put to since its first utilization for the operation of trains upon steam road lines. This test was brought about by reason of the unprecedented demand for transportation between New York and Boston, which came from those who desired to see the Yale-Harvard football match. In order to accommodate this demand the two night trains were run in four sections of twelve cars each.

The electric motors responded with perfect satisfaction to this unusual demand upon them. How stupendous was the electric energy which they received under perfect control, so that they were able to haul at sixty miles an hour a twelve-car Pullman train, was most spectacularly demonstrated at night. There were vivid, lightning-like flashes of electricity from the overhead conductor. There were as brilliant as almost to blind the eye of the spectator. Lightning seemed to come out of the wires, and these electric flashes illuminated for an instant villages and towns all along the line.

Every motor made its scheduled time. There was not the slightest accident or delay due to electricity, and this test will undoubtedly satisfy the company of the wisdom of the work now under way whereby the main line between New York and New Haven is speedily to be entirely electrified.

A WORLD-WIDE CONDITION.

One fact which the average American citizen fully realizes is that the cost of living is more than it used to be. And to this connection attention is called by an exchange to another fact equally important but not so well known by all of us, and that is that in every other civilized nation there has been practically a similar increase in recent years in the price of food commodities.

France has long been famous as a country in which living was cheap. Undoubtedly the French cooks are more fertile in expedients and less wasteful than ours. And yet today apparently their food supplies are costing them at the outlet almost what we have to pay in the United States.

The federal bureau of labor has made a compilation of the average prices of staple articles of food in thirty representative towns of France during the last five years. During that time the retail price of the standard grade of coffee as ranged from 25 to 12 cents per pound. Leaf sugar has sold from 5 1/2 to 6 cents per pound. Eggs have ranged from 22 1/2 to 28 1/2 cents per dozen. Butter sold from 22 1/2 to 28 1/2 cents per pound.

We have been poring less in this country for coffee about the same for sugar and a little more, on the average, for eggs and butter. The increase here in the last five years, however, is more than offset by the lower price here of the great staple of wheat flour. The French have had to pay from $7 to $8.58 per barrel for it at retail during the last five years. We have not paid over $4.15 per barrel for the very highest grade of flour, and that is much above the average used in France.

There has been much talk about the high prices of meat in this country. Here are the prices they have been paying in France. For tenderloin and porterhouse steak from 22 1/2 to 25 1/2 cents per pound; ribs, 12 1/2 to 17 1/2 cents; shin, with bone, 8 1/2 to 14 cents; mutton sold from 14 to 20 cents per pound on an average throughout the country, but in cities like Marseilles mutton chops have averaged 35 cents per pound and legs from 29 to 31 cents.

The average French family has paid from 16 to 22 cents per pound for veal and from 15 to 20 cents for pork although in the larger cities pork and veal chops and ham cuts have retailed from 29 to 35 cents, only the richer families, of course, paying these prices.

The foregoing figures regarding food stuffs in France only go to prove that the cost of them has increased throughout the world. The people of the United States are paying more for the commodities of life, but so are the people of every nation. The underlying facts seem to be that the production of food-stuff has not increased in proportion with the world's population, and that the increased production of gold for money has also had a stimulating effect on prices. Indeed, the latter fact is probably responsible in a larger measure than the former. The world's supply of gold has doubled, per capita, since the middle of the last century, and under the law of supply and demand the more abundant it becomes the more of it will be required in exchange for other commodities.

A BOOMERANG.

An amusing incident occurred when the house of lords was in committee on the reform bill of 1887. The clerk of the house intimated that an amendment had been handed in, the writing of which was so illegible that he was unable to say what it was about or who had written it. It was then discovered that Lord Lytton was the author, and it turned out to be a proposal disfranchising all persons who could not write.—Westminster (England) Gazette.

A HINT TO NEW MEXICO.

Reports from California make it plain that President Taft's speech at Riverside urging the people of that state to preserve the old Catholic Missions, has given decided impetus to a movement which should enlist the sympathy and aid of all intelligent Americans in behalf of these precious memorials of our relatively brief past. The Landmarks club of Los Angeles is co-operating energetically in the plans for preserving the missions and making an appeal for assistance which should meet with generous and ready response. From the time of Hawthorne's lament, and indeed during our whole existence as a nation, not only poets but all imaginative and meditative Americans have complained of our lack of background, of the absence of old ruins and storied memorials of all those ancient relics around which the fancy may play. The old missions satisfy all the requirements of romance. They are linked with the earliest history of our country; they are beautiful in themselves, and what is surely rare in this country, the quaint and beautiful architecture is in perfect harmony with the nature of the landscape which serves as their setting and in keeping with the uses to which the buildings were put.

And therein is a hint to the people of New Mexico. This territory is as rich in the treasures of the past as any other section of the union, and we shall be failing in our duty if we fail to do our share in the work of preserving them for the future.

The American suffragette who is languishing in a British jail because she threw a stone through a pane of glass in a public building has aroused the sympathy of the College Equal Suffrage league, which will protest to the state department against its indifference to her fate. "What right," asks Mrs. Hatch, "has the government to neglect women citizens?" Shall warships be rushed to Nicaragua to avenge the execution of American revolutionists and no hand raised to rescue female martyrs to a political cause? It will be the object of the league to put an end to this unjust sex discrimination in diplomacy.

London is still trying to figure out why a militant suffragette would rather go to jail than attend afternoon teas or bridge parties.

Members of the senate irrigation committee talked very encouragingly about statehood when here. But then we have always had plenty of promises. What we really want, however, are fewer promises and just one act, an enabling act.

Speaker Cannon must have found out that he has lost his popularity, for at one time he really was popular, judging from his plaintive remarks of yesterday. Just another little bit of evidence that the people are dissatisfied with being robbed by the tariff.

Backache is so deceptive. It comes and goes—keeps you guessing. Learn the cause—then cure it. Nine times out of ten it comes from the kidneys.

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Cure every kidney ill from backache to diabetes. Here's an Albuquerque case to prove it:

Mrs. J. Hall, 322 W. Iron avenue, Albuquerque, N. Mex., says: "I willingly corroborate the public statement I gave in favor of Doan's kidney pills in January, 1907, to the effect that they had been used in my family with splendid results. A member of our household suffered for months from pains in the back and often was unable to do anything for a day or two. Doan's Kidney Pills brought positive relief and thus earned my endorsement. In my estimation, this remedy is one that will never fail in bringing relief from kidney disorders."

FIVE MURDER CASES FOR TRIAL AT ALAMOGORDO

BUSIEST SESSION IN HISTORY OF TOWN

Gonzales Charged With Frightful Mutilation of Victim Expected to Plead Guilty in District Court.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Alamogordo, N. M., Nov. 29.—The work that has just closed was the busiest in court circles that Alamogordo has ever known. With the United States and the territorial court both in session, the crowds in attendance have been too large for the hotels and rooming houses to accommodate. One night the people arriving on No. 2 were unable to find quarters anywhere and were compelled to sit up all night.

Only two cases in the United States court have been tried by jury. The first was United States vs. Oliver E. Carr charged with unlawfully smuggling into the United States from the Republic of Mexico two Chinese persons, Lu Hock Chai and Ma Hock Weng, on the 21st of December last. Although the government introduced 29 witnesses, no conviction was secured, the jury disagreeing. Some of these witnesses were brought from New York and Boston, and altogether the trial cost a great deal of money.

The other case was United States vs. Thomas S. Chappell of Tucuman, on the charge of perjury. The indictment alleged that Chappell contracted to sell his home before he had made final proof, and that in making affidavit in final proof he committed perjury in testifying that he had not sold or agreed to sell. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, but recommended the defendant to the clemency of the court. The sentence imposed was a year and a day in the penitentiary, a fine of $250 and the costs of the proceeding. The prison sentence was suspended during good behavior. The costs, together with the fine will amount to about a thousand dollars. No appeal was taken.

In this court only a few cases of minor importance remain, which will probably be concluded by Wednesday or Thursday.

The territorial docket carries fifteen criminal and ninety-two civil cases, not including the true bills returned by the grand jury now in session. In the old docket are three murder cases, one accessory in a murder case, and three cases of criminal libel. In order to save expense the territorial jury was not summoned to appear until this morning, an all of the first week was devoted to the trial of the United States court cases.

There will be five murder cases tried in this form of the territorial court, which is without a parallel in the records of the county. The cases are as follows:

Estaban Balderama, for the killing of a fellow Mexican in La Luz Canyon more than six years ago. This indictment was returned by the grand jury in December, 1934, when this county was in the third district, but Balderama was not apprehended until about six months ago. J. E. Wharton will conduct the defense.

Red McClure, for the killing of J. M. Smith, in the Sacramento mountains, in March of this year. J. E. Wharton will conduct the defense.

Daniel Gonzales, for the killing of Juan Madrid on the Mesquero reservation in the early part of this month.

SCARLET FEVER IS ENDANGERING LAS VEGAS

Strong Resolutions Passed by Medical Society Calling for Active Measures to Stamp Out Epidemic.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal) Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 29.—At a recent meeting of the Las Vegas Medical society, composed of all the prominent physicians of the city the following resolutions were passed:

"Whereas, scarlet fever has existed in Las Vegas and neighboring villages for years and still exists, and the fact of contagion is undeniable and where-fore, the report of the city board of health appearing in the Opie 16th issue, in which it is stated that it is not warranted by the facts, minimizes the danger and gives a false sense of security to the public, therefore be it resolved:

"That the Las Vegas Medical society do consider an epidemic does exist and that we feel that more active measures should at once be taken to stamp out the disease and that we appeal to the public to give its active cooperation in urging upon the city authorities the importance of providing more adequate means for thorough quarantine and disinfection.

"During the past two days the different schools and colleges have reopened their doors against the wishes of the society with the exception of the over school public schools. It is believed that the prominence of the matter as given by the medical society will have considerable effect. There are a number of cases of scarlet fever existing at present and a death every few days.

LIGHT COMPANY HAS FAILED TO KEEP ITS CONTRACT

IS ALLEGATION MADE BY TOWN OF GALLUP

Suit Filed in District Court Yesterday Seeks to Have Carbon City Concern Forfeit Its Franchise.

That the Gallup Electric Light company has failed to keep its contract to furnish light and power to the town of Gallup, and has also failed to furnish proper electric current for lighting purposes to the inhabitants of the town and that its lines and equipment throughout the town are in such a condition as to endanger the lives of people generally, are among the allegations made in a suit filed in the district court yesterday afternoon by the territory of New Mexico, on the relation of the town of Gallup, in which the plaintiff asks that the court cancel the franchise now held by the light company.

The suit was filed by Attorney General Frank W. Clancy, with Attorneys Neil B. Field and Alfred Ruiz as counsel for the relators. It is asked in the complaint that the right of the defendant company to exercise its franchise be inquired into by the court and that it be adjudged to have forfeited all rights and privileges now enjoyed under the terms of the franchise.

It is alleged that the light company has failed for more than a year and a half to live up to the conditions agreed to at the time the franchise was granted.

Ask Administrators to Settle.

Sumner Burkhardt, attorney for Nicholas Artiga, Jose M. Ortega, et al., filed a suit in the district court yesterday asking judgment against Charles F. Hunt and Amado C. De Baca, for $2,392.95, and interest at 6 per cent from December 1, 1932.

It is alleged that the defendants are administrators of the bona fide estate of Antonio Sandoval, who died in 1932, and that they received as such administrators the above sum which they failed to turn over to the heirs, being removed as administrators of the estate by the probate court because of their failure to do so.

At the same time, the case of the territory versus Frank Artiga and Jose Chavez, charged with the larceny of merchandise from Santa Fe freight cars in January, 1938, which was begun in the district court Monday afternoon, was continued yesterday. At 5 o'clock the proceedings had not yet completed its case and it is likely that at least all day today will be taken with the conclusion of the territory's side and the presentation of the defense. S. Nordstrom, of the Myers Liquor company, was one of the chief witnesses yesterday, testifying to the quality and quantity of goods shipped by that concern, portions of which it is alleged, were stolen by Artiga and Chavez.

He has sold some potatoes at $1.50 per hundred pounds or ninety cents per bushel, which would bring him $117 per acre. He has stored about two thousand bushels for seed, which he will not dispose of until spring, thus realizing a larger price for them. At the present price his crop will bring him $2,392.95, not including his work, especially in an off year. Mr. Matthews farm is not for sale.

CHARLES LANTRY TAKES LOOK AT THE CENTRAL

BIG CONTRACTOR ON LITTLE INSPECTION TRIP

Colonel Hopewell Saying Nothing and Looking Hopeful; C. C. Murray Also Again in the City.

Charles L. Lantry of Kansas, whose name is synonymous with railroad construction work, was here yesterday after a little inspection trip over the New Mexico Central properties. He was accompanied by C. C. Murray of Pittsburg, who has for some time past been identified with the prospects of the railway. This is the second trip to be made by Mr. Lantry over the line. One trip signifies considerable interest and two trips looks a good deal like business. Mr. Lantry, however, is saying nothing, and Colonel W. S. Hopewell, patron saint of the New Mexico Central, had little to communicate concerning the prospects last night. "Things look hopeful," was all that could be got out of Mr. Hopewell. The latter is just recovering from a severe attack of rheumatism in the pedal extremities, anyhow, and it isn't wise to ask him too many questions. There is good ground, however, for the presumption that there is something doing in New Mexico Central.

BALL TONIGHT IN ELKS HALL

Non Sectarian Benevolent Society Event Will Be Brilliant One; Changed From Armory as at First Proposed.

The big charity ball of the Non-Sectarian Benevolent society, one of the leading social events of the year, will be held tonight in the Elks' hall, and elaborate preparations have been made by the ladies to have this ball the most brilliant and successful in the history of this most useful organization. Attention is called to the fact that the ball will not be held in the armory, as at first proposed, but in the Elks' building.

FORMER FORESTRY SERVICE MAN HAS THE RATON REPORTER

Willis G. Brown of Washington, D. C., formerly connected with the United States forestry service has purchased the Raton Reporter and will take charge of that live weekly paper. Publisher George H. Beringer in his goodbye to the public says in the current issue of the Reporter:

With this issue the undersigned retires from the ownership and editorial conduct of the Raton Reporter, after having presided over its destinies for nearly twenty-two years.

In severing my connection with the Reporter I would be ungrateful did I not improve the opportunity by expressing my appreciation of the warm generous support of the general public and the business interests of northern New Mexico. While I anticipate with pleasure after so many years of continuous hard work trying to do my duty by the citizens of Raton and northern New Mexico in faithfully and conscientiously reporting the varied and wonderful resources of this section, I nevertheless feel real regret in parting company with the Reporter.

Willis G. Brown of Washington, D. C., will be my successor, he having purchased the plant and business. Mr. Brown will assume personal control of the paper next week. He is a newspaper man of long experience and has remained a responsible position in the United States forestry service to assist his lot with the people of this territory. I cordially recommend him to our citizens.

WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 30.—The movement of prices in the stock market today was ascribed more to technical causes than to the reflection of opinions or changes bearing on values.

Today there was a considerable body of absorption by uncovered shorts and by new buyers for long account to offset the liquidation which was caused by the sale of the last Friday. There was a near enough balance between these opposing forces in buying prices back over their own sales and to lead to considerable unsetting of sentiment in consequence. The professional traders felt that the market eagerly and their shifting of position had much to do with the variations of the price current.

Yesterday's violent and closing higher of prices in widely extended fields. Leaders of money on stock exchange apparently shared this enthusiasm to an extent which resulted in additional margins and in some instances precipitated liquidation. Later rallies developed smaller offerings, although the demand for stocks at the advanced prices was not so strong. One party in the speculation remained uncertain whether the selling on account of the apprehension over the anti-trust program had spent its force and whether any of the factors were sufficiently cleared up to open the way for renewed advance. The other party feared the over-extension of the short interest and possible embarrassment in the closing back stocks sold short.

The additional engagement of gold for export made a continuing drain on the cash holdings of the New York banks and the movement of currency into the interior implied by the maintained rate of New York exchange at Chicago does not insure an entire offset to that movement.

A steady showing of October net earnings helped some of the railroads, notably Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, Rock Island and Wabash preferred held some strength on deal rumors. Closing stocks:

ENGINEER BADLY HURT ON RUN TO ALBUQUERQUE

Engineer Lee Wright of the Santa Fe, well known in this city, met with a painful accident at Romeroville station near Las Vegas Sunday morning while his train was on a side track to pass another train before proceeding to Albuquerque. The glass of the lubricator suddenly exploded, throwing hot oil all over the engineer's face, inflicting painful burns. Wright was relieved by Engineer McCabe and taken to the Elks hall at Las Vegas, where he is reported better.

MASKED MEN HOLD UP ZANONE'S SALOON

RIFLE CASH DRAWER AND MAKE ESCAPE

Compel Bartender to Stand With Arms Uplifted While They Take Valuables at Point of Gun.

Two masked highwaymen entered Zanone's saloon, 1009 South Second street at 11:20 o'clock last night and compelled the bartender, Lee Zanone, to stand with his arms elevated for several minutes while they ransacked the saloon. Only ten dollars was secured from the cash drawer, this amount being all the money in the place at the time. The robbers went at their work systematically and threatened to pump Zanone full of lead if he moved a muscle.

After the robbers had finished their work and backed out of the saloon, Zanone rushed behind the counter and grabbed a 45 revolver, firing four shots at the fleeing highwaymen one of the shots hit the door just as it was closing behind the men. The other three shots being aimed at them through the window as they gained the sidewalk. The plate glass window through which the three shots were fired was smashed to pieces.

According to Zanone's story, the men entered the saloon at 11:20. Both passed through the door together. One stood in the middle of the floor and the other, who carried a gun, stood in the front, while the other passed around to the end of the bar and commanded the bartender to march from behind the counter and stand in the center of the room with his hands in the air. With no other alternative than to obey Zanone followed instructions. One of the men, who seemed to be the leader, and who did the talking, then went behind the bar and opened the cash drawer, emptying it of ten dollars, the receipts of the day. Another drawer, which looked as if it might contain valuables, refused to respond to the robbers' efforts and Zanone was ordered to march around and open it. It proved to contain nothing of value, however, and Zanone was compelled to return to the middle of the room once more.

Still covering the bartender with their revolvers the pair of highwaymen backed slowly out the door and broke into a run as they reached the sidewalk, making their escape in a southerly direction.

Zanone quickly secured his revolver from behind the bar and took four shots at the men as they were making their getaway. None of them reached the robbers, however, and they did not return the fire.

Zanone notified the police of the affair by telephone and two bluecoats arrived on the scene five minutes after the hold-up. Zanone was quite badly frightened, but managed to give a fair description of the men. Their faces were well concealed with black war paint, however, and it will be difficult for Zanone to identify them in the event they are captured.

One year ago in the same saloon, Zanone was shot by Louis Baer, and for several hours lay on his back, his death as the result of the serious wound just below the heart, which he received. Zanone refused to prosecute the man and the case was never brought to trial.

SAFE BLOWERS STILL AT LARGE

Although the police did considerable work yesterday in an effort to develop clues which might lead to the arrest of the blowers who blew open the Finnigan-Browns strong box, no tangible results were secured.

The fact that nitro-glycerine was used to open the safe door is in itself an indication that the robbers were experienced hands at the business and consequently knew how to cover up their tracks well enough to avoid arrest.

NEW CANDIDATES FOR SEATS ON THE BENCH

CRUMPACKER OF INDIANA EXPECTS APPOINTMENT

Rumor Brings Another Judge from the Philippines; Governor-Elect Mills Goes to Washington.

This is the open season on jobs. Following the big yield of candidates for the position of governor and United States marshal, aspirants for seats on the New Mexico bench are now trooping from all quarters as a result of the vacancy caused by the appointment of Judge William H. Pope to the chief justiceship. A report was circulated yesterday to the effect that Edward Crumpacker, former Indiana congressman and cousin of the late Judge J. W. Crumpacker of the Second district court at Albuquerque, expected a judicial appointment in New Mexico. Another report has it that a future judge of the New Mexico bench is now en route to this territory from the far-off Philippine Isles.

It is understood that Governor-elect W. J. Mills will leave today for Washington, presumably for the purpose of conferring with the powers that be on the subject of various pending federal appointments, including judgeships.

Christian M. Crumpacker, United States marshal, is also understood to be on his way to Washington to see how strong are the ties that bind native sons of the Buckeye state and whether, as reported, he really has a clinch on his job.

WOOL BUYERS HAVE QUIT LOOKING FOR BARGAINS

No New Developments to Change Quietude in Market; Territory Wools Remain Inactive.

No new developments have taken place during the past week to materially change the quiet in the wool market, but nothing has transpired to change the strong position of wool in bond, and as the stocks are reduced each week, the less desirable wools left seem to work right into class, and the price of last week and the week before remains unchanged.

The wool buyers have practically ceased looking for bargains, and the present policy of buying is to take the least possible quantity to patch out, and then come in again within a few days to buy more.

The system of buying has, its method of buying seems to be growing in favor and there will be ten purchases of 50,000 pounds each for a mill that in years past would buy a half million pounds at one time and consequently knew how to cover up their tracks well enough to avoid arrest.

Buying in Piecemeal Lots.

No one consuming wool seems to relish the idea of tying up much money in it. In fact, the consumers seem to be afraid of wool and are best satisfied when buying piecemeal lots once or twice a week. This particular system of buying has, its points, to be sure, but it does not give the mills as much of the best selections as would be the case if larger blocks were taken. Still, it is satisfactory all around under the circumstances, and before the first of the year it will result in the Boston wool trade carrying over into a new year the smallest quantity of old domestic wool on record within recent years.

It will be a case of clean decks, or rather cleaned-out lots, and the trading will be confined almost exclusively to foreign wools. In addition to some territory wool, Boston has a moderate supply of California wool, which heretofore has been only in demand for certain lines of production.

Part of the regular demand was supplied and then there was a halt, and this time the California wools have been peddled out for use in a way, because the buyers were never before known to take this grade. The result is obvious. A little later when these manufacturers decide to supply, they will find their usual choices lost somewhat broken, if not sold out entirely, and what they will be forced to buy as a substitute will cost more money than the price now asked for California wool.

Little Chance of Break.

This holds good in a way with the decline of wool of domestic growth. There is a good supply in the market and they are as surely needed by certain manufacturers as any wool is needed, but the price seems to cause hesitation, even when it is admitted that the wools are wanted and must be bought sooner or later. Take a decline wool at 42 cents. It will cost $9 cents clean. A good 70c

Australian wool now cost 92 1/2 cents clean landed, and there is little prospect of the price declining, while the London sale may create a condition that will advance prices.

The prospects for a very satisfactory woolen fabric demand are especially good, and the extensive sampling by woolen spinners during the past two weeks will shortly result in some activity. With the exception of small orders already booked during the week, ranging all the way from five bags to 200 bags. Some of this wool came over from New York for dealers' account, and it was principally 13 super, which sold around 56 1/2 cents. Probably there were 500 bags of this New York wool disposed of, and more is coming to meet the growing demand. Sales of about everything known in pulled grades were reported at full prices.

Pulled Wools.

Pulled wools have been the most active grade in the market during the past week, having been under most careful examination by an unusually large number of buyers, and hundreds of small orders were booked during the week, ranging all the way from five bags to 200 bags. Some of this wool came over from New York for dealers' account, and it was principally 13 super, which sold around 56 1/2 cents. Probably there were 500 bags of this New York wool disposed of, and more is coming to meet the growing demand. Sales of about everything known in pulled grades were reported at full prices.

Scoured Wools.

There has been a continuation of the piecemeal buying of scoured wools, quite largely by the small woolen manufacturers who are now getting up courage enough to buy fifteen or twenty bags at a time, as they are well supplied with good orders, and more are in sight. There is no speculation yet in the scoured grades, as practically everything sold goes to mills which are waiting for it for immediate use. Prices remain unchanged, running all the way from 50 to 70 cents, according to the grades.

Fleece Wools.

Fleece wools are about in the position they occupied during recent past weeks. In rare instances prices may have been shaded a trifle, but the good wools are asking prices, and nothing has transpired very closely held for the full range of as yet to warrant any mark-down. Each week of carrying adds to the cost of the wool, and determines the dealer more than ever to hang on for his price, which at best will afford but a meager profit. Sales in small lots are reported, among them, being 50,000 Ohio fine washed at 28 cents, 25,000 Ohio half-blood at 32 cents, 25,000 Ohio three-eighths blood at 36 cents, and 40,000 New York state fleeces at 20 cents. The lot being hardly up to full standard. Sales have been made in a small way of New England state wools, but the lots were naturally small.

Territory Wools.

With the exception of a line of fine and fine medium grades running close to 500,000 pounds, the territory wool market has been rather quiet. The chief interest is in the foreign situation, and in the west, and in the Boston trade alone there are dealers standing ready to take the entire Montana clip at 20 cents, the price reported as being fixed on contract recently. This figure is not credited, as it was the low contract figure, or very near it, last year, and probably 23 cents is the low price now unless conditions change very suddenly. Staple wools are very short supply in Boston, and they are very quiet as well. But in clothing grades there is considerable activity in small lot trading. Among sales we note 25,000 choice Wyoming three-eighths blood at 30 cents, 25,000 fine and fine medium at 28 cents, 25,000 choice No. 2 Montana Oregon at 26 cents, 50,000 original Wyoming at 26 cents, 100,000 No. 2 Valley Oregon at 30 cents, 25,000 No. 3 Oregon at 26 cents, 100,000 original Wyoming at 25 1/2 cents, 25,000 original New Mexican at 70 cents, 20,000 choice No. 3 Valley Oregon at 28 cents, 15,000 fine and fine medium Utah at 26 cents, 40,000 of same at 21 1/2 cents in grease, and 25,000 three-eighths blood Wyoming at 23 cents.

The showing of the fall wool in Texas is now over, but no sales reported. Probably the Kentucky sales will take place next week. This new fall wool is worth about 60 cents
