UNITED STATES COMMISSION INVITED BY ZELAYA

Dictator Offers to Resign if Americans Decide His Rule is Detrimental to Best Interest of Nicaragua.

CLAIMS REPORTS SENT ARE BASED ON PREJUDICE

Prairie, Carrying Marines to Central America, Still Sticks Fast in Mud Flat Below Philadelphia.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Managua, Nicaragua, Dec. 4.—President Zelaya has asked the United States to send a commission to Nicaragua to investigate conditions existing here, and says that if its findings show that his administration is detrimental to Central America he will resign.

President Zelaya believes that the information sent to the United States regarding conditions existing here, and that a disinterested investigation would show matters in a better light.

WASHINGTON HASN'T HEARD OF INVITATION

Washington, Dec. 4.—If President Zelaya has asked the United States to send a commission to investigate his administration as indicated in an Associated Press dispatch from Managua, no news of it had reached Washington late tonight.

Senator Haxen, the Nicaraguan minister, who never has been received, said he had heard nothing of it. The senator said he had not even received instructions from his country to govern his movements since passports were handed to his charge d'affaires, Dr. Rodriguez, last Wednesday.

ESTRADA SUBJUGANT OVER KNOX ULTIMATUM

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Dec. 4.—(Via wireless, via Colon, Dec. 4.)—General Estrada, president of the provisional government and leader of the revolutionists, made the following statement today in regard to Secretary Knox's action in dismissing Senator Rodriguez, Nicaraguan charge d'affaires, at Washington:

"I know that American sympathy is with us. The United States has always been the upholder and exponent of liberty, justice and good government. We are striving for this and in the name of Nicaragua I send greetings to the people of that noble nation, the United States of America."

"The action of the United States has been enthusiastically received here and there has been great rejoicing."

GUNBOAT PRINCETON REACHES SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, Dec. 4.—The gunboat Princeton, en route from the Bremerton navy yard to Corinto, arrived here today and proceeded immediately to the naval coaling station at California City. After coaling and taking on provisions she will proceed to her destination, sailing probably some time tomorrow.

MEXICO MAINTAINS WAITING ATTITUDE

Mexico City, Dec. 4.—Mexico has done nothing so far in regard to the Nicaraguan matter. It is taking sides neither with Nicaragua nor the United States.

This declaration was made today by Governor Enrique Creel, of Chihuahua, former Mexican ambassador at Washington. Governor Creel has been called to Mexico City for a consultation with the department of foreign relations, with a view of his appointment to Washington in case certain representations made to the American government are received with favor at Washington, according to a statement by Minister of Foreign Relations Mariscal. No formal note concerning this matter has, however, been sent to Washington.

"Mexico's policy is not yet defined," continued the governor. "The attitude to be taken by this country will depend upon developments. Meanwhile this country is remaining neutral. The situation is, of course, grave, but it is not regarded necessary for Mexico to take a stand either way in the matter as the present issue is strictly between the United States and Nicaragua."

"In so far as regards Central America as a whole, Mexico is anxious to see peace preserved and that all of the countries observe the provisions of the Washington treaty. To this end Mexico will be glad to assist the United States. The country naturally feels a deep interest in Central America, through the bonds of language, sentiment and habits, and is anxious to contribute to all that tends toward its well being."

"In the present crisis between the United States and Nicaragua it has not been determined whether Mexico will co-operate with the United States or not. Data is being collected so that Mexico will be able to act with full knowledge of existing conditions if it should decide to take a stand."

"Is it true that Mexico is favoring either the candidacy of Irujo or Madriz to succeed Zelaya?" was asked of the governor.

"No attitude whatever has been taken by this government up to this time," replied Governor Creel.

Touching the possibility of Governor Creel being sent to Washington, Mr. Mariscal said that Mr. Creel was peculiarly fitted for such a mission, having been ambassador at Washington and being thoroughly acquainted with Central American affairs.

CANNON SOUGHT REVENGE FOR WHIPPING IN PRISON

Richmond, Ind., Dec. 4.—Leroy Cannon was beaten in prison by Zelaya's orders and was eager for revenge," said Isham Sedgwick, a coffee planter of Nicaragua, who is in this city visiting relatives.

"I knew Cannon very well," continued Mr. Sedgwick. "The last time I saw him was on July 4, at Guatemala City. He escaped from prison. He told me he was determined to get even with Zelaya for having him whipped. He had been imprisoned on the charge of smuggling, and had resisted arrest. After his meeting with him he returned and joined the revolutionary forces."

BODIES BURNED AND ASHES DESECRATED

New Orleans, Dec. 3.—The Times-Democrat today will say:

"Confirmation of the execution of the two American, Grace and Cannon, by President Zelaya's forces, was received here in private letters to Nicaraguan families residing in this city. The letters say the executions took place on the banks of the San Juan river within sight of El Castillo, the bodies being burned, and it is claimed some of the soldiers spat on them, saying words of contempt for the dirty American traitors."

It is claimed some one ordered that the ashes be swept along the public road with the dust and other filth and finally into the San Juan river. This was considered the greatest indignity that could be passed upon the Americans and according to the letters it was done in the vilest manner."

PRAIRIE REMAINS FAST ON MUD FLATS

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—With nearly all her coal and great quantities of her stores on lighters, the transport Prairie is still fast tonight on the mud flats of Pea Patch island, where she grounded Thursday night while speeding down the Delaware river on her way to Central America.

Another attempt was made at flood tide this afternoon to float the vessel, but she was not moved. The big transport is imbedded five or six feet in the soft bottom of the river and it is now believed that her cargo will have to be taken off before there will be a chance to free her. According to river men she is about 150 feet west of the main channel. Four tugs worked on the ship for two hours this afternoon and whether another attempt will be made to pull her off at high water tomorrow is not known here.

Admiral Kimball on board the Prairie is in constant communication by wireless with the navy department at Washington and expects to receive orders during the night regarding further attempts to float the vessel.

As the vessel is resting in a bed of mud there has been no injury to the hull. The officers and 700 marines on board are chafing at the delay in getting away, but are working vigorously to help float the vessel.

The work of preparing the transport Dixie, now at the navy yard, has progressed so far that the ship can sail within a few hours to take the Prairie's place. The Dixie was being made ready for sea before the Prairie went aground, and after the news of her mishap reached the yard the work of getting her ready was pushed as fast as possible. The officers of the Dixie fully expect to be ordered to take the Prairie's marines to Panama.

YOUTH CAUSED CHERRY MINE DISASTER

CORONER'S INQUEST PROBES CATASTROPHE

Testimony Tends to Show Flagrant Violation of Child Labor Law Responsible for Frightful Loss of Life.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

Cherry, Ills., Dec. 4.—Testimony introduced at the coroner's inquest at the Cherry mine horror today tended to show that the fire was started by Mat Francisco, an inexperienced boy of 15 who was working in the mine in alleged violation of the child labor law. The boy's work was to push the empty cars from the main shaft in the second vein over to the cage, running to the third vein. Francisco testified that he had pushed the loaded car of hay that caught fire over to the elevator shaft leading to the third vein and left it standing close up to the blading torch which ignited it. The lad said this was the first bale of hay he had ever been required to handle and that his superior in the mine gave him instructions as to what he should do with it.

Representatives of State Factory Inspector Davies' office declared that this testimony justified the opinion that the child labor law was freely violated in the Cherry mine to the great danger of the 500 miners employed there.

Miss Inspector Thomas Hudson testified that he had not inspected the mine since last July and did not know they were using open torches instead of electric light with which he knew the mine to be equipped.

Admission late today by Fred H. Burk, a clerk in the office of the St. Paul Mining company that he had seen and talked with Alexander Rosenjuck, the missing witness who it is believed can clear up the cause of the mine disaster came as a climax to a day of interesting developments in the investigation of the disaster and the state investigating committee.

Burk told the jury he had seen Rosenjuck in Cherry last night and notwithstanding he knew of the desire of Coroner Main to procure his attendance at the inquest, had made no effort to advise the authorities of his whereabouts.

Mrs. Love testified that her brother was taken away from his home in an automobile after he had been sent by officials of the mine and had gone to the office to confer with them.

Mrs. Love said: "He had no money and had not even drawn his last two weeks' pay. If it had not been for some person coming to take him away he never would have left Cherry."

The inquest will be resumed Monday.

KANSAS GOVERNOR SEEKS STRICTER PROHIBITION

Asks Help from Brother Executives of Dry States in Movement for Better Enforcement of Federal Laws.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

Topeka, Kansas, Dec. 4.—Governor Stubbs today sent out letters to governors of all prohibition and local option states initiating a movement for stricter enforcement of the federal revenue laws applying to liquor.

Stubbs' plan is for the governors to unite in a protest to congress. He calls attention to conditions which he alleged in a former letter to the president exists in Kansas—failure of the collectors to post revenue tax licenses in conspicuous places and failure to prosecute "bootleggers," who pay their licenses when apprehended, and he asks that investigations be made in the various states. The states included are Maine, Texas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kentucky, Missouri, Arkansas, Illinois, Tennessee and Georgia.

PROMINENT EGYPTIAN COMES IN MUMMY CASE

New York, Dec. 4.—A distinguished Egyptian of uncertain identity arrived here today in the hold of the steamship Aragonia from Suva and Port Said. He is believed to be either one of the Ramesses or a high official of the Ramesses dynasty. At present he is handled as nine hundred pounds of freight in the cargo of the ship.

Harold Stokes bought the mummy which is said to be at least 2,000 years old, in Egypt and shipped it to his brother Anson Phelps Stokes, secretary of Yale university. There the cedar chest will be opened and Egyptologists expect to determine its identity.

GREAT BRITAIN POLICYHOLDER IN THROES OF EXCITING CONTEST

POLICYHOLDER HAS FRIEND IN MORGAN

To Place Great Life Insurance Company Beyond Danger from Financial Disturbances Purchaser's Principal Motive

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 4.—J. Pierpont Morgan's purpose in purchasing a majority control of the stock of the Equitable Life Insurance society has been stated by himself and his partner, George W. Perkins, was made public tonight in a statement issued by State Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss. Mr. Morgan's idea is to make it impossible that this great interest should be used to the detriment of the policyholders and also to place the control of the Equitable stock outside the present or future financial situation in New York or in the country so as to end for all time the dangers which lurk in an individual holding.

Mr. Morgan, also is quoted as saying that he desires the co-operation of the insurance department in working out a plan whereby the stock, which means the control of the company, would be safeguarded in the interest of policyholders.

Superintendent Hotchkiss' statement follows:

"Immediately on learning that Mr. Morgan had acquired this stock I called upon him personally and requested a statement as to his intentions concerning the same. He replied that in acquiring the stock, he had but a single purpose—namely, to prevent its being sold to different individuals and thus make it impossible that at the expiration of the present policy, this great interest could be used to the detriment of the policyholders. He stated further that he desired the co-operation of the insurance department."

"Later in the day I had a talk with Mr. George W. Perkins, of J. P. Morgan & Co., who reiterated what Mr. Morgan had said and stated that the gentleman desired shortly to take up the matter of placing the control of the Equitable stock outside the present or future financial situation in New York or in the country, as would end for all time dangers which lurk in an individual holding, such as that held by Mr. Hyde prior to the insurance investigation, or a trustee holding such stock which has recently been the fact."

"In any such plan which I may approve of, the policyholders of the Equitable may rest assured that their interests will be the sole consideration and will be fully protected."

Insurance department in working out a plan whereby the stock, which means the control of the company, would be safeguarded in the interest of the policyholders and that I could assure Governor Hughes that no steps to that end could be taken by him save with

MISSIONARIES PERISH IN NORTHERN WILDERNESS

Edmonton, Alberta, Dec. 4.—According to advices brought down today by northern Indians, Bishop Stringer and wife, two of the best known missionaries of the north have perished somewhere between Fort and Dawson City, while the couple started overland last June. Bishop and Mrs. Stringer expected to reach Dawson City in October but nothing has been heard from them by travelers or sojourners for the last two months. Bishop Stringer and his wife have worked among the Eskimos and northern Indians for years. He was recently made a bishop.

DISABLED MOTOR BOAT PICKED UP BY STEAMER

TROOPS QUELL LABOR RIOT IN OHIO

Infantry, Cavalry and Deputy Sheriffs Guard Plant at Bridgeport, Ohio; Five Men Shot; Martial Law Declared.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

Bridgeport, O., Dec. 4.—Martial law tonight holds sway here, where 2,000 striking employees of the Acme Standard plant of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, have been rioting since midnight Friday. A regiment of infantry, one squadron of cavalry and over 150 deputy sheriffs and police guard the city and mills.

Five men have been shot and more or less seriously wounded during the last 24 hours. A federal court injunction has been asked for to restrain the strikers from interfering with the operation of the plant.

The lawlessness bringing on the present situation comes of a trivial incident. Early today one of the mill owners stepped outside of the mill enclosure to escort another guard to a railroad. A fusillade of shots arrested them. Two bullets struck one of the men, but the wounds were not serious. A third guard rushing from the enclosure dragged the two men to safety.

Sheriff Armine wired Governor Harmon for troops saying:

"We fear another Homestead strike and much bloodshed."

The strike at the Acme Standard plant has in location. The strikers are now in the American Sheet & Tin Plate company issued an order that all its plants would be operated on the "open shop" policy. A majority of the workmen employed in the various plants were members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, who struck when the open shop order was issued.

DAY OF CONFLICTING CLAIMS BY BOTH SIDES

St. Paul, Dec. 4.—A continued issuance of diametrically opposite statements from railroad and strike headquarters marked the progress of the switchmen's strike tonight.

As to the statement of General Managers J. M. Granger of the Great Northern that all the available strikebreakers are not needed on account of so many old switchmen returning to work, President Hawley of the switchmen's union replied that only two men have returned to work in the Twin Cities, one of them a switch-tender and the other a yardmaster.

The railroad's assertion that there is now a free movement of freight, President Hawley stated today, that the officials sent down notices to Min-

Switchmen on All Lines West of Buffalo to Present Demands Similar to Those in Northwest.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

St. Paul, Dec. 4.—Frank T. Hawley, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, tonight authorized the statement that a conference will be held Monday or Tuesday of next week in Chicago between a board of managers and a committee of the union representing those employed on all lines west of Buffalo but not including the northwest.

At this time the switchmen will make a demand for the same concessions asked for by the switchmen of the northwest now on strike.

Asked as to the probability of a strike if the demands are refused, Mr. Hawley said he did not care to make a statement at present.

SWITCHMEN'S UNION PLANS FINAL TEST OF STRENGTH

Chicago, Dec. 4.—The Switchmen's Union of North America, whose men are on strike in the northwest, is preparing, according to a report tonight, to make a desperate test of its strength against the railroads.

"Demand for increased wages, it is believed, must be 'fired' by this union in St. Louis, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Buffalo and other points between Chicago and St. Paul. In Chicago, too, the switchmen who belong to the North American union are said to be planning to leave their posts."

MAN EMPLOYED AT ST. LOUIS DEMAND RAISE

St. Louis, Dec. 4.—The three unions of the Switchmen's Union of North America in St. Louis, East St. Louis and suburbs, whose membership includes 100 men, made a demand for a wage increase here two weeks ago. The switchmen asked the railroads for an increase of six cents an hour and ten and one-half cents an hour for overtime and work on Sundays and holidays.

MANAGERS CLAIM GREAT STRIKE IS ENDED

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Late tonight the general managers committee of the railroads involved in the strike issued the following statement through O. L. Dixon, of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad:

"The general managers' committee has just received telegraphic notice from the roads entering St. Paul to discontinue the employment of men. The following telegram was received from J. M. Granger, general manager of the Great Northern: 'With the eight hundred additional switchmen you now have in Chicago tonight, this will give us more than all roads put together can possibly use, because so many of the old switchmen returning to work today at most yards from Seattle east. Conditions are practically normal.'"

NORTHERN PACIFIC HANDLING FREIGHT TRAINS

Seattle, Dec. 4.—The Northern Pacific and Great Northern railway are handling two trains of freight daily each way between Seattle and the east and local consignments are also cared for, although not all the yard engines are manned, operating officials of the railroads say that with the present rate of progress the freight service will be restored next week. The strike causes less comment than the rumors of a demand upon all roads in the country for a general increase of wages.

MILITIAMAN KILLED IN BASKETBALL GAME

St. Louis, Dec. 4.—Frank Berke died tonight of an injury he received early in the evening while playing basketball as a member of the First regiment, Missouri National guard team.

heavily shippers so that they would not be held responsible.

As additional evidence that the embargo has not been broken, said Mr. Hawley, Minneapolis business men late this afternoon made another appeal to the railroads to try to alleviate present conditions. Both sides said that there is no immediate prospect of a conference to effect a settlement.

STRIKERS LEAVE FOR UNKNOWN DESTINATION

Denver, Dec. 4.—Fifteen strike-breakers left here tonight to take place on the Great Northern and Northern Pacific lines. Their exact destination was not made known.

OKLAHOMA FORCES REDUCTION OF PULLMAN FARE

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 4.—The state corporation commission today ordered a readjustment of Pullman rates, effective January 1.

The average berth rate per night is cut from $2 to $1.50, and the seat rate is cut about forty per cent. The Pullman company has agreed to the new schedule.

At a hearing conducted by the corporation commission it was testified that the gross earnings of the Pullman company in Oklahoma last year totaled $250,430 and that the percentage of profit was 37 1-2.

DOCTOR IDENTIFIES CORPSE OF MRS. OCEY SNEAD

Police Unable to Disprove Theory That Unfortunate Young Wife Drowned Herself in Half Filled Bathtub.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) New York, Dec. 4.—The physician who attended Mrs. Ocey Sned at the birth of her baby visited the morgue at East Orange, N. J., today and positively identified the body there as that of Mrs. Sned. His evidence, if confirmed, disposes of a theory advanced by insurance companies in which Mrs. Sned held policies that a substitute intended to impersonate her had been smuggled into the unfortified house where on last Monday a young woman was found dead in a half filled bathtub.

There is thus far no proof that the girl did not die as the note found at her side says—by suicide drowning.

If the case is pronounced one of suicide the prosecution will endeavor to show that Mrs. Sned was driven to it by insistent mental suggestions and deliberately inflicted bodily torture. Miss Virginia Wardlaw, an aunt of the victim, is still in jail. Fletcher Sned, the missing husband, whose life also was insured for $25,000, has not been found and the police are investigating a rumor that he is a prisoner at the Elkhart, N. Y., reformatory.

Calhoun Declines to Comment

Chicago, Dec. 4.—William J. Calhoun tonight declared he had not been officially notified of his appointment as minister to China. Apparently, however, the news of his probable selection did not occasion him surprise.

"I have not been officially notified of my appointment and naturally cannot talk about it," said he. "Of course I knew my name has been mentioned in connection with the post. I have had no communication with President Taft, and not having been appointed I could not say whether I should accept."

Mr. Calhoun rendered conspicuous service to the United States in the culmination of the troubles in Venezuela, acting as commissioner in the adjustment of difficulties with President Castro. From 1898 to 1900 he was a member of the interstate commerce commission, appointed by President McKinley.

RIGHTS OF FOREIGN BORN CITIZENS IN JEOPARDY

New Interpretation of Naturalization Laws Will Entail No End of Confusion, Is Prediction.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Denver, Dec. 4.—Hundreds of persons in Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Utah may lose their citizenship rights as the result of orders received in Denver today by Theodore Schumacher, chief of the bureau of naturalization here. The victims will include all who have received their final certificates within thirty days of a general election of a local nature and who voted on the strength of the granting of the certificate.

Not until today has the full meaning of the term, "general election," embodied in the naturalization law been properly interpreted, and the decision now received will entail no end of work and confusion for the local federal officials and may perhaps result in contention in the courts.

BLUEJACKETS GIVEN UP FOR DEAD

Remote Chance That They Were Driven Ashore on Lonely Island Is Only Hope for Men from Gunboat Marietta.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Washington, Dec. 4.—The only hope now entertained by naval officials for the five bluejackets of the United States gunboat Marietta who were carried out to sea in a whale boat November 28, is that they might have been tossed by some stroke of fate on an isolated coast.

The men are: Robert L. Meyers, Francis N. J. Ray R. Smith, Reading, Mass.; J. T. Jackson, New Bedford, Mass.; David Tuckerman, Columbus, O.; and J. B. Miller, Chicago.

The Marietta and the Eagle are searching for the missing boat.

THREE WARSHIPS IN VAIN SEARCH FOR UNFORTUNATES

Colap, Dec. 4.—In connection with the disappearance of the whale boat of the United States gunboat Marietta the following official statement was given out tonight:

When at Port Ligon, on Friday, November 28, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, two whaleboats asked permission to engage in a race. Permission was given and the boats headed for an island facing the harbor behind which they were soon lost to sight. During their absence the wind shifted and freshened.

"As they did not return at dark, the captain of the Marietta put it was in search of them. The following morning the crew of one boat landed twelve miles south of Port Ligon. They reported the current and wind so strong that they were not able to return to the ship.

The warships Tacoma, Des Moines, and Albatross, have all been engaged ever since in a fruitless search for the missing boat.

The missing men are: Robert Smith, Tuckerman, and Ray Edwards. Smith, Tuckerman, and Ray Edwards are the crew of one boat landed twelve miles south of Port Ligon. They reported the current and wind so strong that they were not able to return to the ship.

HEARST INVOLVED IN FIGHT AT THE ENGLE DAM

CONDEMNATION TO BE STRONGLY RESISTED

California and New York Men Will Expend Bunch of Money Contesting Government Proceedings at Elephant Butte.

It begins to appear that the condemnation proceedings brought by the government to secure necessary land for the Elephant Butte irrigation project will be strongly resisted and that considerable money will be poured into the litigation. It is expected that the case will be taken up in ten days or so before Judge M. C. McChesney in the district court at Socorro. The government is after 35,000 acres of desert land at a nominal figure, the defendant being the Victoria Land & Cattle company. The latter is a branch of the Bakersfield Land & Cattle company of Bakersfield, California, one of the strongest corporations in the west, involved in its ownership is the Hearst estate, the Texas estate and many wealthy and notable men of California and New York. That a large sum will be expended in opposing the government in the dam site matter is now certain. The amount involved is close to a half million dollars.

The land to be secured includes the actual site of the dam and also the contemplated reservoir. In addition the right-of-way for the railroad and a number of small tracts considered necessary to the enterprise are in controversy. Nothing can be done in the way of construction work until a court decision is secured.

The counsel employed in the case are now busily at work gathering evidence and preparing the case for trial. D. J. Leahy, district attorney for New Mexico, has been in El Paso and held a consultation with his associates in regard to the matter. It is expected that the case will attract wide attention when it comes to trial at Socorro. The El Paso Waters Users' association has employed W. H. Burgess to assist the United States district attorney of New Mexico in the condemnation suit and the Las Cruces Waters Users' association has retained H. B. Holt of Las Cruces.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF YOUNG GIRL IN KANSAS

Last Words from Acid Burned Lips: "They Got My Diamonds and Gave Me Poison;" Police Scent Suicide.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Pittsburg, Kan., Dec. 4.—After a detailed investigation the authorities tonight are unable to determine whether Miss Goldie Ingers, the 20-year-old girl who met a mysterious death at her home here early today was murdered or committed suicide.

The police generally accept the theory of suicide but physicians who examined the body are divided in opinion. "They got my diamonds and then gave me poison," gasped the girl to her mother, who found her dying on the front porch of the house. Her lips were covered with acid. The diamond earrings were gone. All circumstances pointed to murder.

The police advance another theory. The girl may have quarreled with the person who gave her the diamonds and returned them. Then in a fit of remorse killed herself and in order to protect her family told the murder story. If the girl was murdered her story entered the front bedroom of the house, dragged her to the porch and after taking her diamonds poured acid down her throat.

ROCK BOY'S BAND OF CHIPPEWA BRAVES IN NEW HOME

Tribe Transferred in Special Train to Hunting Grounds on Blackfoot Reservation.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Washington, Dec. 4.—Chief Rock Boy and his band of 125 Chippewa braves are now officially at home in their new hunting grounds on the Blackfoot reservation in Montana, and 120,000 acres in Valley county of that state, which were withdrawn to make a home for the Indians, have been assigned to settlement.

Rock Boy and his tribe got a real sample of rapid transit in Indian affairs. The department of the interior had intended to fit them in by train in Valley county, near the Fort Peck reservation. But the white settlers protested and the department became convinced the red men would do better in a land where they could hunt and fish. On November 1 Superintendent Logan of the Fort Belknap

Indian school was instructed to find a new place for Rock Boy, and within two weeks he had them all on a special train speeding for the new hunting grounds on the Blackfoot reservation.

MONEY IS SLATED TO SUCCEED CULBERSON

Texas Senator Resigns Chairmanship of Democratic Caucus; Ill Health Cause Assigned.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Washington, Dec. 4.—At the first conference of the democratic members of the senate in the coming session of congress Senator Culberson will present his resignation as chairman of the democratic caucus.

This determination on the part of the Texan has been reached because of his serious illness, which will probably prevent him from attending the sessions of the senate for at least two or three weeks.

In a letter to Senator Money signifying his intention to resign, Senator Culberson says:

"As you and all my democratic associates know, I have not been at all well for nearly a year. Last March I had a severe attack of the grippe. Without taking the necessary rest from such an attack I remained in Washington in attendance upon the senate throughout the recent extra session. The result was that I continued ill during all the session, and at its close I was much reduced in strength and vitality. From this I have not recovered in the comparatively short vacation which I have been able to take.

"The approaching session of the congress promises to be a long, exacting and arduous one and in my present condition I do not feel that I should undertake the extra duties which will devolve upon the chairman of our caucus. It would probably retard or prevent my early and full restoration to health."

Senator Culberson succeeded Senator Blackburn as chairman of the caucus two years ago. In discussing his probable successor, several senators today expressed the opinion that Senator Money of Mississippi, vice chairman of the caucus would be chosen.

WOMAN UNDERTAKES DESPERATE HIKE TO WIN WAGER

Footsore and Weary Arizona Owens Braves Blizzard in 345 Mile Walk to Denver.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 4.—Footsore and frostbitten but game to the core, Mrs. Arizona Owens, who is walking from Shoshone, Wyo., to Denver, on a wager, left here this morning for Denver. She staggered into Cheyenne shortly before midnight last night after a 25 hour battle with the severest storm of the year, during which she had walked 120 miles without sleep.

Mrs. Owens left Shoshone, 12 days ago determined to walk the 345 miles to Denver in 12 days. Small, almost frail, armed like a gypper, she plowed pluckily through snow above her shoes today during much of her journey in the last few days. During the long journey, she lost count of the days and when she arrived at Hartville Junction 120 miles north of Cheyenne she believed she was a day behind her schedule. To make up this lost time she decided to walk to Cheyenne with out rest. A storm was raging Thursday morning when she left the junction, but she was not daunted and plodded all day Thursday and Thursday night, even though the storm increased by the time she arrived here her drawn features gave her an appearance which was pathetic despite the massive shouter strapped at her waist.

This morning the temperature had fallen to that of a blizzard when she set out for Denver, which place she expects to reach in three days.

WOMAN VICTIM OF BRUTAL MURDERER

New York, Dec. 4.—Evidence of a brutal assault, robbery and murder was given today with the discovery of the partly clothed body of a woman on a roadway near the little village of Munson, L. I.

The victim was identified as Mrs. Julia A. Wallace, wife of a farmer of Munson. There were indications that after the struggle she had been thrown into a pond but managed to drag herself from the water and crawl to the roadway.

Mrs. Wallace was in the habit of carrying a considerable sum of money.

ABOLISH REGISTER AND RECEIVER IN LAND OFFICES

Commissioner Dennett in Report for Year Recommends Drastic Remedy for Friction Between Officials.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Washington, Dec. 4.—Following liberal appropriations by congress for the protection of the public lands, resulting in a material increase in the number of special agents, there was turned into the treasury in the fiscal year 1909, $103,444, an excess of $204,755 over the preceding year, according to the annual report of Commissioner Fred Dennett of the general office.

Land restored to the public domain aggregated 1,279,310 acres, an increase of 135,600 over last year.

Commissioner Dennett expresses the hope that congress will settle once and for all the question of how the development of the Alaska coal fields can be accomplished in a legal fashion.

There is no question, he says, that section 3 of the act of May 28, 1908, designed to encourage the development of coal deposits in Alaska and intended to prevent the passage of the lands into the hands of monopolies, has accomplished its purpose. Any legislation contemplating a sale or lease of larger areas than 640 acres as provided in the law of 1908, the commissioner says, should contain an anti-monopoly clause similar to the one then enacted.

There is friction between the registers and receivers of land offices in many localities and the commissioner says the positions should be abolished and in their stead provision made for an administrator for the office.

MOTHER ON TRAIL OF SON'S SLAYER

Arrests Follow Investigation by Grief Stricken Woman After Coroner Had Pronounced Boy's Death Accidental.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) St. Louis, Dec. 4.—For sixteen months Mrs. Anna Cordes, 2519 Farar street, St. Louis, has worked to dispel the uncertainty as to the manner in which her 16-year-old son, William, came to his death in Pittsburgh lake, near East St. Louis. As a result Mrs. Cordes and four men, all residents of this city, are under arrest.

Mrs. Cordes and her daughter Adele took the broken and bloodstained oar of a boat as a clue, and despite a verdict of accidental drowning by a coroner's jury they delved into the circumstances of the boy's death. They found that $195 was missing from Cordes' clothing and that his companions on the fishing trip told conflicting stories as to what happened.

Two of the prisoners, Frank and Augustus Ruhr, are said to have been with Cordes at the lake. Mrs. Cordes is their aunt. The other prisoners, Alexis Holmes and Fred Bianchi, were arrested because the police declared they possess knowledge of Cordes' death.

Taft Resumes His Golf

Washington, Dec. 4.—President Taft today resumed his favorite amusement, golf, and defeated Senator Bourne and Frank B. Kellogg in a game over the Chevy Chase links that was ended only when it became impossible to follow the ball in the growing dusk.

STATESMEN PILE INTO CAPITAL FOR SESSION

OPENING OF CONGRESS RAPIDLY APPROACHES

Nine-tenths of Waterway Enthusiasts Alleged to Stand Behind Gifford Pinchot; Capital Gossip.

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—Now that Thanksgiving is past and that only a few days remain until the assembling of congress, the city is rapidly filling up with members and senators, their secretaries and all the legislative entourage. It is anticipated that this coming session will be one of unusual interest. It is the first regular session of congress under the new president. His message is awaited with much interest. There has been, even within his own party, sharp criticism of some of his acts and pronouncements. It is quite natural that he should be compared and contrasted with his predecessor of whose mantle and policies he is so universally supposed to be the heir. The origin of most of this criticism is from the Ballinger-Pinchot embroilment and hears, whoever politicians and outsiders are gathered together the question with emphatic significance: "What do you think Roosevelt would have done?"

The National Waterway convention with its representatives estimated at five thousand strong is expected here about the middle of December and it may be set down that nine-tenths of them are with Gifford Pinchot in his controversy with Secretary Ballinger. Mr. Taft is thought to be very much like one of his predecessors, President Grant, in his determination to stand by his cabinet officer when he is under fire. In this connection the wisdom of Roosevelt in hastening to the antipodes, plunging into the midst of the dark continent to shoot elephants and hippopotami is commended. He could not have kept out of the scrimmage had he been here, and everyone seems to know where he would have stood, or rather where he would have mixed in.

A little more than a year ago the citizens of Washington attempted by subscription to raise money enough to build a convention hall for the accommodation of the very many organizations that select the capital as the locality of their annual meetings. Washington is neither a commercial nor industrial city. The hotel proprietors and the wealthier shop keepers and also a few wealthy residents subscribed liberally, but after all the subscriptions were in they had put up only about one-fourth of the required amount of two million dollars, and the underwriting was a failure. Now Senator Root and other distinguished men have essayed to make the building of the hall a national enterprise in which every man, woman and child may take stock. The theory is that since Washington is the unique city of the nation, belonging in its public buildings, parks and streets as much to the residents of Maine, Texas, Florida or Oregon as to the people of the District of Columbia, a convention hall to be used exclusively by touring or visiting delegations from all parts of the country should be built and owned by the inhabitants of the country at large.

There is another architectural enterprise of interest and importance in the building of the French embassy residence and plans of which have recently been published. It will be French in architecture and built largely of material brought from France decorated by French artists and installed with French furniture and objects d'art. Both the English and German governments own the residences of their embassies here. That of the British government was especially built as a home for the British ambassador and has been for years the most conspicuous and commodious diplomatic residence in Washington. It however will be eclipsed by the projected French embassy dwelling. Representative Longworth, and Mr. Root, while secretary of state, endeavored to secure legislation for the purchase of homes for United States ambassadors and ministers to certain first class European countries, but without success. It is very difficult to impress the average American congressman fresh from fields of corn and cotton with the importance of the policy of a proper setting for our representatives abroad. The only way probably to do it would be to send them as ambassadors to the seats of the Guelfs, Hapsburgs, Romanoffs, Hohenzollerns but this probably would cost more in several ways than it would come to.

Those who will this winter revisit Washington after an absence of one or two seasons cannot fail to observe great and substantial improvement beginning with the superb Union station where they will land, and continuing through the broad and solid streets with vistas of parks, statuary and imposing national buildings. There is one characteristic of Washington however, a dark feature, which makes it grotesquely and desolately unique among the cities of the United States. There is here not only the largest negro population of any city in the world but it is also the laziest and most degenerate. The microbe of dependence and indolence and parasitism infects them. Forty years ago their ancestors thousands of whom are still living, fled here during the war from Maryland, Virginia and the Carolinas. Nations were issued to them. They lived on charity, then and the mistaken habit of feeding them and clothing them and warming them by charity has been and is still kept up.

LOCAL AGENCY IS LIKELY TO WIN CHALLENGE CUP

Pacific Mutual Offices Here Advised That They Lead in Amount of Written Business in Past Three Months.

The local offices of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company, F. H. Schwentker manager, have been advised by wire from the home office of the company in Los Angeles that the agency leads in the percentage of written business for the past three months which gives it the long chance to win the Challenge Cup offered by the company for the best record for September, October and November, 1908.

"We are pretty confident of winning the cup," said Mr. Schwentker yesterday, "but the result will not be made known for a short time yet. The cup however is awarded for the largest amount of business actually paid for on or before January 31, 1910. We are making the showing of $252,500 in new business written in November just closed and a total of $563,000 written during September, October and November, this period covered in the competition for the challenge cup."

This is a splendid record for the local agency and one of which the Pacific Mutual men are naturally proud. The following extracts from a letter from Vice President G. R. Johnson to the general agents of the company setting forth the terms of the contest shows that there is another substantial reward offered besides the cup. The letter says:

Dear Sir:—About September 1, 1908, the company offered a "Perpetual Challenge Cup" to be contested for by all the general agencies of the life department. This cup was won last year by Messrs. W. F. Pitts & Son of Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

In addition to the cup itself, the company had year offered a trip to the home office of two delegates from the successful agency and to one delegate from each of the nine agencies next highest in percentage. The cup will be contested for until some one agency has won it three times, and it is our pleasure again this year to add an extra incentive toward the possession of the cup. This extra incentive will take the form of a trip to the Yosemite Valley and the Mariposa Group of Big Trees, and we will again extend the right to participate in this excursion to the ten agencies standing highest in percentage, allowing two delegates to the cup winner. All business (term insurance excepted) exhibited on or after September 1 and not later than midnight of November 30, will count in settling the contest assigned, provided, premiums are reported and paid to the company in cash thereon not later than the monthly report rendered January 31, 1910, and provided further that the general agent in each winning agency shall be in the company's service at the time the second assembly of cup delegates is held. Business paid for on the semi-annual or quarterly basis will count pro rata.

The allotments have been based this year, as last, on the paid for business of each agency for the first half of the year, except that in the case of a new agency's reasonable, though arbitrary, allotment has been made. The Big Tree, "Wawona," which has been used for some years by our company as an emblem or trade mark, is situated in the Mariposa grove, fifteen miles from the Yosemite Valley. We will arrange to have the successful delegates grouped around this celebrated tree and photographed, and this picture is the one that will be used for our 1911 calendar. An imprint will also be on that calendar stating that the men shown therein are the successful cup contest winners.

RAID ON THE DOGS STIRRING UP BIG HULLABALOO

CHORUS OF PROTEST FROM CANINE OWNERS

Tagless Animals Being Rounded Up by Dog Catcher and His Assistants and the Dickens is to Pay.

There is trouble in town—real trouble.

The city dog catcher, Mr. Hunter, a new incumbent upon whose shoulders have fallen the mantle of the late lamented G. Washington Warde, has inaugurated a crusade to round up all the canine inhabitants which do not bear the official shamrock of the city administration with the official number of the dog thereon showing that it is duly registered in the Dog book of the city clerk and the annual tax of one consecutive dime-teen has been duly paid as provided by law.

With the assistance of some zealous and effective juvenile dog catchers Hunter has collected some fifty dogs in the past week, ranging in size from the common pocket dog to the mastiff whose keep is more expensive than a horse. They are of all kinds, colors, coats and characters, woolly dogs, shiny dogs, many dogs and well fed dogs, gentle dogs and vicious dogs, bon-tailed dogs and bushy-tailed dogs, dogs grave and gay and solemn, aged and infantile.

The result has made things interesting for the police department. The city marshal has been followed by a procession of threatening and bawling dog owners and the telephone has been ringing from dawn to midnight.

"My dog is only just a tiny little fellow," said one lady with tears in her eyes. "He couldn't possibly bite anyone and isn't big enough to take up any room on the street. I think it is just a mean shame, and he is such a bright little fellow. Why he can sit up on his hind legs and almost talk and—"

"Now look here, chief," broke in a well known citizen. "This dog of mine is a great big handsome fellow, as intelligent as a horse. The city ought to be proud to have a dog like that walking around."

To all threats of prosecution, direct mention of lawsuits, plaints and prayers return the ominous questions: "Was the dog on the street and is his tax paid?" If the answer is in the negative thereafter a deaf ear is turned to the owner. There is no way to beat it. If you haven't paid your dog tax and your canine promenades the highway the stuff is off and it is enough up or the dog goes to the happy hunting grounds. The dog catcher is rapidly accumulating enough to fit out half a dozen expeditions to the North pole.

THE MESSAGE.

The principal feature of the president's message which will go to congress tomorrow or next day will be the discussion of the acts regulating interstate commerce, and the president is said to have gone into this subject in detail, and with much earnestness. He insists that congress shall thoroughly overhaul these laws, and he suggests a large number of important changes that ought to be made. Although his policy is not to interfere with the work of congress, he will earnestly use all the power which the constitution vests in him in the way of impressing upon the congress the urgent necessity of making the laws governing interstate transportation stronger in their control over the railroad, and in their benefits to the shipping public and the masses of the people. He will endeavor to convince, not to coerce, congress.

DECADENCE OF BIGOTRY.

From the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Brann, who is the pastor in charge of one of the largest of the Catholic parishes of New York city, came recently the acknowledgment of a large gift made to him as a benefaction to his parish by James Stillman. This gift in money, made a few days ago, with another gift made a little earlier by Mr. Stillman, makes an aggregate benefaction of $20,000. Mr. Stillman exacted no other conditions than that the income from this fund should be applied for the moral and religious welfare of the children of St. Agnes parish.

Dr. Brann, in announcing to a few friends this unexpected gift, said that he presumed Mr. Stillman would prefer that there be no public acknowledgment of it. But it was almost impossible to keep a benefaction of that kind a secret. It is believed to be the largest money gift ever made to a Catholic parish in New York city by a Protestant. But Mr. Stillman had learned of the great moral and religious work done by St. Agnes parish, which is adjacent to the Grand Central station on the east side, a work which has in great measure completely changed the entire district so that it is now orderly, and a moral neighborhood in the very heart of New York city. At one time European socialism, with some tincture of anarchistic doctrine, prevailed in that vicinity, but that has all been stamped out, too.

WHY THEY WANT THE BALLOT.

In the midst of the columns and bushes of nonsense and humbug, of stone throwing and pink foam about woman suffrage, it is gratifying to find now and then a grain of good common sense in connection with the subject. Maurice Thoreau, Ph. D., former rabbi of Temple Beth-El, of the Bronx, writes a commendation to the New York World, in which he says:

"Women want the ballot not because 'mere man' has it, but because they believe it will be an instrument whereby they will be enabled to improve their social, economic and legal status. Their demand is based on the recognition of the inferiority of their position and especially of their economic condition."

"Let Dr. Parkhurst station himself any week-day between the hours of 8:30 and 7:30 a. m. and 5:30 and 6:30 p. m. at the corner of Broadway or Bowery and Canal, Grand or Houston streets, or at the sidewalk and 'L' stations, and ask himself whether the tens of thousands of little girls and women going to and coming from shops, factories, stores, offices, etc., are working because they wish to support their families, or because economic pressure is driving them."

"The status of woman as it has been until recently in all lands and as it still is in many countries is a survival of barbarism. The rights women now possess are the result of unfeeling compromise and progressive civilization crystallizing themselves in laws. And the law is always behind the moral sense of any given time or community."

"Trade unionism is a case in point. It has raised the position of the wage worker because political parties and legislators have a healthy respect for the voting capacity of the unions. Without the support of his union the workman would be more dependent on the charity, good will, sense of justice, etc., of those who have been compelled by law to treat him almost like a human being.

"Ministers of religion owe it a duty to their calling to become thoroughly conversant with modern industrial conditions. If they were so familiar with these they would know that the industrial movement of which the demand for woman suffrage is a part is not an academic question, with the masses, as they are termed, but a question of life."

"The church must learn that many religious and moral conditions are largely determined by his social environment, and especially by economic factors. The preacher must recognize that our industrial problems, with the invasion of questions of poverty, misery, vice and crime, are religious problems no less than economic. Charity is not the proper solution of the problem of poverty. The greatest light on our vaunted civilization is the still-existent need for charity. The church and its spokesmen, the preacher, sponsors for the human brotherhood, if they would not be derelict in their duty, unsuccessful in their work and false to their holy mission, must not neglect or be indifferent to the economic problems that underlie all our social questions, and with them this of woman suffrage."

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK.

President Taft is strongly in sympathy with the popular demand for the establishment of a postal savings bank system, and regards it as a movement directly in the interest of the working people of the country. Next to statehood for the territories, it is one of his "pet" measures, but the members of the monetary commission, which is at work upon the problem of making two dollars of American credit grow where but one stood before, ask that this branch of the monetary system of the United States be not further pursued until their research is completed.

Back of the campaign of education upon which the monetary commission is insisting the advocates of a postal savings plan think they see a deep-laid plot to delay their project. They put forward the assertion that if it wanted to do so the monetary commission could make its report early in 1910. That it will not do so is interpreted as a part of a scheme to postpone, perhaps kill, the postal savings bank plan.

FIGHT AGAINST SOCIALISM.

Sir William Bull of London, England, is against socialism, which he believes is a menace to society and the state, and like a true crusader he is endeavoring to enlist the support of women. He has offered through the newspapers a series of scholarships to women who wish to qualify as anti-socialist lecturers, which will be sufficient to support them during the period of study, and as a leading member of the Anti-Socialist League he promises that there will be plenty of work for them when they are qualified. Women he believes are the most effective propagandists and he declares that with an efficient army of women lecturers he will kill the socialist movement in England before many years.

CONSCRIPTION FOR WOMEN.

The Congress of Swiss Women's Societies, which has just been meeting in Bern, passed a resolution urging conscription for women.

The Swiss women not only seek equal privileges with men but are willing to assume the burden of equal responsibilities and equal duties. Yet they have common sense enough to realize that the duties of men and women are not the same; so, while the conscription for men requires they serve in the army, the conscription the women ask for themselves will require their service in home and practice nursing, first aid to the injured, the administration of civic or national relief to the poor, and the general work of philanthropic institutions.

A GREAT NEWSPAPER.

A paper that can sell more copies at three cents than any of its competitors can sell at one cent, needs no other certificate of character. The New York Herald has earned and long enjoyed a conspicuous place in the front rank of the world's greatest and most enterprising public journals, and in its forthcoming Christmas number, to be issued next Sunday, the 12th inst., it proposes to out-Herald the Herald, both as a complete compendium of the news from every corner of the earth, and as a rare specimen of the most perfect modern work in the line of the "art preservative."

It will be worth while to order a copy in advance, to be laid away.

FOR UNIFORM DIVORCE LAWS.

Uniformity in the divorce laws of the various states is being sought for President Taft, and most of the state governors, according to Seth Low, who as president of the National Civic Federation has just announced the date of the conference on uniform legislation. This conference will be held in Washington on January 17 to 19. Representative men of every state in the Union, appointed by the governors, will attend.

Low's announcement says: "Through the initiative of the American bar association a special national organization of commissioners chosen by the different governors is now working for a uniform divorce law, the supreme necessity for which grows out of the conditions that a child under the various divorce laws may be legitimate in one state but illegitimate in another.

"The work of this special commission will be reported on at the conference and will then come before the committee of governors."

JUST PRACTISING.

The New York World's London correspondent says that a London suffragette, jailed, removed all of her clothes and sang the Marseillaise. That woman is not sincerely a suffragette. She's laying the foundation for a stage career.—Courier-Journal.

A NEW PROHIBITION.

Now we are to be treated to a new prohibition—or, rather, the same old prohibition broken out in a new form. The legislature of West Virginia proposes to prohibit the game of football within the limits of that state. There is no joke about this. A bill for the purpose has been drawn, and a careful poll of the members shows that it will be supported by a majority in each house.

A DANIEL COME TO JUDGMENT.

Judge Matthew P. Breck, chief justice of the Essex Street court, New York city, has handed down this opinion, which every married woman in the United States will agree is eminently sound:

"It is my firm judgment that the man who does voluntarily give all of his earnings to his frugal and sagacious wife for the conduct of the household, the clothing of the children and preparing them for school and Sunday school, is the ideal citizen."

THE CORPORATION TAX.

A vigorous effort is being made to induce Mr. Taft to consent to the filing of a friendly suit to test the constitutionality of the corporation tax, and in the meantime hold up the enforcement of the measure, but the president, who regards this measure as almost of his own creation, is hardly expected to regard with favor the effort to hold it in abeyance pending the judgment of the courts upon it. He participated with Attorney General Wickersham and Senator Elihu Root in its preparation, and is buoyantly confident that it will stand any test. Mr. Wickersham is equally confident that the law is copper fastened and built like a watch.

AN INSIDIOUS DEFENSE.

The following is from the San Francisco Chronicle, and is just about as mean a slur upon a city built on climate as it would be possible to make without breaking the Mergerthalers: "A few photographic views of Los Angeles with a covering of sleet ought to satisfy these capricious people who find their way to California and then express dissatisfaction because the seasons are not as sharply defined as they are on the other side of the Rockies. A photograph and halftones as big as walnuts may not be as desirable as a heavy fall of snow, but it ought to be a long way toward satisfying the longing of fault finders for disagreeable weather."

WHY MEAT IS DEAR.

The statement submitted by Armour & Co. in connection with the filing of a bond issue of $20,000,000 on the stock exchange shows the packing industry to be even more profitable than had been supposed. The company by its own showing made a gross profit of $10,582,000 for the year on a capital stock of $20,000,000, and earned a surplus of $7,127,926, or the equivalent of a dividend of 35.6 per cent.

Here is something more than the potentiality of wealth beyond the dreams of avarice. It is avarice itself in the manufacture and sale of a necessity of life. Armour & Co. by their own admission have justified the charges of extortion brought against the beef trust.

In the light of this enormous profit the explanation of the high price of meat recently made by the chairman of the packers' committee requires modification. That explanation was in effect that the packer, being obliged to pay a higher price for livestock, passed on the additional cost to the dealer, who in turn shifted it to the consumer. This, however, is not the whole story of the rise of meat prices from $3.55 a barrel in 1905 to $13.20 in 1909. For its full understanding there must be taken into account the millions in surplus profits reserved by the packers to convince Wall street of the safe and lucrative of their business.

It is the necessity the consumer is under of paying 35 per cent profit and guaranteeing bond issues that makes meat dear.

Among Canadians whose homes and business are in this country the opinion is very general that reciprocity is the best means that can be adopted under existing conditions, to better commercial relations between the United States and the Dominion. It is urged by some Canadian-Americans that the first move for reciprocity should be made by the United States.

The Public Forum

Editor Morning Journal:

In your article in Friday's Morning Journal entitled "Better Milk is Wanted," the suggestion is made that if the price of milk is to be raised that the present standard of three and one-fourth per cent fat content should be advanced to a standard of five per cent.

This would be a point well taken if it was as practical to add fat to the milk by the cow route as it is to add water by the pump route.

As it happens the cow is a good deal of a mule about the amount of fat she places in her milk.

Whatsoever, her standard may be the fat content remains constant or practically so except of course a slight normal increase as the period of lactation lengthens, under heavy feeding she will respond readily with increased flow, but the quality remains the same.

Everyone knows that the question of quality of the milk is largely determined by the breed of the animal, but something of a variation due to individuality.

No average herd of Holsteins could even touch a four per cent basis three and one-half per cent would be good for them.

A bunch of Durhams, good average ones, should easily touch the four per cent mark but they would probably not greatly exceed that figure.

With a dairy of Jerseys five per cent content milk could be supplied to customers and the price ought to be more than over test milk.

If a herd is made up of cows of different breeds as most dairies are, a straight four per cent milk would be a very good average. As to those records of 2's and 7's per cent fat given in the city chemists report there is an obvious hitch somewhere for both are widely outside the line of any normal production.

But there is another and very important matter connected with this subject that should have the earnest attention of our city board of health.

In round numbers there are about twenty-two million of dairy cows in this country and it seems to be pretty conclusively established that about one in every five is afflicted with tuberculosis and further that the disease is not confined to any locality but widely diffused all over the country.

Fortunately not a large percentage of tuberculosis cows give infected milk, but very many do and this milk is a source of menace and infection to the consumer, particularly so to children. Now, while we are insisting upon a proper amount of fat in our milk, why not go a step farther if a higher price is to be paid or even if it is not and be more insistent that our milk be free from tuberculosis bacilli.

True the application of the tuberculosis test reveals the diseased animal or herd and protects to some extent but a frequent examination of the milk on sale would be a far more effective protection to the public for any dairymen caught with the goods would speedily find his occupation gone. A frequent examination with the microscope by some official of the board of health would be one way.

Not only milk but cream and butter may carry the infection for the bacilli have been found alive and ready for business in butter six months old.

In the household the only real protection from untested milk is pasteurization by heating up to 140 degrees and holding at that temperature for 20 minutes. Heating to a higher degree for less time accomplishes the same end but chances the taste of the milk more or less but to do this involves more or less inconvenience to the housekeeper.

It is a matter that is properly up to the board of health of our city.

M. MATHEWSON.

A Glimpse of New Mexico of 100 Years Ago

A glimpse of the New Mexico of a century ago when the statehood campaign was just well under way and the New Mexico Central had been just projected is afforded in a most interesting work owned by Dr. F. Gill of this city, an heirloom in twelve volumes, being the "Universal Geography—A Description of All Parts of the World on a New Plan, by M. Maite Brun." The work is published in 1827 by Anthony Finley of Philadelphia; it is graphically written and while it contains some statements that appear somewhat sensational in the light of modern geography they form interesting reading.

The few pages devoted to New Mexico, chiefly embellished by a blood curdling description of the Apaches, include the following:

"The true significance of the term New Mexico is confined to a narrow province which it is true is 175 leagues in length but not more than thirty or forty in breadth. This strip of country which borders the Rio del Norte is thinly peopled; the town of Santa Fe containing 4,000 inhabitants; Albuquerque, 5,000 and Taos 2,000; comprise almost one-half of the population. The other half consists of poor colonists whose scattered hamlets are frequently ravaged by the powerful tribes of Indians who surround them and over run the province. It is true the soil is amongst the finest and most fertile of Spanish-America.

"Wheat, maize and delicious fruits, especially grapes grow most abundantly. The environs of Pecos del Norte produce the most generous wines. The mountains are covered with pine trees, maples and oak. Herds of prey are met with in great numbers. There are also wild sheep and particularly elk, or at least large deer fully the size of a mule with extremely long horns. According to the Dictionary of Albedo, mines of tin have been discovered. There are several hot springs. Rivers with a saline taste indicate the existence of rich beds of rock-salt. The chain of mountains that border the eastern parts of New Mexico seem to be of a moderate degree of elevation. There is a pass through them called the Puerto de Don Fernando by which the Piuquas have penetrated into New Mexico. Beyond this chain extend immense natural meadows on which buffaloes and wild horse pasture in innumerable herds. The Americans of the United States hunt these animals and sometimes pursue them to the very gates of Santa Fe."

There are other interesting statements, including the tale of the time the inhabitants of El Paso were horrified to find a hundred and fifty miles of the Rio Grande drop out of sight and afterwards reappear as if nothing had happened.

The river it is gravely stated was lost for several weeks.

Fair Play.

"Mamma," said the little boy the day after Christmas, as he lay in bed and dutifully took the paregoric and other things, "you said yesterday that I ought to be sorry for all the poor little children that couldn't have as much candy and cake and things as I got, didn't you?"

"Yes, dear."

"Well, do you suppose those poor little children are sorry for me to-day?"—Judge's Library.

"Santa Claus brought me a little baby sister for Christmas," confides the small girl from next door.

"He did? That was fine!" answers the neighbor.

"Yes, an' it's th' only present me an' Freddie got that papa hasn't broken already windin' it up an' showin' us how it runs."—Judge's Library.

Secret Rebates Prohibited in Canada.

Consul Frederick M. Ryder of Rimouski forwards the information that a measure was recently passed by the house of commons at Ottawa, entitled "The Secret Commissions Act," under the provisions of which it becomes unlawful in Canada for a salesman or agent to allow secret commissions, rebates or considerations of any kind for the purpose of influencing or effecting sales of merchandise under a penalty, upon conviction, of two years imprisonment or the imposition of a fine not to exceed $2,500, or both. It is not unlawful for a salesman or agent to sell an article below the manufacturer's price; but should he sell at the manufacturer's price, at the same time allowing a rebate or commission which does not appear in the record of sales, then the transaction becomes unlawful, and the salesman or agent liable to prosecution.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Fearlessness of Seagulls.

A Glasgow doctor who was recently touring in the Highlands had a somewhat unique experience with seagulls while passing through the Caledonian canal. The birds were as usual, following the steamer and were being fed by the passengers.

To prove how tame or bold they were, the doctor fed them by placing pieces of biscuit on his cap. The birds soon displayed much skill in snapping up the food. Then the doctor placed a piece of biscuit in his mouth. The gulls were shy at first, but ultimately one bird bolder than his fellows partook of the morsel, and before long there was brisk competition for the tit-bits. The snappers on board were kept busily engaged, so that there is now a pictorial proof of the incident.—Glasgow News.

Evening Capes

Sale Prices $6.98 to 39.50

But Evening Capes, delicate of color and fine of material are very unsatisfactory things to have in stock, so down have come the prices, now that the gay season is in full swing. One simply can't describe them—further than to hint at the trimmings of gold and silver on pastel colorings.

Voile & Taffeta Skirts

$11.50 up to $25

There is nothing "dinky" about the Economist voile, and the taffetas don't split and spoil their wearer's temper! When selecting these models we did so with a view to their grace when worn by real women—not merely the shop-window models which only look right when placed "just so."

The shapes are better to begin with, and when a glove fits well it lasts twice as long. The skins are so carefully selected that a flaw is seldom found. Our 2 clasp Trefousse Kid glove is the best glove at $2.00 we know of. Black, white, tan, brown, gray.

THE HUMAN BODY IS AN ELECTRIC BATTERY

Startling new discoveries prove beyond all doubt that "Electricity Is Life."

Men of science demonstrate the value of electricity as a cure for disease.

Los Angeles doctor tells about his remarkable invention.

"The word health now means a normal supply of electricity in the body and the word disease means an insufficiency of that power."—Prof. Edgar L. Larkin.

That the human body is electrical is no longer a theory among scientists and up-to-date physicians. It is generally conceded to be an absolute fact.

Prof. Edgar L. Larkin, discussing the new physiology, writes as follows:

"A man, brain and body, is a battery, and nerves correspond to wires. It is now certain that transmission of sensation over them is electric. Nerves have been cut and a galvanometer inserted. The needle moved, proving that nerve power is electric. The human system is an electric battery and the life principle is electrical. The electric age is here. Drugs are hard hit on all sides, and an intelligent physician tells me that he has almost entirely stopped their use. The word health now means a normal supply of electricity in the body, and the word disease means an insufficiency of that power."

Dr. Albert J. Atkins, the eminent California scientist, is still at work proving that every principle in what we call our electrical science is merely borrowed from the human body. We propel railroad trains and automobiles by means of electricity and think it wonderful, but the human dynamo has always known how to propel itself and with skill and almost absolute safety in either walking or running, and now Dr. Atkins shows us that the milliwatts in his automobile and the horse on foot are alike carried forward by electric force.

"With a man's stomach as the only electric battery, Dr. Albert J. Atkins and E. J. Lewis recently charged an ordinary telephone apparatus so that it conveyed sound," says the San Francisco "Examiner."

"The experiment was made in the presence of a number of medical men and students of national repute."

"It demonstrates that the human body is an electric battery."

"The experiment consisted in the swallowing of two platinum electrodes so that they touched the walls of the living stomach."

"By means of copper wires the electrodes were connected with a telephone and a microphone, a sensitive instrument which greatly intensifies sound."

"There was absolutely no mechanical or chemical battery in the circuit, yet the human electrodes were swallowed sufficiently to touch the walls of the stomach human electricity flowed over the wires, rendering audible sounds. The electric charge measured from 7 to 8 volts on a Weston galvanometer."

Finds New Cure for Appendicitis

Dr. Harry Archibald of New York City has discovered that appendicitis yields to the action of electricity just as surely as ulcers are dissipated by the sun. When a case of appendicitis comes into Dr. Archibald's office the physician trains the powerfully penetrating electric ray upon the same spot. Right away the swelling goes down, and the

Electricity the Basis of Human Vitality

Prof. Jacques Loeb, after ten years of research and experiment, made this statement:

"A part of the chemical energy of foodstuffs is transformed into electrical energy, which in turn gives energy to the muscles and organs of the body. Electricity, and not heat, is the life of the body. These discoveries are going to upset the theories of medicine as administered by the physicians of today, as it is settled that electricity is the basis of human vitality."

exacerbating pain stops short. And after five or six days, "after five or six applications," Dr. Archibald says, "the cure is always complete."

The new cure is nothing more or less than the process of bounding the congestion about the appendix with electric rays and a high frequency current. The treatment causes the blood to return to the central circulation system, the congestion departs for the simple reason that the cause of the congestion has been removed—and that's the end of the appendix.

Keeps Old Age at Bay

"Electricity will restore the elasticity and buoyancy of youth," declares a famous New York physician, writing in the "Medical Times."

"No matter how old a man may be nor how young in years, whenever his arteries begin to harden, to resist the increased pressure of the blood, then he actually is old. Then the electric treatment must be applied, and after a few times nature takes up the work and carries it on, and the patient gets young again—or at least he is able to resist the encroachments of old age."

"By electric stimulus the system is energized, the blood made to circulate rapidly, the digestion aided, the waste products eliminated, the result disease is resisted, and the normal workings of the body functions restored."

Says Electricity Will Supersede Drugs

There is a man in Los Angeles whose success in curing disease by the application of electricity has attracted world-wide attention. This man is Dr. M. D. McLaughlin.

Dr. McLaughlin is the inventor of a remarkable device for restoring electric energy to the body. With his apparatus it is possible to infuse a steady, unbroken current of galvanic electricity into the arteries and veins for hours at a time without the least shock or burn. Dr. McLaughlin was asked recently to explain his method of electric treatment for the benefit of the readers of this paper. He makes the following statement:

"For the past 22 years I have maintained that electricity is the power which runs the human body—the force that keeps the heart going, the blood circulating and the various organs performing their functions like so many machines. I claim that electricity works the miracle of digestion and assimilation and converts the food into blood and bone, muscle and nerve, and supplies the brain with power to think.

"I have had my theories confirmed by the world's most learned scientists, and today the use of electricity as a curative agent is spreading to every corner of the civilized world."

"While others were speculating and arguing over the merits of electric treatment I have gone ahead achieving results, and I can point with pride to thousands of cured patients who regained their health and strength through the use of Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt."

"Before I talk further regarding the use of my appliance you must understand that the human body is an electric organism, deriving its motive power from the digestion of food in the stomach. This electric force generated in the stomach is taken up by the nerves and conveyed to the different organs of the body and is their life. So long as there is sufficient electric energy to satisfy the demands of nature the vital organs perform their regular functions properly, but just as soon as the natural electric force is interrupted in any way the organs become weak and inactive, and sickness or disease is the result. Now you can't cure the trouble until you restore the lost force, nature must have more electricity, or vitality, as it is termed by medical men, in the ailing part. You cannot renew this force by dosing the stomach with poisonous drugs, which only help to drain away the vitality that you have. When every organ of the body has all the motive power—electricity—it needs weakness and disease cannot exist."

"Now the purpose of my invention, Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt, is to restore this electric force in a natural, scientific way. When the stomach is unable to supply the demands of the vital organs you must assist nature by filling your nerves with galvanic electricity."

"Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt is a generator of a powerful but soothing current of electricity, worn about the body while you sleep. It sends a subtle stream of electric life coursing through the nerves and vital for hours at a time. Its touch is gentle, without sting or burn. There is no shock. All you feel is a glowing warmth. Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt puts the nerve cells with new life. It drives out pain and aches, builds up vitality and strength and cures to a large extent all such troubles as lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, neuritis, insomnia, female complaints, varicose veins, weakness of any kind and all stomach, kidney, liver or bowel disorders."

The Product of Experience

"I have devoted twenty years to the perfection of my appliance. I have removed defects as fast as they appeared to actual use and have supplied new features from time to time, so that Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt is in a class by itself."

"Compared with Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt all other electric body appliances are inventions of the blacksmith's hammer."

"It is not upon that point, however, that my success has been founded. My business success is due to my knowledge of the effect of electricity upon the ailments treated, and the best way to obtain that effect. I treat every case that comes to me as an individual and direct the application of my appliance to suit the demands of each particular case. When you consider that electricity, which I supply, is life to the organs into which I send it, you can see how I get my results. My success is the result of my cures. If I did not cure, my business would have died long ago."

"When I say that Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt cures I don't ask you to accept my word alone as evidence. I have one or more cured patients in nearly every town on the map. I'll send you the names of those near you, and you can ask them about my treatment."

Geo. Wylie, grocer, 1388 Allison St., Los Angeles, says: "I am pleased to state that your Electric Belt has proved effective in curing me of kidney and stomach trouble. I am better in every respect and feel many years younger than I did a few months ago."

W. Perry C. Lohr, 427 E. 8th St., San Bernardino, Cal., writes:

"When I came to you I was a wreck, suffering from nervous exhaustion and severe pains in my stomach and back. The latter were cured in two days, and shortly afterward every trace of nervous weakness was gone. I cannot praise Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt too much."

Mrs. Anna Dablin, Walker, A. T., says:

"For the treatment of female complaints your method of using electricity is certainly far ahead of the ordinary means used by doctors. Only too frequently do physicians urge upon their patients dangerous operations which could be easily avoided by the use of your Electric Belt."

"I thank you for the help your treatment has given me."

H. E. Englehardt, Congress, A. T., says:

"A few weeks' use of Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt has cured me of weakness and general debility. I must say that your appliance is a boon to suffering humanity."

Henry T. Parker, "Newberry," Riverside, Cal., says:

"Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt cured me of indigestion, kidney and liver troubles after I had taken great quantities of drugs without being benefited. I take pleasure in recommending your treatment to all sufferers from similar ailments."

Mrs. F. P. Marquardt, Florence, A. T., writes as follows:

"I wish to state that your Electric Belt has helped me

Health Without Drugging

M. d'Arsenval, a well-known savant of the Physiological Institute of Paris, in an address at the Institute said that electricity would be the medicine of the future. He showed that it is excellent for certain maladies, and described the difference between sudden shocks and the slow method to which it pervades the system without the patient's consciousness.

wonderfully. When I procured the appliance I was suffering from a nervous and physical breakdown. Now I am stronger and healthier than most women of my age—I am nearly sixty. I have taken no medicine since I began the use of your Electric Belt and will never resort to the use of drugs for relief again."

Daniel McKinsie, Terminal, Cal., says:

"Your Electric Belt has cured me of rheumatism, cramps and general debility, and none of these troubles has returned since I stopped treatment."

O. F. Keger, care Stanley Davis, R. D. No. 1, Montecito, Cal., writes:

"I am well pleased with the work of your Electric Belt in curing me of chronic rheumatism and shall always be glad to speak a good word for your appliance."

Mrs. Laura Shearer, Crown King, A. T., writes:

"When I began the use of your electric treatment I was an invalid, unable to walk, and had no strength or energy. Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt restored my health, and I am now as strong as most women. I have not taken a dose of medicine since I began its use, and the good your appliance has done me is worth more than one hundred times what it cost. I am thankful to Providence for such a blessing as your belt."

P. J. Vealey, Terminal, Cal., writes:

sometimes cause serious complications. Thousands of women are useless housewives who could be cured by my electric treatment in the privacy of their own homes.

"I find, in most cases, that all such women need is more strength, more vitality and nerve force. When the organs of the body are denied the vitality necessary to perform their proper functions, inactivity and disease result."

"The McLaughlin's Electric Belt sends out action, as the weak organs and builds up vitality and strength. It is needed by infusing the body with a glowing current of electric life."

"A patient asked me the other day why it is that faradic batteries and static machines do not give such results as Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt."

"That's because you can't stand the treatment for more than a few minutes at a time. A faradic person can't endure it that long on account of the shock. When a man tries that method and finds that it does not help him he naturally concludes that electricity is no good."

"Now, my system is different. Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt pumps the current into the body for six or eight hours every day or night, usually while the patient sleeps."

"The delicate nerves are not jarred or shocked by this current, as it goes in them just like a drizzling rain saturates a newly ploughed field. They absorb it, drink it in, and as it is their life, they grow strong with it."

"Such digestion, inactive liver, constipation, sluggish heart, slow thinking, dormant energy and laziness are all due to lack of electricity. Understand that electricity is the motive power of the human machine, the power that keeps the organs active, and you will see what I mean. In such cases you will see how Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt will pump action into the body. It renews the electric life and transforms the sluggish into a bundle of explosive energy."

"Because you have experimented with faradic batteries or taken electric treatment from physicians without being cured is no reason why my method should prove a failure. The doctor's battery can only be applied for half an hour at a time, and that is not enough to effect a cure. Besides, that method is inconvenient and expensive. Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt can be used all day or all night without interfering with your work or rest."

"Any organ of the body, any part that lacks the nerve energy to do its work as nature intended, can be restored by my method."

"It gives strength. It makes the blood rich and warm. It vitalizes the nerves and puts vim into the brain and muscles. It just makes a good man out of a bad one in every way."

"With Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt I cure rheumatism in its worst forms. I cure pains and aches, weak nerves, general debility and any other trouble which can be cured by restoring the life force."

"No matter where you live, I can treat you as successfully as if you were here in my office."

Live News From New Mexico and Arizona

What's Doing all Over the Great Southwest

A CINCH THIS TIME DECLARES MR. ANDREWS

NOVEL STATEMENT
BY THE DELEGATE
Breaks It to the Expectant Public That New Mexico is to be Admitted to the Union;
Long Silence Broken at Last.

Morning Journal Bureau,
413 Munsey Building,
Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.

"Out in New Mexico the people all firmly believe that congress at this season will admit the territory to statehood," declared Delegate William H. Andrews, who has been known down in his hallways for eight years
as the official statehood getter.

"The republican party and the democratic party both were pledged in the last campaign to admit the territory to statehood, and there is no reason why they should not make good this time," added Mr. Andrews.

"New Mexico has all the necessary and legal qualifications to admit it to the sisterhood of states. The population is greater than the minimum required; the valuation of property, the schools, the public improvements
everywhere are equal to, and in fact,
superior to those in many states.

"New Mexico is a rich country in every respect and her prospects are the brightest. She will be a bright star in the glorious banner of the United States. There is no doubt, in my mind, about New Mexico lining up in the republican column and sending republican members not only to the house, but also to the senate. Business is improving and people are making money and are happy."

The postoffice department urges patrons contemplating the mailing of Christmas packages, for delivery in rural communities, to post them as early as possible in order to avoid competition at postoffices supplying the carriers.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw, having supervision over the rural delivery system, suggests the possibility of so marking presents—
not to be opened until Christmas day—and send several days in advance. Delivery will be required over all rural routes on Christmas day.

The annual auction sale of articles accumulated in the division of dead
letters of the postoffice department
during the past year will be conducted by Marcus Notes at 425 Ninth street, N. W., Washington, D. C. The sale will begin on Monday, December 15,
and will be continued daily at 10 a. m.
and 7 p. m. until everything has been disposed of.

According to the catalogue which has just been issued, 7799 articles to be disposed of—classified as follows:
Miscellaneous articles, 3,222; books,
1,190; and jewelry, 467.

A rare achievement was accomplished yesterday in the division of dead letters of the postoffice department, which handles an average of about 40,000 dead letters daily. Fourth Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw
reports that all business in that division was brought up to date yesterday before 3 o'clock, and this morning the clerks began work on current business—letters received after the closing hour yesterday.

Postmaster General Hitchcock has signed fraud orders depriving J. C.
Boswell and P. Warman, both of Copenhagen, Denmark, of further use of the mails. These parties have been engaged in sending circular mail advertising the Great State and Colonial lottery and soliciting remittances for tickets representing chances in drawings of that lottery.

Postoffice Changes.

Emily F. Cox has been appointed postmaster at Anapra, Dona Ana county, N. M., to succeed L. Page, resigned.

Mamuel D. A. Mares has also been named for the office at Gonzales, San Miguel county, in the place of J. S.
Torres, resigned.

Two new postoffices have been established in New Mexico—one at Matpols, Union county, and the other North Des Moines, same county. Gonzales Salas was appointed postmaster
for the first named office, while Juan
C. Martinez was named for the latter.

LAKES AT CARLSBAD SAID TO BE ALIVE WITH DEEP SEA FOWL

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Carlsbad, N. M., Dec. 4.—A phenomenon which has interested many in this vicinity is the presence of a large number of sea gulls on the lakes around Carlsbad, especially around the Carlsbad irrigation project. Several hundred gulls have been observed at Lake McMillan and Lake Avalon and the birds appear to be breeding here thousands of miles from the sea. In this connection it is remembered that a sea gull was killed on the mesa near Albuquerque some years ago and they have also been seen in other parts of the territory.

The peculiar properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have been thoroughly tested during epidemics of influenza, and when it was taken in time we have not heard of a single case of pneumonia. Sold by all druggists.

VALUABLE HORSE IMPALED ON A FENCE

Equine Tragedy at San Marcial; Victoria Land and Cattle Company Secures Injunction.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
San Marcial, N. M., Dec. 4.—Juan
D. C. Chavez lost a valuable horse
Sunday. It was loose in E. Baca's yard when it became frightened by a dog and tried to jump over the gate.
A projecting spike caught the animal
in such a manner as to tear him open,
initially and it was necessary to shoot him at once. Mr. Chavez had owned the horse less than a month, paying $115 for him.

The Victoria Land and Cattle company this week served an injunction on Jacinto Gallegos, enjoining him from cutting posts on the former's land.

John Floyd was in Las Vegas this week to join the Knights of Columbus.

The J. Diefenbach Drug company have installed some handsome new show cases.

Miss Anna Bonem, daughter of H.
Bonem, manager of the San Marcial Mercantile company, is spending the week in El Paso.

"Dad" Heist, the genial engineer, is back from Deming, where he has been working for several weeks.

F. E. Maxwell and Dr. Bessette made a record-breaking trip to Rosendale Wednesday, going out in two hours and thirty minutes, and returning in one hour and forty-seven minutes. The distance is thirty miles with a good deal of sand and up grade.

The "Clerks of the Superintendent's Office" are planning a "swell ball" to be held at the opera house Christmas eve, December 24. Music will be secured from Las Vegas.

L. J. Brady's father and mother
have arrived from Jefferson county, Pennsylvania, and will spend the winter months here. Mr. Brady is a well known Santa Fe brakeman.

Mrs. G. L. Talbot of Albuquerque who has been the guest of friends here the past week, declares that "we feel more at home in San Marcial than any place we have lived," and they intend to return here shortly to reside. Mr. Talbot is an engineer.

Harry Steen, who has been "right-hand man" to Chief Surveyor James A. French, is in town. Mr. Steen reports everything closed down at Engle
for the present; no one left at the dam
site but a couple of watchmen.

James Collins has joined the Highlander lodge.

Monday night the Adult Bible class secured a four-horse team and driver and went out to the old fort. It is several miles out and quite deep sand and mud of the way. Many members of the crowd made the trip before and were amazed at the extent of the desert floor. The old adobe walls and fire places still standing, show a form of architecture novel to one not long in this part of the country. A bonfire was built and the party enjoyed watching it and eating nuts and apples. Those who made the memorable trip were: Misses Ruby Rhea, Alice Hanna, Clara Boone, Ver-
ma and Geneva Worrell, Ida Farrell, Mae Lee, Bonnette, Francis Scott,
Walter Lyman, James Collins, Wallace
Duncan, Walter Hanna, Jasper Wren,
Austin Lane, Rev. and Mrs. James W.

JOURNAL WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

Physician in Mineral Springs, Texas, Who Desired to Change His Location, Secures Practice at Yeso.

That it pays to advertise in the Morning Journal was indicated once more yesterday when a telegram was received from Yeso, N. M., a growing town in eastern New Mexico, containing the information that Yeso had secured a physician through the services of a Morning Journal want ad. Yeso is an aggressive town. The people of Yeso want the best there is. They did not have a physician located here
and were anxious to secure one.

Last Sunday a four-line ad appeared in the Morning Journal inquiring responding a location for a physician in New Mexico. One of the more than five thousand papers printed off the Journal press found its way into the hands of C. Z. Spurlock, one of the most progressive boosters in Yeso.
Mr. Spurlock immediately got busy and communicated with the physician, whose name is Dr. Littell, and who was then located at Mineral Wells, Texas. Arrangements were satisfactorily made between Mr. Spurlock and Dr. Littell. Yeso now has a physician and Dr. Littell has a desirable and growing practice. The telegram received yesterday from Mr. Spurlock reads as follows:

"Yeso, N. M., Dec. 4.—Albuquerque Journal, Albuquerque, N. M.: From advertisement published in your paper
for physician we have physician located here. Thank you for advertisement. Please publish this telegram.
(Signed) C. Z. SPURLOCK."

The moral: Use Morning Journal
want ads. They bring results.

BIG DEPOSITS OF TUNGSTEN IN ARIZONA FROM TERRIBLE DEATH ROLL

Curious and Valuable Minerals Produced in the Territories;
Something About New Mexico
Wolframite.

Morning Journal Bureau,
613 Munsey Building,
Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.

"By far the largest part of the tungsten produced each year is used in making tool steel," says Frank L. Hess, of the United States geological survey, in a recent report on the subject. "The market," continues
Mr. Hess, "for tungsten, therefore,
depends largely upon the steel trade,
and when in 1907, along with other business, the steel industry suffered a great falling off, the demand for tungsten decreased greatly."

"Prices which during 1907 had reached $14 per ton unit for ore running 50 per cent tungsten, fell to $10 per ton until there could hardly be said to be a real market in 1908.
In many places men had started to develop tungsten deposits in 1907 and would have continued even at low prices, but they had no market for their ores, and so were forced to stop work. In a number of cases large bodies of ore were found which they had no immediate use for, and they miners, or part of them, in the tungsten fields, so that when the hoped-for greater activity came to the steel trade there would be men on hand to get out the tungsten ore which would then be needed. Although this was far-sighted business policy, it was also generous, as firms paid to miners,
with whom they had dealt for a considerable time, prices higher than those for which foreign ores could be bought."

"The principal tungsten deposits in Arizona are those located about four miles north of Dragoon, Cochise county. There are a great number of quartz veins which cut a rather coarse granite and carry huberite, a white mineral, and pyrite, chalcoppyrite, and fluorapatite. Some mining has been done on the veins by the Primos Chemical company of Primos, Pa., but a much larger production has been made from placers formed through the weathering and degradation of the country. Some placer huberite was produced in 1908.

"Huberite is described as occurring under similar vein conditions at Arivaca, 12 miles south of Tucson, in the Gila mountains. The distance to railway transportation is so great that little has been done with the deposits. During 1908, however, a shipment of ore was made from the Tungsten No. 2 claim of J. L. and Chas.
E. Udall.

"Seven and one-half miles north of Nogales, near the Southern Pacific railroad, are deposits of wolframite,
the geology of which seems to be similar to that of the deposits near Dragoon. A small quantity of schis-tosity accompanies the wolframite.
There has been little development work on the deposits, and only a small quantity of ore has been shipped."

"In the Whetstone mountains, about 12 miles south of Benson, wolframite occurs in peculiar segrega-tions in a white granite and in a quartz vein cutting the granite. The wolframite appears to be an original constituent of the granite, just as horn-blende or biotite occur in other granites.
The Tucson Mining company made
a small production from the deposits, but work has ceased. The deposits are briefly described in Bulletin 350 of the Survey.

"Eighteen miles northeast of Yuc-la, Mohave county, wolframite occurs in quartz veins cutting a siliceous mica schist. No production is known to have been made."

"For several years Williams and Pitman have been producing wolfram-
ite from deposits in the Aquarius Range, 12 miles east of the Big Sandy, 50 miles southeast of Kingman,
and not far from Owens.

"Several other tungsten-bearing localities are reported in the same general region, but nothing is definitely known of them."

"Schistite occurs with gold and silver in the Maudslayi mine, Dedham district, Santa Catalina mountains, Pinal county, northeast of Tucson.
The gangue carries oxides of iron which will probably give place to sulphides at greater depth. Shipment of schistite are made from time to time."

"In referring to the mining of wolframite, schistite and bismuth ores in New Mexico, Mr. Hess, in his report says:

"The Wild Cat Leasing company
produces wolframite from the Home-stake group of claims which are mined for gold and silver at White Oaks, Lincoln county."

"Schistite occurs in the mine of the Anderson-patch Copper company, Hachita, Grant county, but none has been produced commercially. Schistite is also reported from the Daisy mine, 7 miles southeast of Hachita.
The ores in this mine are carbonates carrying copper, gold, silver, and bismuth. The country rock is limestone at both mines."

"In the Victorio district, 4 miles south of Gage, Luna county, on the Southern Pacific railroad, a quartz vein from 1 to 5 feet thick intersects limestone and carries huberite accompanied by galena, pyrite, wulfen-
ite, lead carbonate, and a little scheelite. There are no igneous outcrops in the vicinity. There has been some production."

"Schistite occurs with bismuth ores on claims on the east side of San An-west of Tularosa, and 3 miles north dreadnought, Socorro county, 27 miles of the Dona Ana county line. A small quantity of ore has been mined."

The warehouse in the town of Kiner's bakery in Silver City was broken into some time Thursday night and 400 pounds of flour stolen. Entrance was effected by breaking a large light of glass out of the window, the flour being passed through the opening thus made. The tracks in the street in front of the building showed that the thieves used a wagon to haul away their booty.

PRIMER ON EXPLOSIVES PREPARED FOR WORKMEN

United States Geological Survey Making Determined Effort to Reduce Appalling Mortality in American Coal Mines

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Washington, Dec. 3.—In furtherance of its efforts to reduce the number of fatalities in American coal mines, the United States Geological survey has just issued a primer on explosives for the benefit of miners and all others who have anything to do with explosives. The primer, which is written in plain, non-technical language describes how and what explosives are made, the dangers in their use and how these may be avoided
or reduced to a minimum.

The assertion is made by Director
George Otis Smith of the United States
Geological survey, that the improper use of explosives and the use of improper explosives are responsible for a considerable number of deaths in the coal mines, many of which are often credited to other causes.

Vigorous objection is made to the use of black powder in any mine
where there is danger of a gas or coal dust explosion. In such mines, the operators and miners are urged to use the explosives that have been tested at the Mine Accidents station, at Pittsburg, Pa., as being much less dangerous in their action. Investigations at this station have proved that the flame from the explosion of black powder lasts from 1,000 to 4,000 times as long as the flame from the newer explosives and is therefore more likely to ignite the gas or dust
in these mines.

"The use of explosives is increasing both in quantity and in the variety of purposes to which they are applied," says Mr. Smith. "They are now made at 150 plants in different parts of the country and the product of a single year now approaches 500,000,000 pounds. Of all this material, there is no such thing as a safe or safety explosive when in the hands of a careless or ignorant person. This statement is true whether considered in connection with the transportation or use of these explosives in mining. In addition to the large losses of life and property resulting from an improper use of explosives in mining, the recent statistics of the Railway Bureau for the Safe Transportation of Explosives have shown more than 400 persons killed and injured and over $2,000,000 worth of property destroyed from accidents from this source. The fact that through cooperative effort under the wise supervision of this bureau
during the three years of its existence these losses have been reduced to almost nothing, should encourage the hope that similar cooperative effort may likewise greatly reduce losses of life and property from the use of explosives in mining."

"The large death roll of American mines is an off-putting appeal to the miner and the management that they cooperate in every possible effort for greater safety. It may never be possible under conditions such as exist today to prevent mine accidents.
Little may be accomplished in that direction by either the operators or miners working alone, but experience in all countries shows that through heartily determined cooperation of the two, these accidents may be greatly reduced. This will require wise laws and regulations based on fact and experience, and the strictest possible discipline."

The authors of the bulletin are Charles E. Munroe, explosives expert and Clarence Hall, explosives engineer of the Technological branch of the United States Geological Survey.

Telephone advice has reached
Prescott that Pedro Marin, who shot

Superintendent A. B. Stroup of the Bernalillo county schools has received a copy of the following circular letter sent to superintendents by Territorial Superintendent Clark of Santa Fe:

Gentlemen: On account of the fact
that there is a great deal of misunderstanding concerning vacation salaries
I would ask you to read very carefully
section 26, chapter 37, laws of 1907,
found on page 215 of the compilation
of school laws for 1909, and note that
this chapter was amended by section
10, chapter 121, of the laws of 1909.
On careful reading you will note that:

First, the holder of a permit or
third grade certificate may not receive a salary in excess of $50 per month.

Second, the holder of a second
grade certificate may not receive a salary in excess of $75 per month.

Third, there is no limit placed upon
the salary that may be paid a holder
of a first grade certificate or any
higher form of teachers' license.

Fourth, that a holder of a permit
may receive back pay in excess of $50 per month, provided he secures
a regular teachers' license at some time during the term for which he is engaged.

Fifth, that a teacher is entitled to
full pay for a period not to exceed one month during which school may be closed for reasons specified.

Sixth, that the original provision of the law of 1907 giving a teacher the
regular salary during the holiday vacation for a period not to exceed fifteen
days has been repealed.

It is the last item in the foregoing
that has been misunderstood in particular. Some teachers are of the opinion that they are to receive pay
for the holiday vacation.

The length of the holiday vacation
is fixed by the board of school directors and it may be made one day or
one month, whatever the board may decide.

Holders of third grade certificates
who advance their licenses during the term for which they are elected may
not legally receive back salary in excess of $50, but they may receive advanced salary from the date of issue
of the advanced grade of license. This is true also of holders of second grade
licenses.

The matter of payment for certain
holidays and the matter of making up
certain days lost during the term is wholly a local one which the board
of directors and the teacher together
with the county superintendent should decide. Yours very respectfully,
J. E. CLARK,
Territorial Superintendent Public Instruction.
Department of Education, Santa Fe,
N. M., December 3, 1909.

DEAD BODY REPORTED
LYING ON TRACK

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Tularosa, N. M., Dec. 2.—A fireman
on the north bound Rock Island train
last night reports seeing a dead man lying on the track near Kearney. The sheriff was telephoned to make an investigation but the result has not been learned.

James A. Carroll, superintendent of the Mesquero Indian reservation was
in Tularosa this morning en route to
the agency after doing special work
for the interior department at Neepit,
Wis., for the past three months.

It is said that the Wisconsin tribunal asked Mr. Carroll to be their superintendent, which position pays a salary
of $4,000, but if offered the position
Mr. Carroll would decline chiefly because he prefers the climate of New Mexico.

a copy of the following circular letter sent to superintendents by Territorial
Superintendent Clark of Santa Fe:

Gentlemen: On account of the fact
that there is a great deal of misunderstanding concerning vacation salaries
I would ask you to read very carefully
section 26, chapter 37, laws of 1907,
found on page 215 of the compilation
of school laws for 1909, and note that
this chapter was amended by section
10, chapter 121, of the laws of 1909.
On careful reading you will note that:

First, the holder of a permit or
third grade certificate may not receive a salary in excess of $50 per
month.

Second, the holder of a second
grade certificate may not receive a
salary in excess of $75 per month.

Third, there is no limit placed upon
the salary that may be paid a holder
of a first grade certificate or any
higher form of teachers' license.

Fourth, that a holder of a permit
may receive back pay in excess of $50 per month, provided he secures
a regular teachers' license at some time during the term for which he is
engaged.

Fifth, that a teacher is entitled to
full pay for a period not to exceed one
month during which school may be closed for reasons specified.

Sixth, that the original provision of
the law of 1907 giving a teacher the
regular salary during the holiday vacation for a period not to exceed fifteen
days has been repealed.

It is the last item in the foregoing
that has been misunderstood in particular. Some teachers are of the opinion that they are to receive pay
for the holiday vacation.

The length of the holiday vacation
is fixed by the board of school direc-
one month, whatever the board may
decide.

Holders of third grade certificates
who advance their licenses during the
term for which they are elected may
not legally receive back salary in excess of $50, but they may receive advanced salary from the date of issue
of the advanced grade of license. This is true also of holders of second grade
licenses.

The matter of payment for certain
holidays and the matter of making up
certain days lost during the term is
wholly a local one which the board
of directors and the teacher together
with the county superintendent should decide. Yours very respectfully,
J. E. CLARK,
Territorial Superintendent Public Instruction.

DEAD BODY REPORTED
LYING ON TRACK

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Tularosa, N. M., Dec. 2.—A fireman
on the north bound Rock Island train
last night reports seeing a dead man
lying on the track near Kearney. The
sheriff was telephoned to make an investigation but the result has not been
learned.

James A. Carroll, superintendent of
the Mesquero Indian reservation was
in Tularosa this morning en route to
the agency after doing special work
for the interior department at Neepit,
Wis., for the past three months.

It is said that the Wisconsin tribunal asked Mr. Carroll to be their superintendent, which position pays a salary
of $4,000, but if offered the position
Mr. Carroll would decline chiefly because he prefers the climate of New Mexico.

RAILWAY MAIL RUSH TO BREAK ALL RECORDS

CHRISTMAS BUSINESS TO BE VERY HEAVY

Local Office Preparing for Holiday Trade; Carrying Registered Matter Big Job for Railways.

Postmaster Hopkins and his force of assistants are looking forward to a strenuous holiday season and already the influx of Christmas mail is being plainly felt. Extra clerks and carriers will be put on to handle the rush and keep the mail moving. In this connection it is interesting that Chief Clerk D. E. Barnes, who has been conferring with other chief clerks in charge of lines running into Kansas City, believes that the mail rush will be the biggest this year in the history of the railway mail service. The men in charge of this department have had their heads together planning ways and means to handle the transportation of the mails effectively at Christmas time.

This registered mail is the big proposition with which railway postal clerks have to deal. If it were not for this holiday mail work would be not far above normal. Though there are a great many more letters, post-cards, etc., to be handled, the vast bulk of advertising matter, catalogues and the like which pass through the mails in such bulk during the pre-holiday season, suddenly fall off about a week before Christmas day and for two or three weeks there is less of this class than any other time during the year.

But while the ordinary mail remains near the normal in bulk the registered matter more than doubles in volume and it is in this connection with this class of matter that the particular troubles of the postal clerks, post-office employees and letter carriers arise. Although just recently arrangements have been made to handle the long distance registered stuff in sealed sacks instead of in single pieces, the careful checking and hand to hand passing of the registered stuff makes its transfer a problem to demand serious consideration, especially at Christmas time.

"The Kansas City office on the first day before the rush began last year cleared away only about 6,000 pieces of registered matter," said Mr. Barnes, in an interview, "while in the midst of the rush the average was above 12,000. Practically every one in sending Christmas presents wishes them to reach their destination on Christmas day, and are disappointed if they do not do so, when mailed at the usual time. The boys in the postal service put in their hardest work of the year trying to bring this about, but try as they may, they often cannot handle clothes are made for men who are particular; and for men who ought to be, and are not particular enough.

the bulk poured in on them. If people would send their presents early, say ten days before Christmas, to distant points, and five days to nearer destinations, they would not only be sure of their arriving on time but they would each be doing a little to relieve the strain on perhaps the hardest working class of men in the United States at that time."

SIMON STERN The Central Ave. Clothier

Society

A very beautiful wedding which occasioned great interest in the society circles of Albuquerque was that of Miss Lisa Dieckmann and Mrs. Thomas Donahy, which occurred Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dieckmann, 881 South Third street.

The rooms were most beautiful with their bowers of green and masses of roses and chrysanthemums.

The wedding march from Lohengrin, was played by Mrs. Mabel Stevens-Himes. Miss Margaret Keleher, dressed in pale green and carrying a beautiful bouquet, was bridesmaid, while Master Russell Edgar, acted as ring bearer, strewing roses in the path of the bride who advanced on the arm of her father to join the groom at the altar.

The ceremony was performed by Father Mandallari S. J. in the large bay window which had been transformed into a bower of green studded with pink carnations and roses. The groom was attended by his cousin, Mr. Cantlin.

Those witnessing the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dieckmann, Mr. Bruno and Paul Dieckmann, Mr. and Mrs. Danahy of New York and Mr. Cantlin.

The wedding party was conveyed to the Alvarado, where they were joined by forty guests and an elaborate wedding dinner was served. Later the party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was tendered them.

The home was illuminated with candles, and the parlor was decorated in roses and ferns throughout.

The dining room was most beautiful, illuminated with pink candles, shaded by dainty pink shades and the bay window was an alluring sight in its dainty greenery studded with pink carnations back of which a brilliant white light shone. A large cornucopia brimming with huge pink carnations graced one side of the room.

Mr. Otto Dieckmann, Mrs. Hankin, Mrs. E. R. Edgar, Mrs. Brent and Mrs. Ferguson, acted in the reception.

The banquet given under the auspices of the art department of the Woman's club Tuesday afternoon was a great success both socially and financially. The club room presented a very pretty appearance with its many booths and varied decorations. The candy booth in charge of Mrs. J. B. Wroth, Mrs. D. A. Macpherson and home cooking booth in charge of Mrs. R. H. Collier, was one that attracted generous patronage, while the

W. W. Strong, Mrs. Anson and Mrs. Maynard, fared equally well. The ad-ron booth was especially pretty and was in charge of Mrs. C. H. Conner, Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Campfield. The booth of fancy work was well patronized, Mrs. Isaac Barth, Miss Bessie Chapman and Mrs. Watlington, being in charge.

Mrs. Dunbar, Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Weir acted on the refreshment committee. The success of the affair is due largely to Mrs. Ed Hersh, who is in charge of the art department, and Mrs. H. B. Ray, director.

A reception and dance was tendered the members of the Agricultural college football team, by the members of the University eleven in the Elks' ball room Friday evening. The assemblage was greatly entertained by a splendid address by Dr. Parkin of Oxford, after which dancing was indulged in. The music was furnished by the Cavanaugh orchestra and sixty couples danced to the sweet strains until a late hour.

One of the pretty social events of the week was the Christmas tea, given at the home of Mrs. F. E. Trotter, 602 North Fourth street, Thursday afternoon. The affair was given in honor of the ladies of the Congregational church and their friends. The house was beautifully decorated in red streamers, Christmas bells and flowers. The dining room was prettily decorated in streamers and bells while a miniature brick chimney and Santa Claus as natural as life graced the center of the table. A splendid program was a feature of the afternoon after which an age guessing contest formed the chief amusement. The prize, a handsome box of candy, was awarded Mrs. Carl Hoppling.

The hostesses were: Mrs. Hugh Trotter, Mrs. W. J. Hall, Mrs. W. H. Reed, Mrs. D. M. Richards and Mrs. F. E. Trotter.

Mrs. A. S. Peck of North High street, was a charming hostess yesterday afternoon, when she entertained a number of friends at an informal luncheon, in honor of Mrs. Parks, of Washington, D. C., who is here guest. The home was handsomely decorated for the occasion and a delightful course luncheon was served.

Mrs. Florence P. Johnston, who has returned from an extended visit in Los Angeles, Cal., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stroup, of North 11th street.

Miss Florence Weiler, of West Tjerna avenue, entertained a number of her friends Monday evening in honor of her tenth birthday. The young lady was the happy recipient of many pretty gifts and birthday wishes. Games and dancing were the amusements of the evening and a most elaborate supper was served. Prizes were awarded in clever guessing contests and a most delightful time enjoyed by those present. The guests were: Misses Mildred Harris, Reba Conner, Linn Lester, Catherine O'Reilly, Grace Storti, Lillian Kempenich, Mary de la Vergne, Florence Grunfield, Pauline Borradaile, Annette Wehman and Florence Weiler. Masters Robert Putney, Leon Putney, Robert Hopewell, William Hopewell, Thomas Hubbell, Amado Chavez, George Mandell, Alfred Grunfield, Frank O'Reilly, Edward McKee and Sol Weiler.

Mrs. Max Schuster, accompanied her daughter, Miss Margaret, has returned after a visit of six months in Philadelphia.

The Ladies Aid society of the German Lutheran church will give one of their celebrated coffee socials next Wednesday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. A. McJay, 561 West Marble Avenue, from 2 until 8 o'clock.

Miss Ruth Tubbs of Mammoth, Ill., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ackerman, 1110 West Central avenue.

The stations are also headquarters of the engineers for the study of the waste of coal in mining—one of the important problems before the geological survey—and for investigating conditions in mines which may be conducive to disasters from explosions or roof falls. The stations are equipped with all right rooms where gas can be generated. Coal mining companies are invited to send to these stations picked men who may be trained by the government experts in the use of the oxygen helmets. It is not the purpose of the government to engage in general rescue work, but rather to supervise mine rescue operations, and to demonstrate this apparatus until the mining companies have thoroughly trained rescue crews at their mines.

The Work of the Stations.

When a mine explosion occurs within a radius permitting the transportation of apparatus from the rescue station to the scene of disaster, a trained rescue corps is sent in all possible haste to the mine. On arrival, and with the concurrence of the state mine inspectors and the mine owners, local miners, preferably men who have personal knowledge of the mine, are properly instructed in the use of the apparatus. The rescuers, each equipped with an oxygen helmet and a portable electric lamp, enter the mine and make an exploration for the purpose of finding any men who may have been overcome by the after-gases of the explosion. When a man is found, he is immediately taken outside the mine, or to some station inside the mine where the atmosphere is breathable, and there rescuers endeavor to revive him by administering oxygen and by exercising his body. Each rescue corps carries a resuscitating cabinet, which consists of cylinders charged with oxygen, a flexible breathing bag, a flexible tube, and a hood that fits over the mouth and nostrils of the patient.

Mine Rescue Apparatus.

Mine rescue apparatus of the compressed-oxygen type permits a person wearing it to breathe naturally with little inconvenience for a continuous period of two or three hours, even while surrounded by deadly or irritating fumes, smoke or other irrespirable gases. The principal feature of such an apparatus are the tanks or cylinders containing the oxygen under high pressure, absorption cans for taking up the oxygen exhaled from the lungs, and a helmet or mouth attachment with breathing bags, which enable the person wearing the apparatus to breathe with ease. The foregoing features are accomplished in different degrees of efficiency by different types of apparatus. At the Pittsburgh station the various types of mine rescue apparatus are being tested to determine their relative efficiency.

Without a careful study of the mechanism and function of each part of such apparatus and careful training in its use, no person should attempt to wear the apparatus in the dangerous atmosphere of mines immediately after an explosion or during a fire. Training in the proper manipulation of the apparatus is imperative for its successful use in mine rescue work. The apparatus is most effective when it is worn by persons who by training have learned to have confidence in its efficiency and who are also accustomed to underground work in coal mines.

Tests of Lamps.

Tests are being made at the Pittsburgh station of all types of lamps used for lighting purposes within mines with respect to their safety in the presence of explosive mixtures of coal gas and air. The candlepower of all safety lamps is determined for different kinds of oil used in mines, and electric portable lamps are also being tested in like manner as to their candlepower and their safety in explosive mixtures of gas and air. The tests are made in currents of air running at different velocities and charged with explosive gas.

The effect of different percentages of explosive gas on the flame of safety lamps is tested, and facilities are provided whereby miners, fire bosses, and others interested may insert their safety lamps in a gallery containing small proportions of explosive gas to witness the effect of the gas on the flame.

Mine Accidents.

Reports of all mine accidents throughout the United States and foreign countries are collected and prepared by the staff at the testing station. On the occurrence of a serious mine disaster in any part of the United States, experienced mining engineers are sent to the scene of the disaster for the purpose of studying the conditions under which the accident may have occurred. Data prepared by the engineers are available for the tests conducted in the artificial mine gallery at the testing station and within an experimental mine.

Explosives.

All classes of explosives made for use within mines are being examined at the Pittsburgh plant in order to determine the effect of shooting them into coal dust, mixtures of coal dust and explosive gas, and explosive gas alone, and the limit charge for safety is determined on each class of explosives.

FISH HATCHERY TO BE ESTABLISHED IN SANTA FE

Ideal Site Selected Covering Forty-five Acres for Propagation Work; Capacity 1,600,000 Fish Annually.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal) Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 4.—Santa Fe is to have a territorial fish hatchery. This much has been decided upon by Game Warden Thomas P. Gable, and the exact location will be made public as soon as the title to the land can be obtained. The location selected is an ideal one and within a reasonable distance of the plaza.

As quickly as clear title is secured, work will be commenced on the building of a hatchery. For the purpose of having everything exact and in proper working order, the game warden has brought to Santa Fe an expert fish hatchery man in the person of R. C. Hosselkus of Creede, Colo.

Hosselkus is president of the Last Lake Fish Hatchery company at Creede. He has had fifteen years' experience in his line of business and is regarded as one of the best experts in the country, having received high recognition from the United States government. Before engaging in private business he was in the employ of the bureau of Fisheries of the United States and also of the state of Colorado. His high standing with the United States government is attested by the fact that whenever the government receives queries from foreign countries regarding certain kinds of fish, the matter is referred to Hosselkus. All shipments of trout, bass, etc., to foreign countries are made from the hatchery at Creede. The principal countries to which the fish are shipped are Germany, France and Japan.

The hatchery at Creede is a large affair. There are five natural lakes, covering six hundred acres and one natural lake covering 1,120 acres of ground. The fish raised are rainbow trout, mountain trout, eastern trout, steel head trout, black bass, croppies and ring perch. Annually ten million trout eggs are hatched by artificial means. The trout generally does not reproduce until it is three years old, except that the brook trout reproduces in eighteen months. During the spawning season, if the spawn is left to itself, only about one per cent of the eggs hatch out. By artificial means, the percentage of eggs hatched is increased to 97 per cent. The trout produces 1,000 eggs to the pound of fish.

The bass, croppies and perch do not need the attention given the trout, but nests are built for them and their eggs are hatched out naturally. These fish produce about 200,000 eggs to the pound of fish and about ten per cent of the eggs hatch. At the Creede hatchery 2,000,000 eggs are successfully hatched annually. It can thus be gleaned from the above statements what tremendous increases in the matter of reproduction can be obtained. The Last Lake hatchery is, of course, a private commercial enterprise, but from its hatchery are shipped any amount of fish to the state hatcheries and to the United States government for the purpose of stocking streams. The state of Colorado has at present seven state hatcheries. These are located at Hot Sulphur Springs, Glenwood Springs, Steamboat Springs, Durango, Del Norte and Denver, the main hatchery being at the latter city.

Last year the hatchery at Creede shipped 600,000 trout to be used by the state in stocking Colorado streams. The demand is so great that Colorado with its seven hatcheries assisted by the Creede hatchery is unable to meet it. At the last legislature every county in the state was crying for the establishment of a hatchery. The state hatcheries have been in existence for twenty-four years and have meant much to Colorado, having prevented the extinction of fish in the state's streams. In fact, the streams of Colorado have been so well taken care of that there is no longer a closed trout season, but trout can be had at any time and can even be served by hotels and restaurants.

The hatcheries are looked after by the state fish commissioner, he being assisted by about twenty employees, and in busy times also by the thirty game wardens of the state. The annual capacity of the seven hatcheries is 25 million.

Hosselkus has just finished supervising the construction of a hatchery on the ranch of Norman W. Barth at Vonnelle park in Colfax county, this being the first hatchery ever built in New Mexico. It will be for private purposes only and will be completed on January 1. It has a capacity of 1,000,000 fish annually. Hosselkus has also constructed a number of private hatcheries in Colorado and Utah.

After looking over the local location, Hosselkus declared it to be an ideal one and stated that if the territory of New Mexico failed to grasp the opportunity, private enterprise certainly would, as the place is just right for commercial purposes. In fact, he said that he has never come across a more suitable location with all conditions so nearly perfect. The site viewed, has a lake covering forty acres. Near it will be secured a plot of five acres on which will be erected the hatchery and small ponds. The capacity planned is 1,000,000 fish annually, but this capacity can be easily increased as seen fit, there being no limit. After the work of construction is started, it can be completed within sixty days. The lake selected is already well and sufficiently stocked with mature trout and all that is necessary is the gathering of spawn for hatching purposes. This is done in the spring, the hatching time beginning May the first and lasting through June. The hatching of trout only will be attempted at first, though later black bass may be tried. Black bass hatch in five days and mature in fifteen days; trout hatch and mature in from 30 to 120 days, according to the temperature of the water.

Hosselkus, besides, being delighted with the location inspected, was enthusiastic over the results which the establishing of a hatchery will be of inestimable value to New Mexico and will certainly prevent the streams from becoming troutless, which will certainly be the case in a very short time if not looked after. As trout do not reproduce until after eighteen months or three years, he says, it can be readily seen what little chance there is for successful natural propagation, while people are constantly fishing and taking everything in sight. The establishment of a fish hatchery here will lead later to the establishment of supplementary ones elsewhere throughout the territory and this as soon as the results are made manifest. Even the railroads, he states, realize the great advantage of artificial propagation of fish by means of a hatchery and willingly make shipments of fish, free of any charge, when to be used for stocking streams along their lines of travel. They realize that to have streams with plenty of fish, attracts the tourist, and the more tourists the more profit for them. This is true not only with the railroad but with the territory itself. The more tourists that can be induced to come here, the greater opportunity for growth and progress.

It is believed that the title to the property wanted can easily be secured and the work of constructing the hatchery will in all probability start within the very near future.

LASATER IS FOUND NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

JURY RETURNS VERDICT AFTER FIFTEEN MINUTES

Man Charged With Killing Nicholas Sanchez at Tome in 1908 is Acquitted.

After being out for only fifteen minutes last evening the jury in the case of the Territory vs. J. L. Lasater, indicted by the Valencia county grand jury in September 1908, for the murder of Nicholas Sanchez, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The case went to the jury about 6 o'clock and the verdict was brought in after the jurors had spent but a few moments in deliberating on the law, evidence, and instructions of the court.

Self-defense was the plea made on behalf of Lasater, it being claimed that he stabbed Sanchez to protect himself and family from injury at the hands of a mob which had surrounded them at Tome, in Valencia county, where the trouble, which resulted in the killing occurred.

According to the testimony submitted during the trial, which was begun Wednesday, Lasater and family were at Tome attending a fiesta. Lasater had previously had a misunderstanding with Luciano Aragon over an irrigation ditch and on the day of the fiesta they became involved in a quarrel which resulted in Lasater knocking Aragon down.

Lasater was arrested because of the scrap, but was later released on his statement that he would furnish bond. A crowd of some fifty people, evidently Aragon's friends, gathered around Lasater, his wife and two children, and according to evidence introduced on behalf of the defense, made threats of violence against them. When placed on the stand in his own defense yesterday Lasater testified that he saw Nicholas Sanchez coming at him with a club. In order to defend himself and family from harm Lasater drew a knife and slashed at Sanchez. Some one pushed him he said and the knife hit Sanchez in the back.

Green Lasater, son of the elder Lasater was in the crowd defending himself with an axe. Officers took matters in hand at this stage and arrested J. L. Lasater. Sanchez died the same day and Lasater was indicted for first degree murder by the Valencia county grand jury on September 19, two days after the trouble occurred. A change of venue was granted from Valencia to Bernalillo county and the case ended in Lasater's acquittal yesterday.

The case was prosecuted for the territory by Attorney General F. W. Clancy. Lasater was defended by Attorneys E. W. Dobson and Nellie C. Brewer.

New Suits Filed.
S. Burkhardt, attorney for B. A. Sleyster, trustee and Lizzie Mann, has filed a suit in the district court asking judgment against B. D. Sampson and wife for $1,000, alleged to be due on a promissory note dated Feb. 26. The complaint seeks to foreclose on certain property held by the defendants in order to satisfy judgment.

Gross, Kelley & Co., through Attorney R. W. D. Bryan filed a suit yesterday asking judgment against George W. Stubbs for $351.15 alleged to be due on a promissory note.

A suit was filed yesterday by Victor Sals through his attorneys Marron and Wood seeking judgment against F. B. Slockett, of Fort Collins, Colo., for $3,000. It is alleged that Sals and Slockett entered into a contract on August 14, 1907, whereby the plaintiff agreed to deliver to the defendant 5,000 head of lambs to be accepted and paid for at the rate of $5.50 per head. The plaintiff alleges that Slockett failed to keep the agreement and that he was forced to sell the lambs at $4.50, entailing a loss of $2,000.
