FALL-MURRAY
PLANS FOR MEXICO

NEW MEXICO'S REPRESENTATIVE IN SENATE, AND BILL MURRAY IN HOUSE, EACH TRY TO FORCE A RADICAL AND DECISIVE ACTION BY ADMINISTRATION.

FEDERALS HEMMED IN IN STATE OF COAHUILA

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Senator Fall of New Mexico today called up his resolution for the protection of American citizens in foreign countries. It refers to conditions in Mexico. Chairman Bacon of the foreign relations committee demanded that it be sent to that committee, that its terms might be carefully weighed.

"Words are very serious things at times," he said, "and this is one of the times."

Senator Fall asked that it be passed at once, asserting that it was thoroughly understood by every senator. Senator Bacon insisted that they were in a grave situation of responsibility, and at this time any enunciation of principle such as this should be thoroughly considered.

"As to whether this resolution enunciates the truth should not be discussed at this time," he said. "This is entirely a question of expediency."

Senator Bacon asked if the resolution did not mean that the United States should send an armed force to protect American citizens, Senator Stone, reviewing certain conditions in Mexico, declared he would favor sending an armed force.

"Nothing has been done to protect American citizens in Mexico," declared Senator Fall.

Senator Bacon declared the facts did not warrant such a statement, but that under the Taft and Wilson administrations the state department had told him repeatedly of constant diplomatic efforts to secure protection for Americans and their property.

Senator Williams maintained that a citizen of the United States had no constitutional rights in foreign countries. Amended he thought such a resolution ought to be passed, "to strengthen the arm of the secretary of state."

Senator Norris asked, "Are we prepared now to declare this government, as set forth in this resolution, prepared to give full protection to her citizens in Mexico?"

"Full protection must necessarily mean that if our citizens in Mexico cannot be protected by diplomatic means, we are prepared to go to war with Mexico."

"I submit that before the senate makes a declaration to that effect, the question should be thoroughly and seriously considered."

Senator Fall, aroused by what he termed intimations from senators that he was seeking to precipitate war with the resolution, made a stirring reply.

"My sole purpose," said he, "throughout this and the former administration has been to prevent war with Mexico. I urged the last administration to realize the situation in Mexico, and to act so as to prevent war. But matters have dragged on until now we are told the situation is so delicate that we should not make a declaration of this broad principle."

"The senator from New Mexico is not responsible for the conditions in Mexico. It is the delay, the failure of the administration to act, the failure of the administration to carry out its warnings to the people of Mexico, that is responsible for conditions that will continue so long as this policy of delay continues."

"We hesitate, as a republic, and rightfully so, to move to protect our citizens because of fear that it will precipitate war. It is in your power at the present time to prevent war. If strong action had been taken by this government two years ago, it would have prevented war. A strong demand on Madero or De la Barra would have prevented war. Protection of American citizens held for ransom and killed at that time, extended through arms, if necessary, would have prevented war. This policy of the United States of delay, in the hope that something might happen is responsible for the present situation. Prompt and strong action would have avoided the necessity for such a declaration as is proposed here."

Senator Lodge declared that he knew from dispatches from American consuls were so treated by the administration here last winter that the consuls were afraid to assert themselves.

"I want to ask the senator from New Mexico if it isn't true that the German minister made the Mexico government pay him ten thousand marks for the murder of a German citizen, and if it is not also true that a member of the German legation went to a court martial and rescued an American citizen whose own people could do nothing because they were not backed by the government?"

"I was in hopes that when a new president and new secretary of state came in they would pursue a different policy and I am disappointed that they have not."

By way of giving specific instances of lack of protection for Americans, Senator Fall told of the murder of Fountain, an American, and declared that the rebel leader, Salazar, Fountain's murderer, had soon after crossed to a hotel on the American side of the border and had been permitted to return to Mexico unmolested.

Charles L. Montague, an American banker of Cananea, threatened with him saved, the senator declared when two hundred and 50 American citizens in Cananea took up their rifles and several thousand other Americans a few miles from the border let it be known that if Montague was harmed the state of Sonora probably would be an adjunct to another nation than Mexico.

"The present occupant of the White House knows very little about the situation in Mexico," concluded Senator Fall.

"I believe when he knows the facts he will adopt a very different course." The debate was stopped by the expiration of what is known as the "morning hour" and the resolution went to the calendar.

Murray Wants Action.
Representative William H. Murray, of Oklahoma, well known as "Alfalfa Bill," introduced a resolution today in which he invites the senate to concur, directing intervention in Mexico, if order and peace are not restored within thirty days after President Wilson issues a proclamation to that effect.

Murray's resolution characterizes provisional President Huerta as an "usurping marauder," a "black handed murderer," and his regime as "founded on treachery, duplicity and murder."

Battleship at Tuxpam.
The battleship Louisiana, which sailed from Vera Cruz under rush orders, has arrived at Tuxpam to protect Americans whose lives and property are endangered by fighting between the federals and the revolutionists.

Wilson Travels by Sea.
Havana, July 22.—The United States ambassador to Mexico, Henry Lane Wilson, instead of proceeding to Washington by way of Key West, as originally planned, has decided to go to New York on board the Mexico, sailing at noon.

Ordered to Frontier.
Washington, D. C., July 22.—The gunboat Wheeling was today ordered to Frontera, Tabasco, Mexico, where revolutionary activity has endangered the lives and property of Americans.

She will sail from Key West tomorrow morning. The gunboat has 150 blue jackets, but no marines.

Federals Hard Pressed.
Coahuila, Mexico, July 22.—via Eagle Pass, Texas.—Constitutionalists are operating from Coahuila against the following cities held by federals in North Mexico: Torreon, Saltillo, Monterrey, Lampazos, Monclova and Nuevo Laredo. They claim to have General Maas completely surrounded at Monclova and the federal detachments in the other cities cut off so that they cannot unite with each other.

A small detachment of federals from Monclova, out on a scouting trip, was reported to have killed its officers, left their bodies by the roadside and disappeared to the hills.

Federals are forcing many residents of Monclova to join the army under stress of punishment for refusal, it is charged. The Constitutionalists outposts are a mile from Monclova, which, it is claimed, is completely shut off from supplies.

Governor Carranza, constitutionalist leader, has gone to Torreon, which the constitutionalists claim to have surrounded with 8,000 or 10,000.

Officers here assert it will be impossible for Huerta to send federal relief from Torreon to Durango to protect American citizens there against bandits, as requested by the American government. Colonel Jesus Carranza said today he believed Americans would find reports about conditions at Durango have been exaggerated. Governor Carranza, he said, has given positive orders to protect lives and property of all foreigners and has punished severely all violations of these orders which his authority could reach.

At Salinas, near here, there are 1,000 refugees from Monclova, most of them living in box cars on constitutionalist railroads. So far as known, there are no Americans among these. Soldiers at the constitutionalist head-

TWO ACCIDENTS CLAIM BIG TOLL

FORTY GIRLS LOSE LIVES IN FACTORY FIRE

OVERALL FACTORY AT BINGHAMPTON BURNS IN TWENTY MINUTES, AND FORTY OUT OF 125 GIRLS EMPLOYED ARE BURNED TO DEATH.

Binghampton, N. Y., July 22.—Forty girls are believed to have lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the Freeman Overall factory this afternoon in twenty minutes.

The fire started at 2:30 o'clock and had completely destroyed the building in twenty minutes.

One hundred and twenty-five girls were in the factory when the fire was discovered. The police declare that at least forty failed to escape.

Twelve girls were taken to the hospital badly injured.

There were heart rending scenes when several girls clinging to fire escapes were swept by sheets of flames, or jumped from the factory windows.

Exactly how many were penned inside was hard to determine in the panic. The walls of the big building fell at 2:05 o'clock.

At 3:45 p. m. two bodies were seen lying on Division street completely in two. Others can be seen in the ruins. It is now thought the number of lives lost will exceed forty.

E. J. Lawrence, bookkeeper of the company, said that he was working in the office when the first alarm sounded. The flames were under the front stairway. There also was a rear stairway and fire escapes at the south side of the building.

Most of the women were employed in the machine operating room of the fourth floor. They made no attempt to hurry from the building at first, thinking that the alarm was for a fire drill.

Messengers rushed through the building to drive the women out.

"Just then," said Lawrence, "the whole building burst into flames. It was of the ordinary factory construction, with timber supports and brick walls. But it went up like powder—a puff and all was over. When the flames rushed up the front stairway it was awful."

"The women were in a panic in an instant. They rushed to the fire escapes and many of them leaped out of the windows."

"I had 125 names on my pay roll, but only 60 of the employees were gone on vacation. The lists are all inside the burned factory. I didn't have time to put them away or to close the safe. It is impossible for the present to call the roll or get an accurate line on those who are missing."

An hour after the first alarm had been sounded, the policemen and firemen were working among the debris of the wrecked building.

Most of those hurt received their injuries in jumping from the upper floor where more than half of the hands were at work when the alarm sounded.

Of the 125 persons in the factory, six comprise the office force on the first floor, five were cutters on the second floor, twenty were operators on the third floor and eighty were machine operators on the top floor. About 100 of the 125 were girls and women.

STAGNATION COMES TO CHINESE BUSINESS

MANY STORES CLOSE IN CANTON, NEW CAPITAL OF SOUTHERN CONFEDERACY, AND FOREIGN RESIDENTS LEAVE FOR PLACES OF SAFETY.

Canton, China, July 22.—Trade throughout southern China has been paralyzed by the proclamation of the independence of the province of Kwang Tung. The incident had created a feeling of great anxiety in this city. Stores have been closed.

A great many people have left the city. Thousands more have flocked into the Portuguese colony of Macao and into Hong Kong. Among the latter are many officials who have retired from their posts.

There is a strong feeling of resentment throughout the southern provinces against the policy of provisional President Yuan Shi Kai, but it is felt in most quarters that it will be impossible to resist long as he commands a large trained army, possesses money, and has the support of the powers.

New Premier.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Hsiung Hsi Ling has been appointed premier of the Chinese cabinet to succeed Ping Chun, who was removed by the constituent assembly. The change was reported to the state department today.

To protect American citizens imperiled by the revolutionary movement in the Southern Chinese provinces, Charge de Affairs Williams at Peking has called on Rear Admiral Nicholson for a guard of marines from the Asiatic squadron to Kuling in Kiang Si province, which recently seceded. Martial law was proclaimed today in Kiang Si and Kiang Su province according to state department reports.

FIRE KILLS 35 CONVICTS ON PRISON FARM

TRAPPED IN AN ANTIQUATED CONVICT CAGE, 35 NEGRO PRISONERS ARE ROASTED ALIVE WITH NO CHANCE TO ESCAPE.

Jackson, Miss., July 22.—Trapped by flames in the second floor of an antiquated convict cage, 35 negro prisoners were burned to death at the Oakley convict farm, 20 miles from here late last night.

The flames rapidly ate away the only stairway leading to the second floor. The prisoners tore at the heavy bars on the jail windows, but to no avail. The flames drove back members of the rescue party each time they attempted to liberate the negroes, who one by one, fell back into the flames and perished.

The building was constructed ten years ago of lumber taken from a discarded penitentiary; there was no fire fighting apparatus at the farm and the first floor of the building was filled with inflammable matter.

The convicts all were worked in the cotton fields of the state farm and were housed in the "cage" for the night. Among them were some desperate criminals serving long sentences.

TARIFF BILL TO BE TALKED TO DEATH

SMOOT OF UTAH IS STILL HANDING OUT DIRE PREDICTIONS ABOUT THE FATE OF THE NATION AND PEOPLE, SHOULD THIS BILL PASS.

DEMOCRATS ANXIOUS TO PASS MEASURE

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Senator Smoot today resumed his argument against the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill. He discussed first the agricultural schedule.

"The provision of the house bill," he said, "to admit meat, hides, wool and so forth, free, while imposing a duty on cattle and certain other live stock, were so clearly an attempt to drive the farmers, that the majority party in the senate is to be congratulated for seeking to make the provision more consistent. In doing this, however, they overdid the injury already provided by the house and instead of making meats and so forth dutiable, the bill now adds live stock to the free list."

"With meats free it will help concentrate the control of these products in the hands of what are known as the beef barons and will help kill off small dealers and throttle competition. The expense of feeding and the shrinkage of carcasses are eliminated in transporting beef, hence a large corporation with facilities for importing dressed beef can save a good deal in labor, feeding and so forth. When no duty is imposed it will be a discrimination against the farmer and others raising live stock in this country."

"But if meat and so forth is to be admitted free, it is better that the deception should be done away with and live stock also allowed to come in free."

"This bill," said Senator Smoot, "is a partisan and sectional measure, the outcome of secret caucus methods such as never ruled before in the senate of the United States. In his book, 'Our New Freedom,' President Wilson says that there is no cause for causing in congress and in a speech in Indiana, preceding his election, he emphasized that point by asserting that there was no necessity for secrecy in congressional proceedings. Yet, not in the history of congress has there been anything equal to that record in the way of dark methods in the preparation of a tariff bill."

"Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, who had been elected three times to his present office by the Democratic party and who was supported as a candidate for president at the last Democratic national convention, defines this bill as a sacrifice of the interests of the nation. He has purchased a site in Canada for his large manufacturing establishment in Massachusetts and says that he will remove his business there if the bill becomes a law. Mr. Wm. R. Hearst, a prominent Democrat, mentioned as a candidate for president, agrees with Governor Foss."

"We all know what Democrats of Colorado, Montana and other states think of this measure. A former Democratic United States senator from Colorado has denounced it in vigorous terms. How could he do otherwise when it sacrifices practically every important industry of that state and also of every other Rocky mountain state as well as other states, excepting possibly some in the south?"

"Manufacturing is developing all over the south, crops are more diversified, and there is every reason to believe that if left alone under the protective tariff its prosperity will continue to increase with great strides. But this bill will hurt, instead of helping the south, as its originators seem to think will be the case."

Analyzing the bill from end to end, Senator Root declared that "of the many monstrous provisions of this tariff law, perhaps the worst is the one designed to annihilate the production of sugar in this country."

"It seems almost incredible that any party should make itself responsible for such a great calamity as putting sugar on the free list to benefit a few refiners on the coast." The senator continued:

"The per capita consumption of sugar is over 51 pounds annually now and 1 per cent of that enters into the manufacture of confectionery, etc., making a per capita consumption of the remainder of 49 per cent. No one anticipates the slightest reduction in confectionery and such things as a result of the duty on sugar. On the remaining consumption free sugar apparently would make an annual per capita saving of 65 cents, but when the beet sugar refiners will control the business and the consumer will not benefit as experience has shown."

Democrats Will Not Waste Time.
Senate Democrats declared today that few tariff speeches would come from their side of the chamber.

"We are not going to take up time debating this bill," said Chairman Simmons, of the finance committee.

"If the bill proves to be for the benefit of the country, it will demonstrate that our ideas of the tariff are wrong; if it proves to be well for the country, it will demonstrate that the opposition is wrong. That is all there is to this proposition and we are ready and anxious to pass the bill."

ADRIANOPLE NOT OCCUPIED BY THE TURKS

Sofia, July 22.—The report of the re-occupation of Adrianople by Turkish troops was shown today to be false. It was spread by fugitive Bulgarian officials from that city who heard that a reconnoitering force of Turkish cavalry commanded by the notorious Enver Bey, had been seen in the vicinity. At this news the officials fled, panic stricken, believing that the entire Ottoman army was about to descend on the place.

Communication was restored today between the Bulgarian capital and the citadel at Adrianople. Official reports from the Bulgarian commander there showed that the Turkish troops retired after reconnoitering the position.

The Bulgarian government has ordered the fugitive civil functionaries to return to their posts.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—All Americans in Sofia, Bulgaria, are safe, according to a state department message from the American legation at Bulgaria, Roumania and Servia today.

MRS. MASSIE QUIETLY PASSES AWAY LAST NIGHT.

Mrs. Massie, mother of Dr. J. A. Massie and Misses Jessie and Bettie Massie, passed away very peacefully last night at the Massie home in this city, following a protracted period of ill health. The deceased was 70 years of age last March. Dr. J. A. Massie and Miss Jessie will leave this evening with the remains, which will be taken to the old home of the Massies in Canada for interment.

AN ALLEGED BIGAMIST KILLS WIFE

AFFECTING TO BE RECONCILED, HE PLACES HIS ARM AROUND HIS WIFE AND SHOOTS HER, THEN SHOOTS HIMSELF.—NEITHER WILL LIVE.

Kansas City, July 22.—Following a reconciliation with his wife, and placing his arm around her neck, with a request for a kiss, Albert Schneider, a machinist, today fired a bullet into her brain and then shot himself in the head. Neither is expected to recover.

Mrs. Olive G. Schneider, the wife, recently brought suit for divorce against her husband. She charged that he had two other wives. The shooting was at the entrance of the store where Mrs. Schneider was employed.

The two were married in 1912 and first lived in Omaha, Nebraska, and later in Waterloo, Iowa.

Mrs. Schneider four months ago said she learned of the other wives, one living in Hornell, N. Y., and the other in Salt Lake City. She said she wrote to them and each told her there had been no divorce. She then left her husband.

SPECIAL MEETING OF COUNTY ROAD BOARD.

A special meeting of the county road board is called for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the court house. County road matters and the road tax collection will also be brought before the meeting.

MEETING TONIGHT.

The chamber of commerce will meet tonight in the room of the Palace of the Governors. The call to order will be at 8 o'clock sharp. A full attendance is earnestly requested as matters of importance will come before the chamber. The report of the investigating committee on the street litter will be submitted and other questions of interest to the chamber will be considered. It is especially requested that those desiring to become members of the chamber of commerce attend this meeting and sign their applications. The matters coming up require an expression from as many citizens as possible.

HAYDEN'S RESIGNATION FILED, REPUBLICANS TO ARGUE CASE

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Thos. E. Hayden of San Francisco, associate counsel for the government in the Dicks-Caminetti white slave case, against whom vigorous protests recently were made on the grounds that he was too inexperienced as a criminal lawyer to participate in the case, today tendered his resignation to Attorney General McReynolds.

In an effort to force House Democrats to allow the Republicans opportunity to discuss the Dicks-Caminetti white slave at San Francisco, Republican Leader Mann today began a filibuster against all business in the house and as a first move caused an hour's delay in the approval of the Journal of Friday's meeting.

MEDIATORS MEET WITH EMPLOYEES
COMMITTEE OF 100

New York, July 22.—At their meeting with the employees' committee of 100 yesterday afternoon, the mediators, it was learned today, heard the labor leaders accuse the Erie and the railroad managers of bad faith, and the men expected that the officers of the Erie would be asked to answer these charges at their conference with the board.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, declared that the Erie had withdrawn from the conference of eastern railroads with the consent of the managers' conference for the purpose of testing whether the men really would really strike.

Mr. Lee insisted that further negotiations with the Erie were useless. The road, he said, was controlled by the bankers.

In reply, Judge Chambers, chairman of the board of mediation, so the men declare, told them that public sentiment probably would bring the Erie to terms, if they would withdraw their threat to strike. Judge Chambers said he did not believe the Erie had withdrawn from the conference with the connivance of the board of managers and that he felt sure the managers were anxious to have all the eastern railroads stand together.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

Senate.

Met at noon and resumed debate on the tariff bill. Chairman Simmons of the finance committee, announcing the bill would be taken up paragraph by paragraph for amendment as soon as the Republicans concluded their debate.

Senator Smoot continued his argument against tariff bill, first discussing agriculture.

Martin M. Mulhall continued his testimony before lobby investigating committee.

Senator Lane introduced a bill to remove federal restrictions in manufacture of denatured alcohol.

Senator Fall asked consideration for his resolution for protection of Americans in countries, and precipitated a general discussion of the Mexican situation.

Termination of hour of morning business precluded action on the Fall resolution.

House.

Representative Murray, Oklahoma, introduced resolutions inviting senate to concur, directing intervention in Mexico, if order and peace are not restored within thirty days, after President Wilson issues proclamation to that effect.

Republican Leader Mann began filibustering against any business in effort to force Democrats to allow Republicans to discuss the Dicks-Caminetti white slave case.

Democratic members of banking committee, opposed to various features of the Glass currency bill, have drafted another bill to submit to President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo, informally.

Passed bill for sale of present post office building at Newark, N. J., and construction of new building.

Representative Hardwick introduced two resolutions embracing a budget system designed to overcome objections which caused rejection of budget scheme by Democratic caucus.

TAKING TESTIMONY IN ALLEGED DISCRIMINATION CASES.

Denver, Colo., July 22.—A. G. Gutheim, special examiner for the interstate commerce commission, today began taking testimony in a suit brought before the commission by the Huerfano Coal company and others against the Colorado & Southern and the Denver & Rio Grande railroads, charging discrimination in the distribution of coal cars against operators in the southern Colorado field. It is alleged that the railroads favor the Victor-American, the Colorado Fuel & Iron company and the Rocky Mountain Fuel company as against the smaller concerns.

MEETING TONIGHT.

The chamber of commerce will meet tonight in the room of the Palace of the Governors. The call to order will be at 8 o'clock sharp. A full attendance is earnestly requested as matters of importance will come before the chamber. The report of the investigating committee on the street litter will be submitted and other questions of interest to the chamber will be considered. It is especially requested that those desiring to become members of the chamber of commerce attend this meeting and sign their applications. The matters coming up require an expression from as many citizens as possible.

MULHALL SAYS IT WAS ALL A MISTAKE

ON THE STAND BEFORE THE LOBBY INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE HE RETRACTS YESTERDAY'S MOST SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE ABOUT WATSON.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Martin M. Mulhall, the lobby witness before the senate committee today retracted his charges that former Representative Watson, of Indiana, was employed by private interests while a member of congress, to work for a tariff commission bill. Mulhall said he "was mistaken."

Attorneys for the National Association of Manufacturers may not be permitted to cross-examine Martin M. Mulhall, the confessed lobbyist, before the senate investigating committee. When Attorney Robert McCarter, for the manufacturers, today suggested cross-examination of Mulhall on his story that former Representative James E. Watson, of Indiana, had been paid a retainer of $500 and a weekly salary of $250 to work for the passage of a tariff commission bill with a promise of an additional $10,000 if the bill was successful, Senator Reed, the committee's leading questioner, declared himself against cross-examination but proposed that questions be submitted to the committee. The point was not finally decided.

Mulhall swore that Watson had made the office of James A. Emery here, his headquarters, after he was defeated for governor of Indiana in 1908.

Emery, Mulhall swore, was the chief lobbyist for the manufacturers. The witness declared today that former Senator Hemenway, of Indiana, occupied rooms next to Emery and that Watson was in one of the other much of the time.

On February 4, 1909, in a letter to Schwedman, Mulhall got into Illinois politics and brought in former Senator Hopkins, who was defeated for reelection by William Lorimer.

Mulhall wrote of the senatorial deadlock at Springfield:

"We are spreading the impression that on account of the contemptible stand taken by Hopkins in the convention at Chicago last June, wherein he was extremely unfair to the manufacturing interests in refusing them a hearing before the committee on resolutions and packing that committee in favor of the Gompers crowd, has, in a large measure brought this fight on his shoulders."

February 7, Mulhall wrote Schwedman about the house judiciary committee.

"Mr. Watson stated that he would see that that committee was fixed up as well as it was possible to fix it, or in other words, just the way we wanted it," said the letter.

In a letter of February 17, Mulhall wrote Schwedman about the activities of Cannon, Watson, Sherman, Crane and others to pass the bill to make Senator Knox eligible to the Taft cabinet.

Senator Nelson's name was mentioned again by Mulhall in a letter to Schwedman February 20. He told of an "extended interview" with the senator on labor bills and the decision of the judiciary committee on the proposed Sherman law amendment. Senator Nelson has testified he had no interviews with Mulhall.

Late in February Mulhall seemed to have lost hope of seeing Watson in the cabinet, and wrote Schwedman, who replied:

"Assure our friends that the leaders of our organization are not flake; they will be true to him as long as he is true to them. I am confident it would give our leaders great pleasure to back up Mr. Watson for any position, elective or appointive, for which he may try—judgeship, senatorship or presidency for that matter."

The correspondence developed that Watson declined several federal appointments not to his liking.

"I want to correct a statement I made about Watson," said Mulhall. "He did not get the money before he left congress, but afterwards. I was mistaken about the dates."

The committee did not question him further.

PRESIDENT STUDIES MEXICAN SITUATION BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Washington, D. C., July 22.—President Wilson denied himself to callers today, remaining in his study, where he devoted his time to consideration of treaties and Mexican questions.

Changes in the plans of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, now hurrying north from Mexico City, so that he would continue from Havana to New York by sea, instead of landing at Key West, and proceeding by rail to Washington, are expected to make a day's difference in the time of the ambassador's arrival.

The conference at which Mr. Wilson is to lay before the president and Secretary Bryan as first hand report of the Mexican situation, on which important developments may be placed, may not take place before Saturday. Meanwhile the situation, so far as the United States is concerned, seems to be unchanged.

PORTALES TAKEN UP IN REVIEW BY MR. DINSMORE, WHO WRITES FURTHER OF THE POSSIBILITIES IN EASTERN NEW MEXICO.

Following is the continuation of Charles A. Dinsmore's view of the Roosevelt county possibilities. Speaking of Portales, he says:

And in the town—there are trees everywhere. A beautiful two-story court house stands in the square in the center of the city; and the grounds about the buildings are covered with the handsomest lawn imaginable; with a double row of green trees skirting the outer sides of the square. The business houses are brick or stone, the streets are well laid out, clean, and with trees bordering them for the most part. The homes are first-class, modern, with lawns and shade trees. It looks what it is—prosperous, the center of a staple country. It is, of course, in "the wild and woolly west"—but yet they do not even have a constable, for they find there is no need. There are lodges here, and other forms of bringing people into closer personal touch. There are churches, tending not only to uplift the people, but to enhance the every interest of the place and surroundings. There are several hotels, all good. Of the principal one, The Travelers' Inn, one can say but little—what good could one speak of an hotel that serves chicken twice a day, together with all the other good things that such a country produces? There are two banks—both strong, well conducted—but here, too, is a difference. One of the banks believes in stock farming, and the man of character can always secure funds to increase his holdings. The other bank, while it is a hog, has an abiding faith in pork on the hoof, so the men with alfalfa to feed hogs can always get the money for the hogs to feed.

The stores are just what they should be, well stocked and broad awake. There are some doctors, I believe, though what they hang out their signs for is something to ponder over. Of course there are occasions when a doctor is necessary, and we are always glad to coddle and chatter over those little occasions as they wriggle about in our laps. Well, like the lawyers who live in Portales, they probably came for their health, established homes, bought a farm somewhere and prospered, and don't feel like going away. There is a newspaper, and a job printing office. There are some excellent opportunities in Portales, one of the best being for a creamery, which would pay handsomely and is earnestly being worked for. A cannery would pay also; and a cheese factory. There is at this time a sweet potato house, where this vegetable is kept in perfect condition for months, and while it is a secret method it is a good thing for the place, as they always have fresh potatoes for the market. As the country becomes more productive there will be business opportunities along a great many lines—and every new business man is received with friendship by all the people. Capitalists are looking in this direction, and enterprises are constantly coming in; because, as I have said before, with the great central pumping station, there is no doubt of the business future of this great stretch of country centering at Portales.

The dairy question is one of great importance to all the people, because the dairy business pays. H. J. Farnham farms a lot of land a few miles from Portales, and he has some dairy cows—17 at this time. He receives $20 per week for his cream, shipping to Albuquerque, and his total cost is $12 per week, including help, but this is only a small part of the profit—there are the cows, and out in the "lot" are 17 fine calves, Jerseys, which in a year or two will be adding another $20 per week, and all the time there will be others and more by-product. The milk is fed to the calves and to the pigs.

J. W. Graves is another, having 18 cows; and his profit last year from cream was $1216.20.

These people want a creamery at Portales—they would get better prices for their cream and all the money would be held in the valley.

F. D. Galloway is a dry farmer, making a success because he has hogs and dairy cows and chickens. He has a small well, and is installing a pumping plant.

Many of the farmers have started orchards, and these are coming on well, giving promise of excellent production. At some of the places there were bearing trees, and in these cases the profits are good, the fruit being excellent and the trees are rugged, all proving that when this section shall finally be really developed, fruit will be one of the staple growths. No modern town is alive without a commercial body—and the members of the Portales Commercial club are just the liveliest bunch one can find; and every business man of the city belongs. J. Porter Deen, manager of the Joyce-Fruit company, is president; W. O. Oldham, cashier of the First National bank, is secretary; G. M. Williamson, president of the Portales Bank & Trust company, is treasurer; and these with O. J. Neer and D. M. Ball constitute the board of directors. They are all workers; and each one is glad to answer any inquiries, or to go to any trouble for the benefit of the place and the country. Unlike most business organizations, here every member has a country property, where enterprise has done wonders, so they know the needs of the farmers as well as those of the townspeople, and they do as much for the one as for the other. The Commercial club is such a tremendous factor for the advancement of the place, it should stand as it does at the head of every forward movement. Believing the heads of this institution would know the situation absolutely, interviews were had with them as follows:

J. Porter Deen: "I fully believe that Portales and the country contiguous has the brightest future of any section I have ever seen or heard of. One cannot estimate what the country will do—what it will amount to. With our snows in winter and our rains in summer, if farmers will conserve the moisture they need no irrigation at all for many crops, and very little for the others. It is a matter of early plowing to always have a good season in the ground. We have a very prolific soil, water close to the surface, excellent climate, transportation facilities and good markets. Whenever all farmers follow the lead of the few and go into stock farming, dairying, chickens, hogs, etc., as well as the regular farm products, when they learn that the essence of success lies in selling their alfalfa on the hoof—then the Portales country will be the most wonderful section of the southwest. It is a country of the greatest possibilities."

W. O. Oldham: "A man will succeed here if he is intelligent and has the character to take off his coat and work. Portales has a large territory to draw from, 50 miles east, 100 miles west, and many miles north and south. We have had dry farming failures here, but I now believe most of these were avoidable. The stock farming idea, however, is all right; and I am very glad to state that it has taken a strong hold. If a man will get only 50 head of cattle, raise sufficient feed for them, they will very quickly make him profitable. Raising mules is a fine business, too—it is to figure profit when you know that a year-old mule colt is worth $50. The soil here is 10 to 50 feet deep, rich and strong. We always raise quantities of very fine cantaloupes—400 acres this year—as well as sweet potatoes; and the other crops are excellent. We have passed through the transition stage, the experimental, being now on a firm footing, with the future assured."

G. M. Williamson: "I really did not have any confidence in the agricultural development here; but now that we have pumping and irrigation on a stable basis I do have confidence in agriculture. But I am advocating, as is Mr. Smith our cashier, the big hog business. In fact, we are going so far as to furnish all funds necessary for buying and bringing in hogs for the farmer of character, if he has alfalfa for feed. The other bank here is willing to do the same. The hog business is certain to pay. As the legs are ringed so they cannot rot, their feeding on the alfalfa is really very beneficial. We want and need a creamery here. We want more people to raise chickens. We want a farmer on every 40 acres of land, and we want more people in the hog raising business. These things spell for us advance and prosperity. We see all sorts of beautiful pictures in our irrigation."

C. J. Neer: "The country is prosperous, and it will never be otherwise. We have had our experiences, and we have profited by them. We know what we want and must have; and we have secured what we most needed (a central irrigation pumping plant, with ample capital to back it), and there is no reason but slothfulness why we shall not advance—and certainly our people are anything but slothful."

D. M. Ball: "The greatest country under the sun. When I came here the first time I had determined there was nothing to induce me to invest. But I saw things. And then I went back to Kansas, sold everything I could lay my hands on, and came down here to invest it. The land is fertile, and we raise anything in season; the seasons are admirable, the climate the best I ever saw; the water is here—everywhere—and it brings greater fruit than any place I ever heard of. Our farmers have certainly learned their lesson, so that now they make very few mistakes. Land that 10 years ago wasn't worth more than $2 an acre cannot be bought 10 years from now for less than $100 an acre—and it will be worth more. It is no longer an experiment. I go out every day in my machine, and every day I am more amazed. There is every solid reason for a man to take hold of this proposition—and the business men of this day are recognizing the fact. We shall double in population within two years."

J. H. Shepard: "I find that I can talk about success in this country with as great confidence as I can preach the Gospel. I have seen a great deal of the southwest, but Portales and her surroundings appeal to me most, because every necessity for success is here."

HARD CRUST ON BABY'S HEAD

Little Pimples All Over Body. Fretted All the Time. Itched So Could Not Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment One Month and He Was Entirely Well.

Prineville, Ore.—"My baby had a hard crust on top of his head. It started by little sores and all over his body he had little pimples. His body was one mass of sores and he fretted all the time. It itched so badly that he could not sleep. I tried so many remedies and they all failed; none helped him. The trouble had lasted for five months before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. As soon as I used them it was only an hour when he felt relief; he went to sleep and slept sound. I only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment one month and he was entirely well." (signed) Mrs. Alice Bachor, Sept. 24, 1912.

FOR PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

The following is a most effective and economical treatment: Gently smear the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment, on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue washing for some minutes. This treatment is best on rising and retiring. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores. Sold throughout the world. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

BOY THINKS OF MOTHER FIRST

Washington, Pa., July 22.—His right arm torn off in the explosion of a shotgun, 12-year-old Ross McCarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCarty walked quietly into his home, near here, and called to his sick mother upstairs not to be alarmed, that he had slightly hurt himself.

The youngster then collapsed and his true condition was discovered a few minutes afterward when his father entered the house. The timely arrival of physicians saved the lucky boy from bleeding to death, and it is believed he will recover.

Young McCarty had started out after groundhogs. In climbing a fence the shotgun he carried was discharged the load virtually tearing off his right arm.

Despite his frightful injury, the boy got to his feet, and walked a mile to his home. He then recalled the illness of his mother and feared his appearance would do her harm. Quietly entering the house he called upstairs that he had hurt himself slightly and would not be up for a few minutes. The mother has not yet been informed of the extent of the accident.

Can't Help But Admire Babies

Every Woman Casts Loving Glance at the Nestling Cuddled in its Bonnet.

A woman's heart naturally responds to the charm and sweetness of a pretty child, and more so today than ever before since the advent of Mother's Friend.

This is a most wonderful external help to the muscles and tendons. It penetrates the tissues, makes them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion, so there is no longer a period of pain, discomfort, straining, nausea or other symptoms so often distressing during the anxious weeks of expectancy.

Mother's Friend prepares the system for the coming event, and its use brings comfort, rest and repose during the term. This has a most marked influence upon the baby, since it thus inherits a splendid growing system of nerves and digestive function.

And particularly to young mothers is this famous remedy of inestimable value. It enables her to preserve her health and strength, and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided all the suffering and danger that would otherwise accompany such an occasion. Mother's Friend thoroughly lubricates every nerve, tendon and muscle involved and is a sure preventive for caking of the breasts.

You will find this splendid remedy on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, and is highly recommended for the purpose. Write Bradford Regulator Co., 134 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and they will mail you sealed, a very instructive book for expectant mothers.

LONG SOUGHT, HE LIVED AS HERMIT

Seraton, Pa., July 22.—After twenty-five years' search the children of Allen Johnson, who left England a quarter of a century ago to seek his fortune in America, found him living a hermit's life in a hut at Peckville, near here. He is 72 years old and gave no reason for leaving his home without telling his family of his intention.

Johnson's failure to make his fortune caused him to remain silent as to his whereabouts. In the meantime his wife had died, and his nine children grew and prospered. They settled in Illinois, but when they asked him to leave his hut and make his home with them, he refused.

"I guess I will live my few remaining years here," he said.

When the children promised to take him back and purchase the old homestead for him in England he consented to go. The children will return to England, after they settle their affairs in Illinois.

STORY OF A SKULL, BURIED SIX CENTURIES, TELLS OF THE PERFECT AMERICAN.

DR. FURSTENAN AND SKULL OF ORIGINAL AMERICAN.

By W. H. Alburn.

Staff Correspondence.

Denver, Colo., July 22.—For six centuries an Indian sphinx sat, buried in the sand on the shore of Catalina Island, off the coast of California. He gazed toward the sea and guarded the secret of a vanished race.

This mysterious figure has been brought to the light of day by Dr. A. W. Furstenan, world-wanderer and noted naturalist, and his secret is now revealed.

In Dr. Furstenan's Denver laboratory and museum, filled with strange specimens of animal life and relics of antique man from far lands and distant ages, are the material remains from which the doctor reads the old Indians' history as an open book and tells what manner of life he lived and how puny and decadent we modern Americans are in comparison.

Since leaving Berlin university, Dr. Furstenan has spent most of his time delving with a pick and shovel. During a visit to California an old Mexican Indian told him a tradition of an ancient and noble tribe that dwelt in Catalina Island long before the white men came, a tribe that vanished, leaving no trace.

The scientist decided that some trace of them MUST exist. So he went to the island and started digging along Avalon bay.

Black, hard sand showed signs of burning. Delving into it, he found it was the site of an ancient sacred fire, kept alive day and night, year after year, perhaps, by a race that worshipped there and used it for a pyre to burn its honored dead.

His pick struck a human skull, with a strange conical shell resting on it. He dug around and under and unearthed the skeleton of a giant, crouching, with his treasures in his lap.

BIG INTERESTS AFTER PRESIDENTS

THE LOBBY INQUIRERS SHOW THE LOBBY WAS EVEN AFTER PRESIDENTS—THE N. A. M. STOPPED AT NOTHING TO GET TOOLS IN.

(By Gilson Gardner.)

Washington, D. C., July 22.—The lobby inquiry shows how big business has been working to control even the office of president of the United States. Taft and Vice-President Sherman are seen to have been complacent tools of the system. James S. Sherman, when chairman of the Republican congressional committee, was in confidential relations with Mulhall while the latter was agent and political corruptionist for the National Association of Manufacturers. In a letter from Sherman on the Republican congressional committee stationery he says to Mulhall: "While you are not now employed by the Republican congressional committee, nor were you employed during the last campaign, you did render us very material assistance and I found you at all times reliable, trustworthy and effective."

During the inquiry Senator Reed asked: "Did Mr. Sherman know that you were being paid for your work by the National Association of Manufacturers?" "Oh, yes," said Mulhall. "I took orders from the national committee almost as much as from Mr. Cushing, secretary of the association."

From the sugar letters it appears that Taft was an easy mark for Oxnard, Hamlin and the rest. They did not at first trust him, but later made an agreement on sugar. In Hamlin's letter to Oxnard of June 18, 1907, Hamlin says: "If we should make a compromise with Taft we ought to be able to enlist him on our side in maintaining the full present tariff on all other sugars, thus using the Philippine matter to our advantage, for if he is elected, his ideas on schedules would undoubtedly have weight with both committees."

"I am glad to know that you and Mr. Thomas are inclined to believe that we should stand with Taft. To me there seems to be no other logical course. I heard from Taft in reply to my last letter, also acknowledging congratulations. I enclose copy of letter together with copy of the enclosures which he sent with the letter. I am sorry that he did not see fit to confirm in writing just what he said to me in person, but I think a good point has been made inasmuch as since his nomination he confirms what he put in writing last winter. You know that all of us, including Messrs. Boettcher, Gove and Colcock took the position that a pro-nomination pledge was of no account after the nomination. That pro-nomination pledge has now been confirmed and in all honor, or at least with any honor, will be lived up to after election."

"If the time comes when it is thought wise to arrive at a full understanding with Mr. Taft, I hope I will be called into the conference as I think I have some ideas which may be of value to the industry."

The name of Mr. Boettcher has turned up again in the lobby inquiry. It appears that C. S. Murray is president, and Charles Boettcher vice-president of the Great Western Sugar company, and these two individuals are accused of co-operating with Fred Ponfils and Harry Tamm, owner of the Denver Post, in a plan of the sugar people to hire Father Malone, who has been spending many months in Washington at the Willard hotel, acting, as it is now charged, as lobbyist for the sugar interests. Father Malone disappeared when President Wilson denounced the insidious lobby, but Senator Overman has issued a subpoena for him. The Malone charge comes originally from Father J. P. Carrigan, of Greenwood Springs, Colo., who was told by a man who claimed to have been present at a conference, that Father Malone was hired at the suggestion of Tamm at $10,000 a year. Representative Keating, of Colorado has placed letters before the senate committee which will result in further inquiry into this phase of the matter.

The ambitious character of N. A. M.'s campaign is well shown by a letter written by Fred Schwedman, private secretary to Van Cleave, then president of the N. A. M. He wrote to Mulhall: "You saw of course where Secretary Taft referred to the National Association of Manufacturers at great length in his Columbus address. If we now succeed in getting the council plans thoroughly established (and this we will no doubt do) at the next meeting on September 27, then our power for good will go right along until next year. During the presidential campaign we will be a factor of national importance that cannot be overlooked. This gratifies President Van Cleave more than anything else."

Later Mulhall wrote to the vice-president of the N. A. M. in Cleveland: "I can confidentially tell you that there will be a call issued in the very near future by our organization for the convention of all organizations of capital, and I believe in a short time all those organizations will be combined for self-protection."

A letter written by Mulhall to Representative Bartholdt says: "Some time soon, I am going to tell you how deep we are in politics. It is both gratifying and exciting."

WILL FIGHT TO PREVENT SPREAD OF PARCELS POST.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Postmaster General Burleson was summoned today to appear before the senate postoffice committee board to explain by what authority he proposes to reduce parcels post rates. The summons is believed to be the start of a fight to prevent the extension of the parcel post system as proposed in plans recently announced.

WHAT'S THE REASON? - - - BY MACDONALD

TAOS COUNTY TIE INDUSTRY IS FLOURISHING

Albuquerque, July 22.—That Albuquerque is the center of the tie industry in this section of the country is indicated by the fact that there are at present 800,000 ties in the Santa Fe tie pickling plant, south of the city, and that 100,000 ties are now in the yards about the plant, shipped by the Santa Barbara Tie and Pole company from the Domingo boom in the Rio Grande, where there are at present 250,000 additional ties awaiting shipment to Albuquerque. Ties from the Domingo boom to the pickling plant in Albuquerque are being shipped daily in fifty car train loads.

The 350,000 ties driven down the streams from the Santa Barbara company's forests in Taos county furnish employment and activity again this year for many experienced river men and lumber jacks. The ties were jammed in the rapids on a number of occasions and frequently dynamite was used to break the jams. It is said that almost a car of dynamite was used in getting the ties through the streams. That the drive was highly successful, however, is shown by the arrival of 250,000 ties at the Domingo boom, at which point they were taken from the water and loaded on cars and sent over the Santa Barbara short line to the Santa Fe main line at Domingo, and thence shipped to Albuquerque.

A hundred men are constantly employed at the Santa Fe tie pickling plant here, pickling ties and shipping them to all parts of the Santa Fe system. The ties cut this season by the Santa Barbara people will be seasoned for eight months before being pickled.

DOG'S BARKS SAVE BIG FIRE LOSS

Detroit, July 22.—Furious barking and yelps of distress of a fosterer, caused passersby to notify the police that something must be amiss at the Michigan Waste Paper Company's plant, 131-133 Brush street.

Motorcycle Patrolman Arthur Richards hurried to the building, and forcing an entrance, found the place filled with smoke from the rags bales of waste paper which had caught fire from an undetermined cause.

Richards summoned the department firemen had great difficulty in forcing an entrance. Every door was barricaded on the inside to prevent tramps from entering.

A horse was in a barn in the same corner of the building where the dog, whose alarm probably saved his master's place from destruction was stationed. The fire damage will approximate $500. The place is managed by Sam Bean and Joseph Sherman.

SACRED TO THE MEMORY OF SOUR DOUGH PETE

Special Correspondence.

Clarke, Wyo., July 22.—On the rugged side of Bald Ridge far above the snake line, often far above the cloud line, on a giant boulder, in rough letters, is this inscription:

"SOUR DOUGH DOES NOT SOUND GOOD, BUT IT IS MORE THAN GOODS IN THE HANDS OF AN ARTIST."

"Sacred to the memory of Sour Dough Pete. He was lost and froze on this mountain somewhere."

This is a staple commodity in the far west that few people east of mountain time ever have heard of. Out here in the heart of the sage brush a hunger seeps into the soul that only Sour Dough can satisfy.

It does not sound good, but it is more than good—in the hands of an artist—and an absolute necessity to the sheep herder, the cowboy and the lone settler.

Sour Dough begins with a "starter," but that "starter" is not anything one can make or buy. It comes in gift form only.

Legend traces the first drop of it to a lonely sheep herder who worked for the TA outfit in the early days of the west.

Time was when the sheep herder's life was a hard one. Sometimes he had a tent for shelter, but more often he slept under the stars with only his dog and his memories for company.

INTERESTING PERSONALITIES

Alaska Route Blazer.

San Francisco, Calif., July 22.—Edward McGrath, who pioneered the frozen Alaskan trails in 1899, the pathfinder for Uncle Sam's mail service in the black north, has just been appointed superintendent of the 8th division of the United States railway mail service, succeeding A. H. Stephens, who is now general superintendent of the railway mail service, with offices at Washington, D. C. McGrath has been promoted from the post of assistant division superintendent, which he has held since 1905.

McGrath's connection with the post office department dates from 1889, when he was made the first civil service appointee from Nevada, being sent from Virginia City to the Overland Run between Ogden, Utah, and San Francisco.

During the great gold rush to the Klondike, in response to the complaints of American citizens over the wretched mail service in that region, the department selected McGrath to make personal delivery in the Yukon territory of 13 tons of mail matter, which had accumulated at San Francisco. For his services he was promoted to chief clerk.

In 1906 he returned to Alaska to lay out an all-American route to the interior of Alaska. He crossed the territory from the head of Prince William Sound to the Yukon river, taking 30 days. For four years he stayed in Alaska, supervising the service over the longest star routes in the world—routes handled by private contract. During this period McGrath laid out and started the operation of the first star route within the Arctic Circle, from Fort Yukon to the headwaters of the Yoyukuk river.

The agonizing discomfort and sense of suffocation that accompany hay fever and asthma may be greatly alleviated by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It has a soothing effect on the mucous linings, and relieves the gasping and tickling sensation in the throat and bronchial tubes. The Capital Pharmacy.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

July 7, 1913.

Regular Session.

The Board met in regular session with all members present: Jose Ortiz y Pino, chairman; and Commissioners George M. Kinsell and Esquipula Jiron, M. A. Ortiz and Charles C. Closson were also in attendance as Clerk and Sheriff respectively.

Alex Shoemaker was appointed night watchman for the quarter ending September 30, 1913. It is ordered by the Board that the day and night janitors of the Court House be and they are hereby placed under the supervision of the County Clerk.

In the matter of the taxes of Teodoro Villanueva for the years 1908, 1909, 1910, and 1911, the said Teodoro Villanueva has in due time claimed the exemption of $200 for each year as required by law, he said Teodoro Villanueva being and having for said years been the head of a family and the Board of County Commissioners having refused to allow the said exemption for said years and the Board being of the opinion that said exemption should be allowed, hereby recommend to the District Attorney to bring the proper proceedings to have the District Clerk make the proper order to allow the said exemption to the said Teodoro Villanueva.

The District Attorney was instructed to appear before the State Board of Equalization and represent the county in the matter of appeals from the action of this Board in the matter of assessments.

The Board allowed the County Assessor, Telesforo Rivera, the sum of Two Thousand Five Hundred ($2,500) Dollars as advance payment on salary for the year 1912 and ordered Warrant issued for said amount.

Mr. J. W. Akers appeared before the Board and asked that the taxes for the years 1899, 1900, and 1901 on property in Precinct No. 2, assessed to J. P. Jaramillo, and in Precinct No. 17, on house and lot, assessed to Gregoria Collins, for the years 1898 and prior, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903 inclusive, to be reduced to one half (1/2). The Board after considering the fact that the properties are of little value and owing to the fact that the assessment on same having been made by the assessor for all three years and the penalty of 25 percent added every year.

Therefore, the District Attorney is hereby instructed to enter into an agreement with Mr. J. W. Akers, and to ask the Court to reduce the taxes on the said properties to one half upon payment by Mr. J. W. Akers of the other half.

U. S. Bank & Trust Co. was paid $183.60 balance due on certificate of indebtedness issued by County Commissioners in 1910.

Warrant was ordered drawn for $119.41 in favor of Wood-Davis Co. "n full payment of certificate of indebtedness issued in 1910."

First National Bank was paid $863.77 in full for certificate No. 7.

The Midland Bridge company was paid $1031.75 for balance and interest due on construction of Agua Fria street bridge.

Certificates numbers three and four due the Midland Bridge Co. were paid and taken up, amount $542.19 and respectively. It was also allowed the sum of $308.30 as part payment on certificate No. 5.

CAN OIL BARONS MAKE WILSON YIELD

SHEPHERD CABLES FROM LONDON DETAILS OF GREAT CONSPIRACY OF LIBERAL PARTY LEADERS IN ENGLAND TO FORCE OUR PRESIDENT'S HAND.

(By William Shepherd.)
London, July 22.—It's coal oil again! The attempt of England to make President Wilson recognize the scandalous Huerta government in Mexico means that coal oil has a grip on the Asquith-Lloyd George government.

You don't see it put that way in the Washington dispatches, but here in London I find Mexican petroleum oozing out of every pore of parliament and seeping out of the veins of the liberal party in control.

Size this up, you people in America! The Asquith-Lloyd George rulers, who are seeking to better the lot of the common man in England, are at this moment trying to make President Wilson recognize the Huerta government and thereby damp down for a few more years the penance and serfdom of the common man in Mexico.

Lord Cowdray, of England, is one of the chief exploiters of petroleum in Mexico. He is a liberal, a chief in Asquith and George's party. Before Asquith made him a lord he was Sir Westman Pearson, head of the great Pearson Oil company, limited, of Mexico. Cowdray's right hand man is Lord Murray, until six months ago liberal "whip" in parliament. Cowdray took him into the oil company at that time and now the two, by their great influence in the liberal party, have compelled Asquith's foreign minister to try to force President Wilson's hand in Mexico.

Have Cowdray and Murray secured a Wall Street kind of control over both the liberal party and the English government? Exactly that. The government has just announced that it will award a gigantic contract to Cowdray-Pearson company for Mexican coal oil.

And how is Cowdray to make good on delivery of shipments of petroleum from Mexico to England?

By putting the screws to President Wilson, of course!

As long as the United States refuses recognition of Huerta, the traitor, the rebels will have a pretty free hand in Mexico and there won't be much doing around oil wells and mines and on European owned railroads.

But if President Wilson recognizes Huerta, the latter can borrow $100,000,000 or so here in Europe, equip an army, chase the rebels into the brush and make it possible for Lord

Cowdray's peons to pump oil and ship it to England.
Cowdray, Murray and Asquith easily secured the co-operation of the French and German capitalists who bought the natural resources of Mexico from Diaz. There aren't many dividends coming out of Mexico these days.

I cannot discover, here in London, just where Standard Oil stands at the moment. Standard has big interests in Mexico, also. A tranquil peasantry never annoys Standard Oil. Although it has bitterly fought the Pearson company, Standard is probably in favor of chasing the rebels into kingdom come.

men, said to have been marked for defeat by former Speaker Cannon and former Representative James E. Watson, was offered in evidence before the Senate lobby committee today by Martin M. Mulhall, confessed lobbyist of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Augustus P. Gardner of Massachusetts, Gilbert N. Haugen of Iowa, Victor Murdock of Kansas, E. A. Morse, J. M. Nelson, and Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin, were the marked six. Mulhall on March 17, 1909, wrote Secretary Schwedman, of the manufacturers to that effect.

"Watson says these people always have been against anything we ever wanted since he has been a member of the House," Mulhall added. A dozen names of other congressmen marked for "war" and which have been included in other lists Mulhall has given the committee, were included.

FORTY GIRLS LOSE LIVES IN FACTORY FIRE.

Second and third alarms were turned in and every available piece of apparatus in the city set at work. Meanwhile ambulance calls had been sent out and a squad of automobiles had been pressed in for hospital service. Most of the injured, including those who had been overcome with smoke or fright were carried into the Knickerbocker garage a few hundred feet away. Here all the available physicians in the city were gathered.

The injured girls were wrapped in blankets, given first aid and then rushed to the city hospital as rapidly as possible.

Meanwhile the firemen had been striving to stop the advance of the flames. Their efforts were gradually successful but every building on the west side of Water street between Spice alley and Henry street, was more or less damaged.

The building was equipped with fire escapes and automatic fire alarms.

The fire alarm began ringing at exactly 2:30 o'clock and Mrs. Reed B. Freeman, wife of the president of the company, who was in the office, remarked casually, "Pretty hot day for a false alarm," referring to a number of fire drills that had been held in the factory recently.

BILL TO INCREASE JUSTICES OF SUPREME COURT

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of his place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.
Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.
I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.
We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."
Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.
It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

PINCHOT AND WELLMAN.

The Pinchot interview appearing in yesterday's New Mexican, effectually disposes of the Walter Wellman dream of prospective disintegration of the Progressive party.

Perhaps Mr. Wellman's anxiety to pose again in the national political limelight, from which he has been absent for some time, indeed, since his balloon fiasco in the Atlantic ocean, led him to wander out into dreamland where he saw things that were not so, and imagined the Pinchots were going to do things which they have no intention of doing.

Gifford Pinchot's denial of the Wellman statements gives Walter as decisive a fall as that which he succeeded in giving himself when he came down from that aerial attempt to cross the ocean by the air route. What this effusive writer hands out hereafter, on the political situation will be taken with a grain of salt.

Other statements given in the Pinchot interview, given directly to a New Mexican representative are equally interesting and bear with force and directness on the political situation.

Naturally, the burning desire of the old line Republicans is to set forth the weak condition of the Progressives, and to prove that the members are "drifting back" to the old party organization.

The movement originated and bravely carried out by the Progressives, was not spasmodic. It was based on principle, and the support that has come to it showed conclusively that the people of this nation were ready for the change.

There will be no amalgamation with the Republican party. There can be none. The very basis of the two parties are absolutely contradictory. Their beliefs are irreconcilable. The battle must be fought out on the lines already drawn. It is a finish fight.

Seldom has a statement been so quickly and so completely demolished as has that of Walter Wellman touching the present and the future of the Progressive party.

THE EFFORTS OF SAN JUAN.

The endeavor on the part of San Juan county to bring that most fruitful and promising section of our state into closer touch with the central and southern portion is worthy of the most earnest support and active co-operation.

Situated as San Juan is at present, it is in closer touch with Denver than with Santa Fe or Albuquerque, and still further removed from an association with the southern part of the state. The effort to establish a highway over which travel could be easy from Farmington to Gallup is a start in the direction of a closer communication and would bring this part of the state in more immediate touch than can be gained under present conditions.

It is an unfortunate fact that under the present railroad connections and mail facilities, the Denver papers reach the San Juan towns before those of our own state and the good citizens of this great county are growing more and more dissatisfied with the situation and the practical isolation from a portion of the people of their own commonwealth. This present road proposition has been taken up with hope of securing what, at the present time, seems to be the best avenue toward a more direct association.

This is really a state matter and not local to San Juan or Rio Arriba counties. We are in sight of closer communication with Taos from which we have long been cut off, and it is to be sincerely hoped that Farmington, Aztec and other lively and ambitious towns to the north of us, before whom a brighter future seems opened, may be brought within the circle of other New Mexican towns with which they would most naturally associate.

The development of San Juan is beneficial to the whole state, but to get the real value there must be a better avenue of communication. It has been a misfortune that the situation has been such that Colorado has so far benefited more than New Mexico by an association with San Juan county, and our people would welcome any proposition that will bring the sections closer together.

We hope the new highway will receive such support as will make its building assured.

NO TRAIN-SHED GOOD-BYES.

Great as are modern accomplishments, the ancients still had some points of advantage on us.

Love-lorn Romeo, in the moon-lit balcony scene, could sigh and linger and linger and sigh:

"Parting is such sweet sorrow
That I shall say good night till it be tomorrow."

But if the heir to the Montague's should wish to try that stunt at the observation end of a vestibuled train in one of the great railway terminals in an American city, he would discover that the hard-hearted gentlemen who conduct our transportation systems have conspired to put a time and limit on the farewells of travelers.

The edict has gone forth in Chicago, and presumably in other big cities, that friends seeing a traveler off must be kept out of the train shed. To be sure, that had long been the rule. But it was a rule in some cities more frequently broken than observed. And the result of its breach was that because of the clinging good-byes at the car steps or in the coach aisles, trains were delayed; the entrance of unattended passengers was impeded; and accidents happened which added to the railway's burden of damages.

Here, then, as in many relations of life, private griefs must give way to public necessities. So next time you speed a parting guest, prepare to do the hugging, kissing and tearful swapping of farewells on private or neutral ground.

A NEW COMPLICATION.

It looks as if President Wilson were not quite through, even yet, with the McNab-McKeynolds affair. The protest filed by Senator Ashurst with the attorney general against the employment of Thomas E. Hayden as successor to McNab, to conduct the cases against Diggs and Caminetti opens up a new complication.

The president will do well to heed this protest.

Already there has been too great a suspicion aroused regarding these conspicuous cases, and President Wilson can ill afford to have a shadow of doubt cast upon his intentions as to an honest and forceful prosecution.

A failure to secure the best possible legal talent possessed by attorneys of experience in criminal practice, will be a decided reflection upon the administration, and it would be difficult to convince the people that there was not a hidden intent back of the action. Since the peculiar action of McNab and the inconsistent attitude of Wilson, sincerity must be manifest if the president would clear himself entirely of suspicion in this matter.

The Pennsylvania legislature has made the daisy the official flower of the state. That is probably because some of the members of the legislature are familiar with it, being daisies themselves.

Senator Borah says he doesn't want the Republican nomination in 1916. Senator Borah has the reputation of being a man of keen perception and good judgment.

It looks as if, from the Washington investigation, a large addition will be made to the Ananias club, from those both in and out of congress.

When Senator La Follette starts that tariff speech there will be a practical adjournment of congress during the progress of its delivery.

AS THE BYSTANDER SEES IT

It's the Goat Now.

Dr. W. S. Bull, of Buffalo, advises us to discard the use of cow's milk and to substitute the milk of goats. The goat, he says, is healthier than the cow, gives richer milk, is cheaper to keep and has other points of excellence.

It certainly is hard to tell where "we are at." Here we have been going on all these years thinking that the reliable old cow was the real thing and was giving us the sustenance of life, and we find all the teachings of all the years smashed to smithereens, and that she is only a second rate to the goat.

This sounds a little peculiar when we hear that the goat is cleaner than the cow. And lately they have been telling us that one of the dangers of flies is that the dirty things flock about the garbage can. Then the doctor comes along and tells us that the goat's the thing, even though he makes a habit of eating the very can that the fly only eats from. I can't know where we are going to bring up if the doctors do not let us on us pretty soon. The result is going to be that they are going to get our goat.

If what they say about what the goat eats is really true and that he really does eat tin cans, then I do not see but the ultimate result is going to be that, if we take Dr. Bull's advice, we will be eating canned milk before we know it and that is a thing we have been warned against ever since I can remember.

For so long the goat has been the butt of all jokes from the jokers that there is going to be a prejudice against the milk which the brute gives for a long time to come. It don't sound good to me. I'll take the good old cow for mine, doctor or no doctor, whether it be the milk or the meat I am going after. If we really followed all the gratuitous advice that is handed out to us these days, the dippy asinine would be overflowing with poor fools who did not try to do any of their own thinking, but let others, who were trying to say something new, tell them what is what.

This goat milk creed may be all right, I do not know, but in the meantime, it's the old cow for me.

The Best Way.

I saw an account the other day where a little boy was taken into court in Chicago charged with breaking a window. Fortunately, the judge before whom he was brought had been a boy himself. There are men—lots of them—who have never been boys. This judge said to the little chap: "I've been a boy myself and I broke a window once in a while, too." Then he talked to the juvenile window breaker and gave him some good advice and got the kid's promise to be a little more careful in the future and sent him home. Just supposing that judge had never been a boy. The result would have been that the kid probably would have been sent to jail for a short term, and then what? He simply would have come out feeling the disgrace of it and hating the judge with all his might, and a feeling of bitterness toward the whole world. That would have been but human nature and no one could have blamed the boy.

I have never felt that the jail was a place for youngsters, anyway, and do not think that as a rule an incarceration in one did a boy one particle of good. These institutions do not reform. They only punish, and that is not what we want to do with our youngsters. That can be done at home and in the schools. What we want is to give the children a boost along the road which is hard enough at best.

One cannot feel the same sympathy for a big hulk of a man who goes wrong for he has had experience and knows the game and the consequences of wrong doing, but it is different with a boy. Judge Lindsay pretty thoroughly established this theory of helping a boy rather than punishing him, and showing a little confidence in him rather than giving him a blowing up and taking all the nerve and hope out of his little system. There is no time of life when a little encouragement does not do a fellow some good. We are all helped by it no matter how old we are or how much experience we have in life. It is a big thing to help a boy or a girl to get started right. Habit is a strong factor in this existence of ours, not only in our early journey, but all through the way. The judges of our courts have a big responsibility in the help or harm they can do and this is particularly true with our juvenile court judges. But when you come to that we all of us have about all we can handle in that line.

Never Realized.

I saw a new specimen of one of those things that we have all about us here in this southwest land, and which we know about in a general way and pass by with a little interest and then forget about. It was a specimen dug up by Mr. Craycraft out here only a few miles from Santa Fe, and is a "what is it." It has been shown to our students of archaeology and they have passed it up. Of course some chap will look at it one of these days and tell all about it. It is a new material, or rather constructed not of stone or clay, but of a sort of cement, apparently. But the puzzle is, what was it used for? The more we see of these relics of a past age the more complete the puzzle becomes. Who were these ancient people anyway? The Indians of the present generation are able to tell us nothing of them, the student stands silent in their presence.

It does seem a little strange that we have all these things about us and pass them by without a thought of their value as a thing of interest or as an asset. We could use them as a magnet to draw outsiders here if we would but make the most of them. But one of the strange and unaccountable things is that we actually have people in Santa Fe who throw cold water on anything that looks like progress or advancement or that would help to bring people here. I cannot understand it at all.

Here within a radius of a few miles of our beautiful old city are attractions that are offered nowhere else outside of certain localities in Colorado and Utah, but we have not made the most of them in any way. I confess I was surprised when I learned of the old ruins as near to Santa Fe as some of these are about which I was told. They have never been excavated and yet they are evidently full of rare relics of that ancient day. We ought to make these things a feature of our advertising matter and tell prospective tourists about all this. What treasures we have! Let us make more of them by giving them publicity.

The Oklahoma bankers are telling the farmers that if they want loan accommodations they must have silos. They began three or four years ago telling the same farmers in that state, if they wanted such accommodations they must cut out fooling with Indian corn and small grains and go to raising that from which there is to be realized more profit, viz., kafir, maize, millet and cows. The railroad and the bankers are not in business for their health. It is a business proposition for them to see that the farmers of the country where they operate undertake the methods that will insure the most prosperity to such farmers, which, of course, means the most prosperity to the paid railroads and bankers. Let us do it the silo way. It costs so little to begin. Put your silo in the ground, fill with this year's big crop and feed cows!—Clovis Journal.

Cannot Approve.

We cannot approve of the action of the state board in investing the permanent school fund in the state road bonds which draw only four percent interest. There were offers before the board that were perfectly safe at six percent. Good roads are a valuable thing for any community, but good schools are more valuable and we must earnestly protest against our school funds being crippled in order to strengthen the road fund. The one thing above all others that this state needs is better schools. The investment of even $120,000 of our school funds at two percent less than it could bring if invested elsewhere is a wrong step in our opinion.—Farmington Times-Hustler.

NEW DEPARTMENT IS ESTABLISHED

Montville Flowers, for two years president of the International Lyceum Association of America, and well known to the Chautauqua world, is the head of the new department of the Progressive National Lyceum service.

The Lyceum and Chautauqua movement, sometimes called the "University of the People," is recognized as a powerful and growing agency in forming and directing public opinion, and it is the purpose of this service to use this agency to promote the cause of good government.

The final however is wider than this and will include University Extension, Civil Clubs, Social Centers and Progressive Clubs. It offers scientific discussion by leaders of thought on the social, economic and governmental problems of the day.

Mr. Flowers' name as chief of this service will command the attention of the Lyceum and Chautauqua world and is a guarantee that this department of the bureau of education of the Progressive service will be conducted upon lines of integrity and efficiency.

ROBBER'S THREAT SCARES TO DEATH

Philadelphia, July 22.—Threats of a highwayman who held her up in Collingswood, N. J., June 11, has caused the death of Mrs. Ella Norbom, 237 East Johnson street, Germantown. Paralyzed with terror when the man leaped from behind a tree and ordered her and her husband to throw up their hands, Mrs. Norbom fainted and crashed to the ground, breaking her leg.

The shock to her nervous system was so great that when she was taken home acute indigestion set in, which baffled the expert physicians summoned by her husband, Haaken E. Norbom, president of the Norbom Engineering Company.

A man belived by the police to be the highwayman who was responsible in such unusual manner for Mrs. Norbom's death was arrested last week in Camden and released in $500 bail. He said he was John Shaw.

Learning that the hold-up is believed to be the fundamental cause of the woman's death, the authorities yesterday were debating as to what he is making for all the board and lodging and for all else that has been done for him during his occupancy.—Gallup Republican.

Heat a Menace to Lives of Old Folks

Sickness and Misery Result From Clogged Bowels in Hot Weather

People advancing in years should be very careful of their health during the hot months, as heat has a very enervating and weakening effect on them. One has only to look at the daily list of fatalities to elderly people reported by the papers to realize that these are the hardest months for them to overcome.

The easily digested foods should be eaten, and then only sparingly, and alcoholic beverages and food things should be avoided as much as possible. Exercise should be taken daily in the shade. Most important of all in the maintenance of health and vigor at this time is to avoid constipation, with its accompanying headaches and muscular and blood congestion. This is accomplished by the timely use of a gentle laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is the ideal laxative for elderly people, as it is mild, tastes pleasant and does not grip. Best of all, it contains valuable tonic properties that build up and strengthen the system.

Elderly people should avoid strong physical, cathartics, purgatives, salts and pills, as they are a shock to the system. In the opinion of reliable people like Mrs. C. J. Nicholas, 2010 Emerson St., Berkeley, Cal., who esteems it a benefit to mankind, and Ida C. Milsack, 210 N. Law St., Allentown, Pa., who declares that her stomach and bowels are now in perfect working order. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the right remedy to use. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. The latter size is bought steadily by those who already know its value.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 418 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

NEWS OF THE STATE

Auto Turned Turtle.

Ed Head, while enroute to Silver City from his ranch at Burro Springs, met with an accident on the Oak Grove Hill which might easily have been much more serious than it fortunately turned out. Coming up the hill in his Overland car in which his family were, they met a team, and as there was no room to pass the chuffer started to back down to a wider place. In doing this and trying to keep clear of the steep bank he ran too close to the high side and one hind wheel went high enough to turn the machine completely over in the road. The top, which was up, offered some protection, and though it was demolished it saved the party from injury. The driver was pinned underneath, and it was an hour and a half before he could be gotten out. No one of the party had a scratch to show for their misadventure.—Silver City Independent.

Good Gold Clean-Up.

The word comes from the Cora Bell mine at the Red River mining camp that the Pratt mill in an eleven-hour run took eighteen ounces of gold off of the plates. Understand this is not a clean-up. This amount of gold was taken from only the plates. Were this showing made in California or Colorado the fact would be heralded around the world. A gold discovery of the nature of the Red River camp, under like circumstances, were it made in the state on our north would cause a veritable stampede. The conservative manner of introducing to the public a really meritorious discovery may prove just as effective in the end, but realization is not as quick were it made in flaming colors. It brings a country to the front with a rush instead of long drawn out and of slow growth.

Pulver and Cushman are preparing to ship five cars of ore via Jarosa and are making arrangements with teams to haul the ore. The ore will pass through Questa. Developments of a large mining area will not be long in making itself known to the world in general.—Questa Gazette.

MRS. MANGES ESCAPES OPERATION

How She Was Saved From Surgeon's Knife by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mogadore, Ohio.—"The first two years I was married I suffered so much from female troubles and bearing down pains that I could not stand on my feet long enough to do my work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation, but my husband wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound first. I took three bottles and it made me well and strong and I avoided a dreadful operation. I now have two fine healthy children, and I cannot say too much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. LEE MANGES, R. F. D. 10, Mogadore, Ohio.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A RIVER OF WATER FLOWS FROM WELL

By CHAS. A. DINSMORE.

Artesia, New Mexico, July 22.—The largest well in the whole country was "brought in" near here just a few days ago—a well producing 4,000 gallons of water per minute, under 60 pound pressure—a well making a veritable river as the water flows down into a ground tank and thence through the ditches to irrigate the farm of H. J. Mays, living on the Cottonwood, about eight miles from Artesia. When the water is turned on full force it spouts ten feet higher than the top of the 8-inch casing and gives the man starting it a tremendous shower bath. Even the people of this section, where there is an artesian well on nearly every quarter section, are wonder-struck at this production and there are visitors every day. Mr. Mays owns 320 acres of land and he could sell half the product of the well and still have sufficient water to irrigate every foot of his place.

The Mays place is "way out." Many doubted that he would get artesian water there at all; and he himself was afraid. There were two shallow wells on the place, but they were pumping propositions, and they did not furnish sufficient water for all irrigation needed for intensive farming, such as he is doing. So he finally decided to try for artesian water. In this section artesian wells are brought in at about 700 feet. The Mays well went down to 700 feet, and while it passed through two strata of water, it was not artesian, nor was it sufficient for his purpose. So the drill was sent on down and down, with his heart coming further up every day, because there was no water. They went to 818 feet, when all at once there was a roar and everybody about the rig was drenched with water. The yard was flooded, about the house it was flooded, through the nearby fields everything was flooded before they could stop the flow. It was such a big well that even the drillers were wonder-struck. They estimated it at 3500 barrels—but when the water commissioner went out in a couple of days to test it in accord with the law, it was found to flow a bit over 4000 gallons per minute. The water is as fine as any brought in in the entire valley, with just a tinge of sulphur, but not enough to make it detrimental in any way. Sulphur water is as good as any for irrigation purposes—some say it is better than other water—but, like olives, one must learn to like to drink sulphur water if it is very strong, and in the learning some of us are willing to forswear water entirely except for irrigation purposes. But this new well, this great wonder, is practically pure water, fine drinking water, and it certainly is making the crops jump on the Mays place. Such wells as these, especially so far out, give everyone greater and greater confidence in the country and its possibilities.

PAIR OF CORSETS AS COLLATERAL

Burlington, N. J., July 22.—In the steel vault of the Mechanics' National Bank reposes an oblong package tied with pink bay ribbons.

The parcel, the center of much glistening interest among the bank clerks, contains the oldest collateral ever deposited with a New Jersey banking institution as security on a loan. Within the folds of paper and ribbons in a pair of corsets, avowed value $625, on which a young woman, lacking railroad fare to Philadelphia, in her extremity yesterday borrowed $2 from the bank.

The young woman slightly known at the bank, is said to have found herself stranded here without funds to return to her home as the result of extra purchases of lingerie in New York, and the obliging teller accepted the collateral.

CLOUDED BRAIN

Clears Up On Change to Proper Food.

The brain cannot work with clearness and accuracy, if the food taken is not fully digested, but is restrained in the stomach to ferment and form poisonous gases, etc. A dull, clouded brain is likely to be the result.

A. Mich. lady relates her experience in changing her food habits, and results are very interesting:

"A steady diet of rich, greasy foods such as sausage, buckwheat cakes and so on, finally broke down a stomach and nerves that, by inheritance, were sound and strong, and medicine did me apparent good in the way of relief."

"My brain was clouded and dull and I was suffering from a case of constipation that defied all remedies used."

"The 'Road to Wellville,' in some providential way, fell into my hands, and may Heaven's richest blessings fall on the man who was inspired to write it."

"I followed directions carefully, the physical culture and all, using Grape-Nuts with sugar and cream, leaving neat, pastry and hot biscuit entirely out of my bill of fare. The result—I am in perfect health once more."

"I never realize I have nerves, and my stomach and bowels are in fine condition. My brain is perfectly clear and I am enjoying that state of health which God intended his creatures should enjoy and which all might have, by giving proper attention to their food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

ADDRESSED TO WOMEN

MILITIAMEN WILL HIKE TO HOT SPRINGS

Las Vegas, N. M., July 22.—The First regiment of the New Mexico national guard has planned a practice hike for this afternoon. The entire regiment, except such as will be needed to police the camp and stand guard will march out to the Hot Springs starting shortly after noon, returning after supper. It was originally planned to camp out at the Hot Springs over night, but Colonel Abbott yesterday decided to make the trip in one day.

Battalion maneuvers were the program yesterday. At 9:15 o'clock the First battalion, in command of Major L. P. Budge, and the Second battalion, in command of Major Ludwig Hildebrand, left the camp to work out a number of maneuver problems.

The first battalion advanced to the Gallinas river and from there began the task of routing an imaginary enemy located at the Agua Fura reservoir, near the asylum. By working out a plan to get to the dam by a rush march the soldiers finally captured the hill.

The Second battalion started from the river and worked past the Santa Fe hospital to a hill north of the camp. This battalion also was successful in getting the advantage of the enemy.

The men take an interest in this work, and each day problems of this kind will be given the officers to be worked out as in real warfare.

Those who are trying out for the rifle team started practice on the range under the instruction of Lieutenant Bump, of the United States army Monday. The work accomplished showed that the New Mexico riflemen will be in good condition when they take the trip to Camp Perry this year. Lieutenant Bump is certain that the team will do credit to the New Mexico national guard.

All of the men did not turn out this morning for practice for various reasons, but the entire squad will practice each day until Wednesday when the first grading exercises will start. The men will shoot on the 600 yard range on Wednesday.

A. A. JONES MEETS THE 5000 EMPLOYEES OF HIS DEPARTMENT
Washington, D. C., July 22.—The employees of the Interior Department, numbering approximately 5,000, were tendered a reception by Secretary Lane in the courtyard of the patent office building just before he left for the west. The reception was given to have the employees meet the heads of the several bureaus who have been appointed since the beginning of the new administration.

Besides the secretary, those in the receiving line were A. A. Jones, first assistant secretary; A. C. Miller, assistant secretary; Clay Tallman, commissioner of the general land office; A. N. Salsgaber, commissioner of pensions; Thomas Ewing, Jr., who is to be commissioner of patents; Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs; and Will R. King, general counsel for the reclamation service.

Rid Yourself of Unnecessary Burdens. A Santa Fe Citizen Shows You How.

Don't bear unnecessary burdens. Burdens of a bad back are heavy. Get rid of them. Doan's Kidney Pills are for bad kidneys.

For lame, weak and aching backs. Local endorsement proves their worth.

Hilario Baca, Delgado St., Santa Fe, N. M., says: "Off and on for three or four months, I had pains in my back. They were severe at times, especially if I lifted or brought any strain on the muscles of my back. The trouble was so persistent that I thought it was caused by weak kidneys. After I had used Doan's Kidney Pills a short time, I improved and by the time I had finished one box, I was cured. The cure has been permanent and I haven't needed Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time. I have told about my experiences before in a public statement and I am pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills again."

MOVIES GIVE OLD LADY NIGHTMARE

Latrobe, Pa., July 22.—Believing that the "moving picture" cowboys were going to shoot her, Mrs. Mary Taylor, aged 93 years, of this place, in a nightmare jumped from her bedroom window and was injured after she viewed a moving picture show for the first time.

The last row showed a frontier gambling house scene, during which cowboys engaged in a shooting fray, and when the smoke cleared away all but the hero of the plot was dead. The old woman talked of the scene before she retired. During the night her sons and daughters heard her scream: "They are going to shoot me."

They rushed to the room of the aged woman and not finding her, were mystified. Hearing moans just under the bedroom window they investigated and found the white-robed woman lying on the ground.

She was badly shaken up and told her children that "she had dreamed she was in a frontier den to take the hero home and that the cowboys were about to shoot her."

The second battalion started from the river and worked past the Santa Fe hospital to a hill north of the camp. This battalion also was successful in getting the advantage of the enemy.

The men take an interest in this work, and each day problems of this kind will be given the officers to be worked out as in real warfare.

Those who are trying out for the rifle team started practice on the range under the instruction of Lieutenant Bump, of the United States army Monday. The work accomplished showed that the New Mexico riflemen will be in good condition when they take the trip to Camp Perry this year. Lieutenant Bump is certain that the team will do credit to the New Mexico national guard.

All of the men did not turn out this morning for practice for various reasons, but the entire squad will practice each day until Wednesday when the first grading exercises will start. The men will shoot on the 600 yard range on Wednesday.

A. A. JONES MEETS THE 5000 EMPLOYEES OF HIS DEPARTMENT
Washington, D. C., July 22.—The employees of the Interior Department, numbering approximately 5,000, were tendered a reception by Secretary Lane in the courtyard of the patent office building just before he left for the west. The reception was given to have the employees meet the heads of the several bureaus who have been appointed since the beginning of the new administration.

Besides the secretary, those in the receiving line were A. A. Jones, first assistant secretary; A. C. Miller, assistant secretary; Clay Tallman, commissioner of the general land office; A. N. Salsgaber, commissioner of pensions; Thomas Ewing, Jr., who is to be commissioner of patents; Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs; and Will R. King, general counsel for the reclamation service.

Hilario Baca, Delgado St., Santa Fe, N. M., says: "Off and on for three or four months, I had pains in my back. They were severe at times, especially if I lifted or brought any strain on the muscles of my back. The trouble was so persistent that I thought it was caused by weak kidneys. After I had used Doan's Kidney Pills a short time, I improved and by the time I had finished one box, I was cured. The cure has been permanent and I haven't needed Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time. I have told about my experiences before in a public statement and I am pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills again."

COURT HOUSE SUIT IN VALENCIA SETTLED

SUPREME COURT DECIDES IN FAVOR OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS AND UPHOLDS THE LOWER COURT IN DISMISSING THE CASE.

COURT HOUSE MAY NOW BE CONSTRUCTED

The supreme court handed down two opinions today, the one of the most importance being the suit against the commissioners of Valencia county to restrain them from building the court house and jail at Los Lunas, the action being brought by Frank L. Walrath, a taxpayer. The supreme court upheld the lower court which had found for the commissioners, principally for the reason that Walrath did not make the contractors who had the construction in charge a party to the suit. The opinion follows:

No. 1549. Frank L. Walrath, Appellant, vs. Board of County Commissioners, et al., Appellees. From Valencia county.

This is an action by Frank L. Walrath against the Board of County Commissioners of Valencia county, and the individual members of the board to restrain them from carrying into execution a contract for the construction of a court house and jail at the county seat of said county. The pleadings show that the board of county commissioners had entered into a contract with Campbell Bros., by which the latter were to construct and complete a court house and jail, in accordance with the plans and specifications, and that the said contractors had begun work under said contract and had expended large sums of money and labor thereon. The said Campbell Bros., although within the jurisdiction of the court, were not made parties to the suit. The petition was filed to test the validity of an act of the Legislative Assembly of the Territory, approved March 8th, 1909, being chapter 19 S. L., 1909, whereby the legislature attempted to confer upon the county of Valencia authority to use the proceeds of bonds received by it from the county of Torrance, for the purpose of constructing a court house and jail. Appellees filed an answer to the petition, upon the incoming of which appellant filed a motion for judgment on the pleadings. His motion was overruled by the court, and he elected to stand upon said motion and demanded judgment upon the pleadings. The court found that appellant was not entitled to the relief prayed for in his complaint and dismissed the same. From such judgment this appeal was taken.

Where a county has contracted with a party to construct a court house and jail, and a taxpayer seeks to enjoin the board of county commissioners from paying said contractor for work and labor performed and to be performed, under said contract, the contractor is an indispensable party to the suit, and where such contractor was not made a party the court properly dismissed the petition.

The second opinion was in case No. 1452, entitled: Territory of New Mexico, Appellee, vs. Benito Lobato. Appellant from Taos county.

The motion for rehearing was denied.

Vegas Normal Shows Increase. President Frank H. H. Roberts of the Las Vegas Normal and his secretary, Miss Susie Whittaker, are busy preparing reports to Governor William C. McDonald and to Superintendent of Public Instruction Alvan D. White. These reports show a growth of 13 per cent for the past year, and 62 per cent for the three years that Dr. Roberts has been president.

The total enrollment for the year ending June 30, 1913, is: boys, 202; girls, 281; total, 483. Eighty of these are from Las Vegas and 299 from East Las Vegas. The remaining 194 are from out of town.

Regents Meeting. The board of regents of the El Rito Spanish-American Normal School are having a meeting in Santa Fe today at which the rebuilding of the main building of this institution is being considered. The money for this reconstruction work is now available and as soon as plans can be prepared, the work will be started.

No Report Yet. No report has yet been filed in the federal court by the committee consisting of E. R. Wright, Lorin C. Collins and Stephen B. Davis, Jr., appointed by Judge W. H. Pope to investigate the charges made at the recent trial of the case of Garcia vs. Garcia that certain envelopes and letters submitted had been tampered with. It is expected that the report will be filed on or before Thursday.

GOES TO SOCORRO. O. L. Owen, member of the state corporation commission was scheduled to leave Clovis today for Santa Fe, but was wired by Chairman H. H. Williams this morning to proceed to Socorro, there to investigate an informal complaint regarding certain side tracks in that city.

OFFICIAL. TESTING WEIGHTS AND MEASURES FOR COUNTIES

The weights and measures law which was passed by the last legislature is now occupying a considerable portion of each day in the office of the secretary of state. The heaviest part of the work under the new law comes on this office. It is made the duty of this official to order and test new sets of weights and measures for the various counties of the state. To date 21 sets have been ordered from the manufacturers, and several sets which were purchased under the former law have been shipped in here to be tested by the official standards in the secretary's office. This work is now being done and in case of the San Miguel county weights which were tested yesterday the 50-pound weight was found to vary from the standard just 56 grains, while the smaller weights varied so slightly as to be almost negligible. The counties which had ordered sets under the old law are: Bernalillo, Colfax, Lincoln, Roosevelt, San Miguel, Santa Fe and Union. Most of these sets are now in the office of the secretary of state being tested. There is considerable difference between the old law and the new one and these discrepancies will undoubtedly have to be tested in court some day. For instance, the old law prescribed liquid measures, apothecary's weights and a standard yard stick which are not in the new law. Yet the new law says all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. The question is, does this repeal the parts of the old law which are not covered by the law of 1913. If it does there are several very important sections of the weights and measures act which will be declared null and void and the state will be without regulations covering these particular subjects.

OFFICIAL. HOMICIDES IN NEW MEXICO IN 18 MONTHS

STATISTICS ON KILLINGS IN THIS STATE IN PAST YEAR AND A HALF TAKEN FROM RECORDS IN MOUNTED POLICE OFFICE.

QUAY AND ROOSEVELT HAVE CLEAN RECORDS

Homicides in New Mexico in the last year and a half offers a big field for the statistically inclined, but for even the casual reader, the records of homicides as kept in the office of the mounted police affords material of interest. In the period from January 1st, 1912, to date there has been 33 homicides in New Mexico. There were 66 during 1912, 27 of which occurred during the first six months of the year, while during the corresponding period this year, or until July 1st there were only 23. There have been 27 so far this year, four occurring this month.

Divided among the counties, Grant and Socorro counties in the past year and a half led with 19 each; Bernalillo and Guadalupe have eight each; Valencia and McKinley, six each; San Miguel, 5; Luna, Mora, Santa Fe and Torrance, four each; Chaves, Colfax, Eddy, Sierra, Taos and Union, three each; Sandoval, two; Curry, Iona Ana, Lincoln and Otero, one each; while Quay, Rio Arriba, Roosevelt and San Juan have clean records during the period mentioned.

In explanation of the above figures it might be mentioned that each one of the three killings charged against Sierra county, occurred at Elephant Butte or near there.

Rio Arriba, which has a clean record in the year and a half since January 1st, 1912, had a murder at Chama in November, 1911, in which case an appeal is now being perfected to the supreme court.

San Juan county is also without a homicide in the period mentioned, although San Juan county people were concerned in the Cox-Truby killing, which occurred just across the line in Colorado.

Quay and Roosevelt, however, have nothing on the records in the mounted police office to mar the clean sheet they started with on January 1st, 1912.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE COUNTY OF SANTA FE STATE OF NEW MEXICO.
Roy J. Crichton, Plaintiff, vs.
Andy Storz, et al., Defendants.

No. 7053.
Notice of Sale.

In obedience to the judgment rendered in the above cause, I, the undersigned special master, will, on the 15th day of August, 1913, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon at the front door of the county court house of Santa Fe county, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash the following real estate situated in the county of Santa Fe, state of New Mexico, to-wit: Fronting one hundred and three (103) feet more or less on the north side of Hickox street and having a depth to the north of one hundred and sixty-two (162) feet more or less, and bounded on the north by the property of F. E. Simonton; on the south by Hickox street; on the east by the property of A. J. Teare, and on the west by the property of E. C. Abbott; being the same property conveyed to Andy Storz and wife by Evaristo Lucero by two deeds of record in Book L-2, p. 294 and L-2, p. 426 of the record of deeds of Santa Fe county, being inprecinct 4, ward 2, of the city of Santa Fe.

Said sale being made to satisfy judgment for the sum of twenty-two hundred eighty-eight and 88/100 dollars ($2288.88), with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum from the 7th day of May, 1913, and costs of suit, including costs of advertisement and sale of said property.

JOHN W. MAYES,
Special Master.

FALL-MURRAY PLANS FOR MEXICO

Fate of American Unknown.

El Paso, Texas July 22.—Threats to get all the Americans in the Madera settlement, burn the big Madera lumber mills, which supply the El Paso Milling company with lumber, and raze every American house in the camp have been made to the Pearson company as the result of the harbor of the American cowmen from the Madera ranch after they had killed two of the bandits of El Mocho Martinez's brigand band.

This threat was made eight days ago and as the telegraph wires are down and the brigands are preventing any one from leaving the camp, the officials of the Madera company here and the friends of the Americans in Madera are afraid that the bandits have already carried out their threat.

Among the Americans who are in Madera are:

H. C. Herr, of Newark, Ohio, manager of the Madera mills; F. J. Clark, a native of El Paso, who is superintendent of the El Paso division of the Mexican Northwestern railroad; W. J. Farragut, of Alabama, who is a nephew of Admiral Farragut, manager of the commissary department at Madera; W. W. Grubbs, of Richmond, Ind., who is a nephew of Vice-President H. I. Miller, of the Pearson interests; R. B. Rawlins, of El Paso, agent for the Northwestern at Madera, together with his wife and child; C. C. Commons, of Richmond, Ind., and a brother of Dr. Commons, the company physician, an assistant in the commissary department; Charles A. Pringle, of San Francisco, Calif., who is a mining engineer and was one of the most famous football players who ever attended the University of California; George Gardner, of the Foreign club; Guy E. Vaughn, fuel agent for the Madera company; Mrs. Vaughn; Les Sanders, a meat dealer at Madera; Roy Hoard, plant auditor at Madera; Fred Schmidt, agent for the Dolores Mining company; H. J. Gallagher, of Mexico City, who is chief clerk to the superintendent at Madera; T. R. Hager, chief dispatcher; Dr. Roberts, in charge of the hospital; and Mrs. C. J. Lawrence, who is a stenographer in the superintendent's office at Madera. Many of the Americans named have their wives and children with them.

MISS A. MUGLER

SOUTHEAST CORNER PLAZA.

Orozco's force of irregular federals have succeeded in fighting their way north from Torreon to Chihuahua City, according to messages received here today. He succeeded in repairing the railroad as he came and is to be sent immediately north from Chihuahua to attempt to open the Mexican Central road to Juarez. Enroute into Chihuahua he whipped the rebels at Santa Rosalia, Jimenez, Estacion Diaz, Ortiz and Hachimba. At the latter place, he was badly defeated a year ago when as a rebel commander he met the federals under General Huerta, now president of Mexico.

El Paso, Texas, July 22.—A Mormon named Jesse Williams is to blame for the situation at Madera, where the American colony is threatened with death by a Mexican bandit band, declared American Consul T. D. Edwards, in Juarez today. He had just received a report, which said that Williams had led a band of cowboys against a small band of bandits, who were killing cattle on William Randolph Hearst's Babicora ranch, and that after he and his friends later quit the ranch, and took refuge in Madera, the bandits threatened the extermination of the entire colony.

"If the other Americans are harmed, Williams should be strung up to a telegraph pole," said the consul today.

It will not pay you to waste your time writing out your legal forms when you can get them already printed at the New Mexican Printing Company.

Let us Raise Your Salary

The difference between $7.50 and $25.00; $8.00 and $30.00; $10.00 and $40.00; and so on up the line is the proved difference between the salaries of men before and after receiving I. C. S. training.

It's a fact. The International Correspondence Schools have thousands of unsolicited letters telling of exactly such increases in salary as a direct result of this training. Every month there is an average of 300 men who voluntarily report success attained through I. C. S. training.

Wouldn't you like your salary raised? Wouldn't you like a more congenial position? Wouldn't you like to be successful? Then mark the coupon today.

There's always a good paying position for the trained man. You know that.

Then why not let the I. C. S. help you? It doesn't matter where you live, what you do for a living, or how little schooling you may have had. If you can read and write, the I. C. S. has a way to help you to success—in your own home—in your spare time—without requiring you to give up your present position.

The I. C. S. method will quickly enable you to earn a much higher salary at the occupation of your choice—just as it has already enabled thousands of other poorly paid but ambitious men to succeed.

Mail the coupon today—the I. C. S. will gladly explain it all without charging you a penny.

Remember: The Business of this Place is to Raise Salaries
