RACES CANNOT THRIVE WHEN SIDE BY SIDE

UNNATURAL BIOLOGICAL CONDITION SAYS STILES

Interesting Address Before American Society for Advancement of Science by Marine Hospital Authority.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Boston, Dec. 28.—"It is an unnatural biological condition to have two closely allied species of animals living side by side in the same area," said Dr. Charles W. Stiles, United States public health marine hospital service, in an address before the American Society for the Advancement of Science tonight.

Dr. Stiles spoke on the hookworm disease, of which he has made some extensive study. He declared that in the United States a law of nature was being violated when an effort was made to lodge different races of men side by side in the same area. Dr. Stiles said in part:

"It is an unnatural biological condition to have two closely allied species of animals living side by side in the same area. In this country we have four races of animals, viz., the white, the red, the yellow and the black men—breaking nature's laws by trying to live together. The competition of the individuals is intensified by being extended to a competition between the races, and we must in the end submit to the workings of the law of the survival of the fittest. Different races may have different diseases and after long generations of infection a relative immunity may be developed in a given race through the survival of the fittest individuals. This partial immunity to the serious effects of a disease does not imply immunity from infection. On the contrary that very immunity may tend to make the partially immune race a reservoir for infection and that infection when transmitted to a more susceptible race will, upon reaching such virgin soil, be very fatal.

"The white race has brought to the south certain diseases from North America. These have spread with deadly effect to the blacks. The negroes have brought to the south certain tropical diseases which have spread to the whites with serious results. These conditions are not in any way blameable to the south as a portion of the country, but upon the fact that in the United States we are violating a law of nature when we attempt to lodge different races of men side by side in the same area.

"It is not an exaggeration to say that the negro in the south lives under a handicap because of the presence of the white man's diseases and because of the presence of African diseases the white man there is also living under a handicap. Sanitary science, if backed by intelligent practical application and authority, can overcome that handicap. Theory demands that rural negro localities with anything less than good sanitation, viz., must find an extensive anemia among the whites, and practical experience bears out this theory among the tenant whites of the south.

"It is not only foolish but cowardly to attempt to deny the existing conditions and pay for a false sense of local pride at the price of the lives of women and children. Fortunately the better class of thought in the south is facing facts and organizing for an extensive campaign to improve sanitary conditions. And when the south shall win its noble fight against disease the victory will be great and will fully repay the efforts spent upon it."

Dr. Stiles, speaking upon child labor in the south, took a position which some of his hearers might have judged radical. He said:

"I have never defended child labor as an abstract proposition, but when I compare child labor and child misery upon the soil-polluted, one-house farms with child labor under the vastly improved sanitary conditions in the southern cotton mills I am forced to the conclusion that the latter is infinitely better than the former, and if it came to a choice between the two for my young daughter, now 16 years old, my duty would compel me to choose for her a life in the spinning room of the average cotton mill of the south, which I have visited, in preference to a life of toil and misery on the average unsanitary tenant farm I have studied.

"I am unable to join in the wholesale condemnation of the south's cotton mills for I recognize in them the best friends the tenant whites of the south have."

Harris of Northwestern university, was the key note of the thirty-first annual convention of the Music Teachers' National association which met here today.

"It is regrettable that music plays such a little part in the education of the people," continued President Harris, "and it is a shame that college graduates know as little of the sublime works of music."

FORTY PER CENT OF PUBLIC MONEY GOES FOR GRAFT

This is Estimate of New York Supreme Justice Who Says Dollar Mark Has Supplanted Stars and Stripes.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] Troy, N. Y., Dec. 28.—"The age of patriotism has yielded to the age of commercialism. Uppermost in the human mind today is not the stars and stripes but the dollar mark." Such was the declaration of Supreme Court Justice Wesley O. Howard, in an opinion today reducing the compensation of a commission appointed to appraise damages to property resulting from the construction of the Ashokan reserve in Ulster county, which is to furnish a water supply for New York City.

"While the commission furnishes avenues for the reckless escape of many dollars, there are other channels of leakage and waste fully as appealing," said Justice Howard. "It is greatly to be regretted that no public enterprise can be projected and consummated without this appaling loss called 'graft.' Graft is not necessarily an illegal expenditure of money, but it is that unnecessary wasteful use that characterizes the construction of every public venture. At least 40 per cent of all money appropriated for public use is lost in graft. All things would be possible in this right-of-way leakage could be stopped."

BRITISH NAVY ROBBED OF WIRELESS SECRETS

Draughtsman Who Looted Archives on Trial at Portsmouth.

CANADIANS THINK THEY HAVE FOUND COOK

Detroit, Dec. 28.—Specials from London, Ont., say a man closely resembling Dr. F. A. Cook, the explorer, passed through there today en route to Detroit.

A diligent search by newspaper men has failed to locate Dr. Cook in this city. When the report reached here today that the explorer had taken a train from London, Ont., to Detroit, it was thought he might be on his way to Mount Clemens to take the baths, or to Jackson, Mich., where he has relatives, but he cannot be found in either of these cities tonight.

TAFT MESSAGE TO DEAL WITH TRUST LAW CHANGES

President Adheres to Original Intention of Considering Sherman Act and Commerce Law in Same Communication

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Washington, Dec. 28.—President Taft discussed with members of his cabinet today the final details of the special message he will send to congress next week dealing with proposed amendments to the interstate commerce and Sherman anti-trust acts. Mr. Taft began work on the document today.

At one time, it was thought the president might, in this, the first of his series of special messages to congress, deal only with the interstate commerce act, leaving his proposed amendments to the Sherman act to some future date. He had decided, however, that as the two subjects are so closely related he will adhere to his original intention of making his recommendations two changes in the two acts in one communication.

In this message he will also submit

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Fairmont, W. Va., Dec. 28.—Because, it is alleged, his cries of "Amen, amen," were so loud they came near breaking up a Methodist revival meeting, E. M. Snyder, a prominent farmer, tonight was arrested and held in $200 bond to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of disturbing religious worship.

Rev. G. L. Ingram claims his voice was drowned in the fervent ejaculations of Snyder, who is a devout churchgoer.

NEW SENATOR ONCE FUGITIVE IN CANADA

Colonel Gordon to Help Frame Laws for Country Which Once Offered Reward for His Capture, Dead or Alive.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 28.—A special to the News-Sun today says:

"Sought at one time by the federal authorities under a $10,000 reward for his capture dead or alive for alleged conspiracy in the murder of a president of the United States and now appointed a member of the legislative body of that country is the strange story of Colonel James Gordon of Oklahoma, who has been named United States senator by Governor Noyes as successor to the late A. J. McLeath.

"Mr. Gordon was one of several Confederate leaders suspected of being in a conspiracy with J. Wilkes Booth to kill President Lincoln. He escaped arrest and probably death only by the intervention of a Yankee colonel with whom he had crossed swords in a fight in Virginia.

"In the earlier years of the war, Colonel Gordon had formed an intimate friendship with Booth and after the assassination of President Lincoln the reward of $10,000 was offered for his capture.

"Colonel Gordon went to Canada and it was several months before he found it safe to return home.

"In one of the campaigns in Virginia Colonel Gordon had crossed swords with the colonel of a New York cavalry regiment. Both were injured in the conflict, but they afterward became fast friends.

"Colonel Gordon wrote a letter to this New Yorker denying that he had any part in the conspiracy and stating that he desired to return home. The former foe took the matter up with General Dicks then in command of the army forces in New York and the latter sent him a passport and an invitation to come to New York and surrender, which he did. He afterward satisfied General Dicks that he knew nothing of the Lincoln conspiracy."

SAILORS SING WHEN DEATH IS NEAR

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION ON SCHOONER PALMER

Discovery of Second Wreck Off Boston Harbor Leads to Belief that Collision Was Responsible for Disaster.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Boston, Mass., Dec. 28.—The discovery today of the wreck of the five-masted schooner Davis Palmer, which sank with twelve men Sunday morning at the entrance of Broad Sound, was followed by the report of another wreck in the outer harbor. This second victim of the great storm that swept New England Saturday and Sunday, was reported by Captain Kemp of the tug Ariel, who asserts that he saw three masts of a schooner projecting above the water near the shoals known as "The Graves."

Although Captain Kemp located the vessel three miles east of the wreck of the Palmer, some marine authorities think that he may have been mistaken in his bearings and that he saw the Palmer's masts.

Sea-faring men who believe the tug boat captain is not mistaken about his bearings, are discussing the possibility of a collision between the Palmer and the unknown schooner.

Probably the last person to see the Palmer before she sank was Captain Skoog of the tugboat Hopalong, which docked at Lynn today from Boston. He reported passing the Palmer off Cape Cod late Christmas afternoon. At that time the Palmer's sails were on deck stinging and celebrating the holiday in true sea fashion not dreaming of the fate that awaited them at the entrance to their home port.

Yesterday's roll of wrecks was increased today. The schooner Ada Damon, the sole support of her aged mother, Captain A. K. Brewster, of York, Maine, went ashore near Ipswich. She will probably be a total loss. The crew reached shore safely.

In Chelsea, where a tidal wave broke a dam and flooded the homes of 2,000 people, a high tide today opened two new breaks. Many cellars that had been pumped out by fire engines were again flooded. It will be weeks before the people in the eighty acres of tide lands will be able to return to their homes.

BROKAW FURNISHES AMUSEMENT FOR WIFE

Fair Plaintiff in Divorce Suit Smiles Pleasantly as Lawyers Grill Her Millionaire Husband on Witness Stand.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] New York, Dec. 28.—W. Gould Brokaw had a bad day of it on the stand today. He had previously testified of his fairness toward his wife, who is suing for separation with alimony of $600 a year, but today under cross-examination he was forced to admit that he had accused her in a letter to his mother-in-law of being a poor woman, of drinking too much port wine and of smoking cigarettes.

He also admitted that his secretary, Hyford, had assisted him in breaking down the door of his wife's bedroom on more than one occasion. Brokaw was in a bad mood and forgetful of details. The plaintiff, however, was in a light humor. Almost buried in white furs, she sat near the witness and smiled often.

In addition to the interesting developments in Brokaw's testimony, it be-

ZELAYA STILL PRESIDENT HE CLAIMS

INTENDS TO RETURN WHEN PEACE IS RESTORED

Nicaraguan Fugitive Indignantly Denies He is Prisoner in Mexico; Favors Intervention to End Warfare.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Cordoba, Mex., Dec. 28.—Jose Santos Zelaya declared tonight that he is still president of Nicaragua although he may never go back to that country to enjoy the privileges of the office. Madrid he asserted is only a provisional president and he (Zelaya) has not relinquished the office.

Zelaya denied that was a prisoner in the hands of the Mexican officials in any sense.

He was asked whether it was a fact as reported in advices from Managua, that in giving him refuge in this country the Mexican government accepted responsibility for his person and in doing so looked upon him as a prisoner. He stated emphatically that such was not the case and that he was free to go where he chose.

Zelaya declared that he favored friendly intervention on the part of the Mexican and United States governments to the end that a consolidation of all Central American republics might be brought about.

He said he believed Secretary Knox was now realizing the injustice of his attitude toward him, and declared he never understood why he should have molested him.

He might go to Belgium to live he said. In any event he would not return to Nicaragua until peace is restored. It was his opinion that the war would end in two months but he would not venture an opinion as to who would be successful.

Asked about the conditions imposed by the British government in reply to his request for asylum aboard the British ship Sherwood, Zelaya admitted he was told to agree to leave Nicaragua forever. These conditions he said he declined.

Mexico, on the other hand he declared, made no reservation in granting him permission to board the Cherwood.

In a statement made to an Associated Press representative on the train on which he is traveling to Mexico City, Zelaya said he was still the head of the Nicaraguan government. He was leaving his country for an indefinite period in the hope that affairs would quiet down. In support of his declaration he exhibited papers attached to which were government seals and ribbons. These, he said, contained the proof of his statement.

In further support of his claim it was pointed out by members of his party that the Guerrero floated the Nicaraguan flag at her masthead in addition to the Mexican flag. The reports concerning his wealth, he said, were greatly exaggerated. His fortune is not over $2,000,000 gold and is invested mostly in Nicaraguan government bonds. He claimed to have advanced $50,000 paid on the Emery claim, as a personal loan out of his own funds, there having been no money in the treasury at the time. He said he had never been refunded to him. He strongly denied that he had wrongly obtained any part of his fortune through concessions of which he had the disposal. He declared a vote of thanks had been tendered him officially when he left the country.

RECEPTION IN MEXICO CITY REMAINS UNCERTAIN

Mexico City, Dec. 28.—Apartment have been reserved at the Palace hotel for former President Zelaya and his party. Plans for their entertainment, if there are any, were closely guarded by those in authority here.

A group of 100 American businessmen announced the intention of going to Tegucigalpa, 25 miles out of the city to meet him. Others incensed by the reported friendliness for the ex-president addressed a communication to a local paper in which they gave vent to unfavorable opinions of Zelaya.

AMERICAN SURGEONS DO GOOD WORK AT RAMA

Bluefields, Dec. 28.—Searching parties have been working the bush for the last few days and burning bodies. In the recent fight near Rama General Estrada's guard of honor, numbering 100 was almost wiped out of existence.

The American surgeons who took care of the wounded labored seventy-two hours with scarcely a rest, their skill and the rapidity with which they performed the operations saving many lives.

Former Governor Lopez, who is a second cousin of ex-President Zelaya has been released from jail on his promise to join Estrada. The hundreds of prisoners who have arrived here from Rama tell pitiful tales of the privation to which their emaciated forms and swollen feet testify. Zelaya had promised to send a pack train to them weekly with supplies, but none ever came.

For fifteen days the rations of the men consisted of banana only and for five days they were entirely without food. Many of them could scarcely hold their rifles on account of their swollen hands while their feet made marching an agony because of their swollen condition.

CHRISTMAS CHEER FOR HUNGRY ZELAYANS

Washington, Dec. 28.—A telegram from Consul Moffat at Bluefields, dated last Sunday, says that under the direct supervision of Commanders Shipley and Niblack men detailed from the Des Moines and the Tacoma began on Christmas morning to distribute rations to 1,500 hungry Zelayan soldiers.

Pending the arrival of the Pacific from Colon with provisions, surplus supplies from the ships are being landed. Estrada's officials are rendering all possible assistance and furnishing blankets, clothing and shoes as rapidly as possible. Three hundred prisoners are being temporarily provided for by Estrada at Rama and 200 more by friends and relatives in Bluefields.

Commander Shipley at Bluefields, in a dispatch dated yesterday, said the reports hitherto sent out regarding the number killed and wounded, prisoners taken, etc., at the recent battle at Rama were much exaggerated and that the ammunition captured amounted to only about 100,000 rounds, and the killed to not more than 500. Commander Shipley also says he has fed 1,400 prisoners since December 24 and that more are to arrive. He reports many slight cases of sickness. A surgeon is to be located at the camp. The commander speaks highly of the work done by the officers and men of the Tacoma.

Constitutional Questions Involved in Her Conviction for Saloon Smashing.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Mrs. Carrie Nation has appealed the case in which she was fined $100 for smashing the bar at the Union station here some weeks ago, from the police court to the district court of appeals. Her attorney has raised several constitutional questions in defense, the principal one being that the prosecution should have been made in the name of the United States instead of the District of Columbia.

DOCTOR WU GUEST AT CHINATOWN BANQUET

Retiring Envoy Entertained by Murder and Rumors of Tong War.

New York, Dec. 28.—Notwithstanding reports of a brewing tong war and the murder of two Chinese last night, Dr. Wu Ting-fang, retiring Chinese minister to the United States, was the guest of the Chinese bankers' and merchants' association at a private dinner in the heart of Chinatown to-night. Another guest was Yon Yu Yim, newly appointed Chinese consul at the port of New York and there were present several Chinese women in full native costume.

Discussing the outbreak of the tong wars at the banquet, Mr. Wu said: "In China we know how to deal with such people. When I read in the newspapers of such things as occurred last night, as this woman murdering committed by these tongs and of their crimes and violence, I am ashamed of my nation and I am glad I am no longer its minister and I am glad I am leaving here. You people—gentlemen of the press—come and ask me about those things and you worry me. For that reason I am glad I am going away."

TRAMP ATTEMPTS TO MURDER AGED MAN

East Douglas, Mass., Dec. 28.—Entering her kitchen unexpectedly today Mrs. Charles Potter found a young wanderer who had asked to be allowed to warm himself in the act of cutting the throat of her 72-year-old husband, whom he had pinned to the floor.

At her shriek, the assailant fled, but not before he had slashed the aged man's throat severely.

The victim was believed to have a large sum of money in the house.

RED CROSS TO CARE FOR DESTITUTE AT CHERRY

Steps Taken in Plan to Afford Relief to Widows and Orphans of Men Killed in St. Paul Mine.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Washington, Dec. 28.—The American Red Cross society has taken the initiative in a new method of furnishing relief to those left destitute through some great disaster and if the present plan is followed, it could be put into operation first for the relief of those widowed and orphaned by the mine disaster at Cherry, Ill.

Ernest P. Bicknell, national director of the American Red Cross in discussing the proposed plan said it involved contributions to a permanent fund by the Red Cross, the National Mine Workers' association and by appropriation of the legislature of Illinois. The Red Cross has given its unequalled approval to the project and the officers of the Mine Workers and Governor Denesh of Illinois have expressed their full sympathy.

Each family in Cherry will be visited and its condition fully looked into. It is proposed to continue the relief until the family is able to provide for its support. There are approximately 150 destitute families at Cherry, with 450 children less than 16 years old.

Hilmi Pasha's Administration Not Progressive Enough to Satisfy Young Turks Who Control at Constantinople.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Constantinople, Dec. 28.—The whole Turkish cabinet resigned tonight following the resignation of Hilmi Pasha, grand vizier, who withdrew from the ministry early in the day.

It is reported that serious conflicts have occurred at Bagdad, but this is not confirmed officially.

The immediate cause of Pasha's resignation is not known, but recently attempts have been made in the chamber to overturn the ministry.

It is believed that the committee of union and progress decided upon a change in the ministry because they regard the accusations against the former grand vizier, Kiamil Pasha, unjust.

It is understood the committee favors the appointment of Tefik Pasha, the present ambassador at London as grand vizier, but it is not likely that Kiamil Pasha will return to power.

Hilmi Pasha was appointed grand vizier by the sultan on the resignation of Kiamil Pasha on February 14, and the new cabinet was constituted May 2.

Soon after its formation the chamber of deputies and the senate voted a sweeping vote of censure against the ministry after the government's policy was explained. This policy included economy to meet the financial deficit and the eradication of the causes that led to the Adana outbreak.

The committee of union and progress, which was the moving spirit in the overthrow of Sultan Abdul Hamid, has since the change in administration, retained a firm grip on the governmental machinery and there have been rumors since the early part of September that the cabinet would resign or be forced from office.

More recently the committee demanded the resignation of the minister of public works and this demand was complied with. There has been much active opposition in the chamber by the grand vizier, whose program did not satisfy the wishes of the young Turks.

FOUR MEN BLOWN TO ATOMS BY EXPLOSION

Mineral Point, Wis., Dec. 28.—Four men were blown to atoms by an explosion of dynamite as the old Bell mine here this afternoon. The men went into the powder room and it is thought placed the dynamite too near the store.

It is said 150 pounds was stored in the room.

COMMERCE COMMISSION
DECISIONS ANNOUNCED

Washington, Dec. 28.—When a railroad rate is unreasonable in a specific case in a given territory it is also unreasonable from all points in the territory that take the same rate on traffic transported under similar circumstances and conditions.

This principle was announced by the interstate commerce commission in a decision handed down today in the case of the Standard Railroad Lumber company vs. The Southern Pacific railroad company. The decision affects a large number of cases involving the transportation of lumber from points between the Mississippi river and the Pacific terminus.

A rate of 55 cents per hundred pounds being unreasonable from Minneapolis to the Pacific terminus, the commission held that it was prima facie evidence that the same was unreasonable from all points in the same territory which took the same rate on traffic transported under similar circumstances and that a 75-cent rate had been applied to all these points. Long continued maintenance of a 75-cent rate, when a 55-cent rate was reasonable, was held to be prima facie evidence that the 75-cent rate was unreasonable.

MISSOURI PROBES TELEPHONE MERGER

Jefferson City, Mo., Dec. 28.—Taking of testimony in the telephone merger hearing here was completed this afternoon with the exception of two witnesses who will be called at a supplementary hearing late in January.

Attorney General Major said tonight that he could read the day's testimony of great value in showing that the American Telephone & Telegraph company is a holding company for Missouri companies in violation of the corporation laws.

NAVIGATION ON OHIO RIVER BLOCKED BY ICE

Pittsburg, Dec. 28.—With tons and tons of ice piled high against the piers of bridges spanning the Ohio river here, and at points below Pittsburg, river traffic has been entirely abandoned and river men are preparing to cope with one of the worst ice packs ever experienced in the local harbor.

Ten million barrels of coal have been diverted from its usual river transportation to southern points and cars are being asked for from all railroads.

At East Liverpool, Ohio, ice has jammed against the stone abutments of the old county wooden bridge and authorities are arranging to break the pack with dynamite.

At Wheeling, W. Va., river men report danger to craft in that harbor. From Wheeling to New Martinsville, W. Va., 25 miles, a solid sheet of ice marks the course of the river.

EVERYTHING HINGES ON SUCCESS OR FAILURE OF PERHAM'S MISSION TO WASHINGTON; BOTH SIDES ISSUE BRIEF STATEMENTS.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 28.—So far as could be learned tonight the strike situation in the northwest has become a waiting game, all further action being contingent upon the success of H. E. Perham, who is on his way to Washington to secure federal help in the debate between the railroads and switchmen.

Upon the course of Mr. Perham, chairman of the railway branch of the Federation of Labor, will depend the future action of the allied bodies in the matter of a general strike.

President E. T. Hawley of the Switchmen's union would say nothing and Vice President Harshbarger said he could neither affirm nor deny the report that the unions are ready to strike on short notice. It has been stated by Mr. Perham that some of the unions are ready to act at any time. These are presumably the railway clerks, freight handlers and maintenance of way men.

Mr. Harshbarger said: "There are influences at work both in St. Paul and Washington that may result in the termination of the strike in a very short time."

MANAGERS PROTEST NOT TO FEAR SPREAD OF STRIKE

Chicago, Dec. 28.—H. B. Perham, president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers arrived today and will confer tomorrow with Vice Presidents Rogers and DeLong of the Switchmen's union before leaving for Washington to seek federal intervention in the controversy.

A statement issued tonight by the General Managers' association of the railroads said:

Concerning the efforts of Mr. Perham to have the interstate commerce commission investigate as to whether the railroads are moving traffic, this is wholly unnecessary, as the railroads themselves will save anyone the trouble of going to Washington for that purpose. It is our care to make their own investigation.

We at no time have feared nor do we now fear a spread of the strike, because it is not at all likely that the American Federation of Labor is willing to give official sanction to an illegal strike as this one has been.

BELGIAN SOCIALISTS
OPPOSE KING'S CIVIL LIST

Brussels, Dec. 28.—The socialists in the chamber of deputies today opposed the civil list of the king, which amounts to 2,500,000 francs ($400,000) and reaffirmed their allegiance to a republic.

M. Royer declared that the royal pensions should be turned into salaries. Appropriations, however, were made 100 to 20 francs less than in the same as that granted Leopold, the new sovereign declining the Catholic party's suggestion of an increase.

The socialist movement calling for an inventory of the contents of the royal palaces so as to prevent the sale of national property as under King Leopold was defeated.

Cross-Ties Are Lumber, Says Court.

New Orleans, Dec. 28.—Cross-ties are lumber and to make higher freight rates on them less than on lumber is a unique discrimination, according to an opinion delivered here today by the United States circuit court of appeals.

Madison Square Garden
SOLD FOR THREE MILLION

New York, Dec. 28.—Madison Square Garden designed by the late Stanford White and built at a cost of $2,000,000 has been sold to a real estate syndicate and will be torn down and replaced by a modern office building according to a report in realty circles today. The property has been on the market for some time at $3,000,000.

Great Structure to Be Bared to Make Way for Office Building.

Washington, Dec. 28.—The two Philippine delegates to congress, Benito Legarda and Manuel I. Quezon, have just arrived here for the congressional session and bring with them requests from the people of the islands for a number of reforms. They will ask that home rule in the Philippines on which a single individual may file, be enlarged from 10 to 125 acres.

Congress will be asked to extend citizenship to Filipinos who happened to be absent from the island when the United States assumed possession, and also to change the date for beginning the term of members of the Philippine assembly.

When congress changed the date of the meeting of the assembly it forgot to change the date on which the members' term began.

ALLEGED COMBINE TO BREAK JOHN R. WALSH IS BARED

Prominent Financiers Named in Bill of Particulars in Million Dollar Suit for Attorneys Fee in Chicago.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Chicago, Dec. 28.—An amended bill of particulars was filed in the municipal court today in a million dollar suit begun in July 1909, by William Armstrong against the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad company, the Chicago, Indiana & Southern Railroad company, William C. Brown of New York, Charles W. Hotchkiss of New York, the Rock Island company, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad company, the Chicago & Rock Island railroad and Robert Mather.

The amended bill states that Hotchkiss, Brown and Mather combined with Frank A. Vanderbilt, president of the National City bank of New York, William Rockefeller, James Sullivan and George F. Baker, all of New York, to prevent John R. Walsh and James Walsh from disposing of bonds in the New York money market.

Armstrong's suit is for services rendered by the defendants in negotiations for the purchase of property owned by Walsh in southern Indiana, and with which he was constructing the Chicago Southern railroad before the collapse of the Chicago National bank.

BRUTAL MURDER OF WOMAN IN DENVER

Victim's Body, Horribly Mutilated, Found in Platte River; Negro Suspect Seized for Crime, Husband Also Held.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Denver, Dec. 28.—The body of Mrs. Belle Rupp, wife of a railroad employee, was found this morning in the Platte river. Her head had been smashed in by blows from a heavy piece of slag yielded, it is believed, by a negro who last night attempted to force his way into her house. She fired through the door twice at him and he ran away. Telling her children she was going to summon the police Mrs. Rupp left the house and was not seen again until her mutilated body was found in the river.

According to the children the negro returned some time after Mrs. Rupp left and took 112 and everything else of value he could find in the house. It is believed this was done after he had slain the mother.

Ernest Rupp, husband of the woman, who notified the police of his wife's absence, was held for examination.

Robert Williams, a negro, was arrested this afternoon. He is declared by Pearl Rupp, the nine-year-old child, to be the man who robbed the house.

WAR SECRETARY GIVEN
WELCOME TO PORTO RICO

San Juan, P. R., Dec. 28.—Governor Colton's reception yesterday evening in honor of the American secretary of war, Jacob M. Dickinson, and Brigadier Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs, was unsurpassed even by that given President Roosevelt in 1906. Delegations from all towns in the island and all branches of society were present.

The republican and nationalist parties, which have united for the purpose of urging citizenship, an elective senate and other reforms, have appointed a committee to confer with Secretary Dickinson. The committee will present a petition to congress requesting that these proposals be carried into effect.

CONFEDERATE SECURITIES
PRESENTED FOR PAYMENT

Washington, Dec. 28.—A $500 Confederate bond and a $100 Confederate note made their appearance in the treasury today this morning. They had been sent by a lawyer of Pau, France, who is engaged in settling up an estate and wanted to know their value, having been told by the people of his country that they were not worth anything because of their age. The attorney expressed astonishment at the statement, because the United States had always met its obligations. The securities were returned to the lawyer by Acting Secretary Norton who advised his correspondent that the latter's understanding that the United States had always met its obligations was absolutely correct. These securities, however he said, were not obligations of the United States.

TREASURY HAS WORKING
BALANCE OF $24,160,365

Issue of Interest Bearing Obligations Before March Next Unlikely.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Unless some extraordinary situation arises to make such action desirable, there will be no new issues of interest bearing obligations by the treasury department before March. This statement is made on the authority of a high government official.

If congress enacts legislation favored by Secretary MacVeagh for a graduated tax on national bank circulation, secured by United States bonds hereafter deposited, the impression is growing that he will look favorably on an issue of 2½ per cent Panama canal bonds if they are marketable. He is authorized to issue these obligations bearing interest up to three per cent. The secretary favors a tax of one per cent on circulation secured by bonds bearing 2½ per cent interest, so as to make them at parity with the two for circulation purposes. Today's treasury working balance amounted to $24,160,365.

WANTS WARRANT FOR
WILLIAM R. HEARST

New York Publisher-Politician Accused of Election Law Violation.

New York, Dec. 28.—Louis A. Calliver, attorney for Francis Duhan, who is charged with aiding in the alleged Tammany theft of the independence league machinery in the September primaries, said in court today that he would apply for a warrant for the arrest of William R. Hearst in the next twenty-four hours.

Calliver declared that the charge would be election fraud in that Hearst failed to obey the mandatory charge of the election law which specifies that delegates chosen at primaries must be summoned to the convention to which they are elected, even though the convention does nothing more than adjourn sine die.

WHAT IT COSTS TO RUN AMERICAN CITY

Washington, Dec. 28.—If the 158 largest cities of the United States were to merge themselves into one great corporation they would need a working capital of $1,250,000,000. The census bureau has made a very elaborate report on what it costs to run municipalities; how the money is spent and who gets it.

To maintain the departments of city governments is 26 per cent of the total cost. In 1907, the 158 cities enumerated collected nearly $600,000,000 in their own revenues and then borrowed more than $400,000,000 for improvements. But an American city as a collective institution is far from a bankrupt.

It costs more than $600,000,000 a year to protect the life and property, more than $37,000,000 for sanitation and preservation of health; the feeding item of $100,000,000 being for education, and for recreation we spent least of all a little more than $12,000,000.

The tendency of municipal ownership shows itself in some directions. Of these 158 cities, 116 own and operate their own water plants.

ALBUQUERQUE - NEW MEXICO

A COMMON SENSE POLICY.

The people of Bernalillo county have reason to congratulate themselves upon the fact that the county board has "turned over a new leaf," in the matter of making and mending county roads, and has resolved to adopt a common sense plan of doing such work hereafter.

Since the "memory of man raneth not to the contrary," it has been the rule in this county, and we presume elsewhere in the territory, to select the precinct road supervisor with regard to his vote-getting qualities, without any regard whatever to what he might know or not know about the making or repairing of roads, and as a consequence the road fund has been regularly and deliberately squandered, and while we have been collecting every year from those who pay their taxes, a fund sufficient to have given us good highways in every part of the county, the fact still remains, to our disgrace, that the richest county in New Mexico has not a mile of properly improved country road within its borders.

Recognizing these shameful facts, the county commissioners have determined to bring a little common sense to bear upon the matter, and hereafter when a section of road is to be built or repaired, instead of allowing the public money to be frittered away by some utterly incompetent person, a contract will be publicly let to the lowest responsible bidder, and the work, according to prepared plans and specifications, will be done under the immediate supervision of the county engineer, who will see that the job is done according to contract before it is paid for.

Under the operation of such a plan as this we shall have in the course of a very few years a net work of good country roads all over the county. Right at our hands we have as good material, in exhaustible abundance, for the making of first class country roads as can be found anywhere, and we tax ourselves in a sum simply sufficient to pay for the work. All that has been necessary has been the application of a little common sense to the method of using our materials. And that defect the county board will remedy by its present plan.

TROUBLES COME IN BUNCHES.

In view of the fact that it is the merry holiday season, Mr. Taft would seem to be having more than his share of trouble. A Washington letter to the Chicago Tribune, written on the evening of the day congress adjourned, says:

It is feared by sympathetic observers of the doings of the capital that many members of the senate of these United States are hushing homeward for the merry Yuletide to-night with their hearts filled with peevishness instead of good will toward their fellow men. The senate adjourned today after the holidays with the best wishes of the president for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year, but many of the senators found it impossible to elicit sufficiently to return the compliment.

Senator Lorimer of Illinois was one of the gloomiest, despite the fact that he was wearing his most peaceful and bland expression when he boarded the noon train for Chicago. Not only has he been turned down at the White house on all appointments he desired but he has failed to see the president even to shake hands since this session of congress opened.

The case of the junior senator from Illinois, however, was not an isolated one. Probably more than a score of the members of the upper house have been possessed of grievances of this character and the area of gloom is increasing daily. The action of the president in appointing this policy has precipitated a heated discussion among the politicians now in the scene. The democrats generally applied the lousy attitude taken by the administration. The republicans are pretty well divided on the question. Some maintain the president is making a grave mistake. Others insist that the manner in which Senator Lorimer has been turned down at the White house, both in the matter of appointments and the refusal of Mr. Taft even to see him, is significant of nothing more than the hostilities of the president to rely in making federal appointments on the advice of a senator who owes his election to democratic votes.

A new complication was added to the tangle this afternoon by a note of defiance that was issued from the White house, in direct conflict with Attorney General Wickersham's explanation yesterday that the presentation of the appointments had been a mistake. In response to inquiries, Mr. Taft's private secretary, Fred Carpenter, made it plain that the president knew what he was about when he sent the nominations to the senate and that he intended the appointments should stand as they were presented.

Before departing for Danville this noon "Uncle Joe" Cannon called at the White house and it is understood, discussed the misunderstanding concerning the appointments with the president. It was after this call that the information was vouchsafed that the president had nothing to retract or regret in his action.

Lorimer left Washington without making any further effort to see the president, and it also turns out that he did not call upon Senator Cullum. It was only too apparent that this usually bland and even tempered Lorimer was peeved. He radiated gloom to a conspicuous degree, and of this he was not unaware, for several times, while talking to a circle of newspaper men, he stopped and observed:

"What's the matter? This is no funeral you know."

Whether Senator Cullum and Senator Lorimer will be able to keep on good terms with each other remains to be seen. The Lorimer sympathizers are disseminating insinuations that in the matter of mysterious appointments the senior senator "had put one over" on his colleague. They point out with much show of significance the appointments are all those which Senator Cullum desired, anyway.

This is true, but the fact remains that the presentation of the appointments in the senate was as much a surprise to Senator Cullum as to Senator Lorimer, and the senior senator at once called up the department of justice and complained that the nominations had been made without the approval of both senators. It was then that Attorney General Wickersham offered to have the nominations withdrawn.

LANGUAGE OF THE FUTURE.

It must be very gratifying to every American, and indeed, to all who speak English, says the Philadelphia Press, that our language is fast becoming the dominant speech of the world. At the beginning of the nineteenth century, and for a great part of that century, French was the diplomatic language of the nations, but now it has been in great part supplanted by the English tongue, the use of which will continue to grow until in time it will undoubtedly come into common use as the language of international intercourse. At the opening of the last century, French was spoken by about 30,000,000 people and English by about 20,000,000. One hundred years later French-speaking people numbered about 52,000,000, while the English-speaking people numbered over 130,000,000, and doubtless since this century opened a greater disproportion exists. This has been caused not only by the greater increase in population, but by the fact that in many of the great colonies abroad, especially the missionary colonies of the east, notably the Roberts college at Constantinople and Canton, Christian college and others, the English language is a part of the curriculum, and so as the teachings of Christ go to these oriental lands in hand with them goes the speech of the greatest governments in the world, and the nations are growing closer to each other in the more general use of a common language.

THE AGE OF COPPER.

The wonderful increase in the use of electricity in nearly all lines of life, which has been made during the last few years, and which is still increasing even faster than ever, has made such a demand for copper that the age in which we live promises to be known to the future as the age of copper.

The copper output for the last year shows an increase of 35,000 metric tons (12,294,255 pounds) over the world's production of copper for 1908 was almost entirely due to the output of the United States and total production throughout the world for the year amounted to 728,000 tons, the highest known for any one year, according to an authoritative German estimate from the American consular representative at Frankfurt, The United States produced 421,900 tons.

The world's consumption of this metal in 1908 amounted to 381,700 tons, of which 88.3 per cent fell to Europe and 10 per cent to the United States. Germany stood first among European consumers with 150,700 tons and England second, with 128,900 tons.

AN AMERICAN VICTORY.

The engineers and contractors who have just succeeded in piercing the Andes at a height of about 15,000 feet, so that the national railway of Chile and that of the Argentine Republic may be joined to the boundary, have done no more than follow the plans which Henry Meigs 50 years ago laid before the Chilean government, and by means of which he purposed conquering the stupendous difficulties of mountain railway climbing presented by the west front of these mountains, says "Holland," writing in the Philadelphia Ledger.

What is now accomplished is no more than the fulfillment of the first of the great purposes that had in view the construction of a railway from the Pacific to the Atlantic in South America. And as it was an American whose first business life was in New York who had the audacity and the partial triumph which are represented in this national railway of Chile, Henry Meigs, so it has also been in great measure due to American capital and influence that the Andes have been conquered by railway systems.

A puckerless persimmon is the hope of the future. Department of agriculture officials are flinging on a fruit that will not draw the jawbone out of place and yet can be transported a reasonable distance without spoiling. A blending of varieties or treatment by chemical process are the means by which it is expected to eliminate the puckering qualities.

If all the Christmas gifts sent this year by relatives of the United States to families, relatives, dependents and friends in other lands could be consolidated into one general account, and one draft drawn to meet the bill, the amount of the draft would be at least $50,000,000 and probably more.

It is gratifying to read Chairman Mack's predictions of a democratic victory next year, but we wish him to remember that we first launched this prediction the morning after the last great steam roller passed over the prostrate form of our party.—Houston Post.

Supreme Court Justice O'Horman of New York recently declined to hear a separation suit on the ground that it would be a pity to part husband and wife just before Christmas, expressing a hope that their five children would reconcile them before the holidays passed.

The United States consul at Malaga, Spain, reports that American sugar cannot be sold there because there are no buyers and few fires. In some of the essentials of civilization New York might learn from this fine Andalusian example.—New York World.

Zachariah Daniel, the young Princeton student who has discovered three comets, has a name for prophecy. Perchance he can pick out a big democratic luminary for 1912.—Boston Herald.

JOHN BROWN'S BODY.

The fiftieth anniversary of the execution of John Brown has given rise to an unusual amount of discussion concerning the real value of the services of Brown to the liberation of the slaves, and this wholly aside from any suggestion as to the personal character or merits of his plan of attack on Harper's Ferry. Mr. Sanborn of Boston is the sole survivor of those in the confidence of Brown before the raid. He insists that Brown blazed the trail for Abraham Lincoln, and that without him and his raid there would have been no civil war and no emancipation of the slaves. A descendant of William Lloyd Garrison on the other hand, contends that Brown was only a minor factor in the situation and has been much overpraised for his services to the cause of freedom in Kansas and elsewhere.

ANOTHER HOT SHOT AT THE KING

(Springer Stockman.)
Luna, the boss of the republican party in New Mexico, the king of Valencia, declares that he is not responsible for the appointment of Judge Mills as governor of this territory. Had he heard it, glad to hear again that Luna has no strings on the judge, had he heard that Luna's organization did not dictate his appointment. On the other hand, also, Luna's organization opposed the candidacy of Creighton M. Forsaker for United States marshal, recommending T. S. Hubbell of Albuquerque. Luna labored hard at Washington in behalf of Hubbell, but the president could not see it as Luna felt, hence gave Forsaker the job. In the face of the New Mexico opposition, it does not appear like Solomon and as of much force in the national capital even with his organization back of him, for the president turned him down on both propositions. Probably Mr. Taft has been investigating. To doubt he has been in communication with someone else outside the area crowd.

Editorial Sayings; Wise and Otherwise

Big "Pop" Coming.
Immigration officials say a lot of people are coming into New Mexico as a result of the show put on by this territory at Chicago last month. We are glad to know that Clavis and Curry county got their share of advertising out of the deal and expect to profit by it. We had a good reliable Curry county farmer, one who has made a success of his business here, go with the Curry display to Chicago and explain to the "underfooted fellows who came there just what we had in store for them. We look for a great boom of immigration as a result of this very valuable advertising.—Clavis Journal.

Live Too Fast, Says Freddie.
It is gratifying to find that the fight against consumption is winning. Ultimately this dread disease, like others that once were prevalent, will almost cease to be. But, unfortunately, what society gains from science is often neutralized by its own follies. Nervous and mental diseases are on the increase simply because society lives too high and goes all too fast. A pace, hurry, sensationalism, the craving for excitement and pleasures that violate all rules for health are responsible for the alarming increase in sudden deaths, heart failure, nervous breakdown and insanity. If society would but co-operate with science it would gain immensely in health and every other way.—Silver City Enterprise.

Make the Lobsters Pay Up.
It is announced that Governor Curry has called a meeting of district attorneys at Santa Fe on January 6 of next year to consider and discuss the collection of taxes and means and measures to enforce the payment of delinquent taxes. A better collection of delinquent taxes would result in a lower tax rate and that is a consummation devoutly to be wished. Moreover, no citizen who is negligent about paying his taxes has reason to complain if compulsion is exercised in his regard. If he is unwilling to help to maintain the government under which he lives he is entitled to none of the privileges and benefits of that government.—Socorro Chieftain.

WORK BEGINS ON TWO NEW BRIDGES OVER RIO GRANDE

MISSOURI COMPANY ON GROUND WITH MATERIAL

Camp is Pitched on West Bank of River at Barelitas and Work Starts at Once on Big Cement Piers.

The foremen and construction men of the Missouri Valley Bridge and Iron company, which holds the contract for the two new county bridges across the Rio Grande at Barelitas and Corrales, arrived in Albuquerque yesterday and at once began preparation for commencing the work of construction. The cement which is to be used in building the huge cement piers which will support the Barelitas bridge is already on the ground and the iron will begin arriving within a day or two.

It is the intention of the construction company to begin both bridges as soon as possible and to push the work right along as the contract calls for the completed structures by April 1, 1910.

The construction camp was pitched yesterday on the west bank of the river at the end of the old Barelitas bridge. The new bridge is to go in about four feet south of the present one so that traffic over the old bridge will not be obstructed.

The first work will be the sinking of forty feet below low water line. This will then be surrounded by a half-inch steel cylinder, which will be sunk to thirteen feet below low water line and filled with cement. The result will be a solid cement, steel-cased pier which will be strong enough to resist any assault of the river even at times of the strongest flood. There will be sixteen of these piers, supporting as many spans of iron. The structure will be not only the most durable but it is believed the most durable and satisfactory bridge in New Mexico. The Corrales bridge will be of practically the same type. The county pays for the two bridges a total of $81,800. The work will be done under the supervision of County Surveyor W. D. Ogil.

YOUTH IS SHOT IN NECK BY DRUNKEN COMPANION

Porfilio Salazar, Seventeen-Year-Old Boy, Narrowly Escapes Death at Hands of Juan Macias.

Porfilio Salazar, a seventeen-year-old boy who lives with his parents on West Tijeras road, narrowly escaped death at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Juan Macias, twenty-six years old, shot him through the fleshy part of the neck, barely missing a vital spot. Macias fired at Salazar as he came from the side and ploughed through the muscles and tendons, lodging near the spine in the upper part of the shoulder. The wounded boy was carried to the office of Dr. W. G. Hope, who extracted the bullet and dressed the injuries. According to Dr. Hope Salazar is not seriously injured and will recover. Macias immediately after the shooting and will be kept in the city jail pending a preliminary hearing. Macias denied all knowledge of the shooting. No trace of the revolver was found and it is believed that Macias threw it away after the trouble. Several persons witnessed the shooting and have been cited to appear in court when Macias is brought to a hearing. The shooting occurred at the corner of Fourth street and Tijeras road, while Salazar was on his way home. According to Salazar, Macias was intoxicated and attempted to engage in a fight with him. Salazar, however, according to his own story, refused to accommodate Macias with a fist fight, whereupon Macias drew a revolver and fired at him.

SANTA CLAUS GIVES CHILDREN TREAT AT THE GUILD HALL

With his traditional snowy whiskers and furry garments the original Santa Claus visited the guild hall adjoining St. John's Episcopal church last night and made the hearts of a troop of little children happy with various presents and other good things, a blazing Christmas tree being the most attractive feature of the event outside of Santa Claus. The entertainment was a very pretty and enjoyable one, the Rev. Mr. Warren, rector, being the leading spirit in the arrangements. The entertainment was preceded by a short service in the church and was one of the most satisfactory Christmas events of the season both to the children and the old folks.

VENERABLE PIONEER CAPTAIN DRANNAN HERE

Famous Scout Went to California With Fremont in the Days of Yellow Gold and Marauding Hostiles.

Capt. William F. Drannan, commander of Kit Carson and John C. Fremont, one of the few remaining members of the old guard of the frontiersmen who fought the hostiles and battled their way to California in the days of the "Forty-Niners," is in the city. Captain Drannan looks every inch the veteran scout and pioneer, although his once magnificent physique is getting slightly bowed under the burden of seventy-eight years of varied and strenuous activity. The story of Drannan's life as told in his book "Thirty Years on the Plains and in the Mountains" is more fascinating than the most picturesque tale of Fenimore Cooper.

"I was first in Albuquerque," said Captain Drannan in The Morning Journal office yesterday. "In 1848, in the fall, when on my way back from California with General John C. Fremont. Albuquerque was then a collection of Indian adobe at that time, and nothing has proven more interesting to me than to look at this beautiful modern city, all built up within my recollection. It was a different country in those days. When I came to Colorado with Kit Carson in 1847, I doubt if there were more than a score of white men in that territory and not a white woman within five hundred miles. "My recollection of Kit Carson is as clear and distinct as if I had known him but yesterday—a wonderful man, a man whose chief characteristic as I remember him, was his sterling honesty and square dealing."

Captain Drannan, whose home is in Lewiston, Idaho, is traveling around over the west making a living in his own way by selling his book, which never fails to find ready purchasers. Captain Drannan looks the part, with his flowing grey locks, his eagle eye undimmed by the passing of considerably over the allotted three score and ten, and a powerful jaw which speaks eloquently of the determination and cool courage which made him one of the famous scouts of the early days. Drannan was left an orphan at the age of four years. He did not have even the advantages of a common school education, but was full of ambition and when fifteen years old, left his home in Nashville, Tenn., and walked all the way to St. Louis. There, six years ago he met by chance the hardy Kit Carson and the latter was so taken with the boy that he took him with him to the far west on a hunting and trading expedition. Thereafter for more than thirty years he roamed the plains and mountains as hunter, scout and guide, becoming familiar with every nook and corner of the wide west and southwest. He has seen the barren wilderness grow into one of the greatest empires on the globe, a growth in whose early stages he had a stirring and an important part. Captain Drannan will be in the city for a week or more.

COURT COMPLETES SENTENCING OF PRISONERS

Santos Martinez Goes to Penitentiary for Three Years; Commitment Issued in Case of Lucero.

Judge Abbott yesterday completed sentencing of prisoners convicted at the last term of criminal court. Santos Martinez, charged with intent to rape, was sentenced to the penitentiary for not less than two nor more than three years.

Espiridon Lucero, who was yesterday sentenced to 100 days in jail and to pay costs of the case, and in whose case sentence was suspended was committed to jail to serve out the sentence. Sheriff Jesus Romero and Deputy Sheriff Dick Lewis leave this morning for Santa Fe with seven prisoners committed to the penitentiary. Santos Ortiz, sentenced yesterday; Floriano Proffier and Procopio Nunez and others, sentenced Monday, will be among those who will be enrolled on the penitentiary register today and will begin to serve their time. The only case now remaining for sentence is that of John Cornetto, convicted of illegal liquor selling. The sentence in this case will probably be pronounced today.

The court yesterday heard the evidence in the case of Maynard Gansul vs. W. H. Greer and the Albuquerque Traction company, in which Gansul seeks to recover a portion of the stock of the Traction company which it is alleged is due him as part of promotion fees.

Several other minor matters of civil business were taken up during the day.

SAYS UNCLE SAM IS GOING BROKE

Pessimistic Views on Tariff Measure by Texas Congressman; One Case of Prompt Justice in Mexico.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 27.—That the government has empty pockets and will continue to have them for some time as the result of the tariff measure enacted last summer, is the opinion of James L. Slayden, congressman from this district.

"The tariff measure enacted last summer," he said, "is disappointing to its friends as a revenue producer. The deficit since July 1, which is the beginning of the fiscal year, is now about $30,000,000. Practically all the money that the treasury has had on deposit with the national banks has been called in, and the simple fact is that the government is broke, or nearly so. With that condition existing it is clear that rigid economy is necessary."

Mr. Slayden made this statement when asked about improvements the government has in contemplation at Fort Sam Houston.

Pro-Mexico and independent newspapers in the southwest, who have taken up the cudgel in defense of the Mexican government are holding up the Luis Proto case as conclusive evidence that justice in Mexico is not as precarious a condition as some would believe. Some of them even go as far as to say that at least in this instance Mexico did better than the United States would have done.

The case is briefly this: About six months ago Luis Proto, a prominent Senator, was shot and killed from ambush near his home. Investigation showed that justice in Mexico is not as precarious a condition as some would believe. Some of them even go as far as to say that at least in this instance Mexico did better than the United States would have done. The case is briefly this: About six months ago Luis Proto, a prominent Senator, was shot and killed from ambush near his home. Investigation showed that justice in Mexico is not as precarious a condition as some would believe. Some of them even go as far as to say that at least in this instance Mexico did better than the United States would have done.

That the boys in blue at Fort Sam Houston had no kick coming in the matter of Christmas dinner and its trimmings, will be seen from the provisions made by the post quartermaster. Like Napoleon, that worthy seems to be of the opinion that an army travels on its stomach. The following are the items making up the spread at the various company messes:

Turkey, 2,700 pounds; oysters, 500 gallons; cranberries, 228 gallons; pies, 2,000; oranges, 2,700; pineapples, 500; candy, 500 pounds; nuts, 500 pounds; raisins, 500 pounds; ice cream, 175 gallons; coconuts, 200; etc., 1,350 pounds; and in addition, 21,000 round, juicy individuals. In addition to this there is beer and claret, likewise cigars and the material for the demitasse.

Since the post's garrison consists of some 2,000 men, it will be seen that more than a pound of luscious turkey meat went to each soldier. There was likewise a pie for each man, and ten olives to change the taste between the courses.

A Silly Warning. Hardacre—Waal, Maria, these city folks do things outrageously. Mrs. Hardacre—What is it now, H? Mr. Hardacre—Waal, jest look what's pulled up there. "Use for fire only." Now who in all creation could build a fire in a pill? —T.H.H.

HANFORD WINS FAVOR IN HIS NEW MODERN COMEDY ROLE

Interesting Interview With Famous Actor Telling Why He Was Led to Desert Shakespeare for the Modern Play, "The American Lord," in Which He Appears Here, January 10, at Elks' Theater.

Mr. F. Lawrence Walker, manager of Mr. Charles B. Hanford, whose name is a household word with theatergoers, not only in Albuquerque, but throughout the country, arrived in Albuquerque yesterday to conclude arrangements for the appearance of Mr. Hanford in the Elks theater January 10, in his new comedy "The American Lord," a piece which, sharp as is the contrast with the plays Mr. Hanford has presented for years past, is winning him favor everywhere it has been presented.

"It is a little difficult for his old friends to imagine Mr. Hanford in modern comedy after his years of Shakespeare," said Mr. Walker yesterday, "yet we find from the very cordial receptions everywhere and the equally cordial criticisms that he is being received with even more than the enthusiasm which has been accorded him in Shakespearean roles. It is quite true that 'The American Lord' is modern comedy, but it is good comedy and Mr. Hanford, Miss Dornbach and the rest of the cast, an unusually strong one, make the very most of it."

"The American Lord" is the story of a self-made energetic American, John Bruener, a Virginian by birth, and a North Dakotan by adoption, one of those typical characters which are found all through our western country, and who form the bone and sinew of its citizenship. He is the proprietor of a hotel and the owner of a large ranch, the chief of a volunteer fire company, a leading and popular citizen of his town, whose people are enthusiastically determined to send him to congress. At this point he finds himself heir to a title and estates in England. At first his dislike for the aristocracy makes him refuse to accept the lordship, although the rent is $375,000 a year, but finally for the sake of his son, he decides to put aside his prejudices, refuse the nomination for congress and start for England with the determination "to Americanize at least one corner of it" and show the world how an American would run a lordship. Arriving in England he finds that Lord Wycherly, whose estate adjoins his, and the Brueners have been at odds for years, with a lawsuit and a bitter family feud existing between the two. To complicate matters, Lord Wycherly's son falls in love with Bruener's daughter, and Bruener's son with Wycherly's daughter, while John Bruener himself, a widower, becomes a victim to the charms of Mrs. Westbrooke, a widow, sister-in-law of the head of the Wycherly family. The complications that ensue are delightfully amusing and the straightening out of all these affairs, principally by the shrewdness and self-sacrifice on the part of Bruener, furnishes some very entertaining complications. A strong comedy element is introduced by an old negro servant who follows Bruener through the play, and by the visit of two of his Dakota friends, typical characters, to his English estate. There is in the play a vein of satire, which the audience will find delightful. It is full of bright lines, comic situations, and beneath all, a strong foundation for manly and patriotic sentiment."

CHUCK FULL OF NOVEL STUNTS

"Three Twins" Contains Some of Most Spectacular Spectacles Ever Seen on Stage.

Mr. Jos. M. Dalton will offer at the Elks' theater on January 3 the sensational musical comedy, "Three Twins," which had a run of five months at the Whitney opera house in Chicago and one year at the Herald Square theater, New York.

"Three Twins" contains more novel features than any musical comedy that has ever been produced. The facemask is one of the most wonderful electrical effects ever shown on the stage. There are a number of melodious numbers, including "The Yamma Yamma Man," "Hoo Hoo Tee Hee," "Good Night," "Cuddle Up a Little Closer," and many others.

The company is headed by Victor Morley, who created the title role when the piece was first produced at the Whitney opera house in Chicago. Others among the cast are Jessie Clifford, Florence Kohn, W. H. Woodside, Frank Smith, E. P. Bower, Ida Post and a chorus of sixty people.

DEESTRICK SKULE IS REAL SCREAM

Local Talent to Furnish Albuquerque People With Gales of Laughter at Elks' Theater on December 30.

Don't dare to make any other engagement for Thursday night, December 30. You certainly want to close the best year you have had to date with the best and heartiest laugh.

CHARLES B. HANFORD, Favorite of Albuquerque Audiences Who Appears in Elks' Theater on January 10 in "The American Lord."

Enthused Hobson Crane, the old-fashioned schoolmaster, will be there with his bunch of pupils, Abraham, Jeremiah, Hendrick and Marretine, the twins; Hendrick and Pat, Alexander, Prudence and Mary, Patience, Temperance, Susie and Fred, Sarah and Elizabeth, Experience and Sofia Anna, Arabella, Ezra, Martin, Priscilla, Maria Luisa, Matilda Jane and John Henry. Their stupidity, while furnishing side-splitting merriment for the audience, would have wholly discouraged one less devoted to his efforts to "teach the young ideas how to shoot."

The "Last Day of School" is funny beyond compare. It will add to your life many long years and some little to the cause of sweet charity. Tickets, 25 cents; reserved, 10 cents extra; to be had at Matson's.

PRETTY FUNCTION AT THE ALVARADO HOTEL

Miss Mary Rankin Entertains Nearly Two Hundred Guests at Ball and Dinner Last Night.

Nearly two hundred young people were the guests of Miss Mary Rankin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rankin, at a ball and dinner party in the Alvarado hotel last night. The Alvarado has been the scene of numerous brilliant social events in years gone by, but it is doubtful if any of them were planned on a more elaborate scale than last night's event. The dining room of the hotel was used as a ball room and the annex, adjacent to the west veranda was utilized as an emergency dining room. Both rooms were magnificently decorated throughout, the annex being transformed into a veritable fairyland. The entire ceiling was covered with California pepper, the foliage, with red berries, harmonizing with the color scheme, which was red and green.

In the dining room dozens of red electric lights made a pleasing color effect, while on each table a candleburn, with a red shade, was a unique feature of the appointments. Holly wreaths, mistletoe and other holiday decorations were tastefully used, each wreath being tied with a bow of red ribbon.

The ball room was a bower of beauty. More than two hundred and fifty incandescent lights had been installed especially for the occasion. Immense red bells were suspended from the ceiling with green streamers strung from bell to bell. Holly wreaths and mistletoe, with red, white and pink carnations were used throughout the ball room in profusion. The feature of the decoration plan in the ball room, was a palm grove, behind which was concealed a five piece orchestra, which rendered delightful music throughout the evening. The musicians were entirely hidden behind a wealth of magnificent palms.

The guests began to arrive at the hotel at 9 o'clock and were received at the main entrance to the ball room by Miss Rankin and her mother. Dancing was begun at 9:30 and continued until 11 o'clock, when the guests sat down to an elaborate course dinner, at the conclusion of which dancing was resumed and enjoyed until an early hour this morning.

Many beautiful gowns were in evidence at the ball. Miss Rankin, who arrived in Albuquerque only a short time ago from Oshkosh, N. Y., to join her parents here, is a very popular debutante of this season.

HARMONY CLUB IS HOSTESS TO THE TREBLE CLEF CLUB

ODD FELLOWS TO MEET IN NEW TEMPLE

FIRST GATHERING OF LODGE FRIDAY NIGHT

Formal Dedication of Beautiful Fraternal Edifice on South Second Street to Be Held January 14.

Harmony Lodge No. 1, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will hold the first lodge meeting in the beautiful new Odd Fellows' temple on South Second street Friday night, New Year's eve, so that the first day of the year 1910 will see the handsome building practically completed. The formal dedication, which is to be an elaborate ceremony attended by Odd Fellows from all over the territory, will occur on January 14, according to present plans, and will be one of the most noteworthy events in fraternal circles in the history of New Mexico. The new building, completed at a cost of nearly $25,000, is simple in its outlines yet most impressive in appearance, and thoroughly modern throughout, with every convenience for the use of the lodge.

The following program was well rendered from memory by the Harmony club: Duett, "Showers of Stars," Paul Wachs; Misses Alvina LeTarte and Anita Garcia.

The Kelly home was prettily decorated in honor of the occasion, red and green being the feature of the ornamental scheme. The entertainment consisted of various amusements, prizes being awarded to the winners of games and guessing contests. Much was also a feature of the afternoon, the academy girls demonstrating their proficiency in vocal and instrumental music, as well as in elocutionary work. Delicious refreshments were served at five o'clock. The party was delightfully informal and immensely enjoyed by those who attended.

Prototypes of Dr. Cook.

In the December number of Travel and Exploration, Dr. Scott Kettle, the well known secretary of the Royal Geographical society, deals with an interesting topic—namely, fictitious narratives in travel and exploration, of which, perhaps, Baron Munchausen's adventures are a typical example. Dr. Scott Kettle's wide reading has enabled him to give some entertaining examples not known to the general reader. "Some two score years ago there was issued by one of the oldest and most respected publishing houses in England a volume entitled 'Wanderings in the Interior of New Guinea,' by Captain J. A. Lawson. Captain Lawson made extraordinary discoveries and met with wonderful adventures. He found a 'Lake Alexander,' of some eighteen hundred square miles, studded with islands, a 'Mount Hercules,' 27,783 feet, being eight thousand feet higher than Mount Everest, an active volcano, Mount Vulcan, 15,743 feet high, rivers with cataracts rivaling Niagara, gigantic snakes, and enormous birds and other beasts of strange structure. The map of Captain Lawson's route is full of detail and he gives a colored picture of Mount Hercules, rising like a gigantic pyramid far above its fellow mountains. This startling narration of travel in New Guinea was accepted by the press as a publication of a sober and truthful narrative of the facts it was only when E. G. Ravenstein, the distinguished geographer, went carefully over the statements, and showed in the Athenaeum, that they were purely the product of imagination, that 'Captain Lawson's' story was placed in the long list of 'Voyages Imaginaires.' For example he showed that 'Captain Lawson's' own data, his Mount Hercules could not be in the island of New Guinea at all, but hundreds of miles out at sea. It must be said that after the article in the Athenaeum, the publishers withdrew the book from publication."
