AMMUNITION LANDED

American Party With Supplies for Insurgents Succeeded in Entering Western Cuba.

WATCHING FOR THE OREGON

Communication Established with General Delgado—Early Forward Movement by American Forces—Spanish Troops Vacate Smaller Towns.

New York, May 5.—A Key West special says that the party that landed in Santa Clara province was fired upon by the Spanish cavalry in ambush, and a Cuban land force under General Diaz attacked the Spanish, who were 200 strong. The Wilmington shelled the enemy and they were routed. The landing party, comprised a score or more of agents of the Cuban junta, United States commissioner, and General Acosta, together with cavalry horses, arms and ammunition for Acosta's cavalry troop in the western part of Havana province.

It is officially reported that none of the Americans or Cubans of the expedition were killed or wounded.

Spanish Ships Watching for the Oregon.
A Key West special to the Evening Post says: Four Spanish warships are reported off the Barbadoes prepared to intercept the battleship Oregon, and a naval battle is expected. The prize court is sitting in the case of the Panama. Testimony has been taken on the Buena Ventura and Catalina. District Attorney Stripling says there can be no doubt about the Catalina and Panama being condemned.

Revolution in Porto Rico Underway.
A special from Kingston, Jamaica, asserts that official dispatches passing through report that there has been an anti-Spanish uprising in Porto Rico and the revolutionary movement is well underway.

Volunteers Will Go to San Francisco.
San Francisco, May 5.—San Francisco has become a base of importance for naval operations. Before many days 6,000 armed men will be encamped on the Presidio reservation. The 14th United States Infantry, now stationed in the department of Columbia, will take station immediately at San Francisco. It is believed orders have been promulgated to assemble all the companies of the 4th United States cavalry at Presidio. Orders were received yesterday from Major General H. C. Merriam to select location for the encampment of 6,000 volunteers from Oregon, Washington and California.

Communications Established with General Delgado.
Key West, Fla., May 5.—The United States dispatch boat Leyden, sent to Cuba early in the week, returned this morning with four of the six Cuban scouts who left here on a mission last Monday. The scouts landed and communication was established with the insurgent forces under General Pedro Delgado. The Leyden was twice fired upon and she bears bullet marks on the smoke stack. The Spaniards who opened fire were driven back by the insurgents.

West Point Engineers to the Front.
The steamer Alamo from New York, arrived here today having on board detachment of 100 engineers from West Point.

Plans for Early Forward Movement.
Tampa, Fla., May 5.—Colonel Lawton, of General Shafter's staff, has sailed for Key West, it is believed, to map out plans for an early forward movement.

Auxiliary Cruiser St. Paul in Service.
Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—The auxiliary cruiser St. Paul, with Captain Sigbee on the bridge, sailed today. Contrary to the announcement at Cramps shipyard that the St. Paul would stop at League Island navy yard for ammunition, the big cruiser proceeded straight down the Delaware river and anchored at a deep water point near Newcastle, Del. It is presumed the St. Paul will take on ammunition in Delaware bay off Bombay Hook at the same time the reserves coal. The alleged Spanish spy caught on the St. Paul was put ashore just before the cruiser sailed, as the evidence against him was not deemed sufficient to make a case. It is believed she will do scout duty along the middle Atlantic states.

Spanish Vacating Points in Eastern Cuba.
Kingston, Jamaica, May 5.—Manuel Carrer, a Manzanillo merchant, who has just arrived by the schooner Governor Blake, says that General Pando has ordered all garrisons in eastern Cuba to concentrate in Manzanillo, Nuevitas, Guantanamo and Santiago de Cuba. All other places have been vacated.

Report Unfounded.
Vallejo, Calif., May 5.—It was reported here this morning that Admiral Kirkland had received a cipher telegram from Washington, stating that 300 men had been killed and wounded on the Baltimore during the battle at Manila. Admiral Kirkland was seen by an Associated Press correspondent regarding the report, and was informed that no such message had been received.

PRINCE KOUNG NOT DEAD.

After Lying in State of Unconsciousness for Several Days the Chinese Official Revived.

Peking, China, May 5.—An extraordinary official announcement was made today that Prince Kung, president of the Chinese foreign office, reported to have died on Monday night, is alive. It seems he lapsed into unconsciousness and the Chinese doctors pronounced him dead, but the prince has since awakened. His condition is said to be still critical.

ORDERED TO TAMPA.

Twenty-fifth Infantry Ordered to Move from Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 5.—Orders have been received from the War department that the 25th Infantry, Colonel Burt commanding, be sent immediately to Tampa.

A Peculiar Meeting.

Havana, May 5.—The recently elected Cuban deputies assembled yesterday to effect an organization.

The Cuban congress elected under the autonomist government, was formally opened today with great ceremony. Captain General Blanco made a speech in which he said that if the declaration of the United States had been sincere, its guns today ought to be saluting the first Cuban parliament instead of threatening the lives of its members.

RIOTING SPANIARDS

Popular Revolution Feared—Disturbances Caused by High Price and Scarce Food.

SPANISH DYNASTY DOOMED

General Weyler and Senor Romero y Robledo Coming to the Front—Nation is Crossed with Military Fever—Future Gloomy.

Paris, May 5.—It is said here that negotiations are pending between the United States and Great Britain, by which the latter will support the former if other powers intervene in favor of Spain. The United States, it is added, has promised to capture the Canary islands and cede them to Great Britain.

Madrid, May 5.—Eight thousand striking miners made a tumultuous demonstration at Murela, capital of the province of that name. They shouted "Death to thieves" and "Down with taxes." They attempted to fire the railroad depot and other buildings, and then began a movement toward Carthage. A strong force of troops prevented the rioters moving on the port. Disturbances are also threatened at Carthage, where martial law has been proclaimed. Similar scenes are feared at Oviedo and Leon, and other towns where the factory hands have struck work. Strikers are parading, demanding cheap bread and stoning houses. The steps taken by the authorities have resulted in restoration of peace at Murela, where the British steam yacht, Lady of Clemell, was recently stoned and driven out of the harbor. It appears that the Malaga mob thought it was an American vessel.

Popular Revolution Brewing.

Troops are held in the barracks ready to march against the mob or revolutionists. The cavalry and infantry patrol streets from nightfall to sunrise. All public buildings are crowded with foot and mounted police. The chief fear is of a popular revolution, which everybody can see is brewing. If the national feeling runs too high against Senors Sagasta and Moret, who really are in the most danger, the queen will probably ask Marshal Campos to form a government for the defense of the monarchy. The disturbances caused by the high price and scarcity of food, continued in the provinces today. There have been frequent conflicts between the rioters and civil guards, and looting and shootings are reported from various points. At Barcelona there has been a renewed run on the bank by holders of notes demanding silver.

Exports of Food Products Prohibited.

The bill introduced in the cortes to prohibit the exportation of corn, flour, rye, maize, potatoes and fruits, and suppressing the duty on the importation of those articles is intended as a checkmate to speculators in the provinces today. There have been frequent conflicts between the rioters and civil guards, and looting and shootings are reported from various points. At Barcelona there has been a renewed run on the bank by holders of notes demanding silver.

Island of Navassa Threatened With Famine.

Owing to the war demonstrations in near-by waters, the island of Navassa, a small island in the Caribbean sea off the west coast of Hayti is threatened with a food famine. Senator Thurman today called the attention of the president to the necessity for relief. There is represented to be about 70 Americans on the island, mostly from Maryland. The president promised to take the matter up immediately.

Conflicting Reports Concerning Admiral Sampson's Fleet.

No confirmation is obtainable of the various reports concerning the movements of Admiral Sampson's fleet. Persons who from official positions held, might be supposed to share the confidence of the administration are credited with the statement that the admiral has gone to seize Porto Rico. It is asserted with almost equal positiveness that the fleet has gone to meet the Oregon and bring her safely north. Still another report is to the effect that the admiral has gone to seize Matanzas to be used as a base of operations. Officials refuse absolutely to make public the plan of the strategy board. A significant movement is the addition of the warship New Orleans to Commodore Schley's squadron at Hampton Roads, in place of the Columbia. Without being

Safe Arrival of Troops Announced.

Madrid May 5.—It was announced officially today that the Spanish steamer Alfredo XIII, said to have troops and a valuable cargo on board, had arrived at Porto Rico.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

Bond Feature of War Revenue Bill May Be Defeated in Senate—Hawaiian Annexation—House Passed Labor Arbitration Bill.

Washington, May 5.—The senate committee on finance was not in session today, having adjourned until tomorrow to permit the Democratic members to prepare a substitute for the bond provision of the revenue bill. There is no doubt there is a majority against the bond feature, as Senator Jones of Nevada, has taken a position against it. Senator Wolcott has indicated that he will oppose it if an acceptable substitute can be secured. The Republican members, with the exception of Mr. Wolcott, were in conference over the situation several hours today.

The amendment by Mr. Stewart was that no part of the sum appropriated for star route service should be paid to any sub-contractor and that the postmaster general shall require affidavits from the contractors themselves, that they did the work was agreed to. The senate voted, without division, to limit the number of deliveries of mail in cities to four times daily.

Hawaiian Annexation Resolution.

The house committee on foreign affairs today discussed the Hawaiian annexation resolution, but took no definite action, adjourning until next Tuesday. It is claimed a majority favors the resolution.

Postoffice Appropriation.

In the senate, consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill was begun. The amount carried by the bill as it passed the house was $99,122,300. As reported to the senate it carried $13,000 more.

In the House.

The house has agreed to the conference report on the general Alaskan homestead and right-of-way bill.

Labor Arbitration Bill Passed.

After some discussion the labor arbitration bill passed the house.

NO NEWS OF DEWEY

Because of Cut Cable No Report Has Been Received of Battle at Manila.

PORTO RICO WILL BE TAKEN

Conflicting Reports Concerning Movement of Admiral Sampson's Fleet—Anxiety Over Possible Danger to Asiatic Fleet at Manila.

Washington, May 5.—Despite the hourly expectation of an official dispatch from Commodore Dewey, via Hong Kong, there were no important advices at the White house up to 11 o'clock. Persons who saw the president today assert that there is strong likelihood that Porto Rico will be in the hands of the United States within 48 hours. An immediate seizure of the island, they asserted, has been ordered, although direct confirmation is lacking.

Impossible to Receive Any News Today.

Government officials have about concluded that there is little prospect of receiving news from Commodore Dewey directly during the day, though there is a possibility that a merchant vessel may have reached Hong Kong from the Philippines bringing in some news of the battle and subsequent events in Manila. The cable is supposed to be cut somewhere between its landing place in the island at Luzon-Point Bolina and Manila and beyond the reach of Commodore Dewey.

Presuming that a dispatch boat sailed at the earliest moment after the bombardment Monday evening allowing three days for the passage, a ship is not due at Hong Kong or Marseilles until tonight. It is already night by our time at either place. Delays would occur before the receipt of the cable here through the many relay stations, so it is thought there is little chance of official news coming in during the daylight hours.

Porto Rico to Be Taken.

Senator Burrows, after seeing the president today, said: "Everything is moving along smoothly and well. What we want now is Porto Rico. We ought to have that tomorrow."

Impossible for News to Come by Way of San Francisco.

Officials of the Navy department are thoroughly indignant at the stories coming from San Francisco as to authentic accounts of the engagement had by Commodore Dewey at Manila. Captain Crowninshield, chief of the navigation bureau, declared that it is impossible for news from the fleet to come in any such fashion, and added that the department's facilities for the receipt of information from Commodore Dewey's squadron were superior to those of any individual.

Island of Navassa Threatened With Famine.

Owing to the war demonstrations in near-by waters, the island of Navassa, a small island in the Caribbean sea off the west coast of Hayti is threatened with a food famine. Senator Thurman today called the attention of the president to the necessity for relief. There is represented to be about 70 Americans on the island, mostly from Maryland. The president promised to take the matter up immediately.

Conflicting Reports Concerning Admiral Sampson's Fleet.

No confirmation is obtainable of the various reports concerning the movements of Admiral Sampson's fleet. Persons who from official positions held, might be supposed to share the confidence of the administration are credited with the statement that the admiral has gone to seize Porto Rico. It is asserted with almost equal positiveness that the fleet has gone to meet the Oregon and bring her safely north. Still another report is to the effect that the admiral has gone to seize Matanzas to be used as a base of operations. Officials refuse absolutely to make public the plan of the strategy board. A significant movement is the addition of the warship New Orleans to Commodore Schley's squadron at Hampton Roads, in place of the Columbia. Without being as speedy as first organized. Admiral Schley's squadron is probably more able to meet, on even terms at least, the formidable Spanish armored cruisers which have sailed from Cape Verde for an unknown destination. It is possible that Admiral Schley is about to start in quest of the Spanish squadron.

Important If True.
Chicago, May 5.—A special to the Journal, from Washington says the fear that Commodore Dewey may be bottled up in Manila harbor is gaining ground. The entrance to Manila bay is through a channel planted with mines. Commodore Dewey passed through these in the night and no opportunity was given the Spaniards to fire them. Now if he has not forced the surrender of the city and gained control of the switch board used in firing the submerged explosives an attempt to leave the harbor by any of the ships composing the Asiatic squadron would be met by an attack from the mines.

CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET.

Prices on May and July Deliveries Fluctuated Several Points.

Chicago, April 5.—After a strong beginning today, the wheat market turned weak and settled back to yesterday's closing prices. May wheat established another record, opening at $1.37, 7 cents above yesterday's close. Four quotations sufficed to bring it down to $1.31, however. July wheat bid up to $1.09½, then it fell to 86½, rallying to 92½.

May wheat rose 50 cents today, and closed at $1.50 per bushel, the highest point since 1888. Excitement during the closing hour was intense. Great was the wheat famine abroad, it was found to be equally as scarce in Chicago. When the bears tried cover Letter announced that he had sold 2,000,000 bushels of No. 2 red wheat to a French syndicate at $1.47 per bushel. The pit raiders were stampeded, July rushed up to $1.03, May jumped 1, 3 and 3 cents between trades to $1.50, and closed there. July fell back to $1.02½, closing at that, a net gain of 3½ cents as compared with a net gain of 30 cents May.

THE FRUIT CANNERY.

The Santa Fe Railway Will Help Along—Letter from Vice President Morton.

Ex-Governor L. Bradford Morton, who is working hard to make the proposed canning factory in this city a success, a few days since addressed a letter to the management of the Santa Fe railway concerning the matter, asking all legitimate aid for the proposed enterprise. The following letter received this morning from Mr. Paul Morton, the energetic and sagacious vice-president of the road, who has industrial matters in charge, is as good as could be asked. The Santa Fe road will do all in its power to grant the aid asked:

THE A. T. & S. F. RAILWAY SYSTEM, Third Vice-President's Office, Chicago, May 2, 1898.

Hon. L. Bradford Prince, Santa Fe, N. M.

My Dear Governor: Your letter of April 23, received, stating that certain parties in Santa Fe are endeavoring to start a cannery and evaporating works for the purpose of using the surplus fruit products, etc. We sincerely hope that this industry will be established and it is with pleasure that we promise to give it all the help in the way of freight rate consideration that it can reasonably expect of us.

I fully appreciate the importance of enterprises of this kind to your vicinity and looking at it from an entirely selfish point of view, I do not see how we can at any time fail to give our co-operation to a plant of this kind.

What this company needs in New Mexico is more people and industries of all kinds to give them employment. I hope you are making some headway with your sugar beet factory. Yours very truly, PAUL MORTON.

THURSDAY, MAY 5.

"The finest body of men ever assembled in New Mexico are now in Santa Fe ready to go to the front in the war with Spain."—Albuquerque Citizen.

The above is a fact. That's all. This country is doing humanity and civilization a great and glorious service in bringing to a close the awful sufferings of the many starving thousands of unfortunates in Cuba.

In appointing Messrs. Simon Nusbaum and J. B. Mathews postmasters at Santa Fe and Roswell respectively the president has greatly pleased the citizens of the cities named.

The subscription list for the purchase of a flag for the New Mexico battalion of volunteers is growing and growing. It will close very soon. All credit to the patriotic women and men who have contributed to this noble project.

The time for peace talk in churches, in universities and in lecture rooms is over. The sole and supreme duty of the hour is to stand by the country. All true Americans, native or naturalized, will do so. The citizen of this country who does not do so, is a traitor and should be dealt with accordingly.

By tomorrow evening New Mexico's quota of volunteers will be fully recruited and in shape to start for the regimental rendezvous at San Antonio, Tex. The four troops furnished by this territory consist of first class material. This is creditable alike to the territory and to the volunteers. Let it be recorded.

The Albuquerque Citizen has this to say of Mr. Alexander's appointment as district attorney for Socorro county:

"On Saturday last, Governor Otero appointed Hon. Silas Alexander as district attorney for Socorro county, vice H. M. Dougherty, resigned. The new appointee was formerly secretary of the territory and ranks high in his profession in this territory."

In another column the New Mexican publishes a letter from Mr. Paul Morton, vice president of the Santa Fe railway, concerning the establishment of the fruit canning factory in this city. The letter is self explanatory and is proof that the Santa Fe management of the road will do all in its power to help the greatly needed enterprise in every possible way. The fruit cannery here will and must be a success. Every public spirited citizen should aid the project with all possible means and for the property owners, merchants, fruit growers and tax payers it is a matter of self protection and self-interest to help in every conceivable shape.

EUROPEAN news indicate that French sympathies are undoubtedly very strongly with Spain in the present war with this country with that kingdom. This is not because the French people know anything of the situation or because they believe Spain is right in the fight but seems to be based upon the fact that the English people as a rule are Americans in their sympathies, and that seems to raise the issue of Anglo-Saxon against Latin civilization. France was unceremoniously hustled out of North America over a century ago, and Spain is now following her. Between them France and Spain at one time boasted the possession of this entire hemisphere, save a narrow strip along the Atlantic seaboard, where the English obtained a foothold. They represented Latin civilization, and both are now played out, so far as this part of the world is concerned. The French feeling is natural.

Simon Nusbaum, Postmaster.

As good a piece of news as Santa Fe has received for some time was that of the appointment of Simon Nusbaum to be postmaster of this city. This appointment was one that had been strongly recommended by the best and leading citizens of this city and indeed by all those desiring a competent official and an honest and proper man in that important office. Mr. Nusbaum's political support was also very powerful Governor Otero and Judge A. L. Morrison of the board of referees, to whom postoffice appointments are referred, indorsed and urged the appointment as eminently correct and good.

Mr. Nusbaum was born in Harrisburg, Pa., and educated in Philadelphia, where he received a thorough business education. He is a skilled accountant and book-keeper. In fact one of the best in the southwest. He has been a resident of New Mexico for 20 years and for 18 years a citizen of Santa Fe, and has held several positions of trust and importance in big business establishments, in this territory and in eastern cities, in all of which positions he acquitted himself well with great credit, and to the fullest satisfaction of his employers.

In politics, Mr. Nusbaum is a staunch Republican and has done yeoman service for his party during his long residence in the territory. He was deputy postmaster for four years in this city and deputy internal revenue collector under Collector L. A. Hughes, making in those positions a most excellent official record.

His appointment is very pleasing and satisfactory to the community and his character, ability, business experience and past record are proof absolute that he will make a first-class, efficient, courteous, painstaking and honest official.

Telegraphic News.

Fully appreciating the deep interest taken in the war between this country and Spain by the people of New Mexico, the NEW MEXICAN began more than two weeks ago to make arrangements to secure a much larger telegraphic report than it ordinarily received. For reasons already stated, it was at first impossible to secure the desired service, but at last all obstacles have been overcome, and so long as the war lasts this paper will furnish its readers with all the important happenings of the struggle, the political news of both hemispheres, and the usual general items of interest of the United States.

This additional telegraphic news makes additional expense and work, but the NEW MEXICAN does business on the principle that nothing is too good for its subscribers and patrons. The one object this paper has in its existence is the advancement of New Mexico and the people who are so fortunate as to dwell therein; and there is no surer way to accomplish that object than to give the territory the best paper published in the southwest. That the NEW MEXICAN can conscientiously claim to be the best, there can be no question, readers and subscribers are unanimous in pronouncing it to be such, and that is proof sufficient.

From these things but one conclusion can be drawn: If you want the news, subscribe for and read the NEW MEXICAN.

The New Roswell Postmaster.

In the appointment of Mr. J. B. Mathews of Roswell to be postmaster of that city, the services of a very good and exemplary citizen and a hard-working and energetic Republican have been recognized by the administration and the appointment is very satisfactory to the community. Mr. Mathews was strongly indorsed by citizens generally regardless of politics and also by the leading Republicans of his county, by the Republican territorial committee and the board of referees of postoffice appointments in the territory.

The new postmaster is a native of Tennessee, where he was born May 5, 1847. He is a farmer and stock-raiser by occupation. He served with credit during the war in company M, 5th Tennessee cavalry. He went west in 1867 to Colorado where he remained until 1868, coming thence to Elizabethtown in this territory, then a very flourishing mining camp. He remained there until 1873 when he removed to Lincoln county and went into the stock-raising business, in which business he has been ever since. He is a staunch Republican and has fought many a hard fight for his party in that Democratic stronghold. Indeed he has been a Republican leader in that section when it was dangerous and worth a man's life to be a Republican. He is the general manager of the Pensacola Cattle company, but resides in Roswell.

Mr. Mathews is greatly liked and respected in his home city and will prove a first-class official from every standpoint and in every respect.

What the Flag for New Mexico's Volunteers Means.

The promptitude with which the people of New Mexico have responded to the New Mexican's call for funds to provide the volunteers from the territory with a flag is highly commendable. The object is most worthy, and each contribution is a touching testimonial in appreciation of the bravery displayed by the gallant boys who enlisted for the purpose of protecting the honor of the nation with their lives. It is a mark of superb patriotism and unswerving loyalty on the part of the donors and a God speed to glory for the recruits.

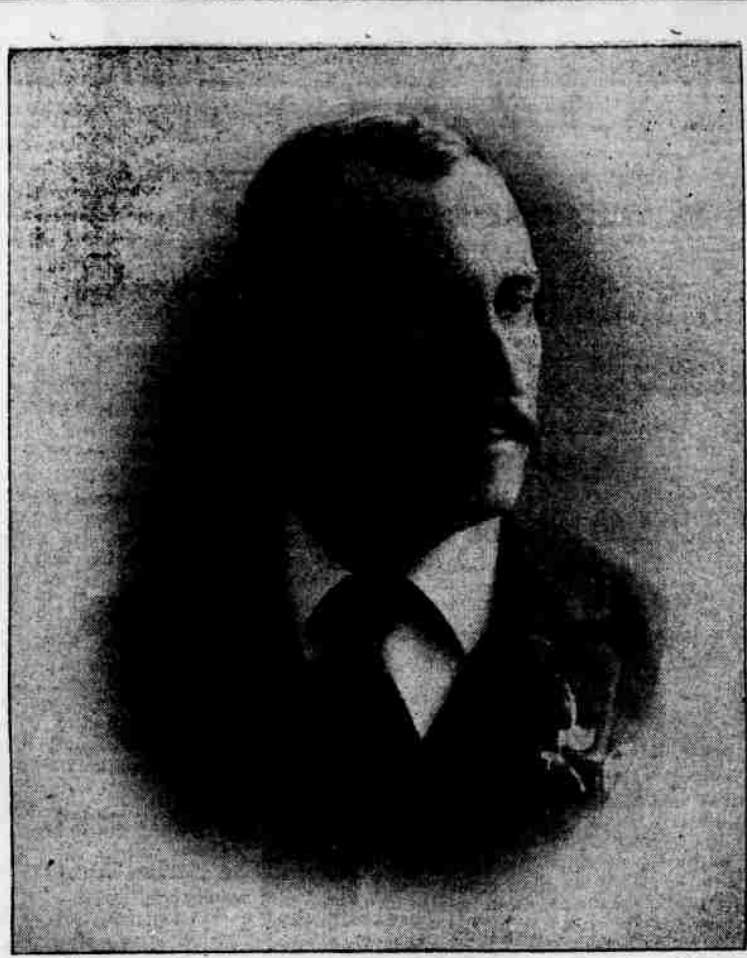

No sordid motives prompt the volunteers to seek the field. Their country calls.

"A blast of bugles through the land
"To horse! the call, the roll and cheer.
"A loosening of hands from hand;
"A tread of feet; a kiss so dear!
"A father's clasp, a mother's prayer,
"A row hid in the knapsack there."

They go. The cheerless fire-side mourns them. Grief stricken parents, disconsolate sweethearts and apprehensive friends, pray for them. For through today the air resounds with shouts of victory and the symbol of peace protrudes from hideous war clouds, fate's destined portion for tomorrow is unknown. The fearless band, who march away from all that is near and dear to them now, may never return. They enter a campaign of merciless horror, but their mission is more noble than crusader ever forwarded by waging holy war against an infidel race. They fight for humanity's sake, and will aid in wresting an outraged people from barbarous oppressors. They will avenge the wrongs of suffering men, women and children and will punish the cold-blooded murderers of American seamen.

Perchance but a tattered, bleeding remnant of the command will return from some gory battle field; but those who fall to answer at the roll call will enter the realms of eternal peace only after emblazoning their names in letters of blood on the scroll of immortal heroism.

The beautiful emblem of independence presented by the appreciative and patriotic people of New Mexico will shine resplendent with the bravery of

W. H. H. LLEWELLYN,
Captain New Mexico Battalion 1st U. S. Volunteers.

its acceptors and from its resting place in the new capital building after the close of the war, will reflect a hallowed remembrance in the halls of everlasting glory.

COWBOY REGIMENTS

Colonel Wood's Indian Fighting Record—After Geronimo and the Apache Kid.

TENDERFOOT TED ROOSEVELT

Regiments to Serve in Cuba—Kind of Men Wanted—Ride Hard, Shoot Straight, Fight and Obey.

(From the New York Tribune.)

Washington, April 30.—Reports were received at the War department today from various points of the west, showing the rapidity with which the three Rocky Mountain regiments of riflemen are being recruited, and the indications are that at least one of them, that to be commanded by Dr. Leonard Wood, with Theodore Roosevelt as lieutenant colonel, will rendezvous at San Antonio, Tex., within the next ten days, ready to rush to Cuba from Galveston before May 15. Dr. Wood, as well as Jay L. Torrey, who will command the second regiment, have established headquarters in the War department, where several clerks are constantly sending and receiving telegrams to the enlisted officers from the Rio Grande north, while Attorney General Griggs of South Dakota, who has been designated to command the third regiment, has started for the northwest to concentrate his forces there.

Interest here centres chiefly in Wood's command, on account of the intense individuality, energy and aggressiveness of its two lieutenants, Wood and Roosevelt. Every one of the 1,000 men who will follow them in the Cuban campaign is personally known to them, and every man, they are certain, will come up to the four essential requirements—ability to ride hard, shoot straight, fight and obey. Lieutenant Colonel Roosevelt said today that every man would be enlisted strictly for business.

DR. WOOD AS A FIGHTER.

Dr. Wood has excited the admiration of every one in Washington, and is easily the lion of the day. During the last year his principal fame has been made as the president's family physician. Mrs. McKinley's health having undergone a remarkable improvement through his professional skill. He is a quiet, unassuming man, and apparently devoted to peaceful pursuits; but from the moment war became inevitable his whole demeanor changed, and although he has said little of what he expects to do, being particularly averse to advertising, he has developed into the remarkable soldier he had already shown himself to be in the far west before he came to Washington. His career there was a continuous succession of military exploits of daring. The congressional medal of honor he holds testifies to his courage and devotion to duty.

In 1896 he was a surgeon in the regular army, ranking as captain, and connected with the 8th Infantry. Geronimo, the Apache, was making a track across the southwest marked with the blood of women and children and the horrible murders of unprotected settlers. The 8th Infantry was wiped out officers of rank, but Wood took command of ready detachments of the peerless 8th and took up the Indian's trail. For 2,400 miles he hung on it through the worst country on the face of the earth. Hunger, thirst, miseries untold, were the lot of that gallant band, and Wood shared all, like any private in the ranks. The trials and tribulations of that 2,400 miles were forgotten in the triumph at the end of it, when Geronimo and his band of renegades were captured.

Wood took the band into Texas and had barely placed it in custody when he was called upon to carry his men on another awful journey. It was after Apaches again. A band of them equally as murderous as Geronimo's, and owning him, too, as chief, was the prey pursued. Wood drove them far into Old Mexico, through country civilized feet had never trod before, until they disappeared in the mysterious mountains south of the Yaqui river. For years they never dared to come back into United States territory, but the recent killing of settlers on the Mexican border is attributed to them.

CAPTURE OF APACHE KID.

In 1898 Wood was again called on to exercise his courage and unyielding determination in relieving the west of another terror. This time the notorious Apache Kid, worse even than Geronimo, was the object of pursuit. Wood and his men, captured the Kid and the government sentimentally, which had spared Geronimo's worthless life, again came to the rescue of as infernal a scoundrel as ever murdered women and children, and Apache Kid was sent to a California island. Of course he escaped, and at intervals since then he has followed his old custom of murdering innocent people wherever he found them.

Since his activity in Indian fighting, for which, as stated, congress awarded him a medal of honor, Colonel Wood has been on duty in California, and afterwards in Georgia. His selection as colonel of the mounted regiment of riflemen was made at the suggestion of Mr. Roosevelt, to whom the command was first tendered by President McKinley. Mr. Roosevelt told the president that he did not have the military experience requisite to command the regiment, but that he would like nothing better than to serve as second in command to Leonard Wood.

Roosevelt and Wood, with tastes in warm and congenial sympathy, are both athletes of remarkable ability, and a good story is told of the pranks they played in the first journey. He carried Wood and Roosevelt over a dusty, flat country for 35 miles, but both were "chipped" and ready to go through the Washington Assembly dances when they got home and had taken a bath. Wood led the next tramp, and carried the pair across country in approved hare and hounds fashion. The foreigner had probably never plodded over such a diversity of terrain before, and he barely managed to survive. Roosevelt, too, was leg-weary indeed.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S RECORD.

Mr. Roosevelt's record at his ranch in Montana has proved his courage and ability to take care of himself in a most emphatic manner. When he first started his ranch it was concluded among the rough elements which surrounded him that a "tenderfoot" had no business in that section. Roosevelt proved his right to locate by thoroughly thrashing several powerful bullies, despite their reputations as "gun players," and today there is not a man in the west more universally respected, admired and popular than "Tenderfoot Ted," as the Montana ranchers call him.

The regiment these two daring men will lead will be a small one, composing not more than 1,000 men, who are being picked from no less than 3,500 ready and resolute volunteers, every one of whom is eager and anxious to be included in the muster-in. In the entire 1,000 there will not be a man who is not capable of riding anything with horsehair and four legs on it, from a cross-country Corinthian hunter to a bucking bronco, and in addition to this every one will be able to hit a tent peg three times out of five with a Colt's 45 from the back of a horse going at a full run. Will they fight? Yes, sooner than eat their rations; and behind the gallant Wood and Roosevelt they'll show the truth of this in 100 heroic ways. There has been a tendency shown in the press to refer to the mounted riflemen as the "Cowboy Regiment." Probably every man in it, notwithstanding his abilities as a "cow-puncher," would be as much at home and at ease in a dress coat and an opera hat as he would be with a flannel shirt around him and a sombrero flapping its brim over his eyes.

Too Much Knife!

The use of the surgeon's knife is becoming so general, resulting fatally in such a large number of cases, as to occasion general alarm.

Mr. William Walpole, of Walsworth, South Dakota, writes: "About three years ago, there came under my left eye a little blotch about the size of a small pea.

It grew rapidly, and shooting pains ran in every direction. I became alarmed and consulted a good doctor, who pronounced it cancer, and said that it must be cut out. This I would not consent to, having little faith in the ing of the many cures made by S. S. S. I determined to give that medicine a trial, and after I had taken it a few days, the cancer became irritated and began to discharge. This after awhile ceased, leaving a small scab, which finally dropped off, and only a healthy little scar remained to mark the place where the destroyer had held full sway.

A Real Blood Remedy.

Cancer is in the blood and it is folly to expect an operation to cure it. S. S. S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) is a real remedy for every disease of the blood. Books mailed free; address Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

184 separate analysis, chiefly carload lots, showed AN AVERAGE of 17.01 per cent sugar in beets; 84.1 per cent purity.
THIS REMARKABLE RESULT was accomplished by raw farmers, unacquainted with the culture of beet root, on new land and under very trying circumstances, as the factory was not assured until May, and a majority of the acreage was planted between JUNE 1st AND AUGUST 10th.
GOOD SOIL makes the seed germinate.

International Arbitration.
At the Geneva Conference to arrange international disputes, there was strenuous advocacy on the part of the United States and other powers in favor of the settlement of national differences as to boundaries, port customs duties, etc., by an international court and not by the bloody arbitration of war. But like many other subjects, reasonable enough in their origin, it has died out of men's minds. But there is a theme of comment, and that is the incomparable fine effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in cases of dyspepsia. Nor does the world and his wife comment less favorably upon the excellent effects of the Bitters in cases of chills and fever, rheumatism, nervous and kidney complaints and constipation.

A Painful Excuse.
The following letter, which was recently picked up in the street, is full of homely pathos:

They Don't Have to.
Why is it that the plain girls are always the ones who learn to cook and make their own clothes?
Oh, that's easily explained. The pretty ones always know they don't need to.

Many old soldiers now feel the effects of the hard service they endured during the war. Mr. Geo. S. Anderson, of Rossville, York county, Penn., who saw the hardest kind of service at the front, is now frequently troubled with rheumatism. "I had a severe attack lately," he says, "and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It did so much good that I would like to know what you would charge me for one dozen bottles." Mr. Anderson wanted it both for his own use and to supply it to his friends and neighbors, as every family should have a bottle of it in their home back, sprains, swellings, cuts, bruises and burns, for which it is unequalled. ## QUAD'S QUEER TALES.

A Missing Brother.

The only passenger who got off the evening train at Jackson's Valley came up to the shanty hotel, in front of which a dozen of us were sitting after supper. Taking a vacant chair and lighting his pipe, he said to the postmaster next to him:

"About six weeks ago my brother Ben started from Laurel Hill for this place. He got here all right, but I can't find what became of him afterward. Hev you hung anybody lately?"

"We are hangin' somebody every three or four days," replied the postmaster. "Let's see! This is Tuesday. I think we hung a chap last Friday—yes, I know we did."

"If my brother Ben was hung, it was several weeks ago. Ben was a big fellow, with a sort of humped back, and he had a sort of roar in his voice when he spoke."

"Would he give us any excuse to hang him?"

"I think he would. Bein in a strange town and wantin' to show off, he'd go around bluffin' everybody. Brother Ben is great on the bluff."

"But would he shoot or do anything of that sort?" asked the postmaster.

"I never knowed him to, but he might. Bluff was his great holt, but it's jest possible that he might hev shot at somebody to back it up. Try and think if you hung him."

"Let's see—let's see! Big man—big voice—humped back—great hand to bluff? Did his toes turn in?"

"Yes, they did."

"And when he roared, he sort of winded one eye?"

"That's Ben to a dot."

"Two front teeth gone and a scar on his cheek?"

"Exactly. You must hev seen brother Ben."

"Yes, I have. We hung that man five or six weeks ago, and his grave is up on the hill. He bluffed around here for three or four days and was finally ordered off. He didn't go, and so we hung him."

"And did he die easy?" asked the stranger.

"Purty easy, if I remember right."

"Hev much to say?"

"Not much. Said he'd like to see his brother Jim once more, I think."

"That's me. So he's hung and buried, eh?"

"Yes, hung and buried. No hard feelings, I hope?"

"Oh, none 'tall. I was jest inquirin', you know, and been satisfied that it was my brother Ben and been willin' to believe that the durned kuss deserved what he got. I guess I'll go in and get some supper and then jog along back."

No Dodging There.
He had been home for weeks, but was still indignant. He had put in three days at the summer resort, he said, when his indignation became so great that he called for his bill and said to the landlord:

"I believe you advertised magnificent scenery up here?"

"Yes, sir, I did," was the prompt reply.

"With good fishing in the lake?"

"With good fishing, sir."

"And pure air and no mosquitoes?"

"That's it, sir. That's the way the advertisement reads."

"And flies unknown?"

"And flies unknown."

"And you guaranteed the location free from malaria?"

"Yes, sir, I did."

"And, sir," continued the guest, "you advertised that your table was unsurpassed, your rooms large and airy, and that everybody would be made to feel at home."

"Exactly, sir. Yes, all that is in my advertisement. Is there anything wrong, sir?"

"I should say there was! Where is the scenery?"

"There is none in particular."

"And the fish?"

"Never knew of one being caught here."

"And there are thousands of flies and mosquitoes."

"True, sir, true."

"And your table is poor, your rooms stuffy, and there's nothing homelike about the place."

"That's true, sir—all true."

"Then you admit that you lied about it?" asked the guest.

SPRING MILLINERY.

Latest Developments in Headwear For Warm Weather.

There is a great variety shown in the new models of hats. First as a novelty come the turbans of silk, mousseline de sole, crepe de chine or tulle, to say nothing of straw. These are twisted in regular turban style and are lifted on the left side by a cluster of feathers, flowers, ribbons or other trimming. One turban is of gold colored—twisted and folded and veiled in—teichiffon with black chenille dots of various sizes. Another is of twists of mousseline de sole in two shades of violet.

Then there are toques made entirely of flowers. A very pretty thing in this style!

STRAW HAT.

Is composed of glossy ivy leaves and red berries, a daring array of scarlet satin being placed at the left side. Toques of violets of one or more shades are also very attractive.

Hats having a straw brim and a soft crown of silk, crepe or mousseline de sole are new. Sometimes the crown is of Roman striped silk, but the prettiest are of shirred or gathered mousseline. A hat of this style had the crown entirely surrounded by a sort of hedge of upright plumage, but the effect, although odd, was not pleasing.

Hats all of blue or all of purple promise to have a certain vogue, although they are very trying to most women.

Gray is coming to the front as a spring millinery color and is seen in all shades, trimmed with itself, with color, with white, black or steel. Gray hats are charming with a clear, rosy skin, but are bad for sallow and pale persons.

The out illustrates a hat of ruby red English straw. The brim is lined with folds of ruby mousseline de sole, and on each side of the crown and under the brim are large ruby poppies. At the back is a knot of guipure held in place by a buckle of pearl and crystal. A drapery of guipure is also carried around the crown. The bow of ruby poppies is finished by loops of velvet in front, and a large bow of the velvet is placed at the back of the neck.

OUTER GARMENTS.

Light Wraps For Use During the Spring and Summer Months.

A new outing jacket for golf, rowing and other athletic exercises consists of a short, tight vest of knit wool, similar to what is vulgarly called a cardigan jacket when a laboring man wears it. This has no collar and fastens in front with buttons. The sleeves are of silk of the same color as the jacket and are lined with flannel. These jackets can hardly be called elegant in appearance, but they are warm, comfortable and rather picturesque when of a bright color. The favorite shade is scarlet.

Fancy capes of mousseline de sole, silk and lace, fluffy and much betrimmed, are short—hardly more than very large collars. Cloth capes for ordinary service with plain gowns are of medium length and are decorated with soutache, passementerie or subdued lines of steel or gold.

Jackets are finished with straps of stitched satin or soutache decorations of the same color as the material, or strongly contrasting with it. Embroidery in relief is also used for them. High, flaring collars are the rule, of the valois order or plaited, and are lined with bright or light satin or white lace.

Redingotes are much worn by Frenchwomen for morning walks and traveling. As a matter of fact, a long coat is less suitable for walking than a short jacket, as it is comparatively heavy, and the skirt is more or less a burden in stepping. However, the redingote is warm and protects the gown from mud and dust.

Cloth capes are seen in various colors, but they are prettiest when they match the skirt, at any rate for spring and summer wear. The picture shows a costume of this kind in which the skirt, of light beige cloth, is quite plain. The cape, of beige cloth, is bordered by an incrustation of white cloth. The points of the cape in front pass under a soft belt of violet velvet, while a bias band of violet velvet passes around the shoulders, forming a beading to the ruffles which cover the sleeves and form the lower part of the cape. The collar is lined with violet velvet, and the hat, covered with violet mousseline de sole, is trimmed with white tassels.

Girls who have to stand on their feet most of the time, work hard as any day-laborer yet they do not get what is rightly called exercise.

Close, confining, indoor occupation gives no exhilaration to the nervous system nor active circulation to the blood. It wears, tears and drags a woman's life away. The whole physical system grows sluggish and torpid under it.

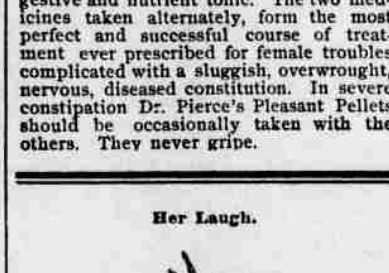

No wonder so many sales girls and factory girls and housewives suffer from indigestion and constipation and bilious troubles. No wonder they are subject to the diseases of the delicate special organism of their sex. The wonder is rather that they can stand it as well as they do.

But "a poor weak woman," as she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most eminent medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. Occupying this position for thirty years he has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. His "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only permanent digestive and nutrient tonic. The two medicines taken alternately form the most perfect and successful course of treatment ever prescribed for female troubles complicated with a sluggish, overwrought, diseased constitution. In severe constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be occasionally taken with the others. They never gripe.

Her Laugh.

"Yes, I have noticed that she always laughs 'He, he, he!'"—Pick Me Up.

Initial Humor.

Miss Nellie L. Taylor and Paul D. Quiggs of Fargo were engaged, and Nellie came out of town for a few days. They exchanged the following telegrams and thoughtlessly signed them by their initials only:

Dear Nellie—Come home to me. P. D. Q.

Dear Paul—Am coming, my love. N. L. T.
