SUCCESSFUL LANDING

General Miles' Army of Invasion in Puerto Rico—Skirmish with Spanish Troops.

NO AMERICANS WERE HURT

Lieutenant Wainwright, of the Gloucester, Did the Fighting for the Expedition—
Spaniards Completely Surprised—Stars and Stripes Raised.

Copyrighted by Associated Press—
Port Guánica, Island of Puerto Rico, July 25, 2 p. m., via Island of St.
Thomas, July 26.—The United States military expedition, which left Guantanamo on last Thursday, landed here successfully today, after a skirmish with Spanish troops. No Americans were killed.

The skirmish was between a detachment of Spanish troops and a crew of 30 belonging to a launch of the United States auxiliary gunboat Gloucester, formerly J. Pierpont Morgan's yacht Corsica.
Forty Spaniards were killed, but no Americans were hurt. The troops were pushed forward promptly to capture the railroad leading to Ponce, only about ten miles east of this place. From Ponce there is excellent military road running 80 miles north to San Juan. General Brooke's force with the New Orleans, Cincinnati, Leyden and Wasp are expected here within 24 hours.
The ships left Guantanamo Bay suddenly Thursday evening with the Massachusetts, commanded by Captain F. J.
Higginson, leading. Captain Higginson was in charge of the expedition which consisted of the Columbia, Dixie, Gloucester and Yale.

General Miles was on the last named vessel. The troops were on the transports Nueces, Lampass, Comanche, Rita, Unionist, Stillwater, City of Macon and Specialist. This was the order in which the transports entered the harbor here. The voyage from Guantanamo bay to this port was uneventful.
At noon yesterday General Miles called for a consultation, announcing that he was determined not to go by San Juan cape, but by the Mona passage. Instead, land here, surprise Spaniards and drive in their military authorities. The course was then changed and the Dixie was sent toward General Brooke and Cape Juan. Port Guánica had been fully described by Lieutenant Whitney, of General Miles staff, who recently made an adventurous trip over Puerto Rico.

Ponce, which is situated 10 or 12 miles from this port, is to the eastward and a harder place to take, and in addition the water at Ponce is too shallow for the transports to get close in shore.
Then again Ponce itself is some little distance from where the troops would have been able to land, if that point had been selected for the debarkation of this place is that it is situated close to the railroad connection with Ponce, which means transportation which our troops hope to secure today.

Early this morning the Gloucester, in charge of Lieutenant Commander Wainwright, steamed into Guánica harbor, in order to reconnoiter. With the fleet waiting outside the gulf, a little fighting yacht braved the mines supposed to be in the harbor and found there were five fathoms of water close in shore.

Guánica is surrounded by cultivated lands. In the rear are high mountains and on the beach nestles a village of about 30 houses. The Spaniards were completely taken by surprise. Almost the first they knew of the approach of the army of invasion was the firing of a gun from the Gloucester demanding the Spaniards to haul down the flag floating from the flag staff in front of a block house standing to the east of the village.
At first a couple of three pounders were fired into the hills right and left of the bay, purposely avoiding the town lest the projectiles hurt women or children. The Gloucester then hove to within about 600 yards of the shore, lowered a launch, having on board a Colt rapid fire gun and 30 men under command of Lieutenant Huse. Almost immediately after the Americans were fired on, the Gloucester opened fire on the enemy with all her three and six-pounders, which could be brought to bear, shelling the town, also dropping the shells into the hills west of Guánica, where a number of Spanish cavalry were seen hastening towards the spot where the Americans landed. Lieutenant Huse then threw up a little fort which he named Fort Wainwright.

By 9:45 a. m., with the exception of a few guerrilla shots, the town was won and the enemy driven out of the neighborhood. Red Cross nurses and a detachment of regulars were the first to land from the transports. Lieutenant Huse deployed small forces into the suburbs. But he was soon re-enforced.
All the boats of the men-of-war and transports were used in landing the troops, each steam launch towing four or five boats loaded to the guns with soldiers. But everything progressed in an orderly manner, and according to the plans of General Miles, the latter went ashore about noon, after stopping to board the Gloucester and thanking Lieutenant Commander Wainwright for his gallant action.

He laid barbed wire in the streets to repel an expected cavalry attack. The Lieutenant also mounted the Colt gun and signalled for re-enforcements, which were sent from the Gloucester. The Associated Press dispatch boat Cynthia
It was the only boat in the harbor except the Gloucester. While the Mausers were peppering all around Lieutenant Commander Wainwright called to the Associated Press correspondent: "They fired on us after their flag was down and ours up, and after I had spared the town for the sake of the women and children. The next town I strike I will blow up."

Presently a few Spanish cavalry joined those fighting in the streets of Guánica, but the Colt barked to good purpose, killing four. By that time the Gloucester had the range of the town and block house, and her guns were spitting fire, the doctor and paymaster helping to serve the guns. Soon afterwards white coated, galloping cavalrymen were seen climbing the hills to the westward, and the foot soldiers were scurrying along the fences from town.

PEACE RUMOR FROM WASH- INGTON.

Washington, July 26.—There is reason to believe that at last initial steps have been taken for the opening of negotiations for peace. At this moment it is impossible to learn the details of the project or even to obtain official confirmation of the rumor.

Secretary of State Day, French Ambassador M. Cambon and his first secretary, M. Thiebaut, are in conference with the president. The interview was arranged between Secretary Day and Secretary Thiebaut. It was still in progress at 4 o'clock. The conference, it is believed, refers to peace negotiations, but no particulars are yet obtainable.

The conference of French ambassador and Secretary Day with President McKinley lasted an hour. When the parties to it were asked if the conference brought out a peace proposal the question significantly was unanswered.

The following statement is made:
"The French ambassador on behalf of the government of Spain, and by direction of the Spanish minister of foreign affairs, presented to the president this afternoon at the White house, a message from the Spanish government looking to the termination of the war and the settlement of the terms of peace."

CASUALTIES BEFORE SANTIAGO.

Statement of Losses in Killed and Wounded —Official Figures.

Washington, July 26.—General Shafter's detailed report of the American casualties in the battle at Santiago has been received and is being prepared for publication. The total number of casualties was 1,595. The recapitulated American losses were: Killed 33 officers, 208 enlisted men; wounded 80 officers, 1,303 enlisted men. The missing are supposed to be dead. In the second brigade, of General Wheeler's cavalry division, consisting of the 1st and 10th cavalry and "Rough Riders," 4 officers and 30 men were killed; 13 officers and 179 men were wounded; 8 men missing.

Prince Henry Gone to Korea.

Berlin, July 26.—A dispatch from Kiao-Chow today, announces that the German warships Deutschland, having Prince Henry of Prussia, on board, started for Fusan, Korea, on July 25.

REQUESTED TO LEAVE SPAIN.

Miss Jessie Schley, Cousin of the Commodore, Has Undertaken to Close the War—Now in Madrid.

London, July 26.—The papers here confound Miss Jessie Schley, daughter of Charles Schley, of Milwaukee, cousin of Commodore Schley, with General Shafter. Miss Schley recently arrived in Madrid on a peace mission, without the approval of her father. Neither the queen regent nor any responsible person would receive her. A special from Madrid says: "Miss Shafter has been requested to leave Spain forthwith."

William Has Written No Letter.

Berlin, July 26.—It is semi-officially announced that there is no foundation for the report that Dr. Von Holleben, the German ambassador at Washington, has presented President McKinley a personal letter from Emperor William.

Troops Leaving Chikamauga.

Chikamauga, July 26.—The third brigade, first division of the first corps leaves this afternoon for Newport News.
This brigade is commanded by Brigadier General Fred Grant and is composed of the 1st Kentucky, 3rd Kentucky, and 5th Illinois.

COLOMBIA MUST PAY AWARD.

Italian Admiral Has Given 20 Days for the Government to Return a Definite Answer.

Rome, July 26.—Admiral Cardani, it is announced in a dispatch from Carthagena, Colombia, formally demanded on Saturday that the Colombian government accept President Cleveland's award in the Cerutti case in its entirety, and guarantee its full execution. The Italian admiral insists upon a definite reply within 20 days. In the meantime the Italian warships will visit other Colombian ports.

DESIRE TO CHECK UNITED STATES.

Madrid Authoritatively States That Russia is Actively Engaged in Urging Action On Part of the Powers.

New York, July 26.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says: It is authoritatively stated that Russia is even more active than Germany or Austria in diplomatically promoting Spain in moving for a combination of the continental powers to do something to check the United States. But not wishing to appear too openly to help Spain, fearing it might promote an understanding between Great Britain and the United States, Russia has encouraged Germany to exert pressure at Manila and induced France to take the lead in demonstrations of sympathy, which the French foreign ministry only reluctantly consented to do. Ever since then Russia and the Vatican, with aid of the Austrian court, though contrary to the judgment of the chancellor, Count Galechowski, have been arranging for a concerted action by the continental powers to interfere, both when the American squadron comes to Europe and when, in the peace negotiations, the question of the Philippine Islands comes up. Then Germany and France will join in behalf of Spanish interests, to prevent the United States, Germany or Japan from interfering.

PROPOSED TERMS OF PEACE.

A "Feeler" Thrown Out by Spain—Annexation of Cuba and Puerto Rico to United States.

Washington, July 26.—The reported statement from the Vatican of what purports to be the terms of peace acceptable to both the United States and Spain is set down here as only one of the many "feelers" thrown out within the past ten weeks, probably to test public feeling in the United States primarily, and secondarily, to break slowly to the masses of the Spanish people a realization of their complete defeat, something of which they are not yet aware, because of the superhuman efforts put forth by the Spanish government to suppress or prevent the news of actual events.

It is suspected the terms named: The annexation to the United States of Cuba and Puerto Rico, and the relinquishment to Spain of the Philippines represent what may be now looked upon as the maximum concessions Spain is willing to make. From this point of view the statement is not discouraging, though of course it must be realized that the Spanish minister is very far below the American minimum.

Baron Sternberg, the German secretary of the legation, called at the State and War departments today. His visit had no connection with peace negotiations, being simply to secure permission for a number of German surgeons to visit the American army camps here and in Cuba.

Landed at Defenseless Point.

Madrid, July 26.—Premier Sagasta today admitted that an American force "landed at a defenseless point on the island of Puerto Rico."

TROOPS AT SANTIAGO.

Their Disposition Not Yet Decided—Medical Authorities Confident of Stamping Out Yellow Fever.

Washington, July 26.—Adjutant General Corbin said today that the question of the disposition of the troops under General Shafter at Santiago was not yet settled. It is certain, however, that there will be no general movement of troops from Santiago until after the Spanish prisoners have been removed and there is some definite military progress in Puerto Rico. Health conditions in the army at Santiago will have considerable to do with any movement of those troops. The War department is taking steps for the establishment of reserve camps at convenient places in the United States, and the United States medical authorities are confident of their ability to stamp out the disease among the troops in eastern Cuba. When that is accomplished it is more than probable a majority of the troops there may be returned to the United States and given a short holiday prior to the institution of a campaign against Havana.

Lieutenant Hobson's Fiancee.

Oswego, Kas., July 26.—Miss Lelia Cook, whom a Mobilizing, Ind., dispatch credits with being the fiancée of Lieutenant Hobson, of the 8th Maine, is from Vineta, I. T. formerly lived here. She was born in Labette county, Kas. Her father, Henry C. Cook, whose death occurred last month, was at one time clerk of the District court of Labette county; later, mayor of Oswego, and for several years grand master of the United States flag ship New York.
Miss Cook was educated and graduated with honors at Shurtliff college, Upper Alton, Ill. She is a sister of Lieutenant Allen M. Cook, now assistant engineer of the United States flag ship New York.
Miss Cook and Lieutenant Hobson first met at the wedding of Lieutenant Cook at Norfolk, Va., several months ago, on which occasion she acted as bridesmaid and he as best man.

HOSPITAL SHIP SOLACE.

Supplied With All Modern Appliances for the Care of Sick and Wounded, Will Sail South.

Washington, July 26.—The following bulletin was posted by the Navy department today: The ambulance ship Solace will sail in a day or two from New York for Admiral Sampson's squadron.
While at the navy yard she had an additional life machine installed and well supplied with a carbonator and a brown canvas awning by the X-Ray Island Relief Association and an X-Ray apparatus by the National Society of Colonial Dames. She will go to Key West and take on board all the naval sick or wounded in the hospitals or on the vessels in port, and will assist all the vessels on blockade duty around the island of Cuba, taking on board the sick and wounded and leaving them ice, fruit, delicacies and stores for the sick, comfort bags and clothing contributed or purchased with money supplied by various patriotic societies throughout the country. So soon as she receives her complement of sick or wounded she will bring them to one of the northern naval hospitals.

WAITING FOR NEWS.

War Department Has No Confirmation of General Miles Landing at Ponce—Reason for Possible Change in Plans.

Washington, July 26.—The government is waiting to receive a confirmation of the reported debarkation of General Miles' troops. The War department did not expect to hear General Miles landing near Ponce, as is mentioned in newspaper dispatches, but it is entirely conceivable that he has acquired information, since the original plans were formed for the campaign against Puerto Rico, that led him to modify them. While the distance from Ponce to San Juan is much greater than from the point originally selected for General Miles, landing there is, according to military information and charts, a splendidly macadamized road leading directly across to San Juan on the north shore. It might be possible for our troops, accompanied as they will be by field artillery, to march across the 70 miles between Ponce and San Juan in less time than it would be required to cover a much shorter distance between the capital and some other points named as landing places.

In Conference With the President.

Washington, July 26.—Secretary Day, Alger and Long are in conference with the president as the sequence to Ambassador Cambon's call.

AT GUANTANAMO BAY

Gunboat Sandoval Sunk by the Spaniards—Act Considered Breach of Terms of Surrender.

MANY SPANISH SOLDIERS ILL

Effects of Bombardment of Santiago by United States Fleet—Had Larger Shells Been Used City Would Have Suffered Severely.

Guantanamo Bay, July 26.—The Spaniards last night sunk the Spanish gun-boat Sandoval, lying near Calmañera.
This is looked upon as a gross breach of the terms of surrender, especially when considering the fact that food has been sent by the United States navy to Cal-mañera.

First Sergeant of Marines Kinney, of the New York, went north yesterday evening on the Texas to get his commission as 2nd lieutenant of marines. This is almost the only one of such promotion on record in this branch of the service.
The Montgomery left yesterday evening.

It is difficult to see how the large party of Spanish troops at Holguin can fall to surrender very soon, although re-enforced by the Spanish forces from Gibara. Holguin is one of the commanding points of eastern Cuba and the surrender of its garrison will be an important event. News from there is expected shortly and upon it will depend some of the plans of our commanders.

The Vixen and Suwanee returned to Santiago yesterday, conveying prize ships which were brought here for dis-fection. The main body of the fleet is here coaling and cleaning, as well as the facilities of the bay permit. The Texas will leave for New York shortly to undergo repairs. The movements of other ships under Rear Admiral Samp-son's command, except those engaged in the Puerto Rico expedition, depend upon the decision of the authorities at Washington. The impression is growing among naval officers of high rank in these waters that it will not be advisable to send a fleet to Spain without thorough preparation, including the going into dry dock in several cases.

Colonel Ewers, who was sent by General Shafter to receive the surrender of the 5,000 Spanish troops at Guantanamo, arrived here Sunday night with two of General Toral's officers, and proceeded to Calmañera and Guantanamo yesterday. The colonel expected to return last night. It is said that 1,700 of the Spanish troops in the Guantanamo district are on the sick list.

A bulletin issued in regard to the investigation of the navy's bombardment of Santiago de Cuba, says: "Twelve houses were completely wrecked and one house burned. Sixteen 8 inch shells struck within three blocks of Calle de Marin and there excavated the ground to a depth of about four feet and about ten feet in length. The street was macadamized."

It is judged from the fact that many of the shells struck near the water's edge, a number of them must have gone into the bay. Army officers have stated that 30 or 40 went beyond the northern edge of the bay into the Spanish lines. A dozen or more shells had not exploded. In four the base had been simply blown out. One four-inch shell, which was probably a stray shell, fired during the demonstration at Aguadores on July 1, had gone through a tree and exploded in the ground beyond.
The severe effect of the 8-inch shells is considered, it is a matter of congratulation that it was not necessary to continue the bombardment longer and fire 13-inch shells as the squadron had prepared to do. The effect of these would undoubtedly have been most disastrous to the town.

NO NEWS FROM PUERTO RICO.

Commodore Watson's Expedition to Spain Awaiting Orders from the President—
No Overtures for Peace.

Washington, July 26.—When the cabinet assembled today Secretaries Alger and Long both announced that they had received no dispatches from the Puerto Rico expedition. Secretary Alger especially was expecting to hear from General Miles and was disappointed. Referring to the expedition of Commodore Watson to Spain, Secretary Long said there was nothing new. "It is surely going, is it not," he was asked.
"It is waiting for orders from the president," was the reply.

Secretary Long, however, noticeably refrained from directly answering the question.

Secretary Day said there had been no overtures for peace brought to his attention and he knew of no developments.
A discussion brought out the fact that General Miles considered the choice of three landing places for his forces, not one of which was Ponce.
While not specifically stated, the three points suggested are probably Fayardo, Guánica and Fajales. If General Miles landed at or near Ponce, it was, in the opinion of the members of the cabinet either due to some unforeseen circumstances or as a feint to attract attention from the real point of debarkation.

NO DISTINCT PROPOSALS MADE.

No Armistice Proposed—Final Answer to Be Given at a Later Conference.

Washington, July 26.—Spain's communication presented by Ambassador Cambon is general in terms and does not make any distinct propositions as to Cuba, the Philippines or any other possessions. It is simply a request that peace negotiations be opened. No armistice is proposed. After M. Cam-bon submitted the proposal, a general talk followed between him, the president, Secretary Day and M. Thiebaut.
The president reserved his answer, the understanding being reached that he would at once lay the subject before the cabinet and then invite M. Cambon to another conference at the White house, when a final answer will be given as to the willingness of this government to open negotiations.
The manner in which peace negotiations shall be conducted in case the United States accepts Spain's tender has not been determined upon. It is understood the method likely to be adopted is to have General Horace Porter, United States ambassador at Paris, and Senor Leon Castillo, Spanish ambassador at Paris, carry forward the negotiations from the point arrived at by the president and Ambassador Cambon.

TUESDAY, JULY 26.

Rod in pickle for that San Miguel county gang of tax eaters.

Political reports from Dona Ana county are very gratifying. The prospects are that the county will give from 300 to 400 Republican majority this coming election.

General Miles means business. This is evidenced by the fact that he is not sending long dispatches and congratulating the country upon great military achievements.

When acting as a board of equalization of taxes and in the matter of abating their own taxes, the county commissioners of San Miguel county are a great, shining and glorious success.

Admiral Cervera and General Toral would better become citizens of this country, according to the news from Madrid. Scapegoats are needed over there and the admiral and the general may have to suffer the penalty, that should be put upon an incompetent and useless military.

The Democrats of Eddy county have called a county convention to nominate a county ticket for the coming campaign. This convention meets in the town of Eddy on July 30 next. They believe in having a long and hot political campaign in Eddy county. The county adjoins Texas, you know.

To be sure the county commissioners of San Miguel county can not be blamed for not wishing to be removed by Governor Otero. Not a bit of it, and the NEW MEXICAN does not blame them for desiring to retain nice, fat, easy, well-paying, desirable offices, in which they can help themselves and their friends of the Union party; of course not.

Territorial Auditor Marcelino Garcia is of the opinion that the good work the NEW MEXICAN is doing toward the collection of taxes is bearing fruit and is doing great good. The auditor, who by the way, is a very good officer, is eminently correct and the NEW MEXICAN will have no argument with him over his opinion, which is borne out by the facts.

Wonderful Progress of the Mesqueros.

Captain V. E. Stottler, U. S. Army, who has just been relieved as acting agent of the Mesquero Apaches in southeastern New Mexico, was one of the best agents in the service. He had charge of the Mesquero Apache Indian agency for three years and a half and during that short space of time the Mesqueros made more and better progress toward civilization, decency and education than during the 40 years before that time. Captain Stottler turns the agency over to his successor, Dr. William Mc. M. Luttrell, in first-class shape; every child of school age is at school; every Indian, man or woman, wears civilized clothes; every family is provided with permanent habitation; rations, except beef, have been cut off and the Indians are compelled to work for a living and improve whether or no. No squaw paints her face and no Indian wears long hair. Polygamy has been abolished. From being insolent, saucy and lazy, the Indians are now obedient, respectful and do lots of work. Twizn making, drunken orgies and savage dances have not taken place for three years. About every acre of available agricultural land on the agency is under ditch and in cultivation. The Mesqueros are now herding sheep and making blankets. They haul their own supplies, run their own sawmill, erect their own log houses and fences, construct irrigation ditches, cultivate land and do lots of labor. They raise an abundance of grain, alfalfa and vegetables. They have made wonderful progress indeed. In reluctantly consenting to Captain Stottler's relief, on the captain's own application, the secretary of the Interior addressed a letter to him, in which he complimented the captain very highly on his efficiency and success as agent and expressed his great regrets at losing such a valuable officer from the Indian service.

Outlook for the Sheep Industry.

Recent developments in the sheep, lamb and wool market show that the flockmasters in New Mexico are facing conditions very favorable to higher prices and a better market. According to careful estimates there are in the United States approximately 40,000,000 sheep, including lambs, and of that number 30,000,000 are in the territory lying west of the Missouri river. During the depression in the wool and sheep industries in recent years the flocks east of the Missouri river were allowed to decrease to very small numbers, but the increase in prices the past 12 months has caused a revival of interest in sheep raising in that section and the farmers are desirous of increasing their holdings, making a demand for ewes which will require not less than 500,000 to fill. These must come from the west, and because of the superiority of New Mexico sheep, a well defined demand for ewes from this territory has set in. On the other hand there is a disposition on the part of the sheep raisers of New Mexico to retain all ewes for breeding purposes, and this feature of the market alone will force prices up very materially.

The outlook for lamb feeding next winter, as is usual at this time of the year, is problematical. In Colorado, as the feeding season approaches, the majority of the buyers and feeders will endeavor to secure New Mexico lambs, as past experience has shown that lambs from this territory are generally of a medium grade, not thick pelted, the flesh has not the oily taste of the finer grades and commands a better price when fattened and placed on the market. In addition to bringing more money, New Mexico lambs thrive better on feed and are more quickly placed in condition for selling. The increase of lambs the past spring will average about 90 per cent, but the number kept on the ranges this fall will be much larger than last. The demand and the reluctance to sell will insure high prices. This promising condition is offset somewhat by a determination on the part of feeders not to pay the prices which obtained last fall.

The results of last winter's feeding were satisfactory, showing an average profit of 50 cents per head, but buyers feel that the returns should be larger. However, contracts for fall delivery are now being made in the territory, ranging from $1.25 to $1.75 per head and those prices will increase when it becomes certain that owners of lambs are not anxious to sell at prices less than those of the past year. While it is not the intent to give advice, the NEW MEXICAN believes that sheepmen who hold their lambs until September will make no mistake.

The returns from the spring clip of wool so far show that the crop is fully equal to that of last year in quantity, while the quality is above the average. The prices range from 14 to 18 cents on the ranges, and will pay the flockmasters a handsome profit.

A New Era in Cuba.

The order that has been issued to the Cubans by General Shafter, that the residents of the surrendered country, and particularly the Spaniards, must not be molested and the insurgents must abandon their guerrilla warfare in the territory under the control of the United States, opens a new era for Cuba. For years past the island has been harassed by wandering bands of roving, irregular armed men who, between the masters they served, destroyed the plantations, burned homes and murdered the inhabitants indiscriminately. Life nor property were safe and cultivated fields became again a part of the primal wilderness. The unfortunate people were forced to flee to the garrisoned cities and towns to save their lives, only to become the victims of starvation.

Resulting from a policy of extermination the city of Santiago is today filled with beggars and for some time to come the United States will have to furnish thousands with food. But that condition is only temporary. So soon as it becomes positively known that the dangers of fire and murder have been removed by the invading army, the former farmers will return to their lands and begin again to make homes for themselves and families, restore the fields to their old time productive state and will soon be self-supporting. Assured that never again so long as this government has control of the eastern part of the island will it be necessary to flee for their lives, the people will take courage and make advancement in material wealth never dreamed of in Cuba. Nor is that all. The wonderful productiveness of the soil, the diversified products and the opportunities for investment will attract American settlers and American capital, land will be taken for a living and improve whether or no. No squaw paints her face and no Indian wears long hair. Polygamy has been abolished. From being insolent, saucy and lazy, the Indians are now obedient, respectful and do lots of work. Twizn making, drunken orgies and savage dances have not taken place for three years. About every acre of available agricultural land on the agency is under ditch and in cultivation. The Mesqueros are now herding sheep and making blankets. They haul their own supplies, run their own sawmill, erect their own log houses and fences, construct irrigation ditches, cultivate land and do lots of labor. They raise an abundance of grain, alfalfa and vegetables. They have made wonderful progress indeed.

In reluctantly consenting to Captain Stottler's relief, on the captain's own application, the secretary of the Interior addressed a letter to him, in which he complimented the captain very highly on his efficiency and success as agent and expressed his great regrets at losing such a valuable officer from the Indian service.

Politics in Socorro County.

(San Marcial Bee.)
The leaders of the Republican party of Socorro county do not attempt to dispute the right of San Marcial to name one of the two representatives from this county in the next legislature. The other will be named by and be from the native element of the party. The Republicans of San Marcial should exhibit a little more interest in this matter, especially as their brethren in Socorro seem willing to do the fair thing.

With the Balance of the Wind.

(Eddy Argus.)
The 10th cavalry, U. S. regulars, composed entirely of negroes, did some of the best fighting at Santiago and it is said honored their race in their famous charge; so the oft repeated assertion that the negro does not make a good soldier goes with the balance of the wind.

A Receiver for the Pecos I. & I. Company.

(Eddy Argus.)
The choice of Colonel Tansill by the bondholders of the company for receiver gives satisfaction to the many patrons of the great enterprise, the Pecos Irrigation & Improvement company. That the Pecos valley will from this date take on new life goes without saying. No doubt land will be sold in small tracts and at prices in the reach of all who want to create big homes, in the most salubrious climate and fertile valley on the American continent.

Captain Max. Luna.

(Albuquerque Citizen.)
Persistent efforts have been made in this territory to slander Captain Max. Luna, of Troop F, Colonel Roosevelt's regiment of volunteers. He has been slandered by men who should have been his defenders. Since landing in Cuba Captain Luna has been constantly at the head of his company, has participated in two hard fought battles, and he and his company have been right at the front of the American line of battle. Captain Luna deserves great credit for his patriotism and bravery, and elsewhere in this paper it may be seen that he has received the unqualified commendation of Brigadier General Wood. The Citizen helped Captain Luna to enlist his gallant troop in this city and is proud of the heroic deeds of the captain in Cuba, and will give $100 reward for information that will lead to the discovery of the person or persons who have put in circulation the slanders concerning Captain Luna.

Why Bail For Oliver Lee Was Not Accepted.

(Dona Ana County Republican.)
"Oliver Lee offered to give bail in any sum up into the thousands; why didn't Judge Parker accept it?"

We have actually heard this weighty question proposed in the courts.

Has it come to pass when courts of justice must compromise with the accused?

If Lee had not been afraid of the evidence would he ever have placed himself in position of such a flagrant contempt of court?

We say no to both questions. The very foundation of courts of justice contemplate acting upon the guilt or innocence of the accused only on the evidence adduced at the trial. It was entirely out of the province of the court to accept Mr. Lee's magnanimous offer of giving himself up on condition he was given bail and released, therefore there is no rumor of Judge Parker's hesitancy for one moment about the proposition. Judge Parker, who is a lawyer and personally a fair-minded man—consequently a just judge, as his official acts attest, however, had he did—ignores such overture.

As to Lee or Gilliland's former guilt it will, certain as that the stars shine, be brought out in court, and each successive crime and act of outlawry only strengthen the chain of bloody guilt.

A QUESTION OF SPELLING.

Orthographical Errors Spoil a Good Man's Temper.

Some time ago a colored man hung out a sign on his house which read, "For Sail."

He happened to be at the gate when a white man came along and said:

"You'll never get an offer for your house with such spelling as that."

The owner of the place was greatly puzzled to improve the orthography, but finally took his wife's advice and made it read, "For Sell."

This seemed to be all right for a day or two, and then a schoolboy halted and said:

"If you don't fix that sign, all the children will be laughing at you."

There was another convention of the family to see where the mistake came in, and the sign was made to read, "Fur Sell."

It had not been up an hour when an old colored man came along and queried:

"Does you mean dat dis place am fur Sally? What yer gwine ter gib de place to Sally fur?"

"Am you findin fault wid dat sign?" asked the other.

"Well, I don't quite catch on to de spellin'."

"You don't, eh? Has you got $700 to pay cash down fur dis place?"

"No, sah."

"Den you pass on an shet up. Maybe I don't spell jist de same as you do, but I've got prospects of handlin' $700, while you has got loaf knees out to de weader. I don't ker to use high flown language an have to w'ar a shoe on one foot an a bute on de odder. Go 'long, ole man. You am too fly on jog'aphy."

Soldiers Sing "God Save the Queen."
In Tampa, Fla., the other day American soldiers did a thing that would have raised a protest a year ago. They joined in singing "God Save the Queen" in honor of Victoria's birthday. It is really astonishing how sentiment has changed since England has openly sympathized with the United States in our war with Spain. Radical changes in the relations of nations are no more wonderful, however, than the marked changes in individuals who are restored to health by that great medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is no unusual thing for people who are thin, weakly and all run down to show a marked improvement in a few weeks after taking this medicine, which overcomes nearly every known disease arising from a disordered stomach.

Seized the Opportunity.
He—You know the old saying, that "man proposes."
She—The saying is old enough, but the experience is so new to me that I hasten to avail myself of the opportunity.
"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for years and always with good results," says Mr. W. B. Cooper of El Rio, Cal. "For small children we find it especially effective." For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Far from Idle.
I guess it is nothing but an idle rumor.
Idle? I guess not. It is the busiest old rumor that ever happened.

How He Sold It.
I've been trying to sell that gown for $30 for a month.
And did you finally succeed?
I marked it up to $21.48, and the first woman who came along thought she had a bargain.

"During the hot weather last summer I had a severe attack of cholera morbus, necessitating my leaving my business," says Mr. C. A. Hare, of Hare Bros., Cincinnati, Ohio. "After taking two or three doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I was completely relieved and in a few hours was able to resume my work in the store. I sincerely recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach or bowel trouble." For sale by A. C. Ireland.

The Dictionary Grows.
Kentucky is a war addition to our vocabulary. When a soldier gets paid off and proceeds to invest in liquids, he is said to "Kentucky."

Persons troubled with diarrhoea will be interested in the experience of Mr. W. M. Bush, clerk of Hotel Dorrance, Providence, R. I. He says: "For several years I have been almost a constant sufferer from diarrhoea, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duties at this hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt symptoms of the disease I would fortify myself against attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction." For sale by A. C. Ireland.

In for It.
He—I saw by the papers that half a dozen people were poisoned the other day by eating ice cream.
She—So did I, George; but I've never read about anyone being poisoned by eating lobster salad have you?

Well Qualified.
Capt. Singleton to naval applicant—Did you ever serve on a man-of-war?
Henry Peck who married a widow—No; but I was the second mate of a woman of war.

Our baby has been continually troubled with colic and cholera infantum since his birth, and all that we could do for him did not seem to give more than temporary relief, until we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Since giving that remedy he has not been troubled. We want to give you this testimonial as an evidence of our gratitude, not that you need it to advertise your meritorious remedy.—G. M. Law, Keokuk, Iowa. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Gave Him an Idea.
Say, said the newspaper poet to his friend the idiot, can't you give me an idea for a few verses?
What? asked the idiot.
The poet looked dazed for an instant and then said, "Thanks," and running to his den penned off eight quatrains on the subject, Idiot Answers to the Civilized of Questions, that he sold afterward for $3.75.

At the Restaurant.
What?—Oysters, turbot, grouse, lamb, hock, Chateaufort—Come, now, you can't be so very hard up if you can afford such a luncheon as that.
Oh, indeed?—And the fact that my wife and children are sitting at home without a scrap to eat—that's a matter of perfect indifference to you eh?

A Twofold Indiscretion.
Benham—I made the mistake of my life when I married you.
Mrs. Benham—You made the mistake of both our lives.

HIS NIGHT OFF.
It was agreed between Eddie Harlow and his wife that he should have one night off every week. After awhile Mrs. Harlow learned that Miss Audreine de Belleville, queen of burlesque artists, had sat down to the dinner table at the expense of Mr. Eddie Harlow. Wrinkles formed upon the fair young wife's brow, and now and then tears trickled down her cheeks.
Finally she clinched her little hands, went to a mirror, gave her features a few dashes with powder puff and became calm. Now it happened that there lived in the fashionable apartment house across the hall from the suit occupied by the Harlows a young clergyman, who was a bachelor and handsome, as many unmarried clergymen are.
Mrs. Harlow stepped across to his door and knocked.
"I was afraid," she said, with a perceptible tremor in her voice as the Rev. Mr. Bentley opened his door, "that you might not be in. I have a request to make of you. My husband had a night off every week. Tomorrow evening I shall be left alone in my apartments. Will you please come over and visit me a little while?"
The book that the gentleman had been reading slipped out of his grasp, and his face became very red.
"Don't imagine for a moment," said the pretty, blushing little woman, "that I mean to—"

Then she got confused and didn't know what to say next. After an awkward pause the Rev. Mr. Bentley cleared his throat.
"Perhaps I had better defer my visit until some evening when your husband will be at home."
"No," said Mrs. Harlow, recovering her self possession, "that is just what I don't want you to do. I want to teach him a lesson. I have learned that he is disposed to forget during his nights off that he is married. I want to make him remember."
"But, my dear lady," the clergyman replied, "I am afraid you are preparing to get all mixed up in a scandal that will be hard to explain to the public. Can't you think of some other way to stop your husband's wrongdoing? Let me talk to him about it."
"No," she said, "that would only make him more certain to keep on. I know his nature, and I have come to the conclusion that there is but one way to reform him. I promise that it shall never go beyond our own doors if you will assist me, and I shall never cease to be grateful to you."
In the end the reverend gentleman consented to take part in the reformation of Eddie Harlow, and so it came about that the latter, upon reaching his office next morning, found the following anonymous letter awaiting him:
"Perhaps you know your own business, but if you are not blind you may, by watching your innocent little wife some Saturday night, see something that will astonish you. A word to the wise ought to be sufficient."
Eddie Harlow had no appetite for lunch that day, and half a dozen times he was asked by the senior member of the firm if he were ill.
By supreme effort he remained calm when his wife greeted him in the evening, but he couldn't eat much dinner, and when Beatrice asked him what was the matter he replied:
"Oh, nothing much! I'm a little nervous, that's all. It's a good thing I'm to be out this evening. I need diversion—excitement. If I don't get home until a little later than usual, you won't mind it, will you, pet?"

The young clergyman, who sat near them, dropped his fork with a loud clatter and looked at Mrs. Harlow in a way that made her blush beautifully. Her husband, who had just started to slip his tea, put down the cup and stared first at one and then at the other, but said nothing.
After he had bestowed rather more care than usual upon his attire Eddie Harlow said he guessed he would start early that evening, as he needed air.
He was careful to get upon a down town car while his wife was looking out of the window, but he jumped off after riding two blocks and then began walking around and skulking away from people that he thought might know him.
Every little while he would look at his watch and mutter things that must not be printed. It seemed as if the time had never passed so slowly as then, and with every dragging moment he became more restless than before.
At last he slowly wended his way homeward.
His wife had pulled down the window shades, but he could see that there was a light behind them, and he had to shut his teeth hard to keep his heart from escaping.
He went through the front entrance like a thief in the night and up the stairs with ostentatious caution.
When he reached the hall leading to the rooms occupied by his wife and himself he hesitated for a moment, and then, turning out the gas, he crept along slowly and noiselessly until he reached the door. There he stopped again and listened.
Yes, Beatrice was talking to somebody. Then there came the sound of a man's voice.
Eddie Harlow waited no longer. With awailing muscles he gave the doorknob a wrench that almost dislodged the whole thing and stood like an avenging spirit facing the guilty pair.
Mr. Bentley and Mrs. Harlow arose. They had been looking at some photographs which she had taken during her wedding trip in Mexico, and the album in which they were mounted was permitted to tumble to the floor.
Crouching down like a beast going after its prey, Eddie Harlow, with hooked fingers, bulging eyes and glistening teeth began moving upon the church. The clergyman retreated around one corner of the baby grand piano, meanwhile making mental calculations as to whether he could dodge under it or not if necessary. "You villain!" hissed the wronged husband. "You wolf in sheep's clothing! You destroyer of homes, I'll tear you into!"
"Stop, Eddie," said Beatrice Harlow, stepping in front of him. "You will find no evidences of late suppers here. Mr. Bentley kindly consented, after a good deal of persuasion, to help me convince you that your nights off have ceased to give that rare sense of freedom and pleasure that you got from them at the start. You evidently got the anonymous letter I wrote to you. Just hold it up to the light and you will see by the water mark that it is written on a sheet of your own writing paper."—Cleveland Leader.

THE MAN AND THE BOY.

Wherein the Adage of the Worm and the Turn is Borne Out.
The boy was one of those harum scarum, uncontrolled youngsters that are to be found in every neighborhood. It is possible that his parents might have been able to do something for him if they had tried, but they never tried.
The man was long suffering and patient, but there was a limit to his patience. The boy never went in or out of the flat building that he did not press the button of the electric bell for the flat in which the man lived, and usually for all the other flats in the building except the one in which his dotting parents resided.
The man made a complaint, but the boy's father laughed him to scorn. Jamie wouldn't do such a thing, and even if he would it was a pretty small thing for a grown man to be interfering with his childish sport and hearing talk about him.
It is apt to be a pretty serious matter to inflict corporal punishment upon a neighbor's child, and consequently the man un-derstood to think of doing such a thing. He was successful, and the next evening, which happened to be Saturday, he brought home a little coil of insulated wire.

Sunday morning the sweet little darling started to dress, two steps at a time while his father and mother were still slipping their breakfast coffee. It made an awful racket, but it was his regular way of going down stairs, and all the occupants of the building were used to it.
In the vestibule the little darling paused to give his usual greetings. It was such sport, you know, to ring all the bells just at the breakfast hour Sunday morning! He began at the top and went down one button and then the other, skipping only one—the one that had his father's name over it. Then he hurried on out, but he wasn't quick enough.
A man was coming down the stairs three steps at a time—a man in dressing gown and slippers and a vocabulary of uncomplimentary remarks that was a revelation to some of the neighbors. He caught the little darling on the front steps, and he gave him a treading that made the hearts of the neighbors glad. Then he took him up stairs and tumbled him some more, for he was the little darling's father, and he had a right to do it.
Meanwhile the good mother and patient man had slipped out with a pair of tweezers and was undoing his work of the night before, for it so happened that the night before he had connected every bell button in the double row with the wire leading to the flat of the parents of the sweet little darling.—Chicago Post.

She Refused.
Tommy was a well behaved little boy. He had been especially taught by his father to be polite to the ladies and in a crowded car always to give up his seat to one of the gentle sex, regardless of age, social condition and good looks. On a certain Sunday papa had an unlooked for and embarrassing illustration of how well Tommy had learned his lesson. The car was crowded, but Tommy had pre-empted a seat. A handsome young lady entered at Taylor and Hume avenues. There was not a vacant seat.
"Take my seat, ma'am," said little Tommy as he doffed his cap.
She didn't take his seat. She looked fierce enough to box his ears, and the passengers had a laugh in spite of her mortification. Tommy was sitting on papa's lap when he so gallantly offered to give up his seat to the pretty young lady.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Boatman—I am the man who sprang into the water and saved a member of your family. You remember you offered $500 to any one who would rescue her. Millionaire—Yes, I know, but at that time I thought it was my wife who was in danger. It was my wife's mother.
Boatman—Just my luck! Well, how much do I owe you?—New York Weekly.

And this statement was quite true. But he neglected to mention that the place to which he referred was the supply wagon.—Town Topics.

Could Leave Out the Slate.
"I suppose you will have your coal on the slate, as usual?" said the dealer to the customer.
"If it's all the same to you, you may leave out the slate this time and give me all coal," replied the facetious customer.—Yonkers Statesman.

Truth Uncovered.
Miss Gusher—Oh, Mr. Inkbleigh, how did you ever come to write that beautiful story?
Inkbleigh (shortly)—I needed the money.

He keeps at it 'til the last day.

If every man could live an out-door life, passing his time with gun and fishing-rod and canoe, there would be less illness in the world. Unfortunately, the demands of modern civilization will permit very few men to live this ideal, healthful life.
Many men have to pass the day shut up in offices and stores, and the nights in close apartments in crowded cities. They get little out-door exercise. One of the results of this unhealthy, sedentary living is the awful prevalence of that dread disease—consumption. One-sixth of all the deaths each year are due to this relentless enemy. Doctors to think of curing this disease incurable. It is now generally known that there is a marvelous medicine that cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption, bronchitis, asthma, laryngitis, and other diseases of the air-passages. It is the great re-builder. It tears down, carries off and excretes old, inert tissues and replaces them with the firm tissues of health. It restores the lost appetite and makes the digestion perfect.
"Four years ago I had an attack of grip that left my throat and lungs in a bad condition," writes Mrs. Mary Hartman, of 300 Harker St., Mansfield, Ohio. "The doctor said I had dis-eased the throat and bronchial tubes, and I continued to grow worse. I had pain in the upper part of my chest and a severe cough, which was worse at night and in the morning, with heavy expectoration. I would cough up matter that was like blood. I had no appetite, no sleep, and I felt as if I was burning and smarting sensation in my throat. I took the doctor's prescriptions without number, but they did me no good. I took sixteen bottles of cod liver oil and was as bad as ever. I then took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and three of the 'Pellies.' I began to improve in every way and now enjoy good health and have taken no medicine for over six months."

HE DREW THE LINE.

The Kentucky Colonel's Views on Battleship Christening.
"I have been misquoted," remarked Colonel Stillwell, "in various ways and upon divers occasions, and I feel, sub, that the time has come for me to set myself right."
"What's the matter, colonel? Are you going into politics?"
"Do you mean, sub, to insinuate that I have even been out of politics? No, sub. But the matter which I speak is of an entirely peaceful character. I find, however, that I am represented as giving expression to certain emphatic opinions as to how a battleship ought to be christened."
"I can guess your sentiments in that connection," was the facetiously intended comment.
"Possibly. But I want to make it clear, sub, that I have no prejudices as to the liquid employed."
"After all, it is only a formality."
"Yes. But understand I don't mean to belittle the significance of the ceremony. Not in the least. They may break a bottle of champagne if they choose to, as a sign that there is nothing too good for the country she represents, or they may shatter a flask of Kentucky spirits to show that we are full of action and always mean business, or with clear water to imply that the vessel is dedicated to the crystal and unadorned truth. It makes no difference what the bottle may contain; its contents when liberated to flash for a moment in the sunshine before it mingles with the sea will be as significant with poetic and patriotic suggestion. Any beverage will do—with one important exception, which I can scarcely bring myself to mention."
"What is that, colonel?"
"I hope with all my heart, sub, that we shall never see the day when this country is called upon to christen a battleship with a bottle of nerve tonic."—Washington Star.

Being the Last One.
"Say, hang you! What made you throw that good match away? It was our last one!"
"I know it. It would have gone out anyway."—New York Journal.

The 13th annual meeting of the New Mexico Bar Association was held yesterday at the court house, and there were present Messrs. T. B. Catron, Frank Springer, A. A. Jones, F. W. Clancy, A. B. McMillan, E. L. Bartlett, W. H. Pope, Max Frost, G. L. Solignac, J. G. Fitch, S. B. Newcomb, H. R. Ferguson, E. A. Fiske, W. Breeden, H. L. Warren, R. E. Twitchell, J. R. McFie, F. W. Parker, R. C. Gortner, W. R. Childers, G. W. Knaebel, Hugo Seaberg, W. J. McPherson, A. A. Freeman.

The president of the association, Hon. A. B. Fall, of Las Cruces, having gone to war, Hon. W. H. Pope, first vice president, presided.

Hon. H. B. Ferguson, delegate to congress, made an address to the association covering proposed legislation relative to the establishment of an appellate court for the territory of New Mexico as well as giving his ideas upon a bill to enable prospectors to prospect on land grants confirmed under the act of 1891. The association appointed committees on these subjects, the first committee being Messrs. Jones, Clancy and Catron, and the second committee consisted of Messrs. Childers, Fiske, Fitch, Springer and Newcomb.

A motion prevailed by which a committee was appointed to confer with the Supreme court and the ensuing legislature relative to changing the time of holding the session of the Supreme court; this committee consists of Messrs. Childers, Twitchell and Springer.

The accounts of the secretary and treasurer were audited and approved.

Messrs. W. J. McPherson, Hugo Seaberg and G. A. Solignac were elected members of the association.

The executive committee to be appointed by the incoming president was authorized to arrange a program for the annual meeting to include an address by some prominent jurist.

The secretary's motion, was instructed to cast the unanimous ballot of the association for Hon. R. E. Twitchell for president of the year. Vice presidents as follows were elected: First district, E. A. Fiske, 2nd district, E. W. Dobson, 3rd district, T. E. Conway, 4th district, W. C. Wrigley, 5th district, A. A. Freeman.

For the 13th time General E. L. Bartlett was elected secretary of the association. Mr. Bartlett submitted a very elaborate report to the meeting which was approved. Mr. G. W. Knaebel was re-elected treasurer of the association.

The incoming president was authorized to appoint all standing committees and also appoint delegates to the American and National Bar Association meetings.

Considerable routine and miscellaneous business was done by the association and an adjournment was had until August 18, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Hon. R. E. Twitchell, who was yesterday elected to the position of president of the New Mexico Bar Association, is probably one of the best known lawyers and citizens of New Mexico. For 16 years Mr. Twitchell has been an attorney for the A. T. & S. F. Railway company, has held many responsible political and official positions in the territory and stands among the first of his profession. He is regarded as one of the ablest and most promising young men in New Mexico and is to be congratulated upon this new honor conferred upon him. Mr. Twitchell has always taken a great deal of interest in the association, has been chairman of the committee of history of the bench and bar and is the author of many valuable sketches of the earlier members of the bar and bench who lived in this territory.

A HOT BLAZE.

Robert Wagner's Home Badly Scorched by Flames—Loss Covered by Insurance.

Last night about 9 o'clock fire was discovered in the residence occupied by Robert Wagner, and the fire company made a record in getting to the scene of action. The fire broke out in the outside walls of a bed-room and was confined to the room and a closet, but the furniture, furnishings, all the clothing Mr. and Mrs. Wagner had, except what they had on, were destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner were both away from home when the fire broke out and the origin is not known. Mr. Wagner made three attempts to enter the burning room but was driven back by the dense smoke, and when he did get in it was too late to save anything. The loss, while not yet determined, is covered by insurance.
