NEEDS SUPPLIED

Sick at Santiago Have Necessary Medicines--Will Be No More Overcrowding Transports.

READY TO RECEIVE ARMY

Soldiers Returning from Cuba Will Receive Every Attention--Hospitals of New York Willing to Care for Wounded Men.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Surgeon General Sternberg today received the following cable from Lieutenant Colonel Harvard, chief surgeon at Santiago: "Necessary medicines purchased and all present needs supplied. The reports about overcrowding transports will be furnished as soon as possible. Similar things will not again occur." The reference to overcrowding transports relates to the telegraphic inquiry made by General Sternberg for particulars as to the Seneca and Concho. The secretary of war, Surgeon General Sternberg, Dr. Wyman, of the marine hospital service, and Quartermaster General Ludington conferred today relative to the preparations for receiving General Shafter's army at Montauk Point.

It is supposed to make all necessary arrangements for insuring the comfort and recovery of the troops and at the same time to insure proper isolation, so there may be no possible element of danger to those outside the garrisons. In addition to Fort Ethan, Vt., and the barracks at Plattsburg, N. Y., which the surgeon general has in view for the convalescents, he has now determined to use the Madison Barracks, N. Y., located on Lake Ontario. The Madison Barracks have accommodations for about 1,000 men. The hospitals of New York city have shown a generous willingness to care for the wounded soldiers. It is said about 2,000 could be looked after in that city.

Business Blocks Burned.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 6.—The Rothschilds Clothing Company, Joseph Tomlinson's clothing house and five other stores have been destroyed by fire. The I. O. O. F. temple lost everything but the books. Total damage, $125,000.

Will Not Compel Resistance.

New York, Aug. 6.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says the government has given orders that the minister of war shall not force resistance in Puerto Rico to the utmost. This is at the instigation of Premier Sagasta, who deprecates the unnecessary loss of life, knowing Puerto Rico will inevitably fall into the hands of the Americans.

STRIKE LEADERS ARRESTED.

Responsibility for Labor Riots at Oshkosh Will Be Fixed—Strikers Quiet and Mills Running. Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 6.—The sash and door manufacturers have determined to try to fix the responsibility for the labor riots here. Warrants were issued this morning for the arrest of Thomas A. Kidd, secretary of the National Wood Workers Union, and Geo. Senter and Michael Tabor, local leaders. The complaint was made by Nathan Plain of the Plain Lumber Company. The charge is for conspiracy to maliciously injure the company by terrifying and intimidating its employees by means of threats and abuse. Kidd threatens a retaliatory suit for damages. Everything is quiet today and mills are running with small non-union crews.

General King Will Sail Next Week. San Francisco, Aug. 6.—Brigadier General King has announced his intention of sailing for Manila with the troops on the transport Arizona, which he expects will be ready next week.

Death of a "Rough Rider."

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 6.—Private James Gister, Company E, 1st volunteer cavalry, "Rough Riders," died at Ft. McPherson today of typhoid fever.

Troops Sailed for Manila.

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—The transport steamers Lamme and Charles G. Nelson, bearing five companies of the 1st New York volunteers and 2nd United States volunteer engineers, sailed for Honolulu today. The ship Tacoma, transporting horses and mules to the Philippines for the use of the United States forces, also sailed for Manila today. It is expected the voyage will occupy about 60 days.

Missouri Democratic State Convention. St. Louis, Aug. 6.—The paramount issue in the coming Democratic state convention, which meets at Springfield August 10, will be that of territorial expansion. The Democrats of New York in particular, and of the east in general, are, it is said, anxiously awaiting the action of this convention. Ex-Governor Stone is looked upon as a leader of the expansionists in Missouri. The state administration and the majority of Missouri's congressmen are opposed to such a policy.

Sword Presented to Lieutenant Hobson. Long Beach, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Lieutenant Hobson was presented with a handsome sword by the guests here and in his speech said: "I have to beg of you that you recall the simple, absolute fact that the little incident at the front indicates only the status of your sailors' effort."

NO REPLY RECEIVED.

State Department Has Received No Word from Spain—Seizure of French Ships Considered.

Washington, Aug. 6.—It can be stated definitely and positively that no word of Spain's final action on America's peace terms has been received up to noon by the State department or the French embassy.

Seizure of French Ships. Secretary Thiebaut, of the French embassy, called at the State department at 2:30 this afternoon. It was thought at first that he called to make an appointment for the delivery of Spain's answer, but it developed the call was in communication with the seizure of French ships.

TROOPS SAILED FOR HOME.

Santiago, Noon Aug. 6.—The United States transport Gate City sails this afternoon for Long Island, loaded with cavalrymen. The transports Miami and Mattawan will leave here tomorrow. Each vessel will sail individually as soon as loaded.

PREPARING FOR TROUBLE.

Extreme Diplomatic Tension Exists Between Great Britain and Russia. London, Aug. 6.—That extreme diplomatic tension exists between St. Petersburg and London is generally admitted today, although officials deprecate the alarmist reports current yesterday. It is hoped the firmer stand adopted by the Marquis of Salisbury during the last few days, which seems to have already created some misgiving at St. Petersburg, will have the desired effect of arresting Russian aggressiveness. It is felt both here and on the continent that the outcome of the dispute in regard to the new Chwang railroad extension, is the crucial point of the success or failure of Great Britain's policy of "open door." As evidence that Great Britain appreciates the gravity of the situation the Associated Press learns that the admiralty is preparing for all emergencies and will soon be ready to mobilize warships.

Every officer and man on furlough or half pay has been assigned to a ship and instructed to be in readiness to join at the earliest moment. Therefore, practically every ship in the British navy, whether in or out of commission at the present moment, has a full war complement of officers and men ready to take her out to sea when the time arrives. Admiral Reddell, commanding the French-China squadron has cabled Paris demanding reinforcements and a large credit to be applied to erecting fortifications. The reason given is that the natives of the Kwang Chon Wang region are showing signs of hostility. But there is a suspicion here that the action may be connected with a desire to back up Russian designs.

General Grant's Expedition Started.

Newport News, Aug. 6.—The transport Manitoba with the Pennsylvania cavalry and artillery and the United States mail for Puerto Rico has sailed. The remainder of General Grant's expedition is still waiting for transports.

Colored Troops for Santiago.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 6.—The 8th Illinois volunteer infantry (colored) will leave tomorrow for New York, whence they will be transported by the steamer Yale direct to Santiago.

CONDITIONS ACCEPTED.

Spain's Reply to United States Completed—Will Be Submitted to the Queen Regent.

Madrid, Aug. 6.—Spain's reply to the United States has been completed. It accepts the American peace conditions. Submitted to Queen Regent. The Spanish reply to the United States, which it has been learned on high authority accepts the American peace conditions, will be submitted to the queen regent this morning, previous to the cabinet meeting.

Conferences Held With Party Leaders. The queen regent this morning conferred with Senor Soler, the conservative leader, Duke Tetuan, the former minister of foreign affairs, and Marshal Martinez de Campos, the former captain general of Cuba. This afternoon her majesty will receive Senor Robledo, whose views are said to be shared by Weyler. The series of conferences between the premier and the leaders of the various parties concludes this evening, with interviews with General Canalejas and others. Senor Barrios, the Carlist leader, has not replied to Premier Sagasta's invitation to come to Madrid to discuss matters.

Terms Approved. New York, Aug. 6.—A Madrid special to the New York Journal says: "The queen regent has approved the reply of the Spanish government to the United States accepting the conditions laid down by the latter under which peace will be concluded."

Splenic Fever in California.

Fresno, Calif., Aug. 6.—The cattle and horses pastured on Kings river are suffering from Texas, or splenic fever. Within a few days 200 head succumbed to the disease, which is spreading rapidly.

Railroad Mortgage Foreclosure. Denver, Aug. 6.—In the United States circuit court today Judge Riner entered a final decree of foreclosure in the suit of the American Loan & Trust Company against the Denver, Leadville & Gunnison Railroad Company. The sale will be held in this city on August 16. The indebtedness of the road amounts to $2,886,110. Judge Riner authorizes the acceptance of bonds and coupons of the company in lieu of cash. This, it is said, virtually assures the Union Pacific's control of the road since that company is in possession of nearly $1,000,000 worth of the company's bonds.

Taos and Colfax Counties.

Mr. McKay, who has been prospecting a Bitter Creek placer at La Belle, has been put in charge of the Ajax mill near Elizabethtown.

The Ajax mine and mill at Elizabethtown are being put in shape for operation by Hawley Finch, the new owner. Preparatory work is nearing completion at the Bitter Creek placers and a clean-up is promised for this week.

Donna Ana County.

E. A. Franklin reports that an assay on his new strike on the western slope of the mountain near Organ, shows 73 ounces of silver and 36 per cent lead.

Within the next three months a concentrating works will be erected in the San Andres mining district.

The Bennett mine near Las Cruces has considerable ore on the dump and a large body in sight. The concentrator is running at its full capacity.

Socorro County.

Prospecting outfit and miners are beginning to appear in Socorro. Water canon and vicinity promises to experience a revival of the old mining days.

W. L. O'Kelly has taken a lease and bond on the Mastodon mine near Hillsboro.

The leasers of Gus Hammel's mine in the Carpenter district at Hillsboro are said to have opened up a large body of lead ore. A few sacks that were assayed showed 66.4 per cent lead, 87 in gold and 12 ounces silver to the ton.

The ore is mostly sand carbonates and it comes in pockets of from 300 to 400 pounds each and the wall is honeycombed with other pockets of the ore.

Grant County.

The leasers on Hon. J. M. Webster's Trujillo creek mine are said to have struck rich ore.

A good grade of lead ore is being taken out of the Surprise mine at Hanover, and is being shipped to the smelter at El Paso.

There has been some talk of the workmen in the Cabello mountain lead mines and smelter seizing the property for wages due them.

The long dormant copper and iron mines of Santa Rita are becoming imbued with new life under the action of the Santa Rita Copper & Iron company and its active superintendent, A. E. Dawson. The company owns 77 claims in the district covering an area of 1,500 acres. The formation in the basin is unusual. The copper ore intimately permeates every portion of the formation in an area of 1,000 acres.

There are a number of insane persons confined in the county jail, and the county commissioners should see that they are gotten into the asylum at Las Vegas. The county jail is a disgrace, and although the officers have done all they can to repair it, it is still far from being a suitable place for insane patients.

There is talk of having plaza concerts twice a week for the balance of the season; people think nothing of giving $1 to see a barnstorming show, but will not give anything to the band, which is a home institution and which spends its money in this city. WILL BUY FRUIT.

Santa Fe Fruit Company is Ready for Business—Building Will Begin at Once.

The Santa Fe Fruit Company is proceeding as fast as possible with its work. On Wednesday a telegram was received that the evaporator was at the depot and would be shipped the next day. The smaller machinery is all on the way. Arrangements have been made today with Mr. Windsor to commence the building at once.

The town is losing $200 a day now in wasted fruit because the company has not been able to get at work sooner. Hereafter the company will purchase all fruit, and ship the best of it to be sold green, evaporating or otherwise using the remainder in the most economical way. It proposes to ship a car load of apples to Denver next week.

It is said to think that the loss to Santa Fe through the lack of such a business affair in the past, if it had started ten years ago, the suburbs would now be a mass of orchards and everyone would be amply supplied with both work and money.

Santa Fe orchards are swarming with leaf slugs, and unless effective spraying is used at once, much damage will be done to the trees.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 6.

If peace should be declared within the next six weeks there will be a lot of politicians in New York. A declaration of peace by the middle of September would turn Colonel Roosevelt loose to raise Cain in the campaign in the Empire State.

It is rumored at army headquarters that when General Shafter returns from Santiago his weight will be considerably less than 300 pounds. The general has been taking the perspiration cure for obesity, as it were, simply because it could not be avoided.

Some newspaper man who has visited Cuba styles that island the "American Egypt." The fellow who invented that idea will live longer if he avoids southern Illinois. There is but one "American Egypt" and the inhabitants of that land are a jealous race.

Senor Castelar, the Spanish statesman and Republican leader, has always been accredited with considerable sound sense, but when he advises that Spain maintain her sovereignty over Puerto Rico, he fails to exhibit the usual amount of acumen displayed by a smart man. Puerto Rico is lost to Spain for keeps.

Harmony in South Dakota and Georgia this year, among politicians, is so thick that corn knives won't cut it. At state conventions held in those two states the past week the tickets were nominated, platforms adopted and all other business transacted in 45 minutes. The only possible explanation of this occurrence is, that the conventions referred to were not held by fusionists.

The good people of Boston are very much shocked over the reprehensible conduct of one of the preachers in that city. The minister in question announced that on a certain evening he would preach on the subject, "To H— with Spain," and invited all the swearing men in town to come to hear the discourse. The minister is certainly misunderstood by his townsmen. He had an inspiring subject and wanted an appreciative audience. That is certainly a very little thing to raise a row about.

A thorough investigation into the methods of some of the boards of county commissioners in New Mexico, made before the coming election, might possibly result in the election of men to manage county affairs who have more regard for honesty than they have for the pocket books carried by themselves and friends. While the showing made by careful investigations would not speak very highly for the probity of some of the office holders in the territory the ultimate end would prove of great benefit to the people and taxpayers.

General Brialmont, of Belgium, by some occult power, has figured out that at the end of four centuries the world would be so densely populated that a state of overcrowding will exist and "bloody wars east, north, south and west" will be necessary to straighten out a desperate state of affairs. Meanwhile there will be no meat to eat because all the pasture lands will be required to raise vegetables for the multitudes. That is certainly a dismal outlook for coming generations, but the general is reckoning on things he never dreamed of. So long as the Rocky mountain country keeps above water there will be pasture lands for goats and burros. Bloody wars may come but there will always be meat.

Astonishing Exhibition of Common Sense.
There is little doubt that a great majority of the people of America do not take kindly to the administration's attitude on the Philippine question and the prospect of entering into a partnership arrangement with Spain for the control of the islands is looked upon with greater disapproval. But the disposition of the Philippines has not been settled yet, by any means, and if recent dispatches from Madrid are true, Spain may help in the matter in a very sensible manner.

According to the latest advice the Spaniards seem to be awakening to the practical side of the question and are doing a little book-keeping with a view to determining whether or no the whistle is worth what it will cost. Thus, the Nacional advises the sale of the islands because of the great expense which must be incurred in the creation of a new navy and the maintenance of an army adequate to put down the Aguinaldo rebellion. Whether the Nacional's article was "inspired" or not, it is distinctly on the line of approach to common sense, which is, of all things, the rarest in Spain. Of course it is ridiculous in the Spaniards to believe that the United States would permit the sale of the Philippines, but the fact that such a proposition is made with a view to a curtailment of the national expenditure is a step in the right direction, for until now the universal cry has been "the integrity of the colonies must be maintained though Spain perish."

It is plain, from the Madrid press comment, that the loss of Cuba and Puerto Rico is accepted as an accomplished fact. The only concern for them now seems to be the adjustment of the fiscal obligations secured by revenues which the mother country expected to wring from them and which are now cut off. Quite naturally, from a Spanish point of view, the Madrid press is indignant at the prospect of seeing the entire West India secured debt tumbled into the national treasury, where it will be lost in the mass of rubbish which has accumulated there during the last 30 years. Contrary to the general belief, only a small part of the Cuban bonds are held abroad, all but about $20,000,000 of the $500,000,000 of these securities, backed by Spain's guaranty, being held by the Bank of Spain and the subjects of the crown. That the foreign holdings will be liquidated in the course of time is probable, but the great bulk of the debt may be put down to profit and loss, the most important account of the national ledger.

But the real significance of this new turn in the discussion of the situation is the unmistakable acceptance by the Spanish press of the colonial dismemberment which it now recognizes as inevitable. The people are being prepared to view the situation as the rest of the world has seen it from the beginning of hostilities. This is a long stride in the direction of peace; for, once the people shall awaken to the futility of continuing the war for the retention of one colony, the anger at the loss of another and another will become less and less, until, finally, a realization of helplessness will remove the danger of internal disturbance and leave the present dynasty at least temporarily secure.

Give Those Kept at Home a Chance.

The cessation of hostilities between the United States and Spain will open up a new question, that of what is to be done with the volunteer army? This appears to be a question easily answered, discharge the volunteers and send them home. That is all very well to talk about, but it does not dispose of the matter by any means.

The men who have fought in Cuba, those who went with General Merritt to the Philippines, and those who have walked on flowers in Puerto Rico will raise no objection to returning to their homes and former occupations, but there are thousands of others who have gotten no nearer to a fight than the training camps they were first sent to. These men enlisted to fight and gather glory and they are not inclined to take camp life for active war. It is a shame to disappoint men who are anxious to fight, bleed and die for the flag, and Spain will be held responsible for the disappointment in quitting before there were battles enough to go round.

As it is reported that an "army of occupation" of 50,000 men is to be formed to remain in Cuba, it is suggested that these volunteer regiments which are already bewailing their fate as home guards, be selected for this service in the West Indies. The regulars have fought and suffered already and should be returned to the United States for rest and recruitment for a time at least. The proposed service in Cuba, beginning after the rainy season is over, would probably not be arduous, being merely to preserve the peace, and prevent the different parties in Cuba from using their machetes on each other's jugulars. Doing the police and dress parade business in the Cuban towns and cities in pleasant weather would not be so monotonous as life in a camp of instruction. The smart American volunteer would find many ways to beguile the time.

The presence of a well-drilled and disciplined American army in Cuba for a year or two would be a valuable object lesson, and volunteers would in some respects be more adapted to the service than regulars. The regular soldier as a rule never expects to leave the army. Soldiering is his trade and he proposes to follow it as long as he is physically able. The volunteer never forgets that he has been a citizen, and he proposes to become a citizen again. Stationed in Cuba, he would investigate the country and its affairs, learn to speak Spanish, establish friendly relations with the inhabitants, and possibly, at the conclusion of his term of enlistment, remain on the island, engage in business of some sort, acting as an unsalaried and uncommissioned ambassador and minister plenipotentiary of the United States. In the reconstruction of Cuba the volunteer should be allowed to take part, if only as an excellent example.

Intended for Barcelona.

(Washington Times.)
As the Maria Teresa is about to be saved, it is perhaps proper to suggest a mixed commission to see whether or not the valuable vessel should be returned to Spain. We might retain a coaling station in the hold and commercial privileges in the steward's pantry, but to keep the whole thing might look like Yankee greed. Therefore let there be a commission and let Dupuy de Hale, Jonathan Love and Jesse Schley be the commissioners.

Man Hunt to the Finish.

(El Paso Times.)
Sheriff Pat Garrett, of Dona Ana county, N. M., came down from Las Cruces yesterday, and when asked by a Times reporter what he thought of Oliver Lee's letter justifying his own course, Sheriff Garrett said: "I read the letter, but I do not consider it necessary for me to go to the newspapers to contradict lies from such a source. Lee has outlived himself and he must take the consequences. His actions throughout this whole affair have not been the actions of an innocent man. In February, 1898, when Judge Fountain and his son were murdered, Lee was then a deputy sheriff of Dona Ana county, and as such he acted very queerly to say the least. When the first searching party to take the field followed Lee, the tall slayer of "Billy the Kid" shot a sharp glance at the reporter and a peculiar smile played around the corners of his mouth when he replied: "When I think I can catch him."

Sheriff Garrett said he did not wish to discuss the affair for publication, and when asked when he would again go after Lee, the tall slayer of "Billy the Kid" shot a sharp glance at the reporter and a peculiar smile played around the corners of his mouth when he replied: "When I think I can catch him."

The reporter suggested that Lee was acting very much as a guilty man would act. "Yes," said Sheriff Garrett, "he is acting very recklessly. He must eventually be caught or killed. If I don't do it some one else will."

FASHION HINTS.

Various Suggestions With Regard to the Prevailing Mode.

The fashionable skirt trails slightly, even in the case of tailor made gowns for walking, and is usually made with a circular flounce mounted on a yoke either straight, pointed or round, although full length breadths are also used.

Bathing costumes are seen in all colors and are frequently trimmed with silk now that a means has been discovered by which silk is rendered impermeable. Navy blue, black and red, with dark gray, are the best colors, as they always have been, and are especially recommended for the reason that they are easily cleaned. Fabrics have largely replaced flannel as being thinner and lighter and yet having sufficient firmness not to cling.

The watch is now worn on a long chain which encircles the neck, the watch being tucked in the belt.

Suede gloves are again worn, and glaze kid no longer has the field to itself. Glaze gloves will probably continue in favor,

DUST CLOAK.

however, until light shades are abandoned for street wear, as smooth finished kid is much more serviceable in pale tints than suede. A white suede glove is ruined after one wearing in the street.

Directoire and Greenway bonnets are the favorites for children, and the little, close, Dutch cap, which does not protect the face at all, is no longer seen.

A picture is given of a new dust cloak which has a loose sack body, upon which is mounted a scant circular flounce. It is of violet tulle de sole embroidery, with bowknots in white silk, and opens at the left side, where it is edged with a ruche of white mousseline de sole. The collar reverses of white silk are trimmed with ruffles, as is the waist collar. The lining is of white silk, the cravat of white tulle.

THE COMPLEXION.

Virtues of Warm Water For Washing the Face and Hands.

Rough towels are usually recommended for bath use, and as the skin of the body is continually protected by the clothing and receives little friction save during the bath a rough towel is desirable for promoting the circulation and stimulating the surface. With the face and hands, however, it is a different matter. They are exposed to constant variations of temperature, to wind, sun and other harsh influences, and chafing them with a rough cloth abrades and coarsens the skin instead of improving it. Soft and somewhat warm towels are therefore better for face and hand use, and violent rubbing is to be avoided.

The face and hands should not be washed in very cold water, as it injures the quality of the skin. Washing the face in cool water when the skin has been sunburned is also to be avoided, for, although when the face is really sunburned cool water seems to be the only application which can relieve and refresh it, the result of such application will be that the face will swell and the skin peel off in the painful and unsightly way which everybody has experienced. This can often be escaped by washing in hot water, using a very soft cloth and simply pressing it against the skin and afterward applying a little olive oil.

The cut shows a costume of sky blue glaze taffeta. The lower part of the skirt is covered with ruffles, edged with ruffles of black gauze, the tulle having a similar border as well as applications of cream guipure. The bolero is also embroidered with guipure and, with the sleeves and sleeve caps, is trimmed with black ruffles. There are revers of black velvet, and the belt and collar are also of black velvet, the chemise being of plaited white mousseline de sole.

CONUNDRUMS.

As These Are Riddles of Life They Are Unanswerable.

Why is it that just when you're dreaming of leading a forlorn hope to victory or rescuing terrified women from a burning ship some dog or other gives a sudden bark at your heels and you jump half out of your boots?

Why is it that just as you think you are going to get the most charming spouse man ever wooed something goes wrong and you get a remarkably superfluous sister instead?

Why is it that just as you're getting everything into shape to have some fun in life you eat tadpoles or fall down a coal cellar?

Why is it that just when you've got a good sure thing to prophesy about and astonish the natives a miracle happens and it goes the other way?

Why is it that just when you're starting out to show some other fellow how to ride the bicycle the pedal always slips and over you go on the side of your head?

Why is it that just when you're picturing yourself as the guide and counselor of a mighty nation your wife goes through your overcoat pockets and finds an unposted letter two weeks old?

Why is it that just when you want this you get that, and just when you want that you get this?

Why is it that just when you don't want to do anything you've got to do everything, and just when you want to do everything you've got to do nothing?

Why is it that just when you hold your tongue you ought to have talked straight ahead, and just when you talk straight ahead everybody else wishes you'd held your tongue?

In short, why is it we live in this world instead of some other, and why is it we're not somebody else instead of ourselves, and ourselves something else instead of being anybody?

Heaven knows! I don't.—Brooklyn Life.

Unkind Cut In Criticism.

When criticizing books and other works produced by men of talent, the remarks made and the opinions expressed should relate to the work only and not reflect on the personal character of the worker. Mr. Banks' "History of Rome" was rather severely judged one evening.

"Really," said a gentleman in the author's defense, "you all appear to be very censorious. For my part I like his 'Rome' better than his company."—Nuggets.

Egg-actly.

"This is a tedious job," protested the egg to the sitting hen.

"If I can have patience, you can surely," chuckled mama.

"But why can't I be dug up kicking from the gooseberry bush like other babies?" said the egg.

"Because," said mama severely, "because I belong to the Nevertellable society. Now be quiet, or you'll be cracked."—Pick Me Up.

Only That and Nothing More.

The Eskimo parent frowned.

"What would you?" he demanded of his daughter, who had complained of the weary monotony of the fare, "don't we incessantly live on the fat of the land?"

Helping himself to a second cup of whale oil, he glowered severely.—Vim.

In Spite of Her Teeth.

A young fellow was extolling a lady's beauty very highly, and one of his companions allowed that she had beauty which would pass if she had not such a bad set of teeth.

"That is true. But she can't help that, I suppose, and she's a fine woman in spite of her teeth."—Nuggets.

As Brave as Most of Us.

The Ladies of Old Cadiz.

I'd like to go to Cadiz, just to see those witching ladies, those witching, witching ladies, where the orange blossoms blow.

With their dainty cigarrillas And their quite too sweet mantillas. Oh, to Cadiz, with its ladies, I will go.

And when our guns were booming With a pity quite consuming I would say, "Oh, charming ladies, please to hustle now aboard."

For although we humble Cadiz We don't care against the ladies And the ladies of old Cadiz need not fear the Yankee sword."

And with their cigarrillas And their all too cute mantillas I would load every cruiser with this fascinating blow.

And so by easy stages I would bring these fair hostages All these ladies of old Cadiz, far across the ocean blue.

BATTLE IN ARIZONA

New Mexican's Special Correspondent Tells of a Terrific Encounter at Whipple Barracks.

ETIQUETTE OF CAMP DINNERS

Splendid Hospital Service—Practical Jokers
in the Ranks—The Bright Side of Soldier's Life—Members of Company
C Mentioned.

Written on NEW MEXICAN's war cor-respondent's special cracker box, at Mole of St. Whipple, August 2 (via Flagstaff)
—A most important battle has been fought since the last batch of special dispatches were sent to the NEW MEXI-CAN. The engagement lasted about five minutes and was participated in by the cook and Private Mullen. For a few minutes the clash of pokers and roar of falling frying pans and other heavy artillery was positively deafening. During a lull in the battle Sergeant Eastley, bearing an olive branch, and preceded by a white dove, entered the breach and concluded peace negotiations. No fatalities resulted, and no indemnity asked. A new cook is now commander-in-chief of the kitchen.

Company C now has its full quota of soldiers. Three "rookies" from Prescott have left their happy homes and cast their destinies with the Santa Fe boys. One of the new acquisitions, who is a printer, has been given a position in the kitchen, where he will prepare "pi" and other delicacies. There are now a sufficient number of printers in the company to hold chapel meetings and attend to all matters affecting the spiritual welfare of the boys. The names of the new recruits are: Edward Janeway, Edward Anderson and Frank Sullivan.

Colonel McCord reviewed and inspected the troops last week. Major Mitchell is now commander of the post, and is making many radical changes, which give a more decided military aspect to the fort.

A regimental band has been formed and it discourses excellent music during guard mounts and dress parades.
Robert Murphy, Ernest Stetson, William Bennett, Alexander Hamilton and Richard Warwick were taken from the Santa Fe company and placed in the band.
Although called the "Arizona Band,"
New Mexico furnished 12 of the 17 musicians comprising the organization.

The uniform of the regiment for the regiment has been received and will be distributed this week.

Sunday was "muster day." The knowing ones state that the mustering formality bears a close relationship to pay day. This intelligence caused some of the boys to faint in the ranks, during the ceremonies.

The new cook is preparing an exceptionally fine "feed" for next Sunday.
The exclusive "stag" dinners of Company C are the talk of the camp and are invariably attended by more than 100 guests, all of whom are unanimous in the opinion that there is no better browsing ground in this locality. These affairs are approaching a recherche phase, observed only in the most genteel society.

During the past two weeks no one has broken a limb while making a desperate run for the center plate, and the recent importation of knives and forks has obviated the necessity of eating with the fingers. In fact, the latter habit is almost entirely obliterated, as several consider it bad form. Other habits, such as placing the feet on the table, sipping bread in pork grease, drinking stumpgum from a plate, etc., are also melting away under the withering taboo of those who have enjoyed the benefits of "good raisin'." When the commissary department receives its quota of dried apples
it is expected that the diarrhea of Company C will mount a pinnacle of excellency entitling them to a prominent place in the social column, under the caption, "swell functions." The menu of "Sunday, as arranged by the chef
de cuisine, is as follows:

Stunglutton a la Spain.
Fish Tails a la Bismarck.
Potatoes Fried in Grease. Oh Lord!
I (Guests who do not "get in line")
can not Havana.
Quail a la Camera. (An American never quails)
More Beans.
Lettuce get 'em McKinley.
Tomato Cass a la "Weary Walkers."
Manila Sherbert.
Cake Walk.
Revolutionary Pie.
Cheese Made 301 B. C. (A-dam Brand)
Small Coffee and Lots of Water.

During the sumptuous repast the newspaper correspondents will collect their notes and render some charming music, and a rough shod soldier boy will walk on tactics and hard tack for the amusement of the guests.

Later the picket line (ditto toothpicks) will be passed, and lovers of the terpischorean art, will do a sand hill squad and other dances.

The daily exodus to the hospital has been increased considerably by the effects of vaccination. Yesterday, one of the Arizona companies furnished 21 inmates. Your correspondent took an accidental dose of fever and was confined there one week. Everything is seriously neat and decidedly comfortable about the place. So much so, in fact, that it is a real luxury to be taken sick and placed in the hospital. Each ward, including the ste-waid, is in apple order. The culinary department lacks nothing that tends to build up the system and insure rapid recuperation, and the chef certainly knows how to prepare the numerous delicacies which the system of the invalid delights in assimilating. Hospital regulations have changed wonderfully since the civil war. Many can doubtless remember the time when it was customary to give a man who suffered with exanthematous bone or broken member, a dose of pills and consider him cured. But all that is done away with now. Either the government has stopped issuing the sort of pills which are warranted to grow a set of artificial limbs with each box, or Surgeon Smith has forgotten how to use them. Medicine of every description is prepared in closely compressed tablets, which are easily handled and convenient for the patient. It requires as many tablets to conduct a hospital as it does to operate a newspaper.

Dr. Smith is making a great record for himself here. He handles no less than 100 patients per day and has met with remarkable success in every case. He is ably seconded by Dr. W. E. Lindsey.

Sergeant Gutterman, the irrepressible wag of the company, is still playing the practical joker. His latest feat in the joke line culminated last evening and Sergeant Ormerod was the victim. In some manner Gutterman got hold of a bunch of old harness buckles, then informed the sergeants that when the new commanding officer arrived, each sergeant would be expected to wear a belt with the brass buckle attached, and a

"spike" in his hat. Sergeant Ormerod
"bit" and the remaining sergeants were taken in on the joke. An old "helmet spike" was found and Ormerod spent considerable time polishing his new possessions and arranging a soft felt hat to hold the spike. The denouement was not sprung until the joke had been carried on a couple of days. The laugh that followed is still reverberating among the hilariously laughing Whipple. Ormerod declares that he will Hew Kirkman down to his size when he receives his "side arms," and will Pierce Leahy with that "spike" before he goes out of service. He can do it, Easley, if he really wishes.

The number of guards about the post have been increased. A great many soldiers (none from the Santa Fe company) go to town in a search of booze which will not inebriate and from the frequency of their visits the assumption is warranted that the article is difficult to find. The new guard system will have the effect of checking this habit.

Corporal Warren, of the Santa Fe company, has received a promotion.
He is now connected with the hospital
corp.

It is generally noticed here that the New Mexican predicts a wave of prosperity for New Mexico after hostilities cease. In this connection, it may be well to state that Arizona will come in for a generous share of the same success. Of course things are somewhat high here (notably the temperature), but never before in the history of the territory has the products of the region shown more remarkable development.
The tarantula, centipede and lizard crop will be especially large this season and the number of flies is only exceeded by their abnormal growth. The aforementioned products are chiefly valuable for scaring women, being acknowledged far superior to the domesticated, northern mouse.

A report from town has just reached the barracks to the effect that peace has been declared. The place will now go into mourning for several days.
