"ADVANCED" DRAMA AMERICANS STONED BY CATHOLIC CHURCH

President Feeny of Federated Societies Scores Modern Play; Want More Catholics in Office.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] New Orleans, Nov. 14.—Protests against the proportionately small number of Catholics holding federal and state offices and the failure of the state to pay for secular education in Catholic schools, denunciation of obscene plays and "the immoral and pernicious motion picture shows," and a earnest entreaty to Catholics to combat socialism, featured the annual report of President Edward Feeny of Brooklyn at today's session of the ninth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies.

"The federation has no candidate for public office," he said, "but it seems that in proportion to the number of Catholics under the flag, here and in our insular possessions, we have by no means a sufficient representation in the public service. Further, those selected by our government for responsible public positions should be men of good moral character, and not nominal Catholics."

Turning to the theaters, he said: "An indignant Catholic protests that devotees of the so-called 'advanced school' in the last few years have deluged the United States with an obscene drama, which scoffs at marriage, and, as a result, this element of social purity has become the target for the abuse of the vulgar humorist, and a never failing mine of indelicate innuendo to the dramatist. The obscene play has been supplemented by the immoral and pernicious motion picture show which debauches young children."

Mr. Feeny urged the suppression by the civil authorities of obscene and objectionable films displayed in picture shows.

"Extravagance," he says, "rules among many of our people and, to relate, in proportion as some of them prosper their love of God weakens. The fight for morality goes on today as it did one hundred years ago."

"We pray that the virtuous living and irreligious of some of our people may not endanger the life of the republic. We believe that without religion the most enlightened government of today would drift into the decay and chaos that overwhelmed Greece and Rome."

He commended the efforts of the individual and social justice league to combat socialism. The league's purpose he said was to make clear the principles at issue between American thought and life and the economic and political revolution proposed by socialism, to "uphold the American ideal of home, the integrity of the family, the love of country and to maintain the everlasting reality of religion as the foundation of our civilization."

The president paid his respects to Mayor Nathan of Rome, for his attacks upon the pope and the Catholic church and urged the federation to add to its program "against the insults heaped upon the sovereign pontiff by jokers who find the ben of the fold hemmed within the walls of the Vatican."

He gave a parting shot to the "scurrilous" newspaper writer and the "muck raker of the magazine," and said in this day of universal reading the members of the faith must be vigilant in the protection of their religion and the defense of its members.

FIGHTING PASTOR IS ACQUITTED

Court Holds Preacher Cannot be Prevented From Wearing Sailors' Uniform in "Blind Pigs" or Elsewhere.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Seattle, Wash., Nov. 14.—Rev. P. S. A. Jensen, formerly well known as a boxer and football player, of the University of Chicago and now leader of the fight against "blind pigs" in the navy yard town of Charleston, has been acquitted of the charge of having worn an undecorated uniform of a United States sailor. Charleston is by law, but not in fact, "dry." Pastor Jensen, in the uniform of a United States marine sergeant, found it easy to buy liquor in the saloons and obtained evidence under which they were prosecuted.

The United States marshal, who conducted a sort of a campaign, prosecuted Jensen for wearing the uniform of a United States sailor. The trial judge ruled that the law was unconstitutional and pointed out women in the court room wearing sailor's caps and blouses.

IN INJECTION BILL EQUITABLE, SAYS MR. MOON

Congressman Replies to Statements in President Gompers' Report to Federation of Labor at St. Louis.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—Congressman Andrew G. Moon of this city, who was involved in St. Louis today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in his annual report, when referring to "anti-trust and injunction" this afternoon, issued a reply.

Mr. Moon said Mr. Gompers' statements are "entirely unwarranted," that the injunction bill embodies in it the uniform practice of the best federal judges for over a century. He said the statements of Mr. Gompers respecting his proposed injunction bill are entirely unwarranted by the facts of the case. This bill embodies in it the express legislative terms of the uniform practice of the best federal judges for over a century.

The statement reads in part: "The statements of Mr. Gompers respecting his proposed injunction bill are entirely unwarranted by the facts of the case. This bill embodies in it the express legislative terms of the uniform practice of the best federal judges for over a century."

"The bill is designed to protect the laboring man against the abuse of the injunction process without notice. It requires the person obtaining such a writ to show some showing before the judge within ten days from the date of service of such injunction, and thereby prevents the man obtaining a writ of this character without notice. It does not now possess, and it simply embodies into law the fixed and uniform practice of careful federal judges everywhere throughout the country."

FRENCH PRETENDER WEDS LEOPOLD'S DAUGHTER

Marriage of Prince Victor and Princess Clementine Take Place in Italy Amid Public Rejoicing.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Turin, Italy, Nov. 14.—The marriage of Prince Victor Napoleon Bonaparte, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel and pretender to the throne of France, and Princess Clementine, daughter of the late King Leopold of Belgium, which has been looked forward to with so much interest was celebrated today at Moncalieri, a village situated on a hill a few miles from here.

The ceremony took place in the royal castle erected in the fifteenth century, to which Princess Clotilde, sister of King Humbert and mother of Prince Victor Napoleon, retired after the overthrow of the French empire. Public rejoicing marked the occasion.

The members of the Saverio and Bonaparte families were present, including Prince Louis Napoleon, the young brother of the pretender who for some time had not been on good terms with the bridegroom, but who agreed to a reconciliation on this occasion, chiefly through the efforts of his mother. He acted as a witness for his brother, the other witness being the Duke of Aosta.

The witnesses for Princess Clementine were Prince de Ligne d'Arenberg, representing the king of Belgium and Archduke Fritz of Austria. Princess Clementine received a letter from the pope imparting the apostolic benediction of both her and her husband. The latter received messages of loyalty from the Bonapartist committee in France and Corsica.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

CONSISTENCY, PRICELESS GEM.

The people cannot rule, say the New Mexico democrats, unless they have direct legislation.

"The people rule," say these democrats, because direct legislation, without direct legislation, have gone democratic.

Right—there are exceptions to all rules—the people can rule, without direct legislation, just so they elect democrats.

Let the people rule—but it's a poor rule that doesn't work both ways.

It is to smile.

THE MEXICAN OUTRIAGE.

While the outbreak of anti-American sentiment in Mexico on account of the lynching of a supposed citizen of that country in Texas, renewed serious proportions and menaced American lives and property in the southern republic, we believe that it does not represent any deep seated animosity to this country in Mexico. Mexicans are hot headed and excitable, and exaggerated stories of the torture of one of their supposed countrymen by the Texans not unreasonably made them see red. The discovery that the victim of the lynchings was not a Mexican, but a New Mexican, should end the explosion, and it is expected that conditions will soon become normal and Americans will be as safe in Guadalajara as in Hackberry, Kan.

A "great matter" is sometimes kindled by a little fire. It is not believed, however, that the uprising of the agitators and the turbulent element represents the sentiment of the Mexican people toward this country. Amiable relations between the sister republics have always been recognized by both governments as most desirable and reasonable and there is every reason to believe that after the present trouble has blown over the people will continue.

Meanwhile, the Texas lynchings should be taught their lesson and prompt and vigorous action by that state will serve to quell lingering sparks of resentment in Mexico. Stringent self-control, also, on the part of Oklahoma in the matter of the Mexican assassin of the chief of police at Anadarko is of vital importance. A few cool heads on both sides of the line may prevent serious consequences arising out of an unfortunate combination of circumstances, all happening at the wrong psychological moment. There is absolutely no reason why international friction should follow scattered outbreaks of lawlessness in both countries for which neither the governments nor the people at large are in any way to blame.

A SILENT WORK.
In its plans for "Block day" on next Tuesday, a full account of which is given elsewhere, the Young Women's Christian association of this city has shown that it means business, that it is thoroughly in earnest, vigorous and aggressive, and that it means to improve to the fullest the great field for usefulness which lies before such an organization in this city. The association is backed by the best known women in the city and has gained the cordial support of New Mexico's women in all sections of the state. It has already accomplished wonders in the short time since the movement started, and its members deserve every possible encouragement, financial and moral, from the citizens of Albuquerque and New Mexico. These women have formed the nucleus of what will be one of the largest, most humanitarian and most useful organizations in the new state. Thursday a campaign for subscriptions will be inaugurated to place the association on its feet and supply the funds for a maintenance fund which will enable it to go forward in its great work, unhampered by financial handicaps.

The response to the appeal of Albuquerque's women should be instant and enthusiastic. We are confident that it will be. We have never accorded the proper recognition to Albuquerque's young women. We have the Commercial club and various organizations, fraternal and otherwise, for the benefit of the young men, but their sisters have been neglected. This movement is more important than any of the others and the people of Albuquerque will have an opportunity the latter part of this week to make up for last time. The movement now under way is for the best interests of New Mexico's future homes and for her future citizenship, and it merits strong and willing support.

The El Paso Times is wielding its hammer industriously these days, probably trying to knock its New Mexico subscription in the head. The latest refers to unsanitary and fever-ridden New Mexico as follows: "Typhoid fever has made its appearance in Clayton, N. M., and several deaths have occurred. This disease is prevailing in many other New Mexico cities and towns, and its presence is a timely admonition to get busy and clean up. The best method of fighting typhoid is through the observance of proper sanitary precautions."

ALCOHOL AS A REMOVER.

The removing power of the moving spirit of old John Barleycorn is thus pointed out by the Anteb Index:

An exchange says that alcohol will remove grass stains from summer clothes. The exchange is right. It will also remove summer clothes and also spring and winter clothes not only from the man who drinks it, but also from his wife and children. It will remove household furniture from the house and establish from the pantry, the smiles from the face of his wife, and the happiness from his home. As a remover of things, alcohol has few equals.

SYSTEMATIC AND EFFECTIVE.

The New Mexico newspapers are rendering valuable assistance in the advertising campaign of the New Mexico Publicity association. The Pecos Valley News of Artesia says:

The bulletin of the Immigration bureau of New Mexico is one of the most systematic ways of getting information before a home seeker ever dreamed of. It means the liquidation of hundreds of people are each week sent out over the territory to real estate men in each community. Each community through its real estate dealers, presents its case to the prospective settler and he takes that which suits him best. A man who wishes to locate in New Mexico, may, by simply sending his name and address to the bureau, have the advantage of a free selection of this territory laid before him in advertising and personal letters. Secretary Harding is to be congratulated upon the success of his plan.

THE JOURNALISTIC PARODY.

A leading newspaper over in the Pecos valley has the following which we publish out of a charitable desire to have the local evening paper see how its policies are viewed by the general run of boosters in New Mexico. The Pecos Valley News says: It is one thing for an ignorant, prejudiced outsider like G. J. King to rush into New Mexico and graft a little by writing lies about this state and its people, and it is another for a shameless journalistic cowardly liar like the Tribune Citizen to uphold and praise its dirty work. This Tribune Citizen has its subscribers in New Mexico, draws its meager advertising from this state, and, aside from Felix Martinez' pork barrel, owes its very existence to the forbearance of New Mexico, yet it does not hesitate to republish slander and misrepresentation against our state and her people. It is possible that the Tribune Citizen is working out its spite on New Mexico because the city of Albuquerque does not support it. It is possible that it has been so "customized." Else why? This King came to us unbidden, out of the night of nonentity, and he will return to the place from which he came, but does not the Tribune Citizen's position favor strongly of the definition of treason, as given by federal law?

THE ELECTRIC AGE.

Electricity, which now runs nearly everything in this country, is soon to be the one great factor in the irrigation of great areas of New Mexico land. The popularity of electrical pumping for irrigation is spreading into every section and it is believed the current driven irrigation pump has come to stay in the valleys around Albuquerque.

Even in the arid desert, the advantages of the "juice" method are becoming recognized. An Artesian paper says:

In the electric motor several Artesian people believe they have found the ideal means of pumping water for irrigation. Many propositions have been submitted to us at various times and for various pumping schemes, but no headway was made until a short time ago, when several land owners contracted for power from the Artesia Light and Power company and purchased motors for use in next year's irrigation. T. D. Smith, agent for the Commercial Supply company, was here this week and reported that he had sold the motor for the G. M. Brown place, which, with two and one-half miles of line supplies, has arrived and is ready to be installed. This motor is ten-horsepower.

THE QUESTION.

The Silver City Independent says: The following states have so far adopted the initiative and referendum: Oregon, South Dakota, Nevada, Montana, Illinois, Utah, Texas, Maine, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Arkansas. Colorado will be added this fall, making just one-fourth of the states of the union. The question now is: will the people of New Mexico approve of a state constitution which does not embody these popular measures in their behalf?

The following states have been able to carry along without the initiative and referendum: New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho, Minnesota, Washington and California, making just three-fourths of the states of the union, including the oldest, richest, most prosperous and the democratic solid south.

The question is: will the people of

New Mexico approve a state constitution which guarantees representative government as in the federal administration and that of three-fourths of the states; or will they reject admission to the union, sought for fifty years, simply because they cannot have the initiative?

What?

Tales of the Town.

By Their Feet Ye Shall Know Them.

It was standing on the corner of Central avenue and Second street yesterday, which particular spot is the rendezvous of the young men of the city, they chance to meet for the first time a young man, who, considering the passing moments and passing womanhood.

"This isn't the sort of day you read about in those glowing pamphlets of the Y. W. C. A. being sent broadcast over the country," he remarked, drawing his overcoat collar well around his throat.

The other fellow, younger and jauntily wearing his overcoat and top hat, replied: "Spring itself would be but gloomy weather if we had nothing else but spring."

"I guess that's right. An occasional day like this makes us fully appreciate the pretty days and a day is this had here you can bank on it; it is considerably worse back in 'God's Country'."

They pushed back well in the shadow of the protecting walls and stood.

"Do you ever contemplate matrimony, kid?" said the older man to the younger, seemingly appropos of nothing, though he was rather earnestly examining two girls crossing the street toward them.

The other fellow blushed slightly as he raised his hat to the girls. When they were out of hearing he evaded the question with another which is the popular way of dodging when not knowing exactly how to reply.

"What made you think of that, old man?"

"Well, I was thinking a man contemplating the happy state of matrimony might do well to make observations on a rainy, windy day. He might think better of it—afterwards. Now the girl on the right, looking after the two girls who had just passed, is a coquette, and the other the direct antithesis of a flirt: what I call a 'bore' girl."

"How all this psychological reasoning?" asked the young fellow in some amazement.

"By their feet," replied the man who made a hobby of character study. "A coquette may train her eyes to seriousness, but she can no more help wearing high heels, long, tight, and openwork stockings, than she can help breathing. She always cleverly manages to display her feet, either sitting or standing. The 'bore' girl, not necessarily the girl who rides horseback, wears shoes as near like the make of her brother's as she can get them. She affects short skirts and severely tailored blouses and as a wife will want the husband to 'go to bed' with her in a frank, brusque and uncompromising as her severe shoes and clothes."

"By George, that is interesting," laughed the other. "I always notice a woman's feet, but never thought of it as a character study. Speaking of feet, what about the girl crossing the street?"

"She is the 'man's ideal' type," emphatically declared the man. "She is neatly dressed and wears nothing but sensible shoes with a low but not too large. That swirl of eternal femininity revealed by the wind you would hardly suspect. Those feet trimmed skirts and intended for the eyes of mere mortals, but she is a character study of feet, what about the girl crossing the street?"

"What about the girl who wears 'man's' shoes?"

"They are out of style, I believe, but the aesthetic type applies to most men. The 'bore' girl, in character study, usually makes a sweet old-fashioned wife and will remind you of lavender and sweet peas just as her trail reminds you of old-fashioned novels."

"Thanks," said the young man as he bid the other good-bye. "I will remember your interesting sidelights and watch out for the windy days when I seriously contemplate the matrimonial question."

How Would You Like to be the Boss Clerk?

Yesterday a man rushed down the stairs of one of our leading hotels and hurried to the desk to pay his bill. He threw a ten-dollar bill to the clerk.

"THIS HOME-MADE COUGH SYRUP WILL SURPRISE YOU."

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes a pint enough for a whole family. You cannot put as much of as good remedy made cheap as for $2.50. Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 5 pint of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (five cents worth) in a pint bottle, and add the sugar syrup. Shake perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it. Braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps and a cough.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis, and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable medicinal compound of Norway pine oil ever extracted, refined, and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this remedy.

The amount sent from this remedy is in immediate relief to the United States and Canada which explains why the plan has been limited often, but never successfully.

On Firing Line of the Y. W. C. A.

Shot No. 2—By J. B. Herndon, President State National Bank

It is love that makes the world move, and the loving attention and care, that should surround a girl, transplanted into a new home, is what Miss Saxe and her able assistants are ready to give.

This matter is a personal one to each and every man in Albuquerque, as a city, with such an institution, as the Y. W. C. A. is given, and such as the Christian ladies, who have it in charge, intend to make it, will be a better place to live in and more inviting to the prospective inhabitant, who has a family to rear. Our government at Washington and our states expend fabulous amounts to eradicate diseases of animals and to protect both animal and plant life and overlook that most important of all, the health, morals and happiness of the individual.

A noble band of women, all over the world, are engaged in building homes, hospitals, places of recreation, doing the city relief work, conducting classes in domestic and physical science, and looking after the moral, physical and intellectual welfare of their sex. It is a work of far reaching importance, and Albuquerque is to be congratulated that the foundation of this work has been so well laid and that it is in the hands of such an efficient corps of ladies.

They need funds to complete their work, and when they call for donations, we should deem it a privilege to contribute to a cause so worthy, remembering that "he who gives gladly, gives twice."

Y. W. C. A. Completes Plans for "Block Day" Thursday

Representative Women of Albuquerque Will Start Out Simultaneously at Four o'Clock in Afternoon Distributing Envelopes in Which Public Spirited Citizens May Place Contributions to Carry on Splendid Work of Organization in This City.

Thursday, November 17, will be "Block day" in Albuquerque. If you don't know what Block day is, it is high time to be informed.

Block day is the day upon which the Young Women's Christian association is going to make a personal appeal to you to aid with your money one of the most commendable public movements ever started in this city. The plan is this: At precisely 4 o'clock, post meridian, on Thursday, a procession of vehicles drawn up at the Y. W. C. A. home, on South Fourth street, loaded with enthusiastic women of this city, will start out toward a goal which is nothing less than the placing on its financial feet the Y. W. C. A., and the starting of a maintenance fund which will enable this splendid organization to effectively do the work which lies before it in this city. A strong and useful Young Women's Christian association in Albuquerque is an organization that will boost, has been boosting for Albuquerque in the biggest sense of the term.

The city will be divided off into "blocks" with a group of ladies in charge of each block. Envelopes, capacious envelopes, will be left at every home and every place of business, and the members of the association will put these envelopes in these places in the course of an hour or two. They will remain until the following Monday, when the same ladies will call and gather them up, each one bearing its contribution.

large or small to the worthy cause at issue. The ladies who will officiate on "Block day" are among the most prominent and best known in the city. They include, Mrs. Isaac Barby, Mrs. Roy McDonald, and Mrs. E. H. Clapp, chairman for the four wards of the city. Mrs. Dr. Colbert, Miss Caldwell, Mrs. J. R. Houd, Mrs. A. C. Shupe, Mrs. C. H. Kappale, Mrs. W. R. Mattson, Mrs. John Mordy, Mrs. Pitt Ross, Mrs. John Strumquist, Mrs. D. A. Hittner. Assisting these will be the executive board and officers of the association, as follows: Dr. Margaret Cartwright, president; Mrs. E. A. Field, treasurer; Mrs. Kappale, being secretary; Mrs. George L. Brooks, Mrs. J. J. Runyan, Mrs. M. D. Sterling, Mrs. W. R. Barney, Miss Sarah Madison, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Beckman, Mrs. W. B. Childers, Mrs. C. H. Conner and Mrs. M. K. Wylder.

A meeting for preliminary arrangements was held last night at the home, at which many young women were present and busy.

ASSOCIATION SUPPORTED THROUGHOUT THE STATE

As a result of a recent trip by Miss Saxe, general secretary, through New Mexico, the movement has already elicited the cordial support of prominent women in the other cities, including members of the Denning Woman's club, twenty-five members in Silver City, one in member in Santa Fe, and others in various cities.

exclaimed, "O, kiss me, too, Bess." But Bess was equal to the emergency. Grabbing the little trespasser up in her arms she kissed him, saying shyly, "Of course I will. But you shouldn't talk so. You should say, 'kiss me twice.'"

"What is it?" inquired the clerk of the gentleman who was waiting.

"Why—do you remember," he began deliberately, "Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who stopped one day at this hotel about six months ago?"

"I am sorry, but I do not," replied the clerk, thinking, no doubt, of the many Smiths who come and go with the seasons.

"Well," said the gentleman, "I really do not matter about them. But what I wanted to ask you was about a real estate man whom they called to me."

"Just then the gentleman who had called out to make the limited rushed in."

"You gave me the wrong change," he shouted to the clerk.

"Bardon me," said the clerk to the gentleman, "I made a mistake, and I am sorry. I thought you had given me a five dollar bill, and I gave you a ten-dollar bill."

"You gave me five, I am sure," replied the clerk, "and in the meantime I would like to get my train."

The clerk gave him five dollars and he rushed wildly out of the door. As the clerk started looking over his cash to figure out whether the mistake was his own or the other fellow's, the clerk suddenly required: "Did you see you never heard the Smiths mention the name of the real estate man whom they went to see in this city?"

"No, I did not, I am sorry," replied the clerk in patient tones.

"Thank you, I just thought perhaps you remembered hearing them say. They were nice looking people," he suggested, indignantly, as though to prove the other's memory.

"I don't remember them," he repeated wearily, and the old gentleman moved regretfully away.

Then the door opened and the other man entered. "I missed my train," he said, dropping his suit case with a bang.

Have Presence of Mind.

"A man never flies to an occasion like a woman," a well known man of this city was saying yesterday. "No, sir, it takes a woman to display her presence of mind in the moment of need," and then to bear out his statement he told the following story, saying he knew the young lady well and that it was the Gospel truth.

It seems that an ardent admirer of the said young lady had called at her home and she had gone into the morning hall to meet him. Her maid, however, possessed of proverbial small but characteristic, was also there—but unobserved.

There—but unobserved.

Just at the moment that the admirer unexpectedly entered, Bobbie

Lost Roll is Returned.

During No. 1's time here yesterday afternoon a New Yorker en route to El Paso lost a pocketbook containing $100 and many valuable papers on the station platform. Upon discovering his loss, he began a wild search, resulting in finding the money and papers in the hands of a laboring man on the same train bound for Los Angeles. The laborer was trying to locate the owner. Upon receiving his wallet and papers, the New Yorker asked the man where he could find him later on, as he wanted to know the address of such an honest man, but did not offer to make any reward for the return of his valuables.

RAILROAD CHANGE IS BIG BOOST FOR CLOVIS

Means at Least 100 Additional Population; Again Rumored Machine Shops' Capacity Will be Doubled.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Clovis, N. M., Nov. 15.—That Clovis is destined to become one of the most important railroad centers in the southwest was evidenced the first of this week, when the official announcement was made that it had been decided to make "The Magi City" a division point and locate a superintendent, trainmaster and other division officials here.

For some weeks there has been a rumor in the air that October 15 would see these offices located here. But it is understood that the absence of General

The new superintendant, who will have his headquarters at Clovis, is J. E. McMahon, heretofore a trainmaster at Las Vegas. With him comes an office force of seven or eight men, K. J. Woodward, trainmaster, with headquarters at Vaughn in the north, and making a total addition to this city of probably twenty-five families. Some of these men are married and of course will bring their families to Clovis as soon as arrangements can be made. The total addition to the population of this city as the result of this move will be from 75 to 100.

There is also a well founded rumor that the present machine shop will be enlarged to twice their present size. A transfer table will be installed for handling engines into and out of the shop. The repair track facilities will also be increased and a building will be erected for repairing cars in during the cold weather. It is not expected that these improvements will be undertaken before spring.

The new officers and their clerks are quartered in the rooms above the passenger depot. They are somewhat crowded and business is being conducted at the present time under difficulties, which will, however, soon be removed.

The best saddle horses to be had in the city are at W. L. Tremble's 113 North Second street Phone 5

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.
New York, Nov. 14.—The stock market narrowed into a professional groove again today. An organized party in the speculation took up the movement for an advance in prices which it left off on the eve of the election. Apparently the conviction that profit taking sales prompted by the election were cleared up by last week's operations, offered the principal basis for the revived movement.

Three stocks, United States Steel, Union Pacific and Reading still absorbed in overwhelming proportion of the total dealings. Union Pacific moved into second place at the expense of Reading and in the first hours stood in the number of shares which changed hands.

The prominence of the Union Pacific in the dealings was accomplished by the circulation of rumors that it was to be admitted to the Paris loan. Interests with French banking connections were credited with a large share in the day's dealings.

A sustaining influence for stocks was the good showing made by the banks in the week ending on Saturday. The call loan market was easier, there was a decline in the discount rate in London as well. The Monday offerings of South African Gold went to the bank of England, making the successful progress of the recuperation of that institution.
