100 KILLED IN RIOT AT PUERIA

FOR GENERAL UPRISING.
Mexico City, Nov. 18.—Details of the anti-Plas conspiracy alleged to have been promoted by Francisco Madero, now a fugitive from Mexico, and which has resulted within the last two days in the arrest of several conspirators in the city and elsewhere, came to light today, indicating that next Sunday was the date fixed for a general uprising.

The conspirators appeared to have extended their operations to the states of Vera Cruz, Hidalgo, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, Tamaulipas, Durango, Chihuahua, Yucatan and Zacatecas. To the authorities in these states orders have been sent to

SPORTS

MOTORCYCLE GAME IS INCREASING IN FAVOR

Bigger and Better Things Promised for Sport This Season; Many More Professional Riders.

As elsewhere, the popularity of the motorcycle is rapidly increasing in Albuquerque and New Mexico and this city now boasts a big battery of the machines. Local enthusiasts will be interested to learn that bigger and better things are promised for the motorcycle racing game next season. This promise is held out to followers of the sport in the constantly swelling ranks of professional motorcycle racers. Professionals are bobbing up in every state—amateurs and trade riders who have been emptied by the cash prizes hung up at various race meets.

With the increasing number of professional riders will come larger prizes, the ranks of the professional growing in proportion to the prizes offered. Now that the ball has been started, it is expected to do some tail rolling before the end of next season, and that the summer of 1911 will find a great body of active professionals in competition for prizes that are really worth while.

This increase in professionalism is viewed with favor by officers of the Federation of America Motorcyclists. President Fred L. Willis, of Indianapolis, has no hesitancy in giving the professional his approval.

"It will not be long in my opinion," said President Willis, "before there will be a great number of professional riders in the P. A. M. ranks. A great many people all over the country, particularly the best people who are interested in athletics, and members of the Amateur Athletic Union, have a great horror of professionalism in sport. I myself have no use for the professional athlete. But the motorcycle game is a different proposition. The initial cost of the machine and its upkeep for racing purposes will make a big hole every year in $1,500. The initial cost to the athlete of his machine is nothing—because his 'machine' is his own body. And, further, the upkeep is very little in addition to what his regular board bill would be. Therefore, the poorest man, without expenditure of money or waste of time, and there is no reason why he should take money for what he does."

"Motorcycle racing is a business and a profession in itself, and I can't see why a man should be held in disregard for making his living in this way any more than he should be held in disregard for making a living by repairing motorcycles or manufacturing them."

These views of President Willis are held by many of the other P. A. M. officials and other followers of the sport. They see no real and just cause for the prejudice which exists against the professional motorcycle racer among some people, and they believe this prejudice is disappearing day by day. In any event, there are recruits to the professional ranks constantly coming in. The P. A. M. looks for astounding records when these riders are pitted against one another for honor, glory—and the purse.

DARING BIRD MAN WAS JOHNSTONE SAYS KOPKINS

Postmaster Returns from Denver Where He Saw Doomed Aviator in Action Day Before Terrible Death.

That the performance of Ralph Johnstone, the aviator who fell to his death at Denver Thursday were daring and spectacular in the extreme, is the statement made by Postmaster R. W. Hopkins, who returned yesterday from a visit to the Colorado capital, during which he attended the aviation meet at Overland park. Mr. Hopkins had the pleasure of seeing Johnstone do some fancy aerial stunts and had a good view of the flyer just a few feet away. The planes of his machine, according to Mr. Hopkins, were so filmy that you could see through them, and the Albuquerque man, having no use for the professional athlete, but the motorcycle game is a different proposition. Menauls Give Lack of Practice as Reason for Not Playing Third Contest Scheduled.

The game between the Menauls and the Albuquerque High, which was scheduled to be played this afternoon at Truxtun park, has been declared off as a result of the refusal of the Menauls to play. The reason given by the latter team is lack of practice.

The Highs will play a practice game with Truxtun this afternoon and will continue practice next week in anticipation of a game with the El Paso High next Thursday. This game is not yet assured, but the locals believe it will be arranged.

HARVARD FAVORITE IN BIG GAME TODAY

Crimson Is Logical Winner of Annual Struggle, But Blue Has Plucky Fighting Team.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—The football team that wins here tomorrow—Yale or Harvard—will take place not only as undisputed champions of the east, but among the great teams in the history of the sport. If Yale wins, she will have shown a resistance, courage against odds and ability not only to win but to do so, that although those things have always been part of the very name Yale, will mark her 1910 eleven as the pluckiest fighting team she ever put out.

If Harvard wins, she will only establish more firmly the reputation she has been making all season. Against Dartmouth, Cornell and Brown this year, Harvard has never been forced to extend herself. On the other hand, Yale has been beaten twice this year crashingly by teams ordinarily counted on to give her only a stiff rub. On all her forms she was an indifferent third rate team until last Saturday. Then came her amazing and savage spring at Princeton. Harvard is the favorite as she logically ought to be. The crowd tomorrow will be all the field can hold. From applications in hand it seems probable that 100,000 would flock to the field tomorrow if there were seats enough to hold them. But that it is precisely what the athletic committee in charge do not want. They fear to commercialize the game. The crowd is always a dead loss, the track and field teams are a lesser drain, the baseball shows small profit and all that is asked of the football team is to pull the others through. Too much money might debauch the game, which already, in the opinion of the faculties, has authority enough. The last practice of the Harvard team was held this afternoon on the links of the Country club at Farmington. The variety and first substitution lined up and while there was no actual scrimmage the formation to be used Saturday were carried through to completion.

TWENTY-THREE SPECIAL TRAINS CARRY CROWD.
New York, Nov. 18.—The largest football crowd that ever stormed the Grand Central station will pack itself into twenty-three special trains tomorrow to see the Yale-Harvard game.

Many graduates of both colleges and their friends have engaged many other cars. Among them are J. P. Morgan, G. W. Perkins, Harry Payne Whitney, Albert H. Gray, W. E. Corey and Ballard McCall, who will carry the twenty-three trains will carry more than twenty thousand passengers.

PATHFINDER CAR AT LAGUNA

Premier Accomplishes First Short Lap in Trip Over New Untraveled Route to Phoenix.

The premier pathfinder car of the Touring Club of America, in charge of A. L. Westgard of New York, driven by Roy McNamara, and also bearing Automobile Editor Drumm of the Chicago Record-Herald, and Mrs. Westgard, arrived early at Laguna Wednesday, according to advices received here yesterday. The car left here Tuesday and was accompanied as far as Laleta by Colonel D. K. H. Sellers of the New Mexico Automobile Association. Leaving a new transcontinental route from New York to San Francisco, the car goes from here to Phoenix over a new and untraveled route via the White mountains of Arizona. It leaves the railway west here at McCall station and the presumption is that the car is now well into the wilderness, driving south to the Arizona capital. Further news from the pathfinder will be awaited eagerly by local automobile enthusiasts.

AUTO TOURISTS ON 10,000 MILE SPIN

Radeliffe Party Which Passed Through Albuquerque Leaves Phoenix for Los Angeles.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 18.—Having traveled over 10,000 miles by automobile since the first day of July, a party consisting of George, William and D. J. Radeliffe and J. Sinclair, arrived in Phoenix Monday night, leaving yesterday for California. They came and went in a 20 horse-power Ford, in which they had covered 5,000 miles of their journey. If written out in full, the story of the trip made by them would be one of the most thrilling in the history of automobile travel. They had remarkably little trouble, considering the rough first day of July. At the time they left, the most remarkable fact in connection with their trip is that they ran the entire 8,000 miles on one set of tires, with only one puncture. When they reached Phoenix the tires looked almost as good as new.

George Radeliffe is the owner of the machine. With his two brothers he started from Porterville, a short distance from Los Angeles, on the first day of July. At the time they did not have the same machine they finished with, but another of exactly the same make and model, purchased from Roger Stearns.

First the Radeliffe brothers went through northern California and up into Oregon. There they learned that there was no road over which they could expect to run their machine to reach the plains east of the Rockies, so they sold their Ford and went by rail to Aberdeen, S. D.

At Aberdeen they purchased another Ford like the one they had sold, having come to the conclusion that it was the best car for the kind of trip they were making. With their bed tied on behind, food and cooking utensils in the tonneau, they set out to complete their automobile trip.

Wherever night overtook them they camped, and where day and oil whenever they passed through a town. Not once did they have to take their machine in a garage or hire a farmer to haul them out of the mud. More than once they got stuck, but they always managed to haul the car to a spot where its own power would move it.

"We had one puncture," said George Radeliffe. "That was on a boulevard coming out of El Paso. We stuck a nail in one tire."

The Radeliffe party passed through South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, penetrated Illinois, went back through Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, New Mexico via Albuquerque, and Texas. At El Paso they crossed over the river into Mexico, but as the customs officials took all their oil and gasoline away from them they did not go far. It was at El Paso that the Radeliffe, picked up Sinclair. He was with another automobile party going to Los Angeles, but the machine was broken down and he threw in his fortunes with the Californians.

KID MCCARTHY IN RING AS WHITE MAN'S HOPE

Southern Arizona Heavyweight Can't Come Back, for He Never Went Away; Is Reformed Newspaper Man.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal]
Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 17.—For a little city of fifteen or twenty thousand inhabitants, Phoenix has supplied her share of the world's celebrities. The latest Phoenix boy to gain eternal fame is Earl McCarthy, who will go down in history as Kid McCarthy, the name under which he has shot like a meteor across the pugilistic horizon, and announced to an anxious world that he is the real simon pure, non-bloated, non-bottle White Man's Hope. Now the white race can sit back, draw a long breath and truthfully await the time when Chappell, alias McCarthy, is able to persuade Jack Johnson to leave his 200 pound act and racing Harvey Oldfield long enough to step into the ring for about fifteen minutes.

Chappell lived in Phoenix until last spring, when he went to Tucson, by trade he is a printer, and he worked on the local newspapers, including the Republican. By inclination, however, he is a pugilist. He was ever willing to lay aside the quill-quin for the padded mitt.

A short time prior to his departure he distinguished himself by daring to wear a girl of 16 without her mother's knowledge or consent. His bravery attracted widespread attention, particularly that of her mother, who did not want to be a gentleman. He was a pugilist. He was ever willing to lay aside the quill-quin for the padded mitt.

To his most intimate friends Chappell confided that he had promised his wife to give up the boxing game and be a gentleman. Whether it is because of her mother's cruelty or because the white race needs a Jim Jeffries did, Earl has decided that he will give up the boxing game and be a gentleman. He is the son of the blood. He wants to see the floor of the ring with the blood of a negro antagonist.

After going to Tucson, Chappell went to a printing shop and wondering whom he will take on after Johnson is put in the has-been class. All he wants is an opportunity. He cares not that Johnson weighs 200 pounds and that he is a negro, but fighting weight is under 140. He will fight Johnson at catch weights and prove the superiority of the white race over the black. The present undisputed supremacy of the negro over the white man is galling to his aesthetic sensibilities.

As well as being a pugilist, Chappell is a poet and a dreamer, who loves to alternate his punching with writing a guitar and singing "Jimmie." His selection of "Kid McCarthy" as his ring name is the result of his poetic originality. It was chosen before he left Phoenix and his friends congratulated him accordingly upon his choice of such an aristocratic, unusual and altogether charming name as McCarthy, preceded by the extraordinary sobriquet of "Kid." It is understood that previously to that time only two-thirds of the fighters who had appeared in the prize ring had been called "Kid."

In the current issue of the Police Gazette, otherwise known as the Barbers Weekly, appears a photo-graph of Chappell in fighting pose. Underneath are the words, "Kid McCarthy, a Promising Young Boxer of Douglas, Ariz."

While the Gazette does not say that Chappell is the White Man's Hope, it does say that he is a pugilist, and he is anxious to meet Johnson at the earliest possible moment. There is no doubt that Kid McCarthy will be back to the ring, for he never went away.

ABOLITION OF CANTEN HARMFUL TO ARMY

Washington, Nov. 18.—The same old story told by many commanding officers of the army of the deplorable result of the abolition of the canteen is repeated in a graphic way by Brigadier General Philip D. Post, commanding the department of the Lozon in the Philippines.

General Post says that most of the court martials last year were the result of the abolition of the canteen. He says that the abolition of the canteen is a violation of the law to sell such liquor to soldiers, but the law cannot be enforced. He says that the abolition of the canteen is a violation of the law to sell such liquor to soldiers, but the law cannot be enforced.

NEW MEXICO AGGIES LOSE TO ARIZONA UNIVERSITY

Tucson Team Defeats Mesilla Park Squad by Score of 18 to 2 in Fierce Gridiron Battle.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal]
Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 18.—Outplayed in forward passing and kicking, but fighting stubbornly all the way, the New Mexico Aggies were defeated here today by the University of Arizona, 18 to 2. The New Mexicans were swept off their feet by the unusual attack of the Arizonians and allowed the first touchdown in three minutes of play. Then the visitors braced and had the second quarter in their favor.

At the beginning of the third period the same fierce onslaught resulted in another Arizona score. After that the visitors played the strongest game and forced the ball inside the five yard line twice, but failed to score. Arizona added another touchdown by a long run on a fake. The only Aggie score was when an Arizona kick was blocked after the local team had been forced across its own goal line.

The Arizonians play the New Mexico University at Albuquerque Thanksgiving day.

LORD BALTIMORE RULED OUT

Judges Won't Let Famous Horse Compete in Show at New York.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
New York, Nov. 18.—Lord Baltimore, the brown gelding that has won so many blues, both here and abroad, for C. W. Watson of Baltimore, was ruled out of the fair horse show on the grounds that he was lame. The famous horse has had a series of setbacks in this year's national horse show.

Mr. Watson was highly indignant, but made no formal protest. William Grant, driving for Paul Sora, also was puzzled. "I'll wager $10,000," he exclaimed, "that Lord Baltimore is not lame, and I'll bet the judges name the veterinarian."

Charles Wilson, driving for Albert D. Vanderbilt, also was positive Lord Baltimore had nothing the matter with him. "There were two bad spills this afternoon and one this morning, but no body was seriously injured," he was announced. Louis W. Wmams of Brighton, England, had the Kentucky futurity winner, Silles, by Moko-Silience, to John E. Madden, from whom Mr. Wmams bought him. Madden would not name the price he paid, but said it was "a few thousand more than I got for him." That price was $24,000. Under the terms, still established a mark of 2,051.4 over a five-furlong track in Austria, and it was that performance that decided Madden to buy him back. The high jump proved a disappointment to those who looked forward to good work on the part of the American riders.

The C. W. Watson cup and $200 first prize went to Confidence, a bay gelding entered by Honorable Clifford Sifton of Ottawa, Canada, and ridden by Jack Hamilton. Confidence jumped seven feet clear. Second went to Lieutenant Clifford Sifton, Jr., brown gelding Wasp, ridden by Hamilton. Wasp jumped seven feet, but tipped the top pole with his front foot. Third was given to Red Raven, a bay gelding entered by Thomas J. Perce of Tivoli-on-Hudson, N. Y., and ridden by John H. Wmams with a jump of six feet, nine inches. The world's record of seven feet, nine inches was made by Heatherbrook in Philadelphia in 1901.

Rockefeller a Guest.
New York, Nov. 18.—John D. Rockefeller attended the horse show tonight as a guest of Walter Wmams. No one remembers him ever attending the show before.

SEEK ARMY TESTS ON AERO FIELD AT ST. LOUIS

Secretary of War Will be Urged to Accept Aero Club's Offer of Free Use of Air Course.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal]
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 14.—Colonel William A. Mann, commandant at Jefferson barracks, has been asked to accept the Aero club's offer of the free use of Kinloch Field for government aeroplane tests. Officers at the barracks expressed keen interest Tuesday in Secretary Dickinson's declaration that he had contracted for fifty aeroplanes for the use of the United States Signal Corps. They appear as anxious as Albert Bond Lambert and the board of governors of the Aero club to have army tests made on the field, where St. Louisans may witness the flights.

The declarations of Alfred Le Blanc, the French aviator, and Walter Brock and Arch Hoxsey, the Wright aviators, that Kinloch field is the greatest ground in the United States, will tend to induce Secretary Dickinson to send a portion of the army aeroplanes to St. Louis, according to Aero club officials. The Aero club offers to transport all soldiers required for army aeroplane tests to the field from the barracks. If the war department decides to hold its army aeroplane tests in St. Louis, officers at Jefferson barracks think a company of the regular army's signal corps probably will be stationed at Jefferson barracks. Another exhibit at the show will be the finest motor boat between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. It is owned by Mr. C. C. Butler, manager of the American hotel, who has kindly loaned it to the management of the show. It will be put on in connection with the exhibit of the Lipport Motor company, who are also manufacturers of aeroplane engines.

ARBITRATION BOARD ADJOURNS WITHOUT SETTLING DISPUTES

Another session will be held tomorrow, after which the final judgment will be taken.

TAKING THE AXE TO HIGH COST OF LIVING

Practical Demonstration on Meat Economy by Experts Proves Highly Interesting at Woman's Club.

Mrs. Mize and Combs made a decided hit at the Woman's club yesterday in their talks and demonstration of meat cutting and cooking. Mr. Mize had the meat brought from Trotter's market and demonstrated the advantages of certain cuts. Mr. Combs then fully explained various methods of preparation. There were nearly a hundred ladies present and the large crowd displayed much interest, asked many questions and evidently gained from the instruction many practical ideas.

A wonderful cafeteria lunch, consisting of soup, two kinds of meat, sweet potatoes, celery, biscuits, sherbet, lady's fingers, coffee, sugar and cream was served at the cost of $4.70. This demonstration was a valuable one in inexpensive culinary attempts, and was a source of much surprise to the ladies. The domestic science sessions are proving very successful and each succeeding date devoted to the study of the culinary art is more successful than the one preceding.

CYCLE JUGGLING GETS CHAVEZ INTO GRIEF

Employs of Santa Fe Baggage Department Swaps Hind Wheels Neatly But Victim Gets Wise.

Alexander Chavez, twenty years old, an employee of the Santa Fe local baggage department, has been indicted for the limit in police court for performing a little presto change work which was somewhat out of the ordinary and which with the exercise of a little more judgment might never have become public knowledge.

The story runs that Chavez rides a bicycle, the rear wheel of which went on the blink. A number of bicyclists being checked in the baggage room, he conceived the brilliant idea of quietly exchanging a perfectly good rear wheel out of one of these machines for his own disabled one. When the opportunity presented itself, the plan materialized, and after a little busy work Chavez was the possessor of a sound rear wheel once more. His enterprise, however, over-reached itself, for the new wheel was fitted with counter brake automatic hill climber, musical attachment, aviation tire, and double back action dinkus with a few more up-to-the-minute necessities, while Chavez' wheel was just a plain wheel. Consequently the exchange was apparent the instant the owner of the other wheel called for his machine. A little investigation put the explanation on to Chavez and he was given an opportunity to make such explanation as the proper surroundings to make it perfectly legal and binding.

CELESTIAL STUNTS TO BE SCARCE THIS YEAR

Halley Comet Fakirs Will Have No Chance Until 1985; Two Bum Eclipses of the Sun Are Promised.

Some of the 1911 almanacs are here and are a real disappointment to the sky gazers. Albuquerque people who enjoy hunting out the rare antics of the planets will find little to do next year.

Bethel's are always interesting. An eclipse of the moon is not uncommon, but total eclipses of the sun are rare. There will be a shortage of both next year. There will not be a single eclipse of the moon and this is unusual. Generally, there are three or four and one or two partial eclipses of the sun are thrown in for good measure.

Two eclipses of the sun are promised, but they won't be worth the task of smoking a glass to hunt. The first one occurs April 28. If you happen to be in the extreme southwestern portion of the United States on that day you will get a fairly good view of it. The eclipse will be total, but not in any part of the United States. On October 22 there will be another eclipse of the sun, but it will not be visible in this country.

No special demonstrations are promised and nothing of the order of the Halley fake is in the new almanac. The Halley comet story will not be told again until the 1985 almanacs are printed.

In 1911 New Year's day will be on Sunday, July fourth on Tuesday, and Christmas on Monday.

be said. Lent consequently begins March 1.

Thanksgiving day comes at the very tail end of the month, November 30. There are five Thursdays next November and there will be the usual argument whether Thanksgiving comes the last Thursday or not the fourth Thursday, as some suppose.

The Jewish year 5672 begins September 22 at sunset.

There will be two occurrences of Friday the thirteenth. The first is in January, the second in October.

And that is all, astronomically speaking, that the almanacs promise the world in the year 1911.

READY FOR CHRISTMAS

Shop of the Indian Horse Sends Out Invitations.

Almost every household in the city will receive today through the mail an attractive postcard invitation to inspect the unique and exclusive line of Holiday Gifts on display at the Shop of the Indian Horse, corner of Central avenue and First street.

In showing our reporter through the establishment yesterday, Mr. Clarke said the constant demand for something new would be met this year to the entire satisfaction of everyone. The four corners of the earth have been scoured for novelties, and the resulting display down the "Big Indian Store" is well worth a look-see.

In addition to large and small Navajo rugs, pretty pillow tops, and the handiwork and most comprehensive line of drawwork ever shown in the city, there are scores of daintily hammered copper jardiniere and fern dishes, vases from Korea, Florentine mosaics, and everything imaginable in Arts and Crafts metalwork and clay.

One could write columns about the "nifty" workmanship of the solid silver craftsmen sleeve buttons, the beauty of the Hopi pottery, and the inimitable daintiness of the Mexican lace.

The policy of the Clarke establishment is hospitality and courtesy. Everybody is welcome, whether they go to buy or to look, and you need feel under no obligation to spend a nickel when you go in to enjoy the display, as you should.

EL PASO MAN TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

Adolph Schutz, Brooding Over Supposed Financial Troubles, Shot Himself Through Head.

Mrs. Samuel Schutz, mother of the deceased, and the sisters, Mesdames. Nos. 1161, 1162, and 1163, S. Rosenwald, left yesterday for El Paso to attend the funeral of the late Adolph Schutz of this city, whose death by suicide, occurred Thursday morning.

The El Paso Herald says of the tragedy:

Adolph S. Schutz, a salesman in Hixon's jewelry store, committed suicide Thursday morning at 7 o'clock at his room in the Wallace flats by shooting himself through the head. He was a son of Samuel Schutz, one of the pioneer El Pasoans. He is a brother of Edward Schutz, employee at the Lesinsky company, and a cousin of Adolph Schutz, assistant cashier of the American National bank.

The only reason assigned for the suicide was supposed to be a note which he had signed and which was held at one of the local banks. According to his friends, he had been troubled over the note for the past week. The bank it is said, was insisting upon the note, which he had signed, which had been signed by Schutz as an accommodation. His mother, who has been at Hot Springs, Ark., for her health, was expected home Sunday and it is thought that he feared that his mother would learn of the note. Worry over this is thought to have caused the temporary insanity resulting in the suicide.

Was Unmarried.

The deceased El Pasoan was 40 years old, unmarried, a Mason, and was well known in business and fraternal life of the city. He was engaged in business with his father, the late Samuel Schutz on the site of the present Schutz building on San Francisco street. They conducted a furniture store until after the death of the senior Schutz, when Adolph retired from business and took a position with Emerson & Berrier. For the next year he had been employed at the Hixon jewelry store as a salesman. He was in charge of the construction of the new Schutz building belonging to his mother, which was only recently completed on the site of the old Schutz store on San Francisco street.

FOREIGN WRECK AT LAGUNA TIES UP THE WORKS

Light Engine Hits Rear of Drag With Disastrous Results; Alvarado Does Rushing Business at Noon Hour.

Owing to a freight wreck at Laguna caused by the collision of light engine No. 838, in charge of Engineer A. B. Thompson, with the rear of a freight train, trains Nos. 7 and 3 of Thursday night were held in Albuquerque until 2:30 and 2:40 p. m. yesterday. No one was reported injured in the wreck though some twenty cars were broken up or derailed and traffic was tied up until yesterday afternoon. A Ramsey Whitcomb special came in at 11 o'clock in the forenoon and No. 3 was about forty-five minutes late. With the delayed trains in the city the local station took on quite a metropolitan air and the rushing business of a rushing business. The dining-room had to be closed after a hundred people were seated and about fifty people had to wait their turn. The lunch counter was filled to its utmost seating capacity and it was estimated that over 200 people were fed at the Alvarado during and around the noon hour yesterday. The special train went out on the limited time and No. 3 was able to get away promptly. There were no trains from the west until after 4 p. m.

HIGHLAND TROLLEY STOCKHOLDERS TO MEET

Will Give Directors Authority to Dispose of Property at Best Figures Obtainable; Traction Company Has Made Offer.

To give the directors full power to dispose of the equipment of the Citizens Traction company is the object of a meeting of stockholders of the company called for November 29. It is understood several proposals have been made to the Citizens company, one recently made by the Albuquerque Traction company being turned down.

As far as ascertained it is the general desire of the stockholders to dispose of the property at any kind of a reasonable price and it is the expectation that at this meeting they will empower the directors to act accordingly. It is supposed that the matter of the reorganization of the Albuquerque Traction company offer will come up before the directors after they have received final authority from the stockholders.

"We have done our level best to push the enterprise through," said one member of the company last night, "and it appears that the only thing now to be done is to dispose of the property at the best figure we can."

The property consists mainly of several miles of first-class track which was laid some months ago from the Elks' theater at the corner of Fifth street and Gold avenue to the city limits on the south side of the Highlands.

Chase, came yesterday from their large apple ranch near Cimarron, accompanying a five-car load of apples, which were stored in the cold storage department of the Raton Crystal Ice company's storage plant for safe keeping until next spring, when the market price for the fruit improves. The shipment numbered 3,000 boxes. This celebrated apple orchard of 55 acres, stands as a splendid illustration of what Galia county soil can do under the nurturing care of irrigation. The apples produced this year fell slightly short of 20,000 boxes.

ARIZONA NOW HAS A DEVELOPMENT ORGANIZATION

Secretary Tucson Chamber of Commerce Heads Federation to Boost Resources of New State.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 12.—The organization of the Arizona development board, a body having for its object the advertising of Arizona, was completed at a meeting held yesterday morning in the quarters of the Phoenix board of trade.

There was no preliminary discussion when the delegates, who were representatives of the various commercial organizations of Arizona and the county commissioners of immigration, met for the second time. It had been practically decided to form a territorial organization at the first meeting, held Thursday morning, the details being left in the hands of a committee. At the second meeting there was nothing to be done except to draw up a general plan for the new board, in accordance with the recommendations of the committee, and elect officers.

The following were present at the second meeting: H. V. Falter, secretary Tucson chamber of commerce; E. W. Farmer, secretary Douglas chamber of commerce and mines; Dr. J. W. Foss, president Phoenix board of trade; W. C. Budge and Albert Stacy of Nogales chamber of commerce; Mr. Thompson of Graham county; Dr. J. C. Sutherland of Phoenix board of trade; Harry Welch, secretary Phoenix board of trade.

A motion was made and carried that a territorial organization be formed. The name Arizona development board, suggested by several delegates simultaneously and was selected as the most suitable. The object of the organization, as set forth in the constitution, is "to extend co-operation between the different development bodies throughout Arizona and to secure the assistance of the commissioners of immigration and other officials and persons interested in the advancement of Arizona in all lines."

Separate organizations and private persons may like to be members of the development board. The board is a territorial organization in the future, officers of social clubs and county commissioners of immigration are eligible.

The organization will meet regularly twice each year, one meeting being held during the territorial fair at Phoenix and the other at some town in the territory other than the capital. Special meetings may be called by the president and officers at the request of a reasonable number of members.

Most of the work of the board will be done with funds specially raised for specific purposes. The annual dues for a membership is one dollar, payable in advance in November. This is merely nominal and will be used for postage and other incidentals. The officers are a president, first vice-president, county vice-president and secretary-treasurer. The county vice-president is to be appointed each year from the place where the half annual meeting is held. There is also to be an advisory board, consisting of one representative of each commercial organization in the board and the immigration commissioners.

All officers are to hold office for one year, or until their successors are elected. The following were chosen yesterday:

President, H. V. Falter, representing Pima county; vice-president, E. E. Grubbs, representing Cochise county; secretary-treasurer, Harry Welch, representing Maricopa county; advisory board, O. D. Gallaguer, Apache; Jesse Gregg, Coconino; F. D. Smith, Gila; W. H. Clark, Navajo; T. N. Willis, Pinal; W. C. Budge, Santa Cruz; A. B. Bling, Yuma. Representatives for Mohave, Yavapai and Graham counties will be appointed later.

It was decided that the first work of the board should be the publication of a paper read by H. V. Falter at Thursday's meeting on "The Value of a State Organization." Secretary Welch offered to have copies made and sent to all the papers throughout Arizona, an offer which was gladly accepted. It was also moved and carried that a bulletin for the territory along the same lines as the present bulletin issued by the Phoenix board of trade be sent out each month and that the secretary request the different sections of Arizona to mail them which could be used to advantage in the bulletin.

It was the unanimous sense of the meeting that a bureau of immigration and statistics should be established by the next legislature to work in conjunction with the county immigration commissioners.

When the first meeting will be held has not yet been decided. The meeting adjourned to meet again at the call of the chair.

Secretary Welch showed the delegates through the board of trade building and explained the manner in which the plans to display the exhibits he has asked the various counties to send him. All expressed themselves as highly pleased and offered to lend every assistance possible in making the exhibit representative of all Arizona.

65 INDICTMENTS NOW RETURNED AT ROSWELL

No Bills Found in Case of City Officials Charged With Maliciously Prosecuting Alleged Boot Leggers.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Roswell, N. M., Nov. 17.—The grand jury last night returned twenty-six additional indictments. This makes sixty-five indictments to date. Six "no" bills were returned last night, four of them being two each for Mayor J. T. Neal and City Marshal Roy Wootter, both of whom had been bound over to the grand jury on the charge of malicious prosecution in alleged boot legging cases. The action of the grand jury upholds the city officers. Another "no" bill was in the case of Charles Gilbert, held on the charge of interfering with an officer in the same cases. The sixth "no" bill was brought in the case of Mrs. Eda Edwards, who had been charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Following Judge Pope's ruling that all boot legging cases in the district court must be tried before him and not before a jury, O. D. Askren, attorney in one of the D. E. Patrick cases and in the L. C. Durham case, yesterday afternoon withdrew his plea in statement which had been argued before Judge Pope and taken under advisement.

Word came last night of the sudden death yesterday in Los Angeles, Cal., of Carl Lovelock, a former saloon proprietor of Roswell.

J. D. Christopher, former sheriff of Elko county, died Monday at Roswell and the funeral was held yesterday at that place.

While Mrs. J. C. Trout was at her home near Hagerman, Idaho, yesterday, the house caught fire in the roof from a poor chimney and was completely destroyed, with all the contents. Mr. Trout was at home on business and the children, his wife and school, only a small amount of insurance was held. It was a two-story frame dwelling.

Henry H. Bell, who pleaded guilty to shipping twelve yards of silk from the store of Price & Co., yesterday, paid his fine of $25 and costs and was taken to Elko to answer the charge of stealing a shotgun.

MORE BUILDINGS FOR WHIPPLE

Extensive New Construction Expected at Arizona Barracks; 18th Will Establish Headquarters.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Prescott, Ariz., Nov. 15.—Reports are in circulation at Whipple barracks that during the coming year the construction of additional buildings will be authorized by the war department, and that the headquarters of the Eighteenth infantry will be established there. As given out from reliable sources, the additions will include a new double barracks building, possibly a band barracks and two sets of officers' quarters, together with other accommodations that go with that reinforcement. The authorization for this increase of the garrison will be available on and after June 30th. It is believed construction of the proposed buildings will be authorized even before that date.

In conjunction with this reinforcement of Fort Whipple, it is also the current belief that he should report made by General Thomas, now a guest of this city, regarding Whipple as a permanent headquarters, will be authorized and carried into effect. General Thomas, in a former report, as commanding officer of the department of Colorado, made favorable mention of this post for that specific purpose. In view of this it is believed that the post is destined to be in the very near future what this general officer has recommended.

Fort Whipple is one of the most desirable military posts in the nation, and many prominent officers stationed at Washington are cognizant of its unusual climate, its purest of pure water and other features which combine to make it a healthful place. The officers conversant with these attractive conditions are outspoken in their admiration of the site, and through their influence and unbiased judgment it is anticipated that the government will heed the recommendations of General Thomas and others standing high in the war department.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

Still, the result was hardly a vote of confidence, in Tammany.

It would be interesting to see if Uncle Joe Cannon's automobile can scare Champ Clark's mule team.

Ex-King Manuel is possibly enjoying himself at present much more than the people who are trying to get the Portuguese government in working order.

"Americans are a funny people," writes an Englishman who has just closed an inspection tour of the United States. If that is true, how does it come that Englishmen saw the joke.

If ever any human being deserved a lynching, those "southern hunters" who robbed the body of Aviator Johnstone the moment it hit the ground ought to have been strung up without a moment's delay.

Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook, of which Colonel Roosevelt is contributing editor, in an interview gives his opinion of the reason for the republican defeat in New York and other states. While Mr. Abbott's opinions are always interesting, most of us would rather hear from the contributing editor.

The Salt Lake City Herald Republican says: "It seems that the New Mexico constitutional convention has disregarded the advice of Colonel Roosevelt, who would that state to adopt a constitution that could be easily amended. The result may be a bit sad, but as he is not a quitter, the New Mexicans would do well to listen for heavy thunder from the north."

The El Paso Times says: "Chairman W. B. Walton of the New Mexico democratic central committee has called a meeting of that organization to assemble in Santa Fe next Friday morning. The object of the meeting is to determine whether or not the democrats of the state will line up in support of the proposed constitution. There are rumors in circulation to the effect that a determined fight will be made against its adoption by the democracy of New Mexico." We would suggest that you put both ears to the ground and listen for another rumor.

Richard Croker is on the bounding billows headed for home. The democratic landslide does not explain his journey—the time for his annual visit to America had arrived—but we may all be sure that it has quickened his pulses, and made him eager for particulars from those in whom he confides. And when he arrives there may be some interesting buzzing in New York political circles. The turf has never held as warm a place in his heart as politics, and with the democratic tide running high again the "ponies" may be banished, and wholly forgotten.

MR. HUGHES.

The news that President Taft is seriously considering the elevation of Charles E. Hughes to the post of chief justice will be welcome in every part of the nation. Justice Hughes has the popular fancy as an honest man, and any honor that the president may confer upon him will meet a hearty response from the people, and cannot fail to add strength to the administration. It is conceded by even the most bitter enemies of the Taft administration that most of the appointments made have been of the very best. Even the democratic critics, and critics because they are democrats, admit that Mr. Taft has, with one or two notable exceptions, used the best of discernment in the men whom he has appointed to responsible positions under the government, and especially in those whom he has named to the federal bench.

Mr. Hughes is recognized as a lawyer of ability, and he is generally conceded to couple with that superlative honesty. There has been a great hue and cry over the country until it came to be pretty generally believed that there were only a few honest men and that their address was the shady corner of some cemetery. It was a relief to find in the governor of New York a man who was fair to his enemies on the one hand, and not too lenient with his friends on the other.

An obscure lawyer when the insurance investigations began, within a month he was the most talked of lawyer in the United States. It was not so much his ability as his absolute fearlessness. It seems to make no difference to him whether the witness was an $80 a month clerk in one of the state offices, or the millionaire president of a great insurance company. Mr. Hughes, as counsel for the legislative investigating committee, hewed to the line, and he did not even look over his shoulder to see where the chips were falling.

And, through it all, Mr. Hughes did not pose as the only honest man. He merely elevated his eyebrows a bit at the prominence he achieved, and did not seem to be enjoying it thoroughly. When the call came from the people of New York that he should go to Albany, he went quietly, and pursued the same policy that he had traced before. He retained his honesty, and fought the enemies of the public good. When he found those enemies in the ranks of his own party, he did not summon the party leaders and ask them what he should do about it, but went quietly on with his work. The consequence was that his supporters were not confined to his own party. Some of his most bitter enemies are in the party of which Mr. Taft is the titular head, and that proposition does not seem to worry the president of the United States to any great extent.

Mr. Hughes would make a capable member of this highest tribunal in the United States, and, consequently, the world.

THE BRITISH SYSTEM.

Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, the American physician convicted of the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, an actress of more or less note, has been given a new lease of life. The British law provides that two weeks must elapse between the date of the dismissal of the appeal of a condemned man and the date of his execution. For that reason, Dr. Crippen will live until November 23, and will be hanged at that time unless the efforts that are being made to find Belle Elmore are successful, and there seems little reason to believe that they will be of any avail.

The impression prevails that the efforts being made in this country to find Mrs. Crippen, the rumors that she had been seen since the gruesome find in the London house, are merely made to postpone the execution. From the reports that were cabled to this side of the water, it is apparent that Dr. Crippen was given a fair and impartial trial, that every opportunity was given him to present anything that might put a better light on his side of the case, and that he is getting just about what is coming to him. The jury said that he was guilty of murder, and, as it was a particularly atrocious murder, little sympathy should be felt for him.

They do that sort of thing in Great Britain much better than they do in this country. While they guarantee to the accused a fair and impartial trial, none of the quibbling that is permitted on this side of the water is heard in an English court room. They go on the theory over there that the chief business of the trial is to establish the guilt or the innocence of the accused. Over here, our chief concern seems to be to discover which is the cutest lawyer, and a murder trial, especially in the country districts, degenerates into a vaudeville, with the man under charge only one of the audience, with the added distinction of having a reserved seat.

Wendling, accused of slaying the little Louisville girl, was arrested for that crime at about the same time that Dr. Crippen was captured, and Wendling never has been brought to trial. Crippen has been tried, convicted, has taken an appeal and his appeal dismissed, while Wendling still languishes behind the bars, his lawyer searching the statutes for some legal basis for a quibble, their clerks searching the jury lists for some grain of comfort, while their detectives are looking up the antecedents of the murdered child in some hope of discovering something upon which they can base a line of argument that she fell into the clasp, was drowned, then hid her bloody clothing afterward.

That sounds ridiculous, of course, yet it is no more ridiculous than some of the farces that have passed for murder trials in the United States. In some of the original states of the union, where their practice is still based to a certain degree upon the old English laws and customs, justice is more speedy than in the newer part of the country where the advanced American idea is used.

While we boast of our institutions and justice, too, it is necessary that the public mind be alive to our situation. In our desire to see that the accused has a fair trial, and every opportunity to prove his innocence, we go too far. Like the honest man who stood so straight that he leaned over backward, we often are so anxious to be fair to the accused that we are not fair to the people and the cause of justice.

THE MENACE OF LOWER CABLE RATES.

The dispatches tell us there is a plan on foot to reduce the cost of cables between Europe and America, according to dispatches from both London and New York.

At first blush it seems that such an announcement should be hailed with approval. But the more one thinks about it, the more one doubts its wisdom. The Chicago Inter Ocean views it with alarm as follows:

Even at the present high cable rates the newspapers, and through them the public, get as much information about the trouble of the Gould boys as they can stand.

And the communica of American actresses and foreign prima donnas on the manners and habits of the European nobility are unusually full in spite of what they cost.

By the same token, the gossip and chitchat about royal and aristocratic incontinencies, and the doings of American society personages abroad, and trans-Atlantic scandals generally, come over in surging and superfluous floods even now.

To tell the truth, the supply of details about foreign scandals is already so great that it threatens to trench on the space, we may say, without undue egotism, that we have a few.

Now just imagine the situation if it were as cheap to get news of the unhappy and immoral lives of diverse members of the European nobility, as it is to get information about the manners and habits of a jackpotter at Springfield!

Suppose it didn't cost a cent more to get full details of the progress of Mrs. Potter Palmer's social plans abroad and the inner workings of her mind in foreign climes than to secure an account of a New York suffrage meeting!

It is only too probable that we would get columns where we now get paragraphs—that the tired telegraph editors who are even now often compelled by lack of space to throw out in Ogdou or a Castellan or a foreign prima donna would have to spend most of their time shoveling such matter aside.

And it is also probable that the injustice too frequently done of the meretricious charm of the exotic article would be increased, until even the local principals would be led to protest.

Plans to reduce the cost of things may generally count on a favorable reception. But there are exceptions to all rules. And the proposed cut in cable rates between England and America would seem to be one of them.

Say what you will, when one thinks of the probable result of lower cable rates it is impossible to keep from feeling an indefinable and haunting fear.

THROW OUT THE LINE

Give the Kidneys Help and Many Albuquerque People Will Be Happier.

"Throw Out the Life Line"—The kidneys need help.

They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood.

They're getting worse every minute.

Don't you help them?

Don't the Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair.

Will cure any form of kidney trouble.

Mrs. J. Hall, 222 W. Iron avenue, Albuquerque, N. M., says: "I willingly corroborate the public statement I gave in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills in January, 1907, to the effect that they had been used in my family with splendid results. A member of our household suffered for months from pains in the back and often was unable to do anything for a day or two. Doan's Kidney Pills brought positive relief and thus earned my endorsement. In my opinion this remedy is one that cannot fail to bring relief from kidney disorders."

Why Albuquerque Needs Y. W. C. A.

Because of its remoteness from the more thickly settled portions of the country whence so many young women of small means come to it in the quest of health, either for themselves or those dear to them, this city is peculiarly and greatly in need of such help as the Young Women's Christian association undertakes to give.

Those who can afford to aid in its work may, I believe rest assured that their benefactions are bestowed in a most worthy cause.

CORDIAL RESPONSE FOR BLOCK DAY EVERYWHERE

Ladies Finish Up Work in Outskirts of City; Pioneers of Local Work Lead in Activity.

Although most of the contribution envelopes were distributed on Thursday, "Block Day," the ladies in charge of this Y. W. C. A. enterprise spent another busy day yesterday, canvassing the outskirts of the city, the suburbs and some streets in town which were not reached on the previous day. Moreover there will be a little work left to do today to assure that the little envelopes have been placed in the hands of everyone, and Miss Saxe, general secretary, and Mrs. G. S. Klock will finish up this morning.

The responses so far received have been extremely encouraging, said Miss Saxe yesterday, "and we are very hopeful as to the results on Monday when we begin the work of gathering up the envelopes. The interest seems to be widespread and we feel grateful to the people of Albuquerque for their cordiality and generosity."

Especially active in the "Block Day" campaign are the women who supported the Y. W. C. A. in the days of adversity after it was first organized, freely sacrificing their time and means and devoting their best energies and their unfailing optimism to getting the movement well started here. These pioneers now that they are on the crest of their hopes and unselfish and persevering labors, are among those who are working hardest to make "Block Day" a success. In this band of pioneers, all of whom it is impossible to call to mind on the spur of the moment, were Mrs. Dr. Cartwright, Miss Carrie Brott, the first secretary of the work; Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. Forrest Cartwright, Mrs. J. H. Head, Mrs. John Morley, Mrs. E. A. Field, Mrs. Struik, Mrs. Kapple, Mrs. Pitt Ross, Mrs. Barney, Mrs. G. L. Brooks, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. W. G. Hope, Mrs. Paetzl, Mrs. C. A. Clark, Miss Maddox, Mrs. Sterling, Mrs. Harth and Mrs. F. L. Myers.

EGYPTIAN WHEAT IN THE SOUTHWEST

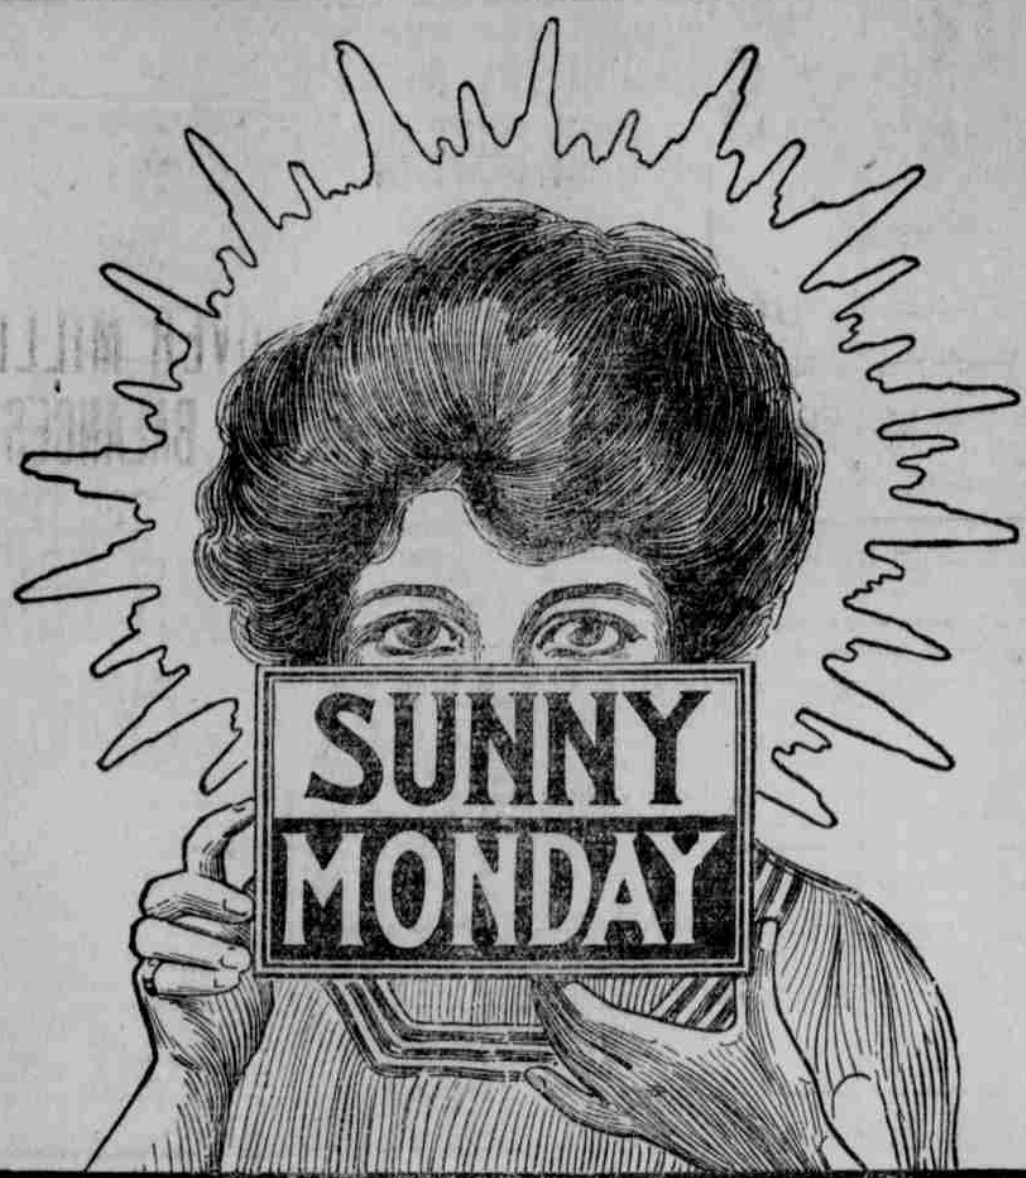

Professor Frederick W. Mally, agricultural expert of the Texas department, has made a personal investigation of the Egyptian wheat crop in the lower valley of the Rio Grande, and he estimates that the average yield of the grain per acre for the present year will be 250 bushels, or probably more. This yield is obtained from three cuttings of the grain. The first two crops upon the same land and from the same stubble have already been harvested, and the third crop will be ready for cutting the latter part of November. Each of the first two cuttings yielded an average of approximately 100 bushels per acre. It is claimed that this third crop will yield at least eighty bushels per acre.

This grain bears very little resemblance to the ordinary wheat that is extensively grown in other parts of the country. Egyptian wheat resembles Kaffir corn, milo maize and sorghum cane in the general appearance of its head. The grain is small and light in color. It is said to contain much greater nutriment than the other grains which it resembles. The stalk of the Egyptian wheat is small and delicate. Its foliage is especially suited for fodder. In Russia the grain is ground into flour and is the staple bread product of the poorer classes.

Egyptian wheat has proved a profitable crop in many sections of the semi-arid regions of the southwest for several years, but it was not until this year that the experiment was tried of raising the grain in the lower valley of the Rio Grande in Texas by means of irrigation. Several fields of the wheat, each embracing several acres, were planted in the vicinity of Merceda, Donna and Lyford, and also near Kingsville in the upper gulf coast region. The seed was planted in March, and the first cutting was done the latter part of May and the first of June. The stubble was given good irrigation, and new growth of the wheat immediately sprang up. This crop was equal to the first one. It was harvested the latter part of August and the early part of September. The same stubble is producing another crop that promises to give an abundant yield of grain. The third cutting will be over early in December and the new growth from the stubble will afford an excellent winter pasture for live stock.

Another remarkable feature of this crop is the large yield of forage which each cutting produces. This year from two to three tons of fodder were obtained off of each acre after the heavy loads of grain had been cut from the stalks. This yield of two to three tons was for each cutting, making a total yield of six to nine tons of fodder per acre for the nine months.

The slender stalks and leaves of this wheat rank superior to Kaffir corn, milo maize or sorghum. Professor Mally says: "The forage is an ideal feed for live stock. The growth of Egyptian wheat in the lower valley of the Rio Grande is little short of marvelous. The heads are from twelve to eighteen inches long. Each head because it contains a dirt-starting ingredient which loosens the dirt quickly, cleanses the fabric with little rubbing, and washes your clothes clean without washing them out.

Because of this dirt-starting feature, Sunny Monday Laundry Soap will save your time and spare your back.

Washes in any Kind of Water

Hot or cold, hard or soft, luke-warm or boiling waters all look alike to Sunny Monday, and it will do equally good work in each. Moreover, it does not waste away like a rosin soap, and its dirt-starting ingredients remain to the last wafer of the cake.

If you're an economical woman—if you're particular about the appearance of your clothes—you should ask your grocer for Sunny Monday and give it a good honest trial.

"Sunny Monday Bubbles Will wash away your troubles" is literally loaded down with plump, light-colored grains. The stalk grows to a height of eight to ten feet.

It is the opinion of Professor Mally that this remarkable yield is due to the ideal climatic conditions, combined with richness of soil and the fact that proper methods of irrigating and cultivating the crop are practiced. Hog raisers and stock farmers generally are greatly interested in the results. It is claimed that the grain is specially adapted for fattening hogs, and that one bushel is almost equal in nutritive qualities to one bushel of corn.

There will be a great increase of Egyptian wheat acreage next year. Plans are already on foot to thresh and market the grain on an extensive scale. It commands a good price as a feed for live stock. It is also in great demand as a poultry food. It is believed that a very large market for the grain can be quickly established in Mexico, where it can be made to take the place, to a large extent, of corn, which is now the principal food product of the poorer class of Mexicans. Experiments are being made in the manufacture of flour from the grain, with the view of placing the product on the market in Mexico. Some of the Mexicans of the lower Rio Grande valley are using the wheat in place of corn in making coarse bread and cakes.

The cost of growing a crop of Egyptian wheat is comparatively small. After the land has been prepared in March it was the practice of some of the farmers this year to give the ground a thorough irrigation just prior to planting the seed. Other growers did not put the water upon the land until after the seed had been planted.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 18.—There was heavy shrinkage today in the proportion of the dealings in United States Steel and Union Pacific to the aggregate volume of the market. Those stocks, with Reading furnished the medium for concentrated speculative operations which had become so conspicuous as to arouse suspicion. The discussion had become so insistent as to come under official investigation today by the initiative of the brokers concerned.

The absence of any official censure had the effect of removing some of the uneasiness which had begun to be felt.

The growing ease of the money market was an effective factor in favor of the advance in prices. The average of the day's call loan rate fell below 3 per cent.

The reports from the banks today showed the currency movement disclosed that receipts have outrun shipments to the extent probably of over $3,000,000 while the withdrawals on subsidiary operations amounted to only $1,400,000. There was a further decline today in the private discount rate in London.

Reported buying of copper in the domestic market explained the strength of copper industrials.

"Twenty-Mule-Team Horax" Smith, the millionaire who made his pile out of the sands of the Nevada desert, and who helped Scotty to make Death Valley famous, was in the city yesterday on his private care of the Twenty-Mule-Team Horax, en route from the east back to the desert. The car was attached to a delayed train No. 7, and Mr. Smith, accordingly spent a good part of the day in the city. Her in Oakland, Cal., on the present trip.

Maeterlinck's Insect Brides.

The marriage customs of insects are dreadful, and contrary to what happens in every other world, here it is the female of the couple who stands for strength and intelligence, and also for beauty. It is the female which appears to be their inevitable consequence. Almost every wedding ends in the violent and immediate death of the husband. When the bride takes a certain number of nuptials, the type of these fantastic unions could be supplied by the Laramie-Indian accounts, who, as we know, carry foster chicks and a long list supplied with a sting, the price of which is extremely dangerous. They have a prelude to the festival in the shape of a sentimental stroll, slow in pace, then, motionless, with fingers still gripped, they contemplate each other steadily, immovably, and lay and hold long over their ecstasy, while they remain face to face, petrified with admiration. Next the foreheads come together and touch, the mouths are joined, and the union is consummated. The male is immolated with a mortal sting, and the terrible nuptial embraces end with the horrible marriage, and the bride, downy and still, she eats her husband's flesh for the inevitable creature.

THINK THIS OVER

We advertise in our paper for special sales for these reasons. We have never had the art of buying prices. In the second place, we have no doubt that we have lost in a trusting customer. And last, but not least, we believe in giving you your money's worth, and we cannot do that by selling you an underpriced article or an inferior article at less money. Our prices, however, are as low as possible, considering quality.

sometimes consumes seven or eight (running) while they press her passionately to their heart. Her inconceivable kisses develop, not metaphorically, but in an appalling real fashion, the ill-fated choice of her soul or her stomach. She begins with the head goes down to the floor and does not stop till she comes to the hind legs, which she deems too tough. She then pushes away the unfortunate remains while a new lover, who was quietly awaiting the end of the monstrous banquet, heroically comes forward to undergo the same fate. CHORUS HAS BEEN COMPLETED FOR "INSIDE INN"

Catchy Melody, Light, Fantastic and Clever Action Will Make Elks' Show the Very Greatest Ever.

No jollying—that chorus in "The Inside Inn" is certainly going to be a winner. Talk about dancing and singing—what one of Cohen's suggestions couldn't beat them. The music, the incidents, catchy sort that gets in your head, creeps out of your throat and sets your feet moving, whether you want to or not, seems to have caught the chorus. It holds them fast in the maze of melody, dance and clever action. The music? Maybe it's French. He plays the piano, shouts instructions, shows them the steps all at one time; or at least he seems to the mere observer to be every place at once. It's a show to watch. Joe Brown and the results are wonderful. Last night was only the second night of rehearsal under his direction and the boys and girls were dancing through to the chorus life line.

The work is really splendid and the principals in the cast are not going to let all the "bando" and "flowers" of the chorus in the way of the chorus is now complete and is as follows:

Miss Gertrude Brodell, Sadie Olsen, Irene Stone, Anna Myers, Ruth Simpson, Mabel Olson, Marion Walton, Kathryn Powell, Besse Powell, Madeline Winter, Leona Winter, Walton Forrest, Olive Wood, Naomi Berlin, Treasure Hartman and Alma Howell. ONLY ONE AVIATOR AMUSES CROWD AT DENVER

Hoxsey, Soaring in Air at Overland Park, Reminds Spectators of Rivalry Which Resulted in Johnstone's Death.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire) Denver, Nov. 18.—A lone aviator, soaring eagle-like against the dazzling black of the overcast sky, today grinded 12,000 spectators at Overland park of yesterday's reckless rivalry which culminated in the tragic death of Ralph Johnstone.

While Walter Brookings, of the Wright team, was speeding toward Kansas City with the body of the man, who in Brookings' own words "flew as he pleased," Arch Hoxsey, whose fate Johnstone's crew sought to evade, gave the two flights called for by his contract and threw in another one to please the management and the crowd.

"Old" Alon, who arrived last night with his Curtiss biplane, could not get his engine in order in time to fly today. He probably will fly tomorrow.

What Hoxsey failed to do in Hoxsey today he made up in speed. His plane, a 2-21, flew at a height of about 2,000 feet, taking nine minutes to do it, and then headed northwest toward the foothills. The great wings of the biplane flapped in the clear air and until the crowd could not see the machine at all before Hoxsey started back. He reached the field again at 1 o'clock and it was learned from his description of a hike over which he passed that he had covered an estimated distance of twenty miles in twenty minutes. Hoxsey estimated his greatest altitude at 2,500 feet from the ground, or 3,750 feet above sea level.

A fourteen minute flight at the beginning of the day's program was without incident, but in his final flight Hoxsey warmed up and rose and descended and climbed on the turn and the crowd saw the machine's uncertain desire that he would come down. Even this flight, however, was tame in comparison with the most cautious flight of yesterday.

Hoxsey and Alon will have the field to themselves tomorrow. It is expected that Brookings will be back in time to fly Monday when the meet is scheduled to end.

Tomorrow Hoxsey will engage in a race with a running horse, the horse traveling the seven-eighths-mile track for runners and Hoxsey the mile track used for trotting races. J. C. (Bud) Mays of the Curtiss camp will probably fly also.

Word reached aviation officials tonight that Orville Wright would reach Denver Monday, returning from Kansas City with Aviator Brookings and that then an official investigation of the cause of the accident which resulted in Johnstone's death yesterday will be made. The Wrights are anxious to determine who was at fault.

On Monday, Brookings will return to the field, and with Hoxsey, will contest for altitude records against Mays.

GRAND JURY INDICTS MRS. SCHENK

Millionaire's Wife, Charged With Administering Arsenic to Her Husband, Is Held for Trial.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire) Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 18.—Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, charged with administering arsenic to her millionaire husband, John O. Schenk, was indicted by the grand jury of Ohio county today.

While no definite information is given out, it is learned that only persons who have been employed by the Schenk family and Dr. Frank L. Hupp were present to testify.

Before the grand jury was sent out to consider the case, attorneys for Mr. Schenk urged that a continuance be granted because no preliminary hearing had been held. The court overruled the motion.

Mr. Schenk, who is at the North Wheeling hospital recovering from the effects of arsenic poisoning, was most anxious to learn the result of the jury's finding.

As he has declined about the possibility of his hospital he made frank inquiries, and had a friend in communication with the prosecuting attorney's office. He made no comment when he learned of the indictment.
