MR. FERGUSSON DENOUNCES COLLEAGUES AT BOSSES

Declares His Fellow Members of Convention Were Same
Old Gang Which Has Long
Ruled New Mexico.

DAMNS CONSTITUTION FOR SINS OF PAST LEGISLATORS

Melcalf, for Socialists, Joins Former Democratic Leader in Harangue Against Ratification of Organic Law.

During his opposition to the New Mexico constitution on his assertion that it was made by the bosses for the benefit of special interests and does not contain what the people want, Mr. Fergusson, at the New Mexico convention last night, told the small crowd assembled to hear him that he expected to continue fighting the constitution in the hope that it would be defeated. He pointed out that the constitution was not a "joke" in the document, Mr. Fergusson did not go into details to show how the constitution provided for the interests, leaving the explanation to some future time. His speech was the principal one of the program at a meeting arranged by the Non-Partisan Voters' league and the Citizens' Progressive party to welcome him home from St. Paul, where he had been attending the national convention of the Progressive party. Mr. Fergusson, who briefly told of the organization of the two leagues, Mrs. C. C. Nutter, president of the New Mexico League, was one of the speakers and deplored the fact that the constitution had not been included in the constitution. She said, however, that representatives of the league had been afforded every courtesy and facility in presenting their arguments and took comfort in the fact that they had made a good beginning in their fight to make New Mexico dry. W. P. Melcalf also spoke briefly, referring to the constitution as an "infamous document." He could not see any good in it, while Rev. Hugh A. Cooper, who followed him, found much to approve though he was disappointed because prohibition, at least local option, had not been included in the document.

"I am fighting that constitution because I know the crowd that framed it," said Mr. Fergusson in his speech. "I am opposing it because the men who made it are the same bosses who control county affairs in New Mexico and have absolutely ruined the legislature. I am not going to support the initiative and referendum. It contains nothing that will enable the people to say anything about the government of New Mexico. True, they did put in a referendum, but they were laughing when they did it."

Voting against the constitution is not working against mischief, Mr. Fergusson assured his hearers. "The constitution is a bad thing," he said, "but it is better than the present situation. The governor must call the constitution together again. There would be no expensive election, but the delegates would meet again and correct such of the things as they would want to change. It would not take the delegates ten days to put in the things that the people want, he said, and some of the things he declared were the initiative, referendum, recall and corrupt practice act.

While giving these people the chance to meet their officers, he declared that most of the things he had been made long, pointing to the terms of supreme court judges, eight years, as an example and declaring that a great deal of wrong can be done in eight years.

There is no reason why an offending legislator can be removed, Mr. Fergusson pointed out what he declared to be a "joke" in the section on public lands, objecting to the wording "provided that such of the school sections two, thirty-two, sixteen and thirty-six are not contiguous to other state lands shall not be sold within the period of ten years next after the admission of New Mexico as a state, for less than ten dollars per acre." He was opposed, he said, to selling any school lands, but favored holding them until in future years they increased in value sufficient to afford sufficient funds for all school purposes without taxing the people.

The sale of a million acres given by the United States to pay the debt of Santa Fe and Grant counties, he also opposed. If this land is located in eastern New Mexico where ranchmen are selling for $10 and $15 an acre it would require only a part of this tract to pay these debts, he said, and the balance could be given to the schools as the enabling act provides.

To show the iniquity of the bosses and the government they have conducted for years in New Mexico he referred to the act of a legislature in raising the salaries of county school superintendents after the superintendents had raised a fund by subscriptions among themselves to pay the expenses of securing the passage of the bill.

As another instance of misgovernment he declared a legislature had authorized the sale of 23,000 acres of valuable timber lands to the El Paso and Southwestern railroad at $3 an acre. This land was worth many times that amount, he said. As another instance, he declared, the Phelps-Dodge company owns thousands of acres in Colfax county which was valued for assessment at $100,000, but which is worth millions and on which the Phelps-Dodge people have borrowed $11,000,000.

"This is a constitution made for the special interests of New Mexico," he said in conclusion. "I feel that it is my duty as a citizen, disregarding politics, to fight it. I was sincere at Santa Fe. I am sincere now and I intend to fight to the end."

STERN REBUKE FOR EASTERN THEORISTS

WEST CAPABLE OF CARING FOR OWN NATURAL WEALTH

Governor of Montana Declines to Sit at Feet of Eastern Con-servativists While Important
Problems Are Undergoing Solution.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Chicago, Nov. 28.—Governor Edwin L. Morris of Montana declined to sit at the feet of the eastern conservationists at the opening of the United States Land and Irrigation congress tonight. He rebuked the east for its attitude regarding conservation, declaring that the west was competent to carry out all necessary measures and stood ready to do so.

He said:

"It seems eminently fitting that a land and irrigation congress organized for the purpose of exhibiting products of the soil, should be held in Chicago. This is the gateway to the west, where there is an overdeveloped population striving for mere existence, and the great undeveloped west, where there are prosperous homes for millions of people."

Several western governors journeyed to St. Paul in September last to take part in the deliberations of the national conservation congress, of which they were members. It was found on arrival that delegates attending from the west, where almost all the undeveloped resources are to be found, were expected to sit at the feet of eastern conservationists and hear theories on conservation expounded from the mountains of the east. The western governors returned home, notwithstanding their departure it was announced in the newspapers that the purgation of the delegates would remain on hand to see that the western governors did not start something."

The western governors did not withdraw from the conference, but will be on hand at the next meeting. "Let it be said that western men will not sit by idly while this important problem is being solved. We cannot admit that those who have proved themselves to be incapable of caring for their own are more competent than we are to formulate plans for the administration of resources that of right belong to us."

"Let there be no misunderstanding concerning our position on the conservation of resources. We favor conservation and will approve of any plan best calculated to accomplish this end. We now believe that the states can best conserve resources under the safeguards heretofore referred to. If our proposed way is not the best way, then we will enthusiastically favor a better way."

OPPOSITION TO HOME RULE BITTER IN IRELAND

Ulster Men Threaten Revolt and Refusal to Pay Taxes If Parliament Is Established at Dublin.

MONEY RAISED FOR ARMED RESISTANCE

Charge Made by Lord Londonderry, That Redmond's Influence Over Asquith Was Due to American Gold.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
London, Nov. 28.—With the dissolution of parliament today all formalities preliminary to the election of a new parliament were completed. The proclamation of dissolution summons the new parliament to assemble on January 21, 1911.

Among the first of its members to be elected unopposed will be Arthur J. Balfour, the opposition leader, the liberals having decided not to contest his seat for London.

On the stock exchange, where regular dealings have been instituted in bets on the election, the feeling today was that the new parliament would be a coalition government.

In Ireland the struggle is generally growing more bitter. A meeting of delegates representing the various counties was held in Belfast today, at which a resolution was adopted on motion of a Presbyterian minister to draw up a solemn declaration refusing to pay rates or taxes imposed by a Dublin parliament or obey its decrees, while $50,000 was subscribed on the spot to organize the Ulster men into regiments and purchase arms.

At night a monster union demonstration was held at Ulster hall, Belfast, an overflowed meeting of 40,000 persons being held in the open air.

Both aroused the greatest enthusiasm.

Lord Londonderry declared the American dollars enabled John Redmond to hold "Asquith in the hollow of his hand." If a home rule parliament were established, he said, it might be found that Ulster would utterly decline obedience to the law.

Sir Edward Carson, formerly solicitor general and conservative member of parliament, for Dublin university, said they never would consent to their country being sold for American dollars. Walter Home Long, unionist M. P. for Strand, spoke in the same strain, and other speakers advocated stern resistance to the law if home rule were forced upon Ulster.

The first independent woman suffrage candidate is announced in the person of William Minto, who will campaign for the county of Wick.

The socialist party has decided to run a third candidate on Battersea, thus seriously endangering John Burns' chance of re-election.

Suffragists created serious disturbances at a meeting at Lambeth tonight, at which Minister Spencer Churchill was speaking. After several men had been thrown out, Mr. Churchill strongly denounced the suffragettes, and said:

"I am told that individuals are to be singled out for violence. If that is their language, there is only one answer, and that is, 'Come on.'"

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE ISSUES NEW APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Roslin, Nov. 28.—The United Irish League of America, determined to meet squarely the issue of "American dollars" raised by the unionists in the campaign just begun for the election of a new parliament, today issued an appeal for funds to be sent to Ireland to assist the home rule party.

This action was taken at a meeting held today of the Boston members of the national executive committee of the league.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Mexico City, Nov. 28.—Grace Rolph of Pender, Neb., who for a time was believed to have been kidnapped from a hacienda in Tamaulipas, by Ricardo Severo, a Mexican cowboy, employed on the place, was found, alone, in a small town near Tampico several days ago, according to advices which have reached this city.

She declared that she had not been kidnapped, but went of her own accord, and that she had not been deceived, but that she had gone to make peace with the authorities. When that was accomplished, she said, they intended to be married.

The American ambassador was appealed to by the girl for aid in effecting the capture of the alleged kidnaper, and the assistance of the Mexican authorities had been enlisted.

CONSTITUTION SAFEGUARDS THE PUBLIC MONEYS

Fundamental Law Provides That They Shall be Deposited in National or State Banking Houses.

MISUSE OF FUNDS TO BE PREVENTED IN NEW STATE

Interest From People's Coin to be Applied as Law Provides Is Imperative Mandate of the Organic Act.

Any public officer making any profit out of public moneys, or using the same for any purpose not authorized by law shall be deemed guilty of a felony and shall be punished as provided by law, and shall be disqualified to hold public office. All public moneys, not invested in interest-bearing securities, shall be deposited in national banks, or in banks or trust companies incorporated under the laws of the state, and the interest derived therefrom shall be applied in the manner prescribed by law. Article VIII, Section 10, Constitution of New Mexico.

CONSTITUTION WILL PROTECT PUBLIC FUNDS.

"In view of the serious abuses which have prevailed under the territorial form of government," said a well-known Albuquerque business man yesterday, "the people are to be congratulated that the new constitution specifically provides that the public moneys shall be deposited in national banks or state incorporated banks or trust companies. Not only does it provide for the safekeeping of the public funds, but it also provides for the removal of a public official from office and render him liable to trial for felony, but the organic act tells in so many words what disposition must be made of public funds. There is nothing optional about it. Public moneys shall be the language of section ten in the article on taxation and revenue. 'Shall' used in the third person plural is imperative. It leaves no room for optional action. To my mind this is one of the most important provisions in the document and one good strong reason why the constitution should receive the support of the people. It provides that the public funds must be placed in approved financial institutions, and providing for the use of the interest therefrom, it has done as far as it is possible to go and assured the people that it will not be possible for the new state for public officers or private individuals or firms to have the benefit of the use of money belonging to the state. It has been a notorious fact that such has been the case in the territory. Money that ought to have been drawing interest for the people has been feathering the nests of politicians and their favored friends. Under this constitution this practice is doomed."

This gentleman has expressed the general opinion regarding this clause of the fundamental law and it will be one strong card in drawing the popular vote for the act.

STRONG SENTIMENT FOR CONSTITUTION IN SOCORRO.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)
San Antonio, N. M., Nov. 28.—"In talking with the people of this part of Socorro county I find that the sentiment is exceptionally strong," said L. B. Lewis of Socorro here today. Mr. Lewis has talked freely to the Spanish-American and American people of this part of the valley and says that those who propose to fight the constitution are much in the minority. Leaders among the people believe that the personnel of the convention, one hundred representative citizens, chiefly business and professional men, could have no other result than a fair constitution and say the result has justified their expectations and they will vote for immediate statehood.

The Spanish-American people are taking a keen interest in reading the document and believe that the splendid representation in the convention from the Spanish-American population has looked after the interests of the native people satisfactorily."

TIMES EXPLOSION INVESTIGATION NEAR CLOSE

Special Grand Jury Investigating
Los Angeles Newspaper
Horror Expected to Return
Several Indictments Today.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Los Angeles, Nov. 28.—The investigation of the Times explosion investigation has been reached. The special grand jury which has been conducting the inquiry for four weeks, will reconvene tomorrow and officials of the district attorney's office, as well as outside observers of the progress of the case are expecting the immediate return of indictments. How many of these true bills there will be is uncertain, but it is common belief that there will not be fewer than four and probably five or six.

It is practically certain that three of these will be directed against alleged conspirators who are being sought by the detectives.

Only three witnesses are yet held. These are Anton Johannes, organizer of the Building Trades; Jack Toft-house and Mrs. Belle Lavin, all of San Francisco. All are instructed to be on hand tomorrow.

More than 100 witnesses have been examined.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 28.—Hope of finding B. E. Search, however, has not been abandoned, and today troops stationed in Yellowstone park were ordered to join the hunt.

Half a dozen searching parties are tramping over the rugged mountains of Front, where Corbin was last seen. Corbin became separated from his party November 18. The party was hunting big game.

SAYS RANGERS MURDERED HER SON

MOTHER SUES HIGH
GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

Papers Allege That Fire Fighter Reported as Suicide Was in Reality Shot by Order of His Superiors.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Denver, Nov. 28.—Through Denver attorneys, Mrs. Mary Weigart, whose son, Oscar Weigart, was reported to have committed suicide while a member of the forestry service engaged in fighting the Coeur d'Alene forest fires a few weeks ago, has brought suit in the Idaho federal court against officers of the United States forestry bureau, alleging that her son was shot by order of officers and that he was not a suicide.

Mrs. Weigart names as defendants officers of the district of the forestry service, the secretary of agriculture, the national forester, several forest rangers and a number of men, who she says, were actually present when her son was shot.

She alleges that her present suit for $50,000 damages will be followed by criminal proceedings.

Oscar Weigart was pressed into the forestry service August 1, 1909, as a member of the company commanded by Ranger W. H. Lick, in the Coeur d'Alene district. For two days back and forth between the Coeur d'Alene and the Selkirk mountains, he was surrounded by fires. When the missing man was known their safety Weigart was not among them. The others, reports that Weigart, when he was a wall of fire swept over a ridge and leap toward him, fired a revolver bullet into his own brain.

Mrs. Weigart, whose home is at Wallace, Idaho, sent men into the burned district for the body of her son and they found it and buried it in Missoula, Mont. Mrs. Weigart, however, decided to have the body interred in a Catholic burial ground at Wallace, but this privilege was denied her because her son's superiors had branded her boy a suicide. The priest of the Catholic church, engaged in an investigation, as the result of which it is alleged, he informed Mrs. Weigart that she would be able to prove that her son did not take his own life—that he had been shot by command of his superiors "for cowardice." Mrs. Weigart then set out to procure affidavits from the forestry bureau as the result.

She had the body of her son exhumed, she alleges, and two physicians told her that her son had been shot and had not shot himself. They found no bullet wound in his head, but did find, it is asserted, two bullets in the region of his heart. Mrs. Weigart asserts she has obtained information from other fighters that her son was shot in the back because he refused to perform a feat of derring-do which he considered a feat of derring-do.

Mrs. Weigart admits her son was guilty of conduct that his comrades considered cowardly but she denies that he was a coward. She contends that if the men she names as conspirators were forced to come into court and answer she will ascertain the identity of the men she charges with murder.

Phoenix Convention Enters
Upon Last Week of Deliberation; Declines to Prohibit Intermarriage of Races.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 28.—The constitutional convention entered upon today what will probably be its last week, so far as the actual drafting of the constitution is concerned, and when the noon recess was taken, it had almost completed consideration of the corporation regulation measure.

A determined effort was made by Chairman Ingraham of the public service corporation committee to have the measure provide for regulation of all private corporations, but the convention decided to have the inquisitorial power of the state confined to building and loan, trust and insurance companies.

The measure prohibiting discrimination against any method of holding, defeated last week, was reconsidered and adopted today.

The convention also approved a memorial to congress asking for the relief of original settlers on leased school lands under irrigation.

The initiative and referendum, as reported by the committee on style, revision and compilation, was passed by a vote of 36 to 6.

The initiative percentage for constitutional amendments is fixed at fifteen.

The initiative percentage for county, city and town elections was also set at fifteen; the referendum at ten per cent.

The anti-blacklist measure was finally passed 40 to 7, while that prohibiting marriage between races failed 13 to 24.

Carson, Nev., Nov. 28.—The jury in the case of Sidney Flower, charged with using the mails to defraud, in connection with the sale of mining stocks, failed to reach a verdict and was discharged today by Federal Judge Farrington. The court set January 18th as the date of beginning Flower's second trial. Flower came to Nevada during the boom in the goldfield country, engaged in the promotion of mines and sale of stock.

He conducted his own defense and put the postoffice inspectors and the United States attorney, prosecuting him on the witness stand.

Flower during his incarceration issued a little publication devoted to him philosophy.

AVOIDANCE OF PREFERENCE IN RATES

AIM OF LONG AND SHORT CLAUSE OF COMMERCE LAW

Commerce Commission Takes Up Perplexing Problem of Deciding Interpretation to be Placed on Provisions.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Washington, Nov. 28.—The commerce commission today took up the vexing problem of the interpretation of the long and short haul clauses of the commerce law. The commission is divided into two camps. One camp, headed by Commissioner Lane, is of the opinion that the clauses should be interpreted to mean that the rate on a long haul should not be less than the rate on a short haul. The other camp, headed by Commissioner Clegg, is of the opinion that the clauses should be interpreted to mean that the rate on a long haul should not be more than the rate on a short haul. The commission is expected to reach a decision on this question in the near future.

GOVERNMENT WITHDRAWS CASE AGAINST PACIFIC MAIL

Washington, Nov. 28.—As the result of an agreement reached between the government and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, the government has withdrawn its case against the company. The case had been brought by the government to enforce the anti-trust laws against the company's alleged monopoly in the Pacific mail service.

The government charged that the company, acting in conjunction with railroad companies, shipped mail from Los Angeles to San Francisco via the Pacific coast route, and then shipped the mail from San Francisco to Los Angeles via the Gulf of Mexico route, thus obtaining a lower rate than the rate on the direct route from Los Angeles to San Francisco. The government sought to enforce the anti-trust laws against the company's alleged monopoly in the Pacific mail service.

IN FAVOR OF PHYSICAL VALUATION OF RAILROADS

Washington, Nov. 28.—The interstate commerce commission today took up the question of the valuation of railroads. The commission is divided into two camps. One camp, headed by Commissioner Clegg, is in favor of the physical valuation of railroads. The other camp, headed by Commissioner Lane, is in favor of the book value valuation of railroads. The commission is expected to reach a decision on this question in the near future.

The physical valuation of railroads is based on the cost of the physical property of the railroad, including the tracks, bridges, and rolling stock. The book value valuation of railroads is based on the book value of the railroad, including the value of the stock and bonds of the railroad. The commission is expected to reach a decision on this question in the near future.

Commissioner Clegg is in favor of the physical valuation of railroads because it is more accurate and more equitable. Commissioner Lane is in favor of the book value valuation of railroads because it is simpler and more convenient. The commission is expected to reach a decision on this question in the near future.

RAILROADS MUST MAKE STREET CROSSINGS SAFE

Washington, Nov. 28.—The interstate commerce commission today took up the question of the safety of street crossings. The commission is divided into two camps. One camp, headed by Commissioner Clegg, is in favor of requiring railroads to make street crossings safe. The other camp, headed by Commissioner Lane, is in favor of requiring street crossings to be made safe by the local authorities. The commission is expected to reach a decision on this question in the near future.

My Morning Journal Special Leased Wire Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 28.—Governor C. N. Haskell today granted a pardon to Tom Jones, a member of the Dalton-Doolin gang of outlaws who has served sixteen years of a fifty-year sentence for the murder of Deputy United States Marshal Houston at Ingalls, Okla., in 1892.

Jones, whose real name is Douglas, was a member of a good Texas family and had joined the gang very shortly before the battle with deputy marshals in Ingalls. Jones was captured in a hotel when the fight began, and he is alleged to have fired through a hole in the roof. He was captured, convicted of the murder of Houston and sentenced to fifty years. Bill Dalton, who was also a member of the gang, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the same crime.

NO BACKWARD STEP DECLARE INSURGENTS

HOUSE RULES REVISION CANNOT BE ESCAPED

Democratic Leaders Join With Republican Rebels in Demand That Speaker be Shorn of Autocratic Powers.

Morning Journal Bureau, 611 Money Building, Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—The nearer the time for the opening of congress approaches, the clearer it becomes that the issue of taking from the speaker the power to appoint committees and providing for a committee on committees cannot be escaped. The Democratic leaders have joined with the Republican rebels in demanding that the speaker be shorn of his autocratic powers.

Congressman Hubbard of Iowa, one of the foremost of the house Democrats, who was re-elected to office by the largest vote of any Iowa member of the house, something like 17,000, has arrived in Washington for the session. Mr. Hubbard declared he intended to do all he could to bring about a committee on committees. So far as he is concerned, said Mr. Hubbard, "I do not intend to quit in the face of a revolution. I intend to do all I can to bring about a committee on committees and to do it at this session. I am convinced the speaker should not have the power to appoint committees and that they should be selected by the house itself."

Congressman George Norris of Nebraska, another leading insurgent, is coming to Washington in a similar spirit. Already a number of progressive Democrats in the house have spoken out for a committee on committees. One of the most recent to do so is Congressman T. W. Sims of Tennessee. Judge Sims has given out an interview on the rules question, in which he, in effect, declares war on any candidate for speaker who is not for a committee on committees. Judge Sims has just been returned to congress by the largest majority he ever got. Stating that he regards the election of a speaker as an important matter, he pointed out that in the past Mr. Clark has taken advanced ground for election of committees by the house. Judge Sims added:

"The Democrats cannot afford to take any backward step in reforming the rules in such a way as to take from the speaker the power to appoint committees. So far as I am concerned I will not support any man for speaker who is not for a committee on committees. No division or equivocation is allowed. I intend to do all I can to bring about a committee on committees and to do it at this session. I am convinced the speaker should not have the power to appoint committees and that they should be selected by the house itself."

Although women now have the right to vote, they will be unable to participate in any elections until next year. The registration of voters in the state has been closed for the year, and the attorney-general has ruled that women who registered prior to the passage of the governor's proclamation are illegally registered.

MEXICAN AUTHORITIES INCREASINGLY ACTIVE

Every Precaution is Taken to Guard Against Revolutionary Outbreak When Diaz Is Inaugurated Thursday.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Tuxtepec, Mexico, Nov. 28.—As inauguration day, December 1, draws near, the authorities here appear to show increased activity, due to no actual reason on the part of the revolutionists, but rather to vague rumors that cannot be traced to any authentic source. Reports continue to the effect that the revolutionists are lurking in the surrounding country. The authorities, however, have no fear for the result of any possible attack, and declare they are well prepared to meet any emergency on inauguration day or at any other time.

A protest signed by seventy-five Americans, eight Englishmen, sixteen Frenchmen and fifteen Germans of Durango, declaring against the sensational reports that have appeared in American papers, has been forwarded to General Huerta for transmission to Washington. The protest recites that the rumors "take pleasure in saying that so far as reports we have noticed coming through representations of the American press are much more fair and accurate and appear to have been written with the intention of stating facts."

GOVERNMENT SENDS BIG FORCE TO CHIHUAHUA

Chihuahua, Mexico, Nov. 28.—The government troops have returned to the city from their flight with the revolutionists, four miles west of here, at Promis, Sunday. Two thousand reinforcements are expected before the government resumes its attempt to reoccupy the Mexico and Northwestern railroad line, which is tied up as a result of the fight. The insurgents are said to have been reinforced by bands from Parral, and to the number of 12,000, they have fortified positions at various points, and lively fighting is expected when the campaign starts. Sunday's fight was the first real fight of the insurrection in this immediate vicinity. Three hundred insurgents attacked the rear guard, numbering 120, of the government troops who were marching on the road along the line of the Mexico and Northwestern (Chihuahua and Pacific) railroad. Seven dead insurgents were brought in last night and viewed today at police headquarters. The government lost one killed and seven wounded. The fight lasted three hours, both sides taking shelter behind numerous buildings and in ditches. The enemy's presence was a surprise. The troops left here Sunday morning, headed by General Navarro, with the intention of regaining the towns along the railroad line, no trains having been operated since Nov. 25. Their ultimate destination was Promis, but four miles west of Promis the insurgents mounted a successful counter-attack. They allowed the cavalry and a detachment of infantry to surround the train and then a number of women and children made their appearance and the insurgents refused fire. The troops retreated in Postal Official Returns From Interesting Trip Over Southern Lines With Superintendent W. C. Black.

"The old Mexican laborers are going into Mexico through the El Paso gateway in a steady stream," said R. H. Hawkins, local superintendent of the Postal Telegraph company yesterday. Mr. Hawkins has returned from an extended trip through the southern part of New Mexico as far as El Paso with W. C. Black of Denver, general superintendent of the Postal, who went on through to his headquarters without stopping. The two officials made a thorough inspection of the company's wires through southern New Mexico, visiting Silver City and other towns and thoroughly familiarizing themselves with conditions in the various offices and the needs of the service.

"The agent of the Mexican Central at El Paso told me he sold 525 tickets on that day and his sales had been running about 300 tickets a day. Whether these natives are going back to help the revolutionists or the government I couldn't say, but they are certainly returning home in a flood," said Mr. Hawkins.

This is Mr. Hawkins' first visit to El Paso for some time past and he is much impressed with the growth of that city.

"The twelve story Mills building now nearing completion is said to be the finest re-inforced concrete building of its kind in the country. It will have 250 offices," said he.

Mr. Hawkins finds that business conditions have suffered in the Texas city because of the Mexican trouble, but are fast resuming a normal stage as the revolution is suppressed.

"Our canvases of the Postal offices was a thorough one," said Mr. Hawkins, "checking up every one carefully and making the fullest investigation of all complaints in order to see that the people get the very best possible service."

"Our business in New Mexico is in creasing by jumps especially since the combine of our opponents with the Bell telephone people and there is no doubt that a live independent service is what the people want."

The territorial grand jury re-assembled yesterday morning and began work under the direction of District Attorney Edward A. Mann.

A number of witnesses were examined during the day, and two indictments were returned, but were not made public. Many witnesses have been summoned to appear before the jury, but it is expected its work will be concluded within a few days.

William Dolan, who was foreman of the jury during its September session, was excused yesterday morning, and Justo Arroyo was elected foreman. A. B. Betts and Solomon Ben-Jamin were also excused, and as two other members had been excused previously, a special venire of eleven was issued to fill the vacancies. The men selected from this venire to act as members of the jury are William McGinniss, Edward L. Eward, Carl Hoffman, Nestor Montoya, P. E. McCaffrey.

Concerning Christmas Shopping

Our all-the-year prices are an over-estimate. No one pays here a higher rate, because "you know its CHRISTMAS." A higher culture in goods gathering and LOWER PRICES wherever possible—the key to our endeavor.

Permit us to suggest the advisability of shopping early in the mornings. We like to take more than just enough time for each visitor. The morning hour is the test of the day's success.

We are open every evening now. Won't you come in?

With the recurring holidays each year is heard the plea, "Do your Christmas shopping early," but like the seed of the proverbial sower, sometimes it bears fruit, sometimes it incites good intentions, and very often is not heard at all. We are optimistic. We believe that constant suggestion will bring results, therefore we reiterate, "Do your Christmas shopping early." We will not go to length into the advantages of shopping NOW. Everyone knows the saying about the early bird. We only wish to say that our shop is ready with the things that the Christmas shoppers want.

Incidentally, we might remind you that we have added many new lines to those we carried last season.

HANDKERCHIEFS

We show an unusually large and choice selection of hand embroidered linen handkerchiefs. These deserve special attention, on account of their exquisite workmanship and diversity of design. The same care, however, which has characterized the selection of the higher priced qualities has been displayed in the less expensive grades, making an assortment from which holiday gifts may be chosen with advantage.

We wish to direct your attention to our hemstitched plain initialed handkerchiefs for men and women, in 1-8, 1-4 and 1-2 inch hem in both sheer and the heavier qualities.

LEATHER GOODS

We are showing beautiful effects of the latest ideas in HAND BAGS.

Our collection comprises bags priced from 75c to $25 each. They are made in a variety of leathers and colors, beautifully lined throughout, the cheaper numbers with silk; the higher priced ones in leather. One number we wish especially to call to your attention is a pin Seal, leather lined throughout, beautifully fitted with coin purse, card case, powder box, salts bottle and mirror, very specially priced at $5.00.

GLOVES

The recognized superiority of the make of gloves we carry is assurance enough that we must lead in this line. We have endeavored to make our selections to meet every possible demand for men, women and children. We can supply your wants for evening dress, street wear, motoring or school gloves.

In long, white kid gloves we have a splendid assortment, this item should appeal to women, because the present demand for long white kid gloves is greater than usual, and the social season is just beginning.

Diaries

Firstly, do you keep a diary? Many business and professional men keep a diary journal to record memorandum and dates. In fact it is almost indispensable to one who makes memorandum for further dates unless he uses a card index system. There are all kinds, sizes and prices of diaries. Little ones for vest pocket at 25 cents each up to the crown size at $2.50. We have all the sizes and kinds this year—in fact we have a sample line, selling them out at 20 per cent off. Let us show you.

Wise Talks by the Office Boy

Say, some people have all kinds of galls, haven't they? A tourist said to a friend of the boss: "I suppose you think your town is pretty near like heaven." And our local townsman up and said: "Well, yes, a few years ago, but you know this town has improved a lot in the past two years." Wouldn't that rubberneck you? Speaking of rubber, the old man said to me only yesterday: "Willie, I want you to make a little talkfest of our rubber clothing and rain goods. You know we have pretty nearly everything a man can ask for in rainy day stuff. First, we have the best dollar umbrellas in town; then we have the best $18 cravenette that's sold anywhere. We also have the best silk and silk lined cravenettes that ever came through for $25; then we have oil suits, best grade for $3.00; we have rubber coats up to $6; we have boys' rubber coats for $2 and boys' black oil suits at $2.50. We also have a driving coat at $4 that is thoroughly rain proof and then we have just rubbers for 75c and $1.00." So I think you had better get your rain clothes now and keep dry all winter. Are you with me?
