OJO CALIENTE (HOT SPRINGS.)

THESE Celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellers, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Barranca Station on the Denver & Rio Grande Railway, from which point a daily line of stages runs to the springs. The temperature of these waters is from 95 to 125°. The gases are carbonic. Altitude 6,000 feet. Climate very dry and delightful the year around. There is now a commodious hotel for the convenience of invalids and tourists. These waters contain 160.24 grains of alkaline salts to the gallon; being the richest alkaline hot springs in the world. The efficacy of these waters has been thoroughly tested by the numerous cures attributed to in the following diseases: Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Consumption, Malaria, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Syphilis, and Hereditary Affections, Scrofula, Catarrh, La Grippe, all Female Complaints, etc., etc. Board, Lodging and Bathing, $2.50 per day. Reduced rates given by the month. This resort is attractive at all seasons and is open all winter. Passengers for Ojo Caliente can leave Santa Fe at 10.30
a. m. and reach Ojo Caliente at 5 p. m. the same day. Fare for the round trip from Santa Fe to Ojo Caliente, $7. For further particulars address—

COLORADO'S SHAME

Coroner's Jury Upholds the Tellerites
As Having Been Legally in Possession.

THE HALL WAS THEIRS

However, the Jury Can Not Ascertain
Who It Was That Killed Harris, of Denver—The Whole State Shocked.

Colorado, Springs, Colo., Sept. 9.—
The coroner's jury in investigating the killing of Charles J. Harris on the seizure of the opera house by anti-Teller
Silver Republicans, Wednesday, returned a verdict that he came to his death by a shot fired by some unknown person.
The verdict also says, "We further
find that a number of men made an unlawful attack on the opera house which was in the lawful possession of a committee appointed by the Silver Republican state convention, during which attack the doors were violently broken
open. We further find that all shots fired from the inside of the opera house
were fired in an attempt by the committee in possession to defend their legal right to its occupancy. We also believe that the deceased Charles J. Harris was with the attacking party at the time he was shot, but we have been unable to determine who his companions were."

Washington Conventions.

Ellensburg, Washington, Sept. 9.—
The Democratic convention nominated
James Hamilton Lewis today for congress by acclamation. The Silver Republican convention renominated
Congressman W. C. Jones by acclamation.
After reflecting all night, the Populists state convention unanimously decided to concede to the demand of the Democrats, yielding them one supreme judge, which removed all obstacles to a fusion. The clause in the conference report recommending that the Populists
have the patronage of the Supreme court was stricken out and the report adopted.
The Populist convention nominated B.
F. Houston of Tacoma for supreme judge.

TEXARKANA SCARED.

Negroes Driven Out of Texas Thronging
the City—Vigilance Committees Are Organizing.
Texarkana, Ark., Sept. 9.—Texarkana
is in a state of alarm over the large number of idle negroes who throng the town. The citizens are organizing vigilance committees for the protection of property. The unusual influx of negroes recently is due to the operations of white caps in Titus, Cass, Hopkins
and other counties of the cotton district
in Texas, where thousands of negroes
have fled on account of the violence
being used to run them out.

Thomas F. Bayard Sinking.

Dedham, Mass., Sept. 9.—Thomas F.
Bayard was very weak this morning and his condition is not so favorable as 24 hours ago.

SPANISH GENERAL OVERCOME

By Generosity of American Captain in Returning Former's Sword—Labor Strikes in Manila.
Manila, Philippine Islands, Sept. 9.—
United States Consul G. F. Williams in behalf of Captain N. Mayo Dyer, United States cruiser Baltimore, has returned to General Miranda the sword latter surrendered to the American officer at the capture of Corregidor island, at the entrance to the bay of Manila. The general replied that he was overwhelmed by the generosity of Captain Dyer.
The men who struck on account of the attempt to return to the agitator
basis for the payment of labor, after the American authorities in the early extraneous demands of the laborers,
are disappearing, and it has become necessary to employ soldiers to take their places in some cases, while in others
the matter has been compromised.
One of these strikes caused the suspension of traffic on the horse car lines
in Manila, but they resumed operations
today.
The recruiting agents of the insurgent have been impressing employees of foreign residents, including those of the British consul. Several foreigners have complained that their native groves are taking their employees' horses and joining the insurgents.
American army chaplains have instituted Protestant services in private buildings. Such services have never previously been held in the Philippine Islands.

Peace Commission Filled.

Washington, Sept. 9.—It is officially announced that Senator Gray, of Delaware, has been selected as the fifth
member of the peace commission.
This completes the commission which stands, Secretary Day, Senators Davis,
Frye and Gray, and Whitelaw Reid.
In selecting Senator Gray the president has given the Democrats representation on the commission.
On foreign questions, Senator Gray
has generally been regarded as opposed to expansion, his votes having been against the annexation of Hawaii.
The commissioners will meet here
about the 15th inst., prior to sailing for Paris.

ILLINOIS COAL MINERS.

Big Mine Operator Says He Will Not Pay
the Union Scale—Will Import Negroes.
Pana, Ill., Sept. 9.—George V. Pen-
well, president of the Pana mining company gave notice today that he would open his mine on Monday, but would pay only 35 cents a ton, the price
non-union negroes are being paid at the Springside mine. He said "I prefer white miners if they will desert the union, otherwise I must operate the mine with negroes and foreigners."
Miners say they will not work except
on a 33 cent scale and will not desert
the union. This means the importation of several hundred additional negroes and the retention of 300 deputies to guard them.

General Miles in Washington.

Washington, Sept. 9.—General Miles
paid his respects to President McKinley
at 10:45. The call was brief owing to a cabinet meeting at 11.

PHILIPPINE INSURGENTS UGLY.

Rivalry Between Themselves and Utter Disregard for American Officials Liable
to Cause Serious Trouble.
New York, Sept. 9.—A dispatch to the Herald from Manila says that the attitude of the Philippine island insurgent leaders is daily becoming more dangerous. So open is their opposition to the American authorities that the situation is strained and reconciliation
may be difficult. What makes the situation the more troublesome is the undisguised rivalry between the followers of General Aguinaldo, the self-proclaimed
dictator, and General Pilar, who covets
the honor Aguinaldo has acquired.
Pilar is in command of the insurgent troops stationed south of Manila and he uses them in any way that will be the most annoying to Aguinaldo, and at the same time makes every effort to show
his utter disregard of the American officials. His forces continue to putrid
the city, encouraging lawlessness in every direction.
Aguinaldo's course is no less annoying. He no longer attempts to conceal his hostility to the officials who represent the United States, and yesterday
issued an order prohibiting his soldiers from entering the American lines. This was probably deemed necessary in order to prevent them becoming so well disposed towards the Americans as to destroy his power. The attitude of the leaders cannot fail in the end to injure
the cause of Philippine independence.

Turkish Troops May Be Removed.

Canea, Island of Crete, Sept. 9.—The admirals of the foreign powers, replying to the protests of the Cretan executive committee against the recent massacres,
have declared that they will recommend
their respective governments to solve
the question definitely by the removal of Turkish troops from Crete, and the appointment of a governor to be selected by the powers.

ILLNESS INCREASING RAPIDLY.

Twenty-five Per Cent of the Soldiers in Puerto Rico Unit for Duty—
Death Rate Low.

New York, Sept. 9.—A dispatch to the Herald from Ponce, Puerto Rico, says:
Illness among the United States troops
is increasing and 25 per cent of the men are now unfit for duty. Within a few miles of Ponce there are 1,000 men in the hospitals, the majority being down
with typhoid. The percentage of deaths, however, is small.

To Follow Desires of the United States.

New York, Sept. 9.—The Times says:
The Cuban revolutionary party in this city is engaged in the formation of a political party for Cuba to be known as the Nationalist party. The movement is in the hands of T. Estrada Palma, Fidel G. Pierra, Horatio S. Rubenstein
and others equally as well known. According to Fidel G. Pierra, the principles of the party will be based on the war
resolutions passed by the United States congress. The intentions are to follow closely the desires of the American government.

SPANISH POLITICS.

Party Leaders by the Bars, the Censor at Work, and the Mischief to Pay.
Madrid, Sept. 9.—The following statement has been made by an important
Spanish official: Senor Silveira, a leader
of a section of the conservative party,
refuses to the government the support
of his party, although fully aware of the difficulties of the situation. He is doubtless prompted by a desire to obtain power. He wishes to do all in his power to realize his desire with a short delay. The country will then see how soon a man now posing as a liberal will be transferred into a despotic dictator.
General Polavieja handed a copy of his manifesto to the newspaper men,
but the censor forbids its publication.
The censor also forbids its transmission
by telegraph. It is probable the general intends to read it today in the cortes, but it is certain the government will try to prevent him from so doing
and insist upon a secret session.

Fraisworth Legislation Proposed.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 9.—The National Editorial Association today adopted the report of the committee on press law
providing for a standing committee of three to confer with the state associations with reference to bringing about a uniformity of press laws by concerted action among state legislatures.

"ROUGH RIDERS" MUSTERING OUT.

Colonel Roosevelt Relieved of Command of Cavalry Brigade—Two Troops to Be Mustered Out Tomorrow.
Camp Wikoff, Sept. 9.—Colonel Roosevelt has been relieved as commander of the second brigade of cavalry. Two troops of the "Rough Riders" will be mustered out tomorrow, and the others
so soon as possible.

serts that Premier Segasta will resign
as soon as the chamber passes the peace
bill.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS.

The Politicians at Colorado Springs Tending to Their Own Knitting and Nominating Tickets.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 9.— Fusion committees of three parties have been in session since 9 o'clock this morning, but nothing is given out of their deliberations except the appointment of a sub-committee consisting of
T. M. Patterson, Populist; T. J. O'Donnell, Democrat; A. M. Stephenson, Silver Republican, who will agree upon a plan and report to the full committee.
The Populist convention this morning
listened to a speech by National Chairman Thos. of the Silver Republicans,
while the others simply met and adjourning until afternoon. The Teller delegates from the 2nd congressional district held a meeting this morning to arrange for fusion on congressmen, but the meeting adjourned until after the state convention finishes its work.
The anti-Teller Silver Republicans
concluded their work last night, nominating their ticket: Governor, Simon Guggenheim, Pueblo; lieutenant governor, Ira J. Bloomfield, Rio Grande;
secretary of state, Joseph W. Milson,
Colorado Springs; treasurer, Harry E. Mullin,
Las Animas; auditor, John A. Wayne,
Weld county; attorney general, H. M.
Hogg, San Miguel; superintendent of public instruction, Mrs. Mayne Marble, Arapahoe; regents of the state university, long term, E. J. Temple, Boulder; J. H. Grinnell, La Plata; short term,
J. H. Pershing, Arapahoe.

Utah Republican Convention.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 9.—The Republican state convention was called to order this morning by W. K. Walton, chairman of the state committee. Joseph Bagley, of Ogden, was chosen temporary chairman, and the usual committees were appointed. The convention took a recess until 2 o'clock.

Cadet Wheeler's Funeral.

Montauk Point, L. I., Sept. 9.—Impressive funeral services were held this morning over the remains of Naval Cadet Thomas H. Wheeler, son of Major General Joseph Wheeler, and Second
Lieutenant Newton D. Kippatrick, 1st
United States cavalry, who drowned
while bathing Wednesday last. General Wheeler and family accompany the remains of Cadet Wheeler to Wheeler, Ala.

NEVADA'S SILVER MEN.

They Whoo! Matters Up at Reno, Applaud
W. J. Bryan and Do Sundry
Other Things.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 9.—The Silver
party convention reassembled at 1 o'clock today, when the committee on resolutions made its report. The platform reaffirms devotion to the free
and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 by independent action of the United States; unalterably opposes the Republican policy of increasing the bonded debt and the issuing of money
by banking institutions; asserts faith in the loyalty, ability and wise leadership of William J. Bryan, and predicts his nomination as standard bearer in 1900;
it favors holding Cuba, Puerto Rico and the Philippines until the American people have time to consider the best policy
in regard to their final disposition; it favors the construction of the Nicaragua canal; favors foreclosure of the mortgage on the Central Pacific railroad unless the principal and interest
are paid within one year. After adopting the platform the convention adjourned to wait a report from the inference committee, which met in conference with a similar committee from the Democratic convention on fusion.
Democrats Won't Fuse.
The Democratic convention today rejected fusion with the Silver party
unanimously, and will nominate a state
ticket from congressmen down.

Aurora Borealis Started Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—An Aurora Borealis
brought all telegraphing to standstill this afternoon, for a time. The disturbance extended 500 miles or more in all directions from Chicago.

DON'T UNDERSTAND THE REPORTS.

General Shafter Says He and General Miles
Were on Good Terms While at Santiago.

Middleton, Pa., Sept. 9.—General
Shafter said today: "There is no friction between General Miles and myself, at least there was not when he left Santiago. I do not understand the meaning of all this talk."
Secretary Alger and General Shafter
at Camp Meade today, witnessed a review of the troops and made a hurried tour of the camp. General Alger then resumed his journey to Detroit. General Shafter went to Washington.
They were closeted together an hour
this morning, but what passed between them neither would say.
When asked what he had to say about
the criticism in the War department,
Secretary Alger replied that people
have no idea of the great task of equipping and sending an army across the water. "The War department," he said,
"is in a fix; it wants and expects
is fair treatment."

FAMOUS HOSTELRY GONE.

The Ocean House at Newport, R. I., Burned
Down Today—Guests All Escaped.
Newport, R. I., Sept. 9.—Three alms have been turned in today for fire at the Ocean House, and the loss will be heavy. A few minutes after 3 o'clock the roof of the famous old hotel fell in. The fire spread to the castle buildings, and the firemen are making desperate efforts to prevent the destruction of the Casino. The guests of the hotel all escaped in safety, although many were unable to rescue their effects.

DEATH UNDER CAR WHEELS.

Well Known Musical Director of Chicago
Killed by a Santa Fe Train
in Colorado.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 9.—
Prof. D. S. Baernstein, the well known Chicago musical director, who has been conducting the Broadway Casino orchestra, met a horrible death last night under the Santa Fe train at Fountain. He jumped on the train as it was leaving this city and to the castle
doors being closed, clung to the platform. At Fountain he fell off and was ground to pieces.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Cincinnati Abilene with Celebration Fireworks—Next Encampment Goes to Philadelphia.

Cincinnati, Sept. 9.—This was business day of the 32nd annual encampment of the G. A. R. The demonstration closed with River Front park and the camps ablaze with fireworks last night, and the friends of Colonel James
A. Sexton, of Chicago, are today celebrating his election as commander-in-chief.
The Quakers secured the location of the next encampment at Philadelphia.
The hostlers from Xavier insisted they would get there for 1900, but the followers of the defeated candidates for commander-in-chief are not left in such a favorable position, for if the encampment should go to Denver in 1900, the east would likely get the commander-
in-chief, and would shut out General
Anderson, of Topeka.

The encampment this morning proceeded to finish the election of officers.
The following were elected by acclamation: Senior vice commander-in-chief,
W. O. Johnson, of Cincinnati; junior vice commander-in-chief, David R. Ross, Delaware; surgeon general, Dr. Pierce
Nebraska; chaplain-in-chief, Colonel Lucas, Indianapolis.
While the delegates were waiting for
the report on resolutions, the question of admitting those who were drafted or otherwise enlisted in the confederate
army and afterwards served in the federal army, was precipitated by the department of Tennessee. Discussion developed a desire to have this plan applied to all the states rather than to Tennessee alone, but as that will require a general amendment with notice of one year, the question cannot be decided until the meeting at Philadelphia next year.

A resolution referring to the president
was adopted by a unanimous rising vote
in a scene of the most enthusiastic demonstration. It was as follows:
Resolved, That the Grand Army of the Republic has watched with pride
and satisfaction, that wise, conservative,
unselfish, patriotic and statesman-like
manner in which our honored comrade,
William McKinley as president of the United States, has met every demand which the recent trouble with Spain imposed upon our country; that his wisdom
and prudence, in his endeavors to preserve peace with honor as well as vigor
and patriotic order with which our army
and navy were equipped for the conflict
when war became imminent, have won
our hearty and unreserved approval and commendation, and rejoicing in the glorious termination of the conflict in which our victory has been secured, we hereby express our gratitude, not only
to our distinguished comrade, the president, but also to the officers and men in the land and naval forces for their heroic conduct and sublime achievements for humanity and the glory of our flag and country.

"I DO MY OWN WORK."

So Says Mrs. Mary Rochette of Linden, New Jersey, in this Letter to Mrs. Pinkham.

"I was bothered with a flow which would be quite annoying at times, and
at others almost stop.
"I used prescriptions given me by my physician, but the same state
of affairs
continued.
"After a time I was taken with
a flooding,
that I was obliged to keep my bed.
Finally, in despair, I gave up my doctor, and began
taking your medicine, and have certainly been greatly benefited by its use.
"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has indeed been a friend to me.
"I am now able to do my own work,
thanks to your wonderful medicine. I was as near death I believe as I could be, so weak that my pulse scarcely beat and my heart had almost given out. I could not have stood it one week more.
I am sure, I never thought I would be so grateful to any medicine.
"I shall use my influence with any one suffering as I did, to have them
use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Every woman that is puzzled about
her condition should secure the symptomatic advice of a woman who understands. Write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and tell her your file.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER AT DENVER.

An Unknown Woman Fatally Shot Her
Alleged Husband, and Then Killed Herself.

Denver, Sept. 9.—A man who registered as T. C. Rockwell, of Greeley, Colo., was shot and mortally wounded
in a room at the Oxford hotel this afternoon, by a woman registered as his wife. She then shot and killed herself.
From papers in her possession, she is supposed to be one Florence Richards,
but nothing has been yet ascertained
concerning the couple.
It was learned later that the man who was shot was H. (not T.) C.
Rockwell, aged 45 years, and is said to have been proprietor of the Ohio Farmer, published at Cleveland, O., where he leaves a wife and three children.
The murderess was Florence Montague,
of Pittsburgh. She has been living for several weeks in a house of ill fame
here. The couple had been planning a trip overland by wagon.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9.

Republican Territorial Convention.

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF NEW MEXICO.
Santa Fe, September 9, 1898.
A convention of the Republican party of the territory of New Mexico is hereby called to meet in the city of Albuquerque at 10 o'clock in the forenoon on Saturday, October 1, 1898, for the purpose of placing in nomination for the suffrage of the voters of New Mexico one candidate for delegate from New Mexico to the 36th congress.
The several counties will be entitled to representation in this convention as follows:
Albuquerque, 10 delegates; Bernalillo, 7; Dona Ana, 5; El Paso, 3; Grant, 3; Lincoln, 5; Mora, 11; Rio Arriba, 5; San Juan, 11; Santa Fe, 25; Santa Fe, 16; Sierra, 2; Socorro, 12; Taos, 10; Union, 4; Valencia, 16; total number of delegates 171.
Proxies will not be allowed unless held and voted by citizens and residents of the same county from which the delegate giving the proxy is sent. Alternates will not be recognized.
County central committees will call regular county conventions for the nomination and election of delegates to this convention at such time and place in the several counties as in their judgment seems best, provided that all such conventions must be held at least three days prior to the date of the meeting of the territorial convention.
Where there are no regularly constituted county central committees, the members of this committee are charged with the duty of calling and holding of the proper county conventions.
Chairmen and secretaries of county conventions are requested to forward to the secretary of this committee at once upon the holding of the conventions in their respective counties, a full list of delegates elected and also copies of resolutions passed by such bodies.
By order of the Republican Territorial Central Committee.
E. L. BARTLETT, Chairman.
MAX. FROST, Secretary.

And again it is shown that Admiral Dewey's head is level. He is not sitting up nights writing complaints or making charges.

German exports to this country are decreasing and American exports to Germany are increasing. Score another for the Dingley tariff law and the policy of the Republican party.

Missouri has long claimed to be "the land of the big red apple," but that claim will have to be relinquished. Missouri never saw red apples the size of those displayed at the Horticultural fair in Santa Fe this week.

The action of the Republican territorial central committee yesterday in this city in fixing the holding of the Republican convention to nominate a candidate for delegate to the 36th congress at Albuquerque on October 1 was well advised and proper.

General Miles is a wise man in his generation. He conducted the campaign in Puerto Rico in a masterly manner, and when he returned home he knew enough not to talk about the campaign or of things unpleasant that had happened while he was absent from the country.

It is stated authoritatively that the alliance between Germany and Great Britain has been signed, and that it will be far reaching in its effects. Just the same Great Britain favors the retention of the Philippine Islands by the United States. The question now arises, did Emperor William know of that part of the program, or was he "buncoed" when the alliance was agreed upon?

County finances in several of the counties in this territory are in a deplorable shape, brought about mostly by incompetency or illegal or dishonest actions of county boards and county collectors. A few removals of offending or derelict officials would improve the situation greatly and would bring about a greater respect for law and for the requirements of the territorial statutes. And this is certainly needed.

It seems a foregone conclusion that Colonel Roosevelt will be the Republican nominee for governor of New York. This may not suit some of the old timers in Empire state politics, but they are accepting the situation with more grace than was to have been expected. After receiving the nomination, if the colonel thinks he needs help, a short notice to that effect sent to New Mexico will result in many volunteers for the work.

The gold output at Klondike has not proved what was expected and it is now found that the estimates were vastly overdrawn. With the same amount of money and energy expended in the mining sections of New Mexico the average mining man and miner can do much better in this territory within a given space of time than he possibly could in the Klondike to say nothing of the hardships and deprivations he would escape by being in sunny and healthy New Mexico.

One of the provisions included in the proposal for a universal peace which the czar will doubtless submit to the peace congress at Paris, ought to provide that it is not good form to shoot houses at the rulers of great nations. The scheme of killing the czar with a house loaded with gas was certainly original, and the effect upon the persons passing at the time it was touched off clearly demonstrated it to be dangerous. It is pretty tough luck to be poor and obscure, but there are advantages connected with a position of that kind which are to be appreciated.

Delegate Ferguson has on hand about 30,000 copies of a speech, giving the native New Mexicans tally, which it is said he delivered in congress, for distribution among the people of this territory. The speech is in the Spanish language and was, according to information received here, printed at the government printing office and reads well enough. It is true, but will not elect Mr. Ferguson. The people of this territory are dead on to the record of the Democratic party and know that there is neither rhyme nor reason in electing a Democrat to the 36th congress, which, in the popular branch, will be overwhelmingly Republican.

The opposition in the ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic to admitting the soldiers of the Spanish war will give rise to another civic organization in the country that in years to come will exert considerable influence in more ways than one. Many of the men who enlisted in the army the past year are the sons of veterans, and there is no good reason why the new order should not be made a branch of the G. A. R. Such a concession on the part of the veterans of the war of the rebellion would please the younger generation and detract nothing from the fame of the older.

Comparisons may be odious, but they often serve to call attention to the difference in the manner of doing business, and the state of the gold reserve in the treasury at this time shows the difference of that important matter of national finances under Democratic and Republican administrations. Under Cleveland's second administration, when the Democrats were in power in both branches of congress, the gold reserve reached the low figure of $44,000,000, and it was found necessary to borrow millions in order to pay the expenses of the government in times of peace. Under President McKinley, when every branch of the government is Republican the amount of the gold reserve has reached the enormous sum of $219,320,000. The condition of the national treasury under a Democratic administration was the direct result of a foolish and impractical policy of free trade; the present condition is the result of a policy of protection and sound business sense used in administering the affairs of the country.

Increase of the Army.

The latest proposition relative to the increase of the United States army is to increase the artillery regiments from seven to fourteen. Until last winter it was impossible to secure any increase beyond the five regiments that had been in the service for years, and it was not until it became apparent to the congressional mind that war with Spain was inevitable, did the military committee of the house succeed in having the number of artillery regiments augmented.

But the remarkably changed conditions now demand that this increase be itself further enlarged. The coast defenses of the United States are being developed as never before; heavy ordnance of a complicated description is being placed at the exposed points on both coasts of the United States, and besides, there are Cuba, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, the Ladrone Islands and the Philippines to care for in a military way. The result is that the army of the United States can no longer be confined to a little handful of 35,000 men as in the past, but a permanent armament of 75,000 to 100,000 men is demanded. Congress and the country at large are realizing this, and the way is being steadily prepared for enlarging the present size of the army, to keep pace with the navy.

Probabilities point to an increase of the infantry arm of the service to 40 regiments of from 1,000 to 1,200 men each; an enlargement of the cavalry arm of the service from the present ten cavalry regiments to 15 with 1,200 men each, and the increase of the artillery commands from 7 to 14, as indicated with 1,200 to 1,400 men to a regiment. This will give a very respectably sized army. The three battalion system of regimental organization in the infantry regiments adopted during the late unpleasantness with Spain has evidently come to stay. For years, army officers have striven for this, with ex-Senator Manderson to lead the way in congress, but the way seemed perpetually blocked until the war came, and then the knot of difficulty was severed very quickly. The cavalry and artillery arms of the service have had the three battalion organization "from time immemorial."

One change in the artillery branch ought to be insisted on, and that is the separation of the light from the heavy artillery. In European armies there are no light batteries merged in with the heavy artillery as in this country, but are organized in regiments by themselves. It has a disorganizing, deteriorating effect on the men to mix them up in light and heavy batteries. Keep them in either the one or the other.

The matter of this increase will occupy a fair share of congressional attention this winter, and extended changes will be made.

Another Chapter in San Miguel County Affairs.

The New Mexican desires it known that the San Miguel county board of commissioners deliberately paid to the collector of San Miguel county commissions on taxes never collected by him. Within a few days the figures will be forthcoming taken from the records of the proceedings of the board. Perhaps the Optic can seek to justify this action on the ground of necessity. It is safe to say that had the board refused to pay the collector and assessor the commissions provided by law to be paid upon taxes collected by the collector, there never would have been any abatements made by the board.

It is also known that in two or three instances the court house gang actually suggested to big tax payers, who were ready and willing to pay their taxes in cash, that if they would buy their certificates of indebtedness that their taxes would be abated 25 per cent. Let this immaculate board deny this if they dare. Let the Optic howl against the editor of this paper for showing up the official rottenness of the officials of that county. When the grand jury meets probably it will not be difficult to subpoena a few witnesses with letters written by certain San Miguel officials which will show that these officials made direct propositions to big tax payers to abate their taxes provided the tax payers would purchase from certain persons their certificates of indebtedness at a discount and that these would be allowed at par in the payment of taxes.

Nobody can compel these tax payers to publish these letters but a grand jury can secure them and the crowd of beneficiaries of San Miguel official corruption will get a chance to tell what they know about settlements with the county board.

One of the latest deals with the board was that of the settlement with one of the biggest taxpayers in the county and the true inwardness of that agreement will be ventilated in due time. If the San Miguel board and their advisers in Las Vegas think that this matter will be overlooked, they are much in error and it shall be demonstrated whether rottenness under the guise of public necessity shall obtain and an open and direct violation of the laws be permitted by the gang of plunderers who dominate in San Miguel.

The Optic thinks this paper is meddling. The same old excuse. The devil once said that all he wanted was to be left alone. The shouters and howlers of East Las Vegas will probably learn after awhile that the courts are not now being run for the particular benefit of the Union party nor any of its beneficiaries. Justice will now be administered for the benefit of all the people and not for any particular political clique who were able under the last administration not only to get opinions from a judge of the Supreme court upon questions not before him for judicial determination but also to get any kind of an opinion wanted in order to meet the demands of a gang of political bloodsuckers whose sole object was spoils and political supremacy.

More County Republican.

(Albuquerque Citizen.)
Mora county will roll up a big Republican majority this fall. There are no Democratic leaders in that county who care to combat the proposition so well understood by the native people of that county. The Republican party is the true friend of New Mexico and the only protector of its interests.

The San Miguel County Official Ring.

(Albuquerque Citizen.)
The efforts made in the past by the Union party in San Miguel county to make the people believe that it is the true friend of the poor people of that county, were somewhat shattered by the New Mexican's exposure of the misdoings of Felix Martinez and his crew of office holding cronies. Only the corporations and the rich stand well with the leaders of the Union party.

Have Not Complained.

(Albuquerque Citizen.)
Three of the newspaper editors of this city sent their sons to the war with Spain in Roosevelt's regiment. These boys took part in all the land fights in Cuba. One was wounded at La Quasina; another had the yellow fever, and the last and youngest one nearly fell dead the other evening in New York watching the scenes in the Bowery. Neither of them had complained about the rations or the treatment received from officers; neither have they boasted about what they have done. At La Quasina one of the boys was sergeant of a firing squad of nine men, and came out of the fight inside the Spanish trenches with one man killed and four wounded. At San Juan heights two of the boys mentioned reached the top of the hill together among the first.

FUNERAL IN CAMP

Soldiers at Whipple Barracks De-pressed by Death of Member of Santa Fe Company.

HEALTH CONDITIONS STATED

Difference Between Conditions Surrounding Regular and Volunteer—Destination of Regiment Discussed—Presents from Santa Fe Appreciated.

Whipple Barracks, Sept. 6, '98.—The funeral services of Eugene Burton were held yesterday and the remains interred in the post burying ground. The entire regiment turned out and marched to the cemetery headed by the band, and members of the Odd Fellows lodge in regalia. While the sight was decidedly impressive it was none the less depressing to the comrades of the dead volunteer. Burton came to Santa Fe from Bland for the purpose of enlisting. He was engaged in mining at that place, but usually followed the business of dinner, steam fitter or machinist. But little is known of him here. He has a brother in Patterson, N. J.

Eleven typhoid fever cases now engage the attention of the hospital corps. Fears are entertained that the disease will make further encroachments unless the regiment is moved promptly. Every possible sanitary precaution is being observed by the doctors and men.

Considerable is noticed in the papers, the type of criticism volunteer regiments for lack of proper health observance, comparing their condition to the regulars, but if the other cases are similar to Whipple barracks, no comparison should be made. The New Mexico and Arizona recruits in this instance were sent to Bland and condemned barracks. Regulars could not live here, and their doctors would not allow further occupation. The first duty of the new inhabitants was to clean away all filth and rubbish. This has been done to perfection, every part of the barracks, wood and vegetable matter being removed from the racks and burned. The regulars are provided with plenty of pure water at their posts, while here the water supply is inadequate and filthy. It was not known that orders were formerly observed for boiling and filtering the water used in the barracks. A healthy, mountainous country, are susceptible to every form of disease and soon will under hardships. Regular army doctors care more for the health of the men than for reputation, but volunteers are jerked from the sick room to the front line, and are in a better position to catch the disease. There is certainly something inhuman about the volunteer service. Whether the blame rests with the War department or the inefficiency of the hastily constructed service, it is impossible to state, but the fact is, the volunteers are being sent to the front line when they are observing the strictest rules of cleanliness and taking full advantage of all that the government gives them and all that $15 per month can buy extra. Then, too, the regulars get the better of what they are in camp, and they are in shape to provide for themselves while campaigning. Here one enters the army and receives $15.60 per month and boards himself—if he lives even in a meager manner. The camp grub is half cooked and the men get sick on it. Their forenoon's work with only a cup of coffee and a piece of bread in their stomachs. The cooks are green at the business and do not understand how to provide quantity, let alone quality.

Add to the above, army restrictions and their own custom to consider themselves free born American citizens, feel disgust and discontent supplanting patriotism. Even in their weakened state they think that they have a kick coming against anyone who dares to criticize the volunteer army.

It is reported here now that the regiment is to be sent to Lexington and thence to Havana. While the boys believe that one-half their number will never return if sent there, they welcome anything in the shape of a change. "Mustard out" is the sentiment of two-thirds of the regiment, but a change of base will do little to drive away the hope of being mustered out has gone glimmering.

Since coming here, the prophets have stationed the regiment in Hawaii, the Ladrone, the Philippines, Havana, San Francisco, Jefferson Barracks, Fort Bayard and several other places. The latest news is that an independent commission will be given the regiment and that every point of conquest gained by the United States will be visited before the term of enlistment expires. However the Lexington news is cheering for the boys, but the fact is, the regiment will not be quartered in the Klondike. The Klondike is about the only place missed by the guessers.

Privates William Warren, of Trinidad, and Arthur Spaulding, of Silver City, both attached to the Santa Fe command, have secured discharges on grounds of disability. Lucky boys.

The various companies have been re-lettered and the San Fe company is now known as "Company G."

Hon. T. B. Catron has done the good Samaritan act frequently of late, boxes of pens, pencils, paper and green chili at the post being highly appreciated by the boys. He is a whole War department in himself and if a sufficient number of the New Mexico battalion return from Cuba to make a showing in service, it is impossible to recount the many little humorous incidents of the past week.

HAPPY AT LAST.

John Overton sat alone, smoking his pipe. He could hear the men as they laughed and joked around the campfire, but he could not join in their merry-making.

Five years ago he had left his eastern home to endure the privations of a mining engineer in a new country. A scheme carried out successfully placed his name permanently before the scientific world. He felt elated that night, yet his thoughts would turn to her. In the years that had gone by much of the attention of that quarrel had passed away. After all, she was only a girl then, sweet Priscilla Grey. His mother had dreaded to see him go away so far. She had enough for both, but when he and Priscilla quarreled the course of his life seemed changed.

His mother had died alone, and he had come into her fortune. Yet still he tarried. He had grown to love the west. "Why is the palatose brother and?" "Why, you naughty little girl, why did you stray so far from home at this time?" Overton exclaimed as he looked upon the dark, sweet face so near his own. "Father came to see you, and I came too. I am going away," Overton. The heart of Robin aches within her. She loves the mountains, she loves her father, she loves Overton. When he is sad, she is sad. When he is gone, the winds sigh more deeply in the pines; the brook, as it leaps over the stones, is not so gay. Even the sun shines not so brightly when Overton is not here.

As his sweet, monotonous tones ceased Overton looked into her face. Her mother had been the daughter of a noble chief of a tribe of Indians, and her father was an officer at the fort. She was perhaps 15 and carried herself with the dignity of her race. She had her father's classic features, but the sadness of her mother's people shone in her great black eyes.

When Overton came to the northwest country, he had some work to do at the fort where she lived. He had killed a huge snake one day. An instant later and it would have been upon her. Since then she had loved him with the unreasonable affection of an animal. Her father joined them as they sat there. Taking Robin's hand, he drew her to him. "Poor little one! I am going to send her east, Overton."

"No better plan could suggest itself. You should have loved her some time ago. Be a good little girl, Robin. Learn a lot, but don't forget your old friends."

"I shall never forget," and, turning quickly, she glided away. Unusually bright, her constant companionship with her father had deepened her intellect. They had learned to love her in the school. With careful treatment her skin grew fine grained and fairer. Her hands were very small, soft and dimpled. She did not look like an alien, and few could guess that Indian blood ran in her veins.

Her habitual sadness never left her, but her smiles were ready and often. She combined the best of the two races from which she sprang, and a more charming woman was never introduced into the gay world than Robin, daughter of Captain Stuchman.

Overton had made rapid strides in his profession. The years seemingly left no impression on his handsome face. To his heart he still clasped his dream of Priscilla.

She had been married and was now a widow, still as lovely and as far as in her sweet girlhood, so rumor had it. For the first time in many years he decided to go home, back to the old haunts, the old friends and Priscilla.

Alas, he found them changed! The old house was the same, but his mother had gone away. At the club new faces greeted him. Selfish, narrow, aimless men stagnated in the little town. He felt then and there like taking the next train back where he could breathe the pure, sweet air and feel the freedom and ambition of the plains.

A relative was to entertain that evening, and he was the guest of honor. He came in a little late and paused a moment in the corridor. Looking across the room, he saw the object of his dream, the Priscilla of long ago. She was certainly lovely.

Accustomed as he was to read human nature, he saw in that face everything which he left out of his ideal.

She had thrown him over for a rich man. He had thought that she had been forced to it by her parents, and had pitied her so much.

She looked so complacent, so self satisfied, so worldly. Everything she did seemed to be for effect.

"What an idiot I have been!" He turned and walked to the piazza. "What an artificial atmosphere! I am going back by the first train."

He turned to go, but before him stood a magnificent woman. Was it her expression or was it her face that reminded him of that one old master so loved to portray?

Her regal head, her beautiful face, had the dignity of a queen. As she smiled he thought of the streams in the mountains, the music of the pines of the beautiful western country of his adoption. Then her sweet monotonous voice broke the silence.

"Has the pale face forgotten the Robin of the South?" His lips could form no words. He opened his arms and clasped her to his heart.—Philadelphia Item.

Tabernacle Coincidences.

Those who look for coincidences will be interested in knowing that the day before the burning of Spurgeon's tabernacle, in London, during the pastors' college conference, Charles Spurgeon held the twelfth chapter of Hebrews, containing the phrase, "For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched and that burned with fire," and concluding, "For our God is a consuming fire." His brother, Thomas Spurgeon, entitled his presidential address, "No Strange Fire," while one of the questions that had been addressed to the conference in a circular had been, "Does the fire burn brightly on the altar?" The Rev. John McNeill, the missionary, who was due at the tabernacle next week, used as his motto for his Sunday's lecture, "Turn and burn," a phrase borrowed from Baxter. But perhaps the most extraordinary coincidence of all is the apparent fulfillment of the prediction in Old Moore's Almanack: "About the middle of the month (April) the destruction of a famous building by fire may be expected. Insurances will cover the actual cost, but historical associations, alas, have no money equivalent!"—London Chronicle.

Dangerous Rivality.

Prayn—What! Eight doctors in this little town? There must be a great deal of professional rivalry.

A Great English Statesman's Secret.

The secret of a celebrated English statesman's long life was his systematic way of eating. Every bite of food was chewed thirty times before swallowing. The result was he naturally enjoyed good health. Most men and women bolt their food, and eat things which were never intended to be eaten. They become constipated, have a bad complexion, lose flesh, are irritable and nervous, and the first thing they know they are "played out." It is gratifying to know that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters cures stomach troubles. It is a purely vegetable medicine that has stood the test of many years. It cures cases which seem to be hopeless. Sufferers from any disorder of stomach, liver or bowels should try it.

Can't Get Away.

Among the heroes of the war let us not forget the master hand which directed its course from the White House, says Syracuse, N. Y., Standard. You can't get away from that chap if you pretend to keep up with current history.

Mutual Love.

Servant—Mrs. Streeter is at the door and wants to know if you are in.
Mrs. Kawler—Fudge! I don't want to see that woman. I have it! Tell her I have come to make a call upon my friend Mrs. Streeter. You needn't let on, you know, that you know her.
Mrs. Kawler upon servant's return—What did she say?
Servant—Oh, she only laughed and said she was mighty glad she wasn't at home.

A CRITICAL TIME

During the Battle of Santiago.

SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all Heroes. Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunitions and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago de Cuba, on July 23, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect saviour of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and it now in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Club-houses on wheels.

The buffet-smoking-library cars which go east on the Burlington "Chicago Special" are veritable club-houses on wheels. The smoking-room is a brilliantly lighted apartment, beautifully carpeted, finished in oak, and furnished with easy chairs, settees, tables, and a writing-desk. Here you can lounge, read, write, gossip, smoke, or play cards. Under conditions like these, a 1000-mile railway ride is something to be looked forward to with pleasure.

The Chicago Special leaves Denver at 9:15 a. m., and Chicago at 4:25 p. m. next day.

SPEAKING THE SHIPS.

Untraveled dweller by the haven side, I saw the great ships come, sojourn a day, then set their eager sails, their anchor weigh and give themselves to rocking wind and tide.

I spoke them not, nor they to me replied. Of where they roved and lonely journey lay. Now, since my lips have tasted midsea spray, In common speech I hail those wanderers wide.

To this, "Proud Scotia gave thy ribs to thee!" To this, "Thy masts have known the Apen-tines!"

Or, "Tagus empties where thy frame was planned!" Or, "Say, then, gallant one, if true it be, Thy miter camest with hoard of Levant wines And dulcet fruits from many a sun-loved land!"

A FRIENDLY RUSE.

Mr. Garraway stood up as young Mrs. Bradshaw rose from her seat at the dinner table. It had been rather a quiet dinner, and he had had to do nearly all the talking. Bradshaw opened the door, and Mr. Garraway noticed that each avoided looking at the other. Ernest Bradshaw closed the door and came back to the table. He cracked a walnut, and on opening it threw it into the fire.

"Bad?" said Mr. Garraway. He was starting a cigar and he had refilled his glass. He was perfectly at home with the Bradshaws.

"Yes," said young Mr. Bradshaw violently. "Of course it's bad. Worst of it is that you never know until you try."

Mr. Garraway owed his success as a solicitor mainly to knowing exactly when not to do the wrong thing. Young Bradshaw lighted a cigar and after a few puffs let it go out. Then he stood up with his back to the fire—it was his fire—and looked at Garraway.

"I want to ask you something, Garraway. Do you ever have people coming to you to draw up deeds of separation?"

"Oh, yes, pretty often."

"Well, would you mind being of some use to me—and to Ellen?"

"Why, certainly. I've known you both—Mrs. Bradshaw especially—for a long time. But you two don't want to be separated? Why, man alive, you haven't been married a year!"

"Garraway, look here. We have had a row, a dispute, or whatever you like to call it."

"What I should call it," said Garraway, rising and speaking with some asperity, "would be a little disagreement between two excellent young people who ought to know better."

"Nevertheless, my dear Garraway," the young husband's lips quivered—"nevertheless we have agreed to part."

On the piano in the drawing room up stairs a few chords were struck and the clear voice of Mrs. Bradshaw rang out. Garraway, getting on in the thirties, and sober man of law, found the hand that held his cigar shaking for a moment.

"You see," said Bradshaw, "perfectly jolly over it."

There was a sudden stop and a crash on the piano, as though the player could keep it up no longer.

"Look here, Bradshaw"—Mr. Garraway passed his hand carefully over his smooth, spare hair—"look here. Call at my place at 11 tomorrow morning, and I'll do what is wanted."

"Thank you, Garraway."

"Shall we go up stairs? I must arrange with her."

The demure, precise little clock on the mantelpiece in Mr. Garraway's chambers struck 11 o'clock. A small boy entered with a card.

"Thank you, Judd. Show the lady in, Mr. Gibson."

Mr. Gibson withdrew his work to the outer office, stepping aside at the door to permit a slim, girlish figure to enter.

"How do you do, Mr. Garraway? I'm not late, am I? I did not know the place, and I had a little difficulty. I presume you are aware of the nature of my errand?" said the visitor.

"We often have little difficulties in the law, Mrs. Bradshaw. If everything worked smoothly, we would starve. I had no chance of speaking to you last night," said Mr. Garraway, "excepting to ask you to call, but I had a brief conversation with Bradshaw, and he assured me that you had quite made up your mind about the matter."

"He is, in this particular instance, quite right." She put her lips together and looked as determined as she could.

"And so I am to draw up the deed of separation?"

"If you please."

"It's rather rough on me," went on Mr. Garraway, with an effort at humor. "Why, it seems only yesterday that I was his best man, and you and he went away to Neuchatel, and we cheered you as you left Victoria station. Do you remember?"

"Would you mind telling me, please, when the document can be drawn?"

"And do you remember your first dinner after your return, and how jolly we all were? Why, you were as comfortable as anything until a week or so ago—weren't you?"

"What I propose to do," said the stern young lady, with just the suspicion of a catch in her voice, "is to go abroad with my aunt for a year or two and leave the house just as it stands for Ernest to live in. He can get a housekeeper, you see, and—"

"By Jove!" cried Mr. Garraway. "That's not a bad idea!"

"You think you think it will work all right, Mr. Garraway?"

"Oh, I think so! I'll tell you why. Of course you want Ernest to be comfortable, don't you?"

There was a softening of her eyes.

"Oh, yes! It is only our one great quarrel of last week that is parting us, and—"

"I know; I know. Now, look here, Mrs. Bradshaw. I wouldn't take so much trouble if I were only your lawyer, but I'm your friend as well, am I not?"

"Dear Mr. Garraway, we two have always been good friends."

"Well, will you allow me, then, as an old friend, to give you a little advice? I should advise you to make up this difference of opinion with Ernest. I'm told—of course I'm only a bachelor—but I'm told that all young couples have their quarrels to begin with, and they do say—here again I speak, of course, as a mere bachelor—that the making up is always the most delightful part of it."

"Mr. Garraway, I thought you would argue in that way, and it is very good of you, but my mind was made up before I came here, and nothing that you can say will alter it. A woman must judge for herself in these matters."

"Quite so. I think that to a certain extent you are right, and if it is useless to say anything after your present resolution, why—"

"You may be sure of that," said young Mrs. Bradshaw confidently. "Ernest must put up with the consequences. And you will see to the drawing up of the deed?"

"It shall be put in hand at once."

"I should like to leave London this day week if possible."

"I dare say," said Mr. Garraway, with great amiability, "that that can be managed."

"There is only the question of a housekeeper. Somebody must be there to look after the servants."

"It is there I think I can be of some assistance to Ernest," Mr. Garraway spoke with genial assurance. "It is a happens that a client of mine is looking for precisely a situation of this kind."

"How extremely fortunate!"

"She is a good manager, she's a widow, and she has had charge of a house similar to yours."

"That's capital. As I say, I shouldn't like the house to go to rack and ruin. When could this old lady come, do you think?"

"This—who?"

"This old lady. The widow. When could she come?"

"Oh, but"—Mr. Garraway smiled pleasantly—"you are laboring under a slight mistake, Mrs. Bradshaw. The lady is not old."

"Oh! She is not young, I suppose?"

"Well, as a matter of fact, she is rather young. By the bye, I ought to have her portrait here somewhere."

It had come. Mr. Garraway's shilling, his cabinet portrait, in a shop in the Strand that morning. The shopman couldn't tell him who it was, didn't know her from Adam, he said, but she was an exceedingly pretty girl in demure black, and the wily Mr. Garraway was content.

"Surely, surely, Mr. Garraway," gasped young Mrs. Bradshaw as she gazed at the portrait, "this is not the kind of person for a housekeeper."

"Oh, yes," said Mr. Garraway airily. "She'll do all right. Bradshaw would like her very much, I'm sure, after she had been in the house a week or two. I'm told she is a capital manager."

The bunch of scented narcissus at the lady's bodice was bobbing up and down as she continued to look at the photograph.

"You see, the great thing is to get some one who would make poor Bradshaw comfortable and not compel him to be always at the club."

She put the photograph down on the table.

"This lady," said young Mrs. Bradshaw definitely, "shall never come into my house."

"No," agreed Mr. Garraway sweetly. "Of course it would be in Ernest's house. I am sure that on my recommendation—"

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Garraway, that you would recommend a person like this for such a position?" Mrs. Bradshaw had risen from her chair and spoke indignantly.

"Now, Mrs. Bradshaw, pardon me. I can't allow you to speak ill of a client of mine. I have every reason to believe that she is a well-bred young lady and comes from one of the best families. I have no doubts in my own mind that she will make my friend Bradshaw, whom I look upon as one of the best fellows in the world, very comfortable indeed."

There was a rap at the door, and the smart boy entered with a card.

"Show him in, Judd."

Mr. Garraway went toward the door to receive the newcomer, not before, however, he had seen a handkerchief go to the eyes of his young visitor.

"Bradshaw," he whispered at the door, "listen to me, man. Your wife's in there crying. Go and kiss her and make it up."

And bundling the worried young Bradshaw into the room in the most unprofessional manner Mr. Garraway went and spoke in the outer office with Gibson.

"I shan't be back for an hour, Gibson. Tell that lady and gentleman so if they ask for me. I'm going down to see counsel in the temple."

It was an hour and a half later that Mr. Garraway mantered back. The small Judd followed him into his room and put some more coal on the fire.

"Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw gone, Judd?" demanded Mr. Garraway.

Master Judd said, "Yes, sir."

"What the deuce are you grinning about, Judd?"

The excellent Judd said it was nothing special. Being pressed, however, Master Judd confessed that, entering the room about 20 minutes after his master had left, he saw the girl and the lady kissing each other "like 1 o'clock and as 'appy as—"

"Judd!" said Mr. Garraway severely. "I am surprised at you. I am surprised that a man, just now perhaps of tender years, but one who is possibly destined for the highest honors, should be guilty of the highest impropriety and gross unprofessional impropriety, sir—of noticing a master of this kind. I'm surprised at you, perfectly surprised at you. Would you like very much to go to the theater tonight, you young scoundrel?"

Master Judd, with some emphasis, said, "Rather!"

"Then here's half a crown for you. Now be off. I'm rather behind with my work today."—Exchange.

How She Knows.
Her Little Brother—Sit down in the parlor. She'll be here as soon as she gets through giving her face a swipe with the powdering.

Mr. Bradshaw—And what did she say when you told her to come here?

Her Little Brother—She said she knew when the window came down on her thumb Monday morning that this was going to be a unlucky week for her.

Father Time's

scythe is a weapon that no man can escape. Sooner or later it must lay all men low.

With premature death it is different. Nature intended that every man should live a long and useful life, and die a peaceful, painless death. Men defeat the intention of a beneficent Providence by the manner in which they live.

live, their disregard of the laws of health and their utter failure to protect health when it is threatened and restore it when it is lost. The most common result of neglect of health is that dread disease, consumption. Not many years ago it was considered incurable. Now it is known that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases if taken in time. That is its record during a period of thirty years. Many of the thankful patients have permitted their names, experiences and photographs to be reproduced in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Any sufferer who wishes to investigate these cases may secure a copy of this book free, by sending 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and then write to the patients themselves. In consulting Dr. R. V. Pierce by letter, the sufferer consults a skillful specialist who for thirty years has been chief consulting physician to the great Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. With the assistance of a staff of able physicians, he has successfully treated tens of thousands of cases of bronchitis, throat and lung affections. He will cheerfully answer letters from all sufferers, without charge. Address the Doctor as above.

"I had bronchitis for eighteen years and I was treated by three physicians, but all failed," writes David Wartenburg, Esq., of Shoenakersville, Berks Co., Pa. "They told me there was no cure for me. I then used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and was entirely cured. My weight is now 172 pounds."

THE CLOSING DAY

Judges of the Different Classes Examined the Displays and Awarded the Premiums.

CROWNING GLORY OF FAIR

Baby Show This Afternoon Most Successful Feature of the Week—Prize Beauty Will Be Decided by Popular Vote.

The last day of the Horticultural fair opened with blue skies and balmy air, and early in the morning visitors were wending their way to the exhibition building. Interest in the displays has increased materially since the opening day, and since many new displays were installed yesterday morning there was much to interest those who paid a visit to the show. The prevailing remark is, "I had no idea that fruit of this kind was grown anywhere outside of southern California." The truth is that California fruit does not attain the perfection in size and color that New Mexico fruit does, while there is no comparison in the flavor and keeping qualities. As a fruit growing section New Mexico, and the vicinity of Santa Fe in particular, cannot be excelled in the United States.

This morning the judges began the work of examining the exhibits and awarding the premiums. The following are the judges of the different classes: Classes 1 and 2, apples and crab apples, Judge Thomas C. Fuller, H. B. Cartwright and W. T. Shelton.

Classes 3 and 4, cucumbers and pears, W. H. Gullford, Judge J. R. McFie and Mrs. Woodruff.

Classes 5 and 7, apricots and nectarines, Sol. Spiegelberg, Judge N. B. Laughlin and Mrs. Woods.

Classes 8 and 9, quinces and grapes, Dr. Coates, Professor Cockrell and J. F. Hinkley.

Classes 10 and 11, nuts and miscellaneous, Mrs. E. A. Fiske, Judge Morrison and B. Romero.

Classes 12, 13 and 14, vegetables and flowers, Mrs. W. T. Thornton, Mrs. Whitman and Mrs. W. L. Jones.

Art exhibition, Mrs. Coates, of Washington, Mrs. Menzies, of Las Vegas,
and Mrs. McCurdy, of California.

The awards as made by the judges will be announced tomorrow.

This afternoon the main feature of the fair was the baby show. There were babies of all kinds, but of course every one was sweet and pretty. The manner of deciding upon the prettiest in the two classes was by voting, every person present being allowed one vote each in each class. As the paper goes to press the babies are the center of attraction and the voting is in progress. The ladies having the baby annex to the fair in charge, not caring to ask any one to risk his popularity with the mothers in the city, concluded that the easiest way to determine the most beautiful of all the beauties was by voting, and wisely adopted that method of determining the all important question.

The afternoon was enlivened by a good musical program, which was furnished by local talent, and every one present thoroughly enjoyed himself.

MINOR CITY TOPICS.

Attend the dance tonight in Catron's block, from 8 to 12 o'clock.

Attend the dance tonight for the benefit of the Horticultural fair. Admission 50 cents.

Francisco Gallegos, said to be the richest man in Union county, has died at the hospital in Trinidad.

Mrs. J. G. Clancy, of Las Vegas, wife of Captain J. G. Clancy, and a lady of high standing in that part of the country is dead. The interment will be at Anton Chico.

There will be a dance at Catron's vacant store room, lately occupied by W. Hickox—tonight from 8 to 12 o'clock. Admission 50 cents each which includes refreshments; proceeds to be devoted to the Horticultural fair.

Lineman J. B. Murphy, of the Western Union, has been in town the last day or two superintending the setting up of poles for a renewal of the line between this city and Espanola. Mr. Murphy left for the north this morning.

County Clerk Romero received a dispatch from Gallup this morning, announcing the death of Antonio Montoya, which occurred in that place last evening at 7 o'clock. The deceased was formerly a resident of Santa Fe, and his relatives all live here.

The season for hunting deer with horns is now open, and continues until December 1. The season for killing grouse, quail, prairie chicken, pheasant, partridge and turkey, continues open until March 1. Trout fishing ends December 1, and remains closed until June 1 next.

A number of Santa Fe citizens who are members in good and honorable standing of the McQuiston club, El Paso, will be pleased to learn that that famous organization will hold an elaborate "blowout" on the 19th inst., at the club house and gardens of the club in El Paso. There promises to be quite an attendance from this territory. This club has the reputation of having the best amateur concert band and orchestra and general musical talent in the south, and music will be the feature of the entertainment.

Mayor Hudson has appointed Charles Wheeler policeman, making three policemen on the force now; and on the 1st of the month the mayor will appoint a fourth policeman. His honor has been importuned in the past two months to do this and do that or do something else relative to the management of this police; and some have claimed that the city did not need any policeman as the sheriff and his men were sufficient to maintain order. But the mayor, after listening to 1,001 different kinds of advice, concludes to use his individual judgment and let it go at that, as he is the responsible party, and not Tom, Dick and Harry and all their relations who would like to have things run according to their advice and the mayor take all the responsibility.

T. McQuiston and wife left for their home in Rinconada this morning after a pleasant visit in this city. Mr. McQuiston is one of the most prominent citizens of Rio Arriba county and is a staunch Republican. He says the outlook for a Republican victory this fall in his shire is excellent, and that Rio Arriba is a natural Republican stronghold. The crop and harvest prospects this season are very good, barring some little injury done by hail, and the mining outlook is encouraging. The force at upper Hill mine is increased, and good ore is being taken out. There is a good fruit country up there, and the crop this season is by no means behind the records that have made the county noteworthy in the past. Mr. McQuiston is well known in northern New Mexico, especially, where he has a host of friends.

The meeting to be held at the residence of Mrs. L. B. Prince tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of arranging for a reception for the returning "Rough Riders," should be attended by every member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The New Mexico boys who enlisted for the war with Spain are entitled to the best that can be given them, and the ladies will not forget that fact.

The ball game yesterday afternoon between the Albuquerque Browns and the Santa Fe team, resulted in a score of 23 to 9 in favor of the visitors. However, in the game played this morning, the tables were turned, the score standing 13 to 12 in favor of the home boys. The game played this morning finishes the series between the clubs, the Albuquerque team winning two out of three games. Arrangements have been made whereby another game will be played between the two teams at 10 o'clock in the morning.

How about the coming reception for the "Rough Riders?" New York is preparing to give the boys a rousing reception for about the whole length of Broadway, so that they will be deafened by the cheers of welcome awaiting them. And surely Santa Fe ought to whoop things up for the regiment, the majority of whose members came from this part of the country.

Yesterday the thermometer at the local weather bureau registered as follows: Maximum temperature, 75 degrees at 3 p. m.; minimum, 40 degrees at 8 a. m. The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 68 degrees.

Meeting of the Ladies Soldiers Aid society at 5 p. m. tomorrow at the library of the W. B. T. Important business. All members are requested to attend.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Partly cloudy weather tonight and Saturday.

John Snoddy, a Levering coffee salesman, registers at the Palace from Baltimore.

S. Vireash and wife and Vivian Laub, are at the Exchange from San Miguel county.

George Murry, a coal miner of Madrid, is taking in the fair. He registers at the Bon-Ton.

Hon. J. W. Fleming, mayor of Silver City and territorial coal mine inspector, was at the Claire.

Hon. Samuel Eldred went out to Chama this morning on business, to be gone for two days.

Judge Leland and wife have returned to Socorro, after a stay at the sanitarium in this city.

J. R. Turner and wife, of Embudo, returned home this morning after a pleasant visit to this city.

Mrs. A. Monnett, of Las Vegas, is in this city, a guest at the Palace, and visiting the Horticultural fair.

Miss Plentez, of Kanabec, Wis., and Miss Lillian Carr, of Kansas City, are tourists registered at the Claire.

Mrs. A. H. Hilton and children, of San Antonio, N. M., are at the Claire in attendance on the Horticultural fair.

Mrs. Holden and daughter, of Albuquerque, are at the Claire on a pleasure trip, and visit to the Horticultural fair.

Hon. Romulo Martinez, a member of the territorial board of equalization, is at the Exchange from Tierra Amarilla.

S. E. Lankard returned this morning from an Albuquerque business trip. He reports business good down in that part of the country.

Sixto Chavez, of El Rito, Rio Arriba county, spent yesterday in the city attending to business matters. He returned home this morning.

Sergeant F. C. Wesley, of the "Rough Riders," telegraphed friends in this city today, from Denver, that he would reach Santa Fe Sunday evening.

Wm. N. Emmert will leave Cerrillos tonight to accept a position in a Kansas City railroad office. He and family will hereafter reside in Independence, Mo.

Hon. M. S. Otero, one of Albuquerque's leading and influential citizens, arrived in the city from the south last night and registered at the Palace hotel. This morning he went to Colorado via the D. & R. G., to look after business matters.

Professor S. E. Lankard and E. Ochs, of Santa Fe, came from the capital last night and put up at the Sturges European. The professor, formerly a school teacher of Santa Fe, is now in the insurance business, while Mr. Ochs represents A. Staab.—Albuquerque Citizen.

H. W. Fleming, E. R. Blossdale and W. Bigley, of Cleveland, O., arrived over the Santa Fe last night and put up at the Exchange until this morning when they went north to Tres Piedras with a view to investing. Before returning east they will take a trip through Arizona. They are very favorably impressed with this part of the country, especially with the climate which they regard as ideal.

Tennis Tournament.

In yesterday's singles James Seligman defeated Renahan, and Bartlett defeated Johnson. This brings the championship down between Gortner, James Seligman, A. Staab and Bartlett—the winner, however, to defend the title against A. Seligman, last year's champion.

In doubles, Hudson and Gortner beat Staab and Woodward, 6-3, 3-6, 8-6. This practically makes Hudson and Gortner the tournament winners in doubles, subject to play with the Seligmans, who hold the 1897 championship.

Games in singles and doubles are in progress at the club courts this afternoon.

GRANT COUNTY SCHOOLS.

Mayor Fleming, of Silver City, is Proud of Them—Deming's Left Handed Blessing.

Mayor J. W. Fleming, of Silver City, and territorial coal mine inspector, went north this morning to Monero, just this side of the Colorado line where there are extensive coal operations, and where he will make an official inspection.

Mayor Fleming is proud of the educational facilities of Silver City and Grant county in general. The fall attendance at the Normal school has begun with over 100 students, with prospects of enough more coming to really more than fill the institution. The fall attendance in the public schools is 600 although there are but 3,000 people in the city. Mayor Fleming has made the city marshal also territorial officer, and that official sees to it that all the children are rounded up and sent to school. His honor says it is common enough to find Mexican 4-year old children in Grant county who can repeat the multiplication tables with ease and dispatch.

Mayor Fleming says the general mining outlook in Grant county is better than ever before, and the advent of the Hearst interests has made the situation better than ever. Deming has lost its much talked of railroad to the south, but then that was a foregone conclusion. There is no use of two railroads south from New Mexico through Chihuahua, and the Corralitos road has secured the first line. Even were there a road south from Deming, it would not be for the good of the city as the experience of Benson has shown. Before the Sonora road was built from Deming, Benson was a good deal of a place, but with the advent of the road, Nogales was built up at Benson's expense, and were there a road south from Deming, a border city would go up at the Mexican line, and presently Deming would not be anywhere. So Deming's loss is largely in the nature of a left handed blessing.

Mayor Fleming, although a Democrat, is a steady reader of the NEW MEXICAN, and thinks highly of this paper.

Court Notes.

The following suits have been filed in District court for San Juan county:

Fred Bunkers vs. The Animas Land & Irrigation Company, lien for labor performed in the sum of $267.73; W. H. Williams vs. the same company on the same complaint, $1,567.05; A. W. Graves against the same company and on the same charge, $1,387.37. Granville Pen-dleton appears as the attorney for the plaintiffs in all three cases.

In the District court for Santa Fe county Pablo Aranda et al have filed an adverse suit on the Gold Coin mining claim in the New Placer Mining district of Santa Fe county. The Gold Coin company has made an application for a patent on their property, and the plaintiffs in the suit claim that the patent, as asked for, conflicts with their mining claims, which adjoin. H. L. Warren, attorney for the plaintiffs.

Mr. Hagerman's Movements.

J. J. Hagerman, the well known capitalist, president of the Pecos Valley Irrigation & Improvement Company and president of the Pecos Valley railroad and also a promoter of the White Oaks road, has gone to the valley from Colorado Springs on a business trip. Relative to Mr. Hagerman's recent movements, the Albuquerque Citizen says:

At a recent conference in Colorado Springs, participated in by Mr. Hagerman, R. W. Tansill, the receiver of the Pecos Valley Irrigation & Improvement Company; W. G. Hamilton, general manager for the Roswell Land & Water Company, and Frank Tracy, a representative of the Swiss bondholders, arrangements were made to place the Land & Irrigation Company on a cash basis. Frank Tracy returned to Eddy with $10,000 for the purpose and $25,000 more will be received within 30 days, which will be sufficient to pay current expenses of the company.

Mr. Hagerman stated that 30 miles of the Pecos Valley & Northeastern railroad has been built and that if the present rate was continued the entire 210 miles would be completed by December 15. William Neville, of Plattsmouth, Neb., who has the contract for all the bridge work on the extension of this railroad will commence operations September 15. Superintendent D. H. Nichols will commence track laying in a few days.

Regular trains are now running between Amarillo and Canon City. The road is already equipped with four large engines and a large number of new cars.

The Jake Levy Tailoring Company has received its new line of fall and winter clothing samples and can show the public a nobbler, cheaper line than have ever been brought to the city before. A perfect fit guaranteed.

Smallpox at Madrid.

Three cases of smallpox having developed in Madrid, James Dugan, superintendent of the mines at that place, applied to the board of county commissioners to have a health officer appointed for that place, and asked that vaccine virus sufficient to vaccinate 100 persons be sent for immediate use. The board appointed Dr. Charles Bradley health officer and sent him the necessary virus. Under the law the health officer has the authority to quarantine and isolate smallpox cases, and further spread of the disease at Madrid is not expected.
