WHY PAID THE BOARD OF NEW YORK LEGISLATORS

HOUSE OF MUTUAL'S LOBBYIST AT ALBANY QUITE LUXURIOUS

Members of Insurance Committee Lived in It.

IF STATESMEN PAID RENT NOBODY KNEW OF IT

New York, Oct. 18.—The district attorney's office was called upon today by the legislative investigation committee because of the testimony of one witness, and the question of an arrest for perjury is now being considered by Assistant District Attorney Rand. The witness in question is George J. Plunkitt, an eighteen-year-old telephone operator in the employ of the stationery firm of L. W. Lawrence & Co., from whom the Mutual Life Insurance company purchased a great deal of its supplies of this nature. It was brought out in yesterday's testimony that among the vouchers for money charged to legal expenses was one for $500 signed by George J. Plunkitt. His identity was not disclosed until today, when Plunkitt was called to the stand, and when shown the voucher, denied that he had ever signed it. He further denied that he had ever received that amount of money from the Mutual Life, or that he had rendered the company any service.

Mr. Hughes asked Plunkitt to write his name in ink on a piece of paper, which he did. This and the voucher were then offered in evidence, and the similarity of the signatures was called to the attention of the committee. Shortly after this incident the sergeant-at-arms was sent to communicate with the district attorney's office, and soon after Mr. Rand appeared. He was escorted to a seat beside Chairman Armstrong, and for a time he critically examined the signatures. All that Mr. Rand would say was that he had been summoned by Chairman Armstrong, and that the matter was now out of the committee's hands, and "was up to the district attorney's office."

Another feature of the day's hearing was the passage at arms between Chairman Armstrong, Counsel Hughes and James M. Beck, counsel for President R. A. McCurdy. Mr. Beck accused Mr. Hughes of misleading the public by not following out his lines of investigation to the end, and that he had dropped a subject before the witness was allowed to explain.

Evasion's Just Reward.
Chairman Armstrong said that the work of the committee must not be obstructed. The committee, he said, wanted all the information it could get that would be helpful, and the witness had placed himself in the position he found himself by his continual evasive answers. Mr. Armstrong said further that every witness will be treated with all possible courtesy. Mr. Hughes then said if he had evaded, it was by showing courtesies when the circumstances justified an entirely different course, adding that evasion would be held up to the contempt if it had always received. There was a spontaneous burst of applause when Mr. Hughes had concluded, which was stopped only by a threat to clear the room.

That Residence at Albany.
William A. Gardner, clerk in the supply department of the Mutual Life Insurance company, made an excellent witness for the committee by his frank manner and apparent desire to give whatever information he could on the matter before the committee. Mr. Carpenter was under the direction of A. C. Fields, superintendent of this department, and was very close to Mr. Fields in his legislative supervision at Albany. Mr. Carpenter told of how a house has been maintained in Albany for several years at the expense of the Mutual Life. Mr. Fields occupied it only during the legislative session, and his quarters were the quarters of the insurance committee of the legislature, lived in the house with Mr. Fields. Mr. Carpenter leased the house and paid for the servants and supplies with money furnished by the Mutual Life. He did not know whether these members of the insurance committee ever shared in the expense. He never received any money from the Mutual Life, but he maintained for a period of about ten years in Albany under these conditions, but not always in the same street.

McCurdy Didn't Know It.
Later in the day, when Mr. McCurdy was recalled, he said he did not know that the Mutual Life's funds had been maintaining this house, although he did know that Mr. Fields had rented a house to escape the risk of illness in hotels. He was assured that Mr. Fields paid a $500 rent. Mr. Carpenter said the entire expense of running the house was about $2,500.

Father Jordan Has Vanished.
An attempt was made by Mr. Hughes today to get some testimony from Thomas D. Jordan, former controller of the Equitable Life Assurance society. Frank B. Jordan was called under a subpoena, and he said he saw his father last Labor day. He did not know then that he was going away, and did not know where he was now. Under persistent questioning by Mr. Hughes, young Jordan said no mail was forwarded to his father and that he did not know whether his father or his mother were living or dead.

Edward W. Rogers, a clerk for L. W. Lawrence & Co., was called and was represented by John B. Stetson. Rogers is also president of the Globe Printing company. He was shown the Plunkitt voucher, and said he was of the opinion that the signature on the voucher and that written by Plunkitt on the stand were identical. He could not recognize either of them definitely as the signature of

RICHARD A. MCCURDY

Plunkitt. A voucher drawn in December, 1902, for $1,667.50 and signed by Rogers, was charged to legal services of the Mutual Life, but Rogers could not remember the circumstances of a transaction so far back. He acknowledged that it bore his signature, and that he must have received the money, but for what it was disbursed he could not remember. The checks for which both Plunkitt's and Rogers' vouchers were signed, were ordered to be produced and they will be presented at a later session of the committee.

Toward the close of the day's session, Mr. McCurdy was being questioned on the trust companies with which the Mutual is connected, and the subsidiary companies of the Mutual Life, and was still on the stand when adjournment was taken.

OKLAHOMA SWEEP BY FIERCE STORM

WHOLE OF CENTRAL DISTRICT VISITED BY WIND AND FLOOD.

Guthrie, O. T., Oct. 18.—Heavy windstorms occurred throughout eastern Oklahoma Tuesday night. The worst was at Manford, I. T., where two children were killed and nine persons injured, two probably fatally. At Meridian a house was demolished, but no one was hurt. Near Cushing farm buildings were damaged, but no persons have been reported injured.

The Dead.
Bartlesville, I. T., Oct. 18.—A tornado at Collinsville, I. T., early today wrecked thirty houses. One child was killed and twelve persons injured.

Four Killed Near St. Louis.
St. Louis, Oct. 18.—A tornado struck the village of Sorento, Ill., 32 miles northeast of St. Louis last night, killing four persons, and injuring thirty-five, of whom three will probably die. A great amount of damage. Forty houses were blown to atoms, and carried far from their foundations. Everything in the path of the tornado was swept away.

Alton Deluged.
St. Louis, Oct. 18.—The storm that partially wrecked Sorento deluged Alton, Ill., where there was a cloudburst. St. Louis also suffered from a terrific cloudburst. Grain, fruit trees, miles distant, was deluged, and the main street was three feet under water. Ten miles north of Alton, a Chicago, Peoria, and St. Louis train met a washout and plunged into the ditch. The cars contained horses and cattle, many of which were drowned. The train crew escaped by swimming. It is believed several trains were drowned.

SAYS MI-S ROOSEVELT HAD TO TAKE THEM

SHOULD NOT BE REQUIRED TO PAY DUTY ON GIFTS OF THE ORIENTALS.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Secretary Shaw said yesterday that an offer will be made to the president to seek authority from congress to refund to Miss Alice Roosevelt whatever money may be collected from her in the way of duties when she returns. This course is promoted by what he considers the injustice of the law in her special case. He pointed out that the presents were not only not solicited, but that she had no desire to receive them. She was compelled to do so, however, or else give offense to those who offered them and thus make enemies for her country.

Murphy Mnd for McGovern.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 18.—Tommy Murphy, of New York, was badly beaten by Terry McGovern tonight at the National Athletic club. It took McGovern only two minutes and two seconds to gain the victory. Murphy was so helpless before the blows of the former champion that the referee stepped in and saved Murphy from probable serious injury. The defeated man was game to the end. McGovern showed his old time form, fighting hard and fast from the sound of the gong.

The announcement was made that McGovern and Corbett had agreed to meet in a six-round bout at the club in a short time.

NAVAL BATTLE OFF COAST OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Schooner Juanita Captured by Mexican Revenue Cutter

CAUGHT RED HANDED IN LANDING SMUGGLED CARGO

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 18.—Reports from Ensenada are to the effect that the capture of the local schooner Juanita by Mexican customs officers was the occasion of quite a naval battle. The approach of the customs boat was noted by the Juanita's men while she was still some rods away, and they, after shouting to the officers to keep away, fired a volley from their rifles.

The revenue men replied with a volley of their own and they shot back directly into the schooner, following with a second volley. No one was hit. The situation of the captured men is regarded as serious as there have been previous charges against one of them in Mexico.

Just prior to this short and sharp engagement the schooner, Elsie, also of this city, was seized by the Mexican authorities, and they shot back directly into the schooner, following with a second volley. No one was hit. The situation of the captured men is regarded as serious as there have been previous charges against one of them in Mexico.

According to a dispatch from Ensenada, the Mexican customs officers have been maintaining a close watch of late of the protected fisheries off the coast of Lower California. There has been strong suspicion on their part that American vessels have engaged in poaching, and they have kept a keen eye out for offenders.

In their cruise with a revenue cutter the Mexican authorities discovered the Elsie, which is commanded by Captain Jesus Romero, anchored off the beach just south of Santo Thomas. It surrendered without question, and was taken to Ensenada, where an inspection satisfied the officers that it had not been engaged in fishing, whereupon it was released.

On the way to Ensenada the officers sighted the Juanita. Captain Osterhaus.

Instead of going for the Juanita at that time, the customs officials decided to wait until dark, when they returned and surprised the crew of the Juanita, which was anchored off Todos Santos Island.

The yellow fever is rapidly ceasing to be an issue of interest now. With only five new cases and no deaths, it looks like a question of a few days when no cases will be found, and when that day arrives there will be genuine thanksgiving in the community.

CONGRESS WILL BEG US TO COME IN PRIVATE CAR LINES ON CARPET

Wait a Little While Says Member of Tawney Party and Government Will Be Imporing Arizona to Kindly Accept Single Statehood.

Adams, Ariz., Oct. 18.—The congressional party had a strenuous day today. The great pettiford forest day were inspected this morning and later the party visited Flagstaff, Winslow and Holbrook. At Flagstaff Congressman Tawney addressed the normal school and assured the pupils that he did not believe in unwilling unions and thought when the party returned and voted this fall it would be satisfied to have Arizona as a single state and in a few years would ask them to come in, they would not have to beg. The government of the United States was fast being strangled from the narrow minded politicians of the east, he said, and becoming centralized in the Mississippi valley, which assured fair treatment for these two territories. He urged Arizona to cease statehood agitation and thus defeat, jointly, to continue her developments and she would soon become a state.

The unanimous sentiment of Arizonaans everywhere, the party believed, has been against joint statehood with New Mexico, preferring to remain a territory.

Oh, Listen to This!
At Holbrook Congressman Minor said Arizona and New Mexico, each was rich enough to become a single state and in a few years would ask them to come in, they would not have to beg. The government of the United States was fast being strangled from the narrow minded politicians of the east, he said, and becoming centralized in the Mississippi valley, which assured fair treatment for these two territories. He urged Arizona to cease statehood agitation and thus defeat, jointly, to continue her developments and she would soon become a state.

Barber Declares Asphalt Trust Backed Revolt
Money Furnished to Finance the Matos Insurrection.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Amel L. Barber, one time president of the National Asphalt Co., testified today in the case of the United States of Venezuela against the New York-Bermudez Asphalt Co. that to the best of his knowledge and belief the company did contribute materially to the revolution organized in 1901 by General Manuel A. Matos, against the Venezuelan government.

The hearings in the case, which have been proceeding in New York, were transferred today to Washington to take the testimony of Mr. Barber. The testimony practically confirms that of General Francis V. Greene in yesterday's hearing in New York.

After affirming the statement he had made in affidavits previously made, he reiterated General Greene's statement that the payment of money in aid of the Matos revolutionary movement.

Mr. Barber testified that certain officers of the National Asphalt Co. of the new Trinidad Lake Asphalt Co. and of the New York-Bermudez Asphalt Co. furnished money to purchase arms and equip the steamship "Barrington" and further furnished money to Matos or to his associates with which to purchase a large quantity of arms and ammunition, which were conveyed by the steamer Barrington to the adherents of Matos.

Reform in Labor Bureaus.
New York, Oct. 18.—For the purpose of showing that most of the abuses which have existed in the employment agencies of the city of New York have been abolished, Frederick L. C. Keating, commissioner of license, has submitted a report to Mayor McClellan covering the operations of his office since its establishment, a year ago. He says:

"The immorality and vice which were fostered and allowed to flourish in a certain type of agencies have been driven out. Extortion, once a crime of common prevalence, is no longer practiced, or, if so, its practice is accompanied with such risk to the employer that it has ceased to be a paying business, and deception, which has always been to some extent a part of the working system of the majority of the employment agencies everywhere, has been dealt with in such rigid fashion that it is now rarely heard of. But these reforms were accomplished only after strict enforcement of the law and can be maintained only by continued rigid supervision."

ROOSEVELT HONORED BY RICHMOND

Generous Welcome From People of Southern City.

AUSPICIOUS BEGINNING OF JOURNEY THROUGH SOUTH

President Tells of a Reunited People and Urges the Mighty Mission of the Union in Future.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 18.—Richmond today threw open her gates to President Roosevelt and during the seven hours of his stay the state and city officials and citizens accorded him a welcome hearty and sincere. The presidential train arrived a few minutes after noon and from that moment until 7 o'clock tonight, when he departed for Raleigh, N. C., over the Seaboard Air Line, he was given an ovation. His entry into the city was the signal for a wild demonstration from the multitude and the welcoming enthusiasm only ceased when his train continued on its journey through the south. Mrs. Roosevelt shared in the honors and Mrs. Montague, the wife of the governor, gave a reception at the executive mansion in her honor.

Made Three Addresses.
The president made several addresses, one at Capitol Square, before one of the largest crowds ever assembled in Virginia's capital, another at a banquet in Masonic temple, where 400 of the representative people of the Old Dominion were gathered about the boards, and again at the Lee monument, where he spoke to a large number of Confederate veterans, and once more at a gathering of negroes.

His speeches paid a tribute to the Confederate veterans, voiced appreciation of the economic and political progress of the south since the civil war, pointed to his ancestry in which southern and northern blood are mingled, and to his birth in the east and his life in the west, declaring he believed himself a middling good American, he spoke of the preponderance of southern blood in his regiment in Cuba; referred to his aid through advice, that this government give the peoples in the islands of the Caribbean, reiterated the principle of equal justice to all and, in his talk to the negroes, congratulated them on their progress as a race.

The president said: I need not say how great is my pleasure in speaking in this historic capital of your historic state, the state than which no other has contributed a larger proportion of the leadership of the nation; for on the honor roll of those Americans whose names are so prominent in our history, the state has many names. And a greeting of all you, I know that no one will grudge my saying a special word of acknowledgement to the veterans of the civil war. A man would indeed be a poor American, who could without a thrill witness the way in which, city after city in the north as in the south, on every public occasion, the men who wore the blue and the men who wore the gray come march and stand shoulder to shoulder, giving tangible proof that we are now a fact as well as in name a reunited people. I am glad to hear that the same of the priceless memories left to all Americans by you men who fought in the great war. Last Memorial day I spoke in Brooklyn at the unveiling of the statue of General, under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic, and that great audience cheered every allusion to the valor and self devotion of the men who followed Grant. The wounds left by the great civil war have long healed, but the courage, the high and steadfast devotion to the memory of what they did in war, but of what they did in peace, these qualities render all Americans forever the debtors of those who in the dark days from 61 to 65 proved their truth by their endeavors around Richmond, here in your own state, there lies battlefields after battlefields, rendered forever memorable by the men who counted death as but a little thing when weighed in the balance against doing their duty as it was given them to see it. These men have left us of the younger generation not merely the memory of what they did in war, but of what they did in peace. Foreign observers predicted that when such a great war closed it would be impossible for the hundreds of thousands of combatants to reenter the paths of peace. They predicted ceaseless disorder, wild turbulence, the alternation of anarchy or despotism. But the good sense and self-restraint of the average American citizen, who defied those prophecies. The great armies disbanded and the private in the ranks, like the officer who had commanded him, went back to take up the threads of his life where he had dropped them when the call to arms came. It was a wonderful, a marvelous thing, in a country consecrated to peace with but an infinitesimal regular army, to develop so quickly the huge hosts which fronted one another between the James and the Potomac and along the Mississippi and its tributaries. But it was an even more wonderful, an even more marvelous thing, how these great hosts, once their work done, resolved themselves into the general fabric of the nation. Great though the need of peace, which is the soul of the soldier's valor, his sons displayed during Partial Victory for Packer.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Federal Judge J. O. Humphrey today gave a decision on the demurrer of the most powerful Chicago packers, who were charged with illegal conspiracy. He overruled the portion of the demurrer in which the packers attacked the old numbers game, charging conspiracy in restraint of trade. The demurrer to the even numbered counts, charging monopoly, was sustained.

Thomas Mills Day Dead.
Hartford, Conn., Oct. 18.—Thomas Mills Day, formerly editor and proprietor of the Hartford Courant, died here last evening. He was the father-in-law of Charles J. Bonaparte, secretary of the navy.

No News of Captive Officers.
Tangier, Oct. 18.—The report that the two British officers who were captured by Moroccan tribesmen had been released is untrue, but favorable developments are hoped for.

the four years of war. I think that even greater praise is due to her for what her people have accomplished in the forty years of peace that followed. For forty years the south has had not merely a courageous, but at times a desperate struggle, as she has striven for moral and material well-being. Her resources have been extraordinary, and all citizens of our common country should feel joy and pride in it; for any great deed done, or any fine qualities shown, by one group of Americans, necessarily reflects credit upon all Americans. Only a heroic people could have battled successfully against the conditions with which the people of the south found themselves face to face at the end of the civil war. There had been utter destruction and disaster, and wholly new business and social problems had to be faced with the scantiest means. The economic and political fabric had to be readjusted in the midst of dire want, of grinding poverty. The future of the broken, war-swept south seemed beyond hope, and if her sons and daughters have been of weaker fibre there would in truth have been no hope. But the men and the sons of the men who had faced with unflinching front every alternation of good and evil fortune from Manassas to Appomattox, and the women, their wives and mothers, whose courage and endurance had reached an even higher heroic level—these men and these women set themselves undauntedly to the great task before them. For twenty years the struggle was hard and at times doubtful. Then the splendid qualities of your manhood and your womanhood told, as they were bound to tell, and the wealth of your extraordinary natural resources began to be shown. Now the teeming riches of mine and field and factory attest the prosperity of those who are all the stronger because of the trials and struggles through which this prosperity has come. You stand loyally to your traditions and memories; you also stand loyally to our great common country of today and for our common flag, which symbolizes all that is brightest and most hopeful for the future of mankind; you are the new age in the spirit of the age. Alas! in your material and in your spiritual and intellectual development you stand abreast of the foremost in the world's progress.

And now, my fellow citizens, my fellow Americans, exactly as all of us, whether we live in the east or the west, in the north or in the south, have the right merely as Americans to feel pride in every great deed done by any American in the past, and exactly as we are knit together by this common heritage of memories, so are we knit together by the bond of our common duties in the present, our common interests in the future. Many and great problems lie before us. If we treat the mighty memories of the past merely as excuses for sitting lazily down in the present, or for standing aside from the rough work of the world, then those memories will prove a curse instead of a blessing. But if we treat them as a source of inspiration, then they will be a source of strength. We shall treat them, not as excuses for inaction, but as incentives to make us show that we are worthy of our fathers and of our fathers' fathers, then in truth the deeds of the past will not bring forth fruit a hundred fold in the present generation. We of this nation, we the citizens of this mighty and wonderful republic, stretching across the continent between the two greatest oceans, enjoy extraordinary privileges, and as our opportunity is great therefore our responsibility is great. We have duties to perform, both abroad and at home, and we cannot shirk either set of duties and fully retain our self-respect.

In foreign affairs we must make up our minds that whether we wish it or not, we are a great people and must play a great part in the world. It is not open to us to choose whether we shall play that great part or not. We have to play it, all we can decide is whether we shall play it well or ill. And I have too much confidence in my countrymen to doubt what the decision will be. Our mission in the world should be one of peace, but not the peace of cravens, the peace purchased contemptuously by those who purchased it by surrendering the right. Our voice must be effective for peace because it is raised for righteousness first and for peace only as the handmaiden of righteousness. We must be scrupulous in respecting the rights of the weak, and no less careful to make it evident that we do not act through fear of the strong. We must be as scrupulous in doing justice to others and scrupulous in exacting justice for ourselves. We must have equality of that sinister and cynical teaching which would persuade us to disregard ethical standards in international relations, and of the no less harmful folly which would stop the whole work of civilization by a well-meant but silly persistency in trying to apply to peoples unfitted for them those theories of government and international action which are only suited for the most advanced races. In particular we must remember that in undertaking to build the Panama canal we have necessarily undertaken to police the seas at either end of it; and this means that we have a peculiar interest in the preservation of order in the coasts and islands of the Caribbean. I firmly believe that by a little wise and generous aid we can help even the most backward of the peoples in these coasts and islands forward along the path of orderly liberty so that they can stand side by side with the most advanced peoples of the world.

The problems that face us abroad are important, but the problems that face us at home are even more important. The extraordinary growth of industrialism during the last half century brings civilized people face to face with the gravest social and economic problems. This is an age of combination among capitalists and combination among wage workers. It is idle to try to prevent such combinations. Our efforts should be to see that they work for the good and not for the harm of the body politic. New devices of law are necessary from time to time in order to meet the changed and changing conditions. But after all we will do well to remember that although the problems to be solved change from generation to generation, the spirit in which their solution must be attempted remains forever the same. It is in peace as it is in war. Tactics change and weapons change. The continental troops in their blue and buff, who fought under Washington and Greene and Wayne, differed entirely in arms and in training from those who in blue or gray faced one another in the armies of Grant and Lee, of Sherman and of Johnston. And now the sons of these same union and confederate veterans who serve with our gallant little army of today, wear a different uniform, carry a different weapon, and practice different tactics. But the soul of the soldier has remained the same throughout, and the qualities which drove forward to victory or death the men of '76 and the men of '61, are the very qualities which the men of today must keep unchanged if it is in the hour of need the honor of the nation is to be kept unblemished. So it is in civil life. This government was formed with as its basic idea the principle of treating each man on his worth as a man of paying no heed as to whether he was rich or poor, no heed to his creed or his social standing, but only to the way in which he performed his duty to himself, his neighbor, to the state. From this principle we cannot afford to vary so much as a hand's breadth. Many republics have arisen in the past, and others have flourished long, but sooner or later they fell, and the cause most potent in bringing about their fall was in almost all cases the fact that they grew to be governments in the interest of a class instead of governments in the interest of all. It made no difference as to which class it was that thus wrested to its own advantage the governmental machinery. It was ultimately fatal to the cause of freedom whether it was the rich who oppressed the poor or the poor who plundered the rich. The crime of brutal disregard of the rights of others is as much a crime when it manifests itself in the shape of greed and brutal arrogance on the one side, as when it manifests itself in the shape of envy and lawless violence on the other. Our aim must be to deal justice to each man, no more and no less. This purpose must find its expression and support not merely in our collective action through the agencies of the government, but in our social attitude. Rich man and poor man must alike feel that on one hand they are protected by the law and that on the other hand they are responsible to the law; for each is entitled to be fairly dealt with by his neighbor and by the state; and we as citizens of this nation are due to ourselves and to the traditions of our forefathers such fair measure of justice that always be dealt to each man; so that as far as we can bring it about each shall receive his share, each shall be given the chance to show the stuff there is in him, shall be secured against wronging, and in turn prevented from wronging others. More than this no man is entitled to, and less than this no man shall have. The president will speak tomorrow at Raleigh, N. C.

President Roosevelt began his tour of the south at 8:20 o'clock this morning. The departure from Washington was without incident. As the president alighted from his carriage at the side entrance to the train shed he smiled and raised his hat to the half-hundred spectators who had gathered to see his departure. Just before the train moved out the president stepped from the observation room to the rear platform of his car and audibly thanked his acknowledgments to the flutter of handkerchiefs of the crowd.

ALBUQUERQUE MAN PUT UNDER PEACE BOND

CRIOUS ACTION OF AN OLD ALBUQUERQUE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

As a result of a hearing in police court Monday morning, in which a negro woman, Emma Matthews, was fined $10 and costs for using threatening and abusive language to A. D. Johnson, an Albuquerque business man, Mr. Johnson has been ordered by the justice of the peace, Miguel Chavez in Old Albuquerque, and has been given the alternative of putting up a peace bond, along with the costs of the hearing, some $7.50, or going to jail for a period of six months.

The peace bond is usually applied in cases where it is necessary to keep a dangerous character under control, and to avert a possible future breach of the peace. Mr. Johnson can hardly be classed in this category, his reputation as a peaceable and law-abiding citizen being quite well known.

Saturday night while walking down South First street Mr. Johnson attempted to pass the Matthews woman and two male companions who were circulating down the street. He said to the woman "Will you please let me pass," and pushed, pushing the woman's arm in doing so. The woman then ran into the street and picked up a stone, with a splendid display of foul language, she threatened to throw at Mr. Johnson. Very sensibly he retreated and reported the matter to the police. The woman's own testimony convicted her in police court Monday morning.

She, however, was not content to let the matter rest, but proceeded to Old Albuquerque, where she swore out a warrant charging assault. At the hearing before Chavez practically the same testimony was brought out, but the decision of the old town justice of the peace was that Johnson must be put under a peace bond, from which there is no appeal, and pay the costs of the case, or go to the county jail for six long months.

Neither Mr. Johnson nor his attorney, Mr. M. E. Hickey, could be reached last night and it is not known as yet what further action will be taken in the case. Nor is it known what what ground the justice of the peace bases his somewhat strenuous decision.

ARRESTS WOULD-BE MURDERER WITH BULLET IN BODY

Santa Fe Policeman Seriously Wounded.

RICARDO ALARID ATTEMPTS LIFE OF CAMILLIO MARTINEZ

Special to the Morning Journal.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 18.—City Police Officer Camillio Martinez is in a serious condition as the result of a bullet wound from a revolver fired by Justice of the Peace Ricardo Alarid last evening. The shooting was the result of an altercation between the two men, who have been on bad terms for some time. Martinez attempted to arrest Alarid after the latter had called him several vile names, when Alarid whipped out a revolver and fired point blank at the policeman. The bullet entered Martinez's abdomen just above the naval. In spite of his dangerous wound Martinez, with the help of a bystander, clambered Alarid and took him to jail. After placing him under lock and key Martinez then walked to the office of a physician who extracted the bullet from the left side about six inches from where it entered the body. A rib deflected the ball and saved the man's life. Alarid was later released from jail on a $1,500 bond to appear Saturday for a hearing upon the charge of assault with intent to kill. The shooting aroused a great deal of excitement.

Las Vegas, Oct. 18.—Sheriff Cleofes Romero has returned from a trailing expedition, bringing with him Julian Riquelme and Nicholas Gonzales, who are accused of holding up and robbing Juan Martinez, near the place where they were captured. There have been several hold-ups in the country between Las Vegas, which have been charged to a gang led by Romaldo Barera, an escaped convict, whose home is here, and who has been seen several times at night in company with several men, among which were the two arrested. There is said to be a certain case against them. Every effort is being made to recapture Barera.

Arrival of the City.

An indication of the activity of building in the city is furnished by the fact that seven stone and brick masons who arrived in the city from Ironwood, Mich., yesterday afternoon were all engaged within an hour after their arrival. Three of them were induced to do a half day's work the same day, while the others went to work this morning.

Schiffers Stays in Jail.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 18.—District Judge Holbrook refused today to issue a writ of habeas corpus for Isaac W. Schiffers, the Alamosa banker, charged with fraud, or to reduce the bail which was fixed at $100,000 by an Alamosa justice of the peace. Failing to give bond, Schiffers was placed in jail here.

Change of Venue for Gibson.

Edna, Texas, Oct. 18.—District Judge Wilson today read an order granting a change of venue to Bexar county of Monk Gibson, indicted for the murder of Mrs. J. P. Condit and her four children. Gibson was taken away by rangers without a demonstration.

Things Doing at Zuni.

C. E. England, of the Zuni school was in Gallup this week, says the Republican. He stated that work is to begin on the nearly completed school building very soon. It will take about two months more to finish the buildings and get them in shape for school work. The work on the dam is progressing as rapidly as could be expected, but it will be at least two years before it will be finished. Beginning today the Zunis start their harvest dances, which will be of considerable moment this year. The harvest was far above the average of the season and out of their gratitude to the Great Spirit the Zunis will hold their thanksgiving dances for some time. The Indians from out in the country are coming in the past to in large numbers to be on hand at the big dances.

SANTA FE HELPING TO DEVELOP WESTERN TEXAS

Great Influx of Settlers to Panhandle.

NEW COLONIZATION AGENT TAKES UP HIS DUTIES

Charles L. Seagrave, who was appointed recently as general colonization agent for the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe in place of William Nicholson, who resigned to enter the real estate business, was around the local Santa Fe offices today, says the Topeka State Journal. He arrived yesterday from Chicago, where he had been called by Vice President George T. Nicholson to receive his appointment. Mr. Seagrave will make his headquarters in Chicago. Prior to his being made general colonization agent, Mr. Seagrave was a traveling passenger agent for the road and he passed a good deal of time in Topeka.

"There is a big movement of colonists to the southwest," said Mr. Seagrave today in speaking of the conditions that prevail in his new line of work, "and particularly, to the Panhandle of Texas. That country is developing rapidly and the railroads are carrying hundreds of settlers there. This means that there is to be a big development of western Texas during the next five years and as it is a country that should show for itself there is no reason why it should not be a grand place to live in."

"The Santa Fe, as well as the other lines, is making extremely low rates into that part of the country, and the land is so cheap there that it might be said to be the only place in the southwest that the poor man can secure a home at a reasonable rate."

"Another place that is being pushed is the San Joaquin valley of California, and by this is meant not only the valley around Tulare, Fresno, Bakersfield and other places in that particular locality, but it means Stockton, Sacramento and points in the northern part of the valley. The Fresno county supervisors have started an advertising car to the east and have set aside the sum of $10,000 to defray the expenses of the same, and I look for a big rush to that country next year."

"Our road is carrying more persons to the southwest and to California than at any time in its history outside of some of the big conventions, and they are of a class that build up a country and make it rich."

SAYS HE ROBBED HARVEY

WATKINS FOR SPITE

"I robbed the girl's room for spite, your honor," said D. Hodgkins, the youth who burglarized the Harvey House at Barstow and appeared before the court to receive sentence for his offense. "I was employed as a short order cook in the depot lunch room of the Santa Fe and two of the waitresses at the counter made life so miserable for me that I determined to get even. I did not find an opportunity to do so until the night that they went to a dance and then I entered their lodging house and stole three shavers, a fountain pen, a pair of nail clippers, a penknife and about $2.50 in money. It was not until the next day that I learned I had entered the wrong room and it was while making for the door that I took one of these rooms to return part of the stuff that I was caught by the policeman."

Hodgkins admitted that he was guilty of burglary in the first degree having entered the apartments of the women after sunset.

Hodgkins stated that he was anxious to go north and moved that judgment be passed upon him at once. Accordingly Judge Blodgett courteously granted his request by sentencing him to the penitentiary at Potosi.

Hodgkins and Eldridge, the murderer, who was given life imprisonment on Saturday, left this afternoon for Potosi in the custody of George Utman and Edward Frost of Elitanda.—San Bernardino Sun.

MEXICO PREPARES TO RECEIVE PASSENGER AGENTS

City of Mexico, Oct. 18.—Committees having in charge the entertainment of the members of the General Passenger Agents' association of America have completed all arrangements for the care of the party from the time of their arrival at the border until they reach this city, where they will hold their annual convention from October 17 to 21, inclusive.

The passengers will leave Laredo, Texas, this morning on a sumptuously fitted out train of Pullmans over the lines of the merger roads. After the convention adjourns many side trips will be taken, including trips to Esperanza, Cordoba, Orizaba, Puebla, Cuernavaca, and then back to Mexico City. Then come trips to Guadalajara, Sinaloa, Marfil, Guanajuato, Aguas Calientes, San Luis Potosi and back to the United States.

The customs inspection of the baggage on the border will be made as lenient as possible.

The Mexican government will participate in the entertainment of the visitors. They will be granted an audience by President Diaz and Vice President Corral. When entertained by the Vera Cruz railway they will be allowed the use of Empress Maximilian's special car, which was built for him in England. This car is in an excellent state of preservation.

PEAT AS LOCOMOTIVE FUEL

It is Used Aboard and is Being Experimented With Here.

Lignite is now used quite extensively for locomotive fuel on a number of the smaller roads in the western states, and although generally regarded as a new form of coal and of comparatively recent origin, it is not the first stage in the formation of the coal measures. Peat is still a more recent form of coal, and though not so valuable as lignite, yet there are places and conditions when it is found profitable to use it for locomotive fuel. In Russia compressed peat bricks from a bog at Kieff have been used in locomotives with success, and they are regarded as a legitimate substitute for coal. In Germany and Holland compressed peat bricks are made in large quantities as a regular commercial product. During the past year peat has been used extensively by the Swedish state locomotives on freight trains. Here the peat briquettes are mixed with an equal weight of British coal. More than nine thousand tons of peat fuel have been purchased for use on the Swedish state roads.

In this country the interest in peat or bog fuel is confined largely to New England, where there are no coal measures, but there is also some activity in developing the peat industry in the middle west. The Boston and

MAINE AND THE DELAWARE AND HUDSON RAILROADS ARE NOW EXPERIMENTING WITH PEAT AS A LOCOMOTIVE FUEL, BUT NO CONCLUSIONS HAVE AS YET BEEN REACHED AS TO ITS ECONOMY AS COMPARED WITH BITUMINOUS COAL.

FRIGHTFULLY WOUNDED BY SHOTGUN DISCHARGE

TEN-YEAR-OLD BOY HAS WHOLE SHOULDER BLOWN AWAY BY SHOT.

Daniel, the 10-year-old son of J. L. Maddox, residing about ten miles west of Phoenix, was frightfully wounded yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the accidental discharge of a shotgun. A wound three inches in diameter was torn in his shoulder, says the Gazette. Just how the accident occurred is not known. With two others he was hunting and they had made a stop for lunch. They were seated by the roadside and the lad rose and went to the wagon. He was unable to explain how the accident occurred. The gun was in the wagon bed and it is presumed that he attempted to remove it. He was standing on the wheel of the wagon but did not fall when shot nor was he rendered unconscious. The powder from the gun set his clothes afire but this was quickly extinguished. Dr. H. A. Hughes was summoned and accompanied by Dr. D. D. Dameron went to the lad's home where the wound was dressed temporarily. It is a very serious injury and the doctors have grave fears for the lad's recovery.

To Build Steel Street Cars.

Building street cars entirely of steel is a new and important industry recently added to the world's workshop. One car has been constantly in use for about a year, and its operation has been carefully watched with most satisfactory results. Hunsley's Stomach Bitters has been before the public constantly for 52 years and it has made such a wonderful record of cures that it is now recognized as the best and safest medicine for men, women and children to take whose stomach is in a weak condition, whose appetite is poor or whose bowels are constipated. If you are sickly, in a debilitated state, Hunsley's Stomach Bitters will help you. It is especially good for indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, bloating, costiveness, sour stomach, insomnia, female troubles or malaria. We urge a trial at once.

W. E. NEAL, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

My Dear Sir: Your letter, with notice, has just reached me. I was aware from my policy, that I would be entitled to a "dividend" at this time, but I had no knowledge upon which to base an opinion as to the amount of the dividend. I certainly did not expect that it would be anywhere near the amount you mention ($24.15 cash). This is nearly one-eighth of my annual premium, $204.50. I am more than pleased with this showing. I inclose herewith check for $204.50. The present dividend, and subsequent ones—unless otherwise instructed—will be left to purchase additional insurance. You know we have to protect the wife and babies, even if we have to go without a vacation ourselves.

I hope to have the pleasure of meeting you here soon.

Very sincerely,
W. V. WHITMORE.

A Fire Engine

THE purchase of a fire engine by the city is a matter that is demanded by a proper regard for the public safety. As long as we had no high buildings the pressure from the reservoir was ample for all occasions, but with the number and value of large buildings now in the city this pressure would be powerless to cope with a big fire. There is hardly a town of ten thousand population in the country anywhere that regards its fire department complete without a steamer, and if we fail to make such provisions for fighting fire as are now considered necessary everywhere else, the property owners of the town will have to pay for the negligence through increased rates of insurance.

It Can Be Done

WHEN in his philosophical way Sam Patch gave utterance to his noted truism that "Some things can be done as well as some other things," he laid down a principle that is peculiarly applicable to the present fair situation. The letters which the Morning Journal has printed in relation to this matter, and the opinions that are so freely expressed by the people on the street, all bear witness to the same fact, namely, that the deficit must and will be paid, and that arrangements must be made without delay for putting the business in a way that will lead to a grand success for next year's exhibition.

The Territorial fair is "one of our things." The people of Albuquerque invented it, and if they had intended to ever "let it drop" they would have dropped it at the end of the first exhibition, which gave the fair folks the most discouraging experience they ever had to pass through. Rain fell in torrents every day of fair week, and on Saturday the directors adjourned the exhibition over to the next week, but when the next week came the rain came also, and continued to come every day just the same, only, if possible, a little more so. The fair grounds were a sea of mud, the expenses were away above normal, on account of the work of protecting the exhibits against the rain, and the receipts were nil. There was a "hole" as was a "hole," but we got out of it, and the effort necessary to extricate ourselves this time will be but the merest trifle as compared with what had to be done at that time. Certainly the Albuquerque men of today have the nerve and energy to do as sturdy lifting as was done by their fathers a quarter of a century ago. Then let us all go to the meeting next Tuesday night and agree upon a plan, and when we have agreed upon it let us all pull together, and the job will soon be done.

Took the Wrong Man

IN HIS selection of a person to fill the vacant judgeship in Arizona, the president got the wrong Omaha man. This gentleman is out somewhere on the Pacific coast with a brand new wife, and evidently doesn't care a cent whether Arizona ever has any courts or not. But we know an Omaha man who wouldn't throw a commission of that sort over his shoulder, and if the president had put in his name instead of that of the other person, he would not have stood on the order of his coming, but would have come at once. And before this time he would have had Judge Abbott completely snowed under with habeas corpus, injunctions, prohibitions and any other disturbing processes that the ingenuity of desperation could devise. Of course, the conduct of affairs over in this territory would have been none of his business, but a little circumstance like that wouldn't have been allowed to stand in the way when his friends and former managers were in such straits as they find themselves in at present. He would have been a highly useful person in that place—and possibly the president's information on that point may account for the failure to appoint him.

A HALF interest in the Washington Post has just been sold to John R. McLean of the Cincinnati Enquirer for $800,000. The Post is not among the most profitable papers in the country, and the fact that one-half of it sells for more than three quarters of a million shows that a good newspaper is a good property.

Sir Henry Irving

ON JUNE 1, 1904, speaking to his friends in Manchester, after his return from America, Sir Henry Irving announced that in two years he would retire from the stage. Fifty years of active work as a player, he said, was enough, "and when I have completed the tally of those years I shall shortly make my last bow to the public." But although he allowed himself so short a time, the Master of exits and entrances decreed that only a little more than half of it should be served. At this we on this side of the water have the greater cause for grief, for we have been cut off from that farewell visit and deprived of the opportunity to give our final tribute to a man who has done more for the English-speaking stage than any other of his generation.

AT one of the college openings reference was made to the low and, in some cases, shameful remuneration allowed to the clergy. It was pointed out that many a minister has a smaller stipend than is earned by the unskilled worker, and that upon it he has to support a family in a respectable manner and to observe all the social requirements of the community in which he lives. The struggle to make both ends meet is very severe, and it often happens that the financial pressure affects the efficiency of its victims and thus injures his work. A man cannot do first class work when he is haunted by the ghost of the poorhouse.

The "Hall of Fame"

ACCORDING to all accounts Miss Gould's beautiful idea of a "Hall of Fame" seems to be materializing in a manner to render the whole thing supremely ridiculous. Among the names rejected thus far this year we find Edgar Allan Poe, Oliver Wendell Holmes, William Cullen Bryant, Francis Parkman, John L. Motley, Horace Greeley, George Bancroft, William Lloyd Garrison, William H. Prescott, Phillips Brooks and Mark Hopkins. What is a hall of fame for, if not for such names as those? A Boston paper suggests that it might be appropriately described as a "Short Haul."

IF the insurance companies are hard enough up for that, they might take a risk on the life of the Cuban republic.—New York Mail.

Said the treasurer de facto,
 To the treasurer de functo:
 "Cough up the combination
 To the till;
 Or we'll bust the county coffer
 With a drill,
 And we fear you then will have to Foot the bill."

Then the treasurer de functo
 Called the treasurer de facto
 A few pet names which really were not nice—
 What the treasurer de facto
 Called the treasurer de functo,
 Broke the ice.

For the treasurer de functo
 Smote the treasurer de facto
 A fierce resounding smack upon the wrist;
 Whereupon the angry Justo
 Swiped the hold and bad Francisco
 A terrific deadly swipe upon the chest.

As the frightful commotion
 Of this fearful altercation
 Don Francisco coughed up quite a long harangue,
 But he kept the combination
 In sweet commemoration
 Of the time when he was captain of Miguel in Washington.

(With More Apologies to F. P. D.)
 "An have ye been informed as the resumptual entry as Miguel the Wan to the national capital?" asked Mr.
 Dooley of his venerable comrade.
 "I see he the Awimack he arrived," responded Mr. Hennessy, as he took the ashes out of his cornob
 and looked interested.

"Twas an inspirin' an' an impressive spectacle," said Mr. Dooley, with enthusiasm. "All Washington was entered for the occasion. A vast concourse of rayformers an' admiral citizens was at the station when he come
 n. A equally large crowd of assasin' kidnappers, surrounded by a strong cordon as police was herded behind the station, each desperado rel' searched for bombs. Miguel's appearance at the dure as his elegant special car was hailed by a rousin' cheer from the assembled multitude.
 Miguel, havin' had a refreshin' Turdish bath at French Lick Springs, appeared bright an' rosy, with his hair parted in the middle. At a sign from Miguel his private secretary, "Peahoot" speech as greeting. Surrounded by secret service men an' carryin' a bottle of smellin' salts, he stepped quickly to his kerriage, bowin' hurriedly to Roosevelt, who stood in the admiral' throng.

"Wait a minit," says Roosevelt.
 "I can't stop now," says the governor impatiently. "Call at me hotel tomorrow," he says.
 "But I want to make ye governor
 agin'," says Roosevelt.

"Tell the gent to call at me room,
 said Miguel haughtily to his vally.
 Preceded by an imposin' display he then was drag to his elegant apartments in the capitol buildin'.

"Next day he was besieged by officers as the various departments as the gov'mint. A steady stream as cabinet officers, diplomats an' gov-mint officials poured into his apartments to congratulate Miguel on his fearless war on graft an' corruption.
 He was almost mobbed by admiral an' distinguished visitors. After while Roosevelt was admitted.

"What kin I do fer ye," asked Mi-gule kindly.
 "Let me make ye gov'nor agin, says the president. Ye are the foremost rayformers as the nation. At the very mention as ye name," he says, the terrified boodler," he says, "runs an' hides his head in a bari," he says.
 The desper' outlaw," he says, "flies
 in terror for the cyclone cellar," he says, when he sees ye tall an' imposin' form loomin' on the horizon," he says.
 "My big stick," says Teddy, "dwindles to a mere toothpick beside the club ye swing at the grafters, Miguel," he says. "Ye ar-r-r an object lesson to the wurld," he says, "as yer stern and courageous man kin do when he stands for the right," he says. "Like a mighty juniper tree an' yer own rock ribbed hills," he says, Miguel, yer magnificent record," he says, "as an exponent as decent gov'mint," he says, "leads me to lay at yer feet war more tribute. I want ye to be govner agin, Miguel. Ye're the man in a thousand fer the job," he says.

"Sorry to disappoint ye," says Mi-gule, with condescension, "but I fear

LEADING CITIZENS OF TUCSON WANT JOINT STATEHOOD

If Arizona Cannot Be Admitted on Her Own Merits.

PETITION SIGNED BY MAYOR AND OTHERS PRESENTED TO TAWNEY

Thursday of last week, when the congressional investigating party was in Tucson, Ariz., a document was handed to Congressman Tawney, which will prove rather a severe jolt to some of the gentlemen who have been loudly asserting that the people of Arizona are a unit in wishing to remain a territory permanently rather than be joined with New Mexico in a state. It is another one of the innumerable proofs of the fact that the office holders have been industriously misrepresenting the sentiment of the territory on the statehood question. A petition, signed by the mayor, the leading city and county officials in Tucson and many other representative men, was given the congressman, asking that Arizona be given statehood, single if possible, if not, jointure would be welcomed. The petition follows:

Tucson, Ariz., Oct. 13, 1905.

To the Congressional Delegation now visiting Tucson:

Gentlemen—In view of the probable legislation relative to statehood for the territories of Arizona and New Mexico, we feel it incumbent upon us as citizens and our right to express our convictions on the subject:

We are heartily in favor of statehood—single statehood if we can obtain it—but joint statehood rather than none.

We desire and believe that we are entitled to the right to elect our own officers from the lowest to the highest. We believe that we should have a right to vote and to a standing in the house of representatives and the senate of the United States, and we aver that we have the wealth, the population and the intelligence to entitle us to what we ask.

As illustrative of our lack of representation in the house and senate of the United States we cite the fact that we are at this moment burdened with great and onerous taxation to pay fraudulent bonds, which the supreme court of the United States has declared void and illegal, and which Congress we believe is ignorant of the true state of affairs, violated, and we are informed and believe that this same state of facts exists not only in this county but in numerous counties throughout this territory and New Mexico, and which amount to several millions of dollars and we ask that adequate provision be made in the enabling act for the payment of these bonds by direct appropriation, or from the proceeds of the sales of public lands.

We strongly approve of that provision in the Hamilton act which provides that no one shall hold state office unless he can read, write and speak the English language sufficiently well to enable him to conduct the affairs of his office without the aid of an interpreter, and we believe that this provision should be extended to all public offices and to the local government of the courts and public schools should be English alone.

Respectfully submitted,

C. F. Schumacher, mayor of Tucson; Lyman W. Wakefield, assessor of Pima county; J. Knox Corbett, postmaster; John W. Bogan, county treasurer; John B. Wright, attorney at law; S. L. Klingan, attorney at law; Owen T. Rouse, ex-judge supreme court; Charles O. House, county school superintendent; Geo. F. Kilt, merchant; Harry A. Drachman, shoe dealer; A. V. Grosetta, Tucson Hardware company; F. W. Brown, music dealer; W. L. Perry, wholesale grocer; Adolf Ball, wholesale liquor merchant; J. Ivanovich, wholesale grocer; Mark A. Rodgers, physician and surgeon; Chris Christensen, livery and sale stable; John Metz, clerk board of supervisors; T. K. Schuster, life insurance.

ESTANCIA FORMS
BOARD OF TRADE

"WE DON'T SAW WOOD WITH A HAMMER," MOTTO OF NEW ORGANIZATION.

Correspondence Morning Journal.

Estancia, N. M., Oct. 17.—Estancia is coming right to the front. Not content with the Torrance county Development association, which has been in working order for some time, Estancia has formed a board of trade, which has already enrolled the wide-awake men of the county.

In the past persons wishing to gain information about the valley have been in the habit of writing letters to as many of the residents as they knew. As the recipients of these letters did not communicate with each other the information received by the inquirer was, in many cases, reiterated, and on the other hand where it was known that a number of persons had received letters from the same party, what was everybody's business was nobody's business, so no answers were sent. To avoid this confusion and to do all things in its power to promote the welfare of Estancia and vicinity, this board was formed. That the business men were in earnest was shown by the large attendance. The organization is a good live one and will be a great help to the town.

The motto is: "We don't saw wood with a hammer."

The officers elected were: President F. E. Dunlavy, vice president, H. B. Hawkins; treasurer, William McIntosh; secretary, J. L. Norris; directors: L. A. Bond, A. H. Garrett, J. W. Corbett, John McGilvray, W. H. Gregg, James Walker, J. R. Wash.

No matter how large or how small the book required, we can make it for you and guarantee satisfaction. The Mitchell company.

What of statehood?

"The sentiment of most New Mexicans is that it is desirable not to be consolidated with Arizona, but to enter the Union as a separate state. This is likewise the prevailing sentiment, so far as I can learn, in Arizona."

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

PEOPLE OF NEW MEXICO HAVE FULL WALLETS

According to Territory's Delegate to Congress.

"WE HAVE OUR DIFFERENCES" SAYS ANDREWS BUT EVERYBODY'S HAPPY

Senator William H. Andrews, New Mexico's delegate in congress, is given rather to quietly doing things than talking for publication, but once in a while the senator yields up a few remarks to the metropolitan reporter, and what he says is generally to the point. The Washington Post of recent date has the following:

"The people of New Mexico are happier, busier, and have more money in their pockets than ever in their history," said Hon. William H. Andrews, of Albuquerque, who will shortly come to Washington to represent that territory in the house of representatives. Mr. Andrews has not lived in New Mexico for a great period, but he has done much to help develop the resources of the country and to bring it to the favorable attention of eastern capitalists. He was formerly a state senator from Philadelphia and enjoyed the intimate friendship of the leading republicans of the Keystone state.

"We have our differences in New Mexico," he continued, "but there is one matter as to which we are all agreed, and that is about President Roosevelt. Our republicans are for him, naturally enough, but they are not one whit more enthusiastic than the democrats, and I think if he were running this year he would get the unanimous vote of all our people, provided they could vote for a president."

"What of statehood?"

"The sentiment of most New Mexicans is that it is desirable not to be consolidated with Arizona, but to enter the Union as a separate state. This is likewise the prevailing sentiment, so far as I can learn, in Arizona."

CONGRESSMEN TO STOP AN HOUR THIS MORNING

Tawney and Party Due at Half Past Ten o'Clock.

BIG DELEGATION OF LOCAL MEN TO WELCOME PARTY

Colonel E. W. Dobson received a telegram last night from Congressman J. A. Tawney announcing that he and the congressmen accompanying him will reach Albuquerque in a special train this morning between 10 and 10:30 o'clock. The party will stop here for an hour.

Mr. Dobson was busily engaged for half an hour last night in notifying a large number of Albuquerque men of the time of the arrival of the congressmen and a big delegation of business and professional men will meet the train when it comes in this morning.

There is a lively desire on the part of a great many people to know from the congressmen if they have been as thoroughly converted against statehood as has been represented by the Arizona congressmen. It has been noted that Mr. Tawney has not yet been quoted and that most of the members of the party have confined themselves to praise of Arizona's resources, of the existence of which most people in the southwest have long been aware, even before the time of Mr. Beveridge's inquisition.

No other steps will be made in New Mexico on the return journey, the congressmen going direct to Chicago where the party will break up.

The special left the Grand Canyon yesterday morning and the afternoon was occupied with a visit to the petrified forest.

DECISION ON THE CATTLE RATE IS EXPECTED SOON

American Association Secretary Back From Chicago.

MATTER TO BE DISCUSSED AT DENVER MEETING TOMORROW

T. W. Tomlinson, secretary of the American Stockgrowers' association, has just returned to Denver from an extended trip to Chicago, where he appeared in the United States district court as a principal and expert witness in the cases brought by the United States against the principal western roads. A violation of the rules of the interstate commerce commission was charged in the cases, discriminating against the shippers in favor of the packers. To such an extent had the discrimination gone that a lower rate was charged for dressed beef than for live stock.

Mr. Tomlinson was for years the traffic manager of the Chicago Live Stock exchange and the Great Western railroad. He was one of the packers brought the original case against the railroads on the same score. In speaking of the matter, he said: "The cases were brought by the United States against the Chicago Great Western railroad and others to enforce the order of the interstate commerce commission declaring that rates on live stock shall not be greater than the packers' product. The suit is the outcome of a complaint filed before the commission against the western lines by the Chicago live stock exchange a few years ago. The complaint alleged discrimination against the live stock shippers. On the hearing of that case the commission decided that the rate for live stock should not be greater than that charged for the product."

Santa Fe Obeyed.
"The Santa Fe obeyed the order but the other roads disregarded it and this suit was brought for its enforcement in the trial of the court before the United States court some of the railroads, through different officials, gave testimony much at variance with that offered before the commission. In fact, one set of officials testified directly contrary to what another set in the same company had said. The testimony of the railroads through out was strangely contradictory. Their attorneys claimed that the competition was such that as to justify the higher rate for the live stock."

"The live stock men contended that the granting of a lower rate to the packer than to them gave the packer an undue advantage, enabling him to say when and where the live stock should be sold, stilling competition and confining the grower to one market, thus in reality placing the grower at the mercy of the packer."

A decision of the matter is expected within the next few weeks and Mr. Tomlinson thinks that it will be in favor of the grower. In the event that it is an injunction will be granted against the roads compelling them to observe the ruling of the commission. In commenting further upon the case Mr. Tomlinson said:

Importance of Amendment.
"The trial of this case emphasizes the importance of amending the interstate commerce law so that the orders of the commission will go into effect practically at once and remain in effect until, and unless, reversed by the courts in accordance with the expressed views of President Roosevelt. Until this is done the shipper not only has to fight his case before the commission but has to go to the courts at all expense of fighting it through the courts, which, in many cases, is a great burden as to defeat justice."

"The American Stockgrowers' association promises to do everything in its power to have the law amended in line with the expressed views of President Roosevelt. The executive committee of the association meets in Denver Friday, and this, as well as many other matters will be carefully considered."

NEW YORK WOOL MARKET

Also Enjoying A BOOM
New York, Oct. 18.—Actual transactions in the domestic wool market have not been heavy during the past week. Many offers have been made for fair-sized lots of Texas and territory wools, but these offers have failed to come up to the holders' idea of what prices should be, and what the wool is actually worth. Small lots of wool have been taken for immediate requirements. Buyers continue to hunt through the market for anything that can be picked up at a bargain. The low open-market quotations. These lots are by no means numerous, and the buyer who is fortunate enough to secure the same does not hesitate to take all that he can lay his hands upon.

Advices from Texas state that very little of the fall clip has been actually sold so far; prices that are being asked are very stiff indeed, from the buyers' standpoint. It is in New Mexico, it is stated, has delayed shearing to quite an extent. As a result of this, early reports, can hardly be looked for. Dealers in the local market are very confident that a large demand must shortly develop here. Boston sales during the week have been quite large, and as salesmen who have visited the various wool mills throughout the country report that they have large supplies on hand, the outlook for future business would seem to be very unfavorable.

One of the peculiar things in the market at the present time from the dealer's viewpoint, is the lack of demand for mohair. In this country wools have sold exceptionally well. Bradford manufacturers are in many instances sold ahead well into next year, and are refusing to take any further orders. The mills in this country which turn out mohair goods are running full time, and have many orders yet to fill. As far as can be learned, they are not overabundantly supplied with raw material. In addition to this, manufacturers of mohair are also using mohair in many of the new goods. In the face of this condition of affairs, handlers and sellers of mohair in the unmanufactured state fail to understand the small demand in evidence.

Representatives of both large and small mills are in the market in Boston and both worried and woolen weavers are among the purchasers. The latter are picking up what territory they can and are taking on some small lines of fleeces, but the prices at which most fleeces would be held deter buying. There are rumors of some slight concessions in Boston on these grades, but on territories full prices are readily called. It is said that, while money is dear, mills will buy wool only

As it is needed. They do not fear higher prices and prefer that the dealer should pay the carrying cost. There is also a tendency to wait until the Australian and Argentine sales have proceeded far enough to make certain that no setback in prices will occur. Current needs are sufficiently imperative, however, to maintain a steady flow of business.

THE STOLEN HORSE.
An Old Proverb With a New Application.
The woods are full of "so-called" remedies for "Baldness."

You may call anything in creation a remedy. But to get them is like locking the stable after the horse is stolen. Baldness and Dandruff are caused by a germ—if you don't kill the germ the germ will kill the hair. Scientists have labored with the problem of a preventative for Baldness for many years.

Newbro's Herpicide is the product of a modern idea, and will cure Dandruff and prevent Baldness because germs cannot exist when you apply Herpicide.

Herpicide is a valuable hair dressing and scalp disinfectant as well as a cure for Dandruff.

Sold by leading druggists. Send for sample for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. B. H. Briggs & Co., special agents.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF ELK OFFICIALS
DIRECTORS OF LEASE HOLDING COMPANY TO BE ELECTED AT MEETING TOMORROW

An important meeting of the Elk Lease Holding Co. will be held tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of electing a board of directors to serve for the ensuing year. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the Elks lodge room.

The Lease Holding Co. is a corporation organized a year ago to take over the holdings, heretofore of the local Elks lodge, chiefly the management of the Elks' building.

The meeting will hear reports of the retiring officers and board and it is expected that the election of officers will follow the election of the new board.

Expecting that his assurances will be made good and that his friends will meet the checks now held by Albuquerque people, the hearing of C. Harter, held for the state of the local Elks lodge, chiefly the management of the Elks' building.

Some Sensible Advice.
It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by all druggists.

Toti & Gradi,

TREASURERS IN TWO ROUND BATTLE FOR COMBINATION

Armijo and Hubbell Engage in Speedy Contest.

ABSENCE OF A REFEREE MAKES THE DECISION UNCERTAIN

A two-round battle for points, in which former County Treasurer Frank A. Hubbell, and County Treasurer Justo Armijo were the principals, was the enlivening spectacle furnished to the few early morning travelers up and down North Second street yesterday morning. The scene was the business office of Frank A. Hubbell's newspaper, "La Bandera," and the rules allowed hitting in the breaks, for there was no referee. Both men claim the decision, and there are none to dispute either claimant. As a result, partly of the contest, partly of the rest of the day's doings, Armijo is in full possession of the county treasurer's office, the vault, and its contents.

Following Judge Abbott's decision Tuesday night to the effect that he would not interfere with the county commission in its order to Hubbell to vacate the treasurer's office, Armijo yesterday morning bright and early, on advice of his counsel, went to the office of La Bandera and asked Hubbell to give him the combination to the vault. He represented to Hubbell that since he would proceed to break open the vault if he didn't get the combination, he, Hubbell, would as well give it up and thus save the county needless expense. Hubbell's attorney was not on the spot, and the former county treasurer was forced to rely on his own inner promptings. It would seem that he was not in a mood to save the county money, and Armijo trouble, for he replied that he would give the treasurer something, not half so pleasant and easily handled as the combination to the vault. To this Armijo made a not reply, and according to the version of impartial witnesses, they clinched. In the first breakaway, Armijo lost his hat. Hubbell led a leg for the jaw and Armijo feinted and came back with a right jab into the eye. He followed with a left to the top of the head and Hubbell rushed his opponent to the plate glass front. It was at this point that Nestor Montoya, editor of La Bandera, called for time. The round was about even, both fighters being winded. Armijo retired to the street and Hubbell to his office chair.

Round 2.—Armijo expressed a desire to go back and get his hat. Hubbell responded with an intimation that it would be handed to him through the roof. They would probably have clinched but the power of the press and a convenient printer intervened, and the battle was over.

The county treasurer retired with his hat, but without the combination to the vault, and later in the morning he employed a safe expert to crack the combination.

Still later in the day, and before the locksmith had gone to work on the inside doors of the vault, J. J. Sheridan, Hubbell's deputy appeared, with the keys to those doors, saving another break.

Armijo is now in full possession of treasurer's rooms to the court house, the vault and all its contents, and this phase of the county contest is believed to have ended.

The text of Judge Abbott's opinion, upon which he made his order of Tuesday, declined to grant the petition for an injunction to restrain the county commission from evicting Hubbell from the treasurer's office, is as follows:

Territory of New Mexico, in the District Court, Bernalillo County, Frank A. Hubbell, vs. The Board of County Commissioners, Etc., et als.

Opinion. The plaintiff asks to have the defendants enjoined from depriving him of the possession of the rooms and vault in the county court house, heretofore used by him as treasurer of the county, and of preventing him from removing the tax rolls of the county and other personal property heretofore in use by him in connection with said office, and putting said rooms, vault, tax rolls and other personal property in possession of the defendant, Justo R. Armijo, who claims to be treasurer of said county by virtue of a commission from the governor of the territory, dated August 31, 1905.

The power of said county commissioners over county property could hardly be made more broad than it now is by the terms of Section 664 of the Compiled Laws of 1897. In the exercise of that power they can, in my opinion, assign rooms in the county court house to the different county officials who may require them, and change such assignments from time to time, as they think proper. Such officials have not the rights of ordinary tenants in the rooms they thus occupy. The personal property of the county in the possession of the different county officials for use in the duties of their offices, must be similarly subject to the control of the county commissioners, but perhaps not to the same extent.

The plaintiff alleges that in the present instance the county commissioners are unlawfully using their power over county property to deprive him of the office of county treasurer of Bernalillo county, and to install Justo R. Armijo in his place. The possession of the rooms, vault and other property in question, does not carry with it the office of treasurer, nor affect his title to the office. The defendants deny that they seek to deprive him of the office, and say they are only trying to prevent the obstruction of the necessary business of the county by the plaintiff. Obviously, the county commissioners must decide which of the two claimants they will recognize and deal with. They have decided that they will treat the governor's commission as valid until it shall have been declared invalid by the courts, and that they will put the governor's appointee, Justo R. Armijo, in possession of the county property pertaining to the office. That is precisely what this court would have ordered to be done, had it been applied to for a writ of mandamus against the plaintiff on the facts stated in the pleadings.

In this case, in accordance with the rule laid down by the supreme court of the territory, it should not, therefore, interfere with the accomplishment of what the plaintiff alleges and the defendants admit is to be done as regards the transfer of the county property in question to Justo R. Armijo.

UNIFORM TRAINING FOR NAVAL RECRUITS

TRAINING SHIPS MAY BE MOVED AWAY FROM DISTRACTIONS OF LARGE CITIES.

Washington, Oct. 18.—As a result of a transcontinental trip of inspection made by Rear Admiral C. M. Thomas, superintendent of the naval training service, that service will be completely overhauled and several radical reforms in the method of educating naval recruits introduced. For some time there has been a great lack of uniformity in the methods of training men on shipboard. Each of the officers in command of the receiving ships at New York, League Island and other places, and in charge of the training stations at Newport and in San Francisco bay, had his own idea of what should be done. While this was carried out by the approval of the bureau of navigation, there was naturally a great difference in methods, and it was for that reason that Rear Admiral Thomas made his long trip. It is possible that the stations of the receiving ships will be changed. It is felt by some of the officers that it would be advantageous to the system if the receiving ships near the large cities were removed to places less populous and where there are fewer distractions. That would mean the transfer from its present station of the receiving ship Hancock at the New York navy yard. The receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, will probably remain at its present place, inasmuch as there are facilities there for carrying on the work on shore, although the place does not have the official title of a training station.

Naval Engineers Desired. Renewed efforts are being made to fill eight vacancies in the corps of civil engineers in the navy. Great difficulty has hitherto been encountered in finding candidates to live through the examination. This year the prospect is a little better and it is believed there will be sufficient successful candidates to fill most, if not all, of the vacancies in the corps. There is a limitation of candidacy, imposed by Secretary Bonaparte, on the advice of Rear Admiral M. T. Endicott, the head of the corps of civil engineers. It was decided that candidates who have twice failed professionally before examining boards shall not be permitted to appear for a third examination. The navy department is willing to overlook one failure in the professional examination, for the reason that such a failure does not have much significance, but with that advantage it is reasoned that a candidate should on the second examination be able to pass if he has anything in him.

A Satisfied Explanation. "Here, waiter, there are two flies in this soup!" "Most likely twine, sir!"—Translated for Tales from Filegenda Blatter.

A Subterranean Fish. There is positive evidence that fishing is getting good in the waters underlying Douglas, J. W. Smith, who is employed at the Calumet and Arizona smelter, had the evidence of this in a bottle yesterday. It was in the shape and size of a little bass, about an inch long and so transparent that every bone of its interior structure could be plainly seen. The fish was pumped up from the Calumet and Arizona well, which is cased down to 400 feet, and it is good evidence that an underground river was tapped when that well, which flows 1,500 gallons a minute, was sunk. The fish exhibited by Mr. Smith was not a blind one which indicates that its progenitors if not the fish itself, came from surface water.—Bisbee Review.

That's Nice. The good lady from the Datil mountains who astonished Albuquerque by unhooking the check reins of various horses driven by leading citizens, has been pleased to observe that few Las Vegas use the check rein on their horses.—Las Vegas Optic.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY

The above is a "wireless telegraph" and reads as follows: "The main receiving station for New Mexico and Arizona for the De Forest's Wireless Telegraph Company will be located at Albuquerque."

Like all large companies, they select Albuquerque because it is destined to be the great commercial city of the great southwest. For this reason, if you can spare a dollar to invest, buy some of those beautiful fifty-foot residence lots in the Eastern Addition—Highlands—$100, $150 to $200 per lot; payable $10.00 down, balance $1.00 per week.

Every dollar so invested will earn you an additional dollar in less than two years. Albuquerque must grow and there is only one direction—above the lowlands. Call at the office of the Surety Investment Company, owners of the addition. We charge no commissions and will be pleased to go with you over the property. The Wilson Heater with the celebrated Hot Blast Down-Draft is the only heater which actually burns all of the fuel put into it. The Hot Blast Down-Draft creates perfect combustion and the fumes which rise from the fuel, ordinarily escaping unburned in other stoves, are all consumed and turned into heat in the Wilson. It has been ascertained that the fumes which arise from the fuel constitute 40 per cent of the entire heating power of the fuel. Buy a Wilson and get all the heat you are paying for.
