PRESIDENT PASSES A QUIET DAY

Attends Church and Has a Plunge in the Ocean.

OFF FOR THREE DAYS IN ALABAMA AND ARKANSAS

Week Will See End of the Tour Through South, New Orleans Marking the Finish.

St. Augustine, Fla., Oct. 22.—President started tonight for a tour of Alabama. He left St. Augustine at 9 o'clock and is not scheduled to make a stop of any length until he reaches Mobile tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. His day in St. Augustine was a quiet one. He attended service in the Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. James Coffin Stout, preached from the text, "Worthy the Lamb That Was Slain." He made no reference to the president in his sermon. The church was crowded. After the conclusion of the services the president was taken for a short drive about the city. After luncheon the president, accompanied by Secretary Loeb, Surgeon General Hisey, John McInerney and John Greenway, the last two of whom will be his guests on the trip south, went to Port Marion, where they boarded a launch and went to Anastasia island. Here the president donned bathing suits and had a bath in the salt water. The president greatly enjoyed the bath and seemed in excellent condition to tackle the hard work which lies before him this week. When the party left the hotel the mounted policemen of St. Augustine, who had been waiting in front of the hotel, started ahead as escort. The secret service men who were on the box with the driver of the president's carriage, said to one of them, "We do not need you now."

"That's all right," replied the officer. "We will go along."

They galloped to the fort, where they stood at attention while the president boarded the launch and steamed away.

Dinner was served at the hotel tonight, after which the president drove to his train. St. Augustine was full of strangers today, attracted by the president.

A large crowd gathered around his hotel all day, anxious to catch a glimpse of him. He received few visitors, however, and got the rest of which he stood in need.

This week will see the end of the trip. After visiting Mobile tomorrow he will spend Tuesday at Tuskegee, Montgomery and Birmingham.

Wednesday he will devote to Little Rock, Ark., and Thursday he will visit New Orleans, leaving that evening on a government vessel for Washington.

Praises Roosevelt's Speeches.

Rome, Oct. 22.—The Observatore Romano, the organ of the Vatican, devotes a leading editorial to the speeches made by President Roosevelt on his journey through the south. The editorial says: "All those who relish in policies, clearness, energy and practicality, will read with pleasure his healthy and strong words, extraneous to everything but the good of the nation, expressed before the whole nation and the whole world."

QUARANTINES ARE BEING RAISED

LOUISIANA PEOPLE WILL SOON
BE FREE OF THE FEVER
PROHIBITION.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 22.—The fever report to 6 p. m. is as follows:

New cases, 2.
Total to date, 3,361.
Deaths, none.
Total, 425.
New fever, 1.
Under treatment, 73.
Discharged, 2,853.

While this was the fifth consecutive day on which no deaths of yellow fever were reported, which in itself was the cause for much general satisfaction, the most gratifying information came in the shape of a telegram from the state health office of Mississippi, that on Monday evening all of the Mississippi quarantines would be raised. Another source of congratulation was a telegram from Dr. Tamm, Texas, to the effect that Texas would admit people from Louisiana who would make an affidavit that they had not been near an infected point for six days previously. It is believed that the Texas restrictions will be entirely removed in a short time and that Alabama will also remove all restrictions in a short time.

There were no reports of new cases or deaths from the country parishes today. Those places that did report had no new cases.

One Death at Vicksburg.

Vicksburg, Miss., Oct. 22.—Three new cases and one death was the yellow fever record for the 24 hours ending at 6 p. m. today.

Upward Jump in Pensacola.

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 22.—Yellow fever took an upward jump today and tonight there were reported twelve cases with one death.

VERMONT FEELS

EARTH IN THE NORTHEASTERN
HILLS IS IN STARTLING
COM-MOTION.

MEXICANS THRIVING IN GOLD BASS

Prosperity Already Beginning to Be Felt.

SHORTAGE OF WHEAT CROP
PRESENTS SERIOUS PROBLEM

Duty on American and Canadian Wheat and Corn May Be Abated to Meet Needs of Poor.

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 22.—The currency and exchange commission which has been in charge of matters connected with the putting into operation of the money reform, met yesterday under the chairmanship of Finance Minister Limantour. It was announced that the mint had begun coining the new dollar gold pieces. The monetary change to a gold basis has been operative now for nearly six months and has brought about stability in the rates of exchange on foreign markets, regardless of conditions in the sale of silver. Imports have risen, owing to the greater purchasing power of the peso. There has been an increase in activity in manufacturing, mining, land transactions, etc., and Mexico's change to the gold basis has been effected without perturbation of any kind and with a resulting increase of prosperity.

LOAVES OF BREAD ARE GROWING SMALL IN REPUBLIC

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 22.—The shortage of the wheat crop is greater than estimated a few weeks ago, and millers are looking for the entire removal of the duty on American and Canadian wheat by the first of next year. The city bakers have reduced the size of their loaves, asserting that it is impossible to give the same weight as formerly. There are some farmers here, but not sufficient to bring down the price which is steadily rising. The price of corn is also rising, the advance being over 50 per cent as compared with the price of August. This causes much hardship among the poor. There is a possibility of the duty on corn being abated.

MEXICAN CENTRAL GETS MORE TIME ON MANZANILLO LINE

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 22.—The government has extended the time of the construction of the Mexican Central's branch from Colima to Manzanillo on the Pacific coast, to October, 1909. There is already a narrow gauge road between these two points, which belonged formerly to the Mexican National Construction company, but which recently was acquired by the Mexican Central. This road will be made a standard gauge. The Central has 3,000 men at work on their extension of their line to Colima from Tuxpan, in the state of Jalisco.

Mad Mullah Breaks Out.

Paris, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Rome to the Eclair says a telegram has been received there from Aden, stating that the Mad Mullah has again taken the field in Somaliland, and is threatening the Italian colonies. Italian warships are on their way to the coast of Somaliland.

A Big Land Deal.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 22.—A syndicate of Minnesota has completed negotiations for 40,000 acres of lumber lands on Vancouver island, and will erect a sawmill.

TROOP RETURN OF THE VICTOR

Togo and His Ships Back From the War.

GREAT DAY IN ANNALS OF THE GREATER JAPAN

Capital Out En Fete to Honor Formal Arrival of the Hero of Battle of the Sea of Japan.

Tokio, Oct. 22.—Today was made memorable in the annals of Japan by the public entry into Tokio of Admiral Togo, who came to report to the emperor the return of his fleet from the war.

The distinguished naval officer arrived at Shimabashi station at 10:30 a. m. He was met by the ministers of state, generals, admirals, members of the diplomatic corps, and hundreds of private citizens, who extended him a warm welcome to the capital. He was accompanied by his staff, and Admirals Katsura, Kamimura and Iwano, together with their respective staffs. The party entered five imperial carriages placed at their disposal and led by his majesty's aide, Admiral Inouye, drove direct to the palace, reaching there at 11 o'clock, where they were received in audience by the emperor. Admiral Togo's carriage, escorted by a bodyguard of troops, passed through a triumphal arch in front of the railway station. The streets were lined with an admiring crowd who shouted hearty "banzais" as the party passed along. The ring of the enthusiastic cheers mingled with the noise of the bands, was audible for a great distance. General Sakuma detailed three battalions of guards of honor. The battalions were composed of men from Tokyo, Katsura and were under the command of Major General Togo. Four guns located at Hibiy park fired salutes. The day was a beautiful one, and all Tokio was out irrespective of age to welcome the victor of the battle of the Sea of Japan.

Admiral Togo, after his audience with the emperor, returned to his ship.

In receiving Admiral Togo's report, the emperor warmly praised the service rendered by him, his officers and men.

ONE MORE VICTIM OF THE LAKE STORM

BELIEVED THE STORY OF
GREAT HURRICANE HAS NOW BEEN TOLD.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 22.—A telegram was received here today by the captain of the Corcoran fleet that No. 5, the steamer Progress, which has been missing four days and was feared to have been sent to the bottom by the storm during the night of Saturday, had arrived at the Soo late Saturday night. The Progress carried a crew of 15 besides the captain.

The body of Fox, one of the wheelmen of the steamer Friday, which was lost off Lorain Friday, was picked up by a fishing tug 15 miles west of Lorain today.

No marine disasters have been reported to the life saving station at Cleveland during the day.

ORDER HAS CAUSED A SENSATION

Sweeping Civil Service Decree Generally Approved.

NEW CANAL COMMISSION
READY TO MAKE REPORT

Secretary Root Has Begun to Weed Out Some of the Chair Warmers in the State Department.

Correspondence Morning Journal.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The most important event of the week from a local and even national point of view has been the order by the president changing the civil service rules and making it possible for the heads of departments to discharge a government employee peremptorily, those whom he provided the inefficiency of such employee shall come under the personal knowledge of the head of the department. Heretofore it has been necessary for a superior officer desired to discharge an incompetent employee, to give him due notice, with a written statement of the cause of his discharge, and also an opportunity to reply and protest against the discharge. The order of the president, it will be seen, has a tendency to place the government departments upon a business like basis, giving the manager or boss "if you please, the right to discharge a clerk or a subordinate whom he knows to be inefficient. No business house or organization can work economically without such power and there is no reason why the greatest of all business houses or corporations should be embarrassed by an inability to get rid of idlers and shirks. There are over twenty thousand government employees in Washington, and it may be said that nearly the entire city is dependent directly or indirectly on the government, and this order has produced uneasiness, not to say consternation in many households.

The members of the Panama canal commission have returned and are expecting to have a report ready for the president soon after his return from his southern trip. They cannot be expected to express an opinion as to whether a lock or a sea level canal will be recommended. They claim, however, to have made a very minute inspection of the canal route, and find it free from yellow fever, and being not a case in Colón or Panama, and only one case on the isthmus. They are in encouraging terms both of the sanitation of the country adjacent to the canal route and of the amount of work that will be required in digging the canal and preparation for more extensive operations both with men and with machinery. The expert engineers who were members of the commission spent one week on the isthmus. On the day of their arrival they made a trip over the entire route. On each of the following days, they made close inspection of the localities in which the engineering problems are supposed to be greatest, and they made their headquarters, successively in Bohia, Obispo, Gamboa, Alhajuela, and Gatun. They had good weather during their trip and secured a wealth of information. General G. W. Davis reports that they visited every nook and corner of the proposed route, climbed every hill and explored the lagoons by boat and every land section of the route. The data secured is believed to be minute and this, it is expected, will be the final report of the many that have already been presented on this subject.

As predicted in these letters, Secretary Root has begun to clear the state department of some of the inefficient clerks who have been there for years under previous secretaries of state. It is announced that the chief clerk of the state department will be promoted to an important consularship if he will accept and that Mr. Denby, of Indiana, a son of the late United States minister to China, will be appointed his place. It is to be hoped that Mr. Denby is a linguist and that the state department will always, in the future, have for a secretary, a man who can talk the language of the body being ruled, and who is to be that of his brother-in-law, Ivan Chavez of Bernalillo. The dead man's name was known to the state department by Mr. Bernalillo to the dead man's wife, who arrived last night and completed the identification. The remains will be taken to Bernalillo for interment.

Chavez came to Albuquerque four days ago and had been drinking to some extent, according to the people who know him. The only theory is that he had taken more than he could stand and dropped to sleep in the yards, across the track, or had failed to see the cars coming down on him. He owned a small farm near Bernalillo, and was well thought of by his neighbors.

THE POPE HAS A SLIGHT COLD

RUMOR OF SERIOUS ILLNESS IS QUICKLY DENIED BY DR. LAPPONI.

Rome, Oct. 22.—The rumor spread through the city this morning that the pope was ill. Dr. Lapponi, his physician, authorized the Associated Press to announce that "the statement is incorrect," the pope merely having a cold, so slight that it could scarcely be called an indisposition. Since his last attack of gout in January, his Holiness, the doctor said, has enjoyed perfect health.

Today the pope received over 200 persons. The fact that these audiences have not been suspended, is the best evidence of the pope's good health.

WANT RETURN OF
FORMER SCALE

PROFIT-SHARING PLAN DOES NOT APPEAL TO FALL RIVER
OPERATIVES.

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 22.—The Fall River Textile council, representing the organized cotton mill operatives of the city today decided to reject the offer made by the manufacturers last week to advance the wages 5 per cent and introduce a profit-sharing plan. The council had requested restoration of the reduction of 12 1/2 per cent which went into effect on July 25th, 1904. No immediate trouble in the mills is anticipated as the result of the disagreement and it is probable further negotiations will be conducted during the coming week.

The great majority of the cotton mills in northern New England, Rhode Island, eastern Connecticut and in other Massachusetts towns will not be directly affected by the movement here.

THREE MEN BATTLED FLYING STREET CAR

Trolley Plunges Through New York City at Ex-Train Speed While Revolvers Are Emptied. Passengers Hide Under the Seats.

New York, Oct. 22.—Three men fought a battle with pistols on an Eighth avenue car today, and out of them were seriously injured. While the fight was being waged, the car ran at top speed for half a mile, the going sounding an alarm and passengers lying flat on the floor to escape the shower of bullets.

Thomas O'Brien, a truckman, jumped aboard the car at Thirty-first street and clapping a revolver to the conductor's head, ordered him to run the car at full speed, because he was pursued by a gang that intended to kill him. A moment later two men entered the car and attacked the first, all three using revolvers. When their weapons were empty they clinched and fought with the butts of their pistols.

The car rushed along the avenue, the motor men pounding the going and the conductor shouting to the police, as far as Twenty-sixth street, where several policemen boarded the car and seized the three combatants, all of whom were badly injured to offer any resistance.

O'Brien was found to have received a bullet in the neck. His assailants gave their names as Henry Praig and Thomas Sullivan.

The former had been shot in the neck and the latter in the leg and arm. The three were taken to a hospital.

O'Brien refused to explain why the other two men attacked him. The police think that the affray was the outcome of a feud in a notorious West Side gang.

As the result of a fight between two camping parties in Bear canyon early yesterday morning, Julian Garcia, member of one party, is lying at his home on West Tenth street with two serious bullet wounds, one in his arm, the other in his side, and with prospects of staying in bed for a considerable time, while Claude Eggleston, member of the other party, is confined in the county jail, where he also is likely to spend some time, if the version of the affair given by Garcia and his companions proves correct.

Garcia was brought into Albuquerque yesterday morning by his two companions of the camping party, young men named Cramer and Lucero. They notified the police that two men had made an attempt to hold them up at their camp early in the morning, and Deputy Sheriff Fred B. Heyn laid at once for the mountains. Yesterday morning he arrested Eggleston, four miles from the scene of the shooting. Eggleston's companions, a man named Wolf, is still at liberty. Eggleston made no resistance, and says he was forced to fire in self-defense.

Garcia and his companions went in the mountains Saturday to spend three days on a camping trip. Eggleston and his companion went out about the same time. According to the story told by Garcia and his two friends, they were just getting out of their blankets yesterday morning, when the two men rode up. They declare that Eggleston's companion picked a quarrel with Garcia, and when the argument came to blows, Garcia fired a shot from Garcia's hands, and cracked Garcia over the head with a stick.

Garcia turned to run, when Eggleston shot him twice, one shot taking effect in the leg and the other in the side. Dr. John P. Pearce, who attended the wounded man, says his injuries are not dangerous, the most serious being the effect of the blow from the gun stick.

After the shooting, Eggleston and his companion rode away.

The other side of the shooting, as told by Eggleston, is that he and his companion were assaulted by the three men, and that he was forced to shoot to defend himself.

Eggleston was not brought in until late last night, and it was impossible to get any very connected story of the fight from either side. All of the parties concerned are young men and live in Albuquerque. It is expected that Eggleston's companion will be arrested today and that the men will be given a preliminary hearing during the day.

SIMPSON SUFFERS
ANOTHER HEMORRHAGE

FOR THIRD TIME IN WEEK
WELL MAN IS AT DEATH'S DOOR.

Wichita, Kas., Oct. 22.—Ex-Congressman Jerry Simpson suffered a severe hemorrhage early this morning and a light one later in the day. While he has revived to some extent, the attending physician fears he cannot live through the night. This is the third time within a week that death has been near, but after each revival he has shown less vitality, therefore little hope is held out.

The patient was able to take nourishment today, having swallowed nearly a quart of it. He is still conscious.

THE AUTOMOBILE

IN SMASHUP.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 22.—Mrs. Theodore Plang, wife of a merchant tailor, while riding in an automobile today, was killed. Mrs. Plang was guiding the machine, and while she was riding along Van Ness avenue made a quick turn to avoid running down a pedestrian. The automobile was upset and the party thrown out. Mrs. Plang met death almost instantly and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Henry Plang, was badly hurt. Theodore Plang, the husband of the woman who was killed, and his two nieces, escaped injury.

SIXTEEN VICTIMS OF LAUNCHES

Nine Lose Lives on the Delaware.

FIVE ARE DROWNED
WHILE SAILING ON HUDSON

Two Drowned, Two Fatally Burned When Gasoline Launch Blew Up in the Mississippi Near St. Louis.

Beverly, N. J., Oct. 22.—A launch containing nine men, all of Philadelphia, collided with a barge in the Delaware river off this place late this afternoon, resulting in the drowning of six of the occupants of the little boat. The other three were rescued by the crew of the tug boat Bristol which was towing the barge when the accident happened. The rescued were Captain John Winch, owner of the launch; W. F. Russell and J. Rutherford.

The dead: WILLIAM WINCH, JOHN STEVENSON, SAMUEL HERON, NORMAN EYE, JAMES YONKERS.

The launch was hired by the nine men, most of whom lived in the northern part of Philadelphia.

The elder Winch took his son along to assist him in running the boat. The day was spent near Crofton, on the Pennsylvania side of the river. The start home was made late in the day. Opposite this place the launch met the tug Bristol in command of Captain Mott, which was towing a barge to Bordentown. Whether Captain Winch saw the barge is not known, nevertheless he attempted to cross the tug's stern. Captain Mott hailed him and tried to prevent him from doing so. Captain Winch was standing at the wheel of the launch as he went around the stern of the tug. The barge struck him and knocked him overboard. Before the captain's son or any other member of the party could take the wheel to steer the launch clear of the barge, the latter struck the frail craft amidships, capsizing it. The launch rolled under the barge and its occupants went with it. Captain Mott put the tug about and went to the rescue. He and his crew threw ropes and life preservers to the struggling people in the water, but they were able to save only three of them. The rescued men were landed here by the tug and cared for at a hotel. They left for Philadelphia late tonight.

TWO DROWN IN MISSISSIPPI
WHEN LAUNCH BLOWS UP

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 22.—A gasoline launch containing four passengers, making its first trip on the Mississippi river, exploded this afternoon at Ivory station, 14 miles below this city and two of the passengers are believed to have been drowned, the other two being probably fatally burned. The launch was owned by a man named Fred Duffy, an unknown man.

The Injured:

Edward Duffy, Jr., Edward Duffy, Sr.

Duffy, Sr., had purchased the launch and was making a trial this afternoon. Duffy's son and a friend of Duffy's went along. After plying the water for three hours the launch suddenly exploded and its occupants went with it. Duffy and his son, but Phee and his friend disappeared and are believed to have been drowned. Duffy and his son were taken to a hospital at Jefferson Barracks, both badly burned. Duffy said the explosion was caused by a leaking gasoline pipe.

FIVE MEET DEATH IN ACCIDENT ON HUDSON

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Five persons, the body of one being recovered, are believed to have been drowned today in a collision of a catboat with a tug off South Yonkers. Members of the South Hudson Boat club heard cries for help out on the river and in the heavy mist that prevailed were able to make the outline of a capsized sail boat and of a tug that was running rapidly down the river. The cries ceased before the yachtmen who had put out to the rescue in a catboat, reached the catboat, which they found wrecked and with her side stove in. In a coast aboard they found a list of names which proved to be those of a party who had gone sailing in the boat. They were Edward Benson, Benjamin Benson, P. Simpson and Carl Thompson, all of South Yonkers. This evening the body of Benson was found not far from the scene of the collision. Nothing had been heard of the missing men up to a late hour tonight.

NAVAJO BLANKETS WILL BE SCARCE THIS SEASON

Indians Too Prosperous to Tend to Business.

IN THE RESERVATION

Navajo blankets will be very scarce this season, according to Herman Schweizer, manager in the southwest for Fred Harvey's great curio business, who has just returned from a two weeks' trip through the Navajo reservation in New Mexico and Arizona, in which he has traveled several hundred miles in the saddle, from Gallup to Farmington and across into Arizona, covering practically all of the settlements in the great domain of the Indians.

The season has been a prosperous one, crops of all kinds have been good, and the price of wool has been high, so that the Indians with full grain bins, and full pockets are not inclined to work.

"The Navajo blanket market will go skyward before the end of the season," said Mr. Schweizer yesterday, "and I am not engaged in buying the market either. There will be a shortage of blankets and in fact, there is already a noticeable decrease in the number of blankets coming into the market. There are a good many reasons for it but chiefly it is the Indian's lack of desire to work so long as there is no immediate need for money."

"The year has been an exceptionally prosperous one for the Navajos and their crops of all kinds are large and in splendid condition. In addition, the high price of wool has led most of them to sell their clip, rather than to hold it to make blankets. The traders who often supply the wool are also short, having been attracted, like every one else by the fancy prices, and even if the Indian with his full pocket-book and granary desired to work, it is doubtful if he could get the wool to make very many blankets. So there is pretty good ground to expect a shortage in the blanket crop."

"I have never seen the Navajos in better condition to go into the winter."

"I visited Tom and Elie, the Navajos who have been in the museum here for so long, while on the reservation. Tom is something of a man in his own country and I found him surrounded by his children and grandchildren, his cousins and his aunts and a considerable number of others who could not claim any nearer kinship than that of cousin. A feast was going on and considerable merrymaking because of the good crops. Tom is coming back to Albuquerque later in the fall after he has disposed of his goods and his sheep for the winter."

THROWN FROM STAGE AND BADLY HURT

FRANK CAMPBELL COMPLETELY
PARALYZED BY ACCIDENT
NEAR KINGSTON.

Last Wednesday evening Frank Campbell, while on his way to Kingston, was thrown from the stage and seriously injured, says the Hillsboro Advocate. Owing to the darkness it is impossible for the driver or the passengers to say just what happened. But it is evident that, just as they were crossing the creek for the last time before reaching Kingston, he fell from the wagon in such a manner that one or both wheels on that side ran over his head. He sustained severe scalp wounds and when last heard from was completely paralyzed from his neck down. The latter condition may be due to the shock and strain put upon the neck by the heavy wagon running over his head or some vertebra in the neck may have been temporarily pressed inward on the spinal cord. It is impossible to prophesy as to the result, but his condition at the present time is very serious. Dr. F. I. Given was called to attend the injured man.

MONUMENT OF POPE PIUS IN HIS NATIVE VILLAGE

CATHOLICS OF THE WORLD CONTRIBUTE TO STATUE FOR LITTLE HAMLET OF ROME.

Rome, Oct. 22.—A monument of Pope Pius X, subscribed for by Catholics all over the world, was unveiled this morning at the little village in the Venetian province where the Pope was born. His Holiness is represented in the act of administering a benediction. The entire village was decorated and national flags were conspicuous everywhere, while the walls were covered with inscriptions, one of which read: "Long live Pope Pius X, the first citizen of the world." The authorities formed a procession headed by the Patriarch of Venice and six bishops of the neighboring dioceses, to the house where the Pope was born. The eldest sister of the Pope, and other relatives, who dwell in an inn called "The Two Swords," where they themselves serve the customers, were the recipients of much attention. Many telegrams were sent to His Holiness.

MURDERER ARGUILLO CAPTURED AFTER KILLING DEPUTY

Shoots Francisco Garcia on Johnson Mesa.

DESPERADO NOW BEHIND
BARS OF RATON JAIL

Special to the Morning Journal. Raton, N. M., Oct. 22.—David Arguillo, who killed Mrs. Celia Dassart in Bowen, Col., two years ago, and who on Friday was captured on Johnson mesa, near this city after killing Deputy Sheriff Garcia, will be held here for trial for the latter crime. It has been decided not to send him back to Trinidad to answer for his first murder. This conclusion was reached after a conference between Sheriff Little of Colfax county and Sheriff Davis of Las Animas county. Col. As effort will be made to have the county commissioners of Las Animas county pay the three hundred dollars reward offered two years ago to the family of the murdered deputy.

FUGITIVE CAPTURED AFTER SECOND BRUTAL MURDER

Dave Arguillo, who murdered Mrs. Celia Dassart, at Bowen two years ago is in jail at Raton, but before he was landed there Friday he shot and killed Francisco Garcia, of Trinchera, a special deputy for Sheriff Davis. Garcia was endeavoring to arrest Arguillo when the Mexican killed him.

The Trinidad Chronicle-News says if the capture of Arguillo is the result of justice ever since he foully murdered Mrs. Dassart. It was known that he was hiding somewhere in this country and Garcia, who was well acquainted with him, was given a special deputy sheriff's commission by Sheriff Davis last spring especially for the purpose of capturing the murderer, on whom here is a reward of several hundred dollars offered by the county commissioners of Las Animas county.

While no definite details of the killing of Garcia have been received it appears that he located Arguillo with a threshing machine outfit on Johnson mesa, eighteen miles from Raton and in Colfax county, New Mexico. He went there yesterday and attempted to serve a warrant on the murderer. Arguillo immediately turned on the deputy and shot him twice, once in the head and once in the body. Garcia fell dead at once.

The members of the threshing outfit took Arguillo into custody and notified Sheriff Little of Raton and the trouble murderer is now in custody at that place.

Garcia's postoffice address was at Trinchera, but he does not seem to be known in Trinidad. Sheriff Davis says he does not know whether he is a family or not.

The sheriff does not know whether he New Mexico officials will deliver the prisoner over to him for trial here on the Dassart murder, or whether they will keep him and try him here for murdering Garcia. Which ever case is regarded as the best will be the one used against him.

The murder for which Arguillo was arrested occurred on Thursday, July 13, 1903, at Bowen, and was a very old blooded affair.

Arguillo who was a married man, had fallen in love with the wife of one of the miners at Bowen, Mrs. Celia Dassart, a pretty little half red Mexican and German girl of about 19, who had been living in the camp but three weeks.

He murdered her in cold blood without any provocation, in a fit of passion, shooting her several times after she had received her death wound. He made good his escape and has been at large ever since.

TWO NOW DEAD AS RESULT OF RIO GRANDE WRECK

Smashup Near Caliente a Frightful One.

MANUEL ATENCIO, WHOSE LEG
WAS CUT OFF, DIES FROM INJURIES

The number of victims of Friday's terrible wreck on the Denver and Rio Grande, near Caliente station, in Taos county, has now reached two and later reports indicate that the smashup was one of the worst railroad accidents of the year. The Santa Fe New Mexican says:

The wreck on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad which occurred Friday afternoon at Caliente, half way between Servilleta and Barranca, occurred on a sharp curve, as the train from Antonio, Colorado, to Santa Fe was running at the rate of twenty miles an hour. The locomotive, two freight cars and the mail car had rounded the curve when a piece two feet long, broke out of a rail throwing the front trucks of the first passenger car from the track. The last car also left the track, both cars tilting over. H. A. Wagner, of Tulsa, Indian Territory, who was killed, had been standing on the rear platform of the first car and either jumped or was thrown off, the second car falling on top of him, the trucks pinning him down so that his body could not be extricated until the wrecking crane from Alamogosa, lifted the trucks late last evening. His skull was fractured and his chest crushed, death having resulted instantaneously. He had not been missed at first and it was only some time after the accident that Mail Clerk Ira Seffens, in helping to check over the fifteen passengers on the train, observed a vase and overcoat in the car which seemed to belong to no passenger. A search resulted in Seffens discovering Wagner under the wreckage. Manuel Atencio, who had his right leg cut off near the hip, was standing on the front platform of the first passenger car and when the car commenced to tilt tried to jump to the rear platform of the mail and express car. He slipped and his leg was caught between the step of the car and a tie, being ground so that it hung by only a few shreds. The limb was so badly crushed that there was but slight bleeding. Fortunately, there was a physician on the train who bandaged the gaping wound. Atencio was brought to St. Vincent's hospital last evening, the train arriving shortly after 8 o'clock. The train from Santa Fe also brought a physician from Esplanada, who did all in his power for the comfort of the injured men, who was conscious until he arrived here last evening. One woman had her shoulder badly wrenched and several other passengers were bruised, but it is a wonder that any of the passengers escaped with their lives. The train to Antonio was delayed until late last night by the wreckage. One of its passenger coaches was attached to the train for Santa Fe for the accommodation of the down passengers.

Atencio, after being taken to the hospital sank rapidly and died at 9:30 o'clock. Charles Wagner, undertaker, was called and embalmed the body. The remains were sent to the dead man's former home at Santa Cruz on this morning's Denver & Rio Grande train.

H. A. Wagner was in Santa Fe Wednesday afternoon and left the next morning for Servilleta. He boarded the train which was wrecked yesterday morning at Servilleta to go to Barranca, a few miles south, and in the short space of time between Servilleta and the scene of the disaster met his death. It was reported in the city today that he was connected with the department of the interior, as special agent, but no confirmation of this could be secured.

The track torn up by the smashup, has been repaired and trains are running as usual. The northbound train left the city this morning at 11:30 and the southbound train arrived in the city at 6 o'clock.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorder of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, dropsy, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Nazario Alarid, of Cerrillos Road, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "I was continually buying medicine for my kidneys. None of the medicine I used had the slightest effect on my kidney or backache, at least I was unable to notice any. When an attack of backache reached the virulent stage, I was compelled to stop work for an hour until the spasm disappeared, then suffering from an attack I got Doan's Kidney Pills. The remedy soon benighted me in every way and removed every symptom of kidney complaint. I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Plenty more proof like this from Albuquerque people. Call at the Alvarado Pharmacy and ask what their customers report.

TRAFFIC MANAGER BLAMES DENIES BEING HOT AIR MERCHANT

Is Amazed at Growth of Santa Fe Business.

THINKS KANSAS CITY IS
FINEST PLACE ON THE MAP

Passenger Traffic Manager W. J. Black, of the Santa Fe road, was here yesterday leaving for Topeka last night says the Kansas City Journal. He was accompanied by Mrs. Black, who was so severely injured in the Missouri Pacific train wreck last October. She is now nearly recovered and while still on crutches is rapidly gaining strength.

"I am amazed at the growth and beauty of Kansas City every time I come here," said Mr. Black. "I often pass through, but do not get up town, and when I do find time to visit my old friends and the business section I cannot help feeling the growth and prosperity here is marvelous. I was in two or three of the large retail business houses today, and they are every bit the equals of those in Chicago or other cities. The man who has property here, no matter where it is, has a good thing of it. This is not hot air," but my candid opinion.

"The Santa Fe road is doing a big business," and has been doing it for a year past. Trains leave here with four and five chair cars filled with several sleeping cars with every reservation taken. The people are going into Oklahoma, Indian Territory, western Kansas and southern California. The development of the territories is something marvelous and at the rate the home-makers are going there, that country will progress in the next few years. Many are going into Texas, but not to the extent they are into Oklahoma."

OFFICIALS DISCUSS CHANGES IN WINTER SCHEDULE

For the purpose of discussing in a preliminary way the changes that should be made in the schedule of trains on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway for the winter season a majority of the division superintendents of the road and some of the trainmasters held a meeting recently in the Santa Fe building at Topeka with General Manager J. E. Hurley, General Superintendent F. C. Fox, General Superintendent R. J. Parker, of the western division, with headquarters at La Junta, General Passenger Traffic Manager W. J. Black and General Passenger Agent James M. Connell.

Among those who were present at the meeting in addition to the officials named were James Kurn, superintendent of the Rio Grande division with headquarters at San Marcial; C. H. Bristol, superintendent of the Colorado division, with headquarters at Pueblo; E. Raymond, superintendent of the Illinois division, with headquarters at Chicago; and G. H. Saunders, trainmaster at the same place; J. L. Barnes, superintendent of the southern Kansas division, with headquarters at Chanute; M. A. Tice, superintendent of the Oklahoma division and G. S. Starkweather, trainmaster of the Topeka division; G. E. Ayer, superintendent of the new division, with headquarters at Dodge City; and F. J. Early, superintendent of the middle division, with headquarters at Newton.

The new time card which will be arranged as a result of this meeting, will go into effect on November 15. It will be some time before its details will be perfected. About the only change of importance that is expected will be made will be the restoration of the California Limited to a daily schedule. During the summer months this train has been run between San Francisco and Chicago twice a week, but after November 15 it will run daily.

FINE PRESENT FOR BARSTOW YARDMASTER

A large and representative gathering of Barstow assembled in the Harvey house there last evening, the occasion being a presentation to Chas. McCormack, the day yardmaster of the Santa Fe railroad, says the San Bernardino Times-Index. Mr. McCormack leaves in two or three days for Bloomington, Ill., to fill an official position on the Chicago & Northwestern. Mr. Christie, trainmaster, made the presentation of a beautiful gold-mounted pocket watch, which was a masterpiece of the jeweler's art, and in some well chosen words concluded with the wish, which he said comprehended the sentiments of all present, that Mr. McCormack would be pleased with the new sphere and duties and hoped it would be the stepping stone to a position of even greater prominence which he was certain he could fill with credit to himself and his employers.

FIREMAN DIES AS RESULT OF SCALDING

Fred Bridgeford, fireman on the Southwestern engine which was wrecked by a boiler explosion near Alamogordo Friday morning, died at 12:30 Saturday morning, as the result of the injuries which he sustained. He died at the company hospital at Alamogordo, where he was taken soon after the accident.

Bridgeford received the most serious injuries of the four men who were hurt. He was badly burned and scalded, and little hope was entertained of saving his life.

D. H. Loneragan, the engineer, who was seriously burned, is expected to recover.

The other two men, brakeman McKenna and the Mexican who was riding on the coal car, are both doing well, and are expected to be able to leave the hospital soon.

Big Traffic on New Lines

H. C. Storey, of the Santa Fe, spent yesterday in Phoenix on one of his regular weekly visits, says the Phoenix Republican. He says the amount of traffic on the S. F. P. & P. and its connections east and west is marvelous for this period of the year. There is hardly a day that the freight station at Wickenburg, the junction point where the Arizona and California road branches off, is not filled to overflowing. Besides the freight, there is a great deal of passenger travel into the country traversed by the new road. The same is also true of the Phoenix and Eastern and on both roads there are many camps which have been opened up since the roads have been built to them. At Prescott Mr. Storey says the street car line is fast being built out to Fort Whipple and that it has been announced that it will probably be in use by the first of next month. The weather in the north here is a little cold in the early morning, but that so far no snow has fallen south of Ash Fork.

ROPER MANAGED TO BUY SOME CLOTHES

MAN WANTED FOR TICKET ROBBERY AT RATON GOT AWAY WITH THE GOODS.

C. D. Roper, the Santa Fe painter, who was arrested here Saturday afternoon for stealing $1,000 worth of tickets from the Santa Fe ticket office in Raton, was taken to Raton yesterday morning by one of the Santa Fe special officers.

Yesterday afternoon an Albuquerque merchant appeared before Chief McMillin with a request to see Roper or his baggage. He confided that Roper had bought a hat and a pair of shoes from him, which the painter had promised to pay for out of his weekly pay check. The merchant was considerably disappointed when he learned that Roper, bag and baggage had been taken to Raton several hours before.

My Dear Sir: Your letter, with notice, has just reached me. I was aware from my policy, that L would be entitled to a "dividend" at this time, but I had no knowledge upon which to base an opinion as to the amount of the dividend. I certainly did not expect that it would be anywhere near the amount you mention ($24.15 cash). This is nearly one-eighth of my annual premium, $204.50. I am more than pleased with this showing. I inclose herewith check for $204.50. The present dividend, and subsequent ones—unless otherwise instructed—will be left to purchase additional insurance. You know we have to protect the wife and babies, even if we have to go without a vacation ourself.
I hope to have the pleasure of meeting you here soon.
Very sincerely,

The police are looking for Sam G. Hurst, who, it is alleged, has within the past forty-eight hours attached the forged signature of Contractor A. W. Hayden to no less than three checks for $20 each which checks he has cashed, and with the proceeds of which he is now believed to be hiking to parts unknown.

Hurst has been in trouble before in his brief stay in Albuquerque, but on the former occasion he was able to square up, and it was believed that he had been driven to his former break by love for gambling. There is a pathetic feature in connection with the case. Hurst has a brother, an invalid who is just on the verge of death with consumption. The healthy brother has been taking care of the sick one and although his care is not what it might have been, the sick brother has disappeared with the well one and it is supposed that he is still looking after the wants of the invalid.

Friday night Hurst was seen playing faro, for which he has a strong liking. Saturday morning he was charged that he cashed a check for $20 at the Blinnchard Meat and Supply company's market on South First street, and he is believed to have left town immediately after. During the day two more bogus twenty dollar checks turned up, one held by F. E. Sturges, and the other by F. G. Pratt. All three were signed with the forged signature of A. W. Hayden, by whom Hurst had been employed. Hurst was probably caught before he gets far on his way.

TOO MANY DEFUNCT HORSES IN SAND HILLS

STUDENT OF HYGIENE SENDS A COMMUNICATION ON CITY SANITATION.

A well known graduate nurse and student of hygiene, who has resided in Albuquerque for some months past sends the Morning Journal a communication expressing appreciation of various articles and editorials that are appearing in this paper on the general subject of sanitation and hygiene. Part of the letter follows:

"The last article in which I was especially interested was regarding the need of a city scavenger. Albuquerque is growing rapidly, but will grow even faster and more substantially if the streets and yards are put in better condition. I know of one family who resided here last winter and who would have remained here permanently, the head of the family having retired from business, but for this one thing. While on this subject I would like to ask who is responsible for the large number of dead horses in the sand hills back of St. Joseph's sanitarium. I have no doubt they are beyond the city line, but not far enough to make it pleasant on the inner side of the line.

"In addition to the city scavenger, I have often wondered if anything could be done to educate the girls and boys to a pride in keeping the streets and yards clean and orderly. For example, by taking out of the way numerous snags, wires, etc., that tear clothes, puncture bicycle tires, hinder driving, etc. If at any time a project is started, such as is successful in many of our cities, of a boys' and girls' league for general work for the city, I would be very glad to do all I could to co-operate with the plan.

"I believe Albuquerque has a large future, and am happy to do anything I can to aid it. I am working to this end every day.

"I remain yours sincerely."

COL. BERGER SAYS BELEN IS GROWING FAST

SECRETARY OF NEW IMPROVEMENT COMMISSION ENTHUSIASTIC OVER TOWN'S PROSPECTS.

Colonel W. M. Berger, of Belen, secretary of the recently incorporated Belen Town and Improvement Commission, of which Col. Berger is president, is in the city in the interest of that concern and is enthusiastic over the future of the cut-off town. The company to which Mr. Berger belongs is doing much to advance the growth of the place and has placed on the market a thousand fine business and residence lots.

"Belen is growing faster than at any time in its history," said Col. Berger to the Journal man yesterday. "There are 1,500 people there now and more coming in all the time.

"The Santa Fe company's improvements at Belen are progressing rapidly. The company has a force of men at work grading for the depot and shops and when the grading is finished the yard limits as laid out will be 800 feet wide, a mile long and will accommodate seventy miles of side tracks if necessary. Sites have been selected for the new eating house, passenger and freight depots and round house and shops. The company is preparing to complete the cut-off from Belen west to the Pecos, and the work now being done on the new road east of the river keeps a steady stream of workmen moving through Belen all the time. Things are livelier there now than I ever saw them.

Col. Berger has during his twenty-five years in New Mexico had a great deal of experience in building up new towns, including Santa Fe, Las Vegas, Silver City and Deming, and in his element when at work helping a new town along the pathway of progress.

SEEM TO THINK ALBUQUERQUE THE MECCA FOR STRAYS

Police Chief's Correspondence Grows Voluminous.

LOS ANGELES HEARS FULL STORY OF MRS. FRANCE

The correspondence of Chief of Police McMillin is growing voluminous. It has been increasing steadily for some time and has long since passed the point, where if he answered it all he would have to employ several stenographers, a few translators and a few experts on mental diseases. The recent increase in the chief's mail is largely from women who believe that they have lost a husband, a brother or a son who in every case seems to have come direct to Albuquerque, or to New Mexico, and the Albuquerque officers are supposed to have direct touch with every village in the territory.

In addition to the daily appeals from Mrs. H. L. France, of Los Angeles, who refuses to believe that her handsome husband with a love for power, is not in this city, there has been added a woman in El Paso, who has lost a husband, brother, or son, or probably all three, and whose letters are sufficiently quaint to be interesting. Here is one of them selected from a dozen or so which have come within the past few days:

502 South Oregon, El Paso, Texas, Oct. 19, 1934.
Mr. Thomas McMillin, City Marshal, Albuquerque, N. M.
Honorable Sir: Will you kindly speak to my husband if he reaches this place. I identify you again the same trouble. I want that my husband return to me. MRS. FRANCE TELLS HER STORY IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles has heard the whole sad story of Mrs. H. L. France, the woman who has been searching for her husband who has fled the southwest with letters and who has offered Chief McMillin, the Morning Journal and many others fabulous sums for news of her husband.

The Los Angeles Times tells the story as follows:

H. S. France, locomotive engineer and ex-motorman on the Pacific Electric's Long Beach line, late of Los Angeles, but present whereabouts unknown, will please take notice.

Love, unbounded and heart-surgling, longed for him, and the wide-stretched arms and lips eager to kiss and he kissed awaits in the person of Mrs. France, his return.

Is this not enough? Then listen. There is still more awaiting the erstwhile Long Beach motorman: A $4,000 cash inheritance, a palatial, stately southern home, the pride of its locality, and of itself equal to the price of a small principality; a modern drug store, well stocked, and having a valuable, well-established trade; a large, well-furnished home; a rapidly growing southern city; and for full measure 600 acres of the choicest land in Alabama.

As a material inducement wouldn't that be sufficient to bring back to the Angel City any husband who might inadvertently have strayed away and become mislaid?

Sad Woman in Black.
But, alas, H. S. France is still out of sight, and the domestic tragedy has a phase which is pitifully pressed into public view. This is the mysterious woman in black who haunts the corridors of the main postoffice building, at Seventh and Grand avenues.

There, probably a hundred times a week, appears the black-clad, veiled figure of the deserted wife; and at the general delivery window, daily, and often many times a day, she with inquiries for mail from her absent spouse.

At last Mrs. France has been stung to desperation and she has determined to find the missing man or spend every cent she can obtain in the quest.

"I love him dearer than my life," cried Mrs. France, as she discussed the mysterious disappearance of her husband. "If he doesn't come home, I will hunt for him all over the world, for I will find him, no matter what it costs."

"I am first cousin to Gen. Stonewall Jackson," said she, raising her head proudly, and her eyes flashing with true southern fire. "Nothing ever daunted Gen. Jackson, and nothing will ever daunt me until I find my husband."

"I will pay $2,000 for information which will enable me to communicate with my husband. What is money to me without him here? I shall spend every cent which has come to me, if necessary, to find him."

As the first step in this search, outside of the local efforts which have been made, Mrs. France yesterday sent to all the leading daily newspapers of the southern states the following advertisement, with remittances to pay for insertion:

$2,000 REWARD—$2,000 reward will be paid for information which will enable me to communicate with my husband, H. S. France, a locomotive engineer and motorman. He may be in or about some mining camp, prospecting, or may be working at his trade in Texas or Mexico. If railroad or mine officials or other persons, will notify me of his whereabouts, I will pay the informant $2,000 in gold. Mrs. H. S. France, care General Delivery, Los Angeles, Cal.

Moves to the Postoffice.
When France left his home their residence was in a cozy cottage at No. 715 Central avenue. As the days slipped by and the man did not return, Mrs. France began to haunt the postoffice, with the hope that she might write there under the impression that she would give up their home and seek quarters elsewhere. Finally, in order to be in proximity to the postoffice, so that she could call after evening mail, the devoted woman moved out of the Central avenue home, and took rooms in the block adjoining the postoffice. From there she makes the daily heartbreaking trips to the general delivery window, only to be more bitterly disappointed as the days go by.

France was in the employ of the Pacific Electric company, and was considered an experienced and reliable motorman. He was a run on the Long Beach line, and with his wife settled in the cozy quarters on Central avenue, to be convenient to his work.

There was much billing and cooing in the little, new-furnished nest, and apparently the France couple was perfectly happy. All went well until August 14. Then France came home from his car house, and told his wife that he had taken a few days' lay-off to rest up.

Pool Rooms Get Him.
They had saved up $2,000, and this France carried with him. The day that he got his lay-off, he told his wife he was going to the Vernon pool rooms to try his luck on the races.

The woman remonstrated. She knew his failing, and that gambling was a terrible passion within her husband. When once aroused, she pleaded with him not to go, but he was determined. She followed him to the car, and boarded it with him. Even on the car she continued her urging that the wild project be given up, but he only seemed to determine France to persist.

At Thirty-first street France kissed his wife good by and helped her off the car, so that she told his wife he was going to the Vernon pool rooms to try his luck on the races. He called back to her that he would return at 5 o'clock, and that he wanted a good supper. Mrs. France never saw her husband again.

Various efforts were made to locate him, through local detective agencies and the police department, but nothing came of it—not a clue was discovered.

Wife Inherits Fortune.
And now comes news to Mrs. France which places her in a position so that she can continue her search. She has inherited a fortune from an uncle who has died in Alabama. The bulk of his property goes to Mrs. France.

The property includes a splendid southern mansion, surrounded by a noble park, and filled with rich furniture and fittings gathered from many parts of the world. Then there is the drug store and its extensive business, an income property of no mean dimensions and constantly increasing; and then there is a magnificent tract of 600 acres—one of the most productive of Alabama's plantations. Besides all this a lump sum of $4,000 in hard cash is coming to Mrs. France as her portion of the bank assets of her deceased uncle.

And in all this good fortune, the woman's thoughts fondly turn to her missing husband. Her heart cries out for him, and she counts the southern fortune of no avail, except that it may help her in her search for the man she loves.

South or in Mexico?
Mrs. France thinks the man is either in the southern states or Mexico. She says: "He often asked me if I would not like to go down into Mexico with him, so that he might prospect there. I didn't want him to go. We had a dear little home, and were happy here. He had a good job, and was getting along all right."

"His great fault was gambling, and it is this rock on which our happiness has been wrecked. But I will find him again—I must find him; I cannot live without him. I may hear from him today." And the poor woman arose to make another journey to the long corridors of the postoffice and face another disappointment.

The southern estate which has been left to Mrs. France is still in an unsettled condition. J. C. Calhoun, a local attorney, who is an old friend of Mrs. France's family, has been made agent to settle the estate, and he, also, is anxious to find the missing motorman, as it is necessary to secure his signature to various legal papers.

It is believed France will "see a great light" when he hears of his wife's good fortune, and that he will return penitent, or with a tale of having wandered away in a daze, etc. He doesn't need to be over-particular about the make-up of his story. The waiting woman will eagerly swallow it, and give her Hegg Lord a hearty welcome.

OF THE CANYON.

Ford Harvey, head of the Harvey system, and C. W. Armour, head of the Armour interests in Kansas City, who passed through Albuquerque a few days ago on their way west, are now somewhere in the wilderness on the north side of the Grand Canyon, searching for bear, deer, mountain lions, elephants, or any other monsters of the wild which are big enough to make a good mark for a title in the hands of a great man or of an eating house system.

Mr. Martin Buggeln, of the Grand Canyon hotel, furnished the hunters with their equipment and shooting irons, and provided men to see that they are not lost in the woods and do not fall into the canyon. R. F. R. Nellis and Bert Adams, old-timers at the canyon are acting as guides.

"Owing to the fact that recent floods have seriously damaged the always steep and dangerous trail from the river to the north rim opposite Bright Angel, it was necessary after a futile attempt to cross that way, to ascend to the south rim again and cross by way of Base trail."

Bacon and corned beef, bear meat and venison, will be the menu while the easterners are on the trail, and it is suspected that the leading bill of fare and the soft beds of El Tovar will

NO CURE IN ALL THE WORLD IS LIKE THIS

Writes Local Minister to Former Charge.

ALBUQUERQUE'S GROWTH IS NOTHING SHORT OF MARVELOUS

Rev. John Barron, pastor of the Congregational church in this city writes as follows to the Register Chronicle, a newspaper published at the scene of his recent ministerial labors at Marquette, Illinois: "I had expected to fulfill my promise to give my impressions of New Mexico and the city of Albuquerque long before this but have been unable to do so until now. Perhaps it is only the best for many people make the mistake of writing about places before taking time to understand the real situation. I do not pretend to know New Mexico or even the people of the city of Albuquerque but will give the impressions received up to the present.

The journey was long, hot and dusty and it was a real pleasure and great surprise to step of the cars into the beautiful depot at Albuquerque. It was nearly midnight, yet we were met by about a dozen of the people of the church. The first night was spent at the Alvarado hotel. This hotel was built by the Santa Fe railroad at great cost and it is the pride of the city. It is as good as anything of the kind in Chicago or New York. Long before daybreak we had decided to leave Albuquerque but on account of the noise from trains and switch engines, which never ceased from dark to dawn.

The first two days were spent in sight-seeing and house hunting. It seemed that houses were more scarce here than on any other part of the earth. The residence portion of the city is slightly disappointing, better than business section is much better than I had expected to find. A stranger at once impressed with the business activity and splendid buildings. It is said that this city does as much business as most eastern cities of forty thousand people, and I have every reason to believe it is so. Many of the dry goods stores are owned by Jews. The Jewish community is unusually large and they have their own church and synagogue. They are patriotic and public spirited citizens and splendid business men, as may be seen by the store windows as attractive as the stores of State street, Chicago.

Some people who come here seem to see nothing but the glaring saloons and gambling places into which a stream of men is ever pouring after 1:30 in the evening. But other things of interest are to be seen. The schools are as good as any to be found in any eastern city of the same size and we have a small university with a faculty of scholars and cultured men.

End of Church Building.
The churches are having an era of church building and very soon the churches will compare favorably with those of eastern cities of like size. Homes are improving very rapidly and many fine residences are now being built. The finest building in the city is occupied by the Commercial club, which is a social organization and is based of trade in the same time. It booms the town on all occasions and takes the lead in everything, stimulating the public spirit of the people and does effective work in securing new industries and trade and promoting trade. The banks have very fine buildings, with large capital, and a combined deposit of more than four millions. There are two daily papers worthy of any city; also six weekly papers.

City's Remarkable Growth.
The recent growth of Albuquerque is remarkable. In 1900 the population was about 7,000. It has now about 15,000 people, not counting Old Albuquerque with a population of about 1,200, or Barlow with about 1,000. The city is growing very fast. The superintendent of the census has stated in one of the papers that there were 200 more students in the schools on the first of October than on the first of November one year ago. The postmaster has just asked for an extra mail carrier to meet the increase of population. The traction company is planning improvements to cost upwards of $50,000 in the extension of the street cars and here let me say that no city has better cars or better service as far as it goes. During the week of the territorial fair, 52,000 people rode on the street cars.

I do not feel like saying much about the actual facts from personal observation. It is certainly fine now and has been since the end of August. It is quite warm in the sun most every day but in the shade it is also warm and the nights are perfect for walking and sleeping. Many people come here on account of the high, dry and mild climate. The whole country is a natural sanatorium for tuberculosis sufferers. Those who know most as to climate are confident there is no climate in the world equal to this. There is something very fascinating in climate, city, people and territory.

Yours
JOHN W. BARRON.

BILL BAILEY HELD FOR VICIOUS ASSAULT

BEAT HIS PARTICULAR FRIEND, MISS SUSIE DAVIS INTO A PULP.

Bill Bailey, a negro, whose only relation to the song that his name is found in is his domineering way with the women, has been held in jail for a vicious assault upon the person of Miss Susie Davis, also colored, and who, up to Saturday night, was Bailey's particular friend. In other words, "his steady."

Saturday night, the Davis girl, who is a domestic employed on the west side, went out for a walk with Bill. According to her story the man tried to assault her, and she was rescued by several people of the neighborhood of Robinson park, who were attracted by her cries.

Yesterday Bailey found the girl and proceeded to administer a severe beating, so severe that it is said the girl is seriously if not dangerously hurt. The man was arrested at once and will be given a hearing this morning in police court. Bailey has figured frequently in the police court records and is considered a dangerous man.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for years a Vaginal Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes: "I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use."

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would blot after eating and frequently become nervous. The doctors prescribed down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. I was as bad as a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I had heard of, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all the above difficulties, and find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures females, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universal remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating or distention, general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Experience has proved this.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is free and confidential.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Experience has proved this.

After Eighteen Years of Mark.

The congressional committee will one and all be "thorough and fatherly" and will return to Washington and give Arizona statehood by being joined with New Mexico. See how true that will be. Eighteen years of Mark Twain, to the contrary notwithstanding.—Bisbee Herald.

That's it, Brother Simple. Now you have discovered justice will be done around a bit and you will find many reasons why it should be. The assembled wisdom of the United States has decreed it and its reasons are numerous, cogent and powerful.—Nogales Herald.

Which They Are Not.

Arizona has now within its borders a party of congressmen who are being whisked through the territory, dining and dining at the private homes of the gentlemen who are the head of the anti-statehood movement. If anyone who thinks to the contrary is permitted to meet the congressional gentlemen it will be a miracle. And they will be expected to return to Washington and give Arizona statehood by being joined with New Mexico.—which they are not.—Nogales Herald.

Another "Traitor."

Another traitor to Arizona's interests has been discovered in O. D. M. Judd, the postmaster at Kluksman, assuming that his communication would not reach the public eye. Judd recently wrote a letter to Congressman Tawney that reached him soon after he entered the territory, wherein the postmaster advised the congressman that he will be imposed upon by a number of officeholders and politicians who will represent that most everyone in Arizona is opposed to statehood.

Quite proper to assert that "the people are beginning to catch on, and lozenges and dogens are becoming favorable to joining." Two months ago," says Judd, "I was the only man in town who was in favor of joint statehood. Personally, I would not support single statehood if I had a chance, because Arizona is not strong enough now to be for some time."—Prescott Journal-Miner.

A Pointer for the Anti.

The statehood meeting Saturday night was a success. It put the republicans, party of the anti-statehood movement, in a bad position. The selection of Mr. Bowie as one of the committee members shows that it was merely a political move but an endorsement of a principle. It is some of the people who are fighting the joint statehood and who could have been at the meeting they would have wondered where they were at. It was enthusiastic from start to finish and if some of the other counties that are as anxious for joint statehood as McKinley will follow suit, New Mexico will be united with Arizona as one great state before the leaves again come out on the trees. It is the method of the anti to Jerry the joint statehood movement by making sport of it. They were handed a package the other night that will open their eyes and show them that there is one county besides Bernalillo that is without a dissenting voice for joint statehood with Arizona.—Gallup Republican.

Another "Investigation."

The party of congressmen, of which much has been said of late, supposed to have been led by Speaker Joe Cannon, of the national house of representatives, has come and gone. The "investigation" done was confined to Las Vegas, Santa Fe and Albuquerque, and like the Beveridge investigation (?) was confined principally to efforts in the direction of finding out all the drawbacks to statehood, and turning down all evidence in the part of New Mexico's citizens to show them the many reasons why statehood is desired and merited.

In fact, the much-heralded party of investigation turns out to have been simply a congressional joint at the invitation and expense of an Arizona mining man of Clifton. Speaking of the party which passed through El Paso, the Herald of Tucson, says:

"Are the eleven hour, twelve day determined not to make the journey Congressman Tawney, of Minnesota, another of the chief figures of the statehood agitation, headed the party.—Carlsbad Argus.

A Dead Rattling Cry.

For nearly a decade we have had the "Smith and Statehood" cry, and the yelps of those who have worshipped the finest "bull cover" in the territory, but in all the history of Arizona the morning paper cannot show a single, solitary advantage Arizona has ever had, or accomplished through the "Smith and Statehood" cry. That is a dead rattling cry. It is a dead rattling cry, and we expect to live to see Arizona enjoying the fruits of statehood. Not one brick stands upon a government structure in Arizona. The land office at Tucson is removed from the place where it was of some convenience to the people who did the great majority of business conducted there. The grafters of Maricopa county have become drunk with the spoils of officeholding, with which the people have had nothing whatever to do.—Bisbee Miner.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has proved that dandruff is caused by a germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newcomb's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff and sear by digging into the scalp to get to the root of the hair, where it is the vitality, causing itching, scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send for it in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. D. H. ANOTHER FIGHT COMING ON SEED APPROPRIATION

Congressmen Object to the Enormous Distribution.

AGRICULTURAL STATESMEN
EXPECT LIVELY SCRAP

Correspondence Morning Journal.
Washington, Oct. 19.—Members of congress from agricultural districts are anticipating a renewal of the fight at the coming session of congress against their pet hobby—the free distribution of seed by the government on which a determined attack was launched last year. When the appropriations for the agricultural department are made it is expected that the item providing for the maintenance of the seed-distribution bureau will meet with vigorous opposition, on the ground that it is an extravagance and an expensive burden on the government.

It is the contention of those opposed to the appropriation, who consist almost wholly of representatives from city districts, that the distribution of seed in the manner in which it is now carried on is practically worthless as a means of promoting agricultural industry in the country. The point is made that the quantity of seed sent to each person is not sufficient to be of any practical use, while the expense of packing and distributing it is enormous. The allotment to each person consists usually of five small packets containing varieties of either vegetable or flower seeds; and having a value in the market of about 25 cents.

On the other hand, it is held by the representatives from the country districts that the free distribution of seed has given a great stimulus to the farming industry, and that to abolish it now would tend toward restraining the natural development of the country. This contention is corroborated by reports of the agricultural department, in which it is shown that the gratuitous distribution of the vegetable seeds has had a tendency toward raising the standard of agricultural products throughout the country. While there is little fear that the efforts of the city representatives will have a successful issue, the campaign will be watched with interest all over the country. Thousands of persons from Maine to California are now in annual receipt of seed from the government, and the stoppage of the distribution would cause a loss from one end of the country to the other. Indeed, its continuance is as vital to the representatives themselves as their constituents, as it has always proven a boom to them when seeking reelection.

Increase in Appropriations.
In connection with the interest now centering around this branch of the agricultural department it is interesting to note that the congressional seed distribution is a striking characteristic of the wonderful development of the government. In 1839 congress appropriated $1,000 for the purpose of collecting and distributing rare and improved varieties of seed. Year by year these appropriations have steadily increased, climbing from the original sum of about $300,000 annually, which is approximately the amount of the appropriations for the past few years.

It was through the efforts of Henry J. Ellsworth, commissioner of patents from 1836 to 1845, that the present system of free distribution of seeds was inaugurated. Prior to July 1, 1862, the "agricultural division," as it was then known, was a part of the patent office. Mr. Ellsworth conceived the scheme of sending seeds to the farmers, and as a result of his arguments in favor of the innovation congress was led to make its first appropriation in 1859.

For many years the work of putting up the seeds in packages for congressional distribution was done entirely by hand. It was the custom of the senators and representatives to send their franked and addressed slips to the department of agriculture, where the work of counting the slips, putting them on the envelopes and filling them with seed was done by manual labor.

Use of Ingenious Machinery.
In the past three years, however, a remarkable change in the method of preparing the seed for shipment has been inaugurated. The work is now carried on in a large three-story building in the vicinity of the department, where the latest mechanical devices have been installed. The antiquated methods were left behind when possession of the building was taken three years ago. The laborious hand work has been supplanted by machinery so human in its action that one is almost inclined to believe it thinks.

From seedmen in various parts of the country the government buys its seed, California being the most favored state. It is shipped to Washington in bags containing two bushels each, and is then put into shape for distribution throughout the country. The process through which the seeds pass from the time of entering the building until they are sent with out cost to the public is a marvel of inventive genius. Upon delivery at the distribution bureau the seeds are weighed and taken to the third floor of the building, where they are emptied into hoppers and permitted to filter down into the bag-filling machines placed under each hopper.

There are seventeen of these machines in the building, and they are placed in a larger envelope, each containing five small packets of different varieties. The first step in this operation is the counting of the franked and addressed slips, which is done by means of an automatic counting machine. This machine is the invention of Prof. Galloway of the Agricultural department, and is capable of counting on an average of 500 slips a minute, registering at the same time every slip counted.

The counting finished, the addressed slips are taken to the second floor, where they are pasted in large envelopes, after which they are ready to be filled with the five smaller packets containing the seed. The filling of these large envelopes is done in a novel manner. Running almost the entire length of the room are four seed bins. In front of each row of bins runs an endless belt a foot and a half in width, moving slowly towards the rear of the room. On a level with the belt each bin has a small outlet for the packets containing the seed.

The large envelopes in which the seeds are to be put are placed one after another on the continuously moving belt. When the empty envelope reaches the outlet of the first bin, on its journey to the rear of the room, a small packet containing the variety of seed in that particular bin is placed upon the envelope as it passes. As it reaches the outlet of the next bin a similar process occurs, but this time a different variety of seed is put upon the envelope, and so on until five varieties, in turn, have been dropped upon it. On reaching the end of the belt the envelope is picked up and the five packets of seeds upon it are placed within and passed on to the sealing machine, where it is closed automatically by means of small wire rivets.

Government Mail Bags Filled.
The addressed envelopes containing the seeds are then ready for mailing. The packages are counted, placed in large government mail bags, and are sent to the postoffice department to be forwarded to the states in which they are to be distributed.

That necessity is the mother of invention was never more fully exemplified than in the work of this branch of the agricultural department. With the constantly increasing agricultural industry of the country there was a demand for time and labor-saving machinery. This demand was met by American inventive genius, and as a result these marvelous mechanical devices have been perfected and are now doing the work in less time and more accurately than could possibly be done by hand.

At the present time the bureau is preparing to handle the annual distribution, which will take place next spring, and which will be larger than previous years. While the force of workmen employed at the bureau is engaged in putting the seed in packets, thousands of mailing slips are being addressed by secretaries to the representatives to be attached to packages containing the seed.

INSISTS HE IS BADLY WANTED NEW YORK EMBEZZLER

Richard F. Hayes Gives Himself Up in Bisbee.

ALLEGES HE IS MAN WHO STOLE OVER $67,000

Still insisting that he is the Richard F. Hayes wanted in New York for embezzlement of $67,000 or more, the man who surrendered himself to Marshal Snodgrass on Thursday continues in a cell at the branch of the county jail, says the Bisbee Review.

Yesterday Marshal Snodgrass received a telegram from the chief of detectives of New York city, advising him that he was aware of the telegram sent early yesterday morning by Mrs. Seaman, and that it was genuine. The detective further instructed the holding of Hayes, and said he would send full information and instructions later.

This telegram, in conjunction with statements made by Hayes, has convinced the officers that Hayes is without doubt the man he claims to be. The most interesting question locally, however, after the establishment of the identity of Hayes, is the matter of the $10,000 reward that Hayes claims is standing for his delivery to the New York officials. Nothing has been said in the telegrams from New York to date about a reward.

Hayes said yesterday to a reporter who visited him at his cell that his thefts from the Seaman company would aggregate over $100,000, and that they might go to the $120,000 if the company alleges him to be short. Hayes says he has enjoyed the first rest and peace of mind since his surrender that he has known since fleeing from New York.

"From New York west," said Hayes, "I held good positions from time to time, but there was rest no place. I was no sooner at work than apprehension of detection seized me, and then it would be all off. I have been through hell, and I will be glad to get back to New York and face the courts. I believe I can make a winning fight and get off without imprisonment. But anything rather than the terrors of a trial."

Asked how he accomplished his thefts, Hayes said he was credit man with the Seaman company, and that he systematically oversold people doing business with the house, besides tampering with the book and cash accounts.

The opinion of the officers here is that he had confederates in his pecculations, and that it was due to this fact that he hopes to escape prison on his return to New York, he counting on the high standing of those involved with him and their desire to be screened to enable him to get assistance that will protect him. This theory is strengthened by the actions of Hayes since here. When he first came he telegraphed east for money, which was forwarded. He ran through with the money he received in a day. He then telegraphed for more. Reply was not prompt, and while he was waiting impatiently for it Hayes gave vent to threats to kill himself or give somebody trouble.

The Wilson Heater with the celebrated Hot Blast Down-Draft is the only heater which actually burns all of the fuel put into it. The Hot Blast Down-Draft creates perfect combustion and the fumes which rise from the fuel, ordinarily escaping unburned in other stoves, are all consumed and turned into heat in the Wilson. It has been ascertained that the fumes which arise from the fuel constitute 40 per cent of the entire heating power of the fuel. Buy a Wilson and get all the heat you are paying for.

Good Clothes

EVERYBODY knows, now-a-days, that only a few obstinate men continue to have their clothes made to order. Perhaps they do it because they dislike the term "ready-made." In most cases they like to pay for a fashionable tailor's label. These are the only two plausible reasons. On the other hand there is every reason why a man should economize when he can get absolutely the best there is to be had by patronizing the clothing store that he knows can meet his requirements. It then becomes largely a question of quality and right price. We know exactly where we stand on this question; and in offering a complete line of our guaranteed clothing we present clothing that stands pre eminent in the quality of its goods and workmanship, and unsurpassed for the style features. We commend it to your good judgment.
