ALABAMA SEEKS FROM CAR WINDOW

The President Has Strenuous Day's Journey.

GREAT OVATION AT ALL POINTS WHILE DAYLIGHT LASTED

Tells the People of Great Industrial Center Now Proud He is of Their Marvelous Achievements.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 24.—President Roosevelt concluded a strenuous day in Alabama by a two-hour visit to Birmingham, where his reception, in keeping with those given him at Montgomery and Tuskegee, was hearty and soul-stirring. His day began at 7 o'clock, when the special train left Montgomery for Tuskegee. Visits to the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute and to the Methodist Episcopal college were crowded into a little less than two hours, and the noon hour had just arrived when the executive stepped from his car in Montgomery. Here he spoke to a great throng under the shadow of the Confederacy's first capital and was on his way again sharply at 2 o'clock. A few minutes before 5 the president was the guest of Birmingham and until his train left at 6:45 p. m. on the night run to Little Rock, the president was cheered at every turn.

Drunken Man Drops Pistol.

The day was unmarked by any special incident except at Birmingham. Here, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Twentieth street, an intoxicated man in his excitement dropped a pistol from his pocket on the pavement. The president saw the incident and called the attention of the officers to the man, who was immediately arrested. The president's train arrived in Birmingham promptly on time. Mayor George B. Ward, surrounded by a reception committee, made the formal address of welcome at the station, and immediately afterward the party entered carriages and began the march to Capitol Park, eight squares distant.

The parade was along north Twentieth street and the entire line of march was packed with people. Rows of incandescent lights the full length of the street, and the more brilliant as evening came on. The ovation was continuous and the president stood in his carriage the whole of the way acknowledging the outburst of enthusiasm. Capitol Park was brilliantly lighted. As the party entered the speaker's stand great applause greeted the president and again as he arose to speak. He began by speaking of Alabama's wonderful recovery from the devastation of the war and referred to the state's great natural resources. "But, my friends," he continued, "there is something that is ahead of any kind of natural resources, and that is the citizenship of the man of the soil. I want now to say that proud thought I am of your extraordinary industrial properties, I am prouder of the men who have achieved it."

"Think what it means for our nation to have the president of the United States greet as he has been greeted today, on his right and on his left hand as the guard of honor, the veterans of the civil war, the men who wore the blue, the men who were the gray united forever."

Following the president's speech, ex-Governor Joseph E. Johnston spoke in behalf of the United Confederate Veterans, and presented to the president several young ladies, descendants of Confederate soldiers and sponsors, and medals of honor, and presented to the president a badge from the camp. "We do this to express to you our respect for the president of the United States," said the governor. "Our confidence in the courage, unswerving patriotism, and generous impulses of Theodore Roosevelt, and in appreciation of your many kindnesses to Confederate veterans, and especially for the unsought honor recently conferred upon the members of the camp."

"We present this to you, sir, because we believe you come nearer standing for the ideals that have inspired our lives than any president that we have had since the war. Had you been born north of Mason and Dixon's line, Mr. President, many of us in the war between the states might have followed the flag of our fathers, the stars and stripes, but we are sure that had you been born twenty years earlier, and in Georgia, where you should have been born, that you would have been a gallant leader of a brigade under Forrest or Stuart."

TO DECORATE THE MIKADO.

Order of the Garter to Be Conferred by King Edward.

London, Oct. 24.—A dispatch to the Express from Tokyo says it is understood that King Edward will confer on the Mikado the decoration of the Order of the Garter, which will be conveyed to him by a special mission, headed by Prince Arthur of Connaught, early next year.

NAVAL MEN FACE PROBLEM.

Olongapo Dry Dock May Balk in Suez Canal or Sink If Towed Around the Horn.

Washington, Oct. 24.—There is a conflict of opinion in the navy department as to the best means and route for taking the steel floating dry dock built in Maryland to its destination at Olongapo, Philippine Islands. Many naval officers believe it will be wrecked if it is sent around the cape, and others are equally certain that it will go to pieces in the Suez canal and block traffic there at an immense cost to this government in damages.

It has not been learned what the exact canal toll will be and it is said that the canal authorities fear the feasibility of taking the dock through the waterway. The towage cost will be immense if the canal route cannot be taken.

The Path of President Roosevelt's Whirlwind Tour Through the South Now Nearing Its End

WITTE'S INFLUENCE ALREADY EVIDENT IN CZAR'S REFORMS

Broadening of the Franchise Agreed Upon.

NOW CONCEDED THAT GREAT RUSSIAN IS PRIME MINISTER

St. Petersburg, Oct. 24.—The announcement made in these dispatches yesterday that Count Witte would shortly assume active direction of the government as premier and head of a responsible cabinet, seems to be fully confirmed. It can be stated positively that the emperor has tendered the position of premier of the cabinet about to be formed by the count, who, however, guarded his acceptance with certain conditions, which were placed before his majesty in the form of a written memorandum. Count Witte is said to have informed the emperor in his usual fearless manner, that he could accept the position only on the condition that he would be a real premier with a working cabinet, and not the mere figurehead of an irresponsible body.

According to a persistent report, the emperor actually appointed Count Witte as premier, after accepting his stipulations. This report is premature, but it can be said that his majesty has undoubtedly conceded to the count the task of drawing up, according to his ideas, the project for a responsible ministerial cabinet, the consideration of which was being dragged out in the special conference. It can also be said that, following advice of Count Witte, the powers of the new cabinet will be extended along western lines and the franchises broadened. The reforms will be accompanied by the practical freedom of the press and of meeting, in order to meet, at least partially, popular demands.

Count Witte insisted that only in this way could the country be tranquilized and the emperor apparently heeded the warning.

TEXTILE UNIONS TO VOTE ON STRIKE

OPEN BREACH AGAIN BETWEEN FALL RIVER OPERATORS AND EMPLOYERS.

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 24.—Although the Fall River Textile council which held a special meeting tonight to consider the refusal of the Manufacturers' association to grant a direct wage increase of eight to more than fourteen per cent, made no recommendation to the various unions, indications point to a general strike before the close of the month. Special meetings of all the unions will be held tomorrow night to vote on the question of leaving the mills. One or two of the union officers predict that a strike will be ordered. There are five unions in the textile industry, and a two-thirds vote of three of them will have to be obtained by those favoring a radical step before a general strike, sanctioned by the United Textile Workers of America, can go into effect.

Hundreds See Body of Simpson.

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 24.—Hundreds of friends, admirers and fellow townsmen of the late Jerry Simpson today viewed the body of the departed ex-congressman at Mason's Temple. The body will lie in state until tomorrow at 2 p. m., when the funeral will take place.

Star Gave $10,000 to Calabaria.

Rome, Oct. 24.—King Victor Emmanuel recently received the sum of $10,000 anonymously for the benefit of the sufferers by the recent earthquakes in the province of Calabria. Baron Kotchen, the Russian consul at Reggio, now states that the contribution was made by Emperor Nicholas.

Bank Robbers Get $6,000.

Ridgeville, Ind., Oct. 24.—Robbers last night wrecked the safe of the Ridgeville State Bank and escaped with about $6,000. The explosion aroused Cashier Branson who got to the bank in time to receive a bullet in the ankle. Before entering the bank, the robbers met the town watchmen, overpowered, bound and gagged him.

FIRST DAMAGE SUIT FROM GREAT IROQUOIS FIRE

Miss Edna Hunt Asks for $25,000.

TWO OF HER COMPANIONS WERE BURNED TO DEATH

Chicago, Oct. 24.—The first damage suit against the proprietors of the Iroquois theatre, which was burned December 20, 1903, will be commenced tomorrow morning in the United States circuit court before Judge Landis. Edna S. Hunt, who was badly injured in the fire, has brought suit for $25,000 against the theatre company and the George A. Fuller Construction company, which erected the building. Two weeks have been occupied in securing a jury. It was completed late this afternoon, and Attorney Charles S. Spencer made the opening statement for the plaintiff. He declared to the jury that he would show by evidence that the proprietors were grossly violated by the theatre proprietors. There was, he declared, no fire in the roof, but the exits were not properly marked, that there was no automatic sprinkler, and that the appliances for extinguishing fire were grossly inadequate.

Attorney Spencer announced that his first witness will be the plaintiff, Miss Hunt. She was with a party of six young women in the gallery. When the flames burst out she ran toward the exit through which she had entered, and she was trampled on, bruised and burned, and finally escaped with her life. Two of her companions were burned to death and the others escaped.

Plot to Depose King Peter.

Odessa, Oct. 24.—There are many indications of a widespread plot to depose King Peter of Serbia. An ex-minister of Serbia, writing to a friend in Odessa, declares that the king's position becomes more perilous every day. Conspirators are at work, and they swear that King Peter will be removed from the throne in one way or another.

The king is well aware of the plot, and he is anxious to abdicate in favor of his son.

"Weak and unstable as the present distracted regime is," says the ex-minister, "the king's abdication would, owing to the character of the heir to the throne, be calamitous for the country. The new king's reign would be in all probability very brief, and the end as tragic as that of Alexander Obrenovitch."

MUTUAL PAID $2 PER LINE FOR REPORT

News Bureau Employed to Publish Favorable Accounts

COMES OUT IN INVESTIGATION OF ADVERTISING ACCOUNT

Famous Actuary Says There Should Be No Restrictive Laws But Admits His Ideas Are Not Popular.

New York, Oct. 24.—At the session today of the legislative committee investigating the insurance companies, the affairs of the Mutual Life Insurance company were under consideration and it was brought out that this company was paying for the dissemination throughout the country of representations of this investigation that were favorable to the company. Charles J. Smith, a newspaper man, was the witness. He is employed by the Mutual Life Insurance company to do a large number of things, but a month ago was placed in charge of sending out these reports. Mr. Smith had visited a number of congressmen for the payment of this work, and those aggregated $11,000 with more bills to come in.

He thought the amount to date would reach $10,000. Smith wrote these reports and submitted them to Allan Forman, who owns a telegraphic news bureau, and $1 a line was paid by the Mutual Life for the service. Clippings from various papers about the country were shown to the actuary and identified as the dispatches he wrote and sent to Mr. Forman. There were sent to about one hundred papers, but Mr. Smith did not know whether the papers were paid for or not. In one dispatch Mr. Smith wrote that Mr. McCarty's attitude on the stand made a distinctly favorable impression and for this he was paid $2 a line. This he said was worth it.

Following Mr. Smith, Walter Sullivan, who has charge of the magazine advertising department, was called. He said the Mutual Life paid for a twelve magazine last year at a cost of $42,000. Advertising in insurance papers cost about $20,000 more, but he could not tell where the remainder of the account of $328,797, the amount charged up, for advertising last year, was spent.

No Laws Needed.

Earlier in the day Emory McClintock, actuary of the Mutual Life, was on the stand. The entire early session of the day before recess was given over to his explanations of technical insurance. Mr. McClintock practically advocated no laws for the insurance companies except that certain supervision to give the reports publicly. He thought the public could take care of themselves, and that publicity was the best law. Asked how far this view was shared in official circles, he said he thought he was somewhat of a missionary along that line.

Mr. McClintock was to have been on the stand again in the afternoon, but he was called back to the stand by a slight attack of vertigo to which he is subject. He will be called again tomorrow.

John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, was examined and when the adjournment was taken this afternoon his testimony was unfinished.

Metropolitan on the Table.

When the testimony of some of the other life insurance presidents who have testified, Mr. Hegeman's remarks and explanations were none the less interesting. His explanation was that $876,000 was given to the industrial policy holders of his company last year without any obligation whatever. Mr. Hegeman further said that in eight years his company had voluntarily paid to policy holders $3,998,000. This was in extended insurance, mortuary dividends and liberalized policies during epidemics, floods and fires.

It was brought out that while the company carried collateral loans throughout the year, none appeared in the annual report on December 31. This was explained by the witness, who said that the statements were transferred on the first day of the year to Vermilye & Co., bankers, under an agreement, and were brought back again in January. This was done, according to the witness, to avoid having applications for call loans from the Wall Street district.

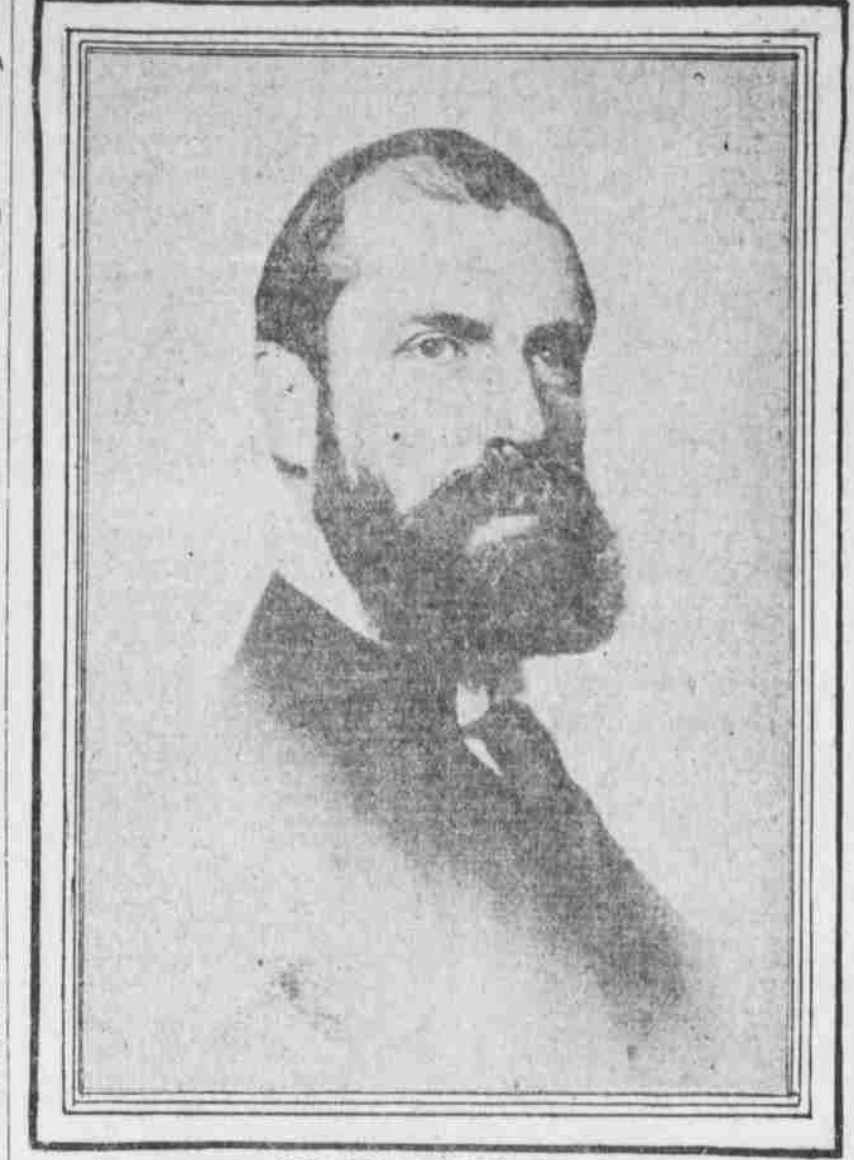

Mr. Hegeman did not encourage the call loan business from this section because it entailed keeping a ticker in his office, and he would not have there. He further did not care to have his company known as a loaning company.

The large loans at such a low interest rate, 1 1/2 per cent, attracted the one to President John A. McCull, of the New York Life Insurance company, were taken up and Mr. Hegeman snook strongly of his friendship for McCull, who he said was a close friend of other men to him in the insurance business, outside of his immediate associates. Mr. McCull had rendered him valuable service that was hard to repay to him, and he thought the company could afford, and would have been justified, in paying Mr. McCull the few hundreds of dollars the loans amounted to. The same was true, he said, of Sigmund D. Dutcher, a director of the company, who carried large loans with the company at low interest.

Ryan Trustees Want Suggestions.

New York, Oct. 24.—Grover Cleveland, Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse, the stock voting trustees in the Equitable Life Assurance society, today sent out through the secretary, George F. Parker, circular letters to all the policy holders of the society, asking for suggestions as to the choice of the thirteen directors to be chosen by the president.

All Documents and Records of Allegheny Bank Ordered Turned Over to United States Attorney With a View of Prosecution If Evidence Warrants

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 24.—At a late hour tonight it was learned that Bank Examiner John H. Cunningham while making an examination of the Bank of Pittsburg, found a discrepancy between the reports made to Comptroller of Currency Ridgely by the Bank of Pittsburg, and the Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny, which led to the closing of the latter institution.

Acting Attorney General Hoyt has directed United States District Attorney J. M. Denkle to make an investigation into the affair of the Enterprise National bank with a view to criminal proceedings if the evidence warrants such a course.

Mr. Hoyt's order means that all papers and other evidence in the possession of Bank Examiner Cunningham will be turned over at once to United States District Attorney Denkle and that from now on the local representatives of the federal government will have charge of the case. Comptroller Ridgely has not yet arrived in the city, but is expected soon.

PLANNED TO WRECK TWO EMBASSIES

ARMENIAN HOSPITAL CHIEF REVEALS UGLY PLOT IN CONSTANTINOPLE.

Constantinople, Oct. 24.—The Armenian, Arkel, the colleague of the Austrian hospital, where a large stock of munitions, explosive powders, electrical apparatus and machines for the fabrication of bombs was found, has made a complete confession of his complicity in a formidable plan of the "committee" to blow up, not the hospital, as was reported in the beginning, but the "hashanah" (the factory of the gas reservoirs), and the German and Austrian embassies. He said that he is through on the Armenians, yet the revolutionary efforts of the Ottoman of Young Turkey are more formidable.

The dynamite which was found in the Hotel Kroker, near the British embassy, was destined to blow up the latter soon after the return of the ambassador from his summer residence. This was a plan, however, not by Armenians but by Moslems belonging to the revolutionary party of Young Turkey.

The prisoners being overhauled at the present time are accused of jobs being exceedingly slow, the authorities are anxious to make room for new prisoners as quickly as possible, and speedy execution by hanging is the only proper method of investigation, seems to the Turkish officials the easiest method of attaining this end.

The wholesale hanging is performed in the prison courts and in the flood of night, in order to cause as little excitement as possible.

Mrs. Rogers Gets Appeal.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Mary Mabel Rogers, under sentence of death in Vermont for killing her husband, was today granted leave to proceed on appeal before the supreme court of the United States as a pauper, without payment of costs.

MILLIONAIRE CLUBMAN KILLED BY LOCOMOTIVE

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—Losing his balance as he was about to board a westbound train which was approaching the Fifty-second street station of the Pennsylvania road today, B. Frank Clyde, vice president of the William P. Clyde Steamship company and a millionaire clubman, was dragged under the wheels of the locomotive and instantly killed. His body was terribly mangled and his face was crushed beyond recognition. Identification being made by means of a tailor's label on the clothing bearing Mr. Clyde's name.

While his body was being extricated from the forward tracks of the car, under which it had been wedged, Mrs. Clyde, unaware of the tragic ending of her husband's life, passed the scene.

STRIKERS APPEAL TO COURT WITTE

New Minister Promises Immediate Concessions.

ADVISES RAILROAD MEN TO CALL OFF THE STRIKE

Eight Thousand Railroaders in St. Petersburg Determine to Tie Up Every Road Leading Into Capital.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 24.—At a meeting of eight thousand railroad men held in the university tonight, it was decided to declare a strike on all the railroads operating into St. Petersburg, beginning tomorrow. It was also decided that a meeting to send deputations to Prince Hilko, minister of railroads, and Count Witte, president of the committee of ministers, and to present them addresses demanding political reforms, included among them the convocation of a constituent assembly elected by direct universal suffrage. The meeting remained in session until the return of the deputations, the time being occupied by further discussions of the situation and the delivery of speeches of the most revolutionary character, all of which were loudly applauded. Those present included a large number of students.

The deputations returned toward midnight without having succeeded in seeing Prince Hilko, owing to his absence at Petrohof, where he was making a report of the railroad troubles to Emperor Nicholas. They found Count Witte, who received them, but he insisted that the railroad must be of a private character, as president of the committee of ministers, having no right to accept an address. He said, however, that he had no objection to the public nature of the consideration. He pointed out that the address contained many demands which could not be realized in any country, and also many which were worthy of attention. He said that a constituent assembly was quite impossible, and contended that the suffrage and other political demands had nothing to do with the railroads. The count promised that the liberty of the press would be promptly granted and said that the continued application of martial law to the railroads was due to a misunderstanding and would be remedied. He desired, however, to be friendly to all reasonable demands for liberty, and promised to confer with Prince Hilko as to the best means of dealing with the railroad question. At the same time he advised the deputations to end the strike and then to peacefully formulate the demands.

Having listened to the report, the men at a meeting here tonight, until the deputations had an interview with Prince Hilko.

Many Killed in Rioting.

Khar'kov, Oct. 24.—A serious fight between troops and the people during which there were many casualties on both sides occurred here last night. While a meeting of 20,000 citizens, students and workmen was in progress, someone raised the cry, "The Cossacks are coming." The Cossacks, who were in the city, rushed. Subsequently the crowd came in contact with a detachment of cavalry, revolver shots and small bombs were used by the civilians and the soldiers. Both sides suffered severely and many wounded were left on the ground when the crowd dispersed. The strikers have since plundered gunsmith shops and armed themselves.

Problem Growing Worse.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 24.—The government resumed railroad service on a few roads today, but under great difficulty. The decision of the railroad men at a meeting here tonight, to declare a general strike has immensely complicated the problem. Trains left for Moscow today over the Nicholas road, but passengers were notified that communication was guaranteed only as far as Tver.

Several attempts were made today to interrupt communication by telegraph and telephone out of Moscow, and the telegraph offices had to be guarded by Cossacks. Persons wishing to send messages had to fight their way through crowds of strikers, and in many cases were severely handled.

The strikers have taken a violent turn in a number of cities, from which reports come of encounters between mobs and the police and troops. Agrarian disorders have broken out in the province of Samara. The troops sent there include a detachment of artillery, indicating that the situation is quite serious.

The executive committee of the League of Leagues has adopted resolutions saying that the present moment was favorable for a general strike of all the professions, and recommending doctors, lawyers, engineers and other members of constitutional organizations to cease all professional activity.

Martial Law in Lodz.

Lodz, Oct. 24.—The employees of seven factories struck today. There are now 38,000 men on strike. The governor has asked the governor general to declare martial law.

Strike Grips Whole Empire.

Moscow, Oct. 24.—The strike is spreading in all directions. Yaroslavl, Nizhni, Novgorod, Simbirsk, Saratov, Voronezh, Kharkoff, Smolensk, Ekaterinburg, Kieff and Smolensk are all affected.

On the Moscow, Vladimir and Rybinsk line the evening express could only reach Potimskovskaya station and the passengers were compelled to walk to Moscow. At the Moscow and Kazan station 2,000 passengers are waiting. They are being paid by the railroad administration, first and second class fifty cents daily, and third class, twenty-five cents. On the St. Petersburg line with the exception of a train tonight which brought the minister of works, not a train was run today.

PLAN OF WASHINGTON TO TALK STATEHOOD

Three Thousand Going From Oklahoma and the Tribes

WILL TAKE THE HALLS OF CONGRESS BY ASSAULT

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 24.—"On to Washington" is the cry that is now going up from every section of the Indian territory and Oklahoma. It is generally conceded that the national capital will be overrun this winter with the largest crowd of boomers from the territories that has ever besieged the halls of congress. It is conservatively estimated that during the sessions of congress three thousand residents of the two territories will visit Washington representing the various interests of this section. Among the number will be fifty thousand statehood boomers representing the interests of the joint and separate statehood movements. The first delegation will leave November 7, and they will pour into Washington in a continuous stream from that time until the adjournment of congress next spring.

The joint states are preparing to send a special train to Washington which will carry from one to a dozen representatives from every town of any consequence in both territories. In addition to this number each of the statehood factions will send a committee of twenty members to present the joint statehood resolutions passed by the Oklahoma city convention and the Sequoyah constitution adopted at the Muskogee convention. Each town in both territories is also preparing to take independent action in sending delegates to represent the two statehood factions, and most of them will also delegate someone to look after their interests in legislation for the removal of restriction. The five civilized tribes have each delegated from three to five men to represent their governments in securing a favorable settlement of tribal affairs after the dissolution of Indian governments on March 4 next, and doubtless each faction of the Indian tribes will also be represented.

The horde of boomers will be swelled still further by lobbyists who will be sent to Washington by coal and oil interests of the two territories who are anxious to secure favorable legislation. The educational interests will also send delegations to Washington for the purpose of securing a continuation of the present school system until statehood is granted. The prohibition element will also send a delegation.

As a prominent citizen of the territory expressed it, "Indian Territory will be better represented in Washington this winter than any state in the union. If sheer force of numbers will accomplish anything, Indian Territory and Oklahoma should secure what they want this winter served up to them on a silver platter."

Probably the most extensive scheme yet devised to bombard the legislative stronghold in Washington is that which is being propagated by the Oklahoma Federation of Commercial and Industrial organizations. This organization has sent out requests to every town in both territories to organize single statehood clubs of 100 each. Each member of these clubs is to pay an initiation fee of 50 cents, which will give each club a fund of $50. Each club is then to select a delegate to Washington who will be pledged to work for single statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory and the $50 is to be used in defraying the expenses of the delegate to Washington. Each delegate thus selected is to be given a place in the single statehood special which is to be run to Washington next month.

A number of these clubs have already been organized in both territories. C. H. Douglas, editor of the Muskogee Phoenix, has received a communication from Lee Cruise, president of the Commercial Industrial organization, asking that a single statehood club be organized at Muskogee and offering to designate it as Statehood club, No. 1. This offer is made in view of the fact that Muskogee has been the hotbed of the separate statehood movement and the single states especially desire the organization of a strong single statehood club in that city. President Cruise estimates that fully a thousand single statehood clubs will be organized in the two territories within the next month.

ORGAN DISTRICT ON THE BOOM

McCULLOUGH SAYS IT'S A DISEASE AND ALL MINERS HAVE IT.

On his way to Kansas City to secure a party of prospective investors to the southwest, J. I. McCullough, general manager of the Stephenson-Bennett company's mines near Organ, N. M., lingered long enough to wax enthusiastic over the future of the Organ district.

"It is just like a disease," he declared just before he left for Kansas City. "They're all catching it. People didn't know what we had in New Mexico until the miners' association that we have organized began to shake things up."

"It has surprised me, and it is surprising everyone, to see how the inquiries come pouring in. Our association has opened offices at Organ with C. S. McBeth in charge, and every day or two some easterner writes to know something about the mines we have in the Organ mountains."

When Mr. McCullough returns from Kansas City in about ten days he will bring a number of men with him to look over the Stephenson-Bennett and sister properties.

New Duties for Bonaparte's Assistant. Washington, Oct. 24.—Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte has ordered a modification of that section of the navy regulations which defines the duties of the assistant secretary of the navy.

The new section will make of that official a very private person, as he will be required to visit every first class ship and every naval station upon the Atlantic coast each year, and if he can find any one outside of these trips, he is expected to go to the Pacific and inspect the ships and stations there. Confidential and oral reports are to be made to the secretary. The new regulation does not say how much of his time he shall be acting as secretary of the navy, but it does not give him other duties in detail.

The assistant secretary is to determine all matters of naval militia, what loans or gifts of public property in the possession of the navy shall be given to it, and what services of ships in commission or the officers and men in the marine corps shall be granted in connection with state, municipal or private functions; repairs to ships, advertising, and the newspapers which shall be employed to this end. The assistant secretary is also to investigate the personal character of every applicant for a position in the marine or pay corps, and wherever else in the navy appointments are made from civil life, and make confidential reports to the secretary.

CANNOT SUPPLY DEMAND.

Many Applications for Naval Records of the Civil War.

Washington, Oct. 24.—According to Superintendent Charles W. Stewart, the publication of the naval records of the war of the rebellion has now reached the most interesting portion of the war from the naval point of view. The latest volumes present the operations in the gulf and inland waters, including the blockade of the lower Mississippi, the battle of Mobile bay and the operations in the western rivers. The navy department's quota of these records having been exhausted, it is impossible to supply the constant demands for copies. A reissue of these volumes will cost $200 per volume. Volume 22 has been partly compiled. Mr. Stewart states that the navy department library has the best naval collection in the United States, and is almost indispensable to the service.

ENORMOUS OUTPUT OF PRECIOUS METALS

TREASURER ROBERTS' LATEST STATEMENT SHOWS SOME REMARKABLE FIGURES.

Washington, Oct. 24.—George E. Roberts, director of the United States mint, has prepared a statement of the world's production of gold and silver for 1904, which shows a total gold value of $347,150,700, an aggregate of $168,492,538 fine ounces of silver, and a commercial value of silver totaling $37,726,200, the coinage value of which is $217,850,200.

The United States produced: Gold value, $80,723,200; silver in fine ounces, $3,718,668; silver in commercial value, $2,156,800.

Great Britain produced: Gold value, $192,466; silver in fine ounces, $174,517; silver in commercial value, $191,300.

Africa produced: Gold value, $85,913,906; silver in fine ounces, $486,910; silver in commercial value, $282,100.

These figures show an increase of about $22,000,000 in gold over the bureau's estimate for 1903. The United States shows a gain of about $2,000,000, and South Africa of $18,000,000.

The director says that both of these countries are still upon a rising scale of production.

The world's output in 1905 is expected to be about $325,000,000, with another gain probable in 1906.

The most important gold field in the world is that of the Transvaal. The output for 1904 was $78,120,725, produced by 74 companies. Their working profits, after paying the 10 per cent tax on profit to the government, are reported at $26,402,163.

The amount actually divided in dividends was $19,114,700.

In the United States it is difficult to give any figures for costs and profits of general significance. The Homestake mine, in the Black Hills, has produced $50,000,000 and paid $29,000,000 in dividends. The Treadwell mine, a great producer of extremely low grade ore, has realized about 40 per cent of its product in profits. The Cripple Creek district has been estimated to have produced $139,000,000 to January 1, 1905.

It is estimated that $35,000,000 was paid in publicly announced dividends by incorporated companies.

BRIGANDAGE IN SPAIN.

Whole District Terrorized by Armed Marauders.

Madrid, Oct. 24.—The band of brigands which has already been reported as spreading terror through the districts of Seville and Cadiz has been seen near Osona.

A mail train was pulled up, the officials fearing that an obstacle might have been placed upon the line or that it had been tampered with, but when the guardsmen, who accompanied the train, alerted, the brigands made off.

The whole country around is in a state of alarm at the daring robberies that are reported. The robbers escape capture because the farmers assist them, fearing that if they do not participate will be taken.

The land owners are fleeing into the towns.

GOV. HOGG SUES RAILROAD.

Former Texas Executive Is Rapidly Recovering.

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 24.—Ex-Governor J. S. Hogg continues to improve. He probably will not be moved for ten or fifteen days.

Ex-Governor Hogg has filed suit against the International & Great Northern railroad demanding $100,000.

It is alleged by plaintiff that on January 26 last, while a passenger from Houston to Anchor, Brazoria county, a freight car backed against the train throwing him almost out of his seat, wrenching and twisting his neck and resulting in injury to his feet, legs, abdomen and that the tissues of his body are filled with an unnatural collection of water. He alleges that he was earning annually $15,000.

Mexican Stabbed at Mowry.

District Attorney S. F. Noon and District Court Reporter L. S. Arnold went from Nogales to Mowry Thursday to investigate a case of stabbing reported from that camp. Two Mexicans engaged in a fight Monday night and one of them stabbed the other in the side with a small pocket knife. The injured man was not dangerously wounded and could not identify his assailant.

Fire at Tularosa.

Fire in a room of the house of Mrs. Gutierrez in Tularosa, destroyed about $50.00 worth of furniture besides other things of inestimable value on account of their associations. A lamp was left burning while the occupants of the room were attending a ball, and it is thought that in some way gas had been generated which burst into flame when the door was opened.

Closing John Hay's Estate.

New York, Oct. 24.—John Hay, late secretary of state, who died at his summer residence at Newbury, N. H., on July 1 last, left in this state personal property consisting of securities of the value of $262,511.61. To have a judicial appraisal of his property here, Mr. Hay's son-in-law, Payne Whitney and James W. Wadsworth, Jr., have begun proceedings in the surrogate court to have the value of the property assessed so that the state tax may be ascertained and paid.

The matter will be brought to the attention of Surrogate Fitzgerald in a day or two. The executors are represented by Carter, Ledyard & Milburn, and they show that Mr. Hay was possessed of 2500 shares of the capital stock of the Western Union Telegraph company, of the market value of $235,125, and 250 shares of the capital stock of the American Telegraph and Cable company, worth $22,625.

There was also to his credit a balance of $6,562.15 on deposit with the Metropolitan Trust company. Surrogate Fitzgerald will be asked to sign an order fixing the tax.

Charles M. Sheldon III, Topeka, Oct. 24.—Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," and other religious works, is lying dangerously ill at his home in this city with stomach and kidney trouble. A consultation of physicians has pronounced his case alarming with an operation probable.

TEXAS OILS GO UP.

Latest Advance Puts Humble Oil at Highest Figure.

Beaumont, Texas, Oct. 24.—An advance in the price of oil was posted by the Texas company today as follows:

Sour Lake, 42; Saratoga, 35; Batson, 34; Humble, 39.

The price for Humble oil represents the highest paid since the field opened.

Salt Lake Reduces Running Time. Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 24.—The Los Angeles, San Pedro and Salt Lake road has decided to reduce the running time of its through passenger trains between Los Angeles and Salt Lake to 26 hours, which will cut the running time between this city and Chicago to 68 hours.

200,000 ACRES SEGREGATED.

Near Blacktower in Roosevelt County By Application of Santa Fe Railway.

A large tract of land containing 200,000 acres in the vicinity of Blacktower, Roosevelt county, has been segregated by the application of the Santa Fe Pacific railway under the act of April, 1904, and leased to Thomas Trammell & Co. This will take control of the land that was open to settlement of the market and thereby increase the value of that remaining. There still remains some good government land within easy access of Texas, but this will soon be filed on.

Child Widows of India. Washington, Oct. 24.—"There are today in India 21,000,000 child widows who are the actual slaves of the parents of their deceased husbands," declared Bishop Cyrus D. Foss in the annual sermon before the Woman's Foreign Missionary society at the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church.

Bishop Foss told of a visit made by him to India seven years ago in the interest of the Methodist missions.

"I went to Bombay, where I met Bishop Coburn and fifteen of the missionary bishops," he said. "I found many results of the worship practiced in that country and the need for Christianity. I found hospitals for sick cats, cobras, and elephants, which had been established long before there was ever a similar institution for human beings, because of the belief in transmigration of souls. The natives thought that in caring for some of the creatures named they might be accidentally caring for their grandmothers.

"I saw the places where the corpses are left to have the flesh eaten by vultures and the bones to drop down through a grate to be eaten away by quicklime.

"The condition of the women in India staggers the imagination. Girls are contracted in marriage between the ages of five and twelve. If by the time they are twelve years of age they are not married, they are considered quite passed. In all cases the arrangement is made in a businesslike way, and the couple become acquainted with each other only after the knot is tied.

"The husband dies, even though the ceremony has just been performed she becomes a widow. There are 21,000,000 such in India today. They can never go home; they become the bond slaves of their husbands' parents. What do you think of religious ideals that make such conditions possible?"

"The poverty of the country is terrible. The condition of the currency is shown by the fact that the smallest and common coin is but one-sixteenth of an American cent, which is taken in the collection at camp meetings. Women carry about 100 pounds in weight at a time, for eleven or twelve hours a day at the wages of 5 cents per day. The result is that when famine comes there is starvation.

"The awful test of the intellect, the bewilderment of the conscience, and the degradation of the will resulting from the religious customs in India are sickening.

"Into all these conditions comes the Christian religion and the Christian missionaries teaching its philanthropy through the healing of the sick; its education, through the teaching of all the nations, and its evangelism, through the preaching of the gospel. Bishop Coburn is one of the prophets of the living God."

A Regretful Distinction. "What a beautiful home you have!" said the old-time friend. "You mustn't let mother and the girls hear you speak of it so patronizingly," answered Mr. Cumrox. "This ain't a home. This is a residence."

FAMOUS FIGHT FOR GILA CANYON ENDED AT LAST

Santa Fe and Southern Pacific at Peace.

ROADS WILL COMBINE TO STAND COST OF CONSTRUCTION

The bitter controversy between the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe companies over the right of way through Box Canyon will no longer occupy the attention of the courts, says the Glendale News-Press. The case was settled for the mutual interest of the contestants to combine in the construction and share in the expenses instead of doubling the cost of building.

By the terms of the compromise the Southern Pacific will use the Santa Fe tracks from Phoenix to Dudleyville, and the Santa Fe will use the tracks from Dudleyville to San Carlos on the Gila valley, and the Santa Fe will run its trains over this section of track and thence to Solomonville over the G. V. C.

From Solomonville the Santa Fe will resume the construction of a line to Duncan through the Gila valley and thence east to a connection with the ably at a point at or near Silver City. This will put the Santa Fe in touch with Clinton and Morenci. The Belen cutoff now under construction will furnish a link in the Santa Fe line from Galveston, through San Angelo and Pecos City in Texas; Roswell, Portales to Belen, Las Vegas and as above related to Phoenix. The new California and Arizona extensions will be pushed to a connection with the Santa Fe's present line at some available point west of Needles. It is believed the system will be completed during next year.

Will Build Rock-Crushing Plant.

The Southwestern railroad is preparing to put in a rock-crushing machine at Tecolote, and the work on the foundation is already partly done. The rock will be used in ballasting the road between Santa Rosa and El Paso. The Rock Island, it is reported, is preparing to put in a plant at Santa Rosa. At Tecolote, two spurs from the main track have been laid to where the plant is to be erected.

On With the Fair

WE HAVE reached the beginning of the end of our troubles in connection with the fair. We are not out of the woods yet, but the action of the meeting Monday night brushes away the cobwebs and enables us to see out. It removes all doubt from the public mind as to the fact that the deficit will be paid, and that practical plans will be matured for making next year's fair a success—not only successful financially, but successful as an exhibition, which will give the people the worth of their money in the way of exhibits and attractions.

The names of the gentlemen selected as officers to have charge of the enterprise for the coming year constitute a sufficient guarantee that the business matters of the fair will all be transacted carefully and economically. While Mr. Brooks, who is at the head of the new management, knows from experience what sort of attractions will best please the people, and give the best results for the amount of money invested. He has managed one fair successfully, and the experience gained then will enable him to win still greater success now, when all the conditions are more favorable.

Owing to the big debt which has to be assumed, there is a great deal of hard work to be performed, and equally as much shrewd maneuvering to be done, but there is no doubt in the public mind as to the ability of the present management to do it, and bring everything out in good shape.

The Devil and His Due

ONCE will deny that the American people have borne down very heavily upon President Castro of Venezuela. We have criticized him very harshly—Mr. Currier would put it, we have "called him all kinds of names" for what we assumed to be his unjust and outrageous treatment of certain fellow citizens of ours who had the good fortune to hold certain valuable "concessions" under the Castro government—indeed, at one time we had almost made up our minds to give Señor Castro a little wholesome chastisement for his much wrong doing.

Now we learn from testimony given in New York a few days ago, by Gen. Greene, formerly president of the Asphalt trust, that his company furnished the money to finance the attempted revolution in Venezuela. He claims that this was done while he was in Europe, and that he knew nothing about it, and that as soon as he learned the facts in the case, he ceased to press the state department for action in behalf of the company's alleged rights. That modifies the offense in a measure, so far as he is concerned personally, but it does not in anywise mitigate the enormity of his company's conduct toward the government under which it held its valuable concession.

From all accounts Castro is not a very lovable person, but that does not affect the fact that he is president of Venezuela, and as such officer it is his duty to protect the government against its enemies. If any foreign company doing business in the United States should furnish money to carry on an attempted revolution, it would be dealt with in a manner much more strenuous than a mere annulment of its concession. It would be very summarily put out of business, and every responsible man connected with it would be hanged for treason. And President Castro would have been fully justified in dealing thus with the gentlemen of the Asphalt trust, if General Greene's testimony is true, as it no doubt is.

Russia is confronted with a strike in which more wages, shorter hours, the closed shop, recognition of the union and the right to wear the union button will not satisfy the strikers. The czar always seems to be going against an impossible proposition.

One more American diplomat has gone against it. Minister Russell at Caracas has been instructed to patch up the Venezuelan-French difficulty. The minister should be careful not to use asphalt in his patching.

WANTS CHEAP HOMES ON THE MESA

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 21, 1905.

To the Editor of the Morning Journal: Dear Sir: I have a grudge I should like to air. I came to Las Vegas for my health. Vegas is a beautiful place, but it can't suit everybody. It was too high for me and also for a friend, so we came to Albuquerque. After looking around for suitable quarters, I wouldn't cost a fortune, I grew this grudge.

Tents in all cases are not what they are cracked up to be. Why are there not on the mesa one, two, and three roomed houses, sunny and sanitary that a man could rent for the right price? I believe if it were known through the east that such houses could be had reasonable, there would be a demand for hundreds. Everybody wants to start big sanitariums that only the rich can go to, and it's usually the man of small means that gets the cough. It looks to an outsider that it would pay the Traction company to look out a little for us "hungers." We do like to take the air on a smooth-going car.

Very truly yours,
HENRY FISHBACK.

TAKES NERVE TO THIN FRUIT

Pick Off the Surplus Peaches and the Crop Will Surprise You.

J. H. Hane, the most noted peach grower in this country, tells how his Connecticut neighbors wondered when they saw him picking off the major portion of his first peach crop. They shook their heads and wondered at the absurd proceedings of the man who grows fruit for the market. But that season, when his peaches brought in over $10,000 they changed their minds. Since that time he has been thinking of peaches as being popular with the most progressive fruit grower.

The thinking of peaches or any fruit must be conducted with judgment. It is not by any means advisable to thin very true, regardless of how much fruit it carries. Some trees set so high fruit that all can be ripened without producing undersized fruit.

Some charge up the cost of thinning as an extra expense in the orchard, but any one that has gathered fruit knows that fruit gathering is a slow task, especially with fruit that has to be handled as carefully as does the peach. The picking off of the small green peaches at thinning time removes the necessity of picking off many of these same peaches later. When they are thinned they are simply pinched off and allowed to fall on the ground, while later, if allowed to ripen they must be put carefully into baskets. The expense of time in pinching off a small peach is only a fraction of that required in gathering the same peach when it is ripe enough for market.

Of course there is an offset in the fact that some of the young peaches would be switched off by the wind later, but in the main it may be stated that no more labor is required to thin peaches and gather the remainder when ripe than to gather the harvest that results without thinning.

ALBUQUERQUE TO HAVE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS

Congregational Educational Society to Begin Work

SECRETARY HERE TO LOOK AT SITE SOUTH OF CITY

Albuquerque is soon to have another educational institution which, if present plans are carried through, will be not only one of the most important institutions of its kind in the territory, but in the entire west.

It is to be an industrial school for boys, modeled after the scheme of the great institution at Tuskegee, and its special aim is to reach the boys, and of the native people, whose parents can afford no better education than that offered by the common schools of the country.

One of the most powerful denominational societies in the nation is behind the project, the Congregational Educational Society of Boston, one hundred and forty acres of land, the site for the school has been purchased, a mile and a half south of Bernalillo, and money is already being raised in the east with which it is proposed to begin construction of the buildings next spring.

Edward S. Tead, of Boston, secretary of the society, has been in Albuquerque for several days going over the field with the Rev. J. H. Heald, the society's superintendent of schools and missions in New Mexico. Yesterday, with Mr. Heald he visited the society's property south of town and made a careful examination of it with a view to a final report on the project.

Some time ago the society purchased what is known as the Howe ranch, consisting of 140 acres of the best land in the valley, lying well down toward the river, but just above the road line between the Burke ranch and Bernalillo. Most of the land is already under cultivation, part of it under irrigation, and the rest adapted to dry farming. It has been an alfalfa and corn field this season, and in its present condition is a paying proposition for the society, which owns schools in Arizona and Bernalillo. It is not the purpose to discontinue these two schools, but to make them auxiliary to the larger institution, which will call for the expenditure of a large amount of money.

Mr. Tead after going over the field thoroughly with Mr. Heald, and after consulting building and engineering experts, left for Boston last night, to report favorably on the projected school, which means its construction.

"We are going to have a school here," said Mr. Tead last night, "an industrial school which will teach the boys of the native people useful trades. It does not mean the discontinuance of the small schools now maintained in Arizona and Bernalillo, they are of an entirely different nature. The society owns a hundred and forty acres of land, which seems to me to be as good as any in New Mexico, just south of your city. It is a tract large enough for our present plans, and should we need more ground in the future, it will be possible to get it in the direction of the hills.

"Generally the school will be on the plan of the Tuskegee institution and its object will be to teach the boys how to do useful things. Members of our society are already at work in the north and east raising money for the school and I have no doubt that we will be ready by the spring to begin operations. I have been over the ground pretty thoroughly with Mr. Heald, and it seems to me that there can be no question of the success of the school.

"At the beginning the school may not be a large one, but it will be laid out on a large plan, and it will ultimately reach it. Our plan contemplates the operating of a farm. Part of the land we own can be farmed successfully without irrigation, and the rest of the ground is under irrigation, save for a few acres toward the sand hills, where we will probably place our buildings. I have also been investigating building materials and am pretty well informed on all details of the project.

"It is our plan now to begin work in the coming spring and to provide at once dormitories, school rooms and shops for at least fifty pupils, the capacity to be increased as rapidly as the enrollment will justify.

"The Congregational Educational society is one of the strong denominational societies of its kind in the country and its work is national. It has been the chief backer of twenty-five of our leading colleges and has made itself felt in almost every state and territory in the union. I have no doubt that our plan here will be as successful as others have been. We have our schools scattered all over the territory and from these schools the pupils have received the beginnings of an education which will be sent in to the larger school to be taught useful trades, farming and the things that will enable them to become useful citizens."

"The Chaperones."

If all the preliminary announcements that have drifted here from other cities are to be believed, theatergoers have in store a rare comedy-opera treat, when Eldorado Winters' successful piece, "The Chaperones," is to be presented at Elks' theater Thursday night, November 2. During its sojourn in New York and its four seasons of success in the largest cities of the country, "The Chaperones" has received unqualified praise from the critics, and the fact that the book is from the brilliant pen of Frederic Rankin, the score by the chief member of the famous family of musicals, the Winterses, and the entire production made by the celebrated stage manager, George W. Lederer, should form a combination of recommendations sufficient to fill any theater in the country. The company is said to be a large, well-balanced organization, including such well known musical comedy exponents as Madeline Marshall, Ruth Lloyd, Doris Goodwin, Harry Laddell, John Price, George Lydecker, Frank Wooly, W. V. Strung and others. New scenery and costumes are a feature of this year's production. The chorus is especially attractive this year and is said to be one of unusual excellence, the individual units possessing more charm of face and figure than is often seen.

TWO VALUABLE BUSINESS SITES CHANGE HANDS

Single Lot on West Railroad Brings $4,000.

JACOB KOERBER BUYS TWO LOTS ON NORTH SECOND

Two of the most important real estate deals of the past few weeks were closed yesterday when two valuable business sites, a lot on West railroad avenue and two lots on North Second street close in, changed hands. P. F. McCanna acted as the selling agent in both transactions, the one involving $4,000, the consideration in the other being private.

Mr. McCanna sold for H. B. Ferguson the lot on Railroad avenue on the north side, between Fourth and Fifth, for $4,000, to C. N. Brigham. The lot is at present occupied by a small frame building used as a carpenter shop, but will be sold as improved property. What disposition Mr. Brigham proposes to make of the property is not known.

Mr. McCanna also sold, for the Albuquerque Land company, two lots on the east side of North Second street, between Copper avenue and Tijeras road, to Jacob Koerber, whose big harness and vehicle establishment is now at the corner of North First and Copper. The consideration in this transaction is not made public, but it is understood to have been a very satisfactory figure.

"Twenty-One Lots in Highways."

Another important sale, this time of residence property, in which Mr. McCanna acted, consisted of twenty-one lots in the N. T. Armijo addition at an average of $200 a lot. The lots are situated on South Eighth and South Ninth streets, close to the line of the Eastern addition and were sold for Mrs. N. T. Armijo to J. B. Herndon, cashier of the State National bank, who, it is understood, is acting for a company of Albuquerque men who do not appear in the transaction.

FAIR ASSOCIATION IS OFF AGAIN

EVERYBODY GETS TOGETHER AND TROUBLES BEGIN TO LOOK LIKE THIRTY CENTIMES.

The Fair association has got a new start and is off again with a whoop for the best one of them all. It was learned yesterday that the officers selected at Monday's meeting would accept, and with this announcement, all doubt as to the fate of the fair was removed. The new officers are men who do things, and who never fail to do them right, and under their guidance there seems to be a general impression that the new fair will be all right, all the troubles cleared out and the association be placed where it belongs, squarely on its feet again.

The feeling in Albuquerque just now is that the fair is a good thing, and that the association is off for the most successful year it has ever had. The committee named at Monday night's meeting went to work yesterday.

EX-DELEGATE WILSON WILL DEBATE WITH BIRD

ACCEPTS CHALLENGE OF 'OASIS' EDITOR TO DISCUSS STATEHOOD QUESTION.

Allen T. Bird, editor of the Nogales Oasis and an ardent champion of the joint statehood proposition, recently sent a letter to J. P. Wilson, Arizona's former delegate in congress, challenging him to debate on the question.

Since last Saturday the Oasis editor has received the following letter from Mr. Wilson, which explains itself:

Williams, Ariz., Oct. 13, 1905.

Allen T. Bird, Esq.

Nogales, Arizona.

Dear Sir: Yours of the 2nd had reached me while on the northern tour of business in those courts—hence this delay in answering you.

As to the joint discussion with you at the time you name of the joint statehood question, I do not know that I shall have the time; but, if the committee will arrange with you for it, I shall make the time. I have, or am sending your letter by today's mail to the committee and ask them to make the arrangements and say to them that I shall meet them. If however, the committee shall fail, then you may make your appointments as you indicate, and include in them your challenge to me, as you may and I will still meet you and discuss the question with you before the people. Very respectfully,

J. P. WILSON.

So the matter is up to the committee (of the anti-joint statehood league, presumably) and Mr. Bird is awaiting word from them. Unless it comes within a reasonable time he will take up the subject again with Colonel Wilson, and arrange a series of meetings throughout the territory.

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

LITTLE TOWN OF RED ROCK, ARIZONA, HAS A TRAGEDY.

The little town of Red Rock, Arizona, has a mystery.

Who was the middle-aged woman who came to that town Wednesday night? Did the woman come to her death by accident or by suicidal impulse? Where did she come from? These are three questions which may never be answered for an apparently impenetrable mystery surrounds her death.

Wednesday evening a middle-aged woman who was apparently about 45 years old, arrived in that town on the first section of No. 9. She was well dressed and apparently weighed between 160 and 170 pounds.

She engaged a room at the Gass hotel.

"My home is in Mississippi," she remarked pleasantly to the clerk as she engaged the room. "I have come here to meet my friends."

There was nothing suspicious about the woman's actions. She did not seem to be excited or agitated in any way and the hotel clerk had no suspicions that anything might go wrong.

TERRITORIALISMS

The Roswell territorial grand jury in session last week returned seven indictments, none of them important.

Frank P. Hutchison, who has been city attorney of Artesia for some time, has resigned and will move to southern California.

Thomas C. Means and C. J. Schoenfeld, of the reclamation service, have been in Las Vegas on business connected with the work in New Mexico.

The property of the Shavian colony near Las Cruces, has been sold for $100,000 to a party of eastern men who propose to use it for sanitarium purposes.

Farmington expects to be on the main line of the Southern Pacific in a very little while. The S. P. is alleged to be going to make a little curve around by way of Denver.

General Archibald J. Sampson for many years minister to Ecuador, has returned to his home in Phoenix, where he expects to remain, having resigned from the diplomatic service.

Prisoners sentenced to serve time in the Santa Cruz, Arizona, county jail will hereafter have to earn their bread and bed by the sweat of their brows.

The first victim of the new regime was sentenced to a short term for vagrancy Thursday and is now cleaning up around the court house. Others will be put to work on the streets as soon as the town council designates what is to be done.

Chinese Population Increasing.

There are now sixteen Chinamen in the Santa Cruz county jail. Five of them were picked up during the past week and were examined yesterday before United States Commissioner George, Deputy United States Marshal J. P. Wells came down from Tucson to attend the examination. Since the departure of Deputy Concord, Kansas City, Marshal Ben Daniels has made an appointment for Santa Cruz county—Nogales Oasis.

A Monster Cabbage.

"The largest I ever saw!" That is the only way to describe the giant cabbage which Hiram S. Cobb took to the office of John W. Corbett Wednesday.

It was grown by J. A. Carwell on his ranch north of town and is a beautiful specimen of the kind. It measured in circumference, and a little more than sixteen inches in diameter. If you won't take our word, go and measure for yourself.—Estancia News.

One for Roddy.

President Roosevelt favors ex-Delegate R. S. Roddy for governor of New Mexico says the Associated Press. Mr. Roosevelt can do the people of New Mexico no greater service than the appointment of this truly able and patriotic citizen to his governorship. Sooner the better.—Tularama Reporter.

C. C. Stroufe of the Arizona-Colo-rado Railroad company, was in Aztec yesterday, and says his road is coming this way for one who do not own their own land, which is badly needed in the smelters to the south. The new road will open this country clear to the Pacific coast, and then you watch this country grow, neighbor.—Aztec Index.

John Van Horn, of Rocky Ford, is one of the Colorado feeders who has just made extensive purchases in the Estancia valley.

Mrs. F. C. Torrence, of Las Vegas, has written to the Denver police for aid in finding her husband who has disappeared.

The New Mexico Military academy pupils in Roswell are preparing to give a minstrel show in the near future.

Work is under way on the Denver and Rio Grande stations in Farmington and Aztec.

According to the assessors' reports there are close to $100,000 worth of sewing machines in New Mexico.

Four new cases of diphtheria have appeared in Carlsbad.

Big Bill for Quail.

For the opening of the quail season, Phoenix sportsmen spent enough money in cold cash to buy a lot and erect a cottage thereon. They spent, approximately $500 for shells alone, and tens of thousands of those who do not own their own shotguns, and live for hours for some who went far into the country would probably increase the amount to $1,000, says the Phoenix Gazette.

That sounds rather extravagant, but the Gazette has gone to the trouble to investigate, and finds that about 20,000 shells were sold for the opening of the season last Sunday, October 15th.

The Pinney gun store leads, with a sale of about 11,000 shells. Mr. Pinney stated, when questioned, that he did not know how many, but the num-

ALBUQUERQUE MEN BUY GALLUP PLANT

GREGORY PAGE RETIRES FROM LIGHTING BUSINESS IN GALLUP.

E. C. Allen, of Albuquerque, with whom it is understood other Albuquerque business men are associated, has purchased the plant of the Gallup Electric Light and Power company, which for the past few months has been owned and operated by Gregory Page of Gallup. The consideration in the transaction is not known, but the plant is understood to be valued at $25,000. The plant has always been considered a valuable property, and since Mr. Allen who is a skillful manager and thorough electrician, will take personal charge, the venture will undoubtedly be a success.

THE GIRL AND THE BEE.

A Story of the Ignorance of a City Girl.

The city girl coming down to breakfast at the farm house and observing a plate of honey on the table said, "Oh, I see you keep a bee."

That's about the way some people talk about the blight of badness, just as if a bad head was something one got all at once instead of being the result of long depletion by an insidious germ which thrives upon the roots of the hair and succumbs to only one known remedy, Newbro's Herpicide.

Newbro's Herpicide is not a tonic any more than electricity is a fluid. It is an exterminator, pure and simple.

TRUJILLO MUST PAY BIG FINE FOR STEALING SHEEP

Year's Sentence to the Pen-

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLAR FINE MUST BE PAID BY PRISONER

Bartolo Trujillo, convicted by a jury in the recent session of the county criminal court of stealing sheep from a neighbor in the mountain country east of Albuquerque, was brought before Judge Abbott yesterday morning at 9:30 for sentence.

In its finding the jury declared Trujillo guilty, but recommended judicial clemency in his case. The court, taking into consideration the recommendation, sentenced Trujillo to one year in the penitentiary, which, however, the court modified by ordering that the commitment be not made for the present, which is understood to be during the good behavior of the prisoner. In addition the court ordered that Trujillo pay a fine of $500, the minimum penalty allowed by the territorial statute for stealing live stock. Trujillo's trial attracted considerable attention among the people in the mountain districts.

The court yesterday continued the hearing of evidence in the Washington mine case, and it is expected that the hearing will be completed in the course of the next two or three days.

Eggleston Held to Grand Jury. Yesterday morning in Justice of the Peace Chavez's court in Grand Jury, Claude Eggleston, held for assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of S. Garcia in Bear Canyon Sunday morning, was arraigned for preliminary hearing. W. B. Childers representing Eggleston, waived examination and the prisoner was remanded to jail to await the next grand jury which convenes in March, 1904. Bail was fixed at $1,000, which Eggleston had been unable to furnish up to last night. He says he will be able to give bail after he can get in touch with his friends. The other parties to the affair were released.

DEBACASIGNED KINSMAN'S NAME TO SOME CHECKS

ONE MORE FORGER TAKES UP
THIS TIME IN THE COUNTY JAIL.

Liberato C. De Baca, of Pena Blanca, who has figured in the police records of Albuquerque and the county at several periods in the past is languishing in the county jail on a warrant issued yesterday from the district attorney's office charging him with forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses. It is charged that De Baca some time Monday night presented checks bearing the alleged signature of his kinsman, Esquipoia, De Baca, of Pena Blanca, at the Sturges bar and at Graham Brothers, getting both checks cashed, and that when presented at the bank the checks were declared forgeries.

TRAVELED OVERLAND FROM TRINIDAD

BRAVE GUYS CROSS HALF NEW MEXICO IN LITTLE SEARCH FOR HEALTH.

The Misses Lizzie and Mattie Anderson, of Waynesburg, Pa., left Albuquerque yesterday morning, accompanied by the body of their sister, Miss Hallie Anderson, back to the home for burial. Miss Anderson died in Albuquerque Sunday after a brave struggle against tuberculosis.

THINKS AMERICA THE WORLD'S WONDERLAND

PADESKO PARAKEPOULOS, SON OF POWERFUL GREEK FAMILY
SEEKING THE WEST.

Padesko Parakepoulos, of Athens, son of a judge of the high court of Greece, and a member of one of the most famous families of the historic little nation, was a guest at the Alvarado yesterday. He left last night at midnight for Mexico, where he proposes to spend an eight months' tour of the American continent by learning the language of the country. From his travels in Spain, the attractive young Greek, whose name is somewhat too difficult for the English tongue of typewriter, has already a fair knowledge of Spanish, but he has found the English a trifle more difficult.

"I have had six months of study of it," he said last night, "but it seems to me too difficult, too harsh, too long drawn out, to be a language to be used by so great a people. I will master it, but it will take me some time yet, and I mean to give some more months to these great United States after I return from Mexico."

"We of the old world can get no knowledge of your vast country from what we read in books. It is amazing, stupendous, quite beyond conception unless one may see it and pass over it, and thus get a grasp of it. I have seen all the countries of the old world and of the new, but there is none equal this America and these United States. Were I free I too would like to live in this nation and grow with it. We of the old world are cramped, there is no limit to your horizon and what you can do, it is tremendous."

Padesko Parakepoulos, in spite of his finished education and knowledge of the world, has hazy ideas of the conditions to be found in Mexico. Last night he argued long and earnestly with the genial night clerk of the Alvarado in an effort to persuade the clerk to give him one hundred silver dollars. He wanted to exchange a big roll of money for the pesos.

"But it will weigh you down," said the clerk. "It is heavy and very inconvenient."

"But I can buy no things to eat in Mexico without the silver," said the Greek. "You would not have me starve, eh?"

Finally he was persuaded to wait until he got to El Paso to change over his currency.

ELKS IN BIG JOLLIFICATION

THREE HUNDRED OF THE
ANTLERED HOST GATHER TO SMELL
GOOD SMOKE.

The big smoker tendered last night by Albuquerque lodge, No. 461, B. P. O. E., to its members and visiting Elks was quite as tremendous affair as had been predicted. There are rumors of some remarkably pleasant doings, of good stories and good music, of the finest kind of Hawaiian atmosphere and of good things to eat. Nobody kept count but it is estimated that at least three hundred Elks attended and the committee of arrangements was warmly congratulated on its success. From 8:30 until 12 o'clock Elk hall was the busiest place in town and the merriest.

Regular meeting of Albuquerque lodge, No. 461, B. P. O. E., tonight at 8 o'clock sharp.

IS CONSIDERING GRAZING QUESTION

DEPARTMENT ANSWERS IN-QUIRY OF LINCOLN COUNTY
CATTLE GROWERS.

Sometime ago a number of petitions went in from this place which contained most of the names of the residents of Lincoln county affected by the Lincoln forest reserve, and which were duly sent from this office to the secretary of agriculture at Washington, says the Captain News.

The petition has not yet been received, and the following is what the secretary himself says:

Mr. John A. Haley, Captain, New Mexico.

Sir—Your letter of October 6, in which a petition relative to grazing rates for the Lincoln forest reserve has been received. The matter of fixing rates will be taken up as soon as the grazing expert of the forest reserve who is now in the field, returns. The advantages and disadvantages of each locality will be taken into consideration, and the rates, when fixed, will be reasonable and just. The petitioners may be assured that their statements will be fully considered. Very respectfully,

JAMES WILSON, Secretary.

Junket Will Have No Effect.
The congressional party which passed through New Mexico on their way to Arizona was about as much of this territory as did the Reverend party. As Congressman Tawney, the leader of the party, says, the visit of this party carries no official significance with it. The trip is being made at the request of some wealthy people of Arizona, and these Arizona capitalists and the Santa Fe railway are footing the expenses of the trip. The Arizona capitalists who are entertaining so royally are pronounced for single statehood or none and it is not strange that the congressional should express sentiment to please them. This junketing trip will not influence any impending legislation.—Otero County Advertiser.

Froth and Abuse.

Froth and abuse to the extent of nearly two columns in the Review has passed upon the local contemporary, the Bibebe Miner, for its alignment on the side of truth, right and justice, in expounding joint statehood. Like the rest of those who have been trying to shout down the movement the Review has lost its temper.—No. 1000.

THE RESULTS ARE ASTONISHING

THIRTEEN CHANCES IN TWO DAYS TO SELL AN ALBUQUER-QUE HOUSE AND LOT.

This little story is worth thinking about. It brings out two facts, both of which are sufficiently interesting. One fact is that there is a tremendous demand for Albuquerque real estate.

The other is that a want ad in the Morning Journal's want columns brings results.

Two days ago the following want ad was put in the Morning Journal's want column:

FOR SALE—Five-room modern brick dwelling, 50 foot lot, rents for $25 a month. Owner leaving city. A snap if taken at once. Address B. A. Journal.

Now the Morning Journal doesn't know who B. A. is or what kind of a proposition B. A. has to sell, but what we do know is that since the first insertion of this ad two days ago B. A. has received thirteen replies. One has come from Baton, several are from nearer towns, the rest from Albuquerque.

It shows pretty conclusively that there is a demand for Albuquerque real estate, doesn't it?

And it shows that a want ad in the Morning Journal is a pretty fair investment. This ad was to run two cents. It cost the advertiser just 35 cents.

In return for that thirty-five cent investment the advertiser has up to date secured thirteen opportunities to sell the house and lot. This is a little less than 3 cents per prospective purchaser.

We believe that this is getting results. The Morning Journal reaches the people.

The people read the want columns. Results are inevitable.

All kinds of LOOSE LEAF LEDGER sheets ruled and punched to order at Michener & Litchow's book bindery, in the Journal office.

WOMEN'S NEGLECT SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, leucorrhoea.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless headed a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Kate McDonald, of Woodbridge, N. J., writes:

"I think that a woman naturally desires to make her troubles known to the public, but make her troubles known to me that I cannot help from telling mine for the sake of other suffering women."

"For a long time I suffered untold agony with a uterine trouble and irregularity, which made me a physical wreck, and no one thought I would recover, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me, and made me well and strong, and I feel it my duty to tell other suffering women what a splendid medicine it is."

If you are ill, do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

CALLS LICENSED GAMBLING RELIC OF BARBARISM

Leading Citizen of Pecos Valley Talks Plain Talk.

THE EVIL A DISGRACE TO MODERN NEW MEXICO

J. J. Hagerman, the man who has done most, perhaps, to bring the Pecos valley to the attention of the outside world, and one of New Mexico's strongest citizens, has given his views on licensed gambling in New Mexico. They are strong views, and to the point. In a recent letter for publication, Mr. Hagerman says, in part:

New Mexico and Arizona have the distinction of being the only territories or states in the United States where gambling is licensed and authorized by law. Even Old Mexico has repealed its law licensing gambling and has prohibited it under severe penalties. Not a state in Europe authorizes it, excepting the little 5,120 acre principality of Monaco, and it is a stench in the nostrils of all the rest of Europe.

The gambling law in New Mexico is one of the relics of barbarism which came to us with the country, but which ought to have been repeated years ago by our own legislature, or by federal enactment. But we are still cursed with and disgraced by it. However, no town is bound to have gambling because it is permitted by law. The council of Roswell could vote it out of existence if it wanted to. Many towns in Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, Texas, the town of Tucson in Arizona, and cities in other states are putting an end to gambling places, and it seems to me it is high time to do it here.

A man who has better facilities for knowing than probably any other man in Roswell, told me recently that he believed the combined liquor and gambling places in Roswell take in at least $500 a day for liquor and tobacco—mostly for strong drink. What the gambling tables take in is not so easy to estimate, but it must be at least $100,000 a year, exclusive of what the professional gamblers take out of each other. They say there are between fifty and sixty professional gamblers in town who do nothing else. They prey on one another to some extent (like the hungry dogs in Constantinople) but to live and pay the cost of running the establishments, and to pay big profits besides, the seven gambling places in Roswell must take at least $250,000 a year of fresh money out of the general public. It is not unreasonable to believe that the seven combined saloons and gambling places cost this community at the very least $250,000 a year. The two evils—and a third one which I need not mention now—always go together, the one helping the other. Of the three evils the liquor selling is by far the least harmful, but the three together make a combination which must be extremely gratifying to the devil, if that is the right name to apply to the evil side of the nature of some men which prompts them to destroy themselves.

Total prohibition of liquor selling has not been found practicable in other places, and perhaps it is not practicable here. As I understand the law the city council has power to grant licenses to one saloon, or a dozen, just as it pleases. Higher license might not limit them to one or two but the refusal to grant a license to more than one or two is within the power of the council, and that body can do as it pleases in the matter. It is doubtful if with a high license more than one or two saloons would be profitable here if gambling were prohibited. The two together, with high license on whiskey and low license on gambling make such a profitable combination that they thrive and flourish to a disgraceful extent.

Some people believe that liquor selling is not necessarily an unalloyed evil—they think they can see in it some shade or trace of good, but I never heard anyone argue that gambling is not an unalloyed evil. When made a business of it stands alone as black, malignant, cold-blooded wickedness. The farmer gives value for his gains; the workmanman gives for his labor and skill; the professional gambler gives for his gain nothing but evil; he is a curse to himself, his family, if he has one, and most of all of the young men in any community which is infested by his presence. From the time when the seamless coat of the Saviour of men was gambled for by the Roman soldiers down to this day, history has not recorded one instance of its being anything but a withering blight both to a man's fortune, his mind, his heart and his soul.

And yet this territory of New Mexico makes it a legal business, and this city of Roswell for a paltry sum lets it prey wholesale on the vitals of the community. Some people say that those who do not live in Roswell have no right to talk about its gambling or about anything else done here. That is not correct. The crime factories permitted in Roswell are direct and indirect cause of most of the crimes which fill the jail with prisoners, take the time of the courts, and add enormously to the expenses of the county which every taxpayer in it must help to pay. A large share of the farming by irrigation in this vicinity is so near the town that workmen can easily go there and fool away their money. The men employed by the cattle and sheep raisers on the plains necessarily come to town occasionally, especially when they are paid for several months work. The gambling places are open night and day and the gamblers are always on the lookout to waylay them and rob them of their hard-earned money. Whiskey and gambling get a very large share of the money earned by these men. For that part of the gambler's trade called the "roping" men, clerks, cowboys and greenhorns, I cannot find the words to express its infernal rapacity. We spray our trees to kill insects which destroy fruit; we dip cattle to kill vermin which injure them; we pay a bounty for the scalps of wolves which kill cattle and sheep, but we license and wink at vices which always demoralize and often kill men.

Most of the strangers who come to this valley to buy land, or to engage in business, come from the north and stay at Roswell. It is the county seat, the place of the United States land office for a very large region, the seat of the United States district court, and the natural commercial and trading center, not only of the valley, but of an enormous stretch of country outside of it. It is the place where thousands of strangers yearly get their first impressions of the moral quality of the people in this region, and what sort of an impression must they get when they see seven big glaring saloons and gambling dens in the very heart of the town—all in fact within two minutes walk of the banks, the United States court, the United States land office, the hotels, the postoffice and the largest stores? From a purely business point of view these places are a blight to the town. The people of Artesia are wise enough to prohibit gambling. They advertise it to attract strangers who value decency, and they richly deserve all the good they are getting from it, some of it at Roswell's expense.

I believe that if gambling were prohibited, and the saloons reduced to one or two (if they cannot be totally abolished) the deposits in our banks would grow enormously, better people would come here, many of those now here would be vastly improved morally and financially, the churches would be better in quality, trade would increase, crime would enormously lessen, the value of property would be enhanced and taxes would be much lower. But above all, the moral tone, the self-respect, and every quality which makes for decency would be vastly increased. That rare quality called "moral courage," which in Roswell is now such a sickly plant as to be almost undiscoversable, would grow to a strong healthy tree. It would send its roots deep down in pure soil, and its grateful shade would bless the whole community.

TAKE IT IN TIME

Just as Scores of Albuquerque People Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect the aching back, Urinary troubles, diabetes, surely follow. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve back-ache. Cure every kidney ill. Albuquerque citizens endorse them. Mrs. M. J. Butler, residence 717 East street, says: "When I went to the Alvarado Pharmacy for Doan's Kidney Pills I had an attack of backache. It was only one of many which had annoyed me for two or three years. At first they were mild and I expected they would leave just as mysteriously as they came, but with the passing of time the attacks were more frequent and of longer duration. I used three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and was rewarded with an entire cessation of the aching. Up to date, and it is considerably over six months since I stopped the treatment, there has not been a sign of any recurrence."

About Polly Primrose.

It's a far cry from "Resurrection" in which Blanch Walsh made her greatest hit, to "Polly Primrose" that is, in the motif of these two notable stage creations, one the story of a fallen woman, full of sadness and remorse; the other all sprightliness and vivacity. And the actress who is fitted to play the leading role in both must be endowed with rare versatility indeed.

Miss Carol Arden having delighted great houses with her impersonations of the woman, Maslova, in Tolstoy's powerful novel, is now entrancing other multitudes with the portrayals of the playful "Polly," the sweetheart of the war spy.

For "Polly Primrose" is a war story, cast in the times when General Lee was hoping to descend upon Washington. But the war flavor is only incidental to the rivalry for her favor of two guests of her father's hospitality, who are each in turn suspected with more or less reason—chiefly because having sought the rebel colonel's hospitality only that they might carry the secrets of his military plans to the commanders of the Union armies.

The charming naïveté with which she tries to surprise them into confession of their patriotic sympathies at once amuse the spectator and fill him with a delightful bewilderment as to how it is all to come out. He finds his answer when in the sequel she surrenders unconditionally to the one whom she first helps to flee when she doesn't believe him to be a federal spy, and afterwards orders from her home when she is forced to suspect that he is one after all.

But the lively "Polly" does him injustice with her delicate suspicions. He isn't any spy at all. The only spy she can bring home to him, is that of reading the love letters of her admirers which she has "accidentally" left lying on the parlor sofa—where she was pretty sure he would find them. And it's a pretty scene, too, that shows him trying to hide them behind his back while she insists on reading his fortune on the lines of both his hands.

Here are glimpses of a little story of war and love that Miss Carol Arden is to help unfold for Albuquerque theater-goers on October 28th.

Jointure or Nothing.

The congressional committee that has recently visited Arizona and New Mexico, according to single statehood advocates, has experienced a change of heart, and are now ready to support a measure in congress allowing the two territories in as states. The single statehooders, however, do not take into consideration that your Uncle Joe Cannon had a sore head, or something and unfortunately could not come along, and the further fact that he of all others, must be won over to single statehood before even a bill to that effect can be considered in congress. The News still maintains that joint statehood is the only measure that will be passed by the coming congress, and the people had just as well make up their minds to support that measure or fight it out. It is Arizona, the Great, or it is nothing—Captain News.

A Heart-to-Heart Talk

by a merchant who knows—with customers who want to know—about
Good Clothes

EVERYBODY knows, now-a-days, that only a few obstinate men continue to have their clothes made to order. Perhaps they do it because they dislike the term "ready-made." In most cases they like to pay for a fashionable tailor's label, these are the only two plausible reasons. On the other hand there is every reason why a man should economize when he can get absolutely the best there is to be had by patronizing the clothing store that he knows can meet his requirements. It then becomes largely a question of quality and right price. We know exactly where we stand on this question; and in offering a complete line of our guaranteed clothing we present clothing that stands pre eminent in the quality of its goods and workmanship, and unsurpassed for the style features. We commend it to your good judgment.
