LIQUOR SELLING
MAKING TROUBLE
ABOUT GALLUP

Drunken Navajos Get Handy
With Guns.

DETERMINED EFFORT TO SUPPRESS ILLEGAL TRAFFIC

The evil of selling liquor to the Indians has not yet been suppressed in western New Mexico, and in spite of the efforts of the authorities, the practice goes right along with the usual bad results. The Gallup Republican in its current issue says:

Just at present there are people in this vicinity who are violently breaking the law by selling liquor to the Indians. The officers, county and federal are doing their best to put a stop to the traffic and catch the offenders, but the work of the lawbreakers is done with such secrecy that for the most part the offenders escape detection, sometimes for years.

Recent events in this vicinity show that to all intents and purposes the Indians can get whiskey whenever they want it. Drunken Indians have committed depredations, one endangering the lives of two women by his reckless shooting with a shotgun, and another was under charge of murder but was released because the prosecuting witness refused to appear for some unknown reason, against him. The question is where do these men get the whiskey that makes them a menace to the community.

Both Indians have good reputations and are said to be peaceable when sober. It was the whiskey that made them dangerous. It is only the matter of a short time before some other outrage will be committed near here, and it will be the same old story, a drunken Indian. It is too bad that these white men who are selling liquor to the Indians cannot be caught. They deserve the greatest punishment allowable under the controlling statute, as they are causing a dangerous condition which but for them would not exist. For when sober Indians are law-abiding, but when drunk they forget that white men have made laws which they must respect.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT
PROFESSORSHIP AT BERLIN

GERMAN GOVERNMENT WILL IN RETURN ESTABLISH CHAIR AT COLUMBIA.

New York, Nov. 12.—The announcement was made today that James Speyer, of New York, has given the trustees of Columbia University, New York, the sum of $50,000 to endow the Theodore Roosevelt professorship of American history and institutions at the University of Berlin in accordance with a plan approved by the German emperor who received President Butler in audience last September.

The German government, in return, will establish at Columbia university a professorship of German history and institutions.

In making the announcement President Butler, of Columbia, said in behalf of the trustees:

"Mr. Speyer's gift seems to us both striking in its originality and splendid in its possibilities. We are not without hope that before long Columbia university will be put in a position to make similar arrangements with the University of Paris and with an English university, possibly the University of London."

ANDREWS' VICTIM WAS
MISS EVA HOWARD

J. F. GALLAGHER, OF SAN FRANCISCO, POSITIVELY IDENTIFIES BODY.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 12.—That the woman slain by Milton Franklin Andrews when he and his companion were surrounded by the police, was Eva Howard, daughter of Augustus Howard, alleged leader of the gang which executed the robbery of the treasure chest of the steamer Alameda several years ago is the identification made by J. F. Gallagher, a hotel man of this city. According to Gallagher, he was well acquainted with the woman, that his identification is positive.

"PASSIVE RESISTANCE"
STRIKE INCREASING

AUSTRIAN MINISTRY OF RAILROADS HOPES HOWEVER TO ARRIVE AT SETTLEMENT.

Vienna, Nov. 12.—The employees of the Northern Railroad of Austria tonight joined in the "Passive Resistance" strike. The relations of Baron Von Frankenburg, Austrian premier, to the effect that the government proposes to introduce a suffrage project at the next sitting of parliament this month, have been received with satisfaction and will doubtless go far toward ensuring order and minimizing the effect of the demonstrations. Negotiations are proceeding between the ministry of railroads and representatives of the strikers with a view to a settlement, and there is considerable hope that they will be successful. The government stands firm against disorders, but probably will meet the men half way. The strikers are pursuing their "Passive Resistance" tactics with only partial success.

SCORES ARMY CAPTAINS.

Inspector General Recommends Distribution of Beer as Preventive of Desertions.

Washington, Nov. 12.—In his annual report of conditions in the army Inspector General Burton severely criticizes absenteeism of captains from their commands and says that out of 238 companies and troops from which information was obtained 165 captains were absent. Of desertions in the army he says:

"The best judgment of the army is that if the exchange were to furnish the soldier with light beer, under the supervision of the commanding officer, it would result in minimizing desertion."

CURIOUS STORY
TOLD BY SUSPECTS
HELD IN CITY JAIL

One of Them Has Bullet Wound in Leg.

MAY BE MEN WHO ATTEMPTED TO ROB GROSS-KELLY OFFICES

C. E. Gale, who claims to be a round-house helper, lately of Denver, and R. E. Lansing, who claims to be a farm hand out of a job, are held in the city jail pending an investigation of an attempt to rob the offices of the Gross Kelly wholesale house on Railroad avenue, and of a story of a desperate encounter between the men and the Santa Fe officers at Isleta.

Lansing has a bullet wound in his left leg, having been shot through the fleshy part of the leg with a thirty-eight caliber revolver ball which cut a hole straight through the member. He declares he got the wound while resisting an attack by an officer at Isleta, while the railroad officers believe he got it while running in the upper yards Saturday night when pursued for an attempt to rob the wholesale house.

Gale and Lansing arrived in Albuquerque yesterday morning at 11 o'clock on the belated No. 2 Santa Fe train. To prove this assertion both exhibit cash fare receipts given by the train conductor for passage from Rio Puerco to Albuquerque where they claim they got on the train early yesterday morning.

Lansing says he came to Albuquerque in order to get medical treatment and to prosecute the Santa Fe officer at Isleta, who he alleges shot him without cause. He got the medical treatment desired, but was arrested with his companion soon after for connection with the Gross Kelly robbery.

Late Saturday night Officers Davis and Wells of the Santa Fe station, discovered two men in the act of attempting to pry open a door in the wholesale house. The men ran when the officers approached and lost themselves. Between several strings of cars in the yards. A few minutes later, however, Officer Davis saw one of the men running across the yards headed for the street. He called to the man to halt, and when he did not do so, the officer fired at his feet. The man scurried and ran head first into a box car, falling to the ground. He rolled under the car and when the officer got to the other side, the man had escaped. The two men under arrest, tally as to height and clothing with the men who escaped from the yards.

According to the story told by Lansing and Gale they have been in Albuquerque for two days. They say that at dusk Saturday night they set out for Isleta, arriving there before midnight. They say they walked the entire distance and that they got supper at Isleta. Lansing says that while they were waiting for No. 7 at the Isleta station an officer came up and ordered them off the platform. They declined to go and a fight followed in which the officer alleged to have shot Lansing in the leg.

The men say they walked on to Rio Puerco where they slept in the engine house at the pumping station, returning to Albuquerque yesterday morning, because the wound needed attention.

When arrested Lansing had twenty dollars on his person while Gale had about ten dollars.

The men tell a fairly straight story about their trip to Isleta, the fight and the return to Albuquerque, but it fails to hang together on one essential point. There was no Santa Fe officer at Isleta at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning, Officer Charles Maine stationed at Isleta, was in Albuquerque until after 2:30 p.m. Sunday morning waiting for the train to Isleta which was several hours late. The men when first arrested described Maine accurately as the man who did the shooting. Later in the day, however, they practically identified Officer Akon, of the Santa Fe, at El Paso as the man who did it.

The men do not know this far that they are suspected of connection with the attempt to rob the wholesale house but their story, if proven true, effectively clears their skirts of the job. The railroad officers, however, expect that the investigation today will show that there was no fight at Isleta.

The wound in Lansing's leg is not serious. The bullet entered the leg from behind.

Cure For The Blues
ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, U.S.A. She writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme nervousness, the blues, nervousness and that all-gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

A FATAL MISTAKE

Is Often Made by the Wisest of Albuquerque People.

It's a fatal mistake to neglect backache. Backache is the first symptom of kidney ills.

Serious complications follow. Doan's Kidney Pills cure them promptly. Don't delay until too late. Until it becomes diabetes—Bright's disease.

Read what an Albuquerque citizen says: Mrs. J. H. Smith, of 115 Haining Ave., wife of J. H. Smith, deputy sheriff, says: "I have had backache for a month so severe that every movement I made hurt and I never knew the moment but the slightest strain on the muscles of the back brought a twinge which could only be described as excruciating. I went to the Alvarado Pharmacy for Doan's Kidney Pills and took them. The remedy stopped the annoyance. Since then I have had no necessity to use Doan's Kidney Pills nor any other medicine for aching nerves the small of the back."

For sale by all druggists. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

No. 1 carries through chair car, standard and tourist sleeping cars for Los Angeles.

No. 7 carries through chair, standard and tourist sleeping cars for San Francisco.

All passengers for the north and east in the morning who wish to make local stops will have to take No. 10, as hereafter No. 2 will stop only at Lamy and Morieta, between here and Las Vegas.

The first daily California Limited will arrive in the city today.

Trains Nos. 9 and 10 in New Mexico were tried by the Santa Fe last winter and proved so thoroughly successful that they will again be placed on the time card. The daily California Limited is one of the finest trains on the continent and the daily service is extremely popular with the better class of travelers to and from the coast. The company will endeavor this year to make this palatial train even more luxurious and attractive, and no pains will be spared to get its patrons across to the west in the quickest possible time compatible with the most absolute comfort and convenience.

The California Limited has been running for eleven years and has been improving a little with each year. The actual running time of the daily service this year will beat the present semi-weekly train's time by an hour and a half, making the run from Chicago to Los Angeles in 67 hours. The eastbound run will be made in 56 hours.

The Santa Fe is having such a record breaking passenger traffic this year, on trains of all kinds, from the limited to the emigrant coach, that it is expected the new trains will be crowded all winter.

COWBOYS ROUND UP BAD SECTION MEN

SHERIFF WITH PUNCHERS SAVES
ROADMASTER FROM ANGRY
ITALIANS.

Arkansas City, Kan., Nov. 12.—Roadmaster Hugh McNeal of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe had an exciting experience at Red Rock the other day when he was working with a crowd of Italians on the road's track. McNeal was criticizing the work of one of the men who became incensed at his remarks and struck McNeal with his shovel. The whole bunch of Italians then attacked the roadmaster who ran into the baggage room at the station and locked the door.

The workmen were arming themselves with clubs and rocks and preparing to batter down the building, so angry and frantic had they become, when Deputy Sheriff McElhinney arrived opportunely on the scene with a dozen men and placed the crowd under arrest.

The deputy sheriff rounded up a number of cowboys who happened to be in Red Rock and the whole crowd went after the Italians. They charged the foreigners, who by that time had gathered in large numbers around the place where the roadmaster had taken refuge, and shooting as they advanced, soon had the Italians on the run. About twenty of them were captured, and taken to Perry aboard No. 115. When the prisoners had been safely placed on the train, the cowboys started out after the others who had succeeded in escaping into the brush. By night they had rounded up thirty-five more and these were also taken to Perry.

SANTA FE TO HAVE MODEL "DRY FARM"

The Santa Fe railroad has practically decided to establish model farms along its lines under the Campbell system of dry farming. This is one of the most important innovations ever made by a railway in the west and will result in bringing thousands of dollars of eastern capital to Colorado and other western states where there are great areas of arid lands lying idle.

J. L. Donahue, vice president of the Colonial Securities company, is in Chicago, where he will confer with J. W. Kendrick, vice president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad to arrange the particulars for starting the farms.

H. W. Campbell, the father of the system, sent Mr. Donahue a telegram stating that the co-operation of the Santa Fe was now assured and the details were prepared for the development of the scheme.

Now that the matter has been decided the establishment of model farms will be rushed as fast as possible, and next year will see many of them in operation. Their location on the lines of the railroad will give tourists an opportunity to study the value of the system and its supporters claim that this will be all that is necessary to bring eastern capital and farmers to Colorado to follow suit.

CAN'T COLLECT TAXES ON EL TOVAR

RAILWAY COMPANY CLAIMS
IMMENSE HOTEL IS EXEMPT
FROM ASSESSMENT.

The Santa Fe and Grand Canyon railway has joined the county treasurer of Coconino county, Arizona, in collecting taxes on the assessment made against the El Tovar hotel, claiming exemption under Section 1 of Act No. 68, of the legislature of Arizona, approved March 16, 1899, giving the Coconino Sun.

The assessor valued the El Tovar at $35,000 and other improvements at $15,000. The board of equalization raised the assessment to $50,000 and also placed the Bright Angel hotel on the roll at a value of $15,000 and afterward reduced these assessments to $175,000.

The assessment was made as personal property. The railroad claims that the hotel is a part of the station grounds and exempt from taxation, as is the railroad, and under the same law.

The injunction was issued today from the district court of this county, and the case will come up for trial at the April, 1906, term of court.

MORE HOMESICKERS BUSILY BUYING TICKETS

Kansas City, Nov. 12.—Homeseekers were in evidence yesterday at every ticket office of roads leading into the Southwest. At the Santa Fe office Assistant General Passenger Agent Hag-enbush had six ticket clerks selling tickets all day, the receipts amounting to at least $2,000 for the day. The cheap homeseekers' rate was in effect and everybody who could get away wanted to go to Oklahoma, Western Kansas, Texas or Indian Territory. The Rock Island road had an equal number of clerks busy, and between the two roads it is estimated that between 4,000 and 5,000 excursionists were sent out of here, coming from points east of here and from this immediate vicinity.

OLD AGE BROUGHT NO INFIRMITIES

"To the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table."

Oliver Wendell Holmes, after eighty years of life had rolled over his head, declared that he was "eighty years young." "So may every man and woman in Albuquerque," said a member of the firm of J. H. O'Reilly & Co., "if they will take proper care of themselves, keep built up and their bodily tissues from wasting."

"We wish we could persuade every person in this vicinity who 'feels old,' whether they are so in years or not, to take Vinol. It is by far the greatest tissue builder and invigorator we know of for old people. Vinol is not a patent medicine, but simply contains the body-building, strength-giving properties of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cod's livers, and we guarantee that it will repair worn tissues, check the natural decline and replace weakness with strength."

There are hundreds of old people in this vicinity who need just such a strength-maker and tissue-builder as Vinol. Their blood is thin, sluggish, and watery, but we guarantee that Vinol will enrich and quicken the blood and build and strengthen every organ in the body. Vinol contains no whiskey or strong stimulants, which have a bad after effect and weaken and break down, and we wish every old person in this vicinity would try Vinol. If they are not satisfied, J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

MONDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 13, 1905.

The Case of Finland

WHATEVER may be thought of the present fitness of other parts of the Russian empire for a government based on universal suffrage, doubt cannot be entertained as to the fitness of Finland. Finland has already demonstrated her capacity for the successful administration of a highly developed democracy. The imperial decree in her favor granted about a week ago, does not confer new and experimental rights and privileges; it merely restores those which the czar, in defiance of his coronation oath as grand duke of Finland, ravished from the duchy no longer ago than 1899.

Of the many political crimes of the present czar, says an eastern exchange, the one he committed against Finland was the blackest and the most foolish. It is not strange that now he has begun to affect virtue, and to give signs of returning reason, that one of his first acts is to seek to undo the wrong of six years ago. But it is doubtful whether he or any of his successors will ever again be able to command the honest loyalty for nearly a century characterized the attitude of Finland toward the autocrats. The Finns are intelligent enough to know that the influence that has loosened their chains is not the reawakened conscience of the czar but the revolutionary movement among the Russian people. Finnish gratitude is due not to Nicolas, but to his other victims, and hereafter Finland, instead of being coldly and selfishly indifferent to the suffering of the remainder of the empire, will help promote the common cause.

ATROPOS of the wrecking of the Enterprise Bank of Allegheny, J. B. Correy, one of the leading financiers of Bradstock, a director in the Bradstock National bank, says "pathetic politicians who hold municipal and state public offices are not safe men for the people to deposit their money with or to lend any to. I have made it a rule on general principles to kick on any paper these politicians offer at our bank, and I have always steered clear of a bank that I notice they are in favor with, especially if I know of any of them being directors of the bank."

Corrupt Influence

HERE is not a single influence at work against the joint statehood bill that is not a corrupt influence. It is nothing short of monstrous that a measure so essentially rightful as the admission to the union of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one state, and of Arizona and New Mexico as another state—a measure which, once adopted, will endure as long as the republic endures—should be obstructed and delayed by the selfish and ephemeral interests of local politicians and by the corrupt and likewise ephemeral interests of mine owners and railroad magnates.—Harper's Weekly.

NOTHING could be more melancholy than the plight of the Semitic race in Russia. It seems to make little difference what the character of the government may be, for the Jews were massacred under the bitterly repressive regime of Plevne, and now even more extensively during the semi-anarchy attending the advent of liberalism and reform. The tormenting of the old bonds of political society has evidently freed the very worst of racial and religious passions in many parts of the country, and everywhere it is the Jew, apparently, who suffers most in the upheaval.—Springfield Republican.

EX-GOVERNOR BATES of Massachusetts, in a recent interview on secrets of success, said this: "In any and every field of endeavor that man who regards his education as finished—who says he has learned all there is to know in his trade or profession—soon sees the rearward lights of the passing procession."

A REPUBLICAN paper in Cincinnati remarks that the party does not want another boss to succeed Cox. Judging from the size of the Cox dose, the suggestion seems to be unnecessary.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE Union Pacific has dropped James H. Hyde from its list of directors and is said to be making other improvements.—Kansas City Journal.

A NICE thing about being in politics is you never fear that anything worse can happen to you in the next world.—New York Press.

What Ails the Girls?

DR. JARRETT, a lady physician on the staff of the New York board of education, states that a large percentage of the young women graduates who come to her for the physical examination now required before a teacher's license is granted fail to pass this test. The doctor finds in these girls a condition resembling in many ways that produced by overwork and anxiety in business men. There is bad heart action and a broken down nervous system. Dr. Jarrett attributes the condition not so much to over study and lack of exercise as to bad methods of study and carelessness in eating. In order to be healthy at the end of her four years' course the college girl must live a simple life, with comparatively few dissipation in the shape of theaters and dances. The physical condition bred by overwork and careless eating during this important formative period of a woman's life may never be recovered from.

Commenting upon Dr. Jarrett's statement the New York Globe says if the importance of a disease is to be estimated, as of course it is, not only by its mortality but also by its frequency and the amount of suffering and discomfort which it causes, chronic invalidism in women occupies the front rank. Everyone, continues the Globe, has among his acquaintances families in which there is a bed-ridden or sofa-ridden woman, who is perpetually being doctored, is swallowing bucketsful of drugs, and who is very frequently the center of attraction for Christian Scientists, or other varieties of faith healers. In the great majority of such cases careful inquiry will trace its onset back to school days.

Dr. W. S. Playfair, a leading British specialist, says, apropos of the school curriculum: "So long as the school mistresses go on the theory that men and women are alike, and should be treated as being alike, and that the difference between them will disappear when women are not prevented by evil traditions from sharing with perfect equality the ambitions and occupations of the other sex, so long will evil certainly arise." Hard work, mental of physical, will do no harm if properly safeguarded. Dr. Playfair agrees with Dr. Jarrett that excessive work, which is usually held to be a fertile source of breakdown, is not an important factor by itself, but only in conjunction with lowered vitality and an abused nervous system.

WE can understand the elimination of William Cullen Bryant and others of like mold from our Hall of Fame, but who is responsible for the absence of McGraw, of the Giants, from a niche in the temple.—New York Herald.

How the Lid Went On in Deadwood

(From the New York Sun.)
 "The folks that don't believe the world is getting better ought to drop in on little old Deadwood one of these days," said Peter English, old-time gambler and faro dealer, as he came out of a ticket broker's office, where he had been to price transportation to Denver. "For the first time since I've been in the hills the proprietors of the luck mills have been scurrying around trying to find the keys to their front doors. The lid is on all right and I guess we'll have to move on."

This summarizes the situation in Deadwood today so far as it relates to gambling. For twenty-seven years open gambling has been the rule in this city. Six big and four little joints have been wide open, each catering to a certain element of the population. Deadwood was one of the first gold camps in the hills after the excitement of 1878 and 1879, and under way. Life was held very cheaply then, and stable government was a long time coming. Now a committee of citizens and the state's attorney have come to the conclusion that open gambling is a bad thing for business as well as morals, and they have bolted the lid down. They notified the gamblers that their limit had expired, and they were told to shut up and move on. It was a big surprise all around.

Parker, the state's attorney, is an old westerner. He came here in the staging days and was one of the lawyers who defended the freighters. In the days of the bullwhacker's strike in the early eighties, he has lived here for twenty-five years.

"I closed up the joints," he says, "not because of any wave of public sentiment or because they were getting too much of the wealth. I simply came to the conclusion that the town had passed the mining town stage and it was time to move up into the decent city class."

Gambling has been a public institution for so long that the order to close came as a distinct shock. More than $1,000 a month in taxes are received by the city for the joint licenses, and this sum paid a considerable portion of the tax budget. Seventy-eight professional gamblers, not to mention porters and waiters, were employed in the places, and the most of them moved to Denver, where the lid is tilted a little.

Deadwood is a city of about 5,000 people. It is situated just where a narrow gorge in the hill widens a little and its houses mostly cling to the sides of the steep hills. Down its center runs a sprawling mountain stream. Out of the hills all about gold is still being dug. More than half the men in town work in the mines and in the cyanide mills and chlorination works. The rest live on the workers.

The open-arm policy toward gambling resulted in some curious mix-ups. The gambling den and the dry goods store, the grocery and the faro layout were to be found next door to one another in the main street. One was regarded as much a legitimate institution as the other. The only difference was that the dry goods store and the grocery closed up Sundays. There was no attempt to conceal the character of the business going on. The window blinds were up and the doors open, and he who passed might know.

One man in every twenty in the town is a Chinaman. Some of them work in the mines, a few run laundries and others officiate as cooks. They were all inveterate gamblers, and they are now the most disconsolate fellows in town. Fanto was open to them, but they generally passed it up for poker or faro. It has long been a story here that the Chinks were nearly all employed by a company that financed them a salary and a share when they won, which they did more often than they lost. To get paid for playing poker was a thing that made them the envy of not a few white men.

Deadwood has been the scene of many a big crime. It is just on the edge of the hills, and cattlemen from the country to the north—men who have money enough to buy up a town or two and still have capital left to start a bank—often dropped in and they boasted things to the limit. Sometimes they broke the bank; often they went broke themselves. Only one rule was laid down for the gamblers in recent years. That was that all games must be run on the square. The dealer was entitled to his percentage, but no more. If he tried to run race or deal crooked the place was closed and stayed closed.

Stories of the Streets and of the Town

What He Was Looking For.
 The man with the ten cents per look telescope, who has been holding forth on Railroad avenue, has excited a good deal of attention for the past few days, and has been a special favorite with the small boys. Yesterday he was planted out in the middle of the thoroughfare in broad daylight, with his eye glued to the small end of the telescope, when two well known politicians who had not seen the instrument previously, passed by. "What in the name of Sam Hill is that man looking at through that telescope?" asked one of the gentlemen.

"Don't know sure, but I'll hazard a guess," said the other. "I wouldn't be at all surprised if he was looking for Governor Otero's third term."

Petitions to Burn.
 "The man who likes to write his name on things can get plenty of exercise in Santa Fe these days," said a well known southern New Mexico politician in Albuquerque last night. "I have just come from a visit of several days in the capital, and I have had opportunities to attach my name to petitions for appointment and re-appointment of pretty much every officer and official from the governor to the capitol sweepers. It seems that every man has a petition in his pocket and that all but one or two are candidates for some job which it is expected will be presently vacant. I am not much of a petitioner myself, but I have been bluffed and lured into signing at least six. From the number of petitions on the run up here, it looks as if the president would have no trouble in finding material. I expect there are several dozens of men for every job, and a few new jobs could be provided for without trouble. The opening of congress is the beginning of uneasy times in Santa Fe."

TIME TO LOCK UP YOUR BACK WINDOWS IN ALBUQUERQUE

Three More Robberies Re- ported to Police.

FASTIDIOUS SNEAK THIEF IS LOOKING FOR FEMINE GARMENTS

Three more small robberies were reported to the police yesterday, similar in many details to the trio of jobs done on Huning avenue a week ago and in which the thief or thieves displayed a curious fastidiousness in making his selections from the residences entered. The latest victims are Dr. R. L. Herndon in the Maloy flats on South Third street, H. L. Lindemann, of 412 South Fifth street and Cashier J. B. Herndon of the State National bank, whose residence is on North Ninth street. The first two robberies were committed early Saturday evening, and in both cases the owners of the homes entered were away, and the house untenanted.

Mr. Herndon's family is also away from home and his house was vacant when entered by a thief last night.

The police believe the same man is doing the work and they believe he is well acquainted with the habits of a number of Albuquerque people as well as with the interior of their homes. The robberies have all been made easy by the absence of the owners and the leaving of a rear window unlocked.

While no booty of any importance has been secured in any of the six robberies, this fact of itself makes the work of the thief interesting. He seems to have a fondness for feminine attire and seldom takes over a dress, while silver plate and valuable jewelry are apparently not worth anything to him.

When Dr. Herndon and his wife returned from the doctor's office Saturday night they found Mrs. Herndon's room in some disorder and an investigation showed that the room had been ransacked. So far as they have been able to discover nothing is missing, but an expensive gown of Mrs. Herndon's, the thief passed over a case of jewelry, some of which was of considerable value, and all of the silver and ornaments in the first floor of the house.

Mr. Lindemann suffered the loss of a revolver, and a bracelet of no great value, belonging to Mrs. Lindemann. Entrance was effected through a rear window. Mr. and Mrs. Lindemann did not return from down town until quite late Saturday night and found the open window to tell the story.

Offered to Shoot Mr. Herndon. The attempt to rob Mr. Herndon's residence last night was a rather more serious affair. Mr. Herndon and Mr. H. Lehr returned from the city last night about 8:30 o'clock. They had been away during the afternoon. Mrs. Herndon and her children being out of the city. When they entered they found a man at work in the house. He ran up stairs and Mr. Herndon went out the front door which he locked. He then ran to shut off escape by the rear door while Mr. Lehr went for a revolver. Just as Mr. Lehr reached the scene of action with a pistol which he had borrowed from a neighbor, the man appeared on the upstairs front porch and warning his pursuer that he was ready to shoot, he jumped to the ground, made a neat run for the street and escaped. In the darkness Mr. Herndon got a very poor idea of the appearance of the burglar and is unable to tell whether he is white or black.

The police are busily engaged on these latest house-breaking stunts and it is probable that an arrest or two will be made before many hours. A warning is given to people who leave their homes in the evening to leave them locked and to take careful care to lock back windows and doors.

MAY LAUNCH BIG IRRIGATION SCHEME

EASTERN MEN HAVE BEEN IN- SPECTING AMERICAN VALLEY IN SOCORRO COUNTY.

C. H. Elmendorf, of San Antonio, New Mexico, left Albuquerque yesterday morning for Chicago with a party of eastern men whom he has been piloting over the farming districts of New Mexico for the past week. In the party are E. A. Benson of Milwaukee and E. G. Wilson of Logansport, Indiana. The first purpose of the visitors in coming to New Mexico was to inspect certain lands in the American valley of Socorro county, where it is proposed to establish a big irrigation system to reclaim several thousands of acres. Several days were spent in Socorro county when the party went across country to Torrance, thence by automobile to Roswell and the Pecos valley. All of the visitors were favorably impressed with the possibilities of the American valley and it is probable that the enterprise will be put through although no final conclusions have been reached.

DOCTOR KEYES SAYS SCHOOL OF MINES IS FLOURISHING

Expects Enrollment of Sev- enty-Five This Year.

BOHEMIAN COLONY AT SOCORRO NOW SEEMS ASSURED

Dr. Charles R. Keyes, president of the School of Mines at Socorro, was in Albuquerque yesterday for the day. Dr. Keyes says that the institution is in better condition than ever before and that the present year promises to be a most successful one. "Our enrollment at present," said Dr. Keyes, "is between sixty and sixty-five and I have no doubt that it will reach seventy-five before the end of the year, as I know of a number of students who will enter for the next semester. This is especially encouraging when I say that we have this year cut off many of the preparatory scholars, thus reducing our enrollment by fully fifty or sixty students. The Socorro public schools are in better shape and they are taking care of the children there."

"We expect to have the smelter buildings ready for use in a short time and when that is accomplished we will have one of the best equipped institutions of the kind in the west. I do not believe that we will need any additional buildings for many years, for while the smelter buildings are frame and cheaply constructed, they can be made habitable and will serve for the purpose."

Dr. Keyes says that the proposed Bohemian colony at Socorro is rapidly taking form and that there is every reason to expect from four to five hundred farmers there at once. The promoter of the enterprise has been in Socorro for several weeks and has closed all arrangements for land.

The Southwestern Press

The Inevitable Good Point.

There is some good in everything. Delegate Andrews of course deserves no great credit for the result in Pennsylvania—but he performed excellent service as a horrible example.—Roswell Record.

Quite Right.

It is to be hoped that every opponent of joint statehood is doing his duty. The danger is imminent, and it will be too late to avert it after the Hamilton bill is signed by the president.—Bisbee Review.

Its Days Are Numbered.

Nearly every newspaper in New Mexico has taken up the cudgel against licensed gambling, and not a voice has yet been lifted up in its defense. A cause that can not find even an apologist must possess little merit indeed. Evidently the days of licensed gambling in New Mexico are numbered.—Socorro Chieftain.

Overlooking the Truly Great.

That remarkable committee has selected several more names to be posted in the American Hall of Fame, but has decided not to give them out at present. The committee would better have the names published as early and as often as possible, for if they are like many of the others, they will need all the publicity they can acquire.—Las Vegas Optic.

No They Didn't.

A great reform movement for pure politics and freedom from bossism is sweeping over this country, and has cleared out a number of the old corrupt strongholds in a number of the American cities. It is not claimed that it has struck New Mexico yet and we presumed the E. P. passed resolution of confidence in "our delegate" at the meeting of the territorial central committee held in Santa Fe yesterday.—Otero County Advertiser.

The "Square Deal."

Various and sundry newspapers published in New Mexico have taken it upon themselves to abuse Senator Andrews for his supposed connection with the Enterprise bank failure. If Senator Andrews is guilty as charged of having made away with several hundred thousand dollars of state money deposited in that bank, he certainly deserves all the abuse he is likely to get "and then some," but a "square deal" calls for conviction before punishment.—Socorro Chieftain.

One More For Rodey.

The choice for the next governor of New Mexico seems to lie between Herbert J. Hagerman and Bernard S. Rodey. Both are clean and capable and the president could go far and look better before he would find any two men better fitted for filling the executive office of New Mexico. Besides, both are home products and this per se, all things being equal, should secure for either of them the earnest support of the people of the territory.—Silver City Enterprise.

The Governor Rec.

It is understood by politicians in the territory and in Washington that Governor Otero will not receive another appointment as governor. This condition of political affairs has put a big bar in the bonnets of more than one of the republican workers and as January draws near the bee is buzzing overtime. Hon. R. S. Rodey seems to be a popular candidate for the position and should be appointed no one with the welfare of the territory at heart could object.—Gallup Republican.

They Will Be Counted.

The New Mexico Non-Partisan Joint Statehood league has been organized by members in every county in the territory. Grant county is represented on the general committee by such notorious non-partisans as W. B. Walton and R. M. Turner, of Silver City; J. R. Glickish, of Pierre, and D. H. Keldie, of Lordsburg. There is at the liberal office a petition in favor of statehood.

And all who want any old kind of a state that can be secured from congress may sign the petition, and the local member of the executive committee assures the signers that the petition will be put where at least the names will be counted.—Lordsburg Liberal.

Some of our exchanges have stated that the Cocino Sun has become an advocate of joint statehood, for Arizona and New Mexico. How anyone could have fallen into such an error is beyond comprehension. While the Sun has not been an ardent advocate of statehood, either joint, or single, it has at all times opposed jointure, and will to the end. At the present time Arizona is not ready for statehood, but is rapidly approaching the time when she can demand admission as a single state, and it is largely the same with New Mexico. Both territories can well afford to wait that time rather than be forced into joint statehood, a condition obnoxious to the majority of the people of both territories. What Arizona is trying to do now is to keep from becoming a state either jointly or singly.—Flagstaff Sun.

Against Any Kind of Statehood.

The Albuquerque Fair association continues to have trouble. The association is several thousand dollars in debt, and does not know how to get out. As usual, it is a case of "too late to turn back." There will soon be another vacant office in Albuquerque, that of postmaster, and there are several men who are anxious to take that office. It is probable that Delegate Andrews will have the naming of the postmaster. The liberal would suggest that the Fair association consult with the delegate, and have him recommend for appointment as postmaster the man who will consent to serve as president of the Fair association next year, thus killing two birds with one stone.—Lordsburg Liberal.

Here's Generosity.

The Record is informed that the republican sheriff has decided to demand the resignation of the present democratic editor of the Daily Record, or that he will start a new paper in Roswell. There is no law against the sheriff starting another paper, and on the other hand, our resignation would probably do the Record no harm. But if the sheriff really wishes to kill the Record the best plan would be to buy it and run it awhile himself. He told us some time ago in the presence of a democratic county official that he thought of getting Dr. C. E. Lukens to edit his new paper. We considered this buncombe, of course, but suggested at the time that the minister would probably make a greater success of the enterprise than anyone else in town, and we still stand ready to welcome both gentlemen into the fellowship of the fraternity.—Roswell Record.

Miners Refuse to Be Bound.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 11.—A special from Shamokin, Pa., to the Evening Telegraph, says: A complete canvass of the Lackawanna, Schuylkill and Lehigh coal districts, shows that the miners through their delegates to the United Mine Workers' convention to be held here beginning December 14th, will refuse to be bound after April 1st, next, by the renewal of the award of the anthracite coal strike commission appointed by President Roosevelt, unless the operators in addition agree to the union becoming a signatory party. A committee representing union miners will be instructed to wait upon the operators and request a conference. This committee will explain to the operators, if granted an opportunity of conference, so that a mutual agreement may be reached as to the terms of employment at all collieries after April 1st.

PERSON

WILL RAILROADS OBEY MANDATE OF THE COMMISSION

Means Thousands to Western Stock Growers.

NOTES OF NEW MEXICO AND ARIZONA CATTLEMEN

Will the railroads, particularly in the west, comply with the order of the inter-state commerce commission rendered Wednesday to reduce the terminal charges of $2 a car on stock delivered at the Chicago Union stock yards? They have thirty days in which to comply. Obeyance to the order means a half million dollars a year to stockmen in the west, and for that reason they are greatly interested in the outcome. Should the roads fail to obey, then the matter must again be taken to the federal court for adjudication.

Secretary T. W. Tomlinson of the American Stock Growers' association, with headquarters in Denver, was the one through whom this suit was instituted back in 1896. He was then traffic secretary of the Chicago Live Stock exchange. Mr. Tomlinson has watched the case ever since he brought it, nearly ten years ago. Backed by the stockmen of the west particularly, he has waged the fight against the railroads in the matter vigorously. In view of the fact that it is now being made, especially by the stockmen of the country for the Roosevelt idea of enlarging the powers of the inter-state commerce commission in order that it may supervise the rate-making by the railroads and fix the rate on an equitable basis, this case is an important one.

History of the Case.
Mr. Tomlinson has discussed the situation at length giving the history of it and drawing an argument in favor of the Roosevelt idea. He says:

"On January 1, 1894, the railroads entered at the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, imposed a terminal charge of $2 per car on live stock delivered thereat, amounting to about $600,000 annually. All the shippers protested against the charge, but moral suasion proved of no avail with the railroads, and in 1896 the Cattle Raisers' association of Texas and the Chicago Live Stock exchange filed a petition before the inter-state commerce commission, alleging that the $2 terminal charge was an unjust and unreasonable exaction. After an elaborate hearing of the case the inter-state commerce commission decided that inasmuch as the railroads had been put to an expense for trackage, averaging about $1 per car, which had then for the first time been imposed, they were justified in charged $1 per car additional, but that anything more than $1 was unreasonable and unjust, and they made an order against the railroads, directing them to cease and desist from charging $2.

Resort Had to Courts.
The railroads paid no attention to the decision of the commission and resort was had to the federal courts to enforce the order.

The case wound its slow way through the courts, first being tried on demurrer and then on its merits; the federal court of appeals was divided on the question at issue. When the case finally got to the supreme court of the United States, that court decided that the commission was entirely correct on the fact, but that, owing to the absence from the record of some evidence which they thought might have a bearing on the issue, the case was remanded to the commission for further investigation.

"The whole case was then reopened by the inter-state commerce commission, and evidence was taken on the point which the supreme court had discovered, and during the past ten days the commission has announced its second decision, sustaining its former findings.

"It will probably be necessary to again proceed through the courts a second time, and four or five years more will be consumed before the shippers of live stock will obtain a decision that will be binding upon the railroads.

"This case will illustrate the delay in trying to get any relief from an unreasonable rate through the courts. Under the most favorable conditions it would not be possible to get a final decision from the courts upon an order of the inter-state commerce commission under four or five years, and the shippers of live stock will obtain a decision that will be binding upon the railroads.

Court Passes It to Commission.
The supreme court has said that a tribunal such as the inter-state commerce commission, possessing special expert knowledge and complete statistical information, is far more competent than any court to decide disputed questions as to railroad rates. Therefore, I contend that after the commission has heard all the evidence on both sides relative to any rate complained of, that such decision as it makes should, in all fairness, be promptly put into effect. It sounds well to say that the railroads are able to pay whatever the courts may finally decide is illegal, and that a bond to do so would protect the shippers, but the actual operation of such a method would be a travesty on justice.

"As it is now, a complainant is compelled to conduct two proceedings, one before the commission and another before the courts, and probably at the end of four or five years he may get a final decision in his favor. The damage suffered in the interim by those directly and indirectly affected cannot be measured in the difference between a wrong rate and the right one, which the complainant or parties paying might finally recover. Communities may have been irreparably injured by being even temporarily deprived of natural advantages to which they are rightly entitled; industries might be ruined, a man driven out of business, and the recovery of the unreasonable excess would then be small solace. Many and, in fact, the majority, of those who are really injured by an unjust, unreasonable or discriminatory rate could not secure even the scanty benefit of a return of the excess over a fair charge. Briefly speaking, the consumers are the real sufferers from unreasonable rates, and they rarely could recover.

Another Four or Five Years.
"It is claimed by many that the city of Denver is discriminated against. Now suppose a case involving such discrimination was tried before the inter-state commerce commission and a favorable decision rendered, which the railroads, as usual, disregarded. This city would be compelled to go into the courts to enforce the order, and probably four or five years would elapse before a final decision. If favorable, the city of Denver could not recover any damages for the discrimination because she did not pay any freight charges, and probably the citizens of Denver were the only real sufferers.

"Thus it is vitally necessary that if any remedy is to be afforded the public it should be prompt, so that the continuance of any unjust or unreasonable rate may not inflict greater damage. Justice delayed is too often justice denied. The railroads are exceedingly anxious to have all these rate questions left to the courts, probably because the courts are less qualified to pass upon them than a commission, and likely also because the courts cannot fix rates.

"The inter-state commerce commission, or the government, stands in the relation of an umpire between the complaining shippers and the railroads and when such an umpire decides a case its decision should be put into effect immediately, and should remain in effect until and unless reversed by the courts."

He Took Out License.
The Williams, Arizona, News says: Live Stock Inspector T. F. Holden was also deputy sheriff, the first of the week went out about twelve miles south of Flagstaff and placed H. R. Heckethorn under arrest for unlawfully killing cattle. On Monday Judge Harrington's court at Flagstaff the case was dismissed because of a lack of evidence to convict. Under the law passed by the last legislature it is unlawful for a rancher to kill more than three beef in any one year unless he has a butcher's license. As it is a pretty hard matter to convict a man for killing his own beef it is likely that hereafter, instead of trying to limit the number, the inspector will see that that section of the law demanding that a beef be inspected before it is killed be enforced. The fact of the matter is that the law is not intended to work a hardship on such men as Mr. Heckethorn who kill their own cattle, but is intended for the fellow who kills those of his neighbor. Hence it were better to make arrests for a violation of the inspection clause. We understand that Mr. Heckethorn, not wishing to have further trouble, has made application for a butcher's license.

Albuquerque Man Ships to California.
William Farr, of Albuquerque, shipped 1948 head of cattle from Lordsburg the first of the week to the Imperial valley in California, where he will fatten them for the California market. The principal shippers were Jack Mansfield and Robson, although many other small owners put in a few steers. H. C. Day drove about 250 head of steers from the Gila to put in on this shipment, but he was not in on the contract, and there were enough without his cattle, so they were not taken, and he had to drive them back to the river.—Lordsburg Liberal.

Another Lincoln County Sale.
It is reported that the El Capitan Land and Cattle company have disposed of their ranch and cattle. The property is said to have been sold to a Fort Worth, Texas, man, the cattle to be taken on the range.—Capitan News.

Big Sale of Cattle.
A large cattle sale was consummated this week whereby the Cretion Cattle company came into possession of the cattle and ranches of R. H. Speed of Gold Hill. Consideration private. At the same time Mr. Speed bought the elegant two-story brick residence of J. C. Cretion in this city and has already moved his family in from Gold Hill and is occupying same. Mr. Speed's son who has been attending school in Deming has joined the city schools. The cattle outfit of Mr. Speed was one of the large outfits of the county. The Cretion Cattle company is composed of the Cretion Brothers, John C. James and Richard, and by their recent acquisition, became one of the important factors in the cattle business in the southwest.—Silver City Enterprise.

New Mexico Horses to Georgia.
Messrs. Gray and Kratzer reached Capitan this week with their horses from the Three Rivers country—about one hundred and twenty-five in number—and cut out what they wished to ship and left yesterday for the Carrizozo shipping pens. They will ship to Georgia.—Capitan News.

WHAT CAUSES DANDRUFF.
Greatest European Authority on Skin Diseases, Says It's a Germ.
The old idea that dandruff is scales of skin thrown off, through a feverish condition of the scalp is exploded. Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases says dandruff is a germ disease. The germ burrows under the scalp, throwing out little scales of cuticle, and causing the itching of the hair at the root. The only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Not only cures dandruff, but stops falling hair and permits a luxuriant growth. Delightful hair dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. B. H. Briggs & Co., special agents.

MYSTERY OF FATE OF GRINDLE DEEPENS

CAPTAIN RYNNING RETURNS FROM TIBURON WITHOUT FINDING TRACE OF LOST MEN.

Bisbee, Ariz., Nov. 12.—Captain Rynning, at the head of a searching party sent after the Grindell party, returned to Guaymas yesterday after an absence of a week. The party sailed up the coast from Guaymas and made five landings on Tiburon Island, but could find no trace of the party there. They saw no Indians, but found plenty of fresh signs. They crossed over to the western coast of the main land and trailed inward fifty miles. They found the dead horses and burros of the missing party, but no trace of the men or their bodies. The camping outfit was also found and the old camps of the party were located, but there was no trace of the missing men. Hoffman, the guide, who made his way down the coast after becoming separated from Grindell on June 29 last, took the searchers to the last place he saw the missing men, and the trail was followed until obliterated. Rynning is of the opinion that the men, crazed with thirst, wandered away into some obscure spot and died.

Grindell's brother and his party are still in that section, Rynning and the searchers cut their trail twenty miles inland, going south, and again still farther in, where they say they turned and started back north.

AN OPEN LETTER

To Our Patrons and Friends

We have entered into a contract with Mr. Geo. W. Hickox, agreeing to sell to him our Jewelry Business, including stock, fixtures and good will, Jan. 1, 1906. One strong feature of our agreement with Mr. Hickox is that we promise to reduce our very large and complete stock to the lowest possible point before that date and with this end in view, we will begin, Saturday, Nov. 4, a SPECIAL CLOSING OUT SALE to continue until Dec. 31, at which time we positively retire from the jewelry business, having arranged to go into the manufacturing lumber business in British Columbia.

Our business in Albuquerque has increased steadily year by year, and grateful for this, we propose for the next two months, to cut out the big end of our profits and to give you such a genuine bargain sale of really fine, high-grade goods, as never has been offered in our city.

We invite you to make your selections now and avoid the rush of the December trade. We have ample vault-room and will gladly lay aside the goods you select, until you are ready for them. We have been in the jewelry business 26 years, and have never yet advertised a fake sale. In this sale we will offer you rare bargains in Diamonds and Fine Watches. Every sale will be backed by my personal guarantee. Mail Orders solicited and satisfaction assured.

M. Wikman, of Bernalillo, made his usual Sunday visit to Albuquerque yesterday.

Charles Aklin, Santa Fe officer at Flagstaff, was in the city yesterday on railroad business.

E. Payson Ripley, trainmaster of the Rio Grande division, was a visitor in Albuquerque yesterday.

Mrs. E. A. Riehl returned last night from Glenwood Springs, Col., where she has been visiting relatives and friends for the last six weeks.

Advises have been received by friends in Santa Fe that Delegate W. H. Andrews expects to return to New Mexico before congress convenes and that he will probably be in Santa Fe on the 29th of this month.

Mrs. E. F. Sanctuary arrived in the city last night from Northfield, Vermont. Her husband has been in the city for the past six months and has just completed a house on South Water street, where they will live.

The remains of Mrs. Florence Beaman Britton, whose death occurred Saturday night, will be laid to rest in Hollywood cemetery, Los Angeles, where they were taken last night by Mr. T. L. Krebs, son of the deceased. A brief funeral service was held at Mr. Krebs' home on North Eighth street yesterday afternoon.

M. E. Malone, of Denver, an expert gas man, who is superintending the construction of the new gas plant of the Albuquerque Gas and Electric company, arrived in the city from the north last night. It is announced that the new plant across the railroad tracks from the Alvarado will be ready for business within the next ten days or two weeks.

Contractor A. L. Morgan, of this city, who recently secured the contract for the building of the Salomon building in Santa Fe, has added another contract to his work in the Alvarado. He is to construct a $3,000 residence for Leo Harsch at once. The building will be of Santa Fe brick, two stories and will be one of the handsomest residences in Santa Fe.

Several Albuquerque people who take a deep interest in the Pueblo Indians were in the Tesuque pueblo north of Santa Fe yesterday, to witness the annual deer dance of the pueblo, one of its most solemn ceremonies, and one that is never offered save in thanksgiving for bountiful crops. The annual fiesta of the Tesuque pueblo is now under way and will continue for several days.

Miss Bolah M. Evans, an artist, and the sister, Miss Mae Evans, a writer, both of Chicago, are in New Mexico for a stay of several weeks. Miss Evans is to do several paintings for the Santa Fe for use in connection with the southwestern advertising campaign, and her sister is to do some of the writing for the railroad's booklets. They are now studying the Indians of Tesuque and will later spend some time in Santo Domingo, Isleta, Laguna and Acoma.

The funeral of Mrs. Lydia M. Blanchford will take place this morning at 10 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. M. A. Bliss, sister of the deceased, at 317 South Arno street. One of the last requests of Mrs. Blanchford was that the members of the Old Ladies' club, of which she was a member, and the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, attend her funeral. Carriages will be provided for those who care to attend from these organizations.

According to the weather forecasts for today and tomorrow, the storm which has held away over central New Mexico for the past eight days has at last been broken, and there is reason to expect a return to normal conditions with the usual proportion of sunshine. During the past two days snow has been reported from Las Vegas points on the Santa Fe Central, Captain and west of Albuquerque along the continental divide. The entire territory has received a thorough soaking and the stock growers are in fine spirits as a result.

Mrs. W. A. Uman, of New York, and Miss A. D. Moore, of Long Branch, were among the arrivals in Albuquerque yesterday.

The annual mass meeting of the subscribers of the annual New Mexico fair will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the room over the Zeigler cafe. It is urged that there be a full attendance as it is important that the business of the coming fair be put on its feet in short order.

It is probable that a committee of fifteen or twenty subscribers will be appointed or elected at the meeting tonight to whom will be entrusted the work of selecting the officers of the fair of 1906.

Rumors of serious trouble between Navajos and settlers near Fort Wingate reached Albuquerque last night. The rumors are vague and owing to the closing of the telegraph offices at both Wingate and Gallup early last evening, no definite information could be secured.

Superintendent Allen of the Indian school was advised early last night that troops had been ordered out from Fort Wingate to restrain Navajos who had become involved in a quarrel with a white man. The name of the man involved, or the exact nature of the trouble could not be learned. Mr. Allen himself could get no further information from the west last night. He is inclined to believe that the report may have been exaggerated.
