PRESIDENT GAVE S. O. W. A MR. WHITNEY

Declares Boston Man Deliberately Misrepresented Him.

BLUFF DOESN'T GO WITH THE MAN OF STRENUOSITY

Statement That Roosevelt Favors
Reciprocity With Canada
Caused Trouble.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 20.—Henry M. Whitney, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor at the last election, tonight made public the correspondence which had passed between President Roosevelt and himself concerning the statements made by the president during an interview last winter which was granted to a committee from Massachusetts on reciprocal trade relations. The president informed a Massachusetts committee which called on him last week in favor of free trade that Mr. Whitney had deliberately misrepresented what had occurred at last winter's conference. With this experience in mind the president declined to enter upon a discussion of free trade from the free trade committee, the chairman of which was Governor W. L. Douglas. The statement of Mr. Whitney during the recent canvass in Massachusetts that the president told him he favored reciprocity with Canada was that to which the president took exception. After the president had made public his address to the hides committee, charging Mr. Whitney with misrepresentation, Mr. Whitney maintained that the president had certainly spoken in favor of reciprocity with Canada on broad lines during his interview.

In the correspondence which is given in publicity tonight, Mr. Whitney wrote to President Roosevelt that the president had done him a great injustice in charging him with willful misrepresentation, requested an interview with the president and expressed his regret that reciprocity did not have the president's endorsement. In his reply President Roosevelt declares that Mr. Whitney's letter furnished additional evidence "of the wisdom of my refusing to communicate further with you," and asserts that nothing he has ever said had given Mr. Whitney the slightest warrant in making the statement that the reciprocity was not to have the president's aid. He charges Mr. Whitney with making additional deliberate misstatements, and closes by refusing to grant the requested interview.

TAFT SAYS PHILIPPINES
MUST REMAIN OURS

Secretary Tells Kansas City Circle Will Keep Them.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20.—Secretary of War William H. Taft, who was the guest of honor here tonight at the annual banquet of the Commercial club said in responding to the toast, "The Philippines":

"The Philippine Islands are ours and must be ours more than any other territory. It is quite probable that those called upon to act as legislators will not live to see the day when separation, consistent with the welfare of the Philippines can be made."

Country's Gold Production.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The report issued by the geological survey says: The production of gold in the United States during 1904 amounted to 2,210,929 fine ounces, valued at $80,635,646. This represents an increase of $7,243,948 over production of 1903. The production of silver in 1904 amounted to 55,992,864 fine ounces valued at $32,635,378. This represents an increase of 1,699,864 ounces over the previous year. Cripple Creek added nearly two millions gold to her production of 1903. Nevada's output increased about the same amount, while California shows an increase of $2,300,000. Alaska shows an increase of $478,708. A number of other states show a smaller increase.

KING HAARON MAKES
BIG HIT WITH NORWAY

Edward Says He's Glad His Daughter Is Queen.

Christiania, Norway, Nov. 20.—The news of today's events at Copenhagen was eagerly read tonight by every section of the Norwegian population, and the greatest enthusiasm was displayed. On all sides King Haakon's simple cordiality and unceremonious behavior, corresponding with the Norwegian spirit of democracy, are accepted as an omen that he will prove to be a king after the Norwegian heart. His assumption of the name of Haakon VII. for himself, and of Olaf for his son, a reminder of the glorious centuries of Norwegian history, had made an excellent impression. In reply to a congratulatory letter sent by the Norwegian government, King Edward wired:

COAL VESSEL STRIKES

Turbin Bound for Yarmouth Carries
Eighteen Mariners to Davy Jones in Fearful Storm.

Clarke Harbor, N. S., Nov. 20.—The Norwegian steamer Turbin, with her captain and crew of about sixteen men, is thought to have foundered in a terrific gale which swept over Nova Scotia last Friday. The coasting steamer Edna R., which arrived here today from Mud Island, brought news that on Friday about 5 p. m., a large steamer, supposed to be the Turbin, struck Black Rock ledge off the south coast of the province, backed off in a few minutes and then disappeared in the raging sea. Persons on the island who saw the steamer strike on the ledge were a considerable distance away and owing to the tremendous sea running it was impossible to launch a boat. No person could be seen on the rocks, and the craft hung on the rocks the seas made a clean break over her. Suddenly a giant coner lifted her from her resting place and the next instant she took the fate of the ship, carrying it believed, all down with her. The people of the island have no means of communicating with the main land until a steamer calls there or the water is sufficiently moderate to permit them to launch their own boats and in consequence of their isolated position the first news of the wreck only reached here today.

The Turbin was bound from Sydney with a cargo of coal for Yarmouth. She was in command of Captain Knudsen and had a crew of sixteen or eighteen, all Norwegians.

Disastrous Fire in Shreveport.
Shreveport, La., Nov. 20.—Fire this morning destroyed the city market, city hall, two store buildings, a hotel and a number of other buildings, causing the death of one person and injury of three firemen. The loss was $75,000. Walter Wood, a half-witted cripple who was permitted to sleep in a room over the market, perished in the flames.

Boys Murdered by Hoboes.
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 20.—The bodies of two young men, who have been identified as brothers by the name of Emmett, from Bakersfield, were found today near the Sepe river, not far from Ventura. It is believed they were camping there and were murdered by tramps. Their skulls had been crushed with a club.

Reid Coming Home.
London, Nov. 20.—As there is no question pending requiring the presence here of Whitelaw Reid, the ambassador has decided to take advantage of a number of days granted by the department of state, and will spend the Christmas holidays in America, leaving England early in December. Mrs. and Miss Reid will accompany Mr. Reid.

President Firmly in Favor of

DISCUSSES GREAT GAME
WITH WHITE OF PENNSY

Roosevelt in Favor of Ironclad Rules
Against Gridiron Slugging and Foul Play.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 20.—Dr. J. William White, professor of surgery at the University of Pennsylvania and a member of the committee on athletics, returned tonight from Washington where he had been summoned to discuss with the president matters relating to football.

Dr. White said: "The president did me the honor of asking me to lunch with him at the White House for the purpose of discussing with him the situation as to American football. An article of mine published in last week's Outlook was the occasion of the invitation. As to what took place during my visit, the president has permitted me to say that we are in complete accord as to the need of the permanent abolishment of brutality and foul play; of the increase of the powers of the officials and of the severity of the penalties as being necessary to bring about such abolition; as to the desirability of careful consideration of any changes in the rules that may be required to minimize danger while preserving the essential, manly and vigorous characteristics, and as to the urgent need of earnest effort to secure a simple and uniform eligibility code for all American colleges and universities. The president said he 'emphatically believes in continuing the game.'"

The president added, "brutality and foul play should receive the same summary punishment given to a man who cheats at cards, who strikes a blow in boxing, the umpire must have the widest latitude in enforcing this principle, even to the extent of ordering not only individual players, but whole teams off the field and college presidents should hold to the sharpest accountability the umpire who permits foul or brutal football in any game. We want simple rules, not complicated rules, because complicated rules offer too many loopholes." The president spoke more than once of the desirability of continuing the game and of extending to as many as possible its advantages with the safeguard already mentioned. He said that the five or six leading colleges should get together and agree to play under another under such an agreement as he prescribed. He also spoke of the far greater relative danger of many other sports and pastimes, some of which he enumerated. He showed characteristic keen interest in and thorough acquaintance with the whole subject.

Huge Copper Combine.
Butte, Mont., Nov. 20.—The organizers of the Butte and Boston Amalgamated Copper company are at the head of a syndicate of New York capitalists to plan the consolidation of a number of rich mines in the vicinity of Butte. The proposed corporation will have a capital of $25,000,000, and it is stated, will sink a 2,000-foot shaft in the heart of the city.

Was Lipton's Manager.
N. G. Conybear, general western manager of Joseph Tietley & Co., the big tea house, of Chicago and London, Eng., left last night for Denver, after being in the city for a few days on business. Mr. Conybear was for a number of years with the tea houses of Sir Thomas Lipton and rose to the position of manager. "Albuquerque is one of the best little cities that I have ever visited," said he at the Alvarado last evening. "You are thoroughly up-to-date and have all the features of a coming city. I will return again some time the coming year and shall arrange my time so as to spend at least a month in Albuquerque."

Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 20.—A telegram from Chicago received in Las Vegas today gives the information that Mr. Murphy, the well known Woodworth official, has been elected president of the committee Saturday, president of the National Fraternal Sanitarium, and that the management of the institution had been handed over to two committees, one representing the Associated Fraternities and the other the American Fraternal Congress. These two organizations include ninety-nine fraternal orders with a membership of more than six million. The sanitarium becomes the direct property of the orders represented. The financial affairs of the sanitarium are now in the best of condition, as the money assessed upon the subscribers orders has begun to come in. A committee representing the new management will arrive in Las Vegas December, for the purpose of taking official possession of the property here and opening the colony. The sanitarium will be reopened January 1, 1906. Inquiries regarding the sanitarium continue to come from all parts of the United States and from Europe. A letter was received yesterday from Sweden to the effect that much had been heard of the institution there and all the clippings concerning it that could be sent would be translated for the Swedish newspapers.

Hold-Up Case on Trial.
The trial of the case of the United States against James Murphy and John Black, charged with holding up a Rock Island passenger train, began today but a jury was not secured. Three Hundred and Twenty-Six Leading Citizens Enrolled--To Have Territorial Convention.

Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.
Greeting:—We, the citizens of Tucson and Pima county, Arizona, in mass meeting assembled, unanimously declare that we favor joint statehood with New Mexico, and ask that you recommend it in your message to the coming congress.

CHARLES N. SCHUMACHER,
Chairman.

Special to the Morning Journal.
Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 20.—A huge joint statehood mass meeting, one of the most enthusiastic gatherings ever seen in the city of Tucson, was held here tonight. The citizens turned out en masse without regard to party and in ringing speeches endorsed joint statehood with New Mexico, as the only possible statehood obtainable at the hands of the United States congress. The meeting demonstrated most forcibly that a great revolution of sentiment is sweeping over Arizona with regard to the statehood question. Mayor Schumacher presided over the gathering, and among those who participated in its utterances were such prominent Arizonians as L. C. Hughes, ex-governor of the territory, D. T. Rouse, ex-member of the Arizona supreme court; General Thomas F. Wilson, ex-United States attorney; Hon. S. M. Franklin, regent of the University of Arizona, and many others. The meeting was held in the city hall, and the citizens of the city and county enrolled themselves at the mass meeting as in favor of the movement.

The sentiment of the meeting was unanimously in favor of jointure. A resolution was adopted and much enthusiasm, to be wired to the president, as follows: "Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, we, the citizens of Tucson and Pima county, Arizona, in mass meeting assembled, unanimously declare that we favor joint statehood with New Mexico, and ask that you recommend it in your message to the coming congress."

Was Lipton's Manager.
N. G. Conybear, general western manager of Joseph Tietley & Co., the big tea house, of Chicago and London, Eng., left last night for Denver, after being in the city for a few days on business. Mr. Conybear was for a number of years with the tea houses of Sir Thomas Lipton and rose to the position of manager. Contractor's Quick Work.

Wallace Hoeselien has returned accompanied by his foreman, Ed. Farnelle, from Belen, where he has completed a record-breaking contract. In five weeks' time Mr. Hoeselien completed a big $4,000 addition to the Belen public school, making it now a handsome building with eight rooms and as well appointed as any in Albuquerque.

Buyer Blooded Stock.
Herman Bluecher returned last night from Peabody, Kansas, where he purchased three heavy teams, six driving and saddle horses, and two full-blooded Jersey cows, which are expected to arrive in two days.

Associated Charities Meeting.
A general open meeting of the Associated Charities is called for 3 p. m., Thursday, at the Commercial Club. Everybody is urged to attend. A constitution and by-laws have been drawn up. Subscriptions are being progressing well and Mrs. Medler reports that the Woman's club will give liberally.

Police News.
A woman residing in a rooming-house on West Gold avenue informed the city marshal last night that an attempt had been made to chloroform her. At least she said a man jumped from behind a telegraph pole and attempted to clap something over her face, and she thought she smelt chloroform. She ran and escaped and is now trying to identify her assailant for the police.

Francisco Sanchez was placed in the cooler last night to explain this morning to the court why he carried a large six-shooter.

English Channel Gives Up Ghastly Tokens of Wreck of Steamer Hilda

Official Estimate Shows Awful Death Roll
To Be Hundred and Twenty-Eight.

London, Nov. 20.—One hundred and twenty-eight persons lost their lives in the wreck of the London and South-western Railway company's steamer Hilda off the northern coast of France Saturday night, according to an official estimate given out tonight by officers of the company. This death roll includes 21 saloon passengers, eighty French union sailors and 27 of the crew.

Thirteen bodies of saloon passengers have been identified. The entrance to the harbor of St. Malo is one of the most difficult known to mariners. On Saturday night a blinding snow storm with haze and high wind prevailed and it is little wonder that even so experienced a navigator as Captain Gregory lost his reckoning, and especially when at the point where the Hilda struck on a few yards' deviation from the regular course meant destruction. Torpedo boats dispatched to the scene of the wreck ascertained that there is no hope of salvaging the vessel.

BODIES WASHED UP
ALONG FRENCH COAST
St. Malo, France, Nov. 20.—A realisation of the full extent of the disaster to the cross channel steamer Hilda came to the people of St. Malo today as reports of the finding of bodies along the northern coast. In all, over sixty have been washed up including that of Captain Gregory, commander of the wrecked ship, which now lies in the hospital here, and as fast as other bodies arrive they will be placed in a room prepared for their reception.

The city council last night decided to buy the Phelps property, on Second street and Tulara avenue, adjoining the present city property, as a site for the new municipal building now looming on the horizon of Albuquerque's future. The council authorized the mayor and city clerk, upon approval of the title to the property by the city attorney, to complete the deal and buy the land.

The Phelps property is in two pieces, one measuring 48 feet on Second street, by 75 feet deep, and the other 40 1/2 feet on Second street by 150 feet deep. With the present city property it will make a lot 12 1/2 feet on Second street by 160 1/2 feet in the widest part in the rear. The price of the Phelps lot is $4,500. The propositions turned down by the council were:

Five lots at the southeast corner of Fifth and Copper, $6,000; five lots in the same locality from W. P. Metcalf, for $6,000 cash, or would take the city property as part payment at $1,500; the George E. Albright property at Fourth and Tulara $4,500, and six lots of the John M. Moore Realty company at the corner of Second and Tulara, $5,500 and the city property.

These propositions were submitted by Chairman Harrison of the committee on building site, and the council was unanimous in favor of the Phelps property, which was recommended by the committee.

Ordinance 329, granting the owners of the Terrace addition the right to lay water mains in that addition was passed on its third reading.

Ordinance 332, providing for cement sidewalks on certain streets, was passed under suspension of the rules on its first reading. It provides for six foot cement sidewalks on the south side of West Copper from Second to Fifth street; on the south side of West Copper from Fifth to Eighth street, and on the east side of South Arno from Gold to Lead.

A report of the water committee was adopted to the effect that the Water company extend its mains on south Fourth street to Hazleline; on North First, Second and Third streets to the Mountain road, and on South Walter street, from Iron to Bell avenue, with other extensions, with 11 new fire hydrants.

Paving North Fourth.
A petition signed by property holders representing between 3,000 and 4,000 feet of property on North Fourth street asking that the street be paved with such material and in such manner as a competent expert may recommend, was read and referred to the street committee. This is the initial step toward having the streets of the city paved and the fact that this first petition is signed by so many people is a favorable sign. The paving of North Fourth street will undoubtedly be followed by the paving of the other principal streets of Albuquerque.

The recommendation of the committee that the city printing be awarded the Evening Citizen, was adopted by the council.

Roswell Land Withdrawn.
Washington, Nov. 20.—The secretary of the interior has withdrawn from entry 174,000 acres of land in the Roswell, N. M., land district which is to be incorporated in a forest reserve.

Another jurisdiction fight was settled today when the car painters were ordered to join the painters, paper-hangers and decorators.

MATTER FINALLY REFERRED TO
"INVESTIGATING" COMMITTEE

Alderman Hanley's Somewhat Novel
Views on Question Greeted By Hisses From the Audience.

At last night's meeting of the city council a committee was appointed consisting of Aldermen Harrison, Walker and Lifford to receive complaints and suggestions and report to the city council on what action to take toward the regulation or suppression of the social evil in Albuquerque. The action was taken as a result of a petition presented to the council on behalf of the people of Albuquerque by Attorney A. B. McMillen, asking that the council immediately exercise the power conferred upon it by a territorial statute and take steps to ameliorate the disgraceful conditions now prevailing in the city.

The action was taken after a rather warm session following the regular business of the council. Mr. McMillen, president of the organization recently formed to start a campaign against vice, asked leave to address the council and made an earnest but sensible and business-like talk, in which he informed the council that it was the unanimous sentiment of the better class of citizens in Albuquerque that the council at once take some steps toward the regulation of the social evil in Albuquerque or prohibiting it altogether.

Mr. McMillen said that he had a petition signed by 369 of the leading citizens of Albuquerque, exclusive of additional communications signed by members of the W. C. T. U. and the Woman's club, asking the council to act.

"There is no need to tell any member of this council the location of the breeding place of this vice," said Mr. McMillen in the course of his remarks. "The very center of our city is notorious and is avoided by all decent people as a pestilence. Its residents flaunt their vice up and down the main streets of the city, on the sidewalk and in carriages, monopolize the highways and public places and make it unsafe for a decent woman to walk through the business part of the city. The mothers, sisters and wives of the members of this council shun the locality I mention as a festering place."

"The time has come when the city of Albuquerque cannot afford to tolerate this thing any longer."

"The council has full power to act in the matter, and the demand of the people is that they do so."

"My remarks are not made in the spirit of criticism. I know through experience, well the difficulties that confront the council in matters like this. I also learned while in the council that the city marshal is a faithful and competent officer, and always respected his views on this question as well as others. But everyone must realize that the time has come when something must be done."

Mr. McMillen quoted from chapter 84 of the territorial laws of 1901, in which the city authorities are given power to deal with the question of prostitution. The law in question absolutely prohibits the running of a house of ill-fame within 700 feet of a school, church or public meeting place and provides a fine and penalty, each day to constitute a separate offense after notice has been given. Outside the 700-foot limit, the law provides that the regulation or prohibition of such places shall be entirely under municipal supervision. Thus the council has absolute power to say whether such places shall be abolished altogether or may regulate them as it sees fit.

Wilkinson Don't See Why.
After Mr. McMillen thanked the council for their indulgence and took his seat, Alderman Wilkinson arose to inquire why Mr. McMillen had not agitated the matter at the time he was a member of the council.

"I make no excuses," said Mr. McMillen, "though the question was not brought up. But conditions have been constantly growing worse, and now that action has been demanded by the people of Albuquerque it is time to act, and besides," said the attorney, "I have only 369 names 'out of 12,000 people,' said Mr. Wilkinson. "If the council thinks it necessary

I can secure the name of every respectable adult in the city," replied Mr. McMillen.

"What do you want done?" asked the mayor. "Do you want the business abolished?"

"I cannot be authority for the varying views of all who signed this petition," said Mr. McMillen, "but there is no question that the people demand that this council enforce the laws."

"But haven't we got a district attorney to attend to such matters?" asked Mr. Wilkerson. "Why doesn't he do something?"

"If the district attorney is not doing his duty that is no reason why the council should not," retorted Mr. McMillen.

Council's Dignity Ruffled.

Alderman Hanley arose with some dignity, and said that the council should regulate the resorts, that it was impossible to suppress them, and that they were an absolute necessity for the protection of decent citizens.

Prolonged hisses from the crowded gallery greeted Mr. Hanley's somewhat startling statement at this juncture.

"I move the audience room be cleared if the people don't know how to behave," said Mr. Wilkerson, while Mr. Hanley got busy recovering his dignity.

The mayor rapped for order. "Things have come to a point where the council can't be shown more respect than that," he said.

A subdued stir arose from the peanut heaven and Mr. Hanley after an injured pause proceeded to move that a committee be appointed consisting of members of the police, finance and grievance committees to ascertain what action the people want and report to the council.

The motion was carried and the mayor appointed Messrs. Hild, Learnard and Wilkerson. Mr. Wilkerson didn't want to serve and the motion reconsidered. So did Mr. Learnard. This was done and upon motion a special committee was appointed, being Messrs. Harrison, Walker and Hild. These gentlemen will hear all complaints and suggestions at a place to be announced later and will report at the next meeting of the council.

The audience room in the council chamber was packed last night with citizens who vigorously applauded Mr. McMillen's remarks in presenting the petition.

The latter gentleman's address was a most vigorous and forceful presentation of the shameful condition which is fast making Albuquerque notorious over the territory. He appealed to the council to save the good name of the city from disgrace. Among other things he stated that to his certain knowledge many people who would otherwise send their children to this city to enjoy the benefits of the fine schools, are afraid, because of the evil influences which emanate from the hotbed of vice in the center of the city.

There seems to be no doubt that public sentiment has crystallized into a peremptory demand that something be done. As the council has power either to regulate or abolish, and is at present doing neither, there is an excellent opening for that body to make a name for itself in cleaning some stables of the real Augean kind.

One View Of The Lid

Editor Morning Journal.

My attention has just been called to an article relative to gambling and the saloon, which appeared in the Albuquerque Morning Journal October 25th, and as the author states, the question, "What must the stranger within our gates think of the glaring saloons and gambling dens?" perhaps the impressions of such a stranger may be of interest, consequently I crave your kind indulgence and space for this communication.

Gambling, the liquor habit, and the social question are three evils which communities have evidently, so far, been unable to prohibit, consequently they must be regulated. To my mind the very feature which Mr. Hagerman deplores is the one which most makes for the best regulation, viz., publicity.

Why, if I wish to take a drink, should I be denied the privilege because some old crank of a prohibitionist, who is probably such a chronic sufferer from intemperance that he can't enjoy a drink himself, says I may not? Why is it not just as reasonable that those who don't go to church and have not much liking for that sort of a bickering and quarreling diversion, should object to churches?

If it be wrong to open the saloon on Sunday, the only wrong in the prohibition of that one day of the week is the fact that it is a poor rule that won't work both ways.

I have noticed in western towns which are "open" there is always an air of prosperity; money seems to circulate and business appears good. I remember that such conditions prevailed in Cripple Creek, Colo., previous to the cessation of gambling. After that, drunkenness and crime were common, money was tight and business poor.

Such letters as the one in question are harmful in that they create an entirely wrong impression.

I have not been in Roswell, but from the literature sent out by the Commercial club of that town I have formed the opinion that it was a mighty good, hustling, live, up-to-date place, and that were I looking for a location in which to establish a business I would give Roswell first choice.

Mr. Hagerman's letter, however, would lead me to believe that it was a community of thieves, rascals, drunken, brawling gamblers and criminals, where one's life and property would be in constant danger and where no man could rear a family. As it is, I imagine the town to be pretty much like the other towns I have visited in New Mexico, a desirable place in which to live.

The games indulged in so far as I have seen, are no different in principle than the gambling in the business and rich men's clubs. But of the latter Mr. Hagerman says nothing. Reformers, would-be and otherwise, never do. It is not the principle of the thing, nor the gamblers' side of the question that is ever discussed.

It is not my intention here to discuss the question of gambling or any of the associated questions. I have merely accepted Mr. Hagerman's invitation. No good is ever accomplished by the publication of such letters, and it seems to me a pity that the many good "boosters" which New Mexico seems to possess, should have their efforts hampered by such an article which certainly is detrimental in the extreme to the interest of a growing community.

At the present time a good deal of unusual interest is being taken in New Mexico by the people of this country on account of the question of statehood. Suppose that, through their exchanges, some of the prominent newspapers should come across Mr. Hagerman's effusion and elect to publish it, what a magnificent advertisement it would prove!

More men have been made drunkards by the folly of W. C. T. U. wives refusing their husbands the right to a glass of beer or wine with dinner while they themselves enjoy their litigious glass of Peruna, than most people imagine.

I recently listened, in a town not far distant, to the reading of a most beautiful paper by a prominent leader of the W. C. T. U., but all the time I could scarcely keep from denouncing the author, whose children many a time hang around the streets in the cold winter snow, waiting for their father to get home, light the fire and cook supper, while the poor deluded reformer would be holding forth in some public place to some band of equally deluded mortals. Such is really the early training out of which arise gamblers, drunkards and the demagogue. The reformation is in the hands of the mothers, and in the home, not on the public platform. While this latter paragraph may seem somewhat irrelevant to some, it seems to me apropos, because while a man is the bread winner, woman makes the home, or should do so.

Yours respectfully,
R. W. HADDEN.

A Magnificent Piano.

Learnard and Lihlemann, who are moving into their new store on Gold avenue, have already sold a handsome square Pompeian, Bush and Lane piano to a well known Albuquerque business man. This piano which is one of the handsomest ever seen here will be on exhibition in the new store windows for several days. It is a splendid instrument.

W. Hagerman's White Lime Keeps out lice.

"The Marriage of Kitty" which during a ten months' tour, last season, proved one of the leading theatrical and comedy hits, wherever presented, will soon appear here interpreted by an unusually clever company under the direction of Jules Murry and with most clever actresses and comedienne, Miss Alice Johnson, in the title role. "The Marriage of Kitty" has been universally conceded to be one of the brightest and most amusing farces of the modern stage and its presentation in this city will undoubtedly meet with the same hearty approval and satisfaction reported from other cities visited.

When you want a pleasant, healthy Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and produce no griping or other unpleasant effect. Sold by all druggists.

The Love of Eating.

IS THE AMERICAN BECOMING A GOURMAND?

In our largest centers of population, such as New York and Chicago, we daily see more attention given to the inner man. Cafes and lunch-rooms are filled with men and women who seem to give all their time and attention to thoughts of properly or improperly feeding their stomachs. It is of course best to eat slowly, but not too much," says Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalide Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. In this 20th century people devote so much time to head work that their brain is fatigued and there isn't sufficient blood left to properly take care of the other organs of the body. The stomach must be assisted in its hard work—the liver started into action—by the use of a good stomach tonic, which should be entirely of vegetable ingredients and without alcohol. After years of experience in an active practice, Dr. Pierce discovered a remedy that suited these conditions in a blood-maker and tissue-builder. He called it Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—an iterative extract that assists in the digestion and assimilation of the food in the stomach—so that the blood gets what it needs for food and oxidation, the liver is at the same time started into activity and there is perfect elimination of waste matter. When the blood is pure and rich, all the organs work without effort, and the body is like a perfect machine.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send in one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FIREMEN DECIDE NOT TO APPEAL TO MR. KENDRICK

Will Let Solitary Grievance
Go for the Present.

OBJECT TO CLEANING ENGINES AND FURNISHING SUPPLIES

Joint Protective Board of Shovel
Wielders of Santa Fe Adjourns
Meeting in Topeka.

After being in session in Topeka for two weeks, two days of which were devoted to conferences with James E. Hurley, the general manager, and other officials of the road, the joint protective board, more commonly called the grievance committee, of the firemen employed on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe system proper, held their final session, elected officers for the ensuing year and adjourned.

Two demands of considerable importance to the firemen on the road were made by the grievance committee on Mr. Hurley, and the other officials and they were not allowed, and a whole session of the firemen was devoted to a discussion of the question as to whether or not they should appeal from the decision of Mr. Hurley to Second Vice President J. W. Kendrick. Such appeals are in order when the men are not satisfied with the decision of the general manager. They were not satisfied with his decision but after talking the matter over they decided not to press their claims any further.

Don't Want to Clean Engines.
The men asked for changes in the rules that would relieve them from all cleaning of engines. Under existing conditions they are required to clean the outside of the cabs and the engine above the running board. They asked to be relieved of this work and that it be done by men in the roundhouse.

Their other request was to be relieved from putting supplies of any character on the engines. They are required to see now that the engines be supplied with oil, waste and the like and they have to put these supplies on themselves. They asked to have this work turned over to other men as it was quite a burden on them. It seems that under the present rules these supplies are put on at all the big terminal points by other men, but the firemen wanted this ruling to apply to every place along the line where these supplies are furnished, and this request was disallowed.

These were really the only two matters of importance that the firemen had to take up with the officers of the road, and they presented their claims for them in a vigorous fashion. No new agreement was entered in with the company, as the existing one is generally favorable. It is expected that the firemen will demand a new agreement next year.

Thomas Burke of St. Joseph was re-elected general chairman of the board for the coming year. R. B. Wright of Fort Madison, secretary, and F. W. Snyder of Argentine, treasurer.

Regardless of the fact that their demands were not met, the members of the board expressed themselves to the effect that their relations with the company were satisfactory and never more amicable than at the present time.

General Manager Hurley confirmed these statements, saying that the relations between the men and the company were exceedingly agreeable. Mr. Hurley added: "Our schedule with the firemen is more favorable than any other in the country."

AIR BRAKES DON'T WORRY CAIN OR JIM HURLEY

NOT INCONVENIENCED BY COMMERCE COMMISSION ORDER

Two of the large western railroads, at least, will not be inconvenienced in any way by the order of the interstate commerce commission, which has been promulgated, to the effect that after August 1, 1906, seventy-five per cent of all the cars on freight trains used in interstate commerce shall be equipped with air brakes. These roads are the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific. Although the present regulations of the interstate commerce commission are that at least fifty per cent of the freight cars on a train shall be equipped with power brakes, both of these roads have at the present time over ninety per cent of their freight cars equipped with air brakes. Dan J. Cain, general manager of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, when asked if this new order of the commission would in any way affect his road or compel the company to get to work and equip more of their cars with air brakes, replied:

"This order will not affect or inconvenience us in any way. We are more than prepared for it. I should say at a rough guess that fully ninety-five per cent of our freight cars are now equipped with air brakes. About the only cars that we have that are not equipped with air brakes are some flat cars that are used on work trains and some old box cars, but none of these are used in interstate business."

James E. Hurley, general manager of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe speaking on the same subject, said: "This new order will make no difference on our road. We are well prepared for it. While I have not the figures right at hand, I believe that considerably more than ninety per cent of all our freight cars are equipped with air brakes. The Santa Fe was one of the first roads in the country to undertake the general equipment of its freight cars with air brakes and for a long time more than ninety per cent of our freight cars have been thus equipped."

The Exact Thing Required for Consumption.
"As a certain purgative and stomach purifier, Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough for the most robust, yet mild enough and safe for children and without that terrible griping so common to most purgatives," says R. S. Webster & Co., Ltd., Ontario, Canada. For sale by all druggists.

America's foremost descriptive orator will speak at the First Methodist church on Thursday evening, November 23rd.

FAIR COMMITTEE IS STILL GETTING THE COIN

SOLOMON LUNA REFUSES TO BE FIGUREHEAD AS PRESIDENT

Accepts Office and Insists Upon Doing His Part to Make Next Show a Success.

The committee soliciting contributions for the Twenty-sixth annual territorial fair has called upon about seventy-five of the leading business men and citizens of Albuquerque and the results in every case have been "simply astonishing," as a member of the committee put it yesterday. "All of these seventy-five have doubled their subscriptions of last year and have done it readily and cheerfully. I can't give you the total subscriptions," said the solicitor yesterday, "but if the good work keeps up we are going to bury that deficit so deep no one can ever resurrect it. When I say the subscriptions are doubled, I do not use the expression loosely—I mean literally doubled. Of course, we want it generally understood that the size of this year's subscription is not to set a standard for future years. I think that is pretty generally understood, however. This year we are confronted by an emergency, and we want emergency subscriptions. We are certainly getting them."

H. Solomon Luna, of Los Lunas, has signified his intention to accept the position of president of the twenty-sixth annual fair. "I accept only on this understanding," said Mr. Luna, "namely, that I am not to be a figurehead. If I am president, I propose to pitch in and work as hard as any of you for the success of the twenty-sixth annual fair."

STAMM'S JAW BONE BROKEN IN A SCRIMMAGE IN FOOTBALL GAME

Ray Stamm, of the Albuquerque Athletic association team, suffered a fracture of the right jaw bone in the game with the American Lumber company team at Traction park on Sunday afternoon.

In one of the scrimmages Stamm was kicked in the right jaw near the ear, and yesterday it was still painful. He so acutely that he consulted a doctor, who made an examination and found that he had sustained a slight fracture.

While the injury is in no wise dangerous, it will prevent him from indulging in any more football games this season. He will also be unable to masticate much food for a few weeks, until the bone knits.

COAST LINES STEEL WILL BEGIN ARRIVING FIRST OF THE YEAR

The new steel for the coast lines, of which there are two hundred miles to be laid the coming year, will commence to arrive about January 1st. The new steel will be ninety pounds to the foot and will make the Santa Fe the best trans-continental railway in the United States when the improvements have been carried out.

New bridges have been put in, grades have been reduced and the track straightened on the west end and the road is being out in the best of condition for speed and safety.

A new line from Ludlow to the box mines is also being built and there are some 120 miles of new steel to come for this line within the next few months.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier, New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmaceutical Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. When taken in time it prevents pneumonia. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

SALT LAKE WOOL MEN ARE BUYING LARGE LOTS IN NEW MEXICO

J. R. Edgell, western representative of the Associated Wool Growers of Salt Lake City, left last night, accompanied by E. M. Sandval, for Lumberton, N. M., where he will receive 50,000 pounds of wool, the last of 110,000 pounds, which was contracted by that firm some months ago. The consignment which is to be received at this time is from the clip of J. M. Archuleta, which is considered to be one of the finest clips of northern New Mexico, and is taken on consignment by the association.

Mr. Edgell has only been in the territory for a few months, but has made several of the big buys of the season. He states that his company will in the future pay more attention to New Mexico and that several men will be put in the field at wool seasons to buy for the association. He has a number of deals on for large lots and will return to Albuquerque in a few days to close them up.

THOUSANDS OF POUNDS OF ONIONS HARVESTED IN MESILLA VALLEY

The farmers and gardeners of the Mesilla valley section have been busy during the past few days in harvesting their onions and getting them ready for market. The crop is good, considering the dry spell that prevailed this year just at the time when the onions needed the most water. Some of the gardeners are securing 3,000 pounds to the acre.

The melon crop is on the market, but as a rule is not up to the standard of other years. The Bartlett pear is ripening and will be ready for market in a few days.

SURVIVOR OF ACCIDENT IN THE ZUNIS ARRIVES IN THE CITY

Erney Lay, who escaped with his life in the accident which occurred on bridge 5 of the Zuni Mountain railway, last Thursday, was brought to the city last night on train No. 8 from the camp of M. C. Westbrook & Co. the bridge contractors for whom he was working at the time of the accident. Lloyd Phelps and Richard Rogers, the other two men who were on the structure when it collapsed, jumped from the bridge, which was some 48 feet high and were so badly injured that they lived but a short time. H. E. Wooten, a partner of Lay, was on the old bridge which runs parallel with the one being built. When he saw that the new bridge was going to fall, he warned Lay and told him to "ride it down," as he was on top and that in this way he might not get hurt. Lay did as Wooten told him and came out of the accident with a broken left arm and injuries to his back and kidneys, from which the doctors say he will recover.

Lay and Wooten live at Ozark, Ill., and have been partners for some years. When taken from the train last night Lay was unable to walk or to bear any weight on his feet.

Rogers' Body Taken to Jemez. The body of Richard Rogers will be taken to Jemez Hot Springs this morning for burial, as relatives arrived in the city yesterday. He has a family and one brother at that place.

AGENT'S CONDUCT PREVENTED BLOODY INDIAN OUTBREAK

Escape of Perry From Navajos Closer Than First Reported.

CORRESPONDENT GIVES FULL DETAILS OF REDSKIN TROUBLE

Lassoing of Indian Girl Started Story of Assault Which Came Dangerously Near Causing a War.

Correspondence Morning Journal.

Chino, N. M., Nov. 18.—Chin Lee, (the mouth of the canyon), is a settlement of Navajo Indian farmers, situated, as its name implies, at the mouth of Canon de Chelly, seventy-five miles north of Gallup, where there are also fifty "hogans" scattered in the valley, forming a little village. Chin Lee is a central point from which over one thousand Navajos get their supplies. In the settlement there is a trading post owned by Mr. Cousins, and a little Catholic mission building where Father Leopold, O. F. M., resides and holds services for the Indians. The United States government is represented by a family, the Spencers, and a field marshal, Miss Spear.

The Indians of Chin Lee have, for years had an unenviable, though well deserved reputation for nastiness in the Navajo tribe. It is there that Mr. R. Perry, the Indian agent, saw the first symptoms of rebellion of the heretofore peaceful and submissive Navajos.

In Chin Lee there lives an Indian by the name of Linn; Linn is a man of about thirty years of age. On the 17th of October Linn, some twenty miles southeast of Canon de Chelly, was looking for his horse. Linn, in his hands, he had for hours looked in vain for his pony. Finally he passed a herd of sheep, and, approaching the herder, a young girl of sixteen years, the daughter of Quastin Yache, he asked her whether she had not seen his horse. The girl did not answer. He questioned her several times, without eliciting any answer. Angered by her contemptuous silence, he lashed her with a whip, and, holding light to the rope, she cried and shrieked, trying to disentangle herself, protesting that she had not seen Linn's horse. "So now you cried," said he, "now you talk. Who didn't you answer me before? I meant no harm, and even now I do not intend to hurt you; the next time you will be more civil. I hope. Now let this rope loose." But the girl was still holding tight to the rope. Linn went to the girl and untied her. He then left and hurried in search of his horse.

The girl soon after left her sheep, went to her hogan, and gave an account of the affair to her father, Quastin Yache, and explained the matter to him. Quastin Yache agreed not to prosecute him if he should give him a white horse. Linn consented to the bargain, and he shook hands. However, another policeman had gone to Fort Defiance and had reported to Mr. R. Perry, the Indian agent, that Linn had raped the daughter of Quastin Yache.

Perry is a cultured gentleman of uncommon energy. During the two years he has held the position of Indian agent at Fort Defiance, he has been the avowed enemy of the whiskey traffic on the reservation, and has fearlessly maintained order. On account of his unrelenting prosecution of the evil, wherever encountered, Mr. Perry has caused much dissatisfaction among the lower class of Navajos, who are only looking for an opportunity to visit him with their revenge. This class of Navajos even went so far as to state that though they could not hope to overcome the government, still they could kill the different traders and the few white men of the country. Mr. Perry being told of the outrage at Chin Lee, detailed a policeman to summon Linn to appear before him. When, on the 29th of October the policeman came to Chin Lee, Linn, with his wife and two other young Indians, were taken to the agent's house. The policeman summoned Linn and Diad to Fort Defiance. Diad vehemently remonstrated, saying he had not committed any offense and saw no reason why he should appear at Fort Defiance. Linn on his part maintained, since he was not guilty of rape, and since the affair had been settled Quastin Yache, the father of the girl, that he had nothing further to do with the case; and he flatly refused to comply with the order.

The policeman, unable to carry out his orders by force, went to a farmer, telling him what had happened. The farmer, Mr. Spenser, wrote a letter to Mr. Perry, explaining matters, and gave it to the policeman.

Arrives at Fort Defiance.

The next day the policeman arrived at Fort Defiance late in the evening, and went directly to police headquarters, intending to deliver the message to Mr. Perry the next morning. When he came to report the agent had already for Chin Lee. Mr. Perry was unaware of the two things had taken at Chin Lee. He had nearly forgotten Linn and his case, and he was going to Chin Lee to see the United States farmer, the Indians, their crops, and to inspect a new road built from the agency. When he arrived at the store of his former interpreter, Nelson Gorman, Gorman told him that Linn and Diad had resisted arrest, and that they had determined to defend themselves, if necessary, in the canyon, where they were barricaded. Since, according to Mr. Gorman's statement, the Navajos in question seemed to be confining themselves to the defensive, the agent did not hesitate to proceed to Chin Lee, which he reached that afternoon. Upon his arrival he paid a visit to the farmer, the matron, and the Indian trader. The farmer gave him a full account of what had happened. The next morning his policeman arrived from Fort Defiance with the letter he had failed to deliver to him, and also a note from Mr. Spenser, the clerk at Fort Defiance.

When Mr. Perry was ready to drive to the corn fields to inspect the crops of the Indians and to pay a visit to several Indian chiefs, a crowd of Indians had gathered in front of the house. It was Linn and Diad and their supporters, about fifty in all, some of whom had their six-shooters concealed below their blankets.

Ready to Kill Perry.

They first made an attempt to induce Mr. Perry to settle the affair there and there; but the latter insisted that they should appear at Fort Defiance, and went, accompanied by the farmer, to get his team. In the meantime the Indians matured their plans for the holdups. An Indian by the name of Wenceslaus was to hold the mules, whilst Diad was to capture Mr. Perry. In case Mr. Perry should offer armed resistance, they were determined to kill him and to burn down the government building and the store.

At this time the team was hitched up, and Mr. Perry jumped into the buggy, ready to leave. The mules were frisky and impatient; Mr. Perry could barely hold them, whilst the mate would open. The Indians surrounded the buggy, Linn and his three friends approached him.

"We wish to be judged now," said Diad. "No," retorted Mr. Perry, "you must come to the fort." "Come to the fort," said Diad, "but I have no horse and no time to spare; you are here, you can settle the case at once. I am not guilty of any offense. 'It may be so,' said Mr. Perry, 'but you resisted arrest, and must come to the fort.' The agent would not accede to their wishes; he knew, if he would agree to judge the case there, other Indians would also resist arrest, and it would be impossible for him to perform his duties as an agent in the reservation. Mr. Perry could hardly hold his mules any longer. At this moment Linn jumped to the mules' head, and held them back, and the Indians, having weakened at the last moment, the agent thought that perhaps his motive was to quiet and subdue them, but soon he perceived, by the laugh and the actions of the mob, that they wanted to hold him up. He then gave orders to untie the mules, and the Indians gave free vent to their anger, in approaching him, and his six-shooters in his scabbard, his first impulse was to jerk it out to defend himself. He made a motion towards it, but, realizing that, by doing so, a bloody battle would become inevitable, he desisted. At that moment Diad grabbed his wrist and held him. "Go, sir," said Diad, "you cannot use this gun upon me; the whole of the days are cold all over the world, and the summer days are warm; I have no parents, no friends, no land, no sheep, no property, sometimes I am hungry; I care not what becomes of me; life is nothing to me; I will hold you (if you pardon us, if you refuse to pardon us we will starve you to death). Some Indians maintain that it was not altogether the children of Mr. Perry, but bloody murder, for they threatened to kill him if he did not pardon them, although the interpreter failed to interpret this to Mr. Perry at the time.

Perry's Goodness Saves Him.

The Indian mob was ready to lend resistance to the desperado; if he resisted, their attitude was ominous; Mr. Perry, realizing that resistance was useless, yielding to violence, finally gave his consent not to prosecute them for their former offenses. His goodness saved him. He was released. Soon he was on his way to Fort Defiance.

He had promised to pardon them for their former actions, but not the insult offered to himself. Representing the government in his capacity as agent, he could not allow the outrage to go unpunished. But what could he do? Behind the culprits stood at least 50 men, ready to support and protect them. His very limited police force could not stand against the besides, could he place implicit confidence in them? However, the matrons had to be arrested at all costs, otherwise his authority and the authority of his successors would be scoffed at by the Navajos.

He wired to the Indian commissioner for federal troops. Lieutenant Lewis, accompanied by a few soldiers, was sent from Fort Wingate to investigate the matter. Finally, on the 15th of November, the K. troop of the Fifth cavalry, under the command of Captain Willard and Lieutenant Cooey arrived at Fort Defiance.

The culprits may be turned over to the agent by the Navajo chiefs. If not, it will be high impossible to capture them. Time will tell. No serious trouble is anticipated.

At a Yacholal dance, which took place near St. Michaels, on the 13th inst., at night, and where about 2,500 Navajos assembled, the chiefs, Henry Dodge, Black Horse, Charles Mitchell, Tayonai, Quastin, Quize and other prominent men addressed the agent in order, to respect the agent, and to side with him. Henry Dodge, a Navajo half-breed, the wealthiest and most influential man of the tribe, by the best interpreter and the most eloquent speaker among the Navajos, his Navajo speech cannot be judged by the English version.

As long as the chiefs are with the agent, the bulk of the Navajos will submit. If nothing rash is attempted to provoke the wrath of the leaders of the tribe, it is safely surmised that in a few days the Indian rebels will be arrested and confined to jail.

Thus, we hope, will end an episode which but for the self control of Agent Perry and the attitude of the Navajo chiefs would, in all probability, have opened a new era of a bloody Indian war.

Our Failure in Japan.

There is a widespread delusion that the rise of Japan means the beginning of American trade ascendancy in the Orient. Official records, however, show that our exports to Japan have been gradually declining, while those from Asia were steadily increasing. There is also a delusion that to cure a weak stomach you must resort to dieting and thus starve yourself. Up-to-date people, however, know different. They always keep a bottle of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in the house, and at the first sign of any ailment of the stomach, liver or kidneys take a few doses, with the result that they are always healthy. This is a good plan for every sick person to adopt. It cures headache, nervousness, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, chills, colds, or malaria. Don't fail to try it.

JOURNAL-MINER IS TANGLED UP WITH THE GRAND JURY

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE TOO FAR AHEAD OF THE TOWN

News of Proceedings of Grand Jury
Previous to Report Gives Justice Mill a Jolt.

The Journal-Miner, of Prescott, has shaken up the dry bones of that town with up-to-date journalism. The other morning the Journal-Miner came out with the report of the grand jury, which was in session then, before that report had been made in court. The Journal-Miner not only gave a list of the indictments, but described a part of the evidence which had been brought before the grand jury. Prescott is not used to this journalistic forwardness, and as soon as he had got his breakfast District Attorney Ellinwood filed information against Managing Editor Milnes charging him with contempt. Mr. Milnes was cited to appear and did so, and his hearing was set for next Monday.

The minds of the court authorities would perhaps have been less aggravated if Mr. Milnes had not prefaced the account of the grand jury proceedings with the statement that, in spite of the secrecy which the officers of the court sought to throw about the grand jury room, the Journal-Miner had returned of a number of indictments that had been found by that inquisitorial body.

In California the publication of such news is not an unusual occurrence, and excites no particular comment, but in Prescott, where fossilized methods of journalism have prevailed for a long period, the Journal-Miner's story of a portion of the record of the grand jury's deliberative actions occasioned some recentment.

"The sequel was that District Attorney Ellinwood went before the court and upon the representation that a grave offense had been committed in publishing the news again, which there is no inhibition of the law either implied or direct, secured subpoenas for Managing Editor Milnes, and City Editor Farley, of the Journal-Miner, to appear before the grand jury. They were vigorously questioned as to the sources of their information, and the jurors were told the facts of the case without reason or hesitation, the direct and positive statement being made by Mr. Milnes that none of the facts, to his personal knowledge, were supplied by any member of the grand jury, but that on the other hand, street rumors of the indictment had been in a measure verified by the actions and manner of Mr. Ellinwood, with whom the managing editor had a conversation at midnight. Mr. Ellinwood, it is but fair to state, did not utter a word that could be construed as an admission that the indictments had been brought but neither did he deny it.

"City Editor Farley related to the jury the manner in which he secured the details of the Skaggs case, all of which information was obtained in a legitimate manner, and without in any sense invading the privacy or interfering with the functions of the grand jury.

"Later in the day the grand jury, recommended, through the district attorney, and perhaps at his instance that Mr. Milnes be cited to appear next Monday to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court, punished for no other reason than that the paper of which he is editor had the courage and enterprise to print the news.

"It is the fixed policy of the Journal-Miner to refrain from printing news, the publication of which might defeat the ends of justice. In the indictments published, names were only given of accused persons who were either in custody or its equivalent, by being out under bonds.

No Apologies to Make.

"As a matter of fact, it is well for the public to know that there is not a law on the statute books which forbids the publication of any transactions that occur within the grand jury room. It is an offense for a grand juror or any officer of the court to disclose the secrets of that body, and if a contempt of court has been committed, it is within the province of the court to punish such an offender. If the offense can be fastened upon him, to undertake to punish a newspaper when it is innocent of any infraction of the law, would be arbitrary, unwarranted and subversive of the elemental principles of human rights and the freedom of the press as guaranteed by the constitution.

"The Journal-Miner has no apologies to make, for it has committed no offense, unless enterprise be classed as such in Arizona."

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

THE STORE OF RELIABILITY

Up-to-Date
Dry Goods

To those ladies who care to keep abreast of the times, and not to appear in a new dress made from material that was in style two or three years ago, but is now out of date, we respectfully call attention to Our entire stock of Dress Goods bought only four months ago from some of the most reliable wholesale houses in America, and selected by us in person after a careful study of the out-going and in-coming styles.

None of these goods are old, shop-worn, materials bought up at bankrupt sales at cheap prices.

We have no old-style goods to work off.

Our goods are the best of their kind—the best; the most fashionable materials, the stylish colors and patterns, worn this winter in the eastern cities. We carry only three grades—goods, excellent and best in each material.

We will show you what you ask for—

For instance: If you ask for a Broadcloth we will show you the real thing, not a Ladies' Cloth or some other smooth finished goods which you might buy for half what a good quality of Broadcloth would cost.

We have good materials which we sell for little money, they look well and wear well, but we do not try to make you believe they are the most expensive goods—sold below cost. If our goods are not what we represented them to be bring them back and we will refund the purchase money.

We have Silks—all prices and all kinds—plain, striped and plaid. We have Velvets, Eoliennes, Crepe, Broadcloth, Tweed, Panama, Melrose, Prunella, Tamise, Sicilian, Mohair, Henriettas, Nun's Veiling, Burlap, and lightweight and heavy Suiting in all the popular colors.

Hundreds tell us our Diamond Brand Shoes outwear all others they have ever bought.

Try our Dress Goods also and be convinced that THE GLOBE STORE makes good its word every time.

AN OPEN LETTER

To Our Patrons and Friends

We have entered into a contract with Mr. Geo. W. Hickox, agreeing to sell to him our Jewelry Business, including stock, fixtures and good will, Jan. 1, 1906. One strong feature of our agreement with Mr. Hickox is that we promise to reduce our very large and complete stock to the lowest possible point before that date and with this end in view, we will begin, Saturday, Nov. 4, a SPECIAL CLOSING OUT SALE to continue until Dec. 31, at which time we positively retire from the jewelry business, having arranged to go into the manufacturing lumber business in British Columbia.

Our business in Albuquerque has increased steadily year by year, and grateful for this, we propose for the next two months, to cut out the big end of our profits and to give you such a genuine bargain sale of really fine, high-grade goods, as never has been offered in our city.

We invite you to make your selections now and avoid the rush of the December trade. We have ample vault-room and will gladly lay aside the goods you select, until you are ready for them. We have been in the jewelry business 26 years, and have never yet advertised a fake sale. In this sale we will offer you rare bargains in Diamonds and Fine Watches. Every sale will be backed by my personal guarantee. Mail Orders solicited and satisfaction assured.
