WOULD KEEP THE LIGHT TURNED ON OF MURDER

Equitable's Vice President Meriwether on Trial Before Recommends Publicity.

MR. TARBELL MAKES NO APOLOGIES FOR GRAFTERS

Witness Admits He Made Handsome Commissions on Insurance for Himself and His Family.

New York, Nov. 22.—After being on the witness stand of the Armstrong case for three days, Gage E. Tarbell, second vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, finished his testimony today and just before adjournment submitted a list of suggestions for the remedy of existing abuses in the management of insurance companies, for legislation designed to give the state proper control over companies and to insure the confidence of policy holders. Prominent among these suggestions was absolute publicity. While admitting that wrong had been done by life insurance officials, Mr. Tarbell said he had no apologies to make for any of them, and that he hoped they would be punished.

Mr. Tarbell's Rake-Off.

Mr. Tarbell was on the stand the entire day and was questioned as to the system of agencies and commissions and others allowed them for getting business. Just before recess the fact was brought out that Tarbell had taken out an insurance on his own life and on members of his family and had received premiums on premiums as well as renewal commissions. He said that since he became an officer he had taken out $200,000 on his own life in the Equitable. Besides his policy in the New York Life, the arrangement being made with George W. Perkins and on this too he received premiums. He also had a policy in the Aetna and Travelers, on all of which he collected commissions. He said he earned $100,000 on his family's life insurance.

Mr. Tarbell was emphatic in denouncing the system of rebating by agents, and stated that any agent of the Equitable who gave rebates to get business was dismissed. When he told of getting commissions, Assemblyman Cox asked if that was not rebating, and Mr. Tarbell said it was not; that he was entitled to it.

Later when Mr. Hughes took up this same subject with witness, the latter justified the taking of commissions as being similar to the case of merchants who purchased goods of a fellow merchant in the same line, perhaps to fill an order, and got those goods at cost, or of a professional man treating another and charging less than the regular fees. Mr. Tarbell further said if he had done wrong he was sorry, but that he had done it in good faith.

Chills Frick Report Unfair.

Mr. Tarbell bore out in a measure the statement of James H. Hyde when on the stand relative to the fairness of the Frick report. The subject of advances to agents was under investigation, and Mr. Hughes read some figures of the amount of advances to one agent in this city. Mr. Hughes asked where the Frick committee got the figures, and Mr. Tarbell replied with marked asperity that he did not know. They did not get them from my department or the auditor's. They made their report without ever making an investigation of the department.

MUTUAL ACCEPTS SACRIFICE

OF PRESIDENT MURPHY.
New York, Nov. 22.—At a regular meeting of the Mutual Life Insurance company today, the offer of President Richard A. McCurdy to have his salary reduced from $150,000 to $75,000 was accepted, and further reductions were made amounting altogether to $150,000. The names of the officials affected were not made public, but it was decided to place all general agents on a salary instead of a commission basis.

China's Gift to Japan.

Tokio, Nov. 22.—It is stated in the newspapers that the government lately applied to the Chinese government to relax its prohibition of the export of salt. Japan's salt works have been a source of trouble for China, and the Chinese government has been asked to give up a million and a half dollars' worth of salt in consideration of the neighborhood relations of the two nations. This is regarded as indicative of the hopeful character of the negotiations that are now in progress at Peking.

Big Fireworks Explosion.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 22.—The building in Grant street in which fireworks were manufactured for the Chinese and company, Chinese merchants, was wrecked by a terrific explosion this afternoon. One white girl and two Chinese boys were taken from the ruins badly hurt. Other bodies may be pinned under the debris. The force of the explosion was terrific, and parts of the building were blown for a block.

Testimony in Salt Case.

Toronto, Kan., Nov. 22.—The board of railway commissioners took the testimony of G. P. Kelly and A. H. Haggitt, traveling man for the Great Western Salt company, of St. Louis today. Haggitt admitted to his share in receiving rebates from the Missouri Pacific road of salt shipments. The testimony of R. M. Taylor and E. E. Martin was also taken. The cross examination of Martin brought out the fact that the salt company represented had received rebates from the Rock Island road in times past.

Son of Marshall Field Shot.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—While cleaning a gun preparatory to going on a gunning expedition, Marshall Field, Jr., son of Marshall Field, the well known merchant of this city, accidentally shot himself. He was taken to the hospital and will probably die before morning.

MIDSHIPMAN FACES CHARGE OF MURDER

Meriwether on Trial Before Naval Court Martial.

ALLEGED HE CALLED BRANCH "A SNEAK AND A COWARD"

Revelations Show Remarkable "Fighting Code" at Annapolis Was Beyond Control of Authorities.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 22.—Midshipman Minor Meriwether, Jr., of Lafayette, La., member of the third class of the naval academy, was put on trial here today before a naval court martial on charges that include that of manslaughter in having caused the death of Midshipman James R. Branch, Jr., of New York, member of the class above him, as the result of a pre-arranged fist fight which took place on the evening of Sunday, November 13th last.

The first and gravest charge is manslaughter in having caused the death of Midshipman Branch, but there are two other charges, the second supported by two specifications and the third by one. The second charge is of violation of the third clause of the eighth article of the rules for the government of the navy. The first specification is that Meriwether applied to Branch the names of sneak and coward, and the second that he assaulted him. The third charge, of conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline, specifies that Meriwether engaged in a fight with Branch.

The sad incident of the death of young Branch under such circumstances has been widely noticed and has called attention to the existence at the naval academy of an unwritten code governing the student body, but quite outside authoritative regulations and generally in violation of them. Under the "code" every detail of these fights is fixed, midshipmen on duty abiding from formation those connected with them. These facts were very clearly brought out both by the judge advocate and in the cross examination by Lieutenant Commander Robinson, for the defense.

NUFACTS PART OF RANCHER SHOT OF HEROIC AT MORTUARY

RESCUES 25 SCHOOL GIRLS FROM BURNING BUILDING

Brave Teacher in Parochial School Drops Children From Third Story Window Into Net Below.

Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 22.—All but one of the 400 girls attending the parochial school at St. Anne's parish, took place yesterday on the ranch of William Davidson, about three miles north of Mortuary.

Davidson was shot and instantly killed by Lee Longino, a neighbor, and Longino was so seriously wounded that it is feared that he may die.

There were, as far as can be learned, no witnesses of the shooting. The murder is thought to have been the result of a quarrel between the two men regarding their land, as Longino's claim adjoins that of Davidson and there is known to have been a hot dispute between them as to boundary lines.

Maguire in Trouble.

New York, Nov. 22.—James A. Maguire, chairman of the election board in the ninth election district, was arrested yesterday on a charge of violating the law. He is accused of leaving the polling place in his district at 3:30 in the afternoon of election day, and going to the twentieth election district polling place, and voting there under another name. Maguire was held in $5,000 bail. He is a Tammany lieutenant.

Regicides Forced Out.

Belgrade, Nov. 22.—Former Premier Avakumovich and Former Minister of Agriculture Genistis, two members of the regicide ministry have resigned under the compulsion of the government's posts as "supernumerary ministers," from which they have been drawing the same salaries as they enjoyed when they were members of the cabinet.

It is intimated that this is the first step toward ousting all those who were connected with the regicides from posts under the control of the government.

dependency, which can scarcely be called to account, as was the Chinese government. The only feasible course appears to be to request the Chinese government to use its moral influence with Chinese subjects outside of China to desist from further attack upon the United States.

ARBITRATION SUGGESTED IN FISHERIES WRANGLE

London, Nov. 21.—Referring editorially to the Newfoundland-United States dispute, the Times says the subject is a complicated and difficult one and obviously requires careful handling by the imperial government. That the result of the present negotiations will be a satisfactory one there is no reason to doubt, for there is no ground for supposing that the United States is approaching the question with an ill-will but that of arriving at a reasonable settlement. In case of any difficulty in arriving at an agreement by direct negotiation it would seem unnatural to refer the whole matter to arbitration. The case seems eminently fitted for that mode of settlement, or it is on that, while in itself extremely contentious, is not so vital to the interests of Newfoundland or so bound up with the question of national honor as to be unsuitable for submission to the judgment of an impartial third party.

Two Women Appointed.

Washington, Nov. 22.—For the first time in many years, if ever before in the history of the pension office, two women are to serve as principal examiners on the board of review. Commissioner Warner has selected Miss Fanny Beall, a clerk in the eastern division, as one of them, and Miss Edith Quackenbush, a clerk in the western division, as the other.

Takes Leave of Ancestors.

Tokio, Nov. 22.—The emperor's worship of his ancestors at the Isle of Shrines will culminate today. The day is observed as a strict holiday. The newspapers regard the emperor's pilgrimage and his thanksgiving in the presence of the spirits of the imperial ancestors as constituting, in reality, an imperial celebration of Japan's triumph, while testifying to the emperor's filial piety and humility.

Americans Sentenced to Be Shot.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 22.—In Chihuahua, last evening Judge Rios sentenced C. T. Richardson, C. S. Harle and William Mason, three Americans, to be shot. The three men were convicted of the murder of two men in Chihuahua for life insurance money. Richardson was an insurance agent. Mason, the doctor, was the examining physician. The case has been pending for three years.

To Explore Central Africa.

Rome, Nov. 22.—It is reported that the Duke of the Abruzzi, cousin of King Victor-Emmanuel, is organizing an expedition for the exploration of central Africa, and is on his way to Paris to London to arrange for transport facilities. Assurances are given that the objects of the expedition are purely scientific.

Special to the Morning Journal.
Mortuary, N. M., Nov. 22.—What may prove to be a double tragedy, took place yesterday on the ranch of William Davidson, about three miles north of Mortuary.

LOOKS BAD FOR GENTLEMAN FROM KANSAS

Burton's Case Will Go to Jury on Saturday.

MORE INCRIMINATING EVIDENCE ADDUCED YESTERDAY

Appears Quite Probable That Senator Did Really Defend Rialto Com- pany for $500 a Month.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 22.—Rapid progress was made in the trial of United States Senator Burton, of Kansas, charged with rendering services as an attorney before the postoffice department at Washington in violation of federal statutes, and it appeared probable that the case will go to the jury not later than Saturday. Thomas B. Harlan described his first meeting with Senator Burton on November 17, 1902. He said that Senator Burton called on him at his disposal and that he proposed to accompany him senator to Chicago and talk over matters on the train, which proposition was accepted.

The witness said he described to Senator Burton the legal difficulties in which the Rialto company was involved by the animosity of the former business partner of Major Dennis, president of the Rialto company, who was the witness declared, had caused the institution of fifteen civil suits, twenty libel suits and the probability of about 200 other cases, and that it was probable that judgments might be rendered by the federal grand jury against Major Dennis.

According to the witness, the conversation then branched off on to railroad matters and he explained that the Rialto company projected a new "security department" and suggested that Burton could act as head of this, being in a position as director in a railroad bond and having other financial interests to investigate thoroughly and keep in touch with the securities with which it was proposed to deal.

The Question of Compensation.

"I brought up the question of compensation," said Harlan.
"I returned to Senator Burton that I did not feel that had any authority to close any contract, but I would take the whole thing into consideration and report it back to the company when I returned to St. Louis," said Burton. "I returned to Senator Burton that I did not feel that had any authority to close any contract, but I would take the whole thing into consideration and report it back to the company when I returned to St. Louis," said Burton.

Mr. Mahoney further stated that he destroyed the book, and that Burton having said to them that should any of his letters fall into unfriendly hands, Burton's motives might be misunderstood.

Cochran's Testimony.

W. E. Cochran, formerly chief postoffice inspector, was recalled and testified as follows:
"Senator Burton called upon me, I cannot fix the exact date, and inquired if complaints had been made 'or if there was any investigation' made of the Rialto company. I said there was and gave him the names of the complainants.

Senator Burton again called on me on January 24, 1903, and stated that Postoffice Inspector Dice had refused to return the record that had been voluntarily turned over to him for a certain purpose, and asked that Dice be ordered to return the book. I accompanied Senator Burton to the fourth assistant postmaster general, where Senator Burton repeated his request, and then we all went to the office of the postmaster general, where the senator repeated his request to the postmaster general and he instructed me to telegraph Mr. Dice for information.

Trying to Finish It Up.

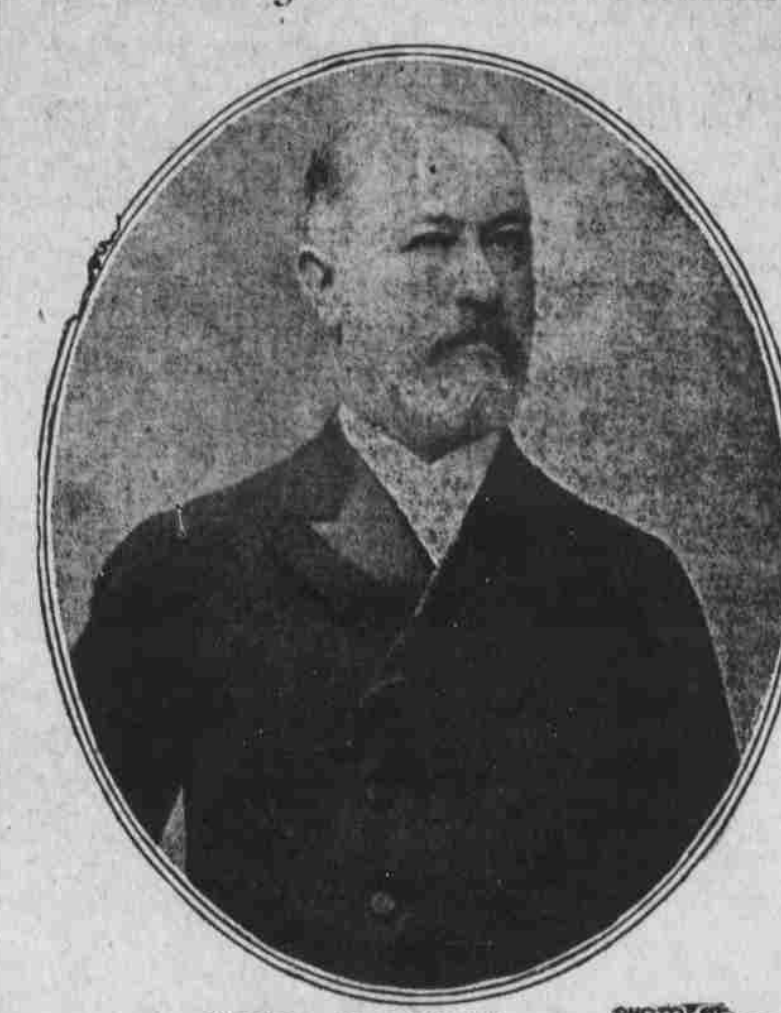

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 22.—An effort is being made by the delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor to complete the work of the convention tomorrow evening, but there are many questions yet to be considered and the final adjournment may not come until the end of the week. President Gompers' report was again before the convention this morning and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Recommending the exclusion of Chinese, Japanese and Korean labor from this country; instructing the executive council to select one labor organization against which an injunction has been granted, employ competent legal aid and carry the case to the United States supreme court to test the constitutionality of the injunction laws now in force.

An Unqualified Rejection.

Vienno, Nov. 22.—A dispatch from Constantinople says that the reply of the Porte which was handed Baron Von Calice, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, this evening, rejects the proposals of the powers on all points, and declares that the public opinion of Turkey would not countenance their acceptance. The Porte agrees to extend to two years the term of the civil agents of the powers in Macedonia.

ASSEMBLY WILL UPHOLD THE HANDS OF WITTE

Leader of Jewish Relief Movement

JACOB H. SCHIFF

NEW YORK TO GIVE MILLION FOR JEWS

Contributions for Relief of Suffering Russian Brethren Now Past $500,000 Mark.

New York, Nov. 22.—The amount collected in the city of New York towards the fund for the relief of the unfortunate Jews of Russia, has far surpassed the most sanguine expectations of those behind the movement. Over $500,000 has been received in actual cash by the committee in charge of the subscription, and probably a total of 200,000 more in kind. New York has left London away behind, as the English capital shows only a total contribution to the fund of $400,000.

The huge donation from New York will at once be sent to Baron Gumburg in St. Petersburg, who has charge of the distribution of the money among the suffering Hebrews in the provinces.

Will Reach Million.

The million dollar mark which Messrs. Jacob Schiff, Oscar Straus and Cyril Sulzberger, the committee of the relief organization here, set as their goal, will probably, it is believed, be reached in another week. About $55,000 was added to the contributions yesterday. Among the amounts received was a second installment of $20,000 from Philadelphia, $7,000 from St. Louis, $3,000 from Milwaukee, $2,000 from Louisville and $2,000 from New Orleans. George Foster Peabody sent his check for $500.

Among a series of mass meetings which the Hebrew Defense association, an organization formed to assist the arming of the Hebrews in Russia, has arranged is one to be held in the Grand Central Palace, Lexington avenue and Forty-third street, next Sunday afternoon, at which it is announced, the speakers will include Mayor McClellan, the Rev. Madison C. Peters, the Rev. Minot J. Savage and Professor Richard Gottlieb.

Day of Mourning.

December 1st will be observed generally by the Hebrews in this city as a day of mourning for the victims of the Russian outbreaks. Public services will be held in the Temple Emanuel, 21, Fifth avenue and Forty-third street; in the Beth Hamedras Hagadol, No. 62 Suffolk street, and in the synagogue in Pike street and Livingston street and at 107th street and Lexington avenue.

Will Cut Payment in Half.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The state department today received a cablegram from Mr. Eddy, charge d'affaires of the American embassy at St. Petersburg, bringing the information that the imperial proclamation today states that during the year of 1906, payment on land granted to peasants will be diminished by one-half and will cease entirely on January 1st, 1907. The peasants then becoming the owners of the land.

All Eyes on Moscow.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 22.—All eyes continue to be riveted on Moscow, where the struggle in the zemstvo congress on the question of supporting Premier Witte is continuing. Some of the most powerful men in congress are urging the support of the government, but the irreconcilable radical element appears to have a split inevitable. Should the resolution to support the government be carried, it seems almost certain that it will be coupled with conditions. The idea of a constituent assembly seems to have been abandoned, but not the demand for municipal reform, to which the premier is likely to yield.

The streets he says, are a mass of debris and blood stains are in evidence everywhere. Many corpses are still lying exposed, forming a gruesome sight.

Peasant Excitement Increasing.

Moscow, Nov. 22.—Excitement among the peasants in the central and southeastern provinces is spreading rapidly and it is feared that it will be impossible to suppress the movement which promises to develop into a general uprising bearing devastation and untold horror to the whole country. The revolutionists among the peasants are industriously spreading the story that the imperial reform manifesto really decreed the division of lands, but that the nobles, intellectuals and Jews distorted it and took all the freedom for themselves and the peasants therefore have a right to possess themselves of the lands which the emperor grants them.

Congress at Moscow Declares How- ever Cabinet Will Be Forced to Hew to the Line.

Decide to Support Government After Four Days' Debate.

Moscow, Nov. 22.—After the end of a four days' debate, the executive committee of the zemstvo congress brought in the following resolution in favor of supporting the government, the reading of which was greeted with tremendous applause.

"Considering that the imperial manifesto satisfies all the demands voiced since the zemstvo congress of a year ago, and that the liberties accorded by the manifesto are indispensable to the tranquillization of the country, the congress declares itself in complete solidarity with this constitutional basis. The responsibility for the realization of the program rests upon the cabinet. The congress is convinced that the cabinet will endeavor to support the great majority of the zemstvos and municipalities so long as it follows the path for the accomplishment of the liberties promised by the manifesto, but otherwise will on counter-decisional opposition."

"The congress believes that the sole means of guaranteeing the authority of the government, the maintenance of the country and the support of the people's representatives, are immediate promulgation of universal suffrage in elections to the duma, transformation of the first duma into a constituent assembly, and with the approval of the emperor of a constitution for the Russian empire and the organization of territorial reforms."

"Measures for the realization of the liberties granted by the manifesto are regarded as immediately imperative. It must moreover involve on the duma to establish a fundamental basis for a land reform, and to decide any momentous question in the domain of labor relations."

The resolution concludes by enumerating various measures which it says must be carried out before the duma meets. These include investigations into the recent occurrences in various parts of the country, the trial of the local officials and police who became culpably involved in the disorders, the maintenance of public security, proclamation of full amnesty for political and religious offenses up to the date of the imperial manifesto and the abolition of capital punishment.

FIREMEN WOULD PREVENT CRIME OF TRAIN WRECKING

Brotherhood in Favor of Draconic Legislation.

LOSE TWO MEN A DAY FROM ACCIDENT OR DEATH

Vice-Grand Master Strongly Denounces Fiends Who Cause Railroad Smash-Ups.

"We hope to be able to secure some sort of general legislation to prevent continual wrecking of trains by fiendish persons who place obstructions on the tracks and in such a way that it is impossible to prevent accidents," said C. Maier, of Kansas, Vice-Grand Master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, at the Hotel Savoy, in Kansas City. "I believe that this devilish business is on the increase. I can't tell you why it is so, but our figures seem to show that the number of accidents traceable to such causes is gaining. Now we face the awful proposition that we are losing on an average of two men a day for every day in the year from accident or death. Naturally we should look to the reasons for this, and should seek to get any remedy possible.

"Now, it is enough to ask a man to go onto an engine assuming the danger which naturally comes to him. The work of the elements is going to cause a great many accidents. But when it comes to some scoundrel placing a tie on the rails in the night, with the result that an engine turns over, it is enough to 'work us up.' Nearly every time this sort of an accident occurs a locomotive turns over, a man is badly hurt or killed. Throughout the west, as well as elsewhere, this thing is going on. For instance, down in Texas just the other day, a fireman went on his engine. His wife accompanied him to his work, bidding him goodbye as soon as the train left. An hour later his engine turned over, because some fiend had placed some iron on the rails. The fireman was killed and at last reports the engineer was so low that it was not believed he could live.

The prospects are bright for a daylight train from Tucson to Phoenix every day during the fair, and there is no good chance of a special train from El Paso, Tombstone and Douglas, says the Phoenix Gazette.

The fair management has taken the matter up with the Southern Pacific and the El Paso & Southwestern railroad companies and it is known that the Southern Pacific people look with favor on the proposition.

The Southern Pacific company now has a train from Nogales to Tucson by way of Benson, and it is the desire to get this train to run from Tucson to this city daily as a special during the week. The El Paso & Southwestern special, if run, will leave Douglas in time to get to Benson and connect with the Southern Pacific train through there, which is known as the Burro. This would give the people of Douglas, Biebee, Nogales, Tombstone and lesser points in the southern part of the territory a chance to come to the fair without stopping over several hours in Tucson, and it would mean a daylight ride to Phoenix for Tucson people. The train would make it from Benson to this point in about seven hours, which would bring it into Phoenix at about 2 o'clock p. m.

ANNEX FOR SANTA FE'S TOPEKA OFFICE BUILDING

Plans are being worked out by the officials of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe located in Topeka for the erection of a large annex to the present office building, says the Topeka State Journal. These plans are tentative for they will have to be passed on by the executive officials of the road before they can be put into execution. But the officials of the road here are unanimous that a large addition to the building is needed to properly house the present office force and it is the belief here that in about seven years, which would bring it into Phoenix at about 2 o'clock p. m.

If this item is allowed there will be little delay in the work. The new building for the plans and specifications for it are being prepared now by W. B. Storey, Jr., chief engineer of the company. These plans will call for the erection of an addition of sixty feet, which is to be built as an ell on the southeast end of the present building and it will conform with the architectural features of the latter.

ENGINEERS HAVE FINALLY SECURED UPPER HAND OF THE COLORADO

A Los Angeles dispatch says: Southern Pacific officials declared yesterday that the latest news just received from the work at the intake of the California Development company's canal on the Colorado river is such as to cause them to believe for the first time that the engineers and riprapers have finally secured the upper hand of the river, and that the flow into the Salton sink can be stopped.

With the immense volume of water detaching several other ingenious plans, the engineers have finally been put to a last expedient, which is declared now to be successful, and which has already diverted one-fourth of the whole flow of the river down the old channel of what is called the Quail river.

In a few days, as the work along the new line progresses, they are confident that they will be able to divert the entire volume of water down this channel and shut off to the last drop the flow of water through the gateless intake.

When this has been done it will be a simple task, comparatively, to put in the heavy, permanent head gates, and the water will then be allowed to flow back again.

The work, which has thus far proven successful, is the building of a pile and riprap dam across the 60-foot main channel of the river to the upper end of the island, which causes the division of the two channels.

This is a work which has been skillfully and carefully pushed along. First it was the driving of a row of piles across the whole channel. These split up the flow of the water, but did not check the volume in the slightest measure. But below the first skirmish line of piles the engineers entrenched themselves behind an outpost of piles three deep, extending one-third of the way across the channel. These they filled in with riprap to a height of ten feet above the level of the water.

This work partially blocked the channel. The water rose rapidly in consequence, but the piling and riprap held, being constantly filled in and reinforced by the deposit of silt, and a small volume of the water began to flow downward through the old channel.

And now the work has begun on the third and last section of the dam, which when completed will shut the water out completely from the channel where the masons will have to work unmolested, and with the dam already constructed below the intake, it will be impossible for the water to back up from below and hinder them.

So it is that the engineers are hopeful and predict that the final shutting off the flow of the river into the Salton sink is really in sight. The final shutting off of the water they fix at no later date than the last of next week.

Our Failure in Japan. There is a widespread notion that the rise of Japan means the beginning of American trade ascendancy in the Orient. Official records, however, show that our exports to Japan have been gradually declining while those from Asia were vastly increasing. There is also a delusion that to cure a weak stomach you must resort to dieting and thus starve yourself. Up-to-date people, however, know differently. They always keep a bottle of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in the house, and at the first sign of any ailment of the stomach, liver or kidneys take a few doses, with the result that they are always healthy. This is a good plan for every sick person to adopt. It cures headache, nervousness, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, chills, colds, or malaria. Don't fail to try it.

Cause Gaining Ground

A LETTER which we have been permitted to read—received a few days ago by a citizen of New Mexico, from Representative Hamilton, chairman of the house committee on territories, says that the cause of joint statehood for New Mexico and Arizona is gaining ground every day. It will be considerably stronger, he says, in this house than it was in the last, and he hasn't a doubt of its passage at the present session. Mr. Hamilton is in a position to know whereof he speaks, he was chairman of the committee in the last congress, and will occupy the same position in the congress which will meet in ten days, and when he says the cause of joint statehood will be stronger in this congress than it was in the last, we may take it for granted that he is saying only what he knows to be true.

It is not at all improbable that our cantankerous friend of the Santa Fe New Mexican has seen or received letters of the same purport from members of congress on this subject, and this would account for the flag of true union which he is now approaching the statehood people. There is no man in the country who can see the handwriting on the wall quicker than he can, and it is very rarely, indeed, that he has to call in any Daniel to tell him what it means. His sense of smell is acute as that of the war horse, and he can scent the leaves and fishes a long way off. He is now pleading with the statehood people to cease firing for a little while, and if they comply with his request he will gradually move over to our side, till, by the time the constitutional convention meets, he will be the loudest joint statehood boomer in either territory, all ready to do the state printing—and the Morning Journal will vote for him, without a take-off, for it rejoices more over one reprobate who has been reclaimed than over ninety and nine decent people who didn't need washing.

A Case in Point

A NENT the social evil problem, which is just now agitating the minds of many of the people of Albuquerque, here is a scrap of history that is not without interest. During the first session of the 55th congress the Women's Christian Temperance union of Washington laid before both houses of the national legislature a map of the capital city upon which all the places of doubtful reputation were distinctly marked, and this map showed that between the general post office and the white house, a distance of six hundred yards, there were one hundred and sixty-five dives and bagnios, the nearest being less than four hundred yards from the executive mansion, or just across the street from the white house lot. And, although congress has immediate control of affairs in the district of Columbia, and has command of the army, navy and treasury of the United States with which to enforce its commands, the situation is said to be no better now than it was then.

We note this fact, not that it has any particular bearing upon the situation here, but because we get exceedingly tired of this habit of magnifying our own evils to such an extent that people abroad may be led to think that Albuquerque is another Sodom, while the truth is that we average just as well as the people of any other section of the United States.

We have no disposition, not the slightest, to defend or apologize for the "social evil," or any other evil. In some form or other evil is ubiquitous. The Book tells us that the heart of man is prone to it, as the sparks to fly upward, and it is the duty of all good people to do all they can to combat it, not spasmodically, but all the time, in season and out of season; not to go to sleep by the side of it for a term of years, and then suddenly break out in a manner so violent as to cause the world to believe that we are worse than everybody else. That merely injures ourselves while doing little or nothing to benefit the cause of righteousness. You can't drive a spike with one blow of the biggest sledge you can wield, but with an ordinary hammer you can soon send it home if you keep pounding away. A righteous spirit will accomplish little if put on for only a day or two, and then laid by till it becomes moth eaten, but grand results can be achieved by conservative decency, worn every day.

Regulation vs. Ownership

SOME of the ablest railroad men in the country are materially modifying their opposition to the president's plan of rate regulation, by reason of the fact that it is dawning upon them that this is but one horn of the dilemma into which circumstances have forced them, and that if they reject this one, conditions will make it impossible for them to escape the other, which is much worse. Or in other words, they are squarely confronted with the necessity of choosing between government regulation and government ownership, and that there is no escape from the Scylla except with the practical certainty of running upon Charybdis.

President Mellen, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, was the first prominent railroad man in the country to size up the situation correctly, and he puts the case so plainly and forcibly that other prominent men in the business are being made to see it every day, and as a consequence there is much less bitterness of feeling toward the president's plan all along the line than there was a little while ago, and it is probable from present appearances, that by the time congress reaches the issue the opposition to the measure will be considerably less than has been generally expected.

THAT negro brass band in Alabama which played "Hang Jeff Davis on a Sour Apple Tree" should not be too severely criticised. The tune probably had reference to Governor Jeff Davis, and that being the case no one could object to it.—Los Angeles Times.

NEW PROCESS FOR RECOVERING DIAMONDS

The Premier Diamond Mining company (Limited) of the Transvaal has ordered an oil concentrator plant under the Elmore system from a large English firm, to be used in the treatment of their diamondiferous grounds. This contemplated installation is interesting as being the first application of the Elmore process for the recovery of precious stones. Many tests were made on the dumps of waste of the Premier, near Pretoria. A portion of this waste material was carefully resorted three times with a view to eliminating all diamonds from it as far as this was possible of accomplishment by hand sorting; then to this specially sorted waste was added a number of known weighed diamonds. The Elmore process was then applied, with a view to determine its efficiency for recovering the added diamonds. Not only were the added diamonds recovered, but in addition, several other stones were also found. These trials were repeated many times, and proved that 100 per cent recovery of the values was easily obtainable in every case. As a result of these experiments the Premier company has ordered a plant, which is expected to be in operation some time in November.

In addition to the advantages of the total extraction of the diamonds, the trials have shown that a preliminary sizing of the material to be treated is required, which is a distinct advantage over existing methods. Clean water, which is required in large quantities by usual methods, is quite unnecessary with the Elmore process, which is an important point where the Elmore process is superior. Further advantages of the new process are the prevention of thefts of diamonds and the elimination of the whole of the pulping treatment. The progress of these experiments will be watched with much interest, as they appear to be quite revolutionary. If all that is claimed be substantiated in working practice on a large scale, a most important advance will have been made in the treatment of diamondiferous earths.

The Elmore plant lends itself specially to the treatment of large quantities of stones during treatment, because all the diamonds are finally collected in a small centrifugal separator, which can be easily locked up, and is opened only by the responsible manager in charge, who from time to time can remove the precious stones without their being handled by any one else. The output in the Premier mine, which, by the way, is in the Transvaal, Cullinan stone was discovered, has been gradually falling off for several months, the value of production being not more than one-half what it was formerly, and being great difficulty experienced in mining the property. During the last six months diamonds to the value of $3,337,355 have been found, against $3,475,785 in the preceding half year.—Consul Snodgrass of Pretoria.

Make Me a Child Again.
 The boy stood on the burning deck,
 His fleece was white as snow,
 He stuck a feather in his hat,
 John Anderson, my Joe!

"Come back, come back!" he cried in grief.
 From India's coral strands
 The frost is on the pumpkin and
 The village smithy stands.

I'm a soldier of the cross,
 From many a boundless plain;
 Should auld acquaintance be forgot
 Where aughts immortal reign?

Ye banks and braes o' bonny Doon,
 Across the sands o' Dee,
 Can ye forget that night in June—
 My country, 'tis of thee!

Of all sad words of tongue or pen,
 We're saddest when we sing,
 To hear the lion in his den—
 To act before the king.

Hark! from the tomb a doleful sound,
 And Phoebe's gins arise;
 All mimic were the borogroves
 To manions in the skies.
 —Cleveland Leader.

Industrial Captains Caught Napping.
 To see after the fact is, of course, the more common kind of vision in respect to industrial activity. And examples are unknown among the steel companies of extension work for which plans had been made long in advance last year, though the addition was undertaken originally as a necessary rounding out of the plant. Now the rush of prosperity is on again and construction work has been taken up where it was dropped, but the new plant will not produce for some months. At the same time it is the fact that predictions were made last year by men in the iron trade who had most to do with the transportation side of the industry that any considerable improvement in demand would again find the railroads unable to cope with it.

It will soon be demonstrated in connection with the simultaneous movement this fall of the heaviest cereal crops in the country's history and the largest fall tonnage of iron and steel ever known, how much of the lesson of 1902 and 1903 was taken to heart by railroad managements. The transportation facilities of the country broke down under the weight of prosperity in those years, not so much because the supply of locomotives and cars was insufficient, though that was a factor, as from the utter inadequacy of terminal facilities. It will be recalled the president and other leading officials of the Pennsylvania railroad spent days at Pittsburgh when the freight blockade of early 1903 was at its worst, concentrating the managerial talent of the entire system upon a problem that for weeks had been drifting into hopeless confusion.

In every important railroad city in the country the question of terminals has been a threatening one for years. Naturally, it is one of infinite difficulty, the acquisition of needed property being often a matter of years. However, expenditures for terminals have so much of the element of providing for the distant future that directors find it expedient to postpone them and put money into equipment that can begin paying its way the day it is delivered from the maker. Frequently the heavy outlay involved in terminal improvements and the obstacles to financing them in times of stringency have put them off indefinitely. Yet it has been demonstrated time and again that the returns terminal facilities would have yielded in the next burst of prosperity following their completion would have paid interest on the money for years.—Iron Age.

CITY MAY BUY OUTFIT TO PAVE ITS OWN STREETS

Contractor Offers to Sell Good
Macadam Plant Cheap.

MATTER OF STREET PAVING
MEETS WITH POPULAR FAVOR

Question of Buying Apparatus Will Probably Come Up at Next Meeting of Council.

The paving of the streets of Albuquerque is being quite generally discussed and beside the petition presented for the paving of North Fourth street, other property owners are coming to the front with petitions.

At the next council meeting, residents on a number of other streets will make representations to the city fathers.

The building of storm sewers will become a necessity with the advent of paved streets and the question at present is the financing of the work. This seems to be the only impediment in the way.

D. J. Tiraway, of Denver, Colo., who is at present at work on a contract from the government at Fort Wingate, N. M., macadamizing the road from the railroad to the fort, is in the city and will remain for a few days on business connected with his Arizona contract.

He has a good plant for doing work of this character, having bought it especially for the city of Albuquerque. He has agreed to sell the plant to the city of Albuquerque for less than half what it cost, and says that if the city can duplicate the material for twice what he asks for it, he will make the town a present of the "whole works."

"I have a fine plant of machinery for doing macadam work, which includes rock crusher, rollers, etc. It is as fine a little bit of equipment as there is in the country and was bought for the Wingate job," he said last night. "I can take the plant back to Denver with me, but would be willing to sacrifice it for the city of Albuquerque. If the city of Albuquerque or any contractor desires to buy the plant to do the work of paving the streets of Albuquerque, I will dispose of the equipment at less than half what it cost. I do not want the contract for doing the paving here, as I have more work at Denver and through Wyoming and elsewhere than I can attend to, but if the city wants a first class lot of machinery, I am in shape to open negotiations at any time."

Mayor McKee is said to be in favor of buying the plant and other members of the council who have heard of Mr. Tiraway's offer are also in favor of the purchase.

"With a macadam outfit such as Mr. Tiraway has, the city could put the streets of Albuquerque in fine shape and at a very nominal cost," said a prominent citizen last night. "All of the city prisoners who are fed at an expense now, could work on the paving and a great portion of the work could be handled in this way, very cheaply. The city could put in a few experienced men to look after the work and in a short time the streets of Albuquerque would be in fine shape. They are not so bad now being as better far than any city in New Mexico, but I believe that they could be macadamized at a very little expense if the city owned the machinery and did the work."

It is understood that several influential citizens who are in favor of paving the streets of Albuquerque will visit the different members of the council today and if they can get a favorable opinion from them will bring the matter of purchasing the Tiraway machinery up at the next meeting.

ARGUMENTS ON MOTION IN REBATE CASE TO BE HEARD TODAY

Judge Ira A. Abbott and F. W. Clancy, district attorney, returned to Albuquerque last night from Gallup where Judge Abbott has been holding a session of the district court. Judge Abbott will be in his chambers today at the usual hours. He stated last evening at the depot that he had granted a continuance in the Doane case, but had not set the time for the hearing of the case. The matter will be taken up as speedily as possible. Attorney Julius Staab, of this city, was appointed to defend Doane and he will be allowed a reasonable time in which to prepare his case and to secure witnesses.

Arguments will be heard today on the motion by Attorney Neil B. Fie, counsel for the Caledonian Coal company that the defendants in the famous Santa Fe rebate case, be compelled to produce additional documents and witnesses in the case.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier, New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A.

The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. When taken in time it prevents pneumonia. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

HESSELDEN FINISHES BUILDINGS
AT BIG INDIAN SCHOOL MOVEMENT ON FOOT TO GET EUROPEAN TOURISTS

Contractor Wallace Hesselnden left last night on No. 7 for Gallup with a crew of workmen to begin the work of finishing the buildings of the Black Rock Indian school being erected by the government at Black Rock, forty miles or more from Gallup. The buildings were begun by another contractor, who "fell down" on the job and Mr. Hesselnden has contracted to finish the work for $3,000. The buildings are being constructed of cut stone and include a big dormitory, a large building for employe's quarters, a warehouse, laundry and gas house, all modern and substantial buildings. The department intends to make the Black Rock school one of the best in the Indian service and Mr. Hesselnden's orders are to finish it up in as quick time as possible.

The following circular letter which deserves careful attention at the hands of boards of trade and other commercial bodies throughout the west, has been issued by the Commercial club of Salt Lake City. The letter is recommended to the Commercial club of Albuquerque.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 24, 1905.
Dear Sir: The Commercial club of this city has inaugurated a movement having as its object the ultimate diversion into western channels of at least a part of the great tide of tourist travel which every year flows from America to Europe.

According to conservative estimates not less than $150,000,000 of American gold were spent during 1904-5 by citizens of the United States in foreign travel. This great sum was paid out in large part by men and women in search of health, pleasure or recreation, who, though native to the United States, were in comparative ignorance of the wonderful scenic, climatic and industrial attractions of the west. It will, we think, be readily seen that any material part of the amount named above, if spent in western communities, would not only tend to their great financial betterment and upbuilding, but would most desirably extend and increase the general knowledge of what this section of the nation has to offer to the seekers for pleasure, health, recreation or amusement, who now crowd foreign capitals and resorts.

The Commercial club is not only of the opinion that the west is entitled from all the standpoints of interest, to a larger share of public attention than it has been getting, but firmly believes that an intelligently directed and persistent effort along proper lines will result in a quick and beneficial change in the conditions of which complaint is now made.

In an effort to rectify these conditions this club has undertaken work of a awakening interest in this subject among the business men of the western part of the United States and of the republic of Mexico.

The particular object of this communication is to secure the co-operation of your organization in this effort, and the suggestion is respectfully made that at this stage of the work a strong endorsement of the enterprise from your board of directors, passed at the earliest date possible and published in your local papers with favorable editorial comment, would be of great value.

Arrangements are now being perfected for a conference of the governors of the states and territories affected, together with representatives of the chief commercial bodies of the west and of the railroads operating in the interested sections, at which time a definite and comprehensive plan of procedure will be presented by the Commercial club.

In view of the great interests involved and the far-reaching character of the proposed exploitation of western resources and advantages, you are respectfully urged to take such action as you may deem wise in this connection at as early a date as possible.

Heber M. Wells, president Commercial club, chairman; Richard P. Morris, mayor Salt Lake, treasurer; John C. Cutler, governor of Utah, W. P. O'Meara, John J. Judson, Simon Hammerberger, Fisher Harris, secretary, committee.

MEETING OF THE ASSOCIATED CHARITIES WILL BE HELD TODAY

A meeting of the Associated Charities is called for this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the parlors of the Commercial club building. This is a very important meeting and all who are interested are urged to be present.

A constitution and by-laws have been prepared and will be submitted for the consideration of the organization. As many ideas and suggestions as possible are desired on the subject. The committees on subscription are urged to be present and report the progress already made in raising the fund which is to start the work of the Associated Charities.

George Samuels Coming Back.
The George Samuels attractions will be seen here again, on November 23 in three new plays. The players have made elaborate preparations so that the new offerings will far exceed anything ever offered before by them. As usual, all new scenery and effects will be shown. "The Great Conspiracy," the drama of the opening night, has to do with the adventures of a young farmer of Ohio, and traces through thrilling scenes and exciting climax his life from the discovery of oil to the close when he comes into his own. A beautiful love story is interwoven in the plot. "A Wise Woman" that effervesces with the best of comedy is the second night's play. It is played by the complete company—fifteen people in all, and is equal, if not superior, to the "Man From Mexico." Its comedy is bright and clean and well calculated to keep the audience in the best of humor. The company are here for only three nights.

The Stein-Bloch Wool Test

The Stein-Bloch Wool Test consists of a boiling solution of water and caustic potash, the chemical action of which dissolves wool but not cotton. The two samples here shown were originally of the same length, the test proved one to be all wool, consuming the part immersed and leaving only the blackened edge. The other proved to be an adulteration containing a large per cent of mercerized cotton.

NEW MEXICO TO HAVE 500,000 SMALL FARMERS

Forestry Man Enthusiastic
Over Territory's Prospects.

PLENTY OF WATER AND PLENTY OF FERTILE SOIL

Engineer Plummer Finishes Work of Examining Feasibility of Project to Irrigate Carrizozo Flats.

Engineer Fred G. Plummer, of the United States forest service, left last night for El Paso, whence he will go to San Diego, Santa Barbara and San Francisco, California, to do work for the government in these sections.

Mr. Plummer has been in Albuquerque several days. He arrived from Capitan, Lincoln county, near where he has been investigating the merits of a reservoir proposition contemplated by the government in the White mountains.

"My work is simply of a preliminary nature," said Mr. Plummer to the Journal reporter last night. "When the forest service discovers that there is real merit in a proposition of this kind and that there is a close inspection there is where my work comes in. The scheme I am investigating down there is a reservoir to supply water to irrigate thousands of acres of arid land on what is known as the Carrizozo flats. There is fertile and irrigable land there in plenty—land in excess of all the water that can be secured."

Asked concerning his opinion of the feasibility of a reservoir in the Capitan drainage basin Mr. Plummer replied with a smile that he was not at liberty to say until he had reported to the officials at Washington.

On the general subject of irrigation in New Mexico, Mr. Plummer is enthusiastic. He said: "I came to this territory three years ago and since that time have been working around at widely separated points and I am most optimistic regarding the farming possibilities of New Mexico. There is water in unlimited quantities and the soil without end. When the people learn to make the most use of both the water and the land and quit wasting both, New Mexico is going to become a land of small farmers. I do not see how it can be otherwise. I do not believe this is overstatement. I expect to see New Mexico populated with settlers who are what Mr. Roosevelt most happily terms 'home builders.' Men who really make the territory a country of homes—men each of whom has a small farm which is developed to the limit of its possibilities. A farm with a mortgage. I believe this is no idle dream. For I have been into the subject thoroughly in this territory. I go out in the remote sections far from the railroad and in my work have to gain, of necessity, a pretty good knowledge of the topographical and geological conditions."

"Among good irrigation propositions I can mention just on the spur of the moment are in eastern New Mexico, two on the San Mateo creek in a canyon of Mount Taylor, one at Bluewater, several in Tucs county and others without number."

"Anything that is done by the government depends very largely upon the co-operation given by the people," said Mr. Plummer. "That is a most important thing to remember in regard to any action by Uncle Sam toward reclaiming the arid country."

In regard to forest reserves Mr. Plummer says that all the people he has met show a disposition to be most reasonable in the matter. "People realize more than ever before," he said, "what the forest service means to the future of the west, and I am disposed to look with favor upon the setting aside of lands when their own immediate interests seem to be affected. When a man loses a few thousands on account of a water famine, he is inclined to be pretty reasonable in discussing any plan for conserving the water supply. I find that the people generally are taking a much more intelligent view of it than formerly and are quite ready to co-operate."

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Oscar Linfield, of Sabinal, is visiting Albuquerque friends.

At the meeting of the Elks' lodge at the lodge rooms last night a good big crowd of interested ones helped initiate Bert W. Bryner, of Elkhorn, into the mystic rites of Elksdom.

A. W. Anson, of the contracting firm of Anson and Holman, of this city, left last night for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will remain for a few weeks.

Mr. Anson's visit to the Angel city comprises both business and pleasure. Matthy Smith, of Beloit, Wis., arrived in the city yesterday accompanied by his aged mother. They have been on a visit to California points.

The lady who is 87 years of age became quite ill here and was taken to the St. Joseph sanitarium.

W. H. Hulvey, of Chicago, who is looking after the interests of the Latta estate in the famous Indian degradation case, returned last night from the west with a number of witnesses who will give testimony in the case.

Ellsworth Ingalls is looking after the government's interests.

Last night at her home at 129 South Argo street, Mrs. Alice Hayward very pleasantly entertained the ladies and comrades of the G. A. R. A festive lunch of maple syrup, plain doughnuts and coffee. An interesting program was given, piano selections being rendered by E. P. Maloy.

Walter Thomas Mills, the well known socialist lecturer, gave an address to a fair audience last night in Colombo hall in the course of which he made some sensational remarks about the present status of the social evil in Albuquerque.

Mr. Mills is rather a pungent speaker and scored vigorously both the followers of a life of sin, and the city which allows vice to hold its head so high on the public streets.

R. C. Spooner, of Chicago, brother of Senator John C. Spooner, of Wisconsin, who holds the position of superintendent of the Indian war-house at Chicago, arrived in the city last night and will remain as a guest of Superintendent James K. Allen, of the Albuquerque school for a few days.

Pale, Thin, Nervous?

Mr. Spooner has been on a visit to the pueblos west of Albuquerque. Phoenix and the Grand Canyon.

Rehearsals for the "Broken-Hearted Club and Sarah's Young Man," to be given by the Woman's club of Albuquerque, on December 1, are proceeding in a most encouraging manner and there is no doubt that the play will make a big hit. Those who have seen the rehearsals say it is one of the finest productions ever staged and that when it is produced at the Elks' opera house, Albuquerqueans are going to have one of the best laughs they have had in months. The leading parts are taken by well known young society ladies.

FALL COLDS

Prominent Society Woman Advises Albuquerque People Best Means to Cure Them.

"To the People of Albuquerque: Knowing how prevalent hard colds are at this season of the year, and into what danger they often lead, I want to tell you of my experience, as it may be the means of saving your life, as I believe mine was saved by Vinol, the best and liver oil preparation in the world."

SALLIE VAN WICK.

On my way home from a reception, fairly cold, I contracted a severe cold and cough. I tried different cold liver oil preparations and other remedies; they only upset my stomach and gave me no relief. I finally sent for my physician, who prescribed for me, but I constantly grew worse, and as a last resort he advised me to try Vinol. I found it was delicious to take, and did not upset my stomach like the other cold liver oil preparations. It soon effected a complete cure, built up my general health, and made me feel stronger and better than I have for years.

My druggist, from whom I purchased Vinol, tells me that it has taken the place of old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, because it contains in a highly concentrated form all the medicinal, curative and body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cod's livers, but without a drop of the system-clogging oil or grease to upset the stomach and retard the cure. If Vinol does for Albuquerque people what it did for me, it will be worth $100 a bottle to them. Sallie Van Wick, vice president of the Anderson Driving Club, Atlanta, Ga., is our local druggist, J. H. O'Reilly Co., say they have never sold a remedy in their store equal to Vinol for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—troubles or to build up a run-down system, and they will return the money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT URGES THE NEED OF BREVITY

Don't Want Officials to Give All Their Time to Letter Writing.

President Roosevelt, in his instructions to the commission of which Mr. Keop, assistant secretary of the treasury, is chairman, and which was created by the president to ascertain what changes may be necessary to place the conduct of the executive business of the government on the most economical and effective basis called attention, among other things, to needless letter writing, arguing that it should be eliminated from governmental business. With reference to this particular branch of the commission's inquiry, the president said:

"A resolute effort should be made to secure brevity in correspondence and the elimination of useless letter writing. There is a type of bureaucratic who believes that his entire work and that of his subordinates, of the government should be the collecting of papers in reference to a case, commenting with eager minuteness on each, and corresponding with other officials in reference thereto. These people really care nothing for the case, but only for the documents in the case. In all branches of the government there is a tendency greatly to increase unnecessary and largely perfunctory letter writing."

Robert McIntyre, the noted poet-rancher and lecturer who lectured on "Honesty to People," last April will deliver another one of his world-famous lectures in the First Methodist church next Thursday evening, November 23rd.

Walter Thomas Mills, the well known socialist lecturer, gave an address to a fair audience last night in Colombo hall in the course of which he made some sensational remarks about the present status of the social evil in Albuquerque. Mr. Mills is rather a pungent speaker and scored vigorously both the followers of a life of sin, and the city which allows vice to hold its head so high on the public streets.

R. C. Spooner, of Chicago, brother of Senator John C. Spooner, of Wisconsin, who holds the position of superintendent of the Indian war-house at Chicago, arrived in the city last night and will remain as a guest of Superintendent James K. Allen, of the Albuquerque school for a few days.

PREPARING TO INSTALL NEW ELECTRIC PLANT IN AZTEC

I. F. Sleade, who has been figuring on putting an electric light plant in Aztec, left Monday for Denver to select his machinery, says the Aztec Index. Mr. Sleade has secured very nearly 200 lights here, which will range in price from eighty cents a month downward, according to the number of lights used. The plant will probably be located near the railroad track on land where a switch can be put in to haul coal.

If everything goes smoothly Mr. Sleade can have the plant up inside of ninety days, and then watch Aztec grow. With the large territory to the east of the town which will be watered inside of two or three years, and the cutting up of large tracts now under water into ten and twenty-acre tracts, Aztec will be the center of a large population. But it is the candid opinion of many impartial observers that there is no justification for the prices that are being asked for certain pieces of town property unless the present owners desire to keep it.

An electric light plant here will also include an artificial ice plant and cold storage, a thing badly needed, and a paying investment. Mr. Sleade has had experience in ice making and electric machinery for many years, and the Esmeralda and other large mines at Silverton have offered him big inducements to stay with them.

PEOPLE ROUSED ON SOCIAL EVIL QUESTION

MINISTER STATES HIS VIEWS
ANOTHER FROM MR. HADDEN

The fact that the people of Albuquerque are thoroughly aroused over the question of the regulation of the social evil in this city is clearly demonstrated by the large number of communications which the Journal has received on the subject. There is no doubt that the citizens have realized that something must be done at once and public sentiment demands that the city council take some action in the matter.

On the general subject the two following letters, out of many will be read with interest—one from the pastor of the Congregational church and the other, a second letter, from Mr. R. W. Hadden, who has some decided views on the subject and who wishes to make his position a little clearer.

A Minister's View.
Editor Morning Journal:
It did not occur to me to say anything on the question of gambling and the social evil until reading your paper of this morning and especially the letter of Mr. Hadden of Monday morning. I did not attend the meeting of Saturday night or the council meeting of Monday night, yet believe the time has now come for this city to decide what is best on this important question.

Alderman Hanley is reported as saying that the social evil is a necessary evil. Necessary to protect decent women. I am willing to admit that it is an evil, and an evil of long standing, but I would like to ask Mr. Hanley in what respect is it necessary? The home and the family are regarded as the basis of all happiness and prosperity in our American civilization. Why should not every healthy and honest man ask some good woman to be his wife, not his partner in sin?

I am not surprised the people hissed last Monday night when this city father made such a startling statement and spoke of the prostitute as necessary to protect decent women. The mothers, wives and sisters of this city must feel proud of such protection; to think of being protected and saved by such a means and at such a cost. Let me ask how in the name of common sense, these poor, ignorant and degraded sisters, whom we have a deep and tender pity—how they are to save and protect anyone?

To my mind the social evil is no more a necessary evil than stealing or murder are necessary evils. The man who helps to support and to make necessary such a place (for selfish reasons, or perhaps because he is naturally unclean) should be shunned and despised by every decent man as he must be by every pure woman.

Mr. Hadden in the Journal on Monday morning, refers to the W. C. T. U. and the rank of a prohibitionist as the cause of the recent closing of the saloons on Sunday. It seems to me that this reference is very unfair and extremely shallow. What has the one or the other to do with this question? It is a movement among the thinking business and professional men of this city. Some time ago both our city papers spoke of the voluntary closing of the saloons on account of the fear of the churches and the W. C. T. U. It is my opinion that the saloon men have little fear of the churches or the temperance organizations as such but they do fear an awakening of public sentiment among a very large number of people, such as is true of Albuquerque today.

I have nothing to say at this time on the question of the saloon, but I think it should be the aim of every good citizen to abolish prostitution and all public gambling so that the check of the working man may pass over the merchant's counter rather than the gambler's table, and that young men and old may have no such temptation to take chances with hard earned money, every dollar of which is needed to better house, feed and clothe the family. In almost every state and every town of the union some gambling is indulged in, but in very few places east or west is it allowed in a public way. We ought at least to come up to the standard of outward decency.

Yours truly,
JOHN W. BARRON.

Mr. Hadden Comes Back.
Editor Morning Journal.

It is unfortunate that my recent communication was so lengthy as to necessitate your using the blue pencil. The omission of words, sentences and paragraphs in my letter, as sent you, from the letter as printed, places me in a different light and renders it somewhat difficult to properly answer Mr. Davis.

He says, "destroy the cause." Good; then destroy the distilleries and breweries. Stop men like Wanamaker from paying young women the miserable pittance of $3.00 per week, causing them to seek support elsewhere. Stop the gambling on the Stock exchange and the Board of Trade and let ministers of the gospel set good example to the workmen by quitting their speculations in that hellish maelstrom of Wall street.

One of the most rabid prohibitionists I ever listened to was the President of the Young Men's Christian Association in Minneapolis, Minn., who denounced on the public platform the use of alcoholic liquors in every form, also of tobacco. At the same time he was making his own money in the wholesale drug business of which he was president, and the bulk of his income was derived from the rectifying and selling of liquors in every form, and worse still, putting up cheap whiskey labelled "Columbia Bitters," which was shipped into prohibition states by the gross. Whiskey and alcohol were also put up in jugs and boxed and shipped as "drugs" and alcohol was even shipped in tin cans as "kerosene." He also wholesaled cigars. Now I was credit man in this house, and know whereof I speak.

Why does the Bible speak of wine all the way through from beginning to end, and why did Jesus turn the water into wine? It is the abuse of these things that is wrong, not the proper use.

My reference to bickering in the church stated a fact. It was no situation. Since Martin Luther broke loose and Henry the Eighth established himself as Pope of England, the Protestant church has become more and more of a farce as the years have rolled by. I am not a Catholic, having been raised in a Scottish Presbyterian family, by one of the best mothers that ever lived who had sense enough when I reached man's estate to say that if I cared to drink beer or wine she would have it in the house for me, and would prefer that I use it there instead of patronizing the saloon. Her common sense has enabled her to raise a family of eight, not one of whom are either drinkers or gamblers, and I do not

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies: those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers: those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c per bottle. One size only.

THE STORE OF RELIABILITY

Up-to-Date Dry Goods

To those ladies who care to keep abreast of the times, and not to appear in a new dress made from material that was in style two or three years ago, but is now out of date, we respectfully call attention to Our entire stock of Dress Goods bought only four months ago from some of the most reliable wholesale houses in America, and selected by us in person after a careful study of the out-going and in-coming styles.

None of these goods are old, shop-worn, materials bought up at bankrupt sales at cheap prices.

We have no old-style goods to work off.

Our goods are the best of their kind—the best; the most fashionable materials, the stylish colors and patterns, worn this winter in the eastern cities. We carry only three grades—goods, excellent and best in each material.

We will show you what you ask for—

For instance: If you ask for a Broadcloth we will show you the real thing, not a Ladies' Cloth or some other smooth finished goods which you might buy for half what a good quality of Broadcloth would cost.

We have good materials which we sell for little money, they look well and wear well, but we do not try to make you believe they are the most expensive goods—sold below cost. If our goods are not what we represented them to be bring them back and we will refund the purchase money.

We have Silks—all prices and all kinds—plain, striped and plaid. We have Velvets, Eoliennes, Crepe, Broadcloth, Tweed, Panama, Melrose, Prunella, Tamise, Sicilian, Mohair, Henriettas, Nun's Veiling, Burlap, and lightweight and heavy Suiting in all the popular colors.

Hundreds tell us our Diamond Brand Shoes outwear all others they have ever bought.

Try our Dress Goods also and be convinced that THE GLOBE STORE makes good its word every time.

AN OPEN LETTER

To Our Patrons and Friends

We have entered into a contract with Mr. Geo. W. Hickox, agreeing to sell to him our Jewelry Business, including stock, fixtures and good will, Jan. 1, 1907. One strong feature of our agreement with Mr. Hickox is that we promise to reduce our very large and complete stock to the lowest possible point before that date and with this end in view, we will begin, Saturday, Nov. 4, a SPECIAL CLOSING OUT SALE to continue until Dec. 31, at which time we positively retire from the Jewelry business, having arranged to go into the manufacturing lumber business in British Columbia.

Our business in Albuquerque has increased steadily year by year, and grateful for this, we propose for the next two months, to cut out the big end of our profits and to give you such a genuine bargain sale of really fine, high-grade goods, as never has been offered in our city.

We invite you to make your selections now and avoid the rush of the December trade. We have ample vault-room and will gladly lay aside the goods you select, until you are ready for them. We have been in the Jewelry business 26 years, and have never yet advertised a fake sale. In this sale we will offer you rare bargains in Diamonds and Fine Watches. Every sale will be backed by my personal guarantee. Mail Order solicited and satisfaction assured.

The Wilson Heater with the celebrated Hot Blast Down-Draft is the only heater which actually burns all of the fuel put into it. The Hot Blast Down-Draft creates perfect combustion and the fumes which rise from the fuel, ordinarily escaping unburned in other stoves, are all consumed and turned into heat in the Wilson. It has been ascertained that the fumes which arise from the fuel constitute 40 per cent of the entire heating power of the fuel. Buy a Wilson and get all the heat you are paying for.
