HUNT FOR SANTA FE TRAIN WRECKERS IN OLD MEXICO

Company Determined to Get Kansas Criminals.

ONE OF THE GUILTY MEN
HAS GONE TO PHILIPPINES

Aitchison Detectives Working Hard to Get Manager Hurley's
$5,000 Reward.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 24.—Edward Price, a secret service detective in the employ of the Aitchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and Matt Kenney, a city detective, have gone to Old Mexico to bring back a man arrested there and charged with being implicated in the wrecking of a Santa Fe passenger train last May near El Paso, Kan., in which six persons were injured, one of whom James Hanger, an old soldier from Fort Leavenworth, died the next day. Chief Hanger and Inspector Hanger last night refused to talk about the case, but it is said another wrecker has been traced to the Philippines and that Detective Kenney will go there to get him when he returns from Old Mexico. J. E. Hurley, general manager of the Santa Fe, has offered a reward of $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty persons.

The wreck occurred a mile east of Emporia, the morning of May 14. Evidence was found indicating that a woman and three men were responsible for it, and Santa Fe officials and detectives have worked on the theory that the three men were ex-employees seeking revenge because they had been discharged. Near the scene of the wreck, in a pool of water, were found a track wrench and crowbar that had been stolen from a nearby section tool house. The spikes and fishplates of two rails on the inside of a curve had been removed.

Detective Kenney left Kansas City last Wednesday night. Chief Hanger refused to say last night where Kenney went.

BALDWIN WORKS WILL NOT BE MOVED WEST

A report telegraphed from Philadelphia that the Baldwin Locomotive Works were about to be removed from that place to the middle west, possibly to Kansas City, is declared to be without foundation.

The Business Men's League of St. Louis took up the matter as soon as the report appeared and telegraphed John R. Converse, of the Baldwin company, that if the plant was to be removed from Philadelphia St. Louis would offer inducements for it to be located there. Mr. Converse informed the league that the Baldwin plant will remain in Philadelphia and that there had been no intention whatever of moving the works.

BURLINGTON RECOGNIZES ENGINEERS' BROTHERHOOD

Chicago, Nov. 24.—The management of the Burlington railroad, after many years of opposition, has recognized the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and has signed the first wage scale with that organization since the great strike of the engineers in 1885. Heretofore all wage scales for the engineers on Burlington have been promulgated over the signatures of the railroad's managers, the Brotherhood having no option in the matter of acceptance. This time the schedule was signed by the officers and by the members of the general committee of the Brotherhood after a three weeks' conference.

The hostility of the Burlington road to the Brotherhood was the result of the engineers' strike of 1893-94, when 1,400 men deserted their engines. Paul Morton, then in the Burlington service, had charge of the strike for the railroad and won the most stubborn battle in the history of the Brotherhood.

Several months ago word was sent forth that the engineers employed by the Burlington could openly join the Brotherhood if they so desired. Since that time fully 70 per cent of them have become members of the organization.

"A WISE WOMAN" MAKES BIG HIT WITH CROWD AT ELKS' THEATER

A large audience saw the George Samuels company last night in the opera house in their production of "A Wise Woman." The play made a big hit and the fact that Mr. Samuels is greeting full houses again after being in the city so recently, shows that his plays have found a ready acceptance. Applause last night was frequent and prolonged and none but favorable comments were heard from those who attended the performance.

The cast of characters last night was as follows:

John Davis.....Henry J. Jackson
Tom Blane.....Gen. H. Conner
Gustave Puder.....Fred Manley
Daniel Webster White.....J. W. Clifford
James Jones.....H. L. Morton
Neil Brown.....J. H. Conner
Julius Bottom.....H. L. Morton
Samuel Hicks.....Granville Hill
Constance.....Bert Stoops
Lillian Tussell.....Mildred Eddy
Augusta.....Mildred Eddy
Catherine Davis.....Jessie Brink
Beatrice Jones.....Beverly Winn
Mrs. Miller.....Sadie Dokes
Billow.....By Himself

No one should by any means allow himself or herself to be so unwise as to stay away from the Elks Opera house tonight, as the play, "The Man From Mexico," will be put on. This attraction has always proved most popular in this part of the country, and it is said the costumes tonight will be splendid and the scenery unequalled.

August Belmont Appointed.

French Lick Springs, Ind., Nov. 24.—Thomas Taggart, chairman of the democratic national committee, today appointed August Belmont of New York, as treasurer of the committee to succeed Charles Foster, deceased, who resigned, it is stated, on account of sickness.

ENGINEERS ON SOUTH END GET A SMALL RAISE IN WAGES

Topeka, Nov. 24.—The Santa Fe system proper, through J. E. Hurley, general manager, has allowed locomotive passenger engineers on the division between Albuquerque and El Paso an increase in wages. Their pay heretofore has been $3.45 to $3.75 per hundred miles according to the class of engines handled. The new rates are $3.75 and $3.90, being the same as on the division between La Junta and Raton. The engineers, except those in the passenger service, are relieved from filling grease cups. The demand for an increase of pay for freight engineers on the New Mexico division was rejected by General Manager Hurley. This is the result of a two days' conference between the members of the locomotive engineers' grievance committee and Mr. Hurley.

STAGE COACH ROLLS DOWN STEEP BANK WITH PASSENGERS

Roosevelt, Nev., Nov. 24.—News has just reached the damsite camp that a vehicle, of one of the transportation companies plying between the dam and Mesa was overturned at noon between Mormon Flat and Fish Creek hill, and several of the passengers were seriously injured. There was some sort of a traveling theatrical troupe on the vehicle, the report states, and it is added that many were injured in the accident. Details are lacking. A message was sent to Roosevelt for Dr. Palmer to come and attend the injured, and it was thus the news reached here.

The road between Mormon Flat and Fish Creek hill varies in height from several hundred feet to 3,000 feet. Some places the road is on precipitous hills and at others it slopes. The accident must have occurred on one of the slopes, as to go over the face of any of the cliffs would have meant instant death to the entire party.

The New Governor

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS dispatch received yesterday afternoon announced by authority that the president has appointed Herbert J. Hagerman governor of New Mexico, the appointment to take effect January 23, on the expiration of the term of Governor Otero.

The Morning Journal has favored Mr. Rodey for this position, simply because he had earned recognition at the hands of the president, by valuable services rendered in behalf of the territory, and could have done more good for the cause of joint statehood—which is the only sort of statehood New Mexico can hope for—than any of the other candidates for the place. But at the same time we have neither expressed nor entertained any objection to any of the other applicants except Mr. Otero, and in his case only because he has abused and prostituted his high office to work against the best interest of the territory by the manner in which he has opposed joint statehood. As a citizen of the territory he had a perfect right to oppose this or any other issue for any reason satisfactory to his own mind, but as governor of New Mexico he debased himself and his office by putting collars upon his appointees and compelling them to act as boomers and claqueurs to down the voice of the people in favor of statehood. With respect to the other gentlemen who became prominent as aspirants for the position, we have entertained only the kindest of feelings. Mr. Hagerman, Mr. Carr and Mr. Galles are all good and competent men, and we have never hesitated to admit that the appointment of either of the three would be perfectly satisfactory, barring the fact that we thought Mr. Rodey had earned the place, and "the laborer is worthy of his hire." Otherwise, we chronicle the appointment of Mr. Hagerman with much pleasure, and take occasion to assure him in advance that the Morning Journal will give him and his administration an earnest and cordial support as long as he maintains a becoming respect for the dignity and importance of his office, and stands for the interests of the people of New Mexico—but no longer.

There's Nothing in It

HOSE persons who confess to some uneasiness regarding one of the financial institutions of Albuquerque because of the alleged fact that it has invested somewhat largely in the somewhat doubtful business of publishing an afternoon newspaper, may rest assured that their fears are entirely groundless. The gentleman at the head of the institution in question is altogether too good a banker to risk much money in such a "hoax." And, besides, the very dainty manner in which the Andrews fiasco is handled by the paper referred to, is amply sufficient to warrant the current belief that the money was a part of the grand total which swamped the Enterprise National bank of Pittsburgh.

The Mormon Peril

THE decent people of the United States, without regard to party, would be shocked at the idea of admitting another Mormon state to the union, and yet any one who will look over the situation thoughtfully and intelligently, with certain well known facts in view, cannot fail to be convinced that the only way to escape that disgrace is to make one state of Arizona and New Mexico, and do it now.

The opponents of joint statehood find their strongest argument in what they assume to be a fact, that if the one-state movement can be defeated at this session of congress, the next congress or some succeeding one will admit the territories as two states. This is a plausible argument, and assuming it to be sound, what will be the inevitable consequence?

The Mormons already hold the balance of power between the political parties in Arizona. The population of that territory is very small, and the conditions existing there, both natural and commercial, preclude the possibility of any great increase from ordinary immigration such as has caused the rapid development of the average new western state. Its natural resources are chiefly in minerals, and these are under control of a few great corporations which do not care a fig for the development of anything but their mines. These are facts known to everyone and cannot be disputed. If a state should be made out of the territory under such conditions, how long would it take the "church" to throw in enough of its people from Utah to give it control of the new commonwealth. It could and would be done within a year.

It is well known that the Mormon hierarchy does not confine itself to the affairs of the hereafter. It looks after the here and now, and gives fully as much attention to things temporal as to those spiritual. The men who control the affairs of the church are as wise as serpents, if not as harmless as doves, and they could be trusted with the utmost confidence to make the most of an opportunity as plain and simple as the political capture of Arizona would be should that territory be admitted to statehood alone. They do not trust such matters to chance, neither do they consider it prudent to show their hands in advance. They can be trusted to keep secretly out of sight while the statehood discussion is going on, and lend a hand to the separate statehood forces whenever it can be done without attracting attention, but let the territory be once safely landed in the union as an independent state, and they would then be very soon and very forcibly in evidence. Not a month would pass after the machinery of the new state was put in operation before the church would have "apostles" on the road in Arizona, in search of eligible locations for colonies, and it would not be left to the faithful in Utah to go or stay, but details of certain families to migrate would be made just as a military commander would detail squads of men for any particular purpose. Within a year after its admission Arizona would be as "safe" a Mormon state as Utah is today.

This is not mere idle speculation. It will come to pass just as surely as effect follows cause, and no man can fail to see if who will take an unprejudiced view of existing conditions. But, with Arizona admitted in conjunction with New Mexico, the situation would be entirely different. There is no more radical anti-Mormon sentiment anywhere in the world than among the masses of the New Mexico people. A large per cent of them are natives of the territory, all Catholics, and more opposed to the Mormon church and its "peculiar institution" than any other class of American citizens, and our population is so much greater than that of Arizona that the leaders of the Mormon church would see at once that any attempt to capture the joint state would be labor wasted.

The admission of a state at the coming session of congress, composed of New Mexico and Arizona jointly, is the only way the American people can insure themselves against the disgrace of another Mormon state, because there is a probability—the opponents of jointure say it is a certainty—that if joint statehood can be defeated this winter, separate statehood will come in a very short time, and when it comes the people of the country can count with absolute certainty upon very soon having another Mormon state.

History of Football...

Football is a much older game than the rule books would lead one to suppose. Though generally called an English game it does not have its origin in England any more than the famous match between Harvard and Yale in 1876 assigns it to this country. A contest similar to football, as it was before the English associations were formed and the game started on its course of new development, was one of the national sports of Rome and a frequent pastime of the athletes of Greece. There can be no doubt that the young men who followed the Romans to Britain from Rome taught the game to the young natives of England, by whom it was transmitted to later times. It is doubtful even whether the ancient game had its beginning in Greece or Rome, for the inflated skin or bladder kicked on a level field to opposite goals seems to suggest the pastoral sport that might have developed among the sons of shepherds on the plains of Mesopotamia.

In Greece the game was called Hapikuros, and was played by a great number of persons divided into two companies opposed to one another. There were few rules, except that the ball, or follis, must not be seized or thrown, but kicked. Among the Romans the game was called Harpastum, the name signifying to seize, and in the Roman game it was allowed the players to grab the ball and run with it, precisely as in the modern Rugby. The Harpastum is described by Roman writers as being played by dividing into two companies and striving to throw the ball into one another's goal, which was the center of the field. The game which attended both the Grecian and Roman forms of the game were quite as boisterous and sometimes as disastrous as in these modern days.

The antiquity of football in Great Britain is well attested. In 1100 it was a national pastime. The great football festivities of the year was on Shrove Tuesday, and so roughly did the play become that James I. forbade the heir to the throne from engaging in it. Both sexes kicked all over the place, and have participated in the games, and shutters had to be put up on houses to ward against damage, and collisions, sometimes fatal, occurred between the players. The game, independent of the great English schools, died out early in the nineteenth century, but in the educational centers among the boys it was kept alive, and the forms of play at Eton and Rugby followed the Grecian and Roman, respectively, down to the formation of the British Foot Ball association in 1863 and the Rugby association in 1871. From these two bodies have grown the modern rules, organization of teams and all the scientific features of the sport.

Football in the United States was transplanted from England. It first grew up in the colleges and passed from them to the amateur field of sport. The game in American colleges was undoubtedly made popular, if it was not wholly inspired by the graphic descriptions of the English game contained in "Tom Brown's School Days." But it was not until 1876 that the game began to command serious attention and started upon a metamorphosis which practically changed it to an American pastime.

The National League of Base Ball clubs was formed that year, upon what seemed a promising outlook for professional sport. There had been several decades of base ball, but at that time, but in that year the occasion seemed to call for organization to put the game on a substantial footing. The impetus given to the base ball that year set the players of foot ball to thinking, and resulted in an agreement between the teams at Harvard and Yale universities to adopt the English Rugby rules and to play a series of games that autumn. Up to that time foot ball had been a complete perversion of the English association game, in which the rules differed in the several colleges all the way from no handling of the ball to seizing and throwing it as in the Roman Harpastum. The Harvard-Yale league and the selection of the Rugby rules started the game in a new direction, and one after another the American colleges accepted the same rules, and in course of time there were many leagues, many modifications of the rules of play, and about ten years of trial of various forms of play before the essential principles of the game were worked out.

Football as it is now seen, each autumn at the great seats of learning in this country, with its scientific rules and spectacular features, is essentially an American product. It is a part of the great movement toward the athletic development of the young American which has placed the United States in the forefront of physical culture. The game has been lifted out of British conservancy so to speak, and given dash and excitement which appeals especially to sport lovers of this country. It may have some brutal features, and it certainly is true that injuries do result from the wild scrimmages on the gridiron, but all in all it is one of the most exciting, exhilarating, healthful games in the category of American sports.

While foot ball had its inception at Yale and Harvard, it was only a short time until it had been taken up in all the colleges and even the smaller schools of learning. Students of the west and the south who went east to study strategy became foot ball missionaries. As early as 1890 some of the eastern teams traveled westward to give exhibitions, and by degrees the game was introduced, and everywhere awakened the highest enthusiasm. Michigan University was one of the first to take up the game in the west and the University of Virginia was the pioneer of the south.

Georgetown and Pennsylvania for the middle section. The army and navy schools were also early in the field with strong eleven, and the annual tussle between them quickly became an occasion for the assembling of more government officials than the inaugural of a president.

The modern game retained all that was useful in the original Rugby rules. The form of the ball, the rectangular field and goals and the principle of seizing the ball and running with it are still the foundation rules of the game. The laying out of the field, however, into free-yard lines, the rules which pertain thereto, the new touchdown rules and many other features of play, including the coaching of the teams and the development of highly specialized movements on the field, are America's contribution to the modern game.

SAYS COMMISSION DID NOT PLAY THE ROLE OF CAT'S-PAW

Attorney Denies Caledonian
Lured It Into Rebate Case.

"I DEFY ANY MAN TO PROVE IT" SAYS MR. FIELD

Lively Preliminary Skirmishing in District Court Over Famous Case

Against the Santa Fe.

The famous suit of the Caledonian Coal company against the Santa Fe railway, the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and the American Fuel company is warming up. All over the country the railways and others are watching with interest the outcome of the action brought by the New Mexico corporation in the local district court to secure damages alleged to have been sustained through an illegal secret rebate agreement between the Santa Fe and the big coal companies. Although the legal sparring at present is only a preliminary to the real fight, it serves to show that the case is going to be a hard fought one from beginning to end. The legal talent employed is among the best in the country and no possible strategic or technical advantage point will be overlooked by the attorneys on each side of the case.

Some rather vigorous repartee was indulged in yesterday between Gardiner Lathrop, chief solicitor of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe company, and Neil B. Field, who represents the Caledonian Coal company in the case.

Judge Abbott spent the day listening to arguments on two motions filed, one by plaintiff and one by defendant. The plaintiff's attorney, Neil B. Field, made a motion a few days since, asking the court to compel certain of the employees of the defendant companies to appear as witnesses in the case and also to present certain documents, in the way of contracts between the coal and railway companies as evidence at the trial, which will be probably begun the first Monday in December.

The defendant companies ask that the plaintiff be made to particularize more fully in his damages which aggregate $450,000. They also ask that plaintiff specify more particularly his losses, which it is claimed were sustained by the unlawful contracts between the Santa Fe Railway company and the coal companies, to the exclusion of other coals from the markets of New Mexico by reason of the high rates charged as a result of the rebates, which were related to the defendant companies and not to "outsiders."

Both of these matters have been taken under advisement and each side has submitted a brief on its side of the case. Judge Abbott will probably render a decision within a few days. The federal jury is adjourned to be called again the first Monday in December to hear the case.

Lathrop appeared for Santa Fe. Gardiner Lathrop, presented the defendant's side to the court yesterday. Though there was an array of legal talent of the territory present on his side of the case, including Judge H. L. Waldo and Chief Justice Twelfth, of Las Vegas, H. M. Daugherty, of Socorro, and William B. Childers and E. W. Dobson, of this city. Mr. Lathrop did most of the speaking.

His contention which was presented in his usual able manner were that the defendant companies were not forced under the law to present testimony in a case where they were liable to be held for damages and punishment, that the corporations of the United States are immune from furnishing evidence which would be self-incriminating which right he claimed is given them by the constitution of the United States. He held that grant of the order, would be an injustice to the defendant companies and would force them to close their doors and suspend business during the trial of the case, as the taking of so many men from their duties would so seriously inconvenience them. He further claimed that the inter-state commerce commission had been made a cat's-paw by the Caledonian Coal company and that the matter was being brought to the court through the unlawful contracts, and the rebate agreement entered into between the railroad company and the two coal companies who asked the inter-state commerce commission to take a part in the case, but that they had asked for a copy of the complaint and later sent a man to this city to look into the evidence.

Not an "Embassy."
"And," said Mr. Field, "I satisfied myself that he was not emissary of the Santa Fe company before I would even let him get so much as a squint at it."

Mr. Lathrop interrupted him and told him that this was not the mode of procedure followed by the Santa Fe company in trying lawsuits.

Mr. Field answered by saying that if this were true, it was entirely at variance with the prevailing public opinion in regard to that company. "Let that suffice on that proposition," said he, "but I defy any man to show one bit of evidence that the Caledonian Coal company ever by any means was instrumental in bringing the inter-state commerce commission into this investigation."

Then he proceeded to show why from his side of the case, the defendant companies were not immune from producing their books and papers in court, and that the court had the same powers of the inquisitorial session of the inter-state commerce commission recently held in various cities in the United States. He said that the plaintiff, his clients, of moderate means thought they were, were ready and able to put up a bond in any amount to further the ends of justice and that they might get justice. That law, since it was first written gave the court the right to grant the order, in his opinion.

At the close of the arguments on the case there was a short colloquy between the attorneys and the court over the setting of the case for trial. Mr. Lathrop said that the Santa Fe company was ready for trial, as were the coal companies. Mr. Field said that for his side of the case, the trial would hinge on the decision of the present motion. If it were granted and the witnesses and papers were forthcoming, he would be ready for trial, but if the order was not granted there would probably be a delay.

Judge Abbott informed the attorneys that he would arrive at a decision in the matter of the motion at the earliest possible moment. The opinion was asked for in writing.

After the hearing of the motion for the plaintiff, the defendants through Mr. Childers, asked that the plaintiff be made to more fully particularize in the statement of damages claimed.

Hon. Alexander Bowie, of Gallup, who represents the plaintiffs in the case was an interested listener at the hearing.

The attendance from the city yesterday was confined to a few citizens and members of the bar.

BUSINESS BLOCK ON SITE OF OLD HIGHLAND HOTEL

J. S. Reynolds Will Erect
Building to Cost $30,000.

WILL BE DEVOTED TO OFFICES AND STORE ROOMS

Albuquerque is growing fast and new residences, business blocks and factories are springing up on all sides so rapidly that the news of a new structure has caused a cause surprise. Albuquerqueans, however, will be pleased to learn that work will begin today on one of the handsomest commercial edifices in the city.

Joshua S. Reynolds has let the contract to J. W. McQuade for the construction of a three-story business block on the site of the old Highland hotel, on Railroad avenue, just east of the tracks. The building is to be of brick and stone, will have a frontage of eighty-five feet on Railroad avenue and will extend back 100 feet in its depth. It is to be built fireproof, of the most approved modern construction and handsome in appearance.

The new building will cost in the vicinity of thirty thousand dollars and will be fitted up on the ground floor for store rooms, the upper floors will be arranged for offices. It will be fitted with all modern conveniences and will be an architectural ornament to that part of the city, where the ruins of the old hotel have long been an eyesore. It is expected, moreover, that the construction of this building will be the first step in the progress of the business section of the city east on Railroad avenue.

With the completion of the projected Gross, Kelly building and the coming Santa Fe library building, located near the intersection of the railroad and Railroad avenue, that part of the city will not know itself in the course of a few months.

The architect of the building, Mr. F. W. Spencer, will superintend the construction, and it is the desire of the owner to have it completed as soon as possible.

PRIVATE BANKING HOUSE BEGINS BUSINESS IN THOREAU

A. F. McCracken, of Cleveland, Ohio, together with the Horabin-McCracken company, Indian traders and contractors, have started a private bank in Thoreau, which will fill a long felt want in that section. Mr. McCracken is an old banker and large experience and will have active charge of the business at Thoreau. Since the American Lumber company started operations in the Zuni mountains quite a town has sprung up at Ketter, the main logging camp and the population has been largely increased there and in the vicinity of Thoreau, so that a banking concern of some kind will find plenty of business.

MORE LOGGERS AT WORK IN THE ZUNIS THAN EVER BEFORE

John Belknap, woods superintendent of the American Lumber company, spent yesterday in the city visiting his son, Gorman Belknap, who is in the St. Joseph sanitarium. He was intending to take his son home with him, but he decided that he would leave him here for a week or two more. Mr. Belknap says that there are more logging hands at work in the woods of the American Lumber company than at any time since the company started operations. The Arizona lumber camps have all closed for the winter and as the American is the only company operating during the winter season in New Mexico or Arizona, with possibly the exception of one or two small concerns, there are plenty of lumbermen obtainable. Mr. Belknap left for his home in Thoreau last night.

WILL BUY 150 ARIZONA HORSES TO TAKE TO OKLAHOMA

Horace Hughes and son, W. E. Hughes, of Kenton, Oklahoma, spent yesterday in the city and left last night for Hotbrook, Ariz., where they went to purchase 150 head of horses. "We came out to buy some of your western horses," said the younger Mr. Hughes last night at the station. "New Mexico horses do well down in Oklahoma. Their principal virtue is the fact that they are good feeders and hardy animals. We are going to buy the very best horses we can find and we may come back to the country after a few more consignments if these we get sell well. Several of the ranchers down our way have New Mexico horses and they are giving good satisfaction, so we thought we would come out and get a bunch."

I'm Growing Old Fast ALBUQUERQUE SOON TO HAVE NEW THEATER

INTERSTATE VAUDEVILLE CO.
NOW PURCHASING SITE

Well Known Concern Which Owns
Many Playhouses Will Place
This City on Circuit.

The Inter-State Vaudeville company which owns a great number of theatres throughout the east and is building houses at Fort Worth, Dallas and El Paso, is negotiating with Albuquerque people for the location of a house in this city. The company is one of the largest in the United States and the fact that Albuquerque is to have a continuous vaudeville is just another evidence that the city is growing and rapidly assuming metropolitan airs.

Manager Curtis of the company, has written several letters to persons in this city in regard to opening a house here and has already begun negotiations for a piece of property on North Third street for a theatre site.

The property and new building will aggregate in cost $30,000 and will be located just off Railroad avenue. It is expected the deal will be closed in a few days.

The company is busy with its other houses, but as soon as Manager Curtis can get away he will come to Albuquerque, the deal for the property will be closed at once and the work of building begun.

ANDREW H. ALLEN RESIGNS. William McNeir Will Probably Succeed Him in State Department

Washington, Nov. 24.—Mr. Andrew H. Allen, chief of the bureau of rolls and library, department of state, has resigned and will probably be succeeded in that place by Mr. William McNeir, who was born in the District of Columbia and appointed from Michigan. This is the second of the important changes which have been made by Secretary Root in the personnel of the state department, the first being in the office of the chief clerk, where Colonel Michael was promoted to be assistant general at Calcutta, in recognition of his long and efficient service.

Valuable Cargo Held. Victoria, B. C., Nov. 24.—The steamer Carlisle is detained at Saigon with a cargo of arms and ammunition valued at $4,500,000 on board because the Russian government refuses to pay her time charges, according to advices received by a local shipping firm from Saigon.

The Carlisle left Vladivostok in December last with a cargo of war munitions, taken from the Vladivostok defenses to strengthen Port Arthur. Japanese fishermen on learning the nature of her cargo, tried to sink her. An American warship protected her and conveyed the steamer to Manila.

NEGRO COAL MINER ARRESTED AT MADRID FOR ASSAULT

Correspondence Morning Journal.
Madrid, N. M., Nov. 24.—Mount Hamilton, a negro employed at the Madrid coal mines, was put under a bond of $300 to keep the peace for a period of six months by Justice Gonzalez of Cerrillos. The hearing took place at Cerrillos Monday. Mr. Quintana, of Madrid, was the prosecuting witness. The evidence introduced by Quintana, November 15th, with intent to commit great bodily injury, but fell short in proving Hamilton's guilt. Hamilton furnished a bond of $300.

Boilers Going Up.
Work is going ahead at the boiler house where the newly overhauled boilers are to be installed. Chief Boiler Inspector Thomas of the C. P. & I. Co., will be in camp soon to superintend the work. When these new boilers are in place the capacity and working efficiency of the Cook & White mine will be materially increased.

A dance was given at the Madrid opera house last Saturday night. November 15th, by the young ladies of Madrid.

Mr. Gilmore, a friend of Mr. N. T. Tensie, is a new arrival at Madrid. Mr. Gilmore is working on the night shift running one of the pumps. He was formerly weigh boss of the mines at Cuatro, Colorado.

WOMEN'S CLUBS OF ARIZONA MEET IN PHOENIX

FIFTEEN CLUBS ATTEND
WITH MEMBERSHIP OF 400

Most Prominent Women in Territory
Welcomed to Big Convention
by Governor Kibbey.

The Arizona Federation of Women's clubs met Wednesday morning in Phoenix under probably the most favorable circumstances of any meeting yet held. The growth of the federation in its short life has been remarkable. When it was organized in Phoenix but four years ago but four clubs were represented, and these were by no means as large as the officers at that time wished. However, from that small beginning a steady growth has been maintained in both the number of clubs and the membership of each individual body until at the present meeting there are about fifteen clubs, representing a membership of over four hundred in attendance, according to the Phoenix Gazette.

The session was called to order by the territorial president, Mrs. B. A. Fowler, who invoked a silent blessing on those in attendance and on the work of the federation. Mrs. Fowler then called on Miss Jeffries, who rendered a piano solo.

Governor Kibbey, on behalf of the territory of Arizona, and City Attorney Roy S. Goodrich, on behalf of the city of Phoenix, welcomed the ladies to the city and territory, while Miss Kendrick, daughter of Bishop Kendrick, on behalf of the three local women's clubs, extended a warm welcome to the visitors.

Mrs. Shirley Christy, corresponding secretary of the federation, read letters expressing the greetings of the presidents of the state federations of Wyoming, Wisconsin, Texas (now meeting), New York, New Jersey, Vermont, Iowa, Ohio, Connecticut, Indiana, California and Maine. Letters were also read from Mrs. Hackett, of Yuma, Mrs. Bird of Nogales, and Mrs. McClatchie of California, a former resident of Phoenix and a past president of the federation, expressing their regrets at not being able to be present and expressing their good will and best wishes for the success and well-being of the organization.

Among other letters received by the convention was one from Mrs. Decker, president of the Federation of Women's clubs of the United States. The ladies had expected to have Mrs. Decker as a guest at the present meeting, but she was unavoidably compelled to decline the invitation.

One of the most stirring talks of the morning was that by Mrs. Fowler, who addressed the convention at length on the aims and work of the federation. Her address was a finished effort and was highly appreciated by the ladies present.

All the visiting delegates were accorded a reception at the Conservatory of Music by the three local clubs, to which the public was invited.

Five thousand dollars of the capital stock has been subscribed, the number of shares taken by each stockholder being as follows: W. D. Murray, 4,470 shares; J. T. Murray, 10 shares; T. L. Lowe, 10 shares, and W. E. Burnside, 10 shares. The principal place of business and principal office of the company is in Silver City, and W. D. Murray is named as the principal agent. No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier, New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. When taken in time it prevents pneumonia. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

OFFICER ARRIVES TOMORROW TO TAKE CHARGE OF JOHN H. OTT

Chief of Police Thomas McMullin received another telegram from San Francisco yesterday saying that a police officer of that city left there yesterday bound for Albuquerque to secure the person of John H. Ott, the young man who was removed from a train here and placed under arrest on the charge of grand larceny. The case official is expected to arrive here tomorrow. Ott still maintains entire ignorance of the crime with which he is charged.

Hot Time at the Hot River.
The "Hot River," a justly celebrated third parlor, which is located near the Santa Fe shops on South Second street was the scene of a free for all fight last night. Two of the belligerents were arrested by the police and will appear before Judge Crawford at this morning's reception. There are two or three others who were prominent in the affair and these will be picked up at the "Hot River" is a popular resort for shop men and has been causing the police a great deal of trouble of late.

Southwest Snap Shots

The New Mexico Baptist convention met in Roswell yesterday.

There were 3,225 cattle shipped from Roswell in October and 2,557 head from Clayton.

Roswell Jews Liberal.
The Jews of Roswell telegraphed $50 to the managers of the fund for the persecuted and suffering Jews of Russia.

All Over Now.
Burglaries are becoming so common at Albuquerque that the papers put a scare-head on the report when a night passes without a burglary.—Roswell Record.

Wants School Exhibit.
County School Superintendent Fulton is urging upon the boards of schools all over the county the importance of making a good educational exhibit at the territorial fair.—Phoenix Republican.

Hitting Somebody.
Of course one hardly expects a religious paper to publish original jokes, but even a preacher should not steal his jokes, however venerable they may be or how deeply lost in the mists of antiquity their origin.—Roswell Record.

Rubber.
That the gathering of rubber weeds in New Mexico is soon to become a leading industry is made manifest by the fact that the rubber plant proper is fast becoming so scarce as to put the price of rubber beyond the reach of ordinary manufacturers.

"Smear Game" Men.
It is wonderful the number of able and experienced men in Carlsbad, who seem to be fairly endowed with common sense, but who are invariably found, when wanted, in a "smear game" behind the scenes in a saloon. Something must be done for these unfortunate.—Carlsbad Sun.

Too Busy to Care.
The resolutions declaring positively for single statehood for New Mexico adopted by the republican territorial central committee at Santa Fe last week, doesn't bother us up here one bit, for we are too busy shipping our stock, fruit and grain and attending to our business.—Springer Stockman.

Lim Ah Yu Must Go.
Lim Ah Yu will soon depart this land for the home of his fathers. Lim has lived here for a number of years and has made a tidy sum as a truck gardener but he must go as he has not the proper papers for remaining in this country. He had been out on a $400 bond, but decided not to fight the case and will remain in jail until time for deportation.—Tucson Citizen.

Street Cars for Douglas.
Early the coming spring will see electric cars whizzing over the city of Douglas and the Smelter city will have assumed metropolitan airs which will be in keeping with the rapid growth of the city in other ways. At the meeting of the board of directors of the Douglas Street Railway company Monday night, bids were opened for the cars and material to be used in the construction of the line and orders were placed for all of the necessary paraphernalia to a well equipped trolley line.

Crimson at Phoenix.
Governor Kibbey will be the guest of the combined Harvard clubs of Phoenix and Mesa at the dinner to be held in the Hotel Adams in Phoenix on the night of November 25. There will be a large attendance of men from all parts of the territory, coming with the purpose of forming a Harvard club of Arizona. This is the first attempt to organize on so large a scale and the event promises to be an unequalled success. Letters are being received from men who were not known before and those who are able to come are to be surprised by an unexpectedly strong showing.

Magdalena Celebration.
Magdalena will offer a series of strong attractions to visitors during Thanksgiving week, on November 28, 29 and 30. There will be a horse race each day, a big dance and supper. Thanksgiving evening, a ring pulling tournament, and other attractions too numerous to mention. The first race will be a one-fourth mile dash, free for all, second, a three hundred yard dash for saddle horses; third, two hundred yards for cow ponies. Generous purses are provided for these events. All inquiries for further particulars should be addressed to Wilford M. Tennes, secretary and treasurer, Magdalena, N. M.

Burro-Puncher Turns Millionaire.
Philip Neville, of whom much has been written during the past few months, left last night for San Antonio, Texas, where he will spend the winter. Neville claims right to the title of the Baron of Latimer and recently he came into considerable wealth through the sale of an English estate. For many months he lived in a shanty on the city dump but since he came into his inheritance he has occupied apartments at the Hotel Adams. On leaving the city last evening he traveled in state, having engaged the drawing room of the Pullman from this city to El Paso. For years Neville in his occupation of prospecting walked on foot behind a burro over half the mountains in Arizona.

CAUSE OF FALLING HAIR.

Dandruff, which is a germ disease—kill the germ.
Falling hair is caused by dandruff, which is a germ disease. The germ in burrowing into the root of the hair, where it destroys the vitality of the hair, causing the hair to fall out, dig up the cuticle in little scales, called dandruff or scurf. You can't stop the falling hair without curing the dandruff and you can't cure the dandruff without killing the dandruff germ. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ. Herpicide is also a delightful hair dressing. Sold by leading druggists. ## AN OPEN LETTER

To Our Patrons and Friends

We have entered into a contract with Mr. Geo. W. Hickox, agreeing to sell to him our Jewelry Business, including stock, fixtures and good will, Jan. 1, 1935. One strong feature of our agreement with Mr. Hickox is that we promise to reduce our very large and complete stock to the lowest possible point before that date and with this end in view, we will begin, Saturday, Nov. 24, a SPECIAL CLOSING OUT SALE to continue until Dec. 31, at which time we positively retire from the Jewelry business, having arranged to go into the manufacturing lumber business in British Columbia.

Our business in Albuquerque has increased steadily year by year, and grateful for this, we propose for the next two months, to cut out the big end of our profits and to give you such a genuine bargain sale of really fine, high-grade goods, as never has been offered in our city.

We invite you to make your selections now and avoid the rush of the December trade. We have ample vault-room and will gladly lay aside the goods you select, until you are ready for them. We have been in the Jewelry business 26 years, and have never yet advertised a take sale. In this sale we will offer you rare bargains in Diamonds and Fine Watches. Every sale will be backed by my personal guarantee. Mail Orders solicited and satisfaction assured.

N. E. FOX, New Mexico's Leading Jeweler

The Wilson Heater with the celebrated Hot Blast Down-Draft is the only heater which actually burns all of the fuel put into it. The Hot Blast Down-Draft creates perfect combustion and the fumes which rise from the fuel, ordinarily escaping unburned in other stoves, are all consumed and turned into heat in the Wilson. It has been ascertained that the fumes which arise from the fuel constitute 40 per cent of the entire heating power of the fuel. Buy a Wilson and get all the heat you are paying for.
