RUSSIAN GRASP OF REVOLT

Revolutionists in Complete Control in Baltic Province.

GOVERNMENT IS LANDED IN JAIL

Reign of Terror Rules in Riga.

SERFS OF CENTURIES RISE AND THROW OFF BONDAGE

St. Petersburg, Dec. 13.—Two messengers, who arrived here from Riga today, having walked about 120 miles to catch a train at Plock, not only confirm the report that a provisional government has been set up in Livonia, but they say that many of the troops have gone over to the insurgents. Dr. Fort, commanding Riga harbor, is in their possession and the governor and other Russian officials are prisoners. The messengers add that the provisional government exercises authority throughout Livonia and part of Courland, the new government has declared the separation of the Lithuanian people from the Russian empire. They have chosen new local officials and have decreed the closing of the spirit shops and breweries and the annulment of contracts between the peasants and the landowners. There is a general uprising of the native peasants who are traveling in armed bands attacking the estates and driving off or killing their owners.

Some of the landowners have organized volunteer battalions to protect their property, as the authorities are powerless to afford aid, but the majority are fleeing in terror. The peasants are forbidding the owners to sell grain or lumber, and formally declare that the forests and estates of those who have departed will be confiscated.

The position of the peasants in these provinces has been the most deplorable of any in the entire empire. Conditions almost approaching those of the feudal system have continued down to the present time. They practically have kept the peasants in a state of vassalage, placing them at the mercy of the German barons from whom they rent land and purchase the right to cut wood and use in the waters of the gulf.

Telign of Terror Complete.

The Russian troops are being expelled from the province, and many of them have been killed in the streets of the towns. There is a reign of terror at Riga. The Russian troops are living in the upper stories of houses and foreign merchants are winding up their business and abandoning everything in order to escape.

It is doubtful whether the promise of local self-government contained in today's imperial ukase will have much effect, at least for the present, but it furnishes ample proof that the government realizes it is helpless to restore order without granting real concessions. The partial concessions granted to the peasants of the Baltic provinces are bound to encourage the Poles, Georgians and other border people.

Situation Clearing.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 13.—(Tuesday).—The restoration of cable connection with points abroad yesterday, lasted only a few hours. Before midnight, it was reported that the cable had been cut and that dispatches must again be forwarded by courier via the German frontier. Nevertheless the outlook is clearing. The government is breathing freer with a fighting chance that Premier Witte will yet be able to shape his way through the rocks which beset his path. The threat of a general strike in the immediate future has disappeared and the telegraph strikes not being supported, is going to pieces in spite of the wild appeals of the union to stand firm. At Moscow the tie-up remains complete, but at many other places communication is resuming.

Situation in the Baltic.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 13.—The situation in the Baltic provinces is now the most grave in the emperor's domain. It approaches a civil war and the government has been forced to appoint a governor general with sweeping powers to try to restore order.

Riga Fortress Captured.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 13.—Reports are in circulation to the effect that insurgents at Riga have captured the fortress there. Inquiries made at the ministry of the interior resulted in the statement being made that the government officers do not confirm the capture of the fortress and seizure of the governor. The situation, however, is admitted to be grave.

Demand Polish Autonomy.

Warsaw, Dec. 13.—A meeting of 417 Catholic clergymen of Russian Poland after a ten hours session during the night resolved this morning to demand autonomy of Poland with its own parliament, general secret ballot, reinstatement of Polish language in government offices, abolition of capital punishment and full amnesty for political prisoners.

ALLEGES ATTEMPT TO KILL DODGE

Sensational Charge by District Attorney in Hummel Case.

NECESSARY TO GUARD CHIEF WITNESS IN GOTHAM SCANDAL

Sequel of Dodge-Morse Divorce Case Proves More Interesting Than First Act of Notorious Suit.

New York, Dec. 13.—Abraham H. Hummel, the attorney, was placed on trial today before Justice Rogers in the criminal branch of the supreme court on the charge of conspiracy and subornation of perjury in connection with the Dodge-Morse divorce case and when court adjourned this afternoon only four jurors had been selected. Counsel for the accused lawyer made an effort to have the trial delayed, but Justice Rogers overruled all the various motions having that end in view.

During the course of the arguments today, Assistant District Attorney Rand, who is in charge of the prosecution of the case, made the assertion that efforts had been made by "the other side" to kill Charles F. Dodge, the most important witness against Hummel. Mr. Rand said it was necessary to guard Dodge constantly. He urged this as one reason for an early hearing of the case.

The charge against Hummel grew out of the sensational Dodge-Morse divorce litigation in which it was alleged that Hummel entered into a conspiracy to secure perjured evidence. Former Supreme Court Justice Edgar L. Farnham also was indicted on a charge of conspiracy in the same case. The conspiracy and perjury charges were made after an investigation by District Attorney Jerome S. Dodge. After the divorce, Mrs. Dodge married Charles W. Morse, who was very prominent in banking and steamship affairs. The real object of the desire to obtain annulment of the Dodge divorce was said to be to investigate the marriage of Mrs. Dodge and Morse. Hummel appeared as attorney for Dodge and presented a claim by Dodge that he never was properly served with a summons in Mrs. Dodge's suit, that he was represented by counsel at the trial and that he was served with a certificate of the decree. Former Justice Farnham then came into the case as counsel for Mrs. Morse and led to the annulment of the Dodge divorce on January 4, 1904. The Dodge-Morse annulment was entered in the supreme court. Then an attorney named Sedgwick, who had served as counsel for Dodge and who had been at work on the case to save his professional reputation, discovered letters from Dodge to Sedgwick, signed as an attorney, saying that he (Dodge) had been served with the papers in the divorce suit, and authorizing Sedgwick to act as his attorney. Sedgwick was at once indicted for perjury, and after a long legal fight brought back from Houston, Texas. After Dodge was brought back he made a statement in which he accused Hummel of having dictated to him the false affidavit.

Justice Rogers denied a motion for a special jury to try the case, made by counsel for Hummel, and immediately after the case was called the work of securing a jury began.

Five Die in Explosion.

NEW YORK ELECTION CASE POSTPONED UNTIL FRIDAY

Court of Appeals at Albany Rules Against F. R. Hearst.

New York, Dec. 13.—The argument on the opening of 51 ballot boxes and recounting the ballots cast in them for mayor, comptroller and members of the board of aldermen which was scheduled to begin today was adjourned until Friday by mutual consent of the lawyers representing Mr. Hearst, Mayor McClellan and the corporation counsel.

Decided Against Hearst.

Albany, Dec. 13.—The court of appeals today decided the ballot box case against W. R. Hearst. The court holds it has no power under the election law to order by mandamus the opening of ballot boxes and recount and recanvassing of the ballots.

Bernhardt in Circus Tent.

New York, Dec. 13.—Unless the present situation changes, the spectacle will be presented of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, now appearing at the Lyric theatre, playing through the entire theatre, playing through the entire theatre, playing through the entire theatre.

Bonaparte Reprimands Merriweather.

Washington, Dec. 13.—In execution of that portion of the sentence of Midshipman Merriweather, Jr., requiring that he be "publicly reprimanded by the secretary of the navy," Secretary Bonaparte has addressed a letter to Midshipman Merriweather calling attention to the merciful sentence and reprimanding him for giving away to "angry passions when tempted by a sense of wrong."

MAY DEPOSE WILLIAMS AS THE LEADER

Lamar and Shackelford Break Out in Open Revolt.

SERIOUS SPLIT MAY RESULT IN MINORITY IN THE HOUSE

Representatives Resent Action of Democratic Dictator in Slicing Them Off Committee.

Washington, Dec. 13.—The "washing" of democratic linen for the amusement of the republicans, as Mr. Williams, the minority leader, put it Monday, occupied the attention of the house for more than four hours today. The result accomplished was a "def." throw at the minority leader by Representative Lamar, of Florida, and another by Representative Shackelford, of Missouri. The complaint of both resulted in the failure of Mr. Williams to recommend their reappointment as members of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. Both made long speeches in which Mr. Williams' leadership was assailed from many points. Mr. Williams replied to Mr. Lamar at some length and briefly to Mr. Shackelford. His defense was that at the last session the democrats on this committee were divided and he deemed it necessary for the good of the party and the country that a united minority report should be made on the subject of railroad rate legislation. At times there was high tension in the debate. Mr. Lamar was particularly bitter in his criticism, and openly declared that his heretofore personal friendship for Mr. Williams was forever at an end. Unless the criticism of himself were retracted, he never would recognize Mr. Williams as the party leader.

Mr. Shackelford denounced all bosses and placed himself entirely independent of party leadership in the house. The subject under discussion was the committee distribution of the annual message of President Roosevelt. At the conclusion of the democratic debate there had not been accomplished and the house adjourned.

SAYS BANKS HAVE NOT BEEN HEAVY CONTRIBUTORS

Washington, Dec. 13.—The senate was in session for only an hour and a half today and a portion of that time was spent in the consideration of executive business. A number of private bills were introduced in the morning and Mr. Allison presented the report of the committee on appropriations on the Panama canal bill, giving notice that he would call it up for consideration tomorrow.

A communication was received from Secretary Shaw regarding campaign contributions from national banks.

The secretary enclosed a letter from the controller of the currency saying that the reports of banks reveal only a few small contributions in the last fourteen years.

Shift in House Committees.

Washington, Dec. 13.—When the house met today, Speaker Cannon announced the transfer of Representative Mondell of Wyoming from the committee on public lands, and of Miller of Kansas from the public lands to military affairs. The transfer gives two members to the same committee assignments they had last congress.

Mitchell's Successor.

Salem, Ore., Dec. 13.—Governor George F. Chamberlain today announced the appointment of John M. Geary of Portland, to succeed the late John H. Mitchell as United States senator from Oregon. Geary is a democrat, but had the endorsement of not only democrats, but also of the most staunch republicans in the state.

Alton Officials Indicted.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—The federal grand jury has returned indictments against the Chicago and Alton Railroad company, John M. Falthorn, former vice president of the company and a Wann, former general freight agent, for the alleged granting of rebates to the packing firm of Schwarzschild and Sulzberger and giving free transportation to employees of the same company.

Favors Federal Supervision.

United States Senator John F. Dwyer, of New Jersey, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company, again testified before the investigating committee today, and made a statement to the committee of his reasons for favoring federal supervision of life insurance companies through a national insurance department, which he said should have high authority over them. This, he said, would benefit both the companies and the insured.

Halley Fiske, vice president of the Metropolitan company, told of an incident in which that company commissioned William A. Read to buy 2,333 shares of railroad stock for the company. Mr. Fiske said that Mr. Read the same day sold the stock to a company of brokers at $10 a share less than the broker sold it to the Metropolitan. Mr. Fiske said he had tried to get the money back, but Mr. Read refused to surrender it.

PERKINS LOTH TO LEAVE

FINALLY QUILTS PAT JOB

New York, Dec. 13.—George W. Perkins, who is junior member of the firm of J. P. Morgan and company, resigned today as vice president and as chairman of the finance committee of the New York Life Insurance company. The board of trustees accepted the resignation. Immediately following this they announced the appointment of a committee to investigate the affairs of the New York Life. Two officers were elected to fill the vacancies. Alexander E. Orr, succeeding him as vice president and John Claflin as chairman of the finance committee.

Mr. Perkins wrote the trustees a letter explaining that it was understood

Day of Changes in Officers and Salaries of Life Insurance Companies.

New York, Dec. 13.—Two incidents affecting the life insurance situation in New York today overshadowed the legislative committee investigation. While the committee was inquiring into the conduct of the Prudential Life insurance company and the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, George W. Perkins resigned as first vice president and chairman of the finance committee of the New York Life Insurance company. He was succeeded as vice president by Alexander E. Orr, president of the New York City Rapid Transit commission, and as chairman of the finance committee by John Claflin, head of the H. R. Claflin company.

Peabody Succeeds McCurdy. Another important move in the situation was the election by the trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance company to succeed Richard A. McCurdy as president of that company at $50,000 a year. Mr. McCurdy's salary was $150,000. Mr. Peabody is a lawyer, the American representative of William Waldorf Astor and director in several banks and other corporations, of which one is the Illinois Central Railroad company. Mr. Peabody was also named as trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance company to succeed Justice Rufus W. Peckham, and Emory McClintock was nominated to succeed Elihu Root. They cannot be elected until the next meeting of the board.

United States Senator John F. Dwyer, of New Jersey, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company, again testified before the investigating committee today, and made a statement to the committee of his reasons for favoring federal supervision of life insurance companies through a national insurance department, which he said should have high authority over them. New Mexicans Confer With the President.

LEWELLYN DECLARES PEOPLE READY FOR JOINT STATEHOOD

Special to the Morning Journal.

Washington, Dec. 13.—One the eve of a republican caucus, a caucus which will endorse an omnibus joint statehood bill; and on the 13th day of the month, Delegate W. H. Andrews, of New Mexico, today introduced a bill to give single statehood to New Mexico. It is the old Rye bill that was passed by the house two sessions since, on April 19th and adopted by the senate with amendments which killed it in February. Its essential features are for the election of 75 delegates to constitute the constitutional convention, for religious tolerance, against polygamy, and for prohibition with reference to the Indian population. It provides that Santa Fe be made the capital until 1915 when the people shall vote on a change of location. It provides for two representatives in congress, a $2,500,000 school fund and that the United States circuit and district courts and clerks' offices be located at Santa Fe.

Delegate Andrews said tonight that he would fight the idea of union with Arizona to the last ditch.

LEWELLYN MAKES VIGOROUS ARGUMENT FOR JOINTURE

Special to the Morning Journal.

Washington, Dec. 13.—A number of prominent New Mexicans discussed statehood with President Roosevelt today, among them being National Committeeman Solomon L. Llewellyn, W. H. H. Llewellyn, A. A. Freeman and others. Major Llewellyn had expected to leave for New Mexico yesterday, but remained for the meeting with the president today. Since his arrival here, the former rough rider has had a number of conferences with the president regarding federal appointments and statehood. Major Llewellyn has come to the conclusion that joint statehood for New Mexico and Arizona must come. In an interview he said:

"The sentiment favoring joint statehood is rapidly gaining ground in New Mexico. In my opinion the people of New Mexico and Arizona will accept joint statehood when the constitution is presented to them for their approval, provided that the constitution contains a certain safeguard which I am now endeavoring to secure. This safeguard is a provision limiting the business interests of both territories. There must be a provision limiting the indebtedness which can be incurred. This restriction must not exceed four per cent of the assessed valuation of the property, as is now provided in what is known as the 'sinking fund' act in congress. There must be a provision in the constitution prohibiting the voting of bonds for the construction of railroads, as well as a provision limiting the term of governor to four years and disqualifying him from being a candidate for the United States senate immediately after his term expires as governor. This is to prevent the use of his office as a governor to elect himself a United States senator."

Opposition to Joint Statehood.

The opposition to joint statehood is of a character that is somewhat unusual on account of provincialism, and the other on account of the large area. New Mexico is larger than New England, yet the joint state will be smaller than Texas, although slightly larger than California. The idea that Arizona and New Mexico are divided in business interests is erroneous. The new state would not be half as antagonistic as are the interests of northern and southern California, which is governed harmoniously as one state. Ultimately the people will be proud of their area, as are the people of California and Texas, where, in the latter case, to suggest the division of Texas into four states (which it has the right to do), is to give mortal insult to the state pride of that great commonwealth.

Connected by Strong Ties.

Arizona, with its great copper mines, and New Mexico, with her vast fields of coal, are connected by the strongest business ties, and the railroad lines now in operation convey constantly to the great copper camps of Arizona, thousands of cars of coke and coal annually. The irrigation and grazing interests are identical in each territory. There are people in Arizona, who unwittingly perhaps, judge the people of Spanish descent, living in New Mexico, by the standard of the laboring classes or people who come from Old Mexico to Arizona to find employment. The Spanish-speaking people of New Mexico are industrious, honest, law-abiding, and the best citizens we have in the territory. They are people who shrink from contracting debts, but are the best debt-paying people in the world. They have ever responded with the utmost promptness to the call by the national government for troops in time of war since the acquisition of that country by our government. Speaking for myself, personally, I would prefer single statehood for New Mexico alone, but as that is out of the question, I believe it is the part of wisdom to accept what we can get, and there are many business interests in both territories, however, for economical reasons for joint statehood.

Judge A. A. Freeman, who attended the conference today, says the people of the two territories would be glad to accept joint statehood.

Major Llewellyn and Mr. Luna took up with the president some of the pending appointments to the judiciary in New Mexico. There is no reason to expect any great change in the present make-up of the territorial supreme court.

It is learned on good authority that the following New Mexico appointments will be sent to the senate within the next few days:

W. J. Mills, chief justice; J. H. McElie, associate; F. W. Parker, associate; H. D. Leland, register; Roswell land office; H. D. Bowman, receiver and office at Las Cruces; N. B. Otero, receiver land office at Santa Fe; Frederick Miller, receiver land office at Santa Fe; Morgan Llewellyn, surveyor general. No changes are expected in the postoffice in Albuquerque, Las Vegas and Santa Fe.

RANDOLPH DECLARES AGAINST JOINT STATEHOOD

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 13.—Col. Epes Randolph of Tucson, Arizona, millionaire mine owner, industrial promoter, E. H. Harriman's personal representative in Arizona, and one of the most influential citizens of the territory, in an interview given here today, declared in most emphatic language against joint statehood for Arizona and New Mexico, and makes a statement that 95 per cent of the Arizona citizenship is opposed to it. Col. Randolph has been a resident of Tucson for twenty years. In his interview today he said:

"There are more voters in New Mexico incapable of reading, writing or speaking the English language than there are voters in Arizona. If the two territories are joined in single statehood it will mean that at least one of the United States senators and congressmen and governor of the state may need an interpreter to do business and it is a certainty that interpreters will be necessary in the several courts of the state."

Sub-Committee Named

Washington, Dec. 13.—The house committee on territories today named Messrs. Hamilton, Brick, Dwyer, Moon and Lloyd as a sub-committee to consider bills for the admission of the four territories as two states. Hearings will be given on these features of the proposed legislation.

FARMINGTON SENDS FIFTEEN FOOT PETITION

JOINT STATEHOOD DOCUMENTS ARE STILL POURING IN

A fifteen-foot petition is the contribution forwarded by the citizens of Farmington to the headquarters of the Joint Statehood league in Albuquerque. The petition is a monster and bears the signature of almost every citizen of Farmington and many in San Juan county outside that thriving town. Farmington never does "dodge" by halves and this huge fifteen-footer from northwest New Mexico will be an eye-opener to any doubting Thomases who may still remain, strange as it may seem, in the United States congress. In no part of New Mexico is there a more intelligent and progressive set of people than in San Juan county and a fine tooth comb fails to reveal any opponents to the joint statehood program in that section. The number of names on the Farmington document runs well up into the hundreds, because fifteen feet of solid names is quite a few. Another petition asking for joint statehood was received by the league officers from Old Las Vegas, signed by several hundred people. Another equally large one was received from Raton and another signed by fifty as the leading citizens of the growing town of Belen on the Santa Fe cutoff. All have been forwarded to Senator Beveridge with the compliments of the league, to be added to the huge pile of unassailable evidence that New Mexico is solidly for joint statehood.

Cory Declines to Quit

New York, Dec. 13.—The Herald says: "It was stated in official quarters yesterday that William E. Cory will not resign his position as president of the United States Steel corporation and that members of the board of directors who are paramount in its affairs, do not expect him to resign."

Figures Out Standard's Profit

Ottawa, Kan., Dec. 13.—Governor Hoch speaking here last night at a gathering of republicans said: "At this time the Kansas oil fields are yielding 60,000 barrels per day, an insignificant part of their capacity and for this oil the Standard Oil company which sets the price, is paying less than one-third what it paid a year ago. I believe it could pay one dollar per barrel for this oil more than it is paying, and still make a large profit. In other words it is robbing the people of $60,000 per day or $22,000,000 per year."

THE MARRIAGE QUESTION.

The professor who announced that "love and romance die out with the sound of the wedding bells" was the first to start the ball rolling. It would seem a brave woman who marries with this echo in her ears, yet we have not heard that there were fewer marriages during the year. There are unhappy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter.

During a long period of practice, Doctor Pierce found that a prescription made up entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured ninety-eight per cent of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

BIG CATTLE SHIPMENTS FROM NEW MEXICO THIS YEAR

According to reports by the New Mexico cattle sanitary board, the shipments of cattle from the territory of New Mexico for the year ending November 1, were not quite as heavy as the year 1904, but greatly exceeded the shipments of last year. The total number of cattle, horses and mules shipped from New Mexico are as follows: Cattle, 224,123; horses, 13,294; mules, 25,825. For 1904 the shipments were, cattle, 186,273; horses, 14,967; mules, 28,865. The banner year for cattle was 1903, when the shipments were, cattle, 220,846; horses, 13,499; mules, 28,221.

The total number of the cattle in the territory is estimated by the board at 500,000. There has been a slight decrease in a few counties, but in Quay, Roosevelt, Eddy, Chaves and Sandoval there is a noticeable increase in the number of cattle, due to the large number brought in from Texas, where changes have been made recently in the leasing laws, and the result has been that many large herds have been driven out of business and they have moved over into New Mexico in search of free grass.

EL PASO SHIPPERS WORRIED AT MOVE TO FORM NEW GROUP

Do Not Want To Be Classed
With New Mexico.

POSSIBLE CHANGE IN RATE
MAKING TO THE SOUTHWEST.

A movement is on among the various railroads entering El Paso to take this city out of the Rio Grande crossing group in which it is now classed, and on the basis of which freight rates are made to this city and placed in a new group to be composed of New Mexico towns, says the El Paso Herald.

In letting the fact be known to a few shippers, the railroad men who are favoring the move, declared that it was in the interest of stability of rates, and of uniform publication of tariffs, but a few business men are not inclined to accept this roseate view offered by the railroads and believe there is something sinister for El Paso.

It is proposed to place El Paso in a group to be composed of Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Las Vegas, Deming and other cities, and take it out of the group in which it gets the same rate which applies to Eagle Pass and Lordsburg.

There would be no objection to this were it really for the purpose or rather in the interest of "stability of rates." But business men are inclined to believe that this high sounding term has something ominous behind it and some ulterior motive other than "stability."

The Chamber of Commerce does not look with any degree of complacency upon the proposed change. The members say they are satisfied to remain in the Rio Grande crossing group. The committee, consisting of E. Meyer, J. A. Happer and W. S. Tilton, which was appointed at the special meeting of the board of directors held Saturday to consider the proposition, will report at the regular meeting of the board tonight and it is probable that some action will be taken regarding the proposed change.

The movement is one which will be anxiously watched by all shippers.

Time-Saving the Great End.

Just to save time—that is the headline of a new newspaper story the other day, remarked a local railroad man. "The article told of the Santa Fe's expenditure of $10,000,000 on the Belen cut-off for the purpose of clipping eight or nine hours from the running time between Chicago and San Francisco."

"The inference seemed to be that the saving of time is a rather unusual object, or that the Santa Fe is breaking all precedents in making so stupendous an effort to secure the speediest route across the continent."

"Savings time is no mean object for the outlay of money. Time is money, and the road that can save the most of it to a man is the one that will land him in the fastest time."

"True, the Santa Fe Belen cut-off surpasses in magnitude almost any single time-saving device, but every road on the continent is constantly doing something of the sort on a smaller scale. A bend is eliminated here, a steep grade there or a circuitous route somewhere else."

"The eighteen-mile train between New York and Chicago is another example of what time-saving means, except that in that instance the result is accomplished more by the finest greyhound equipment, the swiftest men and the strictest attention to economy of time by construction operations."

"The Santa Fe is doing a big piece of work, but it has a big reward in store for it. The mail contracts are only one of the objects in view. The railroad did not neglect the business end of the proposition—that's a safe wager."

To Cut the Grades.

Reports are to the effect that the management of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific has decided to practically rebuild the entire system, with a view of securing minimum grades on every division. The work has been entrusted to J. B. Berry, the new chief engineer for the road.

Proud Success Boss.

Too proud to accept a position on the Santa Fe railroad where his brother, E. F. Kenna has long been first vice president, John Kenna seriously hurt at Burnham, Colorado, Saturday, while working with a section gang on the Denver & Rio Grande. When removed to St. Joseph hospital, an examination of his terrible crushed left foot and leg led the doctors to believe that the accident, because of his age, 64 years, will result fatally.

For several months Kenna has been assistant foreman of the section crew working on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad near Burnham. He attempted to cross the tracks in front of a slender engine, but was careful he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels.

When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to old age. For sale by all druggists.

If you need a carpenter, telephone Jesselden.

The holiday rates will be one and one-third fare to all points via Santa Fe Route. Call at ticket office and get particulars.

International Exhibition.

The crown of all exhibitions for live stock purposes is the great "International." It will be held at Union Stock Yards, Chicago, December 16 to 23, inclusive.

Of course you will plan to attend? Only $45.00 via the Santa Fe. You may buy your ticket any time, December 16 to 19. Inquire at ticket office. H. S. Lutz, agent.

The Only Way to Get In

THE New York Tribune sizes up the statehood question correctly, and gives our anti neighbors a little very good advice, which they should weigh very carefully if they hope to ever see these territories admitted to the union. It calls their attention plainly to the fact which is well known to all men that a regard for the rights and power of the rest of the country positively forbids that New Mexico and Arizona should ever be admitted to the union as two states, and hence if the joint statehood proposition is rejected now it merely postpones the issue to be fought out at some other time, and the chances are that after remaining for many years longer in our present unsatisfactory condition we will be glad to get in on terms not half as favorable as those which are offered us now. The Tribune shows a very thorough knowledge of the situation, and says:

"With the opening of congress the question of statehood for all of our contiguous territory which is still unadmitted comes again to the front. The president in his message recommends two states, one to be composed of Oklahoma and Indian Territory and the other of Arizona and New Mexico. The Beveridge-Hamilton bill to carry out this project, which went through the house of representatives at the last session, will be pushed again and will probably pass. At least it is clear that if it does not pass no new states will be admitted for some time to come. The advocates of four states might just as well realize the impossibility of accomplishing their purpose, and those whose real aim is not obstruction, so as to perpetuate the territorial condition for their own purposes, are beginning to take that view.

"In Arizona and New Mexico, where the separate statehood idea had most to commend it, many prominent citizens and newspapers have been converted to joint statehood. These territories have been organized long enough to have a certain individuality and pride in remaining separate. Nevertheless, they would soon cease to be, and if they should enjoy a development sufficient to justify admission even as a single state the remembrance of their boundary would be swept away. The two together have diversified industries which give promise of a stable state. Arizona alone, which is of the two more anxious for separation, has no sufficient guarantee of a permanent population. The mines may give out and leave it like Nevada. Irrigation may develop agriculture greatly, but the area of mountain and irreclaimable desert is too great for the population of the two territories ever to exceed a convenient number for a single state. Of course, some politicians think two governors and four senators much better than half that number. The Pacific railroads might be glad to strengthen their influence in the United States senate as much as possible. The Arizona mining interests would rejoice to have a small state of their own, or a territory in which they would not have to pay just taxes. A large state which they did not control might assume their property somewhere near its value. All these, together with some unselfish persons moved by sentimental reasons, are against joint statehood. Other people in the two territories are increasingly for it, as the only possible road to admission.

"It is time for all who want to see these lands enjoy the benefits of state government to get together behind the only measure that can go through, and thus free themselves from the machinations of those whose appeal to local pride is purely selfish. There is material there for one good state, and we should welcome it. There is not material for two states, and regard for the rights and power of the rest of the country forbids giving any such unjust weight in national affairs to thinly settled territory."

Good for the Country

SUCH weather as we have been having in New Mexico this fall—indeed during almost the whole of the present year—is no doubt rather severe upon the large number of our citizens who have come to the territory in quest of health, but it is the making of the country. It is the first year in a quarter of a century that has brought us a sufficient supply of moisture. Not sufficient to enable us to raise field crops without irrigation. It is true, but sufficient to feed the springs and streams, and enable us to irrigate, and also sufficient to put the ranges in good condition, and to enable our animals to live and grow fat upon the open plains. So far as the material interests of New Mexico are concerned, this is a great consideration—a consideration of almost incalculable value—and to no quarter of the territory is it worth more than to Albuquerque. A great proportion of our people are directly and largely interested in cattle and sheep, and a very much larger proportion are indirectly interested in the same industries, so that good returns from the ranges mean good times for the town, and vice versa.

Time to Climb In

A WASHINGTON special to the New York Herald, referring to the statehood question, says this is a matter that has annoyed the party for a long time, and now that a positive line of policy has been adopted the administration as well as congress will expect republicans to line up with their party—and it is not necessary to explain what "expect" means in that connection.

We commend the foregoing news item to the prayerful attention of the pie counter brigade in New Mexico and Arizona, and since John Randolph's seven principles, "five loaves and two little fishes," constitute in the eyes of the brigade the entire code of republican principles, they will have no difficulty in perceiving that delay might be dangerous in the matter of getting out of their democratic attitude on the statehood question and climbing into the republican band wagon. This is a matter of special importance to the fellows of the New Mexico division, for the new governor will come in the 26th of next month, and it may not be agreeable to him to have members of his staff working themselves out at knees and elbows in the interest of the democratic party. Indeed we are pretty sure he will not like it.

MRS. JAMES FRAKE, president of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, says: "If people do not want to have children, whose business is it but their own?" We do not refer to Mrs. Frake's conundrum for the purpose of discussing the matter with her—not any of that, thank you—but we merely want to call attention to the fact that there are breakers ahead for the enemies of race suicide.

DR. CRAFTS, who announces that he is going to put the race tracks of the country out of business, overlooks the fact that many smoother "sports" than he have gone broke trying to do that very thing.—Kansas City Journal.

THE Ohio authorities are going to classify certain medicines as whisky. This is a good move. Treating medicine as whisky and whisky as medicine would enable us to dodge a whole lot of trouble.—Chicago Post.

ISN'T it enough to make the eagle scream and tear out his tail feathers to note that the Russian Liberals demanded the English form of cabinet, as more democratic than the American?—Kansas City Star.

Stories of the Streets and the Town

His Key Wouldn't Fit.

A duet of capable-looking young men have been rapping on the front doors of Albuquerque residences for the past week, with a view to renumbering the residences for the better convenience of the city free delivery department of the postoffice, and in an effort to straighten out the tangles which have existed in the city's house numbering for years. As tuckers up of house numbers these two young men are entirely successful, but in the week they have been at work, they have caused enough trouble to have filled a fair-sized insane asylum.

The other evening a well known young Albuquerque business man who has a room on North Sixth street wandered homeward along toward midnight. He was very tired, as a result of hard work in the office—and other things and when he saw his house number 224, glittering in the moonlight, he made a head first dive for the key hole, latch key in one hand the other on the knob. For a minute he thought it was the key wrong side up. He turned it over; then he turned it back; then he shook the knob. There was nothing doing. He examined the key to see if he had the wrong one, but the others were trunk keys, shoe buttons and a corker. Then he stepped back and looked at the door, and tried again. It was no use. In a convenient porch chair the young man sat him down and slowly counted the number of drinks of soda water and chocolate he had had. It couldn't be that. Finally in anger, he rang the bell. He rang it again and again, each time a little harder. Presently a touseled head appeared at a side window.

"What the deuce do you want," said the touseled one.

"I want in," said the young man.

"Why do you want in?" politely inquired the sleepy eyed one.

"Well, now, why do you suppose I want in," hotly replied the young man, "don't I pay you $12 per month for the privilege of sleeping in your house? Do you suppose I want to pay for sleeping on the front porch?"

"My son," said the touseled one, "you'd better go and wind yourself up, you certainly haven't paid your rent here."

"What do you mean to tell me this isn't 224?" exclaimed the young man.

"Certainly ain't, my son," said the head in the window.

"Well, that's the number on the door," declared the youth.

"It ain't," said the touseled one.

"Look here, my boy, you're locoed," declared the touseled one.

"It ain't," said the youth, "I'm sleepy. You come out here and see if your number ain't 224."

And together the two of them examined the number. There are three houses there just alike. The youth went next door and went to bed. The house numberers had been around that way.

Paid for Neighbor's Coal.

There are three houses all alike, in a row on South Fifth street. The other morning a coal wagon was driven up, the driver examined the numbers and finally driving around in the alley, unloaded a ton of coal into the middle woodshed, the wood sheds also being alike. As he doled out the last shovel full, the owner of the house came out, "Where are you doing there," he asked of the driver.

"I'm unloading your coal," said the driver.

"But I don't burn coal," said the house holder, "and I haven't ordered any. I burn wood."

"What's your number," said the driver.

"419," said the householder, "but it was 221 until last night when the house numberers came around."

"D—n the house numberers," said the driver—then he got down and carefully and painfully shovelled the coal back into the wagon, after which he unloaded it next door.

Didn't Order It.

Jones isn't his name, but he lives out toward North Sixth street, and he hasn't been married very long. When he went home to dinner the other night, he was somewhat surprised to see a life size perambulator adorning the front step of his modest cottage.

"Who's here?" he inquired of Birdie.

"Nobody," said Birdie sweetly, "why my divine one?"

"Well, what's that thing on the front step?" he demanded in his best adored one manner.

"What thing," she asked in surprise. Then she went and looked at it. "Oh," she said, "the horrid thing."

Later they found it was Brown's and that it had been sent down to be repaired. The house numberers had been around that way.

SANDIA INDIAN INSTANTLY KILLED BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Pueblo Was Lying Dead
Drunk Across the Rails.

WAS RETURNING TO VILLAGE
TO CELEBRATE MARRIAGE FEAST

An Indian of the Sandia pueblo was instantly killed by a freight train two miles south of Bernalillo at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Indian's head was crushed in by the pilot of the locomotive and death was instantaneous. The man was apparently about forty years old.

The man was lying prostrate on the track, dead drunk, as the partly filled jug of native wine found near the body bore witness. The engineer of the train, which was an eastbound freight that left here about 2 o'clock, saw the man too late to stop the engine, one of the ponderous decapees, though the emergency brakes were applied and the long "drag" stopped with a terrific jerk. The pilot hit the man one blow, knocking him clear of the track and crushing the side of his head.

The engineer at once reported the occurrence at Bernalillo, and Deputy Sheriff Garcia of Sandoval county unpannelled a coroner's jury, which viewed the remains of the luckless Indian and rendered a verdict to the effect that he had met his death by accident. The body was then turned over to the dead man's tribesmen in Sandia.

It was found out afterward that the Indian had gone to Bernalillo to get some wine to celebrate a marriage feast at the village, and was returning with it when killed. It is the old story of selling liquor to the Indians and an investigation will probably be made to discover where the man got his wine. Three years ago, by a curious coincidence, another Sandia Indian was killed near the same place under like circumstances.

ROBBED THE JAIL.
Enterprising Burglar Entered the Prison in Raton Last Saturday.

Enterprise has done wonders in America, but the sample of it displayed in Raton last Saturday night carries off the fruit cake. Lots of men have broken out of jail, but very few have broken in and only one or two have broken in to steal. Saturday night in Raton a burglar, entered the county jail in Raton, stole a gold watch and jewelry belonging to Miss Ollie Littrell, daughter of Sheriff Marion Littrell, and made his escape. The burglar, who proved to be one Brown of St. Louis, was foolish enough to try to pawn the watch in Trinidad next day, where he was captured.

CLAIM LAPSE OF TIME WILL LET HUBBELL OUT

Court Has Demurrer in Case Under Advisement.

SALOON MEN CONVICTED OF VIOLATING SUNDAY LAW

Judge Abbott, of the district court, is expected to take steps today on the demurrer entered by counsel for Frank A. Hubbell in the case against the former county treasurer for getting money out of the county on false pretenses.

District Attorney Clancy was to have presented the prosecution's argument on the demurrer yesterday, but owing to the press of other business did not do so. He is preparing a statement in writing which will be at once submitted to the court after which the latter will decide as to the validity of the demurrer.

The indictment, now before the court is the one in which it is charged that Mr. Hubbell obtained money under false pretenses while acting in the capacity of superintendent of schools of Bernalillo county. It is alleged that Mr. Hubbell charged for a greater number of school visits than were actually made during the year and padded his pay roll by inserting a greater number of days in the account than the calendar justified. Mr. Hubbell's defense is that he never claimed that all the visits were made by him personally, but that he was legally justified in including in the list visits made by his deputies under his orders.

The demurrer and motion to quash the indictment, entered by Attorney W. B. Childers for Mr. Hubbell set forth the following grounds:

"Because the indictment charges no violation of the law of the land; because the alleged offense was committed two or three years before the indictment was returned; because the indictment fails to state the owner of the property in question; because the indictment fails to show that the county commissioners were deceived; because the accounts in question were not false tokens by which the public should be deceived; because the indictment does not sufficiently allege the false pretenses with which the defendant is charged and because of a clerical error in the indictment itself."

NINETEEN SALOON KEEPER'S PLEAD GUILTY TO INDICTMENT

Of the fifty or more cases against local saloon keepers for violation of the Sunday law, twenty-one were disposed of by the court yesterday. Nineteen saloon men including the leading liquor dealers of the city, plead guilty to a misdemeanor in keeping their places of business open on Sunday in violation of the law. Joe Badaracco and Pascual Cuthola were tried and found guilty.

Badaracco was tried for allowing minors to enter and loiter in his place of business, on North Third street, for keeping open on Sunday and also on the specific charge of selling liquor to a minor named William Brennan, 18 years old.

Badaracco was defended by Thomas N. Wilkerson. The jury returned a verdict of guilty as charged after being out only a short time.

Pascual Cuthola, formerly proprietor of the famous Blue Goose dive on North Third street, was found guilty of violating the Sunday law in spite of a vigorous defense by Attorney W. C. Heacock, who objected at every turn of the trial to the introduction of evidence and who was "sat on" several times by the court for his remarks. Highly illuminating testimony regarding beer pumps, beer kegs, etc., was produced during the trial and the ill between Heacock and the district attorney excited considerable amusement. James F. Palmer was the star witness for the prosecution. It is understood that quite a number more of the saloonkeepers under indictment will plead guilty.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH IN ANNUAL MEETING LAST NIGHT

The annual meeting of the Congregational church, for the election of church officers and the hearing of church business was held last night in the church parlors with a very large attendance. The first event of the evening, as is usual with this prosperous congregation, was a supper served in elegant style, after which the business was transacted the members retaining their seats at table.

The report of the committee on nominations was unanimously approved, resulting in the election of the following officers for the ensuing year: Deacon, W. O. Hopping; deaconess, Mrs. Elizabeth Hopping; clerk, H. L. Snyder; treasurer, C. E. Boldt; assistant treasurer, Miss Holmquist; Sunday school superintendent, C. E. Hodge; assistant Sunday school superintendent, H. J. Stone; trustees, Frank Strong, J. C. Haldridge, S. M. Porterfield; auditor, W. J. Hyde; choristress, E. L. Washburn, H. J. Stone, J. R. Tasher; morning ushers, H. S. Lithgow, J. R. Tasher, H. L. Snyder, Fred Hopping; evening ushers, Ivan Boyard, Kenneth Heald, J. Gould.

The committee on arrangements for last night's meeting were Mrs. C. E. Hodge, Charles E. Boldt and Carl B. Hopping. The reports of officers showed a very satisfactory condition of affairs and the church faces its most promising year. Committees are already at work on a program of extensive improvements which contemplate the practical remodeling of the church with the installation of a fine pipe organ.

Miles of Straight Track.
There is a railway over the Egyptian desert, which runs for forty-five miles in a straight line, but this is beaten by one in Australia. The railway from Nyngan to Bourke, in New South Wales, runs over a plain quite level for 126 miles, in a mathematically straight line. There is hardly an embankment, not one curve and only three very slight elevations.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies: those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers: those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c per bottle. One size only.

STEIN-BLOCH. SMART CLOTHES

Stout Men and Thin Men

Men of unusual figure can be fitted in our Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes. Such men have been taught that they could not be fitted by tailors who could not fit them. Stein-Bloch tailors have made a study for fifty-one years of the needs of stout men, both short and tall, and short men and tall men who are neither stout nor thin. Of the thousands whose clothes troubles our Stein-Bloch clothes have lifted, none is more grateful than the man whose figure, crudely draped by bungling hands, made him sensitive and diffident before the gaze of his friends.

Grip Quickly Knocked Out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. S. Eggleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knee and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip."

It is a good plan to take a dose of the Tablets when you have a cold. They promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or attack of the grip. For sale by all druggists.
