CARRINGTON SAYS LARGE PER CENT HAS BEEN CURED

Remarkable Success of Ft. Stanton Sanitarium.

FRESH AIR AND SUNSHINE
CHIEF AGENTS TO RECOVERY

(Kansas City Journal.)

Far out in arid New Mexico stands Fort Stanton, once a government military outpost, now sustained by the government, but for reasons quite peculiar—the cure or relief, it is possible, of the men in its merchant marine who have become afflicted with consumption. Fort Stanton is a hospital for "lungers" was instituted only a few years ago. At that time the buildings had been deserted by the soldiers, and were in a run-down condition. But since then they have been repaired and put in condition, and now the population of Fort Stanton is upwards of 500.

Dr. P. M. Carrington, surgeon of the United States public health and marine hospital service, having under supervision this institution, was at the Coates house yesterday, and spoke interestingly of the place.

"We have," said Dr. Carrington, "between 200 and 250 men out there taking the treatment. I speak of 'treatment,' although there is no such thing as a course of medical handling of the cases. A man lands in Fort Stanton, and immediately his case is examined and record made of it. He is first sent to the general hospital, where he is kept for a few days. During this interval we are watching his condition and at the end of his preliminary hospital time we are able to determine what he needs. If he is too weak he is permitted to stay there or to live in some of the homes around there. But if he is able it is recommended that he take quarters in one of the tents, a small village of which latter is situated 100 yards or so from the place around which the other buildings stand. By the way, I should say that open air, sunshine, plenty of wholesome food and rest are what are recommended to the patients. These are the things that can be regulated as graduated according to the individual needs. After the man goes to his permanent place he has nothing to do except to recover himself, unless he cares to work. This is permitted only in the event that he is able to stand physical labor. Otherwise, he can sleep and enjoy the sunshine and fresh air as he wishes.

"There are at least 25 per cent of the cases which come to us that we are able to cure quickly and permanently. These are the cases that have gone a long, long time for whom there could not be much hope. But we take them and do the best we can with them. The thing of it is that those we cure, when they go out from the institution, act as missionaries for us after they have left us, and the result is that I look for a great decrease in tuberculosis in the next few years over the country as an outcome of these efforts which the government is making. Of course, it takes months to reach results, and in the more stubborn cases that we are able to handle it requires years, but we feel that we are doing a great humanitarian work, so that we are willing to keep it up. Why, I myself was a 'lunger' before I went out there. I was only in the earlier stage of the disease and now I seem to be rid of it entirely.

"Life at Fort Stanton is far from one dull grind of monotony. We have our diversions, which make it not only bearable, but actually one of the happiest communities I ever lived in. Now speaking of diversions, strange as it may seem to you, I never remember any sort of exercise for the patients more vigorous than croquet. You understand that the altitude there is several thousand feet, and the patients have to take good care of themselves. We have a large number of croquet sets, and that is the greatest place in the esteem of the patients there as an athletic diversion.

"There is a band of sixteen or twenty pieces which now and then plays a concert. Then the patients gather in little groups during the evening and play cards. We have, too, a library of 2,500 volumes, which is largely used. Besides, the men that are afflicted with consumption are the fittest set of fellows I have seen. Even those in the last stages seem happy and self-possessed. And, indeed, when they get down to death's door they are fairly cheerful and pass out of the world without apparent suffering as it is known to those dying from other maladies.

"Speaking of religious affairs, a Catholic priest comes up to Fort Stanton regularly and holds a meeting. My wife and another woman there often get together on a Sunday evening and hold a sort of song service, which is attended not only by Protestants but by a large number of Catholics as well. And when a nun dies, we have some showing of a religious service. Often there isn't any clergyman to be had, but we have a man who is a Catholic in religion and who for several years has read the Episcopal burial service. He says he is a good Catholic, but that he would prefer to read the Episcopal burial service lest some one might say he was trying to thrust his own religion upon the community."

Dr. Carrington says he doesn't have much trouble enforcing the law. "It would surprise you to know how little misbehavior there is at Fort Stanton. It is decidedly rare, the rule against drunkenness must be put in force, although we have deep sea sailors, river men, coast men and lake sailors.

"One diversion which we formerly enjoyed was the publication of a daily newspaper there known as the 'Fort Stanton Daily Hemorrhage.' A former newspaper man was at the head of the publication. Contributions were thankfully received from many members of the little colony and the paper proved another means of making Fort Stanton at least a joyful place to live in."

Dr. Carrington says that a small stream of water flows along one side of the government reservation on which Fort Stanton is situated and which is six by eight miles in extent. This stream of water furnishes moisture sufficient for the irrigation of a farm of some pretensions. Then under the supervision of Dr. Carrington a pure-bred Hereford ranch is operated. The place has its own electric light plant and ice plant, and all the men required to run the farm and care for the institution are consump-

NEW THOUGHTS.

Are you growing more attractive as you advance in life?

"Given a healthy body," says Dr. R. V. Pierce, the specialist in woman's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., "and a healthy mind, and everyone can cultivate and enjoy happiness."

We must eat properly and digest well to be beautiful. It is a fact that any form of dyspepsia may in a few days transform a clear, white skin into a mass of pimples and black spots. A beautiful woman has the beauty of her stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery maintains a person's nutrition by enabling one to eat, retain, digest and assimilate the proper nutritious food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and thus the person is saved from those symptoms of fever, night-sweats, headache, etc., which are so common. A tonic made up largely of alcohol will shrink the corpuscles of the blood and make them weaker for resistance.

"This is to certify that I have used Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, think it's the greatest medicine in the world," writes Mrs. V. M. Young, of Wm. W. Va. "I had dyspepsia in its worst form. I decided to try your medicine. I used five bottles and now I am doing my own housework. A number of my friends also are using Dr. Pierce's medicine and they recommend it highly. May God bless you to your grand work."

Dr. Pierce believes that a tonic made with alcohol will shrink the red blood corpuscles and make the system weak for resistance, that is why he advocates the use of any alcohol or narcotics in his "Medical Discovery," which contains the pure extract from roots and herbs without a particle of alcohol.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for dyspepsia or debility.

Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

lives with the exception of from forty to sixty. These latter are strong, able-bodied men who are detailed to do such work as it would be impossible to expect of any of the patients.

Dr. Carrington was on the way to Chicago. He was accompanied by Mrs. Carrington and child, and by J. Ross Thomas, architect at Fort Stanton, who is going to Tennessee for a visit with relatives.

Police Doings.

Policeman Higginbotham last night arrested a sneak thief under the viaduct who had concealed under his coat a photograph camera which he had undoubtedly lifted from some nearby residence. The man protested he had bought the camera from a native on Railroad avenue for $3.00, but he had not a cent on his person when arrested and told a rather flimsy story. He was placed in the jug.

A bloody individual named Seefeld presented himself in police court yesterday morning with a complaint to the effect that he had been carved up with a sharp knife in the hands of a man named Austin, in the Red Light saloon. The man was discharged after it appeared that no knife had been used on him and that he was instrumental in bringing about the night in which he was worsted.

FIRST ATTEMPTS TO CHECK RIVER HAVE FAILED

Colorado Still Pouring Into Salton Sink.

TROUBLES OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC SEEM TO HAVE JUST BEGUN

It begins to look as if the troubles of the Southern Pacific with the famed Salton sink had just begun.

A dispatch from Yuma to the Los Angeles Times says:

Early today President Randolph of the California Development company, arrived at Yuma from Tucson in his private railroad car to visit the scene of the dam works destroyed by last week's great flood. The wind was too strong to permit of a trip down the river today, and the expedition was deferred until tomorrow. In consultation with Randolph are F. S. Edinger, consulting engineer, San Francisco; J. S. Yell, engineer in charge of dam operations; W. W. Follett, consulting engineer, El Paso; J. D. Schuyler, Los Angeles, consulting engineer of California Development company; C. K. Rockwell, assistant general manager; H. W. Blaisdell, vice president. Views are also being exchanged with the Mexican government commissioners, headed by General Pena, who visited the site yesterday, and who are investigating the situation in behalf of the Mexican government. This canal, although owned and managed by Americans, was chartered in Mexico, hence the interest of the Mexican government in naming the commission to investigate.

Col. Randolph, interviewed today, admits that all temporary expedients to check the flow of the Colorado river into the Imperial canal are now little likely to succeed. However, careful investigation will be made, and any possible plan adopted. Meanwhile materials will be rushed in for the permanent headgate, a work which in any case would have been taken in hand right away. Randolph is confident that the canal, with a headgate constructed and river levee built above and below the break, will drain the Colorado river at low water and permit the earth-work dam to be completed, thereby sealing the cross-cut canal and eventually returning the river to the old channel. With the headgate ready by the first of April, there will be an interval of eight to ten weeks before the heavy summer flood. This usually begins early in June, but sometimes occurs late in May. Everything, therefore, depends on results achieved between April 1st and the summer flood time. Meantime, nothing can reduce the flow of the river towards Salton sink. It was reported to me here today by a railway engineer that the water is rising at Salton at the rate of two inches per day. This shows that the flood of ten days ago has now reached the Salton sink. Col. B. C. Peatty, who has a long and close knowledge of the Colorado Delta, thinks that success will attend the headgate operations, but admits that the fight now must be a prolonged and costly one. However, with the Southern Pacific behind the Imperial undertaking, failure is impossible.

As showing delicate international complications it may be noted that the cross-cut canal that has caused all the damage was made originally without the formal authority of the Mexican government. No Mexican engineer passed on the work before it was pushed through to meet last year's shortage of water in Imperial valley. This is only one point of several.

Democrats Win in Tucson.
Tucson, Dec. 14.—The city election here was a hard fight and the contest was close in respect of democratic councilman, though in the case of the other two elected, one of which was a democrat and the other a republican, the pluralities were sweeping. There was a total socialist vote of 140. The result of the election was as follows:

For councilman at large: O. C. Park, republican, 533; Vic Griffith, democrat, 523; Griffith's plurality, 130.

For councilman: R. P. Rosenfeld, republican, 219; Mose Drachman, democrat, 244; Drachman's plurality, 25.

For councilman: M. Montebello, democrat, 155; R. Hohen, republican, 259; Hohen's plurality, 104.

GOVERNMENT WILL CONTROL

Stockmen to Discuss Plan for Government Use of Grazing Lands.
Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot of President Roosevelt's public lands commission, has asked the organized stockmen who meet in Denver during the week of January 23, to discuss the plan proposed for inaugurating a permit system on the public ranges. The plan is very similar to the forest reserve plan, the lands to be divided into "grazing districts" and grazed only under permit. The plan is set out fully in Forest Service Bulletin No. 62, just issued. It shows that out of a large number of circulars sent to stockmen last year to get their opinions, there were 1,400 replies received, and out of that number 1,390 declared in favor of government control of the ranges and only 132 opposed. Mr. Pinchot takes the position that if the stockmen will join the administration in asking congress to pass the needed legislation the plan can be arranged to suit the desires of the stockmen all over the west are interested in this and there will undoubtedly be a big crowd at the Denver meeting. The conventions announced to be held at that time are the American Stock Growers, the National Live Stock Association, the National Wool Growers' association and the Colorado Cattle & Horse Growers' Association. The Western Live Stock show will be held at Denver during the same week and there will be things doing. The railroads are making a one-fare rate to the meetings.

The holiday rates will be one and one-third fare to all points via Santa Fe Route. Call at ticket office and get particulars.

Every Broad-Minded Citizen should plan to patronize the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago, December 16 to 23 inclusive. It stands for growth and expansion in live stock production. Of course, it is a great success. Low rates via Santa Fe. Ask H. S. Lutz, agent.

ALBUQUERQUE.....NEW MEXICO

FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 15, 1905.

Putting 2 @ 2 Together

THE Andrews organ in this city indulged in the reckless extravagance of a really and truly special by telegraph, all the way from Washington, two or three days ago, for the purpose of giving the New Mexico public the highly interesting and valuable information that Mr. Andrews had called upon the president—not figuratively, or by proxy, but that the great and good man actually went himself, in his own proper person. As an exhibition of strenuousness on the part of the Andrews organ in the way of news gathering, that was, of course, a big thing; it had never attempted anything as big before; but as an exhibition of cheek, on the part of Mr. Andrews, it was a much bigger thing for him to present himself and his delectable record at the White House and presume to tell Mr. Roosevelt what to do about matters and things in New Mexico. And it is quite evident from the sequel that Mr. Roosevelt appreciated the beauty of the situation, and gave Mr. Andrews a gentle hint to that effect, because the very next day, as the telegraph told us, Mr. Andrews publicly announced that he intended to throw himself and all the weight of his great influence into the imminent deadly breach, and fight the administration's joint statehood bill to the bitter end, notwithstanding the fact that up to the very day of the "call" he had been favoring joint statehood.

No one who knows enough to put two and two together can doubt the fact that when Mr. Andrews was at the White House he heard something drop. Mr. Roosevelt knows the record of our delegate, and there is good ground for a very strong suspicion, at least, that he told him so.

A man who was big enough, might possibly accomplish something in congress by fighting the administration because of having been turned down, but for a mere voiceless delegate, overloaded with the Andrews record, to attempt anything of that sort is too foolish to be even decently ridiculous.

As the Journal declared, some weeks ago, Mr. Andrews can not do anything but harm for New Mexico by remaining in Washington. If he had any regard at all for the interests of the territory, he would step down and allow his place to be filled by some man who could accomplish something, and the very fact that he holds on to his seat is the best proof that could be given of the fact that he has no regard for the interests of the territory or its people.

SUPERINTENDENT VANDIVER, of the Missouri department of insurance, has an article in the current number of The World Today, in which he does a little talking which is quite as strenuous as his recent action in dealing with the big insurance companies. Vandiver is proud of the moral upheaval that has taken place in his state during the last four years. Nineteen hoodlums have been convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary, which he states is more than in all the previous history of the United States put together. And the San Francisco Call thinks that if Missouri in her present mood of moral strenuousness had control of the insurance situation a sweeping reform in methods would be enforced.

Progress in Arizona

COLONEL D. G. CHALMERS, formerly speaker of the Arizona house of representatives, and one of the strongest men in that territory, is doing gallant and telling service in the cause of statehood. In a letter to the Nogales Oasis he calls attention to the fact that the corporations are all against joint statehood, and says he has observed that whenever the corporations need a thing in their business they try to make it appear that all the people are crying for it. And he shows clearly that those who are clamoring for separate statehood are doing so for no other purpose than to defeat statehood of any sort. He explodes the "Mexican" argument most completely when he says:

If we are to listen to the cry of those political highlanders who abhor the idea of joining to the body politic a "greaser" territory, rest assured we will never get single or joint, or any other kind of statehood, because they don't want it. You would see these same political bunco steers just as much opposed to annexing California or Utah as New Mexico. Show me any part of Arizona where the Mexican vote cuts any figure, and I will show you both parties honoring Mexicans with nominations and election—and men who now object to annexing a "greaser" territory voting for them. I find that California at one time elected a Mexican lieutenant governor (Romualdo Pacheco), who was elevated to the executive chair by the election of Newton Booth as United States senator, and who after filling out his term in that office was twice elected to congress—and he was an excellent congressman. In Texas we see the people of that state sending both Mexicans and negroes to the legislature—in both house and senate—and they hold their seats too. From Iowa, Minnesota and Michigan the people send their Germans, Swedes and Norwegians to the congress of the United States, with seats in both branches. Then why damn New Mexico for doing the same thing that Arizona is doing today, as well as the other states above instanced?

I have listened also to these single blanket capitalists, showing how it is easier and cheaper to run two state governments than one, but I fail to see the point. It is as well to say that it is a great deal cheaper for a merchant with a $20,000 stock of goods, employing five clerks and paying $100 rent to split his stock in two, move into adjoining quarters, hire five other clerks and pay another $100 rent. Also for a resident of Nogales to pay all the household expenses of his family and board himself at the Montezuma hotel. The man who started that "argument" has to tie a knot in his neck to keep his head from slipping through his collar.

The blessings of statehood are in sight, and it is up to the people of Arizona to say whether or not they were really shamming all these years they have been clamoring to congress to grant those blessings.

The Denver Post says that a mining contractor named Leonard at La Veta was bound, gagged, horribly assaulted with fists and clubs, hung up to a tree with a rope around his neck until life was nearly extinct, lowered to the ground and again assaulted and again strung up and again lowered to earth, and that he is in a "rather serious condition" as a result. That man must be a tenderfoot.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS GIRLS MAY SEND TO EACH OTHER

The simplest way a girl may remember her out-of-town girl friends at Christmas time is with an envelope gift. Some small useful token which can be sent through the mail has quite as much significance as a bulky or elaborate present, which requires a large postage or express fee to bring it to its destination. And there are no end of pretty gifts which can be made in a costly into an envelope of ordinary size.

Of these none would be revealed with more welcome by the average girl than a chiffon or liberty silk scarf. The season's offerings in these linen affairs show wonderfully beautiful colorings and stamped designs. Got a few in simple but effective patterns can be purchased as low as 25 and 30c, and many display borders of marabout or wide hem of flowered crepe de chine.

One deft-fingered girl is turning out a fascinating scarf from net for an envelope gift. She is using a silky quality of white net and scattering over its surface small silver spangles. These tiny paillettes she is putting on rather sparsely by hand, while the raw edges of the net are being caught and bound in broad liberty satin. When finished the scarf will measure two and a half yards in length, and almost a yard in width, but its suppleness will admit of its being folded into a foolscap envelope.

There are many lovely stocks that are soft enough to go into an envelope without destroying their freshness, and the girl is hard to find who does not appreciate a bit of new neckwear among her Christmas presents. Among the modish long stocks a lace cravat, which is made easily, shows a single neck band of finely tucked muslin, with narrow insertion of Valenciennes lace running through the middle. Valenciennes edging finishes the upper and lower edges and the tiniest of muslin covered buttons line the middle of the front and fasten the stock at the back with strong loops. The long tab which drops at the front is composed of three lengths of muslin with lace insertion, each length surrounded with Valenciennes edging, except at top where it is attached to the tab above, the top tab being joined to the neck band beneath the lace edging.

A Soft Stock.

Another soft stock is built of Hamburg medallions two inches in width, having an opening at the center. A line of these form the collar band, and a succession of ten, one below the other, constitutes a long tab at the front. Through the opening in the medallions is inserted sky blue velvet or satin ribbon that ends in a short loop. Narrow Valenciennes lace is applied scantily about the neck band and tab.

Still a third suggestion is to buy an inexpensive Hamburg or lace stock and outline the pattern with gatherings of delicately tinted baby ribbon. Care should be taken that the ribbon is not put on with too generous a hand, the largest motifs showing the colored outline.

When a girl has not the time to make one of these dainty stocks, she cannot go amiss in sending a fancy colored handkerchief as the envelope gift. So artistic are the borders on the finer grades of colored mouschairs that a single handkerchief selling at seventy-five cents or a dollar makes a novel and acceptable present. It should be selected, however, with a view to its delicate pastel shade of blue or pink or lavender, and be a small, rather than the old fashioned square of muslin, with narrow colored hem.

Should the girl friend for whom the envelope gift is intended be fond of fancy work, tuck in a foolscap envelope a piece of linen stamped to be worked in eyelet embroidery or in satin stitch. These come shaped for lingerie hats or belts, both of which promise to be even more popular next summer than they were in the summer just passed.—Washington Star.

ATTORNEY SAYS EACH CRIMINAL CASE HAS LIAR

But Mr. Heacock Refuses to Divulge Any Names.

SEVERAL MORE SALOON KEEPER'S
ANTE UP IN DISTRICT COURT

Proprietors of Atlantic Acquitted of Dispensing Liquor to One John
Hanson of Uncertain Age.

Lix & Molzenbacher, proprietors of the Atlantic saloon on Railroad avenue, were acquitted in the district court yesterday of selling liquor to a minor named John Hanson. The trial of the case occupied the greater part of the day. As Hanson was the principal witness for the prosecution and as Hanson showed conclusively that he was totally inexperienced in handling the truth, an acquittal resulted. On the witness stand Hanson testified that he was twenty years old in October of this year. A marriage license was then produced in court which showed that Hanson gave the date of his birth as the 21st of October, 1882. All of which went to show that at one time or the other Hanson had departed from the path of veracity, and his statements were therefore unreliable. A large additional number of saloonkeepers "came through" yesterday, pleaded guilty and paid the fine and costs assessed against them for violating the Sunday law. It was at first evident that the policy of the saloon men under indictment was to delay the game as much as possible on the supposition that their cases would be crowded out of a trial.

District Attorney Clancy announced the other day, however, that he was going to insist on a trial of each liquor-selling case as long as there was one left to try. Since that announcement the saloon men have lost no time in pleading guilty, and the convictions of Badaracco and Cuttino on Wednesday have discouraged any more defendants from insisting on a trial.

There are two similar cases left for trial. Today it is expected that the cases against Pete Dinelli and J. Zanoni will come up.

Heacock on Liars.
Judge W. C. Heacock defended the proprietors of the Atlantic in his own inimitable style, yesterday, and as usual had to be called down by the court once or twice in addressing the jury in his argument yesterday afternoon Mr. Heacock said, among other gems of rhetoric, that he didn't wish to make any personal allusions but he had discovered during his twenty-four years of practice at the Bernalillo county bar that in every criminal case that ever came up, there was always at least one first-class liar. The jury looked interested. "And I will say further that there is also one in this case," went on Mr. Heacock. The jury picked up its ears. "It is unnecessary for me to state who the liar is on this occasion," said Mr. Heacock. The jury looked disappointed, and so did the audience, for it was the consensus of opinion that after keeping the court and spectators in such suspense, it was unfair in Mr. Heacock to deprive them of the climax. But at this juncture the court opened rather acidly that Mr. Heacock's remarks were not strictly relevant. Consequently the identity of that liar remains shrouded in mystery.

It is said by the observing ones that the practice of selling liquor to minors has shown a wholesome falling off since the indictments were returned on the first of April last.

No Action on Demurrer.
No action was taken by the court yesterday on the demurrer entered by Attorney W. B. Childers for Frank A. Hubbell, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. District Attorney Clancy submitted his argument on the demurrer in writing yesterday, and it is thought that the judge will sustain or overrule the demurrer and motion to quash the indictment today.

AGENT PERRY SAYS CHANCES LOOKED SLIM FOR A WHILE

Man Whom Navajos Captured Visits Albuquerque.

SAYS SIX BAD INJUNS ARE SAFELY IN THE COOLER

R. Perry, of Fort Defiance, Arizona, the agent who was captured several weeks ago by a band of Navajos at Chin Lee, fifty miles northwest of the Arizona post, and held for several days and threatened with death, arrived in the city last night and is attending to some private business concerns in Albuquerque today. He came in from as far as Laguna with Superintendent J. K. Allen, of the local Indian school. Mr. Perry says that there is absolutely no danger of any further trouble. The six ringleaders in the affair are now securely housed in the guard house at Fort Defiance awaiting trial. The troops have all returned to the fort, and the incident is closed.

"The Indians came in and gave themselves up to the authorities only after all the rest of the Navajos were thoroughly organized to round them up. A few pointed instructions to the head men of the tribe 'put them next' and they immediately went to work, assisted by all the tribesmen to capture the offenders and bring them to justice."

Mr. Perry says that he believes his life was in considerable danger at the time he was captured by the Indians, each of whom was heavily armed. "Every man in the bunch had a big revolver in his shirt," said Mr. Perry, "and there was no mistaking their hostile intentions toward me. At the time they made their formal demand that I surrender the man who was accused of assaulting the little girl, the interpreter softened it down and told me they intended to starve me to death. But I discovered afterward that they had not raised words at all, but said they would kill me if I didn't do what they asked. They were a pretty ugly little party of Navajos and I don't believe my chances would have been any too good had not matters turned out as they did. But I am confident there will be no further trouble."

Mr. Perry says that the story that the men who captured and held him prisoner were remnants of the band of Navajos who ranged with Geronimo is untrue, and that there is absolutely no truth in the tale. It will be remembered that the whole trouble arose over the arrest of an Indian on the charge of assaulting a little girl, a charge which was afterwards found to be erroneous. He and some companions resisted the reservation police and when further steps were taken to punish the man, Agent Perry was seized and held until he should solemnly promise that the Indian would be pardoned and let

SAYS THERE IS NO
LEAK IN THE LID

"The lid is on tight. There's nothing in those stories about some of the liquor dealers being allowed to keep open on the sly on Sunday," said Sheriff Perfecto Armijo to a Journal reporter yesterday. "If anyone asks you, you can tell him there's no leak and there won't be if I can help it." "I am going up to Santa Fe tomorrow and stay over Sunday," said Mr. Armijo, "and see what kind of a lid they use up there."

JOINTURE ORATORS LEAVE FOR TUCSON STATEHOOD MEET

Messrs. Rodey and Childers
Depart for Arizona.

ANOTHER BIG PETITION IS RECEIVED FROM CERRILLOS

At Crucial Moment Arizona Sends
Flood of Telegrams to House
Asking for Merger Bill.

Ex-Delegate B. S. Rodey, and Attorney W. B. Childers left last night for Tucson, Arizona, where they will attend the big joint statehood convention to be held in that city tomorrow. Mr. Rodey is down on the program for a speech and it is expected that Mr. Childers will also give the Arizonaans a few pointers on the statehood situation. The two will take along a goodly supply of joint statehood literature for distribution among the people of Arizona.

Fifty telegrams went in to congress yesterday from all parts of Arizona asking the passage of the joint statehood bill and urging the members that Arizona and New Mexico will adopt a state constitution for "Arizona the Great" by a handsome majority. Local representatives of the joint statehood league, the two newspapers and others sent additional messages yesterday, also assuring congress that the constitution will be adopted, and repudiating the action of Delegate Andrews in flying in the face of the expressed sentiment of the people of New Mexico and the republican party caucus in the house. It was learned yesterday at the office of the statehood league that petitions have gone in to congress from over twenty-five cities and towns of New Mexico representing every section of the territory.

Another big one was received from Cerrillos yesterday and forwarded to Mr. Beveridge. A message was also sent to Beveridge asking him to loan his huge pile of data to the statehood house. Duplicates of all telegrams have been sent to the senate and both houses of congress are now in possession of overwhelming proof of the approval of the joint statehood program by the majority of the people of both territories.

ANDREWS' BREAK EXCITES AMUSEMENT IN THIS CITY
On all sides yesterday were heard expressions of amusement at the conduct of Delegate in Congress W. H. Andrews in declaring that he will fight joint statehood, and his action in introducing a bill for single statehood, against the expressed wishes of the people of New Mexico en masse and against the policy of the republican party in congress.

"The very evident fact that Mr. Andrews' little visit to the White House a while back didn't help but the delegate in harmony with the administration," said a wise politician last night. "Mr. Andrews is pretty trying to get back at the president and the republican party and New Mexico and everybody else." I fear however, "he went on with a smile, that Mr. Andrews slap in the face of the times, and the republican party and New Mexico and everybody else."

DUNLAVY SELLS STORES ALONG SANTA FE CENTRAL

(Santa Fe New Mexican.)
F. E. Dunlavy, a member of the Dunlavy Mercantile company, with stores at Beland and Moriarty, is a guest at the Palace hotel today. He is here on business connected with the sale of the company's stores in the Santa Fe valley. The Dunlavy Mercantile company, which was published in the New Mexican Saturday night.

Yes, it is a fact that the company has sold out," said Mr. Dunlavy, in a rejoinder this morning. "I had attempted to keep the news of the sale quiet because the property is not to change hands until January 1. The sale was made because I have several children who have advanced so far in their education, that it appears necessary for me to take them to a city where they can have the advantage of higher work."

"Our stores have made money from the day they were started and I can not speak too highly of the business opportunities of New Mexico. I do not know what line of work I shall take up, but whatever it may be, it will not give me warmer personal and business friends than I have had in Beland, Moriarty and Santa Fe. I am sorry to sell out."

INCREASE IN LOCAL POSTAL BUSINESS BEATS PHOENIX

Gain in Past Year Double
That of Arizona Capital.

ALBUQUERQUE PASSED THE $32,000 MARK LAST JUNE

The annual report of the auditor of the postoffice department shows some interesting figures as to New Mexico and Arizona. Perhaps the most interesting comparison is that between Albuquerque and Phoenix. The increase in business in Albuquerque during the past year was over twice as much as the increase in the Phoenix postoffice business for the same period. In 1904 the local business was $29,435 and in 1905 it was $32,141—an increase during the twelve months of $2,706. In 1904 the business at Phoenix was $30,296, and in 1905 it increased to $32,160—a difference of only $1,194. This makes Albuquerque only $19 behind Phoenix in this year's business and at the present rate of increase the Duke city will be some few thousands ahead of her Arizona contemporary in the next twelve months. Prescott, Arizona, shows a slight decrease in receipts, Tucson making the best increase during the year. The leading New Mexico cities have all shown a healthy increase over the previous year.

Following are the figures showing the receipts of all the second and third-class postoffices in the territories for the fiscal years 1904 and 1905, ending June 30:

May Mix Rock and Rye.
The Morning Journal has received the following communication from Collector of Internal Revenue H. F. Bardshar, of Santa Fe:

Internal Revenue Service of the District of New Mexico, Collector's Office, Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 13, 1905.

Albuquerque Journal, Albuquerque, N. M.

Dear Sir:—The following is a copy of a decision of the commission of internal revenue on the refilling of rock and rye bottles:

H. F. Bardshar, Esq., Collector of Internal Revenue, Santa Fe, N. M. Sir:—Your letter of the 25th ultimo has been received, inquiring if a retail liquor dealer can keep a bottle of rock and rye of his own mixture on his back but, in advance of sale of orders; and "if he can refill the original bottle with rye that has the original rock in it."

If the retail liquor dealer does this for convenience in meeting the orders of his customers for drinks, and does not keep this compound in stock for sale, the case is not one which should be reported for assessment against him as a rectifier.

Respectfully,
J. W. YERKES, Commissioner.
H. F. BARDSHAR, Collector.

Albuquerque Has Found It Hard to Shake Off.

Hard to bear, harder to get rid of, is any itching skin complaint. Eczema or Itching Piles. Doan's Ointment relieves and cures all itching of the skin.

Albuquerque people endorse this statement:

A. M. Whitcomb, nurseryman, corner Eighth and Tijeras streets, says: "In my estimation there is no ointment for the purpose that it is used that equals Doan's. There was a spot below my knee which annoyed me for ten years. Unlike eczema it did not spread out, but at times it itched so exasperatingly, particularly after I went to bed or sat by the stove, that I scratched it until it smarted before relief came. I tried every salve and ointment I came across; when one did not help I bought another and applied it. Reading about Doan's Ointment induced me to go to a local druggist for a box. In a few days the itching ceased and the life of the part effected was killed for up to date, and it is now over six months since I stopped the use of the salve; there has not been a symptom of its appearance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBain, Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

SHERIFF SAYS THE APODACA KILLING WAS JUSTIFIED

Correspondence Morning Journal.

Clayton, N. M., Dec. 13.—Sheriff

Tranquilino Garcia, of Union county, has addressed a letter to Sheriff R. W. Davis, of Trinidad, Colorado, in regard to the killing of Luis Apodaca, the escaped New Mexico murderer, by two Trinidad deputies, when Apodaca resisted arrest.

It will be recalled that the people of Folsom demanded the arrest of the Trinidad officers for the shooting of Apodaca, which was declared to be illegal, and somewhat of a sensation was stirred up about the matter. The sheriff of Union county entirely disavows the action of the people of Folsom and declares the Trinidad men were acting under his orders. Part of the letter follows:

R. W. Davis, Sheriff, Trinidad, Colorado.

Dear Sir: I notice that the Trinidad papers have recently had something to say in a critical way concerning this office, and touching the matter of the killing of Apodaca near Folsom not long ago.

The officers from Trinidad who slew Apodaca while he was resisting arrest, obtained deputy sheriff's commissions from me prior to their going in pursuit of Apodaca.

After Apodaca's death, some few citizens residing at Folsom, or in that vicinity, seemed to have the idea that the killing was either unlawful or unnecessary, and undertook to have this office arrest the Trinidad officers. J. C. Hill, undersheriff of Union county, New Mexico, investigated the statements that were made by these few citizens of Folsom, and even went so far as to attend the inquest held over the body of Apodaca, and such investigations as Mr. Hill was able to make convinced him that the statements made by the Folsom people about the matter were without foundation in fact, and greatly garbled.

It seemed that one of the deputies of this office, who resides in Folsom, listened to the complaints and allegations made by the few people in Folsom, who seemed to have a vast interest in this matter, and obtained process, so I am informed, for the arrest of the Trinidad people; but the action of this deputy, who is the constable of the Folsom precinct, was without the sanction, knowledge or consent of this office, and was taken by the deputy wholly upon his own initiative.

I beg to inform you that from these facts possessed by this office, I am certainly of the impression that the Trinidad officers were entirely justified in their action, and that this office does not now, and never has desired that any process issue for their arrest. With great respect, I am,

Yours very truly,
TRANQUILINO GARCIA,
Sheriff, Union County, New Mexico.

Stout Men and Thin Men

Men of unusual figure can be fitted in our Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes. Such men have been taught that they could not be fitted by tailors who could not fit them. Stein-Bloch tailors have made a study for fifty-one years of the needs of stout men, both short and tall, and short men and tall men who are neither stout nor thin. Of the thousands whose clothes troubles our Stein-Bloch clothes have lifted, none is more grateful than the man whose figure, crudely draped by bungling hands, made him sensitive and diffident before the gaze of his friends.

A Delightful Concert.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the Lyric Male quartette last night at library hall, and the concert was one of the most pleasing that has been given in the city for a long time. The quartette has taken its position in the foremost rank of Albuquerque's musical organizations and every member of it is an artist. Mr. John W. Edwards' tenor voice, rich and sympathetic, was especially heard to great advantage last night and his work was vociferously applauded. Mr. J. M. Hetherington's solo was also beautifully done and called forth enthusiastic applause. Prof. John H. Crum gave several delightful readings in his own inimitable style which as usual made a hit, especially "The Pauper's Story." Mr. R. Ruppel's whistling was loudly cheered. Joe Scott accompanied the soloists on the piano.

The Lyric Quartette has already made itself popular. It will fill an engagement at Gallup Saturday evening, and has several more booked ahead.
