FIVE THOUSAND LIE DEAD IN MOSCOW TERROR STRICKEN PEOPLE COWER IN THEIR CELLARS

Superhuman Hate Drives Troops and Rebels to Carnage

Demolished Barricades Spring Up Again in Streets Like Magic.

DESPERATE REVOLUTIONARIES STAKE ALL ON LAST BLOW

Bloody Fight to Continue Until Troops
Are Pinned Like Rats in Trap.

London, Dec. 25.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at St. Petersburg in a dispatch dated at 6:45 p. m., December 25, says:

At an early hour this morning the casualties at Moscow were estimated at 5,000 killed and 14,000 wounded, with the fighting still proceeding.

The inhabitants of Moscow have been forbidden to leave their dwellings after 7 o'clock in the evening. It is impossible to move about the city in consequence of the frequency of stray bullets. Many innocent persons have been accidentally killed.

A scarcity of provisions is threatened.

The same correspondent telegraphing at 10:28 p. m., says:

Your Moscow correspondent's telegrams have not been accepted because all details were refused. It is learned, however, that cannon firing is now proceeding in various parts of the city where tonight very near the railroad stations the barricades erected by the revolutionaries are being desperately defended.

The Kurik terminus at Moscow is being pillaged and many wagons laden with provisions are being looted. The emperor is engaged daily in reviewing at Tsarskoe-Selo the regiments of the St. Petersburg district. The spirit of the troops is decidedly loyal.

From fragmentary accounts received from Moscow I gather that the civil war has brought no decisive action, but only a thickening of the blood cloud, an intensifying of the horrors and an increase of the prevailing bitterness.

The driving force behind the rebels and the troops is no longer that of enthusiasm or of any human impulse. It is the force of superhuman hate, and hence the deeds reported are not the acts of patriots, soldiers or otherwise, but the enormities of madness. It is impossible to understand how any emotion, even of the extremes of despair or hate, can impart such foolhardy courage as some of the rebels display.

For every barricade destroyed Sunday two or three appeared in other places. Orders were given by the revolutionaries to shoot only when there was good hope of bringing down a man, but otherwise to fire on the troops until they lost patience.

In the meantime in their houses the bulk of the population cowers in the innermost recesses of kitchens and cellars, stricken with fear and trembling at every boom of the cannon or the explosion of a bomb.

The most surprising thing of all is the loyalty of the troops, which nobody here anticipated.

Talking with an intelligent group of St. Petersburg revolutionaries, I was informed that while they believed the strike would be victorious, they fully realized that they were sinking everything upon the issue, and that failure would set back their cause for several years. They said they were devoting their efforts to shaking the foundations of Russian finance, in full confidence that once the existing regime was overthrown, they could as quickly build another, and that foreign na-

IRON WORKERS ARE REPUDIATED

New York, Dec. 25.—No workers were happier today than the 100,000 skilled men in the building trades when it was announced that every union, with the exception of the housecarpenter and bricklayers, had signed a trade agreement of from one to three years to go into effect on January 1 next.

By this action the unions have officially repudiated the strike of the structural iron workers.

go about unmolested, street traffic is carried on in good order and there are opera performances daily, though attended by small audiences. Soldiers and police are patrolling the streets day and night. Three cruisers are anchored in the harbor at the disposal of the new Governor General Lollo-hub, who has not yet arrived. Foreigners are in perfect safety at present but they are of the opinion that it would be a wise precaution if each of the principal powers had warships cruising in the Baltic in readiness in emergencies, as passenger steamers would be unable to embark refugees in case of armed opposition.

The revolutionaries continue a program of agitation, hold daily meetings, and they posted an order to partition to disarm soldiers. At Lihau the cruiser Okean and the torpedo boat Protchey have arrived. The town is in full control of the troops and the agitators are quiet and holding few meetings.

Foreigners Anxious.
At a meeting of the foreign consuls it was decided to fly the national colors over the consulates. While the town is regarded as sufficiently protected by Russian warships, foreigners in case of necessity could find refuge in the foreign merchant ships in the harbor, although it is uncertain if the revolutionists would respect foreign flags. Dahlen is in the hands of the revolutionists who have established a provisional government.

The public affairs of Gaiding for nine days have been in the hands of an administrative committee. An autonomous committee has organized a police service, the policemen wearing red ribbons on their sleeves. The regular police laid down their arms and took off their uniforms after one year's confinement and a fine of $100.

Warsaw Strikers Accept Government's Conditions

Warsaw, Russian Poland, Dec. 25.—The strike of post and telegraph employees here is at an end. The strikers have accepted the conditions of the government. The telegraphers resumed work today. The military governor has issued an order prohibiting the street sales of newspapers, singing of revolutionary songs, the holding of meetings and organizing of processions. Persons who violate the order are subject to imprisonment for three months each and to a fine of $1,500. The railroads today resolved to resume work unless their comrades in St. Petersburg should join the strike.

Moscow Insurgents Advance En Masse to Slaughter

St. Petersburg, Dec. 25.—Direct telegraphic communication with Moscow was severed last night, but the government succeeded in restoring communication by a roundabout route this morning. All reports agree that the fighting yesterday which continued until midnight assumed the nature of a butchery by machine guns of the revolutionaries and cannon being employed mercilessly against the ill-armed insurgents. Atrocious tales are told of Cossacks, who piled with vodka until drunk, fired down the streets sometimes charging with lances. The insurgents displayed great subterfuge in holding their barricades, even advancing in a mass to the slaughter. At the same time bombs were thrown from the windows of houses near the barricades occupied by the revolutionaries. Artillery was summoned and battered the houses to pieces. The plan of the insurgents, it is stated, is to hold the outskirts and gradually enclose the troops in the center of the city. The leaders announce that an army of 30,000 is concentrated at Orskoff, northeast of Moscow, and will soon march to the city's assistance. The latest report is that both sides were exhausted at midnight when firing practically ceased.

Foreigners in Riga Are Doubted of Their Safety

Riga, Dec. 25.—(Via Riga.) The railroad employees throughout the Baltic provinces went on strike last night. The newspapers protest against the false reports printed abroad to the effect that Riga was bombarded and was burning and the revolutionists blew up a train carrying 200 Cossacks and the Associated Press is able to deny these rumors. The town is perfectly quiet, the inhabitants

To Punish Shanghai Police.

London, Dec. 25.—The correspondent of the Morning Post at Shanghai says the Chinese foreign office has instructed the Chinese minister at London to negotiate with the British government regarding the mixed commission, to request the dismissal of the British assessor and to insist on the punishment of the police concerned in the recent outbreak.

American Author Dies in Italy.

London, Dec. 25.—The death of Henry Harland, the American author who wrote "The Cardinal's Snuffbox," was announced in a cablegram received from Italy. Harland died yesterday at San Remo, Italy. He was born at St. Petersburg in 1861.

CELEBRATE CHRISTMAS

Dewey Flashes Yule Greetings by Wireless.

WORD GOES TO EVERY SHIP IN THE AMERICAN NAVY

Serves as Elaborate Test of Great Auxiliary to Naval Service.

New York, Dec. 25.—Admiral Dewey's Christmas greeting to the officers and men of the navy bespeaking a united stand for the good of the country and service, was communicated today to officers and men aboard the vessels throughout the world, wherever they could be reached by telegraph. To the men of the navy along the Atlantic coast there were also sent Christmas greetings by means of the wireless telegraph, which incidentally served as an elaborate and practical test of this auxiliary of the naval service.

Wireless messages were sent direct by Admiral Manney, chief of the bureau of equipment and the results were most satisfactory to him. Messages containing greetings were sent out last night from the wireless station at the Washington navy yard and were relayed from place to place. Early responses came from the officers nearest Washington, but before midnight many of the stations had replied, including New Orleans and Colon and San Juan. The Colon reply coming by way of Guantanamo.

Only necessary work was done today on the ships everywhere. Liberal shore leaves had been granted to the officers and men, while the dinner served aboard ship was under the usual custom, characteristic of the Christmas season. On many of the vessels the captains joined with the officers in the ward-room in celebration of the day.

Recognizing the animal, Adams followed his trail back five miles into the mountains where he found the badly mangled body of Clark at the mouth of a cave and beside it two dead grizzlies.

Searching for Treasure.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—Somewhere along the lake shore, between Calumet Park and the Indiana state line—a distance of half a mile—lies buried a fisherman's treasure, amounting to $3,000. The fisherman told of his savings to his aged wife on Tuesday last and promised her that on the following day he would make known to her the hiding place of the profits

During the night he became bereft of speech and yesterday he was unconscious. Without regaining the use of his faculties he died of heart failure.

Judge Tuley Was Attorney General of New Mexico

Distinguished Jurist Dies in Wisconsin Sanatorium.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—Judge Murray F. Tuley, of Chicago, died at the Penneyer Sanatorium at Kenosha, Wis., this afternoon aged 78 years. He went to the sanatorium on October 31 suffering from nervous exhaustion caused by overwork.

Judge Tuley was elected to the circuit bench of Cook county, Ill., in 1879 and had served continuously since that time. Judge Tuley had a record of fewer reversals of his decisions by the supreme court than any other circuit judge. He was a veteran of the Mexican war, having served as first lieutenant of the Fifth Illinois infantry, and in 1849 he served as attorney general of New Mexico.

May Change Inaugural.

The proposal for a change of date in the inauguration ceremonies has come up again. Identical resolutions have been introduced in both the house and senate providing for the postponement of the inauguration to the last Thursday in April. These measures are on the line of the late Senator Hear's resolution which twice passed the senate. The change has been urged by the inauguration committee, backed by letters from the governors of 45 states. The measure also

WILL HEAR HAMILTON'S STATEMENT

McCall Back From Paris With Document.

COMMITTEE ANXIOUS TO LEARN LETTER'S CONTENTS

Expected to Tell When Hamilton Is Going to Make Good That $236,000.

New York, Dec. 25.—At its meeting tomorrow the investigating committee composed of five trustees of the New York Life Insurance company will receive from Secretary John C. McCall the statement from Judge Andrew Hamilton which he sent to Paris to procure.

The committee is anxious to know all the details of Hamilton's legal expenditures and will expect President McCall to throw light on whatever may be found obscure and unexplained in the Hamilton documents. This paper will also be presented to the executive investigating committee.

President McCall and his son have gone over Hamilton's statement together since the younger man's arrival from Paris on Saturday. It is likely that President McCall will send the trustee committee a further proposal with regard to the $236,000 of funds paid to Hamilton, which it will be remembered, Mr. McCall said he would restore to the company before December 31 if Hamilton did not account satisfactorily for the money.

Correspondence Morning Journal.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Congress and all of the departments have been making preparations to return as possible for the Christmas holidays. There has been little doing in congress this week but oratory and there will be practically nothing till after the holidays. The departments, where the clerks have to work till 4:30 instead of 4, as formerly, will be given an extra half day on Saturday and paid up to Saturday night to enable the employees to spend all of their money before the holiday comes. Christmas falling on Monday gives them with the intervening Sunday practically three days' vacation. Most of the cabinet officers are going out of town for Christmas. Secretary Wilson is one of the few exceptions and will stay and try to catch up with the work of the agricultural department which has rather accumulated of late.

May Abolish Cotton Estimates.

The keep commission which has been working on the agricultural department's system since the cotton scandal several months ago, has finished its business. It is rumored that the commission will recommend the abolition of the department's crop estimates and that the statisticians will be ordered hereafter to confine themselves to statements of crop conditions and not be allowed to prophesy what the various crops will amount to. This, however, is mere guesswork, and has been set aside, not by the commission, which for a government commission has been wonderfully efficient, but by some of the congressmen who do not bear the agricultural department any good will and would like to see its power curtailed. Congressman Livingston of Georgia is one of those who has been interesting himself lately in having the crop work of the department reorganized, and recently came out in a long interview in which he recommended the appointment of paid crop reporters after the manner of the census enumerators to gather statistics. When it was pointed out by the secretary, however, that it would cost about $140,000 a month to do this work which is now paid for by a few department publications and a few postage stamps, the matter was dropped. There was a serious question whether the paid statisticians would be more accurate than the volunteers anyhow.

Up to the Secretary.

It looks now as though the secretary of the navy would be empowered to deal with mishapments of the naval academy who are guilty of "running," "hazing," fist-fighting and the other gentle practices that it has been found they are in the habit of enjoying. There was a considerable talk of a wholesale investigation by congress of the conditions at the academy. Had there been a more lenient secretary of the navy, this might have been done. But Secretary Bonaparte had said, and said emphatically, that he would stop fighting and hazing very promptly if he were given the power. So the thing probably will be put into his hands and guilty cadets in the future will be punished by summary dismissal. It is not likely either that congress will dismiss any more dismissed midshipmen, as it did in the case of young Chaffee and others a year ago. Had congress not interfered in that case, the chances are that the Branch-Meriwether fight which brought about all the present trouble would never have taken place.

The postoffice fraud cases have not been proceeding very speedily lately, but another of them was tentatively discussed yesterday. One may say tentatively, as a motion was entered for a new trial and the defendant released on $10,000 bail. It was the case of William G. Crawford, who was accused of conspiring with August Mahan and George Lorenz to defraud the government. Crawford has been convicted and it held will be liable to a fine of $100,000 and seventeen years' imprisonment. Of course he will not get all of that. Mahan who was the most thorough going and artistic graffer of the whole lot, got off with $10,000 fine (which he swore off under the pauper convict's oath) and two years in the "pen" which he is now working out. Crawford, of course, has a chance of going free on his last trial but the government declares that it will be able to secure a final conviction.

Robbery Probable Motive of Murder in Mexico

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 25.—The bodies of Robert Rutherford and C. V. McMurray, who were murdered on the night of December 17 near Diaz, Mexico, reached here tonight. Mrs. Rutherford and Miss Anna Rutherford, of Philadelphia, wife and sister of one of the victims, accompanied the remains on the journey from Santa Rosalia. They will leave for Philadelphia tomorrow. Mrs. Rutherford stated tonight that she was unable to aid the Mexican authorities who are investigating the murder of two Americans with any information save her own conviction that robbery was the sole motive for the attack on Finstad's home.

POPE WILL GIVE ALICE A PRESENT

New York, Dec. 25.—According to a cable dispatch to the World, Pope X has just declared his intention to send a wedding present to Miss Alice Roosevelt on the occasion of her wedding in February. The gift probably will be a beautiful piece of mosaic work from the Vatican factory, probably a copy of one of the most valuable paintings of the Vatican collection.

It has not been determined whether the apostolic legate in the United States, Monsignor Falcoi, shall present the gift on behalf of the pope, or a special messenger shall be sent from the Vatican for the purpose. The latter course will probably be followed if the pope is given assurance that a papal representative at the wedding would be acceptable to the American president's family.

During the night he became bereft of speech and yesterday he was unconscious. Without regaining the use of his faculties he died of heart failure.

has the approval of the judiciary committees of both houses.

The Metric System.
This has been a week of regulation bills and resolutions. Another of the old regulars has been introduced by Representative Littauer, providing for the use of the metric system in all government transactions. This is a measure that has been demanded for a long time by all the scientific men of the country, and were it once generally enforced, the public would soon find it as convenient as the decimal system of currency. The system is already in use in the government bureau of standards and in several other of the scientific departments. But it is highly probable that the public will need a generation more of education before they will realize the need of it.

MUST RESPECT THE UNIFORM

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST ENLISTED MEN MUST STOP

Washington, Dec. 25.—Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary Oliver have joined Secretary Bonaparte in the movement to bring about a proper recognition of the uniform of the enlisted men of the army, navy and marine corps, so that it shall not subject the wearer to unjust discrimination at theaters, restaurants, hotels and other places of public entertainment. They have already secured the co-operation of the Nicholas Biddle Section of the Naval League of Philadelphia, and desire to enlist the sympathy and encouragement of the public generally, to the end that the uniform of the country's defenders shall always be treated with proper respect.

Secretary Bonaparte expressed himself vigorously on this subject in his annual report, and recommended that Congress enact legislation making any refusal on the part of the proprietor of a theater or other place of amusement, an innkeeper or a common carrier, to furnish accommodation to an orderly and well-behaved person in the naval service, able and willing to pay for such accommodation, an offense against the United States, punishable by fine and imprisonment.

Secretary is in Earnest.
That the secretary of the navy is in earnest in the matter is shown by the fact that he recently dismissed an employee at one of the navy yards because he broke a contract he had made with an enlisted man of the navy to let a portion of his house to the latter, on the ground that the intended lodger expected to wear his uniform to and from the premises.

A case involving the same general principle was recently presented to the war department by two soldiers on duty at a post near this city. They complained that they were refused seats in the orchestra of a local theater, but were permitted to buy and occupy seats in the balcony of the same theater. They asserted that they were perfectly respectable in behavior and appearance, and that the only objection made to selling them seats in the orchestra was that they wore the uniform of the United States army.

The attitude of the war department in the matter is indicated in an opinion rendered by General Davis, judge advocate general, which has been approved by General Oliver, assistant secretary, who has directed that the attention of the district commissioners be called to the general subject. "A theater ticket," says General Davis, "is a license which may be revoked by the licensor before it has been tendered at the door of the theater, but the purchaser of a particular seat has more than a license, the right of entrance being in the nature of a lease. In the case in reference, however, the box office refused to sell a ticket to the applicant because he was a soldier. The offer to sell a seat in the balcony, which accompanied the refusal to sell a seat in the orchestra, would indicate that the proprietor of the theater had a regulation on the subject which his ticket seller, in refusing to sell orchestra seats, was attempting to enforce.

Question of a Remedy.
"It seems remarkable that, in the national capital, which is under the direct legislative control of congress, a soldier or sailor, and whose behavior is beyond reproach, should be refused admission to a place of public entertainment solely because he is an enlisted man in the army or navy. But the question is—not of the injustice of the exclusion which will be conceded—but of the application of a practical remedy. As the war department is without authority to interpose, save by way of remonstrance, it is suggested that the papers be transmitted to the commissioners of the District of Columbia, who have some jurisdiction over theaters and places of amusement in the city of Washington, with a request for such remedial action as it is in their power to apply; failing this, it is recommended that the case be submitted to congress, whose power in the matter is plenary."

LABORER MEETS HORRIBLE DEATH AT CUBERO STATION

Ground to Pieces Under Local Freight.

JUMPED FROM TRAIN AFTER STEALING COAL

A native laborer on the Santa Fe met a horrible death at Cubero, six miles west of Laguna, at 6:30 o'clock Sunday night, the news of the accident reaching here yesterday. The man whose name was Chavez was engaged in jumping on freight trains and helping himself to coal. He got aboard a passing freight Sunday evening and jumped off the train while it was going at a pretty good speed into a bank of snow three feet deep. Before the unfortunate man could stop himself he rolled over on the other track and was ground to pieces by the local which was moving in the opposite direction. The man's body was so horribly mangled as to be almost unrecognizable. Conductor E. Lovett was in charge of the local train.

The man was one of a gang of 200 laborers who have been at work hauling track under Foreman Gabriel.

Pope Expresses Deep Concern.
Rome, Dec. 25.—The pope today expressed his deep concern over the attempt made last night at Barcelona to slay Cardinal Salvador Casanovi, Bishop of Urgel, as he was leaving the cathedral. He sent a message to the cardinal congratulating him on his escape.

Burned to Death in Stable.
Seattle, Wash., Dec. 25.—One man was burned to death and another overcome by smoke he is now in a dangerous condition, and thirty-one horses were burned or suffocated in a fire that broke out in the Montana Stable company's barns today.

The American Farmer the Best in the World.

The American farmer is the greatest man in the world to-day because he is master of the soil—he is gaining in intelligence quite as rapidly as his products are increasing in magnitude. Our recent combines of capital in United States measured in money are enormous, yet such figures sink into insignificance when compared to the money, brain and brawn invested in agricultural industries. For instance, the farmers of Minnesota and Dakota have received $500,000,000 for their products in a single year. The farmer knows what Nature will bring forth for him from his experience in the past. He knows if certain seeds are planted and properly cared for that Nature will take care of the rest. In the same way you are master of your own destiny. Providing your blood is in good order, it only needs a little effort on your own part to keep healthy and strong—your body of the poisons that are apt to accumulate and your system is ready to ward off the attack of the germs of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich red blood—by increasing the number of red blood corpuscles. There is no alcohol in this great tonic to shiver up the red blood corpuscles. As an alternative extract, made only of herbs and roots it goes about its work in nature's way. It stimulates the liver into proper action, and feeds the worn-out nerves, stomach and heart on pure blood. Used for over a third of a century it has sold more largely than any other blood medicine in the United States. More bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are sold to-day than ever before—this is the best test of its medicinal value after thirty-eight years of deserved popularity.

Dr. Pierce's "Medical Adviser" sent on receipt of stamps to pay for mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DINER ON NO. 7. PLOWS THROUGH FRISCO CABOOSE

Another Disastrous Santa Fe Wreck.

SIX EMPLOYEES OF THE HARVEY SYSTEM INJURED

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 25.—Six employees of the Harvey dining room service on the Santa Fe were injured Saturday in a wreck which occurred at the crossing of the Santa Fe and Frisco tracks one hundred yards west of the Turkey creek pumping station. The Santa Fe's San Francisco express No. 7, backed into a freight car which was one of a string of six cars being handled by a Frisco engine. The diner, which was the rear car on the passenger train, was partially demolished and overturned.

Those injured were in the diner and are:

John Wrodel, chef, 2302 Dearborn street, Chicago; back sprained; not serious.

Glenn Robinson, second cook, 5472 Lake avenue, Chicago; arms burned; not serious.

Theodore J. Reimer, flats, thirty-fourth and State streets, Chicago; slightly burned by hot grease and bruised by fall.

Grant White, negro waiter, 3109 State street, Chicago; bruised by fall.

Thomas R. Huntley, 2622 Michigan avenue, Chicago; bruised by fall.

None of the injured were hurt seriously and all but Wrodel and Robinson will be able to leave the hospital today. No other car on the express was damaged and the train went into the Union depot over the Frisco and Belt line tracks. When the Santa Fe pilot, Jesse Meredith, saw that the freight would not clear the crossing before the diner reached it, he jumped and escaped uninjured. Both cars were thrown from the tracks which were pushed off the tracks.

Responsibility for the accident has not been placed by the railroad officials. It is claimed, however, that the Frisco train, being already upon the crossing had the right of way. The freight train was going in the direction of the stock yards with Engineer Calvin Grassley at the throttle. He received no intimation of the presence of the Santa Fe train until the diner began to plow its way through a freight car. The Santa Fe train was in charge of the pilot, Meredith, whose duty it was to take the train from Argentine to the Union depot.

All but one of the Frisco string had passed over the crossing when the passenger train backed into it. Meredith was on the rear of the diner, he seems not to have noticed the freight train, or else to have thought it would have cleared the crossing before the express train reached it. The trains came together with such force that both cars were knocked from the tracks. The freight car was loaded with kafir corn, which a local man had ordered out over the Rock Island road.

The men in the diner had no warning of the impending crash and were taken unawares. Their car lurched over until the body of the car rested on the ground. As soon as possible the men were taken from the wrecked car and placed in the mail car. They were brought at once to the Union depot and taken to St. Joseph's hospital.

The wreck occurred at a critical point as regards stock yards traffic. Before the wrecking crews were set to work, Frisco, Milwaukee, Missouri, Kansas and Texas and Alton tracks were out of service. The wreck occurred at 3:30 and by 6 o'clock the last of the tracks had been cleared. All four of the Santa Fe tracks into the depot were obstructed, and passenger trains had to use the tracks of other roads in getting to and from the depot.

SNOW BLOCKADE BROKEN ON THE SOUTHWESTERN

After a desperate struggle of more than twenty-four hours against a stiff snow storm, with a high wind which blew the snow back on the track as rapidly as it was cleared away, the blockade on the eastern division of the Southwestern in New Mexico, was broken Saturday morning.

Between one and six o'clock in the afternoon, four Rock Island passenger trains from the east arrived. The first train to get through was the Golden State limited from El Paso Friday afternoon, which arrived at 1:15 o'clock.

Nos. 29 of both Friday and Saturday arrived a few minutes apart shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Saturday's Golden State limited from the east arrived nearly three hours late.

The blockade was caused when the eastbound Golden State limited which left El Paso Thursday afternoon struck a cut between Carrizozo and Coyote, N. M. The snow had been falling for several hours heavily, and a strong wind had drifted this snow into the cut.

Two snow plows were sent to the relief of the train from Alamogordo. The crews of the plows labored manfully, but their work was done in the teeth of a blinding wind which drove the snow back into the cut as fast as it was removed.

SECTION FOREMAN GRAHAM ROBBED AND MURDERED

Mystery Surrounds Finding of Mangled Body.

WATCH REVOLVER AND PAY CHECKS TAKEN FROM POCKETS

Having sifted to the bottom the suspicious facts connected with the death of Alexander Graham, the section foreman who was run over while in a handcar by a Santa Fe train three weeks ago, at Hiawatha, Sheriff Ralph and Coroner Pittman returned from the desert this evening, says the San Bernardino Times-Index.

That Graham was robbed either before or after the accident, now appears to be definitely established, and the mysterious disappearance of two cholos employed by him up to the time of his death, makes it likely that they were in some way implicated in the tragic event.

Unfortunately it was not until lately that the disappearance was brought to the attention of the authorities and they have had ample time to get far away from the scene of trouble.

Facts that have positively been established are that Graham had a watch, revolver and pay checks about his person, all of which were missing when his crushed body was found beside the track.

These pay checks four in number, amounted to nearly $250, and payment on them was immediately stopped by the Santa Fe company at their office on notification from Coroner Pittman. It is probable that fear of detection prevented any attempt to cash them on the part of the holders.

"The blow which killed Graham," said Dr. Pittman, "was in my opinion the one at the back of the head, which might well have been made by a blunt instrument. Of course, the body was badly shattered by the train which struck the handcar, but the head escaped severe mutilation and only showed marks of one distinct blow."

It seems hardly likely that anyone will now be apprehended in the case, although a sharp lookout has been established for the two cholos of whom only a meager description was obtainable.

Graham, who was a native of Ireland, was a thrifty, industrious man, and leaves $2,100 in the bank besides the missing pay checks. He has absolutely no known relatives and it seems altogether likely his estate will go to the county.

One Way To Be Good

WASHINGTON correspondents of the big newspapers have told us that the distinguished citizens of New Mexico who went to the national capital some weeks ago to secure the appointment of some of their friends to office, and incidentally kill off the joint statehood bill, succeeded in securing an interview with the president in which, so the correspondents say, they were informed that they could secure the appointments they were seeking provided they would promise to go home and "be good" during the statehood fight. And they are doing as they agreed to do. An interview with Mr. Luna, printed in this paper yesterday, says the national committee had "absolutely nothing to say" on the statehood question, except that he thinks it wise to wait developments.

Mr. Bursum was interviewed on the same subject by the Santa Fe New Mexican, and he fully agrees with Mr. Luna that this is not the time to talk about that matter.

Mr. Reynolds, the territorial secretary, who has been the most active and energetic anti of the whole lot, is even more reticent than either of the others. He has been appointed, but not yet confirmed.

Many of the friends of statehood think these gentlemen are not delivering the goods, but we take a different view of the matter. They have been conspicuously active in their opposition to the cause, and to lay down their weapons and close their mouths is all that the president or any other person ought to ask of them under the circumstances, since to do more would simply make them ridiculous.

Having been so terribly bad up to the day of their interview with the president, the people would lose confidence in the genuineness of their conversion if they should attempt to be too good all at once, and might class them with the Las Vegas Optic, as virtuous for revenue only. And it would pain the New Mexico public exceedingly to be forced to pass a judgment of that sort upon such men as Messrs. Luna, Bursum and Reynolds.

TRY to conduct yourself so that the following definition of a Christian, as given by "Life," will not fit your case:

A Christian is a man who feels
Repentance on a Sunday,

And is going to do on Monday.

IT IS a long time since Oregon had a democratic senator before, but Mr. Gearin, notwithstanding his politics, is a good man. The Portland Oregonian says he is "a democrat and a partisan, but he is first a high-minded American citizen who will under no circumstances dishonor himself or the state of Oregon; and he will make no factitious opposition to any great national policy because it happens to be supported by a republican president, and to be in favor with a republican congress."

IF IT couldn't bring peace on earth and good will to men, the present happy Christmas season brought unmistakable evidence of the fact that the American people had more spare change laid away than they ever had before—and it also gave the postoffice folks an object lesson in the school of patience, and the art of how to work 24 hours a day.

Another Jolt

DR. OSLER has been saying things again, and his latest observation bids fair to jar the world of faith as much as his remarks about the age limit disturbed the practical world. The doctor, speaking as the result of observation in 500 cases, declares that "man dieth like as the beasts." Deathbed visions he denies, and asserts that reports of them are untrue. "As a rule," says Dr. Osler, "man dies as he has lived, practically uninfluenced by the thought of a future life."

This is a much more complex problem than the learned doctor's forty year proposition, because chloroform at forty, while it might do great harm in many cases, would do great good in many other cases. Thus we have a well known scientific fact to begin with in the matter of the chloroform question, whereas in the other matter science leaves us as much in the dark concerning the fundamental question at the bottom of it as we were four thousand years ago, when Job exclaimed in the agony of his spirit, "If a man die shall he live again?"

PUBLIC OPINION thinks the effort of the football authorities to so reform the rules of the game as to eliminate danger of injury suggests the desirability, for similar reasons, of modifying other sports. At latest accounts the football casualties of the season just closed were twenty-three killed and 159 injured. From July to December the hunting season included accidents in which seventy persons were killed and eighty-nine wounded, yet we have not heard that the principal guides have been summoned to a White House conference. Use of the modern rifle, which kills at a mile or more, should be forbidden in every state and territory. Special penalties should be fixed for mistaking a man for a bear or a moose. No hunter has a right to shoot unless he knows what he is shooting at. In eleven months, moreover, and in spite of speed-restricting ordinances, motor cars have killed seventy-five persons and injured 509 others.

JOINT statehood is coming. When Senator Beveridge and other joint statehood senators this winter make their great speeches describing the conditions of the territories under the railroads and mine owners, the corporations will look like thirty cents. Just wait and see. Such a graphic description as will be given of the exploitation of the territories by the corporations and special interests, will show that it is without a parallel in American history. It will throw a shadow down on even the insurance scandals and make them look small.

THE captain of one of the German liners predicts that we shall see steamships 1,000 feet long and with a beam of 100 feet in the not remote future. Vessels of this size would carry twice as much freight as any now afloat, and yet this optimistic foreigner believes that there will be no trouble in providing it, and even goes so far as to predict that there will be a tri-weekly service of the big steamship lines between the American Atlantic ports and Europe.

THE tax dodgers, special interests, and office holders of the territories will, when the joint statehood fight is over, have a very acute appreciation of the Lincoln adage that you can't fool all the people all the time.

Should Muzzle the Arizona Poets

(Phoenix Republican.)

In the various struggle of this territory to break into the union and to keep out of it, the Washington Post has always been Arizona's consistent friend. It has lately been devoting much valuable editorial space to showing the injustice of the presidential order and to advising congress to let Arizona alone if it does not want to be the lesser half of a state. The arguments of the Post have been profound and earnest and vigorous, leaving no doubt of its sincere advocacy of the rights of the territory.

But the other day it printed an article based largely upon the poetry of the territory and there is more than a suspicion that the Post was not in deadly earnest. A well meaning citizen has set one of the champions of Arizona to laughing at a time when there is need of seriousness. It would be well for those Arizonians who have poetic instincts to wear muzzles until the present crisis has passed. The poet is capable of deadly harm at this juncture. Ordinarily he is harmless; he is, it is true, always liable to excite gentle laughter if not derision by his ridiculous efforts to soar but in ordinary times laughter wouldn't hurt. These are not ordinary times, and just now when the Post should be busily engaged in hammering the territory's enemies at Washington, it is tempted to drag the literature of Arizona to the front and poke fun at it as follows:

"No man having his share of the bowels of compassion can fail to yearn with Arizona. The hour of her destiny approaches. She stands trembling, waiting, fearing. Is she to be forced into an odious miscegenation with New Mexico, or is she to be crowned with sovereignty as the sun-burnt but beautiful little sister of a glorious sisterhood? Congress will face this alternative, and Arizona's fate is in its hands. Let the lawmakers remember that, while Arizona may be dusky, she is comely as the tents of Kedar and the curtains of Solomon. Congress ought not to place itself in the attitude of trifling with the affections of such a winsome and unsophisticated damozel."

"Moreover there is an element of danger in this trifling. Arizona has her friends. Far be it from us to intimate that congress stands imminent danger of assassination; it is sufficient to point out that Arizona's admirers are souls of fire and children of the sun. Their tempers have been flamed to a hair-trigger petulance by senatorial contumely and long neglect. Last winter they were stung to the quick by the proposal to slice off part of Arizona and add it to Utah. This winter if Arizona should be injuriously treated, revenge may supplant patience as a virtue in the passionate hearts of Arizona's friends. For they are under a strain."

"Here, for instance, is Col. Fremont E. Wood, of Naco, a valued contributor to the Post, an Arizonian of valor and sure aim, what is even more to be feared, a poet. His attitude at present is one of forbearance, of willingness to give congress another chance. But between the lines of his verse one may discern the seething fires. Ostensibly an apostrophe to Arizona, Colonel Wood's poetry is in reality a dark hint to congress that the strain must not be continued to the snapping point. He suggests a chaos and things accurate:

"O, Arizona, Thou tawney, thorny land
Of devilish things and blinding sand;
Where things most choice and things accurst
With equal plenty are disbursed;
Where best on earth, and all earth's worst
Have marshaled here to here disband
And gloat with Chaos on the sand."
If this is not a friendly nudge to congress, we mistake the occult meaning of Colonel Wood. Yet he goes on still further and faster:

"O Arizona! Thou eternal land of wonder!
Creation's choicest, richest geologic blunder!
Thou well may knock at statehood's gate
And take the sovereignty of state!
The world applauds thy stately thunder."

Seeing the awful strain you're under,
Here, then, is distinct and formal notice that Arizona is under an awful strain, and that she may well take statehood, if the gate of statehood is not opened unto her. If the American congress knows when the danger line is reached, it will declare its intentions toward Arizona, or incur the risk of hearing plainer language from Colonel Wood, of Naco."

Delay.
"It takes a long time for a man to attain his destination in this country," said the foreigner.
"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum.
"Even when the returns declare you elected you are liable to have to wait a few months to see where you stand."

A Certain Cure for Croup.
When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended. There is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz.: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Give it and a quick cure is sure to follow. Mr. M. F. Compton of El Paso, Texas, says of it: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children, and can truthfully say it always gives prompt relief." ENTHUSIASTIC OVER THE FUTURE OF WILLARD

Torrance County Town Is Growing Like a Weed.

EXPECTS TO HAVE THOUSAND PEOPLE IN ANOTHER YEAR

Louis A. McRae, a former resident of Albuquerque and who has many friends in this city, came in yesterday to spend Christmas, from Willard, Torrance county, where he is now located. Mr. McRae is highly enthusiastic over the future of Willard and had a great deal to say to a Morning Journal reporter yesterday about conditions and prospects there. He said: "It is surprising how new towns can and are springing up in New Mexico where formerly there were practically no signs of habitation. Many of these towns prosper in the best sense of the word and finally develop into stable, gradually growing communities. Willard is one of the new towns which promises to become important among the cities of New Mexico. It is only four months ago since there was not as much as a stick of wood on the ground where the present town is built, with a population of perhaps more than 150 people, all from 'the states.' There are many residences, a school house and other conveniences which go together with the making of a town. In this we have an exemplification of how New Mexico is increasing in population of the right kind.

"The school attendance numbers 32. The pupils have been well housed through the public spiritedness of the citizens, who by public subscriptions, raised a large sum of money and built a roomy, commodious and elegant appearing school house which would be a credit to a town many times the population of Willard.

"I have been informed by Mr. Corbett, the agent of the Willard Town and Improvement company that some 34 lots have been sold in the townsite of Willard, and that hardly a day passes but what a number of lots are sold. Already several of the holders of lot property on the Willard townsite have been offered a very large profit for their property. Lots on the main street, called Becker avenue, for nearly two blocks on both sides of the street have been sold and I am very glad to note that it is not for speculative purposes, but rather I find that many of the lots are occupied, while the occupancy of others is in contemplation. The commercial wants of the town people and the many settlers tributary to this point are well taken care of by four up-to-date and extensive general merchandise stores. The John Becker company keeps a force of ten experienced clerks busy in their big store which is a veritable hive of industry and hustle.

"A large force of men working at Elrie, on the Belen cut-off, were recently laid off because on account of the poor water supply on the new line it was necessary to first lay tracks out of Willard so that water could be hauled to the camps east of Willard. Willard prides itself on having perhaps the most plentiful supply of water to be found anywhere in the territory. People coming here from Deming say that water conditions are fully as favorable as those which made the Windmill city famous. Prominent railroad men have told me that for this reason alone the Santa Fe will build big shops here when the cut-off is completed.

"With the progress of the work on the cut-off, you may look to see Willard grow like a weed during the next twelve months. I think I am safe in saying that by January 1st, 1907, Willard will have a population of at least a thousand people."

CURIOSITY.

Leads to Investigation and Truth.

What shall we do to be saved? was the title of one of Robert Ingersoll's lectures. People of faith and people of no faith flocked to hear it. Thousands are asking, "What shall I do to get rid of dandruff?" The answer is, "Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and finally baldness; and the only thing that will do it is Newbro's Herpicide. That is the very latest discovery of the laboratory, and it is the only preparation that claims to, or that will, kill the pestiferous dandruff germ. It also is a delightful hair dressing, free from oil or grease or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. B. H. Briggs & Co., special agents.

"Parsifal" Coming.

The much-talked of Parsifal, which has created such a great interest in the large cities where it has been produced—has been a secured by the Haggy Scenic company as a moving picture and will be exhibited at the principal towns where it is impossible to get the original big opera company to appear. The costly production is billed for Friday night, at the Elks' opera house.

Extra, besides Parsifal, a few popular big feature subjects will be put on. One is a battle of the Russo-Japanese war, which is everywhere admitted to be the greatest and most perfect war production. It shows modern warfare in its terrible realism. You see infantry, cavalry and aillery in action and even the blizzards that occurred during one of the destructive onslaughts by the Japs.

CHRISTMAS A MERRY FESTIVAL IN ALBUQUERQUE

Postoffice Now Rests From Its Labors.

ELABORATE YULE SERVICES ARE LARGELY ATTENDED

Albuquerque people have a way of doing everything in a whole-souled and enthusiastic manner and yesterday's observance of the greatest festival of the Christian calendar was no exception. The spirit of good will whose generous expression on Christmas marks this day of all the year as one apart was evident on every hand yesterday and the day was one to be remembered. The off-beat admonition to have a "Merry Christmas" was put into practice with a right good will and if there was any man with a grudge in the city he did not make himself apparent. The small boy, of course, occupied the center of the stage with his annual noisy specialties, but the boys and girls of a larger growth got busy and had just as good a time as their younger contemporaries.

The Sunday Christmas services at the various churches were unusually impressive, beautiful and well attended and the special services yesterday were fully as interesting. Beginning at 7 o'clock yesterday morning half hour masses were said at the immaculate Conception church until 9:30. Following a midnight celebration of holy communion an enjoyable service was held at St. John's Episcopal church at which splendid special music was rendered.

Huge Business in Presents.
"I'd just like to have Wells Fargo's receipts for December 24 and 25," said an Albuquerque citizen as he stood at the station and watched the tons of packages coming off the express cars. "I'd have John D. Rockefeller looking like a boot black."

And he wasn't so very far wrong. If he had just asked for the postoffice receipts while he was about it, he would have all Wall street out-navigated. For the express and postoffice business for the Christmas season surpassed all records to date in Albuquerque. No one has had the nerve to try to figure out what the grand total approximates, but there is no doubt it would be enough to keep the wolf from the door for several Tuesdays.

The postoffice force are entitled to great credit for the mastery and expedition with which they handled the Christmas business and the work speaks volumes for Mr. Hopkins' management. Over six thousand packages were sent out during the week.

The express business was so heavy that it was necessary to run several separate sections composed entirely of express and baggage cars.

Many handsome presents were exchanged in the city yesterday. Among those worthy of note are a handsome diamond stud presented to Chief of Police McMullen by his admiring conferees on the force and merchants of the city and a nobby silk hat presented to Mayor McKee by the "force" and the chief, and Police Judge Crawford.

The Surety Investment company presented each of its employees with a fifty foot lot, and the employees of the Imperial laundry presented the management with a fine wall clock.

One of the handsomest presents was received by Manager Cheatham, of the Alvarado and Mrs. Cheatham. It was a beautiful cut glass wine set, decanter and six goblets presented by the employees of the big hotel, accompanied by a burned leather book containing the names of the donors.

TOOK TWO DAYS TO COVER SIX MILES IN THE CANYON

(Williams News.)

On Tuesday of this week the members of the United States geological survey party who have been engaged on work for some time on the north side of the canyon under the direction of R. T. Evans, arrived in the city. The work of mapping the Rhinumo quadrangle, on which they have been recently engaged, has been completed, with the exception of the level line being run from Swampy Point to Gravel Point, and this will be taken up next summer. Mr. Evans goes east to Washington, where he will ink the sheet and prepare it for the engraver. Accompanying Mr. Evans in the city Tuesday were two members of his party, who underwent some severe hardships recently on the north side of the canyon during the storm. They were Theodore Chapin, who left for his home at Los Angeles, and T. Vandeborg, who departed for Denver.

Mr. Evans and two other members of the party were camped on the Rhinumo. Chapin, levelman; Nelson, cook and packer, and Vandeborg, were sent to the north rim to run a level from Swampy Point to Gravel Point. At that time they were about half way between the two places. On the morning of the 14th of November Nelson started to look for his horses, intending to return to a point called Kanabonets for provisions Evans had left there for them. The horses had evidently scented the coming storm, for they were not to be found. Last week's issue told of the four days' hardships endured by Nelson after he had started out, and how he finally reached Swampy Point on the Rhinumo more dead than alive.

Knowing that it was impossible for a relief party to reach the other way from that side Evans started to cross the Colorado and go to the north side via the Bright Angel creek route, but was unable to cross the river.

No Secrets To Hide

We have nothing to conceal; no secrets to hide! We publish the formulas of all our medicines. You will find these in Ayer's Almanac for 1906; or write us and we will send them to you. Then show the formulas to your doctor, and ask him what he thinks of them.

Chapin and Vandeborg waited five days for the return of Nelson, and then thinking he had perished in the storm, started out for the head of the Bright Angel creek trail, taking only a blanket apiece and a small supply of provisions. Though the distance was only six miles it took them two days to cover the route, and at times were almost tempted to give up because of the deep snow, which was almost four feet on the level. They finally reached the trail and then were not much better off, as it took them two days more to reach the river, most of which time they were in the ice cold water of the creek bed. Arriving at the river they found Andy Connor there as watchman over a winter location and were taken across the river by him, finally arriving at Cameron's camp on the rim. There they were later met by W. W. Bus and taken to his hotel, where they were joined on the 10th of December by Evans and the remainder of the party, the river by that time having gone down so that they could make a crossing.

Schooner in Collision.
Norfolk, Dec. 25.—With all her headgear torn away and her topsails set, an unknown three-masted schooner has sunk in twelve fathoms of water six and one-half miles northeast of the winter quarter lightship and directly in the path of coastwise navigation. The schooner evidently was the victim of a collision. The fate of her crew is not known.

FIRST ANNUAL ORATORY CONTEST OCCURS TONIGHT

Seven Contestants Will Take Part in Event.

PROGRAM TO BE INTERSPERSED WITH EXCELLENT MUSIC

The first annual oratorical contest held by the high schools and preparatory institutions of the territory will be held this evening at the Elks' opera house. It will begin promptly at eight o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend the contest, the first of its kind to be held in New Mexico and which promises to be a most interesting affair.

There are to be seven contestants, all selected after spirited preliminaries in the various territorial towns which have sent representatives. Besides the contestant from the preparatory department of the Agricultural and Mechanical college at Mesilla Park, who has not yet been announced, those who will appear tonight are: Miss May Ross, Las Vegas Normal, subject, "The Power of Imagination." Lawrence Clark, Las Vegas High school, "A Menace to the Republic." Miss Lillian Winders, Gallup High school, "Woman's Sphere in Life." Miss Elsie Sackett, Albuquerque High school, "The Great Conviction of the World."

Miss Laura Wood, Santa Fe High school, "Twentieth Century Patriotism."

Lawrence Hfield, preparatory department of the University of New Mexico, "Abraham Lincoln."

The judges on thought and composition are Rev. A. G. Harrison, of Albuquerque, Rev. Henry Ruffner, of Silver City, and Hiram Hadley, of Santa Fe, territorial superintendent of public instruction.

The Albuquerque orchestra will furnish good music and Miss Ada Campbell, whose musical ability is too well known to need comment, will sing.

COLDEST AT LAGUNA FOR PAST 25 YEARS

EIGHTEEN INCHES OF SNOW ALSO BREAKS RECORDS

Special to the Morning Journal. Laguna, N. M., Dec. 25.—The lowest temperature and the heaviest fall of snow for the last twenty-five years exist at Laguna on Christmas. The thermometer dropped last night to eighteen degrees below zero and over eighteen inches of snow covers the ground on the level. Reports from the Navajo reservation indicate that there has been considerable suffering among the Indians and the phenomenon of cold weather is said to have caused great privation in all the remote districts. The snow in the mountains near here is said to be the heaviest for a great many years.

HAGERMAN WILL DRIVE GRAPERS FROM TERRITORY Will Cut Out All the Fruits From Public Ceremonies.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 25.—A Colorado Springs dispatch to the Post says: "I propose to investigate all charges of public graft in New Mexico after I am sworn in as governor, and if I find corruption and wrong-doing among the servants of the people over whom I have any control whatever I will drive them from the territory."

This is the all-important statement made by Governor-to-be Herbert J. Hagerman of New Mexico, who arrived in Colorado Springs today to spend the holidays with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Hagerman. Governor-to-be Hagerman for many years was a resident of this city, and his friends and well-wishers here are legion. He has been receiving congratulations on his appointment as governor of New Mexico by President Roosevelt on all sides. He is outspoken regarding what he believes is the duty of public officers, and talks straight from the shoulder, letting the chips fly where they will. This is one of the chief characteristics of the young governor and promises to bring him prominently before the public as a reformer long before his coming term expires.

Governor Hagerman is anxious to reunite the republican party of New Mexico, but he does not care for peace at the price of public honesty and graft, he declares. His determined stand for justice and right has already won him thousands of friends in the territory a fact which was more than patent at a recent dinner given in his honor by Governor Otero, whom he will succeed. Yesterday a delegation of prominent citizens of Santa Fe who have been in strong opposition to the present regime called on Governor Hagerman and assured him of their fullest support in the conduct of his office along the lines he has so boldly announced.

Governor Hagerman is opposed to all frills and ostentation in public office and has vetoed that portion of the program covering a brilliant parade and speeches. He expects to take the oath of office as quietly and with as little ceremony as possible. It was only after much persuasion that he consented to permit an inaugural ball and reception.

Stories of the Streets and of the Town

The Greatest Pie Town.

"After all mince pie is not as good as it is cracked up to be," said the reckless young man in the restaurant, as he finished up his second piece. He had preceded it by a dozen fried oysters and a Welsh rarebit, and his companion observed that after all, one piece of mince pie more or less couldn't make much difference. "But Albuquerque isn't a good pie town," said a reckless one, as he began to scan the bill of fare to see what to eat for dessert. "Chicago's the best pie town in the country. You can get a piece of any kind of pie, hot or cold, thin or thick, rare or well done, at almost any restaurant in Chicago, and it will be real pie—good pie. You can't beat the Windy City when it comes to pie. Boston has a great reputation but Boston can't begin to tie in the same class with Chicago. Why, there are pie foundries in that burg that cover whole blocks. The people of Chicago eat millions of pies every month. It is appalling to think how many pies Chicago consumes in a year. But the people there fairly live on pie. A man will drop in a restaurant for breakfast and all he will eat to start the day with will be a piece of pie and a glass of beer. For lunch he eats a piece of apple pie, a piece of mince pie, a piece of pumpkin and a cup of coffee with perhaps a little wedge of cherry pie to top off with. For dinner in the evening he often selects another bunch of well assorted pies from the many varieties furnished, and just before retiring he gets away with just a small piece of rhubarb pie to induce sound and refreshing slumber."

"How do you explain the low death rate in Chicago, if that's a fact?" said the Space Flier, seeking information. "It's because they don't make the Albuquerque brand of pie in Chicago," said the other, quickly, as he reached for his cafe noir.

Were Eating Their Christmas Dinner.

Rebeld train No. 2 for the east which arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, had to "back up and head in" as the trite saying hath it. After all the baggage work and other things incidental to the stop of a transcontinental train in a hurry, were attended to, the conductor gave the high sign, yelled all aboard, and the big engine belched forth clouds of steam and in a few minutes No. 2 was well started on her run toward the rising sun. In a few minutes, however, bystanders were surprised to see train No. 2 rumbling back to the station with a disgruntled looking conductor on the rear platform. It wouldn't do to repeat the conductor's exact words but the gist of his remarks was that he wanted to know where that dam Pullman crew was. Investigation revealed the fact that the Pullman crew was peacefully seated in the Alvarado cafe discussing a bountiful Christmas dinner. It wasn't so bad because they had really almost finished, but the time they made out of that cafe was something startling.

Grip Quickly Knocked Out.
"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of a gripe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. S. Eggleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, adding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip."

It is a good plan to take a dose of the Tablets when you have a cold. They promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or attack of the grip. For sale by all druggists.

A Shoe Store in the Making

The shoe business of this clothing store has been built. It is yet possessed of a healthy natural growth. It began small—it expanded—it is still building. Today we sell three times the number of shoes we sold three years ago, six times the number we sold five years ago. WHY? It grew for three main reasons, viz:

Hanan Shoes — Douglas Shoes — Guaranteed Quality

Years ago we sold any make of shoes. Now we concentrate our efforts in selling the two best lines in their respective classes, and guarantee every pair to give entire satisfaction.

Hanan Shoes sell at $5.50 to $6.50.

Douglas Shoes sell at $2.50 to $5.00.
