PASS OF MELFORT GOES TO DAVY JONES WITH CREW

Big Steel Steamer Dashed on Rocks
Off British Columbian Coast--A Few Bodies Recovered.

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 28.—Without benefit of clergy, though with solemnity, the bodies of three victims of the wrecked British bark, "Pass of Melfort," were buried today in the little graveyard at Ucluelet, a village a few miles distant from the scene of the disaster which involved the loss of twenty-six men and one woman. The villagers all gathered at the cemetery and knelt in prayer while the interment took place.

The wreck of the Pass of Melfort, badly broken, is submerged about fifty yards from the shore with two spars anchored to it, buoying the location. An Indian is said to have seen the ill-fated ship firing rockets just before she foundered. The Indians just before dawn on Tuesday morning heard reports and rushed out of their lodges, but not hearing other reports they returned. One states he saw rockets which is probably correct, as a small box marked "Rockets" was washed ashore. The Indians went to Ucluelet settlement where the settlers were informed that a wreck had occurred and both white men and Indians returned to the scene of the wreck. The steel bark had gone on the reef to the eastward of Amplitrite Point, about fifty yards from the shore and the wreckage was washed ashore in a small bay, twenty yards wide, with steep jagged rocks at the mouth on both sides, and fully exposed to the terrific southwest gale which still swept merrily over the bay as though in a tide race, and while the settlers were searching among the wreckage they saw two bodies, both of which were recovered with boat hooks found among the wreckage. Two other bodies which were beaten against the rocks could not be recovered, but it is reported that they have since come ashore. It is considered impossible for a man to land alive, so rocky is the vicinity where the wreck occurred. On the rocks a handkerchief and collar were found with the name "A. S. Daurie" and a handkerchief and socks marked with the name "Wormell." Two of the bodies recovered and buried are described as follows:

One, height 5 feet 6 inches, light hair, sandy mustache, stars and stripes tattooed on right arm with circle on flag and date 1875.

Another, 5 feet 10 inches, heavy build, age about 30, dark hair and Union Jack on right arm.

The first body found was still bleeding from cuts in the head, showing death had occurred but a short time before. It is believed that the captain's wife was among those lost in the wreck, for among the miscellaneous wreckage washed ashore is a woman's grey coat, trimmed with red cord. Scraps of a log book with the inscription, "John Houston, master Donald Cameron, mate," were also found. Three of the ship's boats were washed ashore.

The search for the bodies of the victims is being continued.

SALVAGE STEAMER LEAVES FOR SCENE OF THE WRECK

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 28.—The salvage steamer Salvor, maintained at Esquimalt by Lloyd's agency and the Canadian government, today went to the scene of the wreck of the British bark Pass of Melfort, from which broken wreckage is still coming ashore, including much of the cabin fittings. More bodies are reported to have been seen near shore. In all about 25 men are believed to have been discovered when the big steel bark foundered on the rocks off Amplitrite Point. The greater portion of the wreckage, all of which is much broken, is being washed on the rocks in a small bay a quarter of a mile east of Amplitrite Point. Settlers from Ucluelet, the nearest village, about seven miles from the scene of the wreck, are starting a systematic search for the corpses of the wreck's victims, to give them burial ashore. The remains of the three men already found were interred today. Captain Gaudin, agent of marine, who is awaiting advice from Ucluelet, has instructed Captain Harris of the steamer Salvor to spare no effort in the endeavor to recover the bodies of the bark's crew and to identify all possible.

REVOLT MAY END IN BIG MASSACRE

Final Demonstration by Black Hundred Feared.

PRISONS FILLING UP WITH CAPTURED REVOLUTIONISTS

Four Thousand Strikers March Out of Moscow and Destroy Railway.

Mistchenko Rumored Hurt.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 28.—According to advices received by the government tonight, the "rebellion at Moscow is entering on its final stage."

The same guerrilla warfare was continued today, but on a smaller scale.

Governor General Doubasoff is acting with great energy, and hundreds of members of the "Druzhina" are already behind the bars.

The strikers have lost heart and the workmen's council is considering the question of calling off the strike.

The principal danger now seems to be that the "Black Hundred" will complete the work begun by the troops and end the revolt with a horrible massacre. The lower classes are represented as enraged at the attempt of the revolutionaries to overthrow the emperor and even with the best intentions, it may be impossible for the authorities to restrain the fury of these classes once the opportunity is offered them. The attacks made on striking railroad men at wayside stations sufficiently show the temper of the peasant class.

Four thousand strikers marched out of Moscow and completely destroyed several miles of the railroad track between St. Petersburg and Moscow, thirty miles outside of Moscow, in order to prevent the arrival of troops bearing the Semenovskiy battalion of the Horse guard, and the trains backed away to Moscow, whence it is understood, the troops will proceed on foot for their destination.

REMOVED THAT MISTCHENKO WAS WOUNDED BY BULLET

St. Petersburg, Dec. 28.—The Bourse Gazette this morning prints a rumor that Lieutenant General Mistchenko while in the streets of Moscow was wounded by a stray bullet.

The paper also prints a rumor that Count Vorontsoff-Dezhnev, viceroy of the Caucasus, has been recalled on account of his failure to pacify the lieutenant.

MOSCOW SAYS REVOLT IS PRACTICALLY OVER

Moscow, Dec. 28.—The revolt is practically over and the strike will be called off Monday.

Comparative quiet prevailed today, only a few fanatics are continuing the struggle.

RELATIONS OF RUSSIA AND GERMANY STRAINED

London, Dec. 28.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times reports that the relations between Russia and Germany are distinctly strained and that there is a possibility of international complications arising from the rebellion in the Baltic provinces.

HUNDREDS OF ARRESTS ARE MADE IN ODESSA

Odessa, Dec. 28.—Martial law has been proclaimed in this city. The strike, however, is nearly over. Hundreds of arrests have been made.

RIFLES AND REVOLVERS SEIZED

St. Petersburg, Dec. 28.—The energetic measures taken by the government have completely overturned the plans of the revolutionaries in St. Petersburg. Practically all the leaders have been arrested. The few remaining at liberty are in hiding. The police believe they have captured most of the stores of rifles and revolvers. Nevertheless the leaders from their hiding places still continue to assure their followers that all goes well.

Warsaw Strike Weakens.

Warsaw, Dec. 28.—The general strike is weakening. The shops are open and cabs are circulating in the center of the city. The employees of factories and street railroads are still on strike. Soldiers occasionally have conflicts with the agitators. Yesterday they killed four and wounded twelve.

Backbone of Rebellion Broken.

Moscow, Wednesday, Dec. 27.—The backbone of the insurrection is broken and the uprising here is rapidly going to pieces. The revolutionaries are able to keep up only the guerrilla warfare, but the ease with which they can move from one place to another in small detachments renders the task of suppressing them slow and tedious. The city of Moscow bears the appearance of a battlefield.

To Protect Americans.

Washington, Dec. 28.—The administration will send a squadron and not a single ship to European waters for use in the Russian crisis in case American life and property is menaced. At a conference yesterday between the president, Secretary Root and Secretary Bonaparte, instructions were sent to Admiral Sigsbee, commander of the cruiser squadron of the North Atlantic fleet, to proceed with the Brooklyn, Galveston, Tacoma and Chattanooga to Madeira. Then, if necessary arises, the squadron will go to the Baltic. Otherwise it will winter at Naples.

Yerkes Still Living.

New York, Dec. 28.—A bulletin issued tonight as to the condition of Charles T. Yerkes, stated that there had been no marked change during the past 24 hours. Dr. Loomis, the attending physician, added that while there were no immediate symptoms of approaching death, the end might come at any moment.

SAYS PRESBYTERIANS WILL EFFECT UNION AT ONCE

Chairman Roberts Declares There Will Be No Hitch.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 28.—There is no danger whatever that union between the Northern Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian churches will not be effected," said Rev. Dr. W. H. Roberts, of Philadelphia, chairman of the Northern Presbyterian general committee, tonight at the close of the day's proceedings at the Southern hotel. "We are simply waiting for all details to be arranged by the subcommittee of the two churches. The real work will be accomplished tomorrow."

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

TREATY WITH GERMANY IS EXPECTED TO MATERIALIZE

Cologne, Germany, Dec. 28.—The Cologne Gazette prints an inspired dispatch from Berlin calling attention to a report cabled from Berlin to New York representing that German government circles are seriously concerned and even in a nervous condition because the negotiations for a commercial treaty with the United States have come to a standstill. The Berlin correspondent of the paper says:

"The whole matter is regarded here with great calmness and without nervousness. It is wholly untrue that the negotiations are halting. On the contrary they are proceeding at a normal pace. The existing difficulties in recasting Germany's tariff relations with the United States cannot prejudice a calm and purely objective treatment of the matter."

Parsons' Body Arrives.

Laredo, Texas, Dec. 28.—The body of the late consul general Parsons arrived here today from Mexico on route to Albany, N. Y. The remains were brought to the United States on the special car, "President Diaz."

The backers of the horse won a large amount in side bets, as the horse has been in bad form for the past several days, having caught a severe cold. The time was 2:09 1/2.

Bar Association Meets.

Secretary R. H. Hanna, of the New Mexico Bar association, has issued a circular advising members that the next meeting of the association will be called to order at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of Monday, the 8th day of January, in the supreme court chambers in the capitol building in Santa Fe.

A full attendance of members is requested as important business will be brought before the association and as the question how best to dispose of the delinquent members, will be discussed and settled.

Members, who are now in arrears for dues, should promptly remit such to the secretary.

Among those who will be sentenced are John Cornetto, for assault on Attorney Felix Lester, Pasquale Cutillo and Joe Badaracco for violation of the Sunday law and allowing minors to frequent their saloons.

Can't Examine Sully Accounts

New York, Dec. 28.—Judge Holt in the United States district court today handed down an opinion overruling the findings of the referee in bankruptcy in the case of Sully and company, cotton brokers, and sustaining the appeal taken by the trustees in bankruptcy. The court decides that Hawley & Ray, formerly associated with Sully and company have no right to examine the books of Sully and company or to re-examine the claims

NEGRO'S BODY IS RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

Savage Lynching in Alabama
Town.

ALEXANDER McDONALD KILLED
FOR ATTACK ON POLICEMAN

After Hundred Shots Are Fired at Victim Body Is Dragged Several Miles by a Rope.

Athens, Ala., Dec. 28.—One of the most savage lynchings ever recorded in the south occurred yesterday in this county as a result of which Alexander McDonald, a Birmingham negro, is dead with his body riddled with more than a hundred bullets. The negro was literally perforated with bullet holes.

The crime for which McDonald received mob justice was an attempt upon the life of a policeman named Henry Nichols, at Elkmont, when the officer attempted to arrest the negro for being drunk and disorderly. The negro made a savage attack on the officer and had not help arrived would have undoubtedly killed him. As it was Nichols was slightly injured. McDonald fled, pursued by over a hundred furious citizens. He was captured a few miles from Elkmont and almost every member of the mob, which numbered considerably over a hundred, fired a shot at the terrified negro. His body was dragged back to town at the end of a long rope after which the mob suddenly and mysteriously disappeared.

Will Not Prosecute Walsh.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Secretary Shaw arrived from Washington this morning on private business. In an interview he practically declared there would be no criminal proceedings growing out of the closing of the Chicago National Bank and the Home Savings Bank in this city. He said: "John R. Walsh has not taken a dollar dishonestly. He did no more than many other bankers in the United States are doing all the time."

STRANGER O MAD WOLVES WINS $1000 IN MEXICO

San Antonio, Texas, Dec. 28.—Great loss of domestic animals is being sustained in northern Mexico from coyotes and wolves with rabies. Cattlemen from the Rio Grande country say practically all the coyotes beyond the river are mad, and that cattlemen are scouring the country and exterminating them.

Several Mexican children at Coahuila have been bitten and died. The spread of rabies to Texas is feared.

To Cut Out Indian Graft.

Washington, Dec. 28.—A number of protests have been made both at the White House and at the interior department, against the bill passed by the Chickasaw council several weeks ago, creating the position of disbursing agent, through whose hands, it is provided, shall pass all the money that will be paid to the members of the tribe in the closing of their affairs. The bill passed provides that the disbursing agent shall receive 10 per cent of all the money paid out by him in this manner, and that it has been estimated that his emoluments will amount to about $2,000,000. The bill needs the approval of the president to become a law, and it is not likely that it would receive this, even if there were no protests, for the Curtis bill, which is likely to be the basis of the law for closing the affairs of all the tribes, provides that the distribution of the moneys due the Indians, both from the funds held by the government in trust and from the sale of their mineral lands and other property shall be made by officers of the federal government. About the only duty that will be left to the chiefs to perform will be to sign and deliver deeds to allotments.

THE PIGSKIN REFORM IS UNDER WAY

Sixty-Eight Institutions Now in Movement.

NEW YORK CONFERENCE
STARTS BALL A-ROLLING

Rules Committee Begins Work--President Schurman Warmly Defends the Great Game.

New York, Dec. 28.—A concerted movement toward reforming the game of football in the colleges and universities of America was begun here today, when representatives of sixty-eight institutions of learning agreed to act together in securing the adoption of rules and an enforcement of them, that are expected materially to lessen the danger to players, do away with mass formations and secure permanent officials for intercollegiate contests.

The conference has effected a permanent reorganization and appointed a rules committee of seven which will communicate with the representatives of Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Ann Arbor and Chicago university, constituting the existing committee on rules, asking for an amalgamation of that body. None of the aforesaid mentioned universities was represented at today's conference. If they refuse to join with the committee appointed today, the latter will act independently and formulate rules for the guidance of the institutions ratifying today's action.

The following resolutions were passed:

"Whereas, The game of football as practiced under existing rules by students of the educational institutions in the United States has developed undesirable features, the regularly accredited representatives of the faculty of educational institutions from all sections of the country in convention assembled in New York City, December 28, 1905, in an effort to remove this objectionable phase of the sport, hereby

"Resolved, That this conference recommend that the academic authorities of this country hold themselves as ultimately responsible for the conduct of athletics within their respective institutions.

"Resolved, That it is recommended that the executive committee of the permanent organization take cognizance among other things of the vital questions of eligibility of students who take part in athletic games and sports and report at an early time as practicable on rules and recommendations for the conduct of all such matters.

"Resolved, That the action taken at this conference on football shall be submitted to all colleges actually engaged in the game, with the request that the same be ratified and shall be binding on any institution only upon ratification by that institution."

Among the institutions represented at the conference were the Universities of Colorado and Kansas, and Colorado college.

SCHURMAN DECLARES CRITICISM OF FOOTBALL AND FRENZIED

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 28.—President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell university, in an address before the Associated Academic principals of the state of New York, tonight placed himself on record as a staunch friend of football, declaring that the recent criticism of the game, "if not hysterical and frenzied, is at least one-sided and unfair."

President Schurman urged that the game should not be abolished. Modify it, he suggested, so as to remove the extra hazards, but to abolish it, he asserted, would be to do away with the most popular sport of the youth of the country and of the American people themselves.

President Schurman's theme was, "National Greatness," and he devoted considerable attention to the physical training of the youth, he declared outdoor sports take the place in this country of the military service required in Germany.

PAYN SAYS THE MUTUAL DIDN'T CORRUPT HIM

Former Superintendent How Trifles Have Sealed Territories' Doom.

DECLARES REPORT THAT
HE GOT $40,000 IS FALSE

Emphatically Denies That He Was Bribed to Let Company Write
Report of Investigation.

New York, Dec. 28.—Louis F. Payn and J. Rider Cady, who was employed at times as counsel by Mr. Payn while the latter was state superintendent of insurance, were the witnesses today before the insurance investigating committee, who furnished all of the interesting testimony, notwithstanding the fact that more witnesses were examined than any other day since the investigation began.

Mr. Payn was called to complete his testimony of yesterday and in reply to one of the first questions asked him, emphatically denied the report that he had received $40,000 from the Mutual Life Insurance company, and had allowed that company to write its own report of an investigation which

Mr. Payn had caused to be made in 1899. Mr. Payn characterized the report as false, and said that it grew out of a fight between James D. Wells, former vice president of the Mutual Reserve, and President Burnham of the same company.

Judge Cady was brought into the investigation by reason of his having appeared before Mr. Payn in the interests of Prussian companies seeking admission to the United States. This application was denied by Mr. Payn, but two years later was granted.

President McCurdy of the Mutual Life Insurance company had asked that this permission be held up until he could see Mr. Payn. This request was refused, but Mr. Payn had Judge Cady call upon Mr. McCurdy.

Mr. Hughes asked if Mr. McCurdy said the Mutual Life would pay any money for a contrary decision. Judge Cady said he did not, but that Mr. McCurdy offered him a retainer in behalf of the Mutual Life, which he refused.

The New York office of the insurance department was inquired into when Robert Hunter, deputy superintendent was called. Mr. Hunter could add nothing as to the conduct of the insurance department to what had already been supplied.

It was brought out that through his influence he had had a medical examination of the Equitable Life Assurance society in Poughkeepsie discharged.

Accumulative evidence on the allotment of the 1,000 shares of stock of the Lawyers' Mortgage company, which while held for the Mutual Life Insurance company were accredited to members of the finance board, was taken in the examinations of Addison Iselin and G. Haven, and Frederick Cromwell, the present acting president of the Mutual Life.

Henry Morganthau, of the Lawyers' Mortgage Insurance company, told how Mr. McCurdy had become indignant because he had not been allotted shares in the Lawyers' Title Insurance and Trust company, and to appease him a block of Lawyers' Mortgage Insurance company stock was offered him, but he would not take it, and further gave Mr. Morganthau to understand that no applications for loans from either company would receive consideration from the Mutual Life.

When Mr. Cromwell was on the stand he was asked what consideration he had given to economics in the Mutual Life.

He said he could not give the exact figures for the record, but that there would be a saving of perhaps a million and a half dollars next year. He added that the most unpleasant duty he had had to perform was that of being headman in discharging employees during the last few weeks.

Late in the day the United States Life company's affairs was taken up by Mr. Hughes. The president of the company, John P. Munn, was called to the stand. He submitted a number of statements of syndicate participations which were read for the record, also statements of the cost of insurance to his company. He will resume tomorrow.

District Attorney Jerome today received a copy of all the evidence thus far submitted to the insurance investigating committee. There are numerous volumes.

Will Not Live in France.

New York, Dec. 28.—James Hazen Hyde, former first vice president of the Equitable Life today sailed for France. "I am going to France," he said, "for a few months' rest. I wish to deny emphatically that I am going to leave America to make my home in France. I am tired out and I feel the need of rest."

Fire at Niagara.

Niagara Falls, Dec. 28.—The Porter hotel, Imperial hotel and Temperance house and several other buildings were badly damaged by fire this morning. The guests of the hotels escaped without injury. The loss is estimated at $140,000.

COURSE OF STATEHOOD IS STORMY

How Trifles Have Sealed Territories' Doom.

HANDSHAKE BY ELKINS
ONCE DEFEATED ADMISSION

Review of Struggle to Enter Union
Shows How Congress Has Juggled With the Southwest.

Correspondence Morning Journal.

Washington, Dec. 24.—It often requires an object lesson to impress the house and get action, especially if a question deals with the comforts or necessities of the members.

The omnibus statehood bill, giving statehood to Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma had been favorably reported from the house committee on territories and was under consideration of the fifty-seventh congress. Representative Overstreet, of Indiana, had offered an amendment to the bill to strike out separate statehood for Arizona and New Mexico and admit them as one state. Delegate Mark Smith, of Arizona, was recognized in opposition to the amendment. He made an earnest, feeling and eloquent speech against the amendment. The members crowded around him to catch every word of his argument.

Just as he concluded his strong plea for single statehood, he was observed to reel, and would have fallen had not a member caught him. Mr. Wilson, who represented the Brooklyn district, was in the cloak room preparing to leave the house, when informed that his professional services were needed at once. Fortunately for Delegate Smith, Mr. Wilson had with him his pocket emergency case, and by a prompt injection of a heart stimulant, Smith was promptly restored. It was then that the house was impressed with the need of emergency medical material, and the next day Dr. Wilson introduced a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, making provision for the purchase of a medical chest and the fitting up of a room for the use of the members who should be suddenly taken ill. The senate, it is perhaps needless to remark, has long provided for just such emergencies.

The speech of Delegate Smith killed the Overstreet amendment by an overwhelming vote, and the delegate from Arizona is as bitterly opposed to joint statehood today as he was when he made his telling speech against it in the forty-seventh congress.

The course of statehood has not run smoothly for New Mexico or Arizona, and if they are admitted into the union at the present session of congress it will only be after great travail, according to present indications.

Statehood Lost By a Handshake.

Twenty-nine years ago New Mexico was much nearer separate statehood than she is today. She lost the great boon by a handshake. If the story handed down from old days is true, Stephen B. Elkins was delegate in congress from New Mexico, and Henry M. Teller was delegate from the territory of Colorado.

An arrangement had been made looking to the admission of both territories, and the two delegates were moving heaven and earth to accomplish their purpose.

At that time Julius Caesar Burrows was a young and militant member of congress from Michigan. The civil war had not been forgotten, and it was still a favorite diversion of northern members of congress to wave the bloody shirt. None of the young and aspiring members of congress was more eloquent or more impassioned than the young Roman from Michigan. On a certain eventful occasion he rose in the house and delivered an oration that tore the bloody shirt to tatters, breathed threatenings and slaughter to the south, and impressed upon a palpitating country the tremendous fact that if one war was not enough, the north was ready and anxious to fight another. It was a glorious effort, and Julius Caesar Burrows sat down, breathless and perspiring, to receive the congratulations of his sympathizers.

Mr. Elkins' Break.

Seated next to Mr. Burrows was the delegate from New Mexico, the impressive Stephen B. Elkins. In an excess of fervor, caused by the eloquence of the Michiganian, Mr. Elkins jumped from his seat and threw his arm around Burrows, giving him a hearty handshake in commendation of his mastery of the subject. This excess of friendly sympathy was instantly noted by the democrats of the south, and when the time came to vote upon the admission of New Mexico as a state, the south threw its vote almost unanimously against the proposition.

Mr. Elkins discovered, too late, that a handshake had been his undoing. Henry M. Teller managed to repress his enthusiasm over the bloody shirt speech, and the southern members made no objection to the admission of Colorado as a state. From that day to this, New Mexico has often been on the verge of blossoming into a state, but something has always thwarted her ambition.

Oklahoma and Indian Territory would have been admitted as a single state last year, but for the work of Senator Hard, of California. A motion to cut the omnibus statehood bill in two carried, and Oklahoma and Indian Territory were, in fact, almost through the stormy waters of the senate when Mr. Bard offered an amendment admitting New Mexico as a single state. It is said the suggestion was made to him by Senator Gorman in the hope of defeating the whole statehood proposition. The senate began to wrangle again, and before it had completed its deliberations on the memorable seventh of February it was clear that congress could not agree upon the admission of any state.

The Hamilton Bill.
So the question comes up again at the present session. It is presented in the identical bill that was lost at the last session. This bill was offered by Mr. Hamilton, of Michigan, in the house, and by Mr. Beveridge, of Indiana, in the senate. It provides for the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one state, and New Mexico and Arizona as another state. No provision is made for a separate vote by each territory concerned, and it is this omission that is most bitterly opposed by those who believe in giving the inhabitants of a territory an opportunity to express their will as to joining with another territory as a state.

The house has held a "conference" on the question, but by a vote of 110 to 65 has declared in favor of the passage of the Hamilton bill. There are, however, evidences of opposition, if not insurrection. The minority, including republicans, allege that snap judgment was taken at the caucus, and that a full and free expression of opinion was not permitted. Among the leaders of the opposition is Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, whose elevation to the chairmanship of the committee on appropriations was expected to make him a steady supporter of all the issues advocated by Speaker Cannon. But while the speaker is in favor of uniting New Mexico and Arizona, in a single state, Mr. Tawney is vigorously opposed to such a plan.

Cannon Wants Action.
Speaker Cannon believes the time is ripe for disposing of the whole statehood question. He is tired of the agitation. He would like to dispose of the question, even at the expense of the feelings of the people of Arizona. His is the national idea—the idea that congress has sole control of the making of states, without regard to the wishes or sentiments of the territories affected. Rather than be pestered with ambitious aspirants for statehood, the speaker would pass the Hamilton bill, admit New Mexico and Arizona without further parley, and leave to destiny the delicate task of harmonizing the discordant and incompatible peoples of the two territories.

The speaker does not overlook, either, the important fact that the wedding of New Mexico and Arizona into one state will put at rest the fear of eastern senators and representatives that the west may gain control of the national councils. It is better to make one state of the two territories now, in short, than to face the inevitable pressure for two states in the near future, each with two senators and several representatives.

Basics of the Opposition.
The opposition to joint statehood for Arizona and New Mexico bases its arguments principally on the ground that the inhabitants of each territory are entitled, as a mere matter of the "square deal," to vote separately upon the question whether they shall be joined in indissoluble union. Those members of congress who visited the territories with Mr. Tawney last summer returned with the firm conviction that neither territory wished to be joined to the other.

The people of Arizona assured the national lawmakers that they were willing to wait indefinitely for statehood rather than to be joined to New Mexico. They asked in any event that they be permitted to vote separately as a territory upon the question of jointure. Their request will doubtless be pressed upon the house during the forthcoming debates.

Senator Beveridge, as chairman of the committee on territories, has charge of the statehood bill in the senate. He predicts that the omnibus bill will be passed during January.

Foraker Has Doubts.
Senator Foraker is not so sure of this. He has offered two amendments to the bill, and has given notice of his intention to make a fight on both of them. One amendment proposes to eliminate from the bill all reference to Arizona and New Mexico, thus providing for the admission only of Oklahoma and Indian Territory. To the admission of these territories there is no objection whatever, so far as known, and if the attention of congress is confined to them the bill should pass without trouble. If the senate should reject this amendment, Mr. Foraker intends to press his second amendment, which provides that the citizens of Arizona and New Mexico shall be permitted to vote separately upon the question of joint statehood. A lively debate is certain to follow the introduction of this amendment.

On the face of it, there would seem to be no logical objection to a vote by each territory on the question of joint statehood. But the advocates of the omnibus bill profess to see in the amendment great evils, tending to thwart the will of the majority of the people. They assert that a powerful lobby is behind the movement, composed of rich mining men and railroad interests in Arizona, who are now immune from taxation. It is alleged that the Santa Fe, the Southern Pacific, the United Verde, the Congress mine, and the Copper Queen are the principal interests opposing joint statehood, and solely on account of the absurdly small taxes that are collected by the territory.

These interests, they argue, are sufficiently influential to swing the election in Arizona if a vote should be taken separately, thus preventing the adoption of a state constitution, even though the agricultural and business interests should favor it. The political ambitions of certain Arizonians are also declared to be involved, inasmuch as jointure with New Mexico would preclude these aspiring statesmen from becoming United States senators and representatives, and so on.

The statement is made with equal positiveness by the representatives of Arizona, including many newspapers published in the territory, that a great majority of the people are unalterably opposed to jointure with New Mexico. They insist that Arizona should be made a separate state, even if she is compelled to wait a decade or longer to gain her point. The protest against joint statehood is based on two reasons, one of them being the alleged diverse business, racial and political interests of the two territories, and the other being the suspicion that eastern senators and representatives are jealous of the growth of the west, and are endeavoring by compelling New Mexico and Arizona to hold down the representation in congress.

While the senate committee on territories is busy with hearings on canal matters, it is possible that the statehood bill will come up for consideration after the holidays. The action of the house caucus would appear to make the passage of the bill a certainty in that branch of congress, but when it reaches the senate there is sure to be a lively if not lengthy debate.

ANTI-SALOONISTS WILL APPEAL TO CONGRESS

LEAGUE FORMED FOR NEW MEXICO AND ARIZONA

The Anti-Saloon League of Arizona and New Mexico was organized yesterday in the Lead Avenue Methodist church in this city under the direction of Organizer W. W. Havens. An opening gun the newly organized league passed a resolution requesting the individual members to write personal letters to congressmen asking that in the event of the admission of New Mexico and Arizona as a joint or single states, a clause be inserted in the bill prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors for twenty years.

Another resolution was adopted providing that a telegram be sent to congress asking for the prohibition of gambling in both territories.

The officers and directors elected yesterday are as follows:

Vice President—Dr. H. C. Thomson, of Albuquerque.
Secretary—W. W. Bacon, of Albuquerque.

A SMALL AUDIENCE HEARS SPLENDID PERFORMANCE

MISS IDA ASHURST BREMEN SUPPORTED BY LOCAL TALENT

The concert given last night at the Elks' theater for the benefit of the Associated Charities of Albuquerque was a great musical success, although the audience was not half what it should have been considering the exceptionally high merit of the performance. Miss Ida Ashurst Bremen is one of the most gifted pianists in America, and those who overlooked the opportunity of hearing her were unwise. She is a finished artist and her technique especially is most admirable. She was well supported last night by local talent, the best in the city, including Miss Ada Campbell, soprano; R. W. Hadden, violinist; Joseph A. Blondin, cellist; and Miss Chestnut, accompanist. All of the Albuquerque musicians showed their usual ability and the concert throughout was a treat. The town which Miss Bremen was last night and which has excited great admiration was an exquisite Worth creation, imported from Paris, and one of the most beautiful ever seen on an Albuquerque stage.

The following program was rendered:

1. Trio—March Funebre...Svensen
Ida Ashurst Bremen, R. W. Hadden, J. A. Blondin.

2. Sonata—F. Major, for Violin and Piano (opus 8)...Grieg

SANTA FE NOT THE ONLY HOBO HIDDEN RAILWAY

Southern Pacific Wrestling
With Tramp Problem.

HOBO-CATCHER BETENCUE
RIVALS CHARLEY MAINZ

The Santa Fe is not the only line that is being pestered by hoboes. The Southern Pacific is wrestling with the tramp problem. One of the road's special agents has gained as great a fame among the pedestrian fraternity as has Charles Mainz, special officer of the Santa Fe at Isleta. Mainz is, however, gaining a reputation as the terror of hoboes while Betencue, the Southern Pacific man, is a noted "hobo catcher." He is an adept in the art of rounding up the Weary Willies. For some time past or ever since the cold weather in the northern and eastern part of the United States has set in the line of the Southern Pacific has been over run with tramps. In several instances they have assaulted trainmen who refused them the right to ride free and at El Paso last week several cars were burned by the tramps. At all of the larger stations on the road in Arizona there are at the present time according to Mr. Betencue gangs of from ten to forty of these individuals and they are at all times ready to steal or rob for a living. In his work of keeping them under surveillance he is being assisted by two of the members of the "range" force. Phoenix, he says, is marked up as a hard town to get into by the hobo fraternity, but the territorial fair advertisements induce many of them to make the trip to the Arizona capital. Every winter the railroad has been overrun by these tramps but this year it appears that the number is larger than ever before.

SANTA FE ENGINES CUT
ITALIAN'S HEAD FROM BODY

Shocking Accident at Railway Crossing in Trinidad.

Trinidad, Dec. 15.—The Chronicle-News says: Miguel Albo, an Italian gardener living in the northern part of the city, was killed this morning by being run over and crushed by two Santa Fe push engines coming down the hill. His head was almost severed from his body and was completely crushed, while the upper part of the body was horribly mangled. The man started to cross the Santa Fe track at the crossing near the power house of the Electric Railway company. He had driven up to the side of the track and waited for the train to pass that was going over the north track. What the man could not see was two push engines coming down the hill on the other track and as soon as the end of the first train had passed he started across the track. His horse got clear of the engine but the wagon was struck at the front wheels and was smashed to kindling wood. Albo was caught and thrown under the wheels, being dragged about twenty feet before the engine could be stopped.

The engineer saw the wagon just as he struck it. He stopped the engine as quickly as he could, but the Italian had evidently been killed instantly, as there was no sign of life in the body when the mangled remains were dragged from beneath the wheels.

RAILWAY EMPLOYEES MUST
SHUN THE TIGER

Speedy dismissal from the service has been promised any employee of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad who hereafter frequents any saloon or gambling house. The superintendents of the two divisions have been requested to cut from the company's rolls the names of any man who is found in a gambling house or saloon when he is called for duty.

H. J. Simmons, general manager of the Southwestern, has just issued a bulletin, under date of December 21, which states the rule against gambling in strong terms. The bulletin says:

"Any employee of the system who is known to frequent saloons or gambling houses will be dismissed from the service."

"Any trainman or engineman who is found in any saloon or gambling house when called to go on his run will be dismissed from the service of the road."

"Superintendents will rigidly enforce this rule."

Laborers Wanted in Mexico.

One of the most obstinate drawbacks to the work on the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad west of Minnaca has been the inability of contractors who have charge of the operations to get labor. Good men are scarce in that section of the country, as it is in all parts, and the extensive contract calls for so many laborers that the contractors can not meet the demand.

Since the cold weather set in it has been easier to get men to work on the railroad, but there is work for many more employees along the railroad and the present force would be greatly augmented by the addition of two or three hundred men.

The recent floods in this section of the republic have put many farmers out of business for the remainder of the season and as they have no means of support, they have been obliged to adopt laboring and have therefore gone to the railroad men and this has somewhat helped out the situation.

A Gift for Contractors.

A full leather train book cover, with name on the side in gold would be a most suitable gift for your railroad friend, sweetheart, husband or brother. Get them of Mitchell & Lithgow, the bookbinders at the Journal office.

NO CLUE TO THE FATE OF DEAD NEGRO NEAR JARILLA JUNCTION

Complete mystery surrounds the death of Tom Wilson, a negro, who was discovered Tuesday night in the brush half a mile from the Southwestern station at Jarilla, New Mexico, with his throat cut from ear to ear.

Wilson's wife was found beside the track near the station, shortly after the Golden State limited from the west had passed. She is at the Alamogordo hospital in a critical condition. She has not regained consciousness since she was found, and the men who are investigating the case say that unless she is able to throw some light on the manner in which she received her injuries, the subject will probably remain as great a mystery as it is at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were from Fort Smith, Ark., and had tickets to Tucson, Ariz. They were well dressed and appeared to be on prosperous condition.

A colored woman who was on the train with them—the westbound Golden State limited which reached El Paso Sunday afternoon—says that they appeared to be extremely nervous. After they passed Dalhart, Texas, whose inhabitants are credited with a strong antipathy for the colored race, they were restless and moved about considerably. They kept close watch on every white person.

Some time after the train had passed Jarilla Junction, this colored woman missed the negro and his wife and began to search the train for them. She found their lunch basket, telescope and umbrella, but they were gone. The articles were brought to El Paso and are at present in the keeping of the railroad.

Makes Real Diamonds

A REPORT from New York, which appears to be authentic, tells us that the chief engineer of one of the underground cable companies of the metropolis has succeeded in making real diamonds in an arc furnace. As to the details of the manufacture, we are told that in the furnace in which the gems are produced, the heat is raised to four thousand five hundred degrees Centigrade, and in this intense heat the manufacturer, or discoverer, places a quantity of soft iron and pulverized graphite, the compound being covered with charcoal. An electric current of one thousand amperes and five hundred volts is turned on and the graphite is fused. Then the crucible is plunged instantly into a tank of ice cold water, and the seething mass undergoes a wonderful metamorphosis. Through the tremendous pressure exerted by the contracting of the iron, the fused graphite is forced to distribute itself throughout the molten metal, when it crystallizes itself into real diamonds. The engineer believes that his crystals are produced by the same process that nature employed in making those we find in the earth, and if his conclusion is correct we may soon expect to see the bottom fall out of the diamond market.

THE Santa Fe New Mexican appraises the Morning Journal at eighty thousand dollars. The editor of the New Mexican is a shrewd business man, and if he could be assured that he could buy the Morning Journal for $80,000, with the New Mexican plant thrown in, he would be in Albuquerque before tomorrow morning to close the bargain. As the only morning paper in a district larger than the six New England states, New York, New Jersey and Delaware, combined, the Journal occupies a better field, present and prospective, than any other paper between the Mississippi and the Pacific ocean, and no one appreciates the importance of this fact more thoroughly than the editor of the New Mexican.

PERSONS in New Mexico or Arizona who are interested in the success of joint statehood might accomplish much good by writing letters to senators or members of the house, in regard to the matter. Hitherto, we have allowed the other side to make all the noise. It is time now for those who are in favor of statehood to let themselves be heard.

REVIEWING the life insurance revelations, the New York Herald concludes that this will have to be a very mild winter if the wind is to be tempered to the shorn lambs.

What Shall We Do About It?

WHAT to do about the Isle of Pines matter, is a question that has two sides. The suzerainty of that little patch of land, not bigger than this county, lying out in the Caribbean sea, is a very small matter to the world, or to the United States, but to the few thousands of American citizens who have made their homes there under the official assurance given them by representatives of our government that the island was American soil, and under the American flag, it is the largest matter there is—it is the paramount issue, and therefore the senate and the administration should make haste slowly in the disposition of it. The fact that there are but few Americans there has no bearing upon the question. If there were but a dozen of them the obligation of the government to defend and protect them in their persons and property would be just the same as though they numbered a million. That's the glory of the flag, that it stands for us all, singly as well as in multitudes.

The only question in the matter is, whether the island is American soil—whether it came to us or went to Cuba under the treaty of Paris. Mr. McKinley, and his administration, interpreted the treaty as giving the island to us, and under that interpretation these people made their homes there and invested their money there. Mr. Roosevelt, and his administration, now interpret the treaty as giving the island to Cuba, and under that interpretation those American citizens who went there under the official assurance that it was American soil, are left in a bad fix—about as we would be if our government should cede this territory to Old Mexico. For this the government of the United States is responsible, and it should be held accountable for any losses its citizens may have suffered on account of its blundering.

There are but very few American citizens who would be willing to take from Cuba an acre of land that rightfully belongs to her, and we are sure there are but few who would be willing to surrender to her any territory that rightfully belongs to us. Hence it is important that our government and the government of Cuba should settle this question, one way or the other, now and for all time, and in the settlement of it have a just regard for the rights of those citizens of this country who have settled there under the assurance that they were locating on American soil and under the American flag.

Stand by the President

BOSTON business interests, on the whole, says the Springfield Republican, have been considered hostile to the policy of federal control of interstate railroad rates. It is particularly worthy of notice, therefore, that the Boston-associated board of trade has adopted a resolution squarely in favor of the plan recommended by President Roosevelt. It is as follows:

"That this board reaffirms its previous action relative to the control and regulation of railroad rates, and urges the passage at the coming session of congress of such legislation as will vest the interstate commerce commission with the power, where a given rate has been challenged, and after a full hearing found to be unreasonable, to decide, subject to judicial review, what shall be a reasonable rate to take its place, the ruling of the commission to take effect in 30 days and to remain until it is revised by the court of review."

It is pretty safe to say, adds the Republican, that the manufacturing and mercantile interests of Massachusetts generally hold a similar position.

THE Washington Star says the recent order of the interior department relating to the rental of forest reserves for grazing, is causing much discussion in the west, and various suggestions have been offered. There is opposition on the part of a number of western people to any charge for grazing in the forest reserves, and other interesting questions deal with the method of giving permits, especially as to preference among the applicants.

Stories of the Streets and of the Town

A Frigid Experience.

"If I don't have pneumonia it is because I have a pair of cast iron lungs," said a wheezy Albuquerque man to the Space Filler yesterday. "Hear that cough? I wish while I think of it you would direct me to a first class undertaker." And the complainant sneezed a sneeze which caused the branches of the trees across the street to move perceptibly. "What's the matter?" was the sympathetic inquiry.

"O, nothing serious," said the wheezy man, "only there'll be a little addition to the graveyard in a few days. I went down to El Paso the other night. That sounds like a warn 'tip, doesn't it? El Paso—down on the border of the rainy southern republic. Yes, it sounds really picturesque, and you almost need a fan to think about it. Well, in reality, it's different."

"I got on the sleeper early in the evening and turned in at once. It was a little chilly, and I was surprised to find that there was only one thin little blanket in the berth. There was no porter in sight, so I thought I'd call for a blanket after a bit, and crawled in under my overcoat. I slept about half an hour and woke up shivering, and called the porter."

"Bring me some bed clothes," I said, rather abruptly.

"Sorry, Mistah," he apologized, "but we've a little short on bed clothes. Dat's all dey is."

"What's the matter with the heating apparatus?" I asked.

"What's wrong with the stove?" "Sorry, sah, but we've a little short on coal."

"After shivering a little while longer, I got up in desperation, with rattling teeth and put on my clothes. Back in the ante-room I met the conductor. It was all dark, barring his lantern."

"What's the matter with the heat?" I asked again.

"Haven't got a bit of coal," said the conductor. "I begged for just one bucket at Albuquerque, but couldn't even get that."

"What's the matter with the lights?" I inquired.

"Sorry, but the gas is all gone," said the conductor. "Haven't got a bit."

Then I broke it to the conductor that I'd willingly have gone and bought a bucket of coal and presented it to the Pullman company with the compliments of the glad Christmas season. He didn't say anything then, nor when I asked him the price of candles. But there wasn't any use to kick, so I sat there and read the hotel directory the rest of the night by the light of that lantern occasionally taking a run up and down the car to see if any part of me was frost-bitten. But it was the most ghastly ride I ever hope to take."

Calling His "Attention."

District Attorney Clancy has received a rather curious anonymous letter about the Sunday closing law. The author, who is unwilling to make his identity known, is evidently laboring under a misapprehension.

The law declares that for the purposes of the act, "Sunday shall be regarded as the time between sunrise and midnight of said day." The law forbids the performance of any labor on Sunday, except "works of necessity, charity or mercy." But anyway, the letter is worth reading, and its publication with this explanation may help to correct misapprehension in other quarters as to when the lid is supposed to begin and end. It says:

Hon. Frank Clancy,
 Dear Sir—As a citizen and a Resident of Albuquerque I would like to call your attention to the Sunday Closing Law of the Saloons of this City why not have the Saloons close at twelve O'clock Saturday Night is it Not Sunday until Six O'clock in the Morning I Notice that as soon as it is 12 O'clock Sunday Night the Saloons opens and I should think it was your Duty to see that they closed Saturday Night at 12 O'clock and I don't see how you or any one calls the Saloons closed when the front door of one Saloon is open and a man sitting inside the Bar and another Saloon is wide open only a wire netting along the front of the Bar as a Citizen of Albuquerque I would rather see them all open than to see things run in this way and if you would call the attention of the New Sheriff to this Matter I am sure it would be Done Right as I am sure that He will Do His Duty I Have Lived in the town over twenty years and Never Have Made a word of complaint but seeing how the Law is abused I think I Have a right to call your attention to this Matter if not I will abide by your Decision and Let things take their course you can publish this Letter if you See Fit or do just what you think best about it, as I Have the confidence in you that you will Do what is right in the Matter,
 Yours Truly

This company is working on the new idea of presenting subjects that are long and complete—each one having a general theme and plot as truly as any first class play. The leading headliner is "Parsifal," which has recently created so much comment in the papers of the large cities. It is 2,000 feet long and colored the entire length. Second comes the big war feature, "Battle of the Yalu," 1,700 feet long. Then come the two great comedy subjects, "The Escaped Lunatic," and "Chicken Thief," one 1,400 and the other 1,100 feet long, and they are brim full of humor and are guaranteed to cause everyone to laugh, even those who generally recognize humor with only a smile.

TEACHERS CENSURE SANTA FE FOR REFUSING RATES

Warm Resolutions Passed Yesterday.

MEETING OF EDUCATORS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL ON RECORD

One of the chief matters of interest connected with the closing session of the New Mexico Educational association yesterday was a resolution in which the organization censured the Santa Fe Railway company for declining to give the former low rates to teachers this year. This resolution condemned the alleged change of attitude toward educational interests on the part of the Santa Fe company and asserted that the action of the company in refusing rates as usual was inimical not only to educational interests but the real interests of the railroad itself. The resolutions passed were as follows:

"We sincerely thank the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company for the favor of half fare to the meetings of this association in past years, but we deprecate and condemn the change of attitude of this company towards educational interests, as manifested by its having increased the fares for the present meeting, and we respectfully but earnestly invite said company to carefully investigate educational conditions in New Mexico, consider the low salaries now being paid to teachers necessarily receive; the self-denial they must exercise in order to attend these meetings; the absolute necessity for an educated population if railroad companies prosper, and see if it cannot in the future manifest a more liberal spirit toward education and educational interests. We thank those railroads that have this year, as in past years, granted members of this association the usual half fare.

"This association approves of and appreciates the efforts now being made by the superintendent of public instruction to visit different parts of the territory in the interests of education. On behalf of these interests we thank the following railroad companies for having granted him transportation and without which he could not visit those portions of the territory reached by said roads: Atlantic & Pacific, the Colorado & Southern, the El Paso & Northeastern system and the Pecos Valley lines."

"We hereby express our appreciation of the uniform kindness shown us by the people of Albuquerque during our stay among them. The press, the local committees of teachers, Superintendent J. E. Clark and Professor Asplund deserve special mention for making the meeting a success.

We heartily recommend the Illinois "Course of Study for Rural Schools," published by Hammond, Stephens & Co., of Fremont, Nebraska, and ask the territorial board of education to recommend it as the teachers' official guide for the territory.

HIRAM C. HADLEY.
C. M. LIGHT.
J. E. CLARK.

A Most Successful Meeting.
Those present at this year's meeting of the association, including the most prominent educators of the territory, are unanimous in their opinion that the meeting was one of the most successful and profitable ever held by the organization. It developed the fact that the cause of education in New Mexico is showing more favorable progress than ever before and the outlook was never brighter. As regards the public schools this progress is due largely to the effective work of the last superintendent and the present one, the late Col. J. Francisco Chaves and Hiram Hadley.

New Officers.
Officers were elected yesterday to act during the ensuing year, and it was decided that the next meeting of the association should be held in Las Vegas. The officers are:

President—W. H. Decker, Gallup.
Vice President—W. E. McFarland, Albuquerque.
Treasurer—R. R. Grant, Las Vegas.
Local Secretary—E. J. Vert, Las Vegas.

Member of executive committee—Prof. C. E. Hodgins, Albuquerque.
The business session opened shortly after 9:30 a. m. It was occupied with the discussion of an amendment to abolish the nominating committee and the committee on place of meeting. The amendment was carried and hereafter officers are to be nominated and elected in open session, and the place of meeting to be decided upon. A local secretary was provided for, to have charge of the business in the city where the meeting was to be held.

The auditing committee reported a deficit from the oratorical contest of $9.85, which was assumed by the Educational association.

The treasurer's report showed $202.35 on hand, after all expenses of the present meeting are paid.

Miss Steinhorn, teacher of drawing in Albuquerque, read an excellent paper on the subject of "The Educational Value of Drawing."

Prof. W. H. Decker, of the Gallup public schools, presented a paper showing thought in preparation on the subject of "History, and Its Value Educationally Considered."

In the afternoon, despite the inclemency of the weather, many of the visitors drove out to the Woolen Mills and the plant of the American Lumber company, where they were courteously shown the sights by the management of each institution. Owing to lack of time the trip to the Santa Fe shops was abandoned, and after stopping at the Indian school for a brief visit, the teachers returned to the city. Many of the visitors left last night for their homes and the remainder will take their departure today.

NEW DIMES GIVE CLUE TO SANTA FE EXPRESS ROBBERY

Suspects Arrested for La Junta Looting.

EL PASO POLICE THINK
THEY HAVE CRIMINALS

The officials of the Santa Fe believe that they are on the trail of the perpetrators of the theft of $4,500 from the Wells Fargo Express company's safe on a Santa Fe train at La Junta ten days ago.

Luis Gonzalez and Demetrio Dominguez are under arrest in El Paso on the charge of being implicated in the robbery. The strongest evidence against the men being the discovery of over two hundred dollars in silver ten-cent pieces. It will be remembered that when the car was entered at La Junta, $2,000 in new dimes was taken, the robbery occurring in the confusion attending the wreck of the express train at the junction. The money was on route from the United States treasury to the coast.

Several days ago captains of police Greet and Mitchell were given information that several Mexicans were engaged in having new dimes changed into larger money at various saloons in El Paso.

At the Klondike saloon, Jack Snyder, the proprietor, said that a Mexican had been changing dimes there. The Legal Tender saloon also did some trading for dimes and dimes in recent change have been found in drug stores, barber shops and elsewhere in the city, all supposed to have been brought there by the Mexicans. Detective Billy Smith and Officer Dawson, after securing a description of the Mexican who had been seen trading dimes at the Klondike and Legal Tender saloons, made the arrests of Gonzalez and Dominguez at the house of Dominguez in East El Paso, where Gonzalez has been living since his arrival in the city about a week ago. Dominguez is the janitor at the Klondike saloon.

In the room occupied by Gonzalez were found dimes to the amount of $24. They were found hidden under the bed clothes. When searched at the police station $195.16 American money was found on Gonzalez.

Gonzalez in his statement to the police said that he recently came to El Paso from Albuquerque, after previously working in Colorado. He denies all knowledge of the robbery.

Dominguez says that when Gonzalez came to his house he had a large number of new dimes, and that Gonzalez gave him $20 worth of the dimes to change into larger money. He admits that he made attempts to make the change, but failed in all of them. When arrested he had $4.75 in dimes on him. Dominguez says that when Gonzalez first came to his house he said that he had lost $1,000 gambling at Juarez.

Both men are locked up in the city jail and will be kept there pending a further investigation.

HURLEY GOES TO EL PASO TO LOOK AT NEW UNION DEPOT

J. E. Hurley, of Topeka, general manager of the Santa Fe system, arrived in the city last evening and went south to El Paso later. Mr. Hurley is the president of the El Paso Union Depot company. The new union depot at that city has just been finished and is in shape to be turned over by the contractors and Mr. Hurley and the directors of the depot company will formally accept the building. It is expected that it will be opened about the fifteenth of January.

Superintendent Parker of the western grand division of the Santa Fe accompanied Mr. Hurley and they expect to be back in Albuquerque on Saturday morning.

COAL DEALERS SAY SCARCITY WILL BE RELIEVED IN FEW DAYS

W. H. Hahn and John S. Heaven, local coal dealers, returned to the city last night from Gallup, where they went to secure coal to relieve the threatened coal famine in this city. They report that they will have a sufficient supply of coal in the future and the incipient famine will be relieved very shortly. The shortage of cars on the Santa Fe is largely responsible for the present condition, as it threw the mines behind in filling orders, and the fire in the big Madrid mine which furnishes the city with Cerrillos coal has added to the scarcity.

The local dealers say that New Mexico is not the only place suffering from a coal famine but that similar conditions prevail all over the southwest, principally owing to the unusual severity of the weather. It is understood that the dealers will endeavor to make an arrangement with the big coal companies whereby an exceptionally low price can be secured in the late summer, at which time consumers can lay in an extra supply to tide over such a crisis as the present.

SUPERINTENDENTS FAVOR THE USE OF ENGLISH IN SCHOOLS

County Officials Perfect Strong Organization.

POWERS AND LIMITATIONS
ARE CLEARLY DEFINED

The first annual meeting of the superintendents of county schools in New Mexico which closed last evening, will have far reaching results. A permanent organization was effected, the aims and objects of which are to bring the county schools of the territory into a unified system, to determine exactly the scope of the activities and supervisory powers of county superintendents, and by concerted action along the most modern lines to give the cause of education in New Mexico a powerful forward movement.

The meeting was attended by nine superintendents, as follows: J. A. Torres, of Socorro county; J. C. Sanchez, of Valencia county; J. F. Silva, of Sandoval county; M. Reelino Garcia, of Santa Fe county; Dr. C. D. Smith, of San Juan county; Dr. C. Leforge, of Colfax county; J. A. Jaramillo, of Torrance county; J. E. Reid, of Chaves county, and A. B. Stroup, of Bernalillo county. Territorial Superintendent Hiram Hadley, who has been instrumental in bringing about the organization, was present. The superintendents transacted an amazing amount of business and passed a rather strenuous day of it, beginning at 8 in the morning and adjourning at 5 last evening, with an hour and a half intermission for lunch. Temporary President and Secretary A. B. Stroup and Dr. Leforge were made permanent officers for the ensuing year, and it was decided that the next meeting would be held a year from this week in Las Vegas, co-incident with the next meeting of the Educational association.

Know "Where They Are At."

As a result of the meeting the county superintendents now have much more clearly defined ideas as to "where they are at." Legal opinions were quoted and conclusions arrived at in answer to questions which have been in doubt in the minds of the officials as to their exact powers and general status in the scheme of territorial education. The meeting developed a spirit of progressiveness and wide-awakeness which portends good to the schools of New Mexico.

English in the Schools.

One of the most encouraging signs manifested was the disposition on the part of all the officials, American and native, to work for the universal use of the English language in the schools of all counties. In answer to a query by Superintendent Hadley, Mr. Garcia, head of the schools of Santa Fe county, said that he would not take $10,000 for his knowledge of the English language, which he had learned by his own efforts outside of his schooling. Mr. Garcia further said that the influence and better results he gained through his knowledge of English had meant everything to him, and that through it he had been enabled to successfully discharge the duties of the office of sheriff, county clerk and county treasurer of Santa Fe county. The other native superintendents are with Mr. Garcia in his opinion that it is imperative that English be the language used in all the schools.

Important Points Discussed.

Among other things the following points were brought out: That the county superintendents have no power to select teachers and fix their compensation, this being the work of the district directors; that the county superintendents should see that their remuneration does not exceed the funds provided for that purpose; that it is the consensus of opinion among the superintendents that warrants should not be endorsed unless there is sufficient money on hand at the time to pay them; that the supervisory powers of the county superintendents are

HOW TO HOLD A HUSBAND.

The best known guide to married happiness is to hold the husband as you would the lover—by cheerfulness of disposition, patience and keeping your youthful looks. Of course a great many women are handicapped by those ills to which women are heir. The constantly recurring troubles which afflict her are apt to cause a sour disposition, nervousness and a belated mind.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, the specialist in woman's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., after a long experience in treating such diseases, found that certain roots and herbs made into a liquid extract, would help the majority of cases. This he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Thousands of women have testified to its merits, and it is put up in shape to be easily procured and is sold by all medicine dealers. This is a potent tonic for the woman's system. So much faith has Dr. Pierce in its merits that he offers $500 reward for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Profluvium, or Falling of Womb, which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.

Mrs. T. Dolan, of Madrid, Perkins Co., Neb., writes: "I was cured of painful periods by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and his Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the best in the world."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Remember: On January 1st we will withdraw from the market, for a time, all unsold lots in the Eastern Addition, Highlands the same as those of the city officials; that when a teacher refuses to act in line with the suggestions of the county superintendent, he shall first appeal to the board of directors and then prefer charges before the territorial board with the view of having his teachers' certificate revoked.

Superintendent Sanchez of Valencia reported that the directors there are now acting on his recommendation that teachers' salaries be graded according to the grade of the certificate: third grade, $20; second grade, $30; first grade, $50 and over.

The meeting advised strict and reasonable enforcement of the poll tax law which, those present reported as being enforced better in the other counties than in Bernalillo.

Special levies for building schools came in for a thorough discussion. It was made clear that the first step is to establish the boundaries of the district. To secure a bond election the county assessor may go into the district and make a special assessment, to be returned to the directors.

Went More School Houses.

It was the consensus of opinion that the law should be taken advantage of and the erection of school houses pushed. Attention was also called to the fact that special levies for school purposes cannot be made without a vote of the people. In this connection it is of interest that the attorney general has decided that the term "taxpayer" includes the man who pays a poll tax, and that all who pay a poll tax are thus entitled to vote on school directors and levies.

It was suggested that the two-mile levy that the territorial auditor now makes for school purposes might well be increased to five miles.

Reid on Institutes.

Mr. Reid of Roswell, superintendent for Chaves county, read an able paper on "Institutes," in which he took the emphatic position that the subject matter to be taught is pre-eminent, and that how to teach was to be considered secondary to "What to Teach," in the institutes. Mr. Reid thought that the best time for holding institutes is the last of May or the first of June. He advised four half-day sessions, each to begin as early in the morning as possible. Mr. Reid made a strong plea for better qualifications for conductors of these institutes holding that the best is by far the cheapest in the long run.

Superintendent Hadley recommended that joint two-county institutes would be an improvement, and thought that the conductor in each case should be a teacher with practical experience in the grades. Regarding examinations, it was decided there should be only one legal "exam" per year for first and second grade certificates, this to be held after the institute, the examination for third grade certificates to be held the last Saturday in June. It was asked that the territorial board furnish the questions, these to be divided, sealed, into four equal parts, one part to be opened on each day of the examination. It is also desired that these examination questions be so framed as to give the best test with the least writing.

It was decided to make a united effort to secure uniform record systems in all the county superintendents' offices.

Superintendent Smith of San Juan county made a strong plea for better qualifications for superintendents, these to be at least first grade teachers with three years' practical experience.

It was recommended that the $200 exemption on assessments for school purposes be done away with.

A vote of thanks was extended by the meeting to Messrs. Hadley, Leforge and Stroup for their efforts in behalf of the organization.

WORKS WONDERS.

A Wonderful Compound—Cures Piles, Eczema, Skin Itching, Skin Eruptions, Itch, Cuts and Bruises.

Doan's Ointment is the best skin treatment, and the cheapest, because so little is required to cure. It cures piles after years of torture. It cures obstinate cases of eczema. It cures all skin itching. It cures skin eruptions. It heals cuts, bruises, scratches and abrasions without leaving a scar. It cures permanently. Albuquerque testimony proves it.

J. H. Cross, of 53 South First Street, employed in the Santa Fe shops, in the mail department, says: "Exposure and sitting on damp logs and cold stones while in the mountains some three months ago, brought on itching hemorrhoids, commonly called piles. While not severe, or serious they were very annoying and I put off doing anything to get relief until compelled to. One evening I stepped into a pharmacy and asked for something to bring relief. I finally decided upon Doan's Ointment. The first application gave relief and in a short time I was practically cured. I have great confidence in this remedy for what it did for me. I never used anything which was so soothing and healing. I recommend it to others and know they will not be disappointed in the results if they give it a trial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The work has been started by Contractor Wallace Hesselton on the big addition to the plant of the Morning Journal, which includes the extension of the building fifty feet in width clear to the alley between Gold and Silver avenues. All members of the Knights of Columbus are requested to attend the funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Alex With, which will occur at the Immaculate Conception church this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Father Mandall will conduct the services and interment will take place in Santa Barbara cemetery.

A Shoe Store in the Making

The shoe business of this clothing store has been built. It is yet possessed of a healthy natural growth. It began small—it expanded—it is still building. Today we sell three times the number of shoes we sold three years ago, six times the number we sold five years ago. WHY? It grew for three main reasons, viz:

Hanan Shoes — Douglas Shoes — Guaranteed Quality

Years ago we sold any make of shoes. Now we concentrate our efforts in selling the two best lines in their respective classes, and guarantee every pair to give entire satisfaction.

Hanan Shoes sell at $5.50 to $6.50.
Douglas Shoes sell at $2.50 to $5.00.
