Open the safe.
NEW YORK, June 13.—Cardinal Gibbon, the head of the Catholic church in America, has made public a statement that bigotry alone is causing the closing of the World's fair on Sunday, and advises all Catholics to go to the fair on Sundays and enjoy what God intended should be an exhibition free to the poor as well as for the rich.

LONDON, June 13.—Among the recommendations contained in the report of the commission appointed to consider the causes and remedies for the derangement of the silver money system in India, is one advising the stoppage of coinage in Indian mints of silver for private account. Lord Herschell, at present lord high chancellor, was the head of the commission.

Augusta's Sham Battle.
AUGUSTA, Ga., 13.—A sham battle will be fought out at the exposition ground to-day. The beautiful design of a battle known as "Storming the Castle" representing every feature of a pitched battle between two armies, will be carried out. Every arm of service will take part in the battle—cavalry, artillery and infantry. There will be a grand bombardment, shelling of battle lines, and the actual throwing of two, four and six inch bombs.

Fight With Robbers.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—A special from Visalia, Cal., says: Another fight between Evans and Sontag, the train robbers, and officers took place Sunday evening. During the conflict an officer was shot in the leg.

Investigating the Affair.
WASHINGTON, June 13.—At the request over the Ford's Theater disaster, Col. Ainsworth, chief of records in the medical department, started to speak, when the excited clerks began shouting for him to sit down and shut up. Several cried "hang him" and the men sprang forward as if to execute the threat. They were finally quieted and the inquest adjourned.

Brown, 1st cavalry; Lieut. L. H. Strother, 1st infantry; Lieut. F. G. Hodgson, 8th cavalry; Lieut. J. O. Green, 25th infantry; Lieut. Walter Gordon, 15th infantry; and Lieut. A. W. Perry, 9th cavalry. The officers will be assigned to duty principally in connection with the Columbian Guards, the desire being to increase the efficiency of this organization without adding further to the expense.

WASHINGTON NOTES.
John Carmichael, of Lexington, Va., has been appointed inspector of land and surveyor general's office, vice Harlan, resigned.

Abel Lathrop, U. S. attorney for South Carolina, has resigned.
The clerks in the general land office are speculating these days as to where the ax will fall on July 1, as, under the new appropriation bill, there must be a number of reductions made in the force. The appropriation bill for 1893-94 provides for two less clerks of class four, six less of class three, fourteen less of class two, twenty less of class one, sixteen less of the $1,000 class and ten less copyists than the preceding year.

Three-Minute Talks About New Mexico.
Is the title of an illustrated folder describing the farms, ranches, mines and towns of New Mexico. The profits of fruit raising are set forth in detail; also facts relative to sheep, cattle and general farming. No other country possesses such a desirable climate all the year round. Write to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., A. T. S. F. R. R., Topeka, Kan., for free copy.

When Your Eye Strikes This Step and Reads It.
The famous hot springs of Arkansas, world renowned for their health qualities, and as a health and pleasure resort, can be reached quickly in Pullman buffet sleeping cars from Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo via the Missouri Pacific railway. Sufferers of "la grippe," influenza, asthma and kindred diseases can obtain relief by a visit to this famous sanitarium.

Star of the South.
Go to Velasco for health, sea air, and comfort; where ships too deep for all other Texas ports sail in and out with ease; where fruits ripen earlier and pay better than in California, where the soil is a natural hot-bed. Fresh vegetables all winter. Coldest day in three years 25 degrees above zero. Warmest day 92 degrees. Velasco offers the best investment in the south. Write the Commercial club, Velasco, Texas.

Where to Stop in Chicago.
The perplexing question which is every day asked by people who desire to go to Chicago to attend the World's fair is, "Where are we going to stay when we get there?" This is easily answered, and if you will go to the ticket agent of the Santa Fe, Mr. W. M. Smith, he will tell you.

Arrangements have been made for the distribution by the Santa Fe company of a pamphlet entitled "Home for Visitors to the World's Fair." This is a reliable pamphlet containing the names and addresses of about 9,000 families who will furnish accommodations to visitors from May 1 to October 31, 1893. The pamphlet also contains sectional maps which will enable the intending visitor to select any quarter of the city that he would prefer. Correspondence can then be carried on and definite arrangements made so that when visitors arrive in Chicago they can proceed at once to their quarters.

FOUND THE BODY.

The Remains of J. Placido Romero Discovered in the Sands of the Rio Grande.

The body of the late J. Placido Romero, drowned in the Rio Grande, between Los Lunas and Peralta, on the evening of May 11, was discovered yesterday about twelve miles below Los Lunas. The body was embedded in a sand bank in the middle of the stream, only the back being exposed, and was in a fair state of preservation, though, of course, was much swollen and discolored. The remains were taken from the sand under the direction of the precinct justice of the peace and conveyed to the village of Tome, where a coroner's jury was summoned and an investigation was had. No marks of violence were discovered on the body, thus annulling the theory that the deceased had been murdered and the body thrown into the river. On his person were found his watch, bunch of keys and some money. The remains were not conveyed to the family home at Peralta, but at the conclusion of the inquest were buried in the church yard at Tome. Deceased had a short time prior to his death taken out a life insurance policy for $10,000, and this will now undoubtedly be promptly paid over to the sorrowing family.

TERRITORIAL TIPS.

ALBUQUERQUE ATOMS.
Prof. Cramer and the thirty Indian youths of the government Indian school, who have been attending the World's fair, left Chicago yesterday for home.

Tom Habbell, who was in the city yesterday, reports that the Hubbell Bros. and their Peasico neighbors are in the heat of their hay harvest and are jubilant over a crop that is above the usual average even for the first cutting.

Yesterday afternoon while a strong gale was blowing, train whistles and the fire bell called out the fire department and citizens to what proved a disastrous fire, which destroyed over $1,000 worth of property belonging to John Arntsen, proprietor of the Anheuser-Busch bottling works. Insurance $2,500.

It is now thought that the reported killing of Otto Berger, the Nacimiento sheep raiser, was a case of the meanest kind, and was started by enemies. Under Sheriff Garcia informed the reporter this afternoon that he has been unable to find any information that would warrant the rumor of the killing.

One of the fine black draught horses of the Albuquerque Coal company died yesterday. With symptoms very similar to those attending the death of several other animals recently, and which appear to puzzle local veterinarians. The frequency of these deaths among horses suggests an epidemic which, it is hoped, will not be widespread.

ROSWELL RECORDS.
R. F. Barnett started to Missouri, Monday, to purchase a lot of mules for his market.

P. A. Bolter, a druggist, of Denver, has been in town for several days looking over the country with a view of investing and locating.

Major Edgington has gone to Texas on business connected with the New Mexico military institute, and will return in about a month.

The committees for the fair association are still busily engaged in getting things in shape, and they are everywhere meeting with success.

Notices that a fine of $5 would be assessed against anyone hitching a horse or other animal to a live tree in this town have been conspicuously posted.

The board of county commissioners met yesterday and again to-day. We are informed that they are raising taxes on those fellows who ask $50 for land and render it for $2.50. Let the good work go on—Register.

The bath house on the big ditch at the institute, in this city, is becoming a very popular resort. The ladies have a complete monopoly of the institution, and each day a crowd may be seen going to or coming from there with bundles, etc.

L. E. Ingalls, a Chicago broker, last week purchased the Y ranch from Jefferson and J. S. Reynolds and A. B. Allen, including lands, improvements, cattle and horses. This is one of the best ranch properties in this country, and the price, though not given, is understood to be good.

J. J. Doss caught a 5-pound bass in the Berrendo Saturday and Wildy Les caught one weighing three and a half pounds. These are the largest fish caught for some time. About five years ago Dr. Sutherland and Judge A. C. Rogers each caught a bass weighing six pounds, and some ten years ago A. K. Dale and Nelson Harp caught one weighing eight pounds. This is the fishy record for this section.

Our county commissioners did a good thing when they refused to grant licenses for the sale of liquors at the Honcho reservoir. The company which pays for the work of building the reservoir, the contractors who do the work and the taxpayers who would have to pay the expense of drunkards' rows, have some rights; and the action of our county commissioners will be endorsed by every law abiding citizen as being a direct and tangible recognition of these rights.—Register.

SAN JUAN SIFTINGS.
Assessor Pinkney says that the total assessed valuation of the county will be cut down heavily by the fruit tree and head of the family exemption clauses.

William Swires, of Bloomfield, has bought out the store of the Chaco Trading company at the Windmill ranch on lower Coal Creek and will move out there with his family in a few days.

Two large loads of wool passed through Aztec for Durango on Wednesday. They were part of the clip from the sheep bought for Swift Bros., of Kansas City, by Lee & Wells. These sheep have moved from the San Juan and are now heading for Chama, where they will wait for 4,000 head more contracted for at Ed. Noland's on the lower San Juan to be delivered next month.

Alexander Bowman, of Farmington, was in Aztec, Tuesday. He tells us that he has word from Judge Bowman on the Piedra that their drive of logs was within four miles of the mouth of the Piedra on the San Juan. There they will be joined by their drive from the upper San Juan, when the whole outfit will be hunched and brought down the San Juan. They have 300,000 feet of logs in charge of experienced drivers and have got through the worst of the work. Contracts have been let for more logs, and if the rivers stay up they will bring down 500,000 feet more.

GALLUP CLEANINGS.
Hon. W. F. Kuchenbecker's well has been tested and found not wanting in the matter of water supply. The well is 310 feet deep and has 250 feet of water, instead of 150 as stated previously.

On Monday evening Wilderness encampment No. 6, L. O. O. F., elected the following officers for the ensuing term: D. Mayer, C. P.; J. C. Spears, H. P.; E. E. Kenney, S. W.; E. M. Sanjule, J. W.; W. T. Henderson, scribe; J. McKinley, treasurer.

Monday evening, at the home of the bride's parents in this city, Judge Thee, Maxwell said the solemn words which made Mr. John Morgan and Miss Sophia Maxwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Maxwell, husband and wife.

The following are the colored men of Gallup who have been selected as delegates to the colored men's territorial convention, which will meet in Albuquerque July 4, 1893: G. Hicks Emanuel, William Choteau, Joseph Merriweather, J. H. Smith and William Whitlow.

SPRINGER SPRAYS.
It is understood that $75,000 is the price paid by W. W. Porter, of Denver, for the Dorsey ranch.

The children of the public schools are getting ready for a picnic at the D. A. Cloutier ranch on the 18th inst.—next Friday.

Three new farms have been opened this spring near town; one near the reservoir, another southeast of town and Tallo's, on the Chico Springs road.

The Sportsmen's club, of Springer, have this year sowed all the lakes about here to wild rice, which was procured for them by the secretary of the club, W. H. Kremis. This is the great wild fowl paradise of the mountain country, and by furnishing them with their native food they will remain here during all seasons.

Important Announcement.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

TUESDAY, JUNE 13.

The ancient and unregenerate spoiler is abroad in New Mexico. He wants everything in sight.

Yes; this is a free silver territory and will be a free silver state; it can't help but be; that is the logic of the situation.

The anti-trust convention is over, but the present administration is not enforcing the statutes against trusts to any appreciable degree.

Another murder last night. The grand jury is in session. Let this atrocious deed be fully investigated and let the guilty be brought to justice.

The carrying out of the plans of the Santa Fe Water & Improvement company means great prosperity for this city and valley. It can't come any too soon.

SENATOR TELLER proposes to stand by the people of his state in the coming fight on silver in the congress of the United States. The senator's convictions are deep and earnest and he proposes to stand by them. Nothing of the turn coat about Senator Teller.

It is becoming noticeable that a change of administration has taken place; if you do not believe it, ask the wool raisers of New Mexico; they are in the consume now and may be in deeper before the year is out; this is exceedingly unfortunate for New Mexico, but is a fact nevertheless.

The New Mexican trusts that all matters proper to be looked into by the grand jury at the present term of court this county will receive careful and thorough attention and examination. At the same time there should be no attempt to find any indictments for political purposes. The members of the grand jury should do their duty fearlessly and under their oaths and regardless of fear or favor.

The appropriation for court expenses for the several counties in New Mexico is somewhat small and it is claimed that it is too small; that may be, but times are hard and people do not care to pay too much money into the tax fund; the people will worry along with short court terms as best they may and will survive; in the meantime, the judges should see to it that the greatest economy be observed in the management of juries and attendance of witnesses.

SOLICITOR GENERAL BARTLETT has done good work for the county in endeavoring to collect the large shortage due from the late Sheriff Frank Chavez to the tax payers of this city and county and territory; there being now a change of administration it looks rather gloomy for the future; and the New Mexican fears that as usual the tax payers will be losers. Let the citizens and tax payers of this county just watch and wait. For the benefit of this community and for the sake of right and justice this journal hopes that its surmises in this instance will turn out to be wrong.

The chances for the admission of this territory are beginning to look gloomy indeed. The New Mexican understands that much information concerning the status of affairs in New Mexico is being gotten ready for representation to the senate and house committees of the 63d congress and all directed against the admission of New Mexico; it will require very adroit and shrewd handling of this matter in congress and before the executive if New Mexico's admission as a sovereign state is obtained within the coming two years.

THE BALANCE OF TRADE.
The little thing, "the balance of trade," has been pretty steady against the United States for some time. Last April this balance amounted to about $24,000,000, but since then it has been steadily diminishing.

ishing until now it is just about even, according to calculations made by the experts. This is cheerful as indicating that the time is soon to be looking better all along the investment line; and it is particularly gratifying to note that the Rothschilds and other foreign monomaniacs are working themselves up into a furor over the probability that the evening up of the inter-change of business will soon be showing gold back to the United States.

ANOTHER HARD LESSON.
During the months of April and May fourteen banks in Australia failed. This aggregate liability was $118,235,000. This severe panic has wrecked the finances of the island continent. It would seem that England and Germany will never learn that they are not powerful enough to support the hardensome disparity between silver and gold. All their business is done with silver countries, yet these foreign countries selfishly seek to collect unreasonable toll in the shape of exchange. The Baring Bros. failure and the Australia panic have come and gone. The next thing to expect will be a financial convulsion in India. If the foreign gold controllers can stand it, this country will have to stand it, we reckon.

MORE RESERVOIRS.
The continued absence of rain again serves to emphasize the fact that New Mexico must rely upon water storage for her agricultural prosperity. During the past successful four years the spring and summer seasons have been excessively dry, and yet the various streams have been and are even now flowing abundance of water. This article is far too precious to permit any of it to go to waste. With storage reservoirs the whole face of the country may be changed. It has been successfully done in many districts of the territory, and its success ought to commend a wider use of this method. There have been mighty failures of reservoir projects and capital is readily obtained for carrying them out. Let's have more reservoirs.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

Listen to the Siren.
There are signs indicating that Mr. Cleveland is listening to the third term talk of his admirers.—Chicago Record.

Going the Whole Thing.
Undoubtedly, this (the income) tax is coming. In adopting England's tariff system we must adopt her taxing system.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Secret of the Trouble.
There is plenty of money and plenty of stuff in the country, and the trouble with business is, what is the Democratic party going to do?—Kansas City Gazette.

On Guard.
By talking of a third term for Mr. Cleveland, Gov. Flower presents the attitude of a man who is disposed to prepare himself against any sort of surprise in the future.—Washington Post.

Not Able to Give Particulars.
The Democratic organs are perfectly sure that there are hundreds and thousands of names fraudulently upon the pension rolls, but when pressed into a corner they can't name a dozen.—Kansas City Journal.

What It Means.
It is significant how regularly the imposition of duties on sugar and coffee appears in every new version of the administration's program. Sugar and coffee duties would not only be fatally unpopular doings of themselves, but they would mean the immediate abandonment of reciprocity.—Boston Journal.

A Habit that Will be Hard to Break.
Before the Democratic tariff tinkers fasten a revenue tax on tea and coffee let them consult the large and robust army of Democratic voters who formed the tea and coffee habit under Republican auspices and carry dinner pails with tin cup attachments.—Chicago Tribune.

Music at Milan.
The American consul at Milan lets out facts which show that the study of music at that place is not what it is cracked up to be. It seems to be a first-class place for American "suckers," and for those who wish to throw away their money for the sake of saying that they have "studied abroad," it will do as well as the next place.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Exactly Traced to Its Source.
It can be said with truth that the monetary disturbance of these times grows out of causes that lie far back in the policy of the past. But the disturbance that arises from uncertainty about the tariff and the probable effect of change upon the industry and trade of the country is the direct consequence of the election of last November.—Portland Oregonian.

Something for Secretary Smith to Remember.

New York has unveiled a monument to young Nathan Hale, the patriot spy of the revolution, who before his execution within the British lines sent as a last message to his friends, "Tell them I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." Will Hoke Smith please remember that thousands of government pensioners sowed the seed of their disabilities in the practice of the same sort of heroism that made Nathan Hale immortal?—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

What the Republican Policy is Doing For Louisiana Sugar.

And should the federal government not interfere with the sugar bounty system established by the congress before last, but on the other hand give the assurance that the system will be maintained for fifteen years for which it was originally fixed, there seems to be every prospect, from the immense development of the industry which has already taken place, that every ton of sugar needed for home consumption would be produced within the sole limits of the United States by the year 1905.—New Orleans Times Democrat.

The Expected Does Not Always Happen.

Consular reform as conceived and executed by Josiah Quincy, assistant secretary of state, received further illustration yesterday. Twenty appointments were made, places being found for hungry Democrats by removing two consuls-general and eighteen consuls. Some of the appointees may disclose special fitness for their duties, but such a prospect is small compensation for driving from the service a number of experienced, well-trained and valuable men. Better things were naturally expected from an official of the antecedents and professed principles of Josiah Quincy. Would a "spoilsmen" have done much worse than he?—New York Tribune.

Improve the Postal Service in New Mexico Also.

A contemporary complains of the poor mail service between this city and Wyoming and emphasizes the point by stating that it is as bad as that between Denver and New Mexico. It might have added that it's nearly as bad as the local service or the eastern service, and all are bad in the greatest degree.
Newspapers received from the east at the postoffice in this city are not distributed to the box-holders until evening. Newspapers forwarded from this point are sometimes held a whole day before they are dispatched. It may be that this evil is caused by lack of force and facilities. But whatever the cause it ought to be remedied.
The postmaster has nothing to do with the defects in the postal facilities between this town and outside points. The department at Washington is censurable, and the senators and members of congress culpable if the best service is not secured. We hope for important reforms in this respect in the near future.—Denver Press.

UNABLE TO SEE HIM

Over Ten Thousand Cases Treated Annually.

What Honest and Skillful Treatment Does—Dr. Hume Has the Largest and Most Successful Practice of any Catarrh Specialist in the World—During the Past Week Hundreds Thronged to His Office, But Many Were Compelled to Return Home, Unable to See This Celebrated Specialist.

"This is a long story made short," said Mr. James Foreman, living at 1010 Converse street, Denver. "I was sick and unable to work for over a year before I came to Dr. Hume for treatment and I am now sound and well."

"I spent $200 for medicines before I took his treatment. I had a cavity in my lung, that poured forth deadly matter whenever I lay me down, and made me cough so that I could not sleep. I had awful pain in my lungs from pleurisy.
"I was tormented with rheumatism. I had consumption, according to the two doctors who treated me, and I had been told that I was going to die. I would probably have gone the same way.
"I used to have catarrh of the head and loud noises, but which were stopped. My stomach would not digest food, and now I can do a hard day's work, for I feel good and I constantly gain in strength so that I can do a hard day's work, for I feel good and strong. I consider that I owe my life to Dr. Hume, and it is only due to him that I express my thanks in this way in order that others may know where to find help if they are in need from catarrh and throat and lung diseases."

STONED TO DEATH.

Marcelino Vigil's First Drunk and a Brawl that Ended in Bloodshed.

Three Companions in Jail with Every Indication that They Are the Murderers—A Shocking Tragedy.

Marcelino Vigil was found dead in an arroyo about 200 yards east of C. L. Bishop's residence at an early hour this morning. The body was in a shocking plight. The head was beaten and crushed wholly beyond recognition and the lower half of the body was nude. Two pools of blood near by, one small one, where, evidently, the first assault with stones had been made, and a second one ten feet away where the brutes who bad finished the job. The body was taken in charge by Squire Garcia at 7 o'clock and conveyed to his office, and in a commendably short time City Marshal Alarid and the justice had a clow that makes it well nigh certain that the perpetrators of this brutal outrage are in the toils. Desiderio Gallegos, Luterio Padilla and Emeterio Garcia were promptly arrested and placed in jail, as suspected of being the guilty parties, and at 8 o'clock a coroner's jury was summoned and began an investigation. Up to 2 o'clock some twenty witnesses had been examined, the testimony all tending to eliminate the accused parties.

PARTICIPANTS OF THE CRIME.
At sundown last evening a quartet of drunken young fellows was seen by Mr. Bishop, Chas. Wheeler, F. M. Jones and others in the neighborhood of the arroyo and they were at times quite boisterous and appeared to be quarreling. One of the party was very drunk and laid in the arroyo, and two others frequently went toward him and lifted him up, but the distance was so great and the twilight coming on the witnesses could not discover who the parties were or divine their actions. Pedro Martinez, the 12 year old son of Marcelino Martinez, was at hand, however, and his testimony, which is being taken this afternoon, is the most important. He heard them, in their drunken frenzy, utter oaths and so demean themselves as to frighten him and he ran away. He recognized two of the parties, Gallegos and Padilla, and those he to-day positively identified in the presence of the jury. The accused men were also examined, briefly this afternoon, and they admitted being with Vigil, drinking with him, and being on the scene of the tragedy last evening, but they allege that they left him lying drunk in the arroyo, and went to their respective homes, and claimed to have no knowledge of the murder.

THEORY OF THE CRIME.
That the crime is the result of a drunken, boyish brawl, seems to be generally admitted. There could not, it is said, have been any pre-conceived plan to commit the murder. Vigil was 19 years of age, the stepson of Epifanio Vigil, and was noted for his quiet behavior and sobriety. In fact, there were but one or two young fellows in town with whom he was at all companionable, and he was never known to be intoxicated until last evening. It appears that he fell in with bad company and after taking several drinks started home with them, taking the short-cut path via this arroyo. The theory of the tragedy is that the boys first engaged in a friendly scuffle then took to throwing stones, one of which

STUCK VIGIL IN THE HEAD and knocked him senseless in the arroyo. It is possible that the first small pool of blood originated from this wound. The idea further is that after the brawlers had discovered what they had done they lifted the body partly up, and left him in a natural reclining position, then going to their homes, but that later, after thinking over it, and under the cover of darkness, they returned and upon the theory that dead men tell no tales, stoned their victim until he was dead. The removal of the dead man's pants, drawers and shoes is supposed to have been done in order to add as much mystery to the affair as possible. A silver dollar, which Vigil had earned yesterday in working for a neighbor, was in the pants pocket, as were also a number of trinkets, indicating the boyish nature of the young fellow. The investigation is yet in progress, and it appears that the vigilance of the officers has been rewarded by securing unmistakable evidence against the accused. Fortunately the grand jury is in session and the New Mexican calls for a prompt disposal of the case. If the facts are as reported let the penalty be paid and that speedily.

District Court

In the district court this morning after disposing of a few motions and ordering judgments by default in a few minor cases, a recess was taken till 2 p. m.

The grand jury got down to business this forenoon with Chas. Palmer as foreman. Following is a list of the grand jurors:

Antonio Martinez, Jose Manuel Ortiz, Rafael Ortiz, Brigido Barrios, Miguel Pino, Antonio Romero, Guadalupe Salazar, Miguel Roibal y Casados, F. Ortiz y Rodriguez, R. A. Bradley, Ramon Abel Casados, Alfredo Hinojosa, Luciano Chavez, Jose E. Lujan, Francisco Jaramillo, Antonio Gomez, Jesse Montoya, Carmel Romero y Garcia, Candelario Gonzales, Juan Mesa.

The territorial petit jury will be empaneled on Friday.
Yesterday Solicitor General Bartlett suggested to the court the death of P. L. Vander Veer and W. E. Coons, members of the bar. The court named Messrs. E. L. Bartlett, W. B. Sloan and Wm. Broedeen as a committee to draft suitable resolutions in the premises and adjourned out of respect to deceased until 9 this morning. In the matter of F. J. Barber, assistant superintendent of the penitentiary, vs. Auditor Perea, a second case, in which an alternative writ had been ordered issued requiring the auditor to show cause why he should not draw a warrant for the payment of $121 salary, the court yesterday, on the showing of the auditor that there were no moneys in the salary fund of that year '91, vacated the writ. It appears that this $121, due for services from March 7, to May 5, '91, was paid to Col. Bergman when he was assistant superintendent.

In the case of the county and territory vs. the bondsmen of the late ex-sheriff Frank Chavez, suit for $28,000, there is a prospect that it will be settled by arbitration. Gen. Bartlett who has been employed by the county board to prosecute the case, has been engaged thereon for some weeks and has had several conferences with Messrs. Gildersleeve and Laughlin on the subject. The suggestion that the matter be adjusted by arbitration has gone so far up to date that the attorneys for the bondsmen have spoken of Hon. Frank Springer as one of the arbitrators while on behalf of the territory and county it is possible that Hon. F. A. Manzaneros may be selected to act, these two to select a third arbitrator.

A Compromise Proposed.

C. C. Parsons, of Denver, and E. C. Billings, of Pueblo, who have been here several days trying to effect a compromise with A. M. Hendry and others of the Lincoln-Lucky-Anasconda mine contest, left for home last night. They proposed to consolidate all conflicting interests and stock the new company for $1,000,000, giving Mr. Hendry $100,000 of the stock for his Anasconda claim, but the latter declined to accept the proposal. It is said there is still some hope of the parties getting together. It would certainly prove a great benefit to Santa Fe's mining interests if some compromise can be made whereby these acknowledged great mineral producers could be put out of the courts and placed upon a working basis.

TALKING BUSINESS.

A Chat with Hon. L. Spiegelberg on Trade and Other Topics of the Times.

Hon. Lehman Spiegelberg talks very entertainingly about matters of the day at the east. He says there are billions of money lying idle at present only awaiting a return of public confidence to seek investment, and he thinks the time is not far distant when this money will be turned loose in the west. There has been a general sitting down and weeding out of weak concerns on Wall street as elsewhere. In fact, he is informed that the shrinkage in securities amounts to something like $480,000,000 in the past year, yet there has not been a business failure of any great consequence, and transactions are now conducted on a conservative, bed-rock basis that augurs much for the solidity of the country and its institutions and the early return of good times.

Several features of the situation are referred to by Mr. Spiegelberg to justify the conclusion that better times are at hand. The balance of trade which has been against the United States for over a year has turned in our favor, and the millions of gold that have as a result been going abroad will soon be returning. This country has not only had for export the bulk of two seasons' crops, and the practical failure of European crops is going to supply a demand for these products that will stimulate greatly the return movement of gold. Besides, in former years, 400,000 Americans visited Europe for health and recreation, while this year not one-fourth that number will go abroad, but instead will come west and with them thousands of Europeans will be here this summer and fall to attend the great fair and not a few of them are expected by business men to do more or less investing.

The silver question, of course, attracts some attention at the east, but not near so much as most people imagine, and there seems to be a general impression that the matter will be adjusted by congress with a reasonable regard for all interests involved. Politically, Mr. Cleveland is much admired, but his cabinet, outside of Gresham, is regarded as strong, and Carnegie in particular is looked upon as having little financial tact and ability. Speaking of the World's fair, Mr. Spiegelberg says it is undoubtedly the marvel of the age, declared so by who have visited other world's expositions, and the good reports sent abroad by representatives of the foreign press will bring many visitors to the west.
