Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

SATURDAY, JUNE 17.

The court funds in this county should be expended on the important cases on the docket; the small fry can wait.

DELORADO ANTONIO JOSE, from New Mexico, has been in Washington a week and the administration still lives. Wonderful.

The court proceedings in the cases of the territory of New Mexico and county of Santa Fe versus the bondsmen of the late Frank Chavez will prove interesting.

It is reported that Mr. J. S. Clarkson is a candidate for the United States senate from Iowa; this comes from the hot weather that prevails in the state of Iowa.

It is now said from Albuquerque that Mr. J. G. Albright, editor and proprietor of the Albuquerque Democrat, has the call on the secretaryship of New Mexico. Stranger things have happened.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad pays taxes in New Mexico on a fair and honest valuation; other corporations should follow the good example set by this road.

Between the silver question, the tariff and the present administration, it must be admitted that the people of this great and glorious country are in rather a tight fix.

Fifty thousand acres of land under irrigation in the Santa Fe valley will make this one of the largest and most prosperous cities in the southwest. Speed the day.

No banks, since the incoming of the present administration, have failed in the silver producing states; silver is a pretty good thing to have around the house during the panicky times.

This paper labors hard and unceasingly for the advancement of New Mexico and for the prosperity of her people; this is official, as the St. Louis Globe-Democrat is fond of remarking.

The South and Central American revolutions are becoming very wearisome and bring on "that tired feeling." They should take a rest down there; too much of a good thing is too much.

During the week ended June 10, 1892, $22,845 silver dollars were issued by the government. This year in the corresponding week only $340,993 found their way into circulation. Why is this?

Or the appointments that are being made by the administration, the percentage for New Mexico is very small indeed and the patriots who desire to sacrifice themselves by holding office, are not well satisfied.

The New York Voice, the national temperance and prohibition organ, calls on Sec. Carlisle to resign; it charges him with drinking whiskey; a dollar to a doughnut that the secretary will not resign and will go on taking a drink whenever he wants it; he is not built on the resigning plan.

A New Mexico Democratic office seeker wrote a letter to Sec. Hoke Smith the other day and demanded that the "glittering claws of the Republican octopus in New Mexico be chopped off at once." The secretary, although a big, strong man, was nearly unconscious for two hours after reading that letter. The letter writer in question will not hold office under Sec. Smith this term, it is safe to assert.

Sec. Gresham receives $8,000 per year as secretary of state, but draws his pension of $300 per year also with commendable regularity; and now, pray, why should a poor man not draw the pension allowed him under the law? Why not if any good reason exists, let it be given by Democratic papers and federal officials who cry "down with the pensions."

"HAPPINESS is very largely a matter of temperament," so says Oliver Wendell Holmes, and he is right; hence, in order that our friends, the Democratic office seekers and bosses might be truly happy, the New Mexican advises them to change their temperaments and they will be happy; this advice is well meant and gratis, although very valuable.

SANTA FE is the scene of another brutal murder. As the prosecuting attorney is now a Democrat we may look for the enforcement of the law. Murderers must no longer be shielded.—Albuquerque Democrat.

Let us hope so. In this last case, the howl of "political murder" will not do. All concerned belong to the Democratic party in Santa Fe county and were members of a Democratic campaign club during the last campaign.

SENSIBLE TALK.
CARDINAL GIBBONS in an authorized interview on the subject of Sunday opening of the World's fair says:

"In view of the fact that many thousands of visitors to the fair must be of the class who pay no respect to the religious character of the Sunday, it seems a matter of common prudence to provide them with a means of spending the day innocently, instead of leaving them to their own inclinations and the numerous temptations certain to be placed in their way."

This is sound common sense. No man will go far wrong if he spends Sunday in the environs of art and science. Cardinal Gibbons makes many good remarks.

BOUND TO HELP NEW MEXICO.

A contract has been let by the Missouri Pacific for the extension of its Colorado system from Pueblo to Durango. This shows that the Missouri Pacific means business and will invade the trade territory of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. This will compel the latter road to look for more business in New Mexico. The business is to be had by going after it and by an extension of the present Denver and Rio Grande system from Santa Fe south; this is bound to come in due course of time and is not as far distant as people think. The year 1894, will see some railroad building in New Mexico; it can not commence any too soon.

THE STUFF THAT IS IN THEM.

This week's mail brought full advice of the horror at Ford's theater. One point is specially dwelt on by the Washington press. The old soldiers, the pensioners, so often sneered at in these latter days, showed the stuff that is in them. One old veteran with a broken arm dragged a more helpless comrade to air and life. The badly injured stayed to succor the absolutely helpless. In all that horror, "Then shrieked the crowd and stood still the brave," but the veterans of many battles who had faced death for country's sake then faced it again for humanity. Self was forgotten, danger despised, and it was shown that the pension roll is more nearly the country's roll of honor than the thing thoughtless or malicious politicians would permit it.

WHY NOT GET SOME OF IT.

The tourist travel and the money spent by tourists is one of the largest sources of income of the great city of Paris. Alpine Switzerland, is practically supported from this source. California boasts that $5,000,000 were spent by visitors within her borders last year. Last January there were 20,000 visitors to the city of Phoenix, A. T., and the majority of them passed the doors of Santa Fe without spending one cent. With a better climate, with more interesting scenery and environs, we lose our just share of the profits of this travel.

By a judicious effort of our merchants and Board of Trade, many thousand dollars might be added to our exchequer during this fall and early winter. The attention of the World's fair travelers should be called to the climate and beauties of Santa Fe. Every one who sojourns with us becomes a regular advertiser of our climate and location. Will this hint be acted on? It is to be hoped.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

Wiser but Nadder.
If Carlisle had known as much about his present office six months ago as he knows now he would still be senator from Kentucky.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Trouble Either Way.

The free trade Democrats are in a state of painful uncertainty as to whether a tax on incomes or one on sugar will bring their party into deeper discredit with the people.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

The Drift of the Tide.

Democrats who imagine they have a mortgage on the country can probably study the case of Wilmington, Del., which has just been carried by the Republicans by a bigger plurality than Mr. Cleveland had in the whole state last autumn.—Boston Journal.

Increased Business on the D. & R. G.
The statement of the Denver & Rio Grande to June 1 show a gross increase in earnings of $500,000, a net increase of $250,000 over the same period last year. The statement is the best one ever made by the road, and, taking into consideration the general depression of the money market at the present time, the company is well satisfied with President Jeffrey's record.—Denver Sun.

Even Mugwumps Are Kicking.

With all due respect to the judgment of President Cleveland, may it not be said that if the financial situation calls for a special session of congress at any time, it calls for such a session now? Nobody is going to learn anything more about the money question by keeping him for three months longer hot with suspense as to what the future monetary policy of the country is to be.—Springfield Republican.

Down With the Trusts.

Judge McConnell, of Chicago, gave the trusts a hard blow when he said, in reviewing a case in which the preservers trust was trying to bring a reconstituted member into line: "No court of record should lend its legal operations to further the interests and carry out the purposes of a trust." Trusts are contrary to the law and it was the same of insolence to expect the courts to help in strengthening an illegal organization.—Denver Times.

A Lofly View.

An influential Ohio Democrat is quoted by the New York Sun as saying that the answer to the question as to whether Gov. McKinley will be re-elected depends upon President Cleveland. We are informed by the distinguished authority that if the President does his duty and distributed his patronage there with a liberal hand, all will be well. Otherwise the Democrats of Ohio may not come out at the election in November in sufficient force to win the battle. What a lofty notion of the motives which animate this fellow-citizen, this influential Ohio Democrat seems to have.—Boston Herald.
