BRIEF WIRINGS:

Silver.
New York, Sept. 1.—Silver 73 1/2, to-day.

New York Republicans.
New York, Sept. 1.—The Republican committee at its meeting yesterday decided to hold the state convention at Syracuse October 5.

The Fair Directors Can do as they Please.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The injunction restraining the closing of the World's fair grounds was dissolved yesterday. The directors are now at liberty to use their discretion in opening or closing.

A Majority in the Senate.
Chicago, Sept. 1.—A Washington special says one of the most prominent members of the Democratic steering committee of the senate said yesterday that a majority of seven is assured for the Voorhees bill in the senate.

Business in Gold Bullion.
Denver, Sept. 1.—The purchases of gold bullion at the Denver mint during July and August this year exceeded by $106,000 the purchases during the corresponding two months a year ago. The August purchases this year have been about $200,000.

The Cholera Frenzied at Work.
Amsterdam, Sept. 1.—Nine fresh cases of cholera and five deaths were reported from Leerdam. The steamship company notified the agents that all emigrants for the United States must remain five days under the observation of an American physician before embarking.

A Gang Collision.
PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 1.—A riot occurred at a picnic and platform dance at Grant district last night, in which the Cow Creek and Goose Creek gangs took part. Fifty men are reported injured. James Vansel and John McNally, oilmen, were cut and stabbed, it is believed fatally. Henry Thomas, a spectator, had his skull crushed.

An Object Lesson.
DENVER, Sept. 1.—J. H. Williams, of Silver Plume, writes of a sad condition of affairs in that vicinity among miners. He suggests that the provisions to be sent to New York be distributed at home. He, in common with others, are totally out of food, and in writing to this city he offers as security his home and mining interests for bacon and flour to the extent of $25. This is not an isolated case. Other miners with homes and large mining interests are suffering for the necessities of life because of the dearth of money. Almost all of these in that camp are men of families.

A Sensational Killing.
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 1.—A special to the Star from Caddo, I. T., says Andy Folsom, deputy marshal and member of the Indian police, shot and instantly killed Capt. Key Durant of Governor Jones' militia, in the depot here. Folsom was here to prevent any whisky from being introduced. Capt. Durant and Lou Bowers, a notorious woman, got off the train. The woman had a valise in one hand and a revolver in the other. Folsom tried to get possession of the valise but the woman would not surrender it. Durant came to her aid and a quarrel between the two men followed. Durant shot twice at Folsom, but missed him. Folsom returned the fire killing Durant instantly. There was whisky in the valise and the woman was arrested for introducing whisky into the Indian Territory.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Yesterday Sen. Wolcott made a brilliant speech for silver and its cause. In the course of it, the senator said that free trade will follow silver's demonetization, because the western representatives will defeat protection.

HOUSE.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The silver men achieved an important victory yesterday in the house. An amendment to the rules was adopted giving the coinage committee the right to call their bills up at any time, making them privileged over the appropriations and tariff bills. The anti-silver men were not on their guard at the time.

The regular business occupied yesterday. Consideration of the new code of rules was had. Hoeker of Mississippi attacked the proposition in the rules which confers upon the committee jurisdiction over all proposed action touching barntness. Leave was granted to the committee on banking and currency and coins, weights and measures to report at any time.

STORM SWEPT CITIES.

Many Lives Lost and Fearful Disaster to Property at the East and South.

Boston, Sept. 1.—The storm on Tuesday was the worst known for twenty years. A number of wrecks are reported off Portsmouth. From Portland and Augusta, Me., come reports of heavy damage to fruit trees and crops. In Connecticut the storm raged furiously. There are many wrecks of small craft along Niantic bay.

New York.—The bay is filled with

DR. PRICE'S
Cream Baking Powder

The only Pure Cream of Tartar Powder.—No Ammonia; No Alum.
Used in Millions of Homes—40 Years the Standard wreckage. The Croton Boat club has had all its boats broken up or sunk. Five canal boats were sunk and deck loads scattered in the tempest.

Philadelphia.—It is estimated to-day that the loss in this city by the recent storm is fully $100,000. Nine lives were lost, caused by falling wires. The Delaware rose to a point never before known in its history.

Baltimore.—The storm here was the most severe since the big flood of 1868. The wind blew a gale of sixty miles an hour and the rain fell in sheets. Roofs and chimneys were torn off by the wind, and all electric wires were wrecked.

New Haven, Conn.—Great damage was done to property here by the storm. The side walls of Proctor's Opera house were toppled over and the steeple of St. Paul's church was badly damaged. The oyster beds are thought to be almost entirely ruined. Fruit orchards have suffered much. It is impossible to accurately estimate the damage at present, though it must amount to over a million dollars in New Haven county, including the oyster beds and fruit crops.

Savannah, Ga.—The town of Tybee, at the end of San river, was actually swept out of existence by the tidal wave. The list of fatalities is constantly growing. On the bay the waves rolled mountains high flooding the wharves, warehouses and streets.

Fifteen lives were lost in the storm and many more are missing. The death list numbers thirty up to this hour.

News is reported here of the practical destruction of Port Royal. One hundred persons have been killed by the terrible storm and the town is no more. Nearly all killed are negroes. Sixty bodies have thus far been recovered, and as many more were forever lost in the tidal wave.

AMONG THE MINES.

Rich Gold Strike at White Oaks—Smelters Busy—Territorial Mining Notes.

The Leader gives some additional particulars of the new gold strike made near White Oaks in the Miner's Cabin claim. The Leader says: "A week's development on the property has demonstrated that another rich mine is among us to stay. The shaft is about eighteen feet deep, and the pay ore continues to hold out with its usual richness. There are about twelve tons of ore on the dump and its value is reckoned anywhere from $25 to $50 per ton. It is the belief of practical miners who have examined the property that the Miner's Cabin bids fair to be a better mine than the Old Abe or the North Homestead. The discovery of this rich lead has stimulated adjoining owners and others to a renewal of work."

HILLABORO DISTRICT.

Animas Peak is still receiving a great many people from all sources. Kingston, however, is more largely represented than any one section, and they all seem to be satisfied and doing well. There are now three new stores in the district and a new two-story adobe hotel. Other stores and business houses are said to be getting in readiness to start up.

The great tunnel through Animas Peak is worked steadily and systematically and is within 200 feet of what is believed to be one of the large gold-bearing ledges crossing through it from east to west. They expect to strike it within thirty days. The Opportunity mine is now turning out the largest quantities of rich ores ever found in its workings, and it is also working a larger force of men than ever before. The mills are all running and the Animas district is growing more prosperous with each successive day.

A new gold discovery is reported from near Grafton, in the northern part of the county.

MOGOLLON MINES.

Almost daily reports of new discoveries reach the camp clear from Copper to Mogollon Creek. The hills are alive with prospectors.

The discovery made by Dan Lannon and John Lambert on the south fork of Dry Creek is proving a valuable property. The ore is rich in gold and is of a very peculiar character, resembling tellurium.

New bodies of high grade ore are constantly opened up in the Maud S. mine. This mine is rapidly assuming the proportions of a bonanza.

Some very high grade ore has been discovered in the "Little Annie." It will run way up in the hundreds as it is thoroughly impregnated with native silver.

The Sheridan mill at Cooney started up last Thursday on Little Annie ore. This is welcome music to the inhabitants of that camp who have waited for two weary years for something to turn up.

Messrs. Kramis and Cooney have the contract for putting up the mill for Capt. Mike Cooney. Immediately upon completion it will start ore from the famous "Old Cooney" mine, a large supply of which is on hand.

GRANT COUNTY NOTES.

Another mill is in prospect at Gold

Hill and is likely to be running within six weeks. That camp is coming to the front at a rapid rate.

Considerable work is now being done in the mines at Central, though none of them are being worked on a large scale. The ore mined is generally of good grade and pays well for mining and milling.

Pinos Altos is now one of the busiest camps in New Mexico. The mills there are kept busy and a good deal of ore is being mined in the camp. It is not likely that there will be any more trouble on account of a shortness of the water supply for the mills for some months to come.

THE INSANE ASYLUM.

Scarcely One-half the Territory's Insane are Patients at the Institution.

The territory has gone to the expense of establishing at Las Vegas an asylum for the treatment and cure of its insane residents, yet scarcely half the number of insane throughout New Mexico are being cared for there. The number at present under treatment is thirty-six. The present capacity of the institution is fifty-five. The Las Vegas Optic recently sent a reporter to inspect the asylum, and many words of praise are bestowed upon Supt. G. W. Ward, Mrs. Olinger, the matron, and Dr. Marron, the attending physician.

Two things surprised the Optic scribes. One was that the counties of Socorro, Rio Arriba, San Juan, Sierra, Guadalupe and Union have not availed themselves of the privileges of the asylum. Their insane are still confined in jails or wandering at liberty, a menace to the peace of their several communities. The tardiness of these counties in this matter, is more than reprehensible. The next legislature should pass a compulsory law, compelling the county officials to the performance of this humane course.

The other matter of surprise was the indifference of several of the counties to the comfort of the insane in the matter of clothing. Bernadillo has done the best in this particular, and Colfax county has the undesirable distinction of having done the worst. The county officials have been appealed to, a number of times, but they do not even reply to the letters. Other counties are delinquent; indeed, several are quite so, though not as bad as Colfax.

Following are the patients now under treatment:

W. B. ("Red") Anderson, William Bulard, Mary Beechwood, Celsa Chavez, Walter Crews, Maud Drew, Adolfo Espinosa, Valencia Hernandez, Pablo Folan, Juan Francisco Garcia, Terrence Gonzales, Carmel de Garcia, Frank Harris, Refugio Romero de Hunter, Peter Hall, Felix Jaramillo, John James, Joseph Lang, Andres Lucero, Romula Lucero, Isaac Levy, George Montoya, Daniel Mosley, Gurillo Ortega, Hill Pierce, Joseph Pomer, Leonora Ruidiaz, Victor Rascon, Cuna Romero, Susan Ribera, John Smith, Candido Thayer, Matea Viscarra, Gertrude L. Wight, Hannah Windsor, Felipe Weaver.

TERRITORIAL TIPS.

ALBUQUERQUE ATOMS.
Frank Sturgis' May Queen won the race on Wednesday. Time 2:42 1/2.

The public schools of the city will open Monday, September 4, for a school year. The intermediate department in the Highlands will be changed to the 2d ward building and a first primary be placed in ward 1.

George Ostrander came to town with a sack of fine looking carbonate ore, taken from a prospect hole three feet from the grass roots on the Red mountains, four miles north of Tijeras. Mr. Tellow is interested with him.

While it is true that A. & P. shop employees are working on shorter time than usual, and that the force has been cut down, the management of the A. & P. road deny that the shops will be closed entirely at an early day.

Geo. W. Bendle, of the G. K. Warren post, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Lena Bendle, and Miss Emily Burgess left last night for Indian Wells, Ind., to attend the G. A. R. national encampment, after which they will take in the World's fair.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1.

Lead is going up; it's an ill wind that blows no one any good.

Times are still hard, but let's keep a cool head and do the best we can under the circumstances.

The tariff for revenue and free trade train to be run by the present administration is still dead tracked.

Governor Boies feels defeat in his bones. The voters of Iowa will play Brutus to his Caesar in November next.

SENATOR TELLER is waging a good strong fight for his constituents and for his state. Colorado is very fortunate in her senators.

This may be a Jacksonian Democratic administration, but the people of Texas, who are burning effigies of members of this administration, don't seem to think so.

The appointment of a secretary for New Mexico is still bothersome to some of our statesmen. Possess your souls in peace. It will come in due season and early enough.

PRESIDENTIAL appointments are few and far between; this is as it should be; the longer the Republican officials remain in office, the better for the people and the country at large.

It will be hard work to pass an enabling act for a silver territory and future silver state through the gold bug house of representatives of the 53d congress, but there is nothing like trying.

THE NEW MEXICAN started the statehood ball rolling again this time and the ball is beginning to gather size and strength. It is beginning to look as if this statehood ball would reach the desired goal this trip.

They are getting up a new party in Denver; it's for silver as opposed to everything else; the people of New Mexico had best wait awhile though; this territory wants too much from congress and there is no sense in being too rash about these things.

The laboring men and the factory hands out of employment, and they number over half a million, have not yet been benefited to any appreciable degree by the doings of the Fifty-third Democratic congress that has been in session now nearly four weeks.

The railroad companies are feeling the present stagnation of business very keenly and greatly. The railroad companies should help to bring about a change for the better; they are powerful and can aid if they go to work about it in the right direction.

The Republicans, the Democrats and the Populists claim to have the "dead clutch" on Kansas; probably so; but the day of account is some time off yet and in the mean time the people of this country will have to worry along in a dead uncertainty as to what's what, as far as Kansas is concerned.

The Albuquerque Times was one year old yesterday. It is a clean and newsy paper, ably conducted and valuable to Albuquerque. Success to the Times, its editors and proprietors; and among them, last but not least, to the only woman journalist in New Mexico, Mrs. Olive Ennis Hite. The New Mexican's best wishes to the Times and everybody connected with the paper.

A CHANCE FOR DELEGATE JOSEPH.

The mail service on the Antonio-Espanola division of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad should be increased to a daily service. The 20,000 people supplied from that line are certainly entitled to a daily service. Here is a chance for Delegate Joseph to be of some service to the people. What's the matter with his enailing on the postmaster general and doing some work to obtain this greatly needed and very much demanded daily mail service from Santa Fe to the northern line of this territory?

POINTING TO A COMPROMISE.

While most solicitous as to the welfare of silver, and realizing that it is a question affecting not only the west but the plain people on earth generally, we can scarcely subscribe to the theory set forth by the Denver News and others that those who are not avowed friends of free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1 are the open enemies of the white metal. It is apparent now that the friends of silver had a job put up on them when they permitted the Sherman act to become law; that act made a commodity of silver and took from it its value as money; so now, if the present congress should do nothing more than repeal that act, coupling its action with the declaration in favor of silver as money, this would be a victory for the west, and the righting of a wrong that must be righted before free coinage can be hoped for. It seems that this is as far as the senate will go this session. Every thing points to this as the ultimate result of all the present talk in congress. Senator Sherman admits himself that "congress and the people agree that both metals shall be used as money." The house has just appropriated $200,000 for the recoining of subsidiary silver coin, and even the Wall street exponents are hinting that they may pull Cleveland over to a compromise proposition before Senator Teller wears out his "winter clothes" filibustering against the passage of the Wilson unconditional repeal bill. These things go to show, if they show anything that the silver cause is making headway and in face of the house vote against the white metal, we still think that the cause of the masses is to triumph before the present session of congress closes. It will not be free coinage, but it will be something blessed near it—a certainty, and that's what the country needs to help restore confidence and improve business.

Press Comments on Territorial Affairs.

Not Much Use.

The Denver Times says Delegate Joseph voted for silver. The delegate has no vote and is of no practical benefit to the territory in legislation. —Albuquerque Citizen.

May Realize.

New Mexico wants statehood and free coinage of silver, and in the course of time the territory expects to realize on the expectation. —Albuquerque Citizen.

The Days of the Territorial Form of Government are Numbered.

Governor Thornton has issued a proclamation calling a statehood convention at Albuquerque on the 20th of next month. This is as it should be. The time has come when the question of statehood ought to be seriously considered by the residents of New Mexico. The question of land titles is rapidly being settled and the character of the population of the territory is such that it would be safe to admit the territory into the union. For more than ten years New Mexico has been Democratic, but at no time during that period until the present administration has the government been entirely in the hands of Democrats, and the territory has been kept out of the union by Republican politicians for the reason that they feared that the Democratic party would gain strength in the senate by the admission of New Mexico. The new committee on territories in the house which was announced by Speaker Crisp last week will favor the admission of New Mexico, and there is little reason to doubt but that the senate will pass a bill providing for the admission of the territory soon after the bill has been acted upon in the house. The days of a territorial form of government in New Mexico are about over. —Silver City Sentinel.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

A Live Bug in Hoke Smith's Ear.

Senator Voorhees dropped a live bug in Hoke Smith's right ear when he declared in his place in the senate that "there is no more fraud in the pension system than there is in any other institution incident to human affairs." —Chicago Inter Ocean.

The English are Delighted.

The English press is delighted with the vote against silver in the house and congratulations from Great Britain are flowing into the headquarters of the goldbug lobby at Washington. By the bye, it would be interesting to know just how much "oil" it required to lubricate the machinery by which that vote on the 16 to 1 amendment was ground out. —Denver Sun.

The Issue More Clearly Defined Than Ever.

It is gratifying to know that the largest free coinage vote cast in the house yesterday was on the 16 to 1 proposition. The vote exemplified the principle that that ratio is the legitimate and correct expression of the relations of gold and silver in the monetary system of the country, and also of the world. The issue is now more clearly defined than ever. —Denver Times.

A Matter of Congratulation.

If it is true that a great many Poles and Italians are leaving the United States and returning to Europe, it is a change in affairs which will be viewed with complacency by the majority of the American people. The labor market in this country is so overstocked with laborers of that class. They demand work, and if they do not get it they become a burden upon their friends or upon the community. They could do almost as well at home as they can in the United States under the present conditions, and in their own country they would find more congenial surroundings. —Denver Republican.

The Los Angeles Irrigation Congress.

Interest in irrigation shows no signs of abatement in the west. A call has recently been issued for an international irrigation congress, to be held at Los Angeles, Cal., during the week beginning October 10. Among the topics to be discussed are irrigation as applied to agriculture and horticulture, and considered in its social effects and possibilities; irrigation legislation, state, national, foreign and international; irrigation securities and irrigation machinery and appliances. Delegates may be sent to the congress by the governors of the several states and territories, by county courts or boards of supervisors, by universities or colleges where irrigation engineering is taught, and by chambers of commerce, agricultural and horticultural associations, and corporations formed for the purpose of promoting irrigation. Mayors of incorporated cities and chief officers of agricultural schools are to be entitled to seats, as are governors of states and territories and members of the national legislature. The proceedings of the congress should be of special interest to the inhabitants of the extreme west, and are not without interests for people elsewhere. —Bradstreet's.

Where to Stop in Chicago.

The perplexing question which is every day asked by people who desire to go to Chicago to attend the World's fair is, "Where are we going to stay when we get there?" This is easily answered, and if you will go to the ticket agent of the Santa Fe, Mr. W. M. Smith, he will tell you.

Arrangements have been made for the distribution by the Santa Fe company of a pamphlet entitled "Homes for Visitors to the World's Fair." This is a reliable pamphlet containing the names and addresses of about 5,000 families who will furnish accommodations to visitors from May 1 to October 31, 1893. The pamphlet also contains sectional maps which will enable the intending visitor to select any quarter of the city that he would prefer. Correspondence can then be carried on and definite arrangements made so that when visitors arrive in Chicago they can proceed at once to their quarters.

One Woman's Moods.
I first could hope when Clara smiled;
I thought I read her heart aright—
I fancied in her eyes the light
Shone but for me; and so, beguiled,
I still had hope when Clara laughed;
It rippled lightly up the scale,
And musing still, my words would fail
Were I to say how Clara chafed.

Faint heart was mine with Clara sad;
I felt my fevered pulses flow
With gullen throbbings to and fro,
And marveled that I went not mad.

Oh, heart of mine that guessed so ill,
Oh, foolish I who blindly stood
And tried to know a woman's mood,
And flatter love by force of will.

For Clara's now my promised bride;
I quite forgot each mood and whim—
I spoke—I saw her eyes grow dim—
Would you believe it? Clara cried!

Mr. Thomas Batte, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this medicine to any person suffering from such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

Immense. That's what they all say. It is customary in these later days to express our perfect satisfaction with a thing by saying "it's immense!" It's so expressive that nothing can be added. Geo. L. Fink, Philadelphia, Pa., says, "My wife has been taking your New Cure for the Heart and says it is immense! She has not been troubled with pain or smothering spells since using it." Jno. L. Roberts, Slaton, Pa., says he is 75 years old, and has suffered from heart disease over 40 years. Was treated without avail by prominent New York physicians; grew constantly worse; took Dr. Miles New Heart Cure and was completely cured. Sold by A. C. Ireland, Jr., on a guarantee.

The Secret Told.
Rory, aged six, had been fishing with his father the day before, and a friend of the family asked him what luck they had had.

"Well," he replied, "we didn't have very good luck. The first place we went to the man wasn't home, and the other two places the man said he hadn't more enough for his own family."—Rams Horn.

A Landslide, Very Marked Results.
The term landslide usually conveys intelligence of disaster, whereby many are killed, but this is used to indicate the enormous sales of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, a remedy that is daily saving the lives of thousands who are suffering from nervous disorders. It cures palpitation, nervous prostration, headache, backache, spinal diseases, hysteria, effects of spiritism, confusion of mind, etc. and builds up the body surprisingly. Brown & Maybury, Portland, N. Y., say one patient used Nervine and gained fifteen pounds of flesh. Sold by A. C. Ireland, Jr., the druggist, on a guarantee. Get a book free.

She—Don't you think, really, that a good deal is being done to elevate the stage?

He—Well, roof gardens do seem to be superseding theatres.

A Persistent Counsel.
Mr. Oswald has the reputation of being the "hardest fighter" at the bar. Various stories illustrative of his persistence have recently appeared in the papers, but I have not seen the following, which is, perhaps, the best: Mr. Oswald was arguing a case in the court of appeal at great length. Already the court had intimated pretty clearly that it had heard enough, but Mr. Oswald had treated these intimations in his usual manner, and went on raising point after point.

"Really," at last one of the lord justices remonstrated—"really, Mr. Oswald, if you intended to rely on these points you should have raised them in the court below."

"So I did my lord," replied Mr. Oswald, "but their lordships stopped me."

They stopped you, did they? inquired Lord Esher, eagerly. "How did they do it?"—London Truth.

What the Democrats Have Done.
She—No, John, I cannot receive your attentions—at least just yet.

He—Haven't you confidence on me?
She—No, there is no such thing as confidence in this country to-day.

Persons troubled with chronic diarrhoea should try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Many cases have been cured by it after all else had failed and skilled physicians were powerless. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

A Wife's Smiles Nowhere.
"Does your wife always meet you with a smile?"
"I never notice. I smile so often myself before going home that here would be entirely superfluous."

A little boy of Mrs. McDonald's, living near here, fell against a red hot stove and was fearfully burned. The pain was terrible, and it was thought the burn was so severe as to cost the child for life. I sold the lady a bottle of Pain Balm, which, after greasing the sore, she applied. It soon removed all the fire and eased the pain, and in ten days the boy was well, no trace of the scar remaining. J. D. McLaren, Keyport, Clinton county, Ill. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

A Word of Warning.
Aw, no, I haven't proposed to Miss Clara yet.
I thought not. I hear you still call on her.—Life.

Plaint of a Parasol.
I used to live in a nice long box.
In tissue sheets they would me;
But now I hang in a wardrobe dark,
And dusty gowns surround me.

My white silk lining is soiled and gray—
Most sadly flecked am I;
My ruffles of chiffon fall in shreds—
Oh, parasol, wrecked am I.

Quite often this summer a man carried me;
He kissed me one time, too,
Then with my point wrote in the sands:
My dearest, I love you!

And since that day my life has been
A wearisome, endless blank
Except when she hauls me out and says:
You helped me capture Frank.

A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.
From the Troy (Kansas) Chief.
Some years ago we were very much subjected to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhoea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the very thing to straighten out one in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know that it is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

A Lucky Day.
So you were really born on March 3, 1863? Oh, Countess, you are indeed a child of good fortune!
How so, Lieutenant?
Because on that same day I too was ushered into the world.—Fleegende Blaetter.

Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, or as memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than severe sickness. The young mother vividly remembers that it was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of croup, and in turn administered it to her own offspring and always with the best results. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

See Him Right.
Geo. Augustus Sala, the well known English writer, on his last Australian trip, wrote as follows to the London Daily Telegraph.

"Especially have a pleasant remembrance of the ship's doctor—a very experienced maritime medic indeed, who tended me most kindly during a horrible spell of bronchitis and spasmodic asthma, provoked by the sea fog which had swooped down on us just after we left San Francisco. But the doctor's prescriptions and the increasing warmth of the temperature as we neared the tropics, and, in particular, a couple of Alcock's Porous Plasters slapped on—one on the chest and another between the shoulder blades—soon set me right."

Scientists May Differ.
As to the causes of rheumatism, but there is no difference of opinion among them as to the danger which attends it, the symptoms by which it manifests itself, and difficulty of dislodging it in its chronic stage. Several mineral and vegetable poisons are prescribed for it, but none of these has been shown by experience to possess the same efficacy as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This benign specific depletes the blood by promoting vigorous action of the kidneys, through them the blood as it passes exalts in the system. Physicians of eminence testify to the value of the Bitters in rheumatism, and the professional opinions regarding it are borne out and corroborated by ample popular evidence. The Bitters remedy chills and fever, liver complaint, dyspepsia and constipation.

Went Together.
Where did you spend your vacation?
Same place I spent my money.

Simmons Liver Regulator is an excellent remedy for dyspepsia.—C. Master-son, sheriff of Bibb county, Ga.

That man seems to have done an excellent job cleaning up this alley.
Yes; he's a new man.

BOOHI!
On afternoons, when baby boy has had a splendid nap
And sits, like any monarch on his throne, in mamma's lap,
In some such way my handkerchief I hold before my face,
And cautiously and quietly I move about the place:
Then with a cry I suddenly expose my face to view,
And you should hear him laugh and crow when I say "Boohi!"

Sometimes that rascal tries to make believe that he is scared,
And, really, when he first begins, he stares and stares and stares,
And then his under lip came out, and further out it came,
Till mamma and the nurse agreed it was a "good shame!"
But now what does that same wee tottling, lisping baby do,
But laugh and kick his little heels when I say "Boohi!"

He laughs and kicks his little heels in rapturous delight
And then, in shrill, despotie treble bids me "Do it all again!"
And I—of course I do, for, as his progenitor,
It is such pretty, pleasant play as this that I am for!
And it is, oh, such fun, and I am sure that I shall rue
The time when we are both too old to play the game of "Boohi!"
—Eugene Field in Chicago News.

Another's Sister.
Let us all pray to be delivered from the sin of hasty judgment. When I first beheld four or five modern couples adapted from the French language, wherein the situations were all due to somebody, chiefly a she, entering some body else's apartments, chiefly a he, I scoffed audibly. The thing was absurd, outworn and cheap. But now that has happened which has caused me to know a great deal more about French comedies and critical situations than all the most successful playwrights put together.

In the first place I occupied (and still do occupy) chambers which consist of two rooms connected by a tiny hallway, giving on to the landing by one door. Therefore it will be plain to the meanest mind that once the hallway is occupied by the enemy, the only other exit is from the window by way of the gutter pipe—a vertical distance of three stories. There should always be two ways, not including the window, out of every set of chambers.

Our word describes it—"perfection." We refer to De Witt's Little Early Risers, cures obstinate sores, burns, skin diseases and is a well known cure for piles. New Mexico Drug Store.

Another's Sister.
Let us all pray to be delivered from the sin of hasty judgment. When I first beheld four or five modern couples adapted from the French language, wherein the situations were all due to somebody, chiefly a she, entering some body else's apartments, chiefly a he, I scoffed audibly. The thing was absurd, outworn and cheap. But now that has happened which has caused me to know a great deal more about French comedies and critical situations than all the most successful playwrights put together.

In the first place I occupied (and still do occupy) chambers which consist of two rooms connected by a tiny hallway, giving on to the landing by one door. Therefore it will be plain to the meanest mind that once the hallway is occupied by the enemy, the only other exit is from the window by way of the gutter pipe—a vertical distance of three stories. There should always be two ways, not including the window, out of every set of chambers.

This need had never presented itself to me until one memorable afternoon, when without knock, word or warning a round faced, golden haired, blue eyed maiden in an astrakhan faced jacket, a gray skirt and a black velvet hat charged into my room after the most approved fashion of all the comedies, crying, "Dear old Joe!"

My name was not and never will be Joe. There was no need for explanations. Sister, and only sister, was stamped all over the face of the maiden. Everybody who has been possessed of an only sister understands the manner in which one of the tribe enters a brother's rooms.

The maiden gave a little scream as I turned. She apologized. Could I tell her whereabouts Mr. Joseph Rupard's chambers were?

I could not—for you may live 17 years in chambers without knowing the face, life or occupation of any one of your fellow convicts. I suggested that she should speak to the housekeeper and escorted her to the tiny hall aforesaid.

You will observe that there was nothing whatever in these proceedings to bring a blush to the thinnest cheek.

The imp of perversity, who is generally playing about on the landing for 6 shillings a week, met me in the hallway, saying, "Lady and gentleman to see you, sir."

Behind him stood two figures that I knew, and at any other time would have received with joy.

The maiden at my heels lost her singularly pretty head, and whispering "What shall I do?" bolted back into the sitting room.

All this was strictly in accordance with the rules of the stage, but why it should have taken place in my chambers I could never understand. And yet I was deeply thankful that she had not gone forth, like Aunt, under the noses of my visitors.

Uncle John—yes, it was an uncle, even as is the case in a comedy—would have laughed, and since she was another man's sister that would have been even worse than Aunt Alice's hawked inspection of the maiden, and subsequent description of her face, figure and dress to all her righteous world.

I received my people in the hallway. An inspiration told me to get rid of my coat and rumple my hair. Desperate fear made me very wise, most courteous and genial to excess.

"Oh, so glad to see you," said I, "but I'm afraid you've come to a regular camp in the wilderness. Fact is, my sitting room is upside down—that fool of a housemaid has been doing something to the fire that has filled the place with smuts, and I've made her dust everything out again. But come into the bedroom, since you've taken the trouble to climb all these stairs." Even as I spoke in the hall, I heard the heavy armchair wheeled up against my sitting room door, and there was a sound of emphatic dusting. I thanked heaven that was pleased to afflict me that it had sent at least "one heart still ready to play out the play."

Into my humble bedroom I led those relatives, and my aunt, after the manner of women; made scorching inventories with her eyes and inquired as to whether I was well looked after. But it was the antipathetic kiss and the remark that followed—"My boy, how hot you are! Aren't you well?"—that scared my perfectly innocent soul like hot iron.

Perfect crime must bring with it a sense of ease and rest. It is the unmerited imputation of evil that strains the nerves.

My aunt would fain have had tea, "when that girl had finished cleaning your rooms." The bedroom door was of course open. I assured my aunt that the folly of that housemaid prevented her from finishing anything this side of doomsday, and that the dust would not settle down till 80 minutes after that.

There was a crowing, choking noise, that might have been a smothered chuckle, from the sitting room, whereof the fanlight above the door was open.

"What a very superior voice she has!" said Aunt Alice. "Quite like a lady's. Is she pretty?"

"Come and see," I gushed I, with that icy innocence that only cunning can bestow. I half opened the sitting room door, coughed vehemently and drew back as one choked with the dust.

"Impossible," I said. "She's not in a sweet temper today because I made her do the rooms twice. We'd better not disturb her, or she'll break my ornaments." This, methinks, could not have been excelled by the most hardened profligate on the stage.

My aunt left very slowly and deliberately, mourning for the loss of her tea. I escorted her and Uncle John down to the first floor. How could I tell that her housewifery zeal for her nephew could have led her to bestow upon the housemaid, who was Fan of the Teeth, a few hints on the best management of fire and the proper care of the room, which the fellow servant was even then supposed to be cleaning?

"You see, it all means more work for you in the end," said my aunt.

I dashed into the sitting room to find, helpless with suppressed laughter, the maiden with the black velvet hat. I was, of course, as has been recounted—people never stay long with a man who lacks a coat—my hair was on end, and I was flushed. But there was no resisting that infection of mirth. I laughed aloud. The fire was dense with dust, and all the furniture was out of place. "That fool of a housemaid" had lived up to her reputation.

"Haven't I done the room beautifully?" she said, with a wicked giggle. "Thank you—thank you, oh, so much for helping me!"

"Not in the least," said I. "I've got a sister of my own. But hadn't you better—"

"I'm gone," she said, and vanished at the word to hunt for her brother's chambers.

Entered, her cap over one eye, Fan of the Teeth, boiling with rage. She was an austere woman of 35, not to be trifled with.

"And I'm sure me and Lucy, too, we takes all the trouble that we can with 17 sets of chambers to be gone through, and the bells ringing on every landing all day long. 'Tisn't as if I was afraid of my work, for I've kept myself ever since I was a little girl of thirteen, nor Lucy neither. But when that lady on the staircase spoke to me an tale me that I was inattentive an Lucy, too, an smuts all over your room, say, sir, I was put out."

"Do as you would be done by, I thinks, an show no favor to any chambers more than another, for some one must lose by it, and if it isn't you it will be some other gentleman. An there aren't no smuts in your room not to be seen, an Lucy, I know she's been on the fourth floor since I come down with the slops, but I didn't say nothink to that lady when she said what she said—an Lor, sir, what 'ave you been doin to the furnichure—all pulled across the room? An you 'avin to see your friends in your bedroom—as if it was our fault!"

"Fanny," said I, "if there has been any fault, that fault is mine. Take, oh, take those lips away, and—here's a half sovereign."

It was a damning confession of guilt, received as such. Fan removed herself with an unholy light in her eye.

I hated Fan, and this still further shook my nerves. Worn with a thousand conflicting emotions, I fled to the sideboard and pulled myself together with the necessary liquids. Men never seem to do that on the stage after any unusual crisis. They do in the prosaic world of real life.

Re-entered Fan, the half sovereign in her hand, and placed it on my table.

"I've took them in their teeth," she said sarcastically, "an she was tellin' 'im all about it. She is a real nice little lady, she is, an I don't want no 'arf sufferin' for that."

No comedy that I could think of had any mention of the soubrette—to be sure, Fan was rather too angular for the soubrette—refusing a tip.

"And you're a lady, too, Fan," said I. "Keep it. Few people return money. Still fewer dismiss preconceived suspicions."

She withdrew slightly alarmed.

I stepped into the hallway to set down the empty soda water siphon in the place appointed. The door leading to the landing was half open. I heard voices descending the stairs.

"He was really very nice, Joe, about it. Said he had a sister of his own and laugh."

"Humph. Then I'm sorry for his sister, that's all. He drinks like a fish. Why, only last night I found him on his hands and knees on the second floor and had to help him to bed."

The next chambers! As I hope to clear my character before all judges, it was the man in the next chambers! I had heard the infernal din of that episode at 8 o'clock in the morning, and a few of Joe's comments as he left the drunkard. How should the maiden know exactly into whose rooms she had penetrated, and here was Joe saddling me with my neighbor's booted slumbers.

I gripped the siphon head in an agony of wrath. The steps were almost opposite my landing. There was more soda water than I thought for in the tube, and the infernal confusion exhausted itself with a fizz, spit and grunt. It seemed to roar through the house.

"There!" said Joe. "You hear, Milly? That's a soda water siphon. He's at it again—so early."

"But he didn't look as if he took!" The sweet voice died away, and I was alone with my sorrow and my siphon.

Today I know something of plot and construction, and as I say, I understand the verisimilitude of the modern French farce. Yet would I sell all my insight for the single privilege of explaining to Milly (my Milly—she has dusted my room) that I am not—indeed I am not—the villain that Joe painted me.—St. James Gazette.

CITY OF SANTA FE.

ATTRactions HISTORIC AND MODERN.
Mountains of Mineral, Fruitful Orchards and Other Resources.

AT THE GATEWAY OF THE NATIONAL PARK.

The World's Only Sanitarium—Statistical Information for Tourist, Invalid and Health Seeker.

Santa Fe, the city of the Holy Faith of the West, is the capital of New Mexico, trade center, sanitarium and Archeological site. An Indian Pueblo had existed on this site previous to the 15th century. Its name was Oga-p-ho-ge, but it was abandoned before Coronado's time. The Spanish town of Santa Fe was founded in 1605. It is therefore the second oldest European settlement still extant in the United States. In 1891 came the first venturesome American trader—the forerunner of the great line of merchants who have made Santa Fe the world-wide in its celebrity.

The city lies in a charming nook on the west side of the Santa Fe range and is sheltered from the northern winds by a spur of low hills which extend from the mountains west as far as the Rio Grande. It lies in the center of the valley at the mouth of a picturesque canon, the chief entrance to the Pecos National Park, and through which runs the Rio Santa

Is Life Worth Living?

That depends upon the Liver. If the Liver is inactive the whole system is out of order—the breath is bad, digestion poor, head dull or aching, energy and hopefulness gone, the spirit is depressed, a heavy weight exists after eating, with general despondency and the blues. The Liver is the housekeeper of the health; and a harmless, simple remedy that acts like Nature, does not constipate afterwards or require constant taking, does not interfere with business or pleasure during its use, makes Simmons Liver Regulator a medical perfection.

I have tested its virtues personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. Have tried forty other remedies before Simmons Liver Regulator, and none of them gave more than temporary relief. But the Regulator not only relieved but cured.

QUIETING TITLES.

What the Land Court has Done Toward the Settlement of Titles in New Mexico.

A review of the work of the U. S. court of private land claims presents to the average New Mexican reader some highly interesting facts. The New Mexican obtains the memoranda from official records in the office of the U. S. attorney.

The number of cases filed for land in New Mexico is 262. Grants confirmed for land in New Mexico cases Nos. 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, 21, 22, 23, 30, 31, 35, 39, 43, 53, 57—total 23.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

Major J. P. Baker, paymaster, U. S. A., paid off the troops at Fort Marcy this forenoon.

is in favor of dealing quite as liberally with those at present holding mining claims thereon as would Uncle Sam.

Capt. J. T. Kirkman's company of the 10th infantry came marching in through the mud from the upper Pecos last evening, arriving about 5 o'clock. A rousing cheer greeted them when they came to a halt at their quarters. The month of camp life was greatly enjoyed, notwithstanding it rained nearly every day they were out.

Hon. Trinidad Alarid has the thanks of the New Mexican for a basket of choice pears. Down at his fruit farm the frosts never do any nipping, hence he always has a big crop of all fruits. Mrs. W. H. Manderfield also kindly sends the editor of this journal a basket of very superior peaches such as has been put up to be sent to the World's fair.

There is a tree of Flemish Beauty pears in T. A. Goodwin's orchard that has this year yielded 400 pounds of fruit. It was sold at 5 cents a pound, most of it going to Cerrillos. That means that the tree has yielded $20 to its owner. Now 100 of these trees may be grown on an acre of Santa Fe valley land. On this basis figure out the profits of a ten-acre fruit orchard at Santa Fe, gentle reader, and then hustle for a piece of land.

MILLER WINS.

Lorion Miller of Albuquerque Named for the Territorial Secretaryship.

Special to the New Mexican.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Lorion Miller, of Albuquerque, N. M., was to-day appointed by the president to be secretary of the Territory of New Mexico.

A Novel Race.

Prof. Thomas Allen and Mr. Ed Love left Albuquerque on Wednesday to walk to the World's fair on a wager for $100.

The conditions of the race are as follows: The first one to reach the New Mexico building on the World's fair grounds wins the $100, and this must be done by October 31. They were to start with $3.00 each in money. On the way they are allowed to earn as much money as they can by painting pictures, at which both are proficient. If they reach Chicago with less than $75 the man having the larger amount takes all the cash of the other. Should both have earned more than $75 each, they are to retain their money. They will follow the railroad, and from each station they will send cables to the judges at Albuquerque and in Chicago, giving the time of arrival and departure.

FOR THE FAIR.

What Santa Fe Will Do Toward the Live Stock and Speed Ring Exhibits This Fall.

Santa Fe will send numerous attractions in the live stock line to the territorial fair this fall. There will be eight or ten horses on show from this point and they will be entered in the speed ring as well as for prizes in the blooded stock list.

Among the horses in training here now for this event are Dr. Andrews' roaster, a bright young stallion; the two runners belonging to H. L. Ortiz; the M. J. Nagel colt and Clem Neely's clever string from the upper Pecos. The latter include "Sally Darnell," a 5-year old Lexington mare, valued at $500; "Boxie Story," an inbred Pharoa gray mare that can pace a stork; "P. M. Norton," a 3-year old sorrel Lexington racer, and "Godolphin," a Hamiltonian 3-year old that is as pretty as a picture. Mr. Neely will also take to the fair a Polled Angus thoroughbred bull and a cow of the same breed that tips the beam at about 1,700 pounds.

PERSONAL.

READY FOR WORK.

The Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institute Finished—What is Shown by a Trip of Inspection.

New Mexico has made marked progress in the way of establishing public charitable and educational institutions during the past few years, and in this respect is to-day far ahead of many of the states. The latest addition in this line is the asylum at Santa Fe for the deaf, dumb and blind of New Mexico. In company with Gen. E. L. Bartlett and Hon. Demetrio Perez, members of the board of managers, Col. Frost and others, a New Mexican representative visited this institution yesterday. The building has been just finished and the object of the visit was to inspect the premises preparatory to making the final payment to Contractor Windsor; this was made to-day.

The structure is a double story brick, 45x31 feet with an "L" 26x24 feet. The structure is conveniently divided into office, recitation, study-rooms, etc. There are five acres of ground attached to the building, all under irrigation ditches, and the property, valued at $7,000, is the cheapest that has ever been secured by the territory to serve a public benefit.

The institution will open its regular winter term on the 11th inst, with Mr. Lars M. Larson as superintendent; Mrs. Larson, a talented lady lately from Chicago, matron, and Miss Ida Heland, of Wisconsin, teacher of the blind pupils. Mrs. Jose Martinez is the landress, and a cook has yet to be appointed. Supt. Larson has sent circulars to every county in the territory and he expects to have at least forty of this class of New Mexico's unfortunates in attendance during the term.

HARVESTING HAY.

Fine Crops in the Santa Fe Valley Develop a New Home Industry.

Five to eight miles south of Santa Fe the waving gramma grass can now be cut at a profit, and daily wagon loads of the succulent forage may be seen rolling in upon the local market. The native citizen is taking advantage of the opportunity to reap not a little of this wild hay for winter use.

One enterprising resident is preparing to put in motion two mowing machines with a view to keeping at home this fall a large share of the ready cash generally sent out by merchants for the Kansas and southern Colorado product.

With 100,000 acres of valley lands to draw from, there is no excuse whatever for the fall further importing one pound of hay from outside points. By patronizing the harvesters of home grown hay the merchant and the consumer may aid in stimulating local industry and keeping at home currency which otherwise would go out of town and out of the territory.

Twenty-five cents for a box of Beecham's pills worth a guinea.

A Bank Circular.

The First National bank of Santa Fe, has posted notices, stating that hereafter it will make the following charges for its drafts on other points and for its cashier's checks or certificates of deposit issued in lieu of such drafts in all cases with the exception noted:

For sums not exceeding $25, 10 cents; above $25 and less than $100, 25 cents; for all sums in excess of $100, at the rate of 1 1/2 of 1 per cent. These rates will not apply to depositors whose average daily balance is $1,000 or upwards. On all drafts drawn with exchange sent to this bank for collection similar charges will be made.

OFFICIAL GOSIP.

Gov. Thornton is still suffering from rheumatism, but he was able to be up and at his office to-day.

U. S. Marshal Hall has returned from Dona Ana and Grant counties, where he made all arrangements for the U. S. court that opens at Las Cruces next Monday.

Lorenzo Martinez, a Taos Pueblo Indian who has had five years training at Carlisle school, is serving as interpreter at the Jicarilla Apache and Pueblo Indian agency.

E. Esapoyet, a full blood Comanche who has been serving faithfully as tailor at the U. S. Indian school, left this morning for Lawrence, Kas., where he has secured a position.

A full report of the condition of the Albuquerque National bank has been sent by Receiver Schofield to Comptroller Eckles. No report will be made to the depositors unless it is ordered by the comptroller which would be an unusual occurrence in such cases.

The secretary of war has detailed a board of four surgeons to represent the medical department of the army at the Pan-American congress which meets in Washington next week. Dr. David L. Huntington, well and favorably known in Santa Fe, is one of these officers elected upon this important commission.

A three-horse power engine, in good condition, for sale cheap at the New Mexican printing office.

For RENT—Newly furnished front rooms with board on south side; for particulars inquire at residence of Mrs. Hogle near university.

Important to Ladies.

Mrs. M. Ross, formerly well and favorably known here as a fashionable dressmaker, has returned from Denver after a year's absence. She occupies her old stand on San Francisco street, near the cathedral, and while thanking all for past favors begs a continuance of custom from her old patrons and a share of the new work. She guarantees good and prompt work to all.
