SILVER SAFE.

Repeal Men Acknowledge Defeat and Are Discussing the Details of a Compromise.

The Substitute to Be Passed and Congress to Take a Recess for Three Weeks.

GLORIOUS NEWS FOR THE GREAT WEST.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The Wilson bill, passed by the house and now before the senate, providing for the unconditional repeal of the law providing for the purchase by the government of not less than 4,500,000 ounces of silver monthly, is nearer beyond the shadow of a doubt. The friends of unconditional repeal openly admit the hopelessness of their cause. There will be no vote on the question, however, next week. The situation now is such that time is needed to enable both sides to reflect; but it is practically agreed that a vote is probable in less than two weeks and that vote will be on a proposition to compromise.

The most powerful forces in the Democratic party are now arrayed in favor of a compromise. It is admitted that by this means only can the subject of silver be disposed of and got out of the way for other legislation now pressing upon the members of both houses.

THE PLAN IS to pass a silver bill in the senate by October 13, and after the same has been concurred in by the house, to have congress take a recess, about October 20, for three weeks in order to formulate tariff legislation. On reassembling at the end of three weeks, should the tariff bill not be ready, it is probable the Torrey bankruptcy bill will be called up and have right-of-way until the tariff measure is in shape to be laid before the senate.

ARIZONA INDIAN TROUBLE. San Diego, Sept. 30.—An outbreak and serious trouble is reported among the Yuma Indians near Yuma, A. T. Col. Kellogg, commanding San Diego barracks, has sent a detachment of one officer and thirty men from San Diego barracks to the scene of trouble.

STOCK MARKET. Chicago, Sept. 30.—Wheat is dull and easier on account of rain. The cable orders are lazy. Dec. 69 1/2, corn farmer, Oct. 44 1/2; provisions are dull and show no change of price. New York.—Stocks opened strong and advanced quickly, but by 11 o'clock were lower.

THE ARGENTINE REVOLUTION. Buenos Ayres, Sept. 30.—The death sentence of Col. Espina, convicted by military court martial of inciting attack on government vessels, has been commuted to twenty years imprisonment. Col. Espina was to have been shot to-day. The national guard that have been mobilized and have been on duty for some days have been disbanded, and the rebellion, instituted by the radicals, is regarded as crushed.

A GOOD SHOWING.

Hoard's Broken and Deposits Flowing in.

The Weekly Bank Statement Shows the Effect of Better Times.

New York, Sept. 30.—The weekly bank statement appeared to-day. The figures show an increase all along the line. The reserve funds are increased $6,510,000; loans increased $349,000; specie on hand increased $2,134,000; legal tenders, increased $6,145,000; deposits increased $7,033,400. Seven million eight hundred and fifty thousand dollars were added during the week to the local circulation; and the excess of cash on hand over legal requirements amounts to $34,120,300.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Preparing to Push Tariff Legislation—The Van Alen Scandal—National News Notes.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Congressman Wilson, chairman of the ways and means committee, says the report current throughout the country that the new tariff bill is not to go into effect before January 1895, is pure fiction.

NEW POSTMASTER AT LAS CRUCES. The president has appointed Simon A. Stephenson as postmaster at Las Cruces.

A DEMOCRATIC SCANDAL. Notwithstanding the scandal following the nomination of Mr. Van Alen, the ten-times millionaire, as minister to Italy, it looks this morning as though the nomination would be confirmed, the present absolutely insisting upon it. It is coldly given out that this monoco-swinging, Anglomaniac gave $50,000 to the Cleveland campaign fund with the distinct understanding that this was to be the purchase price of the Italian mission if Cleveland succeeded. He now demands his pound of flesh, and the president having done his part the senate is expected to do the rest.

Unless a number of eminent Democrats are unworthy of belief, the White House statement that Cleveland had no knowledge of the deal, is untrue. It is difficult to conceive that Van Alen should have been nominated to this position except for a money consideration. However much Democrats, for the sake of their party and on behalf of the honor of their country, choose publicly to deny this sale of a high office, privately one does not hear any doubt expressed that the report as to the purchase and sale of this position is true. A list of persons acquainted with the circumstances has been prepared upon which are the names of such distinguished Democrats as William C. Whitney, Horace White and Richard Gilder.

A CLEVELAND SCHEME. Congressman Cooper, of Texas, created a sensation to-day by introducing a resolution submitting the silver question to a popular vote.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—In the senate to-day notice was given by several southern senators of their intention to offer an amendment to the Wilson silver repeal bill providing for the return to the several states interested of the cotton tax collected during the war by the national government.

Senator Perkins, of California, also gave notice of his intention to offer an amendment to the Wilson bill providing for the free coinage of silver to the extent of the American production at the existing ratio and allowing 20 per cent to the government for seigniorage. The amendment also provides that no gold be coined into less than $10; that no bank or treasury notes be issued of less than $5, and provides further for the organization of a national monetary commission composed of five experts.

AMIZETT HUMS.

Grigg's Stamp Mill on the Ground and the Taos Mountain Company's Concentrator Coming.

Lease and Bond on the Frasier Mines—$25,000 Refused for the Gold King—News from a Live-ly Camp.

To the Editor of the New Mexican.

Amizett, Taos county, Sept. 25.—Mr. A. S. Grigg, of Denver, came here two weeks ago and engaged Mr. S. D. Stanton, an expert mill man, to make a thorough test of the forty odd promising gold prospects. Mr. Grigg remained in camp a few days and was quite well satisfied with the outlook, as he had sufficient guarantee from several mine owners to keep his mill running all winter.

Mr. Stanton made a run test of the mines and got thirty-two colors, thereupon he made a very favorable report to Mr. Grigg. He at once telegraphed from Denver directing Mr. Stanton to look for a mill site, which was located near Wm. Frasier's old arrastra at the forks of the creek.

Everybody was wild with excitement Monday staking off lots about the new mill site, as the town site company people had left two months ago. Citizens were under the impression that everything was free, which caused several outdoor fights over town lots.

Mr. Grigg arrived Thursday with his five-stamp mill plant, and expects to have it soon in operation.

During the latter part of last week the camp assumed more than ever the appearance of a new mining town. Quite a number of people came in, and as several of them possessed arrangements for building, the outlook for the establishment of a permanent and active camp this winter, is most encouraging.

The coming of the stamp mill indicates a permanent future for the camp, consequently, miners and business men are gathering in from every direction; they are to be met on every road.

Dr. Taylor, from Syracuse, N. Y., one of the large stockholders in the Taos Mountain Mining company and Mr. C. E. Pettis vice-president, headquarters at Chicago, and a surveyor are here, and are surveying the ground for the company concentrator, and a tramway connecting the mines on the south and northwest side of the range with the concentrator. The mill machinery will arrive at Tres Piedras, early next week. Dr. Taylor and Mr. Pettis will now arrange for an active winter's work in developing the properties of that company. The company owns seventeen claims, the two most promising ones are the Lone Star and the Black Diamond. The Lone Star mine has a shaft 160 feet deep. The last assay gave 86 ounces of silver, and 65 per cent lead. As soon as the concentrating mill is in operation these mines will be a scene of bustle and activity.

Mr. Pettis, Capt. Baldwin and M. N. Simons, of Chicago, have filed with the county clerk of Taos a document, from which it appears that they have taken a lease upon and option to purchase the gold mining property of J. B. Wheeler and Wm. Frasier. Their lease runs two years; they pay 20 per cent royalty on all ore extracted, and agree to pay in case of purchase $125,000 for the property and a one-half interest in the toll road.

The Gold King owners refused $25,000 for their property, offered by Denver parties last week. They have the richest mine in the Rio Hondo at present.

Mr. Foot, from Monte Vista, Colo., moved down his printing outfit here last week; he is in the Lacombe building and expects to get his first issue out on Saturday. So, you see, from present indications, Amizett will be strictly in the swim this winter.

Wm. Deutscher now owns 5,000 shares in the Taos Mountain Mining company and means to stay right by the camp. Christ Yeager, a miner, lost his left eye while working in the Gold King mine caused by a piece of steel from the drill striking him.

The returns from the Mathilde and Louise mines were decidedly favorable. The assay on one sample gave one ounce of gold. The vein is over two feet wide. F. G. Deutscher.

TERRITORIAL TIPS.

LAS VEGAS LOCALS.

The railroad company is feeding the delayed passengers at the Depot hotel.

The Christian Brothers are building an extensive adobe house, for the accommodation of boarders at their school.

Maj. W. E. Ewing, of Las Vegas, is trying to engage the celebrated troupe of Persian dancers, now performing on the Midway Plaisance, World's fair, as one of the attractions at the midwinter fair, at San Francisco.

The reservoir at the saw mill on the old Jim Flick ranch, owned by S. L. Barker, washed out the other night, doing damage which will take several days to repair. This seems to be an unlucky place. The first settler's house was burned and the second settler died on the ranch. Last spring some of the fencing was burned; and the washout also looks suspicious.

The bad effects of the $200 exemption law, is seen in the tax returns of precinct 29, which pretty well correspond with East Las Vegas. In this precinct, where the assessing was well done for both years, it is found that the valuation in 1892 was $2,030,011, while in 1893 it was $2,036,889, or $23,122 less than the year before. Another thing which the assessors must show, is that precinct 29, which does not include old town, contains over one-third of the property of the entire county.

SHOOTING STARS.

Sund Wanted.
She (on the beach)—I was afraid you were going to kiss me then, you purred up your lips so.
He—Oh, no; I wouldn't dare do that. I merely had some sand in my mouth.
She (disgustedly)—Don't you think it would be well to swallow it?—Judge.
Mr. Thomas Batte, editor of the Graph, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this medicine to any person suffering from such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

A Clean Boy.
Mother—I am glad to see that your neck is clean for once.
Boy—You're in. I got so sunburned the skin came off.—Good News.

Amazing Fact, Suspected by Comparatively Few.
Things that embody the most truth are frequently among the last to be realized. Incredibly as it may seem one in four has a weak or a diseased heart, the early symptoms of which are, short breath, oppression, faint and hungry spells, fluttering, pain in left side, smothering, swollen ankles, dropsy, wind in stomach, etc. Levi Logan, Buchanan, Mich., suffered from heart disease thirty years. Two bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure cured him. "The effect of your New Heart Cure is wonderful," Mrs. Eva Dresser, McGregor, Iowa. This favorite remedy is sold by A. C. Ireland, Jr., on a guarantee for the Doctors book, "New and Startling Facts," free.

Quick Results Assured.
Cordelia—The nice man went away and left the ole on the sidewalk and it's too heavy for me to carry, missus.
Mistress—Where do you suppose a man could be found to bring it in for us before it melts?
Cordelia—Yes might advertise, mum.—Exchange.

A Remedy of General Utility.
It is among the follies of which the manufacturers of many proprietary remedies are guilty, to claim their medicines "panaceas," or to claim for them the quality of panacea. There is no such thing as a "panacea" which means a remedy adapted to all diseases. This absurdity has never been perpetrated by the proprietors of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. But they do claim, and with justice, that it is a remedy of general utility, and this because it restores the regular and vigorous condition of the stomach, liver and bowels which conduce to the recovery of general health. This fortifies the system against malaria by infusing strength and causing harmonious action of the organs which, as long as they go right, are the best guaranty against an endemic malarial chills and fever. It accomplishes a double purpose by stimulating the kidneys of the kidneys, since it not only prevents their disease and decay, but expels from the blood through their impurities that cause rheumatism, gout and dropsy. Use it with confidence.

His Father a Smart Man.
Your husband preached from the same text that his father did last time he was in that pulpit, remarked a good Long Island deacon to the wife of a young minister who was revisiting his boyhood home.
Indeed, replied the lady, at once interested, I hope, she continued, that it was not the same sermon.
Oh, no, said the deacon, in a deprecatory manner; his father was a dreadful smart man.—New York Herald.

An Undisputed Test of Merit.
A medicine that has been a household remedy for over fifty years and used in that time by more than 150,000,000 persons must have great merit. Such a medicine is found in Brandreth's Pills. This fact demonstrates the value of these pills better than any statement of the proprietors. It will be observed that the dose required to cure is small. One or two pills taken every night for ten or twenty days will cure dyspepsia, costiveness, rheumatism, liver complaint, biliousness, or any disease arising from an impure state of blood.

Brandreth's Pills are purely vegetable absolutely harmless, and safe to take at any time.
Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.
The Referee.
Well, Jarley, how does your suit with Miss Jibway progress?
Oh, that's off.
Did you ask her?
Yes.
Did she say no?
No.
Refer you to her father?
No. Referred me to Wilkins.
What has Wilkins to do with it?
She's engaged to him.

A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.
From the Troy (Kansas) Chief.
Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhoea, etc., we become so very. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the very thing to straighten out one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

Discouraging.
He—I would propose to you if I knew what to say.
She—You wouldn't if you knew what I'd say.
Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than those of sickness. The young mother vividly remembers that it was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of croup, and in turn administered it to her own offspring and always with the best results. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

I suffered from biliousness, indigestion, etc. Simmons Liver Regulator cured after doctors failed.—W. D. Bird.
Modesty.
He's a very modest young man isn't he?
Modest as a burglar; he doesn't even want the credit of his own work.
To think "nothing ails you" is a symptom of dyspepsia. Take Simmons Liver Regulator.

Not Duplicated.
Dramatic Editor (to Advance Agent, who has presented him with a mass of type-written eulogies)—What is this illegible inscription at the top of the sheet?
Advance Agent (after a moment's study)—That is "No Duplicate."
Dramatic Editor—Thank you. It is so faint that I couldn't make it out.
Advance Agent (indignantly)—I told that blundering typewriter that she couldn't make six good copies at once on that infernal old machine of hers!

Seventy-five Convulsions A Thrilling Experience.
There is no one but at some period in life has an experience that stands out prominently beyond all others. Such is the case of John B. Collins, of Romeo, Mich., who says: "From September to January, before using Nervine, I had at least seventy-five convulsions. After three months' use I have no more attacks." Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine also cures nervous prostration, headache, poor memory, dizziness, neuralgia, etc., and builds up the body. Mrs. J. K. Miller, of Valparaiso, Ind., and J. B. Taylor, of Logansport, Ind., each gained twenty pounds of flesh by taking it. Sold by A. C. Ireland, Jr., on a guarantee. Get the Doctor's book, free.

Epigrammatic.
Sam—Do you mean to say that Miss Fay has refused you?
Tom—Exactly so.
Sam (surprised)—What kind of a girl is she, anyhow?
Tom (sandy)—Unkind.

Don't suffer from dyspepsia. Take Simmons Liver Regulator. It always cures.

Knew When He Was Well Off.
They tell me your wife chews gum. She does.
Do you not expostulate with her and try to break her of the habit?
My friend, I know when I am well off. My wife can't chew gum and talk at the same time.

Persons troubled with chronic diarrhoea should try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Many cases have been cured by it after all else had failed and skilled physicians were powerless. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

For Himself.
Ten Broke—How the deuce do you manage to keep your wife contented without a maid?
Dryden—Easily enough; I beg her constantly, to get one.

He Had To.
Sea-sick Wife—Don't leave me, dear, for heaven's sake!
Ditto Husband—I positively must, darling.
Sea-sick Wife—But don't leave me while the boat is dithering and tossing; don't leave me in the lurch!

You will seldom need a doctor if you have Simmons Liver Regulator handy.

Doubtless.
Jasper—The streets of New York are in a disgraceful condition.
Jumpuppe—Yes; but just you wait until the blustery spring begins to blow. They will sweep the streets in a way that will knock your eye out.

Ignorance of the merits of Dr. Williams' Little Early Risers is a misfortune. The little pills regulate the liver, cure headache, dyspepsia, bad breath, constipation and biliousness. New Mexico Drug Store.

Companions in Misery.
It was too bad, she said to her husband, as they left the theater, that that woman with a high hat should have spoiled the performance for you.

Yes, I had some satisfaction, though. How?

PROGRESSIVE LOVE.
I remember fair Florence, my very first love, And all that I told her was true, every word, But my love was as swift as the wings of a dove, And ere she loved me in the distance I heard The sweet voice of dear Blanche—she was best of them all, And I kept her bluest memory fresh in my heart. But the roses of summer must fade in the fall, As the night follows day, so we met but to part.
Then Emma and Isabelle, Mary and Mame, Each in turn were loved lightly, and Agnes and May. My song every summer would bear a new name, But these, like the others, soon drifted away. And then came a season of sadness for me, A season in which I tried hard to forget The marvelous musical voice of Marie And the faraway, oceanlike eyes of Lisette. Even as the gay candle fly flirts with the flame I played round the hearts of the maidens I knew. My song every season would have a new name, And other would fade from my mind like the dew. Now I look at the past as 'twere all in a mist, For my bosom's own queen is enthroned on my knee. I remember one name, one alone in the list, As I gaze in the beautiful eyes of Marie. —Cy Warman in New York Sun.

A VILLAGE KISS.

Jaqueline was a young country girl, who was 16 years old last April harvest, and was a vestal model of sincerity. Every one who knew her loved her. Her skin was as white as the field daisy and as brilliant as the corn poppy.
On market days Jacqueline mounted her donkey, laden with fresh vegetables, the appetizing products of her mother's kitchen garden, and went to sell them in Blois. When she appeared in the square, every one welcomed her. Her eyes were so innocent, her voice so engaging that every one was attracted by her. Her carots seemed better than her neighbors', her potatoes had not the least scar upon them, and her crisp lettuce or cresses from the brook, looking as fresh as herself, were quickly bought and at the highest price.

I ought not to forget to tell you that Jacqueline had no lovers.
At the village festival she made the old dance till they named her the daughter of miracles. Protected by the purity of her thoughts, she kept the young men at such a distance that they dared not even so much as press her finger tips in sign of friendship. Jacqueline had a friend in Blois who was going to marry one of the village boys. Suzanne was her name, and she was two years older than Jacqueline. She was pretty, but coquettish; attractive, but capricious. She had made her lover miserable by her changing and fanciful moods.

One day Jacqueline was about to set out for the village, when Blaisot, the lover of Suzanne, approached her and said:

"I suppose you will soon see my affianced."
"In an hour and a quarter from now," answered the courteous fruit seller.
"And you will speak to her?"
"As I am speaking to you."
"Oh, how happy you will be!"
"What prevents you from going and having the same happiness?"

"She is gentle and kind to me sometimes, and then she is cold and haughty, and I can do nothing to please her."
"Bah! my friend, you are too good to be worried like this. If I were in your place, I would have no fear—no more fear than of the house wolf, of which we are often told, but which we never see."
"While waiting, will you do me a kindness, Mlle. Jacqueline?"
"What is it?"
"Take a commission for Miss Suzanne."

"With much pleasure, M. Blaisot. Is it something to give her?"
"It is indeed," said Blaisot, rubbing his hands to give himself courage.
"And I can do nothing to please her?"
"Light as a feather."
"Then I will take it," said the impatient messenger.

Quick as a flash Blaisot leaned down and kissed the pure white forehead of Jacqueline.
"What are you doing?" cried the astonished girl.
"I have given you a commission."
"That kiss?"
"It is for Suzanne. You will carry it free of charge and not leave it to be called for. You know the address," and he disappeared, laughing, around a turn in the road.

It appeared as if the kiss of Blaisot was heavier than he said, for Jacqueline remained pensive and serious all the way to Blois, and her donkey even seemed to share her melancholy.
On her arrival at Blois she took care not to break her promise and ran quickly to Suzanne's house.

"I have a commission for you!" she said.
"Ah! An embroidered bonnet—some fresh nuts—a rosary blessed by the priest?"
"It is none of these things."
"Oh, hurry and tell me!"
"It is a kiss from your betrothed."
"Oh, from him! He is no longer my betrothed."
"Ah, well, take the kiss all the same, even if you are having another quarrel! What, you refuse?"
"Absolutely!"
"You will not leave it upon my hands?"
"You need not feel it a burden."
"But I do not wish to keep a kiss that does not belong to me."
"That is your own affair. You should not load yourself with such merchandise. It may cost you a good deal before you are through."

Jaqueline returned to the village in a state of great perplexity. It seemed as if the kiss was visible upon her forehead, like the mark of a penitent in the church. She hurried as fast as she could, and as soon as she reached home she hastened to call upon Blaisot, to whom she related her lack of success.

"Oh, she is in one of her proud fits. It is all the same to me. I am rich. I am not ill looking. What is the old saying? If I find another girl that pleases me, I will drop Suzanne like a weight that is too heavy."

"But your kiss—what shall I do with it?"
"Whatever you wish!"
"Ah! well, if I had known!"
"But if you will please return it to me!"
The charming girl advanced, then quickly recoiled.
The remedy was worse than the disease—the restitution more difficult than the deposit.
"That cannot be," she said. "It is only our husbands that we kiss."
"Ah!" broke forth Blaisot, "there are coronets which crown heads not nearly as pretty as yours. I have never seen such pretty feet in any shoes, and you have a form and eyes to make a harvester dance when his day's work is done." And in his turn he began to sigh.

Meanwhile the pretty girl had reflected. She must avoid gossip. She accordingly ran to the house of the good priest to ask his advice. He was not at home, but Bertha, his housekeeper, received her.
"And this is all that troubles you?" said she when she had heard Jacqueline's story.
"And is it not enough?"
"Console yourself. There is near here a deposit of kisses, which contains plenty of room. Since I came to live with the priest more than a hundred thousand kisses have been put there."
"Truly?" exclaimed Jacqueline, overwhelmed.
"Yes, and there is still room for you to deposit yours." She conducted the young girl to the altar of the Virgin.

These Jacquelines frod herself from her head.
She felt herself lighter by many pounds after she had deposited the kiss upon the cold stones of the altar.
Two days after this she met Suzanne in the market clothed in gay apparel.
"See here, little one!" she cried mockingly. "I have reflected. Blaisot has a hundred acres of ground and a good mill. You may give me that kiss now."

"Oh, dear!" answered Jacqueline. "I can't walk round the world with other folks' goods. I no longer have it."
"Where is it, then?"
"Upon the first step of the altar of the Virgin Mary."

"That's good. It is not lost. I will go and get it the very first time I visit the hamlet."
But it was Suzanne who was snared this time, for that very evening Blaisot came to Jacqueline's mother's house in his Sunday clothes.

"Mademoiselle, I must have my kiss." "It is in the chapel. Go get it there." "That one does not belong to me. I gave you something to carry. You must either execute your commission or return the kiss to me. That is wholly just. I leave it to your mother."

"What should she have done with it?" asked her mother. "Jacqueline can kiss only her husband, and she is still too poor to find one."
"I will give her all that I have," said Blaisot.

"You!" exclaimed the two astonished women.
"Of course, when I give commissions, I pay for them. I will add to it my hand and my name. Will you accept them, beautiful messenger, and be my wife?"

Jacqueline, overwhelmed, nearly fell into her basket of salad.
When, several days afterward, Suzanne went to seek the kiss, the priest made her acquainted with what was going on. Shaking his white head and smiling, he said:

"You will never find it again."
"Somebody has taken it?" asked the coquette.
"No, but Blaisot and Jacqueline were married this morning. They kissed together the holy stone. The three kisses are now blended in a pious and chaste love. You can never recognize now, my dear, the one that was destined for you."

Etiquette of Letters of Introduction.
In the giving of letters of introduction permission should first be granted even in the case of intimate friends, as the introduction of a person whom you do not know thoroughly and well is attended with danger in many cases, and more particularly when the presentation is made by letter, as the written words always appear to carry more weight with them than the spoken ones, and the recipient of such an epistle feels in duty bound to show the newly introduced or, every courtesy that lies either in his or her power. Many unpleasant happenings have resulted from unthinking good heartedness that prompted the letter without inducing a careful study of the one to whom it was given.

Many letters of introduction are presented in person, but the more elegant way is to send them by messenger or post, accompanied by the card of introduction, and the messenger or postman conferring the introduction.

own with your address on it. It should be made within a week after the arrival of the letter by the person receiving it if the acquaintance is desired. —Philadelphia Times.

Smashed Idols.
What years and years of labor will men not go through in order to gain the esteem of their fellow man! Yet how uncertain the reward. A thousand successes, a single mistake, and all is lost. It is said now that if Admiral Tryon had lived he might have been shot for his great blunder. Only those who die or retire at the right moment can hope to retain what they have earned of fame.

Perhaps the cause of this smashing of idols for a first offense is that, feeling ourselves equal as a whole to the idol, we take advantage of the first error that shows the lack of supposed superiority to knock the idol down to the common level. Certain qualities may cause men to become famous, but it is doubtful if in the eyes of an all seeing Spirit we are not all about as evenly made up of what we call bad and good qualities as to make a claim for any superiority other than animal superiority ridiculous. —Jamestown All.

A little boy of Mrs. McDonald's, living near here, fell against a red hot stove and was fearfully burned. The pain was terrible, and it was thought the burn was severe as to scar the child for life. I saw the lady with a bottle of Pan-Balm, which, after greasing the sore, she applied. It soon removed all the fire and eased the pain, and in ten days the boy was well, no trace of the scar remaining. J. D. McLaren, Keyport, Clinton county, Ill. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

THE HIGHEST PLACE,
among all blood-medicines, belongs to Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. See if you don't think so, when you consider how it's sold to you. It's guaranteed—and no other medicine of the kind is. If it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. Wouldn't every medicine make the same terms if it could do as much good?

But the "Discovery" acts differently, just as it's sold differently. It's not like the sarsaparillas, which claim to do good in March, April, and May. All the year round, with equal benefit, it cleanses, purifies and invigorates the whole system. All Blood, Skin, and Scalp Diseases, from a common blotch or eruption to the worst Scrofula, are cured by it. For Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Goiter or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands, Tumors, and Swellings, it's a remedy that nothing can equal.

The "Discovery" is a concentrated vegetable extract, and equally good for adults or children. It's the cheapest one too. With this, you pay only for the good you get. Refuse worthless substitutes.

THE RAILROADS.

A Ten Mile Transfer in Progress on the A. T. & S. F.—Daily Trahs to Be Resumed Over the Narrow Gauge.

Some idea of the extent of Wednesday's washouts on the A. T. & S. F. road between Cerrillos and Albuquerque may be had from the fact that about fifty ear loads of material, piling, bridge-timbers, etc., will be required to repair the breaks. An army of men is at work, and while the running of through trains is not hoped for before Monday night, the transfer of passengers and mail, and perishable express matter is in progress this afternoon.

This morning it was resolved to attempt the work of transferring, and accordingly telegrams were sent to Lamy, Cerrillos, Waldo, Bernalillo and other villages requesting agents to secure all the teams possible and sent them out to the various breaks in the road. Probably as many as fifty teams are engaged in this work at this writing. The task is a difficult one because of the great number of washouts and the boggy condition of the roads. Train men say the teams will have to travel ten or twelve miles to make the transfer from the south end of the break to the waiting train near Cerrillos. It is expected that four days' work from south and west will reach here about 4:30 this afternoon, and one transfer each way will also be made to-morrow.

THE NARROW GAUGE.

On the Santa Fe Southern line a force of 100 men succeeded in getting the washouts repaired last night, so that a train from the north got through this morning arriving at 5 o'clock, and the regular train went out on time at 8 a. m.

Supt. Helm last night received a telegram from Gen. Supt. Sample bringing the good news that the D. & R. G. company had decided to resume the running of daily trains over its line from Antonito to Santa Fe, and requesting Mr. Helm to come to Denver and aid in arranging the details. He leaves to-morrow on this mission, and about the middle of next week the through daily service over the narrow gauge will be once more in operation.

The new superintendent has not yet been appointed, but will be shortly, and in the meantime Mr. Jones will have charge of the institution. ## PLACER WASHING.

A New Process on the Upper Rio Grande—Saving Flour Gold by the Use of Burlap Cloth Screens.

Messrs. Pruden & Parke, of Del Norte, Colo., are at work in the Rio Grande gravel bars, three miles above Rineconada, and are doing well in extracting gold therefrom by the use of a machine known as the Burlap process. It takes its name from the fact that common burlap cloth is utilized largely for saving the fine flour gold which can not be saved by any other process and which has hitherto prevented the working of the upper Rio Grande placer beds at a profit.

This machine has been used with great success on the Snake river gravel bars in Idaho, and its introduction into New Mexico is worthy of more than a passing note, particularly since in Taos and Rio Arriba counties where there is an abundance of water, the chief element of wealth in thousands of acres of land and gravel is this class of gold, so light that it floats on the water and is lost in any ordinary sluicing process.

The machine consists of a system of coarse screens beneath which are finer ones, and the gravel is "jiggered" through these, driving off the coarse material and permitting the fine stuff to fall below, finally landing upon a canvas and thence going through a burlap screen, the coarse and loose meshes of the burlap cloth catching the flour as well as the coarser particles of gold.

By this process these placer beds are made to yield a net profit of $350 a day per man. These interesting details are learned from Hon. Thos. McQuiston, who came in from Rineconada last night.

Beecham's Pills sell well because they cure.

New Enterprises.

Joseph Mulhatten has been instrumental in introducing no less than $50,000 of capital in New Mexico. He has great faith in the territory and particularly in the outcome of the Chama river placers. While for Santa Fe he considers the prospects for building here a beautiful and prosperous modern city are most promising. For some weeks Mr. Mulhatten and Mr. Pye, of Louisville, Ky., have been looking over the situation with a view to interesting Kentucky capital in the establishment of a woolen mill and a fruit cannery factory. They are to be joined shortly by several Louisville capitalists. The encouragement they receive, however, is not what it should be. In fact, they have been discouraged by men in business here who, it appears, would rather talk against than for the town.

THE WALSH MURDERERS

Supposed to Be in Hiding in Colfax County—Colorado and the East. Exercised—No Official Information Here.

The murder of W. S. Walsh, near the town of Aguilar, Las Animas county, Colo., is still greatly agitating the Colorado people. The murderers are said to have been two men named Vigil and Archuleta, and the Denver San charges that:

"The two men had come that morning from New Mexico and had sworn to kill the first American they met. As Walsh was the first man they came across they shot and killed him instantly."

After the murder Vigil and Archuleta crossed the Colorado line back into New Mexico and are now said to be in hiding in the upper Vermojo valley, on the Maxwell land grant, where they have relatives. Manager M. P. Polls, of the grant company, recently visited the Vermojo region and was informed by friends of the accused men that they would be surrendered whenever Sheriff McQuiston came after them and guaranteed them protection from the mob that had been organized at Trinidad to capture them dead or alive, but they decline to surrender to any body of armed men organized in Colorado.

Gov. Waite, of Colorado, is in receipt of a pathetic letter from Dr. W. W. Johnson, of Washington city, asking that a large reward be offered for the capture of Walsh's murderers. Dr. Johnson, in a postscript to the letter, offers a reward of $500 for the arrest and convictions of the murderers. The letter was answered immediately and to the effect that it is not customary in that state to grant rewards, and even if such were the case the governor's contingent fund is not large enough to admit of a reward being offered.

Dr. Johnson also wrote substantially the same thing to Attorney General Engley, who advised that the reward be offered. Senator Ed Wolcott writes that Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

In his opinion something ought to be done about it, and offers to do anything in his power for the arrest and conviction of the murderers.

Young Walsh was the grandson of Gov. Shannon, of Ohio, and son of a former United States minister to Mexico. His home was at St. Louis.

No official information whatever either relating to the tragedy or suggesting that the supposed murderers are in hiding in New Mexico has reached the office of the governor of this territory.

PLAZA IMPROVEMENT.

An Outline of the Plans to Be Followed by the Woman's Board of Trade.

To the Editor of the New Mexican.

Santa Fe, Sept. 29.—The kindly encouragement given the Woman's Board of Trade by your paper emboldens us to place our plans and hopes for the plaza improvement fully before the New Mexican's readers, and also to express our thanks to the public for its generous silence in regard to the inconvenience occasioned by the grading and filling now going on.

The board has met with such success in collecting funds that it hopes to carry out its original plan of cementing the walks at once, and to begin on the coping of the plaza if the same assistance is rendered in the future as has been given up to the present writing.

Some few criticisms and inquiries having been made as to the reduction on the north side of the size of the plaza, we would state:

On examining the ground for the foundation of the coping we are informed that owing to the enormous roots of the cottonwood trees we shall be obliged to select another line for our fence. The street, on investigation, will be found to jog out about ten feet on the north side of the coping, and the improvement is intended to be of a lasting character, and as we desire to preserve a regular and systematic square we have reduced it somewhat at the north side as stated. In time, as the younger trees grow, the old cottonwoods, etc., on the north side will be taken away, and a broad beautiful thoroughfare from upper to lower Palace avenue will be the result.

It is not intended that the pignons shall be moved.

The board has been promised a fountain of handsome style to be placed in the plaza. In consequence the old one will be removed to make way for the new, and water connections have been made therefor. Mr. McKenzie, who received the contract for laying and furnishing the water pipes, has sent for improved sprinklers, which will be here with hose and fittings in time for the grass seed and the work of sowing the same.

The flower bed about the monument, will, of course, lie fallow until spring, when the ladies expect to fill it with pansies, mignonette, etc.

The city council has treated the board most generously. Since the time they turned over the plaza to us not one word of criticism has been raised. Through the long walk, when drought, disappointment and money stringency combined to delay and almost defeat us, they have stood by us most loyally, and heartily does the board appreciate it.

Our thanks are many for the help of the New Mexican.

In view of what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others, is it not reasonable to believe that it will be of benefit to you?

A Novel Souvenir Spoon.

THIS SPOON as a souvenir of Arizona, is decidedly unique and appropriate. It is distinctly Arizona, picturing a scene that is an everyday feature on the streets of the cities and towns of the territory. A Pima Indian woman is represented, supporting on her head an olla which rests upon a twisted wisp of bear grass, and awaiting a customer for her ware. Statuesque and graceful as the figure, it is perfectly true to nature, having been designed from a photograph taken from real life for the purpose.

The olla, usually pronounced o-lla, is a huge jar or bowl of pottery for containing and cooling drinking water. It is altogether an Indian invention, and is made of a mixture of clay and sand, the material being moulded exceedingly thin by the deft hands of women, and baked to a brilliant red.

In this climate requests for cool water are indispensable in every household and thus the dusky maids and matrons find a ready market for them in every town.

It is no uncommon thing to see four or five of these children of nature, picturesque in their gaily colored advancing with stately tread down the street, each with an olla on her head, as represented in this charming Souvenir.

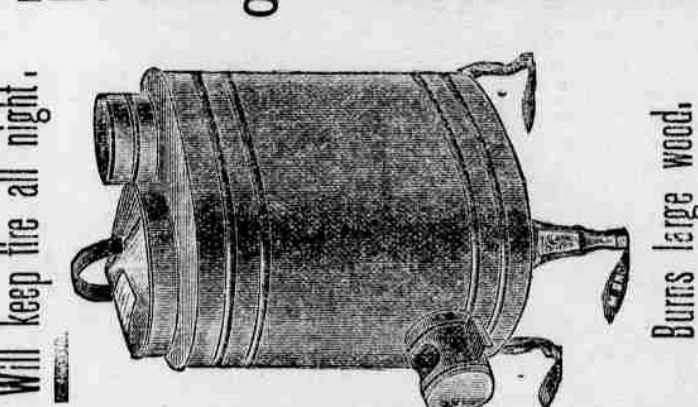

Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price $3.50. Made in sterling style. The cut exact size of spoon.
