IF!—BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

Was on deck now and could see those Franklin Stoves at Goebel's which are named after him, he would indeed be surprised, but the low price at which they are sold would cause him to drop his loaf of bread from under his arm and take a stove for this winter, instead of trying to depend on a fire-place.

BRIEF WIRINGS.

Cotton Deliveries.
Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 18.—Thus far the season's delivery of cotton exceeds last year by 5 per cent.

Pays the Penalty.
Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 18.—Richard Penniston, the actor who won half a million dollars in the Havana lottery twenty years ago and lost it in speculation, died in poverty at the Actors' Home this morning.

Business is Better.
Toledo, Oct. 18.—The city of Toledo, Ohio, has just contracted with the banking house of N. W. Harris & Co., of Chicago, and an eastern house for a ten year loan of $450,000 at 5 per cent.

Pleasant and Profitable.
Madrid, Oct. 18.—The Duke de Veragua, with his family, has returned here from his visit to the United States. The duke is eloquent in praise of the reception given him by the great American people. He says his ancestor, Columbus, could never have imagined that such a great nation as the North Americans could ever have flourished in the lands he had discovered across the Atlantic; that the highest state of civilization should exist in the world, where Columbus found only savages.

SILVER IN INDIA.

A Change in Conditions Which Promises an Advance in Value.

Calcutta, Oct. 18.—A dispatch from Simla says that the closure of the mints is now becoming operative, and exchange having gradually risen from three-eighths pence during the last ten days, to 15 1/4 pence, it is believed that the council bills will be applied for this week at or over the secretary of state's minimum. These are indications that the import of silver is declining, and dealers who were lately filled up with money are now distinctly short. The Bank of Bombay raised its rate last week, and the Bank of Bengal is expected to follow its example on to-morrow.

Indicted.
Chicago, Oct. 18.—Indictments have been returned by the federal grand jury against the officers of the Guarantee Investment company, of Nevada, Mo. The company, which has been in existence about two years, is believed by the government officials to be a violation of the lottery laws. It was incorporated under the laws of Missouri about two years ago and its principal office is located in St. Louis. Two indictments have been found embracing the officers of the company for the past and present year.

A Master Hand Controls.
Denver, Oct. 17.—The eyes of many are turned toward the A. T. & S. F. company, and while some railway men are of the opinion that the road must of necessity pass into the hands of receivers sooner or later, others have confidence in President Reinhart and claim that he will pull the company through. In 1889 he was general auditor for the company and effected a great coup by massing into the consolidated system eight separate and distinct lines of road. At that time Jay Gould was preparing to wreck the Missouri Pacific, and had all of his arrangements made to gobble the Santa Fe system to carry out his plans, but Reinhart saved the Santa Fe and broke up Gould's plans.

IS IT INFECTIOUS?

The East and North Excited Over Consumption's Ravages—The Amick Cure.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 17.—The county medical society's petition to the board of health to isolate consumptives has increased the fears occasioned by startling headlines in a local paper declaring the disease infectious. The state legislature of Michigan lately endorsed this view as did the medical congress in Washington, and deaths from consumption, have decreased everywhere recently. Dr. Fleck with a few others ascribe this to isolation. The majority of medical experts, however, credit it to the free broadcast distribution through physicians of test outfits of the Amick treatment by which authentic cures are reported daily in the medical and secular press.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Recent local editorials condemning the Medical code, while commending Amick, the Cincinnati scientist, for withholding his consumption cure formulas, are exciting much discussion in medical circles. The Times said "his discovery greatly assists the fight against this enemy of human life," and thirty or more local physicians say the medicine accomplishes more than his claim. The Journal said "It is one of the most valuable and wonderful discoveries ever hoped for in medical sciences, and the formula is not given to every Tom, Dick and Harry to monkey with and is preserved from the tampering of fool empiricists."

Arkansas Whites and Blacks.
Little Rock, Oct. 18.—A race war is imminent between whites and negroes in Perry county. Late last night it was learned that all the negroes were armed at Perryville. Serious trouble is feared. Whites are leaving for the scene of the conflict.

WASHINGTON CRIST.

Cleveland Prefers Defeat to Compromise—One Democrat Sizes Up Another in the Senate.

The Debate Growing Bitter—Carlisle as a Law Breaker—The Miners and Bell.

CLEVELAND'S PREFERENCE.
Washington, Oct. 18.—The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Herald, a gold standard advocate, wires his paper as follows:

President Cleveland prefers that the Sherman law stand instead of any sort of compromise, leaving the whole silver question to the country and the next congress. This idea will probably prevail.

THE SILVER QUESTION.
Senators Gorman, Voorhees and Sherman had a conference with Secretary Carlisle at the treasury department and an effort was made to agree upon some form of compromise which will satisfy the repealers and which might be passed by the senate. From the best information obtainable it is understood that they failed to reach an agreement and will meet again to consider the matter.

The opinion is gaining ground that the administration will soon throw up the sponge and force the whole matter over to the next session. The situation is decidedly mixed, and an adjournment until the regular session in December is about the only step left for the repealers to take.

This of course means that the silver forces in the senate have been so skillfully handled that, without a vote, the repealers have been routed and admit their overwhelming defeat by parliamentary strategy alone. As a matter of course the present law will stand and silver purchases will continue limited only by the peculiar "job lot" style of Mr. Preston in forcing the price below that of the world's markets.

GROWING BITTER.
Mr. Cleveland announced to-day that he will not go to Trenton to-morrow nor leave Washington until congress settles the important public questions now pending. The senate met at 10 o'clock this morning and the arduous debate of yesterday was continued. Senator Morgan, Democrat, of Alabama, referred to Senator Hill, Democrat, of New York, as "an astute politician with conscience so easy that he could change his opinion as his political necessities might require." The feeling in the senate between the silver and anti-silver senators is growing bitter.

THE MINERS' BILL.
The western senators say the bill to relieve miners will undoubtedly pass the senate. As it passed the house the bill amends the act, requiring that no less than $100 worth of work should be done on every mining claim under penalty of forfeiture, so as to suspend all such work for three years providing that the person desiring the benefit of this act shall file notice of his intention to hold and work said claim.

CARLISLE EVADES THE LAW.
Sec. Carlisle is endeavoring to settle the silver question himself. The silver purchases this month are the smallest since the suspension of free coinage in India. The total purchase to date is less than 1,000,000 ounces. The charge is strong to-day that the secretary is violating the constitution.

Stewart & Co. Assign.
Denver, Oct. 18.—Stewart & Co., planning mill owners, assigned this morning. Assets $80,000; liabilities $40,000.

Dead.
Utica, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Mrs. Roscoe Conkling, widow of the late Senator Conkling and sister of Horatio Seymour, died this afternoon.

A Terrible Death.
Denver, Oct. 18.—Matthew Daley fell into a kettle of boiling soap this morning at the Geyserite soap works. The flesh fell off. He will die.

Masons Expelled.
Chicago, Oct. 18.—The southern and western Masonic convocation met at Apollo hall this morning. Milton Fields, O. P. Wood, Thos. Lebonch and Logan Webb, of Chicago, were expelled. Important business will be transacted before the convocation ends.

FORTY-ONE LIVES.

The Fearful Loss on the Lakes That Came from Friday's Storm.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—In Friday's storm on the lakes ten vessels and forty-one lives were lost. Millions of dollars of damage was done the ships and cargoes.

CONGRESSIONAL.

TO-DAY'S SENATE.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The senate occupied the entire session to-day debating amendments to the senate rules offered by Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Gallinger, of New Hampshire, the object of which is to limit debate on the silver question and practically bring about closure.

Senator Teller made an elaborate speech protesting against any attempt to break down the senatorial customs and courtesies that have prevailed since the founding of the government.

TO-DAY'S HOUSE.
No important bills were reported to-day; routine business only was transacted. The bill passed amending the U. S. marshals' and commissioners' fee act. The New York bridge bill also passed. Consideration of the printing bill occupied the rest of the session.

SILVER JUBILEE.

Magnificent Ceremonies in Honor of Cardinal Gibbons at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Oct. 18.—Cardinal Gibbons' silver jubilee as a bishop occurred at the cathedral to-day; and the occasion was emphasized by a magnificent religious spectacle. A large number of bishops, monsignors and priests participated in all the splendor of their rich vestments. The cardinal celebrated a solemn pontifical mass with an elaborate musical program. The papal legate, Satoli, Archbishop Cerrigna and Williams and many hundred Catholic notables were present.

Out of the Jaws of Death.
Chicago, Oct. 18.—Capt. Adams, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who yesterday was thought near death's door, is to-day rapidly recovering as the result is a successful surgical operation.

On a Coral Reef.
San Francisco, Oct. 18.—The steamer Australia arrived this morning, bringing news that the Canadian-Australian steamer Minowara was wrecked on a coral reef in Honolulu harbor Oct. 2. The passengers were saved.

ASSAILED BY ECKLES.

Cleveland's Comptroller Howls Against Silver While the Bankers Applaud.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—The nineteenth annual convention of American bankers met here this morning. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Carter Harrison and addressed by Comptroller Eckles. He paid a tribute to the bankers on their mastery skill displayed in coping with the late financial crisis and said the silverites cry out against them as selfish. They are not more so than other men in other walks of life, said Mr. Eckles, nor so much so as the silver men who want the government to be a special patron of theirs in a special product.

Ducks and quail are plenty. Work will be continued night and day on the repairs to the dam.

Mrs. Mamie Reed and W. A. Miller were married at Grace church on the 12th. W. H. Slaughter, recent appointee as postmaster, has sent his bond to Washington.

Chas. W. Greene, Jr., came into Eddy on Thursday and is rustling things up on his properties.

Messrs. Hagerman and Bolles have made extensive purchases of fruit trees for fall planting on their places.

Probate Clerk Fennessey has been saddened by the news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Josephine Coward, at Mission Refugio, Texas.

A colored man, named Burks, was arrested Sunday charged with an attempt to shoot his wife. The couple claimed the shot was accidental. He is held in jail.

S. S. Mendenhall has returned from the strip and says business there from the start was over done. The trains were crowded coming in but there was not standing room on the out bound.

James B. Pinson, manager of Col. Youngs farm at Malaga, is in a very bad condition at the hospital. He cut his leg with a corn knife three months ago and is now suffering from blood poisoning.

The penitentiary board of Texas is considering a plan to use convict labor in building dams and irrigation canals on the lower Pecos, along the line of the Southern Pacific road, 200 miles below Pecos. The state might accomplish more by sinking a large number of artesian wells about Pecos and establishing a canal system there.—Eddy Argus.

LAS VEGAS LOCALS.

The railroad company are plowing fire guards.
D. C. Winters, T. Crispell, R. C. Oldham, Dr. Williams, Joe Haefer and Dick Hesser composed a party of duck hunters for Cherry valley.

The fire department has reorganized with Tim O'Leary as assistant chief and J. K. Martin, secretary. The other officers remain as before. An excellent committee has been appointed to select grounds for the territorial fire tournament; and the general impression is that if they are successful in securing a good site, the ground will be purchased for a fair grounds. The movement should be successful.

ROSWELL RUSTLINGS.

The Woodlawn Ditch company are repairing their dam.
The beautiful alfalfa arch shown at the fair was shipped to Eddy.

Judge Rogers, without special care, raised fifty onions which weighed 104 pounds.

A conservative citizen estimates that the fair was worth over $10,000 to the county.

It took the rise in the Pecos from Thursday morning until Saturday noon to run from Roswell to Eddy.

Judge Evans killed a lobo wolf with a 22 calibre rifle. The wolf kept sticking his head in the window and so a good shot was got.

They are discussing an "Onion Social." The way is for six girls to stand in a row, one bites an onion and the young men pay 10 cents to guess the biter. If successful he may kiss the other five. If not he can only kiss the one with the onion-scented breath.

The following were the participants in the roping match together with the time in which they caught and tied down their steers: Ernest Bloom, 2:33; Lee Smith, 1:20; Jim Brown, steer broke saddle; M. T. Stone, 2:09 1/2; Dan Johnson, rope broke; Parker Wells, 2:01; M. D. Minter, 1:36 1/2; C. C. Perry, never caught him. Lee Smith was the only one who caught the first throw.—Roswell Register.

SILVER CITY SUGGESTS.

The "Silver City High School Herald" is the latest newspaper.

Crops along the Pecos are good. A large crop of hay will be cut for the Mogollon and Cooney camps.

The infantry camp on the Sapello has been broken up. The cavalry from Fort Bayard will take an outing next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Capt. Lewis, who left here three years ago to settle in Washington state, have returned to Silver City.

Two Mexicans in carelessly getting into the bucket at the Golden Giant, Pinos Altos, while the engineer's attention was otherwise engaged, loosened the clutch and precipitated themselves to the bottom of the shaft, 216 feet. They were Jose Osuro and Celso Garza. The former was killed and the latter badly bruised, but will recover.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 18.

WORK for statehood and thereby insure future prosperity.

IRRIGATION is not a substitute for rain; but rain is a poor substitute for irrigation.

If you do not read the New Mexican you are behind the times and quite out of date.

PRESIDENTS CLEVELAND and Peixoto doubtless realize what is meant by "a fellow feeling."

POLITICALLY speaking, Ohio and New York seem to be edging up to the right side of the fence this trip.

THE Texas cattle owner who turns his herds loose on New Mexico ranges should by all means pay taxes.

THE house is piling up a mountain of work for the senate and that anticipated recess has gone glimmering.

A FEW legal hangings in New Mexico are in order. Too much crime here for the good name of this territory.

SECRETARY MORTON announces that the limit of arable and productive farm areas has been reached. What ho!

SUNSHINE and water insure crops. New Mexico has them, and the outsider can make no mistake by locating within her borders.

NEW Mexico has in store a crown of glory for the genius who will invent a dry washer that will save the gold in her vast placer fields.

THE chances for tariff legislation by congress, that will cripple the wool industry, are growing beautifully less daily. For this let us be profoundly thankful.

WHEN a ten acre farm will comfortably support a family, and allow the boys to go to college, why should the eastern farmer potter around on his 160 acre farm?

OVER 1,000,000 is the top notch World's fair attendance for one day. This is the high water mark that future World's fairs must hope to beat if they would crow over the west.

TEXAS has about 7,000,000 head of cattle. New Mexico has grass enough to feed them, but needs it for her own stock. These cattle when shipped in here should at least pay taxes.

THE southern Democrats do not seem to understand what party platform pledges mean. The Florida legislature has adopted a long string of "whereases" demanding of congress a protective tariff for the pineapple producers.

THE millennium, so far as cheap transportation is concerned, seems to be approaching. If you have a friend back east who wants to come out and buy an irrigated farm write him to take advantage of the cheap rates now prevailing over all western lines.

CONGRESS, or rather the lower house branch of it, doesn't mean to wholly starve out the miner. A bill has passed that body relieving the owners of mining claims from the coming year's assessment work. What the senate does with the measure remains yet to be seen.

WHILE it is true that congress is not taking much heed of the new state question just now, the clouds will soon roll by, and the way become clear for making an even fight for the admission of the territories. Help the movement along by organizing in every county.

PAST AND PRESENT.

The American Economist recently sent out requests for information as to the status of business now, compared with one week before Cleveland's election. Six hundred replies were received showing that in November, 1892, there were 143,401 hands employed in various industries. In exactly the same places of business there were employed on September 2, 1893, only 56,384 persons and the pay roll had diminished 69 1/2 per cent. This data was gathered from every state and territory, was carefully tabulated and has been generally accepted as a gauge of depression. This is what the people of some of the western states helped to bring about by voting for Cleveland. The rank enemy of two of their staples, silver and wool, has been installed in office. Under his influence the percentage of failures has increased 59 per cent.

THE BOND ISSUE.

It seems almost incredible, but really Wall Street has been caught napping for once. Here the "public-be-damned" fellows on Wall Street have been clamoring for months about the falling off in the gold and imploring Mr. Cleveland to make this an excuse for issuing a few million in gold bearing government bonds. Mr. Cleveland was, like Barkis, perfectly willing, and meeting after meeting of the cabinet was held at which the subject was discussed, until finally there went up such a howl from the country at large that the matter was for the time being quietly dropped. Why it was dropped was made apparent later. The Wall Street gang saw that a compromise was likely to be all they could get out of the effort to kill silver, and it was decided to hold back the bond scheme and tack it on as a tail to the compromise kite and to serve as a sort of a salve to Wall street's lacerated feelings. Even this, however, has now failed them for it has been discovered that away back in 1875 a law was passed authorizing the issuance of $300,000,000 and that under this law only $90,000,000 of bonds have been issued, leaving $210,000,000 to be placed upon the market whenever the gold reserve actually needs it. In some respects this is positively humorous. The idea that Wall Street has overlooked this financial plum for nearly twenty years is so wholly out of the ordinary that it is right funny.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

Its Good Work Educating the Press and Public—Irrigation a National Necessity.

Except that of tariff, there is no subject more vital to the welfare of the nation than that which is under discussion by the International Irrigation congress, now in session at Los Angeles.

It is too much the fashion to think of irrigation as an appliance conducive only to the reclamation of desert lands where fruit growing can be made profitable. But irrigation of fruit lands is destined to be among the least, though still a magnificently beneficial, use of water.

Let it be remembered that the products of the soil form incomparably the greater part of the exports of the United States. Let it further be remembered that cereal crops from a grain, if not the greatest, part of agricultural exports. Let it further be kept in mind that eminent statisticians have proven that if the rate of increase of our urban population which has been tabulated for the past decade shall continue for twenty more years the whole farming area of the United States, as such area now is constituted, will be required to feed the people of the country. Let it also be kept in mind that of arable land, properly so called, the United States hardly has an acre left open to homesteaders, and the not remote failure of a source of foreign money in exchange for American grain becomes a serious consideration.

It is well to carry one's imagination a little farther forward. If twenty years hence all the arable land of this country will be barely sufficient for the production of grain to supply its people, how many years will elapse until we become a grain importing nation? How far distant is the time in which we shall have to pay a yearly tribute to Asia or to some Latin republic for grain, instead of collecting, as we now do, a huge grain revenue from Europe? These questions are not Utopian. They will become practical issues in the lifetime of our children, unless by some new acquisition of grain area they be averted.

At this point the importance of the irrigation congress becomes apparent. Millions upon millions of acres of the so-called desert lands can be made to produce grain more abundantly than the best wheat lands of our arable regions. The granaries of the old world long were on the irrigated soil of Egypt. Experience has proved that irrigation can bring forth large harvests from the sagebrush soils of Colorado, California, Montana, Idaho, New Mexico, Arizona, and the western wastes of Kansas. An area larger than that of New England, now lying desolate in the far west, can be made to produce the food of millions.

The irrigation question has assumed such importance as to have induced the administration to instruct its diplomatic agents to gather statistics from all foreign countries in which water is applied artificially to crops, and to present them to the congress now in session. A part of the business of the congress will be to suggest means of irrigation, consider state or national control, and to prepare a statement that will be presented to congress as a basis of national effort toward a most important work.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Press Comments on Territorial Affairs.

A Plea for Statehood.

The citizen of New Mexico has no voice in the election of a president. After the president is elected, he rewards his political wire-pullers in the states by appointing them to all the fat offices in the territory, while the meek and lowly citizen plods along, exercising his inalienable rights—to pay taxes and work the roads.—Aztec Index.

Patriotism Gone Daft.

E. H. Pierce, in a communication to the Las Vegas Optic, advocates that New Mexico be admitted as a state under the name of "Columbia." He says: "Why not, with one great, united effort, by every citizen, town and hamlet, in New Mexico, let our voices go up to congress in a great petition, praying for admission in this, the World's fair year, as the state of Columbia."—Raton Reporter.

Let's Have a Fair Deal.

In speaking of irrigation enterprises the Kansas City Star says public money should not be spent for local enterprises. This is not what the country thinks when the government is engaged in diking the banks of the Missouri river in the vicinity of Kansas City, where hundreds of thousands of dollars of public money have been spent.—Albuquerque Citizen.

Serves Notice on 'Em.

This paper has done all in its might to lift the veil and show the world what this section of country can produce, and has added largely to its population and interest, but the support it deserves is lacking. We will say, too, that the time will come when some of these out-fall pulling, back-handed, political-aspiring rascals will be caught up with.—Cerrillos Rustler.

And on Which Side is the Optic?

The San Juan Index favors immediate statehood, and announces that it "is for statehood, partisan politics being left for a future issue." Nevertheless, there may be some "partisan politics" in the demand for immediate statehood; for any one can see with half an eye that it is the Republican papers which are demanding immediate statehood, and the Democratic papers which favor its postponement to a later date.—Las Vegas Optic.

As the Home Paper Sees It.

The Optic understands that Chief Justice Smith has definitely and positively offered the office of the district to Hon. Felix Martinez, of this City. The Optic is also aware that, this tender was made by the chief justice entirely of his own motion, and without any solicitation on the part of Mr. Martinez or any of his friends. Indeed, it was made after Mr. Martinez had recommended and endorsed another man for the place. It is, therefore, an unsought and emphatic recognition, by the chief justice, of Mr. Martinez' superior qualifications for the position. * * * The Optic furthermore expresses the hope that Mr. Martinez will accept the office which has thus been offered to him. That he will make a good official, does not admit of doubt. He has been found efficient and faithful in all posts of honor and trust to which he has hitherto been called; and this paper concurs with Chief Justice Smith in thinking Mr. Martinez would be the right man in the right place.—Las Vegas Optic.

Call for Irrigation Convention.

TERRITORY OF NEW MEXICO, EXECUTIVE OFFICE, SANTA FE, N. M., August 2, 1893.

To the People of New Mexico, Arizona, Western Texas, and of the State of Chihuahua, in the Republic of Mexico:

WHEREAS, All of the citizens of the above states and territories are actively interested in the irrigation industry, and are in a large measure, dependent upon irrigation for the development of their agricultural resources;

WHEREAS, A large proportion of the people in the territory of New Mexico; of the western portion of the state of Texas, and of the northern portion of the state of Chihuahua are largely dependent upon the waters of the Rio Grande river for their water supply for irrigation purposes; and

WHEREAS, The greater portion of said river passes away during the season of the year when not needed for purposes of irrigation, which, with a proper system of reservoirs, could be saved and utilized, and would thereby greatly add to the wealth and prosperity of said region; and

WHEREAS, Large quantities of the water of said river which have for many years been appropriated and used by the citizens residing in the valley thereof, south of Albuquerque, for the purposes of irrigation, and upon the conditional use of which depends the life and prosperity of the community, has been wrongfully appropriated and diverted to the use of the citizens residing north of Albuquerque, in Colorado, thus causing a water famine in the lower portion of the river from year to year grows greater, until the agricultural interests are in imminent danger of destruction unless such diversion be checked;

Now, therefore, for the purpose of consulting together, and devising ways and means to stop such unlawful use and diversion of the water of the Rio Grande, and of storing and preserving in reservoirs the spring and summer waters that now go to waste annually, and of discussing and considering all important questions relating to irrigation laws, irrigation securities, irrigation methods, and to devise and agree upon some general and concerted plan of action looking to the development of the agricultural, vineyard and horticultural resources of such region, by saving and utilizing the waters thereof, a mass convention of the citizens residing in said portion of said states and territories is hereby called to meet at the city of Santa Fe, in the territory of New Mexico, on Tuesday, November 7, 1893, and subsequent days.

All persons resident within said portion of states and territories are respectfully requested to attend and participate in the deliberations of said convention, and all counties, municipal corporations, irrigation, acquia and canal corporations, and chambers of commerce are invited to send delegates thereto.

Done at Santa Fe, the capital of New Mexico, this 2d day of August, A. D. 1893.

W. T. THORNTON, Governor of New Mexico.

R. ALEXANDER, Secretary of Territory.

Grand Canon of Colorado River.

On the Santa Fe route, in Southern Arizona, 1,202 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublimest of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty cosmical might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook.

Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read up" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A. A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a copy of an illustrated book describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

An Offer Extraordinary.

Stoddard, the world's famous traveler and lecturer, has been issued, each book containing 16 beautiful engravings 11x13 inches in size, and well worth $1.50 each. They can be secured at the trifling amount of 10 cents a week by subscribing to The Twice-a-Week Republic.

SHOOTING STARS.

A Bargain.

Treetop—There is a ticket for two that will come good when we go to Central Park. I got from a feller on the street for half price.

Hayrick—My, but you are a smooth one! What's it for?

Treetop—To go up inside o' the obelisk.—Puck.

Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other. We will tell you. When this Remedy is taken as soon as a cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, if not effectually cure the cold in two days' time, and it is the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquefying the mucus and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs and restoring the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No other will cure a cold so quickly or leave the system in as sound a condition. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

A Gentle Hint.

Tom Puffer (as he blows out a ring of smoke)—Ah, isn't that a perfect silver ring!

Grace Inuit (with feeling, as she puts her finger through it)—O George! How nice it would be if it were only gold!—Puck.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a specific for croup. It is very pleasant to take, which is one of the most important requisites where a cough remedy is intended for use among children. I have known of cases of croup where I know the life of a little one was saved by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." J. J. LaGrange, druggist, Avoca, Neb. 50 cents bottles for sale by A. C. Does it pay to try to reform a man? asked Miss Lovely.

A Wonderful Engine Can not Be Surpassed.

An engine exerting surpassing power is always a source of wonder, and yet how many are entirely forgetful of the existence within themselves of an engine more powerful and enduring than any ever invented. Not perhaps until they experience irregular pulse, heart fluttering, tenderness in shoulder and arm, swollen ankles, asthmatic breathing, weak and hungry spells, smothering, short breath, or pain in side, when its existence is no longer to be denied, as the possessor most know he has heart disease. Mrs. LeBar, Fitchburg, Mich., had heart disease fifteen years; had to hire house help; lived on liquid food, used Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and all symptoms left her. Continued use cured her. Sold by A. C. Ireland, Jr., on a guarantee, who will give you the Doctor's book, free.

Yes; fired at two men and missed 'em, and then committed suicide.—Atlanta Constitution.

Headache and Dizziness. Frequent Causes of Apoplexy and Paralysis.

The most recent and profound researches in this direction by specialists, have developed conclusively that the above disorders frequently result in death or permanent disability. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is the greatest remedy for either of these apparently insignificant causes. Nothing approaches it in merit. Mrs. W. E. Burns, of South Bend, Ind., who has suffered from constant headache for three months, was cured by it. The daughter of Daniel Myers, Brooklyn, Mich., had been insane for ten years, and was having from 15 to 25 fits a day. Nervine cured her of both fits and insanity. Sold on guarantee by A. C. Ireland, Jr. Get a book free.

He—Not at all. It is just as easy to dodge a bicycle as a carriage.

Smythe—Yes, and you used to pretend that you preferred to sit in a chair.

"During my term of service in the army I contracted chronic diarrhoea," says A. E. Belding, of Halsey, Oregon. "Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief they would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow." For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

A Protracted Stay.

Belle Passy—I'm tired of being pursued for my money! I'm going to the country and pose as a poor girl and wait for the first man who offers himself.

A Wonderful Machine.

There is no doubt that man is a fine mechanism, but like every other machine he wears out by friction. It is said that he is born again every two or three years. His body is virtually re-made from food. To retard this making over is radically wrong, as a man loses so much vitality in the delayed process that it takes a long time to recuperate. The process of making anew is so accelerated by purging with Brandreth's Pills that a new man, as it were, may be made in two or three months, and the change in the mechanism is such that the worn out part is replaced by the new without the usual running down of the entire machine. You don't have to stop for repairs. Purge away with Brandreth's Pills the old, diseased and worn out body. They are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless and safe to take at any time.

Your Last Chance.

The World's fair will close October 31. Never in the world's history has there been anything approaching it in magnitude, extensiveness of its grounds and buildings, or in the character of the varied exhibits and displays from almost every nation on the globe.

If you should miss the opportunity of witnessing this grand spectacle it would be the regret of your life. A visit of a week would impart to one a more intimate knowledge of the world's progress, and of foreign lands and people, than could be gained in years of travel. Railroad fares to Chicago are down to within a fraction of half-rate for the round trip. Therefore, stand not upon the order of going, but go at once to the nearest railroad agent and secure your tickets over the popular Burlington route, whose fast "World's Fair Flyers," leaving Denver daily at 8:35 a. m. and Chicago at 10:20 p. m., afforded to all the quickest and best means of reaching Chicago.

COMES BACK

—every cent that you've paid for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, if you have not found the help that you need. But, if you're a tired and feeble woman, or a delicate and ailing one, it's a remedy that's sure to give it.

Practically, it's sold on trial. That's what it amounts to. If it doesn't give satisfaction, in the building-up and strengthening of overtaken womanhood, and the complete cure of all the delicate disturbances, functional disturbances, and painful disorders peculiar to the sex—then you have your money back.

You'd think that any medicine could be sold so, if it did all that's claimed for it.

Exactly.

But the fact remains that out of all the medicines for women, "Favorite Prescription" is the only one that's sold on such terms.

Knowing these things, it's an insult to your intelligence to have something else, that pays the dealer better, offered as "just as good."

No Wonder.

Who was the man assaulted?

A Mr. Cannon. I believe.

I knew he was a big gun. Has he gone off?

Yes, You see, he was heavily loaded last night when the prisoner got him off and rifled him.

I heard the report, and that his charge was to be withdrawn this morning, in which case they could provide only a battery with out an assault.—Truth.

We could not improve the quality if paid double the price. De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best Salve that experience can produce, or that money can buy. New Mexico Drug Store.

One More Winner to Save.

Now that the New York Sun has finally swung into line as an admirer of the Fair, let us conquer Willie Waldie Astor and have universal peace! —Chicago Record.

The World's Fair!

Take it all in all the world is fair. That is, its judgments are pretty generally just. No doubt it has formed many incorrect conclusions from the time the caravels of Columbus appeared off the shores of the San Salvador to the present year of celebration, but there are instances of its fairness which can be cited unquestioned. It has, after comparative tests, given its award to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for efficacy in cases of malaria, rheumatic and kidney disorder, dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, nervousness and debility. Among "positive facts without any doubts" this verdict deserves a prominent place. The experience of a generation justifies, and the concurrent testimony of hosts of eminent physicians, bear out the fact. Give the Bitters a fair trial and verify it.

Contented.

Angelina (anxiously)—Are you sure, dear, that you don't regret it, and you don't sometimes miss your life as a bachelor?

Edwin (with cheerful conviction)—Not a bit. I tell you what, Angy, I miss it so little that if I were to lose you—a—I'm blessed if I wouldn't marry again.—Tid-Bits.

Where to Stop in Chicago.

The perplexing question which is every day asked by people who desire to go to Chicago to attend the World's fair, is "Where are we going to stay when we get there?" This is easily answered, and if you will go to the ticket agent of the Santa Fe, Mr. W. M. Smith, he will tell you.

Arrangements have been made for the distribution by the Santa Fe company of a pamphlet entitled "Homes for Visitors to the World's Fair." This is a reliable pamphlet containing the names and addresses of about 9,000 families who will furnish accommodations to visitors from May 1 to October 31, 1893. The pamphlet also contains sectional maps which will enable the intending visitor to select any quarter of the city that he would prefer. Correspondence can then be carried on and definite arrangements made so that when visitors arrive in Chicago they can proceed at once to their quarters.

you detect no fish-oil taste. As it is a help to digestion there is no after effect except good effect. Keep in mind that Scott's Emulsion is the best promoter of flesh and strength known to science.

WORLD'S HOW to economize time.

FAIR. And money as to see the World's fair to best advantage, is a question that many have puzzled you. Avoid mistakes by getting the best advance. Perhaps the illustrated folder just issued by Santa Fe route is all you need. It contains views of World's fair buildings, accurate map of Chicago, and other information of value to sight-seers.

LITTLE JOHNNY.

My father he was a-reading The Post to himself an ol' to once he spoke up and sed he would be dam. Then Uncle Ned he spoke up, his own self, an sed, Uncle Ned did, "Robert, if you have red that out of The Post, I must say the press is done great injustices to by the feller who says newspapers is a lie, say that is a fact."

My father he loked like he was astonish, an he said wot was a fact. And Uncle Ned sed, "Wot, that you will be dam."

But my father he spoke up an sed: "Edard, you make me tuder than a day's work. Wot I ment was Jugs Mackenney cried when he past the deth sentens on that gum dasted sailer whith threw the mate overbord. Now, wot kind of a man is that for to be a jug? Wot has he got to do with it, anyhow? He seems to think the hangin is to be done in consequence of wot he says, wot I say so, cos it is in consequence of wot he says so. Them is the fellers whith cot to weep if it is such a terrible thing for to hang a cuss like that. Wot els could Jug Mackenney do but to pas sentens when the jury had sed the prisoner done it?"

Then my father he turned an loked at me and rose up his four fingers and whithed it an sed, "Johnny, listea to yure father and be wise, dwell up on his words and know the truth. Them whith isent allowed no discretion hasent got no responsibility. Jug Mackenney hasent got no more to do with that hangin than the feller whith has whith springs the trap. Then wot right had he got for to dress himself ol' in black an stan up there and snottle just like he was the hero of the piece?"

Uncle Ned, whith hadent said nothing for a long time, cos wen my father is took that way he wants to let do all the talkin, he sed, Uncle Ned did: "That reminds me of a little story. One time wen I was a jug back in old Missouri a murder feller was foun guilty, and wen I come to pass the sentens onto him I busted into teers. Then the murder feller he turned to the olddian an sed, 'Feller of mine. If any of you whith has come in late has got the impression from that chap's manner that it's him whith is to swing for murder, I hope you will do me the justice to obersart that it ain't so. He is a jim doddled impostor, and wudent hurt a rabbit."

"That made me jest furious, and I stoped cryin an sed, 'John Spink, you infernal wrasle, I sentens you to be hung by the neck till you are as dead as Adam, an as for God havin mercy on yure scallawag soul, that's jest as he pleases.'"

But my sisters yung man, he says he gesest Uncle Ned was ever on the bench it was at a dog sho. My sisters yung man has got black hair, but hern is brown, an wen hern is against hisen, you see the difference, but you got to be quick about it."

My father he said a other time: "Wot's ol' this rot in the papers about the Duke of New York marryin that Teck girl? There's 10 columns about that, and wen the Squedunk Sampson carries a ox ol' round the ring on the spine of his backbone these editors can tel it all in two inches. A feller wude think that for a prince and a princess to get married was the most difficult feat whith could be undertook."

Uncle Ned he sed: "It isn't the difficulty of it, cos walkin a wire across Niagry falls beats it in that respect, but wot makes it interestin is, meby, the great perill."

Then my mother she spoke up and sed, my mother did: "You ol' both to be ashamed of yureselfs to talk like sech fools wen you kno mity well that the papers make so much of it becos of the excited rank of the bride and groom."

My father he busted out an sed: "So wen that be bladed, I'm a speakin of the papers teler here in repubican America, where them kids havent any rank as ol'."

Uncle Ned he loked real sollem out of both of his eyes, an him he sed: "One time wen I was in Bomgomba it was given out that the city was to have a visit from the queen of Ngumwum, whith is the only place in the world where frogs has wings. So the mayor of Bomgomba, whith ode his position to his skill in throing live cats thrugh horse collers without tutchng, he wrote out a long speech of welcome for to read at her. The speech it was a daisy, and it was arranged by the town council that after it was spoke it was to be wrote in letters of gold ol' over the front of the temple, and tot in the public schools, and sang for ever in the worship of Glubdoo, the god of rats."

"So wen that lay come, and the queen of Ngumwum arrived, the mayor was on hand in front of the temple with his speech. Ol' rest of the peeples they stood along the sides of the streets with their tungs out, whith is a token of respect, and wen the queen was drove up an set before the mayor he begun for to read."

Wen Uncle Ned's story had got that far my father he said: "Wot the American people need is phizlek. They are sick, that's it. If they was give the right kind of medicine they wudent do sech things. Education wont do them no good as long as they have got bad livers, whith comes of eaten pie and fried meat. You can't make a feller respect himself whith has a yello liver, and its the fried meat and the pies whith makes it that way. Let me make a nashions medicin an I care not who makes them take it. Sho me a man whith has a red liver and plenty of blumass in his pocket, an he sho you a patriot whith makes tirany tremble."

Uncle Ned he sed: "The speech it was a pretty long and the mayor he read on an on an ol' of the afternoon, and the peeples kep their tungs hangin out of their mouths to sho that they wudent think of sayin anything in the presents of royalty. Just as the sun went down the mayor he finished off with a gloin perloration, an stood silent in a noble an strikin attitude of blessed dignity an grace. The queen she didnt say anything. Bime by the queen's priminister he tapt the mayor on the sholder from behine and said in his ear, 'Her majesty would be pleased to reply, but unfortunately she is dum.'"

The mayor he was astonish, but he said, 'Mebby her majesty will xpress her sense of things in writin.'"

"The priminister he said, 'That would aford her grate pleasure, but by a misterious decree of Providence her majesty is paralyzed.'"

"The mayor was real sorry, he said, but peraps her majesty has some other way for to signify her mind about wot she had herd."

"The priminister he sed: 'Unluckily she didnt hear it. Her majesty is deaf.'"

"Wen he herd that the mayor sed: 'Oh, my god wot was I born for! But surely you kno that her majesty is pleased by all these demonstrations in her own—her flag, the gorjus uniforms and my—'"

"The priminister he spoke up, again and sed, the prime minister sed, 'Wen them gum dasted Guggwampians took our capitol 30 years ago they had the insatibility to put out her majesty's eyes.'"

And Uncle Ned he says that is ol' he knows about the greatest queen whith was ever in the world, but if I was a queen I wude rather be a general an drench the world with gore!—San Francisco Examiner.

LED BY LOVE.

Major Hannibal Sparhawk was a born hero and a warrior. His spirit was martial and commanding.

He stood 6 feet 2 inches in his stockings and turned the beam of a true and trusted Frank at 210 pounds avoirdupois.

He was the acknowledged leader of his party in our town, and his party was in the ascendant.

The major was not quarrelsome, but he was opinionated and unyielding. He was too big a man to quarrel and too conscious of his own powers to yield a point in any thing.

Major Sparhawk had lived a bachelor to the age of 40. At length, however, the erotic dard touched his heart, and he offered to take a wife and make her mistress of the wife's appropriate department of his house.

Sylvia Aspen was a small, delicate woman, pretty and accomplished.

She had seen 30 years of life, and for reasons best known to herself she had refused all offers of marriage.

And now Major Hannibal Sparhawk of fered her his hand and his heart.

"Miss Aspen," he said in his blunt, dictatorial way, "you have known me long enough and well enough to know something of the home I can provide. If you take me, you will take a rough, blunt man who must be his own master through life. I have my own peculiar views of the true marriage relation. The man is the head of the household. I can love and provide and protect, but I must be master. As I am I offer myself. You will not be deceived."

Sylvia smiled one of her sweet, eccentric smiles, and with her small, white hand resting confidently upon the major's arm she told him she accepted the situation.

"You are sure?" he queried.

"I am sure of this," she said, looking up into his face with candid fervor. "I love you well enough to marry you, and as for domestic government the result must be as the result is the world over—the weak must depend upon the strong."

Hannibal Sparhawk kissed the little woman and assured her that he would never be tyrannical or unjust, and the day for the wedding was fixed.

People wondered, when it was published, that Sylvia Aspen was to become the wife of Major Sparhawk.

"She will be a slave and a drudge!" was the general opinion.

In due time—in early autumn—Hannibal Sparhawk and Sylvia Aspen became man and wife. The major had planned to have the wedding grand affair—to have his military friends present in full panoply, with a full band of music and appropriate fixings, but Sylvia persuaded him not. She said but little—just enough to make him understand that it would please her to have it different, and he concluded to please her.

They had been married two weeks when the major proposed that he dinner—the officers of his regiment to dinner—staff and line—about 50 of them.

"I suppose such a dinner means wine and tobacco, and plenty of it," said Sylvia.

"Certainly," responded her husband.

"When I invite my friends to my house, I expect to treat them according to the fashion of the times."

"Then, Hannibal, I would rather you did not invite them."

The major laughed at the absurdity of his wife's whim. Sylvia was mild, but firm.

"Of course," she said, with a smile, "you will do in this matter as you please."

"Of course—I will," declared the husband emphatically. "You know what I told you in the beginning. I must be master in my own house."

"But," interrupted Sylvia, with the sweetest smile imaginable, "suppose I could show you that the greatest possible amount of comfort and joy you can find will come from pleasing me?"

"El!"

She kissed him and then ran away.

Already Major Hannibal Sparhawk felt a nipping at his ear, as though something were biting it.

Days and weeks passed, and the officers of the grand old regiment were not invited to the proposed reunion at the major's.

It was whispered that his wife would not allow it, and yet when the officers individually had occasion to call at the major's residence Sylvia treated them so kindly and so considerately and bestowed upon them so much careful attention as friends of her husband that they went away long in her praise.

It was on a pleasant afternoon of the following spring that the social circle connected with our religious society met at the major's house. Late in the evening a knot of gentlemen were seated in the great room of the back parlor, while at the center table near by were a few of the ladies at work.

In the oriel the conversation turned upon national affairs. Deacon Rich advanced an idea in opposition to the cherished political opinion of his host. The major was fired in a moment.

"I tell you, sir," he exclaimed, smiting his huge fist upon his knee, "the political sentiments which!"

Hark!

It was the tapping of a knitting needle upon the arm of Sylvia's chair. The major looked up and met the glance of his wife. He coughed and stammered and then smiled as he said:

"We won't enter into a political discussion in the presence of ladies. At another time, deacon, I will give you my opinion upon the matter."

On their way home Deacon Rich and Squire Lewis walked together.

"Well, deacon, what do you think now about poor little Sylvia's daring to say her son's her own in the presence of her husband?"

"I am amazed," confessed the deacon. "Why, bless me! she rules him with a rod of iron!"

"And yet," suggested Lewis, "he seems happy and contented."

"Aye, and there's the wonder. I can't comprehend it, can you?"

"I think I can. There is one way, and one way only, in which a small, weak woman can entirely subjugate and control a brute, herculean husband. The major is not governed against his will—in fact, his wife does not directly govern him at all. She leads him to govern himself."

Other people wondered as Deacon Rich wondered, for it was apparent to all that the doughty man of war and bluster had become a model husband.

The only man perhaps who did not wonder was the major himself. He was content with the prize he had gained. Once a friend asked him if he was not governed by his wife.

"No, sir!" he said with emphatic reply. "Just you do her bidding nevertheless."

"I do just what pleases me," said the major loftily, "and if it pleases me to please my wife whose business is it?" —Boston Globe.

GREAT BUSINESS.

Chama Boasts of Prosperous Times and Presents Facts and Figures to Prove It.

Train Loads of Wool and Fat Cattle—A Big Coal Find—Happy Rio Arriba.

Correspondence New Mexican.

Chama, Oct. 16.—Taking one year with another it is doubtful if there exists anywhere in the west a more generally prosperous section than Rio Arriba county. Aside from its abundance of water—the chief of all resources in the west—it has extensive gold and copper deposits; its lumber production leads every other district in the Rocky mountains outside of perhaps, Flagstaff, and its agricultural and stock raising interests have no equal. Certain and never fail in this, the all-around banner section of New Mexico.

This year Rio Arriba county goes into the winter with prosperity prevailing everywhere, despite the cry of hard times that goes up from other sections of the country, and despite also the crippled condition of the wool market, for it must be remembered that here is the boss wool growing district of New Mexico. To-day there are close to stored in the various warehouses at Chama, Tierra Amarilla and Parkview, and prices have stiffened up so that at last a part of this product is beginning to move eastward to the market circles. Hon. T. D. Burns has just sold thirty car loads of wool to Hutchins & Co., of Boston, Mass., and this is now being loaded on D. & R. G. cars. By the way, Mr. Burns is a handy sort of a citizen to have around. He is a

HUSTLER AFTER BUSINESS.

He has three harvesters and two mowers at work cutting oats and alfalfa on his ranch near the Canones, and on his Parkview ranch is erecting 600 feet of sheds for comfortably housing his sheep this winter.

While speaking of live stock, I may add that cattle hereabouts are rolling fat and find ready sale at gratifying prices. Last week the D. & R. G. road loaded 300 car loads of stock out of this station, and it is no uncommon thing to see pulling out of here in four sections—four sections, how is that for an "arid country" and for the D. & R. G. road in New Mexico?

Down in the timber belt a large number of men are employed, and among the orders now in hand is one for extra heavy piling to be used in rebuilding the bridges on the Santa Fe Southern road.

At Monero T. C. Jones has just opened that Santa Feans will be pleased to learn about. It is of a much better quality than any discovery yet made in this section. At present eight car loads a week are shipped, part of which goes to the Santa Fe market.

A NEW COAL YARD

I may also add that the potato crop is becoming an important factor in this vicinity and the old order of things is reversed in that New Mexico is to-day shipping spuds to the Colorado market just as she ships coal, lead ores, lumber and building stone.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

Special meeting of the city council to-night.

The morning train from the south was eight hours late to-day.

Regular meeting of Carleton post at 7:30 p. m. Visiting comrades cordially invited.

Many improvements are being made about the quartermaster's store house at Fort Marcy.

The richest country in the whole Rocky mountain region covers that section north and northwest of Santa Fe and within a day's ride of the capital city. Some of its resources are dealt with in a letter printed elsewhere in this issue. Read it.

Matt Piersol leaves this evening for the Cherokee strip in response to letters from his father, who has been a resident of Caldwell, Kas., for eighteen months past. The latter writes that hundreds of men who made the rush and secured homes in the strip have had to abandon them, having no money to live on, and wintry weather is prompting many good farms to be sold for a song. Mr. Piersol goes with a view to buying a claim or two for speculative purposes.

Carlos Dignoe and Martin Marins left here with their families during the summer and located in Denver, being persuaded to go into a new French method of producing "se sparkling champagne" by a smooth individual named Herbert, formerly a clerk for J. H. Gerdes. Report now comes from Denver that the aforesaid smooth individual has fled with the money that Marins and Dignoe put into the scheme, and that the latter two are preparing to again take up their home in Santa Fe, sadder but wiser men.

The apple crop of Santa Fe and Tesque valleys is about one-third less this year than last, but the quality, owing to the spraying of trees, is much better, and so are the prices. Last year apples sold at 3 and 3½ cents a pound—one lot of 100,000 pounds being lumped off at the latter figure—but this season 4 cents is the rule with 5 cents promised before Christmas.

For the plaza concert this evening the 10th infantry band will render the following program:

March—Indienne.....C. Lavalle
Overture—The Minstrel.....A. Lamotte
Waltz—Edinburgh.....Boniscent
Polka—From the Huguenots.....Meyerbeer
Gavotte—Whispered Love.....S. Abencsis
Polka—Hornpipe.....F. J. Smith

Levi Miller, driver for Dudrow & Davis, was thrown from his seat while driving into an alley at the government corral this morning and had a close call from a serious accident. One of the big wheels passed over his shoulder and dislocated it.

That the Palace hotel, by proper effort, can be kept full of guests continuously there is not the least room for doubt. Aside from local or transient patronage this could be done, for the circulation of a small, inexpensive pamphlet, dealing with Santa Fe's climatic advantages, would bring here not a few people who would be delighted to be domiciled in so comfortable a house as the Palace.

As the quantity of clay is unlimited, the company ought to be able to control the market in the southwest.—Argus.

THE COUNTY SCHOOLS.

Some Readable Statistics Gleaned from the Annual Report of the County Superintendent.

County School Superintendent Juan J. Ortiz has completed his report for the current year and handed it to Hon. Amado Chaves, territorial superintendent of public instruction. It shows among other things that there are twenty-eight teachers employed in the county public schools; that the total enrollment is 908, out of which number there was an average daily attendance of 668. "The total number of children between the ages of 5 and 20 years is 2,048. It will be noted that nearly 50 per cent of this number attend the public schools. Add to this the numbers attending private schools and it will be seen that the school master is abroad in Santa Fe county.

There are a total of 27 schools and a total of eighty-three months of tuition; or an average of a little over three months teaching in each school. The average is, of course, lessened by the difficulty of keeping open the public schools in the country districts. The total funds available this year to keep the schools open are $9,053.27, and the expenditures up to date are $5,555.85. The same studies are taught in all the schools, being reading, writing, grammar, geography, arithmetic, United States history, physiology and hygiene.

In the city schools proper, the enumeration of pupils during the year is 815, of which number 356 attend school. Hon. Amado Chaves in acknowledging Mr. Ortiz' report, takes occasion to say: "I have the honor to inform you that your annual report is in my hands, and I thank you very much for your promptness in preparing it, and for the efficient manner in which you discharge your official duties."

These gentlemen are of the faculty of the territorial military institute at Roswell, and it is noted to commission them as of the ranks stated. The commissions will be mailed as soon as Governor Thornton returns.

During this week six original entries were made, including one each in San Juan, Guadalupe, Taos, Colfax, Valencia and Bernalillo. Besides these final proof has been made on the entries of Louis R. E. Paulin, San Juan county; Serafin Gonzales and Maria Inez Serna, Taos county; Ramon Sandoval and Maria O. Trujillo, Colfax county; and Jesus Maria Maestas, Valencia. The register and receiver any business is looking up and that the good times have quite an influence on the work of the office.

A STRANGE STREAM.

Some Queer Facts Gathered by Boatmen on the Lower Pecos River.

The distance from Eddy to Pecos is eighty-nine miles, by the railroad, but the Rio Pecos travels a much further distance in going, says the Eddy Argus. Walter Kinder and two boatmen who recently went down the river state that the distance seemed to be 700 miles. As about seventy hours elapse between flood high at Eddy and flood high at Pecos, the distance would be approximately 420 miles if the current ran six miles per hour. There are many abrupt turns, as the river crosses the valley frequently. At one place the boatmen, after a day's journey, could see their previous camping place only two miles worth of them, the current having crossed the valley without going southward more than two miles. There are various falls, and series of falls of from seven to ten feet. Some of the rapids were shot safely, and at others the boats had to be carried around the banks. A flat-bottom craft was ruined by striking a rock at one of the rapids.
