WONDERFUL

TO RELATE.

Mr. Geo. W. Knaebel, a recent convert of Goebel's crack heater the "Estate Oak" got the fire in his stove so low on Tuesday at 6 p. m. that he concluded it had gone out, returning at 9 p. m. he found the stove ice cold, but on his arrival at 9 a. m. on Wednesday morning his surprise knew no bounds when he saw his Estate Oak still a going and his office at a normal temperature. For affidavits, etc., call on G. W. Knaebel. The stove is sold by

:-BRIEF WIRINGS:-

Silver and Lead.

New York, Dec. 2.—The silver bullion market was very steady to-day. Silver, 69½, lead, 3.30.

Cattle Market.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—The cattle receipts to-day were 2,000 and sheep 7,000. The market is quiet and sheep are 10 cents lower.

A Fire.

Lucan, Ont., Dec. 2.—Stanley Dight's grain warehouse was burned this morning, with a loss of $70,000. The building was partially insured.

Wheat Market.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—The grain exchange was dull but firm to-day. Dec. wheat, 62½, May, 69½.

Deserved and Lost It.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—The Republican city convention this forenoon nominated Geo. Swift for mayor by acclamation.

A Congressman Dead.

Mauch Chunk, Pa., Dec. 2.—Gen. Wm. Lilly, congressman at large from this state, died very unexpectedly at his home here last evening of congestion of the lungs. He was on the streets the day before.

Three Men Killed.

Allentown, Pa., Dec. 2.—Three men were killed to-day descending into a quarry pit three miles from here. The cable broke and the men fell 160 feet.

A Gold Basis.

San Salvador, Dec. 2.—The government hopes for complete success in its scheme of placing the country on a gold basis, and believes that getting rid of a fluctuating silver basis will give the country great advantage over neighboring nations employing only silver.

A U. S. Loan.

New York, Dec. 2.—A cable dispatch was received in Wall street to-day that a rumor is current on the Bourse in Berlin that an American $4½ per cent. 10,000,000 pounds sterling loan is pending. The report is not credited by leading financial authorities here.

A Dynamitard's trial Postponed.

Montreal, Dec. 2.—The trial of Mercier, son of the ex-premier of Canada, which was to have come off this morning for the attempt to blow up the Nelson monument here was adjourned until next Saturday.

A Northern Blizzard.

Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 2.—A blizzard has prevailed for three days throughout this state, Nebraska and the northwest, and all business is practically suspended. A foot of snow covers the ground and street car traffic is paralyzed, while the railway lines are also greatly interrupted.

Ochos Released.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 2.—Victor L. Ochos, arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Scarborough at the instance of Consul Zayas, charged with a violation of the neutrality laws, was yesterday dismissed by Commissioner Gibbs. Leigh Clark appeared as prosecuting attorney for the consul, but there was no evidence.

Colorado River Navigation.

City of Mexico, Dec. 1.—The Mexican government is taking deep interest in the project for making the Colorado river navigable, and is ready to bear equally with the United States the expenses of the improvement. The territory to be benefited is very rich, and of 600 miles which it is proposed to open, 150 are in Mexico.

Kansas Female Politicians.

Topeka, Kas., Dec. 2.—The equal suffrage campaign opens in Kansas next week by Mrs. Devoe of Illinois, who will remain in the state until Feb. 1. Then the national organization will take charge of the campaign. Miss Anthony says the women are going to run the campaign just like the men run their politics, and that they will have $20,000 to spend in the cause in Kansas.

El Paso Exaggerations.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 2.—News comes to-day from revolutionist sources, that a battle was fought last Wednesday south of Casas Grandes, and that the federal troops lost a hundred men to five by the revolutionists. It is also said that on the 21st of last month the Eighth battalion left Chihuahua for Guerrero and that they have fared badly at the hands of a thousand men led in person by Santan Perez.

EVANS WINS.

A Receiver to Be Named for the Fort Worth & Denver Road.

Denver, Dec. 2.—Ex-Gov. John Evans has won his suit against the Union-Pacific, Denver and Fort Worth road, asking for a receiver for the latter. Judge Hallett, in the United States court yesterday granted the application for a receiver, but will not appoint any one to that place until the parties to the suit have had an opportunity to present argument before him as to the fitness of candidates.

It is understood that ex-Gov. Evans will recommend Edward Liehterberger for the position of receiver. He held for a number years a position of importance on the Rio Grande road.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

GOLD OF COURSE.

Washington, Dec. 2.—There was the greatest coinage in recent years for a single month during the month just closed. The pieces coined numbered over 7,600,000.

CHANGING THE RULES.

If certain senators make good their promises, there will be a strong effort made at the coming session to amend the rules limiting debate. No fewer than nine amendments have been presented to the committee. If the question comes up the country may expect one of the most animated debates that has ever taken place in the senate.

TARIFF ESTIMATES.

The meeting of the ways and means committee yesterday was brief. The estimates to be submitted showing the probable difference in revenue that would result from the new tariff bill were not complete and the committee adjourned until Monday to give Clerk Taft and his assistants further time. The labor of estimating the revenue that would be derived under the new tariff bill is very great, but it has progressed far enough to warrant the statement that on the basis of the imports for 1892, the loss of revenue resulting from the enactment of the new bill and the repeal of the McKinley act would be about $60,000,000 per year.

LOOKING UP.

Speculation in Wool Runs Up the Week's Sales at the East.

New York, Dec. 2.—The sales of wool are again larger than for the same week last year, amounting to 6,619,800 pounds, against 4,854,500 pounds last year, but part of the transactions are said to be speculative in their nature, being based on the theory that whatever happens later, the necessities of the country will compel a larger consumption of wool within the next few months.

Wrecked off Delaware Bay.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 2.—The crew of the Newfoundland bark, Lady Ellbank, were landed here to-day by the British schooner Stedman after a terrible experience. A fearful gale was encountered and the vessel wrecked. The crew consisted of the captain, wife, children and eight men. When discovered all the masts and signals had been blown away, and the parents stood on the highest point holding their children. They were seen by the schooner in this position and rescued.

Another Crooked Juror.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—It is alleged here to-day that another juror, to try Daniel Coughlin for the murder of Dr. Cronin, has given cause for suspicion. It is stated that District Attorney Kern admitted this, but refused to disclose the name of the juror. A movement is now on foot to replace Jurors Gates and Wilson.

Colorado's Penitentiary Warden Removed.

Denver, Dec. 2.—To-day Gov. Waite removed Mr. McLister, warden of the penitentiary at Canon City, Colo., and appointed Solomon J. Foy in his place. The reasons alleged are charges by the prison of the penitentiary on private grounds.

THE NEGROES PROTEST.

A Big Convention Denounces Lynch Law and Begs for Stringent Legislation.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Dec. 2.—The Negro-American National association, composed of prominent colored citizens of the United States, is in session here. They denounce lynch law in the south in unmeasured terms, and ask prompt legal execution for negroes guilty of outrages. They recommend the severest penalty possible, barring capital punishment in all cases where convicted. The report of the committee to investigate this phase of the negro problem shows that 20 percent of the cases of the men lynched were very doubtful in character and that of the balance 10 per cent were absolutely innocent.

THOUSANDS STARVING.

Appalling Destitution in the Iron Districts of Wisconsin—Relief Measures.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Gov. Alger and a relief committee have gone to Hurley, Bessemer and Ironwood to save 20,000 miners and their families from starvation. Appalling destitution prevails. The men are freezing, hungry and desperate. They have earned no money for months. Prominent men in Michigan and Wisconsin have given liberally to their aid. All the larger cities have established headquarters to receive surplus clothing for these sufferers.

THE LEHIGH STRIKE.

Two Wrecks and a Big Fire Owing to the Incompetency of the New Men.

Easton, Pa., Dec. 2.—The Lehigh strikers are greatly cheered by the reports from Wilkesbarre and Buffalo. They say the situation is very bright and look for a speedy surrender of the company. The railroad officials, however, claim that they are running the same train schedule as before the strike, and that they are transporting an increased traffic, and that many of their old men are returning to work.

Whitehaven, Pa.—Early this morning two Lehigh freight trains collided at Hartstown. The wreck took fire and the flames from the burning cars were communicated to the hotel in the town. All the guests were saved, but the hotel, a store and a stable were burned before the fire was checked. Three men are thought to have perished in the flames of the wreck and buildings. The loss to the town by the fire amounts to fully $200,000.

Somerville, N. Y.—At Bloomsbury, near here, there was a bad wreck on the Lehigh last night. A green brakeman opened the switch and tried to board the train and missed. He was crushed under the wheels. A coal engine rushed down the grade and collided with a second one. The destruction of the engines was total. The Lehigh officials refuse to say anything.

Church Announcements.

In the evening at 7:30 there will be a Union Temperance meeting. Visitors and travelers are welcome to all the services. Seats free.

Services will be held at the A. M. E. church, on Johnson street, Sunday, Dec. 3, at 8 o'clock p. m.; Sabbath school at 8 o'clock. Everybody welcome. Seats free. H. H. Hawkins, pastor.

To-morrow at 11 o'clock a. m. in the Congregational church, German services and sermon. At 2 p. m. Sunday school, Mrs. G. D. Koch, Superintendent. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock English services will be held at the same place. To all these services the pastor and officers of the church cordially invite the public. Rev. G. A. Neff, pastor.

The usual services will take place at the Catholic churches to-morrow. Sermon in English at the cathedral at 9:30 a. m.

Death of Albert Grunsfeld.

Albert Grunsfeld, founder of the mercantile house of Grunsfeld & Co., Albuquerque, died suddenly at his home in Albuquerque on Thursday last at 2 p. m. Although he was known to be in poor health, the public was not aware that he was dangerously ill, and even his intimate friends and relatives had not anticipated so rapid a dissolution. The cause of death was a complication of diseases resulting in heart failure. The deceased was born in Hamburg, Germany, Oct. 15, 1836. He came to Santa Fe in 1875, and went into business with his brothers-in-law, the Spiegelberg brothers. Three years later he removed to Albuquerque and took charge of the firm's business there. Since that time he has been identified in every way with the city's progress. He was universally respected. He leaves a wife and six children: Alfred, Ivan, James, Edward, Mrs. Albert Eismann and Mrs. Nathan Eismann.

On the envelope containing his will Mr. Grunsfeld had written a request that his body should be cremated and that his will should not be opened until thirty days had elapsed after his death. These requests will be observed. The funeral service will be held at 5:30 this afternoon, and to-night's train will bear the body east to St. Louis where it will be interred. Mrs. Grunsfeld and her two sons, Alfred and Ivan, will accompany the remains to St. Louis.

TERRITORIAL TIPS.

LAS CRUCES CRUMBS.

The apple crop here is reported fairly successful. Work on the Organ mountain gold prospects still continues.

Mr. J. H. Bayard of Tucson, A. T., is now a student at the agricultural college.

Probate Judge Martin Amador is reported as rapidly recovering from a severe illness.

There has been quite an epidemic of colds resembling La Grippe in Las Cruces and vicinity of late.

A grand Thanksgiving dinner was given at the Commercial hotel by the ladies of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Judge McFie's two children, Ralph and Maude, were prevented from attending the college last week on account of sickness.

Shipments during the week have been very light. A few car loads of ore have been sent out, also a few car loads of apples.

There are two Shakespearian clubs here this winter. They are generally known as the Shakespearian Microscopists and the Shakespearian Skimmers on account of their different modes of study.

No reliance is placed in the report that Guadalupe and S. P. Ascarate have been captured and detained in Old Mexico. It is looked on as a ruse to induce his friends to assist the revolution now brewing.

Nestor Armijo who was robbed a few weeks ago has now recovered all except a few hundred dollars in money. The box was found in the mail box at the door of the postoffice along with a note saying: "How do you like the joke?"

Francisco Padilla was charged with adultery before Justice Pino. On the trial it was shown that he was about to marry the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Duran, of Mesilla, when he fell in love with and married the mother. Mr. Duran had both arrested and they were bound over by Justice Pino.

The following were in town this week: Wm. Burns, Albuquerque; J. W. Maxwell, Mead; S. H. McManis, Louisville, Ky.; W. E. McDavel, Cochiti, N. M.; Geo. T. Gould, Las Vegas; T. C. Barnum and L. H. Davis, El Paso; G. R. Goodlander, St. Louis; Frank Wilder, Denver; W. V. Tasher, St. Louis; W. S. Cox, Chicago; John J. Ginn, El Paso; D. Y. Wilson, Las Vegas; Thos. E. Young and Robt. NEW MEXICAN PRINTING CO.,
Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 2.

As income tax will not bother the people of New Mexico very much, unless times improve very materially.

There is just one thing for the Republicans of New Mexico to do, and that is to get together and stand together.

The people of this country condemned the Wilson bill last November and will condemn it again next November; bring it on.

The life of the average European sovereign, between bombs, dynamite, anarchists and the like, is not a very happy one these days.

The Wilson bill should be called a bill for the encouragement of British, German and French industries and for the destruction of American industries.

Variety is the spice of life; there will be plenty of variety in the speeches of the coming session, when the tariff question comes up for consideration.

GEN. MARTINEZ CAMPOS has gone to Morocco to fight the Moors; he thinks the Moors much less dangerous than the Spanish Anarchists, and in all likelihood he is right. Flintlock muskets are not nearly as dangerous as dynamite bombs.

PARAMOUNT COME. Blount did not smart thing; he had sense enough not to publish extracts from the diary of Queen Liliuokalani; he was afraid of Comstock evidently; the reading of the queen's diary would, no doubt, be rich, rare and racy.

Before our friends, the enemy, get through with the Wilson tariff poker, they will find out that both ends of that poker are very hot, red hot indeed, and will burn seriously those who handle the poker, no matter at which end.

STATEHOOD, reservoirs, railroads; these we must have in New Mexico and when they come, and come they must, this territory will take its rightful place among the prosperous, rich and powerful states of the Union; give us help to bring this state of affairs about and that speedily.

Placing wool on the free list will not make the state of Texas a Republican state, but it will increase the Populist vote immensely and give the Democratic bosses, now in power in the Lone Star state, a goodly scare; even for this much, many thanks.

The country has just gone through a panic and times are still hard; and now it will have to go through a tariff discussion; indeed, between the incoming of the Cleveland administration, the silver question, the panic, the hard times and the tariff discussion, this is a hard year on the people of the greatest republic on earth.

ARIZONA's statehood convention, held last Monday and Tuesday at Phoenix, was a great success; they have vim and snap over there and that's what New Mexico wants also; go to work to secure statehood for New Mexico and then this commonwealth will prosper and advance more in four years than it has heretofore in fifty.

During the recent term of the court of the private land claims did mighty good service for the people and for the government. Land grant titles, derived from the Spanish and Mexican regime in this territory, are being rapidly and satisfactorily settled; good enough; in this connection it might be just as well to remind the people of this territory that the law establishing this court was passed under a Republican administration and that the able jurists and honest men, appointed justices of the court, were appointed by a Republican president and confirmed by a Republican senate. A Republican administration, federal or territorial, always helps the people of this territory.

ALLEGED PENSION FRAUDS.

The statement by the secretary of the interior that extensive pension frauds have been discovered in New Mexico is somewhat of a surprise when taken in connection with the statements of the examiners themselves sent here to investigate. These officials have repeatedly given it out that nothing of importance has been found of a crooked nature outside of the Box K frauds at Socorro for which Paul Marcellino, an Italian, is now serving a seven years' sentence in the penitentiary. If other systematic fraud have been found down here the examiners have certainly not brought it to the knowledge of the officers whose duty it is to prosecute and bring such criminals to justice, and from anything that has so far appeared on the surface it would seem that the off hand statements in the secretary's report touching these extensive frauds in New Mexico, and the money saved to the government by their discovery, can be taken cum grano salis. Facts and figures, dates and places should be dealt with. Glittering generalities won't go.

Press Comments on Territorial Affairs.

A Probable Candidate.

Judge Fall, of Las Cruces, is being spoken of as a probable candidate for delegate next year.—Union County Democrat.

Admit New Mexico.

The first act of the coming session of congress should be to admit New Mexico to statehood.—Union County Democrat.

Very Satisfactory.

Nearly all Democrats agree that Hon. H. L. Waldo, the first Democratic chief justice of the supreme court in New Mexico, would make a good United States senator from the state of New Mexico.—Albuquerque Democrat.

Cause for Thankfulness.

Cause for thankfulness. The Las Vegas Optic says: "With the sale of the New Mexican to the Democrats, the value of the Albuquerque Citizen and the Optic, the two remaining Republican dailies have been enhanced fully 25 per cent.—Albuquerque Citizen.

A Suggestion to Lorenzo Lopez.

Last evening it was suggested, in the hearing of an editorial writer for the Optic, by a leading citizen and prominent Republican, that Don Lorenzo Lopez should drop his People's party ghost dance and lead the Republican party to triumph victory at the polls in San Miguel county next fall.—Las Vegas Optic.

Know What He Was About.

Delegate Joseph knew what he was about when he reported in congress in favor of postponing the admission of New Mexico until 1895. That territory contains 3,000,000 sheep, and annually produces nearly 11,000,000 pounds of wool. As the Cleveland administration proposes to place wool on the free list, it will wipe New Mexico's principal industry and render the new state anti-Democratic.—Denver News.

This is, perhaps, the main reason for putting off statehood till 1895, though it was not broached in Mr. Joseph's talk with an Optic representative the other day. Were an election to be held to-day, to-morrow, next week or next month, the Democratic party in New Mexico would meet with most disastrous defeat, and no one knows this better than the leaders of the party and country wreckers in power. They plainly see the handwriting on the wall and as sensible, thinking, reasoning men, would seem that they should prepare themselves for the inevitable, either by renouncing their party or dropping out of politics altogether. There must of necessity be many strange bed-fellows in politics before another presidential election rolls around on the earth's axis. It could not be otherwise considering the gloomy outlook for the industries of the country.—Las Vegas Optic.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

It Might Do It a Good Turn.

It begins to look as though the Ferris wheel might be needed in Honolulu to bring about the longed for revolution in political affairs.—Baltimore Herald.

The Mountain Region.

The mountain states have the wealth and the vim and snap to develop it and they have a long memory for those who struck them the cruel blow last summer.—Denver News.

They Were False Prophets.

Fifteen years ago, the papers in New York which are applauding the triumph of our latest American built cruiser, were declaring that it would be impossible to build a first class warship in this country.—Indianapolis Journal.

He Can Be Counted Upon.

One of the "peaceful workmen" whom Altgeld pardoned out of the penitentiary has turned up as a train robber. But the main facts of the case are not altered; he is solid for Altgeld.—Kansas City Star.

A New Ticket.

For President—Grover Cleveland, of New York.
For Vice-President—Liliuokalani, of Hawaii.
Platform—The divine right of kings.—Wheeling Intelligence.

To Lead the Forces.

It is announced that Senator McPherson, of New Jersey, will lead the tariff reform forces when the Wilson bill reaches the senate. This implies that Voorhees has forfeited the confidence of the administration, but it doesn't add to the chances of the success of the bill. McPherson is probably the champion bungler in the senate.—Denver Sun.

They Are Commencing to Pay for It.

Pittsburg, whose press promised a return of prosperity with the unconditional repeal of the silver clause of the Sherman law, now announces a 10 per cent decrease in sheet iron workers' wages, with 6,000 workers out on a strike. Next month in that city the goldbug papers will have no time to continue their long range warfare upon the silver miners of the Rocky mountain states.—Denver News.

The Wilson Tariff Bill.

The Wilson tariff bill is worse than were the Wood, Morrison or Mills bills. It proposes a deeper cut than any of those measures wanted. It will be remembered that each of those bills, too, hurt the Democratic party. The Wood bill of 1878 helped to lay out the Democracy in the presidential election of 1880, and the Mills bill of 1883 did a like service for the same party in that year. Morrison's bill damaged the party in congressional and presidential canvasses.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Clarkson's Opinion '06.

Gen. Clarkson, chairman of the national Republican executive committee, said to me yesterday: "It is a mere waste of time to speculate about who may be nominated in 1896. Personally I believe if the Republican convention should be held to-day that McKinley would be nominated by acclamation, but everything may be changed before 1896. As for myself," Gen. Clarkson added, "I am devoting all my time to private business."—New York Press.

Reform in the Postoffice Department.

Postmaster General Bissell declares that postmasters must personally attend to the duties of their offices in the future, and states that the time has passed when these places may be regarded as political sinecures. This is genuine civil service reform, and the order will be heartily approved by the public generally. Mr. Bissell's recommendation that a reasonable amount be paid the families of railway mail clerks killed while performing their duties will also be endorsed. It will require only $20,000 a year for this purpose. The application of a four-year tenure to fourth class postmaster-ships is another great reform.—Denver Times.

A MIDNIGHT CONFIDENCE.

I am a Jersey 'skeeter, and I revel by the sea, A-biting dimes and common folk in manner bold and free; Today I'm full of English blood; tomorrow every vein May hold the bluest, richest gore that ever came from Spain.

Another day I'm like as not to sing "Die Wacht am Rhein." From having bit a German when perchance I came to dine, And there are times when, resting on my happy daily ways, I take a nip that's Paris bred and hum the "Marsellaise."

Offtimes I am a Russian from my wintings to my bill; Offtimes I hold the richest blood you'll find on Murray hill. Sometimes I take a mixture, but I find it does not pay, Unless I wish to suffer pain for many an anxious day.

For I have found that when I've bit a Briton I'm pretty sure to suffer in the regions of my belt. And when a Frenchman I have nipped, of German I keep free. I do not want a battlefield down in the midst of me.

From which, I think, 'tis evident, while seeming free from care, I have to keep a watchful eye upon my bill of fare. And that is why I stick by you, my friend, the living night—I'm dieting, and if I may I'll have another bite. —Harper's Weekly.

Sinful Impertinence.

Uncle Ebenezer had driven into town to see if he couldn't secure a few summer boarders from the city. At the hotel he saw two young tourists who wore frock coats. When he got back to the farm, he looked very thoughtful, and the following dialogue ensued between him and Aunt Eliza:

"Well, Eben, what luck did you have?" "Lizy," said her liege lord solemnly, "I've decided that we don't want nuns of them kind of people 'tween our house 'tween live."

"Why, what's the matter with 'um?" anxiously inquired the good woman, who had been building rosy dreams of paying off the mortgage with the proceeds of boarding the "town folks." "Wall, Lizzy, maybe I'm wrong 'tween the way I dew, but them city chaps hain't got no respect for nuttin. Down to their tavern they was 'tween young chippy-chip fellows a-wearin' ministers' coats a-talkin about the theater, an' I don't want them kind of chaps in my house, munny or no munny. So I didn't make no 'rangements." "An you did perfectly right, Eben," said the old lady as she returned to the kitchen. —Detroit Tribune.

Rural Etiquette.

It was at a country Sunday school picnic, where great quantities of the regulation eatables—chiefly apple pies—had been brought for the children to eat. Little Mary Jane, from away back in the hills, was there with her mother, who kept an eye on the child constantly to see that her behavior was perfect.

Presently Mary Jane was observed digging into an apple pie with her knife, whereupon her mother spoke up:

"Mary Jane Berkes!" "What, ma'am?" "What be you a-doin'?" "Eatin' pie, ma'am." "What be you a-eatin' it with?" "Knife!"

"So you be! Now, what have I told you about eatin' pie with your knife, Mary Jane! Take that pie in your hand and eat it as you ought to."—Texas Siftings.

Quite Humble.

The tramp had essayed the kitchen door of a house on Beaubien street and was received politely.

"I guess they ain't been livin' here long," he said to himself as the cook disappeared for the refreshments.

"Here," she said, returning, "here is some bread and meat, and I'm sorry I can't give you a piece of pie."

"Don't worry about that, lady," he replied, with a bow. "Bread and meat's good enough for me. I hain't et nothin' since yesterday, and I ain't no dood today."—Detroit Free Press.

"Man Overboard!"

"Help! help!" cried the bather. "I'm drowning! Toss me line." "I haven't got a line," shouted the man on shore, "but if you'll keep up five minutes I'll run up to the hotel and get my swimmer's manual. I'll tell you what to do in a case of this kind."

But it was not necessary. A kindly wave came along and washed the bather ashore in safety. —Harper's Bazar.

Didn't Want to See It.

For two hours the fashionable lady kept the draper exhibiting his goods, and at the end of that period she sweetly asked: "Are you quite sure you have shown me everything you have?"

"No, madam," said the draper, with an insinuating smile, "I have yet an old account in my ledger which I shall very gladly show you." —Tit-Bits.

His Plan.

Glady's—How did he let you know he was well off? Eleanor—He wrote me. Glady's—And told you so? What wretched bad form! Eleanor—Oh, no. He only signed his name, "Sincerely yours, E. S. Smithson."—Truth.

SHOOTING STARS.

An Echo of the Past.

Darling, I lay my heart and life at your feet.
Oh, George!
I love you sincerely, devotedly, ardently, passionately—I love you more than I can tell. Be mine?
George, I will.
And you will engage yourself to me?
I will.
Bless you my darling. I am the happiest man in America tonight.
There was a long, delicious pause while the compact was being sealed.
Then the maiden whispered:
Am I to have an engagement ring, dear?
George's face grew pale, his lip quivered as he replied:
By and by, darling, I can not give you one for awhile.
You can not? Why?
The paleness of his face was succeeded by a deep flush, his face grew dark, and his bosom heaved as he loosely answered:
I'm just from the fair, and I'm dead broke.—New York Press.

Headache and Dizziness. Frequent Causes of Apoplexy and Paralysis.
The most recent and profound researches in this direction by specialists, have developed conclusively that the above disorders frequently result in death or permanent disability. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is the greatest remedy for either of these apparently insignificant causes. Nothing approaches it in merit. Mrs. W. E. Burns, of South Bend, Ind., who has suffered from constant headache for three months, was cured by it. The daughter of Daniel Myers, Brooklyn, Mich., had been insane for ten years, and was having from 15 to 25 fits a day. Nervine cured her of both fits and insanity. Sold on guarantee by A. C. Ireland, Jr., Get a book free.

Inconsiderate Papa.
George, father has failed.
That's just like him! I told you all along, darling, that he was going to do all he could to keep us from marrying.
—Life.

A Wonderful Engine Can not be Surpassed.
An engine exerting surpassing power is always a source of wonder, and yet how many are entirely forgetful of the existence within themselves of an engine more powerful and enduring than any ever invented. Not perhaps until they experience irregular pulse, heart fluttering, tenderness in shoulder and arm, swollen ankles, asthmatic breathing, weak and hungry spells, smothering, short breath, or pain in side, when its existence is no longer to be denied, as the possessor must know he has heart disease. Mrs. LeBar, Fitchburg, Mich., had heart disease fifteen years; had to hire house help; lived on liquid food, used Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and all symptoms left her. Continued use cured her. Sold by A. C. Ireland, Jr., on a guarantee, who will give you the Doctor's book, free.

Waste of Time.
Daughter—The teacher thinks I ought to study mental arithmetic.
Mother—Sheer waste of time. If you marry a poor man you'll get mental arithmetic enough, and if you marry a rich one you won't need it.
—Good News.

Headache and Dyspepsia.
William E. Rockwell, No. 512 West 57th street, New York, says:
"I have been a martyr to bilious headache and dyspepsia. Any indiscretion in diet, overfatigue or cold, brings on a fit of indigestion, followed by a headache lasting two or three days at a time. I think I must have tried over twenty different remedies, which were recommended as certain cures by loving friends, but it was no use. At last I thought I would take a simple course of purgation with Brandreth's Pills. For the first week I took two pills every night, then one pill for thirty nights; in that time I gained three pounds in weight, and never have had an ache or a pain since."

Disease in one part of the body eventually fills the whole body with disease. Every year or two some part of the system grows weak and begins to decay. Such part should be removed at once, and new matter be allowed to take its place. There's no need of cutting it out with a surgeon's scalpel. Purge away the old, diseased and worn-out parts with Brandreth's Pills.

A Philosopher.
Terrapin, said Mr. Dreffleshort, is one of those things that come high that you don't have to have.
And he laid down the bill of fare and cheerfully ordered fried liver.
—Chicago Tribune.

Are your children subject to croup? If so, you should never be without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is a certain cure for croup, and has never been known to fail. If given freely as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is the sole reliance with thousands of mothers who have croupy children, and never disappoints them. There is no danger in giving this Remedy in large and frequent doses, as it contains nothing injurious. 50 cent bottles for sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

Grand Canon of Colorado River.
On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,262 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublime of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yosemite might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook.
Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read up" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a free copy of an illustrated book describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

It's just as easy to try One Minute Cough Cure as anything else. It's easier to cure a severe cold or cough with it. Let your next purchase for a cough be One Minute Cough Cure. Better medicine; better result; better try it. New Mexico Drug Store.

A Rough Estimate.

Miss Sears—What should you imagine her age to be?
Miss Knox—I'm not very good at a guess; possibly the carboniferous.
—Vogue.

The Best Plaster.—Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain. It is better than any plaster. When the lungs are sore such an application on the chest and another on the back, between the shoulder blades, will often prevent pneumonia. There is nothing so good for a lame back or a pain in the side. A sore throat can nearly always be cured in one night by applying a flannel bandage dampened with Pain Balm. 50 cent bottles for sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

Natural Supposition.
Sleeping Car Passenger (walking up to the train comes to stop)—Heigh-ho! I wonder where we are now?
Voice (on the outside)—Now that's all rot, I tell you. St. Louis beer didn't get the highest award at the World's fair. St. Louis beer isn't fit to drink!
Sleeping Car Passenger—By ginger! We've got to Milwaukee!
—Chicago Tribune.

Miles' Nerve & Liver Pills.
Act on a new principle—regulating the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves: A new discovery. Dr. Miles' pills speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, rapid liver, piles, constipation. Unguarded for men, women, children. Small sized mildest, surest, 50 doses 25 cts. Sample Free, at A. C. Ireland, Jr.

What They Say.
The lady had given the small boy an apple and he had said nothing in recognition.
What does a little boy say when he gets anything? asked the lady inquiringly.
He hesitated a moment.
Some little boys, he said, says thank you; some says much obliged, and some just keeps thinkin' how much better an orange is than an apple.
—Detroit Free Press.

Early Risers, Early Risers, Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, sick headache, dyspepsia and nervousness. New Mexico Drug Store.

He Wanted a Change.
What prompted you to rob this man's till? asked Judge Duffy of the prisoner.
My family physician, was the reply.
Nonsense.
He told me it was absolutely necessary that I should take a little change.
Well, I'll see you have one. Six months on the island.
—Texas Siftings.

Mr. Moore, the postmaster at Bradshaw, Va., after reading an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, concluded to try a small bottle of it. He says: "I used it in two cases for colic and three for diarrhea with perfect satisfaction. I have handled and used a great deal of patent medicines but never tried any that have as good results as this." For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

A Different Dialect.
Gadsby, the evangelist, who went out west was shot dead recently.
How did it happen?
During a camp-meeting he turned suddenly on a cowboy and asked if he was prepared to die.
—Puck.

Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold." There is good reason for this. No other will cure a cold so quickly; no other is so certain a preventive and cure for croup; no other affords so much relief in cases of whooping cough. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

A Chance of Method.
Lena—Fred didn't blow his brains out because you jilted him the other night. He came right over and proposed to me.
Maud—Did he? Then he must have got rid of them in some other way.
—Truth.

If You are Going East it will be to your advantage to know the Wabash is the shortest line between Kansas City and St. Louis.
The Wabash is the shortest and most direct route between Kansas City and Detroit or Toledo, connecting at both those points with the trunk lines east.
The Wabash forms the most convenient route from western points to Chicago, and lands passengers in Chicago more conveniently to the World's fair lines than any other road.
The Wabash runs finer equipments for both first and second-class passengers than any other route. Call or write, C. M. HAMMOND, Com'l Agent, 1224 17th St., Denver, Colo.

Very Busy.
Peddler—Is your mother in?
Boy—Yes, but she's got three callers, and they've got to talkin' 'bout servant girls. Guess you'd better come 'round next week.
—Good News.

Do Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cleanses purifies and heals. It was made for that purpose. Use it for burns, cuts, bruises, chapped hands, sores of all descriptions and if you have piles use it for them. New Mexico Drug Store.

Business Notice.
Frank Masterson has fitted up his cabinet maker and carpenter shop, on corner opposite Boettlin Popular office on Water street. He is prepared to do all kinds of upholstery, cabinet making and general carpenter work, with neatness and dispatch, and solicits the public's patronage. If you have any extra nice or difficult work to do, give him a call.

Burns are absolutely painless when De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve is promptly applied. This statement is true. A perfect remedy for skin diseases, chapped hands and lips and never fails to cure piles. New Mexico Drug Store.

Star of the Month.
Go to Velasco for health, sea air, and comfort; where ships too deep for all other Texas ports sail in and out with ease; where fruits ripen earlier and pay better than in California, where the soil is a natural hot-bed. Fresh vegetables all winter. Coldest day in three years 25 degrees above zero. Warmest day 92 degrees. Velasco offers the best investment in the south. Write the Commercial club, Velasco Texas.

FACE AND FIGURE

show it, if you're a healthy woman. They'll have a beauty of their own, no matter what your features. Perfect health, with its clear skin, rosy cheeks, and bright eyes, is enough to make any woman attractive.

To get perfect health, use faithfully Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health, flesh and strength.

For periodical pains, prolapses and other displacements, bearing-down sensations, and "female complaints" generally, it is so effective that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back. Is anything that isn't sold in this way likely to be "just as good."

Changing It.
She had wealth. He knew it. He was very attentive.
Your personality is the most charming in the world, he said, earnestly.
Without that what would you think of me? she asked.
I could not think of you at all.
No she queried. Do you forget that if I should be removed from my personality, my personality would remain?
It was dreadfully poor kind of logic, but he felt that she was onto him.
—Detroit Free Press.

No better aid to digestion.
No better cure for dyspepsia. Nothing more reliable for biliousness, and constipation than DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. New Mexico Drug Store.

The Globe-Democrat Free.
Any reader of this paper can get the St. Louis Globe-Democrat free. Read the offer, on another page, and take advantage of it at once. The Weekly Globe-Democrat is now issued in Semi-Weekly sections, eight pages each Tuesday and Friday, sixteen pages every week, makes it practically a semi-weekly paper, yet the price remains only one dollar a year. In politics, it is strictly Republican, but it gives all the news, and is absolutely indispensable to the farmer, merchant or professional man who has not the time to read a large daily paper, and yet desires to keep promptly and thoroughly posted. Sample copies will be sent free on application to Globe Printing Co., St. Louis, Mo.

No Hope.
"You don't go to Bobbley's as much as you used to, do you, Muggins?"
"No. Bobbley's boy is getting to the age when he likes stories."
"Can't you switch him off?"
"Yes; on to more stories."—Harper's Bazar.

The Right Kind of a Girl.
He—Will you give me one kiss?
She—If I let you have one, will you be satisfied?
He—Never!
She—Then take it.—Detroit Free Press.

Guarded It Well.
"It is really wonderful the way Gaspritto keeps his temper under all circumstances."
"H-m-m! Nothing remarkable about that. He's so blamed stingy he's afraid of losing it."—Detroit Tribune.

He Would Later.
"Where you going?"
"Goin' fishin'."
"Yer lyin'."
"I said I was goin. I ain't been fishin yet."—Club.

Must Have a Drain.
Charles—I have eaten brain food for six months without apparent results.
Edith—Yes, I am told the brain is the only organ upon which it has any effect.
Truth.

It not only relieves; it does more, it cures. We refer to One Minute Cough Cure. Suitable for all ages, all conditions, at all times. New Mexico Drug Store.

When Your Eye Strikes This Stop and Read It.
The famous hot springs of Arkansas, world renowned for their health qualities, and as a health and pleasure resort, can be reached quickly. Pullman buffet sleeping cars from Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo via the Missouri Pacific railway. Sufferers of "la grippe," influenza, asthma and kindred diseases can obtain relief by a visit to this famous sanitarium.

A Natural Food.
Conditions of the system arise when ordinary foods cease to build flesh—there is urgent need of arresting waste—assistance must come quickly, from natural food source.

Scott's Emulsion is a condensation of the life of all foods—it is cod-liver oil reinforced, made easy of digestion, and almost as palatable as milk.

I WANT TO KNOW.
She came from way down east, they said, And being introduced she led Me there to recapitulate The city's phases up to date, And when my full directory I had rattled she said to me—"I want to know!"

I told her everything I knew That worthy was of interview; Retailed to her each shopping mart, The homes of drama, music, art, The drives, menageries and parks. Described with eloquent remarks The watering places roundabout, And being introduced she led Me there to recapitulate The city's phases up to date, And when my full directory I had rattled she said to me—"I want to know!"

Angels of mercy! Had I then Obeeyed the impulse born of men And with warm maledictions hurled That spinsters to the lower world From open window where I sat, Would not the gods approved of that? I want to know! —Boston Courier.

THE BOOMHOUSE MAN.

What appeals to me as my most interesting experience as a writer occurred a winter or two ago in a little lumber hamlet of the hill region of Kentucky. For a moment at least it was quite thrilling—rather too thrilling indeed to be useful as material to me with my straight and simple art standards. I have a groveling fondness for reproducing only the usual features of life, and this little episode, though it was pitifully commonplace in its setting, had about it something that was not only unusual, but nearly sublime.

I had gone down to the village in question with the ambitious design of seeing a "tide" in the river. Tides are peculiar to wintry months. They are useful to lumbermen and essentially to writers, but they have their unpleasant features. My little hill hamlet, having doffed its green livery, was cowed in dark mud. Rain sheeted the air. The inn seemed to be saturated, and the roar of the river on the skirts of the town corroborated the innkeeper's assurance concerning the magnitude of the special "tide" which was in progress.

"She's booming for all that's in her," declared the innkeeper, an elderly man, who had enjoyed during the previous summer the happy privilege of being useful to me in many ways. "They look for the boom to bust tonight. Thousands of dollars afloat. You see that man by the stove? He's one of the big timber fellers from up north. Just come down. He'll lose heavy if she busts. Say, miss, take a look at that fellow! You remember me telling you about the boomhouse man's daughter? Well, that fellow—he was the man—he was Idy's beau."

I remembered the story. On a certain day in the previous June I was standing at the head of a mill chute looking down at the sunken river. Suddenly a dug-out shot round the bend. The man in the rude thing seemed only half human. He was bent and shrunken, with a clay colored skin, matted red hair and such a woebegone vacuity of face as startled one. The innkeeper had related that this poor creature lived alone in the boomhouse, a shed on the river cliff, and that his duty was to cook for the loggers in time of tides.

"He's seen trouble," said the innkeeper. "Used to own a nice little farm up yonder and live well. He had an only daughter. Pretty as a peach, Idy was. Slim waisted, with kinky red hair and big eyes. He sat store by Idy. Nothing was too good for her. And one summer a son of one of the mill owners was down here settling up the mill books, and he took a fancy to Idy, and folks said it'd be a match. The boomhouse man was proud as a peafowl. And after the young fellow went north again, why, Idy's paw he narrated around that the wedding was to come off on Christmas day and how Idy was going up north to live in great style. But the young fellow never came back. However came back," repeated the innkeeper, with a graphic sort of pause. "And Idy—well, I always said if she'd had a mother things would have been different. I always said she took the best way out of it. For 'bout the time tides was beginning to wag Idy was missing one day, and they found her tangled up in the river drift yonder where the sand-bar reaches across the shallows."

"And what did her father do?"
"Do? Oh, he acted like he'd got it between the eyes. Kind of daft. Ain't been just right ever since."

This tragic narrative, which the innkeeper related with the equanimity of an epic poet, recurred to me vividly as I observed the man by the stove. He was middle aged. The story lay 15 years behind him, but he had a chin which made me believe the innkeeper an honest chronicler.

He was stolid and well fed. Apparently life had laid no heavy penalty upon him. He seemed too vulgar and heavy a type of humanity to invite exceptional treatment of fate, yet I saw him that night in rather a notable situation.

Just after dark the innkeeper and his daughter and I set out across the cliff path to see the river in active operation. We walked in the wind's teeth, with a splitting rain in our faces. It was cold and bleak. Then in an instant the river flashed in sight. Its whole freshet swollen current flamed with red from countless fire baskets and lanterns. Long shafts of vermilion stabbed the packed timber in the boom, struck across the climbing banks and made fiery lanes of the pine poles in the loggers' hands.

Men were leaping about on the logs. In a flame of crimson I saw on the wagon in float the man who had been Idy's lover. He was working sturdily as any logman about, handling the heavy cables and shouting directions.

It was worth seeing, that mountain stream as it mouthed at the straining timber in the boom. It was worth seeing, but the air was cold and wet, and in the second hour of our watching the innkeeper's daughter, being upheld by neither hospitality nor ambition, besought me to accompany her to the boomhouse for the purpose of getting "thored out."

The boomhouse showed its little red window just below us on the rocks. The two tiny rooms of the place looked warm and bright as we opened the door.
Half a dozen men were drinking coffee from tin cups at a table. The boomhouse man, apathetic as ever, with his resinous looking hair in his pale eyes, was frying bacon in a great skillet.
The innkeeper joined the throng at the board. His daughter and I sat by the stove in the inner room.
I shall never forget that room. The pattern of the homespun coverlet on the boomhouse man's pallet is indelibly with me.

Soothed by the heat, the innkeeper's daughter dozed off, with her feet on the hearth. I remember observing with dreamy interest the yellowness of the teeth exhibited in the graceful abandon of her slumber. I thought of snuff. I think I had a drowsy moment myself. Some one stamped noisily toward the other room and asked for whisky. I glanced out. It was the mill man of Idy's infatuation. He flung himself at length on a bench behind the cook stove and lay with shut eyes. His clothes were dripping with thin mud, and an air of utter weariness pervaded his attitude.
"He had scarcely looked at the boomhouse man. I glanced at him, however, and became aware that his aspect had changed. Something like life shone in the pale eyes under that unkempt hair. He was standing still, just staring with a half blind gaze at the man on the bench. Suddenly he stepped forward like a shadow.

"It's you, ain't it?" he said.
The man on the bench shot round a startled gaze. He saw the revolver in the log man's hand leveled toward him. He must have recognized Idy's father in the figure standing over him, sternly poised as to a deed of necessary vengeance.
"I knowed God Almighty'd give you up to me soon or late," said the old man simply. "I waited. They ain't nothin to say. You know what you're dyin for."

The whole thing was singularly passionless and without any aspect of tragedy. On the stove a painful of meat crackled. Noises from outside came distinctly. The candle flickered and cast a threat of light on the lifted face of the man on the bench.
I myself had a sense of inability to move or speak. The innkeeper's girl slept on. Whatever consciousness I had seemed to be in the millman's frame, passively awaiting a sharp, metallic click. There was no chance at all for him. He seemed to see this and to take it calmly.
"Go on," he said. "I wronged you. I've got a little daughter—myself. If you've any heart in you—don't say—why?"

His voice broke.
The briefest instant passed. And then there was a sound, but not the sound we waited for. The boomhouse man moved a little. The rigor left his form, and I saw his arm fall slowly against his side. "You got to kill you," he muttered. "You got to kill you. Go and see so no black hearted villain steals her from you."—Eva W. McGlasson.

He Was Out.
A singular adventure befell a Buffalo woman at a large hotel in Berlin. She was making the tour of Europe with her two small children and could speak no language but English. One night, having retired early with the little ones, which she soon became convinced was made by some one trying to open the door between her room and the one adjoining.
She "wasn't a bit scared"—people never are under such circumstances—but she got up quickly, turned on the electric light and rang the bell. The sound at the door ceased suddenly, and pretty soon a "Dutchman," as she called him, appeared in answer to the bell.
"Speak English?" asked the woman—the usual first question.
"I speaks heem a little," was the reply.
"There is some one in the next room trying to open my door."
"No. He is out," said the man.
"But there is some one there—a robber—a burglar—don't you understand?"
"He is out. He will be cen at halluf past zwelf."
"No—a robber! a burglar! a thief—a thief, I tell you—a thief in the next room!"
"Well," meditatively. "I do not tink hees a tief, but he es outd. He will be cen at halluf past zwelf, and I will tell—heem—zat—you—want—to—see—heem."—Harper's Bazar.

Answered.
Agony of mind distorted her classic features.
Knocking upon the trifled floor of the front parlor, she held her clasped hands aloft.
"What have I done," she moaned, "that I should be thus cursed?"
Then she went on to relate amid sobs how many young and eligible men had come to call on her, how they had uniformly shown symptoms of an acquaintance ripening into love, how they had suddenly become cold and left with a few perfunctory words of farewell.
"Heaven help me," she cried, with all the earnestness of a distracted soul.
And even as she spoke a breeze stole into the window and gently turned her cooking school diploma toward the wall. Ere yet another month had passed the cards were out.—Detroit Tribune.

INJUNCTION SUITS.

The Shrivelt Restraining Order Made Permanent—Modification of L. L. L. Anaconda Injunction.

The argument in the matter of the temporary injunction restraining Harry Kinsell from exercising the functions of the sheriff's office was heard on Tuesday last.

To-day Judge Seeds granted a permanent injunction against Kinsell, on the ground that Cunningham being the de facto sheriff, the only road for Mr. Kinsell to take in an attempt to oust him is by bringing a quo warranto proceeding so that the merits of the case can be legally determined.

Outside of the order Judge Seeds expressed the opinion that this was precisely the ground he took when the shrivelt case first came up between Cunningham and Conklin, namely, that Mr. Cunningham could not interfere with Mr. Conklin until he brought a quo warranto proceeding and it was determined in his favor. It will be remembered that Judge Paul dissolved the injunction against Cunningham.

THE L. L. L. ANACONDA CASE.

This morning Judge Seeds also entered another order in the famous Lincoln-Lucky & Lee-Anaconda controversy. The Lincoln-Lucky people recently made a motion to dissolve the injunction issued April 11 last, giving A. M. Hendry, claimant of the Anaconda, possession of the mine. After full argument and the filing of many affidavits, the motion was sustained in part and the court modified the old order so as to permit the Lincoln-Lucky people to retain possession of all that portion of the workings of which they were in actual possession at the date of the order, April 11, 1893, lying within the vertical planes extending downward from the surface boundaries of the Anaconda mining claim, it being the intention of the injunction to hold the property in exactly the status of its date, and not to oust the Lincoln-Lucky people or put Hendry in exclusive charge; but the Lincoln-Lucky people are not to remove any kind of character of property or ore, blasted or unblasted; but they may put in such timbers as are necessary to conserve the property. Hendry is allowed to enter and visit the mine at all times, accompanied by not more than three persons to see that this order is obeyed. He may also, by giving two full days' notice, take workmen into the mine to extract ore in a quantity sufficient to use as evidence in any judicial proceeding where his rights may be involved. The mine, therefore, will remain idle until the legal controversy is finally decided, which, it is sincerely hoped, will be at this month's term of court.

SATURDAY SALAD.

A BUDGET OF FEMININITIES.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—My Dear Janet: The Politizers are determined that the present administration will not be a failure from a social point of view. With true Jeffersonian simplicity they have rented the palatial mansion of ex-Vice President Morton, and toward that point society will look as its guiding star. The Hon. Joseph is not much of a lion, but Mrs. P. has always been fond of the frivolities. She comes of an old historic family of Georgetown and has no end of blue blooded ancestors; and as she is a very beautiful woman and likewise a bright and fascinating one she will easily be a leader. The home of the Politizers is one of the most interesting houses in Washington. It was built by Alexander Graham Bell, the famous telephone millionaire, and during his occupancy was the scene of many noted assemblages. But its most brilliant record was made during the Morton regime.

Mrs. Morton's beauty, wit and hospitality are national, and in the social history of the capital she will be honored with Dolly Madison, Harriet Lane, Kate Chase, Sprague and Mrs. Whitney.

The house is a marvel of graceful and convenient arrangement. It is so constructed that a large party can be held in its left wing and a stag dinner in its right, and each set of guests will be entirely apart and hardly aware of the other's existence. But the kitchen is the mansion's pride. Its walls and ceilings are of pure white tile and the floor of spotless flagging. The butcher, the baker, the green grocer, each has a separate closet, to which they have access without disturbing the cooks. These closets are made of beautifully carved wood. Morton will sell all this luxury for $265,000, or rent it for $15,000 a year. It is said that during the campaign Whitelaw Reid made overtures to buy this magnificent property, in case he should be elected. But the fates ordained that the editor of his "esteemed contemporary" should be its next occupant.

All the Paris gowns that our stylish dames and dandies are wearing have skirts. Not the old time looped skirts, but just a second skirt made over the modish umbrella or circular one and slightly caught up here and there, with bows of ribbons or metal buckles. One of our late brides wore a traveling dress of tan cloth made over a full skirt of prune-colored corduroy, and the effect was novel and pretty. The winter frocks that have no over-dress are four and four and a half yards wide, fit perfectly plain in front and in the back form model or organ plaits that flow outward from the bottom and are held in place by straps on the under side. Another novelty is the seamless baques, and it must be the work of an artist to be satisfactory. Mushroom velvet embroidered in black is the very latest for a reception gown.

Blue blood and millions were united last week in the marriage of Mr. Ward Thorton, of Boston, and Miss Warder, of Springfield, Ohio. Mr. Thorton belongs to one of the Hub's most notable families. The marriage of his sister to Mr. William Endicott was a brilliant event of Cleveland's first administration. Miss Warder is the second daughter of the multimillionaire of steel fame. An event of absorbing interest this week is the housewarming at the Leiter's. For many years this noted family has occupied the Leiter mansion, but last year Mr. Leiter purchased some ground on Dupont circle and has now erected a dwelling, the cost of which will not be covered by $1,000,000. Miss Pauline Leiter, according to such renowned authority as the artist Mesnier, is the handsomest American ever seen in Paris.

Hard times have not struck Washington, if we judge by the smart gowns and rich furs to be seen on a Sunday afternoon during that regulation promenade on Connecticut avenue. The fad of wearing whole beasts strung around the neck rages in unabated fury. "Do you wish to emphasize the beauty of your own face by wearing that atrocious animal right next to it," asked an unappreciative male of a pretty young miss who sported a Hudson bay sable. This is the favorite neck piece; it is deep-furred and very soft, and comprises the entire animal, two little paws dangle in front besides the head, and two at the back with the long bushy tail. Fur is an important factor in cloak and dress trimming, and the long fur capes of seal, bear and beaver are the newest of the new wraps. There is a new brand of fur this winter, and it bears your name, the Janet. It is a beautiful shade of brown, almost golden, and is very soft and flexible. The animal which is kind enough to furnish this variety is yet the secret of the manufacturers.

Yet a little while and the great and the only Patti will wear our sensitive hearts by another farewell. If we can get used to all things earthy, we ought to be called on the subject of telling Mrs. Nicolini "good bye." On this occasion we will be treated to a new opera, "Gabrielle," written by a young and hitherto unknown Italian, named Pizzi. The libretto is highly sensational—deals in a convent dungeon, a thrilling escape, a capture, and the usual finale of reconciliation of lovers, kings, queens, subs and the chorus. By way of incentive to the curious public we are told that in the last act Patti will wear all the magnificent diamonds she received from various royalty on the occasion of her marriage to Signor Nicolini. Truly, she realizes that she is not as young and tender as of yore, when jewels are used as inducements. Yours loving friend,
MARGARET BRENT.

SMALL TALK.

Hon. T. B. Catron went south last night.

Mrs. James A. Walker is visiting at her former home in Baton.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Eldred are here from San Juan visiting friends.

Mrs. Weltner has about recovered from her late severe illness.

Hon. H. C. Stuss and family have returned to their home at Wichita.

Mrs. E. L. Bartlett is expected to return home from her visit to friends in Kansas City this evening.

See Miller went to Albuquerque and put in Thanksgiving day with his wife and babies.

Hon. C. H. Gildersleeve has been confined at home all week with an attack of influenza.

Major Fay and Sherrard Coleman will return from Mora county on Monday next.

Mrs. C. N. Sterry left Albuquerque yesterday for Kansas City and Emporia on a visit.

C. H. Young, the affable Wells Fargo superintendent and his charming bride, were visitors to the capital during the week.

Mrs. Anita Chapman returned yesterday from an extended visit with friends at Albuquerque.

Mrs. I. W. Littell is indisposed and has been confined to her residence during the latter part of this week.

Miss Staab is still in Albuquerque on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Hild, and will return home during the coming week.

Mrs. C. E. De Zeng and daughter, of Philadelphia, friends of Mr. and Miss Butler, are health-seekers at the Palace.

Congressman W. W. Bowers, wife and two daughters passed the road yesterday en route from California to Washington.

Hon. Joseph Reed, chief justice of the U. S. court of private land claims, has been suffering from a severe cold for several days.

Mr. Geo. P. Money, of Washington City, son of ex-Congressman Money, of Mississippi, and a friend of Judge Freeman, of the Socorro district, is a guest at the Palace accompanied by his wife.

At present the guests at St. Vincent Sanitarium are: Mr. and Mrs. Winsor, of Detroit, Mich.; Messrs. Rosenthal and Loeb, of Chicago; Misses Dunn and Kintz, of Grand Rapids; Miss Butler, of Philadelphia; Dr. Finney, of St. Louis and Rev. Father Connelly of Alton Ill.

On Tuesday next there will be a social at the Presbyterian church beginning at 7:30. Music, recitations and other amusements will be provided, and it is hoped that a large number of friends will assemble and have an enjoyable time. Admission, 25 cents.

The program for to-morrow afternoon's plaza concert by the 10th infantry band is as follows:

March—The Passing Regiment. Coverly Overture—Fra Diavolo. Anker Waltz—Autumn Flowers. Strauss Selection—Fr. Op. 36 Bohemian Girl. Halse Serenade—Spanish. Ellingberg Hymn—Army. Penbody

A nice hop was given on Thanksgiving eve at Adams' hall and was greatly enjoyed by those participating. There were present: Mr. and Mrs. Carson, Mrs. Northcutt, the Misses Baker, Moore, Holbert, Keller, Morrison, Breiden, Wedeles, and Hopper; Messrs. Twitshell, Morrison, Baker, Spiess, Johnson, Gortner, Armijo, Shelby, Hudson, Brady and Larkin Read.

Prof. G. S. Ramey, principal of the university at Albuquerque and Prof. C. E. Hodgins, principal of the Albuquerque city schools, are in the capital to-day consulting with Hon. Anado Chaves on matters connected with the holding of the meeting of the New Mexico educational association which occurs during the latter part of this month.

Old Yale has an almost unapproachable record on the foot ball field since the present system of scoring was adopted in 1883. Much local interest was felt here yesterday in the result of the Yale-Princeton contest on Thanksgiving day, not only by the public in general, but by the friends of Ernest Knabsh and John Gaines, New Mexico's Yale men. Wednesday was the third time in seven years that Princeton had defeated Yale. Out of a total of 122 games Yale has won 118 games, having lost one to Harvard and three to Princeton.

Rev. David Tatam, the noted and eminently successful Evangelist, will lecture Friday evening, December 8, at 7:30, in the Presbyterian church. He comes under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance union with credentials from many prominent temperance workers. Among them: Miss Francis E. Willard, president of the Woman's National Christian Temperance union, and Miss Mary A. Woodbridge, recording secretary of the Christian Temperance union of Ravenna, Ohio. A cordial invitation is extended to all who have a desire to hear him and he will feel that your presence shows your appreciation of his sacrifice of home and comfort for the benefit of humanity.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

The concert by the 10th infantry band at the Post hall last evening consisted of the following selections:

Overture—Reception. Schlegelgroll Selection—Fr. Op. Nady. Chaussegrolle. Landler—Souvenir de la Alps. Krumpholtz. Bolero—Souvenir de Cadix. Bosio. Song—Forget Me Not. Suppli

The music was enjoyed much by those present and so was the informal hop that took place after the concert.

Dr. Francis Cresson, formerly of Bellevue hospital, New York and for five years a resident of St. Paul, Minn., has been a health seeker at the Claire for some weeks, and has made up his mind to locate here. His family will follow shortly. Dr. Cresson has a wide spread acquaintance among physicians of both this country and Europe and he comes here to make a study of the climatic cures with a view, possibly, of establishing a sanitarium.

On Monday evening last a very elegant card party was given by Mrs. H. Hild at the residence of her parents, Hon. and Mrs. Sol. Spiegelberg, on Cathedral street. Playing at several games of cards was indulged in by part of the guests whereas others participated in a game of quads, which created much amusement and merriment. The first prizes in this game consisted of a costly lamp and a pretty silver match case and were captured by Miss Breiden and Lieut. Harrison. The refreshments were dainty and served exquisitely, and the evening's entertainment was full of genuine pleasure. At 10 o'clock in the morning the guests departed, feeling that they had spent a most agreeable evening. Among those present were: Gov. and Mrs. Thornton, ex-Gov. and Mrs. Prince, Major and Mrs. Kimball, Major and Mrs. Baker, Hon. and Mrs. E. A. Fiske, Capt. and Mrs. Kirkman, Capt. and Mrs. Duggan, Dr. and Mrs. Symington, Mr. and Mrs. Eldred, Hon. and Mrs. S. Spiegelberg, Misses Staab, Solignac, Gulliford, Hulbert, Baker, Florence Baker, Hughes, Butler, Wedeles, Breiden, Capt. Paulding, Lieut. Stogler and Lieut. Col. Frost, Mr. Gulliford, Mr. L. A. Hughes, Hon. E. L. Bartlett, Lieut. Harrison, Hon. A. Staab, Hon. A. Seligman, Messrs. Seligman, Judkins, Victory, Pronditt, Staab, Lieut. Stokes, Messrs. Baker, Butler, Shelby and A. Spiegelberg.

SPECKLED ONES.

A Consignment of Brook Trout Sent to the Rio Tesque To-day.

Yesterday J. W. Ackers, president of Santa Fe Gun club, received a telegram that the U. S. fish commission's car would arrive here to-day with a consignment of eastern brook trout for the Gun club. Mr. Ackers had teams and men on hand to receive them this morning. There were 1,000 lively little beauties yearlings, in the cans and Messrs. Jackson and Pierce started with them at once for the Rio Tesque. The fish were in splendid condition. There did not appear to be a sick one among them.

It will be remembered that about this time last year 5,000 of these gamey fish were set free in the Santa Fe creek. They are doing well and it is expected that by next year they will be fully six inches long. In a few years from now if the fish laws are rigidly enforced every stream hereabouts will be plentifully stocked with these hardy, strong fighting fish, through the energetic action of President Ackers and his associates in the Gun club.

ON THE BORDER.

The precise situation on the border is thus set forth by a letter from Sheriff A. B. Laird, of Grant county, to the governor:

"My deputy, Mr. C. Baca, last night returned from his trip to the International line. He reports as follows: All quiet so far as he could see or learn. Cattlemen attending their herds with no fear, hunters hunting all about the Palomas lakes. He saw no revolutionists, and careful inquiry revealed that the first attack on the custom house was the only one; that there were about thirty men in this affray. One of the customs guards was killed, the custom house looted. At Acconito, Mexico, the Mexican troops are in camp (sixty men) at Columbus, N. M., a troop of U. S. cavalry is in camp. The officers of these commands are in Deming, they expect no fighting. The reported battles are apparently myths."
