"In the Land of Poco Tiempo"

Is the title of a new book written by Chas. F. Lummis, in which he refers to New Mexico. He does not mention anything in his book about Goebel's Crack Heater the Estate Oak because he failed to interview Hon. T. B. Catron, who thinks the Estate Oak Heater is the best stove on earth. He claims it will take a keg of powder 53 hours and 15 minutes to go off in such a wonderful combination of stove architecture. He is using three of them.

BRIEF WIRINGS.

Silver and Lead.
New York, Dec. 26.—Bar silver is today quoted at 69. Lead $3.20.

To be Hanged.
Joliet, Ill., Dec. 26.—Ernest Lacour, the brutal murderer of little Ella Byron in August last, was sentenced this morning to hang next month.

A Village Fire.
Sardinia, Ohio, Dec. 26.—Last night a fire at Taylorville burned everything in the town except a school house and one dwelling. Loss $30,000.

A Christmas Crime.
Milwaukee, Dec. 26.—Arthur Konitzer, state senator, was stabbed last night in a saloon row by Carl Berton. The latter fled. Konitzer's injuries are very serious.

Jim Butler Kills His Man.
St. Louis, Dec. 26.—James Butler, city attorney, shot and killed a gambler known as "Seven-up Jim Leary" this morning in Ada Hartley's disreputable resort.

Gathering Good Men.
Denver, Dec. 26.—A. D. Parker, chief clerk in the auditor's office of the D. & R. G. road, was today appointed auditor of the Gulf road by Receiver Trumbull.

McVeigh Happy.
Jacksonville, Dec. 26.—Wayne McVeigh, appointed minister to Italy, with his family is in this city. He is gratified by the appointment and flattered by the prompt confirmation by the senate. He and family are here for a few weeks; he goes to Rome in February next.

A $50,000 Fire in Pittsburgh.
Pittsburgh, Dec. 26.—Fire is in progress in buildings at Homewood park; the burning buildings consist of the club house, grand stands and three acres stables. The fire is of an incendiary origin. Loss $50,000.

How They Treat Newspapers in Mexico.
City of Mexico, Dec. 26.—The extensive printing plant of El Democrata, confiscated several months ago by the government, was presented as a Christmas gift to the city orphan asylum by President Diaz. The plant is worth fully $20,000.

Is This About Gold Bonds?
New York, Dec. 26.—Conrad Jordan, assistant treasurer of the United States, arrived from Europe this morning on La Bretagne. He says he had a pleasant and successful trip but declines to disclose the nature of the negotiations he was engaged in.

WAITE'S FOLLY.
Colorado's Governor Overrides Public Opinion and Calls that Extra Session.

Denver, Dec. 26.—In spite of the overwhelming protests by the people of this state, Gov. Waite issued his call for an extra session of the legislature on January 7. The call is very acridly worded, favoring all manner of local schemes in various sections so as to win the legislature to the proposition. It also advocates state coinage as a constitutional right. The universal sentiment expressed by the press and all leading citizens to-day is one of bitter resentment against the governor's fantastic views. It is now suggested that the legislators obey the call, then simply meet and adjourn sine die for the credit of Colorado.

Prendergast's Trial.
Chicago, Dec. 26.—In the Prendergast trial this morning Assistant States Attorney Todd opened the case for the state with a statement that all promises made to the jury as to what would be proved had been kept. He reminded them that they were sworn to indict the death penalty if justified by evidence, and said there could be no compromise ground if the prisoner was guilty of murder.

Cattle Sold.
Denver, Dec. 26.—Judge Hallett, of the United States circuit court, has approved the sale of the property of the Cleveland & Colorado Cattle company. The sale was made by the master in chancery, Sept. 27, for the receiver, Henry B. Cullom, who was discharged. The sale was to satisfy a judgment for $175,670.38 of F. E. Rittman, trustee for bondholders, and a judgment for $3,250 to Jephtha H. Wade. Oscar Reuter was decreed $1,000 attorney's fee and Rittman $500 for services as trustee. The property consisted of 600,250 acres of land in Pueblo, Huerfano, Las Animas and Bent counties, including the Vigil and St. Vrain grant made by the governor of New Mexico in 1813. It was bought in for the bondholders.

COLORADO'S TRAMPS.
A Vigilant Engineer Fools an Attempt to Wreck a Train.

Denver, Dec. 26.—A gang of tramps attempted to wreck the Valverde suburban train on the Union Pacific near here this morning, but as the train was not moving at the usual high speed, the engineer was enabled to see that the switch had been tampered with. The train was a big one and loaded with people.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Set Sail for Rio—The President's Outing—Income Tax—A Famous Pension Case.

Washington, Dec. 26.—The big armored cruiser, New York, generally known as the "Pirate," lately ordered to Rio, sails to-day. She will be joined shortly by the Miantonomah, and together they will be amply able to protect all American rights.

A FAMOUS TEST CASE.
The application of Judge Long, of Michigan, to the district supreme court, for a mandamus to compel the commissioner of pensions to restore his former pension rating is expected to be decided to-day.

In the argument, Attorney Fred Baker, of Detroit, speaking in behalf of Judge Long, characterized the policy of the present administration of the pension bureau as scandalous and shameful. The commissioner, he said, acted not only haughtily, but unlawfully. He referred to rule fifty-four, of the pension regulations, prohibiting suspension without sixty days notice, which, he argued, had been overlooked by the commissioner. He contended that there was no law authorizing a suspension in cases like that of Judge Long and that there had been no process of law taken in his client's case. He scored the commissioner for his statement that a pensioner accepts a pension as a charity. "It is a debt," said the counsel, "and it is not intended for one man to have the power to cut off a pension."

CHRISTMAS GIFTS.
The president has granted a number of pardons as follows: Joseph P. Barton, William F. Jones, Chet Palmontor and Stephen S. Barton, Utah, polygamy; John C. Wallow, Kansas, manslaughter; John W. Pettis, Missouri, larceny, commuted to one year's imprisonment; Isaac A. Stanley, Ohio, violation of the United States banking laws; William W. Palmer, Arkansas, assault.

THE INCOME TAX.
There is little possibility of a settlement of the main difference of the ways and means committee as to whether to make the income tax an individual or corporate investment tax. The majority of the members will not come together for a week and the matter will be left undecided, but there is an opinion expressed that the plan outlined by President Cleveland in his annual message will be finally agreed to. Meanwhile the sub-committee on internal revenue will continue to work on the bill. As a majority of the sub-committee favor an individual revenue tax, it is very likely that the bill will be prepared on that basis and submitted to the full committee, when the actual test will come on the proposition to approve the bill.

MEETS WITH CONDEMNATION.
Assistant Attorney General Thomas, of the postoffice department, has decided an interesting case brought to the attention of the department. It was the proposition of a merchant to write the names of every purchaser of every dollar's worth of goods following in rotation, giving the customer as many numbers as dollars were paid for the goods. These numbers he proposed to copy on pieces of paper, and deposit them in a box. The proprietor intended to select some person whose name appeared opposite the number to receive some benefit or prize. The department says that the scheme constitutes a lottery.

Harrison's Friends.
New York, Dec. 26.—It has leaked out here that the friends of ex-President Harrison have formally gone to work to make him the next presidential candidate. Major Rathbone, of Ohio, has charge of the movement. It is said Harrison has not been consulted regarding the plan of the campaign. His supporters rely greatly upon former officeholders for assistance and believe the south is a most promising field in his favor.

ORGAN GOLD.
Splendid Activity Showing in the Quartz Fields East of Las Cruces.

From Parker's Wells and the Mormon Sunol mining district in the Organ mountains continue to come good reports. The white tents of new comers are getting in their work. This is at the south end of the gold fields. Four miles north of it you see the Sunol Camp. Here is the scene of great activity. The Sunol shaft is down eighty feet and showing up very rich ore. The vein has been stripped horizontally by trenching and exposed a strong vein three thousand feet. The United States mining surveyor, with a corps of men has just finished the survey of the mine and mill site and the owners, has just left for Magdalena to ship the ten stamp mill and engine to Las Cruces by rail, and thence by way of San Augustine Pass to the mine. By New Year's the machinery will probably be on the ground, and within thirty days more the music of the stamp will echo over the golden camp. This will be the inception of the real work in the district. Then everybody with pay ore will be "strictly in it," as it will enable the locators to mill their ore and pay for development work from the grass roots. The Mormon mine is down two hundred feet. This property practically proves the value of the camp. The Mormon vein has perfect walls four feet apart. The vein matter varies in width from five to thirty six inches, but the entire matter between walls is pay ore at the present depth. Water has been encountered in this shaft which will be of value. This property has paid for itself and its development and will no doubt be in the near future one of the great gold mines of the west. A postoffice has been applied for at the Mormon end of the camp to be called "Chesapeake." There may be more than one town in the district. Gold Basin or Golden Horseshoe has been suggested as an appropriate name for the principal camp.

A. T. & S. F. AFFAIRS.
Receivers Hopeful of an Early Reorganization—D. B. Robinson Named as "General Agent."

As foreshadowed in these columns on Saturday last, the A. T. & S. F. railroad system, including the Frisco lines and the A. & P. road, have passed into the hands of receivers. The application was made by the Union Trust company and the Mercantile Trust company, of New York, trustees for the bondholders. Judge Caldwell, U. S. circuit judge of the 8th circuit, sitting at Little Rock, Ark., made the order and named the following as receivers: J. W. Reinhart, president of the A. T. & S. F.; J. J. McCook, general counsel for the road, and Joseph C. Wilson, clerk of the United States district court at Topeka, Kas. The latter was a compromise receiver, the railroad people having recommended Messrs. Reinhart, McCook and George Nickerson, the latter a director of the Santa Fe system, who was objected to by the complainants.

The bonded indebtedness aggregates $232,000,000, as follows: One hundred and fifty million dollars first mortgage bonds; $77,000,000 class "A" second mortgage bonds; $55,000,000 class "B" second mortgage bonds. The interest due January 1 will aggregate nearly $3,000,000, and the floating debt is about $5,000,000, making total liabilities of about $240,000,000.

The receivers have taken full charge of the property and have twenty days in which to file bonds in the sum of $50,000 each.

A supplementary bill will be filed at Topeka January 5, which will seek a foreclosure of the bonded indebtedness. It is officially stated that one object of the receivership was to get rid of certain leased and subsidized lines which have been operated by the main lines for some time at a heavy loss. As soon as this is done it is believed that a scheme of reorganization satisfactory to all bondholders will be agreed upon and carried out.

The A. T. & S. F. system, outside of its main line, is made up of different corporations, whose securities, except in the case of the St. Louis & San Francisco and Colorado & Santa Fe, are nearly all deposited under the blanket mortgage of the parent company. The total mileage is 9,346 miles, and the eastern terminal are Chicago and St. Louis. To the west its ramifications extend through fourteen states and territories: from Denver, Oregon and San Francisco, and south to Galveston and El Paso, and Guaymas in Mexico. The gross earnings for the past fiscal year reached the enormous total of $11,316,547.

President Reinhart has issued a circular to stockholders, saying among other things:

"The obligations of the companies are as follows: Time notes and loans of collateral, due December, 1893, to June, 1895, $1,100,000; notes and loans on collateral on call $2,000,000; total notes and loans, $6,300,000; on interest and other fixed obligations due January 1, 1894, $3,900,000. The western accounts are about normal with remittances for interest payments turned back to provide for November pay-rolls and other requirements. With ordinary financial conditions prevailing in America and Europe, the market value of the securities owned by the companies and used as collateral is about equal to the entire amount of the above obligations."

A telegram from the receivers of the A. T. & S. F. company to Local Agent Lutz brings word that Mr. D. B. Robinson has been appointed "general agent" for the receivers in charge of the Santa Fe system. This means that there will be no changes in the west for the present at least.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.

Hilarious Young Men With a Gun—Shooting of Berry Hart of Taos.

Correspondence New Mexican.
Taos, N. M., Dec. 24.—A crowd of boys from this place after, taking a few drinks, decided to go to Rancho de Taos last night, to attend a dance. While on the way they became hilarious and began shooting off their revolvers. Luis Marces joined in the revel and as he pulled the trigger of his gun, young Berry Hart passed him and the discharge entered Hart's body under the right shoulder blade, the ball lodging in his lung. The boy was brought into town and taken to Dr. Martin's office where all that can be done for him is being done. Young Hart is not expected to live. Great sympathy is expressed for both young men. The shooting was entirely accidental.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 26.

NEVADA does not want Utah; Utah does not want to be annexed to Nevada; leave them alone.

As a state this commonwealth will advance farther in three years than it has as a territory in forty years; let's have statehood.

SINCE McVegh's appointment, the Right Hon. Carl Schurz, who has changed politics as often as necessary, wants to know when his turn will come.

THE citizens of New Mexico, regardless of party affiliations, should work to obtain statehood for this territory. If New Mexico is to prosper she must have statehood.

REPORTS from Brazil must be taken with a great deal of allowance; they are somewhat conflicting and changeable, something like President Cleveland's Hawaiian policy.

IR Queen Lili wants the Hawaiian Islands, she will have to take them without Grover Cleveland's help; he wants to help her, but public opinion in this country is even mightier than Grover the first.

THE Wilson bill, if it passes, will not tax foreign manufacturers and importers, but will tax the vast majority of the people of this country for the benefit of foreign bankers, manufacturers and exporters.

THERE is much work to be done for New Mexico in the coming year of grace and this journal will be found at the very front, battling for New Mexico's best interests manfully and courageously, in season and out of season.

NOW make your resolutions for the coming year; the earlier you commence so to do, the longer will you keep them and stand by them. As to your keeping them for any length of time, well, that's another story, as Rudyard Kipling would say.

THAT was not a very merry Christmas for the 77,000 unemployed laboring people of the city of New York on yesterday; but as many of them voted for Cleveland and for Democratic congressmen a year ago, they are only eating the soup they prepared for themselves.

STAGNATION and business depression are the order of the day; silver purchases by the government have nothing to do with the deplorable state of business affairs at this time; it's the British-free-trade-anti-American policy of this administration and of the 53d congress that are behind it.

THE San Marcial Bee has closed the first year of its existence; it is a good, bright and energetic paper and is doing much good for the town and the county it is published in. A happy New Year to the Bee; may its shadow never grow less and may it increase in prosperity and influence in the years to come.

WAYNE McVegh's appointment as ambassador to Italy does not suit the Democratic senators, but nevertheless they confirmed the nomination right quickly; Mr. Cleveland's whip is poised in the air and there is no telling upon whose shoulders in the senate it may fall; Cleveland is boss and the Democratic senators must dance to his music.

SEC. CARLISLE's report reviewing the affairs and administration of the treasury department for the past year, shows conclusively that the financial affairs of the nation have been shamefully mismanaged since March of this year; the secretary evidently, when he wrote the report, had in mind the old saying, "an honest confession is good for the soul."

CONGRESS can well afford to be very liberal with the public lands in the enabling acts for the territories; the public lands to be granted must be reclaimed and put under ditch and under irrigation; that is costly; hence the more public land is given the new states, the better for the country at large and the states to be created.

FRICITION THAT WILL HELP.

It is now established that Mr. Cleveland is opposed to the repeal of the 10 per cent on state banks; this matter is sure to cause great friction and discontent in the coming session as many of the members from the southern states are strongly in favor of repeal; it is to be hoped that this will happen for it will be an extremely good thing for the people and the country at large; whatever hurts the Democratic party benefits the people, the common people, the working men, the laboring men, the farmers, in fact the men who work for a living, be it brain work or manual labor.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PRESS

Correct.
New Mexico contributes $1,000,000 worth of beef and mutton to the world's supply of food this year.—Denver News.

The First in His Line.

Grover Cleveland is the first American president who ever considered it necessary to act as attorney for a monarchy against a republic.—New York Press.

Congratulations.

We congratulate the people of Hawaii upon having escaped re-enslavement to an ignorant and vicious despotism, and the people of the United States upon having been spared the shame of even a vicarious complicity in such an outrage.—Washington Post.

A Violator of Law.

When Mr. Cleveland offered to aid Liliuokalani to re-establish herself upon the throne he committed an act of war, and was guilty of a most serious violation of the constitution.—Chicago Daily News.

AFTER the defeat of the Wilson Bill. Within one month after the defeat of the Wilson bill every idle loom would be again in operation and every banked fire would be rekindled. Bury the Wilson conspiracy against American workingmen.—New York Press.

Chicago's Vote.

The Chicago Republicans cast over 1,000 more votes in the recent municipal election than they cast in the presidential election of 1892, while the Democratic vote fell off nearly 32,000. Chicago may therefore be rated as the kind of a Democratic city that will hereafter give Republican majorities.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Sectional Bill.

With a free trade party platform, and pretended to be constructed on protectionist principles, the Wilson bill is neither. It is simply a whack at northern industries with as many sops for the south as can be thrown in without sparing industries at the south that have the advantage to be situated in character to the great interests of the northern states.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Cleveland's Hostility to the Territories.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat is very loud in its protests against the admission of new states. The Globe-Democrat boldly advocates vetoes of the statehood bills and says: "As Cleveland is a sound money man he may block this admission scheme by a veto." The greatest danger the people of Utah, New Mexico and Arizona have to face is the hostility of Cleveland to the growth of the west.—Denver News.

The Wool Growers are in a Bad Fix.

The wool growers who intend to protest against placing wool on the free list will have their labor for their pains. If the Democrats put but one thing on the free list it will be wool. They have fought the wool tariff for a long time, and if they were not to abolish it, it would look like the abandonment of their favorite fighting point. Yet this tariff ought not to be removed. It is essential to the life of sheep industry, and its abolition would involve the loss of millions of dollars to American farmers and stock growers.—Denver Republican.

The Admission of the Territories.

There is every prospect that the bills for the admission of Utah, New Mexico and Arizona will be reported favorably by the senate committee on territories. There, however, may be opposition enough in the committee to prevent a favorable report in the case of Oklahoma, for that territory is supposed to be Republican. It is to be hoped that all four of these territories will be admitted, but it would be well if Utah were to come in by being united with Nevada, and if Oklahoma should be made to embrace the present Indian territory.—Denver Republican.

A Touching Object Lesson.

The pitiful stories of poverty and suffering that come from Yonkers show with pathetic emphasis the cruel effects of the present malicious attack on American industry. Nearly 3,000 persons in that town are now totally dependent upon charity for shelter and subsistence. Scores of families have not had a penny in their possession in weeks. The applicants for relief are daily increasing in number. This distress is due solely to the stoppage of the carpet and other industries of Yonkers caused by the threatened enactment of the Wilson bill. The worst of it is that there is no prospect that the idle mills will be started up so long as there is a probability that the Wilson bill may become a law. Yonkers is but a type of a multitude of industrial centers which are suffering in a like manner.—New York Press.

Will Also Injure New Mexico.

The proprietors and managers of lead works throughout the country are protesting with much vigor against the proposed new tariff bill, which admits free of duty all ores which carry a greater value in silver than in lead. They say it will operate to seriously injure the silver and lead mining interests. Colorado will be especially affected. She has many mines low in silver and high in lead which can be worked at a profit only with the latter metal selling at a fair price. The new tariff arrangement that is proposed would close a good number of mines, even if silver were commanding the prices of two or three years ago. It would be practically free lead. And freed lead would bring the miners of this country into competition with the peon labor of Mexico. The vindictiveness with which the Democratic party, upon every possible occasion, attacks the wages of the toilers has ever been a phenomenon of ignorance or of moral perversity.—Denver Evening Sun.

Thought It Was Worth More.
A few weeks ago a railroad collision killed among others a passenger living in a country town. His remains were sent home, and a few days after the funeral the solicitor to the company called upon the widow to effect a settlement. She placed her damages at $5,000.
"Oh, that sum is unreasonable," replied the solicitor. "Your husband was nearly 50 years old."
"Yes, sir."
"And lame?"
"Yes."
"And his general health was poor?"
"Very."
"And he probably would not have lived more than five years?"
"Probably not, sir."
"Then it seems to me that $400 or $500 would be a fair compensation."
"Four or five hundred?" she echoed.
"Why, sir, I courted that man for 10 years, ran after him for 10 more, and then had to chase him down with a shotgun to get him to marry me. Do you suppose that I'm going to settle for bare cost of shoe leather and ammunition?"
The man of law concluded that she deserved all she could get.—Spare Moments.

A Very Pressing Engagement.

Two Souls and So Forth.
They were wandering about the dark, deserted piazza, arm in arm, talking softly, as people usually do under such circumstances.

They had only known each other two days, but the days were long at a summer hotel, and time is short.

This may seem like a paradox, but it isn't.
He was not a summer young man, as she was a summer girl, and he was not accustomed to crowding the mourners, so that, notwithstanding he had been very devoted, he had been somewhat diffident in the material expression of his devotion.

The girl was quick to note this, but he had not caught on.

He was still permitting "I would" to wait on "I dare not."

So it was they strolled up and down, up and down, on that piazza until the girl was tired.

As they turned at a faraway corner, she saw a lonely chair waiting invitingly.

"Mr. Charlie," she said coyly, "there's a chair. Let's sit down."

"Permit me," he responded, gallantly drawing it forward. "Take this. I'll get another."

But the girl didn't take it. She stood there laughing a cute little, gurgling, appealing laugh, and somehow Mr. Charlie tumbled to the fact that one chair was plenty for two if a man only went about it right.—Detroit Free Press.

Hygiene.
Lady—Now that I have given you a dinner, you must save some food for me.

Tramp—Madam, are you not aware that the best medical authority teaches us that it is extremely dangerous to go to bed to exercise on a full stomach? Good morning!—Club.

A Conservative Estimate.
"The value of such a poem as this cannot be expressed in mere dollars!" exclaimed Mr. Rondo.

"No, it cannot," agreed the editor. "We will pay you 75 cents for it."—Life.

Then It Was All Right.
She—I don't suppose you are fond of kissing babies?

He—Not unless they are girl babies about 18 years old.—P. & S. Bulletin.

First Pedestrian—Out walking for your health?

Second Pedestrian—Yes. I'm going for the doctor.—Truth.

Self Praise.

Self praise is no recommendation, but there are times when one must permit a person to tell the truth about himself. When what he says is supported by the testimony of others no reasonable man will doubt his word. Now, to say that Alcock's Porous Plasters are the only genuine and reliable porous plasters made is not self praise in the slightest degree. They have stood the test for over thirty years, and in proof of their merits it is only necessary to call attention to the cures they have effected and to voluntary testimonials of those who have used them.
Beware of imitations and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Alcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

Preparing for the Melt.

She (after the proposal)—You must give me time, Mr. Spooner.

A Painful Fact, Painfully Stated.

Should be Arrested, The Popular Demand.

Who? What should be arrested? All excessive nervousness, dyspepsia, head ache, dizziness, sleeplessness, neuralgia, nervous debility, dullness, confusion of mind, nervous prostration, and etc. They should be arrested, or, stopped, before they develop into a condition that can be cured but rarely. For this purpose no remedy equals Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, the discovery of the renowned specialist, whose remedies are the wonder of the civilized world. Nervine is sold by A. C. A New Cause, Thousands Flock to Its Standard.

When a new cause is presented to the public it always excites attention. A prominent physician has said that in gripe, during the last three years, has done more to weaken the hearts of the world than any other cause that has ever existed. Those who have had this malady and subsequently found themselves subject to palpitation, short breath, irregular pulse, wind in stomach, pain in side or shoulder, smothering spells, fainting, dizziness, and etc., may feel assured they have heart disease, which unless checked at once, may result fatally. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the only remedy that can be relied upon to effect a cure. Sold by A. C. Ireland Jr., on a guarantee. Ask for the Doctor's new book, free.

Grand Canon of Colorado River.

On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,200 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublimest of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yosemite might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook.

Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read up" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a free copy of an illustrated book describing this terrific incognita. The book is not a common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

When Your Eye Strikes This Stop

The famous hot springs of Arkansas world renowned for their health qualities and as a health and pleasure resort, can be reached quickly in Pullman buffet sleeping cars from Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo via the Missouri Pacific railway. Sufferers of "grippe," influenza, catarrhs and kindred diseases can obtain relief by a visit to this famous sanitarium.

PURELY VEGETABLE

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They're a compound of refined and concentrated botanical extracts. These tiny, sugar-coated Pellets—the smallest and the easiest to take—absolutely and permanently cure Constipation, Indigestion, Sick and Bilious Headaches, Dizziness, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels. They cure permanently, because they act naturally. They don't shock and weaken the system, like the huge, old-fashioned pills. And they're more effective. One little Pellet for a corrective or laxative—three for a cathartic. They're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

For a perfect and permanent cure of Catarrh, take Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Its proprietors offer $500 reward for an incurable case.

CHIPPER CHESTNUTS.

"Did Fred enjoy his football game yesterday?" "You just bet he did. This morning he can't see with one eye, and three of his ribs are broken."—Chicago News-Record.

Admiring Neighbor—Do you think the pretty pet is going to be like his father? Fond Mother—I shouldn't be at all surprised. He keeps me up every night, as it is, and is fractious in the morning. Judy asked Polly's mamma about the little one came in from the playground. "She dug a great big hole in the garden, and her mamma wouldn't let her take it into the house with her," said Polly.—Harper's Young People.

Wife—I am thinking of taking swimming lessons. What part do you think will be the hardest for me to learn, dear? Husband—Well, I should think keeping your mouth shut.—Chicago Ocean.

Husband (mexically)—This is the fourth time this week we've had corn beef and cabbage, Maria, and I'm just a little tired of it. His Wife—I'm sure, Thomas, you're very unreasonable. You know I've had to correct the proof sheets of my new book, "One Hundred Dainty Dinners."—Brooklyn Life.

Briggs—Just for a joke I told Miss Elly the other day that when she laughed it was all I could do not to kiss her. Griggs—What happened? Briggs—The next time I saw her she had hysterics.—Life.

In a country town there lived an Irish man who spent most of his time and money at one of the many public houses. In consequence of this and the small wage he earned, he had run up a rather long score on the slate. One day a fire occurred at this particular public house, and the fire brigade was called into requisition. Among the first at the conflagration was the Irish man. Above the noise and din of the people assembled he was heard shouting vociferously, "Don't fail to play on the slate!"—Tit-Bits.

Cherubic.
Inquiring Boy—Mamma, don't the little angels have a good time in heaven?
Mamma—Certainly, my child. Why do you ask?
Inquiring Boy—Because it says here in the prayer book, "The cherubim and seraphim continually do cry."—Life.

Asking and Telling.
Mother—Why don't you ask your papa to buy you a ring, if you want one so much?
Little Dot—I'd rather you'd tell him to.—Good News.

A Serenade.

One was an old, old Thomas,
The other, a fellow fine,
And the way that they sang together
Was a thing to see.

The song that they sang was a serenade—
Though you never would think it to be—
For the old, old, old, old Tom cat
Was sparkling the fellow fine.

They sang the song on the old back fence,
And the hour it was half past three,
Which suited the old, old Thomas,
But was tough on my wife and me.

They sang with a rapt expression,
In a curious minor key.
One warbled basso profundo,
The other, way up in G.

"Oh, come, my love, to the trying,"
"He sang in a baritone 'G.'"
"I come, oh, my love, by moonlight,"
"In a tremulous voice sang she."

Then I clapped in with the bootjack,
My wife the alarm clock, she;
"Never touched," yowled the old, old Tom cat,
"Just missed," screamed the female G.

Two streaks shot over the back yard fence
And scoot up my neighbor's tree.
One was the old, old Thomas,
The other a fellow fine.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE COMPASS.

Keep your eye on the compass
If the sea runs high
And the ocean's inky billows
Mock the blackness of the sky.
When beating up against the winds,
So pitiless and strong,
Keep your eye on the compass,
And you can't go wrong.
Keep your eye on the compass
And your white sails trimmed,
Though the moon hide in the heavens
And the stars are dimmed.
Though the voyage may be lonely
And the waves seem long,
Keep your eye on the compass,
And you can't go wrong.
Keep your eye on the compass;
It will guide you o'er the deep,
Will show you where the north star is
And where the flowers sleep.
In the sunny south, no matter
If the way seems long,
Keep your eye on the compass,
And you can't go wrong.

MADAME'S STORY.

"And what became of Marie?" I asked.
"She married, did she not? Or did she, now? I remember there was some excitement."
Madame sighed. "It is a very long story."

"Tell me, Madame," I begged. I give the story in her own words. I would that I could give her accent. Her English was almost perfect, though rather studied and occasionally confused as to tenses. But her singularly pure, clear voice and a faint foreign softening of each syllable made her charming to listen to.

"Well, as I think I told you long ago, Marie went away from me for one long year. When she was very little, I sent her to a convent in Toronto, and I do not see her very often. She grew up so pretty, so spirituelle, the pale pink face and big eyes, black eyes and long, long lashes—oh, she is beautiful! She was like a rose in the morning, quite slender, and her small feet do not hurt the flowers. She is a flower herself, charming. She came home, and the lady in the village are distracted, and I am too. "It is very hard to watch Marie. She is so quick and so beautiful. She laugh in my face and say: 'Do not fear, my mother. I always stay with you. As for the men, I hate 'em all.' Then she dance away with the pale pink ribbons flowing from the pink robe, and the lady follow her everywhere. She read love stories—novel, she call them, and they put strange things in her head.

"She will not marry the lady in the village, she say, but some rich man will come from the city and take her away, and I, her mother, will have plenty of beautiful dresses and a maid to wait upon me. Then I scold her and say that I do not want those things, and she must marry a lad that I shall choose for her. Then she dance away, throwing the roses at me, and the ribbons fluttering everywhere, always ribbons and flowers with Marie, and when she pass, the curling hair all tumbling around her, there is always a sweet perfume in the air. You remember her when she came from the convent?"

I nod. "Who wouldn't remember that wild rose of a girl, with the daintiest foot ever eaved over, with a slender, lithe, ever dancing, little figure, with her pretty gowns following every movement, with her glorious merry black eyes and the seashell pink on her cheeks. Remember Marie? I, who had followed her floating ribbons, had picked up the roses she let fall, had been as crazy about her as ever was village lad! Remember her? Yes, as one remembers a sprite, a fairy, a delicious dream. I sigh as one sighs for departing youth. Those mad, happy days have nothing to do with me now. A moment ago—a day ago—I was bored, cynical, blasé, and now I would give my life to be dancing once more through the woods after Marie—after flowers and streamers and a floating gown catching on the wild rose bushes—after Marie! If once more the woods could seem as green, the sky as blue, a girl as fair as Marie!

"So she will not marry, and by and by a girl from the convent visit Marie to visit with her at home, and I am tired, and I let Marie go. She stay one whole year, and I weary for her, and she come back. When I see her, the tears come in my eyes. She is pale and thin and so quiet. I feel dreadful. I ask her what the matter is, and she say, 'Nothing at all.' But I, her mother, know better, and I watch and wait.

"One day a letter come for her, and it is a man's handwriting on the envelope. Marie take it and say nothing at all. Then I feel bad, very bad that my little girl have a lover, and that I, her mother, know not of it. After a long time she tell me his name. It is Jean Lefroy, and she knew him at the house of her friend, and he tell her he love her, and I ask her if she love him—although I think it not right that I do not choose for her—and she say she do not know. But one day Mons. Mr. Lefroy come and say:

"Why you not write me, Marie?" and she say to him that I am her mother, and he bow very low to me and say:
"Madame, I love your daughter, and I write and ask her when I may come and tell her mother that I wish to marry her, and she do not answer me at all, at all, and she stride very fierce about the room, and Marie put her head on my shoulder and say that she love me, her mother, only. And he ask very quick:

"Why you say you love me?" and Marie will not answer. She just put her hands to her ears and will not listen to him. I think she must be crazy and speak hard to her, but she just run out of the room. Then he go away and say he will come back again that evening.

Then I speak to Marie, and she say there is another man, too, and she do not know which she like better—that when one of them is there that she like the other one better—and it is making her pale and thin. Then I am very severe with her and tell her it is very wrong; that she cannot love either of them, or she would know. But she say she think she will marry one of them, and I tell her that Mr. Lefroy is coming tonight and she must say either yes or no to him, and she say that I will break her heart.

"Well, in the evening a strange gentleman come—a very fair gentleman, with pretty curly hair—and he ask to see my Marie. She look over the stair, and she say to me:

"It is the other one."
"Then I am nearly crazy, but Marie say she will not go to see him till Mr. Lefroy come. 'Perhaps I can tell,' she say, 'when I see them both together.'"
"When Mr. Lefroy come, we go down the stair and there they are, both together, and they look hard at each other. We talk a little while, and then I say, 'Gentlemen, what is it that you want?'"

"And they both say quick, 'Marie!' And Marie she say:

"But you cannot both have me. Is it not so?" And the one that came last say, very angry:
"You must decide now which one you will have!"

"Then Marie look at him and frown and say quick:
"Very well, then; I decide now that I will not have you."

"Then Jean Lefroy he smile a little, and the other one walk out of the house quick, his face like a storm cloud, and then Marie sit down and cry. She will not speak to Jean Lefroy, although he coax her very hard. She only say that she will stay with me, her mother. Then Jean he bow and say to me that he hope my health will keep good, and Marie stop crying and make him a grimace, and he go away too. They both come back often. But she cannot tell which she like best ever, and I am very weary. Almost I would be glad that she leave me and marry. So one day she tell me that next week she will marry, and there is no time to get her the clothes, and she will not tell me which one. I like them both very well, and I feel bad, but she only say, 'You will see.'

"On Thursday she would marry, only quietlike—only those who marry her and I, her mother, there—and we go to the church together. When we get to the church, I look to see which gentleman, but I see no one. Marie is cool. She say: 'Let us wait. He may be late,' and she smile to herself. I think it is very strange, but at last I see Jean Lefroy come round the corner and Marie run to meet him. When he come near, I see that he look—oh, horrible! He have his arm tied up, and his coat is torn, and one of his eyes has a black mark, and he is lame. He wear no hat, and the collar and tie are gone. Oh, it is dreadful. But I say nothing. I fear Marie change her mind again. But it is not so. They are married, and I make Jean tell me why he look so dreadful.

"Well," he say, "Marie tell each of us, separately, that she will marry us today, and when I see him I smile, not knowing that he has her promise, too, and when he see me he hold the head high, not knowing that I shall marry her. So all the week we nearly have our fight, but I never touch him till—well, last night Marie write us both and say that she will marry the one that will get to the church first. We both get the note at the same time, and I see that he is getting ready early, and I hurry too. When he leave his house, I leave mine also, and all the way we try to keep each other back. It is very hard work, and two hours after we leave the homes we have not get farther than the first corner.

"Soon we start to run, but we cannot get past each other, and then he catch hold of me, and then we fight some more. But soon I tear his coat bad, and he cannot wear it, and then his vest, but Madame will pardon me that I cannot tell her all that happen. At all event, we have to go home to get the clothes, and I get here first." Madame paused, and I knew her story was done.

"And were they happy together, Madame?" I asked. "It is hard to imagine Marie settling down quietly."
Madame sighed.
"It is a long story," she said.—Madge Robertson in Romance.

Mistakes About Alcohol.

There is a common belief that alcohol gives new strength and energy after fatigue sets in. The sensation of fatigue is one of the safety valves of our machine. To stifle the feeling of fatigue, in order to do more work, is like closing the safety valve so that the boiler may be overheated and explosion result. It is commonly thought that alcoholic drinks aid digestion, but in reality the contrary would appear to be the case, for it has been proved that a meal without alcohol is more quickly followed by hunger than a meal with alcohol. In connection with the sanitation of armies thousands of experiments upon large bodies of men have been made and have led to the result that, in peace or war, in every climate—in heat, cold or rain—soldiers are better able to endure the fatigue of the most exhausting marches when they are not allowed any alcohol at all. That mental exertions of all kinds are better undergone without alcohol is generally admitted by most people who have made the trial.—Westminster Review.

The Servant Problem Not New.

Students of household management will learn with satisfaction that in 1566 many of the evils now to be complained of were distinctly recognized. Some of the more curious fancies which were imposed by a country gentleman upon offending servants were a penny for leaving a door open, missing prayers, leaving beds unmade after 8 (presumably a. m.), and cooks could only have followers at the rate of a penny fine for each one. A curious custom seems to have then existed that entree to the house was denied during the family meals, and as the fine for allowing a breach of this custom was heavy it may be presumed that the sin was esteemed great.—Lady's Pictorial.

HOLIDAY FESTIVITIES.

Some Reference to the Many Events Occurring in Celebration of Christmas.

The Christmas festival was enjoyed to the fullest yesterday and last evening. Doll care and hard times were not in it anywhere among Santa Feans. From the standpoint of either sentiment or business none can have grounds for complaint, for certainly the true principle of Christian charity was at large, particularly in so far as concerns the poorer classes, and many a humble home was made glad by those who of their plenty were cheerful givers.

The weather was delightful. Sunshine flooded the city and valley, but there was an abundance of snow on the adjacent mountains and foothills to add to the reality of the typical Christmas day, and the bracing air therefrom brought joy even to members of the health-seeker colony.

CHURCH SERVICES.

Midnight mass at the cathedral and the Church of Our Lady of Guadalupe taxed those sacred places to their utmost seating capacity. At the Cathedral the services were particularly impressive and one striking feature was the music furnished by the Christian Brothers' choir under Brother Fabian's direction.

The services yesterday forenoon at the Church of the Holy Faith were attended by a goodly congregation. The decorations were beautiful and the chancel was tastefully trimmed with evergreens. The decorations were put up by the men of the parish and were much admired; the church never looked as handsome as this year. The music was under the direction of Mr. John Deiden, organist and choir master, and was excellent. The solo "Noel" by Mrs. Kimball was heard with much admiration, as Mrs. Kimball is an artist of a great deal of ability. Schilling's Te Deum is a brilliant composition and very churchly. The solo by Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Day, Mrs. Koch, Mr. Butler and Mr. Fletcher were extremely well rendered. The sermon by the Rev. Mr. Monk was eloquent and most appropriate for the occasion. The musical program of yesterday will be repeated next Sunday at the regular services.

THE ORPHAN'S SCHOOL.

At the territorial orphan's industrial school last evening the public was given another illustration of the conscientious care taken by Sister Victoria and her associates in the training of their wards. There were "sweetness and light" everywhere, and the program of a dozen selections of a literary and musical character was presented in a manner highly creditable to teacher and pupil alike. "The Magic Pen," a beautiful and instructive opera for children, was a feature of the entertainment that was heartily enjoyed, and the dancing of the stately minuet of "a long time ago" had to be repeated for the edification of the delighted spectators. The children appeared in appropriate costumes and carried out their parts with rare grace and stately mien. The Sisters were repeatedly congratulated upon the success of the event, and not a few have urged that the program be repeated for the benefit of the general public.

At the close of the exercises the orphans were made happy by receiving from a huge tree at the hands of Santa Claus all manner of gifts.

THE GERMAN LUTHERANS.

At the cosy Congregational church last evening the German residents of the city united for the first time in a Christmas celebration. There was a charming program of exercises in which the members of the several German Lutheran Sunday school classes were participants. The choir rendered some excellent music and Rev. Neef, the popular pastor, gave a short address in which he congratulated his hearers upon this first coming together of Santa Fe's German residents. At the close of the exercises there was a distribution of gifts from a great tree and a general good time for adults and children.

AT RAMONA SCHOOL.

On Christmas eve the sixty-five pupils under the care of Prof. Elmore Chase and his assistants were given a hearty Christmas festival. Friends of Indian education in New England had sent a large collection of suitable gifts for the little ones and these were placed upon a tree by the teachers and distributed amid much merriment.

THE MISSION SCHOOL.

Last evening there was a gala throng of spectators at the Presbyterian Mission school to witness the presentation of a literary and musical program which Miss Allison and her associates had spared no pains in preparing the children to take part in. Frequent encores showed the appreciation of the spectators, and at the close of the exercises there was the jolliest sort of a time following the distribution of many presents from a regulation Christmas tree.

THE 4TH WARD SCHOOLS.

On Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock upwards of 100 people assembled at the 4th ward public school conducted by Miss Maggie Johnson and applauded the little tots who there gave ample evidence of the training received at the hands of their earnest teacher. Little ones who had never before attempted to speak in English performed their parts in a manner most creditable and prompted many kind words for the pupils and teacher. A huge Christmas tree, which Miss Johnson had supplied by her own efforts, then gave up its precious burden to the little ones.

The 4th ward school conducted by the Sisters of Loretto have fixed upon 2 p. m. to-morrow as the hour for gladdening the hearts of the children under their charge.

The Christmas tree seems to have been more popular than ever this year.

Mrs. G. W. Hickox is advised from Detroit of the death of Mrs. John R. Miller, aged 84 years, mother of Mrs. D. M. Ferry.

The superintendent and teachers of the Presbyterian Sunday school give their annual treat to the scholars this evening. There will be a Christmas tree with the usual accessories of good things.

Somebody sent Abe Spiegelberg a live possum for a Christmas gift.

The A. M. E. church people did well at their festival in Adams' hall last night. The 10th infantry band presented Lieut. Littell with a handsome remembrance yesterday in the shape of a gold headed cane.

Hard times have no terrors for the children at Christmas-tide. Santa Fe merchants all express themselves as more than gratified over their holiday patronage.

J. W. Akers has an eye for the beautiful. His Arcade resort was artistically decorated yesterday with evergreens and many colored chrysanthemums.

If some enterprising man were to start a poultry farm here thousands of dollars that now go abroad would be saved here to increase the circulating medium of the community.

The hotels and restaurants did a thriving trade yesterday. Ordinarily people don't travel much during the Christmas holidays, but yesterday seems to have been an exception to this rule.

Centennial Encampment No. 3, I. O. O. F., meets to-night at 7:30 in Paradise hall. Eight candidates will be initiated. A supper will be served. Visiting patriots will receive a hearty welcome.

The express companies report a highly interesting rush of holiday business. The agents say there have been many more packages sent out and received this year than last, but that in weight the bulk is this season scarcely as great as last.

Valentine Schick came up from Algodones yesterday and spent the day. He is engaged there in shipping the pipes for the Santa Fe Water & Improvement company. He has forty teams employed and seven miles of mains are yet to be taken up at San Pedro and transported across to Algodones station.

Col. E. H. Bergman, superintendent of the territorial penitentiary, was the recipient of a handsome gift yesterday, sent with the best wishes of the officers of the penitentiary. It is a heavy ebony walking stick surmounted by a massive gold head appropriately inscribed.

According to the amendment of the United States statutes, relating to miners' claims, it is absolutely necessary that those wishing to avail themselves of the opportunity offered to suspend assessment work for the year 1893 must file their notice in the office of the probate clerk on or before the 31st day of December, 1893. The necessary blanks for this purpose may be had at the New Mexican office at 5 cents each or three for a dime.

To-morrow morning Rev. G. G. Smith, Hon. E. P. Seeds and others leave for Las Vegas to attend as delegates the annual convention of the Territorial Union of Christian Endeavor societies. There will be delegates present from the various towns of the territory. An interesting program has been prepared bearing on the work of these societies, and much interest is being aroused in connection with this meeting. The convention meets in the first Presbyterian church, Las Vegas, on Wednesday evening, and will continue its sitting throughout Thursday.

The remains of Mrs. S. S. Beatty were buried on Sunday afternoon. The funeral services at the M. E. church were conducted by Rev. C. I. Mills and were largely attended. The casket rested under a mass of flowers. The members of the Aztec lodge sent a cross of white roses and everlasting flowers. There was also a high cross of white roses and white chrysanthemums, and the Woman's Board of Trade sent a wreath of pale blue flowers inscribed "to a beloved member."

A Card.

We wish publicly to thank the many friends in this city who have been so kind to us in our affliction. We assure those friends who helped us in our home, the Woman's Board of Trade, the choir, the Aztec lodge, I. O. O. F., the G. A. R. and all others whom we do not mention but whom we shall never forget, that they have our deepest gratitude and heartfelt thanks for their extreme kindness to us in our bereavement.

MURDERERS CAUGHT.

Fearless and Energetic Work by Deputy U. S. Marshal Loomis.

Mail Carrier Romero's Murderers Landed in Socorro's County Jail.

Through the clever work of Deputy U. S. Marshal Loomis two men are in jail in Socorro county on the charge of murdering Jose Romero, the Magdalena mail carrier. Their names are Felipe and Leopoldo Padilla. It is almost certain that these are the perpetrators of the crime. Mr. Loomis left Magdalena on Sunday night last week ago, travelling alone, in a sulky, and, bound for the scene of Romero's murder. He soon got track of two men and trailed them to a village on the San Augustin plains where he found that the parties above named answered the description of the supposed murderers. The officer was alone, but he put on a bold front, rode into the town and calling upon the parties stated his business. At first there was some indication that the men's neighbors would offer resistance but by the use of tact this disposition soon subsided and the two prisoners were brought in and placed in the county jail.

It is thought that the murder was not committed for the sole purpose of robbery as there has been an old feud existing between the three men and Romero has been threatened several times in different ways by the Padillas who are of a quarrelsome nature. The stealing of the mail is thought to have been done more as a blind than for plunder.

OFFICIAL GOSSIP.

Gov. Thornton is still in the southern part of the territory. He is expected home on Thursday.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Loomis came up from Socorro on Sunday and returned Sunday night. He traveled 300 miles in six days while out in the Magdalena after the murderers of the mail carrier Jose Romero.

Salome Garcia, a member of the county board of commissioners of Colfax county, to-day sent to the governor his resignation, he now being a resident of the new county of Union.

The Union county returning board has filed an amended report with the territorial secretary showing that they have complied with Judge Seeds' order and counted the election returns from precinct 50. This on the face of the returns gives W. B. Boyle, Republican, the county assessorship over J. H. Davis, Democrat, by a majority of 20 votes.

Wanted—By experienced stenographer and type-writer operator, office room and use of type-writer in exchange for work. Address, Stenographer, care Daily New Mexican.

A Novel Souvenir Spoon.

THIS SPOON, as a souvenir of Arizona, is decidedly unique and appropriate. It is distinctly an Arizona picture, showing a scene that is an everyday feature on the streets of the cities and towns of the territory. A Pima Indian woman is represented, supporting on her head an olla which rests upon a twisted wisp of bear ware, and awaiting a customer for her ware. Statuesque and graceful as is the figure, it is perfectly true to nature, having been designed from a photograph taken from real life for the purpose.

The olla (usually pronounced o-yar) is a large jar or bowl of pottery for containing and cooling drinking water. It is altogether an Indian invention, and is made of a mixture of clay and sand, the material being moulded exceedingly thin by the deft hands of women, and baked to a brilliant red. In this climate receptacles for cool water are indispensable in every household, and thus the Pima woman's treasures find a ready market for them in every town.

It is no uncommon thing to see four or five of these children of nature, picturesque in their gaily colored advancing with stately tread down the street, each with an olla on her head, as represented in this charming souvenir.
