THEY TALK STRAIGHT.

Pennsylvania Democrats Have Something to Say on the Status of Business.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 10.—The state Democratic convention for the nomination of a candidate for congressman-at-large was called to order shortly after 12 o'clock to-day by ex-Congressman Gillespie. The officers and committees of the September convention retained their old places.

B. R. Cotter presented the name of Jas. Belmont Hancock, of Mankin, for nomination as congressman-at-large. The nomination was seconded by Samuel C. Wagner, of Cumberland, and made by acclamation.

The committee reported their platform, which reaffirms the declaration of principles of the Chicago platform, and expresses confidence in the leadership of President Cleveland and commends his administration as well as that of Gov. Pattison.

Hancock entered the convention and was enthusiastically cheered. He made a strong speech endorsing the platform and accepting the nomination. The convention adjourned at 2:30 p. m.

The platform declares: The present disturbed condition of business and finances of the country is the natural and inevitable consequence of long years of Republican misadministration and vicious legislation, unequal and oppressive tariff laws, and profligacy in public expenditures.

It denounces the McKinley law, demands that the pledges made by the Democratic party be kept and asks for the speedy revision of the tariff laws.

It is a Republican congress that has debased the public money, rendered the standard of values shifting and uncertain, disturbed confidence and wrought financial disaster from which the slow but sure recovery of the country is mainly due to the courage, fidelity and consistency of the Democratic president.

Colorado Legislature.
Denver, Jan. 10.—The legislature assembled in extraordinary session at noon and the two houses are in joint session this afternoon listening to the governor's message. Nearly all the Democrats and Republicans favor an immediate adjournment, and many of the Populists are with them. Gov. Waite's threats have little weight.

Freddie's Bride.
New York, Jan. 10.—Miss Louise H. Morris, of Baltimore, whose engagement to Frederick Gebhardt has been announced, has the reputation of being one of the handsomest women in America, and she has been written about and talked about more than any other society woman. Her portrait was exhibited at the World's fair. She made her debut in society four years ago.

THE MEXICAN REVOLT.
Troops Sent from Juarez to Suppress "Gen." Ochoa's Little Revolution.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 10.—The Mexican authorities at Juarez have sent troops down the river to capture Gen. Ochoa's revolutionary forces and the garrison is in shape to defeat any attack which may be made upon it. Advice from the City of Mexico says that Father Castaneda, who was implicated in the Guerrero uprising, has escaped from prison. It is also rumored that the Aztec Indians will join the Yaquis in Sonora to fight the Mexican troops.

IRRIGATION FOR KANSAS.
A Discovery Which Promises to Be of Great Value.

Topeka, Jan. 10.—During the past month a discovery has been made in Ford and other counties in southwestern Kansas that will be of incalculable benefit to that arid region. For years scientists have believed that nearly all the region drained by the Arkansas river is susceptible of irrigation by means of pumping if the proper effort were made. That a heavy underflow follows the immediate current of the river has been fully demonstrated, but the idea that any considerable volume of water could be reached many miles away from the river was regarded as visionary.

Recently a number of wells have been bored in the vicinity of Wilburn, in the southwestern part of Ford county, and the splendid results have greatly encouraged the people in other sections of the drought district.

It is the intention of the farmers of Ford and adjoining counties to have wells not to exceed one mile apart and then to dig ditches and laterals so that the entire country can be watered. They believe that this system of irrigating the arid lands will eventually be adopted wherever an underflow is found, and that it will solve the crop problem in all that region.

WASHINGTON NEWS.
PRESIDENTIAL FAVORS.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The president has made the following nominations: Postmaster Ed. Elling, Brownwood, Texas; John Julian, El Paso, Texas; Oliver E. Spencer, surveyor of customs, Denver, Colo.

A PROTECTORATE PROPOSED.
Representative Holman, of Indiana, has prepared a resolution, which he will submit to the house to-morrow, declaring it to be the policy of the United States to conclude a treaty with Hawaii by which this country will exercise a protectorate over the islands.

THE BOND ISSUE.
The bill authorizing bonds to meet the pressing treasury deficit will probably be reported by the ways and means committee at an early day.

MORE THAN A PERSONAL EXPRESSION.
The bill of Representative O'Neil, authorizing the secretary of the treasury to borrow money up to $100,000,000 in anticipation of revenues, and to issue therefor loan certificates bearing 3 per cent interest, is regarded as something more than an expression of Mr. O'Neil's views, as he discussed the subject with Sec. Carlisle before introducing the bill. O'Neil's bill is looked upon as in the line with the secretary's alternative proposition.

CONGRESSIONAL.
TO-DAY'S SENATE.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Vice-President Stevenson was in the chair of the house this morning. Senator Hale, of Maine, reported from the committee on naval affairs the house resolution providing for the investigation and consideration of all matters relating to the personnel of the navy with an amendment that the inquiry shall be made by a sub-committee of the naval affairs committee of the house and senate instead of by a joint committee of the two houses. The resolution as amended was agreed to.

TO-DAY'S HOUSE.
Representative Hopkins continued yesterday's speech and was followed by Mr. Tom Johnson, of Ohio, who spoke in favor of the Wilson bill. Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, again tried to-day to have considered by the house his Hawaiian resolutions, which were reported by the naval affairs committee and laid on the table, but was finally overruled by the Speaker.

During the debate Mr. Tracy, of New York, asked the chair whether it was in order to call for the regular order. "Oh, the White house clock has not struck this a. m.," interposed Mr. Boutelle sarcastically. Mr. Tracy's cheek flamed. He inquired hotly whether a member, who was making a parliamentary inquiry, could be affronted and called to attention to the fact that on another occasion a Democrat, Mr. Wilson, had shouted, "Cockoo," while he was talking. Mr. Boutelle disclaimed any intention of insulting his colleague and Mr. Tracy took his seat still chaffing under the affront put upon him, declaring to his friends about him that he would not stand this sort of thing any longer. The next man says anything of the kind he declared would get his face slapped. The speaker without making a formal rule decided against Mr. Boutelle and the tariff debate was resumed.

THE MARKETS.
New York, Jan. 10.—Money on call easy at 1 1/2 per cent; prime mercantile paper 3/4 1/2 per cent; sterling exchange firm and higher, with active business in banker's bills at $4.86 1/2 for demand, and $4.84 1/2 for 60 days.

AN ENGLISH OPINION.
President Cleveland Never Forgets to Protect the Honor of America.

London, Jan. 10.—Neither the United States embassy nor the Hawaiian legation have any news of importance from Hawaii. Commenting on provisional government's refusal to comply with Minister Willis' demand that the government surrender office, the Globe remarks: "The situation is enough to make the president of the United States assume the title of king-maker or queen patron of royalty."

"But it is not easy to see what other course President Cleveland could take with due regard for the honor of America, apart from the difficulty of dealing with Hawaii that way, without straining the constitution. There are other people besides the Hawaiians and Americans who will have something to say in the matter."

Piano Works Burned.
Richmond, Ind., Jan. 10.—The Starr piano works were destroyed by fire to-day. The loss is $100,000; insurance, $40,000.

A HAWAIIAN HOWL.

One of the Joint Commission in a State of Mind—Professes to Want Annexation.

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 10.—A member of the Hawaiian joint commission, who was sent to Washington last August to negotiate for annexing the islands and whose name is withheld, writes to Attorney Cushman, of this city, as follows: "We were kept a month at arms length by Sec. Gresham, waiting for President Cleveland to declare his policy. No opportunity was given us to state our case or explain our views. The most profound secrecy was kept up and every precaution taken to prevent any intimation of their plot from reaching President Dole before it was sprung on him, but I thank God they failed, partly on account of Willis' good sense and partly on account of Dole's firmness and ability."

"The American people now have been heard from and the policy of infamy is dead. The wave of popular sympathy, which has swept over the northwestern states surprised us. I hope that the next administration will have the glory of annexing our island. For a time we expect to follow the example of the Texans and sail under the Lone Star till we reach the port."

A Cashier Quits.
Norwalk, Ohio, Jan. 10.—D. A. Baker, cashier of the First National bank of this city, committed suicide this morning. Baker shot himself through the right temple and heart. He has been connected with the bank for twenty-five years. The cause of his act is supposed to be the result of brooding over the supposition that he would sever his connection with the bank under a recent reorganization. His accounts are said to be perfectly straight.

Narrow Escape.
Grass Valley, Cal., Jan. 10.—Late last night a fire broke out in the hoisting works of the Idaho and Maryland Mining company, imprisoning seventy-eight miners 2,000 feet below the surface. The miners finally escaped by climbing 2,000 feet up a perpendicular air shaft. Two hours had elapsed before the last man reached the surface and the men were almost exhausted. The loss will be $75,000.

Another for the Associated Press.
Chicago, Jan. 10.—The St. Joseph, Mo., Herald, and the St. Joseph, Mo., Gazette, together late members of the United Press, have signed a ninety years contract with the Associated Press. They will cut off the United Press service, and begin taking the Associated Press report over a leased wire service February 1.

Iowa Inauguration.
Des Moines, Jan. 10.—The inauguration committee's report was adopted in the senate to-day. The ceremonies will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in the rotunda of the capitol. They will be short and simple. The oath of office will be administered by Chief Justice Granger, of the supreme court.

Availing News From Hawaii.
San Francisco, Jan. 10.—The Pacific Mail Steamship company's steamer, City of Peking, is due from Hong Kong and Yokohama, via Honolulu, bringing the latest news of the Hawaiian situation. Officials say they do not expect the steamer until to-night.

Receiver Appointed.
Indianapolis, Jan. 10.—Ernestus P. Heisterton and E. O. Hopkins, of Evansville, have been appointed receivers of the Peoria, Decatur & Evansville railway company. The application for such appointments was made by D. J. Macky, president of the company.

Coal Dealer's Combine.
Denver, Jan. 10.—The dealers in lignite coal have signed an agreement forming a trust, and this morning the price was advanced from $2.50 and $3.25 per ton to $4. Eighty dealers are in the combine.

CANNING COLLAPSE.
A Three-quarter of a Million Dollar Failure in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Jan. 10.—W. F. Black & Co., commission merchants handling salmon and canned and dried fruits, have assigned. The scheduled liabilities of the firm are $750,000. The Wells-Fargo bank is the heaviest creditor, holding claims to the amount of $104,000. The company recently lost $85,000 through the embezzlement of trusted clerk.

This failure is one cause of the collapse of the raisin market, the low price of salmon, and the inability of dealers to dispose of large quantities of canned goods, which accumulated in the warehouses. Black & Co. have branch establishments in Chicago, New York and other cities in every large city in the United States as well as in London, Marseilles and other European cities. It owns three salmon canneries on Puget Sound, is the largest shareholder in the Capital Packing Co. of Sacramento, and owns the Van Allen cannery of Pittsburg, near Carlsbad, in the hundreds of raisins in this city and elsewhere vast quantities of canned fruits and salmon. The stock on hand constitutes the principal available assets of the firm.

THE DEATH PENALTY.

A Paris Jury Makes Short Work of Dealing With Anarchist Villant.

Paris, Jan. 10.—The trial of Villant, the Anarchist who on December 9 last threw the bomb which exploded in the chamber of deputies, was commenced to-day.

Paris—3 p. m.—At the conclusion of the proceedings to-day the court sentenced Villant, the bomb thrower, to death.

Death of a Noted Musician.
Vienna, Jan. 10.—Benedict Rand Harbinger, nestor of Austrian musicians, a school fellow of Schubert and a teacher of Liszt, is dead. He was 91 years of age.

STOCK INSPECTION.

Big Figures Showing the Business Done in Northern New Mexico by Inspector Townner.

P. J. Townner, inspector of live stock and hides for the territorial cattle sanitary board for the counties of Santa Fe, San Miguel, Colfax, Union, Rio Arriba and Taos, has inspected since April 1 last and released 61,231 head of cattle, on which was collected inspection fees of 3 cents per head, amounting to $1,836.93, which was paid over to the sanitary board.

During this same period, excepting four months when hide inspection was done by Stinson, Mr. Townner inspected 1,340 butchers' hides for which the sanitary board received $104. This is an average of 268 per month for the five months reported by Mr. Townner, or 2,412 for the same period covered by the cattle report. Making an average for the nine months of about $232.01 per month received by the sanitary board from the northern district.

In the foreign work, Mr. Townner and his deputies, acting as inspectors for Colorado and Montana, in three months inspected and passed over 111,000 head; and while he has not as accurate a record of that work, he says that during the months from April to October inclusive, it is safe to estimate his work at 200,000 head, on which was collected a fee of 1 1/2 cents each.

Albuquerque Notes.
George Schroeter, a watch maker, committed suicide yesterday by taking morphine.

The injunction case of the Rio Grande Irrigation & Colonization company was continued to the 18th and the stockholders' meeting to the 20th. A compromise is pending.

At the annual meeting of the First National bank yesterday, Jefferson Reynolds retired as vice-president, being succeeded by Mr. M. W. Flourney, promoted from cashier. A. A. Keen, assistant cashier, is sent up a peg, and will hereafter fill the position of cashier, while Frank McKee is taken from the books and made the assistant cashier.

When Your Eye Strikes This Stop and Read It.
The famous hot springs of Arkansas world renowned for their health qualities and as a health and pleasure resort, can be reached quickly in Pullman buffet sleeping cars from Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo via the Missouri Pacific railway. Sufferers of "la grippe," influenza, asthma and kindred diseases can obtain relief by a visit to this famous sanitarium.

THE RAILROADS.
It is announced at Albuquerque that Hon. W. B. Childers has resigned as local attorney for the A. T. & S. F. His law partner, E. W. Dobson, seeks the appointment.

Ex-Conductor and ex-Hired Perjuror Ed. Crotty, of the Santa Fe road, is now a convict in the Auburn, N. Y., penitentiary. Justice does catch some inferior rascals sometimes.

No doubt Salt Lake, Phoenix, El Paso, San Francisco, Los Angeles, as well as Denver, Omaha, Santa Fe, Albuquerque and Kansas City, could be enlisted in such an enterprise as the diversion of the Mexican trade northward instead of eastward, as all would derive material benefit from the change. The time is propitious for the inauguration of an inter-

NEW MEXICAN PRINTING CO., Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The subscription list and good will of the Santa Fe Sun has been purchased by the NEW MEXICAN PRINTING COMPANY, which company has undertaken to comply with the contracts of the Sun by substituting the WEEKLY NEW MEXICAN Review therefor. To the subscribers thus obtained, the New Mexican extends a hearty New Year's greeting with the hope that they may long remain among its most valued patrons, and the assurance that no pains will be spared to furnish them the news of the territory and of the country at large, and this journal will, to the best of its ability, imitate the example of the Sun in battling for the cause of sound Democracy and exposing the fallacies of the opposition.

CRIME MUST BE SUPPRESSED.
In the death of his wife, Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, has the earnest sympathy of a large contingent in New Mexico.

It is not too late to make good resolutions for 1894. If you have any bad habit resolve to quit—particularly the baneful habit of croaking.

In his recent annual message to the New York legislature, Gov. Flower points with pardonable pride to the fact that, for the first time in more than seventy-five years, the Empire State is entirely free from debt. Five other states, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Montana and Vermont, are in the same blessed condition.

The mines of California last year yielded $6,000,000 more gold than silver. Those of Idaho produced gold to the amount of $143,000 in excess of silver, and Colorado came to the front with a gold output of nearly $8,000,000, while New Mexico produced in 1893 $700,000 more gold than silver. The next thing anybody knows it will be the goldbug west.

Dr. PARKHURST, the noted New York philanthropist, coldly announces that the worst obstacle the Society for the Prevention of Crime has to contend with is the police, who shield rather than expose vice. It is too often the case in American cities that criminals or the associates of criminals are clothed with brass buttons and blue coats. Doubtless these appointments are made on the theory of selecting a thief to catch a thief.

The Rocky Mountain News is not a little exercised over the status of the New Mexico statehood bill before congress. The News should cease tearing its linen over what it unjustly construes as Delegate Joseph's "cowardly concession to eastern gold bugs," and, like a good, and true neighbor, help us to get into the Union as soon as possible. New Mexicans are not blameable for having so long delayed the action of congress and no good can come of finding fault now.

LET JUSTICE BE DONE.

The parties so long suspected of having formed the conspiracy to assassinate the late ex-Sheriff Frank Chavez have at last been arrested. One of them, Hipolito Vigil, resisted arrest and was killed by the sheriff's posse. There is little doubt but that this conspiracy originated with the deceased and was originally planned in his private office when he was a justice of the peace. As to the other parties we refrain from comment, as they are to be tried in this community, farther than to say that every good citizen wants to see justice done and the guilty properly and promptly brought to punishment.

LONGITIMAE labor, which ought to have the sympathy of all fair-minded men in every reasonable effort to protect itself against corporate greed, has won a great victory at Philadelphia. Justice Dean, of the Pennsylvania supreme court, has decided, in the case of Cote vs. Murphy, that boycotts are legal. In general terms the decision is that when trade associations boycott contractors and dealers who encourage the supplanters of strikers and when such associations extend such a boycott among disinterested dealers, such a boycott is legal. It is the first decision of the kind on record.

BETTER TIMES COMING.

Even such a calamity shrieking, high protective tariff Republican newspaper as the Chicago Inter-Ocean admits editorially that "a large number of mills and factories are preparing to resume work and many have already started up." This is particularly encouraging, coming from such a source. It proves that Republican papers are abandoning the unpatriotic and suicidal policy of crying "ruin and disaster," solely for the purpose of endeavoring to save the McKinley tariff. They are beginning to realize the utter futility of their efforts and dread the coming reaction. They know that the Wilson tariff bill will pass congress in essentially the form agreed upon by the house ways and means committee; that it will receive the prompt approval of the president, and that a general revival of business will speedily follow.

THE INCOME TAX.

There is unfeigned rejoicing among southern and western congressmen over the decision of the house ways and means committee to add an income tax feature to the tariff bill and to increase the tax on several income producing but totally needless luxuries. This new feature provides for taxing all incomes above $1,000 2 per cent, troubling the tax on cigarettes, putting a duty of 2 cents a pack on playing cards, and advancing the tax on whiskey from 90 cents to $1 per gallon. It is estimated that the proposed tax on incomes alone will swell the receipts of the government $35,000,000, and that this, with the other increased taxes mentioned, will not only protect the treasury from danger of a deficit, but will justify material reduction of the duties on the actual necessities of life. Congress could not possibly take action that would be more just or that would prove more popular with the people. It aims to lift part of the tax burden from the shoulders of the struggling, toiling masses, and transfer it to the strong shoulders of the rich. It is right. No man with an income in excess of $1,000 ought to complain, and, whatever the rate of taxation, no American citizen is obliged to smoke cigarettes, use playing cards or drink whiskey. The New Mexican hastens to congratulate Congressmen Hall and Tarsney, of Missouri, both staunch friends of this territory, upon the active and effective support they have given to the income tax clause of the new tariff bill.

HOW THEY LIKE IT.

The Santa Fe New Mexican has passed into the control of the Democracy; thus the territorial Republicans lose a power in politics and their friends, the enemy, make a big stride toward placing themselves in control of the coming state.—Springer Stockman.

The Santa Fe New Mexican, for thirty years the leading Republican paper of New Mexico, has been bought up by a Democratic syndicate and will be run henceforth in the interests of that party. Col. Max Frost, for a number of years its manager and editor, steps out. The Democracy seems to be making headway over in our sister territory.—Phoenix, A. T., Herald.

Col. Max Frost, the Amizett boomer, has stepped down and out of the Santa Fe New Mexican, and that paper comes to us under the business management of Gov. Thornton and Geo. Cross, much improved in every feature. But of all, it comes to us Democratic in politics. We bare our head.—Hillsboro Advocate.

The Santa Fe New Mexican has passed into the hands of a party of Democrats, of which Gov. Thornton is the chief. The party leaders see the advantage of having an influential paper when New Mexico becomes a state. The Sun, of Santa Fe, will be absorbed so that the party and the public will have but one paper as a tax upon them. The New Mexican will undoubtedly continue to work hard for the territory, as Gov. Thornton is not a carpet bagger and loves New Mexico.—Eddy Argus.

ERIE MEDICAL CO. BUFFALO, N. Y.

On the first of the year, the Santa Fe Daily New Mexican, which for the past thirty odd years has been advocating Republican principles, passed into new hands, and henceforth it will battle for the rights of true Democrats. The New Mexican will be the official territorial paper, and Mr. Geo. Cross, who has been connected with the paper for the past twelve years, will be general editor, ably assisted by an efficient corps of local writers, among them being George Marsh. The good will and subscription list of the Santa Fe Weekly Sun also passed into the hands of the New Mexican Publishing company. Their plant is the best in the southwest, and they are able to execute all kinds of work on short notice, and with everything Democratic and the addition of a good press report, the New Mexican is the newspaper of New Mexico.—Gallup Gleaner.

Grand Canon of Colorado River.
On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,262 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublimest of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yosemite might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook.
Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read up" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a free copy of an illustrated book describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

SHOOTING STARS.

A Philosophical Millionaire.
 Attorney—If you leave all your property to your second wife your children will certainly try to break your will.
 Rich Client—Of course. That's what I want them to do. I want them to have their full share of my money.
 Then why bequeath it all to your wife?
 Well, you see, it will be easier for my children to break my will than it is for me to break hers.

Health in Old Age.
 Edward Collinson, Queens, N. Y., says: "I commenced using Brandreth's Pills over fifty years ago. I first bought them in London, and have continued using them since I came to this country in 1836. I am now over 75 years old, hale and hearty, and attribute my wonderful health to the persistent use of Brandreth's Pills. Occasionally I have a bad cold or severe attack of rheumatism, indigestion or biliousness, but four or five doses of Brandreth's Pills always cures me. Whenever my children have been sick with scarlet fever, measles, acid stomach, disordered digestion or constipation, a few doses of Brandreth's Pills restored their health at once."

In a Broadway Restaurant.
 Proprietor—Any one waiting on you, miss?
 Miss Hayseed (blushing)—Well, Hi Perkins is kind of putting round, but he hasn't talked business yet.

Couldn't Tell a Lie.
 Mrs. Kings-Dorset (impressing one of her proteges)—Be brave and earnest and you will succeed. Do you remember my telling you of the great difficulty George Washington had to contend with?
 Willie Raggs—Yes, mum; he couldn't tell a lie!

Muscle and Vigor—A Difference.
 Many muscular men succumb to fatigues borne with ease by persons far their inferiors in physical strength. Muscle does not imply vigor. In fact, it is not difficult of proof that athletes do not live as long nor enjoy as good health as the average individual who is vigorous—that is to say, whose digestion and sleep are unimpeded, whose nerves are tranquil, and who has no organic tendency to disease. These requisites of vigor are conferred upon those inherently weak, no less than upon those debilitated through wasting disease, by a thorough, persistent course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading national tonic, endorsed and recommended by physicians of eminence. It will not endow you with the muscle of a Corbett, but it will infuse energy into your system, and renew the active and healthful performance of its functions. It averts and cures malaria, rheumatism, kidney complaints, and overcomes dyspepsia, constipation, liver trouble and nervousness.

Barren Ground.
 Timber Barren Madden (pointing to passing man)—I tackled de ole bloke fer temence, but he 're w me down.
 Pink Whiskers Blake (in horror)—Tackled him? Hully gey! dea's Russell Sage. De y couldn't get money out of him with dynamite!

Miles' Nerve & Liver Pills.
 Act on a new principle—regulating the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves: A new discovery. Dr. Miles' pills speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles, constipation. Unexcelled for men, women, children. Small cost, mildest, surest, 50 doses 25 cts. Samples Free, at A. C. Ireland, Jr.

An Unquestionable Fact.
 Where's the best place for quail in these parts? asked the stranger who was on a hunting tour.
 And the man whom he had been regarding as a simple guileless rustic responded briefly,
 Toast.

A Wonderful Engine Can Not Be Surpassed.
 An engine exerting surpassing power is always a source of wonder, and yet how many are entirely forgetful of the existence within themselves of an engine more powerful and enduring than any ever invented. Not possessing until they experience irregular pulse, heart fluttering, tenderness in shoulder and arm, swollen ankles, asthmatic breathing, weak and hungry spells, smothering, short breath, or pain in side, when its existence is no longer to be denied, as the possessor must know he has heart disease. Mrs. LeBar, Fitchburg, Mich., had heart disease for years; had to hire house help; lived on liquid food, used Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and all symptoms left her. Continued use cured her. Sold by A. C. Ireland Jr., on a guarantee, who will give you the Doctor's book, free.

New Version.
 Now, said the storekeeper, as he gazed proudly at the lettering on his new brass sign, that's what I called polished English.

Retrenchment.
 He never left the parlor
 Till he sought the New Year lunch
 And discovered they were serving
 Lemonade instead of punch.

Headache and Dizziness. Frequent Causes of Apoplexy and Paralysis.
 The most recent and profound researches in this direction by specialists, have developed conclusively that the above disorders frequently result in death or permanent disability. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is the greatest remedy for either of these apparently insignificant causes. Nothing approaches it in merit. Mrs. W. E. Burns, of South Bend, Ind., who has suffered from constant headache for three months, was cured by it. The daughter of Daniel Myers, Brooklyn, Mich., had been insane for ten years, and was having from 15 to 25 fits a day. Nervine cured her of both fits and insanity. Sold on guarantee by A. C. Ireland, Jr. Get a book free.

Not a Bit Dangerous.
 Landlord (of the Traveler's Rest)—See that fellow over there? During the past year he has plugged no less than six men right on the street.
 Tender Foots—I should think the community would not allow so dangerous a man to run at large.
 Landlord—Lord bless your soul, man! There ain't a bit of a danger in him to the community. He never hits nobody but the man he shoots at!

ON THE OUTSIDE.

that is the best place to keep the huge, old-fashioned key. Just as soon as you get it inside, it begins to trouble you. What's the use of suffering with it, when you can get more help from Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets?

These tiny, sugar-coated granules do you permanent good. They act mildly and naturally, and there's no reaction afterward. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented, relieved, and permanently cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take, and the cheapest—for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get. Nothing else urged by the dealer, though they may be better for him to sell, can be "just as good" for you to buy.

Benelaste.
 First Artist—You know my picture, A Storm at Sea? Well a man and his wife were looking at it, and I heard the man say, Come on, my dear; that picture makes me sick.

 Physician—Your throat is in bad condition, my dear young lady, but I think I need impose only one deprivation upon you.
 Miss Smiley—What is it, doctor?
 Physician—I must absolutely forbid you to attend performances of the opera.
 —Chicago Record.

Knowledge is Power.
 Proprietor—What's the row at that bargain counter?

Floorwalker—No row at all. A party of college girls are among the crowd, and are working to the front by a flying wedge.

SAVED BY A SLAVE.

There was something I forgot what to take both grandmother and grandfather away from home one day in October of the year I lived with them in Burns Hollow.

There were two servants in the kitchen—Hannah Oaks and the lad Anthony. I heard them laughing merrily together, for, though Hannah was an old woman, she was full of fun, and in five minutes the door opened, and Hannah came in with the tray.
 "Please, miss," said she as she set it down, "may I run over to Mapletown to-night? My sister's married daughter had a boy last night, they tell me, and I want to see it naturally. It's the first I've ever had of grandchild or nephew."
 "You may go," I said, "but don't stay late. Grandma and grandpa may be away all night, and I feel nervous. To be sure, there is Anthony, but I never rely on him. Be certain not to stay late."

Early as it was I dropped the curtains and lit the candles on the mantel, and I set long over my tea, finding a certain companionship in the fact that women of all ages will. I sat thus a long while and was startled from my reverie by a rap at the door—a timid sort of a rap—so that I knew at once that it was neither a member of the house nor an intimate friend. I waited, expecting Anthony to answer the door, but finding he did not want to, I myself.

It had grown quite dark, and the moon rose late that night. At first I could only make out a crouching figure at the bottom of the porch. But when I spoke it advanced, and by the light from the hall lamp I saw a black man. I had always had some of the negro and instinctively I went away, but as I did so he spoke in a husky whisper.

"This is Marsa Morton's, isn't it, miss?"
 "Yes," I replied. "But grandfather is out."
 "I retreated. He advanced.
 "Please, miss," he said, "Judge B— sent me here. He said Marsa Morton 'ud be on the back door here a night, miss, an' 'e'd like to see you. I've traveled five days since I left him. Hidin' like I've awful hungry—'pears like I'd drop, an' ole Marsa is arter me. For de lub of heaven, miss, let me see somewhere an' gib me jes' a crust. Marsa Judge promise Marsa Morton 'ud help me, an' it's kep' me up. Missus will, I know."

Caution and pity struggled within me. At last I said, "I have a note from the judge, I suppose."
 "I had some written on a paper," said the man, "but I lost it de night it rained so. Ah, miss, I tell you true—judge sent me, sure as I'm a sinner. I've been help along for some time, an' I want to get to Marsa. Can't get back now. Wife's dar an' ole young uns. Got clay a year ago. Miss, I'll pray for you every day ob my life if you'll jes' be so good to me. Tank ya, miss."

For somehow when he spoke of wife and children I had stepped back and let him in. It was the back door, as possible as the rap had come, and the kitchen was close at hand. I hid him thither. When I saw how worn he was, how wretched, how his eyes glistened and how, under his rough blue shirt, his heart beat so that you could count the pulse, I forgot my caution.

I went up stairs, found in the attic sundry pillows and bolsters and carried them kitchenward.
 "Here," I said, "make yourself a bed on the settee under and be easy for the night. No one will follow you in this storm, and no doubt grandpa will assist you when he returns. Good night."

"Good night, and God bless you, miss," said the negro, speaking still in the same husky whisper. And so I left him.
 But not to go up stairs to my bedroom. I intended for that night to remain dressed and to sit up in grandpa's armchair, with candles and book to keep me company. Therefore I looked myself in, took the most comfortable position possible and opened a volume composed myself to read.

Reading I fell asleep. How long I slumbered I cannot tell. I was awakened by a low sound, like the prying of a chisel. At first it mixed with my last dream so thoroughly that I took no heed of it, but at last I understood that some one was at work upon the door of the room.

I sat perfectly motionless, the blood curdling in my veins, and still chip, chip, chip went the horrible little instrument, until at last I knew whence the sounds came.

Back of the sitting room was grandpa's study. There, in a great old fashioned safe, were stored the family silver, grandpa's letters and sundry sum of money and important papers. The safe itself stood in a closet in a deep recess, and at the closet the thief was at work.

The thief—ah, without doubt the negro I had admitted, had fed and sheltered.

I crept across the room out into the hall and to the door. Then, softly as I could, I unfastened bars and bolts; and alas! there was above my reach. I waited, listened.

Then I moved a hall chair to the spot and climbed upon it. In doing so I struck my shoulder against the door frame.

It was but a slight noise, but at that moment the chip of the chisel stopped. I heard the door open, and a man came from the study, sprang toward me and clutched me with both hands, holding my arms as in a vise while he hissed in my ear:

"You'd tell, would you? You'd call help? You'd better have slept, you had; for, you see, you got to the work for waking. I'd rather bet let a chile like you off, but you know me now, and I can't let ye live."

I stared in his face with horror, mingled with an awful surprise, for now that it was close to me I saw not the negro, but our own hired man, Anthony—Anthony, whom I had supposed miles away with Hannah.

I glared at him wildly.

"Anthony, I never did you harm. I am young—I am a girl—don't kill me, Anthony. Take the money, but don't kill me, for poor grandma's sake."

"You'd tell on me," said Anthony doggedly. "Likely I'd be caught. No, I've got to kill you."

As he spoke he took his hands from my shoulders and clutched my throat fiercely. I had time to utter one suffocating shriek. Then I was strangling, dying, with sparks before my eyes, and a sound of roaring waves in my ears, and then—

What had sprung on my assassin with the swift silence of a leopard? What had clutched me from him and stood over him with something glittering above his heart?

The mist cleared away—the blurred mist which had spread over my eyes, and as I sight returned I saw the negro with his foot upon Anthony's breast.

Assurance Doubly Sure.
 It was plain that the dark man who tossed uneasily upon the bed was at the door of death.
 Already the light of another world shone in his eyes, and his breath came in labored gasps.

The lawyer made a note of it.

 His voice was very faint now.
 "To die in the conviction that she will get it. Is it asking too much of you?"
 He turned his fevered glance appealingly upon his legal adviser.

The lawyer was deeply affected and could only reply by pressing the hand of his expiring client.—Detroit Tribune.

THE MILLS OF GOD!

They Grind Slowly, But Exceedingly Small--Five Suspected Assassins in Jail.

Another Chapter Growing Out of the Murder of Ex-Sheriff Frank Chavez.

Hipolito Vigil Invites Death by Firing Upon the Posse and is Promptly Killed.

Strong Evidence Unearthed Against Several Parties Charged with a Brutal Crime.

Sheriff Cunningham and Deputies Give Themselves Up--A Correction--Arraigned in Court.

About 10 o'clock on the night of May 29, 1892, Francisco Chavez, ex-sheriff of Santa Fe county, was brutally assassinated on the bridge near Guadalupe church. His body was pierced by five bullets, and that fact, together with many other circumstances, indicated that he was the victim of a conspiracy in which a number of people were implicated.

On the following Thursday night, about 8 o'clock, Juan Pablo Dominguez, who served as jailer under Sheriff Chavez, was shot in front of the archbishop's residence. Three bullets passed through his body. Francisco Gonzales y Borrego, Antonio Gonzalez y Borrego and Chino Alarid were arrested for this crime, and confessed that they had killed Dominguez, but were acquitted by a jury on the plea that they killed in self defense.

SPOTTING THE ASSASSIN. Since those bloody events friends of law and order, regardless of politics, have been quietly but earnestly engaged in an effort to spot and convict the cowardly assassin of Frank Chavez. Those who confessed guilt in the Dominguez killing were naturally suspected of being parties to the first murder, but evidence was not easily obtainable.

When William P. Cunningham assumed the duties of sheriff in July as the appointee of Gov. Thornton, he instantly decided that his first and most important duty was to discover and bring to justice the murderers of ex-Sheriff Chavez. He has since been working to that end night and day. He has met with many difficulties and discouragements. At times it has looked dark, but he has never abandoned the chase.

SHERIFF CUNNINGHAM'S STATEMENT. After relating the circumstances given above Sheriff Cunningham makes the following statement: "Finally I succeeded, through the assistance of Page B. Otero, in securing from a Mexican an affidavit giving a full statement of the facts connected with the murder of Frank Chavez. Afterwards I procured two other affidavits fully substantiating the first, besides the strong confirmatory verbal statements of various individuals. The information I thus received, which is undoubtedly correct, I laid before Judge Seeds, with my affidavits attached, and ASKED FOR WARRANTS for the arrest of Francisco Gonzales y Borrego, Antonio Gonzales y Borrego, Chino Alarid, Patricio Valencia, Francisco Rivera and Hipolito Vigil. "At half past 3 yesterday afternoon I was given the warrants requested, and immediately notified my deputies, Messrs. T. H. Tucker, Page B. Otero, Juan Pacheco and Juan Delgado, that I needed their services in serving the same and making the arrests contemplated. They all promptly responded.

"We first went to the house of Francisco Rivera, where four of the parties wanted had been about ten minutes before we arrived, but the birds had flown.

KNOWING THAT the parties wanted frequented the house of Antonio Ortiz y Salazar, we continued our quest to that place. I met Francisco Borrego at the door, arrested and disarmed him. He had upon his person a regulation size 45 caliber Colt's revolver and his pockets were filled with 45 caliber cartridges. "The next man we found was Hipolito Vigil, then acting on the police force, coming toward us on the sidewalk, about seventy-five yards from the house of Antonio Ortiz y Salazar, nearly opposite the capitol. Deputy Sheriff Tucker and myself advanced toward him, and when about forty yards from him, I ordered him to MOLD UP HIS HANDS as I had a warrant for his arrest. At the same moment Deputy Tucker, in a clear tone of voice, gave the same order. This order was repeated at least three times, but was disregarded.

"Vigil instantly drew his 45 caliber revolver, jumped behind an electric light post and fired at us. My impression is, from the position he took, that he aimed at me. We returned the fire, but kept on ordering him to throw up his hands and surrender, which he refused to do, persisting in his efforts to fire more shots.

OLDSING TO HIS GUN. "When Vigil fell dead he held his 45 caliber pistol at full cock in his hand. We left him where he fell, in the hands of his friends, and proceeded to make the other arrests. At 5 p. m. I had all the parties called for by the warrants in jail except the dead man."

"Deputy Otero adds that, when Sheriff Cunningham and himself went to the house of Antonio Gonzales y Borrego, "we were told that he was not there, but we saw him through a window, with a Winchester in his hands, struggling with a lot of women, and plainly heard him making threats. After a parley of about thirty minutes, and with the assurance that he would not be hurt, he came out and surrendered."

SOUGHT TO AVOID BLOODSHED. All the deputies agree that, before starting out to make the important arrests mentioned, Sheriff Cunningham gave them special instructions to avoid bloodshed if possible. The killing of Hipolito Vigil was clearly unavoidable. He fired the first shot and tried to fire more. The sheriff and his deputies simply did what the circumstances and the law required of them. Persons who pronounce the killing of Vigil a murder do so through ignorance or malice.

A number of passers by witnessed the killing, and, although their statements are somewhat incoherent on account of excitement, nearly all agree that the statement of the sheriff is essentially correct, and almost instantly.

Hipolito Vigil died almost instantly. It is believed that the first shot was fatal. He only spoke a word or two as he was being carried into the office of Justice Alarid near by.

An inquest is now in progress before Justice Alarid. In addition to the testimony of eye witnesses a powder mark on the post behind which he stood and a bullet hole in the sidewalk just south of where Vigil shot at the officers. He was in too much of a hurry to lift his gun to the proper height before firing.

A CORRECTION. In speaking of this affair the Albuquerque Democrat says this morning:

"Ex-Gov. Prince is in the city and was in receipt of much information regarding the trouble. He stated that Sheriff Cunningham, having warrants for Vigil and six others, started with his posse in a hack in search of the parties. They ran across Vigil, who was a police officer, in the capitol grounds near the scene of Chavez assassination. Vigil was covered from the carriage. The posse alighted and one of them started to read the warrant, when Deputy Tucker pulled his Winchester and shot Vigil dead. Gov. Prince says there will be very serious trouble as the outcome of the shooting. Mr. Joe Morrison, of Santa Fe, passed through the city last night and corroborated Gov. Prince's statement in every detail."

These statements are incorrect, as an examination of the scene of the shooting will show. The post behind which Vigil attempted to take refuge bears plainly powder-burn marks from his weapon and the bullet therefrom left as plain a mark on the sidewalk near where the sheriff's posse stood. That Vigil drew his weapon and first fired upon the posse there is ample evidence to substantiate.

GAVE THEMSELVES UP. Last evening Sheriff Cunningham and the deputies composing the posse he had selected to assist him in serving the writs, appeared before Judge Seeds and gave themselves up to his charge. The court heard a brief statement of the case by District Attorney Crist, and placed the officers under $1,000 bonds each. Pending the making and filing of the bonds the sheriff and his associates were, at the suggestion of the district attorney, given into the custody of U. S. Marshal Hall. The required bonds will be given this afternoon.

ARRAIGNED IN COURT. At 2:15 this afternoon two of the accused, Patricio Valencia and Frank Rivera, were taken before the district court. District Attorney Crist stated that he was ready to begin the preliminary examination of Valencia and had Rivera in court merely as a witness. The accused said that he had no attorney. Mr. Catron addressed the court, saying he had been spoken to by relatives of the accused and would act as their attorney. He desired to confer with the prisoners in private. Valencia was questioned and said he desired to have Mr. Catron act as his attorney, and this prisoner and his attorney then were permitted to enter an ante-room for a consultation. Upon reappearing in the court room Mr. Catron asked for a continuance of the case and accordingly it goes over till to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

Pedro Romero Wanted for Murder in Taos County Safely Lodged Behind the Bars.

Pedro Romero is in jail in Taos county charged with murder. He is an old offender for whom the officers of the law have lately instituted earnest search. On January 15, 1889, Romero got into a difficulty with Luciano Martinez, drew a six-shooter, placed it against Martinez' left breast and fired, killing him instantly. The murderer then fled to Colorado, and little or no effort was made to bring him to justice until December 1 last, when the matter was brought to the attention of Gov. Thornton and a reward of $100 offered for his capture. Through his relatives in Taos Sheriff Cesar Garcia got a clue of his whereabouts and last evening the governor received word that Romero had been captured at Las Animas, Colo., by Sheriff Garcia and safely landed in the Taos jail. It was a clever piece of work all around in the interest of good government.

SILVER'S NEWS.

A Readable Budget from Grant's Metropolis—H. W. Lucas Considered an Absconder.

Correspondence New Mexican.

Silver City, Jan. 8.—It is now generally believed that H. W. Lucas, postmaster of this place, has absconded for good. He has been a resident of this town for several years, and had an excellent standing in social and business circles. He was behind some in financial transactions, but not enough to make it an object for him to leave, as he had plenty of friends who would have helped him had he called upon them. Up to date he has not been located, and his friends are anxious about him.

Considerable speculation is indulged in here as to who our postmaster or postmistress will be. Messrs. Morrill, B. T. Link and L. A. Skelly are candidates, and doubtless others, who are making a still hunt.

Col. Abram Aguirre, a retired colonel in the Mexican army, has recently taken up his residence in Silver City. He left the army a few weeks ago, after faithful service for thirty-five years.

The Pacific company is working about forty men on the Pacific No. 3 mine at Pinos Altos. The ore is being hauled under contract to the Asarco mill at Silver City, and there reduced. It is exclusively a gold property and the output shows up well after paying all expenses.

Mr. Theisman, the superintendent of schools for this county, was summoned last Friday before District Judge Fall, compelling him to receive the enumeration of Silver City schools and apportion the school fund accordingly; he was also mulcted in the costs. He has refused since last November to make the enumeration, claiming he knew no such district as independent school district of Silver City, but the judge informed him on that subject. He will now receive the enumeration, and apportion the school fund accordingly.
