GLEAMING BLADE.

Vaillant Beheaded in Paris This Morning—He Died Cursing Society.

Vivid Description of the Guillotine's Operation—Swift Work—Few Spectators Present.

Paris, Feb. 5.—August E. Vaillant, the anarchist who in December last threw a bomb into the chamber of deputies, was executed at 7:30 o'clock this morning. His last words were: "Death to society, long live anarchism." The execution of Vaillant was a decided surprise to the people of the city who for a week past have been haunting the neighborhood of Place de la Roquette in anticipation of witnessing the execution.

Late Saturday afternoon it was reported that Premier Casimir Perier and M. Dupuy, president of the chamber of deputies, favored commutation of the anarchist's sentence, but late last evening throughout Paris it became known that Vaillant would be executed, and people soon afterwards began gathering about the neighborhood of the guillotine.

At 2 o'clock this morning, in spite of the fact that it was morning, quite a large crowd gathered about the prison and watched the workmen erecting barricades across all the streets leading to the square, from which the people were soon afterward driven by the police. The lower classes sent representatives who appeared to be in sympathy with the man about to be executed and were loud in their blasphemies and threats of what would happen in the near future if the present condition of affairs continued. The judicial authorities arrived at the prison at 6:15 a. m., and entering the cell occupied by Vaillant, woke him and informed him that his last hour had arrived. Vaillant did not seem to be in the least astonished or much alarmed. He turned deadly pale, but and remarked to one of the prison attendants: "You see I was right in saying my sentence would not be commuted." It was evident from the manner in which he said this that he was considerably disappointed and had built up strong hopes of clemency.

While Vaillant was dressing one of the officers noticed that the anarchist's hands trembled slightly and, "have courage Vaillant." To this Vaillant smiled in a sickly manner and throwing his head up replied: "Never fear, I will know how to die." Later one of the attendants offered to assist Vaillant in dressing for the march to the guillotine, but the doomed man refused, saying: "I will not delay you any longer than I can help."

At exactly 7:30 a. m. the VETERAN OFFICER IN COMMAND of the Carabes Republicains gave the order to draw swords. Very soon afterwards the black gates of the prison swung open and Vaillant appeared, with head erect and defiant, between M. Diebler and his assistant. The crowd was not slow to notice that no champion accompanied the condemned man and it was said in loud tones by several among those gathered to witness the execution: "He dies a true anarchist." Here and there as Vaillant appeared were heard faint cries of "Vive l'anarchisme!"

When Vaillant neared the guillotine he glanced upward at

THE GLEAMING KNIFE suspended between two uprights, the blade shining out clear and distinct owing to the rays of many lanterns around the scaffold, and then he shouted "Vive l'anarchie!" A moment later, as he was ascending the steps leading to the platform of the guillotine, the desperate anarchist shouted: "Al mort les Bourgeois!" (Death to the bourgeois). As he uttered the cry Vaillant reached the foot of the sliding plank which leads the body of the criminal, when strapped on it, beneath the knife. After one quick push he cried: "Death to society!" Vaillant had hardly uttered these words when he was seized by M. Diebler's assistants and thrown upon the sliding plank to which he was strapped with remarkable rapidity, and in less time than it takes to write, his body was thrust through the guillotine upon which a half circle of looking piece falls after the head is through.

A SPRING WAS TOUCHED and the shining knife above the anarchist neck sped downward with swift and noiseless movement. There was a terrible splash of blood and the head of Vaillant, separated from the trunk, fell into the basket of saw-dust and all was over. If the body of the anarchist is unclaimed it will go to the Academy of Medicine, but it is understood that representatives of the socialist society have announced their intention of asking permission to bury the remains of the executed man.

Flight of Princess Colonna. Paris, Feb. 5.—Princess Colonna, daughter of Mrs. John W. Mackay, left the hotel Brighton, Tuesday evening, with her three children and sailed for America. Princess Colonna did not know of her flight until after she was beyond the jurisdiction of the French courts. She will probably be sought for divorce in this country. It is reported that the prince sailed for New York on Saturday.

Troubles of Mitchell's Father-in-Law. New York, Feb. 5.—The case against "Fony" Moore, Charles Mitchell's father-in-law, for an alleged assault on a street car conductor, has been postponed till Wednesday on account of the witnesses of the plaintiff being unable to appear. After leaving court, Moore was served with a summons to appear to-day before Judge Dagro in a civil suit brought by the car conductor for $10,000.

Religious Revival at the Capital. Washington, Feb. 5.—Dwight L. Moody, the world renowned evangelist, and Mr. Sankey, the great evangelistic singer, will begin a series of meetings in this city on Wednesday. TO-DAY'S HOUSE. The Hawaiian debate was resumed in the house by Mr. Morse, of Massachusetts, who had five minutes. Before he had proceeded a minute Mr. Outhwaite, of Ohio, called him to order for unparliamentary language. Before Mr. Morse could proceed, however, his time expired.

Mr. Johnson, Republican, of Indiana, then took the floor and made a strong speech arraigning the course of the present administration in attempting to restore the deposed queen.

Fire in Savannah. Savannah, Ga., Feb. 5.—The large brick block on Bay street, occupied by the Savannah Grocery company, caught fire this afternoon and is burning fiercely. It will be a total loss. J. M. Forst & Co., adjoining, are in great danger, as is also the store of Goldins, Grayson & Co. It is impossible to estimate the loss, but it will be heavy. The wind is blowing high.

The loss is the largest since the great conflagration of 1889 and amounts to $500,000. The fire is now under control.

Russian Treaty. Berlin, Feb. 5.—The National Zeitung says the Russian treaty will be signed to-day.

Mr. Duckner Dead. Mexico, Mo., Feb. 5.—Hon. A. H. Duckner, a prominent politician, died of a complication of diseases to-day.

INSURANCE SENSATION. License of the Home Revoked in Kansas—Thirty Other New York Companies Threatened.

Topeka, Feb. 5.—State Insurance Commissioner Snider to-day revoked the license of the Home Insurance company, of New York, to do business in Kansas. The company's Kansas business last year was $1,500,000. It is understood that this line of action will be taken concerning thirty other New York insurance companies doing business in Kansas. Snider refuses to state the reason, but it is understood he takes to-day's action because the company has not paid the reciprocal tax.

NATIONAL NEWS.

New Officials for the U. S. Land Office at Las Cruces—The Maxwell-Dawson Case Reversed.

The Delty Discussion in Congress—Paper Currency—Peckham's Nominations Goes Over.

PAPER CURRENCY OUTSTANDING. Washington, Feb. 5.—The paper currency outstanding on January 31, 1894, was $1,167,040,331, less $1,000,000 estimated to have been destroyed by fire. This shows an increase of $6,894,166 during the month.

NO ACTION ON THE PECKHAM NOMINATION. The senate committee on judiciary met to-day and adjourned till 10:30 o'clock to-morrow without taking action on the Peckham nomination.

WILSON BILL WILL SOON BE BEFORE THE SENATE. Senator Jones, of Arkansas, member of the senate finance committee, says the tariff bill will be ready to report back to the senate next week. Senator Voorhees says the matter will be settled at the meeting of the committee to-morrow.

LAND DECISION REVERSED. The U. S. supreme court has reversed the decision of the supreme court of New Mexico in the case of the Maxwell Land Grant company against John D. Dawson and remanded it to the court below.

LAS CRUCES LAND OFFICIALS. John D. Bryant was to-day appointed register and James P. Ascarate receiver of the U. S. land office at Las Cruces, N. M.

A RELIGIOUS SQUABBLE. Congress seems to-day to have an ecclesiastical feud precipitated by a resolution which Senator Frye and Representative Morse, of Massachusetts, have brought in to secure a recognition of the deity in the constitution of the United States, and interested members are being deluged with missiles of condemnation and protest upon the subject.

The trouble seems to lie, not so much in the purpose of the resolution, as set forth in its title, as in that clause which embodies the orthodox evangelical belief in Jesus Christ. This is certain to stir the opposition of Hebrew citizens and others, and a foretaste of that opposition is already making itself known.

Letters have been received from clergymen who desire to address the committee against the resolution. None of the ministers who have intervened on either side are men of national reputation. A delegation of church people is here to advocate the resolution. They are Rev. J. Robinson, Dr. McAllister and Rev. D. C. Martin, of Allegheny, Pa.; T. P. Stevenson, of Philadelphia, and Rev. H. H. George, of Beaver Falls, Pa.

NATIONAL NOTES. The mail service between Antonio and Comstock has been reduced from fourteen to twelve times a week.

Senator Teller says that he will insist that the income tax be kept in the revenue, as that would remove the excess of issuing bonds when the government's receipts were less than its expenditures. Mr. Wolcott and the other silver men agreed with him.

Senate confirmations: Lieut. Col. Amos Stickney, corps of engineers, U. S. A., and Major Charles J. Allen, corps of engineers, U. S. A., as members of the Mississippi river commission.

WAITE'S WOOL FAKE.

The Crank Governor of Colorado Finally Gets His Wool Crowd Together.

Denver, Feb. 5.—About fifty sheep men from Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska, with a few from New Mexico, were present at the opening session of the so-called inter-state wool growers' convention which met at the Chamber of Commerce this morning. The convention has met for the purpose of protesting against congress passing the free wool clause of the Wilson bill. After appointing the various committees the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock.

Dead-lock Broken.

Denver, Feb. 5.—The senate majority in caucus this morning passed a resolution which provides that when the senate meets this afternoon they will withdraw from the position they have held in refusing to transact business, and will consent to the consideration of a limited number of measures, including the appropriation bill. This breaks the dead-lock which has existed since January 10.

KILLED BY BURGLARS.

Lawyer Henry L. Carr, of Denver. Shot Down at His Home.

Denver, Feb. 5.—Henry L. Carr, a prominent attorney, was shot and almost instantly killed by burglars at his home last night. Mr. Carr spent the evening out and arrived at his house on Capitol Hill about 10:30 o'clock. Mr. Carr heard a noise in the parlor and entered the room, which was dark. He was immediately shot by a man standing behind the curtains who rushed past Mrs. Carr and escaped. Mr. Carr lived but a few minutes. The house had been ransacked for valuables. Deceased, who was 38 years old, came from Baltimore fourteen years ago and was a law partner of Judge Vincent D. Marcum.

GIVEN TO THE STATES.

Senator Carey's Bill to Cede 12,000,000 Acres of Arid Land.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Senator Carey introduced a bill providing for the donation of 12,000,000 acres of arid lands by the government to each state in which such lands are situated, the state to reclaim the lands and put them into the hands of actual settlers, as under the homestead laws. He believes that limited cession is better than giving the state the whole acreage, as it will prevent waste. The lands, according to Mr. Carey's bill, are to be reclaimed within six years, and that not more than 300,000 acres are to be set over to the states in any one year. All lands, exclusive of timber, and mineral lands, which will not, without irrigation, produce some agricultural crop, shall be deemed arid lands under the provision of the bill.

The states affected by this bill are Colorado, Nevada, Idaho, Montana, California, Oregon, Washington, North Dakota, South Dakota and the territories of Arizona, Utah and New Mexico.

Strike Threatened. Tacoma, Feb. 5.—Cipher advices from the chief of the Federated Northern Pacific employees at St. Paul indicate that a strike will be ordered Tuesday if there is no change in the situation by that time.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 5.—Grand Master Sargent says there is no truth in the Tacoma dispatch that a telegraphic strike has been ordered for to-morrow.

Rex's Royal Brigade.

New Orleans, Feb. 5.—This city is crowded with visitors, it being the Mardi Gras season, and there was a tremendous crowd on the levee to witness the landing of Rex and his royal retinue at 2 o'clock. The parade to-night promises to be one of the finest yet given by the Mardi Gras society.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 5.

POPE LEO has spoken in no uncertain tones against bull fighting. It is hoped he has struck the barbarous practice a fatal blow.

STATEHOOD prospects are brightening. Even John Sherman admits that New Mexico merits admission into the sisterhood of states.

The Iowa legislature has volunteered a wealth of surplus advice to congress. Probably congress and the Iowa statesmen better trade jobs for a while.

As the prospects of the Wilson tariff reform bill brighten the wool market grows stronger. This statement is founded on the last quotations from Boston.

It begins to look as if Hillsboro, whose gold output is now half a million a year, is soon to get that long-coveted railroad. Happy Hillsboro. Her's a progressive people and deserve success.

The United States marshal of Oklahoma offers a reward of $2,000 for each member of the Dalton gang, dead or alive. Better increase the reward to $5,000 for dead Daltons.

The Hawaiian discussion is becoming unspeakably fatiguing. It would be a great relief if the cannibals would kindly eat both President Dole and Queen Liliuokalani even if they had to use missionary sauce.

The good times are in sight for the miners of the southwest. The Democratic tariff reform bill passed the house on Thursday night and as a result the price of lead has gone up by Saturday night just $3 per ton.

Persons who are in doubt as to the origin of the Hawaiian muddle are respectfully recommended to write Mr. B. H. Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind., for the post-office address of a meddlesome busy-body named Stevens. At last accounts Stevens was somewhere in Maine.

The politicians in congress who are opposing the detailing of army officers as Indian agents are either dishonest or ignorant. The Indians never were under such perfect control or so contented with their treatment as since President Cleveland introduced the system of employing these officers as agents.

The Union County Democrat announces with unfeigned regret that Judge Fall has resigned, taking his cue, of course, from the Albuquerque Citizen, all of which shows that the Union County Democrat, in common with several other territorial newspapers, appear not to realize what a complete failure the Citizen is in its attempt to pose as a political bellwether.

The lower Pecos Valley is growing at a rapid rate. The enlargement of the old reservoirs and the construction of new ones has caused a healthy immigration to begin flowing in that direction. It would not be at all surprising if, as predicted by a local authority, 20,000 people were added to the population of Eddy and Chaves counties during the year 1894. It certainly looks that way at the present writing.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is a just as well as a broad-minded man. There is nothing narrow about him. He has clear convictions and the courage to give them the wings of speech, but there is no bigotry in his composition. The fact that New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Oklahoma would probably return silver senators does not weigh a feather's weight against the manifest justice of the claims of these territories. He favors the admission of all four into the Union.

The St. Louis Republic, the staunchest and most ably edited Democratic daily in the Union, is the earnest friend of the territories and demands their admission as states in tones that congress will not repudiate. This sterling journal sees a wonderful future for the Southwest—it insists that the word shall be spelled with a capital S—and it is laboring incessantly to advance our interests. In this respect the Republic's policy is in striking contrast with that adopted by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

ORGANIZE FOR STATEHOOD.

Chairman Wilson, of the associated Democratic clubs, has called a meeting of the executive committee at Washington for the 8th inst. This reminds us, isn't it about time the Democrats in the several counties of New Mexico were thinking of organizing? The enemy is alert and at work, on the quiet, in hopes of snatching the plums that statehood will bring. Let's hear from the Democratic weekly press on this subject.

LET'S HAVE A CHANGE.

Dispatches tell us that James B. Koetting, the defaulting Milwaukee bank cashier, has been admitted to bail in the sum of $15,000. Koetting stole $1,250,000 in cash. On the other hand, a New York judge has just sentenced a boy to serve fourteen years in the penitentiary for stealing 14 cents. It is such justice as this that makes honest men weary, and converts those who are not honest into anarchists and socialists. From these events it appears that Wisconsin and New York are suffering quite as much from too much law and too little justice as is New Mexico with too much politics and too little business.

MORE HOPEFUL.

It seems to be pretty generally agreed that Mr. Gladstone is to retire from public life. The conclusion is even more unanimous throughout the whole commercial world that his government should acknowledge that its policy has been a mistake, and reopen the mints of India to the free coinage of silver for private account. The London Times is quoted in support of this view. Under the influence of the closing of the mints the imports of commodities has increased $100,000,000, and the exports only $10,000,000, and on the other hand, notwithstanding the closing of the mints, India last year took only $75,000,000 less silver than in 1892. The people of India want silver and are bound to have it. China, too, has taken $2,000,000 more silver than in 1892, and has taken a great deal of business that formerly went to India. The situation is certainly becoming more hopeful for the white metal.

Press Comments on Territorial Affairs.

And This From a Republican, Too!
No judge who has ever filled the position in this 3d judicial district has met with as general approval, from members of the bar and litigants before his court, as Judge Fall.—Silver City Enterprise.

Will Be All the Better for New Mexico.

Of course we are anxious to see all men, of whatever party, working for statehood. But we can't help but believe that the first administration under the new change will be Democratic. But then, that will be all the better for New Mexico.—Eddy Citizen.

It Would Fill Several Big Books.

The Globe-Democrat is still harping on the annexation of Arizona to New Mexico, before either shall be admitted to statehood. What that paper does not know about these territories, would make a very big book. The amount of its friendship for the west, however, would make a book so small that a double compound, bi-nocular microscope would fail to discover it.—Las Vegas Optic.

There Are Shingles and Shingles.

The New Mexican says that T. B. Catron has been sick with the shingles. We've had the shingles in our time, too, but it was a different kind spoken of by the New Mexican. The kind we had was a cypress shingle in the hands of our daily while we lay across his lap with the gable end of our trousers drawn as tight as a tick in summer time.—Union County Democrat.

Brighter Times Ahead.

The loss of cattle on the ranges in this county this winter will be lighter than it has been in any year for a number of years past. There is good grass on all the ranges except in the immediate vicinity of the streams and other watering places. * * * Grass is already starting on the mountain sides in this county, and there is every indication of an early spring. Last fall the weather was very predicting a hard winter, but so far their predictions have turned out to be false, and if there is anything in the indications of nature, the cold weather is about over.—Silver City Enterprise.

I hear you have married Bobbett's divorced wife.
Yes.
How did you come to do that?
Bobbett recommended her highly. Said his only trouble was she snored and you know I'm deaf.

When War is Declared
Against a man's happiness by his stomach, the enemy may be pacified and brought speedily and easily to terms. That potent regulator of digestion, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, disciplines the rebellious organ thoroughly. Indigestion arises from weakness of the stomach, and the food in it, for want of the power to digest, decomposes and acidifies, giving rise to heartburn, flatulence and pain, besides a multitude of symptoms both changeable and perplexing. But peace still reigns when the great stomachic is resorted to and used with persistence. Dyspepsia gives rise to morbid discomposure of mind, and even sleeplessness and hypochondria in chronic cases. To the complete dismissal of these the bitters is fully adequate. Liver complaint, constipation, debility, rheumatism and malaria are completely subdued by this genial medicine.

A Warning
He (tenderly)—May I put my arm around your waist?
She—Certainly—but remember that my waist is so small that it attracts attention to it.

Invest your Change.
A silver quarter is about as much as some people care to invest in medicine for immediate use. Spend this sum for a package of Simmons Liver Regulator powder. It's the woman's friend—cures Sick Headache in the right way and quickly too just as good for biliousness.

A Slight Mistake.
Ethel—Is General Stiles of the Four Hundred, mamma?
Mamma—General styles are never of the Four Hundred. You should know by this time that the Four Hundred are exclusive.

Should be Arrested, The Popular Demand.

Who? What should be arrested? All excessive nervousness, dyspepsia, head ache, dizziness, sleeplessness, neuralgia, nervous debility, dullness, confusion of mind, nervous prostration, and etc. They should be arrested, or, stopped, before they develop into a condition that can but result fatally. For this purpose no remedy equals Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the discovery of the renowned specialist, whose remedies are the wonder of the civilized world. Nervine is sold by A. C. Ireland Jr., on a positive guarantee. Ask for his book free.

A New Cause, Thousands Flock to its Standard.

When a new cause is presented to the public it always excites attention. A prominent physician has said that a gripe, during the last three years, has done more to weaken the hearts of the world than any other cause that has ever existed. Those who have had this malady and subsequently found themselves subject to palpitation, short breath, irregular pulse, wind in stomach, pain in side or shoulder, smothering spells, fainting, drowsy, and etc., may feel assured they have heart disease, which unless checked at once, may result fatally. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the only remedy that can be relied upon to effect a cure. Sold by A. C. Ireland Jr., on a guarantee. Ask for the Doctor's new book, free.

When the hunting dogs are asleep it isn't a bad idea to have a common every day bull dog on the watch.

The Genuine and the Sham.

Every good thing has its host of imitators; every genuine article its counterfeit. The imitators always choose the most valuable and popular article to counterfeit, so that when they claim their sham to be equal, or as good, or the same as "So-and-so's," the public may depend upon it that "So-and-so's" article is the best of the kind. The sham proves the genuine merit of the thing it copies and never has this been better illustrated than by the imitations of Alcock's Porous Plasters.

Alcock's Porous Plasters are the standard of excellence the world over, and its imitators in their cry that there is "as good as Alcock's" are only emphasizing the fact and admitting "Alcock's" to be the same of perfection, which is to their highest ambition to imitate. The difference between the genuine and these imitations, which copy only general appearance, is as wide as that between copper and gold.

The only safe way for purchasers is to always insist upon having Alcock's Porous Plasters. They are the only perfect plaster ever produced.

"LOOKS LIKE A GHOST!"
That's what they say of the pale, weak woman who's "run-down" and overworked. Probably she knows it herself. But there's one thing she can't know, or she wouldn't feel so and look so—and that is, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is guaranteed to help her.

It's a legitimate medicine, made especially for women's needs; an invigorating, restorative tonic and a soothing and strengthening nerve, imparting tone and vigor to the whole system.

But it isn't a mere stimulant. It's a remedy, safe and sure, for all the functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses that make women suffer. In "female complaints" of every kind, periodical pains, internal inflammation, ulceration, and kindred ailments, it's guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is returned.

No other medicine for women is sold so. Proof that nothing else is "just as good."

Now, Bobby, if you don't want to go to Bessie Smith's party, you must write a note and tell her so; and be sure and put it politely. You will find some models in this book of etiquette, said Mrs. Carhart to her little son. Bobby struggled with the problem for an hour, and then presented for his mother's inspection the following truthful but unconventional effusion:

Mr. Robert Carhart declines with pleasure Miss Bessie Smith's kind invitation for the 14th, and thanks her extremely for having given him the opportunity of doing so.

The Spectacular Drama.
Oh, exclaimed the lady turning to her husband, isn't it beautiful? I never saw such lovely scenery!
Yes, he replied, with equal enthusiasm, it certainly is. Such colors and shades of stripes and checks, and every pair of 'em silk, and all clocked on both sides—
Why, what do you mean? she demanded sternly. I was referring to the scenery.
Oh, I beg your pardon, he responded, in some confusion. The scenery—yes, indeed, it's elegant.

"I feel now quite satisfied that there is no life so happy as a married one."
"And how long have you been married?"
"Since last Wednesday."—Life.

Hobson—What did your fiancée say when you told her you were dead broke?
Dobson (sadly)—She said she was fond of consistency in all things; so she broke the engagement.—Puck.

A Disagreeable Term.
"The rules are explicit," they went on to explain.
"No editor can ever pass in here again."
Then they bolted the door and took out the key. While the editor peered through the bars to see. The frightful sight which greeted his eyes was of all that he saw, the greatest surprise. The devil came home with a terrible shout. "I don't want you here, now, get out!"

He dreamed that he dropped far down in a well. Till he came to the gates that opened in hell, And he knew from the noise and the terrible

Mr. Flies—Why, how's this, Boards, my boy—you've left that new company? What's the trouble?
Mr. Boards—Well, I didn't mind falling 40 feet in a real elevator in the warehouse scene, nor being run over by a real moving machine in the farm scene, but when the manager wanted me to put real rat and feathers on me in the White Cap scene I sent in my resignation.—Puck.

"Don't go, canon; I want to introduce you to a lady who wishes to make your acquaintance."
"Oh—er—I'm rather in a hurry. Some other day, perhaps—er—er."
"It's my wife, you know."
"Oh, that's different. I thought you said a lady! I shall be charmed!"—Punch.

"So you had a church wedding?"
"I think church weddings are too expensive."
"No. They're not half as expensive as having to buy new furniture for a home wedding."—Puck.

St. Hosack—How brown and yellor the sun is settin today!
La Francis—Yes; it looks for all th' world like one of mother's punkin pies.—Life.

GEMS IN VERSE.

Mrs. Waap and Mrs. Bee.
Said Mrs. Waap to Mrs. Bee:
"Will you a favor do me?
There's something I can't understand:
Please, ma'am, explain it to me."
"Why do men build for you a house,
And coax you to go in it,
While me, your cousin, they'll not let
Stay near them for a minute?"
"I have a sting, I do confess,
And should like to tell it;
But so have you, and when you're vexed
I'm very sure you use it."
"Well," said the bee, "to you no doubt
It does seem rather funny;
But people soon forget the stings
Of those who give them honey."
—American Bee Journal.

Music.
Music soft, divinely sweet,
All with harmony thrilling,
Music low and sweetly thrilling,
All the soul with rapture filling!
Soothing fall thy strains below
On the sad hearts crushed with woe.

How the spirit sinks to rest
'Neath thy tones divinely blest,
Feeling dull despairing, lost,
With each heart throbbing stronger,
Gains new powers for life's hard fight,
Striving still for truth and right.

Stirring music, rich and strong,
How it bears the soul along!
Leading upward, reaching higher,
With a rapturous desire,
Grand heights in life to gain,
Triumphs over grief and pain.

Music slow, with sadness fraught,
How it stirs each tender thought!
Mourning music, sadly stealing,
O'er the soul, brings children feeling,
Wakens love and pity kind,
Chides and melts with grace refined.

Blessed music! Everywhere,
It is rich with hope and prayer!
Soft and so grandly swelling,
Or of joyous impulse swelling,
Sweet its strains to mortal ear,
Ever welcome, always dear.

Judge Not.
Judge not. Thou canst not tell
Why he, thy brother, fell.
Why, too, thy fellows might,
Exposed unto the blight;
Thy singing birds quite dumb,
'Neath darkened skies, become.

Judge not. Thou dost not know
Why he has acted so.
Be not so sure of thy own
Couldst thou resist such rain;
Thy bark, thus tempest tossed,
Might not the bar have crossed.

Judge not. Thou canst not say
Just where the blame lies;
Thy strings long since are broken,
Comest thou the sweet refrain;
From streamlets frozen deep
Not soon the waters leap.

Did not from that poor heart
The one last hope depart;
But, judging, questioning not,
The past all, all forgot,
Let silence be the gem
Of mercy's diadem.

Retribution.
An editor sat in his easy chair,
With an uncut beard and frizzly hair;
There was nothing to do, nothing to write;
The copy had all gone in for the night.
His thoughts far away from subjects deep,
His head fell back, and he went to sleep.

He dreamed that he dropped far down in a well. Till he came to the gates that opened in hell, And he knew from the noise and the terrible

Then the devil said, with a terrible curse:
"I am sorry, my friends, I have nothing worse
For you who have sinned through the realms of shade
And left your subscription bills unpaid.
But I'll send you down to the sulphur sea,
Where through all the ages of eternity
The only thought which can enter your mind
Are of newspaper bills you left behind."
—Phil Dean.

Optimism.
The times are not desperate! Man's faith
Mounts higher than of old. No crumbling creed
Can take from the immortal soul its need
Of something greater than itself. The world
Of dead beliefs we cherished in our youth
Fades but to let us welcome newborn truth.

Man may not worship at the ancient shrine,
Prone on his face in self accusing strain.
That night is passed; he builds a shrine,
And knows himself a something half divine.
No humble worm whose heritage is sin,
But part of God, he feels the Christ within.

No force Jehovah with a frowning mien
He worships, Nay, through love and not through fear
He seeks the truth and finds its source is near.
And fears and doubts the power of things unseen
Where once he scoffed. God's great primeval plan
Is fast unfolding in the soul of man.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

THE HISTORIC CITY.

SANTA FE AND ITS ATTRACTIONS ANCIENT AND MODERN

Mountains of Mineral, Fruitful Orchards and Other Resources.

AT THE GATEWAY OF THE NATIONAL PARK.

The World's Chiefest Sanitarium—Statistical Information for Tourist, Invalid and Health Seeker.

Santa Fe, the city of the Holy Faith of St. Francis, is situated on the site of an ancient Indian Pueblo called O-ga-p-ho-gi. It is probably the oldest civilized community in the United States and the most ancient of American capitals. The Spanish town was founded in 1605. Authorities disagree as to whether thichity or San Augustin, Fla., were first founded. Santa Fe was first visited by American traders in 1804, and from that time dated a wonderful era of prosperity. The thrilling incidents of the old Santa Fe trail, starting from Westport, Mo., gave it a world wide fame.

THE WORLD'S ONLY SANITARIUM.
Prof. Mark Harrington, chief of the U. S. weather bureau, says: "Santa Fe is in the driest habitable part of the United States. This region is extensive, and changes in form from season to season, but Santa Fe is always in it."

It is situated in a charming nook of the Santa Fe range, and its climate is dominated by the influence of mountain peaks that tower nearly 14,000 feet high. Together with this lies at an altitude of 7,015 feet, and latitude about the 36th degree north, that gives it a peculiar advantage as a sanitarium. The elevation tempers the summer heats, which naturally should be about that of Memphis, Tenn., or Bakersfield, Cal., and its southern situation reduces the rigors of winter.
