NATIONAL NEWS.

Democrats Not Doing the Fair Thing
by Mr. Blaud—A New Postmaster at Old Las Vegas.

Washington, Feb. 20.—After four days of roll calls to gather a quorum on the Blaud bill, the Democrats are now beginning to adopt measures to compel voting. Throughout the most of this time there have been more than the needful 179 members within sight of the speaker's desk, many refusing to answer to their names. Outside the hall, but in the city, there have been enough members in favor of the bill to have passed the measure a week ago could they all have been rallied. To-day, it is said, there were fifteen silver members in the city who were absent from the capitol. A resolution providing for fining absent members is being discussed, but many declare it impracticable. The Republicans are pleased because they consider the situation a vindication of the famous Reed ruling.

PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATIONS.
The president-to-day sent the following nominations to the senate: Martin J. E. Russell, collector of customs at the port of Chicago; Frank G. Herne, appraiser at the port of Chicago; John W. Arnold, marshal for the northern district of Illinois.

H. H. Smith, assistant register of the treasury, has resigned by request. It is said Mr. L. Wilbur Reed, of Alexandria, Va., will be appointed to fill the vacancy. Wm. T. Beane has been appointed postmaster at Glenwood Springs; David C. Therkild, at Fort Collins; H. R. Reynolds, at Crested Butte, Colo., and Chas. W. Allen, at Las Vegas, N. M.

Bill Nye Ill.
New York, Feb. 20.—Bill Nye, reported dying, is lying ill at the Hotel Imperial, Niagara Falls, and his manager has cancelled all his engagements for this week.

Hospital Burned.
Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Fire at 5:30 this morning destroyed the Rochester state hospital building, a fourteen-story brick, 100x70 feet. The loss is $120,000, no insurance. The 433 inmates and 110 keepers and officials were removed without loss of life.

Wants Her Hypnotized.
London, Feb. 20.—Mr. Asquith, home secretary, replying to a request of Prof. Tyndall, that he be accorded an interview with Mrs. Maybrick in order to induce her to consent to be hypnotized and questioned while in that state, for the purpose of establishing, if possible, her innocence, informs Tyndall he can not permit such an interview.

Reports Exaggerated.
Ironwood, Mich., Feb. 20.—The reports concerning the miners riot at Bessemer are greatly exaggerated. A small disturbance occurred there Saturday afternoon, in which a drunken Polish woman was a conspicuous figure, but there were no threats against life or property and not a single Bessemer citizen came here to get away from danger.

CONGRESSIONAL.

TO-DAY'S SENATE.
Washington, Feb. 20.—In the senate this morning Senator Murphy, of New York, presented a large number of petitions protesting against the passage of the new tariff bill. Senator Hill, of New York, was designated to act as a member of the committee on woman suffrage in the absence of Senator Vance. Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, was also designated to act as a member of this committee.

TO-DAY'S HOUSE.
There is little prospect of securing a quorum on Blaud's motion this afternoon and the house will probably adjourn tonight in a dead-lock.

A Battle Fought.
London, Feb. 20.—A dispatch from Buenos Ayres dated yesterday says a battle has been fought at Itapona, sixteen miles west of the city of San Paulo, between the insurgents and the government forces. President Peixoto's troops were defeated.

A Severe Blizzard.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Feb. 20.—A blinding blizzard has prevailed since early this morning. There is a high wind and the storm is growing in violence with no prospect of a let up. The weather is severely cold.

Work of Rescue Slow.
Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 20.—The surface of the Gaylord mine is somewhat soggy this morning and the work of rescue is proceeding cautiously. No bodies have yet been recovered and it is very doubtful at the rate the men are working if any can be reached to-day.

A TEXAS FIGHT.

Two Men Engage in a Quarrel and Before It is Ended Eight People Are Killed and Wounded.

Houston, Texas, Feb. 20.—Last night's horrible tragedy was the sequel to the famous Fort Bend feud, known as the Jaybird-woodpecker quarrel. James R. Mitchell, the quadruple murderer, had been a central figure in that affair. There had been blood between D. L. Sutton and Mitchell for some time and it is reported Sutton threatened to kill Mitchell at sight. They met on the depot platform last night. Mitchell said: "We will settle our troubles right here," and both men began firing. Sutton dropped dead at the second shot. Mitchell fired six times and besides Sutton, Milton Sparks and Dan Gleason were shot dead. Mrs. Sparks, wife of the murdered man, and also her baby were badly wounded. The brother of Mrs. Sparks and Mrs. McDowell were mortally wounded. Sutton killed Gleason at his first shot. Mitchell was arrested and said he was glad he killed Sutton as he interfered with his family affairs.

Denver Victorious.
Louisville, Feb. 20.—Denver has been selected as the next place of meeting of the League of American Wheelmen.

A Steamer Lost.
Constantinople, Feb. 20.—Advices received state that the steamer Penarth, British, from Odessa, is a total loss. The crew is supposed to have been saved.

Storm in Kansas.
Sterling, Kas., Feb. 20.—Another snow storm and blizzard set in this morning. The snow is falling fast and bids fair to rival the storm of the 11th inst.

The Coughlin Defense.
Chicago, Feb. 20.—Attorney Daniel Donohue opened the argument for the defense in the Coughlin case to-day. Donohue's speech was eloquent and attracted a large crowd of spectators.

Boxing Prohibited.
Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 20.—The executive committee of the Harvard Athletic association has decided to postpone its winter meeting that was to be held March 17, until March 31. This meeting is to consist chiefly of sparring and wrestling, but on account of the death of the student, Linder, boxing will probably be prohibited.

Stir Among Catholics.
St. Louis, Feb. 20.—Archbishop Kain has created a stir among Catholics by his letter to the clergy wherein he expresses the desire that Catholic children who attend public schools be prepared for their first communion by their parish priests. For years it is asserted some of the clergy used coercive measures to force Catholic children out of the public schools into parish schools. The most potent means was to refuse to instruct children for their first communion unless they went to a parochial school for two years.

ANARCHIST OUTRAGE.

Paris Again Startled by the Explosion of Two Bombs Placed in the Houses of Workmen.

Paris, Feb. 20.—The city was startled by another bomb explosion to-day. A man of suspicious appearance recently hired a room in a small hotel, the Rue St. Jacques. Not appearing for several days the police called and the door of his room was forced open. The forcing of the door dislodged a bomb which fell to the floor and exploded with terrible results. Mme. Culbert, owner of the house, her husband, a policeman and several lodgers were badly wounded. A bullet from the bomb, which was shaped like a sardine box, passed almost entirely through the body of one man. The excitement was renewed this afternoon by finding another bomb, this time in the hotel De Lesperance. The bomb was placed in the same position as the one in the hotel Rue St. Jacques, but it did not explode when it fell to the floor. The police believe both bombs were placed by the same man. They are unable to understand the motive as both houses were occupied by workmen and anarchists are not likely to attempt to injure this class. The excitement was added to when it was learned this forenoon that an attempt had been made to blow up the handsome buildings of the ministry of foreign affairs on the Quai d'Orsay. A metal tube was found lying at the entrance of the foreign office which was turned over to the police.

COMMERCIAL CRASHES.

Two More Big Firms Go to the Wall at Albuquerque—Bullock, Baker & Co. Attached.

On Saturday last the wholesale and retail liquor firm of Eakin & Brady, of Albuquerque, fell into the sheriff's hands at the instance of a Kentucky distilling company, and to-day announcement is made that attachments have also been run on the widely known book and paper firm of Bullock, Baker & Co., and the Manzano sheep raisers, Bullock & Baker. The attachments aggregate $30,000 and were sworn out by Receivers Schofield and Saint, of the Albuquerque National and New Mexico Savings banks, to secure claims for money borrowed before the failure of the banks.

The members are E. D. Bullock, John W. Baker and A. W. Rice, the latter two residing in Abilene, Kas.

Another Murder.

Raúlfo Romero died on Wednesday from the effects of an assault made upon him on the night of February 2. The sheriff has arrested and placed in jail Pompeyo Telles and Jose Manuel Beltran, on a charge of murder and also Juan Telles, Lorenzo Tapia and Antonio as accessories. The deceased was beaten on the head and body with clubs and rocks and after thirteen days his wounds proved fatal. The case is now before the grand jury.—Las Cruces Republican.

DOHERTY'S ASSASSIN.

Arrested for the Mora County Crime He Imitates Vigil and Bites the Dust.

New Mexico is becoming an unhealthy place for assassins.

Juan Antonio Rael, suspected of being the murderer of John Doherty, at Mora, some weeks ago, was shot and killed Sunday night at La Cueva by officers who had a warrant for his arrest.

On Saturday Estanislado Sandoval made oath that Rael made a proposition to him to assist in the killing of Doherty. On this a warrant was issued for Rael's arrest, and Sandoval was committed to prison to be held as a witness.

Sheriff Agapito Abeytia went out to Coyote, Rael's home, to arrest him, but he was not there. Deputy Juan Romero, the county jailer, and Sostenes Lucero went to La Cueva and found their man in bed. Being told of their mission he made no resistance, but arose, dressed and went to the corral for his horse. His overcoat was on his saddle, and while pretending to be fixing the coat, he drew his revolver and began firing on the officers, one ball passing through Romero's coat. Lucero returned the fire and Rael was killed. The body was taken to the town of Mora and an inquest is in progress there to-day.

NATURAL GAS.

Another Healthy Flow Developed in the Well Near Farmington.

Six weeks since, as duly announced in the New Mexican at the time, a strong flow of natural gas was developed in a drive well on the ranch of Mr. Blake, near Farmington. The San Juan Times at hand to-day says of this important discovery:

"Work was resumed Saturday on the Blake well, a contract to sink sixty feet further having been given to W. S. Sheek. Hardly five feet had been drilled before an additional flow of gas had been struck. Now the volume of gas is double what it was when first encountered, and the indications are very favorable that a still greater volume will be struck."

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 20.

There was one item in the New Mexican of yesterday that our esteemed contemporaries at Albuquerque will scarcely copy. Reference is made to Mr. Henry Lockhart's letter commending the New Mexican for giving the first reliable news on the Cochiti mining district.

Is it any wonder that the Pecos valley can boast of a healthy immigration and lands selling for $100 an acre that, three years ago, were bought for $1.25 per acre? Here's the secret of the enterprise: Total length of water conduits already constructed and in operation: Main canals, 121 miles; main laterals, 278 miles; sub-laterals, 900 miles; total, 1,294.

In Gov. Hogg has gone out and shot deer in a season when the law says deer shall not be shot, of course he is a law-breaker, and he ought to be punished. He should have the full limit of the law, and the action of a Democratic county attorney in "popping him through" for his illegal action will be applauded. In the eyes of every true Democrat a law-breaker is a law-breaker, no matter what his political tenets.

New York holders of New Mexico county bonds are said to be watching New Mexico's statehood interests with no little concern. Some of them, it is alleged, are inclined to be critical. Probably personal interest only is back of this, and if so, the best thing that those bondholders can do is to get up a petition and get it before congress at once praying the early passage of the bill. They might help New Mexico as well as themselves by doing this.

A CLEVER BUT MISGUIDED CITIZEN.
Capt. John G. Clancy, the wool grower down at Puerto de Luna, consumes nearly a column of space in the Las Vegas Optic of the 15th in an attempt to answer the New Mexican's statement that "the higher the duty the lower the price of wool." Capt. Clancy is an awfully clever old salt and a mighty good citizen, who, doubtless, believes firmly in the theory of so-called protection, but it is painfully evident that "fine writin' for newspapers" is not his forte. The New Mexican bases its statements on facts and figures, but the captain fails to trot out a single figure, and shoots so wide of the bull's-eye all through his letter as to make one wonder, after reading it, whether he is talking about wool or cruising through an Irish bog on a mud-scow. Wait till the tariff reform bill gets into actual working order, captain, and then laugh with us to see the price of wool go up.

THE LEAD TRUST GETS IT ALL.
The usual quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on its judiciously watered stock will be paid by the National Lead Trust on March 31. This is what the McKinley duty on lead does for the country. The profits of this gigantic monopoly, only possible under a high protective policy which shuts out competition, go directly to the eastern money-bags, the miner, the hard-working man who delves with pick and shovel for his daily bread, getting no benefits from it whatever. On the contrary, the duty is a positive detriment to the miner's interests, as it has the effect, and the figures prove it, to just about double the cost he has to pay for smelting his dry ores. We are curious to know what amount of this last trust dividend will be secured by the Socorro Chieftain, the Las Cruces Republican, Kingston Shaft and other Republican journals in payment for their publication of the Lead Trust's circular petition praying congress to continue the McKinley duty on lead.

MR. CLEVELAND'S COUP.
President Cleveland took the disgruntled senators, the country at large and particularly the state of New York squarely off their feet yesterday when he sent to the senate the name of Hon. Edward Douglass White, senator from Louisiana, to be justice of the U. S. supreme court, vice Blatchford, of New York, deceased. Mr. Cleveland was perfectly right in going outside of New York under the circumstances. That state twice had opportunity to secure the honor, but the Hill-Murphy combine, egged on by mischief-making Republicans, repudiated the nominees in both instances and for their pains brought the whole New York Democracy into disfavor with the country at large. They have now received a just rebuke, and it takes on a two-edged-sword character when one reflects how quickly Mr. White was confirmed by the senate.

The new justice is a native of Lafourche Parish, La., and is 49 years of age. He received his education at Mount St. Mary's, near Emmitsburg, Md.; at the Jesuit college in New Orleans, and at Georgetown college, District of Columbia. He served in the confederate army; was licensed to practice law by the supreme court of Louisiana in 1868; elected state senator in 1874; was appointed associate justice of the supreme court of Louisiana in 1878; was elected to the U. S. senate to succeed Eustis, receiving 119 out of 130 votes; took the seat March 4, 1891—and he is a Democrat!

Press Comments on Territorial Affairs.

Advertising New Mexico's Fitness for Statehood.

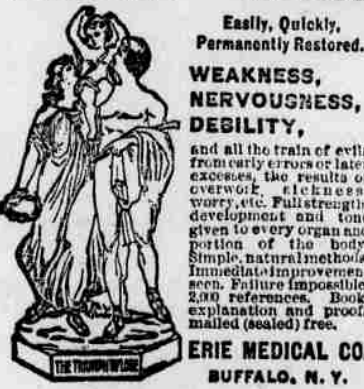

The Bureau of Immigration of the territory of New Mexico has just issued an unusually interesting treatise on the resources, climate, history, geography, etc., of that region, arranged, compiled and edited by Max Frost, secretary of the bureau. It contains over 340 pages of reading matter and numerous illustrations. After a general review of the resources of the territory and chapters on "Irrigation" and "Mining," the different counties are taken up and discussed with a view to affording in the most available shape just the most desirable knowledge to those who desire to invest or settle there.

Although New Mexico was a subject of very early European exploration and contains a city founded before On the wild New England shore older than the romantic story of Pocahontas and Capt. James Smith, or even than the Spanish town of St. Augustine, the editor of the volume opines that "the ancients had more knowledge of the mythical Atlantis than the average practical American of to-day has about New Mexico." Just how much knowledge of Atlantis the ancients possessed is uncertain, probably more than has descended to us, but it is safe to infer that, living as they did before the era of world's fairs, they had no such chance to witness evidence of the mineral and agricultural wealth of that distant island as were presented in the New Mexican exhibits in the Columbian exposition.

Yet undoubtedly there are people of general intelligence, principally, of course among those who have never come west and taken in a full idea of the breadth of their country, who think of Omaha, Denver and San Francisco as near neighbors, and of New Mexico as the land of Pueblos and cliff dwellers. Well, it is not yet half a century since Colorado and all her sisters were included in the great American desert. Our geography has to be revised so often that we must not expect everyone to keep up with the new editions, but some of the chapters are leaves from the book of our national romance. If any one thinks otherwise let them study this chapter on the unknown land of New Mexico.

If this valuable publication could be placed in the hands of senators and representatives at Washington it would go far toward solving any existing doubts as to New Mexico's fitness for admission to the Union of states.—Denver News.

SHOOTING STARS.

Eligible Now.

Papa, said Miss Bloodgood, you remember you forbade Mr. Trivet to call upon me because he worked for a living.

Yes, I remember.

Well, papa, that objection is now removed. May he call?

What's happened? Has some one left him a fortune?

No, papa. He can't find any work to do.

Brace the Nerves.

Sedatives and opiates won't do it. These nerves do not make the nerves strong, and failing to do this fall short of producing the essential of their quietude.

—vigor. And while in extreme cases—and these only of nervous irritation such drugs may be advisable, their frequent use is highly prejudicial to the delicate organism upon which they act, and in order to renew their quieting effect increased and dangerous doses eventually become necessary.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an efficient substitute for such pernicious drugs. It quiets the nerves by bracing, toning, strengthening them. The connection between weakness of the nervous system and that of the organs of digestion is a strong and sympathetic link. The Bitters, by imparting a healthful impulse to digestive and assimilating functions, promotes thoroughness of the whole system in vigor in which the nerves come in for a large share. Use the Bitters in malaria, constipation, biliousness and kidney trouble.

Now, my little children, said the Sunday school teacher, all of you are very still, while I tell you about it—so still that you can hear a pin drop.

All was silence till a little boy shrieked out. Let her drop!

—Harper's Bazar.

Eruption of the Skin Cured.

Ed. Venny, Brockville, Ontario, Canada, says:

"I have used Brandreth's Pills for the past fifteen years, and think them the best cathartic and anti-bilious remedy known. For some five years I suffered with an eruption of the skin that gave me great pain and annoyance. I tried different blood remedies, but, although gaining strength the itching was unrelieved. I finally concluded to take a thorough course of Brandreth's Pills. I took six each night for four nights, then five, four, three, two, lessening each time by one, and then for one month took one every night, with the happy result that now my skin is perfectly clear and has been so ever since."

Willie—Aunt, what do they call the man who hunts up the taxes? Aunt Sarah—Taxidermist, or curer, because he skins everybody.

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

So you think you will not go to Mrs. Flathead's at home? No, I prefer to call when I'm not so sure of finding her in.

Grand Canon of Colorado River.

On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,262 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublimity of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yosemite might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook.

Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read up" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a free copy of an illustrated book describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; it is substantially written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

Modern Methods, Skilled Mechanics.

A BOIL hurts, but it helps. It shows you plainly what you need. It wouldn't be there, if your blood were pure and your system in the right condition. And they would be, if you'd take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It carries health with it. All Blood, Skin, and Scalp Diseases, from a common blotch or eruption to the worst Scrofula, are cured by it. It invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood, and rouses every organ into healthful action. In the most stubborn forms of Skin Diseases, such as Salt-rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Erysipelas, Carbuncles, and kindred ailments, and with Scrofula in every shape, and all blood-taints, there's nothing that can equal it as a perfect and permanent remedy.

That's the reason it's the only medicine of its kind that can be guaranteed. If it fails to benefit or cure, in any case, you have your money back. And that makes it the cheapest blood-purifier sold, for you pay only for the good you get.

Can you ask more?

Her Joyous Season.

The Husband: Why, my dear?

The Wife: I love you to much, John, to disgrace you by calling a body's attention to an old bonnet like this.

GROSS.

A Tall Man Explains His Sentiments and Then Gets to Work.

"What," said the tall man, as he took a seat at a restaurant table, "is so gross as eating? Why cannot we, people modeled in the shape of the gods, live without this vulgar feeding process? Why must we come three or four times a day, seat ourselves at table and devour masses of various sorts in order to keep ourselves alive? In my Utopia I hope there will be no eating or drinking of food. I want all food to be tabooed, cast away, annihilated. I want to live without those pangs of hunger which are so unesthetic, and be able to bask day after day in beautiful sunlight and hear magnificent music, untrammelled by thoughts of breakfasts, dinners and suppers and free from the enslavement of stomach."

"Will the gentleman order?" broke in the waiter.

"No, no, go away! I can conceive no more beneficent fate than an eternally spent where there are no cooks. I want nothing better hereafter than an era of life without a meal or a suspicion of a luncheon. I pine for an epoch of existence where there shall be no thought of the grosser side of our anatomy. I long to live without hunger and thirst. I want to be where I can worship art, where I can pay court to beauty in whatever form, where harmonious colors and soothing music shall be my only stimulants."

"Will the gentleman kindly order?" broke in the waiter again.

"I want to be where I can worship art, where I can pay court to beauty in whatever form, where harmonious colors and soothing music shall be my only stimulants."

PURELY PRACTICAL.

He Wasn't Half as Much of a Fool as He

As he shot into the editorial arena he wiped his bald head with his gaudy silk handkerchief.

"I want to be attacked," he said as he winked at the answers to correspondents editor.

"The man who attacks people and who sheds the innocent gore of innocent readers who have had their names spelled wrong in the paper can be found down the passage, second floor on the left," said the mild young man, who was indicating an answer to Julia B.'s request for a recipe to remove freckles from her ear.

"You misunderstood my meaning, young man," said the stranger as he lived into his pocket and produced a 6 by 8 business card, on which was printed:

R. H. PULKERRHAM, Dealer in Choice Teas, Unparalleled Coffee, Cheapest Sugars, and all kinds of Family Groceries, Domestic and Imported at the Great Continental Store and Home Supply Emporium, 1313 WASHINGTON AVENUE.

"Well, Mr. Pulkerrham, what can we do for you?" said the editor.

"You see, mister, it's just this way," said the grocer as he took a chair. "Business ain't what it used to be. Ordinary advertising don't seem to draw worth a cent. Now, ever since Sanford, who keeps the ten store on the corner above, was accused of having two wives living—one in the penitentiary and the other hawking fruit in St. Louis—the women flock to his store to buy their groceries. Now, if you would write a column saying that I had eloped with two beautiful daughters of one of our leading citizens, and my wife, for the sake of the family, had kept the household customers to my store. I'll go away for a few days, and the sympathy my wife will get will give my business a boom that will tide us over these dull days."

"You are not half as much of a fool as you look," said the editor.

"Well, that is neither here nor there. You send up one of your young men to get some points to my lady character from the neighbors. Give me a whole column. Don't spare me. Say that
