WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Bland Seigniorage Bill Passes the Senate—The Lead Trust at Work—Orders to Benham.

Washington, March 15.—The lead producers of the west are not yet entirely satisfied with the provision now in the tariff bill looking to levying a duty on lead ore, when mixed and imported with silver ore, provided under these conditions the duty of 2 1/2 cents a pound shall be paid on the lead in the ore. It is understood that the lead men will insist that a provision be inserted in the bill which will insure a careful assay of the ore and which will prevent any large shipments of lead and silver ore together unless the proper proportions be made known so that a sufficient duty can be levied. Senator Dubois, of Idaho, who has the lead interests in charge, has been assured by members of the finance committee that the lead ore provision will be so changed that the duty can not be evaded.

ORDERED TO NICHOLSON.

Secretary Herbert to-day called Admiral Benham at Rio to proceed immediately with one of the vessels of his squadron to Bluefields, Nicaragua, to watch over American interests there. Although no vessel was designated in the order, the San Francisco will probably go.

A SUDDEN ATTACK.

Ex-Senator Henry L. Dawes, of Massachusetts, was stricken suddenly ill to-day, while on a visit here. It is thought to have been a paralytic stroke.

TODAY'S SENATE.

The Bland silver seigniorage bill was taken up by the senate this afternoon and Senator Carey, of Wyoming, conducted his argument begun just before adjournment yesterday. He was followed by Senator Dubois, of Idaho. At 2 o'clock the senate passed the seigniorage bill; yeas 44, nays 31.

Admiral Da Gama Escaped.

Lisbon, March 15.—Dispatches received from Rio de Janeiro say that Admiral Da Gama with 500 insurgent sailors and marines, are on board the Portuguese corvette Mindeiro. They also say that the refugees will be brought to Portugal by the Mindeiro and Alphonso de Albuquerque.

Want Them Discharged.

Chattanooga, March 15.—When the Tennessee Land Co., owing nearly the entire city of Harriman, failed last fall for $400,000, H. Russell and A. T. Hopkins, of Harriman, were appointed receivers. Philip Mason, of Knoxville, a creditor of the company, filed a petition in the United States circuit court charging Russell and Hopkins with not being fit to perform the duties appertaining to the receivership and praying that they be discharged.

Latest From Hawaii.

San Francisco March 15.—A letter has been received from Honolulu which says that there was a rumor about Sunday night a week ago to the effect that martial law would be declared on Monday, but nothing has come of it yet. The marshal was seen and denied the rumor, but nevertheless it is believed there was some truth in it, and that the government had some such intention. It is known that some fears are felt by the government that if news of a nature unfavorable to the ex-queen's cause should arrive the royalists would make a last desperate attempt to restore the queen. For this reason the plan of declaring martial law was proposed, and the government was ready to take such steps to prevent trouble.

THEY RESISTED ARREST.

Denver Deputy Sheriffs Make a Raid on a Notorious Dive.

Denver, March 15.—The first human blood shed in Denver to-day was not at the city hall, where the warring fire and police board factions were expected to come into collision with the state militia as a body guard for one of the factions, but at the notorious dive, a resort for thieves, the "Hog ranch" Twenty-First street and McAdams avenue. Shortly before 1 o'clock, City Detective Carberry and Deputy Sheriff Alex. Arnett, arrived on the scene to raid the ranch in search of stolen goods. Some six or eight vagabonds were found in the place and they resisted arrest. The officers drew their revolvers and opened fire. A general melee ensued in which two of the inmates of the ranch were seriously wounded. Their names are not yet obtainable.

VERY SPICY.

The Prosecution in the Breckenridge Case Introduces Damaging Testimony—Dark for the Congressman.

Washington, March 15.—A light mulatto woman, dressed in mourning, occupied a seat near Miss Pollard's lawyers in the circuit court this morning, and looked curiously at Col. Breckenridge and Miss Pollard as they passed here. She was the first witness called to the stand and her examination was conducted by Mr. Farrell, a young Lexington attorney who assisted Messrs. Carlisle and Johnson in taking depositions in Kentucky. She said she had known Col. Breckenridge since she was a little girl. When Mr. Farrell asked her if Col. Breckenridge had ever visited her home, she answered that she had known him since she was a child, and that he had been with her father, Attorney Shelby, at the time of the trial, and the court sustained the objection.

Col. Breckenridge, she said, began to visit her home in Broad street, Lexington, with Miss Pollard ten years ago. Before their first visit he had called on Thursday, in the summer time, to ask that Miss Pollard be kept there from Friday until Monday, a request which was at first refused, because the witness had no room, but was finally agreed to. Friday night, just at dark, they came to Col. Breckenridge's house in the front room with Miss Pollard until 11 o'clock.

Col. Breckenridge knocked on the middle door for the woman to let him in when he was ready to go. Miss Pollard was in bed with her night dress, on said the witness, and he kissed her and bid her good night, putting his arm around her. Col. Breckenridge had repeated his visit each night, kissing Miss Pollard good-bye in presence of the colored woman. The bed gave evidence of having been occupied each night. Sunday night, Col. Breckenridge had, just at dark, although Col. Breckenridge insisted she was the only woman Miss Pollard would trust herself with.

The witness created a sensation by relating that Col. Breckenridge had visited her last summer, after the suit had been filed, and that she had hoped she would have nothing to do with the case, to which she replied she must tell the truth. Col. Breckenridge inquired where Mary Scott and Mary Wilson were, saying that he wanted them kept out of the way and also asked if Miss Pollard ever came to her home with Col. Breckenridge. The witness assured him that he was the only man Miss Pollard had ever met there.

DENVER POLICE WAR.

Gov. Waite Trying to Put His New Appointees in Office—A Battle Imminent.

Denver, March 15.—The people of Denver awoke this morning to find themselves under martial law and that the fire-eating governor of Colorado, from his lofty perch on the eighth floor of the Equitable building, had last night summoned the 1st regiment Colorado national guards, the signal corps, attached to the first brigade, and the Chaffee light artillery to assemble at their armory at 1 o'clock to-day for the purpose of placing his new appointees to the fire and police board in office.

The police force is massed at their headquarters heavily armed, while a reinforcement from the sheriff's office, armed with Winchester rifles, are holding themselves in reserve in the basement of the city hall. Chief Pearce, of the fire department, made early arrangements to assist in the battle by stringing lines of hose throughout the building ready to be attached to fire hydrants in order to greet the advance guard of the opposing forces with streams of water. Should water prove unavailable in protecting the hall from the fire-eating forces, men are so situated as to open fire from behind the walls of the city building.

At noon Sheriff Burchinell telephoned to Ft. Logan to ascertain whether in case he needed it he could secure any assistance. A telephone message just received from the state armory says that 250 militia, with gatling guns and battery ram, have left for the city hall under the command of Col. Hogle.

Later hostilities at the city hall have been suspended until 2 o'clock. A conference between the two factions is now being held at the state house looking to a compromise of the trouble.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

THURSDAY, MARCH 15.

The croaker continues to croak and the miners continue to pour into Cochiti.

The law and order element is on top in New Mexico.

As a rule a thief is a thief, no matter what his politics, but a Democrat thief is a little the worst of all, for his party isn't built that way.

The New Mexican is quite anxious to learn what the Albuquerque Citizen and the few other apologists for crime that sneeze when the Citizen takes snuff think about the Mora county affair.

It seems that at last the murderers of ex-Sheriff John Doherty, of Mora county, are about to be brought before the bar of justice. Thus it has again been demonstrated that it is well to have good Democratic officials on guard.

From all present indications, the Vermont banking system will not henceforth prove as popular and profitable a business in New Mexico as it once was. There are signs of another sensation in this line growing out of the deplorable collapse of the Albuquerque National.

SENATOR STEWART, of Nevada, although a Populist and at times rather loud mouthed, once in a while gets off some good things. In a letter to the Rocky Mountain News he unmercifully scores Harrison for his hypocritical Trinidad silver speech. The ex-president will find that carrying water on both shoulders is a hard job.

The Democratic city central committee has called a convention to nominate candidates for city officers for the 29th of this month. Clean, economical business methods and fitness of the applicant will control the nominations. Let the nominees for city school directors be especially looked after. The set now in control must be taught that public school affairs constitute a hallowed trust not to be tampered with for petty partisan purposes.

COCHITI IS ALL RIGHT.

Cochiti's chances for proving a mineral world beater are growing daily. Up to date the New Mexican has nothing to take back of what it has hitherto said of the camp and no apologies to make for the space it has devoted to Cochiti's interests. It has endeavored to secure its facts from conservative mining men and present them in a plain, readable shape, and up to this time everything that has been said of the district and its phenomenal richness has been more than verified.

To-day the New Mexican gives its readers some additional facts in its news columns on this subject and the statements there set forth will not only repay perusal but will stand the test of the most critical examination. Cochiti is all right.

AN IMPORTANT MEASURE.

House Bill No. 6169, entitled "A bill to authorize the location and working of mines of precious metals belonging to the United States situated in Spanish or Mexican land grants," which Delegate Joseph has just introduced in the lower house of congress, touches upon a subject fraught with the greatest interest to Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico mining men. It is of special moment to the mining fraternity of northern New Mexico, because it vouchsafes to them deserved rights which they do not now enjoy and which, as time elapses, it will be harder for them to secure.

Under the act establishing the court of private land claims all mineral is expressly reserved to the government, and the act of confirmation carries only the surface ground. In creating the law congress stipulated that the mines shall not be worked until further legislation by congress, and this leaves the way open very nicely now for Mr. Joseph's bill, which provides that the mines situate within Spanish or Mexican private land claims may be entered upon and located just as if the land were public domain, save that the locator shall be liable to the grant owner for "any damages to said land occasioned by such location, working or occupation of the same, or by such ingress and egress to and from the same (the mine) over said land."

The bill is now pending before the house committee on mines and mining, and miners, as indeed can all citizens interested in development of the territory, materially aid in its becoming law by forwarding petitions to Delegate Joseph on the subject.

Press Comments on Territorial Affairs.

Doing Good Work.

The Santa Fe New Mexican is doing some good work for Cochiti, the young gold camp. This is right, build up a struggling camp instead of giving it a black eye on the slightest pretext.—Chama Northwest.

The Local Paper's Generosity.

Each year the local paper gives from $500 to $5,000 in free lines to the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor in proportion to his means does more for his town than any other ten men and in all fairness with men he ought to be supported—not because you like him or admire his writings, but because the local paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be brilliantly edited or crowded with thought, but financially it is of more benefit than the teacher or the preacher. Understand me. I do not mean mentally or morally, but financially, and yet on the moral question you will find most of the local papers on the right side. To-day the editors of the home papers do the most for the least money of any people on the face of the earth.—Governor Francis, of Missouri, in a speech before a business convention.

Libeling Two Territories.

New Mexico and Arizona are greatly annoyed over the statements of a correspondent and sketch artist of Frank Leslie's illustrated, who recently made a star trip through those territories and who has recorded his impressions with pen and pencil on the pages of that publication. It appears that Mr. Herbert Heywood is the offending person. During his royal progress through Santa Fe and Albuquerque and Las Vegas and Tucson and Phoenix he was treated with the most cordial hospitality and accorded every facility for obtaining information. This he appears to have repaid by a series of sketches which fail to show the real progress of the people and by a number of statements, statistical and otherwise, which are calculated to belittle the claims of these two territories for statehood. To secure an argument against any more western alien appears to have been the real object of his visit.

To say that the people are mad is putting it mildly. The newspapers are burning him up. In Tucson a public meeting was held and an address issued naming each one of his libelous assertions and stating the real facts. If Mr. Heywood is wise he will make it convenient never to repeat the trip; at least it will be expedient to wait until the public temper has had an opportunity to cool off, and the memory of his offenses has somewhat faded from the popular mind. The west has suffered much from this class of strolling correspondents, and in times gone by Colorado has had her share of them. They are usually a class of fellows totally incapable of appreciating western life, or of grasping the spirit of western progress. They have more assurance than brains, and their ideas are bounded by the narrow limits of Manhattan island. Fortunately the damage they do is temporary, for one such correspondent, or an army of them, with their lying pens, are not able to repress the indomitable energy of western growth.—Denver News.

Ex-Sheriff Abeytia, Lawyer E. W. Pierce and Others in Jail for the Doherty Murder.

An Interview with Gov. Thornton on Mora County—Dastardly Crimes Ferretted Out—A Remarkable Story.

Gov. Thornton returned to the city last night from Mora, where he has been for ten days past looking after a nest of criminals who have long infested that county, and where a deplorable state of affairs reached its climax in the assassination of ex-Sheriff John Doherty on February 9, and the murder of an Indian, Antonio Rael, a few weeks since. In an interview to-day the governor said:

THE GOVERNOR SPEAKS.

"After having issued a proclamation offering $500 reward for the arrest of each of the parties implicated in the killing of ex-Sheriff Doherty, and granting pardon to the first man confessing the crime and revealing the plot, I caused copies of said proclamation to be sent to the Indian, Rael, and to others suspected of having a hand in the crime. Subsequently Rael was killed by a sheriff's posse, under the plea that he resisted arrest, while being served with a warrant charging him with complicity in the Doherty affair. About the time of Rael's death I heard that he had intimated a desire to turn state's evidence and had consulted with parties in Mora with reference to his pardon in case he did so. This information, in connection with the fact that Rael had been shot in the back, led me to believe that he had been

MURDERED BY HIS CONFEDEATES, and such information as I received from Mora by private letters strengthened this belief. Accordingly I concluded to visit Mora and have the body of the deceased Indian, Rael, exhumed and examined. This examination revealed the fact that there were six bullet wounds in the body, two more than had been reported by the sheriff's posse, and also showed that the bullets had entered the right temple, two inches above the eye, both ranging downward, one lodging back of the eye and the other at the socket of the left jaw bone, thus proving that Rael was shot while lying down. An examination was also made of the clothing of Juan B. Romero, the deputy sheriff, who claimed to have been fired upon by Rael. There were no signs of powder burn outside either the over or the under coat, but the inside lining of the under coat was burned and there were other indications that the bullet which passed through the two garments had been fired from a weapon held very close and that the bullet passed THROUGH THE LINING FIRST, thus making it quite apparent that Rael had not fired the shot.

"Upon receiving this information I determined to have some of the suspected parties arrested. As it was evident that Sheriff Agapito Abeytia was in some manner associated with the suspects, I procured warrants to arrest two of the parties who were found to be amenable under the Edmunds act, and had Deputy U. S. Marshal W. P. Cunningham, of Santa Fe, and Deputy Marshal Hernandez, of Las Vegas, go and serve the warrants. Bartolome Cordova and Estanislado Sandoval were the two men taken into custody. Cordova is supposed to have incited Rael to the place where he was murdered, and Sandoval is said to have been associated with Rael in the assassination of Doherty, and also made the affidavit which brought about Rael's arrest, and thereby caused his death at the hands of the sheriff's posse. A third party arrested was Sostene Lucero, who had fired the shots that killed Rael. The two former men

MADE A FULL CONFESSION.

Sandoval admitting his connection to a certain extent with the assassination of John Doherty, and connecting with the crime the names of Sostene Lucero, Juan and Tomas Lucero, and two or three others. He stated that the object of killing Doherty was to prevent him from prosecuting them for thefts and also to prevent him testifying against Sostene Lucero under the charge of having murdered old man Jones, in Colfax county. Sandoval said that S. Lucero had asked him to join their band in planning the murder of Doherty and said they were to be paid for it, but he did not reveal the name of the party who was to do the paying. After Doherty's death S. Lucero said he had been requested to enlist the services of Bartolome Cordova in their cause of crime, and that he had induced Cordova to join the band. This was a secret organization, its members taking each an oath not to reveal the secrets of the organization. Cordova and Sandoval agree in stating that on Saturday, February 17, they went to Mora where they SAW SHERIFF ABEYTIA, who invited them to a meeting at the county jail. They saw at this meeting Sheriff Abeytia, his deputy and jailer, Juan B. Romero, Tomas, Juan and Sostene Lucero, themselves and one or two others, eight men in all being present, and they allege that the sheriff then said to them in substance this: 'Rael has been seen visiting at Joseph Doherty's house in upper Mora, and I believe he is going to turn state's evidence and tell of the killing of John Doherty. Now, you know, (said Sheriff Abeytia addressing Sandoval and his associates) 'you men are accused of this killing, and you are fools if you do not act first. You need not be afraid to kill Rael, as he is nobody but an Indian, and people will be glad that he is dead.'

UNFOLDING THE PLOT.

"They then, according to this confession," continued the governor, "devised at that meeting in the county jail their plan for the murder of Rael. Cordova being the Indian's personal friend, was to go to Rael's house on Sunday, and tell him that Sandoval would meet him at a certain house near La Cueva on Sunday night and deliver to him a horse he owed him. It was further agreed that Sandoval was to make an affidavit that Rael had confessed to him the murder of Doherty, and J. B. Romero, the jailer, and Sostene Lucero were to be deputized by Sheriff Abeytia to go and serve the warrant on Rael, and were to kill him and come back and report that he was shot while resisting arrest. It was agreed that this would put a quietus on the Doherty murder affair and there would be no more trouble for any one. Accordingly,

E. W. PIERCE, editor of the Mora County Democrat, late a member of the Las Vegas bar and the legal advisor of Sheriff Abeytia, was called upon and he prepared the necessary affidavit, which was signed by Sandoval, and next morning, sworn to before a justice of the peace.

"Cordova called at Coyote on Sunday morning and arranged with Rael to meet Sandoval at the house near La Cueva that night, he going with him. Cordova then rode part way back to Mora and sent word to Rael by one of his confederates that Rael would be on hand at the appointed time and place. He then joined the Indian and went with him to La Cueva where he remained with him until dark, when he borrowed the Indian's pistol to go up to the store and get some whisky. He went out then and met the deputy sheriffs, Romero and S. Lucero; went back and knocked at the door and asked to be let in, when the deputy sheriffs made the arrest. They had Rael put on his clothes and pick up his saddle to go to the corral and saddle his horse. After entering the corral, as Rael was stooping over to lay down his saddle, Lucero shot him in the back. Rael ran fifteen feet and fell, Lucero following and firing. After he fell, Lucero walked up and shot him twice in the temple. Then they sat down and to tell in town, in which they were to represent that the Indian had taken a pistol from his overcoat tied on his saddle, and had first fired at J. B. Romero; and, for fear this would not be believed, they decided to fire a shot through Romero's clothes. Romero then took his coat in his hand and Cordova, with the Indian's pistol, fired the bullet through the two coats, holding it so close that it set the inner coat on fire."

THE LATEST.

At this juncture in the interview the governor was handed a dispatch reading as follows:

Gov. W. T. Thornton. Mora, N. M., March 15.—Six men indicted for the murder of Doherty. Seven for the murder of Rael. Six are in jail. Will be home to-night.

(Signed) W. P. CUNNINGHAM. "That's all right," said the governor, as he laid aside the telegram and continued: "One of the parties in jail is undoubtedly E. Wilmerding Pierce, who stated to parties in Mora four hours before Rael's death that the Indian would be killed that night."

"The newly appointed sheriff, Vicente Mares, is well known here in Santa Fe and all over New Mexico. He is a good man and will do his duty."

In explanation of Sheriff Cunningham's brief telegram to the governor the New Mexican this afternoon received the following from Las Vegas:

The men indicted in Mora for the killing of Doherty are: Estanislado Sandoval, Tomas Lucero, Sostene Lucero, Bartolome Cordova and Juan B. Romero, the jailer. Those indicted for the killing of Rael are: Agapito Abeytia, late sheriff; Tomas Lucero, E. W. Pierce, Juan Lucero, Sostene Lucero, Bartolome Cordova and Juan B. Romero. All are in jail save Tomas Lucero, who has not been captured.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

The Guild will meet at Mrs. W. T. Thornton's Friday, March 16, 1891, at 2 p.m. Business of especial importance to be transacted, and all members are particularly requested to be present.

A Raymond excursion party numbering forty people arrived in the city on a special train of five coaches over the Santa Fe road this morning and left for California at noon. During their stay the party took a drive about the city and also reviewed a drill of the troops at Fort Marcy.

Don Estevan, M. y Coyazo, the efficient teacher who has had charge of the public school at Los Lunas, in the county of Valencia, for the last six months, is in the city to-day. He had an attendance of eighty-three pupils. The school closed on the 8th inst. and the public exercises were attended by over 600 people. The improvement shown by the children was surprising. Mr. Coyazo has presented a very unique and interesting report to the superintendent of public instruction.

Special Officer Tim O'Leary, stationed at the A. T. & S. F. depot at Las Vegas, captured two deserters at that place yesterday morning, and brought them over to Santa Fe last night for delivery to the military authorities. Their names are George Huston, company B, and Martin G. Lyons, company D, both of the 10th infantry. They left here Saturday night and were working their way east on freight trains after receiving their uniforms.

It is not often that a neat column of figures is made with the typewriter, but Chief Clerk Jose D. Sena, of Auditor Perez's office, has completely mastered the little machine, which has revolutionized the work of the private secretary. Mr. Sena prepared a typewritten report of the auditor's statement of the amount of business done by the insurance companies in this territory in 1902, and it is a model of neatness. Every column is as straight as though printed on a press and there are no erasures. The work reflects great credit upon Mr. Sena.

To Shorten the Road.

The Board of Trade held a special meeting at the office of Sec. Knaebel yesterday afternoon to hear the report of the committee consisting of Messrs. C. W. Dudrow, Grant Rivenburg and Wm. White, appointed to ascertain the best road between this city and Cohetti. A large gathering of business men was on hand. Mr. Dudrow presented the report of the committee, and Surveyor White presented a rough sketch of the country they investigated. The report stated that the committee started out last Sunday morning and followed the Agua Fria road to the last house in that village; they then left the road and crossed the Santa Fe river to its northern end, and taking the Cohetti road, passed the old Boonard ranch, thence skirting the base of Tetilla peak, about fifteen miles from the city. They then left the trail and proceeded in a more northerly direction to what is known as the Tomas Baca road, a distance of about twenty miles from Santa Fe, and in fact, the committee say, the trade meant to its foot. It was upon this descent that they met the only obstacle to a good road. They then erroneously followed an arroyo to the Rio Grande and up that river to the ferry, which they reached after having traveled a distance of twenty-four miles. The report concludes that they found a good road only twenty miles long from this city to the ferry, from which point to the town of Allerton it is only five miles and over which Col. Moore is building a toll road. The proposed road is twelve miles shorter than the present one and has every advantage over it in fact, the committee say, the trade can not be held if the present road is relied upon. It is estimated that it will take $1,200 to build the new road.

After the report of the committee had been read Gen. Bartlett moved that steps be immediately taken to raise the necessary funds to build the new road. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. H. B. Cartwright, E. T. Webber and Grant Rivenburg, was appointed to solicit subscriptions, and they immediately started upon their work by passing the subscription paper among those present. Mr. A. Stanb was the first to put his name down, subscribing $100, and others present chipped in liberally. The committee were also instructed to select a good man to superintend the construction of the road, and to report at a special meeting of the board to be held to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mr. White was empowered to prepare an accurate map of the proposed route, so that it may be photographed and used to insert in folders issued by the Denver & Rio Grande and Santa Fe railroads.

Mr. C. H. Gildersleeve presented and had signed by those present a petition requesting the postmaster general to establish a postoffice at Allerton and to appoint Richard Green postmaster.

More Confidence Than Ever.

Col. T. B. Mills returned from Cohetti yesterday. He has lost none of his faith in the new camp, and, if possible has more confidence in the district than ever. He said: "Everything is moving along nicely. People are going in by the score daily. Mr. May continues to pick ore out on burros. He has a large quantity already to ship."

The miners will hold a meeting next Sunday in upper Pino canon, at what is known as Harrison camp, to organize a miners' district, elect a recorder and make arrangements to extend the wagon road from Allerton to the nearest mines, a distance of five miles. Most of the prospects are about eight miles from Allerton.

"Mr. Tom Lowthian has developed the ledge on his Lone Star mine to a width of thirty feet and it is all pay ore. The rock is extremely hard on the surface but gets softer as depth is acquired. Miners are going into the camp at the rate of fifty per day. New cabins are coming up all the time. F. H. Mitchell, of Cerrillos, in connection with the Cerrillos Supply company, has opened up a general merchandise and hardware store about eight miles above Allerton in Pino Canon, and near most of the mines thus far opened. "Lowthian's mine is a wonder. He hasn't any ore that runs less than $100 to the ton."

"The snow is pretty near all off and will soon be gone."

"I have been studying geography lately and I find that the canon that we thought to be Cohetti canon is the Canon del Medio, while Cohetti canon is a mile or so further north. The Mexicans have some claims in Medio canon that are said to be good, but I have not yet prospected it. Most everybody is busy doing assessment work."

"The Washington is showing some remarkably fine ore. The Albuquerque owners of it are in a scrap among themselves and have taken their quarrels into court and had it placed under the control of a receiver."

"Dorsey & Eagle have struck rich ore in the Iron King adjoining the Lone Star. There will be no backward steps for Cohetti now."

Rich Returns.

There are some samples of wonderfully rich ore on exhibition at the Arcade. Messrs. L. A. Hughes and J. W. Akers brought them in from Cohetti. Mr. Hughes had some of the ore taken from the same prospect sent to Assayer Clarence Horsey, at Leadville, for an assay. He is a brother of Mr. H. B. Hersey, of this city, and a reliable man. The returns almost took the breath out of Santa Fe mining men. One assay run 4.78 ounces in gold and 248 ounces in silver, which would make a value of $241.40. A still better assay was had, however, as another sample run 4.88 ounces of gold and 466 ounces in silver, making a value of $260.60 to the ton.

The ore is genuine Cohetti stuff, as Mr. Hughes picked it up himself, and it was not assayed. It was taken from a ledge that will average ten feet in width, with thousands of tons of ore in sight.

A Practical Man Talks.

Mr. R. J. Nugent, formerly of Colorado, but now of Nogal, Lincoln county, a man of note in mining circles, outlined here yesterday and started for Cohetti by Herrow's stage line. Mr. Nugent has had thirty-three years experience in mining and starts for the new district full of enthusiasm. In an interview with a representative of the New Mexican Mr. Nugent said:

"I have not been to the camp, yet but if one-half that is told about it by miners is true, it is a world beater. I am perfectly willing to cut everything they say in two and still take my chances. I had some ore sent me from the camp and had it assayed and I must confess I went wild over it. It showed a yield of four ounces in gold and $38 in silver to the ton. I lost no time in getting to Santa Fe after I received the certificate of assay."

"I am enthusiastic over it because I rely on what my friends tell me, as I know they could have no object in deceiving me. I bank more on the statement of Tom Lowthian than anybody else, as he knows what he is doing and means what he says."

A Miner's Views.

Mr. J. B. Ward, of this city, who has been delving for ore in the Cerrillos district for ten years, left here yesterday with a party on his return to the Cohetti district. He had previously spent ten days in that region, and came in Monday for supplies. He said:

"When I went in the snow was two to four feet deep, but I pressed on and passed Allerton and up the Pino canon to the top of the range over into Medio and Cohetti canons. This is twelve miles north and a little west of Allerton. I was the first man to cut through the snow and get into that district, and it is my belief that here the richest mines are yet to be opened. The ledges are fully as large and well defined as in the lower part of the district, but the geological formation is different and yields a larger gold return. Below the formation is porphyry carrying gold and silver, but on the range the formation is a yellowish slate, similar to the best Arizona gold fields, and running high in gold with only a small percentage of silver."

"The country is very rough, and much snow is yet to be encountered in that particular locality."

"My impression is that the district will in six months prove the mineral wonder of the age; certainly, if surface indications count for anything. I go now to camp on the top of the range. I think Allerton is too far down the canon to prove the supply point for the richer part of the district. Somewhere twelve or fifteen miles above Allerton, where water is abundant, will probably spring up a good town."

Allerton's Growth.

To the Editor of the New Mexican. Allerton, Cohetti District, March 15.—I wish to assure you of our entire good wishes for the New Mexican and say that the 500 stalwart miners now here appreciate your enterprise in giving publicity to facts about this district and our town. We are all O. K. We have deputy U. S. surveyors in the field enlarging the town, and we are all changing hands rapidly. Indeed, everything is looking so favorably as one could possibly wish for. A petition for the establishment of a postoffice here with Mr. Richard Green as postmaster is now in the hands of Delegate Joseph at Washington.

We now have three stores, one hotel, one blacksmith shop, one barber shop, one law office, two surveyors, a bakery, several saloons, and one assayer located here. Telephone connection will be established by next Sunday with the outside world via Cerrillos, thence to Santa Fe. Col. T. F. Moore has a franchise for the water supply and will have the best of spring water running through our streets inside of ten days. So you will perceive that we are not idle.

BEN. H. SHAW, President Allerton Town Co.

Nuggets of News.

Mr. W. J. Eaton returned from Cohetti yesterday and goes back again shortly. He said: "The ledges of mineral bearing ore are certainly remarkable. I visited the Crown Point mine and saw where they had stripped the ledge for over thirty feet and neither of the side walls had been reached. They claim that this ledge, clear across, will run $150 to the ton and will hold that average by the car load. You can see this ledge extending forty feet up the mountain."

Mr. John Patterson's stage came in from Cohetti last night. When Mr. Patterson crossed the Rio Grande Tuesday night the water was only about two and a half feet deep. When he crossed it on his return trip last night, it swept into the wagon box, having risen a foot in twenty-four hours. It was very swift and muddy. Mr. Patterson had three loads engaged to go to Cohetti one hour after his arrival in Santa Fe. All the passengers were desirous of going this morning, but Mr. Patterson persuaded them to remain over until to-morrow when the new ferry will be opened for the transfer of passengers and freight. Had it not been for the enterprise of Santa Fe men in building the ferry the camp might have been a temporary set-back."

Simon Sanders, of Trinidad, came in last night from a business trip to Taos, and left this morning for home. His reports that there is every indication of a big mining business this year in that vicinity. At Embudo station a special train arrived from the north containing five cars of building material, and a special car was attached containing several of the Colorado capitalists, who are here to inspect their new purchase at Copper Hill near Embudo.

Don Gavino Garcia has just returned from Jemez and reports that a new mineral discovery has just been made in the Gualandue canon just west of the Jemez hot springs. A number of locations have already been staked out and the ore is free milling and the gold can be seen with the naked eye, the future of this camp is assured. Copper has been found in the Canon de San Diego in paying quantities. In this canon up to 1823 an old Spanish priest by the name of Camacho worked a copper mine and manufactured on the spot thousands of small copper kettles, which were used by the people for making chocolate, which up to that time was the national drink of the natives.

Peter Powers has established his store in Peralta canon. He came in last night and sent out two wagon loads of merchandise this morning.

It is said there are over 800 miners in the Cohetti district now and that the number will reach 1,000 before Saturday night.
