IN SILVER'S CAUSE.

An Important Meeting of Financiers in London to Urge Upon England the Necessity of Free Coinage.

London, May 2.—The international bimetallic conference under the auspices of the bimetallic league opened in the Mansion house to-day with ex-Lord Mayor Evans presiding. After an address by the ex-Lord mayor, Prof. Shield Nicholson read a paper on "The fall to a general level of prices in relation to the appreciation of gold and the divergence relative to an equal value of gold and silver." This afternoon Hon. A. J. Balfour, Conservative leader in the house of commons will make an address which will be followed by a paper by Lord Courtenay, M. P., on "The practicability of maintaining a ratio between gold and silver, under an international bimetallic agreement." This will be followed by a discussion. A banquet will be given this evening to the English and foreign members of the conference.

A PROMINENT GATHERING.
There were about 400 delegates present at the opening session, among them being Brooks Adams, of Boston, Mass.; Mr. Vanderberg, president of the Bank of Netherlands, Amsterdam; Perry Gerlach, president of the French bimetallic league; David Murray, president of the South Australian bimetallic league; Thos. Salt, Sir Malcolm Fraser, agent general in London, for western Australia; W. L. Liddell, ex-governor of the Bank of England, prominent foreign and British financiers and many members of parliament.

The object of the league is to urge upon the British government the necessity of co-operation with other leading nations for the establishment of the free coinage of gold and silver at a fixed ratio.

STRONG LETTERS.
Among the letters of regret was one from Archbishop Walsh, of Dublin. The archbishop said that he was personally glad to see the conference discuss the aspect of the case in which Ireland was most deeply concerned, namely: The ruinous effects of the present artificially created dearth of money among the hand and its interests. Concerning the currency question in general the archbishop wrote: "I can only say that my experience since a year ago but serves to deepen my conviction. The irresistible strength of international bimetallicism was practically illustrated recently by the experimental tampering with the currency of India. This ought surely to be sufficient to finally check any further development in the disastrous policy which has so long held ground in England."

The governor of the Bank of France, M. Magnin, also sent a letter applauding the aims of the conference and saying: "The silver question is one which affects every day upon the finances of the whole world, which requires its solution. Its general interest is intimately bound up with the commercial and industrial prosperity of all the nations." That resolute partisan of the rehabilitation of silver, Professor Francis A. Walker, wrote applauding the restoration of silver to its historical place in the currency of the world, which the bimetallic league is making." President Andrews, of Brown University, at Providence, Rhode Island, said: "Our cause is making rapid progress and we are certain to succeed."

During the discussion which followed the reading of Professor Nicholson's paper Dr. Arentz, a member of the Prussian diet, declared that bimetallicism was making progress in Germany and thought that if an international conference was held it would have a different result than the Brussels conference.

A Democratic Victory.
St. Paul, May 2.—Only twelve precincts have so far been heard from in the city election held to-day. The returns give Smith, Democratic candidate for mayor, a majority of over 1,000.

TURBULENT STRIKERS.

Cleveland, Ohio, In a State of Turmoil—A Mob Bent on Destruction.

Cleveland, May 2.—A mob numbering 6,000 again assembled in the public square this morning and marched out on a mission of destruction to Scranton avenue where every window along the route of march was broken. At the Union street and bolt works the windows were broken, the machinery smashed and the workmen driven away. Twenty-five men were driven from the Church furniture works. Police are being hurried to the scene from all the city stations and all the reserve force, including the mounted men, have been ordered out. Many arrests have been made and great excitement prevails in the southern part of the city.

A FIGHT WITH POLICE.
The mob after moving up Jennings' avenue reformed and were again and again charged by the police. The rioters had meanwhile raided the scrap iron yard and armed themselves with pieces of iron. They were in a frenzy of excitement and were constantly urged on by the leaders to resist the officers. At this juncture a large reinforcement of police arrived on the scene and another charge was made on the mob with drawn clubs. The men showed fight for a moment and then the ranks were broken and the rioters scattered in all directions. The police meantime used their clubs with such effect that many of the rioters were laid low. Patrol wagons were loaded with prisoners and quickly sent to the nearest police station.

Miss Blaine's Presents.

Washington, May 2.—Among the presents at the Blaine-Beal wedding were a diamond spray, the gift of the bridegroom, and two diamond stars, one from the bridegroom's mother and the other which is said to have cost $20,000 from John R. McLean, of Cincinnati.

Can't Hold Lots.

Guthrie, O. T., May 2.—The decision of the interior department in the matter of an important corner lot case in Guthrie is that C. N. Barnes, ex-register of the land office, can not hold lots because he was a government official. This bars all federal officials from securing titles to lots or land and gives to actual settlers over $1,000,000 worth of property in the leading towns of Oklahoma claimed by government officials.

Harrison on the Stump.

Indianapolis, May 2.—Ex-President Harrison will be the leader in the campaign. He pledged himself to the committee for campaign work in his speech before the convention, and Chairman Gowdy says that the committee will undoubtedly call upon him to take the stump as soon as they are ready to open the campaign, and will keep him at work until election day. As to his future ambition or intention Chairman Gowdy says that he knows nothing. Gen. Harrison has volunteered to do his share in the campaign and they will take him at his word.

THE APPROPRIATION BILLS.

Condition of the Various Measures for the Fiscal Year.

Washington, May 2.—But two months remain before the new fiscal year begins, yet not one of the fourteen annual appropriations have passed both houses of congress and been sent to the president for his approval. This delay is caused partly by the fact that during the long session legislation in keeping with party promises or party policy is brought to the front while in the short session little more than the passage of the appropriation bills is attempted.

The house has passed seven of the fourteen appropriation bills for the fiscal years 1894-95, whereas on May 1, two years ago, but six appropriation bills had been acted on by that body in which they, by law, must originate. Two years ago not a single one of the fourteen bills had become a law at the beginning of the fiscal year for which they made appropriations and a joint resolution had to be passed extending the provisions of the existing laws for a period up to which the new appropriations were available. With the prospect of a lengthy tariff debate in the senate the expectation is that similar action will have to be taken at least with respect to some of the appropriations during the present session.

The pension and fortification bills, military academy, postoffice, sundry civil, District of Columbia and consular and diplomatic bills have been passed by the house and are waiting senate action, the army, navy and river and harbor bills pending in the house; the Indian and agricultural bills are ready to be reported to the house; the legislative and the deficiency appropriation bills have not yet been completed by the house committee having their preparation in charge. The foreign affairs bills have not yet been taken up for the purpose of including, as far as may be deemed desirable, all the deficiencies that may have occurred during the year. No less than four urgent deficiency bills have been passed during the present session of congress and received the executive sanction.

A Railroad Manager Dead.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 2.—Oscar Townsend, general manager of the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad, died last night in this city of affection of the liver.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Washington, May 2.—The president has sent to the senate the name of Joseph Bethune to be associate justice of the supreme court of Arizona.

THE INCOME TAX FEATURE.

Senator Voorhees made a plain statement on the floor of the senate yesterday: "I want to say here," said he, in his most impressive manner, "that in spite of what other changes may be made—no matter what may be floating in the air—the income tax will stay in this bill."

TO-DAY'S HOUSE.

Representative Johnson, of Ohio, created a sensation in the house to-day shortly after it assembled, by introducing a resolution calling for a congressional investigation of the beating of citizens by the police during the Coney demonstration at the capital yesterday. He urged it as a question of privilege, declaring that the offense occurred on the capital grounds and purported to be in defense of the members of congress. Speaker Crisp ruled that the resolution was not a question of personal privilege and ruled it out of order. Mr. Johnson asked for unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the resolution, but there was a chorus of objections to the resolution and it was summarily killed.

Massacred by Indians.

San Diego, Cal., May 2.—News has been received here that Gen. Torrez who, with an army of 500 men, was sent out by President Diaz to Guaymas for the purpose of conquering the Yaqui Indians, has been ambushed in a narrow canon, at Sierra de Bacatle, by the Indians and 200 of the army massacred. Reinforcements have been sent and the campaign will be pushed vigorously.

RELEASED ON BONDS.

Coxey and His Lieutenants Get Out of Going to Jail—The Speech He Did Not Make—Renounced by Kelly.

Washington, May 2.—Coxey took some pains to give out for publication a copy of the speech he would have delivered but for the interference of the police. He takes the ground that the capital is the property of the people and a fitting place to mourn over their dead liberties. He said upon the capital steps carpets had been spread for royalty and the lobbyists of trusts and corporations had passed unchallenged on their way to committee rooms. The people are reminded that congress in its promise of returning property to the Sherran act was revealed gave the people the right to petition for legislation that would give employment to every man willing to work and thus bring universal prosperity.

COXEY WILL BE TRIED.

Coxey is under arrest as also two other leaders of the movement which culminated in the trouble at the capitol grounds yesterday. Each one will have to answer to the courts for the part they took in the disturbance. They will be arraigned next Friday before Judge Miller, of the police court. The arrest of Coxey took place to-day in the police court upon information filed against him last night. The men have a considerable array of lawyers to defend them, their counsel including Representatives Pence, of Colorado; Baker, of Kansas; Kem, of Nebraska; and Tarsney, of Missouri. The counsel asked that $500 in cash be allowed to be deposited in lieu of real estate as bail for Coxey's appearance, but the judge refused to accept it and Coxey and Jones were taken to the police station.

RELEASED ON BONDS.

After several cases had been disposed of by the court the information charging Jacob S. Coxey with unlawfully displaying banners was read and he replied, "not guilty." The accused elected to be tried by jury and the hearing of the case was set for Friday morning. When the question of bail came up Judge Miller fixed the amount of bonds in each case at $500. Marlio Ricker, a local attorney of this city, came forward to offer bail for Coxey, but Assistant District Attorney Maloney reminded her of the provision of law which forbids attorneys signing bail bonds, subsequently Frank Hume, a wholesale grocer, signed the bonds of Coxey and Jones.

KELLY TAKES SENSE.

Des Moines.—Kelly's Industrial army made no visible progress toward the national capital to-day, indulging instead in the national game of base ball. Kelly's men made their first appearance upon the diamond crossing bats with the Des Moines Stars; 25 cents admission was charged, and a good sized crowd witnessed the game. Kelly stripped his coat and played first base and showed that he was a very fair player.

Kelly is indignant over Coxey's clash with the Washington authorities and places all the blame on the Commonwealth. He said that Carl Browne was an ass, and declared that Coxey showed no generalship and asserted that his industrial army would have no such trouble when it arrived in Washington. The offer of the Great Western railroad to carry the army to Mount Vernon at $2 per head was withdrawn to-day and indignation has further incensed the labor organizations. They claim that this is another evidence that the railroads have combined against Kelly and are marching in the name of the law to follow the example. A secret conference of labor leaders was held at the Trades Assembly hall where it was confidently stated that Kelly would secure transportation.

COULD NOT CROSS THE RIVER.

St. Louis.—Morrison's army of Coxeyites, 250 strong, started for Washington to-day. When the army reached the bridge across the Mississippi river the officials refused to let them cross without paying fare and the army went into camp while couriers skirmished for the sum necessary to pay the fare across the river.

NO ARMY ORDERS.

Chicago.—Gen. Miles says that so far as he knows no orders have been issued by the war department to the army regarding the Commonwealths who are marching to Washington from different points of the compass.

Randall's army marched from Grand Crossing to Hammond, Indiana, where more recruits than deserters were reported. The ranks contained 500 men when the march began.

THE STRIKE IS OVER.

The Great Northern Employees Win a Memorable Fight—All of Their Demands Granted by the Officials.

St. Paul, May 2.—General Manager C. W. Case, of the Great Northern railway, has resigned his position because of complications arising out of a misunderstanding by the arbitration committee appointed at the beginning of the strike on that road. It is reported that Gen. Supt. Bryan has also resigned.

MEN RETURNING TO WORK.

As a result of the solution of the Great Northern strike last night the men started to work at a number of points along the line of the road and to-day everything is running as well as could be

REV. MALONE SUSPENDED.

The Eloquent Denver Priest Accused of Being Short in His Accounts—A Factional Church War.

Denver, May 2.—Rev. T. H. Malone, pastor of St. Joseph's church, was suspended by Bishop Matz to-day on the charge of citing a bishop into court as a witness. The trustees of the church sued Father Malone for $1,100 alleged by the bishop to be a shortage in the priest's accounts. The suit was brought for the purpose of vindicating Father Malone. An investigation before a referee showed that the church was really indebted to the priest in the sum of $1,600. The bishop to-day obtained an injunction forbidding any further proceedings in the suit. Archbishop Chapelle will investigate the matter. The relations between the bishop and Father Malone have been strained for some time owing to the latter's liberal views on the school question.

A GREAT LABOR VICTORY.

So far as known the strikers themselves committed no violence and the only arrests made were for uncourteous cars, this charge being brought for interference with the mail service. One prominent member of the A. R. U. stated that it was the intention of that body to work so that the old railroad brotherhoods would be the same relation to the A. R. U. that the legislatures of the several states do to the congress of the United States and that the A. R. U. would never rest satisfied until the constitutions of all the old brotherhoods had been taken from them any provision that prohibits their members from belonging to the A. R. U.

MINERS OUT.

Parr, Ill., May 2.—Three hundred and seventy-seven miners out of 800 in a mass meeting to-day voted to go out on strike indefinitely in aid of the national movement.

WANT MORE TIME.

The Chinese Six Companies Ask an Extension.

San Francisco, May 2.—The Chinese Six Companies held a big meeting here last night and again petitioned their minister at Washington to memorialize congress for a further extension of time for registration under the McCready act. Unless their prayer is granted the registration books will close to-morrow.

The Chinese call attention to the fact that every incoming steamer brings many Chinese whose sole purpose in returning is to register, and that on the steamer Oceanic, which arrived here on Saturday, there are over 500 Chinese who want to register, many of whom will not be permitted by the customs officers to come ashore before the time will have expired.

BLAND'S SILVER BILL.

The Missouri Congressman Expects a Favorable Report Upon It Tomorrow—Its Consideration Uncertain.

Denver, May 2.—A Washington special to the Times says that Representative Bland said to-day that he expected that his bill providing for the free and unlimited coinage of silver would be reported upon favorably by the coinage committee to-morrow. Bland is by no means certain that the bill will be taken up for consideration by the house.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 2.

The Boston Globe says: "Senator Hill has given up his presidential aspirations." This is the first exhibition of common sense the New York senator has given since entering the senate.

As long as the Albuquerque Citizen continues to steal the New Mexican's local items and palm them off as original editorial matter there is hope that the Citizen may some day become a great newspaper.

The decision of the supreme court knocking out Gov. Tillman's pet state dispensary law will give the erratic chief executive of South Carolina a chance to attempt to reconstruct that judicial body. It is to be hoped, however, that Tillman is not quite as crazy as Waite, who disposes officials at will.

Gov. TILMAN confesses that he does not know whether free whisky or prohibition exists in South Carolina. This is the condition in all the so-called prohibition states. The trouble is prohibition does not prohibit. Restrictive measures have always proven productive of the most good.

In speaking of the tariff reform bill the New York Times says: "The people of this country do not believe that a nation becomes rich by taxing itself." This is one of the cardinal principles of the Democratic party and is the foundation of its earnest desire to overthrow the iniquitous McKinley bill which taxes the many for the benefit of the few.

In explaining his conversion to woman suffrage Chauncey M. Depew said: "I have seen the error of my ways. That is, I think that times have changed. The position of woman has changed. Woman herself is different in some respects from what she used to be." There are a good many more errors of Chauncey's that must be corrected ere he can hope to become a presidential possibility.

MARRIAGE RECORDS.

Ministers of the gospel and others authorized by law to perform marriages are reminded that under the laws they are required to file in the county clerk's office a record of all marriages. Such filings shall be made at least twice a year, January 1 and July 1. How many ministers are there in New Mexico who have performed their duties in this respect? Precious few, we venture to say.

INVITE THEM TO COME.

Immigrants can now go from the Missouri river to California for $16.50. This should cause a large influx of immigrants to the coast, a part of whom should be induced to locate in New Mexico. The western states have all been built up by immigration from the east and Europe. While it is true that the major portion of European immigrants are not desirable as settlers, it is also true that a great many who come to this country are hard working and thrifty and as a rule make good citizens. This class should be encouraged. New Mexico has plenty of unoccupied land that they could settle on. Southern California's marvelous growth is directly attributable to the dissemination of literature descriptive of that particular section of the country. This territory's marvelous resources can not be given too much publicity.

A SPASM OF VIRTUE.

Denver is in the throes of a virtuous spasm. The new police board has closed all the gambling houses of the city. The knight of the green cloth is a ubiquitous individual, however, and is not easily suppressed. The gamblers of the Queen City have opened up their establishments in an suburb which is but about ten minutes ride from the business center of the city. Experience has taught the officials in the larger cities of the country that the total suppression of gambling is almost an impossibility and that it is far better to allow it to be carried on under restrictive measures than to attempt to suppress it. Denver has become noted for the efficient manner in which its police officials have heretofore controlled the gambling houses, but now it is safe to predict that the city will soon become infested with secret gambling dens wherein many a youth will be ruined.

Press Comments on Territorial Affairs.

San Juan's Most Urgent Need.

What this county needs is direct railroad communication with the capital and other southern points. It is a nuisance to be compelled to wander around in Colorado for two or three days before getting into the business centers of the territory.—San Juan Index.

The Big Mines All on Public Domain.

As regards Cochiti the land grant question does not appear to cut any particular figure. Of course there has been considerable talk about it and some people have been scared, but first and foremost it should be borne in mind that the grant is unconfirmed; second, that the survey made of it is probably incorrect and that a proper survey would throw the northern boundary considerably south of the present claimed northern line, and in any case, even if the grant line is where it is claimed to be by the grant owners and their claims are established, the principal mines are on government land and subject to location under government laws. It seems a pity, however, that New Mexico should be cursed with such uncertainty. It would be infinitely better that the question of land grant boundaries should be authoritatively settled once for all, so that, though millions of acres of New Mexico's valuable lands might be tied up in the hands of rich speculators, the balance would, without question or quibble, be thrown open to location by the hardy men who have taken a part in the development of the great west.—Cerrillos Rustler.

Comments on Work for Law and Order.

San Miguel county is doing a good work for herself and the territory. That a condition of lawlessness has prevailed in that county for a long time is a fact that every good citizen of the territory has deplored; but the spell is broken, and the perpetrators of crime will have a hard time of it in San Miguel county from this time on. The grand jury now in session at Las Vegas have returned nearly fifty indictments for murder, and nearly all of the accused are behind the bars. The power of the white caps has been broken, and the lips of witnesses long sealed through fear of that band of outlaws have been opened. Punishment long deferred will be meted out to the guilty, and life and property will once more be safe in that part of the territory. To the efforts of Gov. Thornton and Chief Justice Smith, more than to any one else, this change is due. The citizens of Las Vegas last Friday night held a public meeting of rejoicing and thanksgiving over the healthy reaction that had set in, and their praises of the governor and the chief justice were gratifying to everyone. That the meeting was a sincere expression of non-partisan feeling is evidenced by the fact that it was presided over by a Republican mayor, and was largely made up of Republicans. Gov. Thornton, in his administration of affairs, and especially in his efforts to have the laws of the territory enforced, is daily adding fresh laurels to his already bright fame.—Roswell Record.

AS IN YOUTH

Ayer's Hair Vigor
CORDIALLY INDORSED.

"I can cordially indorse Ayer's Hair Vigor, as one of the best preparations for the hair. When I began using Ayer's Hair Vigor, all the front part of my head—about half of it—was bald. The use of only two bottles restored a natural growth, which still continues as in my youth. I tried several other dressings, but they all failed. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the best."—Mrs. J. C. Grand Canon of Colorado River.
On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,262 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublimest of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yosemite might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook.
Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read up" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A. A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a free copy of an illustrated book describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

SHOOTING STARS.
The Pugnacious Actor.
I tell you, said the young man with inky fingers, there's a great future for dramatic genius now.
Do you think so?
Yes, and I am going right to work and get a first mortgage on the new deal.
How?
I am going to rewrite Shakespeare and work a slugging match into every one of his plays.

The Era of Music.
This is an athletic age. Every body wants to be strong. The craze—for it has well nigh reached that stage—affects both sexes and even childhood. The pugilistic phase of this fad in young America is by no means morbidly promising. But it is one thing to be endowed with vigor and another to be endowed with muscle. Super muscularity is often induced by physical effort perilsous to health and calculated to shorten life. The vigor which means a regular and efficient discharge of the physical functions, is the first medium at which all may safely aim without causing rupture of breaking blood vessels. Hostetter's Stomach Bitter is largely conducive to a gain in vigor of this sort, since it stimulates and assists digestion, promotes regular biliary secretion and keeps the bowels in order. Sleep, that grand recuperator of nervous vigor, is encouraged by it, and it remedies malaria, rheumatic and kidney trouble.

A Happy Home Now.
Mother: You say your husband no longer pends his evenings at the club?
Daughter: I soon broke him for that.
How did you manage?
Before going to bed. I put two easy chairs close together by the parlor fire, and then held a match to the cigar until the room got a faint odor of smoke.
—New York Weekly.

Dangerous Preparations.
Alcock's Porous Plasters is composed of purely vegetable ingredients and is absolutely harmless. It assists nature in her own efforts to heal and invigorate, and imparts strength to the whole system.
Many preparations contain strong chemical and mineral substances which produce an injurious effect, not only upon the skin, but upon the whole system, although at first they seem very beneficial, on account of their powerful and temporary effect upon the surface.
When purchasing a plaster do not only ask for Alcock's, but make sure that you get it.
Branth's Pills are purely vegetable.
All Things in Season.
Your statesmen do not seem very active just at present, said the foreigner.
No, replied the patriotic man; but just you wait till it's the time of year for fishing or lawn tennis.—Washington Star

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.
A Page From Her History.
The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 35 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 326 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.
Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a discovery of an eminent specialist in heart disease, is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from all opiates or dangerous drugs.
Sold by all druggists.

GEMS IN VERSE.

The Fault of the Age.
The fault of the age is a mad endeavor
To leap to heights that were made to climb.
By a burst of strength, of a thought most clever,
We plan to forestall and outwit Time.
We scorn to wait for the thing worth having,
We want high noon at the day's dim dawn.
We find no pleasure in toiling and saving,
As our forefathers did in the old times gone.
We crave the gain, but despise the getting;
We want wealth—not as reward, but dower—
And the strength that is wasted in useless fretting
Would fell a forest or build a tower.
To covet the prize, yet to shrink from the winning;
To thirst for glory, yet fear to fight—
Why, what can it lead to but sinning,
To mental languor and moral blight?

Better the old slow way of striving.
And counting small gains when the year is done,
Than to use our force and our strength consuming,
And to grasp for pleasure we have not won.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Molasses Catches Flies.
My Uncle Ephraim was a man who did not live in vain.
And yet why he succeeded so I never could explain.
By nature he was not endowed with wit to a degree,
But folks allowed there nowhere lived a better man than he;
He started poor, but soon got rich; he went to congress then,
And had the honor of honor long against much brainier men.
He never made a famous speech nor did a thing of note,
And that praise of Uncle Eph weiled up from every throat.
Now father was a smarter man, and yet he never won
Such wealth and fame as Uncle Eph, "the deerskin's favorite son."
He had "convictions," and he was not loath to speak his mind—
He went his way and said his say as he might be inclined.
Yes, he was brainy; yet his life was hardly a success.
He was too honest and too smart for this vain world, I guess.
At any rate I wondered he was unsuccessful when
My Uncle Eph, a duller man, was so revered of men.

When Uncle Eph was dying, he called me to his bed,
And in a tone of confidence inviolate he said:
"Dear William, ere I seek repose in yonder blissful sphere,
I fain would breathe a secret in your adolescent ear.
Strive not to hew your way through life—it
Be sure the salve of flattery soaps all you do
And say.
Herein the only royal road to fame and fortune lies,
Put not your trust in vinegar—molasses catches flies."
—Eugene Field.

Despair.
Oh, I am sick at heart. The eye of day,
The insistent summer sun, seems pitiless,
Shining in all the barren crevices
Of weary life, leaving no shade, no dark.
Where I may dream that hidden waters lie,
As pitiless as to some shipwrecked man,
Who, gasping from his narrow shoal of sand
On the wide, unpeopled round of blue and blue,
Sees that full light is errorless despair.
The insects hum that slurs the silent dark
Startles and seems to cheat me, as the tread
Of coming footsteps cheats the midnight watcher.
Who holds his heart and waits to hear them pause,
And hears them never pause, but pass and die.
Music sweeps by like a messenger,
Carrying a message that is not for me.
The very sameness of the hills and sky
Is obdurate, and the lingering hours
Wait round me dumbly, like superfluous slaves,
Of whom I want naught but the secret news
They are forbid to tell.
—George Elliot.

A Pagan's Prayer.
O Mother, I have loved thee without fear,
And looked upon the mystery of change,
Since first a child, upon the closing year,
I saw the snowflakes fall and whispered,
"Strange."
Because in these pale borderlands of fate
Grief had companioned me, I have not quailed,
And when love passed into the outer strait
I have not faltered, and thou hast not failed.
For I have lifted up my heart to thee,
And thou hast ever hearkened and drawn near,
And bowed thy shining face down over me
Till I could hear thee as the hill flowers hear.
And I have cried to thee in lonely need,
Being but a child of thine bereft and wrung,
Till all the rivers in the hills gave heed,
And the great hill winds in thy holy tongue—
That ancient incommunicable speech
The April stars and autumn suns know—
Soothed me and calmed with solace beyond reach
Of human ken, mysterious and low.
Then in that day when the last snow shall come
And chill the fair round world within its fold,
Leave me not friendless in the gathering gloom,
But girl thine arms about me as of old.
With sleep once more in thy compassionate hands,
Croon me a murmur as of many rills
When I would rove the crimson valley lands,
With all my vanished comrades of the hills.
When that great storm out of the dark shall drive
And blur the sun and bungle my release,
Let not thy weary earthling faint nor strive,
Faring beyond the tumult to thy peace.
—Bliss Carman.

Her Day.
He was a mighty, rolling river;
She was a little, rippling rill;
He was a mountain naught could shiver;
She was a tiny, shifting hill.
He was a lion, loudly roaring;
She was a lambkin, born to love;
He was an eagle, proudly soaring;
She was a gentle, cooing dove.
He was a sturdy oak, defiant;
She was a slender, clinging vine;
He was a brave and brawny giant;
She was a wee thing feminine.
Ah, but the day when they went shopping
She was the one who took the lead;
She was the earth, so far o'ertripping
Him that he seemed a mustard seed!
—Washington Post.

A Sunset.
A single sunset hath more loveliness
Than all the boasted paintings kings possess.
Take the rare moment ere the sun sinks
Behind far hills and their mysterious brinks,
Then Nature revels in most glorious mood
And shows her powers as if to shame our brood.
—Clarence A. Buskirk.

Success.
Those who succeed will always have their crown,
While thousands just as noble, and who strive
As eagerly to win the self same boon,
Find at the end an ignominious grave.
They sink 'mid sneers and slander into death,
Or die forgotten in oblivion's night.
—Walter Malone.

HE RECKONED NOT.
Uncle Billy Wanted to Oblige the Colonel,
but That Was Too Much.
I was sitting in the office of a cotton warehouse with Major Curtis in Selma, Ala.,

along the platform, and the major called him in and said:
"Uncle Billy, I don't see you very often of late."
"No, sah. I've dun gittin slightly feeble-ous 'bout movin around."
"I've got about 20 of the nicest little pigs
you ever saw in a pen."
"Has yo'?"
"And a new lot of chickens."
"Lots of sweet potatoes around now, Uncle Billy."
"Yes, sah."
"And the boys just got the smokehouse filled up the other day."
"Dey did, eh?"
"You are a widower yet, aren't you, uncle?"
"Yes, sah—oh, yes."
"Well, I've got a mighty fine looking colored coon, and you must come down and see her. Just drop in on us any evening."
"Majah," said the old man as he vigorously scratched his head, "I would dun like to oblige you all, but I reckon I won't come."
"You won't? Why, what's the matter?"
"I was down dar one night las' spring to

Fast Enough.
An employee of a large granite company was driving from the station with several kegs of blasting powder and dynamite cartridges in his load and overtook a young man walking. Without waiting for an invitation the pedestrian sprang up into the wagon and sat down upon one of the powder kegs.
He was a talkative young man and began at once to make derogatory remarks about the speed of the wagon or the lack of it.
"We're passing everything on the road," he said cheerily—"that is, everything that is stationary."
Not receiving a reply, he continued, "I was half a mind to hire a landslide or a glacier just for speed, you know, but I guess we are doing about as well."
He was silent for some time; then he broke forth again:
"I say—stop the horse! The earth is revolving fast enough to get us there."
Just then he prepared to scratch a match on the keg. The driver spoke rather lazily:
"If you are going my way, this is just as fast as it will be, but if you want to go straight up at right angles to the road, just light that match on that powder—an you're there now."
The young man decided to walk.—Youth's

The Difference.
A very good story is going the rounds about Jacob Tome, the millionaire bank president, who the other day left a package containing $60,000 in bank notes lying on a car seat. As is well known, his wealth, which is estimated at several millions, was accumulated by hard work and shrewd investments. He started life on a raft, and at one time during his career was a hostler in Maryland. Some time ago, so the story goes, a friend of his, who had been a fellow hostler in Tome's early days and who had never risen above that, approached him for the loan of $300. He was informed that he could have it upon producing proper security. The demand for security induced Mr.
Tome's hostler friend, and turning to him
he said, "Why, dang it, Jake, weren't you and I hostlers together?" and received the reply, "Yes, and you're a hostler still."—

And others we peacefully pass.
But there's one we encounter wherever we stray
Of whom we'd be gladly bereft—
Oh, why doesn't Providence call him away?
The demon who turns to the left.
He seems to take pleasure in dodging about.
To him 'tis the highest delight

With a movement both subtle and deft,

THE MAGIC CITY.

Allerton, in the very heart of all the mining district, located in the mouth of Pino Canon, a most beautiful stretch of level country with grand pines of great height so distributed that it has the appearance of a most beautiful park, and so sheltered by the immense cliffs on either side that it is not affected by the winds or snow. It is surely destined to be the liveliest and largest city, in fact, the only city of any importance in all this Cochiti district. Nothing on earth can stop the rush here.

On the 25th of February, 1894, the town of Allerton was laid out and before sunset of same day over eighty lots had been sold. Without a house there in less than thirty days. It now has a U. S. post-office, two assayers, two notary offices, one barber shop, two meat markets, one bakery, two hotels, three restaurants, three general stores, one blacksmith, one hardware store, thirty miles of telephone, water piped to all parts of the city from the best and purest mountain springs. Where in the United States is there a town that can show such progress? Where is there an opportunity to so quickly realize immense returns from so small an investment?

Lots of strictly present value are now on sale from $25 upward. This company is incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000; holds for town purposes 320 acres of the only eligible ground for a city in the district.

Any of the officers of this company will cheerfully and honestly answer any questions or conscientiously choose for non-residents the most desirable lots left according to price, and remit deed for same, or will hold lots for thirty days if small payment is made, sending receipt for same. State about the price of lots desired and address any of the following:

THE COCHITI REGION.

Action of the Surveyor General on the Lone Star Survey—A Test Case Finally Made Up.

The Miners' Contention to Go Up to the General Land Office—Live News from the Mines.

Surveyor General Easley has rejected the survey of the Lone Star group of mines at Cochiti, owned by Mr. Thomas Lowthian and others. The survey was made by U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyors H. T. and L. M. Brown and was submitted to the surveyor general preparatory to asking for patents.

The following letter explains why the survey was rejected:

Messrs. Thomas Lowthian et al., Care of Catron & Spies, Santa Fe, N. M.:
Santa Fe, May 1, 1894.—Gentlemen: In the matter of the survey of the Lone Star group of mining claims, consisting of the Free Trade, Lone Star and Dry Monopole mining claims, situated in the Cochiti mining district, Bernalillo county, N. M., I have to state that the survey of said group of mining claims has been made and returned to this office by Hiram T. Brown, U. S. deputy mineral surveyor, and upon examination of the connection of said mining claims with a corner of the public surveys in tp. 18 n., r. 4 e., I find that said claims are situated in the w 1/2 of sec. 36 of said tp. 18 n., r. 4 e., and are within the boundaries of the Canada de Cochiti grant, reported No. 135 as shown by the preliminary survey thereof on file in this office.

The land upon which said mining claims are located being within the established boundaries of a private land claim is segregated from the public domain, and not subject to location and entry under the United States mining laws. I can not therefore approve the survey of said claims.

At the time of the application for the survey of said claims, from information received, I was under the impression that they were north of the established boundary of said grant and upon public domain, in tp. 18 n., r. 4 e., and I accordingly directed that the survey of said claims be made. The public surveys in that vicinity were executed prior to the grant survey and the connection of the north boundary of the grant with the public surveys in said township show that about a mile and a half of said township on the south boundary to be within the boundaries of said grant; and while there is no connection given from said mining claims to the grant boundary, it is evident from the records of this office, unless there is an error in the connections as given in the field notes of the survey of the north boundary of said grant, that said mining claims are within the established boundaries of the grant, and hence, as before stated, the land is not subject to location and entry under the United States mining laws.

Under the rules of this department, you are allowed thirty days within which to appeal from the action of this office, declining to approve the survey of said mining claims, for the reason stated. Very respectfully,
CHAS. F. EASLEY,
Surveyor General.

According to the above the Lone Star and all the valuable property lying south of it, including the town of Eagle, is on

SPOTS LIKE RAW BEEF

Erysipelas and Scrofula All My Life. In Cloths For Weeks. Bilsters Size of Peas. Burned Like Fire. No Rest or Sleep.

Tried Three Doctors. Did No Good. Got Cuticura. Immediate Help. Entire Cure in Three Months.

I have been troubled with Erysipelas and Scrofula all my life. Recently my limbs came out in red spots from the size of my hand down to the nearest niple. Some of them would fester a little, but mostly they were red, and the large spots looked more like raw beef, and would raise up quite a little from the surface. There would be blisters come as large as peas in different places with the rest. It was all over my limbs from my feet to my body, across my shoulders, and my arms, hands and wrists had to be done up in cloths for weeks, and they would itch and burn as though I was afire, and there was no sleep for me, and my limbs swelled a good deal. I tried three doctors, but did me no good. Finally a friend recommended CUTICURA REMEDY, and my husband got them. I gave them a thorough trial, and they helped me right off. In three months time I was all well. Now this was three years ago this spring. I have used six or seven boxes of CUTICURA, and have taken nearly a dozen bottles of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and the CUTICURA SOAP I use entirely, and there is no other like it for bath and toilet.

THE PENITENTIARY.

Confirmation of the Superintendent's Appointees—Figures Showing Economy and Good Management.

The board of penitentiary commissioners held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon. There were present Commissioners H. H. Betts, R. A. Baes, W. E. Dame, O. A. Hadley and N. B. Laughlin. Commissioners Lopez and McQuiston were absent. The session was a short one, only routine business being disposed of. Quite a number of bills for supplies and expenses, including the monthly pay roll of $590, were approved and ordered paid.

Superintendent Bergmann submitted his nominations and they were confirmed as follows:

Assistant Superintendent, Oscar L. Merrill, of Rio Arriba county; matron, Mrs. O. L. Merrill; physician, Dr. J. H. Sloan; day cell-keeper, G. B. Chaplin; night cell-keeper, Wm. Cole; captain day guards, Lucio Lopez; captain night guards, Jesus Tapia; assistant cell-keeper, R. L. Baes; day guards, Matt Breeden and J. F. Steele; night guards, Carlos Dominguez and Clemente Ortiz.

The storekeeper submitted his monthly report. There are 120 convicts in the penitentiary and the total number of days work for April amounted to 8,542. The average cost of feeding each convict is 12 cents per day or $3.60 per month. The law allows $506.02 per month for maintaining the penitentiary, but under the economical administration of Supt. Bergmann it cost last month only $421, thus making a clear saving of $85.02.

The commissioners thoroughly examined the two new machines for making brick and sewer pipe and expressed themselves as being entirely satisfied.

Wanted—At New Mexican office, laws of 1887 and 1889 and Compiled Laws of 1881. Ascension day services at the cathedral to-morrow. Services the same as on Sunday.

If you have anything for sale, loan or rent; want to buy or sell, advertise in the New Mexican.

To-morrow being the feast of the Ascension there will be service in the church of the Holy Faith at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Less than twenty dog license tags have been thus far disposed of by the city clerk. The city marshal to-day began a war of extermination on the unlicensed canine.

Business is first-class on the narrow gauge lines and Supt. Helm is figuring on putting on an extra train. Ten car loads of merchandise were left over at Espanola yesterday.

Citizens have certainly displayed a great deal of leniency toward the water company and have patiently waited for months for them to do the fair thing and fill up those gaping trenches.

Mr. F. E. Corbin, of Corydon, Iowa, who with his wife has come to make his home here, has secured a position at Franz' hardware house. He is a practical man in this business.

Visitors in a community are always readers of advertisements in the newspapers. There are a great many strangers coming to Santa Fe daily, and it will pay the local merchant to look well after the wording of his advertisement.

Make business for yourself by advertising. That's what the Santa Fe brewery is doing and it now covers a new trade territory extending 150 miles north and south of Santa Fe. Other local business men can do as much for themselves if they will try.

The old timers who threatened to come back when Santa Fe's big water system was assured, are beginning to return. George Berleth and family have arrived from Trinidad to make Santa Fe their home once more and Henry Wertz is also back from Trinidad, satisfied that "Santa Fe is the best town in the southwest."

The Santa Fe announces one fare for the round trip to the gatherings at the following places: League of American Wheelmen, at Denver; Republican National League, Denver; Christian Endeavor society, Cleveland; Baptist Young People's society, Toronto, Canada; Knights of Pythias, Washington; Dunkard church conference, Myrsdale, Pa.; National Educational association, Asbury Park.

Ed Boylan's term of thirty days in the county jail for murderously assaulting Foreman Tom Jones, of the water company, expired yesterday afternoon. Boylan is the man who recently escaped from the jail in company with Frank Sheldon, and upon his release yesterday he was placed under $200 bonds to keep the peace.

Jake Gold has added an interesting department to his curio store. He has two Mexican women making blankets on a loom that is said to be over 100 years old. The two women thus make one blanket a day. This is the first time the blankets have been made in a store, the Mexicans heretofore preferring to take the yarn home and there doing their work. The new departure will undoubtedly attract the attention of many visitors.

Park Policeman Bowers was thrown into a paroxysm of joy last evening when he discovered how beautifully the blue grass in the plaza is beginning to show its tiny needles. Mr. Bowers is taking great pride in caring for the plaza. He thinks the citizens should help him out in the way of supplying geraniums for the flower bed about the monument. If one out of ten families who have house plants would contribute one good, strong, healthy plant, large and well rooted, this circular bed could be soon converted into a mass of bloom. Let the housewives send a contribution to Mr. Bowers.

OFFICIAL BUDGET.

An interesting coal land case was decided by the register of the land office this morning. The litigants were Wm. E. Broad and David Ray. The controversy involved the ownership of 100 acres of very valuable coal land situated in Rio Arriba county. Broad alleged priority of possession and Ray claimed adverse possession. The case was decided in Ray's favor. It will be appealed.

Surveyor General Easley will order a new survey of the Santa Fe grant, in accordance with the recent decree of the U. S. court of private land claims. The preliminary survey was made by Griffin and McMullen in September 1877 and gives the city 17,361.11 acres of land. According to Gen. Easley the new boundaries will be practically the same as those established by the preliminary survey.

The territorial grand jury having returned an indictment against James Beebe for an indecent assault, he was arraigned before Judge Thomas Smith this afternoon, and fined $100 and costs—in all $120.10.—Las Vegas Optic.

The New Mexico board of education is in session at the governor's office this afternoon. There are present: Gov. Thornton, President Stover, of the University; President Hadley, of the Agricultural college; President Schneider, of St. Michael's college and Hon. Amado Chavez, superintendent of public instruction. The principal business is to name the directors to conduct the summer normal schools to be held at Los Lunas, Chama, Taos, Mora and Roswell.

Matrimonial.

Joe Doherty and Miss Annie Cassidy were married at Mora a few days ago.

Edward A. Cahoon, cashier of the bank of Roswell, was married to Miss Mabel Howell at Merced, Cal., last week.

The New Mexican congratulates all concerned.
