THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Senator Teller Eloquently Supported the Income Tax Feature of the Tariff Bill.

Call's Savory Socks—Doubt Whether the House will Agree to the Senate Sugar Schedule—Free Coinage Move.

Washington, June 22.—No agreement has yet been reached by the senate ways and means committee concerning the stand which the house is to take on the sugar schedule of the tariff bill. It is believed, however, that the struggle between the senate and house on this schedule will be desperate with the possibility of a long dead-lock between the houses. The Wilson bill, as it left the house, contained no sugar schedule, as the tax on raw and refined sugars was struck out and the bounty was abolished outright. The senate schedule, therefore, is the only sugar proposition to go to the conference committee, and the first issue between the houses will be on the question of rejecting the senate schedule entirely and thus returning to the house the original form of the bill, which contained no sugar schedule. If one or the other side does not yield on this issue the next step will be to frame a compromise.

TO-DAY'S SENATE. Quite a number of bills passed in the senate before the consideration of the tariff bill was resumed in the senate today. The house bill to incorporate the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias, reported favorably by Senator Faulkner, immediately passed.

When the tariff bill was laid before the senate SENATOR KYLE TOOK THE FLOOR. Senator Kyle proceeded with a general argument favoring the income tax, dwelling on the decline of farm values in the west and the gradual concentration of wealth in the hands of the few. He argued that the protective system had been responsible for the concentration of wealth in the hands of the few and that it was just and equitable that the few should bear a share of the burden of taxation, which their wealth made them able to bear.

While Senator Kyle was speaking Senator Call, of Florida,

BATHER SHOCKED THE SPECTATORS in the gallery by taking off his shoes and elevating a pair of large blue stockings to a neighboring desk. He gently agitated the spectators and spectators with a large palm leaf fan and seemed to succeed in making himself fairly comfortable.

At the conclusion of Senator Kyle's speech Senator Vest offered four additional amendments to the income tax section. The most important reduced the exemption from $4,000 to $3,000 and exempted from the operation of the tax the building and loan associations making loans only to their shareholders. Another provides that in reckoning the profits of corporations for taxation the actual operating expenses, losses and interests shall be deducted.

Senator Vest's amendment provided that mutual life insurance companies shall not be required to pay an income tax upon sums repaid to policy holders. The amendment also provides that charitable, benevolent and other societies shall not be subject to the operations of the tax, nor any insurance company or association, which conducts all its business solely upon

THE MUTUAL PLAN nor any of the benefits of its policy holders or members nor the part of the business of any insurance company having capital stock and its shareholders which is conducted on the mutual plan separate from the stock plan of insurance and solely for the benefit of policy holders and the members insured on said mutual plan and holding all property belonging to and derived therefrom in trust and reserved for the benefit of the policy holders and members insured on said mutual plan.

SENATOR TELLER TALKS TO THE POINT. Senator Teller supported the income tax proposition. He quoted from the utterances of some leaders of the Republican party, past and present, who advocated the income tax. Among the number was Oliver P. Morton, who had characterized it as the most just and equitable of all taxes. He added that Senator Sherman had eulogized it as had Senator Morrill, of Vermont.

"That was during the war," interrupted Senator Morrill, "it was imposed as a war measure."

"I stand by it now," replied Mr. Teller, "for substantial reasons."

"I don't think it was an equitable tax when it was proposed nor defend it even as a war tax," said Mr. Morrill.

TO-DAY'S HOUSE.

Immediately upon convening the house went into committee of the whole on the anti-option bill of Mr. Hatch, of Missouri.

The house in committee of the whole today, by a vote of 81 to 74, adopted the amendment offered by Representative C. W. Stone, of Pennsylvania, exempting thirty-day options from the provisions of the bill. This was an unexpected defeat by Mr. Hatch and others and is aimed to create confusion. Mr. Hatch says the amendment, if adopted, will destroy the bill.

The bill was read by sections for amendments and Mr. Aldrich, of Illinois, offered one in the list of agricultural products affected by the bill. The amendment of Mr. Aldrich was adopted on division by a vote of 93 to 38.

The Stone amendment was then voted on and the result was ninety-five to ninety-two and it was thereupon declared lost by a tie.

The house adopted the Cox amendment exempting sales for future delivery from the operations of the anti-option whenever the seller is a bona fide owner of the property.

GRAND GATHERING.

Thousands of German Singers Meet in New York City.

New York, June 22.—The flags of Germany float lazily in the faint summer breeze over the Madison Square Garden. The parade today in honor of the national songfest, which is to be held in that vast structure during the next few days. The festival will be inaugurated this evening with a torchlight procession. President Cleveland is expected to-day. According to announcement he will review the parade from the balcony of the Victoria hotel. With him also will be Gov. Flower, Mayor Gilroy and Gov. Hogg, of Texas.

She is permitted to see no one, and will not be wholly out of danger, according to her physicians, for ten days or two weeks.

A. T. & S. F. AFFAIRS.

Stocks Down, But Reorganization Admitted to be a Good Thing.

New York, June 22.—The A. T. & S. F. railroad reorganization scheme is having the effect of hammering down its stocks with a vengeance. When the road went into the hands of a receiver it was quoted at 10 1/2 cents. Two days following the appointment of the reorganization committee the stock reached the mark of 15 1/2, to which place it had gradually climbed up. There the quotation remained for several weeks, until it leaked out what the reorganization committee was aiming at. Now it is down to 7 cents, with the prospects of going to 5 cents. The road is in a financial distress and needs ready money and proposes to have it. Some time during the next week the reorganization committee will publish its scheme, the foundation of which will be an assessment of $12 per share. This prediction seems to be well founded, as many amounts of Santa Fe stock is going begging on change. The men who own 7 cent shares do not see the fun of having to put up $12 per share. If the $12 assessment scheme is made to go, the Santa Fe would at once be among the strongest railroads in the west.

Westward Freight Rates.

Kansas City, June 22.—The west bound merchandise rates from Chicago and Mississippi points to the Missouri river and westward are to be advanced on July 1. Following is the scale of advances: Class 1 and 2, 5 cents per cwt.; class 3, 3 cents; class 4 and 5, 2 cents. There will be no advance in class E. This puts the rates higher than they have been in five years in this territory.

TELLER'S RETALIATION.

Wants to Push the Duty High on Diamonds to Even Up with Silver's Enemies.

London, June 22.—Senator Teller's proposed high tariff on diamonds is causing a sensation here, where the Rothschilds have recently bonded $4,500,000 (nearly $20,000,000) of bonds for the South Africa diamond trust. Besides the Rothschilds the trust is known to be very largely interested in the stocks of the diamond trust. The proposed high tariff would produce a great fall in the value of the immense stock of unsold diamonds on hand and greatly reduce the dividends to holders of the trust stocks, which for years past have been 25 per cent.

Senator Teller's amendment is regarded as a blow aimed by the leader of the American free silver men at the Rothschilds, who have done so much to maintain the single gold monetary standard.

Dead Jurist Buried.

London, June 22.—The remains of the late Lord Chief Justice Coleridge, who died on June 14, were conveyed today to Westminster abbey in an open hearse covered with floral wreaths, sent from the aristocracy of the legal world. After the funeral services at the abbey the remains were taken to Attery, St. Mary county, Devon, for burial.

INTIMIDATED STRIKERS.

Hungarian Labor Motors Fled Upon the Arrival of the Pennsylvania Militia.

Panxutawny, Pa., June 22.—The 5th and 16th regiments and the Sheridan troops, under command of Brig. Gen. John A. Wiley, reached here at 7 o'clock this morning. The troops mustered nearly 1,000 men and were marched at once to Walston, the scene of the trouble. What the outcome will be is hard to determine, but there will be no difficulty with the English speaking miners. The trouble is entirely with foreigners, Hungarians, Italians and Slavs.

ARRIVAL OF THE TROOPS.

The troops arrived at 6 o'clock this morning and by 10 o'clock surrounded Walston without a shot being fired. When troop A reached Bell, Lewis & Co's. land skirmish lines were formed and a careful search made for the ambushed strikers and cannon. Although evidences were seen where the Italians and their batteries had been planted the cannon had disappeared. The foreigners were greatly excited by the approach of the militia and quickly melted away, running into houses and making a break for the woods.

This afternoon the coal company notified all foreigners to vacate the company's premises. Those refusing will be evicted.

THE POET-SCOUT.

One of the Heirs to a Scotland Estate Valued at $200,000.

Chicago, June 22.—Capt. Jack Crawford, familiarly known as "the Poet Scout," will sail for Scotland about July 15, on a mission which may result in proving him to be one of the principal heirs of the great Wallace estate, now held by the state of New York and New York City, and estimated to be worth $200,000,000. The trip to Scotland is taken upon the advice of the New York lawyers who have been at work upon the case for some years and believe that Capt. Jack will be able to obtain in Scotland the missing links of evidence necessary to perfect his own title and that of his immediate relatives on his mother's side to the lapsed estate.

He appeared at the car window and shook hands with the multitude, whose cheers were deafening. One man not friendly to Breckenridge pinned up a banner, "Protection to American women," which was torn into shreds by the congressmen's admirers.

Saint St. Marie, Mich., June 22.—J. W. Corrigan, 93 years old, was fatally shot last night by one of his boarders who mistook him for a burglar. Corrigan's daughter gave the alarm, pointing out her father's form in the darkness and the boarder fired the fatal shot.

After a lengthy executive session to-day, this action was decided on by the convention. President Debs stated at the conclusion of the executive session that, in his opinion, the boycott would be declared, beginning on Thursday next. He said the convention knew what answer they would get from the officers of the company, and that the sending of another committee to wait upon them was purely a matter of form.

PHENOMENAL WORK.

District Attorney Crist and the Territorial Grand Jury Commended for the Vigorous Manner in Which They Discharged Their Duties.

After returning indictments against thirty-one persons, the territorial grand jury adjourned with a brief verbal report, wherein it was explained that lack of time and funds prevented a more protracted session. The jury was really in session only four and a half days, one whole day being lost in the universal quest for little Jack Downing, the judge, lawyers, jurors and witnesses joining the citizens and soldiers on the trail after the missing lad.

District Attorney Crist only pressed forward the cases of persons in jail, such as might be barred by the statute of limitation, and those in which witnesses had been recognized and actually appeared. According to the district attorney, about seventy-five witnesses were examined and the cost of the session was less than $600. Certainly this was doing a vast amount of work in a very short time at minimum expense. About 100 cases more would have been examined if funds would have permitted.

The district attorney is being commended on all hands for the vigorous, impartial and economical manner in which he discharged his arduous and important duties in the premises.

FRIDAY, JUNE 22.

Col. Beckenridge does not seem to have signed for a 4th of July oration this year.

The St. Louis bank clearances last week were larger than for the corresponding week in 1893. This is a straw of encouragement.

The new sultan of Morocco has 2,000 wives. Great heavens, what bills for new bonnets and ribbons he must have to pay along about Easter Sunday.

If the figures are to be relied on the present national administration is making a record for real economy that will not stand the tax payers when all the returns are in.

It is solemnly announced that Gen. Harrison is again in the race for the presidency. There is something peculiarly fit about Calico Charlie Foster having charge of his campaign.

Why don't the green goods men form a pool and ask congress to protect their "infant industry?" Their easy money-getting scheme is about as legitimate as the method of the average pool or trust.

BOSS TOM PLATT has issued a ukase to the effect that Hon. Levi P. Morton can not have the Republican nomination for governor in New York. Thus the amiable Mr. Morton is saved a good deal of expense and bother.

The Boston wool market review, clipped from the American Wool & Cotton Reporter and weekly sent to western papers by wire, is purely one sided, intended to depress the market. The practical western man who raises sheep and wool can't be fooled by any such scheme.

DAVID BENNETT HILL wriggled his last wriggle yesterday when he made his long-talked-of speech against the income tax. As might have been expected his opposition was based on purely political grounds from which it appears that Mr. Hill also has yet to learn that what the country needs is less politics and more business.

According to the London Homotannin habit of betting and gambling, particularly among women, is rapidly increasing in England. This is not amazing when one reflects that the Prince of Wales squanders much of his time and money at baccarat and the new prime minister acted as if he had reached the pinnacle of earthly joy when he won the Derby with Ladnas. The force of example is powerful in this world.

The attorney general of the United States is preparing to bring suits for the vast sum of $171,000,000, the aggregate indebtedness of the Central Pacific, Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific railroads to the government. This is a move in the right direction, even if it does result in the virtual triumph of the Populist doctrine of government ownership of railroads. Railroads controlled by Massachusetts and California millionaires should be compelled to pay their debts as well as the mortgage-burdened farmers of Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

The indorsement of the Peoples' party by the American Railway Union at Chicago yesterday lends interest to President Debs' statement that a combination is shortly to be effected between this organization, the Knights of Labor and Farmers' Alliance which will control 1,600,000 votes in the fall elections. The professional politicians may not relish this combination, but it means a whole lot for the cause of silver and of labor. At last the real workingmen of the country seem to have found out that their best and surest triumphs are to be won by the ballot.

CORNERED BY ALLEN.

Farmer Allen, of Nebraska, although training with the Populists, is really head and shoulders above most men now posing in public life when it comes to sizing them up as statesmen. He did something in the senate on Tuesday that set the dry bones of Republicanism rattling at a lively rate. For weeks Senator Allen has been trying to find out how many persons there are in the United States "whose wages are or may be claimed to be affected by tariff legislation." Accordingly, he went after the facts in the shape of an official inquiry, offering in the senate a resolution calling upon the secretary of the treasury "to inform the senate as to the number of persons engaged in protected industries in the United States."

Then what did the Republicans do? Opposed the resolution with all the vehemence they could muster! They don't want their idols shattered by any such cold facts. The circumstance clearly discloses how insincere the Republican statesmen are in claiming that tariff legislation is now in progress is responsible for the evils that have befallen trade and commerce.

TAXATION.

A COMMUNICATION.

Editor Daily New Mexican.

Rutherford, N. J., June 11, 1894.—Dear Sir: In one of your recent issues you ridicule the single tax. I infer from this that you do not understand the single tax, as it is too serious a subject for ridicule to those who understand it. Let me explain it to you. When the deity placed man on this planet he naturally provided for his maintenance. But man was condemned to obtain the means of life by his labor applied to the land (by land I mean all natural opportunities). Among the Jews, God provided against the monopoly of the land by the few to the exclusion of the many, by giving them this command, through Moses: "Thou shalt not sell the land forever, for it is mine, and ye are but strangers and sojourners with me." There was also a law providing that the land should return to its original possessor every fifty years. It has been the custom among other nations to allow private property in land, and as man must live on and from the land, the few who, ultimately, were allowed to monopolize it practically had the rest at their mercy and could make any terms with them they wished. It is the monopoly of land, (natural opportunities), by the few that has caused the downfall of every great nation. (Rome for example), and will ultimately cause the ruin of this country unless destroyed in time. This we propose to do by taking the full rental value of these natural opportunities by taxation, thus destroying the monopoly of them and opening them up to use, as was intended they should be. If you acknowledge that man has a right to life you must also acknowledge that he has a right to the means of procuring the necessities of life by his labors, without having to first purchase such a right from some fellow man who has forestalled him on this planet. To make every child born into the world pay for room to stand on, which the creator has given him free, is clearly unjust, not to say monstrous. I hope you will give the subject serious consideration and study it up even if you do not believe in it now. It can do you no harm to hear the other side. Truly, W. H. McSHEE.

Grand Canon of Colorado River.

On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,200 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A first-class stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublimest of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yosemite might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook.

Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read up" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a free copy of an illustrated book describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

Why Take the Wabash

Yon May Strike It Rich.

If you could pick up $21,000 in gold by one week's work, it would be worth going a few hundred miles to get, wouldn't it?

That's just what the Aztec mine (Colfax Co., New Mexico) produced in seven days with little product to date of nearly a million dollars.

This rich mine is one of many in the newly discovered Morero valley and Ute Creek placer and quartz gold districts. Take Santa Fe route to Springer, N. M., thence stage to the camp.

Short winters, delightful climate and fine prospects. This may be the chance of a life-time. Ask local agent A. T. & S. F. R. R. for illustrated pamphlet. It tells the truth about this new country.

Newspaper Subscription List.

Few readers or publishers of papers fully and clearly understand the laws governing subscriptions. The decision of the United States court is:

1. Subscribers who do not give express orders to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publisher may continue sending them until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the postoffice to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers and the papers are sent to the former address they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncollected, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance, they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it; otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice with payment of all arrearages is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for sometime unpaid, and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused" and has a postal card sent notifying the publisher, lays himself liable to arrest and fine, the same as for theft.

Notice.

To the Tax-Payers of Santa Fe County: I desire to state to you that I have about completed a list of delinquent taxpayers in this county, which has been a great task owing to the fact that delinquent taxes date back as far as 1884. It has been my intention as collector of taxes in and for this county to allow each and every taxpayer all the time possible for the payment of his or her taxes. By this notice I desire to inform you that sometime during the early part of July I will publish the delinquent tax list showing your indebtedness, in accordance with a requirement of the law. After due notice by such publication I will proceed to collect taxes from each and every individual alike. I trust that you will allow no additional cost to accrue on your taxes, but that you will make an effort to satisfy your account before such delinquent tax list appears before the public.

W. P. CUNNINGHAM, Sheriff and Collector in and for Santa Fe County.

New Fast Time.

TWELVE HOURS SAVED BETWEEN COLORADO AND NEW YORK CITY.

The Missouri Pacific railway on April 29, 1894, placed in effect a new schedule for its "Fast Mail" train between Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, and Kansas City and St. Louis; leaving Denver at 3:00 p. m., Colorado Springs at 5:25 p. m., and Pueblo at 7:00 p. m., and arriving at Kansas City at 5:45 p. m., St. Louis at 6:55 a. m., and Chicago at 8:00 a. m., with a direct connection over all trunk lines for New York City, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C., and all intermediate points.

This will enable passengers from Colorado interior points to make a direct connection with the Missouri Pacific "Fast Mail" at Pueblo, by taking D. & R. G. train No. 4, thereby saving twelve hours time on the eastbound trip, and enabling them to avoid a disagreeable lay-over, with the advantage of only one change of cars between Colorado and New York City, or other eastern points, which is made in Union Depot.

Fullman Buffet Sleeping Cars, and Free Reclining Chair Cars of the latest design. All trains heated with steam, (no danger of fire), and lighted with the famous Pintsch gas light.

Those Little Slivers.

The kidneys, separate from the blood, as it passes through them, impurities for which the final medium of liberation from the system is the bladder. When their function is suspended direful results ensue. Among these are dropsy, Bright's disease, diabetes and malades which terminate in some one of these. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stimulates the kidneys, not as an immediate stimulant would by exciting them, but by gently impelling them to renewed action and perpetuating their activity and vigor. Thus the blood is once more assured purification and the organs themselves saved from destruction. Malaria, constipation, liver complaint, nervousness, dyspepsia and rheumatism are all thoroughly remedied by the Bitters, which is, moreover, a most thorough appetizer, general tonic and sleep-promoter. Use it regularly, not semi-occasionally.

A Veteran's Verdict.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d N. Y. Cavalry and of the 11th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."

—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1895.

These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

LITTLE JOHNNY.

The buttigote is sent a cattle, an it sent pigs, an it sent a colt, cos it is more like sheeps, only no wool, jest har, an the little ones is a kid. My sisters yung man he says I'm a kid my own self, but that isent so, cos the Bible it says man is a maid in the imldge of his maker. Buttigotes is two kinds—Billey an Nanny. The Billy it has got a board, but ole Gaffer Petersen hed is bold, an Missis Dopper hern has red hair like it was a hous a fire. If I was red heded I would run a way, but the buttigote it stomps its feets an looks mad, an then Bilad, that's the nev dog, he runs away his own self, but the cracky dille is the king of beasts.

Uncle Ned, which has ben in Injy an evry where, he says one time there was a cracky dille with a natif nigger. That made the king of the natif niggers real mad, an he set to his primitor. "If you don't fetch me that dille eursafore sun set I'll have you'n." Cos that was the way with the king he dlist his cabinet ofers, jest cut off their ears.

The prime he eudent cetch the dille, so he sed to his proshession, the prime did, "I an'ts bleve in this buttigote, I know wot a dille looks like, we'll jest fool 'im."

So he cut of the ears of a jacos, an the proshession they bore them in triumf to the pallice, but the prime he hid himself to see how it wud work. When the king he sed the jacos eurs he looked solum mad, an he set to his primitor. "If you don't fetch me that dille eursafore sun set I'll have you'n." Cos that was the way with the king he dlist his cabinet ofers, jest cut off their ears.

That made the prime feel like he was as sed to the stumple of his belly, but wot my father he is sick he grones offo an lays it to the Democretic party, but wots of that got to do with buttigotes?

One time there was a whicked buttigote which wanted to be king of ol' the buttigotes in the rejon where he lived. So he went an he sed speeches with his mouth, like Cornal Irish, an saying the king which had was a scawing. He said: "Look a round you an see how you suffer! Inquire, study, investigate an be come scawing of yore nizzery! Wy don't no more scirresome cos, you can cut the big hodie pouters! Wot has wot with of the paper collers an the hoop skerts which use to enrich the vacant lobs like grapes upon the vines or wheat in the field? Hoo made the shaprel of cut down an the briers cleared a way? Wy has the yunans stopped wearin kilt givins an took to dogskin? Folks eurs how long do you mean to submit to such a franleed despit?"

So the buttigotes of rose themselves up an kild the king, an wen he was dady they got to gather to chooze a nev one. The feller which made the speeches he wanted to be chose, but there was uthar fellers which wiled to be chose for a living, an they wudent kow still. So the speaker he sed: "Let the best man win. Over in that grove old farmer Hynsed's boys have hung up a grinstone by a rope. We will put our selfs in line an but it, an the feller which licks it shud be king."

They said that was fair an the candidates of quorred for places at the hed of the line, but the speaker he was real modest and he put himself at the tail end. The first feller he butted the grinstone an he fel ded. The next one he laughed a skornie laugh an he wacked it all he was ded, an then a uthar one he was together to his foder, an a uthar. Bime by a ole gray beard chap drap hisself out of the line an got on a pile of stones an lifted his voic up an sed:

"Feller citizens, I'm no speaker, but there is sumthing the matter. The way things is workin now the last galoot in this proshession can soze the rains of power an set in the seat of othority with out a contest an hold imperla swa over a nation of Nannys an kids. I noove that we bi him of an pil him with of the fine cloathing an pison col with he can eat while he lives. An I further noof that we elect the grinstone for to be our king."

The uthar buttigotes they ol sed it was a whack, an the feller which had been jest a gettin redddy for to but he hed hooray. So the grinstone rained many years over a happy an prosperous people.

If I was a king, I'd col. my peeples to gather an tak of my crown an kilt it, an a smash my skelter on the primitors hed an say, "There, poor fellers, take yore libty, an make me president, an let me live in a wite hous an give me of the candy which I want."

Then the buttigote he spoke up an sed, "That isent much of a racket, cos you can get such a lot of sand for to scower it with."

The ostridge he scowled fritlee an sed, "The wirlwin reeks its yung in its feets, an then I kick my keepr, there is sorrow on the face of hevon an the turky buzzards of six provinces are bewildered."

The buttigote he jest ahet his eyes dreamy an sung, "O tangle yure hand in my hair, my pet."—San Francisco Examiner.

An Aquatic Cat.

A Portland woman boasts of a cat with a propensity for playing in the water and tells how it bothers her when she is washing dishes by trying to get into the pan. The other day after repeatedly driving the animal from the sink it climbed up and balanced itself on the two faucets, close together, and amused itself by batting with its paw the rapidly issuing stream. It frequently drinks direct from the faucet, plunging its nose into the current regardless of its force, and has often jumped into the bathtub when it was half full of water. So far from fearing the contact of water, as cats universally do, this unique Portland pussy fairly revels in it.—Lowiston Journal.

AN OBEDIENT BOY.

A Father's Wise Plan For Getting His Money's Back.

"Henry, my boy," said the kind father, laying his hand on the shoulder of the only son who had been so long the pride of his life, "have you as yet had any thought of marriage?"

"Then," said his father, a look of great satisfaction coming into his face, "nothing could be more fortunate. Although I have long been considered well to do, my son, I must tell you the truth. With the exception of the house I have placed in your mother's name, itself heavily mortgaged, nothing remains of my vast fortune but a few paltry dollars. It has long been my desire that you should ally yourself with some family of unquestioned wealth, and now that you tell me that your heart is free I believe I may say that I have found for you the right girl. Her father's vast possessions will undoubtedly descend to her, and thus you will be independent for life."

"Father," said the young man, his face suffused with that lovable ebullience which is such a fine attribute of manly character, "I am sure I have always done as you said, and if I can please you in the matter I will gladly do so. But who can it be?"

"You remember, Henry," replied his father, "the architect that built our house?"

"Yes, sir," said Henry. "I know him well. I have often seen him in the back parlor on an evening playing solitaire with the notes you had given him during the day. What has he to do with it?"

The good old man's form shook with great joy as he tenderly embraced his boy. "Henry, my dear son," he cried, "I have just heard that he has a marriageable daughter."—Life.

How He Got Off.

"Nothing succeeds like success," runs the saying, but there are times when a lack of success has been of great value.

In the time of William III. Mr. Tredwell, a poet, was taken before the Earl of Nottingham on suspicion of having treasonable papers. "I am only a poet," protested the poor man, "and these papers are only my roughly sketched plays."

The earl, however, carefully looked over the papers in question before liberating the poet. Finally he returned the sheets to the delighted author.

"I have heard your statement," said the earl gravely, "and I have read your play. As I cannot find the least traces of a plot in either the one or the other, you may go free."

With this unflattering tribute to his innocence the poet departed with his plotless play.—Youth's Companion.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

Novel Entertainment at Whitin Hall by the Pupils of the Territorial School for Deaf, Dumb and Blind.

Yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the school year of the Territorial Deaf, Dumb and Blind asylum closed with very interesting and pleasing exercises held at Whitin hall.

The program comprised twelve parts, viz:
Invocation by Rev. G. G. Smith.
Opening address by the superintendent Mr. Lars M. Larson.

How the deaf learn alphabet and words.

Blackboard exercises by deaf pupils, language, arithmetic, geography, history, reading exercises by the blind.

Song—"Dare to do Right, Dare to be True," given in signs by deaf pupils.

The Lord's prayer by a blind pupil.

A story in signs.

Signs for words given.

A musical selection executed on the violin by Mr. Geo. Baine.

How the blind write.

An address by Mr. J. E. Pershing, of Ohio.

An address by Mr. Geo. Baine.

An address and the benediction by Rev. G. G. Smith.

In his opening address Mr. Larson expressed his pleasure at seeing so large an assembly of the friends of the school; declared his belief that the institution had done good work in the past year; congratulated all upon the record of uninterrupted health which the inmates had enjoyed; mentioned that the school had been visited in the past year by nine people, "including prominent politicians and educators," than ever before, and called attention to its condition and needs.

There have been in attendance:
Deaf pupils.—Boys, 8; girls, 2; total 10.
Blind pupils.—Boys, 5; girls, 1; total 6.
Deaf and blind included in all, 16.

The superintendent complained that the parents of some of the pupils imagine that their children can be taught all they need to learn in a few weeks, and so take the pupils away before their education is fairly begun—"as if," said he, "a grain of corn planted one day would produce a ripe crop the next day." Parents ought not to be permitted, he justly argued, to take the children away, without reasons imperative, and approved by the board that manages the institution, before the end of the school year. He called attention to improvements made in the building and the premises and to the wise management of the affairs of the school by the directors or committee. One hundred and fifty shade and fruit trees and berry plants and cuttings of vines have been set out and kept growing. He thinks that the culture of fruit and all kinds of gardening should be taught in the school.

Some appliances for the practice of gymnastics have been introduced recently, Mr. Larson says. Some of the blind children who learned their creed well under Rev. J. H. De Fout have been confirmed in the Catholic church and have taken their first communion.

Mr. Larson kindly but earnestly protested against the name the legislature has given to the school. He says it is not an asylum. It is not an institution for the support of a helpless class of paupers, but a school in which the territory is trying to do for those who can not be taught in the ordinary public schools what it owes the obligation to do for pupils of those schools. The state owes the deaf and blind an education. They are not to be regarded as paupers, recipients of public bounty. The school for them is simply another kind of public school in which the state discharges its duty to a peculiar class of children. He argues that if the deaf and blind school is to be called an asylum, consistency should require that public schools also be so called, because they attend these schools as no less dependent upon public funds for their education than are the inmates of the school Mr. Larson superintends.

Mr. Baine gave an interesting biographical sketch of Laura Bridgman, a deaf-blind mute educated at the Perkins school for deaf and blind in Boston.

Mr. Pershing spoke of the seventy-nine schools for mutes in different parts of the United States. The first was established at Hartford, Conn., in 1817. There are over 40,000 mutes in the country, of these 9,512 attend schools for the deaf and dumb. Besides the branches of a common education, mutes are taught, in some schools, various trades, and become carpenters, painters, printers, engravers, farmers, wood-carvers, etc. Mr. Pershing spoke in the highest praise of those in New Mexico who are engaged in the good work of enlightening mutes and blind youth and qualifying them to take care of themselves. His whole address was worthy of reproduction in these columns.

A large audience was present, the room was suitably adorned with the flag of our country and with evergreens, and the plaintive music executed on the violin by Mr. Baine was enjoyed by lovers of music.

The surprising progress made by the pupils under the faithful and efficient instruction of Mr. Larson and Miss Hetman surprised and delighted the friends of the school and deepened their conviction that the institution is in good hands and ought to be supported by the legislature, in order that all the deaf and blind children of New Mexico may share its advantages.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

Soiree at the dancing academy to-night. The street has again to-day that local Republicans have purchased the Weekly Sun.

You can get engraved visiting cards at the New Mexican, or have them printed from your plate if you have one.

The W. B. T. supper was very well patronized last evening. The ladies made a profit of $25 on their investment.

A game of base ball has been arranged between the Athletics of this city and Manager McCreight's nine of Albuquerque for July 8. The game will probably be played on the college grounds in Santa Fe.

The guild of the church of the Holy Faith will meet at Mrs. R. J. Palen's at 3 p. m. sharp to-morrow. Business of importance in connection with the selection of a window for the church will be transacted.

Messrs. Chas. Neustadt, P. B. Otero, C. Bonver, Jack Harris and Alex. Allan leave on Monday next on a fishing expedition in the Valle mountains.

The police should look out for tramps. Three of this class called at Mrs. Goodwin's yesterday at different times. She had fed two and the third was ordered off. He took revenge by hurling a stone through a window.

J. P. McNulty, manager of the Bonanza turquoise mines for the American Turquoise company, is in town to-day. He says the mines have greatly improved and weekly shipments are made to New York. In the past three months $50,000 worth of gems has been sent east from Cerrillos.

Josephs is here for business. He has just opened the "New Mexico Saloon," in the Weber block, and proposes to treat the public nicely by giving a lunch daily between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock a. m. On Saturday night the military orchestra will supply music for his formal opening and a fine lunch will be served to all comers.

The city council committee on surveys and lighting is requested by Chairman Easley to meet in the council chamber at 3:30 to-morrow afternoon for the purpose of considering the several propositions for lighting the city for the ensuing year. All citizens interested are respectfully invited to be present.

The territorial supreme court meets next month. Under the rule, copies of record and brief have to be served on adverse attorneys and filed with the clerk ten days prior to the last Monday in July. Attorneys are reminded of this fact now so that they may have ample time in which to have their briefs printed.

David Lowitzki, who is making a reputation as a hustler for business, comes out with a new advertisement in to-day's paper. The New Mexican appreciates such little favors as this. It is always at work for what it deems to be the welfare of Santa Fe and all New Mexico, and if every business man in the community did his duty in the way of carrying a small card in its advertising columns it would result beneficially all around.

The Cerrillos coal miners' committee, who attended the recent convention of the United Coal Mine Workers of America at Pueblo, returned home last night and recommended that the coal miners of the Cerrillos district return to work. Consequently all the mines in the Cerrillos district will probably resume operations with a full force of men not later than Monday.

The Athletic Base Ball club, of this city, having first secured permission from Brother Butolph, is erecting a grand stand seventy-five feet long, with ten tiers of seats, on the south side of the college grounds. The work is being done by Contractor Windor at an expense of about $300 and will be completed in time for the game between the Little Pittsburgh and Santa Fe nines on Sunday afternoon. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged when contests occur between one of the home teams and an outside team and 10 or 15 cents when only home talent is exhibited.

Beecham's Pills cures sick headaches.

CROP BULLETIN

Of the New Mexico Weather Service—For the Week Ending June 18.

U. S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE, }
Weather Bureau. }

Bulletin No. 7.—The temperature during the past week averaged a little below the normal and the rainfall was very light and unevenly distributed. The heaviest rainfall reported was 1 inch at Las Vegas, the most of this coming with a hailstorm on the 15th, that damaged fruit and gardens some.

In the northern part of the territory, where the ground had been thoroughly soaked by the rains of the preceding week, everything made a splendid growth, and all crops as well as the stock ranges are in excellent condition.

In the southern part crops under irrigation made a good growth, but are in need of rain. The stock ranges in the south are drying up badly, and water for irrigation is getting low in many places.

The following extracts from a few of the reports received at this office will be found of interest:

Ojo (San Juan Co.)—This week has been most favorable. The fruit crop, so far as I can learn, was damaged very seriously, much more than was at first supposed, by the frosts about the end of April. This is the case all over the country, with the exception of one or two orchards which fortunately had the water running between the trees, in these the crop is good.

Hall's Peak.—The weather for the past week has been all that could be desired for the advancement of crops, fruit and grass. Grass on the ranges is good and stock in fine condition.

Watrous.—On the 15th Mora and Sapello rivers flooded over their banks doing much damage. Rain and hail very heavy in the mountains.

Las Vegas.—Everything has remained favorable for agriculture.

La Luz.—The weather for the past week has been quite favorable for crops, water being quite plentiful for irrigating, but rain is needed very badly on the plains, as grass is drying up. Stock in good condition.

Gila.—All farm crops are looking well. Grass on ranges nearly all dried up, but cattle don't seem to have fallen off much yet.

Rincon.—Another week of dry weather. River very low and unless there should be change will be dry in ten days or two. Cattle still looking well and early crops will be good.

Las Cruces.—Temperature below the normal and favorable for ripening grain. Water for irrigation scarce for this time of year. Fruit growing well. Rain would be beneficial to gardens and fruit.

Roswell.—Mulberries and cherries ripe and being rapidly gathered; owing to late frosts apricot and peach crop will be light; fair to good apple crop indicated; large yield of strawberries this year; garden truck well advanced. Several night rains lately and the range looking fine, grass in good condition and stock rapidly fattening. Cool nights and fine growing weather.

PURIFY SANTA FE.

Flush the Ditches—Remove All Materials That Might Taint the Air or Water—God Meant This to Be the World's Sanitarium.

City Marshal Torres reports that he had a pleasant interview with Post Quartermaster Stottler yesterday touching the disposition of the garbage from Fort Marcy and that Lieut. Stottler said he would cheerfully co-operate with the city authorities in their commendable efforts to keep Santa Fe's sanitary condition up to a high standard. Hereafter all refuse materials from the post will be hauled outside of the city limits and dumped where they will neither contaminate the air nor the water of the people. Chairman Easley, of the city council committee on sewers, and the city marshal held a conference this morning touching the subject of cleaning and flushing the ditches on Johnson and Water streets and the important action contemplated by the council as to purifying those thoroughfares will be taken without delay. Over 18,000 cases of cholera and 7,510 deaths, year before last, were the melancholy fruits of bad water and bad sewerage in Hamburg, Germany. This is the way the books of that city are now posted. Santa Fe is so high above the sea that it is probably in no danger of cholera, but it must guard against the other diseases possible at this altitude by abating all nuisances that threaten to taint the air or the water. God clearly intended Santa Fe, with its pure and invigorating ozone, fascinating natural surroundings and pure water from the perpetual snow banks in the mountains above, to be a great sanitarium. Man must do his full share toward carrying out the plan of the All Wise Architect of the Universe.

Fell Over Dead.

Seferino Rivera, brother of Policeman Francisco Rivera and Anastacio Rivera, fell over dead at 11 o'clock last night. About sundown he was at the store of Felipe B. Delgado buying goods in apparent good health. About 10 o'clock he went to the house of the negro, Andres, near San Miguel church, to attend the "velorio" of Andres' wife, who died the night before. During the solemn services the death above mentioned occurred. The deceased was about 36 years old and was a well known cook, having held positions in the different hotels and restaurants of the city, and for a time served the Santa Fe Climatic Cure association as cook at Camp McCloud in Santa Clara canon. The funeral will take place at the cathedral at 6 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Home and Abroad.

It is the duty of everyone, whether at home or traveling for pleasure or business, to equip himself with the remedy which will keep up strength and prevent illness, and cure such ills as are liable to come upon him at every day's life. Hood's Sarsaparilla keeps the blood pure and less liable to absorb the germs of the disease.

Hood's Pills are hand-made, and perfect in proportion and appearance. 25c. per box.

PEACHES PROFITABLE.

Interesting Figures from a Southern New Mexico Orchard.

The Eddy Argus of a recent date prints the following interesting and instructive statement: "Professor Blount, who is in charge of the agricultural experiment station at Las Cruces, gives the Argus some interesting figures as to what has been done with a New Mexico orchard. Year before last he made a careful estimate of the proceeds of one acre of 5-year-old peach trees in the Wood orchard. The trees bore, on an average, 200 pounds each, after thinning. The fourth year the yield was insignificant. There were seventy-three trees, and they netted $21 per tree, or $1,533 after express, picking charges and commissions being deducted. The fruit was nearly all sold in Denver in competition with California peaches, from July to October, bringing from 12 1/2 to 15 cents per pound, the quality and appearance causing them to sell for fancy prices.

"Last year the peaches were not thinned and were not so large as the returns were not greater, though 500 pounds to the tree was the yield. This year the fruit is being thinned, two-thirds being removed. No two peaches are allowed to be closer together than six inches unless on the opposite side of a limb, and a weight of 500 pounds is the limit desired. Many young trees will come into bearing this year.

"Last summer the Wood orchard sales often figured up $100 per day. Recently a company was formed and the place purchased on a basis of $700 per acre."

In cases where dandruff, scalp diseases falling and grayness of the hair appear, do not neglect them, but apply a proper remedy and tonic like Hall's Hair Renewer.

District Court.

In the case of the United States vs. Joseph Rutledge, charged with unlawfully cutting timber on the Pecos national park, argument was closed last night and this morning the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

The matter of the motion of the Postal Telegraph-Cable company for an injunction restraining the receivers of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad from interfering with the efforts of the company first named to construct telegraph lines along the right-of-way of the railroad company, came up before Judge Seeds at the conclusion of the Rutledge case. T. B. Catron, in behalf of the Western Union Telegraph company, moved to strike the motion for an injunction from the files on the ground that the attempted proceeding was improper. Argument of Mr. Catron's motion occupied the attention of the court in chambers all the forenoon and was resumed at 2:30 p. m.

Later the motion was overruled and the case proceeded with.

A Note from Mr. Downing.

To the Editor of the New Mexican.

Permit me to say a word to the paragraph in yesterday's issue, concerning a subscription to raise a monument to my little son, that his best remembrance will be in the love and sympathy so unanimously and spontaneously expressed by the good people of Santa Fe. I must, therefore, request that no further steps be taken in this matter. At the proper time I will esteem it the privilege of myself and his relatives to erect a suitable stone to mark his resting place. Mrs. Downing and myself are deeply grateful for the hearty efforts made in his behalf and the unstinted devotion shown us in this sorrowful catastrophe. We claim it, however, as our peculiar privilege to write his epitaph and mark his grave.

Again heartily thanking all, I am gratefully,
MORTIMER A. DOWNING.
