BETWEEN WALLS OF FIRE.

A Renewal of the Forest Fires in the Northwest—A River on Fire.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 14.—Kirby Burnum, who owns a farm near the western border of the Great Redland Indian reservation in the northern part of the state, has just returned from a perilous trip down Thief river, which skirts that reservation on the west. The trip was made on a small passenger steamer that runs between the agency and Thief river falls, a distance of 120 miles. Fully half the trip was made between walls of fire. Burnum says the FLAMES HAVE JUMPED the river and have cut through the dense forest a swath sixty miles wide. The steamer would go three or four miles and then everybody would stand in the water until the fire and heat to some extent abated. Several times the boat was afire. The water in the river was raised to such a temperature that its surface was covered with

MILLIONS OF DEAD FISH. Many small canoes with parties of Indians were found making their way down the river as best they could. There has probably been a great loss of life among them. Burnum says that a man tried to get control of some hay land from the government and failed. He then hired two men to fire it. The flames soon spread to the forest and have been burning ever since.

Shot and Killed Fred. Waco, Texas, Sept. 14.—In a dispute over a small account, Leon Black, 12 years old, the son of a policeman, shot and killed Alex. Fred, a Jewish merchant. Father and son are charged with the crime as the son, having gotten into an altercation with Fred, asked his father for a revolver, which was given him, and he fired. Young Black is in hiding but his father was jailed.

Killed for an Insult. Eagle Pass, Sept. 14.—Jesus Garcia Meucha was to-day shot dead in the city of Porfirio Diaz by Jose Ramirez, in revenge for an insult. Meucha was notorious as having shot the most prominent man of Cochilla in a duel and in having murdered a man and his two daughters at Diaz last year. At that time Meucha was an officer under the notorious Garza.

TO-MORROW DECIDES IT.

The Bitter Fight in Breckinridge's District Closes To-morrow.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 14.—The women throughout Breckinridge's district are to-day urging the voters out for to-morrow's primaries. Their presence is preventing fights. They will be in the field to-morrow. There does not seem to be any chance for fraudulent voting or bad counts, as each candidate is an election officer. The best politicians are with Breckinridge. The best politicians are with Breckinridge. The best politicians are with Breckinridge.

A Wife-Murderer Executed. Lehigh Junction, Utah, Sept. 14.—Enoch Davis, the wife-murderer, was executed to-day. He was placed in a chair and blindfolded; and at a signal six soldiers shot, firing through loop holes in a tent. He died three minutes later.

Important Navy Appointments.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The president has made the following recess appointments: Richard W. Mead, rear-admiral of the navy; Robert L. Pythian, commodore of the navy; Jos. Adams, lieutenant-commander in the navy.

The Akron, Ohio, Outrage. Akron, Ohio, Sept. 14.—After a most thorough search, no trace of the negroes whom Mrs. George Woelbaster claims assaulted her yesterday can be found. Officers believe the woman insane, and that she bound and gagged herself and fired the house with her own hands.

A New Railroad. Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 14.—D. O. Mills, the chief owner of the Carson & Colorado railroad, which now runs south to Independence, intends extending the line to Mojave probably within twelve months. This will give him two entrances into Los Angeles, one over the Southern Pacific and one over the Atlantic & Pacific & Southern California. Mr. Mills is only waiting to see how the English syndicate progresses with its big 110-mile irrigation canal.

CHINESE DIFFICULTIES.

Japanese Suffer a Loss of 1,200 Men and Are on the Defensive from Further Attacks.

Shanghai, Sept. 14.—If reports from Korea are to be believed there is no doubt that the Japanese forces operating against the Chinese will probably be hemmed in. A dispatch from Fusan brings additional confirmation of the report that the whole of southern Korea has risen against the Japanese. It also seems certain that the Japanese force of 2,000 men, which tried to march from Fusan to Seoul has met with a disaster serious enough to compel them to return to the former place with 1,200 men missing. From this it is judged that a serious fight must have taken place. As it is not believed that the 1,200 missing soldiers will reach Fusan. A force of 2,000 fresh men have arrived at Fusan to protect the Japanese settlement against the expected attack on the part of armed bands of Tonghats gathering in the neighborhood.

Congressman Wilson in London. London, Sept. 14.—W. L. Wilson, congressman from West Virginia, arrived here. He said his health has greatly improved on his voyage. He was here, he said, merely on a pleasure trip and will sail for New York September 29.

Arrested for Murder. Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 14.—Walter A. Holt, a young man from Macon, Ga., has been arrested here on the charge of murdering G. A. Bard, a prominent citizen of Jacksonville, Fla., on September 24, 1893. Bard was found with his head crushed. Holt claims that he had just reached Franklin on the day the murder occurred and was at the house of his uncle, Thos. Simonds, when the murder took place.

WAS KIDNAPPED.

Paul Johnson, of Evansville, Ind., Was Carried Off to Sea and Escaped.

New Orleans, Sept. 14.—Yesterday there arrived here from Sabine Pass, Texas, C. and H. House and Paul Johnson. Johnson was very weak and under the care of physicians. He has gone to his home at Evansville, Ind. Messrs. House tell the following story: About the middle of July they were fishing, when a small schooner came near the shore, and while they watched, a man was seen to spring overboard. Instantly several men on board began shooting at the man. Not only was he shot as he swam toward the shore, but a LARGE HARPOON was thrown at him crushing in his chest. He sank and the schooner sailed away. The House boys saw the man rise from the water and going to his rescue brought him ashore. The man was Paul Johnson. For three or four months the House boys say he lay as one dead, unable to tell his story. Finally he recovered his speech. He said that early in last February, he was kidnapped in Louisville, placed in the hold of a flat boat and taken to New Orleans, where he was placed on a schooner. Then the vessel on which he was confined visited the Texas coast.

QUEEN OF WATERS.

Remarkable Performance of the Canard Steamer Lucania in Crossing the Ocean.

London, Sept. 14.—The remarkable performance of the Canard line steamer Lucania which arrived at Queenstown from New York at 3:47 this morning has created considerable excitement in shipping circles. The Lucania's average speed was 21:34 knots an hour. Her record for both the east and westward voyages are identical the same, namely five days, eight hours and thirty-eight minutes, but on the present eastward trip she covered twenty-three miles more than on her record breaking trip last month. The Lucania by this performance firmly establishes her position of "Queen of the sea."

Big Fire in Chung King.

Shanghai, Sept. 14.—A disastrous fire occurred at Chung King on the night of August 25. The conflagration raged all night and before midnight the whole southeastern part of the city was in flames. About thirty persons are known to have perished and it is probable that the actual loss of life is still greater. It is roughly estimated that the loss by fire amounts to 15,000,000 taels. About 2,000 buildings were destroyed.

"Several years ago, my blood was in bad condition, my system all run down, and my general health very much impaired. My hands were covered with large sores, discharging all the time, had no strength nor energy and my feelings were miserable in the extreme. At last, I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla and soon noticed a change for the better. My appetite returned and with it renewed strength. Encouraged by these results, I kept on taking the Sarsaparilla, till I had used six bottles, and my health was restored."—A. A. TOWNS, prop. Harris House, Thompson, N. Dak.

Grand Canon of Colorado River.

On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,262 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublimest of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yosemite might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook.

Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read up" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a free copy of an illustrated book describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14.

Democratic Territorial Convention

In accordance with a resolution of the Democratic territorial central committee, adopted at a meeting held in Santa Fe on the 11th day of August, 1894, a convention of the Democratic party of the territory is hereby called to meet at Las Cruces, N. In accordance with said resolution each county of the territory is entitled to one delegate to said convention for each 125 votes cast for Hon. Antonio Joseph, as delegate to congress in 1892, and an additional delegate for each fraction of the unit of 125 amounting to fifty or more. Under this apportionment the several counties of the territory are entitled to representation as follows:

In further accord with said resolution the Democratic central committee of the various counties of the territory are hereby instructed to call county conventions for the election of delegates according to said apportionment and to insert in the all thereof an invitation to all persons or organizations, without regard to former party affiliations, who intend to support the Democratic nominee for delegate, to participate in such conventions, declaring such persons eligible to election as delegates to the territorial convention hereby called. Said county committees are requested to make all arrangements for county conventions in ample time and in accordance with the practice of the party.

J. H. CRIST, Chairman.
THOS. P. GABLE, Secretary.

The law and order sentiment that has prevailed in Santa Fe county for months past is no small compliment to the efficiency of Democratic government.

The New Mexico Nugget, a weekly paper, is a new Albuquerque publication. The New Mexican welcomes it because C. E. Stivers is its editor and he is a thorough newspaper man. Success to the Nugget.

Is the fair which annually occurs at Albuquerque is to be known as a territorial fair in the future its scope and management should be materially broadened. Horse races and base ball games of a very mediocre nature lack a whole lot of constituting a territorial fair. This is a subject that all New Mexico is interested in.

The Republican papers are gloating over the discovery of new gold fields in Africa and think that this is going to solve the silver problem. Here's a pointer for the New Mexico Republicans that assemble at Socorro on the 20th inst. By calling attention to the African gold fields they may be able to gull a few people into the belief that the Republican party is not responsible for the demoralization of silver.

A VIRTUOUS REPUBLICAN.

Mr. C. H. McLenathan, a citizen of Eddy county, appears to possess all the qualifications necessary to make him a political boss in the Republican party. He is said to be the author of that long string of "whereases" and "resolves" recently adopted by the Republicans of Eddy which, among other things, resolves that: "The Republicans will never purchase statehood at the expense of their principles, and that we will retain a territory forever rather than to be bribed or coerced into a sacrificing of our rights as free men."

be bribed or coerced into a sacrificing of our rights as free men."

The manner in which this bombastic individual worked his rabbit foot of indignation on the gullible crowd in that convention is thus related by the Eddy Daily Current:

"Mr. McLenathan then took the floor and by garbling an interview with Mr. Joseph in the New Mexican, tried to show that Mr. Joseph was trying to coerce Republicans into voting the Democratic ticket. Mr. McLenathan used the interview omitting the portion referring to the parts taken by Senators Davis and Platt, also the portions referring to the Republicans admitting Idaho and Wyoming while New Mexico was Democratic, though with a larger population than both those territories."

As before stated, this clever piece of jugglery shows Mr. McLenathan to possess qualities that peculiarly fit him for admission to the inner circles of Republicanism in New Mexico. A fellow-feeling ought to make him and the leaders of the old machine "wondrous kind" toward each other since it is so patent that demagogism and trickery are the distinguishing characteristics of his political creed.

PRESS COMMENTS.

Pointedly Pat for a Purpose.

The editor of a newspaper is frequently advised to pitch into somebody and to make vigorous attacks upon certain institutions and individuals. A dog fight will frequently attract a crowd, but none of the spectators are willing to be the dogs. A day seldom passes in the office of a newspaper without a visit from some one who has fault to find with some one or something. He wants the editor to attend to it for him. "Why don't you score 'em?" he says. Then he goes into details, talks about this and that being an outrage, etc. When the editor tells him he will publish this and that complaint, provided he signs it, he says: "Oh, no, I don't want to get into any trouble with those people, don't you see? Can't you put it in a shape of an editorial?" He doesn't care what trouble the newspaper may get into by publishing his grievance, but is too polite or cowardly to assume the responsibility himself. There are plenty of such people in every community, and the newspaper men always find out who they are. And, occasionally, they can be prevailed upon to tell—Las Vegas Optic.

Hon. J. F. Hinkle.

An effort is being made in certain quarters to arouse a sentiment of opposition to the re-election of Hon. J. F. Hinkle to the legislature on the ground that he voted for the existing law exempting certain corporations from taxation for a limited period of time. Of course this is the cry of demagogues, and like the cry of demagogues in general the facts are perverted. The 30th legislative assembly, of which Mr. Hinkle was a member, did provide by law for an exemption from taxation of railroads that should be built within three years from the passage of the act (February 13, 1893) and for irrigating ditches, reservoirs, etc., for the period of six years from the date of construction. These acts were clearly for the purpose of promoting internal improvements, and as such were commendable. The railroad act limits the exemption to roads that should be constructed within three years from the date of the act and will expire February 13, 1896. The act in regard to irrigation enterprises is not limited as to time. Those who know anything of irrigation enterprises know that they are an unqualified expense for the first four years, at least. We regard the laws of that legislature in regard to railroads and ditches as among the best now on the statutes of New Mexico. New Mexico needs development, and capital is necessary for that purpose. Any reasonable inducement that can be offered for the coming of capital is good business, and good politics. An exemption from taxation until the property can be put on a paying basis is not unreasonable, and let us add, in conclusion, that we have never heard a man who pays a $10 property tax object to the laws above referred to.—Roswell Record.

"Articles that are in any way dangerous or offensive, also patent medicines, nostrums, and trunks, and empirical preparations, whose ingredients are concealed, will not be admitted to the Exposition."

Why was Ayer's Sarsaparilla admitted? Because it is not a patent medicine, not a nostrum, not a secret preparation, not dangerous, not an experiment, and because it is all that a family medicine should be.

Grand Canon of Colorado River.

On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,262 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublimest of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yosemite might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook.

Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read up" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a free copy of an illustrated book describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

You May Strike it Rich.

If you could pick up $21,000 in gold by one week's work, it would be worth going a few hundred miles to get, wouldn't it? That's just what the Aztec mine (Colfax Co., New Mexico) produced in seven days with total product to date of nearly a million dollars.

This rich mine is one of many in the newly discovered Monero valley and Ute Creek placer and quartz gold districts. Take Santa Fe route to Springer, N. M., thence stage to the camp. Short winters, delightful climate and rich prospects. This may be the chance of a life-time. Ask local agent A. T. & S. F. R. R. for illustrated pamphlet. It tells the truth about this new country.

If You Are Going East.

You will find the time and service of the Burlington Route superior to all other lines. The magnificent gas-lighted vestibule "Flyer," leaving Denver daily at 9:00 p. m., reaches St. Louis at 7:20 a. m., and Chicago at 8:20 a. m., the second morning, making connections for all points east.

The Burlington is the only line running through sleepers and chair cars from Denver to St. Louis without change. For full information apply to local tickets agents, or address G. W. VALLEY General Agent, No. 1039 17th street, Denver.

SHOOTING STARS.

People who live in new countries are liable to be prostrated by malarial fevers. Inhabitants of cities, by reason of bad drainage and unwholesome odors, suffer from similar diseases. Ayer's Ague Cure is warranted a specific for all malarial poisons.

About the middle of one of the hottest nights this summer, a policeman stood on the corner of a couple of uptown streets, fanning himself with his club and saying uncomplimentary things about the meteorological conditions, when a belated passenger came along untended.

This hot enough for you? he inquired as he leaned up against the officer.

Rather, replied the officer, standing the man up.

Never saw it worse, I guess, did you? Not much.

Neither did I; anyhow in Detroit.

You've never been in the other place, have you? inquired the officer pointing downward.

Been in the next place to it, said the man, St. Louis. Had a friend on the police force out there; a man about your build; one hot night he was cooling himself on the corner; had his hat hanging on a hydrant; all at once a crowd banged out of a saloon across the street and went to fight; on the sidewalk; officer went after 'em bareheaded; crowd jump on him in a minute; he yelled that he was an officer; the crowd swore he was a private citizen; slung his coat open to show his star; the crowd yelled and began to thump the stuff out of him; there wasn't any star, and there wasn't any buttons on his coat; they had all melted off and run down in a little puddle at his feet on the other side of the street where he had been standing when the fight took place; they found it there the next day; 'tadn't been for that the officer would have lost his job, besides the thumping he got; you don't want to ever try to get on the St. Louis police force; 'tain't healthy there, and the mid-night marauder rolled along to his home.

"Have you taken up your carpets this spring?" asked one neighbor of another.

"No, I don't take them up. I've reckoned it this way. Carpets will last 10 years anyhow if you let 'em alone, but if I cleaned and beat them my back wouldn't last more than two years. I've decided to let the wear and tear come on the carpets."—Youth's Companion.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d N. Y. Cavalry and of the 10th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."—Solomon Yewell, Marion Ind., Dec. 5, 1892.

These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

Sold by all druggists.

THE TEST MISAPPLIED.

But Another Trait of Human Nature Stands Revealed.

The mighty Sheikh Abdullah spake one day to the court sage, old Enkazai, as follows: "You are always ready to give sensible advice, Enkazai. Perhaps you could tell me which of my counselors are really sincere."

"A very simple matter," replied the sage confidently. "I will tell you at once, mighty sheik, how that is to be managed. Go and compose a long ballad this very day."

"Stop," interrupted the sheik. "You forget that I am no poet."

"That's just what I want," said the sage. "That's why I tell you to go and write at once a long ballad and read it to your assembled counselors."

"But, Enkazai, bear in mind that I never wrote a line of poetry in my life."

"So much the better. When you have read the long ballad to your counselors, tomorrow I will come again and learn the result of your observations."

Next day the wise Enkazai entered the sheik's tent, saying:

"Did you follow my advice, mighty sheik?"

"Certainly."

"And what happened after you had read your ballad?" inquired the old man, smiling.

"Oh, I was completely taken by surprise. One exclaimed that this was the long sought for ballad of the great poet Abu-Yemin; another that I was a new bright luminary in the firmament of poetry; a third craved permission to cut off a small piece of my robe in memory of the eventful occasion and the immortal bard—in a word, they all were in ecstasies and praised my ideas and my language up to the skies."

"Ah, he dropped to sleep while I was reading."

"Ha, ha! What did you conclude from that, mighty sheik?" said the old man triumphantly.

"What conclusion could I come to," replied the sheik with some surprise, "if not the same as all the rest—namely, that I possess very great talent for poetry?"

Enkazai saluted, lighted his chibouk and—held his peace. For he was, in sooth, a wise man.—Flegende Blätter.

A Stickler For Etiquette.

Talleyrand, like most diplomats, was famous for his attention to the details of etiquette. He prided himself on an ability to adjust his mode of address to the rank and position of the person to whom he was speaking.

On one occasion, when a number of distinguished men were dining with him, he varied his formula when inviting them to partake of beef in such a manner as to suit the rank of the respective persons.

"May I have the honor of sending your royal highness a little beef?" he asked a prince of the food.

To a duke he said, "Monsieur, permit me to send you a little beef."

"Marquis," he continued, "may I send you some beef?"

"Viscount, pray have a little beef."

"Baron, do you take beef?" ran the next interrogation.

"Monsieur," he said to an untitled gentleman, "some beef?"

To his secretary he remarked casually, "Beef?"

But there was one gentleman left who deserved even less consideration than the secretary, and Talleyrand, posing his knife in the air, favored him with a mere look of interrogation. If this guest was possessed of an independent spirit, one can imagine that he did not take beef that day.—Life's Calendar.

GEMS IN VERSE.

Recompense.

Straight through my heart this fact today By Truth's own hand is driven: God never takes one thing away But something else is given.

I did not know in earlier years This law of love and kindness, But without love through bitter years I mourned in sorrow's blindness.

And, ever following each regret For some departed treasure, My sad, repining heart was met With unexpected pleasure.

I thought it only happened so, But Time this truth hath taught me: No least thing from my life can go But something else is left me.

It is the law, complete, sublime, And now, with faith unshaken, In patience I but bide my time When any joy is taken.

No matter if the crushing blow May for the moment down me, Still back of it waits Love, I know, With some new gift to crown me.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

It Doesn't Cost Money.

It doesn't cost money, as many suppose, To have a good time on the earth. The best of its pleasures are free unto those Who know how to value their worth.

The sweetest of music the birds to us sing, The loveliest flowers grow wild, The finest of drinks gushes out of the spring— All free to man, woman and child.

No money can purchase, no artist can paint: Such pictures as nature supplies Forever, all over, to stimulate and instill Who use to advantage their eyes.

Kind words and glad looks and smiles cheery and brave, Cost nothing—no, nothing at all— And yet all the wealth Monte Cristo could save Can make no such pleasures befall.

It doesn't cost money to have a good time, And that is the reason, alas, Why many who might have enjoyment sublime Their lives in such misery pass.

It doesn't cost money to have a good time: The world's best pleasures are free; But those who find pleasure in folly and crime Will not with these true words agree.

—W. C. Dodge.

Goodby.

Goodby, proud world! I'm going home, 'Thou'rt not my friend, and I'm not thine. Long through thy weary hours I roam, Aiven oak on the ocean's brine; Long I've been tossed like the driven foam, But now, proud world, I'm going home.

Goodby to flattery's fawning face: To grandeur, with his wise grimace; To upstart wealth's averted eye; To crowded halls, court and street; To frozen heart and lusty feet; To those who go and those who stay; Goodby, proud world, I'm going home.

I'm going home to my own heartstone, Boomed in yon green hills alone— A secret nook in a pleasant land, Whose grove the frolic fancies planned; Where arches green the living day Echo the blackbird's roundelay. And vulgar feet have never trod— A spot that's sacred to thought and God.

Oh, when I'm safe in my sylvan home, I tread on the pride of Greece and Rome, And when I'm stretched beneath the pines Where the evening stars so holy shine I laugh at the lore and pride of man, At the sophist schools and the learned clan, For what are they all in their high conceit When man in the bush with God may meet?

—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Write Them a Letter Tonight.

Don't go to the theater, lecture or ball, But stay in your room tonight. Don't yourself to the friends that call, And a good long letter write— Write to the sad old folk at home, Who sit when the day is done With folded hands and downcast eyes And think of the absent one. Write them a letter tonight.

Don't selfishly scribble: "Excuse my haste. I've scarcely time to write." Let their brooding thoughts go wandering back.

To many a bygone night, When they lost their needed sleep and rest, And every breath was a prayer That God would leave their delicate babe To their tender love and care. Write them a letter tonight.

Don't let them feel that you've no more need Of their love and counsel wise, For the heart grows strangely sensitive When age has dimmed the eyes. It might be well to let them believe You never forgot them quite— That you deemed it a pleasure when far away Long letters home to write. Then Write them a letter tonight.

Don't think that the young and giddy friends Who make your pastime gay Have half the anxious thoughts for you That the old folk have today. For the sad old folk at home, With locks fast turning white, Are longing to hear of the absent one. Oh, write them a letter tonight.

Reductio ad Absurdum.

I had come from the city early That Saturday afternoon. I sat with Beatrice under the trees In the mossy orchard. The golden bees Buzzed over clover tops, pink and blue, I was at peace and inclined to spoon.

I was at peace and inclined to spoon. We were stopping awhile with mother At the quiet country place. Where first we'd met, one blossom May, And fallen in love, so the dreamy day Brought to my memory many an answer In the happy time when I won her grace.

Days in the bright spring weather, When the twisted, rough old tree Showered down apple blossoms, dainty and sweet, That swung in her hair and blushed at her feet. Sweet was her face as we lingered together And dainty the kisses my love gave me.

"Dear love, are you recalling The old days, too?" I said. Her sweet eyes filled, and with tender grace She turned and rested her breathing face Against my shoulder. A sunbeam falling Through the leaves above us crowned her head.

And so I held her, trusting That none was by to see— A sad mistake—for low but clear This feminine comment reached my ear: "Married for ages—it's just disgusting— Such actions—and, Fred, they've got our tree!"

—George A. Baker, Jr.

There is nothing to prevent anyone Concerning a mixture and calling it "sarsaparilla," and there is nothing to prevent anyone spending good money testing the stuff; but prudent people, who wish to be sure of their remedy, take only Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and so get cured.

TAKE STEPS

In time, if you are suffering from that scourge of humanity known as consumption, and you can be cured. There is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its early stages, consumption is a curable disease. But every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 99 per cent, are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery."

The best of its pleasures are free unto those Who know how to value their worth.

The sweetest of music the birds to us sing, The loveliest flowers grow wild, The finest of drinks gushes out of the spring— All free to man, woman and child.

LOST CANNON.

Major Teel, Who Buried the Confederate Pieces Thirty-two Years Ago, Again on the Ground.

Among the visitors to Santa Fe during the past few days was Major T. T. Teel, of El Paso, Texas. Major Teel came primarily on business with the land court, but incidental to this was a mission of great interest not only to himself but also to those who were on either side in the late civil war—the location of a dozen cannons.

Major Teel's command during the campaign of the Confederacy in New Mexico. Thirty-two years ago last March Major Teel paid his last visit to Santa Fe. It was a very different place then from what it is now. There was not a single brick building in the town and the evidences of modern enterprise so abundant now were then almost entirely wanting. In other respects this former visit was very different from the present one. It was a day that tried men's souls; and as Major Teel told of these incidents in the past his voice showed something of the enthusiasm which characterized the brave men on both sides of that terrible conflict. "Yes," he said to a representative of the New Mexican, "I remember my last trip to Santa Fe as though it were but yesterday. We had just finished our engagement with the federal

TROOPS AT OLORETA where we had met Gen. Canby's division. From that point we came on to Santa Fe for the purpose of getting provisions for our forces. We had left about 200 men at Albuquerque and had about 2,500 altogether at Santa Fe, most of them being members of Gen. Sibley's brigade. Our headquarters were near the present cathedral and my battalion was stationed near the site of the present federal building. After having been here only three or four days we received information that Gen. Canby's division was about to be reinforced by the federal troops from Fort Union under Colo. Slough and Paul. Accordingly we decided to leave Santa Fe immediately and to

HARTELL ALBUQUERQUE for the relief of our garrison stationed there. I had with our battalion twelve brass pieces, six 12-pounders and six 6-pounders, that we could not carry. Rather than leave them behind to be captured by the enemy I determined to bury them. Accordingly, the evening before we left, a little after dark, I had the pieces transferred with a six-mule team to a point about three-quarters of a mile from town out on the Tesuque road. I carried along a guard of about forty men, and stationing a portion of these along the road as a watch, we went up the side of one of

THE FOOT HILLS near an arroyo and there buried the pieces about two or three feet below the surface. The weather was intensely cold and the next morning when we were on our way south, the whole country was under a blanket of snow.

While here Major Teel, Lieut. Littell and a member of the New Mexican's staff went out with the view of locating the point at which the guns were buried. On account of the change in the land marks Major Teel found some difficulty in locating the spot, but finally found a point within an area of which he is certain the guns will be found. On his return to El Paso he will forward Lieut. Littell a memorandum, made at the time, showing the exact location. Lieut. Littell will then exhume the pieces and it is very probable that they will, if found, be used as ORNAMENTS FOR THE PLAZA. The existence of these cannon has been known in Santa Fe for many years and a great desire has been expressed to regain them on account of their value as relics. The Confederate troops while in New Mexico buried, besides these eight at Albuquerque and four at San Marcial. Those concealed at Albuquerque were located by Major Teel and dug up about two years ago, while those at San Marcial have never been found.

OFFICIAL GOSSIP.

The case involving the El Pino grant in Santa Fe county has been continued until the next term of court. Outside of the foregoing no decisions were rendered. The court is to-day hearing the consolidated case involving the Alamitos and Juan Salas grants in southern Santa Fe county. Mr. Catron and Judge Laughlin appear for the claimants and Mr. Burkhardt for the government.

THE MILITARY.

Return of the Troops from Raton—Many News Notes of Military Moment.

The two companies of the 10th infantry stationed at Raton returned to Fort Marcy last night. Col. Pearson states that the health of the troops has been exceptionally good during their stay.

In reference to their departure for Santa Fe, the Raton Range says: The two companies of the 10th U. S. infantry, stationed here since the 4th of July, leave to-day for Fort Marcy at Santa Fe.

During their stay the people of Raton have been most favorably impressed and largely enlightened as to the importance, life, customs and personnel of the recognized defenders of this great nation.

The gallantry, courtesy and genial hospitality of the accomplished officers who have served here during that time will always be most kindly remembered by a host of friends and acquaintances.

ARMY NOTES. The St. Louis Republic, in speaking of the proposed change of the recruiting stations at David's Island, N. Y.; Columbus barracks, Ohio, and Jefferson barracks, Mo., to military posts, says that Jefferson barracks will probably become the headquarters of some western regiment which will be brought east. It is said that the 17th infantry, at Fort Russell, Wyo., will most probably be selected for that location.

The same paper announces that the new post at David's Island will be the strongest in the east; and that the general policy of the government will be the abandonment of the small army posts in the far west and the transfer of the companies to larger posts.

The Army and Navy Journal, which is highly regarded as an authority in military circles, says that the 17th regiment, at Fort Russell, will probably be divided between Columbus barracks and David's Island. This disposes of the statement that it will take the place of the 10th infantry at Fort Marcy.

The establishment of an army department of the south is being much discussed in army circles. It is regarded as a probability in the near future. Atlanta, Ga., and Little Rock, Ark., are making a strong bid for the headquarters.

The Journal, above quoted from, thus disposes of the rumored change of the 10th from Santa Fe to Cheyenne: "All talk of the 10th regiment being moved is groundless, as it is understood that the authorities intend to keep this command where it is for the present."

NEW MEXICO NEWS.

The new town pump at Gallup was started up Friday, and it is working as easy as a 17-jewel watch.

Until further notice freight trains on the New Mexico division must not exceed a speed of one mile in three minutes between Raton and Las Vegas, in either direction.

J. A. Lucas has just completed the school census of this district. There are 316 males of school age and 289 females of school age in the district, making a total of 605 as against 585 last year.—Silver City Eagle.

Mr. Charles McDonald, formerly of Troy, Ohio, a conductor on the Peos Valley road, had his left arm cut off and his right hand mangled by his train last Friday night about forty-four miles north of Elddy. He was making a running switch tripped and fell under the moving cars. He is about 30 years old and a well known railroad man.

While digging for a foundation for a new house on Aztec avenue, between Second and Third streets, one day this week, the workmen unearthed a square box, which on being opened proved to contain a human body. The "coffin" was only about eighteen inches under ground. The body in it was that of a short person who had evidently "died with his boots on," as he was still wearing them. He had on a woolen shirt, and his head rested on a pillow made out of a red flannel shirt, which was still in a fair state of preservation. Several of the "old timers" were interviewed and all say that the body must have been lying there for at least twelve years, if not longer.—Gallup Glenser.

POLITICAL ROUND-UP.

Newsy Paragraphs from All New Mexico Relating to the Contest for Delegate.

The following is the official list of delegates and alternates to the territorial convention at Las Cruces, each delegate alternate following his own name: Pedro Delgado, J. H. Crist; Geo. Blakely, Romulo Martinez; A. P. Hill, W. E. Dame; Marcelino Garcia, Pedro Quintana; T. F. Moore, J. S. Candelario; Eugenio Sena, Meliton Castillo; H. L. Ortiz, Camilo Padilla; J. P. Victory, Nestor Montoya; Austin Goodall, Candelario Martinez; W. P. Cunningham, Chas. Lyon. Credentials have been issued accordingly.

Democratic primaries were held in Silver City Friday evening and resulted in the following ticket without opposition: J. W. Fleming, John Gillett, Thos. S. H. M. Y. R. White, W. T. Williams, G. D. Bantz, G. W. M. Carvill, C. G. Bell, H. S. Martyr, L. A. Skelly, A. Hood, Ed. White, A. J. Loomis, Wm. Brahm. The Deming delegates are: Joseph Boone, J. P. McGrorty, James Tracy, C. W. Klusman, W. B. Walton, John Burdette, Frank Peters, J. M. Hollingsworth, L. L. Marshall, Bud Williams, Frank McGlinchy, John Phillips, Jeff Keith, Charles Allen, J. W. Foster. The Grant county convention meets at Silver City to-morrow.

The following are the Deming delegates elected to represent that town at the Grant county Republican convention which meets at Silver City on the 18th: Thos. Carr, N. A. Bolich, Gustav Wormser, James Hannigan, F. K. Wyman, L. M. Bullock, Israel King, A. B. Simons, B. Y. McKeyer.

From all indications the ring politicians of the Republican party carried out their plans at the primaries, and it will be left to the voters to repudiate their action. It is said that the Republican delegates elected in this precinct Saturday will declare themselves independent of "boss" rule.—Deming Headlight.

The Republicans of Pinos Altos precinct at their primary last Saturday evening endorsed D. P. Carr as a candidate for the legislature from Grant county, and Mr. Carr will be a candidate for the nomination before the Republican county convention next week.

The Democrats of that city have ignored the claims of Col. Albright, says the Albuquerque Citizen. He is not even a precinct delegate to the county convention. Thus it is again proved that republics and political parties are ungrateful.

A telegram from Hon. A. B. Fall to Secretary Miller announces that Dona Ana, Eddy and Sierra counties have chosen Ferguson delegates to the Las Cruces convention.

The Democrats of Bernalillo county met yesterday and selected fifteen delegates to the Las Cruces convention. While they go unopposed it is understood that they favor the nomination of Hon. H. B. Ferguson.

At this time it looks to the Eagle as though the delegation from Grant county to the territorial convention will be solidly for Ferguson for delegate to congress.—Silver City Eagle.

A Good Showing. Official figures show that the earnings of the Denver & Rio Grand railroad for the first week in September are $138,800 against $112,800 for the same week last year. This is an increase of $26,000 or 23.5 per cent. The earnings for the fiscal year to date are $1,198,161 against $1,060,991 for the last year, an increase of $137,170, or 12.46 per cent.
