ROBBERS CAUGHT.

Five Farmers in Northern Missouri Plan to Rob an A. T. & S. F. Express Train.

Well Laid Plans Divulged and Tragical Scenes Follow—Two of Them in Jail.

Gorin, Mo., Sept. 18.—The Colorado and Utah express on the Santa Fe railroad was held up by robbers at 3:30 a. m. today. As the railroad and express officials had a spy on the trail of the bandits, when they stopped the train, they met a hail of buckshot and bullets, and it is said that at least two are dead in the surrounding woods, while the other rode away to the rendezvous twenty-one miles away, filled with bullets. They shot Dad Prescott, the engineer, before they had even a chance to hold up his hands. His wound, it is believed, will not prove fatal.

After the train left Chicago at 6 o'clock last evening, the railroad and express detectives, ALL HEAVILY ARMED, climbed on at every station. J. A. Mathews, who has been acting as spy for two weeks, boarded the train at Galesburg. He brought news that the robbers had decided to leave their hiding place near Memphis at 8:30 o'clock last night and to make a third attempt to get rich at the expense of the express company. They expected to make a haul of at least $50,000. At Fort Madison, Ia., Division Superintendent Stockton of the Wells Fargo express got into the treasure car. He carried a Winchester that once belonged to Bill Dalton, and with him were four men. Two Santa Fe detectives, Kinney and Montgomery, boarded the engine and Superintendent Stockton and two good shots tarried in the express car. In the forward end of the smoking car a dozen men were placed. At 2 o'clock, when Sheriff Saling of Scotland county, climbed on board, all the details of the surprise party had been arranged.

THERE WAS A SPY who had to be protected; for, according to the report brought in by Mathews, the spy would endeavor to be the one to trigger the train. If so, one torpedo would precede the swinging of a lantern. Orders were given that no matter if every robber got away there was to be no shooting to endanger the life of a man who had taken his life in his hands to frustrate the attempted robbery. In the little compartment

FILLED WITH ARMED MEN the lights were out, the windows up, and in each seat were two men sitting side ways. The muzzles of their guns protruded just over the sills and beside them stood others with Winchester at half-cock resting across their arms. Out from between two high embankments, just one mile from Gorin sped the train. Then came the crack of the longed-for signal and across the tracks not fifty yards away

SWUNG A RED LIGHT. Within twenty seconds the train was at a standstill. Out from the dense undergrowth came four forms, the face of each being hidden by a black mask. One rushed to the engine and before his companions could reach the express car, and when within ten feet of the tender he pointed his rifle at Dad Prescott, the white bearded engineer, and as he shouted

"HOLD UP YOUR HANDS," he pulled the trigger. Dad fell to the floor of the cab with a bullet in his right breast. With one bound Kinney gained the top of the tender and sent a shower of shot almost into the face of the masked individual. How the fellow ever managed to move six inches is a mystery, but he did so and made for the woods. The shot which laid Engineer Prescott low was the SIGNAL FOR A FUSILLADE and also for the hasty retreat of the robbers to the timber. They fired two shots, but, although the men were leaning from the car windows and pulling the triggers as fast as possible, while the others were given a chase they failed to hit a man. The place where the horses were tied was soon found and the fact that the hitching straps were cut, showed that one man at least had life enough to escape. Search for the dead and wounded was postponed until morning, but chase after the one or more who had escaped was started within ten minutes. It is not likely the passengers will ever forget their experience. With the first shot, every man near a window opened it and looked out; and within a second he drew his head in

DROPPED ON THE FLOOR. The cry, "Train robbers," went through the train and the women, with screams, went down on their knees. When the train reached Gorin, Engineer Prescott was removed to a house and Dr. Cruikshank, a Santa Fe physician, living in New Mexico, who was on the train, dressed his wound. Fireman McGraw took the train west. Twice before, last night's bandits have started for the spot selected for their deed of violence this morning and each time the fall of rain has baffled them.

The Santa Fe road received information of the contemplated raid three weeks ago. Every night since a half dozen secret service men have been on the train and on nights when the spy gave warning that the robbery was to be expected, the force was increased.

TWO ARE CAPTURED. Keokuk, Ia.—Five farmers living three miles north of Arbella, Mo., are the men who held up the Santa Fe train at Gorin, fifty miles west of this place, last night. Two were captured at Memphis, Mo., this morning. They are Charles Abrams and Lincoln Overfield. The former was wounded six times and can not recover.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT. Memphis, Mo., Sept. 18.—W. E. McDaniel, the man who advised the officers of the plot giving the time and place of the Santa Fe train robbery, went last night with C. E. Abrams, Link Overfield and two others to Gorin. As the train neared Gorin the engineer noticed that a switch signal light had been removed, heard a torpedo explode and saw a signal flag waved. He stopped the train and then Abrams, the leader of the gang, ran to the engineer and called out, "We've got you, hold up your hands." The engineer was slow in responding and Abrams shot him. Detective Kinney, concealed in the tender, shot Abrams in the shoulders with a double-barreled shotgun loaded with buckshot.

Abrams and the other robbers ran for the brush. Abrams' horse was killed. The officers scoured the brush, but did not find the robbers. The officers then came to Memphis, got out warrants and located Abrams and Overfield; and then brought them to jail. Abrams will die. The officers refuse to give the names of the others implicated.

LOST HIS PEACOCK FEATHER

Li Hung Chang is in Hard Luck—The Chinese Lose Heavily in the Korean Campaign.

London, Sept. 18.—A dispatch from Ping Yang, Corea, says that every hour's tidings adds to the crushing character of the Chinese defeat. The total Chinese losses is said now to be over 7,000 killed, wounded and prisoners. The Chinese prisoners number 14,500, and it is probable that the number will be increased during the next few days by the prisoners being constantly brought in by the Japanese cavalry. Besides Gen. Tso Fook Wai, commander-in-chief of the Manchurian army who surrendered only when badly wounded, the Japanese captured Gen. Tso Fook Wai, Wei Ink Wei, Tayu Kow Eng and Sei Kin Lin. Practically all the Chinese prisoners are to be sent to Japan in batches of 1,000 on board of Japanese transports.

LI HUNG CHANG DEPOSED. A dispatch from Shanghai says that an imperial edict has been issued, depriving Viceroy Li Hung Chang of his three-starred peacock feather, because of his mismanagement of the Korean campaign. The Pall Mall Gazette Shanghai correspondent says that the Japanese are rapidly advancing upon Monken and that Viceroy Li Hung Chang is reported to have been deposed.

OWENS HAS A MAJORITY. Lexington, Ky., Sept. 18.—The Leader this afternoon publishes a table of the official vote in seven counties and that of the Populists is the main cause of any uneasiness on this account. It is, however, very possible that the influence of any mere Populist theories may be thwarted by congress taking up the question next December and putting it through before the 4th of March. There has been no congressional action to show very clearly how congressional opinion stands upon the currency issue; but among members of the house who have been best situated to form a judgment, there is a strong hope that it may be found possible to carry through, before next March, a measure that will set at naught the monetary system. If this can be done, the monetary complexion of the new congress will be a matter of secondary importance. It rests very much with the men of finance, whose experience affords the best qualifications for guiding opinion on this question, to show the way towards an early and wise settlement of this vexed question. There are ways in which they can make their guidance influential; and in proportion as they discreetly use their power will be the chances of a final placing of the currency settlement beyond the reach of both silver maniacs and Populists.

PINKERTON MEN HAVE A SCRAP. Chicago, Sept. 18.—A pitched battle between Pinkerton men and the attaches of Harry Varnell's gambling house at Madison and Clark streets was fought this afternoon during a raid on that place. Varnell's house was filled when a score of detectives led by Matt Pinkerton entered. Occupants of the house armed themselves with chairs and other weapons and charged on the intruders. Drawing clubs the officers resisted the attack for fifteen minutes. Many of the combatants were knocked down and pounded, but none were dangerously hurt. The detectives finally conquered, making numerous arrests. Varnell retaliated by causing the arrest of Matt Pinkerton.

ACCIDENT ON THE WABASH. Moberly, Mo., Sept. 18.—The Wabash railroad's Omaha and St. Paul train was wrecked near Clifton, west of this place this morning. The engine became unmanageable and ran away, until it was derailed. No passengers were injured, but fireman Frank Kaiser was thrown from the cab and probably fatally hurt.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Gov. Flower Refuses a Renomination for Governor—The New York Republicans in Session.

Saratoga, Sept. 18.—The state Republican convention, called to nominate a full state ticket, was rapped to order here to-day at 12:40 p. m. Hon. Samuel Ely Quigg, of New York City, was made temporary chairman. The platform will stand by bimetallicism; will condemn the tariff law as an attack on American industries; will claim that its purpose is to build up the South and to ruin the commercial interests of the North; and will condemn what are termed broken Democratic promises. Referring to the income tax, it will say that it is a rabid and un-American measure, violative of personal rights. In relation to the AMERICAN PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION, the platform will point to the constitutional provision, which permits the free exercise and enjoyment of religious professions and worship without discrimination or preference, and recommends that it be strictly followed.

Temporary Chairman Grigg, in his address arraigned the Democratic party for the passage of the new tariff law and denounced the "machine Democracy" of New York City. He said that the outlook for the Republican party in the coming election was encouraging. The convention took a recess till 4:30.

GOV. FLOWER WON'T RUN. Gov. Flower announced to-day that he is not a candidate for renomination. Ex-Vice President Levi F. Morton will in all probability be nominated for governor and J. Sloat Fassett for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket.

WALL STREET VIEW.

Watching the Congressional Elections in Hopes of Killing Silver.

New York, Sept. 18.—The banking house of Clegg & Co. has issued a circular in which it says:

Wall street is already beginning to occupy itself with the prospects of the coming congressional elections. The main matter around which interest centers is the currency question. It is taken for granted that that issue must come up for settlement, even though the session of congress be the short one; and much interest turns on the question—how far the disposition of the next congress may be changed on the currency question? The possibility that both parties, owing to party competition, may bid for the votes of the Populists is the main cause of any uneasiness on this account. It is, however, very possible that the influence of any mere Populist theories may be thwarted by congress taking up the question next December and putting it through before the 4th of March. There has been no congressional action to show very clearly how congressional opinion stands upon the currency issue; but among members of the house who have been best situated to form a judgment, there is a strong hope that it may be found possible to carry through, before next March, a measure that will set at naught the monetary system. If this can be done, the monetary complexion of the new congress will be a matter of secondary importance. It rests very much with the men of finance, whose experience affords the best qualifications for guiding opinion on this question, to show the way towards an early and wise settlement of this vexed question. There are ways in which they can make their guidance influential; and in proportion as they discreetly use their power will be the chances of a final placing of the currency settlement beyond the reach of both silver maniacs and Populists.

GRAND CANON OF COLORADO RIVER.

On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,262 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the wildest of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yosemite might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook. Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read up" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., at T. & S. F. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a free copy of an illustrated book describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

The contest for the championship of the world between the bantam-weights James Barry, of Chicago, and Caspar Leon, of New York, was decided on the turf at Lemont, near Chicago. It was the most evenly matched fight seen in many a day, and was decided in the twenty-eighth round in favor of Barry. The winner now holds the world's championship and captures a purse of $4,000.

This is the first step toward giving White Oaks its long sought railway outlet. A charter showing the route of the proposed road in New Mexico is shortly to be filed here.

You May Strike It Rich.

If you could pick up $21,000 in gold by one week's work, it would be worth going a few hundred miles to get, wouldn't it? That's just what the Aztec mine (Colfax Co., New Mexico) produced in seven days with total product to date of nearly a million dollars.

This rich mine is one of many in the newly discovered Monero valley and Ute Creek placer and quartz gold districts. Take Santa Fe route to Springer, N. M., thence stage to the camp.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18.

PERHAPS the Albuquerque fair isn't in need of the suggestion, kindly as the New Mexican intended it, that a little broader basis would give it more of a territorial aspect and help Albuquerque as well as all New Mexico. Perhaps, too, the Albuquerque Citizen has totally misrepresented the recent fair by devoting columns to the very ordinary base ball games and the horse races—and only a few lines to the exhibits on mines, wool, horticulture, agriculture, etc.

FORT MARCY.

The New Mexican can not believe that the war department has ordered the abandonment of Fort Marcy. There are business reasons why this post should not be abandoned and they are many and cogent. No other post in the west outside of Fort Logan, Colo., and Fort Riley, Kan., has access to any such forage fields as has Fort Marcy. With two lines of railroad, the A., T. & S. F. and the D. & R. G., the latter tapping the granary of southern Colorado, forage of all kinds should be laid down here at prices much less than are paid at other western posts. Fort Marcy stands practically within the center of an Indian country, accessible by rail more readily from this point than any other in Colorado or New Mexico, and besides there are other reasons why the post should be maintained. The idea that Fort San Carlos, A. T., and Fort Marcy, N. M. should be abandoned, while such posts as Forts Stanton, N. M., and D. A. Russell, Wyo., remain untouched, seems to us to be a mistake. Take Fort Stanton for example, and there the cost of the army ration to the government is actually doubled by the cost of transportation from the nearest railroad point to the post. Again, the announcement that Fort Marcy is among the list of those western posts to be wiped out seems particularly incredible since only a few days ago Delegate Joseph had a personal interview with the secretary of war and Gen. Schofield and received the assurance that this post would stand. Then, too, less than eighteen months ago Gen. Schofield himself recommended that Fort Marcy be enlarged, for good military and business reasons, to a twelve company post. The announcement that this historic post is to be abandoned may be true, for there is no telling what insidious foe may be at work against Santa Fe and New Mexico at Washington, but, for the sake of good government, for the sake of the honor and credit of the war department, the New Mexican sincerely hopes that there may be some mistake about it.

THE NEXT HOUSE.

That the importance of controlling the next house of representatives is appreciated by each of the political parties of this country is shown in the intense energy which is characterizing them in the very outset of the fall campaign. In Maine, where Republicanism is a part of the family rearing, that party has had its strongest speakers addressing the voters during the last few days; and in Georgia, which went Democratic by a majority of 70,000 in 1892, scores of the ablest statesmen in the state are preaching the iniquities of Republicanism and Populism, Secretary Hoke Smith and Speaker Clegg having been among the orators.

It must not be supposed by this that Maine may become Democratic or Georgia go Populist. On the contrary each of these states will cling to their ancient political faith at future elections with increased tenacity. This state of affairs, however, is remarkable in that it shows that neither Democrats, Republicans nor Populists will take anything for granted this fall, but that every inch of ground will be contested.

The magnificent political advantage which the possession of a majority in the next house will give, lies not only in the power thus afforded for the passage of legislation, but in the further fact that the party which goes farther and controls the representation of a majority of the states will be in a position to elect a president, in case the absence of a majority in the electoral college of 1896 throws the selection of a president into the house. In view of the unsettled political condition of the country such a contingency as the last mentioned is among the strong probabilities.

It must be conceded, however, by an impartial observer, that the chances of a Democratic majority in the next house are more than excellent. That the majority will not be as large as in the present house is neither expected nor ardently desired by the party leaders; that a good working majority will be present can not, however, be gainsaid. The reasons for this statement are not in the least imaginary; they are, on the contrary, based upon a sound mathematical basis.

To begin with, the present Democratic majority in the house is eighty-two; to sweep this out of existence would be an exceptional political event. In addition, of the 179 votes necessary to a majority the Democracy has in advance the assurance of the solid south with its 126 congressmen. That the south will continue solid is shown in advance by the elections in Arkansas and Alabama during the past few weeks, where Democratic majorities were largely increased. This leaves only fifty-three votes to be secured from the Democracy north of Mason and Dixon's line, and as that part of the country sent ninety-three Democratic congressmen to the last house it is hardly possible that the Democracy can this fall lose enough votes in the north and west to put it in the minority. Conservative estimates put the next Democratic majority at between twenty and thirty. It is very probable that it will exceed the last figure; it is hardly possible that it can fall below the first.

You May Strike It Rich.
If you could pick up $21,000 in gold by one week's work, it would be worth going a few hundred miles to get, wouldn't it? That's just what the Aztec mine (Colfax Co., New Mexico) produced in seven days with total product to date of nearly a million dollars. This rich mine is one of many in the newly discovered Monero valley and Ute Creek placer and quartz gold districts. Take Santa Fe route to Springer, N. M., thence stage to the camp. Short winters, delightful climate and rich prospects. This may be the chance of a life-time. Ask local agent A. T. & S. F. R. R. for illustrated pamphlet. It tells the truth about this new country.

Grand Canon of Colorado River.
On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,262 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublimest of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yosemite might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook. Don't fail to visit this first wonder of the world. You can "read" about it by asking G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kas., to mail you a free copy of an illustrated book describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem of the printer's art.

SHOOTING STARS.

A Veteran of the Mexican War. Oak Harbor, Ohio.—I met Geo. O. Momen, an old veteran of the Mexican war, on the streets to-day who told me that after reading about Simmons Liver Regulator he bought a bottle and the first three doses gave him immediate relief. Say, I don't believe that story about Mrs. Danson's hair turning gray in a night, do you? Sure! Mercy, yes! That's nothing; my mamma turns hers yellow in half a day.

One advantage of taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla to purify the blood is that you need not infringe upon your hours of labor nor deny yourself any food that agrees with you. In a word, you are not compelled to starve or loaf, while taking it. These are recommendations worth considering.

If you have sick or nervous headache, take Ayer's Cathartic Pills. They will cleanse the stomach, restore healthy action to the digestive organs, remove effete matter (the presence of which depresses the nerves and brain), and thus give speedy relief.

A NARROW ESCAPE!

How it Happened.

The following remarkable event in a lady's life will interest the reader. "For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I couldn't sleep a room without sitting down and resting. But, thank God, by the help of New Heart Cure all that is past and I feel like another woman. Before using the New Heart Cure I had taken different so-called remedies and been treated by doctors without any benefit until I was both discouraged and disgusted. My husband bought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and I am happy to say I never regretted it, as I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. I weighed 125 pounds when I began taking the remedy, and now I weigh 150. Its effect in my case has been truly marvelous. It far surpasses any other medicine I have ever taken or any benefit I ever received from physicians."—Mrs. Harry Starr, Potomac, Pa., October 12, 1902. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. This great discovery by an eminent specialist in heart disease, contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

"That, sir, is a matter of no concern to you and has nothing to do with this case."

"I insist upon knowing."

"I prefer not to answer, sir."

"Now, then, I will ask you again, sir, how much does the manufacture of gas cost the company by the thousand feet?"

VERY TRYING.

The Unfortunate Position of Two Patients in a Doctor's Office.

There is a doctor in a neighboring city who makes a specialty of diseases of the nose and throat. He is a skillful and successful practitioner and has made a great reputation for himself. One morning, not so very long ago, a young man went to see him. The specialist asked him a few questions, peered down his throat and then took a towel and wet it under a tap. He handed the towel to the young man and said: "Put that towel over your nostrils and mouth and go into this room in the rear of my office. Breathe through it until I tell you to come out. Do not, in any circumstance, remove the towel until I call you into this office."

The young man did as he was bid. He walked into the rear room, which was a small, dingy place littered with instruments and books and containing two easy chairs. As he went in he looked at his watch. It was 11:30 o'clock. He placed the wet towel over his nostrils and mouth and sat down in one of the chairs. He had not been there longer than 15 minutes when the door opened and the rather pretty young woman whom he had observed in the waiting room came in. She carried a wet towel in her hand, and she carefully placed it over her nostrils and mouth and sat down in the other chair. They sat there for half an hour longer. Then the girl thought of something. She held up her hands and slowly and laboriously spelled out with her fingers, "Do you understand the sign language?" The young man nodded his head vigorously. Then she spelled out, "What on earth makes him keep us here so long?" The young man's fingers told her that he didn't know. "I don't dare go away or go out there," she spelled, "for he's awful cross, and he's so high priced and knows so much that I want to get all the good I can from him this visit." "Same here," spelled the young man.

By this time it was 8 o'clock. They moved their chairs together, still keeping the now dry towels over their mouths and nostrils and talked with their fingers for another hour. At 9 o'clock the imprisonment became little less than torture. They could not walk around, for if they did the towels would drop off, and that would never do. They did not want to go out into the doctor's office, for they did not know but the doctor might have an excellent object in keeping them there. They endured another hour. When the young man looked at his watch for the third hundred and thirty-seventh time, he found it was 5 o'clock. During that hour, from 4 to 5, he had been growing very restless. He was hungry. At 6 o'clock he tore off the towel and said vigorously, "I'll not stay here another minute for all the throat doctors in the world. This is a blank blank outrage." The young woman pulled her towel down and said, "Oh, I'm ever so much obliged to you for that!"

Then together, carrying the towels, they went out to the other office. It was empty. They went into the waiting room. There was no one there. They walked out the front door and down the step. They saw no one. Half a block down the street they met the doctor ambling along with a big cigar in his mouth and a look of serene contentment on his face. "Here!" shouted the young man to him as the three met. "What in the name of the larynx of the great joss do you mean by keeping us in that room so long?"

The look of contentment on the doctor's face gave place to a startled expression. "Why," he said confusedly, "upon my soul, I forgot all about you."—Buffalo Express.

All Right Either Way.

"Does the fact that I have money make any difference to you Herbert, dear?"

"Of course it does, my own. It is such a comfort to know that if I should die you would be well provided for."

"But suppose I should die?"

"Then I should be well provided for."—Life.

strong, plump, round and rosy. Nothing so effective as a strength restorer and flesh maker is known to medical science; this puts on healthy flesh not the fat of cod liver oil and its filthy compounds. It restores every organ of the body to activity, purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood so that the body feels refreshed and strengthened. If you are too thin, too weak, too nervous, it may be that the food assimilation is at fault. A certain amount of bile is necessary for the reception of the fat foods in the blood. Too often the liver holds back this element which helps digestion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery stimulates, tones up and invigorates the liver, nourishes the blood, and the muscles, stomach and nerves get the rich blood they require.

Spent Hundreds of Dollars with no Benefit. M. J. COLEMAN, of Sergeant St. Rosebury, Mass., writes: "After suffering from dyspepsia and constipation with violent attacks of indigestion for at least 18 months, I am more than pleased to say that after using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' for one month, I was entirely cured, and from that day to this I do not know a doctor on Tremont St., Boston, in one day (for his advice only) the sum of $100 with $50 for medicine, and derived no benefit. I got more relief in one hour from your medicine, as far as my stomach was concerned, than from all the other medicine I used. If any person who reads this is suffering from dyspepsia or constipation and will use your medicine as I have done, he will never regret it."

RENOMINATED.

The Faithful Work of Delegate Joseph in Congress Recognized by His Renomination.

Statehood Now Assured to the Territory—A Harmonious Meeting—A Good Day's Work for New Mexico.

Special to the New Mexican.

Las Cruces, N. M., Sept. 18.—Spirited scenes have characterized this hospitable little city since the Democratic territorial convention opened its session here at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The contest was narrowed down late yesterday afternoon by the absolute declaration of HON. F. A. MANZANARES, a telegram having been received from him stating that he was not to be considered a candidate under any circumstances. This left the field occupied only by Mr. Joseph and Mr. Ferguson.

The friends of the latter were most loyal in their support as also were the supporters of the former, but it was plain to see that the BEST OF GOOD FEELING was the order of the occasion and the interest and welfare of Democracy and good government for New Mexico were uppermost in the minds of 95 per cent of the delegates.

Soon after the receipt of the telegram from Mr. Manzanares the convention effected temporary organization and Gov. Thornton was called upon to address the convention. He responded in a few well chosen words, urging that this was a time when all personal differences should be sunk and only the good of all New Mexico given consideration, and saying that this convention had practically within its grasp the GIVING OF STATEHOOD to New Mexico and he hoped its deliberations would be of such a character as to indicate that the representatives of the Democratic party appreciated the dignity and responsibility of the occasion and the circumstances. The governor's remarks were received with applause.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION was affected by the election of Hon. Henry L. Warren, of Albuquerque, as president, and Mr. Adolph P. Hill, of Santa Fe, as secretary.

The several committees were appointed and the convention took a recess till 9 a. m. to-day. During the interim the contest involving the San Miguel county delegation, whether the Martinez-Union party delegates or the Democratic-Independent party delegates, or parts of both, should be admitted to seats in the convention occupied a great deal of time.

The question was finally settled by the admission of both delegations from San Miguel, allowing each ten and a half votes in the convention.

LAST NIGHT the friends of both Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Joseph were very active in their canvass among the delegations, and there was a sharp contest on, but of the most friendly and conciliatory nature on both sides.

A NIGHT CAUCUS. Conflicting claims and interests were adjusted last night and when the convention met this morning it was known that Ferguson had withdrawn and that Joseph had no opposition. Chairman Warren in a few words indicated plainly the course decided upon at the caucus and stated that the caucus had adopted a resolution, offered by Mr. H. L. Ortiz, of Santa Fe, that it was the sense of this caucus that the chairman of the delegations represented be instructed to vote first last and all the time for

ANTONIO JOSEPH FOR DELEGATE.

Mr. Ferguson placed Mr. Joseph in nomination on behalf of Bernalillo county, saying he believed the cause of statehood demanded the return of Mr. Joseph to Washington to complete his work and he challenged other counties to do better work than Bernalillo for the candidate.

EVERY COUNTY seconded the nomination and Mr. Joseph was nominated by acclamation.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing President Cleveland's tariff reform letter to Congressman Catchings; demanding statehood as a right; favoring free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1, and protesting against the appointment of non-residents as territorial officials.

Gov. Thornton and W. P. Cunningham were chosen central committeemen for Santa Fe county.

Mr. Joseph addressed the convention, endorsing the platform, promising to stump the territory, and pledging himself to secure the passage of the statehood enabling act for New Mexico by next December. Adjourned sine die.

The delegates left this afternoon for their respective homes, all highly enthusiastic over the harmonious result of the convention.

COUNTY FINANCES.

Major Palen Interviewed on the Proposition to Seale Down the Bonded Debt.

A few weeks ago the county commissioners passed a resolution looking toward a scaling of the bonded indebtedness of Santa Fe county. Mr. Romero, the county clerk, in response to an inquiry as to the present status of the matter, referred the New Mexican representative to Major R. J. Palen. Major Palen talked very freely and as his views will be of general interest to the public, and especially to the tax-payers of Santa Fe county, they are reproduced:

"I was appointed," said he, "at a recent meeting of the board of county commissioners to make a complete schedule of the indebtedness of Santa Fe county. This would be a very great task in view of the shape of the public records and would more appropriately be done by the county clerk, if he had the data on record, as they should be. In view of the fact that the work would involve very much labor and would be entirely gratuitous and that my time is fully occupied with the duties incident to other trusts in my care, it is not my intention to comply with the request of the county board."

"I suppose," he continued, "that the purpose of the board in requesting this statement is to make it the foundation of a request to the county bondholders for a further scaling of the county indebtedness. In view of the fact that the arrangements for substituting a rate of interest at 5 per cent for one of six have only lately been completed, I hardly think this an opportune time to make a further proposition on the subject to the county's creditors."

"In view of the present condition of the county finances, I have no doubt that one of these days the bondholders will have the alternative presented them of taking over the property and running it, at the same time paying the expenses of operation, or, on the other hand, of taking a greatly reduced amount in satisfaction of the indebtedness. The time when this shall have become entirely clear has perhaps not yet arrived, but that it is inevitable I have no doubt."

Sale of Timber Lands.

Capt. J. L. Bullis, agent for the Pueblo and Jicarilla Apache Indians, has been advised by the interior department that it has been decided to dispose of a part of the standing timber on the Jicarilla reservation in Rio Arriba county, the value of which, it is estimated, will be about $20,000. Advertisements to this effect have been ordered inserted in the New Mexican and a Durango paper and will appear shortly.

A Good Appetite

Always accompanies good health, and an absence of appetite is an indication of something wrong. The universal testimony given by those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, as to its merits in restoring the appetite, and as a purifier of the blood, constitutes the strongest recommendation that can be urged for any medicine.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache, etc.

THE LAND COURT.

The Santa Clara Grant Cut Down and Confirmed—Complication of the Cochiti Cases.

The land court this morning confirmed the Pueblo de Santa Clara grant to the extent of the valley land from the pueblo to the foot of the mountains, covering some 1,200 acres, while the original claim was for 25,000 acres. The claimants were represented by Mr. J. H. Crist. The property claimed lies in Santa Fe, Bernalillo and Rio Arriba counties.

The land court is this week passing upon the ownership of the Cochiti district. The records of the court show a great many conflicting claims for this valuable mining property, and the session of the court for the next few days will be of interest to a very large number both here and elsewhere who are interested in the future of this great section. The first of the claims to this property being tried is the Rito de los Frijoles grant, which trial began yesterday morning and is being continued to-day. The tract claimed in this grant lies near the Rio Grande and on the west extends out to the very heart of the Cochiti district. The claimants for this grant are George N. Fletcher and others and their attorneys are Messrs. J. H. Purdy and J. W. Vroom. Mr. Reynolds appears for the government, and Mr. John H. Knaebel, who represents the Canada de Cochiti grant, is assisting the government. Besides the attorneys just mentioned, there are present a number of others who, while not interested directly in the trial of this case, will be affected by the decision, as they represent one of the several other claims to the same property. Among these is Mr. Chas. H. Tool, who represents Mr. Thos. Lowthian's mining interests. The next claim for trial is the Borrego springs grant, otherwise known as the Nerio Antonio Montoya grant. This lies, in part, south of the Canada de Cochiti grant, but the northern boundaries claimed run far north into the grant last named. Two claims were filed for the Borrego property, one by Mr. James H. Purdy on behalf of Amador C. de Baca and others for 99,000 acres, and the other by Judge Laughlin for Jose Albino Baca and others for two leagues square. These cases will doubtless be heard together either to-day or to-morrow. A third conflicting claim is the San Jose springs grant, lying partly upon the Borrego grant and partly upon the Canada de Cochiti grant, to the southwest of the latter. This claim was also brought by two attorneys, Judge Laughlin representing Florencio Sandoval and others in a claim for the San Jose y Santo Toribio de Jemez property, consisting of four square leagues, and Mr. Geo. Hill Howard, of California, representing Jose Albino Baca and others in a claim for 30,000 acres known as the Ojode San Jose grant. These two cases will be heard together and will follow the Borrego cases.

The claim which comes next thereafter is the trial of the largest and oldest of those made to the Cochiti district, and includes Bland and other important points. This is the Canada de Cochiti grant, consisting of 104,554.24 acres. Mr. John H. Knaebel, who represents Joel Parker Whitney and others, and Judge Laughlin, who represents Manuel Hurtado and others, will here be the opponents of the government, although in the trial of the other claims they are making common war with the United States attorney against their confirmation.

Nor does this end the controversy. After all the foregoing cases have been tried the La Peralta grant of about 400,000 acres, including all of the grants above claimed, is to be tried. Mr. G. H. Howard represents this grant; there is some doubt, however, as to whether it will be tried at this term of the court.

The difficulty which the consideration of these conflicting interests entails upon the attorneys has been largely obviated by a plat of the district which Mr. W. M. Tipton, the efficient special agent for the government, has placed upon the court room blackboard. The benefit which will accrue to this section from a settlement of this controversy will, however, amply repay the time and trouble spent in the consideration of this matter.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

A fine rain that last night and this afternoon.

There is a decided improvement in the inquiry for fruit lands about Santa Fe.

The stock range throughout Santa Fe county has not been so good in a generation.

Several Santa Feans contemplate attending the Colfax county fair to be held at Maxwell City on Thursday and Friday.

The trustees of the university meet tonight at the office of ex-Gov. Prince to take action on the Ramona school affairs.

The Santa Fe Social club will give another of its informal hops this evening. The invitations were sent out yesterday and are elegant, being engraved on high class stationery.

The W. B. T. will give a bean supper and ice cream social at the Lamy rooms, on the northwest corner of the plaza, on Tuesday, September 25, for the benefit of the plaza fund. Bean supper, 25c; ice cream and cake, 25c.

Steve Arnold, the enterprising butcher, has purchased the Simmons' tract, on the De Vargas grant, near the Arroyo Chamiso, and is erecting there a real modern slaughter house. Arnold is a hustler for business all the time.

Hon. Byron Waters, of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been in the city attending the land court, has returned home. While here Mr. Waters took an appeal in the case of Robert Perrin vs. the United States, in which he represented the claimants. Mr. Waters represents the heirs of the late Senator Hearst, of California, in the litigation over the Boquillas grant. This last named case will be heard when the land court next sits in Tucson, which will not be for several months.

FORT MARCY.

The 10th Infantry to Go to Oklahoma—Strong Protests Against the Possible Abandonment of This Post.

It seems to be definitely settled as stated in our dispatches yesterday that the 10th infantry will go to Fort Bill and Fort Reno, Oklahoma Territory. These two posts are already regimental headquarters, the first for the 13th infantry and the second for the 3d cavalry. They are situated in some of the leading agricultural lands in that part of the country, but with no neighboring towns. There have been no official orders received at Fort Marcy as to the change; so that it is uncertain to which of these posts the headquarters of the 10th will go. It is also uncertain when the troops will leave, but Col. Pearson thinks that, in the usual course of such events, they will be here from two weeks to a month longer.

The only communication received by the authorities here bearing on the orders said to have been issued yesterday was a telegram received late yesterday by Lieut. Stottler, post quartermaster, from the chief quartermaster at Denver, directing him to stop all orders for supplies. As headquarters of the 10th is considered as meaning either that Fort Marcy will be permanently abandoned, or that there will be a delay of several weeks in assigning another command to this point. It is needless to say that the citizens of Santa Fe hope that the latter is true.

Telegrams respecting the possibility of Fort Marcy's abandonment were yesterday afternoon forwarded to Gov. Thornton and Delegate Joseph at Las Cruces and ere this they have doubtless forwarded to the authorities at Washington a very urgent joint telegram protesting against any action looking toward Fort Marcy's abandonment. Influential citizens here are actively at work in the premises. This forenoon ex-Gov. Prince sent to Secretary Lamont in person a strong telegram urging delay in any action looking toward the wiping out of Fort Marcy until the war department could hear from Gen. McCook, Gov. Thornton and Delegate Joseph.

PERSONAL.

Deputy Marshal Loomis is off on a trip to El Rito.

Col. Max. Frost returned last night from a trip to Denver and Salt Lake.

Mr. F. H. Mitchell, merchant, and Postmaster Cliff Arnold are in the city from Bland.

Charles W. Toll, W. C. Wynkoop, Denver; E. M. Douglas, Washington, are at the Palace.

Mr. W. C. Wynkoop, manager of extensive land and mining interests at Alton, is here to-day.

Juan Lujan, Jr., Mora; Fred P. Muller, Taos; Gregorio Griego, Penasco; Lorion W. Brown, Taos, are at the Exchange.

Mrs. Chas. Way, of Cerrillos, has been in the city for several days under treatment for an affliction of the eyes.

Hon. H. C. Toll, ex-attorney general of Colorado, is here on business before the land court in connection with the Cochiti grant.

Mr. H. S. Lutz and family and Mrs. J. C. Sears left last night for the east, the latter going to Arkansas to spend the winter.

Mr. Lorion W. Brown, deputy clerk of Taos county, Capt. Fred P. Muller, the well known merchant, and Gregorio Griego, probate judge, are in the city today on their way to the Republican convention at Socorro.

Hon. Chas. F. Easley has returned to Santa Fe after a visit of some weeks to Washington City and Missouri. He reports a very delightful time and comes back with renewed energy to the arduous duties of his office as surveyor general of the territory.

Political Dots.

R. E. Twitchell is at Los Lunas, presumably in the interest of the Republican cause.

New county schemes in southern Grant and western Bernalillo are laying mighty low just now.

Down in Bernalillo county the Hon. Pate Perez is said to have completely put the kibosh on the political schemes of the Hon. M. S. Otero.

W. A. Finlay was nominated by the Republicans at Lincoln for representative which was a lucky nomination for Hinkle. Finlay represents all that is pernicious in Republicanism, being an Irish Republican of the most absurd character possible to ring up. No Democrat will vote for him.—Eddy Daily Current.

It begins to look as if the name of Antonio Joseph will once more head the Democratic ticket. If so let the Republicans nominate Catron, and then let us see if history repeats itself.—Springer Stockman.

Northern New Mexico polls the heavy Democratic vote, hence the Republicans need a man who by reason of his personal following will add strength to the entire ticket, and by reason of his popularity will poll a heavy vote for the delegateship. Such a man is found in Gov. O. A. Hadley, of Watrous.—Stockman.

Two county's delegation to the Socorro convention is composed of Squire Hart, Jr., Primitivo Cordero, Benigno C. Hernandez, Gregorio Griego, Fred P. Muller, Maluquina Martinez, Lorion W. Brown.
