On Dec. 14, Agriculture Minister Carlos de Leon told reporters that coffee export revenues for 1990 are expected to total $400 million. Annual output has surpassed 200,000 metric tons. According to de Leon, torrential rains this year caused the loss of about 60,000 MT of the coffee crop valued at $4 million. (Basic data from ACAN-EFE, 12/14/90)
