Poetry in Trade.

As an illustration of the fact that it is no use for the Hardware dealer to try to "beat" the school teacher in a war of words, we give a letter received to-day from one of our customers, a teacher who had bought a gun of W. H. Goebel some time since. He wrote him that, "owing to our impetuosity we would like to have a little reciprocity" in the shape of a check by return mail for the amount of his account. But he completely knocked him out with the following response:

With considerable curiosity.
And accelerating velocity.
I pursued the gentle verbosity
Of your dun without animosity.

With sorrowful hesitation.
I make the declaration.
That my financial situation
Prevents a prompt liquidation.

With the humblest timidity.
In the midst of sore turgidity.
I ask you to relinquish rigidity
And trust to my eager rapidity.

With candid and earnest feeling sincerity.
I promise to use my utmost celerity.
Yours in adversity:
Not in perversity.

WILD SCENES IN THE HOUSE.

Representatives Breckinridge and Heard Come to Blows on the Floor.

Separated with Difficulty—Acted Like Crazy Men—Arraigned Before Speaker Crisp.

Washington, Feb. 1.—In the course of an explanation to the house to-day Mr. Breckinridge practically challenged Mr. Heard, of Missouri, and demanded personal satisfaction. Both Heard and Breckinridge were forced to apologize to the house. Expulsion proceedings are unlikely.

MOST EXCITING IN HISTORY OF HOUSE.
There was a most exciting scene in the house of representatives this morning when Representative Breckinridge, of Kentucky, and Representative Heard, of Missouri, came to blows in the center of the aisle in the middle of the hall. Representative Heard, chairman of the committee on the District of Columbia, was angered because the Hawaiian question was being brought forward in the time devoted to his committee and attempted to secure the floor. The beginning of the controversy was not plain, but suddenly both members sprang toward each other, Breckinridge shouting: "You cur, second-rate liar," and striking at the member from Missouri a fierce blow which missed him. Instantly they were seized by other members, but struggled fiercely to get at each other, shouting "liar." Mr. Pence, of Colorado, had BRECKINRIDGE BY THE THROAT and McCreary, of Kentucky, climbed over several desks and held him by the shoulder. For three or four minutes there was a wild scrambling, resembling a foot ball rush, while all the members in the house poured into the aisle and the greatest confusion reigned. The pounding of the speaker's gavel could not be heard, but Speaker Crisp's voice rang out like a trumpet, shouting: "The sergeant-at-arms will arrest the members," and then: "The sergeant will bring them to the bar of the house."

Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Isaac Hill rushed down the aisle, bearing the great mace, followed by his assistants. The two members were then BROUGHT BEFORE THE SPEAKER'S DESK with two men on each side holding their arms, and Representative Dockery, of Missouri, standing behind them. Breckinridge was exceedingly red in the face, while Heard, who is a slender man, was ashen pale and trembling like a leaf.

OTHER HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.
The house gave an hour to-day to the debate on the Pacific railroad funding bill before taking up the District of Columbia business, to which the day was devoted by an order made on Wednesday. Mr. Bowers, of California, opposed the bill bitterly. In doing so, however, he severely condemned the methods pursued by some of the California opponents of the measure, notably Mayor Sutro, of San Francisco, who has been flooding the members with frantic appeals to kill the bill. The foes of the gentleman claim that Mayor Sutro is in reality attempting to aid the passage of the measure. Said Mr. Cammett, Democrat of California: "I do not believe it." Replied Bowers, "but I believe that is the real effect of his circulars."

Killed by a Policeman.
Brooklyn, Feb. 1.—A man named Dunn was shot by Policeman Cornelius to-day while endeavoring to escape after having cut a trolley wire. Dunn's injuries though serious are not fatal. Master Workman Connolly says E. V. Debs is expected here in a few days.

Cold Wave in Iowa.
Marshalltown, Ia., Feb. 1.—The government thermometer registered 21½ degrees below to-day.
Ottumwa, Ia.—This has been the coldest day of the season; 16 degrees below zero.

AMERICAN SECURITIES.

Better Feeling on London Stock Exchange—Baron Rothschild Denies that His House will Take Whole American Loan.

London, Feb. 1.—The feature of the stock exchange to-day was the improvement in American securities in response to advices from Wall street. Baron Rothschild said, regarding the cable reported of his connection with the proposed American loan: "It is quite untrue that any negotiations are pending with the United States; neither has the house of Rothschilds any intention of taking the whole loan."

Four Persons Burned.
Cleveland, Feb. 1.—Albert Almyer, Minnie Baumer, an eight months old baby and Jacob Krause were burned to death in a fire at the Deaconess home. There were fifteen patients and but for the brave work of the firemen the loss of life would have been greater.

Criminal Negligence.
Butte, Mont., Feb. 1.—The coroner's jury has returned a verdict fixing the responsibility for the terrible explosion on January 25, in which 58 lives were lost, on the Kenyon Connell Commercial company and the Butte Hardware company, and holding them guilty of criminal negligence.

Ready for Peace.

Yokohama, Feb. 1.—The Chinese peace envoys have arrived at Kobe and will go to Hiroshima by train at once, accompanied by Mr. John W. Foster, ex-secretary of state of the United States, who is acting as their adviser and conciliator. The latter, replying to a question as to the nature of the proposals the Chinese envoys were instructed to submit to Japan, said that their nature might be inferred from the disastrous condition of China.

KANSAS LEGISLATION.

Very Stringent Acts Against Gambling—A New State Constitution.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 1.—The senate passed without a dissenting vote the Cullison anti-lottery bill, which is so sweeping in its provisions as to exterminate lotteries from Kansas, it is expected. The bill making it a felony to keep or operate a gambling house, punishable by one to five years in the penitentiary, was also passed. The bill applies to the owners of property where the gambling house is located. The bill, which makes it a felony to be found in a gambling house, punishable by one to three years at Lansing, was fought by Senators McGargrett, Stern, O'Brien and Dilard, but passed. These three bills will become laws as soon as signed by the governor and published.

The concurrent resolution to submit to the voters the question of a convention to revise and amend the constitution of Kansas passed by a vote of 28 to 5.

A. T. & S. F. Earnings.
Chicago, Feb. 1.—The approximated gross earnings of the entire system for the third week in January were $671,405, a decrease of $19,523 for the same week of last year. The approximated gross earnings for the month to date are $2,004,969, an increase of $24,434.

The earnings of the Colorado Midland, which the officials are now anxious to have placed under a separate receivership, were $22,271 for the week, an increase of $946, and for the month to date were $75,519, an increase of $7,298.

WILL FORGET AND FORGIVE

In Consideration of a Big Nam Mexico Will Let Guatemala Off this Time.

Washington, Feb. 1.—On the subject of the conference held between Secretary Gresham and the Mexican and Guatemalan ministers the Evening Star says: "The existing controversy between Mexico and Guatemala was agreed pro and con, with the result, so it is stated to-day, that the two countries will settle the matter between themselves without resort to arms. An agreement was reached whereby Guatemala is to make certain concessions to Mexico in the nature of an apology and indemnity in return for which the latter country will forget and forgive all past differences. "No details can be had on the subject, and the amount of the indemnity said to have been agreed upon can not be stated with positiveness. It is variously stated at between $500,000 and $2,000,000."

Washington, Feb. 1.—Lawrence Maxwell, solicitor general of the United States, has tendered his resignation to the president and it has been accepted. The relations between Attorney General Olney and Mr. Maxwell have been strained for some time.

VIRGINIA APPOINTED.

SENATOR TELLER SPEAKS.
Senator Teller addressed the senate on the financial question to-day. In conclusion Mr. Teller said: "Mr. President, I will see to it that in this session there shall be no hasty and ill-considered legislation to carry out the full purpose of those seeking to fasten the gold standard on the country."

BOND NEGOTIATIONS.
Negotiations preliminary to the bond issue have been entered into but as far as known a definite conclusion has not been reached. The administration fully determined to make whatever bond issue circumstances render necessary to preserve confidence in the integrity of national finances.

LOSS OF THE ELBE.

No More of the Missing Recovered—Captain of the Cathie Explains—Terrible Weather—Other Disasters.

Lowestoft, Feb. 1.—The terrible weather of the past forty-eight hours continues along the east coast of England. Visits made this morning to the life saving and coast guard stations show that no additional news has been received regarding the loss of the Elbe and no traces have been found of the missing life boat.

CAPTAIN OF THE STEAMSHIP CATHIE EXPLAINS.

Rotterdam.—Captain Gordon, of the British steamship Cathie, which ran into and sank the Elbe, has made a statement to Lloyd's agent. He says that he was knocked down by the force of the collision, and when he regained his feet the two ships were some distance apart. The Cathie was so much damaged that he expected her to sink any moment. In spite of this he followed the other steamer, but found that she went faster than the Cathie and so he thought she was safe.

ANOTHER GERMAN LLOYD STEAMER IN TROUBLE.

Bremen.—The North German Lloyd steamer Fulda, Captain Thiesenhorst, is aground in the river Weser. She will probably float the next high tide. The Fulda sailed from New York on January 22, for Southampton.

BRITISH STEAMSHIP FOUNDERED.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

A meeting of the New Mexico World's fair commissioners has been called at the office of Dr. J. H. Sloan, president, this afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church holds an important meeting to-morrow afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock at Mrs. Valentine Carson's home.

The changeable weather of the past two weeks has caused an epidemic of colds about town. While these colds are not to be sneezed at, few of them appear to be more serious than transient aggravations.

It is now satisfactorily explained why Mr. Charles Gabaldon, collector of San Miguel, made a flying trip from Santa Fe to his home in Las Vegas last night. He went over to shake hands with a brand new daughter.

The trustees of the Whitten hall and the Ramona Indian school properties will hold a meeting at the governor's office to-morrow afternoon for the purpose of considering a proposition to lease the Ramona property to the government for a school for Indian girls.

Herbert L. Cobligh, a former well known type in the New Mexican office in 1886, and now the foreman of a job office in Kansas City, was married in the latter city recently to Miss Millie Eckert. The young man located his trade in Santa Fe and has many friends who will wish him success in his new venture.

The Optic notes that "Secretary Romero has resigned the position as secretary to the Romero Mercantile company, for the purpose of engaging in general merchandising with his father, Don Eugenio Romero, in the room at present occupied by Mrs. B. Danziger, south side of the plaza, she probably removing her stock of goods to the Baca room, on Bridge street, now being elegantly fitted up for her."

Hon. L. Bradford Prince delivered the second lecture in the Amaranth course before an appreciative audience at the Presbyterian church last evening. His topic was the "Queen of Fashion," a subject that afforded the forcible and fascinating speaker a fine opportunity to display his splendid powers in the humorous and satirical line, and it is needless to add that his hearers were charmed.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the advertisement of Mrs. C. Lowenberg, of Pena Blanca, who has met with such success in raising pure bred poultry that she feels justified in reaching out for the patronage of the public. Persons who have visited Mrs. Lowenberg's place speak in terms of praise of her stock. Help along a home industry by sending her your order.

The mayor of Santa Fe has secured 550 signatures to a petition to be presented to the legislative assembly through Councilman Victory, praying for some legislation that will give the farmers of the valley better irrigation facilities. The petition sets forth the fact that since the construction of the reservoir in the Santa Fe canon the water company has gathered there all the waters of the Santa Fe and appropriated the same to its own use, contrary to the provisions of its charter which provides only for the storage of the storm waters.

IMMACULATE MEYLERT.

A Shocking Story Touching the Private Life of a Former Prominent Albuquerquean.

The Citizen prints a shocking story about "the Hon." George W. Meylert, formerly proprietor of the San Felipe hotel, and ex-holder of several important political trusts in Albuquerque and Bernalillo county. It is said for more than a year Meylert has kept up a liaison with Miss Fannie Palmer, a niece of his first wife, Meylert is now living on a ranch in California, in company with the young woman. Recently he made a proposition to his wife, a most estimable woman, who is now and has been for some months residing in Chicago, that she come to California and live there, provided she would consent that Miss Palmer reside in the same house as their "adopted" daughter. Mrs. Meylert declined to do this and Meylert has abandoned and deserted her. Parties who claim to know say that Miss Palmer has lately given birth to a child at Meylert's California home. Through the kindness of friends Mrs. Meylert's household effects were removed from the San Felipe hotel and shipped to Chicago yesterday.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1.

The counties must have relief.

Court is going to be strictly in the lead next spring.

Resist that statehood memorial on to Washington, gentlemen.

Poor Summit! Was it Mr. Christy's concern for the fate of statehood that killed it?

A few legal hangings are sadly needed in New Mexico. The six-shooter has been used with terrible effect during the last few weeks.

Evidently the Kentuckian, who secured a pardon from the governor and was lynched the same night, did not know when to let well enough alone.

The quickest, cheapest and most sensible way to solve the Hawaiian problem is to connect Honolulu with the rest of the world by means of a sub-marine cable.

If the New Mexico World's fair board doesn't get a move on itself, it will deserve to be lexowed. Let's have a settlement and finally close up this business.

The hideous story comes from New York that Willie K. Vanderbilt recently entered his wife's house, the Marble Palace, without her permission. Mrs. Vanderbilt is respectfully recommended to avert future scandals of this kind by changing the combination.

The Ute removal bill has got to go back to the house for concurrence in the senate amendments. The time is short, and as Secretary Heke Smith has listened to the protest of citizens of northwest New Mexico and is against it, the prospect for its becoming law appears most remote.

POSTMISTRESS HELM, of Elizabethtown, Ky., is the widow of a confederate brigadier and the sister of the wife of Abraham Lincoln. Doubtless she looks upon the ups and downs of political parties with profound unconcern. Not even the Populists would dare force her to write ex in front of her official name.

For the first time in history Wall Street and Senator Sherman are not in accord. The senator insists that the word "coin" shall continue to ornament all United States bonds, and Henry Clews and Wall Street no. They say it must be "gold" in plain English and they want it "denominated in the bond."

The Albuquerque Citizen makes an awkward attempt to crawl. It now denies that it ever referred to the members of the 31st legislative assembly as "thieves and thugs," and takes the New Mexican to task for making a statement to that effect. The files of the Citizen will prove whether or not the New Mexican is right. Tell the truth!

It appears that prohibition doesn't prohibit any more in South Dakota than it does in Maine or Kansas. John Barley Corn is a fellow who is as stealthy and insinuating as he is unscrupulous and dangerous. The only real obstacle he has to contend with is the individual who has the strength of resolution to prohibit himself.

Or the wool trade at the present time (three weeks after the low tariff, from which the high protection, home-market howlers predicted disaster, went into effect) the American Wool Reporter says: "An improved feeling is quite manifest. The situation is not such as to confirm the apprehension expressed last fall concerning the effects of competition with foreign wools." This is precisely what tariff reformers had claimed for years, and what is true of wool is true of all other raw materials.

SENATOR CHANDLER is a weaselled-faced Republican from away up in New Hampshire who seldom gets out of the rut of partisanship in dealing with public questions, but that isn't going to prevent the New Mexican from saying that the country at large owes him a debt of gratitude for calling attention to the enormity of that scheme to legalize the pooling of rates by the railroads. The house made a grievous error in passing that bill and if it should become law as originally framed it would give color of law to a gigantic trust the like of which the world has never witnessed. Kill the monopolistic snake.

THE PROPOSED CODE.

The Bar association committee to formulate a code having completed their work, a bill, embodying the reforms recommended, has been introduced in the council by Senator Victory. The object is to substitute a code of pleadings and practice in our courts instead of the existing common law method of procedure, cumbersome, effete and altogether wearisome. Although its time has been very limited the committee has given the subject much conscientious consideration and its report is full, comprehensive and able. This task was undertaken by Messrs. Childers, Prince, Jones, Richardson and Bantz at the solicitation of every member of the New Mexico Bar association with the exception of three, and the New Mexican believes that the best interests of our lawyers and litigants will be served should the assembly pass the pending bill.

PRESS COMMENTS.

As to Capital Punishment.

El Independiente, the excellent Spanish journal published at Las Vegas, devotes much space in its last issue to the discussion of capital punishment, which it maintains is a relic of barbarism and ought to be abolished. The Independent makes its arguments in a humane spirit and no doubt with sincerity. But we may say on the other side that murder is also a relic of barbarism and that he who does it ought to be put out of the way of mischief. Perpetual seclusion, which the Independiente would substitute for capital punishment in all cases is not sufficient, and burdens the state with keeping, guarding and caring for a large number of men who have voluntarily forfeited all claims upon society. New Mexico is not yet ready for the abolition of capital punishment.—White Oaks Eagle.

The Irrigation Movement.

The irrigation movement is accumulating a tremendous impetus, which is visible not alone in the west, but throughout the country. The work of organizing and agitating, through national, interstate, state and county associations, will go forward with renewed energy from now until the next great international congress assembled at Albuquerque, New Mexico, in the autumn of 1895. That this movement is the hope of prosperity for millions, and that it will safeguard our institutions with a new bulwark of liberty, in form of small landed proprietors, is the confident expectation of western men. Their appeal is to patriotism and the best spirit of humanity. They seek to build to the credit of their country, to the good of their race, to the glory of God.—Review of Reviews.

Official Etiquette.

"His Excellency," or "Your Excellency," as applied to the governor of a state or to the president of the United States, is a term still in too common use. It is incorrect, improper, vulgar and a mark of ignorance. There is no law or commendable custom to justify it and it is in absolute discord with the spirit of our institutions. Many people are mistaken as to what is required of them in addressing a person holding the dignified office of president or governor.—Exchange.

Nevertheless Washington was usually addressed as "His Excellency" by all classes except by such radicals as one who greeted another with "How are you Federalist?" and being asked, "How do you know, you Democrat, that I am a Federalist?" said: "By your dress. How do you know I am a Democrat?" "By your address."—Phoenix Republican.

SUNBEAMS.

Did you cross the ocean this summer as you planned?

No, I had bilious fever, but there is not much difference.

Poor Indeed.

The prospect of relief from drastic cathartics for persons troubled with constipation is poor indeed. True they act upon the bowels, but this they do with violence, and their operation tends to weaken the intestines, and is prejudicial to the stomach. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an effective laxative, but it neither grips nor enemas. Furthermore, it promotes digestion and a regular action of the liver and the kidneys. It is an efficient barrier against and remedy for malarial complaints and rheumatism, and is of great benefit to the weak, nervous and aged. As a medicinal stimulant it can not be surpassed. Physicians cordially recommend it, and its professional endorsement is fully borne out by popular experience. Appetite and sleep are both improved by this agreeable invigorant and alterative.

Plunk has found some one willing to let him have the thousand dollars he wanted.

Did he tell you so?

No, but I saw the ice wagon stop there all this week.

Don't worry. Don't run in debt. Don't trifle with your health. Don't try experiments with medicines. Don't waste time and money on worthless compounds. Don't be persuaded to take a substitute for Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the best of blood-purifiers.

Dempsy's horse shies at every silly thing he sees.

Doesn't it make you dreadfully nervous to go near him?

You don't have to swear off.

Says the St. Louis Journal of Agriculture in an editorial about No-To-Bac the famous tobacco cure. "We know of many cases cured by No-To-Bac, one, a prominent St. Louis architect, another, a chemist, and a third, a doctor. Two boxes cured him so that even the smell of tobacco makes him sick." No-To-Bac sold and guaranteed by Geo. W. Hickox & Co. No cure no pay. Book free. Sterling Remedy Co., New York or Chicago.

Gent: How came you to put your hand in my pocket.

Pickpocket: Beg your pardon. I am absentminded. I had once a pair of pants just like those you are wearing.

The exposure to all sorts and conditions of weather that a lumberman is called upon to endure in the camps often produces severe colds which, if not promptly checked, result in congestion or pneumonia. Mr. J. O. Davenport, ex-manager of the Fort Bragg Redwood Co., an immense institution at Fort Bragg, Cal., says they sell large quantities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the company's store and that he has himself used the remedy for a severe cold and obtained immediate relief. This medicine prevents any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia and insures a prompt recovery. For sale at Ireland's Pharmacy.

If you want to find a way The longest day to kill, Just mentioned to your tailor To call up with his bill.

Without the means at hand for combating it, a cold may prove more dangerous than the small pox. No family is safe unless provided for such an emergency. In sudden attacks of cold, croup, asthma, etc., Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is an invaluable specific.

Did that young girl that Tompkins befriended at the seashore show any gratitude for what he had done?

Nell, I should say not! She married him.

A Recommendation from Los Angeles.

632 Castelar Street, Los Angeles, Cal.—After having suffered for a long time from acute rheumatism without obtaining relief, I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was almost immediately relieved. I highly recommend this as the best medicine known. D. M. Hamilton. For sale at Ireland's Pharmacy.

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 28 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost purified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. M. M. W. Harrison, St. Charles, Ill.

A HAPPY OLD MAID.

And so you have come to spend an hour with me, dear. That is kind, for young things like you don't often fancy the society of elderly ladies, but we old people appreciate any attention you show us, for the heart never loses its freshness, and though age creeps upon us, wrinkling our faces and silencing our hair, we are as young at heart as when our cheeks bloomed and our eyes glowed with the spirit of youth and strength. So, because we are old, don't relegate us to a mental museum of antiquities, but give us some share in your affections, and we will more than repay you for the sacrifice.

You want me to tell you of my life? Well, perhaps I may interest you, though I have no love story to relate.

I was the only child of my parents. I remember my mother as being very pale, and very and always sick. I was made to understand very early in life that she could not help me in my childish needs. When I wanted a walk or a drive, I went with my father. He was my constant companion. He was so kind, so gentle, so good! He strove to every way to make my life a happy one. It was he who undressed me at night, and the happiest hour of the whole day was when I lay in my little crib in my nightgown, with his dear hand in mine. He never left me till I fell asleep. What wonderful stories he told me of fairy princesses and witches! How absorbed I was in each entrancing tale, and with what breathless interest I hung upon every word! Ah, those were happy days!

I have lived a long while and been a close observer of human nature, yet I have never known such devotion as my father gave to my mother. He spent long hours beside her couch, and every luxury that money could buy was hers.

I had few playmates. Children love sunshine, and ours was essentially a darkened home. My father and I were closer companions than ever as I grew older. He taught me to ride, and we took long tramps together. He was an instructive companion. He loved nature and was a fine botanist. He taught me all I know of flowers, and together we searched the woods for the first violet and crocus. Once my mother said to me as I was carefully putting some violets in water: "You are a great comfort to your father, Lucy. You will always be good to him, won't you?"

I kissed her and promised that I would. She died when I was 13 years old, and her last words were, "Take care of your father, Lucy." I was only a child, but old for my years, and I treasured her words in my heart.

My father could scarcely bear me out of his sight. We were constantly together. He taught me history and mathematics, and I had a teacher who came to the house and gave me lessons in French and music. And so I grew up. Sometimes a good natured mother with a flock of girls would remonstrate with him and argue that I ought to be in school, but he grew serious at once.

"I can't spare Lucy," he would say. "She is all I have."

We took long rides together, and every summer we went to the seashore, and, though my father was a handsome man, still young, with an abundance of money, yet he never seemed to care for any society but mine. I am sure he might have married almost any one, but he never did.

How people used to look at us in those days, and how proud I was of him! He had such a fine manner and was such a gentleman, and I, thanks to his sensible training, was as blooming as a rose. There is no such nurse as Mother Nature. The nearer we got to her the fresher and purer we feel. When I look at the fashionable young woman of today, who is all nerves and exhausted by a long walk, whose digestion is ruined by rich food and late dinners, I feel very thankful to my wise father. What glorious tramps we took, what long drives and rides! And now, old as I am, bad weather never keeps me in.

People called me handsome, so I suppose I must have been. I had many suitors. What girl has not who is young and happy? But though, girl-like, I was pleased with attention, my heart was really touched. I always remembered my mother's last words, "Take care of your father, Lucy." I could never fancy my life apart from him.

Perhaps you think I might have been happier if married, but that is impossible. My father was always everything to me. We studied, we talked, we read together. By and by I found myself merging into middle life, but I enjoyed life as much as ever. Father was surrounded by learned people, and one could not but absorb some of their knowledge. I know I am called clever, but, my dear, I find so much to learn from day to day that if I stop to consider how little I really know I feel very ignorant.

Yes, I can truly say my life has been a happy one, and though the ties of widowhood and motherhood have not been for me, yet I have always been satisfied. I am busy too. I have my afternoons in the hospital and my class of scholars in our Sunday school. Then I do a great deal of work among the poor. So, you see, I am well employed.

Now, you must say to tea with us. Here comes father. Isn't he the very picture of a beautiful old age? His hair is white, but he is as erect as ever. Well, I have talked long enough, but I want you to know that there is one satisfied old maid. Girls are too ready to grasp at a shadow and miss the substance, and though I believe in marrying and happy marriages I believe also in happy old maids. I am 60 years old, and father celebrated his eighty-second birthday last fall, yet we are still happy and busy with our work, contented with all the call comes for us to fold our hands.—Exchange.

A Sure Test.

Two little girls, returning hand in hand from school, saw a small and very tired looking dog lying crouched, with closed eyes, at the foot of a half-finished building at the corner of the street. The girls stopped, bent curiously and pityingly over the dog and began to speculate as to whether he was blind.

"I don't believe he can see us," said one of them. "He doesn't seem to take any notice. He's blind."

"Perhaps it's only because he's so tired," the other suggested.

The dog slowly opened and closed his eyes, and paid no attention to the children.

"No," said the second of the girls again, "he isn't blind. I'll show you."

Bending down close to the dog, with her face full of the utmost good faith, the child opened her little hand before his face and said: "How many fingers do I hold up?"

GEMS IN VERSE.

Misunderstood.

Two little sand heaps by the sea As much alike as pea and pea. Beside one heap a little lad With serious eyes, and all intent Upon his work, with patience had Moulded a mound, and as he went Fast him I wondered what it meant. "A pea?" I asked. "A fort," said he. Beside the other pile of sand There sat a tiny, gold-haired maid. She patted with her baby hand The warm, white hillock, and I said, "This is a noble fort you've made." "No," she said, "it's answered me. We grown folks hardly understand The happy fancies children have, Busy amid the seashell sand That is washed white by many a wave— The boy would be a patriot brave; A housewife would his sister be.

Old Dobbin.

I see old Dobbin through the fence. How weak he looks, and old! His hair is falling off in spots; he feels the damp and cold; He hangs his head; his step is slow; 'tis plain enough to see His thirty years are more to him than fifty are to me. He shall not work another jot—not that he would complain; But from this hour he never shall know the touch of whip or rein. Of all the horses on the farm he's been the very best. I should have thought of it before, but now he shall have rest.

I call to my mind the colt he was, and how I broke him in. Whew! how he kicked and pranced and plunged; 'twas doubtful which would win. But I was young as well as he and would not be denied. And since he has been as safe a nag as man would wish to ride. Then in my happy courting days he knew the very night That I would swing the stable door and greet him with a nod or sign. He knew the girl I loved was waiting far away and fair. He seemed to say, "I'll wait not long before I take you there!"

Then on my wedding day he stood with others at the church. No doubt he thought for just that once I left him in the lurch. One face, one form, that day of days, was all that I could see. I did not think of Dobbin then, what he thought of me.

And when the years had brought their grief, and I learned joy's reverse, He drew the little ones and me behind the gloomy house. I cannot say that he divined how lonely was my lot, But since he has not been the same; I know that I have not.

And so through gladness and through grief old Dobbin has been near. No wonder that he looks so old when I have grown so well. I know full well that fifty years is youth to many a horse, but that my heart has reached threescore and ten!

So while I live his falling life shall naught but comfort know. Old Dobbin, as I said at first, shall never feel rein or bow. The best of oats, the sweetest hay, the field to wander free, Shall all be his—a poor return for all he's been to me! —William L. Reese.

Just Be Glad.

O heart of mine, you shouldn't Worry about the future. What we've missed of calm we couldn't Have you know. What we've met of stormy pain, And of sorrow's driving rain, We can better meet again If it blow.

We have erred in that dark hour When the tears fell with the shower. We're not shine and shower blent As the gracious Master meant? Let us temper our content With his own.

For, we know, not every sorrow Can be sad. So, forgetting all the sorrow We have had, Let us fold away our fears And put by our foolish tears. And through all the coming years Just be glad. —James Whitcomb Riley.

The Poet and His Lady.

"What shall I do for my love? Crown her with flowers? Float like a zephyr above And around her for hours?"

"What shall I do for my dear? Shall I be mute? Or tune to her delicate ear The strings of my lute?"

"What shall I do for my queen? Set sail to my bark? Bear her away from the scene O'er the billows so dark?"

"What shall I do for my sweet? In armor yoke Lay down my life at her feet, And, dying, be glad?"

Her lover sang thus; but she Interrupted his dreams And whispered, "Just purchase for me Some chocolate creams." —Ally Sloper.

An Old Sword.

This glittering sword, this same bright blade, A glorious part in history played. See, there half effaced is the British crown, And the hilt is ablaze with jewels gay. My grandfather found it in Boston town Just after the British had sailed away— When Washington was our general.

And then for years, tradition sings, It helped to save the apron strings Which bore us to England across the seas; It served to make real a hope forlorn: It fought for the liberties colonies, And then in a proud salute was borne— When Washington was our president.

This glittering sword, this same bright blade, In a case for a hundred years was laid. It made all titles transparent soon In the land where men are equal and free. Forever—bait, now, faint as a dream, A face and form fair and lovely I see. I forget that a queen reigns over me —Munsey's Magazine.

Frontier.

When man shall sit upon Thought's farthest height, Achievement's guidon, hoping chance to see, At last, all knowledge yielded to his sight Unveiled by mystery.

That vantage point will only show to him Fresh fields beyond whose utmost edge appear More lofty peaks, which, by their outlines dim, Define a new frontier. —Meredith Nicholson.

Concentration.

The man who seeks one thing in life, and but one, May hope to achieve it before life is done. But he who seeks all things wherever he goes Only reaps from the hopes which around him he sows. A harvest of barren regrets.

DO YOU EXPECT To Become a Mother?

If so, then permit us to say that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is indeed, "Mother's Friend." FOR IT MAKES Childbirth Easy by preparing the system for parturition, thus assisting Nature and shortening "Labor." The painful ordeal of childbirth is robbed of its terrors, and the dangers thereof greatly lessened, to both mother and child. The period of confinement is also greatly shortened, the mother strengthened and built up, and an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child promoted. Send to cents for a large book (166 pages), giving all particulars. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY, MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 563 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

PAINLESS CHILD BIRTH.

Mrs. FRED HUNT, of Glenville, N. Y., says: "I read about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in a magazine, and I got two bottles last September, and December 13th I had a twelve pound baby girl. When I was confined I was not sick in any way. I did not suffer any pain, and when the child was born I walked into another room, and went to bed. I kept my Extract of Smart-Weed on hand all the time. It was very cold weather and our room was very cold but I did not take any cold, and never had an after-pain or any other pain. It was all due to God and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. This is the eighth living child and the largest of them all. I suffered everything that flesh could suffer with the other babies. I always had a doctor and then he could not help me very much. I was in time my mother and my father were alone with me. My baby was only seven days old when I got up and dressed and left my room and stayed up all day."

LAW-MAKERS AT WORK.

The Insurance Act Passed by the House—A Quietus for New County Projects.

Insane Asylum Demands—Mr. Carr's Silver Memorial—A Move to Abolish County School Superintendents.

The house this afternoon by a vote of 12 to 10, on motion of Mr. Christy, decided that it would not consider or act upon any more new county bills this session except by two-thirds consent. This is believed to be fatal to Florida and all other new county schemes.

The Council.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON'S SESSION.

A verbal correction in C. B. No. 56, introduced by Mr. Hadley, prohibiting the sale of cigars, tobacco, etc., to minors, and passed Wednesday by the council, was made upon application of Mr. Hadley.

There being no business on the president's desk, Mr. Chaves moved to adjourn, that is, unless the senior senator from Bernalillo county, Mr. Perea, wanted to make a speech on some subject.

Mr. Perea said that he did not have anything to say, but that he wished C. B. 31 put on its passage.

This bill is intended to remedy a present defect in the acquia law of Bernalillo county, so that that county may be under the general territorial acquia law.

Mr. Ancheta said that there were several legal questions involved upon which he desired to satisfy himself before voting.

Mr. Larragoite moved, in order to give the gentlemen an opportunity to satisfy themselves on the questions in doubt, that the council adjourn.

This motion was carried by a vote of 9 to 3.

THIS FORENOON'S SESSION.

Mr. Ancheta presented a petition from Grant and Dona Ana county people protesting against the formation of Florida county. The petition went to the committee on counties and county lines.

Mr. Chaves presented a petition from citizens of Ojo Caliente protesting against the transfer of precinct No. 9 of Rio Arriba county to Taos county.

This petition went to the committee on counties and county lines.

Mr. Larragoite said that the movement against which this petition was directed existed only in the imagination of the petitioners.

A communication from the Grant county commissioners, which has been sent to each member of the council, protesting against Florida county, was read and appropriately referred.

Under the head of reports, Mr. Victory stated that the capitol committee would be ready to report as soon as the typewriter had written out the report.

Mr. Perea said that he was a member of the committee and had not been treated with proper courtesy in the matter.

Mr. Victory said that there was no disposition to act discourteously in the matter toward the minority and that the report, when made up, would be submitted to all members.

Mr. Garcia, who is chairman of the capitol bill, said that the report was not ready.

The matter was accordingly postponed until later.

H. B. No. 57 was introduced by Mr. Bunker. This bill provides for the enlargement of the insane asylum at Las Vegas, and authorized an issue of $30,000 in bonds to meet the expenses of the addition to be made. The building is to be made either of brick or stone; if of the former, penitentiary brick may be utilized for that purpose.

The bill went to the committee on public institutions.

C. B. No. 58, introduced by Mr. Desmarais, an act amending sections 2623, 2625, 2626 and 2668 of chapter 8, title 39 and section 2723 of chapter 15, title 39 of the compiled laws relating to the incorporation of railroads.

Mr. Desmarais desired the bill referred to the judiciary committee. He said that the bill was practically a local matter for the special benefit of Las Vegas.

The bill was, however, by order of the council, referred to the committee on railroads.

C. B. No. 59, relating to replevin and attachment, and in case of fire stock, was introduced by Mr. Bunker.

The bill prescribes that the levy of a writ of replevin or attachment under certain conditions named shall create a lien upon the live stock levied upon.

The bill was referred to the committee on judiciary.

C. B. No. 31, Mr. Perea's Bernalillo county acquia law, was next put on its passage and carried by a unanimous vote.

H. B. No. 37, the bill establishing a weather, crop and climate bureau under the direction of the United States weather service, was read twice and referred to the committee on agriculture and manufactures.

Substitute to H. B. No. 11 and 39, referring to liquor and gambling licenses, was sent to the committee on finance.

President Curry called attention to the necessity for prompt work on the part of the committees, as there was absolutely nothing before the council for attention.

In order that the committees might have time to do some work in the committee rooms, an adjournment was taken until to-morrow morning.

The House.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON'S SESSION.

Upon the reassembling of the house, Mr. Christy presented petitions from the counties of Dona Ana and Grant against the consolidation of Dona Ana, Grant and Sierra counties into one judicial district.

The committee on counties and county lines favorably reported H. B. No. 17, correcting errors as to the Union county boundaries.

H. B. No. 68 was introduced by Mr. Thompson. This is an act to amend section 17 of chapter 70 of the acts of 1929, providing that in each county there shall be a county court, the judge to be a person learned in the law.

H. B. No. 67, entitled an act to amend an act entitled an act regulating the sale of drugs, medicines and poisons was introduced by Mr. Thompson.

This bill makes it the duty of members of the board of pharmacy to receive complaints of violation of the law. Upon receiving such complaints they shall report the same to the district attorney and also notify the accused. Members refusing to receive such complaints shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be removed. Persons rejected by the board shall be allowed to present themselves for re-examination within six months thereafter. The board of pharmacy is also to hold semi-annual instead of quarterly sessions as at present.

Mr. Carr introduced H. J. M. No. 3, praying congress for "the enactment of laws providing for a return to the bi-metallic standard of values, the use of the silver dollar equally with gold, without discrimination, in the payment of all expenses of the government, and in the redemption of all issues of paper money by the government, and the free and unlimited coinage of silver, as well as gold upon equal terms at the mints of the United States, at the ratio of 16 to 1."

The memorial declares "our opposition to any further increase in the bonded indebtedness of the nation."

Upon motion of Mr. Christy, the Summit county bill was taken up.

Mr. Hinkle moved that the bill pass. Upon this motion the vote was:

Ayes: V. C. de Baca, Gallegos, Hinkle, Lacombe, Leaden, Lopez, Mr. Martinez, Mora, Padilla and Thompson—10.

Noes: Armijo, R. A. Baca, Carr, Clancy, Christy, Gutierrez, Locoche, Luce, Martin, M. Martinez, Sanchez, and Dame—12.

The bill was accordingly declared lost. Mr. Christy moved that the vote by which the Summit county bill was defeated be reconsidered and that motion be tabled.

This motion was carried, so that Summit county is a dead issue for this session.

H. B. No. 64, making certain amendments in the common school law, was referred to the committee on education.

H. B. No. 65, the Springer normal school bill, went to the committee on education.

H. B. No. 37, the bill establishing a bureau of crop statistics and climatological data, was next brought up.

Mr. Lacombe moved that the further consideration of this bill be postponed indefinitely.

Mr. Christy argued against Mr. Lacombe's motion, stating that the advantages of this territory as a health resort and a horticultural section were not sufficiently recognized and that no stone should be left unturned to bring our natural resources to the notice of the world.

Mr. Lacombe's motion to postpone indefinitely was lost by a vote of 6 to 17.

Upon motion of Mr. Locke the amendments suggested by the committee were adopted.

Mr. Carr moved that the bill do pass. This was carried by a vote of 20 to 3, the negative votes being cast by Messrs. Gutierrez, M. Martinez and Padilla.

Upon motion of Mr. Martin the house resolved itself into a committee of the whole for the consideration of H. B. No. 16, the Hinkle insurance bill.

Speaker Dame requested Mr. Martin to take the chair. Mr. Martin asked to be excused and Mr. Armijo presided, during the session of the committee of the whole.

The committee of the whole for an hour or more considered this bill and a number of amendments were adopted. Among these is a provision that the excess of fees collected from the companies, after paying the salaries and expenditures of the office of superintendent of insurance, is to go to the school fund and that there shall not be more than two clerks employed by the superintendent.

A deposit of $15,000, instead of $25,000 as provided in the original bill, is required from insurance companies as a condition for the fulfillment of the territory, said amount to be deposited with the territorial treasurer. The provision of the original bill requiring that each company doing business in this territory have an actual paid up capital of $300,000 is amended so that "available cash assets" shall serve as well as "paid up capital" for the fulfillment of the condition. Changes are also made in the fees to be charged the companies, the amounts being cut down considerably. Life insurance companies are required to pay a fee of 10 cents on every thousand dollars of insurance, instead of 1 cent as in the original bill.

Mr. Carr proposed the recommendation to the house of the bill as amended. He said that the present law on the subject was ample, if one or two amendments were provided and that the bill was intended to provide employment for a number of politicians and nothing else.

Mr. Christy moved that the bill be passed by a practically unanimous vote favorably recommended for passage by the house the bill just considered.

The bill was then put on its passage. The chair ruled that that bill would have to be read in full, if there was objection. Mr. Carr objected.

An appeal was taken from the decision of the chair and the chair was sustained by a vote of 13 to 8.

The bill was about to be read in full, whereupon Mr. Carr, appalled at the prospect of having to listen to the reading of the lengthy bill for an hour or more, withdrew his objection.

Mr. Clancy wanted to know what benefits the bill possessed for the school children of the territory.

Mr. Hinkle explained that the bill provided for turning all surplus into the school fund.

Mr. Leaden thought that there would not be any surplus after all the officers were paid.

The previous question was ordered by a vote of 16 to 6.

Upon the passage of the bill the vote stood 17 to 5, so that the bill passed. The negative votes were cast by Messrs. Carr, Clancy, M. Martinez, Leaden and Gallegos.

The communication from the territorial auditor on the subject of employees' pay, was referred to the committee on judiciary.

The house then adjourned.

THIS FORENOON'S SESSION.

In the house to-day, the committee on stock and stock-raising, made a favorable report on H. B. No. 53, cattle sanitary board bill, requiring cattle brands to be recorded.

The committee on education favorably reported H. B. No. 33, Mr. Hinkle's bill abolishing school superintendents.

The committee on irrigation favorably reported, with amendments, H. B. No. 50, Mr. Locke's bill.

H. B. No. 68 was introduced by Mr. Leaden, being "an act to regulate railroad fares in the territory of New Mexico and for other purposes for the betterment thereof." This is the enlargement of Mr. Leaden's bill formerly introduced on the same subject, limiting passenger charges to 3 cents a mile.

The finance committee introduced H. B. No. 69, an act providing funds and making appropriations for the next two fiscal years, by supplying deficiencies in former appropriations.

A full outline of this important bill will appear in to-morrow's paper.

Mr. Christy introduced H. R. No. 17, providing that no more new county schemes shall be taken up or considered by the house except by a two-thirds vote.

The resolution was referred to the committee on finance.

H. B. No. 66, Mr. Thompson's bill providing for county courts, was referred to the committee on judiciary.

H. B. No. 67, relating to the duties of the board of pharmacy, was referred to the committee on finance.

H. J. M. No. 3, Mr. Carr's free silver memorial, was referred to the committee on judiciary.

H. B. No. 48, prohibiting trading for sheep with sheep herders, mayor domos, corporators or any other employees of the government, was placed on its passage on motion of Mr. Sanchez and was carried by a vote of 16 to 6.

Upon motion of Mr. Clancy, H. B. No. 46, providing for the office of sheep inspector, was passed by a vote of 16 to 6.

H. B. No. 35, Mr. Hinkle's, abolishing the school superintendent in counties where the taxable property is less than $250,000 and placing the duties on the probate judge, was read in full for the third time.

The bill was made the special order for next Wednesday.

H. B. No. 49, an act regulating the building of reservoirs in this territory so that the consent of property owners near the place of construction must be obtained, was read the third time.

Mr. Lacombe wanted the consideration of the bill postponed indefinitely.

Mr. Locke said that he thought the bill was a good one as there are many cases where damage is done by the injudicious construction of reservoirs.

Mr. Armijo thought the bill to be one of the very best introduced at this session and said that justice demanded its passage.

The previous question was called.

Mr. Christy explained his vote in favor of indefinite postponement by saying that the measure put it in the power of one man to prevent the construction of a reservoir that might benefit a whole community.

Mr. Hinkle explained his vote on similar grounds, saying that the word "shall" as used in the bill, might under the New Mexico idea of distances, mean 100 miles.

The motion was lost by a tie vote of 11 to 11.

The bill was then recommitted.

The house then adjourned.

NEW COUNTY PROJECTS.

The fate of the Summit county measure has in no degree discouraged the Deming people, Messrs. B. A. Knowles, S. Linder, A. J. Clark and J. A. Mahoney, who are in the city pushing the original measure, but upon a substitute in delegation stated to the New Mexican last night that they were confident of a favorable outcome. The council committee on county and county lines will meet to-night or to-morrow night to consider the matter, when the friends of the bill will ask for a favorable report, not only on the bill, but upon a substitute in which the boundaries of the new county to be considerably changed.

The county, as proposed under the new lines, will include Rincon and several other precincts of Dona Ana county.

A number of other county schemes have been talked about on the quiet for the past few days. One of these is for the formation of a new county with the town of Bernalillo as its county seat.

Columbia county talk, with Raton as the county seat, has also been recently revived and several Raton people have been on hand for the past few days, discussing the situation.

Just what effect the chilling blast which resulted in the sudden death of the Summit enterprise will have upon other aspirants remains to be seen.

BIOGRAPHICAL—SPEAKER DAME.

Hon. William E. Dame, one of the Santa Fe county representatives in the lower house and the presiding officer of that body, is a native of Portsmouth, N. H., where he was born in 1858. He attended the public schools of that city, and, after this elementary training, embarked on the sea as a cabin boy, and was subsequently promoted to the position of third mate on one of the numerous merchantmen to be seen in the harbor of his native town. For five years, Mr. Dame was at sea, visiting during that time every portion of the world and among other expeditions, he was on a tour of inspection of South America. In 1879 he came to New Mexico, when he settled at Cerillos. During the fifteen years since that time Mr. Dame has continuously resided in the Little Pittsburg, although his mining business has caused him at intervals to visit almost every portion of the territory.

Mr. Dame was in 1886 married to Miss Perry, of Santa Fe. The same year another honor came to him in his election to the lower house of the New Mexico assembly. Last fall he received the second distinction of this kind and when the organization of the present house was begun he was unanimously chosen by his party colleagues as their speaker. His record since that time has most admirably proved the wisdom of the choice. His conduct of the affairs of the house has been exceptionally successful and it is saying nothing beyond the truth to remark that his firmness, promptness and efficiency, in all departments of the trying duties which the office entails, have surpassed the high expectations of his most partial friends. Mr. Dame is a man of marked popularity as well as of unusual ability. The high esteem in which he is held by his assembly associates is patent to even a casual observer in legislative circles and the fact that he has never been recreant to a trust or untrue to a friend is evidenced by the enthusiasm with which those who have known him for years regard his business and political future. If the trials that ability and in-

EDUCATIONAL.

To the Editor of the New Mexican.
Santa Fe, Jan. 30.—The very air seems surcharged with the kindergarten idea, and upon it is also borne the hope that the "New Education," as it is wisely and beautifully called, may be made part of our school system here in New Mexico this year while the legislature meets.

With this defined purpose in view I have been in correspondence with parties who know how a thing ought to be done from experience, and I was very happy to hear from Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper last night, both by letter and the fifteenth annual report of the Golden Gate Kindergarten association, a powerful document of nearly 200 pages, giving a full account of the coast work accomplished. Its motto, "The hope of the world lies in the children," imposes the seriousness of the new method of training, and as the pages are slow turned and read the marvelous results for good are manifest, and one closes it resolutely, saying, some one in New Mexico must devote time and attention till our little children have the same glorious chance that others are enjoying.

The one item that arrested attention was this: Mrs. Leland Stanford has given nearly $180,000 to help establish these free kindergartens of California; while we may not expect such magnificent personal generosity, we may expect our general intelligence to be such we can engraff this in our school law as Mrs. Cooper suggests. We provide for the education of children from 8 to 6 years of age by kindergarten method of instruction.

When I copy for the benefit of the present body of law-makers the following startling facts, I trust no one can question the duty of our servants-elect of the people, to take Santa Fe to act with the progressive spirit of the age. She says, "we now have five flourishing kindergartens supported by commercial organizations, namely: "The Produce Exchange," "The Real Estate," "The Insurance," "The Automobile," and "The Mechanical Association." We have over 100 business firms that contribute to the sustaining of these kindergartens."

For one, I confess, the idea of cold-blooded business men turning philanthropists is new to me, but one very successful man explained his position clearly. "Why, of course," Mrs. Cooper, such work as this is worth supporting. "It is a foundation work. It is a business investment. Any man would give liberally to support such a work rather than to have his children taxed ten times the amount by and by to support these children when they come to adult years in prisons, jails and almshouses." "This was the wise reasoning of one of our keenest business men."

Chief of police of San Francisco says: "Only one arrest was made in eleven years out of 9,000 children trained in the free kindergartens." Long letters from warrents and penitentiaries also could be quoted, but to me this is only one side, and to the uninitiated possibly misleading, for think of the Stanford cold kindergarten! I hold now a detailed description from the Journal of Education of "Sunol kindergarten training," and we certainly can educate our youth in the modern method if Stanford can develop and unfold natural powers by kindergarten training of Sunol, who brought a fabulous price, and Arion brought $116,000 to his owner; calls that broke the turf record by a liberal free development.

That is what kindergarten means. No punishment, severe or rigid rules, no prohibition, but all is gentle, light, a pure atmosphere, a natural growth of God given faculties.

It would be the greatest blessing that could be granted us as a people to have this legislation make the stride forward as a leap and bound of a quarter of a century by adding that one simple clause to our school law.

I have faith it will be done. All it needs to win is to have the merits of the question known here as elsewhere. The strides the new thought has made are marvelous. In Colorado it is part of the public school system, and we New Mexicans must fall into line. What would prove us better fitted for statehood and self-government than such a statute as this at this hour? No other one move could be as effective for good at home and abroad. It is advance we need and have as all other sections likewise need.

In gratitude let me thank the editor for so much valuable space given to such a question of what some would esteem minor matters, but in reality this is one of the most important any people can consider.
