A Legislative Ditty.

Which I rise to remark,
And my language is plain—
For this, Mr. Speaker,
The floor I obtain.
What's this I hear about Florida,
And what might be their little game?

It's true, Mr. Speaker,
That things they are rough,
Money is scarce
And we ain't got no "stuff,"
But what's that got to do with Florida?
Mr. Speaker, I ain't up to snuff.

There's Editor Jack
In the market to stay—
Who says he's found out
That "counting" don't pay.
And that's what's the matter with Florida—
And that's why I give it away!

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

All the Appropriations Became Laws—Silver Conference Commission—Adjournment of Congress.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The house has concurred in the senate amendment to the sundry civil bill providing for the selection of delegates to the international monetary conference, three by the senate, three by the house and three by the president. The senate has selected Senators Jones, of Arkansas; Teller, of Colorado, and Daniel, of West Virginia, all pronounced silver men. The last of the great appropriation bills was sent to the president shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. There were five bills on which the enrolling clerks were engaged all night, the deficiency, sundry civil, diplomatic, Indian and naval bills. Final agreements on all these were reached during the night.

NEVER BEEN DISOLVED.

The debate in congress on the subject of an international monetary conference shows that it is not generally understood that the last monetary conference has never been formally dissolved and that the committee on the part of the United States to that conference is really still in existence. The Brussels conference adjourned with the understanding that it would reconvene at the call of the United States, but since then no official notice of any sort has been given, and some authorities hold that that conference, never having been formally dissolved, is still in existence and can be reconvened by the president if he so desires.

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT.

Among the last acts signed by the president was one to provide for the appointment of additional judges of the United States court in the Indian Territory; also an act for the relief of Capt. St. Vrain's company of New Mexico volunteer troops, giving the members of this organization all the privileges of the war veteran.

HOUSE MONETARY COMMISSIONERS.

Representatives Crisp, Culberson and Hitt have been appointed as house members of the monetary commission.

ALLOWANCE OF A WAR CLAIM.

At 8 o'clock this morning when the house reconvened after a four hours' recess there were exactly eleven members on the floor. The speaker was at his post. Mr. Baker, of New Hampshire, had the honor of passing the last bill of the final session. It was a bill to pay a war claim of Margaret Kennedy amounting to $4,000.

CLOSING HOURS OF CONGRESS.

In the senate to-day Mr. Dubois offered a resolution to amend the rules so as to provide for the consideration of the appropriation bills among the several committees of the senate instead of confining them as now to the committee on appropriations. He asked its present consideration. Senator Aldrich objected and Senator Dubois gave notice that he would call up his resolution on the first Monday of the next congress. The senate at 4:00 a. m. took a recess until 9 o'clock with the understanding that no business would be transacted until 11 o'clock, except in connection with the conference reports.

SILVER FLURRY IN THE HOUSE.

Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, caused a flurry by a speech contending that the Republic was in danger of being bisected. The repeal of the Sherman act two years ago, he said, accomplished more than any other influence to bring about the hopeful condition of silver.

Mr. Grosvenor's speech precipitated a stir among the silver men, who all rushed forward and appealed for recognition. Mr. Bryan, of Nebraska, managed to get the floor and indignantly resented the reflection made by Mr. Pence yesterday upon the silver men who favored this conference. He was for free silver, but he believed it the height of folly for the United States not to join hands with other countries of the world if they were ready and willing to join in a scheme for the remonetization of silver.

ADJOURNED SINCE DE.

At noon the 53d congress adjourned sine die.

CENTRAL AMERICAN REBELS

Streets strewn with Dead and Dying—Rebels Victorious.

New York, Feb. 4.—A special from Panama, Colombia, says: "Advices from Cocata confirm reports of the government defeat and the capture of the city by rebels. The rebel battalion was defeated by the government troops from Bucaramanga, on Feb. 14, and driven from Cocata after brave resistance. The rebel forces, however, reformed and the battle renewed next day. The fight began at daylight and lasted until 2 p. m. More than 800 were killed on both sides. The streets were strewn with the bodies of the killed. A powder magazine was blown up and many houses were shattered. The government forces fled in disorder toward Giralaloti. Among the killed was the rebel general, Cuervo."

MONEY FOR IRRIGATION.

Fifteen Thousand Dollars for Experiments in the West.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The conference on the agricultural appropriation bill reached an agreement Saturday. The house conference receded from the principal amendment made by the senate, that providing for the inspection of live cattle the meat of which is to be exported, and the senate from its amendment appropriating $40,000 for the extermination of the kypsy moth.

The appropriation of $15,000 to enable the secretary of agriculture to continue his irrigation experiments was left as fixed by the house, and not reduced to $5,000 as proposed by the senate. The senate provision increasing the total appropriation for the weather bureau from $80,000 to $85,000 was retained.

THE GREAT ISSUE.

Democratic Leaders from Fifteen States Issue a Silver Proclamation.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Democratic silver manifesto which has been the chief topic of talk on that side of the house for a few days has been made public. It has already received the signatures of fifteen states and the list of signers is steadily growing. The paper is as follows:

"To the Democrats of the United States: We the undersigned Democrats, present for your consideration the following statement: We believe that the establishment of gold as the only monetary standard and the elimination of silver as a full legal tender money will increase the purchasing power of the dollar, and so the burden of all debts, decrease the market value of all other forms of property and continue and increase the business depression and finally reduce the majority of the people to financial bondage. We believe no party can hope for enduring success in the United States so long as it advocates a single gold standard, and that the advocacy of such a financial policy would be especially dangerous to a party which, like the Democratic party, derives its voting strength from those who may without reproach be called the common people; and we protest to the overthrow of the party in 1894, to the opposition aroused by the veto of the seigniorage bill and to the still more unanimous protest against the issue of gold bonds as proof that the Democratic party can not be brought to the support of the gold standard policy."

"We believe that the money question will be the paramount issue in 1896, and will so remain until it is settled by the intelligence and patriotism of the American voters. We believe a majority of the Democrats of the United States are bi-metallic and realize that it can be secured only by the restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present ratio, and we assert that the majority has and should exercise the right to control the policy of the party and retain the party name."

"We believe it is the duty of the majority and within their power to take charge of the party organization and make the Democratic party an effective instrument for the accomplishment of needed reforms. It is not necessary that Democrats should surrender their convictions on other question in order to take an active part in the settlement of the question which at this time surpasses all others in importance. We believe that the rank and file of the party should at once assert themselves in the Democratic party and place it on record in favor of the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, as such coinage existed prior to 1873, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation, such gold and silver to be full legal tender for all debts, public and private."

"We urge all Democrats who favor the financial policy above set forth to associate themselves together and impress their views upon the party organization. We urge all newspapers in harmony with the above financial policy to place it at the head of the editorial column and assist on the immediate restoration of bi-metallicism."

PRIZE FIGHTING.

Bill Legalizing Brutal Matches Has Passed Oklahoma Council.

Perry, O. T., Feb. 4.—The bill legalizing prize fighting, which has a fair chance of becoming a law in Oklahoma, has caused a sensation among the sporting men. A purse will be offered for the Corbett and Fitzsimmons fight in Perry, if the bill which has passed the council to-day becomes a law. Church people who are opposing the bill are requesting the governor to veto it.

DAZZLING AS A DREAM.

Wedding of Miss Anna Gould and Count Castellane—Fabulous Wealth—Costly Presents.

New York, Feb. 4.—The social sensation of the day was the marriage at high noon of Miss Anna Gould, daughter of the world renowned New York mouse trap inventor, who bequeathed about $85,000,000 to his children, and Count de Castellane, scion of one of the oldest and most richly blooded families of France. The ceremony took place at the palatial residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould on Fifth avenue and was witnessed by about 100 intimate friends of the two families interested. Many prominent society people urgently sought invitations, but were gently but firmly denied admission.

MAGNIFICENT PRESENTS.

The presents bestowed upon the bride, particularly by the family of the groom, were regal in their value and splendor. Four centuries in gems!

The history of a noble race in jewels! Bound in a casket of royal blue velvet, ornamented with the lilies of France and clasps of gold, this precious chronicle of the De Castellanes was presented to Miss Anna Gould when she became the wife of the heir of this great family.

The count's mother and father, the Marquis and Marquise de Castellane, who have traveled all the way from their castle on the Loire, where Anne of Brittany was married, to do honor to their son's bride and to crown her with the diamonds which have been worn by generations of women who have borne one of the proudest names in all France.

First among these treasures is a ring made up of plaited strands of gold, studded with pearls. As Charles the VIII's queen was leaving the castle of Laugier, she slipped it off her finger and placed it on the hand of one Count de Castellane's ancestors, who had been the pious Anne's constant and faithful companion. She was afterward presented with a medallion of her queen. It is framed with diamonds and ornamented with a coronet. Slender chains of gold fastened it round the arm, making it a most beautiful bracelet.

In a blue, satin-lined tray of the cabinet is a stomacher of diamonds and sapphires, which was worn at the court of Louis XV by a Marquise de Castellane. It is a massive network of brilliants in quaint design.

A coronet of fleurs-de-lis is another beautiful ornament in the collection of the De Castellane's jewels. The emblems of France are made up of diamonds and blue enamel.

Garlands of diamond roses, arranged in festoons, made the neckline of a fair De Castellane who lived during the reign of Louis XVI. This exquisite heirloom is among the casket's treasures.

An immense emerald, cut with the cipher of one of the early bearers of the count's name, is embedded in a exquisitely carved gold ring, which was worn on some of the most celebrated battlefields of the old world. It has sealed destinies in its time.

A brooch of rubies and gold and a clock chain matching it are among the family jewels which the bride will now possess.

A pair of diamond buckles of the Louis XIV period will ornament her dainty slippers.

The chains of diamonds and sapphires which decorated the high coiffure of a grand lady of that time will be used as a necklace by the little American countess.

WEDDING RING.

The wedding ring presented to the bride by the count, set with a priceless diamond surrounded with sapphires, is a family heirloom of great historic value. Howard Gould presented his sister with a $40,000 necklace of the rarest rubies.

COLossal WEALTH OF THE BRIDE.

The bride has $15,000,000 in her own right, which she inherits $800,000 per year, $50,000 per month or $2,000 per day. During the past month she has been spending her fabulous income every day. Her trousseau is a dream of magnificence even for a millionaire bride. Ever since Count de Castellane made his first proposal for her hand, the whole has been busied with orders to Pingat, Felix, Doucet and Worth for gowns, wraps, bonnets and sets on sets of exquisite lingerie, and she and the count have robbed all of the big New York shops of their choicest creations, for her fiancé has taste, and he suggested some of her hand, some robes and designed himself her wedding gown and the very striking toilettes for the bridesmaids.

The estimated cost of the wedding was $160,000. The bride's trousseau alone cost $50,000.

DETAILS OF THE WEDDING.

New York.—The marriage of Miss Anna Gould, daughter of the late Jay Gould, to Count Paul Ernest Boniface de Castellane was solemnized to-day at noon, Archbishop Corrigan officiating, at the residence of her brother, George J. Gould. At 11:30 the relatives and intimate friends assembled at the home, which was artistically decorated throughout with tropical plants, roses and lilies. "Ella's Dream," from Lohengrin, was sung by Ross Sucher, an operatic soprano, to an accompaniment by a string orchestra. This was followed by the bride march from Lohengrin and the assembled guests witnessed the bridal procession descending flower-adorned stairs in the following order: Ushers, Prince del Drago, Royal Duval, Brookstott, Cutting and Howard Gould; bridesmaids, Miss Beatrice Richardson, Miss Adelaide Murchery, Miss Catherine Cameron and Miss Helen Gould; the bride leaning on the arm of her brother, George J. Gould, her train being carried by her nephews, Masters Kingdon and Jay

Gould. They entered the music room and passed into the East India room, where, awaiting the approach of his bride, stood the bridegroom attended by his brother, Count Jean de Castellane. On a dais stood Archbishop Corrigan wearing his ecclesiastical robes. Mr. Gould placed his sister's hand in Count de Castellane's hand and withdrew to the left, where his wife and two little daughters stood.

DID NOT SURRENDER HER BELIEF.

The ceremony was abridged by the fact that the bride has not, as has been frequently stated, surrendered her own religious faith.

The Ave Maria was sung by Rosa Sucher, stationed at the foot of the stairs in the large hall.

After the benediction Mendelssohn's wedding march filled the room, and the bride received the good wishes of the archbishop and friends. A delicious wedding breakfast was then served.

At 2:30 the bride, attired in her traveling dress, passed through the hall crowded with friends anxious to bid her farewell. Not even the family have a remote idea as to the immediate movements of the Count and Countess de Castellane.

The bride's wedding gown was of heavy ivory satin duchesse, tastefully trimmed with pointed angleterre lace twelve inches wide and of rare and beautiful pattern.

DIAMONDS GALORE.

Among the rarest and most costly of the bride's presents was a heart-shaped brooch. In the center was the rare and world famous Esterhazy diamond surrounded by eleven diamonds each of which is large enough to be worn as a singleton. This was the gift of Miss Helen Gould. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Gould's present was a set of superb pearls consisting of ten strands in which were seventy two diamonds and 800 pearls.

CUBAN REVOLUTION.

Much Excitement—Censorship of News—Cities Under Martial Law.

New York, Feb. 4.—The steamer, Vigilance, which arrived at day from Havana, brings word that much excitement prevailed on the south side of Cuba, particularly in the cities of Santiago and Arrecun. Particulars were hard to obtain owing to the government censorship of press and wires. The report of the death of the rebel, Manuel Garcia, is confirmed. Matters are very quiet at Havana, the city being under martial law. The last Spanish war vessel in the harbor sailed for Santiago on February 28.

A CORPSE IN THE SNOW.

The Body of Cleofes Romero, of Albuquerque, Awaits a Claimant Near the Pintada.

The body of a young man named Cleofes Romero, of Albuquerque, lies buried in snow in a room on the sheep ranch of one Mondouci, a Portuguese residing in the Pintada region, 110 miles southeast of Cerrillos. During the great blizzard in the early part of last month Romero left the home of his father, Jesus Romero, at Albuquerque, and started with a burro across the mountains to the plains on the east where he was to go to work on a sheep raiser. When the blizzard came he was overtaken and he lost his burro and later lost his head. For fourteen days he roamed about on the great plain seeking to get his bearings. Mr. Mondouci discovered him near his ranch a week ago to-day. He was plodding through the snow barefooted, carrying his shoes in his hand, and well nigh crazed from cold and loss of food. He was conveyed to the Mondouci ranch where Steve Arnold, of this city, and others did all they could to relieve his sufferings, but he died at 9 o'clock last night after rallying sufficient to give his name and relate the above story. The body will be kept covered with snow until his parents can be heard from.

NEW FORAGE PLANT.

Sacaline Represented to be a Record Breaker—Should be Tested in New Mexico.

A. Blanc & Co. have undertaken the task of introducing into the United States a new forage plant called "Sacaline." In their prospectus they represent that this new plant produces from 90 to 180 tons of green forage per acre in one year, more nutritious than clover or alfalfa; that it has been thoroughly tried and is recommended by the very highest authorities in the horticultural and agricultural world; that it is perfectly hardy even in Siberia and flourishes in the Indies; that it requires no plowing before planting, needs no cultivation, no manure, no replanting; that its roots penetrate deep into the soil and once planted it stands forever; that it endures the severest drought with impunity and grows in the poorest soils; that it thrives where no other forage plant will grow; that it is greatly relished by cattle, sheep and horses; that it grows fourteen feet high by June and yields three and four cuttings per year; that it affords shade for cattle in summer and protection against storms in winter; that it is a great soil enricher.

Prof. Budd, of Iowa, states that he brought this plant from Russia twelve years ago and that it still occupies the same spot as an ornamental plant. Prof. Pammel, of the Iowa agricultural college testifies: "It is certain that this plant will prove valuable in many parts of the United States, especially in the west. It is not only perfectly hardy in central Iowa, as far as cold is concerned, but it stands the dry weather remarkably well." If these representations approximate the truth "sacaline" is a much more valuable forage plant than alfalfa. Its merits should promptly be tested by practical experiments in New Mexico.

A BIT STRANGE.

An Impartial View of That Albuquerque National Bank Episode.

White Oaks Eagle: "It does seem a bit strange that the comptroller of the currency should refuse to allow a properly appointed committee of the legislature to examine the books and papers of the defunct national bank of Albuquerque, when both the territory and its citizens individually are interested in it to very large amounts. It looks as if the comptroller, acting under the inspiration of interested parties, not necessarily with guilty knowledge, in shielding somebody against exposure. The whole chain of proceedings in the prosecution of Folsom, his sentence and the tenderness with which he has been handled since, all make it look to an outsider as if this farce was enacted for the benefit of some one whom Folsom could expose. What does he get for this scape-goat act? Comptroller Eckles reply to Governor Thornton's request that the committee be permitted to examine the bank's books and documents was both curt and unsatisfactory. He refused to grant the permission because the receiver had informed him that there was nothing in the books or letters of the bank that would throw any light on the matter. In that case no harm could have come to any one at any rate, and the action of the comptroller would have borne on its face, at the least, the semblance of fairness and courtesy."

"How Well You Look"

Friends Surprised at the Wonderful Improvement.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Dear Sirs:—I take pleasure in writing the good I have received from taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every spring and summer for six years or more, my health has been so poor from heart trouble and general debility that at times life was a burden. I would become so

Emaciated and Weak and Pale that my friends thought I would not live long. I could do scarcely any work at all and had to lie down every few minutes. I began getting worse in January, losing my flesh and feeling so tired. I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla and I am happy to say I am in better health

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures. I tell them it is Hood's Sarsaparilla that has done the work. I would have all suffering humanity give this medicine a trial and be convinced. This statement is True to the Letter." Mrs. JENNIE DECKER, Watseka, Ill.

New Mexican Printing Co., Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

MONDAY, MARCH 4.

"Our legislative boulder boddeth alike from the just and the unjust," says the Springer Stockman. Correct!

The new acquia law is one of special moment to every part of New Mexico, and may be considered a long step forward. The NEW MEXICAN prints a very full synopsis of it in its news columns today.

The Optic is incorrect in stating that a great deal of vicious legislation results from the late session of the 31st assembly. A great deal might have been done in this direction had not the Democratic majority and a few clean Republicans stood together. Besides such measures had to run the risk of meeting with a Democratic executive's veto, and these influences all tended to have a salutary effect upon the boulder element.

The supreme court has decided that the legislative employees shall have their pay, but back of it all is a lesson that future assemblies must take notice of. Hereafter a "reasonable number" of employees will not mean two servants for every legislator, with a few extras on the side, and the legislature that does not take heed of the people's money and confine itself to a fair limit in such matters will surely involve itself and its employees in a somewhat similar trouble.

SHOW IT ALL UP.

The Socorro Chieftain gloats over the fact that there has been one dirty deal in New Mexico in which Thos. B. Catron had no hand—the Albuquerque National bank scandal. But the Chieftain's reference to Gov. Thornton in connection with the affair is contemptible. For the information of the Chieftain and newspapers of like ilk the New Mexican would say that the only connection Gov. Thornton has had with the rotten institution is that his name is on paper as security for the sum of $4,000 which S. M. Folsom loaned to F. W. Clancy. The Chieftain and the other blood-suckers are welcome to all the capital they can make out of this.

THE PAY QUESTION.

The legislative employees' pay embroglio has at last been settled by action of the supreme court in favor of the employees. The decision was on the line of that by the Oklahoma territorial supreme court involving much the same question. The formal opinion of the court will not be handed down until the regular term of court in July, but under the decision the territorial financial officers are required to turn over to President Curry and Speaker Dame the sum of $6,500 each, by them to be used in meeting the necessary contingent expenses of the 31st assembly, which includes, of course, the pay of employees. In announcing the conclusion of the court Chief Justice Thomas Smith took occasion to pay a very high tribute to Associate Justice Laughlin, whose decision, as district judge, the higher court had reversed. Judge Laughlin's opinion in the premises was certainly a conscientious one, based on the law as he construed it, and the unbiased earnestness with which he maintains his decision will render the supreme court's adverse ruling extremely interesting when it is made public.

ON STATEHOOD.

The Washington Post of February 26 says: "The advocates of the bill admitting the territory of New Mexico to the Union as a state are very active, and hope to secure action before the week closes. After Utah's elevation from territorial to the dignity of statehood, it was thought there would be little delay in the admission of New Mexico, which has been a territory almost forty years. It had thirty towns within its borders and well-built churches when the present site of Boston was a bleak wilderness. Coronado, the great Spanish captain and explorer, was governor general of New Mexico when good Queen Bees ruled England and Sir Walter Raleigh was trying to create a city in the colony named for the Virgin Queen, Virginia.

"New Mexico has the population required for statehood, and, indeed, is far in excess of it. She has three times the population of Wyoming, thrice that of Nevada, quite as many citizens as has North Dakota, and 35,000 more than Montana, and double the population of Idaho.

"The delay in the senate up to this time has been due to the opposition of some of the New England senators. Mr. Platt leads the Republican minority of the committee on territories.

"Senators Carey, of Wyoming; Shoup, of Idaho, and Hensbrough, of North Dakota, are favorable to New Mexico's admission.

"The opposition of other senators, such as it is, for it is not active, arises from a belief that New Mexico would send two Democrats and two silver men to the upper house. This is very doubtful, it is said. In fact, the supporters of the bill say it is impossible now to foresee what the legislature would do.

"New Mexico has five gold mines working to where she ever had one of silver in operation. The mining population—no unimportant factor, either—of New Mexico is about equally engaged in producing coal, iron and gold. There are some very prosperous gold mines now paying good dividends. The Albemarle is the best known, then comes Crown Point, Iron King, Good Hope, Last Chance, Monument, Last Chance No. 2, Washington and Lone Star. These are all in active operation, and, of course, are paying, or they would not be worked.

"As the bill for New Mexico's admission may come before the senate this week the information above given is of interest to the public."

PRESS COMMENTS.

The Proper Sentiment.

Stand up for New Mexico. The legislature has adjourned and the territory is all right.—Socorro Chieftain.

President Curry.

Now that the labors of the legislature are about done for this time, the Eagle feels that while it can not point with pride or satisfaction on an exalted degree to the record made by the law-makers as a body, yet it may properly bestow merited praise upon individuals. The particular individual in mind is Congressman George Curry, of this county, which has often honored him, and never with misplaced confidence. He was called to the presidency of the council at its organization, and in that part of the work showed the same independence and partiality for fairness and justice that has characterized his conduct in his official capacity since. He has retained the esteem of his party friends and at the same time won the respect of the opposition, and is today one of the strong young men of New Mexico.—White Oaks Eagle.

Schmidt's Murderer.

The house adopted a memorial to the governor, requesting the pardon Jose D. Gallegos, who is now serving a life sentence for the murder of J. J. Schmidt, of Wagon Mound, on July 1, 1892.

Our criminal record discloses no more cold-blooded murder than the killing of Mr. Schmidt, and we feel assured that when Gov. Thornton is advised of the facts of this case, he will refuse to divert justice.

The only grudge that the murderer had against his victim was that Mr. Schmidt had attached a flock of sheep belonging to Gallegos. The civil proceedings came to Colfax county where twelve unprejudiced men found the cause for attachment a legal one, and any reasonable man will say that Schmidt was not playing the part of Shylock, as Gallegos was attempting to spirit his sheep out of the territory to avoid his liability to Schmidt in a large sum for merchandise and supplies furnished by him to Gallegos. Schmidt's only recourse was to stop the sheep by attachment proceedings, which he did.

And for doing this Gallegos gets his Winchester, kisses his wife and tells her he is going to kill Schmidt, mounts his horse, goes to town, learns that Schmidt

Gallegos was tried in his own county, where after bringing to bear all the personal and political influences he and his friends could wield, the best the jury could do for him was to save his miserable neck, but sent him to the penitentiary for life, and now after scarce two years of confinement, our legislature would pardon him.

Ye God! they would turn loose this red-handed monster, who had to hide like a hunted brute from the public wrath that would have meted summary justice had he been captured while the public was still incensed with the atrocity of the crime.—Springer Stockman.

An Eager and Nipping Wind.

A continuous downpour of rain, inclement weather, generally in winter and spring, are unfavorable to all classes of invalids. But warmth and activity infused into the circulation counteracts these influences and interpose a defense against them. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, most thorough and effective of stomachics and tonics, not only enriches the blood, but accelerates its circulation. For a chill, or premonitory symptoms of rheumatism and kidney complaint, particularly prevalent at these seasons, it is the best possible remedy. It is also infallible for dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation and nervousness. Never set out on a winter or spring journey without it. Elderly persons and the delicate and convalescent are greatly aided by it.

How to Cure Rheumatism.

Arago, Coos Co., Oregon, Nov. 10, 1893. I wish to inform you of the great good Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done my wife. She has been troubled with rheumatism of the arms and hands for six months, and has tried many remedies prescribed for that complaint, but found no relief until she used this Pain Balm; one bottle of which has completely cured her. I take pleasure in recommending it for that trouble. Yours truly, C. A. Bullard. 50 cent and $1 bottles for sale at Ireland's Pharmacy.

The principle difference between some modern marriages and the savage custom of wife purchase is that the purchase is just the other way now.

Ireland's Pharmacy desires to publish the following extract from a letter of Chas. M. Gutfeld, of Reedley, Fresno Co., Cal., as he handles the remedy referred to and wants his customers to know what a splendid remedy it is:

"It is with pleasure I tell you that by one day's use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy I was relieved of a very severe cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend this remedy. A cold nearly always starts in the head and afterwards extends to the throat and lungs. By using this remedy freely as soon as the cold has been contracted it will cure the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs.

Mamma, said little Elsie, as the family circle was discussing acquaintances, I know two men; one is a gentleman, and the other is papa.

In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Butte Co., Cal., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says whenever his children have a cold he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. For sale at Ireland's Pharmacy.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 35 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miller's New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrid. Before I had taken one dose of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 55 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Miller's New Heart Cure, a discovery of an eminent specialist in heart disease, is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5. Express prepaid. It is positively free from all opiates or dangerous drugs.

HIS MAIDEN AUNT.

The first remembrance I have of my mother must have been when I was about 8 years old.

Of my father nothing is clear. Indeed I do not remember ever having one until I was led into the great drawing room one day as I lifted up to gaze on "my father," they said.

When I became old enough to understand, I learned much from my old nurse. She told me my mother was a child when her parents gave her to my father, who was many years older than her. But he was immensely rich, and loved the child, and so they were well pleased when General Neville wedded their daughter.

I was never separated from her for one day until I was 18. I was sent to college. It was a severe trial for me to leave her—mother, friend, companion, all to me. Return home at the close of the second year I found things a little different. Indeed no lady in the neighborhood entertained so much company as my mother. She said to me:

"My dear Marcy, now that you are about entering society it is necessary that I should secure the best friends for you." But among her guests was one I fancied my mother was a little more attentive to—a very handsome lawyer. And I felt perfectly sure he admired her very much.

Again was vacation near, when I received letters from my mother, which not only surprised me, but were so completely put to flight any ideas of objecting, remonstrating or pleading against what had been a dread during the last year, for it was then a reality:

DEAR MARCY—Believing the time will come when you will think with me that a promise had better be broken than kept, I take some comfort in the regret I feel in giving you sorrow, even for a little while. This morning I got married to one you have met. Be perfectly sure when your mother gave her heart to the one whose wife she is her love for her boy was not inviolate.

We are married for a little trip; probably shall be absent two months. My husband's sister—your maiden aunt—will help your grandma to make time pass happily until our return.

Yes, this was the man I feared. In a storm of rage and disappointment I strode up and down the floor. After a few days I grew calmer and decided to return home, wait there my mother's coming, settle up my business and then commence my travels.

I entered the drawing room, drew a chair to the window and seated myself in a position to command the road and see my grandmother when she would be coming home, which would be soon, the servant said.

I had watched possibly half an hour when I beheld some distance off and coming at an almost flying rate a female on horseback. As she came nearer I beheld the most beautiful girl I had ever seen. On she came, up to the gate and over without seeming to care that such an obstacle had been in her way.

I drew back into the recess of the window as she entered the drawing room. Tossing off her hat, she sank on the sofa saying: "Dear me, it is awfully dull out here! I wonder when that young one is coming."

It is no use to go around the truth. I was in love at first sight. I made a little noise with the chair and advanced into the room. A half suppressed scream fell on my ear, and then she seemed about to fly, when I explained to her how I was.

With a beautiful smile she held out her hand and said: "I feel as if I knew you very well. From your mother and grandmother I have heard so much of you. It is so bad you have found no one here."

"I am very well reconciled now to that," I said. "You spoke of my mother. Then you are a friend of hers and visiting here, I hope?"

"Yes, I am staying with your grandmother and I," I said, finishing her reply. "Are you acquainted with that worthy lady, my mother's maiden sister?" I asked. "Slightly. I met her here this week," she returned, with a smile.

Soon my grandmother came and formally presented me to my young friend, Miss Bell.

I am immortal. Who knows me is glad. Men give me the name Of passion that kindles the soul—Love, faith, beauty, fame—I dwell with all these, yet am higher than all. Without me the angels of heaven were sad. —Edith Willis Linn.

Our Two Opinions. Us two wux boys when we fell out, Nigh to the age uv my youngest now; Don't rec'lect what 'twuz about; Some small diff'rence, I'll allow. Lived next neighbors twenty years, A-hatin each other, me 'nd Jim, He havin his opinyin uv me, 'N I havin my opinyin uv him!

Grew up together 'nd wouldn't speak; Courted sisters and mair'd 'em too; Tended same meetin house once a week, A-hatin each other, through 'nd through. But when Abe Linkum asked the vest 'Fr soldiers we answered, me 'nd Jim, He havin his opinyin uv me, 'N I havin my opinyin uv him!

Down in Tennessee one night There was sound uv firs far away, 'Nd the sergeant allowed 't'd be a fight With the Johnnie Rebs some time next day. 'Nd as I was thinkin of Lizzie 'nd home, Jim stood afore me, long 'nd slim, He havin his opinyin uv me, 'N I havin my opinyin uv him!

I wish like we knew there was goin to be Serious trouble 't'd be 'nd him. Us two shuck hands, did Jim 'nd I. But never a word from me or Jim. He went his way, 'nd I went mine, 'Nd in the battle for freedom we, I havin my opinyin uv me, 'N I havin his opinyin uv me!

Jim never came back from the war again, But I hain't forgot that last, last night When, waitin 'Fr orders, us two men Made up and shuck hands afore the fight, 'Nd after it all it's yonder Jim, That here I be 'nd yonder Jim, He havin his opinyin uv me, 'N I havin my opinyin uv him! —Eugene Field.

Teach Us to Wait. Why are we so impatient of delay, Longing forever for the time to be? For thus we live tomorrow in today—Yes, and tomorrow we may never see. We are too hasty, are not reconciled To let kind nature do her work alone. We plant our seed, and our own child We dig it up to see it has grown.

The good that is to be we covet now. We cannot wait for the appointed hour. Before the fruit is ripe we shake the bough And seize the bud that folds away the flower. When midnight darkness reigns, we do not see That the sad night is mother of the morn. We cannot think our own way out of pain. May be the birth pang of a joy unborn.

Into the dust we see our idols cast And cry that death has triumphed, life is void! We do not trust the promise that the last Of all our earthly joys is to be made. With rest almost in sight the spirit faints, And heart and flesh are weary of the last. Our feet would walk the city of the saints, Even before the silent gate is passed.

Teach us to wait until thou shalt appear, To know that all thy ways and times are just. Thou seest that we do believe and fear. Lord, make us also to believe and trust. —Phoebe Cary.

The Blue and the Black. Here's a health to the lass with the merry black eyes! Here's a health to the lad with the blue ones! Here's a bumper to love, as it sparkles and flies! And here's joy to the hearts that are true ones! Yes, joy to the hearts that are tender and true, With a passion that nothing can smother, To the eyes of the one that are pensive and blue.

And the merry black eyes of the other! Mind this now, my lad, with the sweet eyes of blue. That, whatever the graces invite you, There is nothing for you in this world that will do. But a pair of black eyes to delight you, And mind, my gay lass, with the dear eyes of black. In a pair of blue eyes to discover That pure light of affection you never should lack. And you'll always be true to your lover!

Long, long shall your eyes sparkle back with a kiss To the eyes that live but to behold you! Long, long shall the magic of mutual bliss In a heaven of rapture unfold you! And forever to you shall that singer be wise Whose sweet thought is the truest of true ones. That the answering luster of merry black eyes Is the life of a pair of true blue ones. —William Winter.

Two Pictures From Life. Great God, when I look round me and survey The shrouded shiverings that throng and cover In open doorway, suffering by the hour The uttermost terrors of this wintry day, My heart swells full of anger, and I pray With ceaseless length of yearning for the power To raise the standard of revolt and slay The sins that work such ill. The lowliest flower That nestles in the lap of Mother Earth is tended with a kinder, gentler care Than these rank offshoots of a loathsome birth. Dread victims from their cradle of despair—Nurslings of crime whom rigorous laws condemn. But leave untouched the filth that bears on them.

But turn ye from such sights to that blest But turn ye from such sights to that blest Where nestles all that's holiest. Turn to where Thy young-eyed cherubs wait thee on the stair—Coming each flying moment till thy face Burst in upon them and thy fond embraces Rewards their loving vigils. Gave despair Fades here no habitation. Love keeps pace With joyous mirth and gladness, making fair The little world around him, and when sleep enfolds thy darlings in his slumbering arms, Haply thy grateful heart seeks him to keep Thy pure young souls from sin's alluring charms. And whilst thy dear ones press their warm, sun-couches Some homeless wail upon thy doorstep crouches. —Liverpool Mercury.

Glory. Who can relate How many homes are desolate, The widow's lonely grief express, The sorrow of the fatherless, Or know what bitter tears are shed By aged mothers of the dead? Oh, turn we from the saddening story! This is what the world calls glory! —W. J. Bennett, Jr.

Who Shall Arbitrate? Now, who shall arbitrate? Ten men love what I hate, And I follow, slighted and free; Ten who in ears and eyes Match me, we all surmise, Fly, this thing, and I, that—whom shall my soul believe? —Browning.

THE BUSINESS MAN'S LUNCH.

Hard Work and Indigestion go Hand in Hand. Concentrated thought, continued in, robs the stomach of necessary blood, and this is also true of hard physical labor. When a horse-power engine is made to do more horse-power work something is going to break. Very often the hard-worked man coming from the field or the office will "bolt" his food in a few minutes and his head begins to ache. Then too, many foods are about as useful in the stomach as a keg of nails would be in a fire under a boiler. The ill-used stomach refuses to do its work without the proper stimulus which it gets from the blood and nerves. The nerves are weak and "ready to break," because they do not get the nourishment they require from the blood, finally the ill-used brain is morbidly wide awake when the overworked man attempts to find rest.

The application of common sense in the treatment of the stomach and the whole system brings to the busy man the full enjoyment of life and best digestion. He takes Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to relieve a bilious stomach or after a too hearty meal, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood. The "Pellets" are tiny sugar-coated pills made of highly concentrated vegetable ingredients which relieve the stomach of all offending matters easily and thoroughly. They need only be taken for a short time to cure the biliousness, constipation and slothfulness, or torpor, of the liver, then the "Medical Discovery" should be taken in teaspoonful doses to increase the blood and enrich it. It has a peculiar effect upon the living membranes of the stomach and bowels, toning up and strengthening them for all time. The whole system feels the effect of the pure blood coursing through the body and the nerves are vitalized and strengthened, not deadened, or put to sleep, as the so-called celery compounds and nerve mixtures do. But refreshment and food for the body need for health. If you suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, nervousness, and any of the ills which come from impure blood and disordered stomach, you must cure yourself with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which can be obtained at any drug store in the country.

Items of Interest by the Wabash Man. Bulletin No. 2.—There are 20,169 newspapers published in the United States and Canada of this number 289 are published in Colorado.

The Wabash railroad is the shortest line between Kansas City and St. Louis. For the year ending June 30, 1893, the railroads of the United States carried 593,660,612 passengers, out of which number only 289 passengers were killed and 3,229 injured.

From Chicago to Detroit the short line is the Wabash, 262 miles. This forms a portion of the celebrated Niagara Falls short line to New York and Boston. The wheat production in the United States, for 1893, was 896,181,725 bushels, valued at $21,171,881. Colorado's production was 2,504,000 bushels.

The Wabash is the only line running a la carte dining cars between Chicago and New York. The American Telephone Co., in 1894 had 237,166 subscribers and required the service of 42,429 operators.

The Wabash railroad lands you in New York at 7:50 a. m., saving you one night's hotel bill. Look out for bulletin No. 3. C. M. HAMMOND, Commercial Agent, Denver, Colorado.

The Weights and Measures Act—New Aequia Law—Capital City News Notes.

There appears to be a very delicate legal question involved in the matter as to whether or not council bill No. 89, creating the office of territorial inspector of weights and measures, became law. The act as filed in the territorial secretary's office is indorsed thus: "Received at 3:50 p. m. Feb. 28, 1895. W. T. Thornton, governor." Whereas those acts about which there is no question as to their having become law are indorsed by the governor "received and approved" and the date and signature follows. On Saturday afternoon the governor left at the secretary's office this statement:

"Santa Fe, Feb. 2, '95.—There seeming to be some doubt as to the executive intention as to the approval of C. B. No. 89, I desire to say that the bill was received with a number of others at 3:50 p. m., February 28, 1895. The contents met with my approval, but before I reached it for consideration I had received notice that both houses of the legislature had adjourned, and being of the opinion that my power to approve had ceased, I did not indorse my approval on the bill."

The friends of the measure claim that the bill did become law. They say the official record shows that it reached the governor and was signed just five minutes prior to adjournment of the assembly, and cite section 1842 of the organic act, in speaking of the duties of the governor, says: "If he approve he shall sign it." Therefore they hold that the absence of the word "approved" does not necessarily prevent the act from becoming law.

THE NEW AECUIA LAW.

The bill introduced by Mr. Pino regulating community ditches, which has just become law, may be taken as an indication of the sentiment of the assembly on a very important branch of the irrigation question.

The bill was presented by Mr. Pino after a full conference with Messrs. Locke and Hinkle and other members of the house deeply interested in the subject matter. It provides that all community ditches or acequias shall be considered as bodies corporate with power to sue and be sued. Their officers shall consist of three commissioners and one mayor-domo or superintendent, each of whom shall be the owner of an interest in said ditch or the water therein. They shall be elected annually on the first Monday of December, and shall assume office by the first Monday of the following January, when they shall organize by the election of a chairman, secretary and treasurer. The treasurer and mayor-domo shall give bond. Where there is a vacancy, the commissioners shall have power to appoint a mayor-domo to hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. The commissioners shall assess the fatigue work or tasks of all parties owning water rights in said community ditches or acequias and shall have general charge and control of all affairs pertaining to the same, together with the power to receive money in lieu of said fatigue work or task work at a price to be fixed by them and shall immediately upon taking office provide by-laws, rules and regulations for the governing of said ditch or acequia.

The mayor-domo or superintendent shall under the direction of said commissioners be the executive officer of said ditch and shall have the superintendence of all work thereon and the distribution of the waters thereof with the collection of fines, if any, and of amounts to be paid in lieu of fatigue work or task work and shall perform such other duties in connection with said ditch as may be prescribed by the rules and regulations of the same or as may be directed by the commissioners. No person who has after due notice, failed or refused to do his work or pay the amount assessed against him in lieu of said work upon said acequia or ditch, shall be allowed to take or use any water from the same or any contra-acequia or lateral thereof, whilst default in such payment or failure to do such work continues.

All secondary ditches taking water from the main ditch and which have twenty or more land owners shall be considered as main ditches and the mayor-domos are hereby required to clean the same and make thereon all repairs and work that they may deem necessary with all the laborers, the same as in maintaining the main ditch. Outsiders and persons in default in work and payment, who shall cut, break, stop up or interfere with acequias or any contra-acequia lateral thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by fine and imprisonment, either or both. The provisions of this bill are made to apply only to community ditches, that is such as are not private and such as are not incorporated and are held and owned by more than two owners as tenants in common or joint tenants.

OFFICIAL NOTES.

A new postoffice has been established at Dwyer, Colfax county.

Gov. Thornton left last night for a trip to his mines in the Organ mountains. He expects to be absent about ten days.

Mr. Marcelino Garcia, the territorial auditor, has completed his $100,000 official bond and will probably succeed Auditor Perez to-morrow. He has not yet designated his deputy.

Judge Laughlin will open a special term of territorial district court in Santa Fe two weeks from to-day and the term will probably continue for five weeks. Both grand and petit juries were drawn at the clerk's office this afternoon.

Mr. Jas. B. Lazear, for eight years past U. S. bank examiner for the district which includes New Mexico and Arizona, and who was the government officer that closed up the rotten Albuquerque National bank, has just resigned his position to accept the cashiership of the Union National bank of Denver.

Major I. Neustatter, chief clerk in the office of U. S. Marshall Hall, is counted the most expert bookkeeper in the southwest. He has had long experience as an army paymaster's accountant and also for a number of years was employed in a similar capacity as now in Arizona.

The newly appointed board of penitentiary commissioners will meet to-morrow for the purpose of organizing. Messrs. O. A. Hadley, of Watrous; R. A. Bacon, of San Mateo; Henry J. Young, of Taos, and W. E. Dame, of Cerrillos, are now in the capital for this purpose. The other members, Messrs. Richard Hudson, of Silver City; J. M. Valdez, of Springer, and Abran Abeyta, of Socorro, are expected to arrive to-night.

The task of investigating the White Ash mine disaster was actively inaugurated this morning at Cerrillos. H. C. Kinell, justice of the peace, serves as coroner. District Attorney Crist represents the territory and Mr. Renahan serves as stenographer; R. E. Twitchell represents the coal company and Mr. Develin, superintendent of A. T. & S. F. coal properties, is also on hand. The miners have retained Neil B. Field, of Albuquerque, to look after their special interests.

An Albuquerque dispatch to the Denver Republican says the Citizens' article showing up a small part of the rottenness of the Albuquerque National bank created a great sensation. It adds: "The article alleges that S. M. Folsom, president of the defunct bank, bought legislators right and left two years ago, and when he received the territorial funds, at various times dealt it out to his friends in large chunks, taking individual notes without any indorsements except their mere signatures. To himself he gave over $50,000, and to other prominent citizens large amounts. Folsom was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary, but he is not serving his sentence."

Premature baldness may be prevented and the hair made to grow on heads already bald, by the use of Hall's Vegetable Siccilian Hair Renewer.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

The city council meets in regular session this evening.

The county commissioners are in session at the court house.

Arrangements should be made to push the driving park to completion as soon as springs open.

The board of education will meet in regular session at the office of Secretary Hudson this evening.

The election for mayordomos in this city is progressing with no particular interest manifested on either side.

The last legislative employees got their pay checks this morning. Many were paid on Saturday night and left for home rejoicing.

Montezuma lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., will hold a regular communication this evening at 7:30. Visiting brothers will be made welcome.

Postmaster T. P. Gable returned from Cerrillos last night. Twenty of the White Ash victims were buried at Cerrillos and four bodies were sent east.

The air was decidedly cutting this morning, but before noon the keen edge of the breezes was removed by the softening and mellowing influence of the sun.

Mayor Sloan has leased the old Glorieta orchard property and will place a man in charge to go into the poultry business on a large scale. Several incubators will be put in.

The March breezes have come to hand earlier than usual this spring. Everybody is glad of it, for it is considered to indicate that March will be March and April will be just the thing for the farmers and gardeners. Invariably when the March winds are fifteen or twenty days tardy April weather is not what it should be.

The city schools seem to be flourishing just as well under the management of the reduced corps of teachers as before and the monthly pay roll is much less than heretofore. It is now very apparent that the board of education squandered a good deal of money on needless teachers and janitors.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the grand masquerade ball at Firemen's hall in Santa Fe one week from next Saturday night. The proceeds will be covered into the treasury of the fire department to be used in defraying the expenses of the territorial tournament in July.

John Forsha is not laughing as often or as long as in his jolly custom. In fact he is, to use a familiar expression, "all broken up," for the veteran fun-makers who have hovered about the historic fonda have all pulled out for their respective homes leaving only the average day boarder or transient tender-foot to try and fill the vacuum.

During the legislative session the stories that have been told at the Exchange by such pioneers as Scherich, Simpson, Kroenig, Bergmann, Wildenstein and Strachan would make volumes of romance and adventure.

Theodore Joseph, the new superintendent of the Santa Fe National cemetery, arrived in the city last night and will make this his future home. He states that he hopes in a few days to commence work in the cemetery grounds with a view of putting them in proper shape. Mr. Joseph was a regular army veteran in the Utah campaign in 1886, and is now a member of Garfield post, G. A. R., of Washington. D. C. Mr. Joseph is accompanied by his wife and for the present they have rooms at the Palace.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held to-morrow (Tuesday) afternoon in the Presbyterian church from 4 to 5 o'clock. All the members of the organization as well as all ladies interested in the cause of temperance are earnestly requested to attend.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

In Regular Session—Final Statement of Sheriff Cunningham Presented by Special Committee—Balance Due Cunningham.

The board of county commissioners, Chairman Dudrow presiding, convened at the office of Clerk A. P. Hill in the court house at 2 p. m. The following report was thereupon presented:

Additional statement of the accounts of W. P. Cunningham, sheriff and ex-officio collector of taxes of Santa Fe county, N. M., to January 1, 1895, submitted by the committee appointed by the board of county commissioners of Santa Fe county, viz:

The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla, once fairly tried, becomes the favorite spring medicine, speaks volumes for its excellence and merit.

PERSONAL.

Mr. T. B. Catron has gone on a trip to Mexico.

Mr. E. W. Jenkins is in from San Pedro on a visit.

Mr. Scott Knight returns to his Albuquerque home this evening.

At the Exchange: A. Horne, Wallace; J. J. Harren, Fort Worth; J. Frank Chavez, Valencia.

Representative Wm. Locke left this morning for his home in San Juan county. He's all right.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Sever left this morning over the D. & R. G. on a visit to relatives at Balda and Denver, expecting to return to Springer in about two weeks.

Miss Mary A. Croson, who has been here some months visiting her brother, Dr. Croson, left last night for her home in Philadelphia, much to the regret of her many friends.

At the Palace: Fred Roble, Denver; A. F. Griffith, Reading, Pa.; Dr. Sara A. J. Ballard, Mrs. Sam A. D. McKie, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Feary, Kansas City; W. A. Stratton, Delaware; O. A. Hadley, Watrous; W. W. Allen, Pueblo; L. Alexander, St. Joseph.

Miss Clara Olsen, chief stenographer in the late council, left yesterday for Albuquerque, where she takes a position in Hon. W. C. Hadley's office. She is a superior young woman and many Santa Feans bid her all possible success in her new field.

Dr. Strachan, who has officiated as sergeant-at-arms of the council, departed for his Albuquerque home Saturday night. W. T. Strachan is a notable figure in the history of the Democratic party of New Mexico. As a Democrat he represented Bernalillo county in the lower house as far back as 1884 and since that time was elected a member of the senate. He is "still a Democrat."

Fort Union Sanitarium. Ex-Gov. O. A. Hadley, who is in the city from Watrous, states that a party of five connected with the Fort Union sanitarium project is due to arrive there this week. It consists of M. S. Baldwin, of Chicago, Gen. Ames, of Boston, a Mr. Higby and Dr. Allen, of Indianapolis, and Col. French, of Denver. Dr. Gentry and several other promoters are already on the ground. It is expected this meeting will result in cutting all the improvements necessary to place the sanitarium project in running order by June 1.

Agents Wanted.

There are probably a dozen young men in Santa Fe either idle or working for a bare living who might earn from $100 to $300 a month writing life insurance. The undersigned desires to secure the services of a few bright, active men, who can furnish references and give bonds, to solicit insurance in this territory and Arizona. Address, with references, S. H. NEWMAN, General Agent Life Insurance Company of New York, Albuquerque.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair.

More Presentations.

The pleasurable employment of tendering testimonials was concluded at the Palace hotel on Saturday evening, when magnificent gold-headed ebony canes, with suitable inscriptions, were presented by the employees of the 31st legislative assembly to Judge Henry L. Warren, Hon. W. B. Childers, Judge A. B. Fall and Felix Martinez in consideration of their services in securing the pay of said employees. President George Curry, of the council, also presented a diamond stud to Col. J. Franco Chavez, and Felix Martinez presented a solid gold charm with a diamond setting to Representative Lucero. In connection with the presentation of gold watches and chains to President Curry and Speaker Dame, previously reported in these columns, it may be added that a Knights of Pythias charm was given to the former and a Knights Templar charm to the latter.

The World's Fair Tests showed no baking powder so pure or so great in leavening power as the Royal.
