Economy

It is no hardship to look after the cooking when you have all the implements required for culinary operations ready for use. If your list of pots and pans, kettles and cans and other kitchen utensils is incomplete, lose no time in making it complete. A good article will last so much longer than a poor one, that the latter can't be cheap enough to be worth buying. Come to us for the really cheapest hardware, cheap because it's good and therefore durable. It doesn't mean buying a pot or pan every day or two in order to have one that's fit for use.

"Where will it end? Our forefathers fled from Europe and established a government so that we might be of those nations where the masses are hewers of wood and drawers of water for the rich, and yet it is now seriously insisted upon that we must adopt and continue the most pernicious class legislation that the monarchies of Europe have fastened upon their helpless people. By adopting their policy we have increased the demand for gold and its exchangeable value and all money based thereon. We have aided them in the adoption of a single metal for primary money, that they can control and corner, that they have cornered, and forced you to go to them to get it at their own prices to sustain the credit of this great and resourceful nation.

"We submit that this policy should be abandoned and our mints again thrown open to silver (as they are now to gold) and our stock of primary money increased thereby.

"We who are united and petitioned you represent only one class of your people. We respectfully submit that it was the intention of the founders of this government that it was safer that all the people should do the thinking for it than that any one class should do it for them.

"We agree with you that it is time for the people to reason together, and to that end we respectfully ask that you make it possible for them to get printed copies of the act of 1792, on which our forefathers based our financial system, and all subsequent acts, together with the policy of 1873 that reversed the former policy and acts subsequent thereto, as well as all statistical and other information of an official nature at Washington bearing thereon. We but express your own opinion as president of the people when we say that all the people should have the opportunity to investigate and intelligently pass upon this question."

JUDGES M'CONNELL FOR SILVER.
Chicago, April 18.—Ex-Judge Samuel T. McConnell, who yesterday came out as an advocate of the free coinage of silver, to-day tendered his resignation as president of the Iroquois club, because his position is contrary to that held by the majority of the club.

HIGH HANDED ACT.

British Cruiser Fires on the Steamer Barnstable.

Kingstown, Jamaica, April 18.—It is said that the Steamer Barnstable, from Boston to Fort Antonio, was fired on by Grand Inge by the British cruiser Canada. The Barnstable stopped and was boarded by British officers. No reason for this action and details have been received.

The A. P. A. Defeated.

Chicago, April 17.—Municipal elections were held at many points in Illinois yesterday. No particular significance attached to any of them except at Rockford, where the A. P. A. made a bitter fight, but was defeated. At Mount Vernon the "saloon" party elected their candidate for mayor and three of the four aldermen. In Champaign, Evanston, Elgin, Kankakee, Springfield, Valley, Alton, Decatur, Peoria and Cairo the Republicans elected the majority of their candidates. In Freeport and Streator the Democrats were successful. Independent movements carried the day at Aurora, Galena and Monmouth. In a large number of the smaller cities politics out to no figure. The temperance element carried the day in all but five of the towns, and everywhere "completely dry."

Rockford, Ill.—Edward W. Brown, candidate of the business men and the liberal element, was elected mayor over Amasa Hutchins, candidate of the A. P. A., by 55 majority, out of 6,000 votes. The large vote was a surprise to both sides, and an end to Brown's expected majority. The A. P. A. was the driving force, and money was contributed by lodges all over the state to Hutchins' campaign fund.

GREAT JOURNALIST GONE.

James W. Scott Committed to the Grave in Chicago.

Chicago, April 18.—Funeral services of James W. Scott, proprietor of the Chicago Evening Post and the Times Herald, were held in the St. James Episcopal church at 11 o'clock to-day. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in Chicago. Vice President Stevenson was present, accompanied by the judges of the city, and the courts having adjourned. All the principal clubs sent representatives and the floral offerings were profuse. The full Episcopal funeral service was rendered by Rev. E. M. Soles and the address was delivered by Rev. Dr. Frank Goodrich, president of the Armour institute. The burial at Graceland cemetery was private.

President's Brother Vindicated.
Watertown, N. Y., April 18.—A short time ago a dispute at the Thaumovig Presbyterian church resulted in the parishioners voting to ask for the resignation of Rev. W. N. Cleveland, brother of President Cleveland. An appeal was taken to the St. Lawrence presbytery, which has settled the matter by approving Rev. Mr. Cleveland's course and electing him as a representative to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church.

DRAMATIC SCENE.

Chicago Woman Thanks God in Court When Her Husband's Murderer is Sentenced to Die.

Chicago, April 18.—There was a dramatic scene in Judge Stein's court to-day when Mrs. Pareto, an Italian, knelt in the court room and thanked God that her husband's slayer, Silvestro Barilli, had been condemned to death. The evidence showed that the shooting occurred because Pareto had thrown Barilli out of his house after the latter struck Mrs. Pareto with his fist.

Notifications of Peace Exchanged Between China and Japan—New Postmasters.

Washington, April 18.—A telegram has been received at the Japanese legation to the effect that the treaty of peace between Japan and China was signed on the 15th inst. On the same day the Chinese plenipotentiary left Chamoniski for China. Ratifications of the treaty are to be exchanged at Choo Foo within three days from the date of signature.

POSTMASTERS APPOINTED.

The postmasters appointed to-day are as follows: New Mexico—Central, Grant county, R. C. Anderson, vice Julius Welghansen, resigned; Ft. Stanton, Lincoln county, B. F. Stafford, vice A. J. Neill, resigned.

THE INCOME TAX.

The attorney general on yesterday filed in the United States supreme court a memorandum for the consideration of the justices giving the government's view on the petition for a rehearing of the income tax question filed by the opponents of the law.

Oil Market Recovering.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 18.—Oil opened this morning at $2.25 and the first sale was at $2.40, twenty-six points above yesterday's closing.

From 10:30 until noon the market was quite active and it nearly recovered from the big decline of yesterday. The highest point reached this forenoon was $2.57 and the lowest $2.35. At noon oil was quoted at $2.55, bid. Speculators are gaining confidence.

THE MARKETS.

New York, April 17.—Money on call easy, 2 @ 2½; per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4 @ 5½.

Silver, 67; lead, $2.35.

Chicago.—Cattle steady; sheep dull and lower.

Kansas City.—Cattle, market steady; Texas steers, $2.25 @ $5.00; Texas cows, $2.50 @ $3.45; beef steers, $4.00 @ $6.00; native cows, $1.65 @ $4.75; stockers and feeders, $2.75 @ $4.35; bulls, $1.75 @ $4.00.

Chicago.—Wheat, April, 58; May, 58½; Corn, April, 45½; May, 45½. Oats, April, 27½; May, 28½.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

Bill Cannon, the Famous Soldier and Scout, Remarries the Wife He Deserted in 1870.

Kansas City, April 18.—William J. Cannon, soldier, scout, pathfinder, 74 years of age, has applied for a marriage license to marry the same woman he married in the 70's. Cannon went west soon after deserting his wife. Two years ago after a remarkable career, he became an inmate of the Soldier's home at Leavenworth, Kas. Meantime believing his husband dead, Mrs. Cannon obtained a divorce. Cannon was a friend of Kit Carson, Jas. Beckwith, Wild Bill, Jas. Bowie and the rest of that band of indomitable fighters, who led the vanguard of civilization westward in the 40's and 50's. As a boy of 14, he was at the horrible massacre of the Alamo, of which he is the sole survivor. To him David Crockett entrusted the last words he wrote just before death came. The boy in the disguise of a Mexican escaped the massacre and carried the awful tidings to the world. Cannon's adventures on the plains in the civil war and later in the mountains of Mexico and Colorado would require volumes to tell.

Condemned By the Pope.

Rome, April 18.—The pope, through the congregation of the propaganda, has addressed a letter to the Canadian bishops condemning the frequenting of Protestant or neutral schools by Catholic scholars in Manitoba.

MILLIONAIRE ALTGELD.

Income Tax Decision Discussed—Supreme Court Criticized.

Springfield, Ill., April 18.—Gov. Altgeld says the decision of the United States supreme court regarding the income tax is biased in the interest of the gold bugs and Wall street millionaires, recognizes the divinity of wealth by exempting it from taxation and breathes a curse against enterprise by making it bear all the burdens of the government; but, said Altgeld: "It is in harmony with that passage of scripture which says that 'unto him that hath shall be given, and from him that hath not shall be taken away the little he hath,' it is in perfect accord with the Republican and Mugwump theory of government, now being applied in this country. It shows that the interests of the east are paramount to the interests of the rest of the country; also that at least two of the co-ordinate branches of our government receive their inspiration at the same altar."

PROPOSALS FOR MILITARY SUPPLIES AT ROAD STATIONS.—Office of the Chief Quartermaster, Denver, Colorado, April 17, 1895.—Sealed proposals, in triplicate, will be received at this office until 11 o'clock a. m. on May 17, 1895, and then opened in the presence of attending bidders, for furnishing Fuel, Forage and Water, at Road Stations in the Department of the Colorado during the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1895. NEW MEXICO NEWS.

The Chama river is booming.

Mesitas are now prevalent in Eddy.

The Rio Arriba county treasury is reported empty.

The public schools at Chama will close in six weeks.

Carolina poplars border the school grounds at Hagerman.

The Citizen is now the official organ of the city of Albuquerque.

Several Eddy merchants are opening branch stores in Hagerman.

The Methodist Sunday school at Roswell has ordered a new library.

City Marshal Clay, of Las Vegas, collected $350 license money yesterday.

Last Monday New Mexico deposited 240 ounces of gold in the Denver mint.

L. A. Stephens has four wind-mills in operation on his place north of Roswell.

Lincoln county ranchmen rejoice over the prospect of plenty of water for irrigating purposes.

The Las Vegas telephone company, up to last evening, had booked an even sixty-eight subscribers.

Roswell is arranging to build a Methodist church. Ground was broken last Monday for a Baptist church.

The gospel car change of Mr. Wheeler stepped at Eddy one day, en route southward from Hagerman.

Judge Trimble says the Democrat has left out the main plank in his platform, that of statehood for New Mexico.

Miss Mamie Hatch, of Albuquerque, was presented with a fine piano this week by her mother as a birthday present.

At the special election at Malaga on April 6 to vote $2,000 bonds to build a new school house the bonds were unanimously voted.

James Fleck has removed to Hon. T. D. Burns' ranch adjoining Seth's mill, near Park View, and will seed 100 acres to wheat and oats.

Prof. Ramsey of the Albuquerque academy, has purchased a business college at Fresno, Cal., and will in a few weeks move to that city.

The Roswell bank now occupies a handsome new building, built by Colonel J. W. Poe. The Roswell Land and Water company uses the upper floor.

On the 1st of May, Receiver Schofield, of the Albuquerque National bank, will pay a dividend of 10 per cent, thus disbursing over $27,000.

Wm. Woodmansee and Miss Mamie Farley were united in marriage at Albuquerque on Monday evening, and left the same night for a tour to the Pacific coast.

Six cars of oranges, thrown from the track in Tuesday's wreck, were brought into Las Vegas, to be transferred to other cars. The fruit was but little, if any, damaged.

The first of last week two head of cattle were stolen from Indians residing opposite the mission at Jewett. They were milch cows for which the Indians had been buying and begging buy all winter.

Ruidoso is one of the most beautiful streams in the country. The farmers along the stream have already planted their fields in wheat and oats, and are preparing and cleaning land for corn.

The new appointive officers of Albuquerque are as follows: T. A. Finca, city attorney; Dr. Haynes, city physician; Fred Fornoff, city marshal; Frank Harris and George Carson, policemen; W. R. Gerhart, jailer.

Mrs. M. J. Borden, of Albuquerque, held services for the newly-organized Congregational church, at Bland, on Easter Sunday; also conducted the funeral services of Tony O'Neal, who died at that place on Saturday evening.

Roswell Record: "Hon. George Curry and John L. Hinkle have leased the room in the Hotel Pauly, formerly occupied by the bank of Roswell. This would indicate that George expects to make Roswell his home in the near future."

The lower Pecos valley farmer need not fear any chance of failing to get a good, paying market for all the alfalfa he can grow so long as the transportation companies pursue their present liberal course in granting rates to eastern points.

The San Marcial Bee: W. S. Hopewell, of Sierra county, told a Bee reporter on Tuesday that he had secured from New York a supply of sodas and some of which will be planted on his ranch and some on the Rio Grande bottom lands. The experiment will be watched with interest.

Superintendent Bartlett has a force of about twenty-five men with teams and necessary implements constructed laterals to supply the farmers at Hagerman with water. They are also doing some good work on the townsite, putting bridges at the crossings.

The Roswell Record: Sheriff Perry returned Wednesday from Muskogee, I. T., where he took Jim Turner, Bill Cook's chief lieutenant and partner in crime. Turner strenuously denied his identity until after he got into the territory, and then he admitted that he was the man wanted.

The Citizens: On the incoming of court this morning the jury returned a verdict of guilty in the case of the Territory vs. Pedro Garcia, embezzlement. The defendant's attorney moved for a new trial, and in default of $3,000 bond Garcia was remanded into the custody of Capt. Hubbell deputy sheriff.

The Albuquerque Democrat: "The entire forty acre tract purchased by the railway company just south of town, for stock yards, is being covered with pens, corrals, chutes and sidetracks, and is just now one of the busiest spots in the country. This is to be the most important feeding and resting station in New Mexico, and all the cattle coming in on both roads will be unloaded here."

E. W. Pierce, the disgraced attorney, boarded the early morning train for Pueblo, in which Colorado city he will probably be nabbed for embezzlement, on a telegram sent to that city, to-day, by Nepumuneso Segura, who claims that the fellow has $288 belonging to him.—Las Vegas Optic.

The San Juan Times: Twenty-one head of Scott Morris' horses, which he has had feeding at Ira Fulcher's on the La Plata, came in Monday evening and Mr. Morris leaves to-morrow for Pagosa Springs, near which place he has a big ditch contract. He goes from there to Rockwood where he has a second contract. His family will remain in Farmington.

The Albuquerque Democrat: Word was received by wire yesterday morning from the first assistant postmaster general that the proposition of Joseph Barnett to furnish quarters for the post-office for $1,200 per annum was accepted, and the property owners on South Second street are jubilant. The new postoffice building will be erected on the corner of South Second street and Silver avenue, and will be a two-story brick, 84x100 feet. The building will be completed within the next ninety days.

This morning, Mr. Kieck, of the Maze, was going to the Bank of Commerce with a sack of coin to deposit, and on the way lost the money. The sack was picked up by Henry Wintermute, an honest young man, who came to this office with a notice to be inserted in the find. In a few minutes Mr. Kieck rushed in with a notice, when he was told where he could get his money. In a few minutes he had the coin, and generously gave Wintermute $10 for so promptly reporting the finding of the money.—Albuquerque Citizen.

PROPOSALS FOR BUILDINGS, BUILDING MATERIALS, ETC., ETC.—U. S. Indian Industrial School, Phoenix, Ariz., April 18, 1895.—SEALED PROPOSALS, endorsed: "Proposals for Buildings, etc." as the case may be, and addressed to the undersigned at Phoenix, Arizona, will be received at this school until one o'clock p. m., of Saturday, April 27th, 1895, for (1) furnishing the necessary materials and labor to erect and complete one frame dormitory building, one frame hospital building and one frame employes' quarters, (2) materials and labor to complete waterworks and sewerage systems, and (3) assorted lumber, doors, windows, hardware, etc., for general repairs, etc., at this school, all in strict accordance with the plans and specifications which may be examined in the Office of this newspaper and of the Phoenix school.

Proposals for the erection of the buildings must state the length of time proposed to be consumed in construction. A form of proposal is attached to the specifications for the buildings.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or any part of any bid if deemed for the best interest of the service.

The attention of bidders is invited to the Act of Congress, approved August 1, 1892, entitled: "An Act relating to the limitation of the hours of daily service of laborers and mechanics employed upon the public works of the United States and of the District of Columbia," also to the Act of Congress approved August 13, 1894, entitled: "An Act for the protection of persons furnishing materials and labor for the construction of public works."

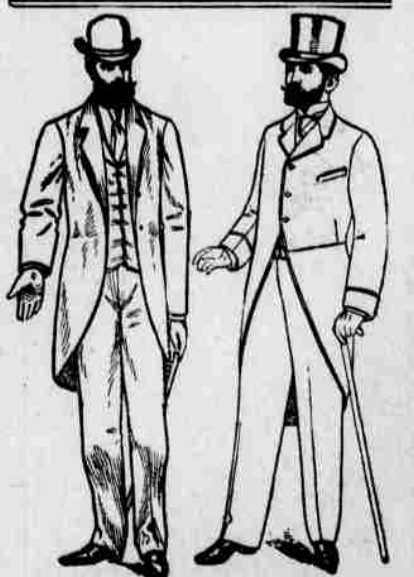

CERTIFIED CHECKS.—Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or draft payable to the order of the United States National Bank in the vicinity of the residence of the bidder, made payable to the order of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for at least FIVE PER CENT of the amount of the proposal, which check or draft will be forfeited to the United States in case any bidder or bidders receiving an award shall fail to promptly execute a contract with good and sufficient sureties, otherwise to be returned to the bidder.

Bids accompanied by cash in lieu of certified checks will not be considered.

For any further information apply to:

HARWOOD HALL,
Superintendent.

NOTICE.—The bidder should attach list to his or her bid or bids specifying the price per foot, pound, etc., of materials under head of pipe materials, etc., and assorted lumber, doors, windows, etc., referring to same in their bid as "per list hereto attached."

THURSDAY, APRIL 18.

The Albuquerque Citizen has been printing too big a paper for the times. It will have to begin trimming down. Watch the prediction.

Jumping from the success that has attended the raising of hogs in the Mesilla valley, a new and highly profitable field is now open to the farmers of New Mexico. Plant alfalfa and raise hogs.

The St. James Gazette's statement that Great Britain doesn't care a snap about the Monroe doctrine means something for the United States government. It is not the official organ, but it has a highly respectable following in the common sense conservative element of the English people.

The Pueblo Chieftain tersely puts it thus: Honestly, now, do you think a man who is too lazy to dig four holes eighteen inches deep, and too stingy to pay 25 cents apiece for four shade trees, has any moral right to the custody of a warranty deed calling for a big wide lot with forty-two feet of street front.

Ex-Gov. LIONEL A. SHELTON's old Republican friends in New Mexico will be surprised to learn that he has quit the party in disgust and gone off to help the "fourths," or so-called free silver party to organize in California. Sheldon is one of the cleverest men that ever carried the Republican banner, and his going over to Jones, Stewart & Co. will give that firm an element of political respectability that it may be proud of. When such men quit Republicanism it is plain that it is rotten.

Col. Bliss' friends throughout the west and southwest—and their name is legion—sincerely hope that the president will name him as Gen. McCook's successor on the retirement of that officer from active service in the army. This interesting, and, in many respects, much lamented event, occurs on Monday next. Col. Bliss is now stationed at Fort Bayard. He is a true soldier, and ranks high in the line of promotion on the list of colonels.

THE BEEF INVESTIGATION.

The outcome of the investigation which the agricultural department has set on foot relative to the causes of the beef famine will be awaited with very decided interest by business men throughout the west, particularly in view of the many absurd theories the eastern authorities have advanced. The fact is, that, crowded to the wall by the packers' combine, the cattle men long ago gave up beef raising as a hopeless job, hence the present shortage. We have some curiosity to know whether or not the packers will come in for a scoring at the hands of the agricultural department.

LINING UP.

That was a clever piece of newspaper enterprise which prompted the New York Evening Telegram to make inquiry of the Democratic national committee as to how they stood on presidential candidates, issues and places for holding the next Democratic national convention. The returns are significant, and may be summed up thus: Stevenson, silver, Chicago; though as to issues leading Democrats all over the country express a desire to see the contest for tariff reform carried on in 1896 as earnestly as in the past. As the Democratic presidential preference Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois, leads by a large majority, nine out of fifteen of the national committeemen who answer the question directly declaring for him. This makes it more than ever certain that Illinois is to be the battle ground in the next campaign, and the fact that nobody mentions Mr. Cleveland in connection with the place is also another straw indicating how thoroughly the west is going to lead in '96.

On the Republican side the replies are rather a surprise, for as a whole the Republican national committeemen and the chairman of the Republican state and territorial committees favor McKinley as the presidential candidate in 1896. The figures are: McKinley, 13; Harrison 4; Reed, 4; Allison, 2; Morton, 1; Senator Sherman, 1; Henry M. Teller, 1. This means that the old tariff fight is uppermost in the minds of Republicans—and silver be damned!

REMOVES CANCER

In 1885, my son, suffered very much from cancer of the mouth. By advice of physicians, an operation was performed, extending from the jaw bone, which but he can't eat and grow rapidly. Finally, after trying many remedies in vain, I commenced to give him S. S. S.; after seven bottles had been taken the cancer disappeared though it had been there for years. I have never returned, there is no reason to believe that it is permanently cured. His cure is due exclusively to S. S. S.

toward which the 'orny' landed on this day went their way in countless thousands, all bearing and wearing the modest little pale yellow woodland flower, the great man's favorite. From dawn to dewy eve, they thronged the porches of the grand old abbey and the parliament house, and cluster like bees round the statue of their friend. Before 9 o'clock the pedestal is a poxy of primroses, and during the dinner hour such an army swarms from all quarters to honor him in this humble way that by 2 o'clock the figure itself is completely smothered in a yellow pyramid. What is the reason of this annual demonstration of esteem? Surely because the man they thus delight to honor served his country well and would have disdained to close the Indian mist, cripple the trade of the world and ruin thousands of his fellow citizens, with "a light heart" and cynical composure, merely for the sake of enriching his family connections. At the present day many deputations of natives come from the East Indies to demonstrate on this day their respect for the far-seeing man who made rajah and ryot absolutely equal before the law, so that now it is impossible in British India for any man, however pompous, presumptuous and arrogant, to flout the law and bring justice into contempt by monstrous and vexatious delays. And that is why Primrose day flourishes in England.

PRESS COMMENTS.

Promise of the Pecos.

General Manager Jeff. N. Miller, of the Pecos Valley railway, returned Wednesday from an overland trip from near the headquarters of the Pecos. He reports the storm of Friday, last week, near Puerta de Luna, where his party tarried, as something terrible and from all accounts more severe than at Eddy. Mr. Miller has great hopes of the early construction of the line between Roswell and Washburn and is of the opinion the engineers will have the survey finished in about thirty-five days. Work is progressing on a wagon road between Roswell and the White Oaks country, toward the construction of which Mr. Hagerman donated $1,500 and other members of the company considerable amounts. This road will make the hauling of produce from the mountain country to Roswell an easy matter, for it is all down hill grade. When the railroad is finished to Washburn the whole cattle trade of southeast New Mexico and northern Texas will have a thirty hour shorter route to Kansas City, which will insure the shipment of a hundred cars of stock from Eddy to the present. Besides this the new line will bring in hundreds of immigrants to one at present and will also reduce freight rates from Kansas City and Chicago.—Eddy Current.

The Pecos Valley of NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequal advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.

The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.

Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation.

The cultivation of canebrake—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.

The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.

Land with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant, and at times rapid, increase in value.

The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Feliz section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

will cure a stubborn cough when all the ordinary cough remedies have failed. Try it for yourself. We are putting up a fifty-cent size chiefly for that purpose. A cough is usually the telltale of a weakened physical condition. Correct that condition by the use of a proper remedy and the cough will soon disappear.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites acts in two ways. It nourishes, strengthens and builds up the system, at the same time allays the irritation and heals the inflammation. It gives immediate relief at night from the choking sensation so often accompanying a cold.

Don't be persuaded to take a substitute!

Scott & Bown, N. Y. All Druggists. 50c. and $1.

SUNBEAMS.

"I congratulate you on your engagement to the girl, said the oafish man, but it will cost you a great deal to keep her in dress won't it?"

"Yes, sighed the dwarf, she comes high, but I've got to have her."

The Last People on Earth

To reasonably expect relief are they who are continually doing themselves with colic, blue pill, podophyllin and other drastic cathartics. Constipation can be permanently overcome by such violent disturbance of the bowels, stomach and liver. They inflict more harm than they temporarily relieve. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a safe and effective substitute for such hurtful drugs. The effect of this medicine is easy and natural, and is not accompanied—as in the case of strong purgatives—with griping and abrupt operation. Malaria, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, heartburn, kidney trouble, rheumatism and nervousness are entirely and promptly removed by this excellent remedy, commended by physicians everywhere.

Watts—Did you try that hot-water cure for your cold?

Potts—Yes it is simply great, too. You see, I mixed it with a little whisky and lemon, and I never had anything slip down so easy.

Frank Shephardson, an engineer on the Southern Pacific Ry., who resides at Los Angeles, Cal., was troubled with rheumatism for a long time. He was treated by several physicians, also visited the hot springs, but received no permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says it is the best medicine in the world for rheumatism. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

Jimmie (reading)—And when the bride approached the altar the train-bearers held up the rich skirt of her dress— Aunt Sarah—Ow! The brazen thing!

Bilious Colic.
Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic will be pleased to know that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It acts quickly and can always be depended upon. In many cases the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first indication of the disease appears. 25c and 50c bottles for sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

"And now, said the barber who had inherited a fortune, and now I can eat onions in the morning whenever I darn want to."

"We take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is praised by all who try it," says J. W. Cox & Son, druggists, Marshfield, Oregon. No one afflicted with a throat or lung trouble can use this remedy without praising it. It always gives prompt relief. It is especially valuable for colds as it relieves the lungs, makes breathing easier and aids expectoration. A cold will never result in pneumonia when this remedy is taken and reasonable care exercised. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, SCIATICA, LAME BACK, DEBILITY, Etc.

When a trifle will buy the greatest healing invention of the day, Dr. Hansen's Electric Belt is a complete body battery for self-treatment, and guaranteed, or money refunded. It will cure rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, lame back, kidney and liver complaints, nervous debility, weakness, losses, drains and all effects of early indiscretion or excess. To weak men it is the greatest possible boon, as the mild, soothing electric current is applied directly to the nerve centers and improves them in the first hour. "I have such an indulgent husband, said Mrs. Peterby to Mrs. Yenger. Yes responded Mrs. Yenger quietly, my husband says that sometimes Mr. Peterby indulges too much. And now the ladies no longer talk to each other."

HER VOICE.

Sweet as the murmur of the trembling string,
Which sighs again beneath the bow's caress;
Sweet as the earliest breath of timid spring,
When brooks and breezes wake to joyfulness;

Sweet as the ocean's endless harmony,
Where restless breakers fret the idle sand;
Or song of birds, which worship newborn
A day—

Songs which we love, but cannot understand—
Oh, man! Oh, piteous vulgar clod of clay,
How voice! I must confess—my pen be steady—
Has sounded sweeter when I heard her say
In angel accents, "Dear, the dinner's ready."

SOLD!

M. Bernstein, wily old dealer in antiques, every morning was wont to repair at 11 precisely to the old-fashioned Bravette restaurant. At that particular time he well knew that business was quiet—so quiet that to an outsider the place would seem as if it were given up to the dogs, but instead it was a flourishing concern. So, to the minute every morning, he took his seat in the topmost curtained box, ordered his soup and roll and read the paper until half past 11, when the first stream of clerks and others would begin to arrive. Then, having partaken of the cheapest repast he could get, he would again repair to his establishment in the Rue de Beranger.

As he sat reading his paper one beautiful May morning and giving an occasional dip with his roll into the soup his attention was momentarily drawn to two customers who entered and came and sat down in the adjoining box. He heard them give the waiter an order and then went on reading his paper again. Suddenly he became alert and began to listen eagerly to the conversation.

"I can assure you, old fellow," said one in low but clear tones, "I can assure you that it is a masterpiece, a genuine Murillo and a perfect gem."

Old Bernstein now began to listen intently and kept very still. Evidently they did not know of his near presence. "A glorious work," continued the speaker, "such a picture of a gypsy child, round which I have never seen equalled, and the coloring of it is superb, magnificent! In fact, words fail me to express its beauties."

"You astonish me," was the reply. "But how came you to discover it? Such finds are few and far between nowadays." "I will explain to you, old fellow, how it was. Some two years ago we made a very delicate piece of machinery for an English firm, and the workman who really made and put it together left us six months ago. Last week it was returned for repairs, but unfortunately we have no one now on the work who knows the proper technique. So yesterday I was ordered to go down to Bernice to see if Jules was with his father, old Claude Revers, who lives on a small farm. I dare say you have noticed the old white house near to the station."

"I have noticed it many a time when going through Bernice," was the reply.

"However, when I arrived at the old fellow's place I found on inquiry that his son was away in England, so my business for the nonce was done. The old fellow, knowing that I had an hour or so to wait for my train, invited me to stay and chat with him about his son, and to make matters more comfortable went below into his cellar to get a bottle of wine for our refreshing. Old Revers served badly from rheumatism, so he was some little time before he returned. Meanwhile I had been looking at a canvas of the Madonna which hung on the opposite wall when suddenly something prompted me to take it down and examine it closely. To my surprise I saw that the front of the canvas of the Madonna had slipped slightly, revealing another canvas behind it. I had my pinchers with me, and had I had time then I would have taken out the wooden back and examined it, but just then I heard the old fellow coming up the cellar steps, and I had perforce to put it on the wall again. The wine was fairly good, so between us we finished it, and then I prompted the old man to fetch another bottle. He was speaking long, especially when I laid a franc on the table, so down he went once again, carrying the empty bottle with him and chuckling to himself. So now was my chance, and taking it down once again I laid it flat on the table, whipped out the nails which held the back, and brought to light the beauties of the hidden canvas, the Murillo, into the light of day."

"What a splendid discovery! I am itching to see and handle it. But go on. I am quite interested."

"My first thought was that I might take it away treacherously, as the old fellow was not aware of its existence, but it was rather too large to smuggle away. Then, on second thoughts, the old man did not seem well off, and I settled in my mind to offer him 20 francs for it. I had just time to refix the nails and put it back on the wall when the old man opened the cellar door."

"You were only just in time then?" laughed the other.

"Just so. But, however, as soon as the fresh bottle was opened I told him I had taken a great liking to his picture opposite, and that I would buy it from him. The old fellow looked at me, and I thought some contemptuously, inquiring what I would give."

"Twenty francs," and so saying I laid that amount on the table, thinking he would not resist the sight of the money and telling him that no one would give him more for it.

"Perhaps not, m'sieu," was the curt answer, "but I have no desire to sell it. It would bring me bad luck, and I have had quite sufficient of that, for my farm and buildings here are burdened with a debt of 10,000 francs. But, putting that on one side, why should I sell the Madonna, which has been in my family for three generations, for a few paltry francs? Bah! Why should I? So to end the matter, m'sieu, if you want my old picture, the price is the debt on my farm, and neither you nor anybody else would be fool enough to give me that. So good day, m'sieu. Your time will be here in ten minutes, and the old man laughed immoderately at his proposition."

"Good day, Papa Revers. I may come and see you again some day," I replied as I left him, and so here I am, only you and I knowing of this matter."

"I am glad you have been so discreet, Pierre, on that latter point. But what do you propose to do now?"

"This! Advance me the 10,000 francs, with which I feel sure I can tempt old Revers to sell it to me. Then, supposing it only realizes 60,000 francs, we can divide the 50,000 between us. What say you, old fellow, to that?"

"I am so satisfied with your judgment, Pierre, that if you will come with me to my office I will get you the money, and then when you can start?"

"Not before 8:30. I have to go to the works yet to settle a few matters of business."

Bernstein heard them walk out, and before then he did venture to assume an erect position, but now he was in a bad way. He had overheard and gone down to Bernice at once. There would be a train before 8:30 o'clock.

"Here, Jacques," he called to the waiter, "a time table quick. How fortunate! There is one at 8:30, and I shall be first after him, for I have assumed an unwonted happy expression, while the waiter stared in amazement, for the old man had given him a sou, the very first—and the last too. "Something wonderful has happened," the waiter thought.

Old Bernstein did not lose any more time but rushed back to his establishment and seated at his desk.

"Ten thousand francs, suppose I take 15,000. It is best to be on the safe side; one never knows—and a Murillo! Father Abraham, what a prize!" And with evident satisfaction he packed the notes in his pockets, picked up his cane and bag and was soon after on his way to Bernice. But, strange to say, the two men whom he had overheard in the restaurant watched him to his establishment and then saw him depart by the train, and as soon as he had started one of them dispatched a telegram to Claude Revers, Bernice.

It was delivered to that person before old Bernstein had gone half the distance, while the old dealer sat and looked quite happy and jubilant—so jubilant that when he arrived at the little station he again opened his heart by giving the old station master, who was prior and everything else combined, a few sous, as he was so elated at his prospects. Two minutes sufficed to take him to the door of old Revers' cottage, at which he knocked quickly, and it was at once opened by an old man whom he at once guessed was the person he had overheard in the restaurant. "From Paris, and to see me? Truly you are welcome, m'sieu. Come inside, pray."

The offer was accepted, the old man hobbling forward and placing a seat for his visitor.

"And what, m'sieu, can be your business with me?" inquired the old man, fixing his sharp eyes on his visitor.

"Well, my friend, to come to the point at once, a friend of mine who came to see you the other day has told me of a picture you have, and which I see hanging there. Now, he is rather infatuated with that picture, and although I have tried to persuade him to let me have it, he won't budge. The old dealer, leaning forward and spreading out his hands, palms upward, "he will not be gained. The foolish fellow thinks it will bring him good luck. Did you ever hear of such a frivolous idea?"

And he gave a shrill cackle, but with eyes fixed eagerly on the picture on the wall.

"Then, of course your good luck friend told you the price I fixed upon it, which I will tell you was merely to get rid of him, as I do not wish to sell it."

The old man paused for awhile to get his breath.

"Again, my friend, should I sell it? I am old, and although I have not much left me, I am not a miser. I have a large rooming house, my son is very good to me, and he also cherishes the one thing that his old mother was so fond of, and which he says I must never part with. Here the old man wept, while Bernstein wiped his eyes with pretended sympathy. "No, no, I can wait, I can wait," said the old man straightened himself proudly, "and with my son's help we manage to pay the interest on my little farm, so why should I sell?" and twirling his mustache he glared fiercely at the old Jew.

"Father Abraham!" replied Bernstein, licking his thin lips and trying to speak as if only for the old man's good, "and to think that an old citizen should have to work as you do at your time of life, and for what—to pay some rascally money lender—while I, even I, would be a deliverer to you and give you, mark, 15,000 francs with which you can do as you please, and pay off your debt with a little to spare, while my friend—foolish fellow I think him—will receive your picture. What say you, my dear friend?" and he rubbed his hands unctuously, calling him in his own mind a plighted old fool. But come to think of it, he thought, he was not to be so easily won. He had heard of 15,000 francs, which caused Bernstein to turn a sallow hue, growling at the perversity and wickedness of this refusal. At last, calling on all the patriarchs to bear witness and counting down on the table 15,000 francs, he averred that he would not give another franc, not one.

At the sight of so much money old Revers at last relented, and with tears in his eyes lifted down the picture, reverently kissed it, and handing it to the old Jew sank down in a seat by the side of the old fellow, averting his eyes from the picture he thought so much of. With an intensely gratified expression, the now owner carefully enveloped his treasure in his canvas bag with great haste.

"Bon jour, M. Revers," said the old Jew as he opened the door. But old Revers lay with his head and arms across the table and made no reply, but was so fearful that the old man should repent and stupidly perhaps ask for it again, he darted from the cottage hugging his purchase, and in 15 minutes was being whirled back to Paris with the picture.

Could Bernstein have seen old Revers two minutes after his departure he would have had a fit of apoplexy, for Revers had now assumed an erect attitude, had thrown off his old linen blouse and kicking off his sabots stood revealed as a man of about 40, smiling with the greatest satisfaction as he packed into a small handbag the 15,000 francs with a false wig and beard. There with bag in hand, he emerged from the rear of the cottage, which had been his abiding place for two days only, and made a detour for the railway station, entering the rear part of the train as it was about to start, while the old Jew sat in another compartment hugging his beloved treasure.

At length he arrived safe and sound in his sanctum and laid his purchase before his wife, who as yet knew nothing of his errand.

"What have you got there, Israel?" was her inquiry as she peered curiously at the daub.

"That, my love, that," he replied, pointing to the face of the Madonna, "is worth only that," and he snapped his fingers, "but at the back of that—ah-h-h-h!" and he gave a long drawn expression of something good to come, for the old Jew, when I take off the back from that picture you shall be surprised at what I shall show you. He prepared, my dear Leah; he prepared."

With his pinchers he pulled out the nails which held the wooden back tightly in place, and with agitated manner took out the hidden canvas, but where, oh, where was the Murillo, this chef d'œuvre, the beautiful coloring of the gypsy children?

A Bank Failure.

AN INVESTIGATION DEMANDED.

A general banking business is done by the human system, because the blood of its veins is wealth. The wealth is laid up against "a rainy day" as a reserve fund. We are in a condition of healthy prosperity if we have laid away sufficient capital to draw upon in the hour of our greatest need. There is danger in getting rich, because it is a sign of letting down in health. To gain in blood is nearly always to gain in whole-some flesh. The odds are in favor of the person of consumptive grip, or pneumonia, if our liver be inactive and our blood impure, or if our flesh be reduced below a healthy standard. What is required is an increase in our general vitality. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the blood and makes it wholesome, stops the waste of tissue and at the same time builds up the strength. A medicine which will rid the blood of its poisons, cleanse and invigorate the great organs of the body, vitalize the system, thrill the whole being with new energy and make permanent work of it, is surely a remedy of great value. When we make a positive statement that 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption can, if taken in the early stages of the disease, be cured with the "Discovery," it seems like a bold assertion. All Dr. Pierce asks is that you make a thorough investigation and satisfy yourself of the truth of his assertion. By sending to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., you can get a free book with the names, addresses and photographs of a large number of those cured of bronchitis and lung diseases, as well as of skin and scrofulous affections by the "Golden Medical Discovery." They also publish a book of 160 pages, being a medical treatise on consumption, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, which will be mailed on receipt of address and six cents in stamps.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Susano Ortiz Again Convicted--Car Seal Breakers on Trial--Chavez Murder Case To-morrow.

In the territorial district court, about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the trial of Susano Ortiz, on the second indictment for sheep stealing, was concluded and the jury returned a verdict of guilty as charged. The third indictment against Ortiz will probably not be reached this term.
The case of the Territory vs. Frank Williams and William Jackson, charged with breaking a car seal in this county, is now on trial. Mr. W. H. L. is conducting the prosecution for the district attorney, who was called to Corralitos yesterday and did not return until this morning. Judge Downs is presiding. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty this afternoon.
Mr. Rafael Romero went to Las Vegas yesterday and will return to-night. Meanwhile Mr. Larkin G. Read is acting as interpreter of the court.
Judge Hamilton writes that he will be here to-night and will begin the trial of the Chavez murder cases to-morrow morning. In compliance with law Clerk Wyllys served copies of the jury list upon each of the defendants in this case at 9:30 this morning, and soon after the accused were, at their request, escorted by Sheriff Cunningham and Deputy Tucker to the office of Catron & Spiess for consultation.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

Deputy Sheriff Thos. Hubbel is here from Albuquerque on an official mission. Contractor Windsor has put a beautiful bleached duck awning up in front of the Arcade sample and club rooms during the day.

The city government should see to it that a new and improved thoroughfare is opened to connect the city with the national military cemetery.

Messrs. Gasdorf & Dolan's show windows are radiant with bargains these days. Somebody around that house knows how to dress a window.

The meeting for the annual election of the officers of the guild, will be held at Mrs. W. T. Thornton's home to-morrow at 2:30. A full attendance is desired.

Laura Williams, the oldest daughter of Frank Williams, night porter at the Palace hotel, died this morning at 5:50, age 24 years. The funeral will take place at the family residence at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

The telephone line between Bland and the river, which was somewhat disabled by Sunday's wind storm, is being repaired by Peter Powers, of Allerton. Manager Sparks hopes it will be in working order to-morrow.

Rev. R. M. Craig, of Ferguson, Ontario, paid the New Mexican a visit to-day in company with Rev. W. Williams. He is journeying toward Mexico by easy stages and will remain here several days, preaching at the Presbyterian church on Sunday next.

Mr. Henry W. Newby, of Virginia, inspector of surveys, arrived in Santa Fe this morning and will remain about a week. His family will arrive to-night from Kansas. From here Mr. Newby will go to Lincoln county to inspect surveys west of the Mescalero Apache reservation and in the mountains south.

Messrs. Wagner & Haflner's store is being converted into a handsome appearing building. Outside, John Dignee is at work. Inside, there are $8,000 worth of household goods of every description; in fact, as Wagner says, you can buy there "everything from a child's chair to a monument."

If the proposed street sprinkler service is to be available this summer, let it be put on at the earliest moment possible. The principal streets are in prime condition, as a rule, and if sprinkled for a time would become as hard as macadam under the influence of the sun's warm rays.

The funeral of the late Bessie Hopper took place from the home of her parents yesterday afternoon and the body was tenderly committed to the grave in Fairview cemetery about 5 o'clock. Rev. George G. Smith delivered a touching funeral address and Rev. F. T. Bennett closed the simple services with prayer.

Mr. Ben. B. Parker, of White Oaks, writes Col. R. M. Fore that great excitement prevails among mining men in Lincoln county over a gold strike on the Rio Bonito. He says if surface indications hold out as depth is attained it will prove one of the most important mineral finds recorded in New Mexico in years.

PERSONAL.

Hon. Mariano S. Otero is in the capital from Albuquerque.

Mr. Geo. W. Hickox, so report has it, is quite sick at San Diego.

Hon. Henry L. Waldo returned last night from a trip to Mexico.

Brother Botolph, of St. Michael's college, went down to Bernalillo yesterday.

I. N. Stone, Gloria; Frank Grabel, Berlin; J. M. Marshall, Denver, are late arrivals at the Exchange.

Mr. Romualdo Ortiz and wife, of Conchos, Colo., are in the city on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Luis Alarid.

Messrs. W. A. Sanders and W. E. Moore, well known Albuquerque business men, are visiting the capital.

Mr. A. A. Grant, the new millionaire owner of the Albuquerque Democrat, accompanied by his niece, has gone to Los Angeles.

Mr. J. B. Connors, of Denver, superintendent of the Postal Telegraph company, is in town to-day. He finds Local Agent Geo. Francis a busy man and looking attentively after the company's interests. At the Palace: E. B. Leamer, Kansas City; G. F. Matkin, Chicago; M. S. Otero, W. A. Sanders, W. E. Moore, Albuquerque; G. G. Sullivan, A. T. & S. F. R. R.; D. T. White, Las Vegas; Henry W. Newby, J. B. Connors, Denver; James Vance, San Francisco; F. C. San Juan, W. L. Macomber, Colorado Springs.

NEW MEXICO CROPS.

Official Statement by the Weather Bureau Regarding the Crop Prospects of the Territory.

The past week has been warm and dry, averaging a trifle above the normal in temperature. No rain or snow was reported during the week, except a trace one or two stations. The week was favorable to all irrigated crops and for the progress of farm work. There was but little wind until Sunday, when high wind prevailed in the afternoon and night generally.

The cattle ranges are very much in need of rain to start up the spring feed, in most parts of the territory. Wheat, oats and other small grains are reported to be in good condition. It is probable that the peach, apricot and nectarine have been seriously injured in most parts of the territory by the severe weather in February, but how seriously can not be determined for some days yet. The outlook for apples, pears, cherries and plums is very good at present.

The following extracts from a few of the reports received at this office will be found of interest, and will give an accurate idea of the existing conditions of the different localities:

REMARKS BY OBSERVERS.

Roswell.—Some fruit blossoms destroyed, but the apple trees are covered with blossoms; fully 50 per cent more than for several years past. Peach crop assured, but apricots not much hope for. Range good, but needing rain.

Alto.—The severe frosts which occurred for a few days in the winter (—14 degrees being registered) nipped some of the peach buds, but how much damage was done can not be told just yet. Small grains and alfalfa in good condition.

Gila.—Farmers are not planting much yet. Fruit outlook is not cheerful, as we have had several heavy frosts this month. Farmington.—The apple crop is backward and the prospects fine.

Cigualea, near Wagon Mound.—Dry weather, but grass is starting well from some early rains. Wheat and oats are being sown. Alfalfa is two or three inches high. Fruit trees are budding, except peaches, pears and apricots are in bloom. Range stock in very good condition.

Ocate.—One of the most prolonged drouths still continue. Very little grain has been planted yet in this section, owing to the dry condition of the soil, where irrigating facilities are not provided. There seems to be a great deal of snow yet in the higher ranges of mountains.

Las Cruces.—The past week has been favorable to the growth of plants. The nights have been fairly warm. Cherry and apple trees are blooming; small grains and alfalfa have made rapid growth in the past week. Grapes are beginning to leaf out. Plenty of water in the ditches.

Rincon.—The past week has been favorable for the farmer. Warm days, with light winds, have prevailed. Wheat and alfalfa are looking well. Cattle are thin and the range needs rain.

Albuquerque.—Weather still dry, but warmer. Some grass started on the mesa. At present the prospect for fruit, except peaches, seems excellent. Apples are blooming nicely, as well as pears and cherries.

Las Vegas.—Planting progresses favorably, and all agricultural and stock circumstances remain favorable.

Gallinas Springs.—The past week has been very favorable to crops; comparatively little wind. Trees have come out in bloom and everything doing well.

Watrous.—Weather warm and sultry. Rain needed very much. Crops are being planted. Unless rain comes soon it will be a bad prospect for alfalfa. Water in river very scarce in many places.

Imported Chinese and Japanese silk goods, Chinese pongee silks, 18c to 48c per yard. Chinese colored silks, 25c to 40c per yard. Any one desiring these goods may address M. W. Bing, Albuquerque, who will forward samples.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO.

How to Cure Yourself While Using It.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco, to an inveterate user, becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. Baco-Curo is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure, purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want, while taking Baco-Curo, it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent interest. Baco-Curo is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first chew or smoke. Sold by all druggists, with our ironclad guarantee, at $1 per box, three boxes, (thirty days treatment), $2.50 or sent direct upon receipt of price. FARM AND ORCHARD.

Santa Feans Going Extensively Into Fruit Culture--Some Facts that will Surprise the Non-producing Croaker.

A. Bischoff has set out three acres to orchard this spring.

Farmer Wilcox in the Tesuque valley has finished his 1,000,000 gallon storage reservoir.

F. M. Jones is making valuable additions to his orchard of 1,100 bearing trees west of the city.

Judge Wielandy's four acre orchard and garden is receiving the attention of three workmen just now and a splendid lot of trees and shrubs are being put in.

Mr. Rivenburgh has the contract for setting out 700 choice fruit trees on Dr. Harcourt's farm in the western suburbs of the town. The holes are three feet deep and three feet square.

Mr. C. L. Bishop has gone to Espanola valley to build a new home and improve his lately purchased farm near Santa Cruz. A thrifty colony of Santa Feans is now located in that vicinity.

The peach and apricot crop, barring no frost later on, promises to be much above the popular estimate. All other fruits are in good shape for a large yield, particularly pears, apples and cherries.

Ex-Councilman J. W. Conway is making extensive improvements at his hill-side garden out beyond the brewery. He has just put in twenty varieties of roses and currants, raspberries, gooseberries and blackberries galore.

Ernest Mecke has purchased of the Brown-Mannan company about an acre of land adjoining his Manhattan street place on the west and will at once begin setting the same out in choice fruit. His trees arrived in good order from Canon City, Colo., this morning.

At the U. S. Indian school Col. Jones is putting ten acres into grain, garden and orchard. He is now engaged in putting out 400 splendid fruit trees which were ordered of Stark Bros. through Judge Wielandy, local agent for this reputable nursery firm.

Col. J. W. Brady has had a force of men at work lately extending the irrigation ditch over land out in the valley south of the government Indian school. This ditch will afford irrigation facilities for about 150 acres of land, about two-thirds of which the Water & Land improvement company is now plowing for alfalfa.

Gardner Joseph Elster and his good wife are making the spacious grounds and orchard about the Catron mansion "shine." In another thirty days this will be a bower of beauty. An important addition to the extensive lawn has just been made covering that region lately occupied by the Garland adobe ruin.

C. Leon Allison, of Denver, who owns 220 acres of the choicest land in the Santa Fe valley, has just contracted with M. J. Nagle to plow and seed fifteen acres of it. He has sent the seed to plant five acres each of alfalfa, flint white corn and the other three acres will be sown to Kaffir and Jerusalem corn. Experiments on a small scale will also be made with the new forage plant, lucerne.

Mr. Gilbert LaBar, who has been a health seeker here during the past winter, yesterday purchased from L. B. Putney, of Albuquerque, the D'Arcy ranch of 160 acres, situated in the upper James valley, not far from the Sulphur springs. The James river runs through it and there are forty acres under cultivation. Mr. LaBar is outfitting here to-day, buying a team, plows, provisions, etc., and leaves at once to take possession.

LAWLER COMING.

G. A. R. Veterans Will Honor Their National Commander in Santa Fe Next Month.

The following official circular was sent out in last night's mail:

HEADQUARTERS G. A. R. DEPT., N. M., Santa Fe, N. M., April 17, 1895.

Circular, No. 2.

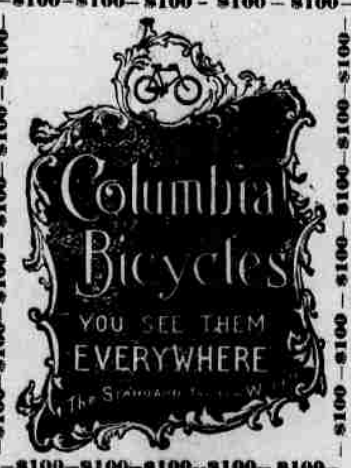

1. The U. S. T. & S. F. Railroad company has granted rates from all points in New Mexico to all who may attend the annual encampment of the G. A. R., department of New Mexico, (ordered to be held at Santa Fe on the 3d and 4th of May, next,) at one and one-third fare for the round trip, from the 1st to and including the 4th of May, 1895.

2. Post commanders and comrades will inform the press and all comrades and friends of the G. A. R. accordingly and also give the positive assurance that Commander in Chief Thomas G. Lawler and Adjutant General C. C. Jones will certainly honor the G. A. R. of New Mexico with their presence at such encampment. By command of

Geo. W. KNAUBER, Official: Department Commander.

HENRY M. DAVIS, A. G.

Gen. Lawler is now making a tour of the country, visiting the Grand Army posts, and is being received everywhere with distinguished honors. It is no small compliment that he should include New Mexico in his itinerary. The day for the encampment is rapidly approaching and it is time every preparation for the event was made. Citizens generally should take an interest in this event.

BONDS PRONOUNCED VOID

Exhaustive Opinion on Validity of Silver City Railroad Bonds--Same Reasoning Applies to Santa Fe Bonds.

At the request of Mayor Fleming and his associates in the city council, Mr. Frank J. Wright, attorney for Silver City, has prepared and published an exceptionally able and exhaustive opinion touching the validity of the $50,000 in bonds issued by the officers of Silver City to the Silver City, Deming & Pacific Railroad company on November 1, 1882, under the presumed authority of a special act of legislative assembly, approved Feb. 13, 1882. The opinion occupies over seven columns in the Silver City Enterprise and is addressed to the bonds. It stoutly maintains that the original issue on bonds was void because it was expressly prohibited by an act of congress approved June 8, 1878; that, quoting from an opinion of the United States supreme court exactly in point, "If the legislature was without power to authorize the issue of these bonds, and its statute attempting to confer such authority is void, the mere payment of interest, which was equally unauthorized, can not create of itself a power to levy taxes, resting on no other foundation than the fact that they have once been illegally levied for the purpose;" that the subsequent funding of the bonds wrought no change in the premises, because, under the law and decisions, the purchasers of the new bonds were bound to take notice of the conditions written on their face, and, being void ab initio, no act of the council, aided by a legislative funding process, or other contrivance or legerdemain known to the law (?) could substitute, change, metamorphose or convert them into valid obligations.

The conclusions of the opinion are as follows: First--That the town of Silver City has no power to issue its bonds, payable by taxation for any purpose, without congressional authority.

Second--That the legislature has no power to authorize the town of Silver City to fund a void obligation, or make valid what a higher law declares to be invalid.

Third--That the town of Silver City from any general power it may possess as a municipal corporation, or upon authority granted by the legislature, can not incur any legal debt or obligation, bonded or otherwise, other than such as shall be necessary to the administration of its internal affairs.

"Finally, basing my conclusions upon the law and reasoning as above cited and set forth, I have the honor to report that in my opinion, the $46,000 of outstanding bonds of the town of Silver City, Grant county, New Mexico, issued to refund a like amount of former bonds of said town issued to aid in the construction of a railroad between Silver City and Deming, were so issued without lawful authority, and that their payment can not be legally enforced against the town of Silver City."

This opinion is of special interest to the people of Santa Fe because the circumstances surrounding the railroad bond issue at Silver City are almost identical with those surrounding the railroad bond issues in Santa Fe county.
