VOL. 32.

SANTA FE, N. M., TUESDAY, JUNE 25, 1895.

NO 104

Give us a call without delay. It's time not only to be cool but to have everything cool about you, especially everything on the list of meats, vegetables, milk, butter and etc. There is nothing saves so much money as a refrigerator. The articles it keeps from spoiling in a single season will repay its cost four times over, and one of our refrigerators is good for ten years of service and will thus return the outlay involved in its purchase forty times over before it is worn out. As an investment it eclipses everything, and the price is only $8 and up.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS.

Conflict Over the Committee on Resolutions—Carlisle Men Apparently on Top—Beckner Chairman.

Louisville, Ky., June 25.—The Democratic delegates from eleven congressional districts met at 10 a. m. to choose their respective members of the different committees. Every place on each committee was sharply contested. Some delegates met at 11 a. m. to choose their respective members of the different committees. The silver men were very much excited and charged trickery in the selection of members of the committees in some districts. The hottest fight was in the 7th congressional district, where Senator Blackburn was defeated for member of the committee on resolutions by Prof. Arthur Yenger, a friend of Secretary Carlisle.

The following is the committee on resolutions: First district, August Coulter, silver; 2d district, W. T. Ellis, silver; 3d district, John S. Rhea, silver; 4th district, E. D. Walker, conservative; 5th district, J. M. Atherton, gold; 6th district, R. A. Elliston, gold; 7th district, Prof. Arthur Yenger, gold; 8th district, Jas. B. McCreary, gold; 9th district, John F. Hager, gold; 10th district, John P. Salyer, gold; 11th district, R. M. Jackson, conservative.

The anti-silver men claim that the conservatives will vote with them for a sound money platform, including the endorsement of the administration. Messrs. Coulter, Ellis and Rhea announced at once that there would be a minority report signed by them, if no others, and that they would be a fight to the finish on the floor of the convention.

All the leaders are hopeful this evening of such concessions on both sides as will prevent serious fighting. About the only prominent Kentucky Democrat not here is Secretary Carlisle and he is represented by his private secretary, appointment clerk and others from Washington.

Promptly at noon the Democratic state convention was called to order by Chairman Carroll, of the state committee, who spoke regarding the new issues, the result of the late election and the prospects of the coming campaign. The names of ex-Congressman K. J. Stone and Judge V. N. Beckner were presented for temporary chairman. The roll call had not proceeded far when Chairman Carroll ruled that instead of the names of the delegates to settle with their constituents, and that the vote would be counted as announced by the chairman of county delegations.

BECKNER CHOSEN CHAIRMAN.

The result of roll call was announced at 2 o'clock as follows: Beckner, 448; Stone, 378; necessary to a choice, 440. The election of Beckner was made unanimous. The result was received with cheers as a direct advantage for Hardin and indirectly an advantage for silver men.

Judge Beckner delivered an eloquent address and assured all that he represented no faction and would rule with impartiality. He pleaded for harmony. That part of his address relating to the financial question was not displeasing to the sound money men and not altogether satisfactory to the free coinage men.

William, Cronwell, J. K. Stone and J. K. Shrader were elected secretaries.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

Boulder of Pure Silver Weighing Half a Ton Found in Arizona.

Hackberry, Ariz., June 25.—From Peach Springs comes the story of the finding of a nugget, or boulder rather, of pure silver, weighing about half a ton and valued from $5,000 to $10,000. It was found by William Tucker and John Doyle, old prospectors. They kept the facts to themselves because of the chance that there was more silver where this lump came from and they desired to get the best location.

IMPORTANT LIBEL LAW.

Passage by the Illinois Legislature of an Act of Special Moment to Newspapers.

Springfield, Ill., June 25.—The Illinois legislature assembled in special session to-day in response to the call of Gov. Altgeld. The governor transmitted a message, but contrary to general expectation it was not caustic or of a sensational character.

LIBEL LAW SIGNED.

Gov. Altgeld to-day signed the libel bill. This law provides that in any action brought for the publication of libel in any newspaper of this state, the plaintiff shall recover only the actual amount of damage, if it shall appear at the trial of such action that such publication was true or that its falsity was due to a mistake or a misapprehension of facts, or that in the next two regular issues of the newspaper after the mistake or misapprehension was brought to the knowledge of the publishers, whether before or after the action had been brought, a correction or retraction was published in as conspicuous a manner and place in the paper as was the libel.

SALISBURY AT THE HELM.

Chamberlain and Balfour will Hold High Places in the New English Cabinet.

London, June 25.—After a conference to-day with the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, the Duke of Devonshire, the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and others, the Marquis of Salisbury started for Windsor, where it is expected he will submit to the queen the names of the new cabinet.

SALISBURY HAS FORMALLY ACCEPTED.

Windsor.—The Marquis of Salisbury has formally accepted the premiership made vacant by the resignation of Lord Rosebery. It is announced that the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, unionist leader of the house of commons, has been appointed secretary of state for the colonies, and the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury in succession to Lord Rosebery.

LITTLE EXCITEMENT IN THE COMMONS.

There was little excitement in the house of commons to-day when the chancellor of exchequer, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, announced that he had hoped to give the house definite information regarding the change of government, but was unable to do so at present. The house then immediately adjourned.

MINERAL OUTPUT.

Official Statistics Showing the Yield in the United States for the Year 1894.

Washington, June 25.—The annual government report of the mineral resources of the United States for the calendar year 1894 has been completed. The total product shows a great decline from the output of 1893. The low price of silver is responsible for its decreased production. The gold product for the year was the largest since 1878, increasing from 1,739,081 troy ounces for 1893, with a coining value of $35,350,000. Silver production declined over 10,000,000 ounces.

The consumption of petroleum exceeded the production, greatly decreasing the stocks at the wells and increasing the prices. The total product was valued at $524,955,151. The total value of non-metallic mineral products was $105,795,943. The total value of metallic products was $318,158,738; and unrefined mineral products estimated at $11,000,000. The official results of the investigation of the metallic products for the year are as follows, arranged by quantity and value:

Pig iron, 6,657,388 long tons, valuation, $65,007,247; silver, $5,201,122 troy ounces, $140,000; gold, 1,100,415 troy ounces, $39,500,000; copper, 380,244,218 pounds, $33,141,142; lead, 159,331 short tons, $9,942,254; zinc, 75,328 short tons, $5,288,026; quicksilver, 30,416 flasks, $394,000; aluminum, 550,000 pounds, $316,250; antimony, 200 short tons, $36,000; nickel, 9,616 pounds, $5,259; tin no statistics; platinum, 100 troy ounces, $600.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Movements of Department Chiefs and their Families—Beautiful Chilian 'Capitol Burned.

Washington, June 25.—Secretary and Mrs. Carlisle and Secretary and Miss Morton left Washington at 11 o'clock this morning on the Pennsylvania railway for Marion, Mass., where they will be the guests of the brothers and sisters of the Assistant Secretary Hamilton, of the treasury department. At Jersey City they take the light house tender, John Rogers, for Marion, which is across the bay from President Cleveland's summer house.

COSTLY CHILIAN CAPITOL BURNED.

U. S. Minister Strobel, at Santiago, has sent to the state department an account of the burning of the Chilean capitol building, the finest building in Chile. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000 in gold without considering the archives which cannot be replaced.

If in Search of a New Sensation.

INDUSTRIAL SKETCHES.

Coal, Lumber, Groceries, Livery and Beer Firms Represented To-day.

Dudrow & Davis.

DEALERS IN LUMBER AND COAL, AND GENERAL TRANSFER AGENTS.

The above named firm is a leader in three distinct lines of business. As wholesale and retail dealers in coal Messrs. Dudrow & Davis handle 500 cars of coal per annum. They have the only coal yards in Santa Fe, and are the largest dealers in the territory. Their specialty is Cerrillos hard and soft coal. They have the only lumber yards in Santa Fe, and are among the largest lumber dealers in the territory. A complete assortment of rough and dressed lumber, sash, doors, blinds, and mouldings is at all times carried in stock, supplies being bought direct from the mills of New Mexico, Arizona and California.

As transfer agents the firm is intimately associated with both the business men of the city and the traveling public. They run baggage wagons for the convenience of travelers, and heavy truck wagons for the transfer and delivery of freight. They make annual contracts with merchants for the transfer of goods from the railroad depots to their places of business; and in many instances the first knowledge a merchant has of the arrival of goods in the city is their delivery at his door by one of Dudrow & Davis' transfer trucks or wagons.

The nucleus of the business conducted by Dudrow & Davis was founded in 1880 by Chas. W. Dudrow, Mr. E. S. Davis purchased an interest in the business in 1893, and the present firm was formed in April of that year.

Mr. Davis came to New Mexico from Paris, Mo., and, although but three years resident here, the extent of the firm's business relations throughout the territory has made him widely as well as favorably known.

Mr. Dudrow is a native of Maryland, and has been a resident of the territory for twenty-five years. He was for many years an express agent for Barlow & Sanderson, and on the completion of the railroad to Santa Fe left the company to establish a general transfer business here. Mr. Dudrow has been since that time very closely identified with public affairs of the city, county, and territory, and has been twice elected to the board of county commissioners, of which he is now the chairman.

Of the firm of Dudrow & Davis it is permissible to add that it stands prominently at the head in its several lines of business, not only in Santa Fe, but in the territory as well.

Henry Krick.

WM. J. LEMP BREWING CO., ST. LOUIS DRAUGHT AND BOTTLED BEER.

Henry Krick established his wholesale beer depot in Santa Fe in 1892. He is New Mexico agent for the Wm. J. Lemp Brewing company's celebrated St. Louis Lager Beer, Extra Pale Lager Beer, Culmbacher Beer and Book Beer.

The Wm. J. Lemp Brewing company's breweries are among the largest in the world; and connoisseurs pronounce their product unsurpassed by any brewed, while the enormous and increasing demand, both in America and for export to every part of the commercial world, shows the verdict of consumers. It is in the nature of a testimonial to Mr. Krick's ability and faithful discharge of his duties as its agent that the company has recently gone to considerable expense in the erection and equipment of a new beer depot and bottling plant in Santa Fe near the A., T. & S. F. depot with a refrigerator capacity for two carloads of beer. Mr. Krick receives beer by the refrigerator carload direct from the brewery in St. Louis, and in addition to the goods of the brewery's own bottling, bottles hundreds of dozens weekly at his own works.

In addition to supplying a very large part of the local trade, the saloons, hotels and families, Mr. Krick ships to all the towns along our railroads. He gives special attention to orders shipped from the outside by mail or otherwise, and carries a large stock on hand ready for prompt filled and dispatched. Two wagons are required to deliver goods sold in the city, and a specialty is made of supplying families with ice cold bottled beer. Mr. Krick's aggregate stock of beer is twenty-five to thirty-five carloads of beer per annum.

Henry Krick is a German by birth, but has been in the United States since 1880, the most of which time he has been in one capacity or another with some of the great breweries. He was for some years at Lincoln, Nebraska. He came first to New Mexico 1887, after which he returned east, and was for some time employed in St. Louis, Mo. He came again to New Mexico in 1891, and, settling in Santa Fe, accepted the agency for the Wm. J. Lemp Brewing Co. in March 1892.

Mr. Krick is a straightforward every-day business man. He drives one of the two delivery wagons employed in his business; and by his industry, honesty, thrift and good nature, is a good example of the proverbial virtues of his German ancestry.

Champion Livery & Feed Stables.

J. W. BOWDEN, MANAGER.

This is one of the most modern and completely equipped livery stable in New Mexico, and is the newest stables in Santa Fe. It was established and outfitted only about ten months since, and occupies a splendid new brick barn, 50x150 feet, on Gaspar avenue, which was designed and erected especially for it. It is one of the best lighted, best arranged, and best fitted livery barns in the territory, and has all modern conveniences.

Everything about the Champion stable is new—new barn, new vehicles, new stock and new harness. Twelve to fifteen horses are kept for livery purposes, all fine single or double roadsters, some of them standard bred, and the best roadsters used for livery purposes in the territory. The rolling stock includes buggies, both single and double, surreys, and phaetons, and ladies' cars. Drummers or other parties are sent to any part of the country, and elegant turnouts with gentle horses are furnished for ladies' driving, competent and careful drivers accompanying when desired. The stock and outfit of the stable is in every way first class, fancy livery is made a specialty, and the Champion does very much of the best livery business of the city. The Champion livery and feed stable is the property of the firm of Letton & Bowden, and is under the personal management of Mr. J. W. Bowden.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

agement of Mr. J. W. Bowden, Mr. A. H. Letton, the other member of the firm, having the management of the firm's oldest stables at Raton.

Messrs. Letton and Bowden are both widely and favorably known. Mr. Bowden is a native of Bates county, Mo., and has been for thirteen years in business in New Mexico. Mr. Letton is also a native of Missouri, but has been more than twenty years in this territory, and is a widely known livery and cattle man. The firm stands deservedly high in business circles of the southwest; its individual members are interested in other enterprises throughout the territory, and are thoroughly identified with its prosperity, and are deservedly popular both as business men and as citizens.

Wagner & Hafner.

DEALERS IN FURNITURE, HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, GLASSWARE, ETC.

Messrs. Wagner & Hafner buy all kinds of goods for cash only and sell on easy payments. Theirs is emphatically the people's store of Santa Fe. The stock is so extensive and diverse that no adequate description can be given in the space accorded to this sketch, and the mention of leading lines must suffice. In new goods we note an extensive and well selected stock of crockery, queensware, glassware, furniture, stoves, ranges, hardware, tinware and household goods of every description. It is especially worthy of note that the firm has quite recently increased its general stock by an $8,000 stock of general hardware.

In the second-hand department the number and variety of articles bought, sold and carried in stock seems limited only by the needs of the people in their various avocations and in furnishing their homes.

There are two main salesrooms fronting on San Francisco street and running back 150 feet.

Messrs. Wagner & Hafner are buyers of furniture and household goods of every description direct from eastern factories, and, buying largely in carload lots, they are enabled to sell at prices as low as can be had in any city of the southwest. The system of exchanging new furniture for old offers a great saving to many families having old furniture too good to be thrown away but wishing to refurnish their homes. Their second-hand stock offers no less an opportunity to many who, from a wish to economize, find an opportunity for doing so in the purchase of second-hand furniture. Second-hand furniture is overhauled and renovated before being offered for sale, and, in many instances, almost as good as new.

The stock contains also an extensive assortment of picture mouldings, and a specialty is made of making picture frames to order. We may add also that a complete line of window and picture frame glass will soon be added to the stock.

Both members of the firm are not only well known locally, but throughout New Mexico, Mr. Chas. Wagner having come to the territory in 1864 and Mr. Louis Hafner in 1881. The high commercial standing of this firm for years and its fair methods of dealing in the past are a sufficient guarantee of the continued prosperity of the house.

Santa Fe Planing Mill

AND SASH AND DOOR FACTORY, PHILIP HESCH, PROPRIETOR.

This, one of Santa Fe's modern enterprises, was established in 1882, by the present owner, Mr. Philip Hesch. The plant is modern throughout and includes planers, tenon machines, door and sash machines, machines for making blinds, scroll saws, lathes, etc., etc. The machine is run by steam power, and the factory as a whole would be a credit to a much larger city than Santa Fe.

Mr. Hesch is a contractor and builder and employs his machinery to a great extent in manufacturing doors, sash, blinds and finishing work for his own contracts. There is no business enterprise in Santa Fe which has contributed more to the betterment of the modern improvements of the city than this one, and no single individual who has been more closely identified with them than Mr. Hesch. There has not been a single business house of any prominence erected in this city since the establishment of his factory that he has not in some way helped to build, and for many of them he has had contracts direct. Among these we may call attention to the Catron block.

Mr. Hesch was formerly a contractor and builder at Titusville, Pa., and came from that city to Santa Fe in 1881. That was the beginning of the period of modern improvements in this city, which, although checked in some measure by the panic of 1893, is destined to go on until business blocks will adorn our plaza and streets, and until modern residences shall have taken the place of antiquated adobe dwellings.

The Santa Fe planing mill and sash and door factory occupies a three story building 36x45 feet, and is the largest and best equipped mill in the territory. To those contemplating building we would say that Mr. Hesch is, by reason of his owning his own factory for making sash, doors, blinds and all interior furnishings, especially well prepared to make close contracts on buildings of any kind from a large business block to a mansion or cottage. He is a builder and contractor of experience and is perfectly reliable and responsible for all contracts he may enter into.

COMING WEATHER.

Next Month's Prospects as Based on the Record for the Past Twenty Years.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, Weather Bureau, Santa Fe, N. M., June 24, 1895.

The chief of the weather bureau directs the publication of the following data, compiled from the record of observations for the month of July, taken at this station for a period of twenty-one years. It is believed that the facts thus set forth will prove of interest to the public, as well as the special student, showing as they do the average and extreme conditions of the more important meteorological elements and the range within which such variations may be expected to keep during any corresponding month.

Temperature.—Mean or normal temperature 69 deg.; the warmest July was that of 1886, with an average of 71 deg.; the coldest July was that of 1875 with an average of 64 deg.; the highest temperature during any July was 96 deg., on July 30, 1878; the lowest temperature during any July was 40 deg., on July 5 also 6, 1876.

Precipitation (rain and melted snow).—Average for the month 2.74 inches; average number of days with .01 of an inch or more, 14; the greatest monthly precipitation was 6.91 inches in 1875; the least monthly precipitation was 0.84 inches in 1891; the greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any twenty-four consecutive hours was 1.49 inches on July 17, 1875.

Clouds and Weather.—Average number of cloudless days, 9; average number of partly cloudy days, 17; average number of cloudy days, 5.

Wind.—The prevailing winds have been from the east; the highest velocity of the wind during any July was 46 miles on July 18, 1888.

TUESDAY, JUNE 25.

SURELY, murder will out!

The Republican calamity howler gets little comfort these days out of the weekly trade reports.

The Las Vegas royally entertained their visitors yesterday. Santa Fe will do likewise on the Fourth.

The western Republican press is justly indignant over the cowardice displayed by party followers at Cleveland.

So Lord Salisbury and Mr. Balfour had a conference and the former agreed to form a new cabinet for England. Another nail in the coffin of goldbugism.

Secretary Lambert is touring through the northwest in a special car. It doesn't cost the government a cent, however, for the secretary of war "pays the freight" out of his own private purse.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND says that he is not seeking a fourth presidential nomination. With three nominations and two elections Mr. Cleveland has a longer if not more brilliant record than any other American president.

It is finally settled that Jay Gould's estate foots up $73,224,567. The sum of $6,000,000 in the form of inheritance tax was paid into the state treasury under protest. There seems to be one point at which a multi-millionaire may be put in a corner and made to pay taxes.

The Denver Times, heretofore an unwavering advocate of Republicanism, mentions that "President Tracey, national president of the Republican League, has stepped down to make place for President McAlpine, who is as much against the free coinage of silver as any man that could have been chosen."

The Wall Street News says there are twenty well-built towns in Kansas without a single inhabitant. Among the assets of the dead towns are a $30,000 opera house, a $20,000 school and large business buildings. The chances are that the Wall Street News is as careless as to its facts as it is in making a gold standard stump speech.

The sound money people at Washington, while pretending to believe that the silver "crisis" is about over are drumming up all the sound money speakers possible for campaign work in the western states. The question naturally arises who is paying all these expenses? Why, the bankers, of course, they of the gold and other trusts.

A STATISTICAL bulletin shows that in ten years there has been an increase of 1,257,544 American women engaged in the gainful occupations. At the same time it is said that a woman can now do more with one hand in the way of production in an hour than ten men could do in a day fifty years ago. So much for labor-saving machinery.

It doesn't make very much difference what the Kentucky Democratic state convention does about silver. If the Carlisle forces win the friends of free coinage throughout the country will redouble their efforts. If the Blackburn followers carry the day they will do likewise and go solidly forward to gain fresh victories in other states. No power can now stay the content for free coinage, and there is no such word as fail in the vocabulary of the supporters of the movement.

An "infant industry" protection organ undertakes to squeeze all of the pleasure and patriotism out of Fourth of July celebration anticipations by "calculating" that the reduction of the duty on fire works "will lose the government $500,000 this year." The editor of that paper must mistake his readers for a lot of chumps, otherwise he would hardly have the hardihood to perpetrate such unspeakable nonsense upon them. Surely he is not so blind as not to see that the $500,000 he "calculates" and all other taxes not exacted since the repeal of the McKinley act are not lost, but simply remain in the pockets of the people.

ARTESIAN WATER.
After a great deal of hard fighting on both sides, in the press and among its citizens, El Paso has at last decided to undertake the development of artesian water. Prof. Hay, the eminent Texas geologist, has studied the subject with much care and from what he says El Paso people are more than likely to meet with success in their venture. Indeed Prof. Hay's investigations cover not only western Texas, but New Mexico as well, and the splendid system of artesian wells at Roswell may be considered as fully proving up the correctness of his theory.

The discovery of artesian water at El Paso would indirectly prove of much benefit to New Mexico and would stimulate similar undertakings along the Rio Grande and Mimbres valleys.
Prof. Hay shows quite conclusively that El Paso occupies a most favorable location for securing artesian water, and adds that these favorable indications exist along the Rio Grande water shed as far north as Santa Fe.

PRESS COMMENTS.

They Have All Straddled.
It becomes more apparent each day that the Republican party intends to fight it out on the old lines of a high protective tariff and a financial straddle, and it now becomes necessary for the Republican newspapers of New Mexico to place themselves on record. If they can not support the Republican party and free silver at one and the same time, which will they choose.—Socorro Advertiser.

Our Minister to Mexico.

It is gradually leaking out that Minister Ransom's health will not permit him to live in the City of Mexico. His physician says the high altitude there will be fatal to him. A dispatch says that Mr. Ransom is advanced in years and has not been in good health for some time. His visit to the City of Mexico was injurious to his health and the rarefied atmosphere at that capital affected it so seriously that his physician would not allow him to remain there. He obtained leave of absence and came back to recuperate. There is considerable doubt as to his return to Mexico and it is almost certain that he will be compelled to relinquish the mission unless his health undergoes material improvement, as it is not likely he can stand the climate of the City of Mexico in his present enfeebled state.

If Mr. Ransom resigns, as is probable, it will be interesting to see the scramble to succeed him among faithful Democrats. The Mexican mission pays a salary of $17,500 a year, which converted into Mexican money makes a little fortune of over $30,000. They say that already there are several Democratic statesmen out of a job who have been making inquiries in regard to the place. It is rather a delicate performance on their part, but they do not want to lose a good office of this kind by a failure to look after it in time.—El Paso Times.

If in Search of a New Sensation
Try the effect of a mud bath at Las Vegas hot springs, N. M. Other forms of baths may be had there, all especially beneficial in rheumatic troubles and diseases of the blood. The cool, dry, tonic air of this resort is just the thing for tired nerves, and there is nothing so restful as New Mexico sunshine, especially when supplemented by such fine service as is given at the Hotel Montezuma, reopened June 20. This famous inn can not be excelled anywhere in the southwest.

Round-trip excursion tickets on sale to Las Vegas hot springs from principal points. Reached only over the Santa Fe route. For illustrated pamphlet and a copy of "Land of Sunshine," address H. S. Lutz, Agent, Santa Fe, N. M.

Denver, Colo., July 5 to 12, 1895.
For the above occasion the Santa Fe route will place on sale tickets to Denver and return at a rate of $19.80. Dates of sale July 5 to 8, but tickets will be sold to members of the council on July 4. These tickets must be used from Colorado common points returning July 12, 13, or 14. Passengers wishing to remain in Colorado longer can on or before July 16, deposit their tickets with joint agents at Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou or Pueblo, and withdraw such transportation at pleasure for return passage any time prior to September 2, 1895. July 6 to 20 the Santa Fe route will also place on sale round trip tickets from Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou and Pueblo, to all points in Colorado, and to Santa Fe at one fare for the round trip, final limit for September 1, 1895. Stopovers allowed. Low rates to Salt Lake. For particulars call on agents of the Santa Fe route.

OUR SPECIAL EDITION.
The New Mexican will issue a special trade edition on June 27. The design is to make an edition worthy of this paper and of the occasion which it will announce. On the first page will be an invitation from the citizens of this city, through their committees, to the people of Colorado, Arizona and our fellow citizens of New Mexico to partake of our hospitality on the 4th of July, and to join in our festivities and in the celebration of the natal day of the nation. Mr. C. A. Rohrbacher, late of the Phoenix Herald, and an experienced writer, will have full charge of collecting data and the business sketches for the edition. We commend him to the favor of all our people and to business men especially.

The PECOS VALLEY of NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.
The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.
Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation.
The cultivation of canebrake—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.
The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.
Lands with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant, and at times rapid, increase in value.
The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Feltz section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

is an effective persuader, and there are many persons so unmindful of the symptoms of an oncoming disease that it would almost take that deadly argument to induce them to adopt precautionary measures. The best of these is a recourse to that botanic restorer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It vanquishes malaria, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, falling digestion, biliousness and irregularity of the bowels, and completely fortifies the system against their further inroads. Its ingredients are drawn from nature's storehouse, consequently it is free from the objections attaching to many absolutely or semi-mineral remedies. For the delicate, infirm, convalescent and elderly it is peculiarly beneficial. It well merits continuous and systematic use. Take it at bed time to induce sleep, and between meals to stimulate appetite and digestion. The medical fraternity concur in endorsing it.

PAIN.
Thou drear companion of the slow night hours, Thou sharper of the soul, long, long had I waged weary combat with thee, though my cry
Of anguish only cheered thy mocking powers, As through the years we strove, no respite ours,
Till, in one day each breathed victorious sigh.
The master, thou, of my mortality, But master who beneath my spirit cowers, His slave forever. Now fast friends are we, My vanquished victor, pain, and much I owe To thy stern fellowship. Through thee I see With quickened sense all things both high and low.
For knowing all that I can never be, Tutors by thee, all wider life I know.

A BOAT RACE STORY.

Jack Davenant was the stroke of the Cambridge university eight. He was a man greatly to be envied. Wealthy—his father was a large mine owner in the north—popular, good looking and thought to be one of the best strokes turned out from either university for some time. Last, but not least, he was engaged to be married at Easter to Ruth Meynell, as bonny a lass as need be, with whom he had been in love for some years.

It was the afternoon before the great event when the following telegram reached him:

Meet me, King's Cross, 5.30. DAVENANT.
Jack was delighted, for it had been a great disappointment to him when his father had told him that business of importance would prevent his witnessing the race. When the train glided slowly into the station, you may be sure that a cordial greeting was exchanged between father and son. But Jack was startled to see how greatly altered his father's appearance was from what it had been three months before.

"Well, how do you think I'm looking, dad?" he exclaimed presently, when they were seated in a private sitting room in the Great Northern hotel. "We are all of us in good form, I believe, and shall make the Oxford lot do all they know, I'm certain. There's only one thing I can't make out. Have you noticed how strongly the betting goes on Oxford? It was '4 to 1' on this evening's paper. If it were not absurd, I should think that there was some plot on to damage our boat or something, only that's impossible. But anyhow I can't help feeling anxious. Those 'bookies' are generally right in their odds on this race, and there is nothing in our respective form and times to warrant the long odds. Do you know, I feel that I must win this race. I'd willingly give five years of my life to be certain of it!"

Here Jack saw his father turn ghastly pale. He darted out of the room and was back again in a minute with some brandy, which he made his father swallow, and waited with intense eagerness to hear what was the matter, anxiously requesting to be allowed to send for a doctor at once.

"No," said his father, "that is no good. I have already consulted one about these heart seizures, which are common enough just now. My doctor says that any intense excitement might carry me off like the crack of a gun. Those were his words. But that doesn't matter, Jack," he added. "Brace yourself for a great shock, one which will try even your strong nerves. Jack, my poor boy, your words went through me like a knife just now. Mine is a dreadful errand up here to see you today. Jack, I have come to tell you that we are utterly ruined. Fool—will you that I am, I have, urged with the desire to leave you vast wealth, speculated largely and lost."

At first Jack thought that his father had taken leave of his senses. The shock was tremendous, but varsity strokes are the material of which the leaders of forlorn hopes are made. His strict training and strong nerves soon came to his aid, and he tried to cheer up his father by the usual commonplace of hoping that it wasn't so bad as his father dreaded it to be. And then the thought of the great event in which he was to take such a prominent part on the morrow rushed across his mind, and he couldn't help saying:

"But if you love me, as you say you do, how could you bring me such ghastly news at such a time as this, when the fact of my knowing it one day sooner or later could make no earthly difference to our circumstances? It was wickedly cruel not to keep the news till after the race."

"Stop, Jack," his father replied. "You mustn't blame me unjustly. You have sufficient reason to blame, yes, hate, me without that. Listen! I told you I loved you, and I do. It was for you that I have acted as I have done. As I just said, I am a doomed man. At the outside, I am only given one year to live. And time being so short, and my affairs so shaky, what was I to do? Draw closer to me, closer, Jack! A whisper heard would be fatal."

Jack bent down his head, and his face became as white as his father's. And this is what he heard every halpenny I possess, and more—£50,000—on Oxford for tomorrow's race."

For a moment Jack looked at his father. He was fairly staggered. Then, without a word, he took up his hat and left the hotel, haunted by his father's pale, entreating face, and made his way to the training quarters.

The day of the race broke bright and fair, and London turned out her thousands of holiday makers, as only London can. The race was finely contested throughout, and it was only in the last quarter of a mile that the light blue flag forged slowly ahead, and after the most exciting struggle ever witnessed—if we except the memorable dead heat—Cambridge won.

Ruth Meynell, who was staying with some friends in town to witness the race, had no doubt been one of the most interested and excited of the spectators. At the point where she had seen the crews pass, Oxford happened to be leading. So her delight was proportionately great when the news of the light blue victory reached her.

Surely a girl was never so happily situated! Loving and beloved, and her sweetheart—who had promised to spend the evening with her friends—the hero (for the moment) of the whole civilized world.

We left Jack on his way to the hotel where the Cantabs were staying. It is impossible to describe his feelings, the shock had been so great. He had loved and revered his father so much, and always thought of him as the soul of honour.

And now there was only one course open for him, either to do or die, though to help to win the race was to help his own utter ruin. And then Ruth? What of her? Oh, he mustn't even think of that. The race and winning—it must be his only aim and object. Small wonder, then, that it was remarked at the start that Davenant looked "off color."

We have seen, however, that he had literally pulled the race out of the fire. Strong man though he was, the severe mental and physical strain told on him, and he had to be lifted out of the boat at the finish. But he was strong as iron and quickly recovered. How he wished he might not! For what had he to live for now? The shouts and cheers seemed bitter mockery. He recalled his father's whisper and saw again the imploring look. Jack knew that he was a beggar.

Making his recent indisposition an excuse for not dining with the crews that night, and refusing the many kind offers of companionship, he drove to the Great Northern hotel, where the fame of the victory had preceded him, and made inquiries as to his father's movements. His father had ordered dinner at 7 and was going northward with the mail that night. Jack decided to wait for him, and having had light refreshment sat down to smoke and reflect on the events of the last two days.

Presently the waiter brought him an evening paper, and on running his eye over the news he saw a paragraph headed, "Death From Excitement at the Boat Race."—News just to hand that at the conclusion of the race, the finish of which was extremely exciting, an elderly gentleman in full sight of the finish was seen to stagger and fall. Medical attendance was speedily obtained, but life was pronounced to be extinct. The remains were removed to the mortuary awaiting the inquest. From letters and papers on the deceased it is feared that he was G. Davenant, Esq., father of that brilliant oarsman who today stroked the Light Blues in such a gallant manner. Our readers will join with us in expressing the hope that this may prove to be a mistake.

Jack never knew how he got through the next few days. He did all that was necessary in a perfectly mechanical manner. He had his father's remains buried in the family vault. Also he wrote to Ruth, telling her that "the could never marry her, though it almost broke his heart to say so." And then, as might be expected, the overtaxed brain and body gave way, and Jack Davenant lay in his father's stately mansion sick unto death at the very time that Ruth Meynell—not knowing of his serious illness and scolding to wear her heart on her sleeve—had arranged to tour with friends abroad.

And so these two young lives, which but a few days before seemed so full of life and hope, were blighted as it seemed at their very outset.

In due time Jack pulled through. And then, for the first time for many a sad day, the light of hope shone upon him, and he understood what before had been inexplicable—namely, that instead of being the paper he feared he was, he was really immensely rich.

His father had certainly lost money in the troubled time of strikes, but not sufficient to impair his princely fortune. Business worry, telling upon an enfeebled frame, coupled perhaps with natural excitement about the race in which his son was to take such a leading part, had brought about that dreadful hallucination from which he had suffered, for, in fact, he had not bet one farthing on the event.

The most learned scientists cannot undertake to explain the subtle working of the mind diseased. But it was suggested that since those interested in the result of the "varsity boat race" are often guided in their hopes by the state of the betting it might be inferred that Jack's father had been too intently watching the odds.—London Tit-Bits.

The Riddle of the Old.

A medieval condottier in the service of the Moslem, when he was fighting to fill his own coffers with perfect impartiality against Moor or Christian, banished as a traitor by his Castilian sovereign, and constantly leading the forces of the infidel against Aragon, against Catalonia, and even against Castile, he has become the national hero of Spain.

Warring against the Moslem of Valencia, whom he pitilessly despoiled with the aid of the Moslem of Saragossa, whose cause he cynically betrayed, while he yet owned a nominal allegiance to Alfonso of Castile, whose territories he was pitilessly ravaging, retaining conquered Valencia for his personal and private advantage, in despite of Moslem and Christian kings, he has become the type of Christian loyalty and Christian chivalry in Europe. Avaricious, faithless, cruel and bold, a true soldier of fortune, the Old still maintains a reputation which is one of the enigmas of history.—"History of Spain," U. R. Burke.

Taxing Titles.

The republic of France does not propose to allow people to hang on to old titles without paying for the privilege. It proposes to tax all such titles, and the schedule as made up is as follows: Prince, 1,000 francs; duke, 800 francs; marquis, 700 francs; viscount, 600 francs; baron, 400 francs; double prefix, 200 francs; single prefix, 100 francs. It would be a still greater improvement if France should abolish all titles. They are out of place under a republican form of government.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

John, you are not listening to a word I am saying! Why, my dear Angelina, I am all ears! I know you are; and that makes it all the more provoking.

A longed-for new occupation for ladies is that they should drive cabs. It is an occupation, we fancy, which no lady would willingly take to who was still eligible for a bus.

Domestic Troubles.—What is it, nurse? If you please, ma'ms, the children will make a mess of the floor with tapioca pudding!

TAKE STEPS

In time, if you are a sufferer from that scourge of humanity known as consumption, and you can be cured. There is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its early stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 95 per cent. are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cod-liver oil and its filthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 150 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write to those who have been cured and profit by their experience.

GRANT CASES DISMISSED.

Peralta-Reavis Grant Pronounced Purely Fictitious by the U. S. Land Court.

Reavis Arrested by the United States Marshal—Juan Gid Grant Declared Void.

In the United States court of private land claims, at 10 o'clock this morning, the petitions of the Peralta-Reavis and the Dr. Heath or Juan Gid grant claimants were both dismissed. The conclusions of the court in both cases were delivered verbally and it is understood that written opinions will be filed later.

PURELY FICTITIOUS.

In dismissing the Peralta-Reavis claim, Chief Justice Reed said that the evidence adduced conclusively proved that the so-called grant was purely fictitious, being clearly founded on fraud, forgery and perjury, and that it was unnecessary to go into the question as to the ancestry of Mrs. Peralta-Reavis. So far as she was concerned the chief justice said that the court was persuaded from her appearance and other reasons that she was of Spanish origin, but whether or not she was a descendant of Miguel Peralta was a question that could not be passed upon nor did it concern the court as to its present judgment.

The dismissal also includes the claim of the Peralta heirs in Arizona, represented by Judge McKinney, of San Diego.

BILL OF EXCEPTIONS THREATENED.

Immediately after Chief Justice Reed concluded, Mr. Reavis arose and asked leave to file a bill of exceptions as soon as the same could be prepared. He was informed that, if prepared and presented, such a bill would be signed.

JUAN GID GRANT DISMISSED.

Thereupon Justice Stone, in behalf of the court, briefly dismissed the petition of J. B. Cessna, J. B. Keadle, et al., for the confirmation of the Dr. John G. Heath or Juan Gid grant. He said that the conclusion of the court in this case was based upon the evident lack of authority in the power originally attempting to make the grant, abandonment of the grant on the part of the original grantee, and other reasons.

MANY PEOPLE CONCERNED.

This decision deeply concerns about 7,000 people in Dona Ana county, who are living on the 130,000 acres of land involved. Messrs. J. B. Cessna and T. B. Catron made the fight for confirmation of the grant, and were strongly resisted by Messrs. E. A. Fluke for El Bracito grant claimants and Mrs. Cessna, Frank Springer for himself and others interested in El Bracito grant, James W. Vroom for the Southern Pacific railroad company, and S. B. Newcomb for the Dona Ana Bend colony grant, all being interests conflicting with the Heath or Juan Gid grant.

REVENATIONAL DEMONSTRATION.

Soon after the rendering of the adverse decision in the Peralta-Reavis case, the tall form of James Addison Peralta-Reavis quietly moved out of the court room and down on the shady side of the street to the plaza. As he approached the monument, he was placed under arrest by Deputy U. S. Marshal Page B. Otero, who has had a warrant for the apprehension of Reavis and has shadowed him constantly ever since he arrived in Santa Fe. Reavis has been under the surveillance of United States officers ever since he filed his fabricated grant for confirmation in the court of private land claims.

WHAT REAVIS IS CHARGED WITH.

The charge against Reavis is that, on the 18th of February, 1893, in the city of Santa Fe and territory of New Mexico, he filed in the United States court of private land claims a claim against the United States, said claim being filed for the purpose of falsely, fictitiously and fraudulently obtaining from the government of the United States, through judgment of said court of private land claims, a large sum of money, to-wit: $100,000. This claim was for lands on the fabricated Peralta-Reavis grant disposed of by the United States before the filing of the petition for confirmation.

PLACED UNDER BONDS.

Reavis was at once taken before United States Commissioner W. H. Pope, who fixed Friday morning, at 10 o'clock, as the time for his preliminary hearing. Meanwhile he was placed under $10,000 bonds and turned over to the custody of the United States marshal.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

the firm is now Arnold & Haines. Mr. Stinson has removed his family to Corralito and will engage in the sheep business. Mr. Haines has brought his family here and gone to housekeeping. He comes highly recommended as a live and progressive business man.

The thirty-sixth annual commencement at St. Michael's college will take place on Wednesday, June 26, at 3 p. m. Friends of the students and of the college are cordially invited to attend. The band and orchestra will discourse various selections this evening at 7 o'clock on the college grounds for the benefit of those who are unable to attend the exercises of tomorrow afternoon.

The marriage of Miss Mildred Helm and Mr. Joseph Kilbourne will take place this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, the Thomas residence. Rev. F. T. Bennett will officiate. The felicitous event will be celebrated by a supper at which only the more intimate friends of the family will be present. At 10:30 to-night the bride and groom depart for Mr. Kilbourne's home in Walla Walla, Wash.

The Madison, Iowa, Evening Democrat of the 21st contains a letter on New Mexico and Santa Fe in which appears this paragraph relating to the observance of Corpus Christi here: "It is a magnificent pageant truly and one which we will not soon forget. It carries me back to the day of the feast of 'Santa Croce,' which I so much enjoyed at the cathedral at Milan. I am filled with pleasure to know that so grand and imposing a service may find a footing in this land of ours as well as in continental Europe."

Hackmen and others who pay license and taxes and have reasonable expectations of the public service continue to complain about the neglected condition of the county bridges near the city. Poverty is the excuse of the county board for not heeding these complaints, but the city marshal says he will furnish the men and a team to do the repairing if the county board will supply the lumber and nails. Let's have it attended to.

NEW MEXICO NEWS.

Ripe peaches and apricots are now plenty at Edgy.

The new school building at Hagerman will be dedicated Sunday.

F. H. Pletz has been appointed county surveyor for Dona Ana county and will remove to Las Cruces about July 1.

Deputy United States Marshal Taylor killed a large black bear in the San Andres mountains, east of Engle, one day last week.

New Mexico teachers should make it a point to attend the national educational convention which assemblies at Denver on July 5.

Gen. Harry Crawford, the only son of "Capt. Jack" and Miss Maud Richards of Colorado, were united in marriage in the Methodist church on Sunday evening at San Marcial.

Albuquerque Citizen: Saturday last about 500 men were paid off at the Atlantic & Pacific shops in this city. The pay roll amounted to considerably more than at any other time since the shops were started.

Jicrilla fever is the last contagion to strike Roswell. It is not dangerous, however, and a trip to that flourishing mining camp convinces the patient that there is gold to be had for the digging, but it requires digging.—Roswell Record.

Eddy Argus: H. W. Hamilton brought in last week from the San Luis valley, Colo., 125 head of fine Hereford cattle, five of which are registered bulls. The cattle were taken to the Tanall farm, where they will be used for breeding purposes.

The Eddy Current: District Clerk Curry, who was in town last Friday, states that he will, if Judge Hamilton permits, allow the records of the district court for this county to remain in this county, and appoint a deputy to look after and care for them. This will be a convenience to litigants of more than ordinary import.

Gov. E. S. Stover, who is summing at Stonewall mining camp, Magdalena mountains, writes the Albuquerque Citizen that mining matters are looking brighter there. Three concentrators are going up near Kelly. The Graphic company is erecting one, Col. Eaton another, and some eastern parties a third. The Stonewall camp can supply any amount of ore for them.

The Lordsburg Liberal is responsible for this: There was a man in town this week giving an exhibition, who claims not to be affected by the poison of snakes. Certain it is that he let an ugly looking rattlesnake, with well developed fangs, chew on his flesh Monday night and Tuesday morning. When he took the train east he appeared to be in his usual good health.

In a saloon row, which occurred about 8 o'clock last night, Sheriff Charles Eley was knocked down by a strong right hand blow delivered by Charles Yondorf. The blow brought blood, though it inflicted no serious injury, and the sheriff was not so badly hurt as to be unable to go north on official business an hour later.—Albuquerque Democrat.

Cerrillos Rustler: Mrs. George Pugh, of Madrid, passed away at her home Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after an illness of about three weeks, but which at no time until the very last had been considered serious. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, and in the absence of the regular pastor, were conducted by Mr. Post, also of Madrid. Mrs. Pugh leaves a husband and five children to mourn her death.

The White Oaks Eagle: The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Old Abe company was held at the office of the company on Monday, the 17th instant, at which Wm. Watson, H. B. Ferguson and J. V. Hewitt were unanimously re-elected directors. After this election the new board organized by the election of John V. Hewitt, president; Wm. Watson, vice-president; Frank J. Sager, secretary and treasurer, and M. W. Hoyle, superintendent.

Eddy Argus: At a meeting of the directors of the Jaffa-Prager company, of Roswell, a total reorganization was effected, with the following officers: W. S. Prager, president; H. N. Jaffa, vice-president; Nathan Jaffa, secretary and treasurer. The majority of the stock is now held by the Roswell members of the firm, who will continue the management of the affairs of the company.

Albuquerque Citizen: From Mr. Jose Hunt, the gentlemanly and accommodating depot master, the Citizen learns that Christian Pels ended his life with a revolver at Cripple Creek, Colo. He was the son of Mr. Pels, for years manager of the Maxwell Hotel and company. The young man had a short but gay career at Colorado's big gold camp.

An Unusual Method of Attempting Suicide—Unfortunate Woman Still Alive.

Mrs. Silbeger, who lives with her husband and one year and a half old daughter, nearly opposite the home of Mrs. Aaron Gold, on lower San Francisco street, adopted an unusual method of committing suicide. It seems that, becoming weary of life, she cut the tops off from five or six boxes of matches, on Saturday, soaked the same in water for several hours, and then drank the strange and poisonous mixture with suicidal intent. Some time after the unfortunate woman became violently sick and it was supposed that she would die on Sunday, but, as she showed some signs of improvement, Dr. Harroun had her moved yesterday to St. Vincent hospital, where she now lies in a critical condition. The friends of the woman are unable to explain her strange conduct and think she must be mentally deranged.

Las Vegas' Gala Day.

Yesterday was a gala day such as Las Vegas has seldom witnessed. There were at least 1,200 visitors in town and the dedication of the Masonic temple, the concert at Tamme's opera house, the Masonic reunion and the bell and banquet at the Montezuma hotel last night were attended by large crowds. The street parade was an attractive feature of the day's events. After the procession and a concert at the opera house addressed were delivered by Mayor E. C. Olney, Gov. Thornton, Dr. G. T. Gould and Rev. J. D. Bush.

The Masonic temple is a beautiful structure of three stories with basement and tower, 75x90 feet, built of Las Vegas brown sand stone. Its cost was $35,000. The first floor contains three handsome stores. The second floor will be occupied by the Montezuma club, while the third floor is devoted to the use of the Masonic fraternity.

Did You Ever Think

That you can not be well unless you have pure, rich blood? If you are weak, tired, languid and all run down, it is because your blood is impoverished and lacks vitality. These troubles may be overcome by H. B. Cartwright's Sarsaparilla. H. B. Cartwright's Sarsaparilla makes pure, rich blood. It is, in truth the great blood purifier.

Street Sprinkler.

Dr. Andrews, chairman of the city council committee on streets and bridges, is in receipt of a letter of explanation from the F. C. Austin Manufacturing company, of Chicago, in reply to his telegram countermanding the order for a street sprinkler if not already filled. The firm admits that the complaint about the delay in shipping the sprinkler is perfectly just, but explains that it was due to the over-crowded condition of the factory. They add that the sprinkler is now in the paint shop and could be shipped on Monday, if the city authorities should conclude to wire them to do so. Whether the committee will decide to withdraw the countermand or place an order elsewhere will be decided to-day.

S. SPITZ, The Jeweller

SANTA FE, N. M.

Jewels are the brightest things that come to hand. Come to us for jewelry of every description. There is much to admire in our display of sparkling gems and artistic novelties, for the simple reason that our assortment is remarkable for nothing so much as it is for its comprehensiveness. It is only necessary to look at what we have to see that this is the case. It is missing much to miss seeing our stock. Your eyes must describe it to you, as we can not attempt the task. Seeing is knowing, and in this case, knowing is almost equivalent to buying, our prices are so reasonable.
