THE GOLD SHIPMENTS.

The Bond Contract Declared a Master Stroke of Policy by One Who Ought to Know.

Silver's Rank as an Export Article—Figures on Finance of Interest to All Readers.

Washington, July 26.—"Silver ranks third in the value of our exports," remarked Worthington C. Ford, chief of the bureau of statistics, to the Herald correspondent, "and the value of the exports of silver continues on a steady rise."

"For the month of June," he continued, "we exported silver coin and bullion to the value of $4,087,136, nearly $1,000,000 increase over the exports of June a year ago."

"And here is another significant thing. During the past four months silver has risen 7 cents, being worth in the market to-day 67 cents. England is our chief buyer of the white metal. If the present demand continues, I would not be surprised if silver should take an even higher place in the value of our exports."

"The next quarterly report of imports and exports will give a clearer idea and a better showing of the operations of the new tariff. The balance of trade has been in our favor for some time and for the fiscal year just closed the value of our exports exceeds the value of imports by more than $100,000,000. This is an unmistakable sign of returning prosperity, and I think it will in a large measure put a stop to any more raids on the gold reserve."

"My reports show that it was a master stroke of policy when Secretary Carlisle made and signed the contract with the bond syndicate. I have some figures here that speak in thunder tones. For years it has been the rule to make large shipments of gold every spring from this country, and if that rule had been followed last spring another bond issue would certainly have followed, for the gold reserve would have been heavily drained, if not exhausted."

"Here are the figures, giving the exports of gold to the United Kingdom, France and Germany for the spring and two months of the summer of 1894:

To United Kingdom.	To France.	To Germany.
March.....	$ 1,250,000	$ 1,250,000
April.....	3,844,400	3,740,000
May.....	5,068,500	3,225,000
June.....	1,750,000	5,335,000
July.....	5,000,000	5,500,000

Totals.....$14,897,500 $30,340,000 $32,400,000

"The amount of gold exported for the five months makes a grand total of $67,837,500."

"The contract with the bond syndicate was signed on the 8th day of February. For four months of this year (after the contract had been signed), March, April, May and June, only $75,000 of gold had been exported, and it went to the United Kingdom. And yet some people want to say the treasury gained nothing by the bond contract, even while admitting that it restored confidence in financial circles. There is no question but that the country is in a better condition to-day than it has been for years. Confidence has been restored, the manufacturers have adjusted themselves to the tariff changes, and the result is business has taken an upward tendency with profit to the employer and employee."

Victims of a Mine Explosion.
Boehem, Westphalia, July 26.—An explosion occurred yesterday in the Prince von Bursen mine. The bodies of thirty-two victims have already been discovered. The searching parties are experiencing much difficulty in exploring the mine. In addition to the killed, nine were severely burned.

Split in Missouri.
St. Louis, July 26.—The Democratic city central committee has split on the question of primaries for the selection of delegates to the state silver convention, at Fertile Springs, August 28. Ten of the committeemen refuse to participate in the primaries, on the ground that the convention is not called as a Democratic convention, but for the avowed purpose of promoting the unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1.

STARTLING REVELATIONS.
Mrs. Hayward Examined by Prosecuting Attorney in Stillwell Murder Case.

Hannibal, Mo., July 26.—When Dick Stillwell and wife, accompanied by Mrs. Susie Hayward, arrived from Chicago yesterday, it was generally understood that Mrs. Hayward would testify before the grand jury in the Stillwell murder case. A subpoena was to-day issued for Mrs. Hayward. She was examined by Prosecuting Attorney H. Clay Heather for over two hours and it is thought that she made some startling revelations.

New Jersey Desperado Killed.
Hoboken, N. J., July 26.—After a battle of three-quarters of an hour, during which he stood off three officers, trying to arrest him last night for beating his wife, John Spellish, of Union Hill, was killed in his own house. Spellish was one of the most desperate men in New Jersey.

AT THE END OF HIS ROPE.

Termination of a Sensational Criminal Career in California on the Gallows.

San Francisco, July 26.—William Fredricks, who murdered Cashier William E. Horrick in an attempt to rob the San Francisco Savings Union bank, in March, 1894, was hanged at San Quentin to-day. Fredricks was the associate of Evans and Sontag, the noted train robbers, and took part in some of the most sensational crimes ever committed in California.

Mighty Rotten Defense.
Union, Mo., July 26.—Arthur Duestrow, the millionaire, who two years ago murdered in cold blood his wife and child, was brought to trial here to-day on a charge of venue from St. Louis. The defense will be alcoholic mania.

Taylor Brothers' Trial.
Carrollton, Mo., July 26.—The trial of the Taylor brothers began to-day. So far little testimony has been given and it is the same as at the former trial.

THE MARKETS.

New York, July 26.—Money on call nominally easy at 1 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 3 @ 4. Silver, 66 1/4; lead, $2.30.

Chicago.—Cattle, market steady; Texas steers, $2.60 @ $4.20. Sheep, strong. Kansas City.—Cattle, best, steady to weak; others, 10c lower; Texas steers, $2.00 @ $4.10; Texas cows, $2.00 @ $2.70; beef steers, $3.25 @ $4.50; native cows, $2.00 @ $3.50; stockers and feeders, $2.85 @ $4.40; bulls, $1.50 @ $2.75. Sheep, steady.

Chicago.—Wheat, July, 68 1/2; Aug., 68 1/2; Corn, July, 43 1/2; Sept., 43 1/2. Oats, July, 24; Sept., 22 1/2.

CLOSE TO THE PEOPLE.

How Missouri's Democratic Editors Stand on the Free Coinage Question.

Sedalia, Mo., July 26.—The Missouri editors have unanimously adopted a set of resolutions setting forth their views upon the free coinage question.

The preamble gives a history of the free coinage question, and, speaking of the opposition to the ratio of 16 to 1, says that while some people persistently oppose that ratio, they suggest no other as better.

France is given as an illustration to show that the ratio can be maintained. The question is asked: "Why don't silver drive gold out of France?"

The address states further that being in touch with the mass of people in Missouri, the editors are aware of the fact that nine-tenths of these people favor free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, and are irreversibly against a gold standard.

The evils of gold monometallism are fully set forth in the address. The resolutions favor the organization of a literary bureau to keep people informed on the financial question and urge every Democratic editor to actively co-operate with the executive committee in perfecting a thorough organization of Democrats to secure harmony and victory. The resolutions conclude with a pledge to oppose every effort to matter from what source, to commit the Democracy to gold monometallism, and for a third time pledge Democrats to fight unflinchingly for the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at a ratio of 16 to 1.

Chased Into the Ocean.

Fernandina, Fla., July 26.—Chased by a posse with bloodhounds, and with every avenue of escape cut off, four negro outlaws dashed into the ocean near Fort George, last night, and drowned. They were Cook, Jim Cook, Sam Cook, and John Armstrong. They broke jail at Fernandina.

DODGING JUDGE LYNCH.

An Alleged Missouri Ravisher and Murderer Spirited Away to Avoid Mob Violence.

Hannibal, Mo., July 26.—Emmet Diver, the alleged ravisher and murderer of Mrs. J. W. Cain, of Calloway county, is now in charge of Sheriff Weaver, of Falls county. The sheriff brought him to Hannibal last night and placed him in jail. At 8 o'clock this morning Sheriff Weaver took him out of jail and spirited him away, probably back to New London. The sheriff fears the prisoner will be lynched, as a mob is after him. He has been in the hands of four different sheriffs.

Decidedly Previous Discussion.
Augusta, Me., July 26.—Joseph H. Manley, discussing the report that the Republican national committee would meet in Washington early in November to decide the time and place for the next Republican national convention, said he had heard nothing about it. Manley said that he should prefer to hold the convention on the Pacific coast after the Democratic convention was held.

CANNIBALISTIC TRIBE.

Ranchmen Along Coast of Sonora Fear an Attack from Tiburon Island Indians.

Hermosillo, Mex., July 26.—The Seri Indians, the cannibalistic tribe that occupies Tiburon Island, are again becoming troublesome. The ranchmen along the coast in the state of Sonora, near the island, fear an attack. A party of these Indians attacked the ranch of Pascual Encinas, a few days ago, but were driven off by ranch employees. The ranchmen have appealed to the authorities for protection.

GOLD BUG IN TROUBLE.

Mrs. Colgate Wants a Divorce from Her Husband Because He is Too Friendly with Miss Bassett.

Trenton, N. J., July 26.—Mrs. Adelaide Colgate to-day began proceedings for divorce from M. S. Colgate, member of the New York banking and brokerage firm of Kneass, Colgate & Co. Mrs. Colgate alleges that her husband has been living in New York with Delia Bassett. The firm has been dissolved because of the divorce proceedings.

Heaviest Rain in Years.
Marshalltown, Iowa, July 26.—The heaviest rain and hail storm since 1881 visited this section last night. Two and a quarter inches of rain and considerable hail fell here.

Hanged in U. S. Jail.
Washington, July 26.—Joseph A. Beam was hanged in the U. S. jail to-day for the murder of his step-daughter, Annie Leahy, last December.

Book Binding at Reduced Rates.
During the past few months many orders received by the New Mexican for the binding of books, magazines and pamphlets have necessarily been more or less neglected on account of a rush of other business. But during the dull summer months special attention will be paid to this class of work. Thus all orders now on file will at once be filled and all those who are in need of any work in the line of binding can rely upon having their orders promptly executed in the best style of the art and at reduced rates. Send in your orders to the New Mexican.

BANNOCKS WANT BLOOD.

Indians Refuse to Return to Reservation and Seem Bent on Trouble.

Fear that United States Troops will Not Reach Jackson Hole in Time to Avert Bloody Conflict.

Pocatello, Idaho, July 26.—The situation in northwestern Wyoming, where the Indians are on the war-path, is not improved to-day. Adjutant General Stitzer, of Wyoming, is at Market Lake, hourly expecting to hear that a conflict has occurred between the settlers and Indians in Jackson Hole valley. The Indian police, who have returned from Salt River valley, where the big trading pow-wow has been in progress for a week, say that a band of Bannock Indians, under the leadership of Jim Ballard, has started north toward the seat of the trouble. If they meet the belligerents in Fall River valley before the troops get there, and they undoubtedly will, the result may be disastrous. Ballard's band is composed of the forest element of the Bannocks.

REFUSE TO RETURN TO THE RESERVATION.
Washington.—Indian Agent Teter, of the Fort Hall, Idaho, Indian reservation, to-day wired Commissioner Browning that the policemen report that the Indians positively refuse to return to the reservation. The agent has asked permission to accompany the United States troops to the scene of the disturbance and authority has been granted to him to do so.

NEW MEXICO NEWS.

John Townner shipped 2,000 sheep from Albuquerque to Kansas City, on Monday, that he purchased from Elias Garcia.

Fladello Bacon, formerly of Las Vegas and now secretary of the American legation at the City of Mexico, is reported sick. The trouble seems to be from the effects of being poisoned a year ago.

The Eddy dam stood the pressure of the raging waters of the Pecos river the past week well, which goes to show that the dam is safe and no fear need be entertained of its ever breaking.

The Springer Water & Electric Light company has completed a large reservoir, 22x52 feet, eight feet deep, 18x32 feet with division wall. Springer will have as good water as any town in the territory.

The hearing on the bill of application for separate receivers for the Atlantic & Pacific railroad which was to come to-day, at Albuquerque, has been postponed by Judge Collier to August 12, on application of counsel for both sides.

Eddy and surroundings seem to be infested with a regular band of horse thieves. The last week not less than six horses have been stolen from various citizens of Eddy and surroundings. No clues to the perpetrators have yet been ascertained.—Eddy Independent.

A. B. McGaffey has purchased the Stevens residence in Highlands and intends redecorating the entire house at once. H. E. Fox, Mrs. McGaffey's father, has bought the two adjoining lots and will build in the near future.—Albuquerque Democrat.

Las Vegas Optic: Dr. A. L. Hummel, of a Philadelphia medical journal, and Dr. Paquin, a St. Louis physician of renown, telegraph M. A. Otero, from Denver, that they will reach Las Vegas next week, on a trip that may mean much to this immediate locality in the near future.

The blind man, who was misled by the Democrat's sensational articles into coming here from Denver to be cured by the "healer," returned home yesterday afternoon much disgusted with his costly trip. Though blind he sees plainly through the humbuggery of the whole affair.—Albuquerque Citizen.

The suspension bridges over the Black and Delaware rivers of the Pecos Valley railway are indeed constructed in a workmanlike and substantial manner, and in our opinion no fear need ever be entertained of their being ever washed away again by the raging waters when completed. These bridges will no doubt be the saving of thousands of dollars to the Pecos Valley Railway company in the long run.—Eddy Independent.

Elwood Albright, the bright 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Albright, was hit on the forehead at the base ball game yesterday afternoon. It was during the preliminary practice of the Browns, when one of the outfielders threw the ball into the home plate, and on the bound the ball struck Elwood. The little fellow was stunned for a moment, but is all right to-day.—Albuquerque Citizen.

The board of managers of the Ladies' home of this city have met and considered the resignation of Miss Hattie Burnett, the present matron of the home, and have secured the services of Mrs. Stevens, of Milwaukee, Wis., formerly housekeeper at the Montezuma hotel, at the springs, under the old management, who will assume charge on August 6.—Las Vegas Examiner.

GLINTS FROM GOLDEN.

Ore Body in the Pearl R. Mine Improving—Big Strike in the Cunningham—Boy Picks Up a $6 Nugget of Gold.

Correspondence New Mexican.

Golden, Santa Fe Co., July 24.—The ore body in the recently discovered fissure in the Pearl R. mine is improving as depth is attained. The owners have concluded not to cross-cut until they go down deeper on the lead and for that reason the width of same has not as yet been determined.

A big strike is reported to have been made Monday last on the Smuggler mine, owned by Cullen & Randall. The ore has been uncovered to the width of twenty feet and only one wall found so far. Ore assays $20 per ton and is of the same character as that of the Pearl R.

As the Smuggler lies north of and adjoins the Pearl R. on that end it is reasonable to conclude that it is the same ore body and that this is a further proof that the ore body on the Pearl R. extends over the whole of the claim, lengthwise at least.

This is being proved lately to be a much richer section than was ever supposed.

Heretofore tests were made in common mills and the ore would not pay, but since Fitzgerald has tested these same ores by his process they have been found to be much richer and all such refractory ores can be profitably treated. It is a big thing for this section, which future operations will confirm.

The New Mexico ore body is holding out well and really looks better than ever. H. Goodman has leased the San Pedro stamp mill and will commence running ore from this mine to-day. He has built a good ore road and teams have been hauling ore since Monday.

In the placer grounds in the gulch at the head of which the New Mexico is situated the native placer miners have struck a rich pay streak of gravel. Quite a pleasant surprise was given a boy last week, who worked for a "raw-hide" bucket of gravel per day, when he found a nugget which he sold for $6. Pretty good pay for a young boy.

James M. Lucas returned Monday last from Denver where he has been for the purpose of purchasing a new crusher and other equipments for his stamp mill.

Mr. Lucas says that he found while in Denver that this section is attracting considerable attention in mining circles there and many inquiries were made of him relative to "our great mineral resources."

The Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company should not hesitate as to the most feasible route in every respect from Cerrillos south.

It is through this section and it should have preference over all other proposed routes for many reasons. The principal ones being the possibilities of our as yet undeveloped mountains of mineral and the volume of traffic such a road would secure from these mines, the development of which would be stimulated and the output increased many fold by the incentive received by the extension of the road through here.

Hot weather proves depressing to those whose blood is poor. Such people should enrich their blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

FRIDAY, JULY 26.

Cousin El Rio Grande "from Albuquerque to El Paso" won't remedy the flood and drought problem the people of El Paso and Juarez have to do with each year. The dam and storage reservoir project is a great business proposition in which there are big profits. The long-headed business men down there ought to consider it seriously.

Mrs. LEASE announces that she has concluded to resume the practice of law, but this by no means implies any notion on her part of giving her massive jaw a rest. By the bye, what has become of Mrs. Lease's husband? He doesn't appear to have crawled out from under the bed since he emerged about the close of the Populist administration to sign that pay-roll as "matron" of one of the Kansas eleemosynary institutions.

The Nicaragua canal commissioners have completed their investigations of the route and have returned to the United States. The report is that their decision is favorable to the canal, although they believe that the total cost will exceed $100,000,000, coming very near to $110,000,000. Their review of the case will be awaited with unusual interest, as upon their findings will be based the action which congress is expected to take at the next session.

CONNECTICUT is obtaining a reputation that even Arizona would not care to have. The epidemic of burglaries and robberies in various towns of the Nutmeg state does not speak well for the enforcement of law in those places. First one town and then another has been visited by desperadoes, who boldly hold up citizens on the highways or enter dwellings and terrorize the inmates. And yet the Nutmeg is afraid to come west, he says, because, as he alleges, life and property are not safe.

The Japanese are encountering more or less difficulty in restoring order in Formosa. Strangely enough, one result of the delay is plainly felt in almost every household. As a result of the troubles in the island the camphor output has been greatly reduced, and this has enabled the English syndicate, headed by Colonel North, the nitrate king, to corner the camphor market and force up prices nearly 100 per cent. Until the new rulers of the island shall complete their conquest and wholly restore peace the camphor corner can not be broken.

Tax suggestion of Uncle Joseph Medill, of the Chicago Tribune, in favor of making a Democratic paper out of the Inter-Ocean can not be credited with entire freedom from selfishness. Yet it is well worth considering. The silver Democrats of the west, who clearly constitute an overwhelming majority of the party, need the intelligent and vigorous help of a great newspaper in Chicago, and, as the Inter-Ocean has always been sound on the currency question and is doubtless weary of the "bloody shirt" issue, it would not have to make much of a change to become Democratic.

PRESERVING FRESH FRUITS.

The American consul at Rheims, France, has informed the state department through an official report, of the discovery of a new process of keeping fruits fresh, which consists in treating them to vapor from water and alcohol. Even fruits which have begun to decay may be preserved indefinitely by the process he states. The subject is an interesting one in New Mexico, where the fruit growing industry is rapidly becoming a factor of trade in nearly every community. With the exhibitions announced and those in prospect displays of fruit must prove of value in attracting immigration to this fruitful territory. For the World's fair exhibit many earnest efforts to preserve the fruit in its natural state by the use of a solution of salicylic acid were made, but this much vaunted process has been found scarcely able to fill the bill.

The San Francisco Examiner has the following report of certain experiments now being made with borax as a preservative of fresh fruits. If true, there will be a revolution in methods of handling fresh fruits, and borax cans will take the place of lead cans for long hauls. Frank M. Smith, the borax king, believes he has solved the problem of preserving fresh fruit so that it can be put on eastern markets in a satisfactory condition. For some time he has been experimenting with borax and finds the ingredients of the salt peculiarly adapted for precluding vegetable decomposition. Several experimental shipments have been made to the east, the fresh fruit being simply laid in powdered borax, and the result is said to have been surprisingly satisfactory. New Mexico fruit growers are recommended to try this plan.

PRESS COMMENT.

The Arizona Governorship.

The press and friends of Charles M. Shannon in this territory are making every possible effort to induce President Cleveland to appoint Mr. Shannon to the gubernatorial chair of Arizona, which position that gentleman would no doubt fill to the satisfaction of all should he be honored with the same. We have personally known Charles for years and have never yet heard of a blemish against him that would stain his character or name, and, in our opinion, Charles would make the best governor Arizona ever had—Pecos Valley Independent.

Secretary Hoke Smith.

The chances are that Georgia could not do much better than select Hoke Smith as one of her ambassadors to the council of states. Mr. Smith has ability and courage and grit. He has youth and enthusiasm. When he was selected by President Cleveland for secretary of the interior many were inclined to believe that the president had indulged in a questionable experiment, but experience with Mr. Smith proves the wisdom of the president's selection. Secretary Smith has been one of Mr. Cleveland's positive cabinet successes. The interior department is an immense institution. It requires a first rate lawyer and a great business manager. Mr. Smith has proved to be both. He is a big man with a comprehensive grasp of affairs, enterprise, public spirit and acumen.

His experience in the cabinet endows him with a splendid equipment for a seat in the senate. He stands for something. The people know his views on every public question, or, if they don't know, they can know by asking. Mr. Smith has never indulged in the "new south" nonsense, which at one time furnished a convenient cloak for a school of protection Democrats in Georgia. He is a thorough reformer, a thorough Democrat and thoroughly sound on all of the fundamental questions. He is more opposed to silver monometallism than to gold monometallism, and asserts that he is an honest bimetalist. If he enters earnestly on the campaign for senator in Georgia he will sell the woods.—Washington correspondent St. Louis Republic.

Reed, Quay and Allison.

The friends of Reed have been claiming with much gusto for months past that Quay favored Reed's nomination. Quay undoubtedly has given this impression to some of Reed's friends. But I am told by a close friend of the Pennsylvania senator that he is not in earnest. Quay's friends tell me that Reed can never be nominated for president if Quay can prevent it.

It will be remembered that Quay was not in favor of the force bill, and that after the defeat of that measure in the senate of the first congress, ex-Lieutenant Governor Kennedy, of Ohio, then a member of the house, made a savage assault upon Quay, in which he accused him of looting the treasury of Pennsylvania and of other serious things. Reed, as speaker of the house, recognized Kennedy to make this attack, and made no effort to prevent it, on the contrary seemed to enjoy it. Quay has always held Reed responsible for permitting this attack upon him, and his friends tell me that no matter what may be said to the contrary, Quay intends to be revenged on Reed in the manner most hurtful to the Maine statesman. Quay does not want Harrison, and he has no love for McKinley. His choice for the Republican nomination is undoubtedly his colleague, Don Cameron, and after him, Allison. In fact, it may be said, as I have already stated in this correspondence, that the Republican senators are almost unanimously in favor of Reed.

Santa Fe, N. M.

The PECOS VALLEY of . . . NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.

The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.

Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation. The cultivation of annatto—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.

The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.

Land with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant, and at times rapid, increase in value.

The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Feliz section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

Legal Notice.

In the District Court of the First Judicial District sitting in and for the County of Santa Fe in the Territory of New Mexico.

Odaville Yates, Complainant, vs.
The Lincoln, Lucky & Lee Mining Co., Defendant.
Chancery No. 3489.

In pursuance of a final decree made and entered in the above entitled cause on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1895, whereby it was provided that, in the event of the failure of the defendant herein to pay within twenty days the several sums of money in said decree decreed to be paid the property hereinafter described should be sold to satisfy said decree, I, A. B. Renehan, appointed special master therein for the purpose of executing said decree, hereby give notice, the condition of payment within twenty days not having been complied with, and said twenty days having expired, and said undebtedness not having been paid and no part thereof, that I will on Saturday, the 3rd day of August, A. D. 1895, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the front door of the court house in the County of Santa Fe in the Territory of New Mexico, offer for sale and sell to the highest and best bidder for cash, be the same the complainant herein or any other party, all the following described property, to-wit:

All and singular the Lincoln Mining Claim and the land comprising the same together with all veins of mineral, dips and sprays, and the improvements thereon, together with machinery, houses, etc., situated in the New Placers Mining District in the County of Santa Fe, Territory of New Mexico, and being located on what is known as Lucky Hill, about one mile east of the town of San Pedro in the county aforesaid, and about one-half mile south of the Santa Fe Copper Mines, and which said Lincoln Mining Claim is joined on the northwest by the Lucky Mining Claim, on the northeast by the Lee Mining Claim and on the southeast by the Ascension Mining Claim.

Out of the proceeds received from the sale of said property, in accordance with the order of the court aforesaid in the said final decree continued, the undersigned, special master, will pay first, the legal fees, charges and expenses of the undersigned, special master, in and about said sale; second, the sum of $100 to Geo. W. Knaebel, Esq., as compensation for his services as special master, to take proofs of the material allegations in said bill of complaint or said complainant contained; third, the costs of said suit, including an allowance of $150 to the solicitor for the complainant herein in said above entitled cause and a further sum of $15 allowed said solicitor for drawing and recording the lien in said suit filed, and fourth, the sum of $1,024.00, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the 12th day of January, A. D. 1894, up to the time payment is made of said fourth allowance, so much as the purchase money will pay of the same, shall be paid to the complainant or his solicitor for him, and fifth, the surplus money, if any there be, shall be paid to the register of this court to the credit of this suit.

The purchaser or purchasers at such sale herein decreed to be made, shall upon such sale, deposit with the undersigned special master at least ten per cent of the purchase money, together with a memorandum signed by or in behalf of said purchaser or purchasers promising to pay the balance of said purchase money immediately upon the confirmation of said sale by the court, and the tender of the special master's deed. The undersigned special master on the day of sale and from time to time thereafter, may adjourn and keep open said sale in his discretion; and from and after the date of the sale of the said property by the undersigned in the manner aforesaid, the defendant and all persons claiming under them shall be and stand absolutely debared and foreclosed of and from all equity of redemption, of in and to the lands, real estate, premises and property herein ordered to be sold.

Dated at Santa Fe, N. M., this 7th day of July, A. D. 1895.

Why Does a Fellow Get Yellow?
You needn't mail an answer to this simple conundrum. We know that you know that a fellow—yes, we use the term in no offensive sense—is yellow because he is bilious. In other words, his liver has got out of order, his bowels have become constipated. His skin and eyeballs assume a (most unwarrantable assumption) saffron tinge, his tongue puts on a coat of fur, even in the summer time; beneath his right shoulder blade and ribs twinges right him that a very restless imp is in their immediate vicinity. Now, if this hapless individual will simply procure and use at once Hostetter's Stomach Bitters he'll be all right shortly. Constipation, biliousness, malaria, indigestion, rheumatism, neuritis and disorder of the kidneys and bladder all yield to this peerless family remedy and preventive. Use it promptly, with persistence and regularity. A wineglassful three daily.

An Unkind Remark.

Mr. Uglyman—Yes, she is as amiable as she is lovely. And she is so considerate. She's willing to put up with almost anything.
Mr. Murray Hill—Yes, I knew that when I heard that she married you.

WHY BE SICK

When a trifle will buy the greatest healing invention of the day? Dr. Hansen's Electric Belt is a complete body battery for self treatment, and guaranteed, or money refunded. It will cure without medicine rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, lame back, kidney and liver complaints, neuritis and all effects of early indiscretion or excess. To weak men it is the greatest possible boon, as the mild electric current is applied direct to the nerve centers and improvements are felt from the first hour used.

SUB ROSA.

My sweetheart wears all kinds of hats
With aiglets, puffs and bows.
But the hat my sweetheart's sweetest in
Is the one with the big red rose.
It stands up pretty on the brim.
What wonder my fancy's wooed?
It nods and bows so saucily
To the music of her mood.
And when my sweetheart slyly roasts
Quite still and will not speak,
The red rose would so faintly reply
The bloom on her dimpled cheek.
The red rose oft has swayed a "No"—
My sweetheart said can be—
But you see, I like it so well because She nodded a "Yes" to me.

SOFT BLACK EYES.

What a trivial thing will color the whole of a man's life! How small an incident, compared to the large future he has mapped out for himself, may make or mar it!
I learned all this and more one sultry May day in Mexico five years ago.
I had been sent to Mexico as chief of a surveying corps to establish the boundaries of the Santa Anita grant, which lay along the Rio Claro just outside the city of Chihuahua. It was a responsible position for a young man, and I held my head high.
It was the day of La Fiesta de San Guadalupe.
The saint himself had been dead, I understood, several hundred years, but in Mexico that doesn't make any difference. The longer folks are dead there the more they seem to be thought of, and the bigger a birthday party they have. Almost every other week contains the "feast day" of some dead saint or saintess, and trade and commerce are suspended to do the occasion justice. The natives of Mexico are the most perennially pious people on earth.
Why I have known them—men in my own employment—to be so enthused over the posthumous birthday of some long dead saint that they would get up in the gray dawn to go about celebrating it. This morning, the morning of Guadalupe's feast day, the whole force of peons under me had struck.
No chinamen, no flagmen, no axmen were left me. Only Sims and Bailey, my two American assistants, staid behind. When I began abusing them for the customs of Mexico, they said while they did not care even remotely for the saint to whom it was dedicated, still they were glad it was a holiday and they thought they would go up stream and fish awhile. They were only indifferent laymen, without any religious feeling.

When I was left alone in camp, I spent a short time on my field notes, when it came over me that I was wasting the day.
Just outside the chaparral the river was laughing and murmuring in the open. It seemed to ask me to walk beside it. The slopes along its banks were tenanted by their inmates had gone to the feast.
But, strange sight, there at the bend of the river where the waters were the merriest was a solitary worker, and whatever it was she was doing, she was doing it with a vim. A dark eyed, dark haired, dark shawled daughter of Spain she seemed to be, and yet she was working and working hard—on a "feast day!" A fit of curiosity seized me to know what she was doing and why she was doing it. I approached her with the question on my lips at what did she work, and por-ky (I spell it as I said it). Soberly she raised a pair of melting orbs and sweetly and elo-quently she answered me. From her reply, in the most musical language in the world,
I gathered that she would be at the feast, but that she must cleanse the soiled linen that lay around her on the sand, for the owner of it, a gentleman who was staying at the United States hotel, wanted it by noon, and tomorrow would not do (she said this plaintively). If it were not done by noon, she finished most pathetically, she would get no dinner, and that she needed in the superlative degree. Diner!
Ah, the next most thing in Mexico to salute's days is money!

As her red lips told me this, her great black eyes wandered from the soiled clothes at her feet to the spires of the cathedral in the distance and the waving colage of the plaza where the fustian and merry-making were going on. There was a look of sadness and longing in them as she gazed. Being a tender hearted man, I asked her if there wasught I could do for her. In a wonderful mixture of Anglo-Spanish, which I valued while in Mexico, and which no one could ever master but myself, I assured her I was at her service if she so desired and asked how I could assist her.

The black eyes flashed gratitude ere the scarlet mouth said, in silvery sweet tones,
"Would you sit on a rock beside me and rub the shirts of the gentlemen on a large rock with a very small rock?"

Looking back now in the light of mature wisdom, I can see that I should have declined that job on the grounds that it was too unesthetic. But I didn't. On the contrary, I accepted it effusively.
There was a touch of romance about it that appealed to me—the day itself began to appeal to me for the first time. I began to feel something of the enthusiasm for feast days that had taken my men out before daybreak. I was not to be so hard on them again, I thought. Truly it was a very pretty custom, and I began to sympathize with it and to understand it better.
If San Guadalupe had not been so long interred, in the gladness of my heart I would have sent him a bouquet. His this I tried to confide to Lucia. It touched her; it sounded, she said, like stories she had read in the convent.

Her name was a poem in itself—Lucia Eulalia Gracia y Valdes. And mine? After that poem it seemed common to say that I was plain Jack Biggs. But she anticipated me. She pointed to one of my business cards that had escaped my vest pocket when I threw it on the sand. "Meester Beegs, que no?" she lisped, and it did not sound at all badly from her lips.

It was pleasant to know she did not dislike my name. This was one way of saying, as everybody knows, that its owner was not disagreeable to her.

As we talked we washed, and long before noon the gentlemen's shirts were all floating in the breeze from the low chaparral along the river bank.

Lucia Eulalia glanced gratefully and alternately at the snowy linen and at me. My natural thoughtfulness led me to suggest that we might as well do the family washing while we were about it. Her brother Antonio, the sheep herder, whom she had mentioned with sisterly affection—did not his things have need of water? "There is no time like the present," I said; "It may set in tomorrow and rain for months.
Who knows?"

Lucia Eulalia looked at the contradictory blue of the skies and laughed at my weather prophesies, but she ran to her adobe dwelling a few rods away and brought from it a bundle of Antonio's "things." They had apparently been waiting for me for years. His washcloths were dingy bandanas to dingies overall. As I warmed up to the ambi-tion's task of cleansing them, under Lucia Eulalia's approving smiles, all nature seemed to smile. The sun shone warm and warm, the river ran blue and blue, for Lucia had "blued" it. She had also "allowed" the root of a whole soap tree to Antonio's garments. She was right in doing this, but somehow in my strange with the sheep herding stains of six months I had distributed a good deal of lather over my person. When this unaccustomed fatigue began to show on me, Lucia Eu-lalia asked softly if I "had tired."

"Oh, no," I was declaring. "I have no time," when some approaching American voices were heard. Lucia clapped her hands tragically, and running to the chaparral began hastily to gather the linen therefrom. I caught from her manner that the owner of the shirts had time of waiting and was coming for them. I had divined aright, but I had not divined far enough. As they emerged from the alameda to the west of the river I could see they were a lady and gentleman. I had almost managed a look of industry and innocence as they approached us and raised my eyes to impress them with it, when—gracious saints! Guadalupe and great Jehoshaphat! Was that Maxwell, the man I had robbed of the valdeletto in 1887 at Ann Arbor? True, I had no grudge against him on that account, but my dream meeting him again and "making it right" had not been like this! Maxwell it was, with his stylish bride. He threw me a careless glance at first, then I began to dawn on him, slowly but surely. He quizzed Lucia in miserable Spanish, in a cowardly way, I thought.

"Quien es?" he said, indicating me.
Smiling, as if pleased to see me, he Lucia presented me to Maxwell and his wife as "Mi amigo, Senor Beegs." I could feel that the bluing and the soap rock and the river water were all making in one grand river of perspiration toward the collar of my negligee shirt. I could feel that all the constellations in the heavens and all the mundane landscape around me were waiting giddily together. An intense longing for home and mother came over me that these words cannot depict.
For one wild moment I thought I would rush into my old chum's arms and tell him "all," like the wronged hero in the last act. I would say vehemently: "This is not me regular business. I'm a civil engineer, not a fifty a month. I'm only doing this for fun," etc.

But while I was thinking this—how often our best intentions thwarted thus—Maxwell coughed. It was not a consumptive cough. It was just a little gratifying sound that contained more painful surprise and pity and regret than a voice of Browning could. That froze me as I stood—or sat. Fixedly I gazed at the Sierra Madre over his head, as if trying to fathom the "lost" mines hidden there.

Maxwell's watch ticked in the painful silence.
"Allee," he said sternly, "we must not miss that train."

Out of my life they went, with the clothes I had washed for them, as suddenly as they came in. I strained my ears to hear him say "Poor fellow!" To come to that—rather bright at college, but this country seems to rob a fellow of ambition!"—Maxwell, I knew, was never a secretive man; they were going east, and well—

Lucia Eulalia gathered up the extra cloths
he had thrown her for me, and said softly,
"Have you sad, senor?"
"Yes," I said, "I have sadness, also sickness. I would go back to camp at once."

As I drew on my spattered coat and vest over tired arms, I said, most earnestly, "Lucia Eulalia Gracia y Valdes, I shall never forget this day of the fiesta of San Guadalupe."

The Brooklyn Dialect.
Perhaps the most notable tendency which Brooklynites display in speaking is that of putting an r sound on every word ending in an aw. Eight of ten people you hear say mawmer and popper and the idea, also lawr, sawr, jawr, etc. Another peculiarity commonly encountered is the attending the pronunciation of oil in such words as oil, point, etc. Oil as given by Brooklyn people is not quite so bad as r, but comes pretty near it, a sort of r sound being introduced.

On the contrary, when the sound of r shouldn't be distinctly heard it is frequently omitted in such words as world, first, third, pronounced world, first and third. This peculiarity is, however, more characteristic of New Yorkers than of Brooklynites. The Latin prefix per in personation, the r for every r is often pronounced as though it were pr, as propriation and prehaps. In fact, it was only the other day that a professor in the boys' high school, an English teacher and a doctor of philosophy, was heard to remark that "prehaps recently got a verdict for some other mistakes frequently made are carousel for carrousel, again for again, ben for been and sassy for saucy."

The worst barbarism, however, is practiced in pronouncing proper names. Who but a Brooklynite would have the courage to pronounce Schenck as Schenck?
Elevated railroad guards, whose chief duty it is to call out the correct names of the stations, will invariably exclaim Ellum place and Norstrand avenue.
Have we no better way to honor the memory of those two great men, Putnam and Lafayette, than to call the streets named after them Putnam avenue and Lafayette avenue? Or is it because Brooklynites do not know who these men were? Certainly it cannot be on account of their ignorance of history, because these mistakes occur not infrequently among men seemingly well educated.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Hard on the Poor Farmer.
The oppression of the poor western farmer still goes on apace. In Nebraska the supreme court of the state has just taken from him a lucrative means of livelihood. For years there has been a law in the state requiring railroad engineers to whistle at every highway crossing and imposing a fine of $25 for every failure to do so, half the fine going to the informer.

For some reason engineers have not been able to do all the whistling required by this law, perhaps from need of some steam for running the locomotive, and the farmers have made a great deal of money by watching the crossings and bringing suit against the companies for infractions of the law.

Every suit thus brought has heretofore been decided against the companies, and the law has cost them a great deal of money.
One farmer recently got a verdict for $5,500 whistling money against the Union Pacific. The supreme court has finally declared the law unconstitutional.—New York Sun.

A Safe Rule.
When an 18-year-old girl says her mother won't let her accept an invitation to a party, it is certain that the wrong person has asked her to go.—Acheson Globe.

TAKE STEPS
In time, if you are a sufferer from that scourge of humanity known as consumption, and you can be cured. There is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its early stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 98 per cent. are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Every case after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleed-ings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectation (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.
Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases referred to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power over every other remedy, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cod-liver oil and its filthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypo-phosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.
The photographs of a large number of cures of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write to those who have been cured and profit by their experience.

I owe my life to a miracle, said one of the combatants to Murgar, the author of La Vie des Bohemes (Life in Bohemia). I had left in my pocket a five-franc piece, and the ball struck dead on the spot where it was.
In your place I should have been a dead man, was Murgar's reply. Le Petit Parisien.

An Interesting Campaign.
At the present moment an interesting equal suffrage campaign is being proceeded in South Carolina. Among the orators are Mrs. Virginia D. Young, a wealthy lady of high social position, and who is the president of the State Equal Rights association; Mrs. Viola Neblett, vice president of the society; Miss Laura Clay, president of the Kentucky state organization and a descendant of the great statesman, Henry Clay; Miss Dr.
Helen Morris Lewis, president of the North Carolina state organization; Miss Elizabeth U. Yates of the national organization; the Misses Hemphill, daughters of General R. R. Hemphill of Columbia, S. C.; General Hemphill and Colonel William Perry Murphy. These are the regular speakers, but in addition they are re-enforced by volunteers in different parts of the state. In this manner they are enabled to give five or six pithy, brilliant speeches in one evening and to show nonbelievers and people who have given the matter no thought that suffrage does not involve cranks, ill bred, ignorant, coarse or immoral people, but that, on the contrary, its tendency is to bring together the best types of womanhood and to elevate the mental and social condition of the sex.
—Margherita Arlina Hamm.

There Will Be a Change.
It is the opinion of the great Parisian dressmakers that the spring of 1896 will be notable in the annals of fashion on account of the revival, with but slight modifications, of the styles of gowns which were in vogue when Louis XVI was king of France, over a century ago.
While these makers of the mode have not openly announced what they will decre for the year hence, yet most of them are making plans in accordance with this idea.

The real leaders of the world's modes are of course the famous dressmakers of Paris, though they beguile their rich or royal customers into thinking that the dressmaker has little else to do than to execute or amplify the suggestions of his patrons, while exactly the reverse is true. Changes in style are always accomplished by degrees. Every one knows how practically impossible it would be to compel a sudden and radical change in costume, such as the abrupt transition from the present mode to that of the ancient Greeks, but even this would be possible in time if the autocrats so willed and threw their weighty influence in favor of the revolution.

A Trilby Club.
There has recently been inaugurated a Trilby club in Arlington, N. J., the result of a dream of one of the most charming of the young women of that town.

The qualification for membership in this club is a left foot; the credentials, a picture of it. At present the club has a score of members. Each has given the picture of her left foot to the club, and these form the art collection.

By unanimous consent the projector of the club, so lovely was her Trilby, was made president. A fear of publicity keeps this club a secret organization, but to give it an air of dignity one married woman has been made a member.
These pictures are all taken by the young ladies and developed by one of their number. Some of the photographs have been seen. One especially is a beauty of perfect outline and has the widely appreciated toes over which Little Billie savored, and which are small, slender and graceful. Such another Trilby, the girls proudly declare, it would be hard to find, and none there has been to dispute this.—New York Herald.

Miss May Cassatt.
One of the women who are becoming famous in art is Miss May Cassatt, an American who has lived in London and Paris for many years. A critic says of her: "If the signature upon each picture were not 'May Cassatt,' it is doubtful, so far as execution goes, whether any observer would suspect that the painter is a woman. Miss Cassatt's work is very seldom defiant of her sex. It has none of the 'chip on the shoulder' air, as who would say, 'I am a woman, but I can paint like a man,' that the aggressively masculine touch of Miss Beaux, for example, sometimes suggests. To all appearances, in technical attainment and achievement, Miss Cassatt is simply unconscious of her sex, and would put him who examines her work into similar mood. Her hand is quite as firm as a man's. It is a great deal bolder and more precise than that of many of her brethren at home and abroad."

The Retort Significant.
I haven't any patience with women—or men, either—who go about telling unkind things of the people whose salt they have eaten, says a Washington woman. I heard Mrs. McGuirk—everybody in Washington knows Mrs. Mc-Guirk—say something to a woman of this sort that filled me with delight. It was a well dressed woman, too—a woman who expressed the vulgarity which was in her in this fashion. We asked her where she had been.
"Oh," said she, with an air, "I've been to Mrs. W.'s. There was a mob there—a lot of the nobodies she bribes to come to her affairs."

Mrs. McGuirk's reply was so quick it took my breath away.

"What did she give you?" she said.

Perfumed Sleeves.
The American dressmaker has yet something to learn from her French sister. Not the least charming of the many dainty and attractive features of a French gown as it comes fresh from the modiste's box is the delicate perfume it exhales. Upon examination this will be found to proceed from a bag of sachet powder, sewed to the lining in the upper part of each sleeve. She is not sparing in the quantity used either, for each bag contains nearly two tablespoonfuls of the powder with a very little cotton. The idea of violet breathing sleeves will readily recommend itself to all dressmakers, whether professional or amateur.—Delineator.

Are you taking SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR, the "KING OF LIVER MEDICINES"? That is what our readers want, and nothing but that. It is the same old friend to which the old folks pinned their faith and were never disappointed. But another good recommendation for it is, that it is BETTER THAN PILLS, never gives, never weakens, but works in such an easy and natural way, just like nature itself, that relief comes quick and sure, and one feels new all over. It never fails. Everybody needs take a liver remedy, and everyone should take only Simmons Liver Regulator.

D. & R. G. OFFICIALS.

President Jeffrey and Party Arrive—A Busy Day at the Depot—The Road's Extension South a Certainty.

President E. T. Jeffrey, of the Denver & Rio Grande system, and his private secretary and confidential assistant, Mr. Chas. H. Schlaacks, arrived on a special train from the north last night. They were accompanied by Superintendent Cole Lydon, of the southern division, and by several ladies, among them Mrs. Beome and daughter, of Chicago.

Mr. Jeffrey is president and Mr. Schlaacks vice-president of the newly organized Rio Grande & Santa Fe Railroad company, a subordinate D. & R. G. corporation, formed to control the Santa Fe Southern line as a branch of the great Colorado narrow gauge system.

Bright and early this morning, Messrs. Jeffrey and Schlaacks went into Supt. Helm's office and there they have spent the most of the day in going carefully over the records and accounts of the T. & S. F. & N. and Santa Fe Southern companies preparatory to making a final settlement with Mr. Helm and formally assuming control of the Espanola line. To-night Mr. C. H. Waterman, another director of the newly organized company, will arrive from Denver and before Judge Laughlin to-morrow a final settlement will also be made with Hon. A. Joseph, special master appointed by the court to sell the Santa Fe Southern.

President Jeffrey has been so busy all day that he had no time to receive courteous attentions at the hands of citizens. A number of Board of Trade men and officials called at his private car, but could not ascertain where he was. Mr. Schlaacks, on the occasion of his recent visit here, informed several citizens that Mr. Jeffrey would make this trip one of strict business and this is just what he is doing. Mr. Joseph accompanied the visitors from Barrancas station to the city last night and he stated to-day that, judging from what President Jeffrey and his associates said in private conversation on the way down, there was no doubt but that the narrow gauge would be extended across the valley to Cerrillos with Albuquerque as its destination.

At the noon hour it was announced that Mr. T. J. Helm, so long the faithful and energetic superintendent of the Santa Fe Southern here, had been appointed general agent for the D. & R. G. system at Santa Fe, and that after this date the Espanola branch would be operated as part of the D. & R. G. system, over which Supt. Lydon has jurisdiction.

After a two hours' ride about the city this afternoon the party left on their return to Denver, President Jeffrey saying he must hurry out on the line during daylight in order to examine into its physical condition and note the repairs necessary to bring the newly acquired piece of road up to the D. & R. G. standard.

Did You Ever Think

That you can not be well unless you have pure, rich blood? If you are weak, tired, languid and all run down, it is because your blood is impoverished and lacks vitality. These troubles may be overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla because Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure, rich blood. It is, in truth, the great blood purifier.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

The recent heavy rains somewhat damaged the adobe walls of the county jail and Deputy Sheriff Tucker is having the same repaired by jail labor.

A second daughter came last night to gladden the home of Mr. H. S. Lutz, the accommodating local agent of the A. T. & S. F. Mother and child doing well.

These are rather dull days for nearly everyone except the attorneys, most of whom are busily engaged preparing cases for the territorial supreme court, which will open on Monday.

The game of ball which was to have been played in Madrid on Sunday has been postponed one week, owing to the fact that Denver's team is to remain over Sunday. The price of admission for the Denver series has been changed to 25 cents, including grand stand.

A delegation of Jicarilla Apache Indians came in from Rio Arriba county to-day and drove several sharp bargains with Jake Gold. The latter says such delegations will arrive daily till about August 8, and save their money for a gala time at the annual feast at Santa Clara pueblo.

About the 1st of August the water company will begin harvesting its 160 acres of alfalfa, oats and millet, now growing so luxuriantly south of town. Arrangements will be made to bale the hay and it will help not a little to supply the home demand for such products. A second cutting will be made the first of October.

SILVER CITY'S CALAMITY

Interesting Details of the Great Flood—Damage Greater than Reported—The Work of Restoring Order.

The Silver City papers are at hand to-day giving full details of the five-inch rainfall there on Sunday night last which resulted in partially destroying one-half of the business portion of that thrifty town. The main facts have been heretofore covered in these columns.

There were several narrow escapes from drowning. People were taken from the flooded district on horseback. The water covered the entire lower portion of the town, including the business streets. Several horses were drowned in stables. The postoffice records for the most part were saved and a greater portion of the mail. Many valuable libraries belonging to attorneys and physicians were ruined by water. The railroad track for fifteen miles was greatly damaged and five bridges are gone in the same distance. The railroad loss is about $20,000. Giltlett & Sons will lose $11,000 by damage to stock, and every merchant sustains losses of from $500 upwards by water flooding stores and cellars. Much damage was done to the surrounding country. Mud to a depth of several feet was deposited in the streets and huge boulders were washed down from the mountains by the force of the water. There were three distinct floods from different mountain ranges which combined at the upper end of the city.

After a survey of the situation, the Eagle, in its issue of Wednesday, says: "A low estimate would place the damage at $150,000 and it may reach very considerably more than this in actual destruction of property. The depreciation in values in the flooded district will very likely double this amount."

"Not the slightest of losses fell on the Silver City Water company. The flood tore out mains in different places, breaking the heavy iron pipes, letting the water in the reservoir run out in a short time and leaving the city entirely without a water supply. The pipes could have been repaired in a short time but the flood completely filled up the company's well at the pump house and it will be several days before we can possibly be cleaned out so that water can be again pumped into the reservoir."

"Below town the flood washed out the vegetable gardens, took out the Lyons & Campbell dam, destroyed the pipe line connection and washed out the arroyo eight or ten feet deeper than it ever was before."

"For miles below town the valley was strewn with wreckage and on Monday there were many Mexicans there picking up such articles as they thought were of any value and taking them off on burros."

Many offers of financial assistance have been received by Mayor J. W. Fleming. Among others, Mr. G. Armesey, the turquoise mine man, telegraphed him from New York tendering $100 to relieve the poor and needy. Since Monday all the energy of the citizens has been directed toward clearing away the debris and restoring order. It is likely that many will follow the advice of the Eagle and rebuild on higher ground.

DENVER TEAM WINS.

The First Game of the Series Goes to the Queen City Boys.

What looked to be a victory for Santa Fe was lost in the first half of the ninth inning by poor fielding in yesterday's ball game. Up to that time the game was a beauty.

The home team took the field at the start and shut Denver out without a run. Santa Fe's first inning netted five runs. Denver again failed to score in the second, Santa Fe doing likewise. In the third Denver made two and Santa Fe one, making the score six to two. The fourth brought Denver one more; Santa Fe also one. Denver failed to score in the fifth; Santa Fe made one. The sixth brought Denver four and Santa Fe one, the score then standing nine to seven. In the seventh inning Denver again failed to score and the home team again scored one. The eighth inning Denver made three; this time the Santa Fe's failed to cross home plate. The first half of the ninth brought Denver seven, through hard hitting and numerous bad plays and errors. Santa Fe failed to score in their half, thus leaving the score seventeen to ten.

The game was a beauty up to the last inning, when the Santa Fe's simply went to pieces. Numerous pretty plays were made during the game, the work of Kinlock and Logue, for Denver, and Crawford and Zinner, for Santa Fe, deserving special mention. The batting of Kavanaugh was also a feature. Altogether the boys played a very pretty game despite the large score.

The second game is in progress this afternoon and a good sized crowd is in attendance.

Yesterday's attendance was not very large. Billy Deutch and Joe Cohn umpired the game and gave general satisfaction.

SANTA FE'S ORCHARDS.

So Far the Season Has Proved Most Favorable to Local Fruit Growers—Fine Product—Ready Markets.

So far this has been a most favorable year for the fruit growers of Santa Fe and vicinity. The timely and abundant rains, unaccompanied by either hail or floods, have proved wonderfully beneficial, and the yield of small fruits, including strawberries, currants, raspberries and blackberries has been unusually large and the fruit uncommonly perfect and fine-flavored. The cherries produced here this season have been unanimously pronounced world beaters by all who have seen and sampled them. Fine home grown apricots and harvest apples are just coming into market and luscious Santa Fe peaches will be ripe in another week. The peach crop will be lighter than usual, but the peaches promise to be uncommonly large. The apple, pear and plum trees of the city are literally loaded with fruit, and many trees will have to be relieved of part of their burden to prevent the breaking of limbs. Unless something unforeseen happens the apple crop in this region will be larger than ever before, and it is worthy of note that the apples, particularly in orchards that have been well sprayed, are remarkably free from the defects caused by insect pests. The demand for Santa Fe fruit is generally larger than the supply and the prices quoted afford handsome profits. It is estimated that the fruit crops of the Santa Fe and Tesuque valleys will yield at least $25,000 this year.
