BOSS QUAY TRIUMPHANT.

Quay Elected Himself Chairman of State Central Committee and Dominated Over the Convention from Start to Finish.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—There will not be two Republican conventions here to-day. The compromise by which both was averted was arrived at about 3 a. m.

By agreement the six supreme court judges will be renominated and the convention will be made up with each of the six contestants of the contestees allowed half a vote.

It was also agreed to admit none but delegates and newspaper men to the convention hall.

The Republican state convention was called to order at noon by Chairman Gilkeson. Speaker Walton nominated Henry Hall, of Pittsburg, for temporary chairman. Senator Quay nominated John B. Robinson, of Delaware.

Mr. Robinson was elected by a vote of 168 1/2 to 138 1/2. Mr. Hall then moved that the election of Mr. Robinson be made unanimous. Gov. Hastings seconded the motion and it carried.

Senator Quay moved that the committee on permanent organization be instructed to report Gov. Hastings for permanent chairman. This was carried.

On motion of Congressman Stone it was decided that the state central committee chairman be named by the convention immediately after the adoption of the report of the committee on resolutions, instead of by the candidates and permanent chairman, as has been the practice.

Senator Quay offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That we deprecate the growing use of money in politics and the corporate control of legislatures, municipalities, counties, political primaries and elections, and favor the enactment of legislation and the enforcement of laws to correct such abuses.

This was referred to the committee on resolutions.

On motion of B. F. Gilkeson, the election of Senator Quay as chairman of the Republican state committee was made unanimous. Mr. Gilkeson in a speech announced that he withdrew in the interest of party harmony.

The resolution re-affirming the currency plank of the Republican national convention of 1892 was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Senator Quay will move the unanimous nomination of Gov. Norcross as appointee for judges of the superior court.

Col. Benj. J. Haywood, of Mercer county, was unanimously nominated for state treasurer.

On Senator Quay's motion, the following were unanimously recommended to the governor for judges of the supreme court: Jas. A. Beaver, of Centre; Howard J. Reeder, of Northampton; John J. Wickham, of Berks; Geo. B. Orady, of Huntingdon; Chas. E. Rice, of Luzerne; and S. N. Willard, of Lackawanna.

Senator Quay was then made the unanimous choice of the convention for state chairman.

The report of the resolutions committee was adopted practically as outlined by Quay.

A MISSING DEFAULTER. Government of British Columbia Very Much Wants to Locate Late Register of Supreme Court.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 28.—Attorney General Elberts has issued an order for the arrest of J. C. Prevost, register of the supreme court of British Columbia. He has been missing since last Friday. He may have sailed for Australia on the steamship Warrimoo. He was several months behind with certain trust funds, but the authorities were tardy about pressing him. His default may reach many thousands.

Great Clothing Makers' Strike. New York, Aug. 28.—The World says that the strike of clothing makers at Rochester, for union rates of wages, threatens to effect 30,000 workers, spreading to Syracuse, Utica, Albany, Buffalo and scores of other towns in this state. Twelve thousand clothing workers in Chicago are also on a strike.

TAFT TALKS VERY PLAIN. American Railway Union Strike Last Year Pronounced a Complete Public Nuisance.

Detroit, Aug. 28.—The feature of today's session of the American Bar association was the annual address, delivered this morning by Hon. William H. Taft, of Ohio, judge of the U. S. circuit court of appeals.

Among other things he referred to the relation of the federal courts to organized labor, especially to the action in issuing an injunction in the American Railway Union strike.

He strongly criticized the attitude of Gov. Altgeld in maintaining that the conspiracy described in the Debs case was not unlawful. Said he: "A public nuisance more complete than that in which Debs, et al., were engaged in furthering can not be imagined."

PECK'S RESIGNATION. How He Came to Quit the Santa Fe for the C. M. & St. P. Company.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 28.—Judge Caldwell says there was no trouble between General Solicitor Geo. R. Peck and any of the Santa Fe people, but that he had been connected with the road so long and was so familiar with its details that every one came to him and made a pack horse of him. Mr. Peck saw this would break him down. The solicitor of the Milwaukee & St. Paul road did, and its president determined to have Mr. Peck, and made him an offer of a salary larger than the Santa Fe could probably pay.

Chicago.—When asked to give his reasons for leaving the Santa Fe, Mr. Peck said that shortly after the death of Judge Carey, the president of the Milwaukee & St. Paul asked him whether he would consider a proposition to take the position of general counsel of the Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company. He did not at the time feel inclined to give up his position on the Santa Fe, on account of the pending reorganization and his long connection with the company. The inducements offered, however, were of such a nature that, in justice to himself and his family, he could not refuse to accept the position tendered him.

Struck By a Rolling Stock. Buena Vista, Colo., Aug. 28.—A rolling rock struck a Midland passenger train, near Fisher, this morning, wrecking the baggage car and smoker. T. J. O'Connor, a wealthy New York banker, was killed and two passengers were injured.

Cadiz, Aug. 28.—The Diario d'Aviso de Coruna states that the government will relinquish its intention of sending 25,000 additional reinforcements to Cuba in October, and adds that the captain general, Martinez de Campos, has declared that he will resign if the government insists upon appointing a lieutenant general for Cuba.

"A COWARDLY LIAR." Germany's Emperor Puts That Title on a French General.

New York, Aug. 28.—A special to the Herald from Berlin says: The emperor has been shown the number of the Figaro with General Munier's letter accusing a German official of thefts during the last war. His majesty was indignant and called Munier a "cowardly liar." If General Munier is on the active list, the Berlin chancellery will demand satisfaction.

El Reno, Okla., Aug. 28.—It is reported that Captain Baldwin, U. S. A., acting agent at the Kiowa, Comanche and Apache agency, at Anadarko, was murdered last night by Indians. FOUND AT IRVINGTON. Evidence Sufficient to Justify Indictment of Holmes for Murder Discovered in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Aug. 28.—Coroner Castor is in possession of the premises on which the bones of young Howard Peitzel were yesterday found, at Irvington.

An examination shows that the large bones, that could not at first be classified, are part of the pelvis.

RIPENING REVOLUTION. Government of Honduras Literally Holds Up Wealthy Citizens—An Outrage Flagrant Enough to Justify Rebellion.

New York, Aug. 28.—The World's Telegrams, Honduras, special says: A revolution seems inevitable. The treasury is empty and the government is resorting to forced loans.

A rich farmer, Santiago Sanchez, received an order from the president to deliver to him $100,000 as a loan to the government within two days. He refused and was condemned to the streets wearing a ball and chain, and was fined $1,000 for each day until the amount was paid. Under this pressure Sanchez paid.

The president is in such fear that when he is on the streets he carries a pistol in his hand and goes about surrounded by officers, who permit nobody to approach him.

Scarcely a day passes that there is not a flood in some portion of Grant county, and while they nearly all do more or less damage, the great good resulting to the mines and ranges more than compensates for the loss, says the Sentinel.

In the immigration office is a bass, in preserving fluid, that weighs six and one-quarter pounds. The fish was caught in North Spring river, Roswell, on the 15th inst., by Ed. Simonson. The largest bass ever taken from the river weighed two ounces more than this one, but was not so long. Scott Truxton was the lucky taker, and he sent the catch to the Columbian exposition. Last week Mr. Truxton and a companion caught two dozen bass in the Berrenda. The spring rivers all have many bass yet, and the lakes southwest of town teem with the fish.—Eddy Argus.

It is well known to the local friends of the editor and proprietor of the Optic, that he is at present attending the Keeley institute, at Denver, from which institution he expects to graduate, after a full course, about the middle of next month. It will be gratifying to these, as well as to his friends throughout the territory, to know that after two weeks of treatment he expresses himself as delighted with the transformation he has experienced, while he has no doubt of his ultimate and complete recovery.—Las Vegas Optic.

Meager details of the accidental killing of Capt. L. W. Burris, at Mogollon, late on Saturday afternoon, were received in this city yesterday. Diligent inquiry revealed nothing beyond the fact that Mr. Burris was killed by a falling rock while passing down the canon below Mogollon, and that his body had been prepared for shipment and would arrive in time to be sent to his old home in Kennedy, Texas, for burial.—Silver City Sentinel.

THE COUNTY SCHOOLS. A New District at Madrid with 150 Pupils—Supt. Herrera Speaks of His Plans.

County School Superintendent Cosme Herrera spent yesterday at Cerrillos and set apart a new school district at the mining town of Madrid, to be known as county school district No. 27. He found things flourishing at Madrid. Many new buildings are going up; fully 300 men are employed in and about the coal mines and in about three weeks more, so he is informed, 200 additional workmen will be employed in the anthracite coal pits and about the mammoth twelve-story crusher.

Mr. Herrera found the people of Madrid greatly interested in the organization of their public school. A canvass of the community shows that there are about 150 children there of school age, hence the necessity of erecting Madrid into an independent school district. What with the licenses and other revenues, Mr. Herrera thinks there will be no difficulty in maintaining there a good school this winter.

As to other county schools, he said the winter terms in the principal districts would open October 2, but in the minor county districts they would open one month later. As yet no county teachers have been appointed. A second examination of applicants for teacherships will be held early in September, and teachers will not be selected until the result of that examination is known.

For Sale. Must be sacrificed at once, two valuable mining claims at San Pedro, Santa Fe county, N. M., in the New Pioneers mining district, near the Lucky and Big Copper mines. The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 28.

New Mexico is getting ripe for statehood early in 1897.

So it seems that tampering with jurors or witnesses is a dangerous proceeding even in New Mexico.

"I am an international bimetalist," says ex-Gov. Campbell, of Ohio. Now that Balfour has put the kibosh on this feature of the free coinage movement, the question arises, what constitutes an "international bimetalist?"

The Hon. Matt. W. Ransom has been fussing about the national capital for weeks. Now that he has been re-commissioned minister to Mexico we hope he will find time to go back to his office and attend to his duties.

There must have been some political interests involved in the trial which resulted in subjecting Romero, the Mexican duelist, to so extraordinary a punishment. The laws of Mexico in a measure recognize dueling, and Mexico should repeal these laws before she seeks to establish the theory that the successful party must support for a life-time the family of his dead antagonist.

MR. FRANK G. CARPENTER has been interviewing Gov. McKinley for a number of the metropolitan journals. The apostle of high protection (?) enthusiastically responds to all the interviewer's interrogatories, but we notice a painful absence of everything touching free coinage and the tribulations surrounding the Ohio state treasury under Gov. McKinley's regime.

Some people hesitate to come to the Pecos valley, says the Irrigator, because they think that the population is of a rough class and unfit to associate with. Such is not the case. The class of people who have emigrated to the Pecos valley are not refugees from justice, but are Christian people who have come here to make for themselves homes in a land of peace and prosperity. To make such an accusation is to cast an insult at the grandest and noblest people that ever lived, and those who believe that the people of this valley are of a rough and ignorant class have drawn a conclusion that they themselves would admit to be wrong, had they the opportunity to judge. "By their fruits ye shall know them" applies very well to this case and by which a satisfactory decision could be reached.

HOLDING THE BAG.

The Denver & Rio Grande is a Colorado road, run first, last and all the time in the interest of Colorado in general and Denver in particular. It is strange, then, that the Denver press has not enough influence with its management to induce it to put on an early morning train out of that city. Such a train would give the splendid Denver dailies a chance to get into New Mexico twelve hours ahead of the St. Louis dailies. As it is now the Denver newspapers have to hold the bag every day in the year, and they've been holding it a long time.

THE HORIZON CLEARING.

The fact that Great Britain has officially spoken against any international conference for settlement of the silver question is being received with great gusto by the gold advocates of Europe, particularly in Germany and throughout England. The London press can not suppress its gleefulness over the situation. This is a subject on which the free coinage people also have cause for self-congratulation. That myth of a possible international agreement has kept many a true bimetalist from working earnestly with the more outspoken free coinage advocates. Now it must become clear that only through independent action on the part of the United States can the double standard of money, as provided by our country's constitution, be restored. We think Great Britain's announcement will have the effect of clearing up the horizon on this side of the water.

A TRIUMPH OF PROGRESS.

On July 13, 1895, electric power was received at the sub-station of the Sacramento Electric Power & Light company in Sacramento City from the great works of the company, twenty-two miles away, near the town of Folsom. At that point a massive stone dam, making a fall of eighty feet, has been built across the American river, a torrential stream, just as it emerges from the foot-hills of the western slope of the Sierra Nevada.

The power developed, as it is delivered, is 4,000 horse power. This is capable of indefinite increase as the demand for electricity for light or power may require.

On September 9 the citizens of Sacramento will celebrate the installation of this great work by a grand electric carnival, in which the Native Sons of the Golden West of California, to the estimated number of 10,000, will join. Sacramento cordially invites all the people everywhere to witness this splendid spectacle, and unite with her in celebrating a great triumph of energy, enterprise and progress.

PRESS COMMENT.

How to Run a Paper.

We were interviewed by a farmer this week who had a grievance against a newspaper, and who, much to our edification, told us how a paper ought to be run. We are still conducting the paper on our own way, but the idea that a man seldom notices how a paper is conducted until something the editor says hurts his feelings is more firmly impressed on our minds.—Tracey (Minn.) Trumpet.

France Hording Coin.

At the present time the Bank of France has in its coffers not only the largest stock of gold and silver in the world, but the amount has never been paralleled in the history of finance. The figures are colossal and, stated as they are, in francs, they are beyond the grasp of the average individual. Ten numerals in a row convey a very inadequate notion of the magnitude of the sum. Reduced into dollars, we find that the gold and silver reserves in possession of the Bank of France exceed the value of $660,000,000, of which, roughly speaking, something under two-thirds is in the more precious metal, the stock of silver amounting to about $250,000,000.—Exchange.

To Be a Grand State.

Some Colorado people have as poor and inadequate an idea of the resources of New Mexico as eastern people have of the resources of Colorado. New Mexico is going to be a grand state. It has splendid resources waiting for the right kind men to take hold of them. Immigration to New Mexico is slow but improving, and will increase still more in the next few years. A lot of Colorado people ought to go down there and attend the irrigation congress at Albuquerque next month. They can gain all sorts of interesting and valuable information not only about New Mexico but other attractive portions of the great sunny west half.—Pueblo Chieftain.

The PECOS VALLEY of . . . NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally. The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world. Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation. The cultivation of canvas—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit. The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring. Lands with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant, and at times rapid, increase in value. The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Feliz section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold. Heracles Belonged to no Club.

But a club belonged to heracles. You will never be able to wield a club in as lively a manner as that ultra-muscular chappie, but you may recover physical energy through the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, if you will take that thorough tonic with regularity and persistence, not spasmodically—by fits and starts. Begin at once if vigor is failing you, for debility is the certain parent of disease, so that delay is dangerous. Digestion, the function through the perfect discharge of which vigor is renewed, is insured by the Bitters. So are appetite, sleep and nerve quietude. For constipation, malaria, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble and biliousness the Bitters is unqualifiedly the best remedy extant. The restorative effects of a wine-glassful three times every day will soon make themselves manifest. Fortify the system and grow strong.

THE DEMON VIOLIN.

Crazy Paolo they called him. Wine, whisky, a little food and a night's lodging constituted his life at Hooley's to bang the miserable piano and play his violin. The violin so carefully looked in his case. He had finished a harrowing popular air at the piano for the twentieth consecutive time and stopped to take a drink from the glass at his elbow. Three or four big, hulking men near by stood looking at him stupidly from under their broad felt hats. The poker chips clicked at the gaming tables. Reagan, in response to an order, brought in a tray of liquors and cigars. Paolo reached for his case and almost reverently took out his violin. A little preliminary tuning, and it went to his shoulder. The bow was drawn over the strings, but so softly that none save himself heard the sound. Again it glided over the instrument, and then it began to wander for back and forth—now slowly, now swiftly, now tremulously.

As the truant bars of favorite operas, sad nocturnes and gay gavottes poured in to his yearning ear, his face lit up with strange joy. The vacant stare of the men near him changed to a dull curiosity. But the music was all for himself. It was only a moment's delicious communion with his violin he was having. Too well he knew that the next would bring a command to play some horrible song or dance. But the poker chips still clicked, the men about him said nothing, and Paolo continued to play for the single auditor—himself.

With the music his thoughts unconsciously went back to Italy. He and the violin had never parted since leaving the little Palermo home. The old mother and father had gone long ago; the father had left him all he had—the wonderful violin. Ah, that was good of the old father, but Giovanni did not think so. Where was Giovanni? A wild boy was Giovanni. He did not like the father's violin. It was the demon of the family; Giovanni said it had brought and would bring nothing but misfortune to them. The old father had done nothing but play it, and he had lived in distress, died in poverty. It would have been better had he left Paolo his curse than his violin.

As for Giovanni, he would have none of it, and he would become rich somehow. Yes, that was what he said. But Giovanni was not a musician—and a discontented smile stole over the lips of the pitiful wreck. Demon? Misfortune? Slanders on his dear violin! Had he not played to applauding thousands in Rome—in London—in New York? She had come to hear him, it was true, but was it the dear violin's fault that the dark-eyed actress, whom he married, deceived him and ruined his life?

"Here! Paolo, you dago! Wake up there and play us something lively," came a rough, good natured voice from behind the clouds of tobacco smoke. Just then a man came swinging into the room, a reckless, drunken determination on his face to assert himself in some boisterous way. He heard the command, looked sullenly toward the piano. Suddenly he seized the violin, tore it from the player's hands, and swinging it about his head brought it down upon the piano, smashing it to pieces. With a shriek like that of a wild and wounded animal Paolo gave a bound and caught the man by the throat. It was all over in a moment. They were grappling on the floor together; the man, drunk though he was, felt the hands strangling him were those of a maniac. He managed to reach his pistol. No one saw exactly how it was done, but the pistol was discharged, and Paolo arose to his feet. The other was dead!

The pistol shot, not the struggle on the floor, instantly brought every one in the room up standing. They gathered excitedly around, but Paolo, with a wail of grief, flung himself upon the piano and pressed the shattered violin to his heart. He kissed it and talked to it caressingly, pleadingly. It did not seem that he knew he had killed a man. He only knew that his violin was dead; that it would speak to him no more.

Soon the room was crowded, for the news had spread quickly. The dead man lay stretched upon the floor, and the crowd gazed morbidly at him and then at Crazy Paolo hugging his violin. Presently the sheriff bustled in, and all made way for him. He picked up the pistol and laid it aside. "Jim Reagan was the first to speak," "Crazy Paolo killed him, but in self defense."

"That's what he did, sheriff," came the popular western phrase in unison from the crowd. "Who is he?" asked the sheriff, bending over the prone figure. "Stranger," some one volunteered. The sheriff threw back the dead man's coat and started to search his pockets. He soon held up an envelope and read aloud the name in the address: "Giovanni Legardi!"

Paolo stood beside him and snatched the envelope from his hand. One glance at the name and a wild glare at the crowd that seemed to last a minute. The next instant he was on his knees, holding the face of his brother close to his own and seeming to look through it. Slowly he rose to his feet with a despairing moan. Suddenly his eyes became riveted upon an object. Before even one of the spellbound crowd divined his intention the forgotten pistol was in his hand, and another bullet had claimed a life. Crazy Paolo fell heavily to the floor, his arm thrown about his victim.

The full shook the fragile building. The ruined violin dropped from the piano and lay beside the brothers.—Exchange.

Still Hope. Her grief was intense. "How can I ever hold up my head?" she sobbed. For a time no sound was heard, save the sound of her lamentations. "How can I ever hold up my head?" Presently there grew calm and decided that there was no alternative but to take a smaller hat.

Meanwhile she would make every effort to strengthen the muscles of her neck.—Detroit Tribune.

Frigid. "Was it cool where you spent your vacation?" "Cool? I should say it was. I went away for a couple of days and returned unexpectedly. I found the old farmer wearing one of my shirts and my straw hat, his eyes away at a picnic in my best clothes, and his wife straining jelly through my white flannel coat, and all they said was, 'We hadn't been expectin' you hum so soon.' It was the coolest family I ever struck."—Life.

HIS FIRST EXPERIENCE.

He Was a Trifle Bashful and Didn't Know the Ways.

It was a self evident fact that I was rattled. Any one would have been. When my landlady escorted me to the dining room and introduced me to her household collectively and then left me standing there like an ossified idiot, without even deigning to show me a seat, it both angered and rattled me. I succeeded in concealing my ill temper, but the fact that I was rattled became painfully patent.

I sat down in the first vacant seat and tried to look as if I was in the bosom of my family.

The man opposite sympathetically prescribed the electrical treatment for facial paralysis. Upon thinking this over calmly I am forced to believe that he was attempting to guy me.

Then a line of servants charged upon me. Dishes were presented on both sides, and the boy handed the butter from the opposite side of the table. The dish on the left contained onions. I loathe onions. That on the right was an unknown quantity. It looked like strawberry shortcake and smelled like ham. I was driven to the butter.

The butter dish had a handle that resembled a miniature Aro de Triomphe. In addition to this the bottom moved around like the perforated interior of a soap dish. I gracefully inserted the butter knife under the Aro de Triomphe and tried to slice off a piece of the composition. Then a most mysterious thing occurred—the inner dish turned as if on an invisible axis and gracefully dumped the butter into my neighbor's lap.

He remarked, "—!" and hurriedly left the room.

This did not add to my composure. I suddenly became conscious of a presence in the room. The landlady had returned and was stonily regarding the remains of the butter.

It was a hot day, and I feared that during my struggles I might have wilted my collar. I need not have feared—the atmosphere around me had become chilly and remained so.

I grew more rattled. I put a spoonful of sugar in my glass of water. I inadvertently appropriated my left hand neighbor's place of bread which he had laid down beside his plate. This angered him. He made an uncomplimentary remark about my check. I felt that I was blushing violently.

I rubbed my plate the wrong way with my knife, and it "squeaked." Every one looked at me. My tongue began to thicken and my head to swim. A hand touched me on the shoulder, and a voice said: "Beg pardon, but you are occupying my seat."

In desperation I pushed back my chair, partially overturning my right hand neighbor—arose—collided with a waitress—causing her to invert a dish of onions on a middle-aged lady's coquettish curled head—and rushed to the door followed by several rather nasty remarks.

"Sure." "And fast?" "Fast? Those horses will show you a 2:30 clip any day!"

So the innocent purchaser bought them, but the next morning he was back again, his hair curling in indignation. "Fast!" he shrieked. "Did you not say they were fast?"

The man in plaid trousers bowed. "Two thirty horses, I think you said!" cried the innocent purchaser sarcastically. The man in plaid trousers bowed again.

"Why, man," yelled the innocent purchaser, "I can't get 'em a mile in less than five minutes!"

"Well, ain't that 2:30 a piece?" retorted the man in plaid trousers, his words blaring. "What you yowling round here about?"

Then the innocent purchaser came to himself and got off the premises. He realized that if he fell down there in a fit the horse man would charge him hospital rates.—New York Recorder.

Pure Friendship. He—Do you know this question of street car etiquette is getting to be very complicated?

She—How so? He—Well, there was a time when it would have been considered a terrible offense against manners for a man not to give up his seat to a woman. As it is, women have forced themselves into an equality with men to such an extent that it isn't required so much. Half of them don't even stop to thank one.

She—Then you don't always give up your seat to a lady? He—That depends. I discriminate. If she is young, pretty and charming, I always make an exception and offer my seat.

She—Oh, I see. What would you do in my case? He—That's different. You are a friend.—Brooklyn Life.

Beneficial Exercise. Clam—I have not seen Mr. Niofello with you lately.

Maude—He is practicing at the boat club. "I did not know he cared for rowing." "He doesn't, but he joined a crew to please me."

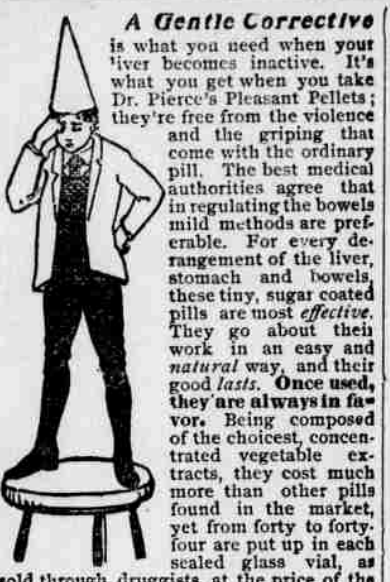

"To please you?" "Yes. I thought rowing would strengthen his arms."—New York Weekly.

Photographer—Great Scott! Do you want a picture without any mouth at all? We pared it down three inches already.—Texas Sittings.

Those Foolish Questions. Stiffkins (a neighbor)—Hello, Jones, what you doing? Laying down a carpet?

Jones (who has just whacked his thumb)—No, you blasted idiot; the carpet was here when we moved in. I am just putting the floor under it.—Truth.

A Gentle Corrective is what you need when your liver becomes inactive. It's what you get when you take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets; they're free from the violence and the griping that come with the ordinary pill. The best medical authorities agree that in regulating the bowels mild methods are preferable. For every derangement of the liver, stomach and bowels, these tiny, sugar coated pills are most effective. They go about their work in an easy and natural way, and their good lasts. Once used, they are always in favor. Being composed of the choicest, concentrated vegetable extracts, they cost much more than other pills found in the market, yet from forty to forty cents a box, put up in each sealed glass vial, as sold through druggists, at the price of the cheaper made pills.

Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, heart-burn, pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Put up in sealed glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable. Whether as a laxative, or in larger doses, as a gently acting but searching cathartic, these little "Pellets" are unequalled.

As a "dinner pill" to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules. Any child readily takes them.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, but it is not the one who needs help.

A free sample (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address upon receipt of name and address on postal card. Address: WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

Are you taking KING'S LIVER REGULATOR, the "KING OF LIVER MEDICINES?" That is what our readers want, and nothing but that. It is the same old friend to which the old folks pinned their faith and were never disappointed. But another good recommendation for it, that it is BETTER THAN PILLS, never gripes, never weakens, but works in such an easy and natural way just like nature itself, that relief comes quick and sure, and one feels new all over. IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Cases Argued and Submitted—An Adjourned Session in October Agreed Upon—General Removal of U. S. Commissioners Forecast.

In the supreme court yesterday afternoon, the case of the Territory of New Mexico vs. Maximiano Griego, convicted of murder in Socorro county, was argued and submitted. Solicitor General Viceroy and District Attorney Dougherty represented the territory and Judge Freeman the appellant.

Cases were set for hearing at the adjourned session in October, as follows: October 7.—No. 589, Lyndonville National Bank vs. S. M. Folsom; No. 584, First National Bank of Albuquerque vs. Jno. A. Lee.

October 8.—No. 384, Territory vs. Patrick Carmody; No. 586, Strauss vs. Smith; October 9.—No. 585, Johnson vs. Galle; No. 610, Robinson vs. Territory; October 10.—No. 612, Union Trust Company vs. A. T. & S. F. R. Co.; Postal Telegraph Cable Co., intervenor; No. 617, Stanton vs. Catron.

October 12.—No. 620, Gentile vs. Kennedy; No. 635, Territory vs. Romero. In the cases of the United States vs. Daniel de Gracia and Pascual Cutillo, convicted of adultery, the appeals not yet perfected, the judgments of the lower courts were affirmed and the defendants were sent to the penitentiary, the former for six months and the latter for one year.

The case of the Territory vs. Manuel Gregorio Vigil, convicted of assault with intent to kill in Taos county, was argued and submitted to-day. Mr. W. H. Pope represented the territory and Catron & Spies represented the appellant.

This is the last case that will be heard by the court until the first Monday in October. The justices will meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of handing down such opinions as have been matured and making such orders as may be met.

It is understood that the judges of the court have been conferring among themselves regarding the advisability of removing, by a general sweeping order in each judicial district, all U. S. commissioners heretofore appointed, and that they have arrived at the determination to take this course. It is said that, if there was no other reason for this course, the uncertainty existing as to who are and who are not legally entitled to act as such officials is sufficient justification. Many appointments have since their appointments been elected to and have discharged the duties of other offices, which might be held to have been an abandonment of the office of commissioner, and others have so neglected their duties as commissioners as to have almost forgotten that they were in fact incumbents of such an office. Others have removed out of the districts in which they were appointed and some out of the territory. For all these reasons a general uncertainty prevails, which could be cleared up, and new commissioners appointed as to whom right to act there can not possibly be any question. Such is the view of the situation taken by the court.

Col. T. M. Jones, superintendent of the government Indian school, to-day conferred with officers of the Board of Trade on a subject of the utmost importance to the business interests of this community. The matter should have earnest attention.

Augustin Delgado, son-in-law of Sheriff Romero, has entered upon his duties as deputy sheriff of San Miguel county and has put his shoulders to the desk already, says a Las Vegas paper. Mr. Delgado is one of Santa Fe's cleverest native sons. Success to him.

Judge Downs, Capt. Henry Davis, Capt. T. W. Collier, Capt. Smith H. Simpson, and possibly Col. Geo. W. Knaebel, will represent the G. A. R. of New Mexico at the national annual encampment to be held next month at Louisville, Ky. Judge Downs leaves on Sunday, going via Wisconsin to visit his mother.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

An Appeal for Funds to Purchase a Rare Collection of Ancient Pottery.

To the Editor of the New Mexican.

Santa Fe, Aug. 27.—So much has been said and written at various times as to the importance of keeping the best specimens of New Mexican antiquities in New Mexico itself, that it is not worth while to enlarge on that subject now. Full of objects of interest as our territory is, it would be a shame if we did not preserve a collection of them to remain in their own locality to the end of time. Yet a few years ago it really seemed as if the only part of the world where there would not be such a collection was New Mexico itself. The Smithsonian Institute and National Museum were swooping down every year and carrying off our choicest relics. Foreign museums were being filled while we were being deprived of the historic objects that would be of most interest to us in the future.

It has been the aim of the Historical Society to preserve to the territory as far as possible a collection of all its antiquities. It has to work almost without means, and so can do but little comparatively, but still it has succeeded to some extent. The purchase of the Cole collection was a great point, but that was done by private subscriptions of public spirited citizens.

Now another opportunity presents itself. We all know that the finest old pottery is only found in the western part of Socorro county. It is beautiful, curious and rare, and good specimens always bring good prices. The Historical Society has never been able to buy but a few pieces, while a number of admirable collections have gone east or to Europe.

I have a letter before me from one of the best known excavators, accompanied by a photograph of a collection he now has for sale. It includes samples of all its antiquities, and about forty others slightly injured. It is worth at usual rates about $600. The owner needs money quickly and it can be bought, now, for $200. The territorial society ought to have it and keep it here forever. This can only be done if patriotic people will immediately come forward and furnish the money.

I appeal therefore for immediate responses to secure this collection. Send the money, and if not enough is secured, it will be returned. Perhaps some one man or woman will send the $200 and have the collection named for him or her. But do not wait for that. Send what you can, by first mail, and we will secure the prize. Every good New Mexican should help about this. L. BRADFORD PRINCE, President N. M. Historical Society. Will the newspapers of the territory please copy this and thus help the work?

Notice.

I wish to announce to the public that in connection with my fall stock of millinery, which has arrived, I also received a fine assortment of ladies' and children's underwear, ladies' winter wraps of latest design and very cheap; beautiful line of gloves and handkerchiefs; new lot of stamped linen goods, crocheted cottons, knitting and embroidery silk, novelty braids, etc. Am ready to receive orders for fall and winter hats and bonnets, as my stock is already in. PROMISES OF PLENTY.

Weather Conditions Continue Favorable to Crops Throughout New Mexico—Harvesting in Progress—Ranges Luxuriant.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, Weather Bureau, Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 24, 1896.

The first part of the week was generally warm and dry, conditions that were very favorable for maturing and ripening corn and grain. The latter part of the week was more or less cloudy, slightly cooler, with occasional showers. Western Grant county was favored with some excellent showers which were badly needed in that locality as very little rain had fallen in that vicinity for the season.

The heaviest rainfall reported for the week was 1.90 inches at Gila in western Grant county. This will be of great value to the stock ranges in that vicinity.

Heavy rains occurred at other parts of the territory also, Rincon reporting 1.63 inches for the week and Santa Fe 1.60 and Las Vegas 0.91 of an inch.

All growing crops have made good progress but warm dry weather would be most desirable now for maturing the corn crop and to facilitate harvesting. All crops are in good condition and the outlook very favorable. The stock ranges are as near perfection generally as could ever be expected and fat beef is the order of the day.

The following extracts from a few of the reports received at the office will be of interest:

Alma.—Wm. French.—Nice gentle rains on the 20th, 21st and 22d, helped the grass on the ranges very much; and, although not a great quantity fell, the rains came at night and the days remaining cloudy, the growth was considerable. Bernalillo.—Brother Gabriel.—Weather quite dry and sultry up to 21st. Heavy rain on the 22d during the night amounting to 0.52 of an inch. Crops continue to be in good condition all along. Grazing is reported fine in the adjacent country and cattle in flourishing condition.

Ciruela.—A. M. Hollenbeck.—The week has been very favorable for growing crops and the maturing of oats and wheat. The last of the week was somewhat cloudy with occasional showers. Corn has been growing fine the last week. Grass still improving and stock in fine condition.

Eddy.—Geo. W. Lane.—Week has been marked by high temperatures and humidity but no precipitation has occurred. Vegetation of all kinds in splendid condition. Plenty of water in reservoirs, canals and ditches. Stock of all kinds is thriving on abundant and nutritious food.

Escondido.—Jim Curry.—The week has been very favorable for all crops, which are in excellent condition.

Fort Union.—C. C. Everhart.—Two good showers this week and grass on ranges looks fine.

Gallinas Springs.—J. E. Whitmore.—The past week has been fine for corn. There have been local rains in all directions and a nice shower fell on the 23d, which we needed for unirrigated crops. The grass crop is the best since 1880.

Gila.—Chas. H. Lyons.—Splendid rain on the 21st amounting to 1.75 inches, and it was badly needed. It will be of great benefit to farmers and to the stock ranges. Fruit, vegetables and grain are all doing well.

Las Cruces.—New Mexico Agricultural College.—The weather has been somewhat cloudy and humid. Crops are not suffering from dry or moist weather. The early crop of corn is the only one that is in any way affected by the unusual amount of rainfall. This kind of weather is favorable to fungus growth.

Las Vegas.—Dr. F. H. Atkins.—The weather has been fairly favorable to crops. Much of the second crop of alfalfa has been saved. Small grains are being cut. Corn is still maturing slowly, and needs steadier and greater heat. The weather has been by no means hot; moderately cloudy, moderately moist.

Los Alamos.—Wm. Frank.—Cutting of wheat and oats progressing nicely and corn doing well.

Lower Pecos.—H. Von Basse.—The week has been hot and dry, very favorable for the advancement of crops. Oats are being harvested in good condition. A good rain is needed.

Puerto de Luna.—P. R. Page.—Crop of alfalfa has been cut and stacked this week. All crops doing well and every prospect of plenty of corn and beans. Hay is being cut all over the country. Horses flies are very bad and wolves are killing a great many calves.

Rancho de Taos.—Alex. Gusdorf.—Harvest has commenced. Wheat and oats being cut as rapidly as possible. Weather conditions favorable for the work.

Raton.—P. H. Smith.—For the past week the weather has been quite warm, some cloudy days with light showers. All crops being secured in fine condition. Much hay is being cut on the range.

Rincon.—C. H. Raitt.—Week closed with heavy rains, which still continue. Corn is growing rapidly. There was but little variation in the high temperature until the 24th, when a break was made for lower figures.

Roswell.—Scott Truxton.—Exceptionally fine weather for growing crops. Clear and warm with an average relative humidity of 60 per cent. Grass on range knee high, all seeded out and fully matured. Slight losses to alfalfa crops from rains, all other crops doing well. Conditions all first-class.

Winsor's Ranch.—H. D. Winsor.—During the past week the weather has been most favorable for all kinds of crops. Range and range cattle are in splendid condition.

The Bike's Popularity.

A local biker tells the New Mexican that the wheel manufacturers are fully three months behind in supplying the demand, and incidentally he remarks how the cycling interest is spreading out. In many instances wholesale jewelry houses, sewing machine and wagon factories are going into the making of wheels, and the prediction is made that $30 will next year buy a very serviceable wheel. In some western towns, he says, the bicycles are becoming a part of the regular equipment of the livery barns, half a dozen wheels being kept on hand to be rented to patrons.

Engagement rings are pledges of the most joyous event in one's life. They point to the coming establishment of a new family in the state. No man ever does a handsomer act than placing the engagement ring upon the finger of his betrothed, and a man ought to choose the token with due care, as he does his future wife. There isn't any doubt about it, the greatest place in the town for young men to select engagement rings is at Spitz's grand jewelry emporium. He presents a sparkling array of them from the cheapest to the most costly.
