VOL. 32.

SANTA FE, N. M., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1895.

NO 163

Be secure against undesirable night visitors. Lock up good and tight, not only your house, but your barns and other outbuildings. There is no safety without locks. Thieves will come, and when they come they will come in unless they're kept out. You can not tell what it may cost you to be without locks and hence unsecured. The cost of trustworthy and serviceable locks is too small to make it worth while to neglect precautions. We carry the best locks now made and show many different styles. Get a good lock and know the luxury of feeling that your belongings are safe.

VALUABLE LAND ACCRETIONS AT CHICAGO

Gen. Coppinger Discusses the Jackson Hole Trouble—The Bannocks were Not to Blame—Would Not Say Boo to a Goose.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The receipts of the United States in August were as follows: From customs, $15,639,049, increase for the month, $1,562,008; internal revenue, $12,172,104, decrease, $726,391; miscellaneous, $1,141,544, decrease, $952,844; total receipts, $28,953,696, against $40,417,605 for August, 1894, when the whisky withdrawals were immense on account of the new tariff law.

The loss in receipts for August, as compared with July, was $117,001. The expenditures during August amounted to $27,688,184, against $38,545,068 for July.

The excess of expenditures over the receipts, during August, was $3,635,488, and for the two months of the present fiscal year, $12,113,354.

INVOLVING VALUABLE ACCRETIONS OF LAND.

The acting secretary of the interior has rendered three important decisions regarding the ownership of immensely valuable accretions of lands lying north of the Chicago river in the city of Chicago.

The gist of the decisions is that the land does not belong to the United States government, but probably does belong to the state of Illinois.

COPPINGER ON JACKSON HOLE "WAR." Gen. Coppinger, who had command of the recent military expedition to the Jackson Hole country, to-day had a conference with Secretary Lamont, to which the commissioner of Indian affairs was invited.

"I do not consider that the Indians were to blame for the Jackson Hole affair," said Gen. Coppinger at the close of the conference. "They are entirely quiet now and have been. In fact they would not say boo to a goose."

One question, which the general brought to the attention of Secretary Lamont and Commissioner Browning was as to the advisability of annexing the Jackson Hole country to the Yellowstone National park.

He suggested that this action would solve the problem by preventing all parties from hunting and fishing in that section, and said that, as the country was not densely settled, he thought that there would be comparatively little difficulty in making the change.

Commissioner Browning, replying to the suggestion, said that in the first place it would be a matter for Secretary Smith and then for congress to consider, adding that he did not know how the people of Wyoming would regard it.

Gen. Coppinger had his report on the Indian trouble with him and it was gone over quite thoroughly. The report has been turned over to Secretary Lamont.

The general declined to say whether he made any recommendations for the continuance of troops in the Jackson Hole country or for the punishment of the participants in the trouble.

THE MARKETS.

MILLIONS ON BOTH SIDES.

Retrolath of Gertrude Vanderbilt and Moses Taylor Announced—Both Are Immensely Rich.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 3.—The engagement of Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt and Moses Taylor, though not formally announced, is now conceded by their friends. The great fortune of Miss Vanderbilt is almost matched by the millions of Mr. Taylor.

He is the second son of Henry A. C. Taylor and the inheritance came from his grandfather, Moses Taylor, one of the most successful and respected old time merchants.

Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Decidedly Probable.

Laheming, Mich., Sept. 3.—The only exciting feature in the strike situation to-day was the burning of the headquarters of the strikers in Union park. It is thought that the place was fired by some one not in sympathy with the strikers.

KANSAS SILVER PICNIC.

Three Ex-Congressmen, Including Neekless Jer. y. Addressed a Large Crowd of Populists Near Lawrence.

Lawrence, Kan., Sept. 3.—A silver picnic was held to-day at Washington Grove, near Seigle. It was arranged by the Populist central committee. The principal speaker was ex-Congressman Jerry Simpson. The other speakers were Hon. R. W. Sparr, of Lawrence, and ex-Congressman H. L. Moore and W. A. Harris. Fire works to-night will close the picnic.

Twenty-five Horses Cremated. Washington, Ind., Sept. 3.—The Fleming's livery stable at Petersburg, ten miles south of here, burned to-day. Twenty-five horses were cremated. The opera house and Read building also burned. The loss amounts to $50,000, partially insured.

THE YELLOW STUFF.

Mysterious Deposit of $2,000,000 in Sub-Treasury—Another Gold Shipment to Europe.

New York, Sept. 3.—The government bond syndicate to-day deposited $2,000,000 in gold at the sub-treasury.

The deposit was made by the Farmers' Loan & Trust company. It is possible that this deposit is for the bond syndicate, but it has not been credited to the government.

Neslage & Fuller will ship $100,000 in gold to-morrow.

Hoskir, Wood & Co. will ship $1,000,000 in gold to-morrow.

Deadly Fight Over Hay.

Perry, O. T., September 3.—Thirty miles north of here, in Kay county, William Knapp and U. S. Oller fought over some hay. Oller cut Knapp badly with an axe and Knapp broke both of Oller's arms and stuck a pitchfork through his abdomen. Oller is dead and Knapp can not live.

Died of His Injuries.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 3.—William H. Pointer, of Newark, N. J., injured in the Sea Beach railroad wreck, at Woodlawn station, yesterday afternoon, died this morning. The other injured are doing well.

Comfort to Eugene Debs.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 3.—The three unions here of the A. R. U. yesterday met and wired the following to Eugene V. Debs:

"To Eugene V. Debs, Woodstock, Ill.: Although you are a prisoner, deprived of your liberty by a rotten administration of justice at the bidding of the railroads and their servants, the judges, the common people are today worshipping at your altar. The seeds you have sown will soon bear fruit. The time will soon come when labor will get its rights, or it will take them. You will yet pilot them to a harbor of safety just as the star guided the wise men to the crib of our Lord. God bless you."

Exciting Chase After a Thief.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Five hundred people chased a thief through State street to-day and aided in the capture of a prisoner, who gave his name as James Williams, of San Francisco. He was caught robbing the till of the Masonic Temple association of a large sum of money.

Finance in London.

London, Sept. 3.—The general condition of the stock market is unchanged. The cheapness of money is still forcing up prices of good investment securities. Foreigners are rather neglected, but in other markets are experiencing the benefit of better feeling and increased activity. The speculators of the whole world are being attracted by the African boom. Paris is a heavy buyer, while Germany and Austria are buying heavily. Chartered south Africans have touched 8 1/2. Argentine are strong. The market for guns and ammunition is firm on Japanese orders for war material. The welcome Erie scheme of reorganization has given a renewed spurt to American railway stocks all around.

Hindoo Procession Assaulted.

Bombay, Sept. 3.—A party of Mohammedans attacked a Hindoo procession. The police fired upon the rioters, killing five Mohammedans outright and wounding fifty, of whom five have since died.

PASS COUNTERFEITERS.

Four Persons Charged with Counterfeiting Southern Pacific Railroad Passes Arrested.

New York, Sept. 3.—J. Levison, Joseph Linear and W. M. Barnett, who, with Clarence Barnett, of this city, are charged with having counterfeited Southern Pacific railroad passes, were arrested yesterday by the Drummond agency. Barnett was arrested at San Antonio, Levison at Houston and Linear in Lexington, La.

Japs Contracting for War Ships.

London, Sept. 3.—It is stated that the Japanese government has contracted with a ship building firm at Glasgow for the construction of five war ships, the cost of which will be nearly $5,000,000.

AMERICA WINS AT CHESS.

Uncle Sam Can Beat John Bull in at Least One Game—Result of Chess Tournament.

Hastings, Eng., Sept. 3.—The last two games of the international chess tournament were finished to-day. Tschigorin beat Schlechter and Teichman beat Mason.

The final results are: First prize, H. N. Pillsbury, American, 16 1/2 wins; second prize, M. T. Tschigorin, 16 wins; third prize, E. Lasker, 15 1/2 wins; fourth prize, Dr. S. Tarrasch, 14 wins; fifth prize, Wm. Steitz, 13 wins; sixth prize, R. S. Chiffers, 12 wins; seventh prize, C. D. Bardeleben and Reichmann, 11 1/2 wins each.

DEATH OF A PIONEER.

Judge Finely, One of the First Officials of Arizona, Crosses the Dark River.

Prescott, A. T., Sept. 3.—Judge Henry Finely, who came to Arizona with the first set of territorial officers in 1863, died last night of a nervous disease. Judge Finely served as secretary and also as acting governor during the early history of Arizona.

Married.

The marriage of Fernando Pena's son and Romulo Chavez's daughter took place at Galisteo chapel yesterday, Rev. Father Maynez officiating. The event was celebrated last night by a grand dance at the home of Capt. Sylvester Davis.

A Paralyzing Bolt.

During a storm on Thursday evening last, lightning struck a big cotton-wood tree in front of Capt. Sylvester Davis' house at Galisteo. A wire was suspended from the tree to a post under the house portal. Along this wire the lightning flew and went down the post into the earth, a big chunk of iron ore at the base of the post serving to attract it. The sparks flew out for forty feet round about. Capt. Davis was under the portal, and for three seconds was rendered dumb by the shock. When he recovered his first thought was of his family. He entered the family sitting room and found the fourteen persons composing his family circle sitting bolt upright like so many dummies. They were completely paralyzed by the shock. Capt. Davis procured buckets of water and doused each one of them, and in a few minutes all were restored, save his eldest daughter. It took much effort to bring her back to life, but the cold water douses did it, and all are to-day as well as ever.

Hon. Geo. Curry.

District Clerk George Curry, returning from Socorro, where he had been in attendance at court, reached Lincoln last Monday. This is Mr. Curry's old home, and his friends, who are many, were glad to greet him. He will return in a few days to Socorro, taking with him his family, who have been spending several weeks in Lincoln visiting friends and relatives, and there remain for a month, returning thence to Roswell. Mr. Curry is among the staunchest and best known Democrats in New Mexico. In Lincoln county he is exceedingly popular, and has never asked for an office that was not given to him. The News hopes that when his present term of office expires he will return and again become a citizen of Lincoln.—Lincoln County News.

The Healer in Denver

Says the Denver Times: "From time to time in the passing of the ages, persons have arisen who have possessed extraordinary influence over their fellow beings. They have learned to use the secrets of thought transmission of magnetism involved. They are literally inspired. The man, Francis Schlader, is no exception. He is a man of faith in his divine mission that he commands confidence. He exacts faith of all who would be healed and he means faith in a divine power working through him.

"As this is a world ruled by unchangeable laws, many claims made by so called healers are not justified, but there is no doubt that much can be done through the power of thought. It is to be hoped that scientific men will not consider the work of Francis Schlader beneath their notice, and that they may take the opportunity to investigate what is at least a physical phenomenon."

All Serene at the Land Office.

Miss Laura B. Marsh, of this city, resumed her desk as clerk in the office of the register of the local U. S. land office this morning, much to the gratification of Register Walker and the young lady's many other friends, who believe that, so far as possible, residents of New Mexico should have the preference in the distribution of official positions in the territory.

Several months ago Mr. R. L. Moore, an estimable gentleman, was sent to Santa Fe from Arkansas by the commissioner of the general land office to assist the officials of the U. S. land office of this city in the handling of quite a large volume of anticipated extra business, known as "small holdings," growing out of the adjudications of the U. S. court of private land claims.

At that time Miss Marsh was most satisfactorily discharging the duties of clerk in the office of the register, a position to which she was appointed by Judge Walker when he assumed charge of the office.

Everything moved along smoothly until the 1st of July, when the general land office declined to make any further allowance for the salary of Miss Marsh, and indicated that Mr. Moore was expected in future to perform the duties of general clerk in the office.

This was not satisfactory to Judge Walker, who justly contended that as he was held responsible for the manner in which the office was conducted, he should be privileged to designate his own clerk. He accordingly retained Miss Marsh at his own expense during July and entered a vigorous protest against the arrangement proposed.

But having received nothing satisfactory from Washington in the meanwhile, Judge Walker reluctantly parted with the services of his clerk on the 1st of August, and she entered upon what she supposed would be a long vacation from official work.

But before August expired the commissioner of the general land office recognized the justice of Judge Walker's protest and authorized him to restore Miss Marsh to her former place in his office on the 1st of September, with the understanding that Mr. Moore would chiefly devote himself to the work incident to disposing of the small holdings. So all is now serene at the U. S. land office.

Bishop Chapelle.

At the request of Father Mandalaria, Most Rev. Bishop Chapelle will leave Santa Fe during fall week and deliver a lecture here under the auspices of the Catholic Knights of America. The bishop will be here two days, the guest of the Jesuit Fathers. The presence of this distinguished divine will afford great pleasure to many Albuquerqueans. Early in October it is expected that Mr. Stoll, accompanied by Cardinal Gibbons, will be in Santa Fe to confer the pallium upon Archbishop Chapelle. This will be an event of unusual interest, and many people from this city and other New Mexico and Arizona towns will attend.—Albuquerque Democrat.

New Mexican Printing Co.,
Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3.

Half of all the Washington correspondents tell of Gen. Miles and his management of the Geronimo campaign is true, it may be set down as most improbable that he will succeed Gen. Schofield when that officer retires from the army on the 29th instant.

A PHILADELPHIA wool dealer has returned from a trip to Montana with the pleasing intelligence that western wool growers will receive $8,000,000 more for their wool this year than they expected. The Republican calamity howlers should cut this out and paste it in their hats.

It is now semi-officially announced that the Waller affair has been discussed by the French and American ministers in a most friendly spirit. It is somewhat improbable that France, with all Europe, except Russia, awaiting a chance to jump upon her, would go out of her way to seek trouble with the United States.

They do say that the Hon. D. P. Carr was hitting very close at the Hon. A. L. Morrison, when he spoke of the citizen of "Milesian extraction" who has organized a New Mexico McKinley bureau with his eye on the governorship. But who wrote those letters knifing the Hon. L. B. Prince? Mr. Carr should come again.

QUAY's victory in Pennsylvania was a bitter dose for Gen. Harrison. Quay is first of all a Reed man. He will endeavor to swing Pennsylvania's big delegation to the next Republican convention for the "czar," but in case that should fail he will cheerfully play McKinley against Harrison and Allison. Plenty of Republican "harmony" in sight there!

Texas statutes appear to need an overhauling, not only in the prize fighting line, but in other respects. Some negroes poured kerosene on a boy's head over there the other day and set fire to it, "just to see him jump." The boy was burned to death. Under Texas law this is not "premeditated murder," and one year in prison is the limit of statutory punishment.

The latest estimate of the wheat produced by the several countries puts Russia at the head of the list with 415,153,000 bushels. The United States come second with 400,017,000. India takes third place with 237,456,000. The total product is estimated at 2,402,671,000 bushels. There is no sign of over production in this amount. The trouble in the market is that a good many people are not able to buy wheat.

As for Dan Stuart's "physical culture" exhibit in Texas, few people doubt that it will come off on schedule time. Gov. Culberson will no doubt use his best efforts to prevent it, but public sentiment is so strongly in favor of it, at least public sentiment in Dallas is, that it will be a very great surprise if the meeting is interfered with. There is a Texas statute against prize fighting, but, as no law can be violated until the fight comes off, there is very little danger of arrests prior to the meeting.

WRONG AGAIN.

Brer McCutchen, of the Socorro Advertiser, who claims to own the only brand of Democracy worth having, says that:

"When the New Mexican makes an announcement of Democratic (?) doctrine, and Democratic newspapers except, it proves the correctness of its position by the Socorro Chieftain—perhaps equally reliable as a Democratic authority."

Wrong again. The New Mexican simply quoted the Socorro Chieftain, a Republican paper, to emphasize the fact that the Albuquerque Citizen had lied about the use of the court funds. If we mistake not the Advertiser indorsed the position of the Citizen in the premises.

PREJUDGING THE CASE.

Some days ago charges were filed in the territorial supreme court alleging unprofessional offenses of a very grave nature against a prominent law firm.

The filing of the charges was promptly reported in our news columns, and the New Mexican, believing that during the pendency of the case it was the duty of the press to refrain from editorial comment thereon, to the end that it should not be prejudged one way or the other, has made no comments in the premises.

It therefore notices with regret that some of the Republican newspapers of the territory, notably the Albuquerque Citizen, Raton Range and Silver City Enterprise, without being in any way informed of the truth of the charges, have

"rushed into print," and undertaken to prejudge the case. They have made violent attacks upon the district attorney for filing these charges and have attempted to make the pending trial of these accused attorneys a political issue. Until the evidence has been given and it is known upon what facts these serious accusations are based, it is impossible for any of these journals to know whether or not the district attorney was justified in presenting them.

Certainly, if upon investigation it be found that the charges are true, then no respectable journal, for political or other reasons, can afford to complain at the course of the district attorney, and assuredly it is very bad form, besides being a gross violation of every rule of journalistic ethics, for these newspapers to attempt to try the case in their columns and create a prejudice in the public mind for or against the accused pending a hearing of the case in court.

SIGNIFICANT ADMISSIONS.

The significant admission comes from New York that for several years the governments of Europe have been coming just as little silver as possible. The same remark is measurably true of the United States. Manifestly the powers, under the domination of the powerful gold trust, have systematically employed this method, notably in the closing of the Indian mints against silver, to bear the white metal and correspondingly to enhance the value of gold. But the very dispatch that contains this confession admits that, on account of the reappearance of orders for silver from foreign countries for minting purposes, it is difficult to keep the metal below the 67 mark, as the demand for it is steadily increasing. Clearly if a great and powerful nation like the United States should now step courageously to the front as the champion of silver the gold monometallists would have to cease their unscrupulous effort to boycott the white metal. The times and conditions are ripe for just such a move.

POZZONI'S

Combines every element of beauty and purity. It is beautifying, soothing, healing, healthful, and harmless, and when rightly used is invisible. A most delicate and desirable protection to the face in this climate.

Insist upon having the genuine.

IT IS FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

The PECOS VALLEY of . . . NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.
The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.
Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation.
The cultivation of cannage—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.
The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.
Lands with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant, and at times rapid, increase in value.
The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Felix section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

For Sale Everywhere.

THE FORUM will take up for discussion, during 1895, an unusually wide range of timely and important topics by the most eminent writers in the fields of Politics, Finance, Sociology, Literature, Religion, Art, and Science.

To read The Forum is to keep in touch with the best thought of the day.

To be without The Forum is to miss the best help to clear thinking.

A catalogue of the writers who have contributed articles to THE FORUM in the past would embrace practically every man of eminence in America, and most of those in Europe. A list of subjects treated would cover in the widest degree all topics of contemporaneous interest. THE FORUM is therefore of inestimable value to any one who desires to keep closely in touch with the best of current thought.

SUNBEAMS.

About a Revolver.—The gentleman from the southwest had penetrated a gun store and was interviewing the clerk. "I suppose, he said, you've got guns for sale?" "Certainly, sir; that's our business. Well, I want one. What kind? A Winchester? No. I want a pocket piece. Oh, a revolver? We have the very latest, and he began to lay out an array of deadly weapons. "What's this one?" asked the customer, picking up one and examining it. "That's the hammerless safety; one of the best made. The customer laid it down promptly. "Well, I ain't no use in my business, he said. I ain't lookin' for a safety gun. What I want is something that a man can do execution with."

Short Intervals of Peace

Only are vouchsafed to nerves weak and unstrung, but when it is braided up and soothed by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, perfect tranquility reigns night and day throughout the nervous system. Nervousness is usually a manifestation of chronic dyspepsia, a disorder to the relief of which the Bitters is peculiarly adapted. In the general vigor begotten of complete digestion and assimilation, the functions aided by this auxiliary of health, the nerves of course share. Nervous people should use it steadily, not at uncertain intervals. The bilious and constipated, and those troubled with malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble, also derive unequipped benefit from it. The aged and infirm find that it tends greatly to lessen their physical troubles; and persons slowly recovering strength after an exhausting illness convalesce more rapidly when it is resorted to. It is, moreover, a capital appetizer.

A Bond of Sympathy.—Mrs. Hicks: "This paper tells about a hunting dog that has formed a strange attachment for an old hen. How do you account for that?" Mr. Sport: "Probably they are both settlers."

Wants a Change.—He: I think your family name is such a fine one. She: Do you? I get dreadfully tired of it.

Last August while working in the harvest field I became overheated, was suddenly attacked with cramps and was nearly dead. Mr. Cummings, the druggist, gave me a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which completely relieved me. I now keep a bottle of the remedy handy. A. M. Bunnell, Centerville, Wash. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

After the Opera.—She: That tenor was positively painful, wasn't he? He: Not more so than the tenor I gave up for the seats.

Name twelve animals of the polar regions, said the professor, and the despairing student wrote: Six seals and six polar bears.

Mrs. E. E. Davis, of San Miguel, Cal., says: "I am trying in a measure to repay the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the great good their remedy has done me. For years I was a constant sufferer from weak lungs and bronchial asthma. My rest at night was disturbed by a hacking cough, so that I felt miserable the greater part of the time. Many remedies recommended by friends were tried, none of which proved suitable to my case. I did not experience any beneficial results until I began taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After two bottles of the large size have been used I am pleased to state, my health is better than it has been for years. The soreness has left my lungs and chest and I can breathe easily. It has done me so much good that I want all who are suffering from lung troubles, as I was, to give it a trial. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr."

Smallwort: Old man Gripe, the chattel mortgage man, got a needle in his hand this morning and the doctors had to cut it out.

Ford: Nothing strange in that. They would have had to do the same thing had it been a nickel.

SONG.

To your silence, my king,
They bring you white flowers;
For the love that was ours

AT HEYTON GRANGE.

Some years ago I met Gascoyne dressed in a suit of Scotch gray sporting clothes. It was at a railway station, and he had beside him his gun case and fishing rods. Knowing that he was not a man to spend a great deal of money on his own pleasure, I guessed at once that he had been lucky enough to receive an invitation from some one who possessed fishing and shooting rights. "Hello, Gascoyne," I said as I came up with him. "What's the game now? This looks something like business."

"Ah, my boy," says he, "I should think it is too. Old Jefferson has been looking out for a country place for some time, you know, and he has managed to find one in the north at a marvelously cheap rent. He's taken it for 12 months, and if he likes it he has the chance of buying it at a ridiculous figure."

"Why, what's the matter with it?" I said. "Oh, nothing," he replied, "that I know of, but it doesn't suit the owner for some reason, and he has had it on his hands for a very long time and could not let it, and I suppose he got tired of it and thought he would get rid of it at any price."

Jefferson writes me that it is really a grand place, with some glorious shooting and fishing and a really magnificent house, and he's asked me to go and have a month's sport. I thought it was too good a chance to be missed, and so I packed up my traps at once, and I'm off."

At that the train came up, and after seeing him comfortably settled in a corner seat and wishing him good sport and a high old time I strode away. "What was my surprise, in a little more than a week afterward, to meet him one evening in the High Street as I was returning from business."

"Why, Gascoyne," I said, "whatever has brought you back again so soon? I thought you were going to stay a month."

"Never a month would I stay at that place for any price," he replied, "but come, let us walk up to the King of Bells, at the end of the village. We shall be quiet there, and I'll tell you all about it. It makes me feel so queer every time I think of it that I really can't tell you without a glass of something."

We went up to the old inn, and before a comfortable glass and blazing fire we lit our pipes, and he commenced. "Jefferson was right when he said he had a splendid place. It's fallen into disrepair a little through being untenanted so long, but Heyton Grange, as it is called, is a regular country mansion, with a magnificent hall, fine large entertaining rooms, and I don't know how many bedrooms and offices up stairs. I found he'd invited quite a number of fellows, and intended having a regular shooting party staying in the house, but he had asked me up a day or two in advance, so that we could have a quiet time together before the rest came."

"We had three most enjoyable days. The country round was magnificent. We had a few idle shots, and cast a fly or two for trout as we sauntered along, talking of old times, and these lazy trials were sufficient to show us that we should have fine sport when we commenced in earnest. We spent these days alone, and Jefferson and I slept together during that time, for we are old friends, as you know, and I liked better to be with him than to be in the room allotted to me in the far west wing until that part of the house was occupied by some of the other visitors. On the fourth day they came. We had a glorious time of it, and went to bed tired out. I dropped asleep at once, but after some two hours I woke up, bathed in a cold perspiration and with a terrible feeling that I could not account for. Whether I had been dreaming or no I could not tell, but I raised myself on one arm and looked around the room, and there, right by the foot of the bed, I saw the bust of a woman about the body had been cut through at the waist!"

"The face was as white as marble, and the eyes seemed to look beseechingly upon me. Terrified, I was unable to stir, and the figure gradually floated away and disappeared through the panels of the wall, leaving as it did so a low, deep sigh. "Of course sleep was impossible after that. I lay in a state of terror until morning, but I managed to drop into a troubled, broken slumber as daylight appeared and slept on uneasily until I was startled by a knock at the door and the announcement that the first breakfast had been rung. I went down to breakfast with the effects of the night's apparition still upon me, though wearing away and growing fainter every moment, and before I had finished my second cup of coffee what I had supposed to be the usual query in such cases as to my sleep, I found, after all, I had fancied that the apparition appeared!"

"It was possible that it could be the result of a disordered imagination? In the night I had made up my mind to tell my friend what had occurred and leave the house at once, but now I feared the ridicule of the company that was indeed likely to come to laugh at myself and wonder how I could have been so superstitious. I raised my head and began to join in the conversation and to talk over the arrangements for another good day's sport, when at the far end of the table I noticed a gentleman who laughed with the loudest yesterday and whose sallies had amused us all, but who was now silent and taciturn."

"He seemed quite unable to do justice to the good things provided by our host and only answered in monosyllables when spoken to. It was evident that his mind was ill at ease, and that he was laboring under some strong excitement. As soon as breakfast was over I sought him out and said to him: 'I am afraid something has happened to disturb you. You were in such excellent spirits when we parted last night and seemed so very different at the table this morning that I feel sure something must be the matter.'"

"No," he replied, "I'm all right, thanks; I certainly don't feel very lively just now, but it will wear off presently. "Perhaps you didn't have a good night's rest?" I rejoined, and I spoke slowly and pointedly. "Well," he said, "I cannot say that I did, but I do not wish to speak of it. It would only put Jefferson about."

"Tell me," I said, "did anything disturb you? Did you see anything? And in my eagerness I laid my hand upon his shoulder. "I did," he said, "Why do you ask?" "Because I saw something myself. What did you see?"

"I saw," he said, and shuddered as he spoke, "the bust of a woman cut off to the waist!"

"Precisely what I have seen in the night!" I ejaculated. "I saw it at the foot of my bed, and it seemed to disappear through the panel of the wall. Is your room in the west wing at the end of the great passage?"

"It is," he replied. "Then the apparition must have entered your room when it left mine, for you are evidently sleeping in the next room to me! What is to be done?"

"We cannot stay, and I certainly do not like the idea of breaking up the party."

"Well, we talked it over long and earnestly, and at last arranged to stay that night at any rate and see if it visited us again."

"After another day's sport, during which we forgot our fears, night came on, and we once more retired to our rooms, but not to bed."

"I was very tired, but I sat up watching until long past the time the apparition had appeared on the previous night, and, then, overcome by fatigue, I threw aside my fears, and, throwing myself on the bed, was asleep in a moment."

"I could not have slept very long—not many minutes—when I awoke with a start, and I felt at once that the thing was by me. In terror I opened my eyes. Oh, horrors! The bust of the woman was lying by my side on the bed, with her head upon the pillow!"

"What happened after that I do not know, for I must have lost consciousness for a moment, and when I recovered the fearful thing had vanished. I jumped up from the bed and rushed instantly into my neighbor's room, but he was lying upon the rug in a dead faint. I loosened his collar and poured cold water on his face, and as he opened his eyes and revived a little I made him take a good draft of brandy from my hunting flask, which I had with me."

"He quickly came to himself, and sitting up he told me he had dozed off in his chair and had been suddenly awakened by the touch of a dead cold hand upon his forehead and found the apparition close to him, gazing with intensity in his eyes into his face. Overcome with horror, he had fainted away as I found him. We sat together and talked long and earnestly, and at length decided that we would make the best excuse to our host, urging some sudden call back to our homes, and would leave the house that morning. I am afraid Jefferson must have felt hurt at our sudden departure, but stay we could not, so we came away, and here I am."

Gascoyne and I sat talking and conjecturing about the mysterious visitant until late that night.

Weeks and months passed, and it gradually became only a terrible memory of which we spoke now and again, until one day Gascoyne knocked hurriedly at my door, and saying in an excited manner, "Put on your hat and come with me," he led me without another word again to the old King of Bells. As soon as we were seated in the little room behind the bar he began in a hurried manner:

"I've just had a letter from Jefferson. It seems he had a Christmas party at Heyton Grange last week, and one of the guests who had been placed in the room I slept in shrieked out in the middle of the night that she had seen a ghost, and when they had calmed her sufficiently to speak coherently she declared that it took the form of the bust of a woman. Jefferson immediately remembered our hasty flight and the curiously embarrassed manner in which we made our excuses for leaving him so suddenly, and believing now that it must have been in some way connected with the apparition that so terrified his lady visitor he made up his mind there and then that together with the bravest of his visitors he would himself watch on the following night."

"He did so, and soon after midnight the restless spirit returned once more. He and his friend returned themselves and spoke to it, demanding the reason of its presence in the house. It gazed upon them for a moment, and beckoning them to follow it floated out and led them through a secret door on the top landing into a small room under the roof, where they found an old worn eaten chest, into which the apparition seemed to disappear."

"They rushed down stairs, and quickly returning with two or three of the men-servants they broke open the lid and were horrified to discover the lower part of a woman's body, which, from its decomposed state, though it was partly preserved with lime, had evidently been there for many years."

"On inquiry they at length learned that a long time before a murder had been committed, and the murderer, who was the husband of the unfortunate woman, had severed his victim at the waist, and that her bust having been discovered it had been buried in the churchyard, but that all search for the lower part of the body had been in vain."

"As soon as Jefferson and his friends could arrange with the authorities the ghastly object in the trunk had been buried beside the bust."

That was Gascoyne's tale, and he was able to inform me from a further communication he received from Jefferson that the midnight visitor had never appeared again.

My friend was a man for whom I entertained the highest regard, and I had every reason to believe in his integrity. He declared to me that every part of his strange narrative was true, and I have never been inclined to doubt it.—Omaha World-Herald.

Jowett's Sayings.

Here is a collection of Jowett's sayings reported by Mr. Tollemache in The Journal of Education. We could them almost at random, but all are in their different ways characteristic:

"Once when I came back from a holiday and told Jowett I had been reading Hegel, he said: 'It's a good thing to have read Hegel, but now that you've read him I advise you to forget him again.'"

"But the quickest thing that he said was to a pupil who had been reading him an essay with a strong metaphysical flavor: 'It is remarkable what a fascination metaphysics seems to possess for the human mind. It is like falling in love. But you get over it after a time.'"

"He wished to keep up the house of lords, and even wished the bishops to retain their seats in it. 'It keeps them out of mischief,' he said, with a laugh."

"One or two examples may be subjoined of the sort of advice which Jowett sometimes gave, and which obtained for him the credit or discredit of worldly wisdom. I once received from him the following counsel: 'Never listen to a man when he abuses his relations. He will make you with them, and then he will hate you for knowing that he abused them.'"

"Jowett is reported to have said in a sermon: 'The choice of a profession is like the choice of a wife. It does not so much matter which you choose, so long as you stick to it.'"

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

A SURGEON'S KNIFE

Gives you a feeling of horror and dread. There is no longer necessary for its use in many diseases formerly regarded as incurable without cutting. The

Triumph of Conservative Surgery is well illustrated by the fact that

RUPTURE or Breach is now radi-cally cured without the use of knife and without pain. Clumsy, chafing trusses can be thrown away! They never cure but often induce inflammation, strangulation and death.

TUMORS Ovarian, Fibroid (Uterine) and many others, are now removed without the peril of cutting operations.

PILE TUMORS, however large, in many cases formerly regarded as incurable, are now cured without pain or resort to the knife.

STONE in the Bladder, no matter how large, is crushed, pulverized, washed out and perfectly removed without cutting.

STRICTURE of Urinary Passage is also removed without cutting in hundreds of cases. For sample references and all particulars, send to cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 653 Madison Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

MOTHERS

and those soon to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the childbearing of its tortures, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding nature in preparing the system for parturition, thereby "laboring" and the period of confinement are greatly shortened. It also promotes the secretion of an abundance of nourishment for the child.

Mrs. DORA A. GUTHRIE, of Oakley, Oregon Co., Tenn., writes: "When I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I was not able to stand on my feet without suffering almost death. Now I do all my household work, washing, cooking, sewing and everything for my family of eight. I am stronger now than I have been in six years. Your Favorite Prescription is the best of any I have ever used. I never suffered so little with my children as I did with my last."

There's the manish new woman and the smart new woman. And the new woman awfully rude, But let us thank heaven that up to date No man has discovered a new woman dude

The population of Massachusetts by the new census will probably be 2,500,000.

Items of Interest By The Wabash Man.

Bulletin No. 6. The state of Colorado has at present about 68,000,000 acres of public lands. From Kansas City to St. Louis by the Wabash, the distance is 277 miles, Toledo 662 miles, New York 1437, Boston 1489 miles.

Of vacant public lands in Colorado there are 40,851,000 acres.

The Wabash is the popular line east for its free chair cars, excellent meals at low prices, and its direct connections in Union passenger stations.

The United States national debt is at present $915,962,112, or $14.62 per capita. The per capita indebtedness in France is $116; in England $87; in Dutch East India $4 cents.

Any truthful ticket agent, lawyer or newspaper man will tell you that the Wabash is the best and cheapest line east.

H. H. HENNEY, Observer.

Are you taking SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR, the "King of Livers Medicines"? That is what our readers want, and nothing but that. It is the same old friend to which the old folks pinned their faith and were never disappointed. But another good recommendation for it is, that it is BETTER THAN PILLS, never gripes, never weakens, but works in such an easy and natural way just like nature itself, that relief comes quick and sure, and one feels new all over. It never fails. Everybody needs take a liver remedy, and everyone should take only Simmons' Liver Regulator.
Be sure you get it. The Red X on the wrapper. J. H. Zellin & Co., Philadelphia.

Transactions at Regular Monthly Meeting of the City Council Last Night.

Condition of Municipal Finances—Recommendation that Special School Tax Levy Be Reduced—Critical Report of Dr. Andrews on Street Work.

The city council met in regular session last evening. Mayor Easley presided and Messrs. Andrews, Delgado, Dominguez, Holmes and Sena answered to roll call.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The city treasurer reported as follows:
Cash on hand Aug. 1, 1896, $64.56
Received from city clerk, $28.75
County collector, $73.05
Total, $166.36
Warrants paid in August, $75.81
Balance on hand, $90.55
Total, $166.36
Warrants outstanding, $10,890.42

The city clerk reported licenses collected during August amounting to $280.75. Both reports were referred to the finance committee.

The monthly reports of the city marshal and police magistrate were received and referred to the finance and police committees.

The marshal reported fines collected during the last two weeks amounting to $23, and that he had paid out for feed, etc., $8.75.

He also reported that he had on hand $23 collected on account of road taxes in the 1st and 2d wards.

He made a verbal report as ex-officio street commissioner that he had completed the work in the 1st and 2d wards as far as he could with the labor and resources at his command and was now ready to begin work in the 3d and 4th wards. He also said that he had consulted Contractor Monier regarding the cost of building a stone gutter of San Francisco street from the Arcade corner to the narrow gauge railroad track, between 800 and 900 feet, and that Mr. Monier would not do the work, material being furnished, for less than 6 cents a foot.

The marshal was thereupon instructed by the mayor to submit his future reports as street commissioner in writing.

On motion of Mr. Delgado, the mayor was requested to designate some one to act as city attorney during the absence of Mr. Ortiz, and the mayor accordingly named Mr. A. B. Renahan.

The finance committee reported that it had had under consideration the resolution of the board of education making a special tax levy of 5 mills for school purposes, and recommended that the levy proposed be reduced to 2 mills on the dollar.

Letz, of the board of education, being present, announced that the board had held no meeting that evening, a quorum not being present, but expected to hold a meeting on Saturday evening.

It was then decided to take no action on the matter of the special school tax levy until after the board of education being advised of all concerned that the finance committee held another meeting.

Referring to the bills of Sheriff Cunningham for feeding city prisoners and several other matters referred to the committee, Chairman Garcia announced for the benefit of all concerned that the finance committee would hold a meeting at Firemen's hall at 4 o'clock this afternoon for the consideration of all matters before it.

The mayor suggested that the committee at that time give careful consideration to the matter of employing counsel to protect the interests of the city in the matter of the appeal of the Santa Fe grant case to the U. S. supreme court.

The board of health submitted a report recommending that measures be taken to insure the purity of the milk sold in the city, particularly with reference to guarding against tuberculosis. The report was referred to the committee on licenses and ordinances.

Mr. Renahan, acting city attorney, was requested at once to confer with the committee on streets and bridges respecting the opening of certain streets.

Dr. Andrews, chairman of the committee on streets, bridges and sprinkling, submitted the following written report:

To the honorable mayor and city council of the city of Santa Fe:
Gentlemen: In making my report as chairman of the committee on streets, bridges and sprinkling, it is a report not of the committee on their work, but on the work as completed (or uncompleted) in wards Nos. 1 and 2 by the marshal, acting in the capacity of ex-officio street commissioner.

I find that from the commencement of the work up to the present time, the work on the main traveled thoroughfares has been done in a very superficial manner, or not at all; and the main work has been done on side streets or those having but little traffic, and the greatest amount of work done has been done in a manner far from economical in work or material, transporting filling material from much greater distances than necessary, and filling where no filling was required.

As only one instance of the many, I would respectfully refer you to the work done on Don Gaspar avenue, a street about fifty feet in width, left with an irregular road but of about twenty-five feet, the balance taken up with an irregular gutter or excavation of from five to seven feet in width on the east side, and one of five feet on the west, and the balance sidewalk, and the east bank left very steep, making it dangerous in turning or to drive into.

Not only is it the most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, but it is the purest, sweetest, and most refreshing for toilet, bath and nursery. It strikes at the cause of bad complexion, falling hair, and simple baby blemishes, viz.: THE CLOGGED, INFLAMED, OVERWORKED, OR SLUGGISH PORES.

Sold throughout the world. British depot, Messrs. London. Porters 1200 & 1200, London, U.S.A.

was plowed up in making this gutter was conveyed nearly one-half mile for use in a street where there was plenty of better material convenient, and all of this after the mayor and committee had decided where to work. The work so directed has not been done, yet the tax is worked out in the two precincts mentioned. Respectfully submitted,

E. Andrews, chairman.
Mr. Delgado said that, taking for granted the truth of the representations made by Dr. Andrews, it was evident that the committee should at once get together and see that the rest of the street work was properly done.

Dr. Andrews charged that the street commissioner had disobeyed the instructions of the full committee, the mayor being present, in the matter of part of the work on Don Gaspar avenue.

The street commissioner rejoined that all the work he had done had been approved by Messrs. McCabe and Sena, a majority of the committee on streets and bridges.

The report of Dr. Andrews was thereupon referred to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Delgado, Dominguez and Harroun.

A communication from the city clerk and the city treasurer, asking that in future warrants issued to them for salaries be made to draw interest the same as warrants issued to policemen, was referred to the finance committee.

The council then adjourned until 7:30 o'clock on next Monday evening.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Mariano Larragoite are in town from Rio Arriba county on a week's visit.

Messrs. W. C. Hancock and H. C. Pluckney came in from Albuquerque this morning.

Ex-Gov. O. A. Hadley, of Watrous, and Hon. W. E. Dame, of Cerrillos, are among the Palace hotel's guests to-day.

At the Exchange: J. J. Driscoll, E. Driscoll, Bland; W. C. Hancock, H. K. Pluckney, Albuquerque; J. M. Valdez, Sprigler.

At the Palace: G. W. Hyams, New York; W. E. Dame, Cerrillos; O. A. Hadley, Watrous; H. J. Billbrough, St. Louis; W. H. Eastbrook, Denver; Jones Fuller, Raleigh.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

It is estimated that Santa Fe's pear crop this season will amount to 50,000 pounds.

Messrs. Muller & Walker have received 1,600 choice melons from the famous Rocky Ford district.

Robert Johnson left for Lamy last night to succeed Harry Bartlett as chief clerk for Agent Dannebaum.

No Las Vegas mail to-day, as is frequently the case now-a-days. The railway mail service needs a little looking after.

The first of the season's pinon crop was seen on the plaza to-day. The juicy nuts are extraordinarily large and fine this year.

George Holmes, whose ranch is in the Bishop creek canon, has just harvested 15,000 pounds of as fine potatoes as were ever grown.

In the absence of a quorum, no meeting of the board of education was held last night. An effort will be made to hold a meeting on Saturday evening.

John Rouse has gone to Alamosa to become a brakeman on the D. & R. G. and Douglas Harroun has succeeded him as local D. & R. G. expressman.

A meeting is called of the congregation of the Presbyterian church for Wednesday evening at 8:30, to consider the calling of a pastor. A full attendance is earnestly desired.

The open season for hunting deer, elk, antelope and mountain sheep begins October 1, and for hunting turkeys and quail from October 1 to March 1 in each year.

Sheriff Cunningham was elected last night to manage the Santa Fe base ball team at Albuquerque during the fair. Another meeting will be held this evening to select the team.

Rev. Dr. Adams, of Phoenix, A. T., is in the city on a visit. He filled the Methodist church pulpit on Sunday night. On Sunday morning there were eight additional to the membership of this church.

Judge Laughlin yesterday signed an order directing the assignee of Alexander Gusdorf, Mr. Aloys Scherich, to pay a dividend of 5 per cent on all claims allowed by him against Mr. Gusdorf.

A brace of small boys from Ileta pueblo, who arrived at the government Indian school on Friday last, ran away and started home yesterday. A citizen, who was out haying in the valley, discovered the lads and divining their intention took them in.

The "Edison Electric Rag Dolls" entertainment, to be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church, will take place next Monday evening at the court house. It promises to be one of the most laughable and enjoyable entertainments ever given in this city and will be largely attended.

Jose Borrego, in jail on a charge of assault to kill one Rael, a nephew of ex-Police Magistrate Nemesio Armijo, was last evening released on $500 bonds to appear for hearing on Friday. His bondsmen are Anto. Jose Rael, Miguel Rodriguez, Adolph Seligman and John G. Schumann.

An exchange truly remarks that a town is like a large family. We are all interested in each other's welfare or should be. A cut-throat, every-man-for-himself policy, means ruin to any community. It means retrogression and failure. The first lesson any family must learn, to be successful and happy, is unity and mutual assistance. The same applies to the business life of a town, and the more will be the town's prosperity.

Hon. Rafael Romero, in town from the fertile Mora valley, says it is true, as reported, that a mysterious railway surveying party is moving through Mora county. What it means may develop later. Mr. Romero says Mora valley needs a railroad and hopes to have the need supplied before the year is out. Last year that region shipped 10,000,000 pounds of produce to Las Vegas.

Mr. James T. Newhall, who attended the institution of Friendship lodge, No. 18, I. O. O. F., at Cerrillos last night, tells the New Mexican that the occasion was most creditable as well as most enjoyable to all who attended and took part in the ceremonies. The Albuquerque degree team was present and did most beautiful work. After the formal exercises were concluded, an elegant banquet was served. The new lodge starts in with a membership of forty-one.

The serious attention of the city street commissioner is called to that point on Don Gaspar avenue where the street drain intersects the ditch running along the south line of the capitol grounds wall. People who travel that thoroughfare have found that crossing always wet and muddy for years, and now it is even worse, compelling all to go out into the street to avoid the ugly place.

Mr. Ad. Gusdorf, of the enterprising firm of Gusdorf & Dolan, has returned from his eastern buying trip. He laid in a superb stock of goods at prices astonishingly low, and will be able this season to sell dry goods at figures nearly 50 per cent below what they have been heretofore. Look out for their new advertisement in a few days.

A total eclipse of the moon is due tonight, according to the astronomers. The shadow of the earth will be in contact with the edge of the moon's disc at twenty-eight minutes and twenty-one seconds past 9 o'clock. The moon will be in total eclipse at thirty minutes and nine seconds past 10 o'clock, and the eclipse will be over at seventeen minutes and forty seconds past 1 o'clock.

Engagement rings are pledges of the most joyous event in one's life. They point to the coming establishment of a new family in the state. No man ever does a handsomer act than placing the engagement ring upon the finger of his betrothed, and a man ought to choose the token with due care, as he does his future wife. There isn't any doubt about it, the greatest place in the town for young men to select engagement rings is at Spitz's grand jewelry emporium. He presents a sparkling array of them from the cheapest to the most costly.
