All hardware is a sight to see and the only kind to buy. To see such hardware you must go where it is, our store for example. We have no use for any other kind. The service and value to be had from poor hardware is so small that it is dear even when cheap. An Al article that costs a dollar is cheaper than a poor one at a quarter, that must be bought over half a dozen times to give the same service. It is what our goods are worth that makes them low priced.

CRITICAL COMPLICATIONS

Intimation that Russia is Standing in with Turkey Against the Other Powers.

WAR CLOUDS GATHERING THICK AND FAST

Possibly Russian Encouragement Explains Defiant Attitude of Turkey—Rioting and Bloodshed Continue.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Turkish troubles seem to have reached a crisis. The ambassadors of the powers having received no satisfactory reply to their official communications to the Porte, it is now reported that the powers of Europe have determined to make armed demonstration to convince the sultan that they are in earnest in their demands for restoration of order in the provinces.

Russia, Italy, France, Germany and Great Britain are colonizing their warships in the Solonica bay. The latter has twenty war vessels there. The navy department will not add to the United States squadron now in Turkish waters, which consists of the San Francisco and Merrimack. It is felt that these two vessels are ample to protect American residents in Turkey even in the event of actual hostilities.

The impression gains ground here that Russia has some sort of an understanding with the sultan, and that her warships are on hand for a purpose very different from that of the other powers. This idea is strengthened by a Constantinople dispatch which says the Russian ambassador to Turkey, M. de Felidoff, declares that Russia would not accept the mandate of the powers to pacify Armenia.

AN OPEN DEFIANCE OF ENGLAND. Constantinople.—It is announced that the three prison officials of Moosh, dismissed some time ago upon the demand of the British ambassador, owing to mistreatment of prisoners, have been reinstated.

The British charge d'affaires, Hon. Michael Herbert, has demanded of the Porte that the three officials be again dismissed. The rioting at Siraz was attended by great bloodshed, but order has been partially restored and Turkish officials are protecting the foreigners there.

Reports of a conflict between an Alban regiment and a Tripoli regiment at Yildiz, Kioosh, have not been confirmed, although it is well known that there has been blood existing between the guards at the palace ever since the Tripoli regiment furnished the sentries instead of the Albanians, as a result of notes left with different palace officials, saying that their lives were in danger and that there was a plot to assassinate the sultan.

A Chicago Sensation. Chicago, Nov. 15.—Edward Dix, keeper of a private detective agency, who shot and killed Frank White on a carriage last night, said to-day that under the demand of his superintendant, Chas. McDonald, he must decline to say more than that he thought the man shot was Clarence White, who had been sought for months under a charge of embezzling the residence of Norman B. Ryan, a well known board of trade man. Dix admitted he may have been mistaken.

His agency has for several months had charge of the "porch climbing" cases, residences of several wealthy citizens having been burglarized by the gang which it is alleged was headed by Clarence White, brother of the murdered man. Clarence was in the buggy with his brother but escaped. The case promises to become celebrated, as it is asserted that in no state but Illinois are private detectives allowed to make arrests without warrants.

Forty-Eight Sailors Drowned. Shanghai, Nov. 15.—A steam launch, belonging to the British cruiser Edgar, is reported sunk near Nanshaok, Nong-sakai, and forty-eight men are said to have been drowned.

Death's Delays. Boston, Nov. 15.—Eben L. Jordan, of the well known dry goods firm of Jordan, Marsh & Co., died to-day.

HILL ON MORRISON.

Only a Western Democrat Can Swing the Presidency and He Prefers the Popular Illinois Statesman.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Col. William R. Morrison says that he was for Lane for congress in the late 18th district contest. He adds: "The fact that he differed from me on the silver question did not prevent me from hoping for his success. As the chosen candidate of the Democratic party he should have had the support of every Democrat. I do not see any occasion for discussing the matter at this time. Lane would have been beaten on any platform. Any Democrat would have been beaten on a New York platform in that district on election day."

"Why?" asked the correspondent. "For the same reason," said Col. Morrison, "that the Democrats were beaten everywhere."

HILL FOR MORRISON. Senator Hill is in Washington. He said in speaking of the presidency, that only a western Democrat could be elected next year, and personally he prefers W. R. Morrison, of Illinois, as the candidate.

The senator did not think that New York state was hopeless. He said that with Flower for vice president on the ticket, with Morrison and a Cleveland Democrat like Lamont, Whitney, the candidate for governor, the Democrats could carry New York.

"There are 200,000 more Democrats than Republicans in the United States," said Senator Hill, "and all we have to do is to adopt a sensible platform and nominate a ticket that all Democrats will vote for in order to win. I don't know of any Democrat," said he, "who would refuse to vote for Morrison and Flower, or Morrison and any other good Democrat as his running mate."

Senator Hill said that the factional feud in New York was too serious to think of nominating a citizen of that state for the presidency. All factions, he thought, could unite in voting for a Democrat not identified with New York feuds, but every Democrat in New York big enough to be president belonged to a faction. He thought the salvation of the party next year was to go west for a candidate, and that Morrison of all the western men was the strongest and the most available.

Will Trade in Mining Stocks.

Denver, Nov. 15.—The real estate and stock exchange decided to-day to trade in mining stocks. The first call will be made early next week.

The Horseless Wagon.

New York, Nov. 15.—A horseless wagon was started at 12:17 p. m. on a drive to Chicago. This is said to be the longest trip ever undertaken by a road vehicle propelled by a motor. The wagon won the second prize in the Paris-Bordeaux contest last spring, driven by a naphtha motor.

A COLORED MAN'S LUCK.

High Honors Conferred by Democrats on James C. Matthews at Albany, N. Y.

New York, Nov. 15.—There was rejoicing among the colored citizens yesterday over the news that James Campbell Matthews, a colored resident of Albany, had been elected recorder of that city by Democrats. The election returns had been held back for some reason in many of the districts, and this raised a temporary doubt as to whether Mr. Matthews had been really elected. The figures proved, however, that he was chosen by over 2,000 majority, his competitor being a white man and a Republican.

Never before in the history of the United States has such a substantial honor been conferred on a colored man by the votes of his white fellow-citizens. It is true that in Michigan, Arkansas, South Carolina and Massachusetts colored men have been raised to the bench of inferior courts for brief terms, but these cases afford no parallel to the recordership of the city of Albany. The positions were of minor consequence, and the incumbents were elected by the votes of white Republicans, and not by white Democrats.

Through section 10 of chapter 204 of the laws of 1872, special powers are conferred on the recorder of Albany. He is given the power to perform all acts and duties that may be performed by a judge of the supreme court in chambers, including proceedings supplementary to execution. The recorder has the right to sit in the court of special sessions. He is an ex officio member of several important boards, and in certain cases he acts with the state board of canvassers in canvassing election returns. In the event of a riot he has authority to call out militia in his jurisdiction to aid the civil authorities in suppressing violence. It is the first instance in which such powers have been conferred on a colored man.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Admiral Walker Joins Gen. Miles in Urging Coast Defenses—Postmaster at Thornton—Appointment to China.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Admiral Walker adds his testimony to that of Gen. Miles concerning the weakness of the government's coast defenses.

"We are not prepared to-day to engage in war with any first class power," said he. "We are in the position China occupied in her recent struggle with Japan. We can not maintain an offensive or a defensive attitude against any one of a half dozen countries. It is true that New York and San Francisco are better protected than other commercial cities, but even they would be helpless against the assaults of a dozen powerful ironclads. The remaining cities have no protection whatever. Congress ought to make liberal appropriations for coast defenses and for additional ships of war."

POSTMASTER AT THORNTON. S. A. Bogart was to-day appointed postmaster at Thornton, Bernalillo county, N. M., vice Chas. Lowenberg, resigned.

A MASSACHUSETTS MAN.

The president has appointed Charles R. Sullivan, of Massachusetts, as secretary of the United States legation to Chili.

TO-DAY'S CONDENSATIONS.

Japan is to put $300,000,000 into warships—another boost for silver.

The Taber opera house is to be sold in Denver. It is mortgaged for $75,000.

Otto Zeigler lowered the mile competition bike record by 1-5 seconds at Louisville.

The South Carolina constitutional convention adopted an article that railroads operating in that state must obtain charters from the state.

The second annual convention of the Texas Irrigation association met at San Antonio.

Wall street stock market was again firm in the face of the depressed situation in Europe.

The D. & R. G. stockholders yesterday re-elected the old board of directors and all former officials, including President Jeffrey.

Secretary Smith, of the American board of foreign missions, and Lawyer Henry Hinde, of Boston, will have a conference with Secretary Olney in reference to the Turkish situation to-day.

Mr. Coppel reports the physical and financial condition of the D. & R. G. property excellent and estimates a surplus for October over all charges of $140,000 to $150,000.

Killed in a Collision.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Nov. 15.—Two freight trains on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad collided at Summit, killing Alfred C. Mertig, of Green Bay, engineer, and badly injuring Frank Stocks.

A Complete Fabrication.

London, Nov. 15.—The story from Washington that a second ultimatum had been sent to Venezuela by Great Britain is a complete fabrication. The original ultimatum has not been delivered to the Venezuelan government.

Wants to be Governor.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—At a meeting of the Republican state central committee to-day, John R. Tanner, chairman, resigned in order to place himself at liberty to work openly for the gubernatorial nomination next spring.

JIM CORBETT BACKS DOWN

Stuart Finds a Spot in Mexico for the Battle, But Champion Corbett Will Not Fight.

FITZSIMMONS ALLEGED TO BE WILLING

Efforts will be made to force Corbett into the Ring—Disputes in Sporting Circles—Slavin Accepts Maher's Challenge.

El Paso, Nov. 15.—Dan Stuart is still here. He says: "I expect to be able to submit a proposition to Corbett and Fitzsimmons, which they can not dodge if there is any fight or desire to fight in them. I already have Fitzsimmons pledged to fight in the vicinity of El Paso, and I will go straight to Corbett and ask for his signature to articles for a fight with Fitz. They will be offered a purse of $20,000, the purse to be divided between them should I fail to bring off a fight at the place and on the day fixed."

Speaking of Corbett's alleged retirement from the ring he said: "Just where and by whom Mr. Corbett was authorized to give away the championship I am at a loss to understand. And I believe yet that Corbett and Fitzsimmons will fight. Even if Corbett really wants to quit, public opinion will whip him into meeting the Australian and if he refuses to fight him why Corbett will be a dead card and will have to quit the road. Brady will not be slow in making this discovery and I believe he will tell his man to go after Fitz."

CORBETT MUST FIGHT OR BACK DOWN.

San Antonio, Texas.—Fitzsimmons and Julian arrived here to-day. Julian said that he had received a telegram from Dan Stuart saying that he had made satisfactory arrangements for a battle ground between Corbett and Fitzsimmons. Julian said that Fitz had signed a new agreement to fight Corbett at El Paso for a $20,000 purse and a side bet of $10,000, and that Stuart would go to New York and force Corbett either to fight or back down.

CORBETT BACKS DOWN.

New York.—William A. Brady has received the following dispatch from Dan Stuart under an El Paso date: "I have spot; has Corbett retired?"

Brady wired back: "Corbett has retired; Maher will fight Fitzsimmons on spot."

The place selected by Stuart is in Mexico just across the border. If Fitzsimmons will agree to fight Maher a great feat could be accomplished.

MAHER'S CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

New York, Nov. 15.—Frank P. Slavin has issued a formal acceptance of Maher's challenge and will to-day deposit a $500 forfeit for a battle for $5,000 a side in England or America. John J. Quinn, Maher's backer, telegraphed from Boston that he would cover Slavin's forfeit as soon as he returned to New York.

THE KEY NOTE.

No Hope for Democracy Except Through the Efforts of the Party's Silver Wing.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Senator Harris, chairman of the executive committee of six appointed at the Washington conference last August to organize for the campaign of 1896 the free silver Democrats of the country, has sent a letter to his colleagues, the chief feature of which is the following:

"In the light of recent election results there is in my opinion, no hope of Democratic success in 1896 unless we succeed in so organizing bimetallic Democrats as to secure in the national convention a plain, distinct and unmistakable declaration in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold without regard to the financial policies of any country, and therefore appears to me that we should reorganize our efforts to secure such a declaration."

Senator Harris' colleagues are Senator Jones, Arkansas; Senator Turpie, Indiana; Governor Stone, Missouri; Hon. W. H. Hinrichsen, Illinois; and Casey Young, Tennessee.

GOT TOGETHER.

Birmingham, Ala.—Populists and Republicans have decided to unite in the state campaign. Resolutions declaring for free silver, opposing the national bank system and advocating "honest elections," by force if necessary, were adopted.

BOLD CRACKSMEN.

Did Not Succeed in Robbing Monroe County Bank, But Captured and Robbed the Sheriff.

Woodfield, Ohio, Nov. 16.—An attempt was made early this morning by four men to rob the Monroe County bank. They drilled several holes in the vault, destroyed the time lock, but failed to get in. Just before they began to work on the bank, Sheriff J. P. Keyser had occasion to go to his stable in the rear of the bank, and while walking down the alley, the cracksmen pounced upon him, bound and gagged him, robbed him of $60 and then placed him in the stable, where he was found this morning.

Antares Critically Ill.

Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Charlotte Moon Clark, "Chas. M. Clay," a literary woman of note, is lying critically ill at the residence of her son, Rev. Frank Pinckney Clark, in West Philadelphia.

Gold Again Going Abroad.

New York, Nov. 15.—Lazard Freres will ship $1,200,000 in gold to Europe to-morrow.

MORE COMPLICATIONS.

France and Russia Likely to Demand Privileges of China Similar to those Granted to Germany.

London, Nov. 15.—A special from Shanghai says that it is positively stated that China has agreed that Germany shall occupy one of the islands near the entrance of the support of the sea as a naval yard and coal depot. It is feared that this step will be followed by international complications, as France and Russia are certain to seek similar privileges.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

NEW MEXICO NEWS.

New Mexico will astonish the country by her gold output next year.

Eighteen cars of sheep were loaded at Las Vegas Wednesday, and twenty-two cars followed after them, the next day.

Messrs. T. A. Schomberg and Chas. Springer have commenced the erection of two brick residences in north Raton. Dr. J. H. Wroth, grand master of the Masonic fraternity for New Mexico, made an official visit to the Raton lodge Monday night.

The Raton Reporter reports the death of Ed McBride, Colfax county commissioner, in St. Louis, and the drowning of the 10-months old child of Daniel Jackson, in a reservoir on his ranch near Maxwell city.

Eusebia Vialpando, a cousin to one of the two men who will be jerked into eternity on next Tuesday, over in Santa Fe, has been before the U. S. grand jury, in Las Vegas, in the capacity of a willing witness.—Las Vegas Optic.

J. E. Saint, yesterday sold a small bunch of cattle, 100 head, to Ed D. Woodbury, of Watrous. Mr. Saint is disposing of the stock on his range as fast as they can be picked up preparatory to going out of the business.—Albuquerque Citizen.

J. N. Upton had a bad smash-up while driving to town on Thursday evening. The pole broke, the horses got loose and dragged Mr. Upton for some distance and then escaped, leaving their owner with one ear cut, a big bump on his head and a severe headache to walk into town.—Silver City Sentinel.

Geo. Gordon's dead body was found about two weeks ago in Saline canon, about eighteen miles north of the W. S. ranch. He was known to have left his house one morning, and the next news of him was the finding of his dead body with a bullet in it. It is not known who killed him.—Silver City Sentinel.

A decree pro confesso has been entered in the suit of Mrs. Virginia Bragg, of Colfax county, for a legal separation from her husband, Robert G. Bragg, and the case was referred to A. J. Mitchell, of Raton, as master in chancery, to take proofs "with all convenient speed."

W. E. Symons, for several years the faithful, capable and popular master mechanic of the A. T. & S. F. at Raton, severs his connection with this road in that capacity to-morrow. Mr. Symons is not only one of the most competent, practically and theoretically, master mechanics in the whole country, but he is a most manly man and a sterling good citizen.—Raton Range.

John Ma. Blea, of Santa Rosa, who has been severely afflicted with paralysis for the past five months, is in return from Denver whither he went to see Francis Schlader. Blea was accompanied on the trip by his wife and Florencio Sandoval, also from Santa Rosa, and received no benefit, to speak of, from the inconvenient and expensive trip up to Denver.

At Albuquerque Wednesday indictments were read to the following accused persons: R. T. Banks, receiving stolen property; Geo. Bush, colored, grand larceny; Jose Soto, attempted rape; Jose Candelario, perjury, and Felipe Luero, and Montoya y Apodaca, suppression in office. They all pleaded not guilty and the court appointed counsel to defend in cases where necessary.

The Colorado Telephone & Telegraph company is arranging for the immediate extension of its service to San Ignacio, twenty miles out, and to La Cueva, about thirty-two miles out. The number of poles necessary for the work will be thirty-five to the mile, and they have been delivered on the ground, ready to be set in place by the Denver gang of workmen, who are expected at Las Vegas soon.

Hampson & Smith's grading outfit will be shipped to Old Mexico in a few days, and be put to work on the City of Mexico and Co. (C. M. & Co.) railroad, the Pacific coast and begins with a C. railroad. We regret very much that the P. V. railway company could not so arrange its affairs as to be ready for the extension of the road this fall. Hampson & Smith have been like everyone else in the valley—expecting the extension.—Roswell Record.

The Randolph Comedy company covered itself with glory in "Little Lord Fauntleroy" at Las Vegas, on Monday evening. Miss Myra Harkness, in the character of an American adventuress, captivated the audience. J. W. Burke, as Hobbs, the grocer; Miss Minnie Rhodes, as Mrs. Errol, or "dearest"; Chas. Daniels, as Dick, a professional bootblack; W. J. Davis, as Havisham, a lawyer; B. Brinegar, as Thomas, a servant, and Miss Mossie Burke, as Mary, the maid, did splendidly, showing that they had faithfully studied their respective parts and had well interpreted them.

On Monday, J. H. Carper struck artesian water in a well for R. F. Barnett at his place, a mile east of town. The flow is fully equal to that of the Miller well—about two gallons per second, or enough to irrigate a 100-acre orchard, eighty acres alfalfa or forty acres in farm and vegetable crops. Such wells as these are invaluable and the fact that they can be secured almost anywhere in this section, adds, and gives permanence, to land values.—Roswell Record.

NO TRACE OF THE HEALER.

It is Believed that Schlader is in a Hiding Place Known to His Friends—Sorely Disappointed People.

Denver, Nov. 15.—Although it is generally believed that the whereabouts of Francis Schlader, the "healer," is known to his close friends in this city, the federal authorities have not succeeded in locating him.

The case against the man, who advertised to sell and send through the mails handkerchiefs which, they claimed, had been blessed by Schlader and would cure all ills, has been continued until Saturday. Meantime efforts to find Schlader, who is wanted as a witness, will not be abated.

A great crowd of afflicted persons seeking treatment at the hands of the "healer," assembled again this morning at the residence of ex-Alderman Fox, and many were sorely disappointed because he did not resume his labors. It is generally believed that Schlader is with friends not far away and that not unlikely he has begun another long fast.

DISTINCTLY RESEMBLES SCHLADER.

Kansas City.—A special to the Star from Beatrice, Neb., says: At 9 o'clock this morning a man came in over the Union Pacific, went direct to a hotel and registered as Francis Schlader, of Denver, in plain handwriting. He went to bed and asked not to be called until 5 o'clock. The clerk says he distinctly resembles the pictures of Schlader.

NOT THE ALLEGED HEALER.

Omaha.—A special to the Bee from Beatrice says that the man, who registered there as Francis Schlader, is not the alleged healer who disappeared from Denver.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15.

ENFORCE the compulsory school law.
Law and order are gaining ground in New Mexico.

What will Chicago doctors of medicine and Christianity say of Schlader?

PERHAPS you have observed it, dear reader, the NEW MEXICAN prints the news.

Gov. MORTON's presidential boom seem to have died full of years if not full of honors.

As the ally of Japan and the owner of China, Russia would seem to have preserved the balance of power in the far east by keeping it all herself.

Poor Steve Elkins! The great and good man's glory as a solid south breaker has been completely outshone by the superior lustre of Bradley's achievement in Kentucky.

THE NEW MEXICAN trusts that the failure of the Albuquerque press to make editorial comment on Gen. Miles' most excellent and sensible views as expressed in his annual report was by no means intentional.

ONE of the anomalies of politics in the United States is the fact that New York has three United States senators and the great state of Ohio but one. This condition of things is brought about by the voluntary action of Ohio Democrats.

CHAIRMAN HENREICHSEN, of the Illinois Democratic central committee, not only used his pen to skin Wash Heising, Chicago's postmaster, but he opened his ink bottle and poured its contents all over him. Score another for free coinage and Democracy.

ROBERT T. LINCOLN declares that he can imagine no greater misfortune than to be president of the United States. He says the president is so pestered with office-seekers that he has no peace while in office. There is a somewhat general apprehension that the mental characteristics of the great Abraham have skipped one generation.

TRANS-CONTINENTAL railway managers have looked into the future far enough to be convinced that there will be sharp competition for years to come in saving time across the continent. Their freight as well as passenger trains will have to be run a great deal faster than at present, and we predict that the curves and kinks and long pieces of useless trackage will have to go. This class of improvements will likely receive much attention during the ensuing few years.

THE announcement that Boss Quay, of Pennsylvania, is a Republican presidential candidate is clearly a ruse in the interest of Czar Reed, of Maine. In this way Quay expects to bunch the Pennsylvania delegation and have it ready to turn over to the Maine man at the right time. Quay and Platt are too shrewd to seek first honors. They will be contented with recognition as Warwicks and such substantial rewards as the state and treasury department port-folios.

SENATOR HARRIS, of Tennessee, president pro tem. of the senate, has put himself on record as favoring a non-partisan organization of the senate, giving Republicans, Democrats and Populists such committee representation as their respective members warrant. He is opposed to the proposed scheme of shutting the Populists out. If there is anything that the Tennessee statesman has a liking for it is fair play.

ALL that is now needful to start an immediate, substantial and enduring mining boom in the Cochiti district, in the mountains west of Santa Fe, is a decision of the United States supreme court affirming the righteous decree of the court of private land claims opening the rich mineral lands of the district to entry as part of the public domain. All who are interested in the development and prosperity of New Mexico earnestly hope that decision will be rendered "before the blue birds come again."

GOOD CHEER FOR SILVER.
A chain of circumstances most propitious for the future of silver is now discernable abroad. The war movement means a wider use for silver as money. Japanese and Chinese interests, the building of new navies, the payment of indemnities, mean more demands for the white metal. The labor and supplies necessary to the construction of the Nicaragua canal is being paid in silver, and that work is to cost $115,000,000. And now comes the good news that Russia intends to engage extensively in the coinage of both gold and silver.

Just a year ago the New Mexican printed an editorial calling attention to the fact that Russia was preparing to replace her filthy, disease-breeding paper money with silver. She had gone about it quietly, and for the past year has been a buyer of silver, but has taken it in small quantities lest her real object become known and silver be advanced in price by the speculators. The growing scarcity of gold in commercial centers and the certainty of war in the near future have now forced her to come out and openly announce her plans.

Russia will next year coin $15,000,000 of new silver in addition to the regular annual government stipend of subsidiary coin. She has something like $829,000,000 in paper money in circulation, and now that the first step toward a specie basis has been taken it is reasonable to suppose that silver coinage will be kept up until her long cherished expectations have been fulfilled and the last vestige of paper money is wiped out. Russia has no silver of her own. She must buy it in the markets of the world. This will immensely help to solve the silver problem. Our miners can view the situation with more equanimity than for years past. So also can the silver wings in the Democratic party. Let the friends of the white metal everywhere keep good cheer.

PRESS COMMENT.

It Remains to be Seen.
Congress will meet two weeks from next Monday. New Mexico is anxiously waiting for statehood and will watch the movements of the political chess board with an eager eye. It remains to be seen whether the Republican committee on territories will make such a scurrilous report concerning New Mexico as was made by the Republican members of the committee eight years ago.—Silver City Eagle.

A Chance for Delegate Catron.
No state should be left outturned in the effort to secure statehood for New Mexico at the coming session of congress. It is well known that Delegate Catron will give his best efforts to this important work, but he ought to be aided and encouraged at every step by his constituents. The press of the territory especially should be constantly awake to the importance of the subject and keep it before the people so conspicuously and steadily as to prevent them from losing sight of it for a single day.—Albuquerque Citizen.

You are weak, "run-down," health is frail, strength gone. Doctors call your case anaemia—there is a fat-famine in your blood. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, is the best food-means of getting your strength back—your doctor will tell you that.
He knows also that when the digestion is weak it is better to break up cod-liver oil out of the body than to burden your tired digestion with it. Scott's Emulsion does that.

The PECOS VALLEY of . . . NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.
The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.
Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation.
The cultivation of canebrake—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.
The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.
Lands with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant, and at times rapid, increase in value.
The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Felix section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Camp-tonville, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with severe cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call in a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy she concluded to try it. She found that it always gave prompt relief. It was seldom necessary to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us lots of worry and time," she says, "but also doctor bill. It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." A BUNCH OF ROSES.

Lawrence Hunter carried a big bunch of pink roses with him when he read on Alma Bentley, with an important mission in his mind, and he felt that he was particularly fortunate in having them, as they were country bred roses, grown properly in the open air, and the last of the season. He had heard the young woman hemoan the fact that she never saw any roses except those raised in hothouses; that she did not consider superior to nature and should never forget the dear roses that grew in the country, in the garden of their old home. They were filled with tender associations.

"You will find them delightfully fragrant," he said as he took the great bunch of pink roses from his hands and looked at them with such loving appreciation that the young man's pulse went up to fever heat.

She was dressed as became a rose queen—in snowy white—and her golden hair was bound with a fillet of blue, which color enhanced the fairness of her complexion, as she probably meant it should, in the artlessness of art. And as she held her lovely face, with its delicate rose color, above the roses the young man strengthened his resolve to propose that—

But there is an old adage about man proposing. The queenly Alma knew that she could not continue to hold the roses without weariness. Even flowers become burdensome under certain conditions, and she placed them tenderly in a china vase, and when they were arranged to suit her fastidious taste lingered to drink in their subtle beauty.

"They bring up the sweetest associations of a happy past," she said romantically. "Petals of pink and hearts of gold, how I love you! I revel in your adorable sweetness!"

And she buried her face in the mass of roses, the better to inhale their odor, and then Lawrence, who felt the insanity of jealousy stealing over him, noticed that her slender form was shaken with sobs, and he sprang to her assistance. But she gave a wild shriek and escaped from the room, leaving the astonished lover gazing into space.

He heard cries and exclamations, the hurry of flying feet, doors slamming, and—silence. He waited, but no one came, and he went home with a profound conviction that he had just escaped making a fool of himself; that Alma Bentley was a woman with a past; that he would call on her or cultivate her society no longer. And he had to wait all night thinking his stars that he was not her accepted husband.

The next day he watched anxiously for some word—a note, any explanation—but none came. He wandered that way in the evening, and finding the house dark and closed was so piqued and furious that he rung the bell and inquired if the young woman was at home.

"Yes," the domestic said, "but not able to see any one—quite ill, under the doctor's care."

"The plot thickens," said the young man to himself as he turned away, more in love than ever and determined to probe the mystery to its depths. Suppose she had a past. So bad he, and he laughed grimly as he thought of some pages of his life that he would have been glad to tear out and burn. Poor little girl! Some foolish romance of her early teens that had roses in it—and a lover! What then? How many love affairs of his own had left memories and associations? Only he was a man and could forget. Well, he would teach her to forget if she would give him her confidence—and love.

He waited meekly but expectantly a week, two weeks, and when a third had nearly passed met Alma face to face. Both were riding, but she threw him a sweet smile and a bow as they passed, and he thought he had never seen her looking so well, not excepting that fatal evening of the roses.

After a decorous time he called and was as nervous as a woman as he waited to hear the sound of the silken slippers learn from her lips the mystery of the incident of the roses.

There was no hint of illness or pallor, but just a slight shade of anxiety on her face as she cordially welcomed the young man.

"You must have thought me out of my senses," she said as soon as they were seated, "when I rushed out of the room that night, but I could not help it. I lost all my self control and cried like a child. Mamma said I was very silly."

"Were you so much overcome?" asked Lawrence kindly.

"Overcome? I was blind, frantic with pain."

"I have heard," said the young man, "of people to whom the odor of certain flowers was painful on account of memories. If I had only known that my unfortunate roses had the power to arouse slumbering recollections of happier days, rather than revive such memories I would have left them to wither on their stems."

"Memories?" repeated Alma vaguely. "What had they to do with me? I don't understand you, Mr. Hunter."

"Was it not an overpowering rush of associations connected with the roses that brought on your attack of illness?"

Alma stared a moment, then laughed merrily.

"No, indeed. It was the overpowering rush of a bee concealed in one of the roses, and it stung my poor lip so that I was a fright for weeks and suffered from the poison too."

"And it wasn't a memory?" Lawrence's tone was jubilant.

"No, but it is now, and a very disagreeable one. I am pledged hereafter to artificial roses."

"Let me have the lifelong position of poison taster to my queen," suggested Lawrence gallantly, and his queen, being in the mood, accepted him for the position. —Detroit Free Press.

Discouraged. "Who is that sour looking man who is always sitting on that box doing nothing?" asked the drummer. "He's the man that knows all about how to settle every trouble that the country gets into," replied the native, with an admiring glance.

"But why doesn't he get up and hustle, then?" "He's mad," was the awestricken whisper. "He's told congress and the president and everybody how to do things, and they don't pay no attention to 'im, and now he's jes' settin' in silence and lettin' the country go to pot."—Washington Star.

Not Intentionally So. She—Miss De Puynter says some very funny things. He—And laughs at them, I suppose. She—Oh, no, she's always in earnest. —Chicago Record.

RUINED. A Three by Six Cake Would Hardly Contain That Name.

The hall of the city council was full of enthusiastic women, who cheered aloud as the new mayoress read the law just passed providing that every woman should bear her own name as well as her husband's and that every man should be compelled to assume his wife's name as a prefix to his own. But among the plaudits of the crowd there were undercurrents of protest. Mrs. Montmorency, now Mrs. Boggs-Montmorency, pulled down her veil impatiently. She had married Montmorency mainly to get rid of the name of Boggs, and now she frowned as she passed out, jostling an old man who, freshly shaking his head was muttering to himself: "Lost! Lost! Lost! Hopkinson—Wilberforce—Rotterbottom—Vanderdecken—and only three by six! No, no!" His voice rose to a wail.

"What is it?" asked Mrs. Boggs-Montmorency not unkindly. "Oh, madam," said the old man, "mock me not with the semblance of sympathy. You and your sisters have done this—the stronger sex, that ever tramples on the weaker. Listen," and he seized her arm feverishly. "I am Winkler, the soap man. Have you not all seen my name upon the oblong cake that marks the advent of washing day in every home? That name was my trade mark, my living, my all. And now—now," his voice rose in shrill anger, "under your accused law I am ruined. Four times have I been married—once to a Hopkinson, again to a Wilberforce, then to a Rotterbottom and now to a Vanderdecken. Ha! Ha!" he laughed wildly. "Hopkinson-Wilberforce-Rotterbottom-Vanderdecken-Winkler's soap! And this upon a three by six cake! It is beyond the power of man, beyond the help of science! I am ruined and undone. Lost! Lost! Lost!" And wringing his wrinkled hands he rushed away, while the applause of the unthinking crowd within still lingered upon the air.—Life.

A Shrewd Buyer.

Salesman—These shirts are $12 a dozen, with a sample shirt gratis. Customer—H-m! Well, you can make me one dozen sample shirts.—Buch fur Alle.

Grim Jesting. Deathbed jokes are generally not authentic. The celebrated one attributed to Tom Hood, for instance—that he protested against blaming the undertaker who had blundered into coming before the great wit was dead and said that the man had "only come to urn a lively Hood"—is known to be decidedly apocryphal.

Nevertheless a remark somewhat of the same sort which is attributed to Lord Chesterfield in his last illness is undoubtedly authentic. Chesterfield was very ill, and his death was only a matter of a few weeks, but his physician advised that he be taken for an easy drive in his carriage, and he went out.

As the equipage was proceeding slowly along it was met by a lady, who remarked pleasantly to the great invalid: "Ah, my lord, I am glad to see you able to drive out."

"I am not driving out, madam," answered Chesterfield. "I am simply rehearsing my funeral!"—Youth's Companion.

The Tailor's Mistake. "John!" There were tears in her eyes as she spoke. "Yes, my dear."

"I think it's just too mean for anything."

"What is, Mary?" With a effort she choked back a sob. "My bloomers," she said.

"What about them?" he asked. "I sent them to your tailor to be cleaned," she explained, "and—"

"Well, what did he do?" "He—he creased them."

And she tearfully held up a pair of creased bloomers for his inspection.—Chicago Post.

The Infant Terrible. "Kitty, you must let papa's watch alone."

"I won't hurt it, papa. I just want to—"

"Put it down, I tell you!" "I ain't hurtin' it. I only want to see what makes it!"

"If you don't let that watch alone, I shall certainly have to punish you."

"I ain't!" "Will you put it down?" "All I want to do with it is to—"

"Kitty, do you hear what I say?" "Yes, and you'd better what I say if you didn't talk so much."—Chicago Tribune.

In the Future. "This weather," began the oldest inhabitant, "ain't nothin' fer heat to what I felt jest 60 years ago!"

"And it ain't a marker to what you are likely to see 60 years hence," interrupted the irreverent youth, and the old man went home growling about the way boys are raised nowadays.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Nautical Point. Kansas—Say, Bill, it says here that the crew of the schooner were compelled to rig a jury mast. What's a jury mast?

Missouri—Why, anybody could tell you that. It's one of those big masts that it takes 12 men to put up.—Roxbury Gazette.

Inevitable. Cleverton—You don't mean to tell me that you passed the night with Plankington in his New Jersey home and didn't mind the mosquitoes? Dushaway—I do. After the first one bit me I lost consciousness.—Life.

For Him. Miss Dearborn—What is the matter here? Mr. Coroner—Man just fell from a 12 story window.

WOMANLY WOMAN

Is there anything more wholesome, more beautiful, more completely pleasing than a womanly woman? Such a woman is even tempered, intelligent, strong, and healthy. Health really tells the whole story. Health means strong nerves and strong body, and they go far toward bringing good looks and amiability.

A woman worn and wearied by the dragging weaknesses peculiar to her sex, cannot be expected to find zest in any duty or amusement. Life is all one dead monotonous gloom to her. On her face is written the story of weakness and pain. The wholesomeness of health is lacking. The cheeks lack fullness, the eyes lack sparkle, the hair lacks luster.

Doctors have learned to locate nine-tenths of womanly sickness in the organs that ought above all others to be strong and healthy.

Sensitive women shudder at the thought of consulting a physician on such matters. A natural feeling of modesty makes them dread the examination, and subsequent stereotyped treatment by "local applications" on which most doctors insist.

Much more often than not, this is unnecessary. It should not be submitted to except as a last resort.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has cured thousands of severe cases of "female weakness." It works in a natural, sensible way. It begins by subduing the inflammation that is always present. Then it strengthens and invigorates the whole body, particularly the organs directly feminine. It promotes regularity, cures inflammation and ulceration, and stops the debilitating drain caused by them. Of all dealers.

Oh, pause, Columbia, and behold the dizzy pace we strike, The girls have seized the bloomer and have tamed the bounding bike, While men about convention halls are clanking, thick as bees, To chatter—as girls used to do at musicales and teas.

It is a truth in medicine that the smallest dose that performs a cure is the best. Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers are the smallest pills, will perform a cure, and are the best. Newton's drug store.

Positively No

When a pastor wants an announcement he goes to the local paper. When the ladies want a notice of a church supper published, they go to the local paper. When a secret society gives a banquet, it goes to the local paper for a write-up. When a political party issues a call or holds a meeting, it calls on the local paper for publicity. When an obituary of some loved one is wanted in print, the local paper is called on. Society in general turns to the local paper for a written detail of all its movements; in fact, a thousand other things are expected of the local paper, and yet we find many citizens so selfish that they will hesitate and often refuse to spend a small mite to support it, or give their job work in return for the many free notices they receive during a year's time.—Albuquerque Citizen.

Forcing Poll Tax Payments

In obedience to the directions of the board of education, Mr. Miguel Gorman, school poll tax collector, recently brought suit in Justice Tomas Smith's court against a number of delinquents, including the following persons, who have since confessed judgment and paid the poll taxes assessed against them, together with costs of suit: Faustina Muniz, Pedro Maniz, Pascando Rodriguez, Elvira Acosta, William Berger, Romulo Garcia, Jose Rafael Roibal, George Miller, Perfilio Olivas. The validity of the tax has thus been substantially acknowledged. All other delinquents are respectfully recommended to pay Mr. Gorman at once in order to avoid costs. The board of education has firmly resolved to force the payment of all poll taxes this year.

Home Industries First. The asylum board has taken a step in the right direction. The contract for supplying potatoes to the asylum has been let to L. H. Hofmeister, and the article is to be of home production.

There has been, and it still exists, a prejudice against handling home raised potatoes, the merchants claiming that their patrons would not use them. The consumer, therefore, is much at fault, if not more so, than the merchant.

Why this condition of affair should exist, there seems no valid reason. The home grown potato, while perhaps not as large as the foreign article, is fully as firm and as good.

If the consumers would give the home potato a trial they would find it as good as any grown, and many a dollar would remain in our midst that is at present expended away from home.—Las Vegas Examiner.

Cultivate the Orchard

In response to an inquiry from Santa Fe the Las Cruces Farm & Orchard says: "Probably alfalfa may be grown in an orchard without much detriment to the trees, if care is taken to keep it from the roots of the trees, but we would point out that this entails a great deal of labor and we doubt if the alfalfa is worth it. The trees are not likely to be benefited by mowers and rakes being driven between them, and after all the land can not receive proper cultivation with an alfalfa crop growing between the trees." Elsewhere in the same issue of the Farm and Orchard, we find a still more conclusive answer as follows: "Some people believe that a grass pasture keeps in the moisture. Experiments made in Nebraska have proved this to be a fallacy. The orchard was divided into three parts. Two of them were in grass, one mowed and the other pastured; and the third portion was cultivated. It was proved by actual analysis that for every 100 barrels of water contained in the first twenty inches of pasture, a like amount of ground cultivated during the entire season contained over 140 barrels. The pastured portion contained a little more moisture than that mowed; but only about 5 per cent more. Apples from the cultivated land averaged nearly 14 per cent larger in weight than those from pastured land, and over 17 per cent larger than those from mowed land."

THE CATTLE INTEREST.

A Kansas City Stock Yards Man Deals in Facts and Figures of Moment.

Mr. Eugene Rush, general superintendent of the Kansas City Stock Yards company, is traveling through southern Colorado. In talking with a newspaper correspondent he said many things which will prove of interest to the stock-raising readers of the New Mexican throughout this territory. He said:

"This season opened with very bright prospects for the cattle interests; with an estimated shortage in the market to come in of from one-half to three-quarters of a million head; with every indication of prices advancing to better than in Europe. The estimated shortage has been fully borne out, as is shown by the fact that in the past ten months the actual shortage of cattle on the Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and St. Louis markets amounted to over 500,000 head less than in 1894.

"The big slump in prices during the past six weeks is due to several causes, principal among them being, first, the very large increase of cattle from the northwest during the fall and in better condition than any that have gone on the market for a number of years; in fact, in Europe cutlery on the market except in prime beef condition, consequently the beef from the northwest flooded the eastern markets during the past two months and practically caused a beef panic. Another cause is the fact that the foreign demand for beef has been very small and in many cases the prices have been lower in Europe than in this country, virtually cutting off the foreign outlet for beef. These two conditions together with the steady stringency in the money market have had a demoralizing effect on the cattle business and the prices have consequently been forced down in many cases to the same level as in 1894.

"The abundant corn crop in the territory tributary to Kansas City, together with a large amount of roughness and hay, has not been equalled in a series of years and has stimulated the feeder market to an unusual extent, and the demand for feeders is greater than ever before.

"The increase of cattle business at Kansas City during the past few years is phenomenal, yet when the conditions are understood it is no more than natural, and we are destined to become the greatest beef center in the United States. Being located in the corn belt and with railroad facilities equalled only by Chicago, Kansas City is well located both for receiving and distributing the product. Many persons do not understand that the packing interest of Kansas City has made wonderful development and that its meat products are sent from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast. This trade has been built up by the liberal use of capital and by the enterprise of the packers. They are constantly reaching out for and covering new territory, and by the establishment of coolers and depots in all the principal towns of the country, have been enabled to capture much of the trade that was formerly supplied by Chicago, St. Louis and other markets. The fact of their being located near the point of production has enabled them to furnish the retailer not only with better meat but at prices much lower than the packers' former cost could do.

"Until a few years ago comparatively few sheep were slaughtered at Kansas City, but this trade shows a larger increase than the cattle department. Our increase over 1894 is about 275,000 head." Mr. Rush remarked, "95 percent of the cattle received at Kansas City are slaughtered in that city."

MINING IN GRANT.

Development of Gold, Silver, Copper, Zinc and Iron Mines—Ivanhoe Smelter—Building Ore Rins—Shipments.

Iron mining has been started at Hanover again since the Silver City & Northern railroad has been repaired, and four cars of iron ore are being daily loaded and shipped.

A 1,000 ton ore bin is being built at the Copper Queen mine at Cooney. As soon as this is finished grading will be begun for a 15-stamp mill, which will be put in as quickly as possible. This will add largely to the production of the camp.

The Mineral Point Zinc company has resumed work at Hanover, and re-started shipments with a car of zinc ore yesterday. The ore goes to Mineral Point, Wis., and other shipments will follow regularly. Arrangements are being made to open up and ship ore from other zinc claims in this district.

The Ivanhoe smelter started up again on Wednesday last, after being shut down for a few days while the boiler was being repaired. It is working along steadily, putting through forty-five tons of ore a day. The company running this furnace is employing and paying out money to about 125 men—no inconsiderable item in the present condition of increasing prosperity in Grant county.

Development is being steadily pushed on the Masd S. mine at Mogollon. A strike of some very rich ore has been made in the bottom of the mine within the last few days. This property has been fortunate both in its manager, Col. E. C. Bennett, and its foreman, Ralph E. Gunther. Under their careful management, sound technical knowledge, and the pushing, hard-working supervision it has had, it proved a profitable mine for years past, and with the same management and supervision it may be expected to become a good, steady producer again before long.

The Dimmick Bros. have lately been shipping some ore from their famous Silver Cell mine at Pinos Altos to the smelter at Ivanhoe. Among other lots was one last week of about 500 pounds which assayed 9,160 ounces of silver to the ton. This made the value of these seven sacks about $1,570. The Silver Cell has been noted for years past as one of the richest mines in the country. Its fortunate owners will neither sell it nor are they stopping ore at the present price of silver. They are quietly developing their property and waiting for the future rise in silver.

Two men have been steadily at work lately on Alex Moorehead's Agnes group of claims on the west side of the Pinos Altos mountains. A large amount of surface development has been done. Several shafts have been sunk from thirty to sixty feet deep, and numerous cuts and drifts have been run. The vein generally shows up from eighteen to twenty-three feet in width. The ore carries a good percentage of copper, and runs well in both gold and silver. No stopping is being done, all work being put into development. On the adjoining claim south, the Red mine, a shaft is down 125 feet, showing the same kind and quantity of ore. Eight thousand dollars worth of ore was hauled from this mine down to Oak Grove in 1882, when the Paschal smelter was at work for treatment. These properties promise to become big mines with development, and the owners are doing wisely in opening them up extensively.—Silver City Sentinel.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

In pursuance of the well known custom of returning thanks to the Giver of all Gifts for the blessings bestowed upon us, and in thankful consideration of the copious and bounteous rains, which He in His all-wise mercy has bestowed upon the people of this territory during the past year, granting to them a plentiful harvest and a season unprecedented in the history of New Mexico.

In acknowledgement of our indebtedness to Almighty God for the manifold blessings and mercies vouchsafed to the people of our territory, I earnestly recommend that

THURSDAY, THE 28TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1895, be set apart and observed as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. On that day, let us assemble at our respective places of worship, and with grateful praise and thanksgiving, confess our responsibility to God, the Creator of all, and renew our determination to live better and more upright lives in the years to come. May we not forget to comfort the sick, cheer the unfortunate, and manifest charity towards all.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the territory of New Mexico, at the executive office at Santa Fe, on this, the 12th day of November, in the year of Our Lord, One Thousand, Eight Hundred and Ninety-five, and the one hundred and twentieth year of our American Independence.
