PLOT THICKENS IN KENTUCKY

STATE HOUSE SEIZED BY STATE SOLDIERS

Blackburn's Supporters Righteously Indignant—The Governor Savagely Denounced—All Legislation Will Stop.

Frankfort, Ky., March 16.—What promises to be the most sensational day in the senatorial fight was begun with a proclamation from Gov. Bradley, issued this morning, calling on the state troops. The proclamation declares: For several days past an armed body of desperate men have, by threats and demonstrations, intimidated and overawed the members of the general assembly; that a portion of said persons assaulted Senator C. J. Walton and prevented him from going out of the senate chamber; that a party of said persons took possession of the door of the house while the joint assembly was in session and assumed to decide who should enter the chamber of the house when said session was being held; that on the 14th day of March persons were attempted to be sworn in as deputy sergeants-at-arms of the senate and thereupon forcibly seized the doorkeeper of the house of representatives, while the general assembly was in joint session and prevented him from exercising the duties of his office, and allowed persons to enter who were not entitled to places on the floor; that the presence of these men prevented members from voting in the joint session; that the civil authorities have at no time arrested these rioters or armed persons, but have permitted them to continue their work of intimidation.

Upwards of 400 soldiers occupy the state house square.

Gov. Bradley was in consultation all the morning with Adjutant General Collier and Col. Castleman and Gaither. These gentlemen agreed that there will be no difficulty in preventing trouble. "I wish to say," said the governor, "that the military was called out in order to protect members of the legislature from mob violence and not to protect myself."

The McGreary guards were reinforced this morning by the Brown light infantry from Lexington, under command of Col. Gaither, and the Louisville legion, under Col. Castleman.

These companies were placed on duty at the state house grounds and military regulations enforced. Adjutant General Collier's orders to the officers in charge of the entrance to the state house expressly state that no one except members of the two houses, sergeant-at-arms, doorkeeper, cloak room keeper, pages, newspaper reporters and telegraph operators, were entitled to admission.

OVERWHELMED WITH SOLDIERS. The guards carried out their orders to the letter.

About 11 a. m., as the force on duty at the state house was larger than could be handled to advantage, the Louisville legion was marched back to the cars and ordered to be in readiness to answer promptly a call for their services. The Blackburn men call the governor's action an "outrage."

"This display of force will stop all legislation," said a Blackburn senator. "I would like to see the revenue bill or anything else get through now."

Just before 11, Sergeant-at-Arms Summers of the senate, entered the lower door of the state house with six assistants, summoned on Saturday, including Jack Chinn.

Summers protested that he had affidavits that they entitled him to enter. The captain was firm, however, and they walked out without attempting to force their way up stairs.

Senators James and Walton, who were on hand early, entered the house chamber, and sat in the extreme left hand corner. Both said that they would vote in joint assembly to-day if requested to do so.

Wood Dunlap did not show up. It is certain that he will not be seen in Frankfort again this session.

NEITHER DEMOCRATS NOR POPULISTS VOTED. When the joint session convened the roll showed only 66 present, as neither Democrats nor Populists responded to their names. The president announced no quorum. Only one vote, that of Speed, for Boyle, was cast on the ballot for senator. The joint assembly adjourned until to-morrow.

MAJOR JULIAN TOLD OF HIS CONFERENCE

with Gov. Bradley in which he assured the executive that he would give ample protection and characterized the governor's action as highly partisan and unbecomingly.

Ex-Attorney General Hendrick nominated Judge Lysander Hoard as chairman in a speech scoring the governor. Judge Hoard took the chair amid a wild burst of enthusiasm. Speeches were made by Col. E. H. Taylor and others denouncing the action of Gov. Bradley.

EL PASO'S NEW ROAD.

The actions of the promoters of the Gulf, Rio Grande & Pacific railroad look very much as if they mean business. The chief engineer, Col. C. S. Masten, late vice-president and general manager of the Phoenix & Maricopa railroad, is in the city and has organized his survey of the Juncos division, comprising 300 miles reaching as far south as Batopline. If a line can be had the location will be via Las Palomas, south of Deming, N. M.

NATIONAL POLITICS.

COCKRELL'S SENATE SILVER SPEECH.

Washington, March 16.—Mr. Cockrell called attention to the balances in the treasury, including over $123,000,000 gold coin and bullion; over $24,000,000 standard silver dollars; $177,000,000 of silver bullion (coinage value), on which the profit of seigniorage had been $63,000,000; $14,000,000 subsidiary silver coin; $106,000,000 of greenbacks, and $30,000,000 of treasury notes of 1890. Our bonds, the senator maintained, can be paid as well in silver as in gold, and he called attention to the fact that Secretary Carlisle and Secretary Herbert had voted, while in the house of representatives, for the Stanley Mathews resolution, declaring bonds payable in either coin. The senator referred also to Senator Sherman as "that distinguished gold monometallist bimetalist," and read from Mr. Sherman's utterances in 1878, when he was secretary of the treasury, that the government received the legal right to redeem government obligations in silver. If this policy had been carried out there would have been no raids on the treasury. Exclusive gold payments was a voluntary assumption on the part of the secretary of the treasury. There had been no gold raids prior to 1891, because the silver dollar up to that time, was the "watchdog of the treasury."

And it was a more potent watchdog than any of the Rothschilds or the Belmonts," added Mr. Cockrell.

The proposition of the president to issue fifty-year bonds to retire notes, he said, was undemocratic. It was the worst financial proposition that had ever emanated from an executive officer, and if adopted it would cost the people $2,631,000,000. Secretary Carlisle had recently, in a speech, proclaimed himself for gold. There was no further effort to disguise the issue behind "sound money" which meant absolute gold monometallism.

The senator declared that the Democratic party could not be divided by the silver question. It was the pillar of cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night, the great constitutional beacon of the Democratic party, the one on which all its victories had been won, and those who opposed it would slough off from the party, but would not divide it.

Mr. Cockrell was particularly severe on what he termed the "dingy protest" and "stuff" which Secretary Carlisle offered in his speeches in support of the gold standard.

The senator compared Mr. Carlisle's recent views with those expressed "before he was elected" and said that the Rothschilds and Belmonts and the bond brokers of Wall street and Lombard street.

Referring to an international monetary conference, Mr. Cockrell said it was a degrading and humiliating proposition. Every civilized nation has established its own financial system, and this country was the only one which trailed behind Great Britain and European countries and besought them to come to our relief and establish a financial system for us. We threw our Monroe doctrine in the face of England, and yet we bent the knee to accept the English gold standard and to ask their aid in an international conference.

Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, entered the diplomatic gallery while Mr. Cockrell was deprecating the subservience of this country to the gold standard influence of England.

The senator declared that we should continue our time-honored adherence to bimetalism. Then, without apparent intention, Mr. Cockrell faced about to ward the diplomatic gallery, and concluded:

"Or else let us haul down 'Old Glory,' hoist the gold standard and cry out 'long live the queen of England, the empress of India!'"

A Chicago Manufacturer Killed.

Chicago, March 16.—J. J. Colven, a prominent manufacturer of galvanized iron cornices, was killed to-day while superintending the work on a new station of the Lake street elevated road at 92d street. He was standing on a temporary scaffold when a train struck the end of a projecting plank, and he was hurled into the street.

New York, March 16.—Snow has been falling continuously since 12 o'clock Sunday and at noon to-day shows no sign of abatement.

NATIONAL CAPITAL BUDGET

Joint Resolution Requiring Secretary of Agriculture to Distribute Seeds Among Congressmen is a Law.

IMPORTANT SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

California Can Tax Franchises of Central and Southern Pacific Roads—Greer County Case Decided—Partisan Resolutions.

Washington, March 16.—The senate joint resolution, directing the secretary of agriculture to purchase and distribute seeds, etc., as done in preceding years, has become a law without the president's signature. Secretary Morton refused to carry out the old law and vigorously opposed the passage of the present mandatory act.

PACIFIC ROAD PROPOSITION.

Several members of congress interested in the St. Louis & Pacific railroad appeared before the house committee on Pacific railroads to-day to give their views upon the proposition recently made by Combs, the Sioux City banker, regarding that branch.

Representatives Meiklejohn, of Nebraska; Perkins, of Iowa; Fletcher and Towns, of Minnesota, presented petitions from many towns asking for the construction of the road southwest from Sioux City to North Platte, which was contemplated in the original Pacific railroad aids.

The advantages of such a line, as presented by Mr. Meiklejohn, are that it would dislodge three systems—the Northwestern, the Burlington & Missouri and the Union Pacific main lines—giving an outlet to farm products and the benefit of lake rates.

It was the request of these members that the committee include provisions for the building of this branch in any general bill it may report and for that purpose they ask that $4,000,000 be used from the sinking fund, established by Senator Thurman and invested in the bonds of Sioux City.

SESSION OF THE SENATE TO-DAY.

In the senate to-day, Mr. Palmer, of Illinois, offered a resolution, which was over, declaring that the unlimited coinage of silver by the United States would subvert existing legal and commercial values.

Mr. Cannon, of Utah, made his first speech to-day, sharply criticizing Secretary Hoke Smith for the latter's response to the senate resolution as to Indian lands.

Mr. Cannon characterized the secretary's action as disconcerting, misleading and evasive and protested in behalf of the great lack of information and intelligent action by the secretary on matters affecting the western country.

At 1 o'clock Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, was recognized for a speech in support of the resolution for additional immigration laws. It is not likely that the "Cannon resolution" will be taken up to-day.

DECEASED IN FAVOR OF THE PEOPLE.

Chief Justice Fuller of the United States supreme court, to-day handed down a decision in the case of the people of California against the Central Pacific and Southern Pacific Railway companies, involving the right of the state to tax the franchises of those roads.

The railroad companies resisted taxation on the ground that the franchisees were derived from the national government as well as from the state authorities and were inseparable.

The court decided against this view, holding that the railroad companies owe their existence to corporations created by state and are subjects to state laws in respect to taxation.

The chief justice said that the state franchisees never had been merged in general franchises and that they were as legitimately subject to taxation as the road-beds of the companies.

Justice Field read a dissenting opinion. He said that the position taken in the majority opinion "was absurd and untenable."

IMPORTANT SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The case of the United States vs. the state of Texas, involving the ownership of Greer county, was decided in the supreme court to-day in favor of the United States. Justice Harlan handed down the opinion. The case involves 1,700,000 acres.

PURELY PARTISAN RESOLUTIONS.

The house has decided to consider the resolutions, proposed by Ambassador Bayard for his speeches at Boston, England, and Edinburgh, Scotland, on Wednesday at 10:30 a. m.

A TEXAS COURT REVERSED.

The United States supreme court to-day reversed the decision of Judge Maxey, of the Texas federal court, in the case of Connel Ornelas, of Mexico, asking for the extradition of certain men claimed to be engaged in the Garza insurrection of 1891 and 1892. The supreme court decision has the effect of holding them subject to extradition. Chief Justice Fuller read the opinion of the court.

FISH COMMISSIONER NOMINATED.

The president to-day sent to the senate the following nomination: John J. Brice, of California, to be commissioner of fish and fisheries, vice Marshall McDonald deceased.

INFORMATION AS TO SEIZURES.

The resolution offered by Mr. Call, directing the secretary of the treasury to give information as to seizures of vessels for alleged violations of the neutrality laws, was passed by the senate to-day.

OKLAHOMA HOMESTEAD BILL.

Without a division the Oklahoma homestead bill was passed by the house with an amendment offered by Representative Culberson, suspending the public land laws in Greer county, Texas, to-day decided by the supreme court to be a part of the public domain.

The president has issued a proclamation withdrawing from disposition under the homestead law the public lands formerly known as Greer county, Texas, and reserving them for settlement until a decision shall be reached as to the merits of the Choctaw claim to this country. Persons who settled therein prior to December 30, 1880, are not to be disturbed in the meantime.

It is a fixed and immutable law that to have good, sound health one must have pure, rich and abundant blood. There is no shorter nor safer route than by a course of Dr. Witt's Sarsaparilla. Newton's drug store.

THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

Topeka, March 16.—Frank Nevels, colored, has been found guilty of murder in the second degree for having killed Mrs. Mateson, found dead with her head crushed in with an ax, over a year ago. Mrs. Mateson had not lived with her husband for several years and suspicion was directed against him. He was executed at the state prison here to-day.

THREE MEN HELD FOR MURDER.

Guthrie, O. T.—James Beatty, Lincoln Lowrie and John Cornell have been arrested here, charged with having murdered Frank Sully for his money a week ago. Sully's body was found beside the railroad track near Edmond, where these men, it is charged, had thrown it from a passing train to make it appear that he had fallen from the train and been killed.

Cincinnati.—The circuit court has remanded Jackson and Walling to the sheriff of Campbell county, Kentucky.

EXCITEMENT AT CREEDE.

Five Thousand Dollar Free Milling Gold Rock Discovered Within Three Miles of Great Colorado Silver Camp.

Creede, Colo., March 16.—Great excitement prevails in Creede to-day, caused by Anton Frank and O. H. Maynard bringing in rich samples of ore containing large flakes of free milling gold. The assays ran at the rate of 345.30-100 ounces or $4,926 per ton of gold. No information can be obtained as to the whereabouts of the claim from which the ore was taken, except that it is within three miles of Creede and that the vein is twenty-eight inches wide.

THE DEVOURING FLAMES.

Large Frame Hotel at Fort Scott Burned This Morning—Narrow Escape of Several Guests.

Fort Scott, Kas., March 19.—The Star hotel, a large two story frame building, burned this morning. The flames enveloped the building with lightning rapidity and the guests occupants barely escaped with their lives.

Some waiter girls and guests jumped from the rear windows, receiving slight injuries. J. D. Dewey, of Ohio, was badly burned. M. L. Wallerstein, proprietor, and his wife, were singed.

NEW MEXICO NEWS.

The free public library at Deming is flourishing. Thomas Cook and Elizabeth Ann Maypiece were married at Madrid, N. M.

The attachment has been released on New Mexico mine at Golden, and work will be resumed on it at once.

Mrs. William Shafer, who has lived in New Mexico for over twenty-five years, died at Springer of pneumonia on Wednesday.

The Cerrillos Rustler says that its advice for confirming the news of the big gold strike near Golden originally reported in the New Mexican.

Mr. C. W. Kennedy passed through here for the west on Tuesday morning. He goes to Santa Catalina to recuperate his shattered health. He was feeling well and cheerful, and believes that he will fully recover.—Gallup Gleaner.

Mrs. Ellen L. Lockhart, indicted by the grand jury at Albuquerque the other day, has filed a bond in the office of the district court clerk in the sum of $1,000, Wiley M. Weaver and H. B. Ferguson becoming her sureties.

The grand total of taxes collected in the county of Socorro since M. Cooney became collector foots up to the snug sum of $21,250.80. Some of this from every tax roll including the year 1888, and a part of it, $274.85, comes from the wandering sheep herds of Arizona that are floated over into New Mexico to graze.

Postoffice Inspector Fredericks, Saturday, placed our townsman, E. G. Stover, temporarily in charge of the postoffice here until an appointment could be made. The stampede for the appointment has already assumed lively proportions and it can not be said at this early period who the lucky (or unlucky) one will be. It is not a very large paying office, only from $700 to $800 a year can be realized out of it.—Springer Stockman.

Frank Wilmarth and Joe Stewart have struck rich in the St. Elmo mine at San Pedro, having opened up what appears to be a true fissure vein two feet wide which assays $20 in gold and silver and 30 per cent lead. Some of this from the ledge on which the Lincoln-Lucky. There are two fifty-foot shafts and an incline of 260 feet on the property. It is at the face of the incline the rich strike was made. Every indication is that this find will prove to be of permanent value. Several men are employed in development work now.—Cerrillos Rustler.

Harry Marten packed thirty pounds of ore into town the first of the week and shipped it to the Deming sampling works. It is, without doubt, the finest silver ore ever seen in Lardburg. There is so much more silver in it that it is probably worth more as cabinet specimens than for the bullion it contains. Marten refuses to tell where it comes from, but it is supposed to be from the vicinity of Carlisle. Marten says he discovered the ledge and broke off this ore and has shipped it to get a strike so as to do some prospecting on the ledge. He wants to do this prospecting and complete his locations before he lets the world know where the find is.—Lardburg Liberal.

THE VENEZUELA DISPUTE

Salisbury Government Admits Official Proposals Have Been Received from the United States.

THE NATURE THEREOF NOT DISCLOSED

A Resolution Pending in Austrian Congress Providing That the Government Lend Active Aid to International Bimetalism.

London, March 16.—The under secretary of state for foreign affairs, George N. Curzon, in the house of commons to-day, admitted that the government had received official proposals from the United States relative to the Venezuelan dispute and that they were now under consideration. He said it was not correct to describe them, as stated in the question put to the government, as an expression on the part of the United States of a willingness to accept or propose a scheme for a joint commission to report on the Venezuelan boundary dispute.

THE NEW MINERAL FIND.

In the judgment of experienced mining men the recent mineral discoveries in the Ladrone mountain region of northern Socorro county bid fair to attract wide spread attention. Messrs. J. W. Akers and W. E. Dame returned from a visit to the new find yesterday. They brought samples of the ore which are most attractive in appearance and they say the surface indications are splendid.

The claims are located eight miles northwest of Ladrone peak and the best route is via Belin, whence one has to travel by team a distance of thirty-five miles. A great many Albuquerque and Socorro people have located claims. The deepest shaft thus far sunk is fifty feet and it shows a strong vein of decomposed quartz carrying gold, silver and iron. Mr. Akers has samples taken from a six-foot hole which was dug in his presence. Joe Saint, Gov. Stover and others, of Albuquerque, have sixteen claims on which a test shaft 100 feet deep is now being sunk. That whole region seems to be

MONDAY, MARCH 16.

The tariff will not be in it this year. Free coinage is the war cry.

LAS VEGAS fairly outdid the whole territory in the observance of Arbor day. Las Vegas are a live and energetic set all the time. Even their school teachers are abreast of the times.

McKENZIEISM in Kansas has resulted in selecting already a majority of the county delegates who stand for gold as against silver. This is going to be a good year for Democratic success in Kansas. More strength to you, John Martin.

SPAIN recognized the belligerency of the southern confederacy June 17, 1861, and the first battle of Bull Run occurred on July 21, 1861. The common dictates of humanity demand now, right now, the recognition of the Cuban insurgents as worthy men contending for their liberty.

GRANT county Republicans are to be complimented for the zeal they display in standing up for the free coinage idea. If the other counties do as well there will be a chance of sending at least one or two free coinage Republicans to represent New Mexico at the St. Louis convention.

How would the Hon. Antonio Joseph do as a delegate to the Democratic national convention from the first judicial district? One hears his name mentioned very often among Santa Fe county Democrats in connection with this responsible duty. Mr. Joseph is a safe and conscientious public servant place him anywhere you will.

It's a safe wager that the Albuquerque Citizen may always be found on the side of crime. It now has a choice subject in the Brice-Cole bond steal, and, as usual, it does the bidding of the lawyer-politicians in publishing their long-winded editorials on this topic, but it can do no harm to the people of Santa Fe and Grant counties. Everybody knows where the Citizen gets its inspiration, and they know, too, that the utterances of a paper which is continuously selling its birthright for such a cheap mess of pottage can receive no serious consideration from the masses of the people.

THE HOPE OF DEMOCRACY AND SILVER.

During the last week in January, immediately after the admission of Utah into the Union as a state and while Hon. W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, was a visitor in the city, the New Mexican printed a classification of the next electoral college based on the hypothesis that the Democratic national convention would have the wisdom to drop all minor issues, declare unequivocally for the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver and nominate candidates for president and vice president whose avowed devotion to bimetalism could not be doubted or distrusted by anyone. This was probably the first classification of the kind ever printed—certainly it was the first one in which the electoral votes of Utah figured as a positive factor. It has since been reproduced and commented on by a number of our exchanges. Now comes the Omaha World-Herald, of which Mr. Bryan is the editor-in-chief, with the following editorial article on the same subject entitled, "A Conservative Estimate."

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat expresses the opinion that the advocates of a gold standard "can win without the silver states." That depends upon what may properly be called "silver states." The Globe-Democrat makes the mistake of assuming that the champions of bimetalism are largely confined to the silver producing states. The Globe-Democrat assumes that the Republicans on a gold standard platform will carry every one of the old free states east of the Mississippi river. It also counts Iowa and Minnesota in the gold column, and this it says will give the gold men 227 electoral votes—three more than is necessary to a choice. Finally the Globe-Democrat counts Delaware and Maryland and even Kentucky in the Republican line on a gold standard platform.

It requires a skillful mathematician to figure out a victory for a gold standard ticket if the friends of bimetalism shall be united upon one ticket.

Let us assume that the issue is fairly met and the contending forces united on one ticket and the following table must be accepted as a conservative suggestion of what the result would be:

Necessary to a choice, 234.

It is true that the above figures would indicate that the battle ground would be in Illinois, but that would be a hopeful battle ground for the champions of bimetalism.

In the above table Iowa is conceded to the gold men, but with the issue fairly defined for the gold standard, an excellent quest. Nebraska is in the same condition.

The above table furnishes food for thought to those Democrats who are listening to the suggestion that the Democratic national convention should declare for the gold standard. On a gold standard platform and with a gold standard candidate the Democrats could not carry a state in the Union. With a platform favoring the unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 and a candidate in whom the people had confidence the Democrats would be able to enter the contest with a hope of victory.

The Globe-Democrat makes the mistake of counting upon old time political figures. The figures of 1896 will be regulated by people who have become weary of throwing away their votes, and who will vote for principle rather than for old time political prejudices.

It will be remembered that the figures we originally printed were the same as those presented by Mr. Bryan's paper except that we classed Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan and Wisconsin as doubtful, Nebraska for silver and West Virginia for gold; while the World-Herald places Illinois, Kentucky and West Virginia in the silver column and gives the other states just named (including Nebraska) to the gold side. We are persuaded that Mr. Bryan is right as to Illinois and Kentucky, but we should hardly expect Nebraska to support the gold side or West Virginia the silver side and we are still of the opinion that Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and other states we labeled as doubtful might be carried for silver, provided, of course, that the Democratic platform and candidates were acceptable to all sincere silver men in the west and the south. Such action on the part of the Democratic national convention is the only hope we see at present for either the silver cause or the Democratic party. Any other course would force the silver men to place a third ticket in the field and this would result in an easy victory for the Republicans either in the electoral college or in the present overwhelmingly Republican or goldbug and A. P. A. dominated national house of representatives. It is well enough occasionally to stare facts in the face.

The PECOS VALLEY of . . . NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.

The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.

Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation.

The cultivation of canebrake—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.

The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.

Lands with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.

The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Feliz section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

Opening a Stomach Gate

Relieves a dam of a superabundance of water. The bowels are a kind of sluice gate of the system, serve to carry off superfluities which would otherwise flood and damage it. Constipation obstructs this avenue of escape. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters opens it and relieves the system. This it does gently and gradually, but completely, and does not, like a violent purgative, gripe, convulse and drench the bowels, and leave them weak and unfit for efficient service afterwards. On the contrary, it invigorates and regulates at the same time that it relieves them. It also strengthens and imparts activity to the stomach, liver and kidneys, counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and invigorates the nervous system. For the relief and prevention of chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague, it has no peer among modern remedies. Persons convalescing or suffering from the debility or infirmities of age find it highly beneficial.

A ROYAL AMERICAN.

MURAT'S GRANDMOTHER WAS A YANKEE.

This Relative Was Also a New Jersey School Ma'am—Recent Death of the Young Man Recalls Many Historical Incidents.

HERE was American blood in the veins of young Prince Louis Napoleon Murat, who has just succumbed to fever while serving as orderly officer to Gen. DuChesne, the commander-in-chief of the French expedition in Madagascar, says the New York World. For his grandfather, Prince Lucien Murat, after having killed King Joseph Bonaparte's daughter, Princess Charlotte, married that young lady's handsome governess, a Miss Fraser of Philadelphia. This of course entailed a quarrel with the ex-king, who at the time was living at Bordentown, N. J., and the newly married couple were left to their own devices, the first eighteen years of their married life being full of strange vicissitudes, their children being born amid downright want and something akin to starvation. Thus they were left in such straits for money that Prince Lucien was actually forced to accept employment as the driver of a milk wagon in Trenton, while his wife eked out a scanty subsistence as a schoolma'am.

Of course, the coup d'etat at Paris and the ascent of Napoleon to the throne changed all this, and on Prince Lucien's return to France with his American wife he was gratified with the title of prince and granted a handsome allowance by the emperor. Of his three children one is the duchess de Mouchy, who for so many years was the chief friend and confidante of Empress Eugenie. Another was Prince Joachim Murat, formerly a general in the French army, and who was engaged for a time to Miss Caldwell of Washington, while the third, Prince Achille, famous for the duel which, while a young lieutenant of hussars, he fought at Marseilles with the colonel of his regiment, the Marquis de Galliffet, married a lovely and wealthy Armenian of the illustrious family of Dadian, who brought him vast estates in Russia.

Prince Achille, who had been born in New Jersey, and who, like his brother and sister, spoke French with an American accent, committed suicide a few months ago while in Russia, and his young son, who held a commission of subaltern in the Twenty-fifth regiment of French dragoons, has now followed him to the grave.

Prince Louis Murat's death serves to draw attention to the revival among the titled classes of France of the taste for foreign adventure so conspicuous two centuries ago, and to the existence of which in those days France owed the possession of her then magnificent colonial empire. Thus, the duc d'Uzes died a couple of years ago while engaged in the exploration of the Congo valley in central Africa; Prince Henri d'Orleans, son of the duc de Chartres, is engaged in the exploration of Central Asia; the duc d'Estillac died while sheep farming in Australia; the prince de Conde, son of the duc d'Aumale, likewise died in the antipodes. Young soldiers bearing the illustrious names of De Gontaut-Biron, Fitzjames, Comminges, MacMahon, have won crosses of the Legion of Honor and medals on the battlefields of Cochinchina and Tonquin, while the marquis de Galliffet, the marquis de Massa, and Count Arthur Lauriston, the fidus achates of the famous viveur, the duc de Grammont-Caderousse, earned their spurs and their stripes on the battlefields of Mexico.

Has Blacklisted Insanity.

The following story is told of John Brennan of Stevens Point as a criminal lawyer. The story goes that a farmer who had killed his wife in the northern part of the state sent for Mr. Brennan to defend him, offering to deed him his farm if he would take the case. Brennan wanted his pay in advance and so the farmer made over the property to him. The murder was a most brutal and cold-blooded one and Brennan knew that there was but one plea that might save his client from a life sentence and that was insanity. The trial was one of the fiercest ever fought in a Wisconsin court. The attorney for the defense occupied a whole day in his closing address to the jury and the effort was a masterly one. The jury found the man insane and he was sent to Oshkosh. Once there he improved rapidly and in a few weeks was discharged. His first act was to sue Brennan for the recovery of his property on the ground that he was insane at the time he deeded it.

In the face of his own argument that the man was insane Brennan could do nothing but defend the farmer who was a life-long friend and admirer of the ex-senator. When the old man heard the news about Gen. Brennan's appointment to the Astor court, he exclaimed: "And so they have 'planted Mars Matt a minister, in three."

A Remarkable Conversion.

The presence of Hon. M. W. Ransom, United States minister to Mexico, at the Metropolitan, caused a friend of his to relate a remark made by an old colored man down in North Carolina, who was a life-long friend and admirer of the ex-senator. When the old man heard the news about Gen. Brennan's appointment to the Astor court, he exclaimed: "And so they have 'planted Mars Matt a minister, in three."

POPULAR SCIENCE.

Prof. Hebra of Vienna asserts that the sun does not produce freckles. They never appear, he says, in children under the age of six or eight years, whether exposed to the sun or not.

The sun, if hollow, would hold three hundred thousand earth globes, and an eye capable of hourly viewing ten thousand square miles would require fifty-five thousand years to see all its surface.

Some idea of the vast extent of the surface of the earth may be obtained when it is noted that if a lofty church steeple is ascended, and the landscape visible from it looked at, nine hundred thousand such landscapes would be viewed in order that the whole earth may be seen.

Neptune, the outermost member of the solar system yet known, is thirty times farther from the sun than the earth is, or 2,780,000,000 miles, and the tremendous line of his orbit, which encloses our comparatively small group of heavenly bodies, is so long that, although his rate of travel is three miles in a second, it takes him 165 years to complete one circuit.

The Journal of Insanity says that "genius oftentimes seems to have about it a touch of madness, and insanity sometimes shows streaks of genius, but the relation between the two is accidental, not essential. If this has been said before, it will do no harm to say it again, as an antidote to the mixture of each to which Nordaus and Lombroso and others are just now treating the civilized world."

"It has been estimated," says W. H. Lamaster, "that a cannon ball moving with a velocity of 500 miles an hour, and leaving our earth at a certain time and traveling in the direction of the nearest fixed star, would not reach it in less than 4,500,000 years; and yet there are stars in the heavens and visible through telescopes that would require a cannon ball moving with the same velocity at least 500,000,000 years to reach them."

Sydney G. Fisher seeks to show that the population of the United States is now less than it would have become through increase of native population had it continued to increase at the rate it did through fifty years following the Revolution of the colonies, and had immigration been wholly prohibited. He dates the first decline in the rate of native increase from the year 1830, when the effects of immigration were first seriously felt.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

The bigot for the most part clings to opinions adopted without investigation, and defended without argument, while he is intolerant of the opinion of others.—Buck.

Man is not born to solve the problem of the universe, but to find out what he has to do, and to restrain himself within the limits of his comprehension.—Goethe.

The essence of lying is in deception, not in words. A lie may be told by silence, by equivocation, by the accent on a syllable, by a glance of the eye at a sentence, and all these kinds of lies are worse and baser by many degrees than a lie plainly worded; so that no form of blinded conscience is so far sunk as that which comforts itself for having deceived, because the deception was by gesture or silence, instead of utterance.—John Ruskin.

Man has an unlucky tendency in his evil hour, after having received an injury, to rake together all the moon spots on his antagonist, and thus change a single deed into a whole life, so as more fully to relish the pleasure of wrath. Fortunately, with regard to love, he has the opposite tendency—that of pressing together all the lights—all the rays emitted from the beloved object—by the burning glass of fantasy into one focus, and making of them one radiant sun without any spots. But, alas, man too often does so for the first time when his beloved one—yes, often blamed one—has passed beyond the cloudy sky of his life.—Richter.

A well selected text is half of the sermon. Given a good text and a preacher who is in earnest, and the result is sure to be good. The text of this article is a plain simple statement that proves itself in the reader's own mind without argument. The text is "Good health is better than great riches."

Without health nothing really matters very much. A hacking cough takes all the beauty out of a landscape or a sunset. Erysipelas or eczema will spoil the enjoyment of sprightly conversation, of a beautiful concert, of a wonderful painting. The biggest bank account in the world won't pay a man for his health, but a very small amount of money will make him healthy and keep him healthy.

Most all bodily troubles start in the digestive or respiratory organs. It is here that improper living first makes an opening for disease. The development differs as constitutions and temperaments differ. The causes are almost identical. To get at the root of the matter is simple enough if you start right.

It cures the first thing it comes to and after that, the next. It puts health in place of disease in the stomach, and from the vantage ground thus gained, it reaches every fiber of the body and drives disease before it—indigestion, liver troubles, kidney complaint, biliousness, skin and scalp diseases, salt-rheum, tetter, eczema, and all the troubles caused by impure blood.

Faddy—It is said that an infant at birth is blind, and that some time elapses before he can see.

Daddy—I wonder if that is so? By Jingo, I'd have taken note when I was born if I had supposed the question would ever be raised.

Not to Be Trifled With.

(From Cincinnati Gazette.)

Will people never learn that a "cold" is an accident to be dreaded, and that when it occurs treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end; and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year ushered in by a little inordinance exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this, there are to-day countless invalids who can trace their complaints to "colds," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern, and were therefore neglected.—When troubled with a cold use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is prompt and effectual. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Ireland's pharmacy.

COUGHS and COLDS

WITT'S PINEOLA BALSAM is a sure Remedy for coughs, colds, sore throat, and for asthma. It soothes, quickly, and renders expectoration easy.

Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use. Many who suppose their cases to be incurable, become cured by its use. It is only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm, 50 cts. per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 50 cts. Sold by Druggists.

Young man, said the professor to his son, I shall not respond to your requests for money hereafter. You are squandering both your substance and your time. Why, I am attending lectures regularly. Yes; and in spite of your attentions you speak as if these X rays were so called because they work cross-wise in some mysterious fashion. Don't they?

No, sir. They are called X rays because X stands for an unknown quantity. Oh, I see. Just as people say an X when they mean a ten-dollar bill.

Description of Dr. Sloan's Ideal Poultry Ranch—Methods Adopted for Raising Throughbred Hens with Proud Records.

A NEW MEXICAN scribe visited Dr. J. H. Sloan's poultry ranch, formerly known as the Gloria orchard, out on the penitentiary road, yesterday morning, and candidly confessed him to confess that he soon became deeply interested in the study of henology.

About two years ago Dr. Sloan bought the eleven acres of land comprising what was known as the Gloria orchard, and solemnly dedicated it to the exclusive culture of thoroughbred poultry. He immediately built upon the land warm one-story adobe buildings according to the most approved plans for the comfortable accommodation of several thousand chickens, ducks and turkeys; erected a convenient lodge for his keeper with rooms attached for incubators, brooders and feed; formed a connection with the city water system; plowed up and seeded part of his gently sloping grounds, and laid off the central part into spacious, wire-fenced feeding and fresh air yards for his prospective fowls.

Then he began to stock up his place with the finest purchasable thoroughbred poultry in pairs, trios and quintettes with a view to breeding the best possible egg producers. He now has about 600 chickens, besides fine flocks of Pekin ducks, turkeys and pigeons. Among the chickens are some common ones from Kansas, but these will all be killed off this season and replaced by the thoroughbred output of his numerous setters and two incubators.

He has three large general assembly houses for those of his chickens that are exclusively engaged in their talents in producing eggs for the market, each of these houses opening into an extensive outlay yard, and he has four more houses, each wired into four apartments and opening into four separate wired yards, for his choice groups of birds that are formulating eggs for further stocking the place with their aristocratic or real blue-blooded progeny. Only the product from these houses is used for breeding purposes.

All the houses are warm and well ventilated, are swept and garnished every morning and hence are always clean and wholesome. Every lot is provided with fresh running water and the ducks gracefully disport in a pond in their preserve that their Noah-like taste for aquatic pursuits may be cultivated.

Among the chosen chickens on the place may be mentioned groups of Buff Cochins, Black Hamburgs, Black Langshans, Barred Plymouth Rocks, Patridge Cochins, Houdans, White Plymouth Rocks, Silver Laced Wyandottes, Brown Leghorns, Silver Grey Dorkings, Black Javans and White Crested Black Polish all pure blood. A careful daily record is kept of the eggs laid by the several hens of these different breeds and the doctor is confident that, by keeping and breeding from the hens whose mothers show the best records, he will steadily improve his fowls. And it is from the production of eggs that he expects chiefly to realize his profits.

Among his hens that have already come to the front with extraordinary records are a Black Java and a Dorking, each less than a year old, which have this spring (including part of February) laid, respectively twenty-five and twenty-four eggs out of a possible twenty-eight, presuming that these are only capable of producing one egg a day. The Black Java is a Missouri bred bird whose first parents were the Dominicker and Barred Plymouth Rock. Hens of this breed have records as high as 225 eggs in a year.

Mr. W. H. Keller, who gives his undivided attention to looking after the place, reports about fifty spring chickens on hand, that all the hens that can be expected to set are thus employed, and that his incubators are full of eggs. About 200 eggs in one of the incubators are due to hatch in a day or so.

Dr. Sloan naturally takes a good deal of mingled pride and pleasure in his ideally located and faultlessly conducted poultry ranch, and is sanguine that this spring will yield a handsome profit. He finds a ready sale at good prices for his eggs and could readily dispose of many more.

THE MUNICIPAL CAMPAIGN.

Democratic Prospects Bright—Kindly Word of Warning to Petty Mischief Makers.

The city election takes place one month from to-morrow. The political caldron, naturally, is beginning to simmer. The Democratic voters are being well organized and are holding frequent meetings and listening to counsel from party leaders. For the most part these addresses are earnest practical appeals for party unity and harmony, and they constitute a happy augury of success. Many speakers also have referred in their addresses to the personal differences existing between Santa Fe Democrats, and have undertaken to point out the folly of permitting these differences to enter into the municipal campaign. In doing this they have undoubtedly touched the real sentiment of the rank and file of the party and of the business community comprising men who are less partisan in their views and who look upon the administration of municipal affairs more in the light of a well conducted business than as a mere political machine instituted for the sole purpose of the personal gain of a few and to enable them to use the official patronage in paying off rewards to friends or punishing their personal enemies. This latter, it is admitted, is not a happy state of things, and the indiscretions and lack of judgment on the part of the few may yet cost the Democratic party dearly not only in this city, but in the county.

The Democratic party was not instituted as a club to enable one man or set of men to "play even" with others against whom they may have a private grievance. It is too big for that. Its principles are too noble to be thus trodden in the dust. A word to the wise is sufficient. The New Mexican demands party unity and a sinking of all petty personal grievances.

PRESIDENT JEFFREY'S VISIT

D. & R. G. Officials Spend Sunday in Santa Fe—How They Were Entertained—What They Said.

President E. T. Jeffrey, the popular and able official head of the D. & R. G. railway system, spent yesterday afternoon here with a party of officials of the road. They arrived on a special train at 1 o'clock. In the party were E. T. Jeffrey, president; S. K. Hooper, general passenger agent; N. W. Sample, general superintendent; Henry Scholack, superintendent of machinery; C. H. Scholack, assistant general manager; A. S. Hughes, traffic manager, and D. S. Mayo, manager express. After luncheon in their dining car the party looked over the railroad yards with Supt. Cole Lydon and General Agent Helm, then came up town and heard the plaza concert. After a look about town Mr. Staab invited them to his palatial home and there royally entertained them for several hours.

Members of the party were very non-committal about the matter of an early extension of the road into central New Mexico. Hard times and the unsettled condition of finances both at home and abroad, it was said, made it impossible to count on the future. President Jeffrey said the D. & R. G. system was doing pretty well, and he counts on a heavy immigration to the Rockies this year. Another member of the party said that the policy of the D. & R. G. was to convert its tracks to standard gauge as fast as possible and he thought it would not be very long before orders would be given to arrange for running broad gauge trains between Pueblo and Santa Fe. Even now, he said, 50,000 ties are being got out near Walsenburg and these will be used for broadening the gauge over Veta pass. The party left for the north this morning.

John Catron's Close Call.

An Associated Press telegram announced the other day that John Catron had been drowned while out sailing at Annapolis, but a later telegram from that city says:

"A telegram was received here this afternoon from Representative Catron, of Washington, stating that his son, John W. Catron, and Hamilton Gale had been picked up by a steamer and taken to Cambridge, Md."

Tansill's Hunter.

A big three-cornered real estate deal was completed in Kansas City to-day between Robert Weems Tansill, of Chicago; also of the Peos valley of N. M.; Colonel John B. Overmeyer, of Chicago, and Gen. Benson, of Iowa, who now lives in Kansas City. The deal began with a trade between Mr. Tansill and Colonel Overmeyer, whereby the immense Tansill farm in the Peos valley, N. M., was exchanged for the Overmeyer flat houses on the Washington boulevard, Chicago. To-day Mr. Tansill transferred back the Chicago flat houses to Colonel Overmeyer, and Colonel Overmeyer transferred the Tansill farm in the Peos valley to General Benson. Then General Benson transferred the Neweaston flats, southwest corner Sixteenth and Troost avenue, to Mr. Tansill. Each of the three properties was valued at $100,000.

To-morrow Mr. Tansill, who is a remarkable person, leaves for Mexico to free gold for centuries by the cruet. He owns a four gold and silver mining claims in Mexico, and has recently organized the Gold Hill Mining company, capital $5,000,000, to own and operate the Tarroa and Rosario gold mines in southwest Chihuahua, in the Sierra Madre mountains. He intends to secure from President Diaz a formal written assurance with reference to the protection of non-resident mining claims.

"Mexico is one vast mine," declared Mr. Tansill. "There are hundreds of rich veins where the natives have taken out free gold for centuries by the cruet. We get our labor for $1.50 a day, paying in silver, and sell back stores to the miners, so that our labor costs us only 40 cents a day in gold."—Kansas City Star.

Gold at Cripple Creek.
The best way to get there is over the Santa Fe Route. The fabulously rich gold mining district of Cripple Creek, Colo., is attracting hundreds of people. By spring the rush bids fair to be enormous. That there is an abundance of gold there is demonstrated beyond doubt. Fortunes are being rapidly made.

To reach Cripple Creek, take the Santa Fe Route, the only standard gauge line direct to the camp. Through Pullman sleepers and chair cars. The Santa Fe lands you right in the heart of the Cripple Creek.
