NO PRECEDENT IN HISTORY

Report of Deductory Services of Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park.

FAMOUS BATTLE FIELDS PRESERVED

Survivors of Both Contending Forces Participated with Enthusiasm—Pending Sleeping Car Bill Amended.

Washington, March 27.—Representative Grosvenor, of Ohio, has submitted to the house the report of the joint committee representing congress on the deductory services of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga national park in September last. The report says that the event proved to be without a precedent in the history of wars and one which would not be possible in any other nation than our own, for there were gathered in enthusiastic comradeship the most distinguished surviving leaders of both sides and many thousands of the rank and file of the once contending forces. The park itself is without a precedent, being an impartial reconstruction of the great battle field by the victorious side, in which every respect has been shown to both great armies and the utmost impartiality has been observed in marking the line of battle and preserving upon the monuments and tablets an accurate history of every organization engaged upon the extended fields which the immense park embraces. The report says that the practical enthusiasm with which the city of Chattanooga entered upon the work in cooperation with the national authorities in preparing for the dedication of the park merits high notice.

WILL IT PASS.
Congressman John B. Corlies has radically amended his sleeping car bill. The original bill provided not only for placing sleeping car equipment under the interstate commerce commission, but for a scale of specifications based on distance traveled; a penalty for porters receiving tips and for making up the upper berth when only the lower is sold. The amended bill still provides for interstate commerce commission control of the companies, but all of the other sections are eliminated except that an added section provides for a difference of 25 per cent in upper and lower berth rates. The opponents of the measure will be given a final hearing April 14.

The apostolic delegate, Averardi, has arrived in Mexico and was received by the high church dignitaries. He says his mission is one of good will and pacification. He is entirely acquainted with the existing dissensions in the church, has a high regard for President Diaz and is ready to do all in his power to bring about a good feeling between the church and state.

All last winter Mr. Geo. A. Mills, of Lebanon, Conn., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. At times it was so severe that he could not stand up straight, but was drawn over on one side. "I tried different remedies without receiving relief," he says, "until about six months ago I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. After using it for three days my rheumatism was gone and has not returned since. For sale at Ireland's Pharmacy."

Opera House Burned.

Kansas City, March 27.—A special to the Star from Springfield, Mo., says: Fire completely destroyed the Grand opera house this morning. The building cost $75,000; insured for $35,000. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The property was owned by F. S. Heffer.

NATIONAL POLITICS.

WASHINGTON.—Speaker Reed's supporters have by no means given up the fight. Joe Manley, who is managing Mr. Reed's campaign, has sent the following letter to Gov. H. B. Cleaves, of Maine:

Hon. H. B. Cleaves, Governor of Maine:
My Dear Governor—Including elections held to-day, there have been but 375 delegates elected to the Republican national convention. There are thirty-six contested cases, which are not given to any candidate, because it is unfair to assume how these cases will be decided either by the national committee or the convention. Of the 375 delegates elected, 164 are for McKinley, provided you concede him twenty-six from Indiana and eighteen from Minnesota. The rest are divided as follows: Morton, 64; Quay, 19; Callom, 10; Allison, 44; Reed, 48. Mr. Reed will gain from now on until the convention. Yours truly,
J. H. Manley.

It will be seen from his letter that Mr. Manley does not concede that the contested delegates can be rightfully claimed for McKinley, as they have been in Gen. Grosvenor's estimates. All of these contests, however, are in the southern states. There has been more conferring by the friends of Reed and Allison. The withdrawal of Cushman K. Davis, made necessary by the McKinley capture of the Minnesota convention, was a severe blow to the other candidates. It was felt more than any other thing that has happened. Friends of Allison and Reed expressed the fear that Senator Callom would be forced to take similar action just before the Illinois convention meets. The McKinley men were confidently claiming that if Senator Callom did not withdraw they would elect four delegates at-large in spite of him.

Mr. Reed in conversation with friends admitted that McKinley was obtaining much more strength in the north than he had expected, but he said the situation in the south had been misrepresented in the dispatches, and McKinley had not the votes there which were being claimed for him.

A very close alliance is growing between Reed and Allison, as the result of these recent evidences of McKinley's strength.

ALLEN KELLY QUILTS.

He Says Adios to Cruces and Turns a Few Timely Political Pointers.

In the Las Cruces Independent-Democrat at hand this morning Editor Allen Kelly says "adios" to the denizens of Dona Ana county. He steps down and out gracefully. Kelly's writings are always entertaining, however much they may sometimes fall short in prudence, and in this instance he so squarely hits the nail on the head as to make his observations worth reproduction. He says:

"Some explanation of my reasons for retiring is due to the readers of the paper, and in giving it I shall be candid and probably somewhat disagreeable."

"I am not a politician for a man of strong convictions and aggressive disposition in debate to take any part in the politics of this community without getting into an unphilosophical state of mind and unpleasant personal relations with half of his neighbors. In most communities the political life is a political life, and remains upon amicable terms. In Las Cruces, political disagreement or difference of opinion is synonymous with personal animosity, and a political discussion is nothing but a quarrel. Long exposure to such conditions is demoralizing. If I am to be a politician, let me look at the indurated politicians of this town and then say if he finds them admirable in character and conduct and altogether lovely in disposition."

"I have had enough of this infernal foolishness. It is not politics, and it is not worth any rational human being's attention. When a man's time and attention are absorbed by the bickerings, quarrels and faction fights of the people with whom he comes in contact daily, he can not give much thought to things that are worth while, and he is in danger of degenerating to the mental level of the political filibuster."

"An editor should try to entertain his readers and put before them information that may be useful, instructive and rationally interesting, but when his environment is an intellectual desert perpetually swept by a sandstorm of personal politics, and the only music he hears is the rattlesnake buzz of the factions, he may be forgiven for failure to carry out that program. He may not be forgiven by himself for remaining very long within such a sphere of influence, however."

"I trust that this explanation may be deemed sufficient. It will be perceived that my motives are not altruistic at all, but are purely egoistic. I simply do not like to be pestered by the political gossamer of Las Cruces, and as they can not be brushed away, I get out of their habit. Life is too short to waste in fighting them, and a well meaning but negligent Providence has failed to include in the scheme of things any tangle-foot sufficiently effective to check their pernicious activity. In some older and more civilized countries, this oversight has been remedied by the invention of the ball and chain, but the utility and civilizing influences of that beneficent invention are not fully recognized yet in New Mexico."

Aboard Ship.

Sea voyages are usually deemed promotive of health. So they are in most cases. But it may well be doubted if the shaking up aboard ship, which people of very fragile constitution and weak nerves get, is not prejudicial if its effects are not averted or nullified by a medicinal safeguard. The best, if we are to believe the testimony of ocean travelers, whether they go abroad for health, pleasure or business, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Invalids, commercial travelers, sea captains and yacht-men concur in recommending this fine defensive tonic. So do emigrants to the frontier, the inhabitants of malarious regions, and all who are exposed to hardship or rigors of climate. For malarial, rheumatic or kidney troubles, nervousness, dyspepsia, liver complaint and constipation it is eminently efficacious and commended by the medical fraternity far and near.

GOLD, PROTECTION AND REED

An Immense Republican State Convention Convened in Boston Music Hall To-day.

A STRAIGHT DECLARATION FOR GOLD

Silver Agitation Denounced as Injurious—Protection for New England Advocated—Reed Declared to be the Choice.

Boston, Mass., March 27.—Accompanied with enthusiasm that rocked Music hall, the Republican state convention for the election of delegates to the Republican national convention at St. Louis was held here to-day.

The delegates came only with one name on their minds, their choice for the presidential nomination. It was that of Thomas B. Reed, of Maine. Consequently any reference to the man or his sentiments was the signal for cheers and applause, and again and again the building trembled with shouts and hand clapping and cheers and waving hats, as the delegations contested with each other in manifesting their appreciation of their favorite.

Geo. Lyman, chairman of the state committee, called the convention to order at 10:30 a. m. and then eloquently addressed the delegates.

REED'S NAME CHERISHED TO THE BONE.
Upon the speaker mentioning the name of Reed the audience burst into loud applause, the ladies among the spectators in the balconies joining.

Following Chairman Lyman's address committees on credentials, permanent organization, resolutions, and ballots were appointed.

The committee on credentials reported that the convention was entitled to 3,002 delegates and that 1,851 delegates were present.

Congressman Samuel W. McCall, of Winchester, was chosen permanent chairman and made a ringing speech on taking the gavel.

DECLARATION OF DOCTRINE.

The platform adopted advocates ample revenue with a sufficient surplus for coast defenses, enlarging the navy and reducing the public debt; favors protective tariff and reciprocity; advocates a discrimination of duties; favors American bottoms so that our old time carrying trade may be restored; regards the silver question as hostile to business and destructive to confidence; utterly opposes the free and unlimited coinage of silver and any change in the existing gold standard except by international agreement; opposes the unsound and dangerous system of state banks and advocates the expansion of the banking system to meet the demands of business and the population of the country; declares that the civil service should be thoroughly enforced; holds that the United States should adhere rigidly to the American principle of entire separation of church and state with no appropriation of public money for sectarian churches of any kind; that our interest in the American continent must be carefully guarded; that we should maintain our influence in the Hawaiian islands and build and control the isthmian canal; that the Monroe doctrine, as declared in 1823 and enforced in 1895 and 1896, must always be upheld; sympathy is expressed with the Cubans in their struggle for independence and the belief expressed that the United States should use its influence to bring to an end the bloody war now desolating Cuba and give to the people of that island peace and self government.

UNIQUELY FOR REED.

The platform concludes: Massachusetts Republicans have never undertaken to pledge their delegates to a national convention, but we think it fitting to declare our decided preference for the Republican nomination to the presidency and that preference is for Thos. B. Reed, of Maine.

The reading of the platform by Senator Lodge was frequently interrupted by applause. This was especially marked when the Cuban and gold standard plank and the section referring separation of church and state were read, but all the previous demonstrations were as naught compared with that which followed the mention of Reed's name as the nominee of the Republicans of Massachusetts for the presidency.

DELEGATES CHOSEN BY ACCLAMATION.

Then followed the election of four delegates at-large to the national convention as follows: Henry Cabot Lodge, W. T. Murray, Crane E. Draper, Curtis Guild. Jr. They were chosen by acclamation.

Reed and Allison Win.

Austin, Texas, March 27.—The Texas Republican convention selected the following delegates to the national convention:

N. W. Cuney, of Galveston, an Allison man; W. B. McKensho, of Georgetown, a Reed man; E. H. Terrill, of San Antonio, an Allison man; C. H. Ferguson, of Richmond, a Reed man.

Alternates—W. F. Gross, D. C. Koip, J. C. Cain and R. C. Smith.

Electors—George C. Clifford, of San Antonio, and Eugene Marshall, of Dallas.

Not to Be Trifled With.

(From Cincinnati Gazette.)
Will people never learn that a "cold" is an accident to be dreaded, and that when it occurs treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end; and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year ushered in by a little judicious exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms.

Beyond this, there are to-day countless invalids who can trace their complaints to "colds," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern, and were therefore neglected.—When troubled with a cold use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is prompt and effectual. 25c and 50c bottles for sale at Ireland's pharmacy.

Gold at Cripple Creek.

The best way to get there is over the Santa Fe Route. The fabulously rich gold mining district of Cripple Creek, Colo., is attracting hundreds of people. By spring the rush bids fair to be enormous. That there is an abundance of gold there is demonstrated beyond doubt. Fortunes are being rapidly made.

To reach Cripple Creek, take the Santa Fe Route, the only standard gauge line direct to the camp. Through Pullman sleepers and chair cars. The Santa Fe lands you right in the heart of the Cripple Creek.

TROUBLE IN SOUTH AFRICA

The Uprising of the Natives Appears Much More Serious Than First Reported.

RAIDING FARMS AND KILLING WHITES

Settlers Flocking to the Towns for Protection—Disturbance Widespread—Mounted Police Being Hurred to the Front.

Copyrighted 1896 by Associated Press.
Capetown, March 27.—Dispatches received from Bulawayo, Matabelland, this morning indicate that the uprising in that part of the colony is very serious.

The telegrams from the front yesterday merely give the outline as a revolt of a few natives in the lazza and Filabui districts and the dispatch of a small force of volunteers to the scene of the disturbance.

The dispatches to-day show that the disturbance is widespread and is becoming more alarming.

An extensive uprising of the natives has taken place and the revolt may spread to other parts of South Africa.

The settlers in Matabelland are flocking into the towns, which are being placed in a condition of defense. Volunteers are being enrolled everywhere and all the steps necessary are being taken to meet the opponents.

Reinforcements of mounted police have already been sent to Bulawayo, Inza and Gumbo.

Supplies of ammunition are being hurried to Bulawayo and all the disturbed territory has been placed under the command of Col. Napier, who is in charge of the government forces.

The natives are raiding the farms and killing the white settlers in the Matabelland district and rumor has it that over fifty have been killed.

DONA ANA SHRIEVALTY.

Numa Raymond Formally Turns Over the Sheriff's Office to Pat F. Garrett—Latter Gives Bond and Appoints Deputies—Wise Adjustment.

It is debatably announced from Las Cruces that Hon. Numa Raymond, whose contest for the sheriff of Dona Ana county was recently decided in his favor by Judge Bantz, has formally turned the absolute control of the office over to Mr. P. F. Garrett, taking from the latter a bond in the sum of $10,000, with Thomas J. Bull, Demetrio Chavez, A. L. Christy, E. E. Day and Willie Ryerson as sureties, for the faithful performance of his official duties.

Mr. Garrett has thus become sheriff of Dona Ana county. He has appointed E. E. Bantz, of Edly, and James Brent, of Silver City, as deputies. The former will keep the books and have charge of the office. Mr. Brent, like Mr. Garrett, was at one time sheriff of Lincoln county and has a most enviable reputation as an officer. This adjustment of affairs official in Dona Ana county meets the cordial approval of all friends of law and order, irrespective of party, not only in Dona Ana county but throughout the territory. No one doubts that Sheriff Garrett will impartially and fearlessly do his whole duty.

In company with Mr. C. C. Perry, the intrepid sheriff of Chaves county, Mr. Garrett has already taken the trail and confidence is felt that he will in due time solve the dreadful Fountain murder mystery by discovering the bodies and placing the heavy hand of the law on the murderers.

FRIDAY, MARCH 27.

In other words, Delegate Catron insists on having his rake-off.

When did Delegate Catron pay taxes to meet the interest on those bogus bonds?

The Las Vegas Optic displays incipient symptoms of cottoning to the "no protection without silver" idea.

Well, the capitol, the normal schools, the insane asylum, the military academy and the agricultural college bonds have received the sanction of congress, but at a very dear cost—to Delegate Catron.

Capt. J. G. CLANCEY and Republicans of his stamp must have been edified over the failure of the territorial convention to speak out on so important a question as the tariff. It was a corked-up convention, sure enough.

Catron may get a big fee from the Brices and the Colers, but he'd better not make said fee contingent upon his bulldozing the people of Grant and Santa Fe counties into walking up and paying those fraudulent bonds.

McKINLEY is doubtless the presidential choice of a majority of the Republicans, but he is doomed to a defeat at St. Louis similar to that which overtook Blaine at Cincinnati in 1876. Please post this prediction in a conspicuous place.

The few tax-payers of Santa Fe county who joined in endorsing the Brice bond steal at Delegate Catron's earnest solicitation, now doubtless wish they had kept their hands off, for their telegram not only served to embarrass Gov. Thornton in his efforts to defeat the steal, but enabled Mr. Catron to turn a clever trick in behalf of his clients, the Colers.

The United States senate has passed a joint resolution permitting ex-President Harrison to wear the decoration awarded to him by Spain and Brazil, and in view of the fact that the giddy young thing is to lead the blushing Mrs. Dimmick to the altar on Easter Monday, we hope the house will see the vital importance of rushing the resolution through with all possible dispatch.

The New Mexican is a staunch, loyal and discreet advocate of Democratic principles, but this fact does not authorize any would-be political bosses to undertake the dictation of its news or editorial policy, nor does it qualify any one to indulge in an impertinent interference with the New Mexican's private business affairs. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THAT BOND STEAL.

It is a great pity that Delegate Catron could not have severed his official position as the public servant of all the people of New Mexico from his profession as a lawyer long enough to have drawn the record on Senator Brice and defeated the county bond steal at the very beginning. Had the man elected to go to congress and look after the interests of the citizens of this territory been true to his trust we would not now be called upon to witness the humiliating spectacle in which New Mexico has figured before congress during the past few days, nor would the righteous wrath of the tax-payers of Santa Fe and Grant counties now be so deservedly called down upon Delegate Catron for the very active part he has taken in promoting the efforts of the Shylocks of Wall Street to saddle upon the people of these communities a fraudulent debt, conceived in fraud and perpetuated as a blood-sucking device upon our people for years through just such tricky manipulation and connivance of corrupt politicians and bondholders as was witnessed in Washington on yesterday, when, in spite of the protests of the people, and in the face of Governor Thornton's earnest appeal that the test as to the validity of the bonds be left with the courts, the house committee on territories voted to accept the Brice senate amendment and even went so far as to cover by its indorsement the Coler bonds, amounting in all to over $484,000.

Delegate Catron has undertaken to play the smooth Eph all through these dark lantern proceedings. The Brice amendment was discussed in the senate committee for two weeks before the tax-payers of Santa Fe county were aware of it. Delegate Catron knew it, for on March 4 it was reported to the senate, backed by Catron's approval, yet it was not until the Congressional Record reached Santa Fe on March 9 that the people became advised of what was going on. Catron sanctioned the Brice amendment because, as attorney for the Colers, he knew the time would come for him to move in the interest of those clients of his. This time came yesterday and the Coler interests were well looked after, Attorney Catron going before the committee with a telegram indorsing the Brice amendment, and, of course, cunningly pleading that this indorsement extended also to the Coler bonds, equally as fraudulent as the Brice bonds.

An honorable man would not have done this. A loyal citizen or a conscientious public official would, upon learning the intention of Brice and Coler, have promptly communicated by wire with his constituents in Santa Fe and Grant counties and advised them to counsel together and direct him as to their wishes in the premises. Then if he had possessed the courage that qualifies men to represent an enlightened constituency he would have asked that all the facts of record respecting these bonds be sent on him that he might lay them before the senate and house for consideration. That would have been the honorable way of meeting the proposition. Then if congress had gone on and passed the amendments the people would have felt differently and certainly would have held the delegate blameless. But he preferred to do the other thing. He played the demagogue and tricky lawyer from the beginning, and when Gov. Thornton reached Washington to do what he could to relieve the tax-payers and put a stop to this piece of jobbery Catron even went so far as to leave no stone unturned that was calculated to obstruct the governor's plans and belittle his mission. Gov. Thornton may, probably, fail in his efforts to defeat this most unjust proceeding, but if he does, and it a long period of costly litigation finally ends in the confiscation of the property of Santa Fe's citizens, the people will know well where to lay the blame.

PRESS COMMENT.

As to Municipal Affairs.

 We agree with the New Mexican entirely. We are unable to see what high protection or tariff reform, or the currency question, or any national issues upon which parties divide, have to do with the administration of municipal affairs. That is useful to a certain class to encourage party divisions on every occasion with the purpose of cementing party ties and destroying the growth of independent action on the part of voters is apparent. That it they should support such action follows as the day the night. But there is no thinking man but realizes that the public service is bound to suffer. We are quite ready to carry the crusade further, advocate non-partisanship in all local elections, but we feel hesitation lest at this juncture too much zeal may defeat even partial success, and we shall be amply repaid, if we are partially instrumental in eliminating politics from school elections this year. At another time we may reach out further.—Albuquerque Democrat.

NEW MEXICAN PRINTING COMPANY.

The PECOS VALLEY of NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.

The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.

Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation.

The cultivation of sugarcane—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.

The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.

Land with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant, and at times rapid, increase in value.

The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Felix section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

SUNBEAMS.

A Woman of Fact.—Bess—And of which variety is your wife, the clinging-vine or the self-assertive?

Chas.—A little of both. When she wants a new dress or a new bonnet she generally begins in the clinging-vine role; if that doesn't bring the money, then she changes to the self-assertive; and—well—she invariably gets the dress or bonnet.

Aboard Ship.

Sea voyages are usually deemed promotive of health. So they are in most cases. But it may well be doubted if the shaking up aboard ship, which people of very fragile constitution and weak nerves get, is not prejudicial if its effects are not averted or nullified by a medicinal safeguard. The best, if we are to believe the testimony of ocean travelers, whether they go abroad for health, pleasure or business, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Invalids, commercial travelers, sea captains and yacht-men concur in recommending this life defensive tonic. So do emigrants to the frontier, the inhabitants of malarious regions, and all who are exposed to hardship or rigors of climate. For malaria, rheumatic or kidney trouble, nervousness, dyspepsia, liver complaint and constipation it is eminently efficacious and commended by the medical fraternity far and near.

After using it for three days my rheumatism was gone and has not returned since. For sale at Ireland's Pharmacy.

WOMANHOOD.

Dimples lengthened into lines, Lines of beauty still, Slightly portraying strength In a woman's will.

Brow that sorrow's lips have kissed, Tranquil now and kind; Stamped with quiet majesty, Felt, but undefined.

Eyes that charm and fetter one With a nameless bond, Borrowing the hidden power Of the soul beyond.

Power to live and keep the heart Undeveloped and pure; Power to smile when tears would start, Suffer and endure.

Happiness subdued, but deep— Kin in joy above; Found in sacrifice of self, Born of boundless love.

Beating life's best energies To the highest good; Gentle, beautiful, sublime— This is womanhood.

—Sarah L. Mitchell in St. Louis Republic.

Children's Parties.

Rightly managed, children's parties are never a mistake. But let them be parties for real children and not for manikins. In applying the arts and graces of grown men and women. The best hours are from 12 to 4, with lunch at 1, or from 2 to 6, with supper at half past 5.

The refreshments should be plain and judiciously chosen. It is a poor compliment to the mother to invite her child to a party and let it so overeat itself with food that it must be summoned the next day to a very pretty menu for children, either for lunch or supper, is bouillabaisse, thinly sliced cold turkey or chicken, the white meat only; delicate ham sandwiches, tiny biscuits, thin bread and butter, cocoa, cake, ice cream and fruit.

Let one of the little girls take the head of the table and pour the bouillabaisse and the foot and pour the cocoa, and if you draw lots for these important positions it will add to the interest. Have no bonbons except the very best chocolate. The favors and prizes should all be simple and appropriate for children. Cunning little pasteboard hats of various shapes, that are really boxes, may contain in the crown a very few bonbons.

She Made It Pay.

A half dozen newspaper women were exchanging "shop" experiences the other afternoon, and one of them contributed this: "About once in so often," she confided, "I get a notion that I can be a thrifty housekeeper as well as a newspaper worker, and I give myself up to the pleasant task of saving. I have a room in the housekeeping last autumn one room needed new shades, and I undertook to supply the need from a pair that had been discarded from the parlor floor. From luncheon till dinner time I toiled over those shades, cutting them down, and then hanging them wrong over and over again, till, at 5 o'clock, reduced to a state of despair, I sent for a man, who fixed them in five minutes and charged me 75 cents."

"I hope you saw your foolishness," commented one of her listeners, "and put that afternoon's performance down to profit and loss account."

"Well, it wasn't exactly unprofitable, after all," returned the first speaker, "for I wrote up the shade story and sold it for $5."—New York Letter.

Your Rings.

It is never wise to let rings that have stones in them. Of course all rings need to be cleaned from time to time, and diamonds, rubies, emeralds and sapphires will stand washing with soap. Turquoise stones and seed pearls will change color if subjected to any such treatment. The majority of pearl rings have not the full round, perfect pearl which alone will stand wetting. Almost all pearls have at least a tiny pin prick somewhere on their surface, and the like a spot of decay in a tooth, will admit substances which will damage them. It is therefore usual to take off one's rings when washing the hands. This is how many valuable jewels are lost. An old-fashioned but excellent preventive of forgetfulness on such occasions is to put the ring into your mouth, or at least between your lips. Then you will remember to slip it on your finger after drying your hands.

Given Six Years to Marry.

When young girls of America consider the difficulties and obstacles which the customs and habits of other countries throw in the way of their young girls, they may be thankful they are Americans. Take the Danish girl, for instance. She enters society very young. Between her fourteenth and sixteenth year she is confirmed, and this confirmation is compulsory and really her debut into society. All her relatives and friends give her presents at this time, and she is endowed with a small library and a garden of flowers. If she is unmarried at the age of 23, she is dropped from the list of young people and left out of all their parties and amusements, so there is nothing left for her to do but to become emancipated and follow any pursuit for which she feels inclined. She smokes like the men, and, when the time is thoroughly independent. — Exchange.

Sweeping and Dusting.

It is easier and better to use a whisk-broom for sweeping a few carpets than a broom with a long handle. Carpets that have a long nap should be swept in but one direction. Otherwise you sweep the dust into them instead of out of them.

It is a slovenly housekeeper who uses a feather duster for all purposes. Feather dusters are useful for getting into corners and for cleaning ornaments into which you cannot manage to thrust a cloth, but such dusters only scatter the dust. You need a cloth to gather it and remove it permanently. Blue cotton handkerchiefs are good for ordinary purposes, but cheesecloth is best for fine furniture. — Brooklyn Eagle.

At Home Gown.

The hostess on her "at home" day, writes Isabel A. Mallon in Ladies' Home Journal, is dressed daintily, but with great care, for she does not wish to convey the impression that her gown is finer than that of her visitors. The prettiest toilet is a well fitting dress trimmed a little more elaborately than that which would be chosen for the street, and yet having about it no suggestion of the tea gown or wrap.

Women in the Government.

The refusal to allow intelligent women a voice in the making of the laws that control them cannot be defended on grounds of equality or justice. It is arbitrary, autocratic, and therefore wholly foreign to democratic ideas. It is a fragment of ancient barbarism woefully out of place amid the enlightenment of the modern day. — Haverhill (Mass.) Bulletin.

Simon S. Hartman, of Tunneton, W. Va., has been subject to attacks of colic about once a year, and would have to call a doctor and then suffer for about twelve hours as much as some do when they die.

He was taken recently just the same as at other times, and concluded to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took one dose of it and it gave me relief in five minutes. That is more than anything else has ever done for me." For sale at Ireland's Pharmacy.

The Door of Life.

The fear of pain and the dangers of parturition fill many a woman's breast with dismay. There is no reason why childbirth should be fraught with danger and distress. It is a perfectly natural function, and should be performed in a natural way without undue suffering. Nature never intended that women should be tortured when doing the one thing which makes them wholly womanly. The perversion of nature's laws has brought this suffering about, and a return to right living will stop it.

Nine out of ten women are troubled more or less by weakness and diseases peculiar to their sex. It is so because they do not take proper care of themselves—because they neglect little ills and little precautions. A woman in perfectly hearty health goes through her time of trial with comparative ease. The thing to do then, is to make all expectant mothers healthy—to strengthen them generally and locally. The medicine and tonic to do it with is Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It is a powerful invigorant and nerve. It soothes and strengthens the nerves and acts directly on the feminine organism in a way which is just what is needed for the proper and regular performance of all its functions at all times.

Taken during gestation it robs childbirth of its dangers to both mother and child, by preparing the system for delivery thereby shortening labor, lessening pain and abbreviating the period of confinement.

Marking a Married Man.

The dress reform women want a law passed requiring men to wear some distinct dress to denote whether they are married or single. Agnes—What nonsense! When a man goes down the avenue in a last year's hat and baggy trousers, what idiot would think he was single?

Not to Be Trifled With.

(From Cincinnati Gazette.)

Will people never learn that a "cold" is an accident to be dreaded, and that when it occurs treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end; and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year ushered in by a little injudicious exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this, there are to-day countless invalids who can trace their complaints to "colds," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern, and were therefore neglected. When troubled with a cold use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is prompt and effectual. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Ireland's pharmacy.
