THE GOVERNOR'S CITATION.

Territory of New Mexico,
Office of the Executive,
Santa Fe, N. M., April 23, 1896.

W. P. Cunningham, Esq., Sheriff of Santa Fe County, Santa Fe, N. M.

Dear Sir:—Enclosed I send you a copy of the charges which have this day been filed with me, wherein you are accused of serious misfeasance and malfeasance in office. The charges speak for themselves.

In pursuance of the law in such cases made and provided, I have set these charges down for trial at my office on Monday next, April 28, 1896, at 10 o'clock a. m., at which time you are requested to be present with your counsel to answer in such proof as may be submitted with reference to these charges against you.

Respectfully,
(Signed) W. T. THORNTON,

CHARGED WITH INDEBTEDNESS TO TERRITORY, COUNTY AND SCHOOL FUNDS.

To His Excellency, W. T. Thornton, Governor of the Territory of New Mexico, Santa Fe, N. M.

Santa Fe, N. M., April 23, 1896.—Dear Sir:—The undersigned, chairman of the board of county commissioners of the county of Santa Fe and territory of New Mexico, takes this method of informing you that William P. Cunningham, sheriff of said county, is indebted to the territory of New Mexico and county of Santa Fe and the school funds of said county in the following amounts and accounts:

Specification No. 1:—Amount collected from A. T. & S. F. Ry. Co. upon the 13th day of December, 1894, on account of penalty upon delinquent taxes due from the A. T. & S. F. Ry. Co., $315.51.

Specification No. 2:—Amount collected from owners of the Ramon Vigil grant in December, 1894, for taxes for the year 1894, two fifths of which were paid by one Fletcher and three fifths by one Bishop, $278.11.

Specification No. 3:—Amount due for feeding prisoners in the territorial prison from August, 1894, to December, 1894, $297, less $187 which has been paid.

The last mentioned sum was afterwards, in the year 1895, collected from the county of Santa Fe upon mandamus process issued in a suit brought by William P. Cunningham, and which amount, although frequently requested by the superintendent of the penitentiary and the solicitor general of the territory, the said Cunningham declines and refuses to pay over, except the sum of $187, which amount was paid in April, 1896, by the county commissioners.

The said several sums of money, except the last payment above named, are now due to the territory of New Mexico, to the county of Santa Fe and to the school funds of the county of Santa Fe, and other funds, by William P. Cunningham, sheriff of Santa Fe county, in violation of the law, thereby rendering him, the said sheriff, ineligible to hold the office of sheriff of said county, and your petitioners respectfully request that the said sheriff may be compelled to pay in full the said several amounts of money or that he be removed from office as sheriff of said county.

And as further reasons for said removal, your petitioners charges and undertake to show, among other things, the following specific charges of official misconduct and oppression upon the part of said sheriff hereto attached. Very respectfully,
C. W. DUDSON,
Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Santa Fe, N. M.

Denial of Report That Venezuela Boundary Dispute Has Again Reached a Critical Stage.

FORT LYON TURNED OVER TO COLORADO

Vote on the Nicaragua Canal Postponed.—In the Interest of the Metric System.—House Passes a Bill of Moment to Tucson.

Washington, April 24.—The report that the Venezuela question had again reached a critical stage, owing to inaction, has developed two facts, namely: That the United States government has not offered or suggested the withdrawal of the present Venezuelan commission, and that the negotiations toward general arbitration between the United States and Great Britain are proceeding satisfactorily, although there has been little progress as yet toward having the Venezuela dispute included in the general scope of the arbitration. Aside from these two material points, the general status of the subject, it is said, has not changed of late and there is no prospect that the negotiations lapse or fail. It is the general understanding that the Venezuelan commission will not report until December.

NATIONAL BANK CLOSED.

Acting Comptroller Cullen today received a telegram stating that the Grand Forks National Bank, of Grand Forks, N. D., had closed. According to the last report, this bank had assets amounting to about $250,000; liabilities, $310,000; capital, $200,000.

TURNED OVER TO COLORADO.

The house committee on public lands today made a favorable report upon Representative Shafruth's bill to turn over to the state of Colorado the buildings on the abandoned Fort Lyon military reservation for use as a soldiers' home. It is believed that the bill can be passed through the present session.

VOTE ON NICARAGUA CANAL DEFERRED.

The house committee on commerce today, after discussion, concluded to postpone a vote on the Nicaragua canal bill until a hearing could be given to Col. Ludlow, the head of the canal commission, recently summoned from London by the secretary of war, presumably to appear before the committee.

FAVOR METRIC SYSTEM.

A delegation of scientific men, headed by Prof. Menzies, of the University of California, and a geodetic survey, was given a hearing by the sub-committee of the senate finance committee today in advocacy of Senator Cannon's bill for the adoption of the metric system by this country. They based their advocacy of the change upon the theory that the system would be far more satisfactory than the present system and said that the longer change was postponed the more difficult it would be to make. Senator Sherman, as chairman of the sub-committee, said he would probably be too late to give either consideration during the present session.

SESSION OF THE SENATE TO-DAY.

The movement for international arbitration was referred to in the prayer by Rev. J. Hugh Johnson to-day. "Let armies be disbanded; let the world beat in peace," he invoked.

Mr. Sherman sought to take up the bill proposing to repeal the law giving a rebate tax on alcohol used in the arts, but met with a strong opposition from Messrs. Chandler and Platt, and the measure went over.

SESSION OF THE HOUSE TO-DAY.

This is private bill day. By unanimous consent the bill passed empowering the city of Tucson, Ariz., to issue bonds to the amount of $100,000 for the construction of a water and sewer system.

NATIONAL POLITICS.

GOLDEN DEMOCRATIC PLANS.

Washington.—Reports of a surprising and encouraging character are reaching the Democratic "sound" money headquarters, recently established in Washington. They are made by Democrats upon widespread the managers of the bureau declare reliance can be placed. Basing their estimates on these reports, the golden Democratic claim that they will elect twenty "sound" money delegates from Ohio, twelve from Indiana and sixteen from Illinois. Until now the "sound" money men have in their estimates of probable strength in the convention conceded Illinois and Indiana entire to the free silver side. One of the most interesting bits of information given out at the "sound" money men is that four of the Missouri district delegates elected at Sedalia are not of the radical 10 to 1 order, but are conservative, and will be ready to meet the "sound" money side in a compromise.

Capetown, April 24.—Telegraphic communications with Bulawayo was reopened for a time to-day, then there was another break.

While the wire was working dispatches were received from several sources. They were at one time in danger of annihilation and finally retreated.

PLEADED GUILTY TO HIGH TREASON.

PEARL BRYAN MURDER TRIAL

Proof That Scott Jackson Was With the Girl the Night Before the Death.

PEARL WAS AN UNSOPHISTICATED GIRL

A Woman on Trial for Husband Murder in Kansas—Murderer of Meeks Family Shows Signs of Weakening.

Newport, Ky., April 24.—The first witness to-day in the Pearl Bryan murder trial was Allen Bohannon, a colored bartender. He testified yesterday to the presence of Pearl Bryan with Jackson at Willingford's saloon on the evening of Friday, January 31, the night before the dead body was found, and also about the visit of Attorney Shepard to him with the proposition that he could make more money by staying away from the trial than he could get from witness fees.

On cross-examination the witness repeated the statement that Shepard told him no power on earth could force him to go to Kentucky as a witness. He said he told Shepard that it would be made very unpleasant for him if he refused to go to Kentucky.

A. E. Bryan testified that Pearl Bryan was of a very confident disposition toward anyone in whom she had confidence; but never been in Cincinnati until she came to her death; was an innocent and unsophisticated girl, who seldom and never went from home.

Dr. W. P. Crane gave his analysis of the stomach's contents. He found no poison except that known to be in the embalming fluid and cocaine. He estimated that two grains of cocaine had been given.

From the analysis of the earth taken from where Pearl Bryan's body was found, and the mud found on Jackson's trousers, he declared that the two specimens were alike.

MURDER TRIAL IN KANSAS.

Anthony, Kas.—Chas. Clark has been acquitted of complicity in the murder of Charles A. Rudman. William Mattox, his brother-in-law, has been discharged for lack of evidence. The trial of Mrs. Rudman, who at a previous trial admitted her infidelity with Mattox, and said that he suggested her husband's "removal," began to-day.

TAYLOR BEGINS TO WEAKEN.

Kansas City.—Attorney Virgil Conklin has left for Washington to secure a writ of error from the United States supreme court in the case of the murderer, William Taylor, sentenced to hang a week from to-day. The murderer, for the first time since his long incarceration, is beginning to show signs of fear.

MURDER IN MISSOURI.

La. Platte, Mo.—The dead bodies of Mrs. Joseph Cuckling and Miss Daisy Miller, her niece, and the unconscious form of Joseph Cuckling were found early to-day in the village store kept by the Cucklings at Hill Top, near here. Robbery was the incentive for the murders. The women were struck dead with an iron bar. Cuckling was bound with a heavy rope and brutally beaten over the head.

FRIDAY, APRIL 24.

The golding Republicans of the wooden nutmeg state cheered lustily for both Reed and McKinley. If Allison should happen to gather in the presidential nomination at St. Louis they will painfully realize that their applause ought at least to have been threefold.

"DELEGATE CATRON has done good work for Santa Fe by securing the passage through the United States senate of a bill donating the Fort Marcy military reservation to Dr. Roberts' National Invalid association for consumptives," says the Las Vegas Optim. Now that's funny, extremely funny!

Ask the Democrats of New Mexico alive to the importance of sending to the territorial convention at Las Vegas delegates who fully represent party sentiment on the currency question. It is reported that certain goldite politicians are quietly laying the wires to bring discord into the party convention. A word to the wise is sufficient.

EVIDENTLY the Democrats of Mesquite are about as seriously afflicted with financial jaundice as are the Republicans of that state. This is a pity in view of the fact that they have such a magnificent specimen of matured and vigorous manhood to put forward for a place on the national ticket as ex Gov. William E. Russell.

A good many people are wondering whether Delegate Catron will load down Senator Gallinger's bill, granting the abandoned Fort Marcy military reservation to the American Invalid Aid society for sanitarium purposes, with a purely political amendment when it reaches the house. It will surprise no one if he undertakes to attach to it a provision abolishing the New Mexico supreme court or doing away with the excellent public school system of the territory.

NEARLY every Republican newspaper of prominence in the country, outside of the Rocky mountains and the Pacific coast, has been denouncing New Mexico's claims for statehood of late. Some very severe, bitter and utterly false accusations have been brought against the people of this territory and these have been repeated and sanctioned by Republican members of congress in the house committee on territories, yet not once has Delegate Catron raised his voice in our behalf or undertaken to call down these lying politicians.

It is now quite too late to expect any results from this session of congress on the subject, but it is pleasant to note that some progress has been made toward solving the arid land problem. The house committee has agreed to an amendment to the Carey act which provides that, where the greater part of a legal subdivision is desert in character, the whole shall be so considered, and in order to be entitled to desert lands the states and territories must be caused to be irrigated and occupied not less than twenty acres in each 160. Such tracts must be cultivated by actual settlers within ten years from the date of segregation. Desert lands are defined as such as will not produce the ordinary agricultural crops without artificial irrigation.

FAILURE OF CATRON'S MISSION.

The New Mexican's prediction of months ago, with reference to the ultimate failure of the present Republican congress to do anything in behalf of statehood, is fully verified by the news which came to hand from Washington yesterday. The bills have been reported to the house and will lie there, the delegates from the territories having concluded not to push them for action at this session. This is in strict accordance with the Washington advice given in these columns several weeks ago wherein it was stated that the Republican bosses were merely playing a bunco game in dealing with statehood and would go no farther than to report the bills to the house, thus enabling Delegates Catron and Murphy to come back and tell "those people" that they will secure the passage of the bills if they are again sent back to congress. But this project is doomed to miscarry. The people of New Mexico, at least, can no longer be played as innocents. Catron has been tried and has been found wanting in every essential calculated to benefit New Mexico and her people. No tricks will be tolerated henceforth.

PRESS COMMENT.

Some Comparison.

When New Mexico had a Democratic delegate in congress the young men of the territory who desired to go to West Point were allowed to take a competitive examination for the position. The first one resulted in the selection of Bert Gilbert, of this city, a Republican and a bright young man who will do credit to the territory, but now things are changed. The territory has a Republican delegate in congress. A short time since he appointed one of his sons to the naval academy and designated the other as alternate, but since he named the alternate he was called on by the secretary of war to name a candidate for appointment to West Point and he named his beloved son whom he had previously designated as alternate for the naval academy. Catron did not need a competitive examination to select his appointees, all of which goes to demonstrate the fact that he is a man of "brains and energy."—Silver City Eagle.

El Paso's Artesian Well.

The entire valley is shown by this well to be one vast wash, some of the deposits coming clear from Colorado. At a distance of this was the finding the other day at a depth of between 700 and 800 feet of a mass of agate, and Col. Ritter, who has seen the length of the Rio Grande river, says there are no more agates this side of Cañonville pass, the head of the river above Wagon Wheel gap in Colorado. This goes to show that this valley is made from detritus clear from southern Colorado, and the formation is about as heterogeneous as one can imagine. Even if the well does not get water, the taxpayers of El Paso may draw some comfort from the knowledge that their money has been the means of bringing out geological facts of the greatest interest and value to the scientific world.—Herald.

Dreadful Malaria.

There are numerous diseases having their origin in the blood, but which on the surface do not appear to be a blood disease. Such is Malaria, which is a poison breathed into the lungs, and thus taken into the blood and circulated, impairing the entire system with its morbid effects. Those who have suffered from this dreaded disease know what a lifeless condition ensues and how the vitality is wasted away so that death is often caused by some simple malady, because of the low ebb to which life is reduced by this poverty of blood. This condition of the blood often gives rise to boils, carbuncles, abscesses and ulcers, and not infrequently causes catarrh, bronchitis, and even consumption.

Captain Henry Bond, late of the U. S. Navy, has been a sea-faring man all his life, and has been in all parts of the world, having sailed twice around the Cape of Good Hope, once around Cape Horn and three times through the Suez Canal. Captain Bond resides at the National Military Home, Dayton, Ohio, and in a recent letter says: "For thirty-two years I have been a sufferer from malaria, and certainly know what this terrible disease is. I have tried remedies in Japan, Egypt, Persia, the West Indies and other parts of the world, but the disease had such a hold upon my system that it was impossible to get relief. After trying all remedies I could get in different countries, and nearly every blood remedy in this country, without the slightest benefit, some one recommended S. S. S. This remedy promptly reached the disease, and has driven it entirely out of my system. I certainly pronounce S. S. S. a blessing to humanity, and heartily recommend it to all suffering from that most dreadful disease, malaria. I have frequently been at the point of death, with a temperature of 106, and when I began the use of S. S. S. I was so reduced in health, that my condition seemed hopeless. Now I am enjoying the best of health."

CAPTAIN BOND.

S. S. S. never fails to cure a blood trouble. Scrofula, eczema, cancer, rheumatism, contagious blood poison, and in fact any disorder of the blood is promptly wiped out and cured by it. Do not rely upon a simple tonic to cure a deep-seated blood disease. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and for real blood diseases has no equal.

Mexican Central Railway.

Never known south of the Rio Grande, heart failure or nervous exhaustion. Where nature has done so much, it isn't necessary to work yourself into premature old age at 45, to keep up with the band wagon. There you don't have to work at all to live, and only little to get rich. Even railroad travel is cheap, and for little money you can see the whole republic in a palace car with band of music thrown in. March, April and May are delightful months to visit Mexico, bear this in mind, and make your arrangements for the trip while you are so near to the border. NEW MEXICAN PRINTING COMPANY.

The PECOS VALLEY of . . . NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.

The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.

Immense yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation.

The cultivation of canebrake—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.

The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.

Lands with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant, and at times rapid, increase in value.

The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Fultz section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops.

In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

An Obstacle Easily Surmounted.
There are, no doubt, insurmountable obstacles. But that barrier to the enjoyment of health, chronic constipation, is not among them. And this for the reason that there is a thorough, prompt and non-grinding medicinal agent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, adapted to its relief, as well as to the removal of those bilious and dyspeptic symptoms which accompany it. Violent purgatives, whether mineral or vegetable, weaken the bowels and disorder the stomach. The Bitters, on the contrary, strengthen and regulate them both. Moreover, it tranquilizes the nervous system, and is a curative and medicinal safeguard against kidney and malarial complaints. It is a most gentle and effective tonic, counteracts the influence of age and promotes convalescence. Sleep and appetite are both benefited by its use. It is a standard remedy endorsed by the entire medical fraternity.

Never put off things, said the old man, impatiently.
What! called the young man, smartly, you wouldn't have me war rubbers into the house, would you?
And then too late the old man realized that he had outwitted in his bosom the coming newspaper humorist.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Ireland's Pharmacy.

If you've got bad blood in you take Simmons Liver Regulator and get rid of it. It's a wonderfully good medicine for malaria and chills. What pretty, big eyes Miss Homewood has! said Mr. Wilkinsburg to Miss Point Breeze.
Yes, answered Miss Point Breeze, her eyes are pretty big.

During the winter of 1898, F. M. Martin, of Long Beach, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which left him with a cough. In speaking of how he cured it he says: "I used several kinds of cough syrup but found no relief until I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved me almost instantly, and in a short time brought about a complete cure." When troubled with a cough or cold use this remedy and you will not find it necessary to try several kinds before you get relief. It has been in the market for over twenty years and constantly grows in favor and popularity. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle at Ireland's Pharmacy.

Hang the look! exclaimed Mr. Skinsphill. I forgot to notice how much money I had in my pocket when I started down town this morning. I can't tell whether I'm half a dollar ahead, or whether I've had a narrow escape from losing half a dollar!

We might tell you more about One Minute Cough Cure, but you probably know that it cures a cough. Every one does who has used it. It is a perfect remedy for coughs, colds, hoarseness. It is an especial favorite for children, being pleasant to take and quick in curing. Newton's drug store.

In safety vaults and churches.
We aim to know
If long ago,
Our forebears honors carried,
And if they came
In time to fame,
And when the mists they married.
We search to see
If we may be

And learn, forsooth,
The simple truth—
That both in us are blended.
We find, it's true,
There's blood that's blue
That in our veins is flowing,
And then we find
Some other kind,
O'er which we do not cowering.
It's very sad,
But through this find
It seems best we are fated
To learn of knaves,

And forebears bad
We may have had
Could calmly be rejected.

BETTY'S CAREER.

Seventeen times had Betty watched the apple blossoms drift and the apples come, ripen and fall. For almost as many years she had felt the ivory keys of the piano her special friends, and they had assured her that when she was old enough they would tell her the vast secrets of the old piano's soul.

Betty's mother also dreamed of that bright time when Betty should awake the world; when Betty should come forth a radiant, smiling, gracious vision, bowing kindly to the throng who looked to hear her.

Captain Trevelyan was a tremendous fanatic on many subjects. He did not play the piano for music, though he had a wild note himself.

He chanced to meet Betty and Betty's mother, Mrs. Delamater, at a musicale, and having heard Sweet Seventeen play and behold Sweet Seventeen's rich promise of beauty he inquired into her prospects for a course at Leipzig, and could she go, as she ought.

Mrs. Delamater sighed and shook her head.

"She ought to go. She must go," exclaimed the enthusiastic captain. "Madam, I shall consider it the greatest possible honor if you will permit me to send your daughter to Germany and give her the opportunity such talent deserves and to send you, madam, to look after her and see that she is properly educated."

Then followed three charmed years in Leipzig—three years with smiling eyes and golden crowns—Betty studied carefully and happily, experiencing only the present and thinking nothing of the future.

They went twice each week to the opera then there were the carnivals on the ice, and just as Mrs. Delamater began to dream of Betty's professional debut on the return to the States Betty did the unexpected and inconvenient—she fell in love.

It was horrid in her, and yet Betty was happier than she had ever been in her life and could not bring herself to despise the young fawn-haired German, who had been unobtrusively doing all in his power to lead her into adoring him, while he helped her to master German verbs and idioms, taught her to skate and sing tender German ballads to her accompaniment.

Fritz Leiber was at Leipzig taking vocal instructions and enjoying himself. No one knew who he was, and he never told.

When Betty, with dramatic fervor, told him he must give up and she must give up, he would throw back his handsome head and cry, "Ach, mein Liebling, nicht wahr, nicht wahr!"

To his confidential friend and fellow student he confided the plan of action mapped out in his mind.

He intended to wait till "die mutter" was more inclined to be friendly and then explain who he was and ask for Betty's hand. The friend agreed that was a good idea.

Meantime Mrs. Delamater had a little plan of her own. The three years were now gone, and she would steal away to the States with the rebellious Betty, and that long dream of fortune should be created.

By an almost superhuman effort she got Betty out of Germany without her seeing or being able to communicate with Fritz, and, with eyes red with weeping for him and after difficulties galore, she was finally on the ship sailing for New York.

Betty, who ordinarily was never seasick, took to her bed and refused to get up. Fritz was in Germany.

Captain Trevelyan was looking for an enthusiastic young lady, brimming over with plans and unwrapped in her art, like the Chinese woman in her kimono. What had she to show him. A limp young thing, waiting for a person named Fritz.

Happily Captain Trevelyan did not meet them in New York, and Mrs. Delamater felt that the time they thus given her. She went to Washington with her daughter and took as a house as she could afford. Betty began by taking pupils in music and made an excellent teacher.

Captain Trevelyan was duly astonished at the change in his once ardent young protégée. He was blunt and old-fashioned in his expressions. He merely said, "Well, she seems to have petted right out."

This was the last straw, and Mrs. Delamater broke down, but not to the extent of explaining about Fritz.

Meantime Fritz was wondering what could have made him so stupid as to have deferred his explanations so long. The terrible change from their comparative affluence in Germany and their additional wants since traveling and seeing and having so much made their present mode of living doubly unbearable, while the great disappointment each felt, one in her daughter's career and the other in the loss of his lover, gave rise to many a bitter verbal skirmish that only resulted in widening the breach between them.

One evening, when Captain Trevelyan was at the house, he somewhat startled them by announcing that he was going to Europe.

friends, who, she thought, would make it pleasant for him in Leipzig.
Betty began to evince some interest in life from the minute the captain said he was going abroad, and when her mother re-entered the room, she ran to her enthusiastically and expressed her joy that Captain Trevelyan was going to dear old Germany.

She even sat down at the piano and regaled them with some brilliant music that seemed, however, to the good captain more giddy than classic.

The old time fire was coming back into her eyes, the old time sparkle in her speech. She sang a little German song, all about a young maiden who loved a young man, and the young man was torn from the young maiden's heart, and agony prevailed, but suddenly the iron hand of fate was lifted, the young man was restored to the young maiden, and happiness reigned supreme.

"Yes," said the captain grimly when the song was finished, "I will go to Germany. I am an old fool. Good night!"

Betty's pupils made great progress from that time on. The girl applied herself diligently, striving to lose herself in her work. She had given the note to Captain Trevelyan, who had said nothing about it to her mother nor made any extended comment on it to her.

She had also entrusted him with a letter to the same friend. The bearer of the missives smiled as he glanced at them.

"Poor child!" he said softly.
So, with his heart beating kindly and on his mission bent, the good captain sailed for Hamburg.

Almost a month had passed, when a letter with a German postmark received a curious glance from the captain who numbered the Delamater residence on his route. Betty came to the door herself and was quite unable to smother a gasp when she saw Captain Trevelyan's handwriting on the interesting looking packet.

"I must regret," he wrote in the course of the letter, "that I have been unable to find Herr Fritz Lieber. He seems to have disappeared utterly and was probably an anarchist for all we know."

At this point poor, dumfounded Betty paused to remark that she thought Captain Trevelyan must be crazy. But Mrs. Delamater declared he was simply splendidly sane.

"Read on, Betty," said the lady, and Betty obeyed.

"I am coming back sooner than I expected and will bring with me a clever young fellow, a prince, by the way, Carl von Stein, who wants to visit America under the wing of a native. I am quite interested in the young fellow and hope you will put up with a probable anarchist out of your mind."

"What's a prince?" cried Betty scornfully. "I want to see Fritz Lieber."

"A prince," replied her mother coldly, as she straightened herself up proudly, "is—a prince. My dear child."

"I want to see Fritz," cried Betty. "I don't care if he is 50 anarchists. I hate to see him. I hate music. I hate careers. I hate it all. I just want Fritz!"

And she sobbed aloud.

"Do you mean to tell me," demanded her mother, retreating her steps slowly, till she stood directly in front of her daughter, who had come out into the hall, "that if a real prince proposed to you you could refuse him? That your self respect would permit you to do such a thing? Betty, could you endure to have it upon your conscience, haunting you night and day?"

"I could," cried Betty.

"Well, then," came in firm, unyielding tones, "I shall marry him myself. No, I shall not say any such thing. That you will see several weeks later that she tipped lightly on the door of her daughter's room.

"Betty," she said softly, "I have such a surprise for you!"

"Home!" she thought Betty. "The prince is here!" Then she said, "Well, ma'am," and opened the door.

"Of course you would not be dressed to receive your friends," said Mrs. Delamater, rushing into the room. "My dear, there is a prince in the dining room."

"I knew he had come," said the daughter. Betty's curiosity was beginning to triumph.

"I shall never marry him, remember," she said, "but I will come down and meet him."

"He has not asked you yet," replied Mrs. Delamater.

Prompted by the curiosity that had begun to sway her, Betty prepared to follow her mother. It was a long, cold, and dreary exercise sent the color flying to her cheeks, and when she went through the portieres a little later Captain Trevelyan started in surprise.

"My dear Betty," cried he, "how well you look. This is perfect."

"Fritz Lieber!" exclaimed she and flew to his embrace, which he deferred until Mrs. Delamater bowed her head in graceful consent.

"Do you mean to tell me you are really a prince?" said Betty. "And why did you not say so before?"

"I am not a prince," said Captain Trevelyan, leading the elderly lady to the other side of the room, "but I certainly would like to be related to one, if only by law. May I hope you will assist me in attaining this—this distinction—that is, of being your—in short, madam, your husband?"

"You are so kind," murmured she, "I must consent. Fritz Lieber is much closer than I first thought of. How good you were to bring him back to Betty."

Old Rip Van Winkle went up into the Catskill mountains to take a little nap of twenty years or so, and when he awakened, he found that the "cruel war was over," the monthly magazines had "fought it over," the second time and "blown up" all the officers that had participated in it. This much is history, and it is also an historical fact that, during the same length of time, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had become the most celebrated, as it is the most effective, Live Blood and Lung Remedy of the age.

A purifying the blood and in all manner of pimples, blotches, eruptions, and other skin and scalp diseases. We're all exposed to the germs of consumption, grip and malaria—yet only the weak ones suffer. When you're weak, tired out, and debilitated, or when pimples and blotches appear—heed the warning in time. The Golden Medical Discovery sets all the organs into healthy action—especially the liver, and that's the point of entrance for these germs. Then if the blood be pure, they'll be thrown off. There's no risk.

CAUTION.—Accept no substitute for the "Golden Medical Discovery" that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but it is not the one who needs help.

Every disorder that can be reached through the blood, yields to its purifying qualities. Besides, it builds up whole-some flesh and strength; not merely fat like filthy cod liver oil and its nasty "emulsions" but solid flesh.

A scrupulous condition of the blood invades catarrh, bronchitis, and consumption. We're all exposed to the germs of consumption, grip and malaria—yet only the weak ones suffer. When you're weak, tired out, and debilitated, or when pimples and blotches appear—heed the warning in time. The Golden Medical Discovery sets all the organs into healthy action—especially the liver, and that's the point of entrance for these germs. Then if the blood be pure, they'll be thrown off. There's no risk.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

White Ash Coal Mine Disaster Damages Suit Continues to Occupy the Attention of Judge Laughlin's Court.

The jury trial of the three cases of Josephine Deserant, administratrix, against the Cerrillos Coal Railroad company, consolidated by Judge Laughlin, wherein the plaintiff seeks damages to the amount of $75,000, on account of the loss of her husband and two sons in the White Ash coal mine disaster on February 27, 1895, continues to occupy the attention of the territorial district court to the exclusion of all other business.

Owing to the importance of the cause, it not only directly involving the large amount of money already named, but indirectly involving $25,000 each in seven other similar cases, Messrs. Field, Clancy and Lester, attorneys for the plaintiff, and Mr. Twitshell, for the defendant company, are closely contesting every point that is deemed to have even a remote bearing upon the issue.

So far five or six witnesses have been examined in behalf of the plaintiff and several more are still to be placed on the stand. Then the defense will come to the front with nineteen direct witnesses and probably a number more in rebuttal. The indications now are that thirty-five or forty witnesses will be examined before both sides rest and that the cause will not be concluded to the jury before Tuesday or Wednesday.

At the close of this trial Judge Laughlin intimates that he will take up the criminal cases against John Oliver and other persons confined in jail.

Eloped With a Handsome Man.

Charley Schenrich continues to reside in the dark depths of a cave of unutterable gloom. In spite of all his honeyed persuasions and promises of forgiveness, his fair and fascinating pet Potawatomi squaw, apparently without the fear of God or Schenrich's wrath in her cold heart, quietly staggered away from the brewery yesterday morning, boarded (with some difficulty) a wheeled conveyance, reached the Denver & Rio Grande station in a condition bordering on acute paralysis of the nether limbs, managed to secure accommodations in the "blind baggage" and to-day contritely wires from Antonio that she is awfully sorry it happened, will positively cover up so any more, and would like "a heap" to kiss, make up and resume her old standing in the regard and confidence of the one she has so shamefully deceived. The name of the arch-fiend and cruel wretch of confiding feminine hearts, who eloped with giddy young thing, has not been disclosed.

The Model family grocery will open in its new quarters on Monday.

Not near so much damage was done the fruit crop as was last week suspected. Dr. Manley has treated himself to a new Rambler mount from Goebel's—a fine wheel.

The New Mexican expects to get into its new home and have all its departments shaped up for business by Monday morning next.

The Albuquerque Browns, accompanied by a large delegation of friends, will arrive in this city at 1:30 to-morrow and will be quartered at the Palace.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Fair weather to-night and Saturday; stationary temperature; light to fresh westerly winds, shifting to southerly.

The thirteenth annual encampment of the department of New Mexico, Grand Army of the Republic, opened at Raton to-day for a session of two days. Many prominent visitors are in attendance, including a large delegation of officials and veterans from Santa Fe.

The granting of the Fort Marcy military reserve to the American Invalid Aid society is a big thing for Santa Fe, and while the act is highly commendable, it is another of the many cases which goes to show the inclination of congress to grant the petitions of the east—Las Vegas Examiner.

The advertising car attached to the Wallace circus arrived this morning. The bill posters took six teams at Lovitz's barn and left at once for Pajarito, Santa Cruz and Espanola. They return to-night and will ornament the boards here to-morrow.

from itching and burning eczema and other skin and scalp troubles. None but purest real-ize how these little ones suffer. To know that a warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, and a single application of CUTICURA (ointment), the great skin cure, will in the majority of cases afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure, and use these things without a moment's delay is to fall in our duty.

Prof. Perez' band will play in the park next Sunday at 4 o'clock p. m., instead of 8 o'clock p. m., so as to give opportunity to the people to go and see the base ball game between the Albuquerque Browns and the Santa Fe team. And hereafter the band will give its concert at 4 p. m.

Messrs. J. W. Akers and W. E. Dame returned from a trip to Hematite camp last night. They bring back good reports. Samples of ore were taken from many claims which are to be assayed. They met many outfits from Colorado going into the district.

Hon. J. F. Hinkle, member of the territorial cattle sanitary board, is here from Lincoln county to-day en route to Las Vegas. He says the cattle in southern New Mexico are in fine condition. There is much talk once more about the building of the Pecos Valley road to Amarillo and Mr. Hinkle thinks some good news in this connection will be announced shortly.

A turquoise miner named Padilla, in from Bonanza to-day, says a deal has recently been closed whereby a choice turquoise property there has changed hands at a consideration of $6,000. There is considerable activity in turquoise mining. The Tiffany claims have been employing fifteen men for eight months past, and it is said their shipments to the great New York jeweler have averaged $22,000 worth of turquoise per month.

The operation of the limited train service on the A. T. & S. F. is expensive. Fifty cents per mile is said to be the average cost of running the train. The distance from Chicago to Albuquerque, at which point the A. T. & S. F. joins the A. & P., is 1,348 miles, making a cost of $674 for running each train between those points. Four limited trains are in operation daily, the total cost amounting to $2,696 per day, but this will be lopped off after May 3, when the new schedule takes effect.

Expectation is on tiptoe in view of the grand supper and dance to be given to-night at the old military headquarters building, under the auspices of Myrtle Rebekah lodge No. 9, in commemoration of the 77th anniversary of the founding of the Odd Fellows' order. The rooms have been beautifully decorated, the dancing floor has been put in splendid condition, the very best music has been provided for and a supper "fit for the gods" will be served. Tickets, procurable of any Odd Fellow or at the door, $1.50 for gentlemen and ladies.

Albuquerque vs. Santa Fe.

To-morrow afternoon, on the college grounds, at 3 o'clock, Albuquerque and Santa Fe will formally inaugurate the base ball season in this city. There is great rivalry between the two teams, as the Santa Fe team was the only team in the southwest to defeat the Browns last season. Both teams are equally as strong this year, and a great game can be looked for. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged and it is hoped that a large crowd will welcome Albuquerque to-morrow. The teams will line up as follows:

SANTA FE	POSITIONS	ALBUQUERQUE

Descriptive of Remarkable Placer Find in South Santa Fe County—Some Wonderful Nuggets—Other Mining Operations.

Correspondence New Mexican.

Golden, Santa Fe County, N. M., April 23.—A remarkably rich gold find was made recently by some placer miners in Old Timer gulch, near where the Monte Cristo Mining company is preparing to drill its well.

These placer miners drifted into a bar on the south side of the main gulch and struck an ancient channel, and found very rich placer gravel, containing coarse gold.

Nuggets were found valued at from $1 to $3. One piece of pure gold, fully an inch long, over half an inch wide and one-eighth of an inch thick, was taken out. In fact they struck a regular little nest of nuggets.

The place where the find was made is not over 1,500 feet from the main workings of the Old Timer mine, and the gold bears evidence that it came but a very short distance. Undoubtedly the matrix of this coarse gold is very near to the find. Joe Johnson's big strike is somewhere in the Rocky mountain region, and doubtless did its part toward enriching these placers.

Wonderful stories are told about the pieces of pure gold that were found years ago quite near this place: one of a long flat piece, valued at $200, found on Divisa Pastora mine by a man now residing here who verifies the statement.

Recent discoveries also substantiate these tales of the earlier days and the time is not far distant when this section will surprise all by one of the biggest finds ever made in the Rocky mountain region.

The find in the C and C holds out extra well and the appearance of the ore improves as depth is attained. There are now at least thirteen inches of fine looking galena ore in connection with the iron and manganese. The ore is becoming more solid and has every appearance of being permanent. The owners have drilled twenty-five feet on the vein since last report.

James M. Lucas reports a larger body of ore in sight than ever before in the Black Prince. His mill has not been running for ten days, having been shut down in order to sink a well to increase the water supply. He expects hereafter to run night and day, having succeeded in finding sufficient water to enable him to do so.

The Gipsy Queen Mining company is quietly developing its "bonanza," the Gipsy Queen, on the west side of North mountains. Big things are expected to result from the development of this property, but the owners are reticent about giving anything to the public relative to their future operations.

The Monte Cristo Mining company undoubtedly means business. It looks like real business up in the Old Timer gulch these days.

Santa Fe county is coming to the front. Watch the signs—and remember the predictions so frequently made by your correspondent on the ground.

If you are looking for optical goods, it will be best for you to do your searching at our optical headquarters. There is so for two reasons: Our stock is more complete, and our price for any particular article lower than elsewhere in town. Fitting the eyes requires skill, experience, and care. We charge nothing for examining and fitting, and we never fail to supply exactly what the sight requires to a nicety in any particular case. Abnormal, defective, or impaired vision is a matter demanding immediate attention.
