HORRIBLE HOLMES HANGED

Righteous Work of the Gallows at the Quaker City This Morning.

PRONOUNCED DEAD IN THIRTY MINUTES

Holmes Declared That He Was Innocent of the Crime for Which He Was Doomed, But Admitted Two Fatal Abortions.

Philadelphia, May 7.—H. H. Holmes was hanged in Moyamensing prison this morning. The drop fell at 10:12 1/2 o'clock. A half hour later he was pronounced dead. His neck was broken by the fall.

PROCLAIMED HIS INNOCENCE

Even on the scaffold he was probably the coolest person in the solemn assemblage. In a few well chosen words he proclaimed his innocence.

Of any murder, including that for which he was convicted and hanged. He declared that the only wrong done, in taking human life, for which he could be held responsible consisted in the death of two women who died as a result of criminal operations at his hands. He did not name these victims.

Holmes spent the greater part of his last night writing letters. At midnight he went to bed and slept soundly until 6 o'clock this morning. It took two calls to awaken him.

Promptly arising he received a visit from his spiritual advisers, Fathers Daly and MacPeak, of the Church of the Annunciation. They administered the last sacrament and did not leave him until nearly 9 o'clock. During their absence he ate a breakfast of eggs, dry toast and coffee.

At 10:02 o'clock the sheriff called to get the official jury, and after each man had answered to his name and subscribed to the certificate, the solemn march to the gallows was begun.

As the gathering stood in silence before the scaffold, a murmuring sound came from behind the partition erected immediately back of it. It was the dolorous chant of the two priests accompanying the doomed man to the scaffold.

At 10:08 they mounted the fatal platform. A moment of prayer elapsed. Then Holmes stepped to the front of the scaffold, and, resting his hands on the rail before him, made his statement of innocence. It was received in absolute silence.

Then at a silent signal from the priests he bent to his knees, his eyes fixed on the crucifix, clasped in his thin hands. Until 10:12 his prayer continued.

Immediately afterwards, he arose, shook hands with the priests and lawyers and in a firm voice bade them "good-bye."

Without an instant's delay his hands were bound behind him and the black cap adjusted. Sheriff Clement placed the noose about his neck, and after an instant of terrible stillness, the gallows fell, and the condemned man was hurled to his doom.

Consciousness left him instantly, said the doctors, although his heart continued a feeble beat for fifteen or twenty minutes.

HOLMES' FAREWELL ADDRESS.

Holmes' speech on the scaffold was as follows: "Gentlemen, I have a very few words to say. In fact, I would make no remarks at this time, except that by not speaking I would appear to acquiesce in my execution. I only wish to say that the extent of my wrong doing in taking human life consisted in the death of two women, they having died at my hands as a result of criminal operations. I wish to state here, so there can be no chance of misunderstanding, I'm not guilty of taking the lives of any of the Pettel family—three children and Benjamin, the father, of whose death I am convicted and for which I am to-day to be hanged. That is all I have to say."

Another "Baltimore Plan."

Baltimore, Md., May 7.—The Baltimore board of trade has adopted resolutions urging the holding of a sound money convention in Chicago or St. Louis at an early date, and appealing to the various boards of trade and other representative bodies, as well as to all serious-thinking men in the southern states, to join with Baltimore in urging the delegates to both national conventions the importance of a rigid adherence to the present standard of values.

Tennessee for Silver.

Nashville, May 7.—The Democratic state convention, to nominate candidates for governor and select delegates to the national convention, met to-day. Congressman McKim, temporary chairman, said that the time had come for the man, maligned, and, if necessary, independent coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

These conservatives have been conferring with the bosses and have expressed the opinion that if McKim is nominated he will suffer the fate of Blaine—that is, defeat. These men argue that the conservative element of the Republican party will not support McKim with all that he implies. They believe that the election of McKim would mean a thorough unsettling of business for three or four years. Many of the conservatives are high protectionists, but they would prefer settled conditions and lower duties to unsettled conditions and higher duties.

MILWAUKEE STREET CAR STRIKE.

Milwaukee, May 7.—The fourth day of the great street railway strike opened without any material change in the situation. Vice President Payne announced this morning that the company would be pleased to meet the committees appointed by the Common Council and Merchant's association, but had nothing to mediate.

WOMEN AND WESLEYITES.

Committee on Eligibility in Cleveland Conference Recommends Changing Word Laymen to Lay Delegates.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 7.—In the Methodist conference to-day, Dr. W. F. Kyneth, chairman of the committee on eligibility, presented a report that the committee is agreed that the question of the eligibility of women to vote is a constitutional one, and that the general conference has power to interpret the constitution.

The committee recommends changing the qualifications of delegates by using the words lay delegates instead of laymen, thereby making the admission of women legal; that the proposed amendment be referred to the annual conference of the following year, and that a third vote of the general conference and a three-fourths vote of the annual conference shall be required to enact this recommendation into law.

The report says that inasmuch as the question can not be judicially passed upon, those having seats can retain them without prejudice.

By a vote of 425 to 98 the conference adopted the report and referred the woman question back to the churches to be voted upon again.

NATIONAL POLITICS.

TALK OF STEVENSON.

Washington.—The free coinage Democrats of Kentucky have decided to make their fight against Secretary Carlisle under the banner of Vice President Stevenson. It is whispered that Mr. Stevenson has acquiesced in the arrangement. Ever since the presentation of Mr. Blaine by the Missouri state convention, the free coinage men of Kentucky have been considering whether it were better for them to declare in favor of a candidate or simply stand on the issue. It was at first thought better to stand on the issue and ignore candidates, but the announcement that the Missouri friends of Mr. Blaine were going to support Kentucky for their favorite changed the situation.

There were several informal conferences among the leaders. Gen. Hardin and Senator Blackburn were called upon for advice and the result is a determination to bring out Vice President Stevenson as the champion of the white metal.

Mr. Stevenson, accordingly to reports, is better known in Kentucky than Mr. Blaine and more popular with the leaders. The vice president's daughter is to marry Gen. Hardin's son early next month. Besides Mr. Stevenson has relatives who are very influential in politics all over the Blue Grass state, and it was concluded Blaine could select to counter with Secretary Carlisle for the Kentucky delegation to the national convention.

It has not been known here up to this time how Mr. Stevenson stood on the silver question. He is known to be sympathetic with the silver men and to be extremely friendly with the silver leaders in the senate. But he has never made any public announcement of his position. In consequence it is considered rather strange that he should be selected to carry the silver banner in the Blue Grass state.

The vice president is booked to deliver three or four addresses before the Chicago convention convenes. He will speak in Maryland, in Alabama, in North Carolina, and probably in Kentucky. He will probably consider himself a reserve candidate for the Chicago nomination—that is to say, he will place himself in the hands of his friends.

THE FIGHT ON McKINLEY.

Washington.—Notwithstanding the extraordinary success of McKim in supporting delegates to the Republican national convention, his opponents still profess to be certain of ultimately beating him at St. Louis.

Nearly all the great leaders of the party are thoroughly opposed to McKim's nomination. They admit that he has a strong lead at this time, but insist that he will never get enough votes to nominate him. The combine leaders make no explanation regarding their plans, but they are aggressive and defiant and privately as well as publicly convey the assurance that when the roll is called the Ohio Napoleon will be found wanting.

There is no doubt, too, that thoughtful and conservative Republicans who have taken no general interest in controlling conventions or nominating candidates are becoming very much alarmed over the prospect of McKim's nomination. These men for a long time thought it was very amusing—in fact, great fun—that McKim should be able to get ahead of the bosses. They had no idea that McKim would get so far enough ahead to capture the nomination. Up to a couple of weeks ago they never thought that the Ohio ex-governor would come within 100 of the nominating point. Now, however, they are beginning to see that the chances are 90 to 1 in favor of McKim's nomination, and they feel genuine alarm in consequence.

These conservatives have been conferring with the bosses and have expressed the opinion that if McKim is nominated he will suffer the fate of Blaine—that is, defeat. These men argue that the conservative element of the Republican party will not support McKim with all that he implies. They believe that the election of McKim would mean a thorough unsettling of business for three or four years. Many of the conservatives are high protectionists, but they would prefer settled conditions and lower duties to unsettled conditions and higher duties.

INDIANA IS FOR McKINLEY

Ohio Napoleon Dominates Republican Hoosier State Convention in Indianapolis To-day.

DELEGATES ARE TO SUPPORT OHIOAN

Ex-President Harrison Declined to Appear Before Convention—Evidence That His Friends Are Not Happy—Against Silver.

Indianapolis, May 7.—While the band played "Parade Alley," and Sergeant-at-Arms Mount bawled himself hoarse ordering the delegates into their seats at the Republican convention in Tomlinson hall, 5,000 enthusiastic Republicans crowded the corridors, galleries and floor.

Interest centered in the attitude to be assumed by ex-President Harrison, and the 1,415 delegates, as well as the vast throng of spectators, busily discussed the possibility of the general's expected appearance on the platform. It was conceded that McKim would carry the convention if no sensation was sprung by the friends of the ex-president.

RICHARD THOMPSON CALLED TO THE CHAIR. At 10:30, State Chairman J. K. Gowdy called the convention to order.

Ex-secretary of the navy, Richard Thompson, was made permanent chairman and was greeted with a rousing reception. Despite his 88 years, the ex-secretary delivered a stirring speech, which disposed of the Democratic party to the entire satisfaction of the crowd.

He said: "There is one man eminently fitted to lead us to see that this country is given protection, one man identified above all others with the policy of protection. [Wild cheers.] I don't wonder at the enthusiasm of the country for that man, at the general demand of the people for the nomination of McKim. [Continued cheering.] I know McKim. I honor McKim. I am for McKim."

The speaker was interrupted by a marked demonstration. But when he mentioned Gen. Harrison's name the enthusiasm fully as evident.

At the conclusion of Mr. Thompson's speech, there were loud cries of "Harrison," but the ex-president did not appear.

The report of the committee on credentials was submitted and accepted without a contest.

Then came the reading of the platform and the resolutions.

Interest was intense as the chairman reached the McKim resolutions, which concluded the platform.

CHIEFS FOR McKINLEY AND HARRISON.

The great crowd broke into a wild cheer, which, when it subsided, was met with vigorous counter cries of "Harrison."

For several moments the opposing forces fought for their favorites.

When the climax was reached, and the phrase, "directed to vote for Wm. McKim," was read, the howls broke loose again.

After the gavel had in a measure restored order, a motion to adopt was put amid a wild turmoil of conflicting cries.

The galleries and corridors, as were the aisles, were filled with cheering. The vote was about three to one for the resolutions.

The platform extolls Harrison, comparing his administration with that of his successor; demands a return to the Republican policy of protection and reciprocity; favors the use of silver as currency, "but to the extent only and under such regulations that its parity with gold can be maintained;" and in consequence it declares: "We are opposed to the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1."

The platform eulogizes McKim as a citizen, a soldier, a statesman, and a Christian, and directs the delegates chosen by the convention to cast their votes for him as long as there is any hope of his nomination.

DELEGATES AT LARGE CHOSEN.

Col. Richard W. Thompson was chosen delegate at large by nomination.

A struggle ensued over the selection of the remaining delegates.

The districts were called and Frank Milliken, Charles W. Fairbanks, R. R. Shiel, Gen. Lew Wallace and Herman Brownlee were presented.

The first ballot resulted in no election. The rules were suspended and Wallace was elected by acclamation.

The second ballot resulted in the election of Milliken and Fairbanks.

The following alternates were chosen: R. T. McDonald, Hiram Brownlee, Geo. L. Knox, K. G. Hopkins. Knox is a colored man.

The electors at large are: R. G. Thayer, Chas. F. Jones.

DENIED HIMSELF TO INTERVIEWERS.

This afternoon Private Secretary Tibbott sent word that Gen. Harrison had decided not to address the convention. He denied himself to interviewers.

The four candidates for governor receiving the largest vote on the first ballot were: Griffin, 155; Doney, 143; Poney, 171; no choice.

MICHIGAN REPUBLICANS HARBORING.

Detroit.—When the Republican state convention was assembling to-day it was announced that Chauncey M. Depew was in the city.

The convention appointed a committee to invite Mr. Depew to address the convention.

Mr. Depew was loudly cheered when he appeared. "The conduct of affairs by the Democracy," he said, "has been characterized by incompetency, idiosyncrasy, big headedness and an inability to run the government machinery."

There was, however, a period in the history of every nation when the fool killer stops, he continued.

On the currency question the speaker asserted that the prosperity of the country is that its currency must be of the best money in the world. He had met many people in the silver states, who said that they were for free silver, but they could not have protection laws, or they could not live.

The Republican party would lose no silver state, because the people knew that if they defeated Republicanism they would lose protection which was the breath of their life.

The Abeytia Case.

In the Abeytia case at Las Vegas Lawyer Larranzola and B. M. Read, of this city, will appear at the trial for the defense. The case is to come up at the next term in Mora county, which will follow the present San Miguel term. Ex-District Attorney L. C. Fort may appear for the defense; at any rate Thos. Walton on Saturday last wrote out a check for $1,000 and tendered it to Mr. Fort as a retainer fee for the prosecution, but it was refused.

Chief Justice Smith has bound Agapito Abeytia over in the sum of $10,000, the bail being promptly furnished. Victor Lojin was sentenced to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

HON. J. STERLING MORTON.

The Secretary of Agriculture a Guest in Santa Fe This Afternoon.

Hon. J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture and one of the brainiest members of President Cleveland's cabinet, is visiting Santa Fe this afternoon.

He arrived from Colorado Springs at 2:30 p. m., traveling in a special car and being accompanied by the family of Mr. Paul Morton, his son, who is third vice president and traffic manager of the A. T. & S. F. system.

The distinguished guest was met at the depot by a delegation of leading business men and was taken on a sight-seeing carriage drive about the city. Mr. Morton is on a trip to the Pacific coast. He leaves for the south to-night and after a short stop at Albuquerque to-morrow will proceed to Los Angeles.

Notwithstanding Secretary Morton's very pronounced ideas on the gold standard, he is receiving every courtesy at the hands of western people who appreciate what he has done to protect and promote the live stock industry and his other good work in behalf of the west's development, not the least of which was the institution by this pioneer Nebraskan of "barber day."

ROMAN PRELATE DEAD.

A Noted Papal Ambassador Passes Away This Afternoon—Value of His Services.

Rome, May 7.—Mgr. Louis Galimberti, the Roman prelate and diplomat, formerly papal ambassador to Austria and Hungary, died at 1:30 this afternoon. He was born in 1838, acted as arbitrator between Germany and Spain in the dispute regarding the right of ownership of the Caroline Islands, and took an important part in the negotiations between Prussia and the Holy See, which resulted in the abrogation of the notorious May laws.

DEMOCRATIC CALL.

HEADQUARTERS DEMOCRATIC Territorial Central Committee, Santa Fe, May 2, 1896.

Whereas, At a meeting of the Democratic territorial central committee, held at the city of Santa Fe on the 5th day of February, 1896, it was ordered that a territorial convention be held at Las Vegas on June 15, 1896, for the purpose of electing six delegates to the national Democratic convention to be held at Chicago on July 7, 1896.

Now, therefore, pursuant to said order, and in accordance with the general authority in so vested, a convention of the Democratic party of New Mexico is hereby proclaimed to be held at Las Vegas on June 15, 1896, at the hour of 11 o'clock a. m., to be constituted according to the order of this committee made at its said meeting as follows: One delegate from each county for each 100 votes cast for Antonio Joseph for delegate to congress at the last general election, and one delegate for each fraction of 100 votes so cast amounting to 50 or more.

Upon this apportionment of delegates, so authorized, the various counties will be entitled to delegates to said convention, as follows:

Bernalillo county	12
Chavez county	8
Colfax county	8
Bosque county	8
Eddy county	12
Graham county	8
Grant county	8
Guadalupe county	8
Lincoln county	8
Mora county	11
Rio Arriba county	11
San Juan county	2
San Miguel county	21
Santa Fe county	15
Sierra county	3
Socorro county	9
Tacona county	11
Union county	3
Valencia county	3

Total delegates, 153.

The county central committees of the respective counties are hereby requested to call county conventions to be held in due time for the selection of the authorized number of delegates to said territorial convention in accordance with the rules and regulations, or the usages and practices of the party in each county. It is suggested that primaries be held in the various counties not later than May 30, and that the county conventions be held not later than June 6, 1896.

In carrying out the orders of this committee at its said meeting, all Democrats and all those who intend to act with the Democratic party are hereby invited to participate in the primaries in the respective counties.

In view of the great weight which the Democratic delegation from this territory had in the last national convention in the selection of candidates for president and vice president, and in view of the magnitude of the interests involved in the coming national convention and of the recurring possibility for the exercise of potent influence by New Mexico's delegation, particularly in silver's cause, the Democrats in all counties are urged to make their voices heard in the primaries and in the county conventions to the end that our territorial convention may be a largely attended and representative one, thus assuring the election of a delegation to the national convention composed of Democracy's strongest and truest sons. This is a vital year for silver's cause and it is the hope of this committee that New Mexico Democrats will take a vital part, beginning down at the primaries.

RAPHAEL ROMERO, J. H. CRIST, Secretary, Chairman.

DEBS says the law is made to apply only to the poor man. It certainly looks that way when it comes to paying taxes.

Isn't it rather singular that a case to test the constitutionality of the Edmunds act has never yet been carried from the territories to the United States supreme court?

No sympathy will be wasted by people in this community over the appointment of a receiver for the New Mexico Mining company. This is one of the Elkins-Catron enterprises that has systematically dodged its taxes due New Mexico and Santa Fe county for years, until now it owes for taxes alone the sum of $20,000.

Wm. Joe Manley declaring that "McKinley will never be nominated" and Boss Platt promising to see 'em later, while at the same time taking a fresh grip on that knife which he has concealed up his sleeve, it may be that the Ohio Napoleon's shouters are not yet out of the woods. At any rate over-confidence and internal strife bid fair to cut a wide swath in Republican ranks during the remainder of the national campaign.

The belief is growing stronger in England every day that it is Salisbury's bull-headedness and not the difficulties of the situation that is delaying the complete settlement of the Venezuelan question. Almost a similar belief is growing in America as to the occupant of the White house and the Cuban question.

The San Francisco Examiner declares that four of the New Mexico delegates to the St. Louis convention are "certainly for McKinley." Doubtless the statement is true so far as personal preferences go, but until they receive final orders from Boss Catron they will none of them know how they are going to vote.

HILL AND TILLMAN.

Senator David B. Hill is surely to be admired for his courage and frankness. He says Carlisle made the mistake of his life when he refused to come to the rescue of Blackburn and he declares that if the free courage men win in the convention he will stick to the Democratic nominee. Tillmanism is worth a whole lot as long as it forces such confessions from the eastern party leaders. Western and southern Democrats can ask nothing more than Hill concedes.

THE LAND COURT.

The people of New Mexico would remind Delegate Catron that an early adjustment of land titles is desired. That was what the U. S. court of land claims was appointed for. This tribunal has shown every disposition to push its work, and it has made excellent progress, considering how derelict Mr. Catron and other lawyers have been in bringing forward their cases for trial. To-day the firm of which Delegate Catron is a member has some forty cases before the court which have been repeatedly set for trial and again continued by request. Perhaps these continuances may be accounted for by Mr. Catron's late move in congress whereby he seeks to overhaul the existing law governing the land court and make it possible to carry these cases on in the courts for an indefinite period. This won't do at all. Settlement of titles is what New Mexico demands, and any individual who seeks to prolong the turmoil and confusion resulting from uncertain land titles works against the best interests of this territory and its people. Hands off, Delegate Catron.

PRESS COMMENT.

Delegate Catron's Work.

The Optic now contents itself with the assertion that Catron did his best, even if he did not pass the statehood bill. Before the election we were told that if Catron went to congress we would have statehood immediately, because he was a man of "brains and energy" and would have a greater influence than Joseph. Joseph could not pass statehood bills in the house—even in a Republican house—and here is Catron with an overwhelming Republican majority to work on and he has not sufficient standing in his own party to get any kind of a bill through.—Socorro Advertiser.

The Next Delegate.

The time is ripe to begin to cast about for a Democratic candidate for delegate to represent New Mexico in the 55th congress of the United States. It is almost a certainty that the Republicans will renominate T. B. Catron, and considering his record in the present congress, he is entitled to a renomination at their hands. Republicanism is the synonym for all that is selfish, all that is inimical to the common people, and Delegate Catron typifies these things in a far greater degree than any other man within the confines of New Mexico. From a Republican standpoint, no other man should be thought of as New Mexico's delegate. To those of us who regard the representative in congress as the servant of the people there is left the duty of selecting some one to serve us in that capacity who will be in touch with the people who honor him. This duty devolves upon the Democrats of the territory and they confidently depend upon the help of hundreds who do not regard the delegateship as a soft snap to secure education for unpromising sons at government expense. Nevertheless, a representative in congress is generally a fair sample of the people who send him. A majority of the people of New Mexico two years ago said, by their votes, that T. B. Catron was good enough for them, (and we agree that he was) still, some of them have changed their minds, and it behooves the Democrats to select, as a candidate, some man upon whom we can all agree. There are a score of Democrats worthy of the place. The only serious question is the choice out of that score. If New Mexico expects to be given the boon of statehood, if New Mexico expects to be represented in congress, it is absolutely necessary for the Democracy to agree upon some candidate for delegate in congress, and then elect him by a majority that will forever settle the question of political supremacy in the territory.—Roswell Record.

The PECOS VALLEY of NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.

The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.

Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation.

The cultivation of canebrake—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.

The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.

Lands with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant, and at times rapid, increase in value.

The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Feltz section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

How to Treat a Wife.
(From Pacific Health Journal.)

First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom.—To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by Ireland's pharmacy.

more attempt." In mistaken pity for him I yielded.
As we reached the summit, behold! There were three mountain peaks in a row. Tom sprang forward and after another struggle we were at the top of the central mountain. As we approached the top it could be seen that there had been volcanic action in ages past. Zapet's eyes were rolling in every direction, on the look out for some supernatural phenomenon. Suddenly bursting through dense fringe of bushes we found ourselves on the very edge of a vast crater. As with common impulse we looked to the center and there was an immense boulder. "At last," cried Tom, "at last!" Then he ran his eye along the verge, scanning it foot by foot. "The path," he almost screamed, and he stumbled along at a pace that, exhausted as we were, we could scarcely maintain. "Take care, Tom," I managed to ejaculate, though I was nearly as wild as he. But Tom apparently heard nothing. He had eyes and ears only for the one goal.

The path along the side of the precipice, we could see, led upward from the wide floor of the arena far below us, but the top was concealed from our intent gaze by a dense mass of shrubbery. Around the sides of the crater we half stumbled, half ran. When we reached the spot where we thought it possible to strike upon the opening, we made dashes here and there into the greenery. After many disappointments a cry from Tom told me the path had been found. Zapet by this time was in a state of collapse through fear and fatigue. Again I warned Tom to exercise caution, but he plunged ahead, and I followed as slowly as I could. The path downward was not more than a foot in width, and it required all my strength and dexterity to keep my footing. Suddenly on rounding a sharp angle in the face of the precipice I was confronted by a flat rock five minutes' climb farther down. It seemed to be set in the face of the crater and to jut out, cutting off further progress in that direction. The rock was of a peculiar reddish yellow color and, on looking more intently, it seemed to take upon itself the shape of a monstrous hand. It flashed over me all at once—this was the golden hand of the Indian's legend. I called to Tom, but he was far below me. "Tom, the rock!" I cried hoarsely, and my own voice sounded strangely in my ears. But Tom had already reached it. Suddenly a scream of anguish I shall never forget rose in that awful stillness, and in another instant I saw that ponderous hand of golden stone sink lower, still lower. Another scream, wilder than before, and Tom's form could be seen striving vainly to clutch with his hands the smooth surface as it sank downward with increasing rapidity. I shut my eyes and listened. The sight was too awful to bear. When I opened them, the rock that had turned on a pivot with poor Tom's weight was upright and was moving back to its original place. Of that frightful fall into the crater I never dared to think. Old Zapet and I had weary days of toil in our return to the plantation, and my life was nearly forfeited by a fever in which I could hear Tom's last despairing shriek and see him sliding to his awful death.—Brooklyn Eagle.

THE GOLDEN HAND.
The gold is there, that's certain, and I'm determined to make a trial for it.
"You're counting too much on the word of an Indian. Old Zapet is a noted liar—like all these Spanish speaking aborigines."
"Ah, Jack. You do him injustice. He's a deeper liar than you gave him credit for. Don't you remember that he told us of the legend in his tribe that there was a treasure hidden by the ancient keeper of the mint on the first news of the coming of the Spaniards to Central America? Oh, yes. You remember that of course. But don't you remember that he afterward trotted out that ridiculous yarn about the mysterious golden hand that guarded the hiding place and struck down the venturesome seeker for the wealth? It's ridiculous to believe that the ancients had enough mechanical knowledge to contrive a machine that could prevent one from getting at the gold. Ten to one its out of order anyway. Old Zapet simply invented the wives' tale of the golden hand because he didn't want to go on the trip that might mean death or privation. I'm resolved to go if I have to start without you."

This was a long speech for my old comrade, Tom French. We were in the interior of Central America when the foregoing conversation took place. It was the end of many a long debate we had had on the subject of a search for a treasure. From love of adventure I had left a comfortable home in the states. Tom French and I had met as rustlers on the cattle ranch in Montana and we became firm friends. When the death struck the cattle ranch business, we took a herd across the country south of Texas, where they could feed on the deep alfalfa. Then we drifted into Mexico and into the employ of a railroad company in the capacity of surveyors. For want of capital the company suspended operations, and Tom and I found ourselves stranded in the City of Mexico. We had saved some money, and when there came a proposition to join some pioneers who thought they saw a fortune in building up a coffee plantation in the unexplored lands far to the south in the state of Chiapas we accepted the offer.

Life was pleasant in Mexico, though, and I would have willingly remained, but Tom was eager, as always, to grasp the first opportunity that seemed to present itself for new adventures. Tom had but one object in life—to make a fortune quickly. Poor fellow, he had a heavy heart most of the time. He was in love, in love with a heartless coquette, so far as I could learn, and had been rejected. She could never have been worthy of him, yet he blindly believed that the girl would marry him if he could lay a fortune at her feet. As I remember his buoyancy and courage in the face of obstacles that would have discouraged others my sympathy brings tears to my eyes; but this is anticipating my story.

To reach the highlands from the eastern coast it had required two weeks' hard toiling up the hills, cut by clefts and gullies and traversed by mountain streams. We had cleared away a tract and set out coffee plants, with the aid of the good natured, lazy Indians, and Tom revived again the legend of the treasure further up in the mountain fastness as he had heard it from one and another of the Indians in their soft accents in broken Spanish and Indian. The legend was briefly that deep in the center of a crater of a worn out volcano the ancient Indians of that country had excavated a vault where they had piled up countless bars of virgin gold. There was a hidden path, and this was guarded by a mysterious golden hand. Tradition, the Indians said, made it possible to locate the mountain in only one way. That was by climbing the peaks in the barren region far above us to the south-eastward until one should be found from whose lofty crest there were three other peaks forming a straight line. In the central mountain was the treasure.

Few burdens could be carried with us in that high, rare atmosphere, and we were soon on our way with old Zapet shaking his head, as if in prediction of disaster. Hardened as we were by our out of door life, the strain was terrible. We lost our way repeatedly and found ourselves confronted by vast crevices in our pathway up the mountain side. Wide detours, costing us half a day and sometimes a day of valuable time, were performed made, only to find ourselves at the top of a precipice that barred our progress. We had with infinite trouble climbed two lofty mountains only to find ourselves at the summit out of range of the mountain tops, as demanded by the legend, when I finally refused to go farther. It was suicidal. Half our provisions and water were gone. But Tom pleaded for one more chance. "Do you see that long range?" he cried. "It's in one of those. Let's make one

Man's View Of Marriage.

"IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?"

It is not uncommon for men to bewail the fact that marriage so seldom means a real companionship—that man and wife are separated by difference of taste, of mental outlook, of general interest in life. It is perhaps even more common to hear women blamed for what is called breach of contract in the marriage relation. If the wife be delicate, run-down, nervous and irritable, if her smile and her spirits have taken flight, it worries her husband as well as herself. Even worse symptoms may follow—the woman suffers from sleeplessness and fainting spells, her head is in a whirl, her back aches, and she has that awful crowding-down feeling in the abdomen. It depends on the woman whether she will persevere through the troubles to continue day by day leading a life of misery.

Thousands have been cured by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and why not you? A healthy woman is always interesting; she passes for a beauty because she is happy, and her good spirits are contagious. Good nature goes with health; irritability and peevishness with sickness.

Those who suffer from the derangements, disorders and diseases of the sex should remember that Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has, for over a quarter of a century, made the diseases of women a specialty. You can correspond with them and learn how they cured themselves without having to consult a doctor.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

Marcelino Vigil Murder Trial Will Probably Be Concluded This Afternoon - Roberto Friday Pleads Guilty to Murder in Second Degree - Notable United States Cases.

The jury trial of the case entitled the Territory of New Mexico against Desiderio Gallegos, Luterio Padilla and Emi-terio Garcia, charged with murdering Marcelino Vigil on June 12, 1893, still occupies the attention of Judge Laughlin's court. It is presumed that the trial will be concluded and given to the jury this afternoon.

Roberto Friday, who killed Zenon Baca
in Cerrillos on October 14, 1893, yesterday changed his plea of not guilty to a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree and is now awaiting sentence for that offense.

Under an indictment by the grand jury
Friday was tried for murder in the first degree at the special term of the district court last spring, was convicted of that offense by a jury of his peers after a four days' trial on April 4, and was subsequently sentenced by Judge Laughlin to be hanged on May 6. He appealed to the supreme court and that tribunal remanded the case for a new trial on account of a flaw in the indictment. A new indictment was found against him at the present special term and the old one was dismissed. At first he entered a plea of not guilty to the new indictment, but, as above stated, has now changed his plea
to guilty of murder in the second degree.
This will save him from the painful experience of stretching hemp.

The United States district court will open in this city on May 25. Among the notable cases to be tried at this term are the criminal causes against James Addison Peralta Reavis and his associates in efforts to defraud the government in connection with the Peralta Reavis grant case; two suits for timber trespass against Edgar M. Biggs; two against the New Mexico Lumber company, and two against the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company, alleging damages in each suit to the amount of $500,000, and one against Bachevalier Brothers, setting up damages to the amount of $3,000.

The Reservoir.

The water reservoir in the mouth of the Santa Fe canon constitutes a grand body of water. It lacks to-day but a few feet of flowing over the spillway. At the upper end, where the water backs up against the old reservoir dam, a stream twelve feet wide and eight inches deep is now flowing over the wall and in a day or two the water will be on a level in both the old and the new reservoirs. Even now the trout that have wintered in the large reservoir find no difficulty in going up the falls, as well as through the fish-way at the north side of the old dam. Day before yesterday watchers on the dam counted thirty trout from ten to sixteen inches in length spring up the falls and take a header for upstream.

In the Market.

George L. Wyllys, the popular clerk of the 1st judicial district, came down from Santa Fe this morning on the early No. 1, registered at Sturges' European and returned to Santa Fe on the No. 4 flyer.
While at the depot he was engaged in conversation by John W. Schofield and
T. McLaughlin, and during his talk, Mr.
Wyllys gave it out, cold and solid, that he intended becoming a benedict before Christmas if he could find the lady who would consent to change her name. This is a capital catch, better than many in the territory, and Mr. Wyllys means what he says some one from Albuquerque should fish for him.—Albuquerque Citizen.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

There will be a regular meeting of Paradise lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., this evening at 8 o'clock.

The election for incorporation of the Pueblo Pecos grant resulted in a vote against incorporation.

The Women's Aid society of the Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. C. L. Bishop to-morrow afternoon
at 3 o'clock.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Fair, except showers in north portion to-night; cooler in north portion Friday morning.

Valentine Schick has two teams at work plowing on the Leon Allison place south of town. A family from Colorado Springs is shortly coming to settle on this place.

Sheriff Kahler arrived from Hillsboro
last night and delivered at the penitentiary a lonely convict from Sierra county —Jose Barrios, a burglar, who goes in for two years.

Santa Fe still heads the list of Rocky mountain health resorts. The thermometer registered 87 degrees at Colorado springs yesterday and at Pueblo it was even warmer.

Under the new train schedule the Albuquerque and El Paso morning newspapers are only one day ahead of the Denver and St. Louis papers of the same date in reaching Santa Fe.

Arrangements are being made to bring up a strong team from Cerrillos to play the Santa Fe Sunday. It is understood that the entire team will not be composed of Cerrillos players, but that some fast players will help the Little Pittsburg team out.

There will be a special meeting of the Santa Fe fire department this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of making arrangements for a dance to raise

The Water Street Nuisance.

Mr. S. S. Beatty has secured some 150 signatures to a petition to be presented to the city council, reading as follows:
Your petitioners, citizens and tax payers of the city of Santa Fe, respectfully call your attention to the nuisance that now is, and for a long time past has been, known as the Water street sewer in said
city.

And we most humbly and respectfully request that you make a careful and thorough investigation of said nuisance, and devise ways and means of having the same abated at once for the following reasons:

First—Said nuisance is a great menace
to the health of not only all the people who reside on said Water street, but likewise to all persons who come in contact therewith.

Second—Said nuisance is practically a confiscation of all the property on said
Water street and an injury to all property nearby.

A Third.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Diaz desire in this public manner to express their sincere gratitude to all those citizens who so kindly contributed to their comfort and

HILLSBORO GOLD MINES.

Increased Activity at the Mines and Mills of the Sierra County Gold
District Results in Increased Output of Ore.

Macy & Co. are finding good shipping
ore in the Whaleback.

Supt. Hall is putting more men in the stopes at the Snake mine.

Some of the Richmond lessees are shipping their ore to the Charter Oak mill.

The output of the Hillsboro gold mines
for the week ended April 30 was 510 tons.

McPherson & Wiley are opening up a fine body of rich gold ore on the Mountain King.

The Bonanza mill cleaned up yesterday, after a very successful run on Richmond lessees' ore.

The ventilating raise between the third and second levels of the Wicks mine was finished this week.

Hirsch & Thompson expect to ship a big car load of $100 ore from the Prosper mine this month.

Wayland & Dickey, the Key West and El Dorado lessees, have had a forty-ton lot of ore treated this week at the Bonanza mill.

The Happy Jack, Hillsboro and Stiver mines are represented this week with large consignments of ore at the Charter Oak mill.

At the Snake mine the ore bins are again rapidly filling up, and a large amount of first-class shipping ore is being sacked every day.

Schwartz Bros. & Co., lessees of the Homestead mine, report the mine now
again in thorough working condition, and that they are getting a very good grade of ore on the 150-foot level.

Lessee J. E. Collard is putting in another concentrating table at the Bonanza mill, making four tables in use.

He has also affected some great improvements in his drying hydrate separators and sizers to the plant and now confidently expects to save not less than 90 per cent of values.

Robert Scott has struck it rich in the Sherman Ready Pay gulch, on which mine he has taken a six months' lease. He has ore from six to twelve inches wide and running from five to ten ounces gold per ton. This will be an inducement to some of our miners to examine the less noted mines when they are looking for properties to lease. The Sherman and adjoining claim, the Sheridan, have long been known as high grade mines, but no one hitherto has gone at them in the right way to make money. Mr. Scott will employ all the men he can work to advantage and make his lease count for a goodly sum of money.—Hillsboro Advocate.

CARLETON POST MEET.

A Gallant Soldier Comes in—Preparations for Memorial Day Services.

Carleton post held a very interesting meeting last night, at which Capt. John L. Bullis was admitted to membership.
There are but few if any officers in the army to-day with a better record than that of the gallant captain and he will be a welcome addition to the ranks of the local post.

A communication was received from Rev. G. S. Madden, pastor of the M. E. church, stating that a special union service will be held at his church on the evening of Memorial Sunday, May 24, at which Rev. R. M. Craig, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will deliver the annual address to the old veterans. The post accepted the invitation to be present on that occasion.

A committee was authorized to be appointed by Post Commander Downs to take entire charge of Memorial day services with power to appoint all the necessary sub-committees.
